Final Scrimmage Set Friday In Archer City

Haskell Indian fans got their first opportunity to view the 1981 edition of the Tribe last Friday night during the Anson scrimmage.

In addition to a new group of faces and numbers, the fans also got their first look at both a new offense and defense.

Indian coaches rated the overall performance as pretty good adding that there were a lot of mistakes, but none that could not be corrected.

Coaches also expected that it would take some time to adjust to the new offense and defense.

Four starting members of the Tribe were sidelined with injuries prior to the scrimmage and all except Monty Moeller and Tom Barnett will be ready for action this Friday. Moeller will remain sidelined with a pulled ham-string and Barnett with a knee injury.

The tribe will travel to Archer City this Friday for the final scrimmage of the year.

Both the Varsity and Junior Varsity will participate in the scrimmage with the JV beginning at 6:30 and the Varsity at about 7:45.

DPS Urges Safe Labor Day Holiday

The Labor Day holiday will be the last holiday of the summer. While the drivers of Texas are making their road plans, the Texas Department of Public Safety is preparing for "Operation Motorcade."

Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety in Lubbock, stated, "Operation Motorcade will be in effect from 6:00 p.m. Friday, September 4 until 11:59 p.m. Sunday, September 7th. During that time all available D.P.S. Troopers will be on duty. These troopers have been instructed to be on the alert and direct the enforcement efforts toward those violators causing the most accidents—speeders and those who drive while drinking. Most Texans are proud of their state and feel that Texas has the best of everything, so why not make it one of the safest states, if not the safest state, to drive in."

Major Bell also stated, "It is impossible for law enforcement officers to cover every street and highway in the state, so our best hope for a safe holiday rests with the individual motorist."

Remember: Safe and sensible driving results in a safe and enjoyable holiday.

GTE To Change Sagerton Party Lines

By Friday, September 4, General Telephone Company will have provided an improved level of service to 40 customers who had eight-party lines in the Sagerton Community, according to Bill Drennan, the firm's Brownwood division manager.

On that date, those customers will all have four-party service.

The elimination of eight-party service in the community is a result of a service improvement project that included installing telephone cables west on Highway 283, and north and south on county roads.

Customers will be sent letters explaining the monthly rate for four-party service that goes into effect September 4, Drennan noted.

The Sagerton Community is part of General Telephone Company's Rule exchange, which has about 580 customers.

Kirkland, Bayless Repeat Vows In Arlington

Miss Barbara Jean Bayless and Mr. Jacky Dee Kirkland were married in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, August 22, 1981, at half after seven o'clock in the evening at Arlington Heights United Methodist Church in Ft. Worth. Dr. Henry Radde, officiating minister, read the nuptials.

The choir rails were decorated with clusters of garden greenery and tall cathedral tapers. Brass urns on each side of the altar were filled with rubrum lillies, gladiolas, and alstrameric lillies. Crystal fluted votives were arranged with greenery on the chancel rail. The aisle was decorated with clusters of garden foliage and satin ribbon.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was presented by organist Mr. Bobby Stinett of Ft. Worth. Vocalists Miss Brenda Kay Cox and Miss Deborah Sue Cox of Daingerfield, cousins of the groom, sang the "Song of Ruth, Whither Thou Goest".

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bayless of Ft. Worth. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Henderson of Dallas. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Kirkland, Jr. of Ft. Worth. Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Jack Sanders of Weinert and paternal grandparents are Mr. Dee Kirkland and Mrs. Katie Wilson of Haskell.

Escorted down the aisle by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of elegant Brussels lace designed for Galina. The molded bodice featured a hand beaded inset and designs of Brussels lace with a high wedding band collar of border lace. Long tapered sleeves were enhanced with scattered designs of lace and a border at the wrist. An a-line skirt fell from the empire line to carpet length and swept to a chapel train with a special design of lace marking the hemline.

Her veil of Brussels lace was a purchase of her mother, made in Brussels and mounted on a coif covered in matching lace. It enhanced the gown to beyond the train. She carried a cascade bouquet of Rubrum lillies and stephanotis with accents of garden foliage and gysophelia (baby's breath). She carried a pure silk handkerchief her Grandfather Henderson brought as a gift to her Grandmother Henderson at the end of World War I. She wore the traditional blue garter to throw and also a special garter made for her by Anne Feder, head of alterations at Neiman Marcus of Dallas.

Matron of Honor was Mrs. Paul Peters of Houston, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Robin Winterman of Ft. Worth, Kimberly Kilpatrick of Ft. Worth and Mrs. Tammy Marie Cornett of Ft. Worth, sister of the groom.

The bride chose for her attendants identical carpet gowns of tangerine silk organza. The molded bodice was fashioned with a shaped low neckline with bouffant puff sleeves that gathered at the elbow. The skirt fell in soft fullness from a natural waistline which was marked with a crushed cummerbund and closed at the back with wide soft bow and brief streamers. They carried garden bouquets of summer blossoms in blending shades of tangerine and pink and wore matching clusters in their hair.

Little Miss Joan Peters of Houston, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was dressed in an ecru silk organza floor length dress with a lace yoke, full puffed sleeves edged in lace with three tiered skirt with ribbon and lace marking each tier made by Martha Minatures. She carried a white wicker basket of varied spring flowers and wore a cluster of flowers in her hair.

Master Chris Peters, nephew of the bride, of Houston was ring bearer. He wore a full three piece grey suit and white shirt. He carried a white satin square shaped pillow trimmed with white braid. The pillow ribbons tied around the gold wedding rings. Jacky's ring was specially designed by the bride and made by Randmand of North Carolina.

Attending the groom as best man was Andy Churman of Godby. Groomsmen and ushers were, George Beal of Ft. Worth, Bill Rodgers of Grand Prairie, David Williams of Ft. Worth, Brian Cornett, brother-in-law of the groom, of Ft. Worth, and Bruce Bayless, brother of the bride, of Grapevine.

The groom and his attendants all wore grey cut-away tuxedos with ascot ties, white tuxedo shirts and wore boutonniere of fresh daisies and baby's breath.

The bride's mother chose a long chiffon peach colored V-neck gown with beaded bodice and long sleeves. The grooms mother wore a floor length baby blue gown of Quiana knit with scooped neck, long full sleeves and smoked waist. Both wore corsages of alstrameria lillies.

The bride's father and father of the groom were attired in grey cut-away tuxedos with ascot ties, white tuxedo shirts and each wore boutonniere of fresh daisies and baby's breath.

The ceremony was concluded by prayer and presentation of the couple.

The reception was held in the church parlor hosted by the bride's parents. Guests registered with a lovely ivory plume pen at a table covered with a long ivory cloth.

The bride's table covered with a lace top with floor length two tiered skirt of ivory silk shantung, held a cream lace iced five tier wedding cake beautifully decorated with clusters of miniature peach, pink, wine and varied colors of spring fresh flowers with a bouquet of all shades of fresh flowers on top. The table was highlighted with the bridal bouquet placed in front of the centerpiece of a nine branch silver candelabra with crystal fluted votives and arrangements of rubrum lillies, alstrameria, and stephanotis. Fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Other table appointments were in glass and silver.

A large bouquet done in varied shades of fresh flowers decorated the groom's table where a four branch candelabra with tall tapers as a centerpiece held a Black forest cake and a gold samavor for coffee.

Lila Stiewert of Haskell and Netha Carrouth of Cross Plains, both cousins of the groom, served at the groom's table. Sharon Bayless, sister-in-law of the bride, Teresa Henderson of Odessa and Carol Lynn Fleming, both cousins of the bride, served the bride's table. All wore gardenia corsages.

There were ivory lace filled rice bags handed out by Denise Bayless of Grapevine and Danille Kasper of Austin. Odus Baldwin of Ft. Worth played piano selections during the reception.

The parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. B.D. Kirkland, Jr., hosted the rehearsal dinner at their home Friday evening. The buffet dinner was served from a table covered with white linen damask cloth edged in lace in front of a mirrored wall of their dining area. A crystal vase of ivory roses was the centerpiece.

The bride is a graduate of Southwest High School, attended TCU, Tarrant County Junior College, and was an August graduate of McLennan Community College. The groom is a graduate of Phaschal High School and attended Tarrant County Junior College. He is employed by Jones Truck Line of Ft. Worth.

After their wedding trip to Hawaii, the couple will be at home in Ft. Worth.

Attending the wedding from Haskell were Mrs. Katie Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dee Kirkland, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kirkland, Mrs. Billy Jean Walters, Mrs. Dudley Phelps, and Lila Stiewert. Also attending was Mrs. Jack Sanders of Weinert, grandmother of the groom and members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Rocky Sanders, April and Shawn, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Sanders and Ricky, Mr. William Mark Maupin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cox, Brenda, Deborah, and Junior, and Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Carrouth, ReNetha and Crystal.

Brush and Palette

Until a few years ago, the artist himself was a great explainer.

Most everyone agrees that a picture tells more than a thousand words.

Today, it seems, that the artist must have an interpreter in much of the work that is being done, whether it is painting, sculpture or graphics. Of what use is a work of art if it cannot be understood?

Years ago when we visited galleries and viewed pictures, it was a pleasurable experience. You could stand before certain paintings and enjoy their sheer beauty for long periods of time. One did not have to be informed or uninformed in artistic matters to enjoy the works of art. Today much of the art cannot be understood by a viewer who has not been trained in the avant garde paintings. The avant garde art can be put only by words and discussed only by those conditioned to it by indoctrination. Without words it has never been accepted—the viewer cannot understand it. Realism is fast returning to the art world and that expression can be enjoyed by all. You, the viewer, can communicate with it.

Q. Where and how can I show my art work for sale?

A. Many cities have art associations that are perfect places for the unexperienced artist to begin. These groups usually have regular meetings, with visiting artists giving lectures and demonstrations. They usually have an annual show where you can learn new techniques from fellow-artists.

Local businesses often invite artists to hang their work. Ask your merchant if you can show your art and sometimes you will get the approval—or you may not—don't be discouraged. Keep painting and try to improve your work. Each stroke on the canvas teaches you something. Watch the area papers for shows and write to them for information. Most of them charge a fee to enter but that is nominal if you can sell.

Q. How can I present my pictures and what should I expect at an area show?

A. A suitable frame is the best selling device. It is quite expensive but it often makes the difference between a ho-hum painting and a work of art. Learn to do it yourself to save money. Whatever the price, present your work well. Be sure the wires are secure; if watercolor, be sure the glass is clean as it is the final touch that might sell your painting. Do not over-frame a picture. Often it is better to under-frame. All works of art will not be enhanced by a huge gold frame. You have the risk of the elements, if it is an outside show, so go prepared for rain and wind. Take a chair, umbrella, a snack and thermos, you'll need it!

Remember a painting that is worth showing is worth showing well. You will need easels (like flower stands used at funerals) or some artists make large frames using wire mesh or peg-board for their display. Many shows have rules as to the height of easels so check this out before you take your huge stands.

Any way that you choose to present your work, arrange it neatly, size and color-wise.

Make yourself comfortable and await the queries from the public. I wish you much success and prosperity.

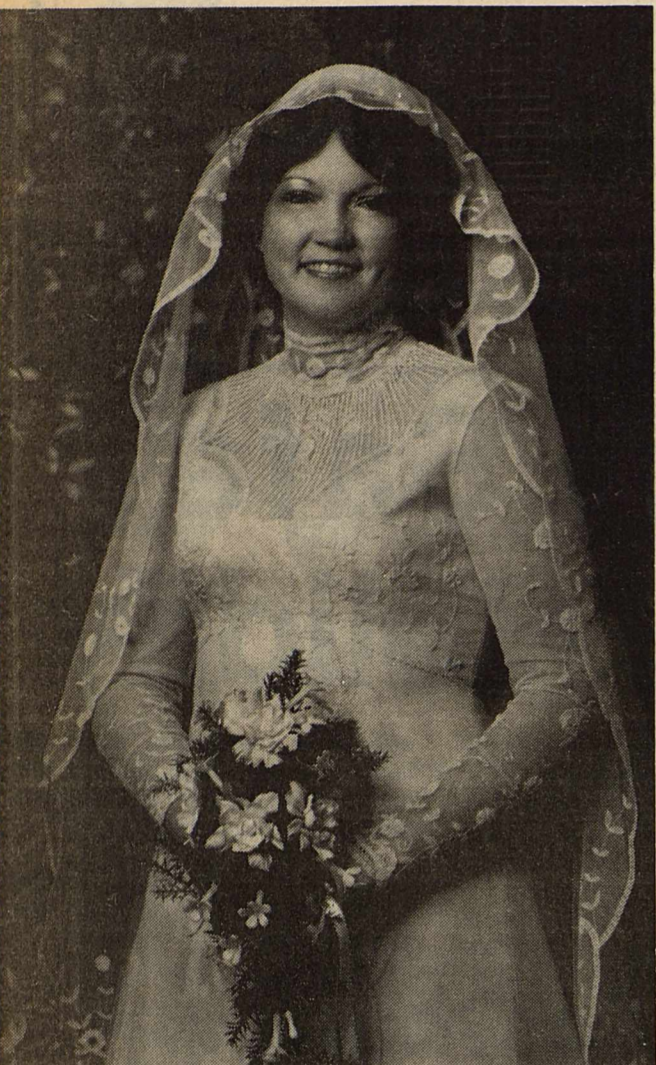

HINT: "If it is up to the artist to make the best pictures she can possibly make, it is up to the owners to present them to the best advantage." ("The Art Spirit")

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas, 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Government Lifts Ban On Gas Yard Lights

"Homeowners can continue to enjoy the security of their gas yard lights following a presidential action which lifts the ban on outdoor gas lighting," Lone Star Gas Company President Carol Neaves said today.

A provision of the budget appropriation bill, signed by President Reagan on August 13, voids part of the Fuel Use Act, which required that all gas yard lights be disconnected by New Year's Day 1982.

"We are gratified by this change, because that portion of the Fuel Use Act was counterproductive," Neaves stated. "The government was making an effort to conserve less than one quarter of one percent of the natural gas used in the United States while asking homeowners to give up the security provided by their yard lights. This measure should help relieve the anxiety of customers who have told us of their need to have the nighttime security of an operating yard light."

The amendment also relieves Lone Star of the time-consuming and costly effort to locate and disconnect each gas yard light within its 170,000 square mile system.

"Many different groups have sold gas yard lights over the years," Neaves reported. "As a result, we do not have complete records indicating where the individual lights were installed."

The new amendment applies to all homeowners who had a gas yard light in operation on or before November 8, 1978. Homeowners who installed a gas yard light after that date may be allowed to operate it if they received an exemption as outlined in the Fuel Use Act. Exemptions are granted by local city managers and city secretaries for reasons of safety and security of people and property, and a copy of the exemption should be filed with the local gas company office.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Last week, the subject of the authority and limitations applicable to notaries public was presented. This week that same subject will be expanded upon, as well as notaries public's responsibilities in the area of representations to the public.

In line with the issue of costs to consumers for work performed by notaries public, consumers should be aware that a notary public is governed by Article 3945 which provides a listing of activities for which a notary public shall receive a fee. A notary public may not charge a fee in excess of those listed in Article 3945 or their fee handbook. Article 5955 provides that every notary public shall keep a well bound book in which information respecting his or her activities shall be kept. Of particular importance to consumers is that the book, as well as the statements which are required to be entered, are deemed "original public record, open to inspection by any citizen at all reasonable times." This same Article provides that "each notary public shall give a certified copy of any record in his office to any person applying therefor on payment of all fees thereon." Article 5956 provides that copies of "all records, protests, and other official acts of notaries public may be certified by the county clerk with whom they are deposited," and shall have the same authority as the original notarized statement. These two Articles allow a consumer to establish that a certain act was in fact accomplished or acquire a copy of the original instrument from the county clerk. Both possibilities can alleviate concern where proof that a particular act was done or instrument was notarized is needed but recollection of the act's occurrence is absent or the instrument in question has been lost or destroyed.

As I pointed out last week, problems can occur when a notary public causes confusion or misunderstanding in a consumer's mind as to the notary's authority. One of the most frequent ways in which this is done is by the notary public advertising himself or herself as a "notario publico." A seeming innocent variation, this practice usually is a calculated method of causing deception, and has become such a recognized source of consumer deception that Article 5949, Section 5(c) provides that the literal translation of the phrase "Notary Public" into Spanish is prohibited. Failure to comply with that subsection constitutes a deceptive trade practice, actionable under the Texas Consumer Protection Act. The basis for this prohibition is that, in Mexico, the phrase "notario publico" connotes someone with a legal background or training, usually an apprentice attorney. Since a notary public need not possess this background or expertise to qualify as such, advertising oneself as a "notario publico" creates an erroneous impression that the person possesses skills apart from other notaries public, when, in truth, such is not the case. For this reason, Section 5(b) of the same Article requires that every Notary Public who is not an attorney and who advertises the services of a notary public in a language other than English, shall post or otherwise include a notice that the person is not an attorney. Specific requirements of the notice's print size and contents are contained in Section 5(b).

As I stated at the outset, while some argue that a notary public's role to serve the public is merely a formality, the State's Legislature has obviously thought otherwise. Notaries public fulfill an important role in day-to-day transactions, and are subject to stringent laws to protect the consumer while they carry out that role.

Community Dialog Inspiration #10

There are 5 guiding principles which are used to determine the inspiration of the books of the Bible.

1. Is it authoritative—did it come from the hand of God?
2. Is it prophetic—was it written by a man of God?
3. Is it authentic?...If in doubt it was thrown out.
4. Is it dynamic—did it come with the life-transforming power of God?
5. Was it received, collected, read and used—was it accepted by the people of God in the time in which it was written?

•FLORIDA. Billy G. Davis, director of the Division of Public Assistance Fraud, Office of the Auditor General: "I submit to you that trafficking in food stamps, or black marketing in food stamps, is an enormous problem." His agents reported the purchase (using food stamps) of automobiles, tires, boats, cow manure, marijuana, stereo sets, handguns, stoves, air conditioners, television sets—and even a funeral.

Says Helms: "These are just random samples of evidence that has been accumulated. Do you agree that there is cause for concern? Do you think we should continue to tighten up on the food stamp program? Or, to put it another way, do you agree that all welfare programs, including food stamps, ought to be limited to the truly needy?"

Cut Health Costs By Staying Healthy

From Lou Gilly
County Extension Agent
Take care of your health—and your health costs.

Americans spent $943 each in 1979 for health care, a total of $200 billion, or one-tenth of the Gross National Product.

Consumers can help control these staggering costs in several ways with one basic idea in mind: it pays to stay healthy.

Six major steps can go a long way toward economical health care.

1. Stay fit.
2. Recognize early warning signs of disease.

3. Learn about low-cost or free health care.

4. Provide your own home care.

5. Consider buying "generic name" drugs.

6. Follow your doctor's orders.

STAY FIT

Staying fit is your best "no-cost" health insurance.

This involves eliminating cigarette smoking, getting moderate exercise, eating sensibly, reducing alcohol consumption, obeying speed laws and using seat belts in vehicles.

KNOWING WARNING SIGNS

Learn to recognize early warning signs of disease.

At an early stage—before expensive hospitalization is necessary—many potential health problems can be detected and treated. Early stages of disease are when chances of recovery are best.

LOW-COST HEALTH CARE

Learn about low-cost or free health care. Many health-care services are available through a variety of public programs at all levels of government, such as well-baby clinics, Planned Parenthood and Family Planning, immunizations from public health clinics, and screenings for high blood pressure and glaucoma.

HOME CARE

Provide your own home care.

Be ready for emergencies with an adequate first-aid kit at home and in the car.

When possible, care for a convalescing family member at home.

It's much more pleasant and less expensive than a hospital or nursing facility.

Most communities have home health-care services to provide you with backup support.

GENERIC DRUGS

Consider buying drugs by their generic name.

Generic-name prescription drugs are usually cheaper to buy than brand-name prescription drugs, so when your doctor prescribes a drug, talk to him or your pharmacist about the least expensive way to buy the drug.

DOCTOR'S ORDERS

Follow your doctor's orders—all of them, not just the ones you "like".

Government Pensions Can Affect SS

People working in a Federal, State, or local government job not covered by social security should know that the pension from this work could affect the social security benefit they were expecting to receive as a husband or wife. Glyn Hammons, social security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

The purpose of the offset is to prevent windfall payments to retired government workers who have their own pensions and would also receive social security benefits as a spouse or surviving spouse. Hammons said.

In addition, the offset will not apply if the person's government job is covered by social security on the last day the person works. More information about the government pension offset can be obtained at the Abilene social security office. A free leaflet, "Government pension offset—How it may affect you", can be obtained there. The office is located at 142 S. Pioneer and the telephone number is 698-1360. For those living outside Abilene, call toll free by dialing 1-800-392-1603.

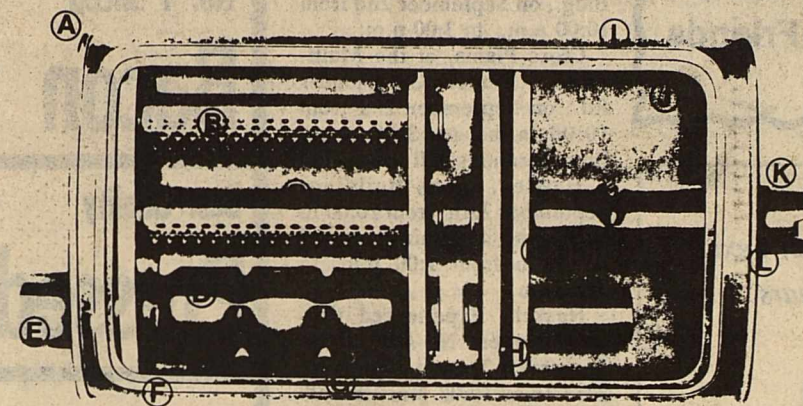

January 1977. At that time, a man had to have been dependent upon his wife for more than half of his support to be eligible as a husband or widower, and a divorced woman's marriage had to have lasted 20 years, rather than the 10 years now required for her to be eligible.

Prepare For Fall Garden Now

Although there is still plenty of hot weather ahead, it's time to start getting things in shape for your fall vegetable garden.

Much of Texas is well suited for year-around gardening, and fall vegetables generally have better quality and flavor than those grown in the spring, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Many popular warm-season vegetables such as tomatoes, peppers, eggplants, pole beans, potatoes, okra, cucumbers and squash can be planted during the coming weeks.

Also, the so-called

"winter" vegetables such as broccoli, cabbage, cauliflower, greens, parsley, and carrots can be planted now for early harvesting. Later plantings of these cold-hardy crops will supply fresh vegetables well into winter.

What are some of the important aspects of fall gardening?

First of all, get the land into good shape, suggests Cotner. If you had a garden this spring and fertilizer was applied, little if any additional fertilizer will be needed before fall planting.

For new gardens, apply two to three pounds of a complete fertilizer such as 10-20-10 per 100 square feet and work it into the soil, recommends the horticulturist. If plants make slow growth, apply a light amount of fertilizer between rows and water it into the soil.

Adequate water is vital for a successful fall garden, particularly for seed germination and early plant growth. Cotner suggests "pre-irrigation" before planting followed by subsequent, light watering three or four times a week to keep soil from drying and crusting. Water stress during early growth of plants can reduce later yields.

Transplanting is a good practice in the fall since this allows seed to be started in areas sheltered from high temperatures and drying winds.

Cotton Aphid Damage Due To Moisture Loss

The aphids that are in cotton in large numbers are not the same as the aphids that are in pecan trees. Aphids in cotton are the cotton or melon aphid while the aphids in pecans are primarily yellow pecan aphids. There are two other aphids which are commonly found on the foliage of pecan trees.

Widespread cotton aphid infestations are present in cotton fields in this area. Generally, aphids are heaviest in younger cotton and are concentrated on the underside of young leaves in the terminal of plants. As plants mature, they become less attractive and aphid populations decrease.

Beneficial populations of convergent and scymnus lady beetles, lacewings, syrphid flies and in some cases parasitic wasps are increasing.

Honeydew, sugary material given off by the aphids while they are feeding, covers the top portion of plants where heavy aphid infestations are present. In many fields, aphid infestations are spotted while in other fields aphids can be found in large numbers on most plants.

The need for insecticidal control of aphids is generally indicated by the condition of cotton. Control measures should only be considered where aphids are causing the plants to wilt excessively, due to their feeding activity. Cotton aphids do not inject toxins into the plants as they feed, so their damage is primarily that of taking moisture and nutrients from the plants. Plants continue to grow and produce squares as long as moisture does not become limited.

As cotton plants begin to bloom near the top, aphid populations will be reduced. In most cases, beneficial populations can be expected to reduce aphid infestations in about two weeks. With the maturing of cotton and increased beneficial activity, aphid populations will decline. Heavy rainfall can also reduce aphid populations.

Infested fields should be inspected regularly to determine the aphid and beneficial situation. If aphid outbreak can be weathered without the use of chemical control meaasures, even stronger beneficial populations will be produced to help with the control of bollworms.

Committee To Study Engineering Problem

COLLEGE STATION — A national plan to combat critical shortages of engineering faculty and postgraduate students is expected by fall, says the dean at the nation's largest college of engineering.

Dean Robert Page of Texas A&M University said 2,500 engineering faculty are needed today in the nation's colleges. He feels the shortage of qualified faculty is at the heart of problems facing engineering educators.

Page chairs a special national steering committee appointed by the American Association of Engineering Societies to direct an industry-financed executive who will work on a government/industry/education-coordinated solution.

Banvel herbicide can beat any bindweed it tangles with.

When it comes to controlling bindweed and tough perennial weeds, nothing offers the advantages of Banvel® herbicide.

Every year, perennial weed problems such as bindweed, blueweed, lakeweed and silverleaf nightshade become more of a problem—proof that past control measures have not been doing their job. Turn to Banvel herbicide to stop spreading perennial weed problems.

An application of Banvel herbicide after harvest kills tough perennial weeds before they can go into winter remission. Banvel tackles bindweed and other perennial weeds on stubble... fallow or other cropland.

You can apply Banvel this season—and still return land to production on schedule. (See the Banvel label for application rates and instructions.)

Bindweed, blueweed, lakeweed and silverleaf nightshade need not take over your fields. Check its proven results...check its reasonable cost...And you'll ask for Banvel herbicide.

Choose Children's Wardrobe Carefully

From LOU GILLY
County Extension Agent

Clothing for children going back to school need not be expensive, says Nancy Brown, a clothing specialist.

When choosing back-to-school clothing, consider the child's preferences and activities, styling, fabric type and care factors. Also, pay special attention to choosing shoes, the specialist says.

Brown is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

PLANNING SCHOOL WAREROBES

In planning your child's clothing purchases, remember that garment styling is very important to youth. They like to "fit-in" with the crowd which means wearing clothing similar to their peers. Therefore, observe what his friends are wearing, Brown advises.

Plan to take your child shopping with you. Prepare him for what you are looking for, too, before you go. When you do go shopping, shop for only him, as children get tired of shopping if there are many other tasks to be done, the specialist reminds.

Make a list of specific items needed before you go. Also include the quantity needed.

Consider the child's growth patterns when deciding how many of each item to buy. Purchasing a lot of clothes he may grow out of in three months is expensive.

Also, consider purchasing two or three outfits that can be mixed and matched for a more useful wardrobe.

Evaluate what special activities the youth may be involved in, too.

If special clothing will be needed for each activity, consider these as a share of the clothing budget. Decide if parts of these garments could be worn with his regular school clothing for a wardrobe extender.

Unplanned expenditures such as special-activity items can wreck a budget. However, such clothing may be very important to the youth and should be planned for.

Choose styles and fabrics that will grow with the youth. Raglan sleeves, cuffs on pants, large hems in dresses and tops are features that can add to the wear-life of a garment, the specialist says.

Knits, especially cotton or cotton/polyester, are easy to care for and have stretch for comfort.

Choose durable fabrics such as denim and corduroy to withstand children's abuse and repeated laundering.

CHILDREN'S SHOES
Always take special care to choosing shoes, Brown advises.

Select at least two pair that can be interchanged for longer wear and comfort.

Have a reputable shoe salesman determine your child's size.

Then choose sturdy shoes that provide support.

Children should not wear hand-me-down shoes, because such shoes force children's feet to conform to the footprint already in the shoe, Brown says.

Biblical fish holds promise as food source

COLLEGE STATION — Texas A&M University scientists are raising a fish that — while two won't feed 5,000 people — holds promise as a food source for multitudes.

Tilapia, a striped, oval-bodied fish that resembles a sunfish and grows to about two pounds, is believed to be the same species spoken of in the Gospel of Matthew when Christ fed 5,000 followers from five loaves of bread and two fish. Also known as Saint Peter's fish, Tilapia are native to the Middle East and Africa and provide a cheap source of protein.

I would like to use this column this week to introduce you to the new teachers in our system. I will give a thumbnail description in the order in which we employed them.

Jim Bob Mickler has been employed as a coach. He is a former Indian. He graduated from Texas A&M where he was a yell leader and President of the student body. Coach Mickler will teach industrial arts this year. This program had died because of our inability to secure a teacher so we are proud to reinstate this program.

Mrs. Don Comedy has been hired to replace Ms. Viola Sims as the elementary P.E. teacher. Mrs. Comedy has been teaching in Rochester for the last several years. She has 10 years experience.

Mrs. Betsy Bellah is our new Home Ec. teacher. Mrs. Bellah is a recent graduate of Texas Tech where she graduated Summa Cum Laude. Mrs. Bellah is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rob Brown. She replaces Mrs. Betty Sadberry. Mrs. Bellah and Mrs. Jean Jeter will be working together in Home Economics.

VA Cemetery Burial Available To Vets

Veterans should remind their families that burial in a Veterans Administration national cemetery is open to any veteran who has been discharged under other than dishonorable conditions, according to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer of Haskell County.

Although the law does not provide for grave site reservations, a veteran can make things easier for his survivors by expressing a desire to be buried in a national cemetery, keeping military service records accessible and verifying eligibility at any VA office.

To be eligible for burial, military service must have been for other than training purposes. Reserve or national guard personnel who do not meet those requirements, but who die as a result of their active duty training, may also be eligible. Burial is available to an eligible veteran's widow, widower, minor children, and under special circumstances, unmarried adult children.

When a veteran or dependent dies, the documents verifying eligibility should be presented to the funeral director handling the burial. The funeral director then contacts the national cemetery director to determine eligibility and space availability.

Additional information concerning burial in national cemeteries may be obtained from your local Veterans Service Officer or from the nearest cemetery, three of which are located in Texas:

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

We are seeing encouraging signs that the Administration and the Congress are beginning to take serious steps to aid in the revitalization of the economy. Yet, whenever discussion of the economy comes up, the nagging question of interest rates continues to stand out as a sore point.

While we are seeing signs of health in many facets of the economic picture, interest rates remain disturbingly high. This stubborn high rate of interest has made the financial community wary, and could present a serious roadblock to economic recovery.

Interest rates remain high today largely because of psychological factors. These factors center on public expectations of continued inflation.

Lenders expect to be repaid in depreciated currency and loan demand is artificially stimulated because many borrowers figure they will come out ahead by paying off their loans with funds that are worth less in real dollars.

As a result, we pay a "premium" for inflation when we borrow. When neither borrowers nor lenders believe that inflation can be controlled, this "inflation premium" tacked on to interest rates remains high.

But while we now suffer from high rates, we must remember two things: many lenders have suffered losses from earlier loans made during periods of relatively low inflation, and, what may be the even greater factor, this expectation that future inflation will remain high.

But I now believe the business community will see that the current Administration and most members of Congress are finally serious about tackling the large role the federal government plays in creating inflation.

In every way, President Reagan has demonstrated the necessary resolve to reduce federal spending and ease costly government regulations. The business community has been burned in the past by artificially low interest rates that shot up as soon as the next election was over, but I believe now they will see that the combination of the President's and the Congress' resolve will set a clear example that will gain credibility as time goes on.

The President's tax package also includes incentives for savers, a long neglected step in our economic planning. Savings provide the pool from which capital can be loaned out to businesses and individuals. When this pool shrinks, the old law of supply and demand forces prices for money up.

Most industrialized nations have long realized this and have taken steps to encourage savings. Finally, we have too. The President's plan provides higher tax exclusions for savings and dividend income, and allows individuals vastly greater freedom to set up tax-free individual retirement accounts.

What's more, one can't overlook the fact that the public will probably be putting away more money in savings simply because the President's tax package takes the courageous step of letting Americans keep more of their hard-earned income through the largest tax cut in the history of the country.

While these interest rates are troublesome today, I believe these steps will serve to lower inflation expectations, increase savings and, eventually, force down these steep interest rates.

The Family of Leslie V. Collins would like to express their thanks and appreciation for the love, sympathy and support shown during our time of sorrow. We are grateful for the cards, flowers, the lovely meal served at the First Baptist Church and the care provided by friends, nurses and doctors at the hospital.
