

October 5-11 is fire prevention week and the question comes to mind as to why we have a 'Fire Prevention Week'.

Fire prevention should be a daily routine in home and business yet how many of us completely forget about fire prevention until the second week in October.

We continually take unnecessary risks which could easily be prevented.

Risks like smoking in bed; storing gasoline in glass or plastic containers; placing extension cords under rugs; plugging too many electrical appliances into one outlet; and allowing weeds and trash to accumulate around buildings; are all common and could easily be prevented.

Regular fire prevention is profitable. In addition to stopping costly fires, insurance rates are set according to fire losses and reduced fire losses reduce rates.

While fire prevention is on your mind this week, take action to prevent fires and remove hazards and get into the habit of constant fire prevention.

Rule City Council Receives Petition

BY DON COMEDY
Free Press Editor

Water, sewer and law enforcement were the three major topics of discussion during the regular meeting of the Rule City Council Tuesday night.

Approximately 150 persons attended the meeting.

A petition containing over 380 names was presented to the council and the items on the petition were discussed individually.

Members of the council agreed to consider hiring a night watchman if a qualified applicant could be found. Members of the council pointed out that the council had no authority over constables or Deputy Sheriffs but agreed completely that cooperation between the city marshal and constable was a step in the right direction.

During a discussion on water quality, a representative of the Texas Department of Health told those present that since 1951 the City of Rule had been advised to seek another water supply because of high nitrates in the present supply.

He also explained a Federal law which went into effect in 1977 which required the city to seek another water supply.

Members of the Council have entered into a contract to purchase water from Miller Creek Lake which will be mixed with existing water.

Also discussed was the purchase of about 59 acres of land to improve the sewer system. Those attending the meeting were told that the existing sewer treatment plant was in violation and the purchase of the land and planned improvements would remedy the problem.

Opponents of the purchase stated that they were not against the purchase in itself but felt the price was completely unreasonable.

Council members voted to adjust water bills by taking the highest of the two prior months and charging only for the minimum.

In other action members of the council voted to suspend for 120 days the request for a rate increase by West Texas Utilities.

School Board Discusses Audit

BY GINA JENNINGS

Accountants from the firm James Rogers & Co. were present at the regular meeting of the School Board Tuesday night to give a report on their audit of the HISD budget.

Noted in the report were changes in revenue recording methods involving the reporting of Title I funds as revenue and property tax monies as deferred revenue.

The firm also reviewed their Compliance Audit of the School system, finding sufficient records of verification for federal funding on E.S.E.H. Title I programs. It was noted that the meeting minutes of the Parent Advisory Council had not been kept as required by federal regulations.

Also during the meeting, the board unanimously approved a motion to purchase service pins for staff members who have been with the Haskell Independent School System more than five years.

The possibility of a group hospitalization policy for staff members was also discussed. According to Superintendent James Lanier, a recent survey showed the need for such a plan and specifications have been presented to five insurance companies.

Although each individual would be responsible for his premiums, the group policy would provide a significantly reduced cost. 75% participation would be necessary for the plan to be introduced with the initial surveying showing 69% interest.

The board approved payroll deductions for the program. Deadlines for bids is November 1.

Other items on the agenda included changes in custodial staff and schedules as well as the addition of Wayne Lehrer to the teaching staff; authorization of a short-term loan for the October payroll; and a report on the TASB Conference by James Lanier.

The Board approved a suggestion by the Superintendent that the Agenda for their regular sessions be printed in the newspaper prior to the meetings.

Members stressed that the meetings were open to the public and they would welcome those interested in attending.

Hearing Postponed

A pre-trial hearing scheduled Thursday in connection with the indictments of Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett has been postponed and a new presiding judge has been named.

District Judge Joe Williams requested that another judge be named to hear the case and Judge H. G. (Pete) Andrews, District Judge of the 259th Judicial District has been appointed.

He Holds A Gun—She Holds Her Tongue

BY GINA JENNINGS
I guess it is because I was raised in the city, but I just can't help it.

When I see someone with a gun (any kind of gun) I get an irresistible urge to remove my watch and hand it over...along with my credit cards and the 45 cents in change I carry. Then, I plead for my life.

When my husband bought one last week, he told me it was for hunting. As he stood staring quizzically, holding my Timex and wallet, the fear within me whispered, "For hunting what, a new wife?"

I stepped carefully for a while, cooking his favorite meal and answering "Yes, SIR" when he called.

As days passed and I did not become the victim of an "unfortunate accident," I relaxed a little. He even went out one evening and returned with some slain dove, proving his good intentions.

Or so I thought. It was probably because the sight of those birds had put me off my guard that I agreed to hunt with him the next night. Reflecting, I think it was partly because I was off my guard and partly because, as a general rule, I never say "no" to a man with a gun in his hand.

Then I began to worry. There we would be—in the country somewhere—with no witnesses.

Just one "unfortunate accident" and he would never again have to face another of my peanutbutter sandwiches. He could even fix the dent I made in the car with the insurance money.

I wished fervently I had never teased him about his bald spot.

Surely he would not. Reminding myself of how helpless he would be without me, I calmed myself.

Having overcome most of my fear, it suddenly struck me. He had said, "Tomorrow night, I want you to go hunting with US." Us? He had gone with Free Press Editor Don Comedy the previous night.

The implications were staggering. I had consented to go to some desolate spot with the two men who would probably benefit more from my demise than any others in the world...and they would both be armed!

I envisioned next week's classifieds. "HELP WANTED: Need replacement for smart-mouthed employee who was victim of 'unfortunate accident.' Contact Haskell Free Press."

As we pulled to the side of the road, the children bounded out eagerly. My efforts to get a sitter had failed and when I tried to back out of the "hunting trip" to stay home with them, I was refused.

Although resigned to my fate, I hated to have the children see my tragic end. To my astonishment, the men cajoled, "They won't be any trouble. They'll probably enjoy it."

Enjoy it? I thought they liked my peanutbutter sandwiches.

The evening air was crisp with the first touch of autumn, the sun touching the trees with a golden sunset glow.

Listening to the children's voices echoing against the stillness, I was grateful for this last glimpse of beauty.

We stopped. The heartless editor handed me a gun.

So this was how they would do it! Like Socrates with his hemlock, they would ask me to do the deed myself.

I tried to keep my fingers from trembling as he showed me how to load the gun.

A shot cracked nearby and I looked quickly to make sure I was still relatively intact. The only rearrangement in my physical make-up seemed to be that my heart was in my throat.

I have never been as glad to see anything as I was to see those birds suddenly flying overhead. The air was split with shotgun blasts. I was thrilled.

I counted my blessings as the first bird fell.

Of course, I never really believed they would shoot me. Not really.

And, I am proud to add, I have matured somewhat in my attitude toward guns.

The mere sight of a shotgun will nevermore force me to hand over my wristwatch...it may, however, remind me at times to keep my big mouth shut.

Haskell County Quail Bag Limit Set At 16

Quail hunters in Texas will have lower daily bag limits this fall than the previous year in most counties.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission meeting in Austin Sept. 3 responded to quail census data which showed reduced populations by setting somewhat lower bag and possession limits.

Drought conditions during the nesting season severely hampered quail reproduction over most of the state, reducing populations from the high levels of 1979.

Most of the state will have a 12 quail per day limit, with possession limit of 36. Last year, high populations allowed the commission to set a daily limit of 20 in some counties. This fall, no county will have such a liberal limit.

The daily bag limit will remain at 16, with possession limit of 48 in the following

WTRC Cattlemen's Round-Up Successful

The first phase of the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children, which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, was deemed a success by CRCC chairman Jim Alexander in spite of water soaked ranch land throughout the greater part of West Texas. Alexander stated that the number of cattle would have been in an all time high if the ranchers within a hundred miles of Abilene had been able to gather livestock in the rain soaked areas.

High selling animal was a Simmental bull donated by Polston Cattle Company for $2,500. Following behind the bull was an emerald diamond ring donated by Bart Mann Jewelers of San Angelo which brought $2,700.

Five heavy fed heifers donated by Mr. and Mrs. J. Willard Vinson of Abilene brought $1 a pound. In collective purchasing a little black heifer donated by the Clyde FFA brought $4,040 after cattlemen purchased and repurchased this animal 10 times.

Two antelope permits brought $3,500 and a bluedyed rooster presented by Alta Vista Elementary School students brought $2,125 after being bought and resold several times.

Frozen calf fries brought $325 for 10 lbs. with an 80 lb watermelon bringing $110.

Alexander complimented the cattlemen for such excellent livestock this year and especially pointed out Erath county livestock donors for the most number of cattle donated. There are an additional 100 head of cattle to be brought in and sold at a later date.

The sum total of the sale brought $179,700.90 for the first phase of the CRCC, with $56,581.80 in cash; this was compared to $136,502.45 for cattle last year and $43,547.75 cash in the first phase for a total of $180,050.20.

LIKE YOU, THEY'LL HAVE ALL OF THE NATURAL GAS THEY'LL NEED.

Just as you do today, your children will have a dependable supply of natural gas for their homes — if they're served by Lone Star Gas Company.

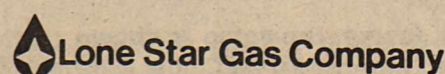

Nine basins in these two states are estimated to contain 50% of the nation's remaining onshore gas reserves. And Lone Star's pipeline system gives us excellent buying opportunities in eight of them.

In other words, we aren't about to run out of natural gas. The facts are strong and very reassuring. Our supply is based on purchase contracts for the gas from more than 19,000 wells in Texas and Oklahoma. And because no well lasts forever, we prepare for your future needs by steadily buying new long-term reserves.

Producers drilled thousands of wells in these major basins last year. They're drilling more this year. And we'll be shopping hard, just as we always have, for the best energy values for your future.

The fact that we're well established in Texas and Oklahoma also works in your

Six Generations Are Living Link To Past

(Editors Note: The following article originally appeared in the Selma (California) Enterprise and is reprinted with permission. Mrs. Cameron is the aunt of Ray, Glen and Ralph Merchant, all of Haskell.)

Six living generations of a family is so unusual that a recent national magazine article termed one such group as the "only one in the world." June Carlson of Selma disagrees.

"My daughter-in-law's family has that," she told The Enterprise last week. And it does.

There's Ophie (Mama) Cameron, who celebrated her 100th birthday in January;

Ethel Barnett and her daughter Dorothy Patton, both of Selma; Dorothy's daughter Betty Carlson, who lives in Fresno; Betty's eldest, Renee Clay of Selma, and Renee's five-year-old son, Shawn.

"When my children were born," recalls Betty, whose son Gary is stationed in San Diego with the Navy, "there were five full generations. All the husbands and wives were living.

"When I was growing up I never thought anything about it. It sounds terrible, but I just took it for granted. They were all in the same town (Selma). Both my grandmothers lived right near by; they were right there when I needed them."

For as long as Betty can remember, Christmas was spent at the home of her maternal grandparents, Ethel and H.G. Barnett. "After I got married (her husband is Ray Carlson, who like Betty grew up in Selma) we still went to Granny's, but we went to his parents' too. As the kids got older we were having two Christmas Eves and two Christmas dinners. It got difficult when the kids got older and they had things they wanted to do. I told them 'we're fortunate to have all these older people in our family. Many children don't have any grandmas or grandpas.'"

It wasn't until several years ago when Betty took Ethel to a family reunion in Texas that she became interested in recording all available information about the family. Walking through the local cemetery Betty discovered that "Granny's husband's family was buried there too."

There's another reason for recording all information she can glean from her elders. "I have a granny ahead of me who says 'I wish I'd listened to what Papa Cameron used to talk about.' I've got the opportunity, and if I don't start now, maybe no one ever will. Maybe five generations from now, there will be someone trying to track down what I've done." Betty's not interested in doing research right now, "that's something I can do any time."

Betty isn't the only one to take an interest in her family. Her grandson Shawn can recite just which grandmother is the mother of whom. And he's only five. "Renee spends a lot of time with him, and he's especially aware of all his grandmothers."

Mama Cameron is Shawn's great, great, great grandmother, and even though Mrs. Cameron is no longer able to speak to her family, she has always smiled when Shawn comes to see her at North Acres Manor in Kingsburg, and has always wanted him to kiss her and to sit on her lap, according to her daughter Ethel and her granddaughter Dorothy. "You let the kids come in to see her and her eyes light up," says Dorothy. Since Shawn has gotten bigger and Mrs. Cameron gas gotten more frail, lap sitting has become a memory for both of them, Betty adds.

"Mama never did talk much," remarks Dorothy. "She was always quiet. She'd listen, and maybe once in awhile she'd join in, but not very often."

Margaret Ophelia Cameron and her husband James were Texans all their lives until moving to California in 1938. "Dad always wanted to live to be 100, and Mama was always expecting that she'd not live," says Ethel. "She was the weakest one of her family and I can remember her telling us (she and her sister Kathleen) 'I'm not going to live very long and your dad will remarry. I want you to be good girls and love your stepmother.' Dad died just three months short of his 91st birthday, and Mama is over 100 years and six months old."

None of Mrs. Cameron's

direct descendants are keen about living to be 100, and that includes Renee, mother of young Shawn. She has, however, no dislike for older people. "I guess because of my family," she admits. "I don't think of them as old, though. Granny Barnett must be in her 80s, and sometimes she does more than I do in a day."

Like her mother, Betty, Renee discovered that being married meant including a whole new set of relatives in holiday plans. "When we first got married it was kind of hard." His grandmother Betty has noted that when Shawn was born he had 16 living grandparents.

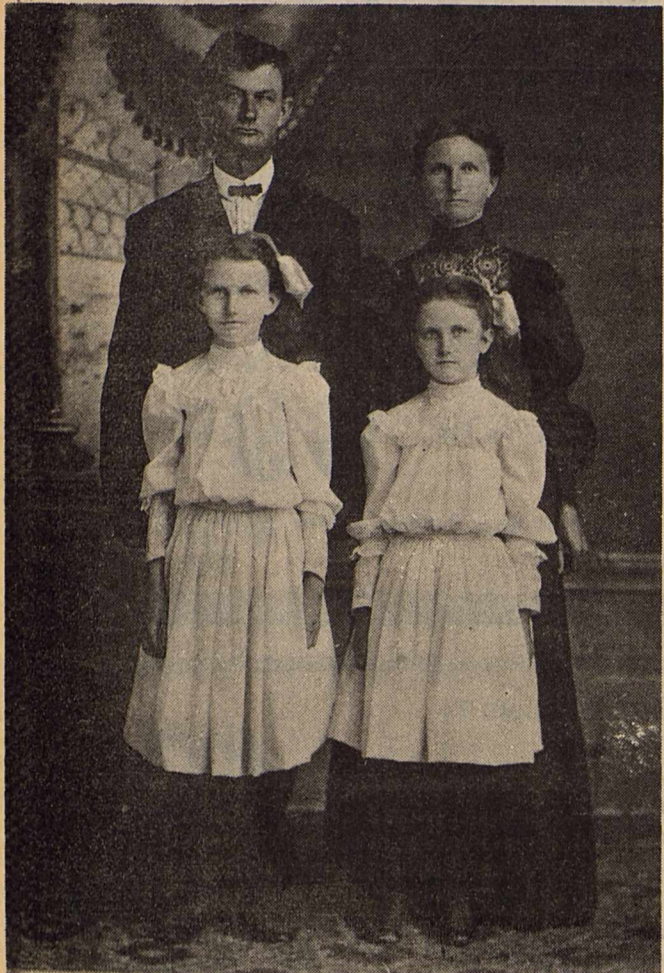

Renee also took the abundance of grandparents for granted—just like her mother had—until she was grown and married. "My friends used to say, 'Gee, you have a great grandmother,' and I'd say, 'Yes, and I have a great, great grandmother too.' Now I stop and think about it. Both my husband's parents are dead. He (Dale Clay) has only two grandmothers and a sister."

But Renee, who is expecting a second child in December, has one wish. "I hope this baby's a girl and the Mama Cameron will still be living when the baby is born. Then the six generations would be all girls, not all girls and a boy."

SIX GENERATIONS

EARLY FAMILY

Not long after the turn-of-the-century, the Cameron family posed for this portrait. Dressed in their Sunday-best were Jim and Ophie Cameron and their daughters, Ethel and Kathleen, of Haskell.

Being a General Telephone Communications Consultant is a full-time job. It means taking as much time as needed to survey, plan and discuss all the details of a business customer's phone installation.

But they don't stop there. They are also busy looking for ways to show customers how to use their phones more efficiently. Sometimes they can show them how to save money and maybe even how to make money.

Sound like good people to know? They'll be happy to meet you anytime and make a survey of telephone requirements. Call your local General Telephone business office and make an appointment today. And remember there's never an extra charge for their services.

We keep you talking.

WHAT TO DO IF YOUR LIGHTS GO OUT

We'll do our best to keep it from happening, but let's face it. Even with the miracles of modern technology, it sometimes occurs in the best of systems.

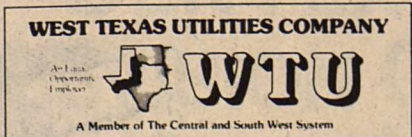

So, if your power goes off, we hope you'll help us get it back on as quickly as possible.

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD DO:

1. Check your neighbors. Call them or go outside and see how widespread the outage is.
2. If your house is the only one affected, check your breaker box.
3. If the trouble is not on your side of the meter, call us — your local WTU office — and give us the following information:

- Your name and address
- Time of the outage
- The area affected (as many addresses as possible)

We'll take it from there. Please don't prolong the call with questions that can't be answered. We'll be getting many other calls, depending on how widespread the outage is. And, if you're answered by a recorded message, it means that the dispatcher already has been swamped with calls and that we're working on the problem.

Remember, our goal, as always, is to provide reliable electric service at the lowest practical cost. And if an outage does occur, we aim to restore service without delay. We appreciate your help.

USDA Soil Conservation Service

Conservation Viewpoints

Marvin W. Phemister of Weinert was re-elected to the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District board of directors October 6, at the local community convention held at Weinert.

Phemister represents Zone 2 of the district. His elected term will be for five years.

The purpose of the Haskell SWCD, with headquarters in Haskell is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

As one of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Phemister will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

In other areas of leadership, Phemister is active in Farm Bureau work, not only in Haskell County, but in this area of Texas, and Texas Farm Bureau in general. Phemister is also active in his church at Weinert.

Phemister is married to the former Myrtle Sanders.

In Texas there are 200 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Organized in September, 1977, the Haskell SWCD was formed out of the Haskell County portions of the California Creek and Wichita-Brazos SWCDs. Phemister was appointed by landowners in Zone 2 as their director for a three year term. He had previously served on the Wichita-Brazos SWCD board of directors. Currently Phemister is vice-chairman of the Haskell SWCD. Reorganization of the board of directors will take place at the regular October meeting to be held October 15.

The public is always invited to attend meetings of the Board of Directors. All regular meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month, beginning at 9 a.m.

Participation in the activities of the district is available regardless of race, creed, national origin or sex, since all programs sponsored by the district are of a voluntary nature. For assistance contact your Zone director: R.V. Earles of Paint Creek, F.A. Ulmer of Sagerton, Johnny Wheatley of Haskell, Dan Wadzeck of Rochester, or Phemister. Or you are cordially welcome to contact one of the Soil Conservation Service Haskell Field Office Staff. J.C. Yeary, Jr. District Conservationist

Cancer Center Report

The Haskell County Cancer Center workers meet each Thursday afternoon from 2:00 to 4:00 on the third floor, in the Southwest room in the Courthouse.

The workers need old clean sheets, blankets, and towels. If you have any of the items mentioned and you have no way to bring them, just call one of the workers, and the items will be picked up.

If anyone in Haskell County has needs for any of the different kinds of pads the center makes, you may go to your doctor, and he will sign a slip that will let the center know you are eligible for the pads.

Those that worked during the month of September are: Ethel Thomas, Dora Klose, Grace Montgomery, Laura Overton, Billie England, Efra Davis, and Lucile McCurley.

Is someone you love also someone you hate?

Problem drinking can turn someone you love into a monster. A parent, a relative, a dear friend can become a source of pain and suffering. Someone you never want to see again.

Because alcoholism is a disease. And everyone whose life the alcoholic touches becomes a victim.

Too often we look the other way. Make excuses. Try to cover up.

Instead, how much better to seek help. Professional help. The kind that's available through the Care-Unit Program. A medically supervised treatment program that succeeds. In a warm, friendly environment that's part of a local hospital you know and trust. Help someone you love. Call the Care Unit Program for information. Today.

CAREUNIT PROGRAM

A professionally staffed alcoholism treatment program in a local hospital environment. It works.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

We would like to continue the series of columns on the budget this week. The first column in the series was devoted entirely to teachers salaries which constitute more than half of the overall budget. This week we will attempt to explain the other related parts of instructional services.

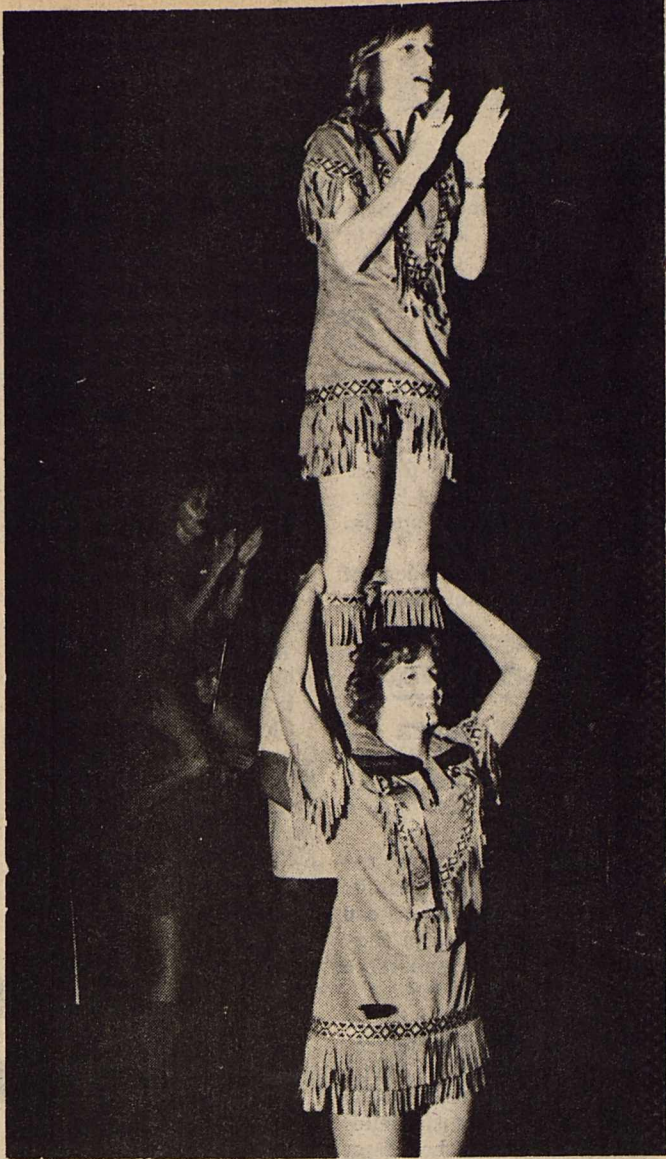

The contracted services includes supplies and materials for instruction. Items such as gas for driver education, classroom art supplies, classroom magazines, extra textbooks, consumable supplies for classrooms (Example, paper, drawing pencils, crepe paper, etc.), and non-consumable supplies (equipment for science labs, etc.) are included in this category. The state pays part of this category including part of the gas for Drivers Education, Vocational Ag supplies, and Home Economics supplies. We estimate that the state will pay $3100, in designated purpose funds in this category. The total estimated cost in this category comes to $20,766.

The other operating cost category includes primarily travel for teachers. Again, some of this money comes from state designated purpose funds (Voc. Ag. travel, Home Ec. travel, insurance on Driver Education). These funds are estimated at $4400. The total estimated cost of this category is $4930. Capital outlay is the last category in this budget group. This is for permanent fixtures such as furniture and equipment. We estimate this expenditure at $6329, which brings the total instruction related costs (salaries for teachers, contracted services, supplies and materials, other related costs, and capital outlay) in this category to an estimated cost of $707,875 for total instruction.

Much of the cost of this budget group is paid for out of state revenues. The salaries are paid in the largest part by the Minimum Foundation funds. The maintenance and operating funds pay another portion of these costs. This fund amounts to $194 per A.D.A. A.D.A. refers to average daily attendance. We are sure the patrons can readily see that the students' regular attendance is vital to a fiscally sound program.

We will continue this series of articles on the budget so that the taxpayers may hopefully realize what their monies are spent for. We would encourage you to visit the Superintendent's office with your questions or inquiries. We are dedicated to the premise that the better we inform the public, the better our program can be for developing the educational aspect of the growth of the children of Haskell.

Education Center Sets Open House

Region 14 Education Service Center has announced the regular quarterly Instructional Materials "Open House" for parents and other interested groups or individuals to be held Friday, October 24, 1980 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

The purpose of the open house according to Dr. Thomas Lawrence, Executive Director of Region 14, is to make available for review, films and other audio-visual materials distributed to schools on request.

According to Dr. Lawrence, "if parents or others are interested in seeing a particular film, filmstrip, or other item and will notify the center in advance every attempt will be made to have the materials on hand. However, if an item is not available, the center will schedule a review at the earliest date convenient to the interested individual and the schools."

Future review sessions are set for January 23, April 24, and July 24, 1981. Although appointments are not required, Dr. Lawrence pointed out that it would be helpful if interested individuals would make them.

The telephone number for the center is (915) 677-2911 and the location is North 3rd and Mockingbird in Abilene.

350 Exes Attend Weinert Homecoming

Weinert lost their homecoming to Harrold with a score of 50 to 18. John Brueggeman had 30 rushes for 190 yards. He also made two touchdowns. Jeff Robertson passed to Danny McGuire for the Bulldogs' other touchdown. The top defensive players were John Brueggeman, Wade Raynes, and Craig Buerger. About 350 people attended Weinert's Homecoming. Mary Alice Davis Anderson, escorted by Bobby Raynes, was elected Coming Home Queen. Kim Forehand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Forehand, was crowned Homecoming Queen. She was escorted by Larry Brueggeman, son of Mrs. Dora Brueggeman. Weinert will play Benjamin at Benjamin on Oct. 10.

Well we finally got that rain that everyone had prayed for. Some of us were afraid that the good Lord wasn't going to turn it off soon enough and we were all going to get flooded out. Really we are all thankful for the good rain and also glad when the pretty sunshine came out again.

We welcomed a new resident to the home this week. She is Lizzie Letz of Old Glory. We hope she likes living here with us.

We also said goodbye to three residents who got to return to their own homes. They were Bethie Harris, Tom Kreger, and Lafie Williams. We wish all these the best, and know they will enjoy being home again.

Two of our residents celebrated their birthdays since we last reported. They were Onah Crume who celebrated hers on Sept. 29th and Ellie Cartwright hers Sept. 30th. We hope both of these had very enjoyable days.

Nannie McCaul and Edna Collins were happy to receive ribbons for their entries in the Haskell County Fair. Nannie entered a latchhook wall hanging and Edna entered a handmade pant suit. We congratulate both of these ladies.

We want to thank each of our volunteer people for the last two weeks and recognize them at this time. They were Jo Simpson, Rev. William Hodge, Rev. Martin Jacobsen, Assembly of God Youth, Ladies of the Haskell Church of Christ who held our monthly birthday party, Sweet Home Singers, Eleanor Blohm, Church of Christ for the Sunday afternoon service, and the Haskell First United Methodist Church for the Sunday morning services during the month of September. We will be looking forward to all these coming again soon.

We didn't have many visitors the past two weeks that we can print in our column because most of our visitors are Haskell or Haskell County people, but we do appreciate you people coming out every time that you can. Our out-of-county visitors were:

Karen and Brian Strickland of Kilgore, Ophus, Frankie and Nita Posey, all Knox City, visited Edna Collins.

Grady and Helen Laughlin of Fort Worth visited her mother, Lillie Spitzer.

Curtis Cross of Cibola came to see his uncles, Jim and Dutch Cross.

Vera Hopper of Fort Worth, Luella Dyer Waddell of Roby, and Lee Wampler of Lawton, Oklahoma visited in the home.

Visiting Ora McCollough was her niece, Evelyn Green of Fort Worth.

Flossie Rogers was visited by her nephew and his wife, Marion and Mary Lou Josselet of Brownfield.

Coming to see their parents, Bill Harrell and Mae Brock, were Raleigh and Nettie Brock of Fort Worth. Artie Bradley was visited by her grandson, Bob Cole, of Dallas.

Coming to see Annie Jones was her son and family, Chester, Linda, and John Jones of Houston, Jessica Jones and her roommate Jennifer from SMU. The Jones were on their way to visit their oldest son who is a student at the University of Texas at Austin.

Ethel Thurman of Jacksboro visited her sister-in-law, Jessie Brown.

Visiting Mae Bell Turnbow was Craig Storey of Wichita Falls.

Connie Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Williamson of Hereford came to see Ada Williamson.

Coming to visit Flora Smith and Trudie Bush was Mrs. Smith son and his wife, Marion and Bertie Mae Smith of Denver City. Also visiting Trudie was her daughter, Odessa Rucker of Friona.

G. A. Bradford of Peacock visited his parents, Sam and Ethel Bradford.

Visiting Alvena Holle were Kenny, Aletha, Cindy, and William Wood of Snyder and Clancey and Helen Lehmann of Old Glory.

Eunice Stewart was visited by her children, Floyd Stewart of Seymour and Melba Stowe of Olney and her sister, Mayme Burnett, also of Olney.

Visiting Alma Cole were Lois and E. G. Post and Tommy Joe and Evangelyn Clark, all of Abilene.

Betty Pumphrey of Fort Worth and Peggy Pumphrey of Dallas came to see Jonnye Pumphrey.

Coming to see A. C. Boggs were his great grandson, Thomas Long of A.C.U. in Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Suttle of Wichita Falls. The Suttles also visited Ida Pheister and Eva Hisey while they were here.

Mattie Hines was visited by her grandson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Wainscott of Knox City, and her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Elva Hines of Hamlin.

Thanks again to all our visitors. Before we forget it, we also want to thank the Missionary Circle of the Haskell First United Methodist for bringing the clothing out to two of our residents. We appreciate them starting their missionary work here at home.

That's the news for another time and until next time, let's all remember to try to spread a little sunshine wherever we might go.

The seven member committee, which is being chaired by Dr. Williams and Thornhill will oversee the activities of the Reagan-Bush campaign in Haskell county.

In making the announcement the co-chairmen said, "We are pleased and honored that such outstanding community leaders have come forward to join in the Reagan-Bush campaign effort in Haskell county. Their participation indicates the widespread support which Governor Reagan enjoys not only in our county but throughout the state of Texas."

The headquarters for the county committee is the Texas Theatre Building on N. Ave E.

The other members of the steering committee are: Charles Thornhill, vice chairman; Frank Markey, Cliff Dunnam, Clay Smith, Wallace Cox Jr., C.E. Smith, Andy Anderson and Kendall Carmack.

"The prospect of four more years of Jimmy Carter is a prescription for disaster for America. We must have a change in the White House in 1980. Governor Reagan and Ambassador Bush offer a refreshing change in the direction for our country and they stand in total accord with the principles and traditions and beliefs of the majority of Americans and Texans," said the co-chairmen.
