CONFERENCE

Bulldogs Down Tribe, 35-0

The Clyde Bulldogs stopped the Tribe in their tracks last Friday night defeating them 35-0.

The Tribe offense had trouble all night managing only 127 yards total offense to Clyde's 271.

Clyde scored twice in the first quarter, on a 42 yard pass on their first possession and on a 12 yard run with 2:01 left. Both PAT's were good making the score 14-0 at the end of the first quarter.

Clyde threatened to score early in the second period but a James Davis fumble recovery stopped the Bulldogs on the two yard line.

The Bulldogs intercepted a Tribe pass on the first play of the second half and scored two plays later to increase their lead to 21-0.

Clyde scored twice in the fourth period to complete the scoring at 35-0.

On their final possession of the game, the Tribe moved the ball 54 yards and gained three first downs before time ran out with the ball on the twenty.

The Tribe will travel to Electra this Friday for their final non-conference game of the year. Game time is 8 p.m.

Urgent Meeting Set For AAM Members

Marvin Meeks, National Chairman of the AAM, will be the speaker at the Tuesday, October 13, meeting at the Elementary School. A free chili supper will begin at 7:00 p.m.

The American Agriculture Movement has taken a new direction through the Lobbist Group, the Martin Haley Corporation. Mr. Meeks will be stressing the importance of the survival of all phases of agriculture and agriculture related fields. It is urgent that all business related to agriculture be represented.

The Martin Haley Corporation will be representing all farmers and will be lobbying for the interest of agriculture as well as the survival of the rural communities.

Set aside Tuesday for a night with the AAM members in the Haskell area, come hear an interesting speaker and some very informative information relating to agriculture since we are an agriculture community.

Reduced Acreage Plans Announced

Secretary of Agriculture, John R. Block, announced in September the intentions of his department to implement a 15 percent "reduced acreage" program for the 1982 wheat crop to offset the effects of record supplies and depressed wheat prices.

Program operating procedures will be issued after pending farm legislation is enacted into law.

"Wheat supplies in the United States are 14 percent above last year," Block said. "The carryover next June is expected to exceed 1 billion bushels, the highest level since 1977-78. The reduced acreage program will strengthen prices by reducing the 1982-83 marketing year supplies."

Block said the increase in supplies and decrease in prices is the result of two successive record U. S. wheat crops and a record-setting 1981 world harvest.

The program will be voluntary so producers can decide for themselves, based on market conditions, whether they want to participate. Program benefits, however, will be tied to participation.

"Soil conservation will be strongly stressed in this program," Block said. "The reduced acreage will have to be devoted to conservation uses."

Plans Continue For Homecoming

Plans for the Haskell-Mattson Homecoming are continuing and Homecoming Association officers feel confident that this will be one of the best ever.

Gerald McCoy has asked that persons with old school pictures who would like to donate them to the Homecoming Association do so before next Monday.

The pictures will become the property of the Homecoming Association and will be mounted and displayed at each homecoming.

Next week's Free Press will contain a complete schedule of events for homecoming and a listing of all class parties.

Persons hosting class parties are asked to contact Dorothy Hartsfield at 864-2665 by Friday, October 9 in order to have the parties listed.

4-H Week Scheduled

Haskell County 4-H members will be joining some 140,000 boys and girls in Texas and more than five million across the nation in celebrating National 4-H Club Week Oct. 4-10.

Theme of this year's observance will be "Future Pathways." The theme challenges 4-H youth to become self-directing, productive citizens and leaders, points out Lou Gilly, county 4-H program leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The Extension Service is the parent organization of 4-H.

According to Mrs. Gilly, 4-H is the nation's largest out-of-school educational youth organization which offers unique learning experiences for youth through its time-tested "learning-by-doing" approach. 4-H'ers become involved in a variety of practical, real-life activities that range from agriculture and clothing to health and wood science. Programs vary according to youth needs and community resources.

4-H involves youth from all social and economic backgrounds and gives them an opportunity to key in on such vital issues as energy conservation, better human nutrition, wise use of natural resources, and combating inflation. Furthermore, 4-H helps boys and girls gain knowledge and skills for their future careers, points out Mrs. Gilly.

In addition to recognizing the 4-H program and the many opportunities it offers our nation's youth, National 4-H Week is also a time for recognizing the work of the many volunteer leaders who give unselfishly of their time and resources to help youth grow and develop, adds Mrs. Gilly. 4-H boasts more than half a million volunteer leaders across the nation; 22,000 of those are in Texas and 30 are in Haskell County.

Hallgren. Mr. Herren holds the distinction of being the Dean of Official Weather Watchers for the Low Rolling Plains of Texas.

The success of our climatological program is due in great measure to conscientious citizens like Mr.

Herren. The observations which you and others have taken through the years are in constant use in many ways. They are and will continue to be important in helping solve problems concerning the conduct of our industry, commerce, and agriculture. Thank you very much for the important services you have performed so well, said Hallgren.

In addition to the climatological value of Mr. Herren's observations, he has contributed to the hydrological, as well as the agricultural programs.

Sam Herren had received one of the National Weather Service's highest awards in August of 1977. He was among an elite 25 volunteer observers, selected nationwide from a list numbering 12,000, to receive the coveted John Campanius Holm Award. ### Inspiration #16

In order to try and undermine the power of prophecy, critics have often charged:

1. That the language is vague.
2. That some of the prophecies are artificially fulfilled.
3. That the prophecies were written after the events.
4. That the same phenomenon occurs in other religions.

These changes, however, have been based on the process of rationalization rather than demonstrable fact.

Girl Scout Calendars On Sale In October

The Girl Scout CALENDAR SALE will be held during the entire month of October, 1981. Registered troops of the West Texas Girl Scout Council will have the GIRL SCOUT CALENDAR 1982 for sale, price $1.00.

The theme of the new calendar is "Girl Scouts—Going and Growing". Each month has a picture of typical Girl Scout faces—girls doing things and going places. The calendar page is made up of 1 1/4 inch squares suitable for appointment notes or important data one might want to remember.

Purchase of the calendar furthers Girl Scouting in each community. The profit goes into the troops budget to help a troop explore a variety of activities such as those pictured in the GIRL SCOUT CALENDAR 1982—flag ceremonies, outdoor fun, performing arts, badge choices, music, song, ceremonies, service, adventure and travel to far-away places.

Girls get much out of Girl Scouting when family, friends, neighbors and other people of the community are involved. The CALENDAR SALE is a two-way public service. You help a little girl to "learn by doing".....the calendar layout helps the public know how Girl Scouting is growing.

Area Residents Enjoy Bus Tour

Forty-six eager birds boarded a bus at sunrise September 16. They were all part of the Nocona Fun Tours group headed by Weldon Cowan of Nocona, tour director. Those from this area were Mr. and Mrs. J.P. Perrin and Dudley, Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Mullins, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Yearly, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Wall.

After arriving in Eureka Springs, Ark., we drove out to see the giant statue of "Christ of the Ozarks". It is seven stories high and weighs over a million pounds with an arm-spread of 65 feet. That night we saw the famous "Passion Play". It is the divine Tragedy of Christ's last week on earth and his resurrection and ascension. Eureka Springs is called "Little Switzerland".

After touring downtown Eureka Springs, we left for Branson, Mo. We stayed in the "Country Music Motor Inn" and ate lunch that day at an interesting place called the School of the Ozarks. The food is prepared by the students and they raise their own beef and pork, and grow the grain and corn for their bread. We took a 90 minute tour of the grounds and saw the Museum, the Dairy, and observed the students grinding meal and flour and weaving cloth.

Then we went to "Silver Dollar City" and by the Shepherd of the Hills Gift Shop. That night we saw the "Baldnobbers" Hillbilly Jamboree Show. We left early the next morning to go to Nashville. Near Harrison, Ark., an 18 wheeler had overturned a car blocking our way for a while. After arriving in Nashville, Tenn., we enjoyed our evening meal, compliments of Weldon Cowan.

The next day we spent the entire time in Opryland, seeing several shows on the grounds and riding some of the attractions, ate our lunch there, then went to the "Grand Ole Opry" that afternoon.

After breakfast the next day, we went through the "Music Hall of Fame" and shopped at the Conway Twitty Country Store etc., then traveled to Memphis. Finis Hodges, a retired minister, gave a devotional. Mrs. Sue Yearly gave her testimony and prayer and we sang songs and had our worship service.

In Memphis we visited Elvis Presley's home, "Graceland" then took a ride on the Mississippi River aboard the "Memphis Queen III".

On our way home we had a contest to see who could name the most people on the bus, and Eula Faye Galmour from Forestburg won the gift. Then we voted on the most helpful and friendly person aboard and Lee Martin from Nocona won.

Less Hudnut of Dallas was the driver of the Chartered Trailways bus.

When a business is expanding, so is the load on its phone lines. The usual solution is to add more phones.

And that is the time to have a talk with General Telephone's Communications Consultants. They will make a

We keep you talking.

Brush and Palette

As an artist and teacher, I am interested in the art success of each reader of this column. I am often asked to recommend artists' materials. I can only speak from personal experience. I prefer the older established named brands, i.e., Windsor Newton, Grumbacher, Shiva and Liquitex, which was originally Permanent Pigments. I say this because I feel that the success of a painting is not only a result of the skill one may command, but also a result of the intimate knowledge of one's materials. I am used to the colors of these pigments and know what they will do for me and what I can do with them, which gives me the security to knowing that I can achieve the desired effects. For this reason I suggest the use of 'named' brands of materials.

Q. What is Encaustic Painting and how does it work?
A. Briefly, encaustic painting is an ancient painting medium using liquid wax mixed with pigments. In the basic technique, pigments are mixed with hot beeswax and applied to a painting ground using bristle brushes, painting knives or spatulas. The surface is then heated and colors are manipulated and blended. Various techniques are possible including impastos, glazes and scumbling as well as both opaque and transparent passages. Unlike oil painting, encaustic is not subject to yellowing and is virtually impervious to both moisture and temperature changes. Sometimes hardening agents are used to extend permanency and stability. A firm support like masonite properly prepared with Gesso is suggested.

Q. Are there really bluish reds and reddish blues?

A. Yes, some reds like Alizarin Crimson and Carmine have bluish cast. And some blues like Ultramarine have a reddish cast.

Q. What are the cool blues? What are the warm Blues?

A. Prussian Blue and Cerulean Blue generally have a greenish cast and are considered cool. Cobalt and Ultramarine are inclined toward the reddish or warm cast.

Q. What is meant by the term "Sully" in regard to color and how is it accomplished?

A. You sully a color when you neutralize it (reduce its intensity) with the addition of black or gray or by mixing it with its complement. Refer to your color wheel for the complimentary color. Use your color wheel often!

Q. Encountering the winter weather, what do you suggest for painting in my own studio?

A. Ah, this is the time you use those sketches you made all summer on your trips. The photos you took and what you recorded mentally. The extra time you spent in making notes and sketches will improve invaluable for painting indoors. Remember, painting snow scenes of any distinction, you will find that the blues and purples must be toned down.

HINT: Regarding the art connoisseur, identified as a prophet today, Frederic Taubes refers to the Bible for comparison. Read Genesis 11:7.

Progressive Study Club Agenda Varied

Plans for the Progressive Study Club supper, the beautification of Haskell, and the election of new members were the primary topics under consideration at the regular meeting of the Progressive Study Club, October 1. First Vice-President, Sandy Horton presided for President Anita Herren, who is ill.

The first order of business was to vote on the four names presented for membership on September 17. Sue Yeary, Peggy Payne, Lessa Toliver, and Julia Herrell were elected to membership. Three other names were presented and voted on, also. Selected were Kay Graham, Loreen Beason and Anita Thigpen.

A sister program was suggested and approved, whereby each member will have a "sister" to notify of meetings and special events in hopes of improving attendance and interest in club activities.

The financial report was read by Jerrene Couch and approved. Mrs. Couch also led the discussion of plans for the supper before the Munday football game, October 30, from 5:30 to 7:30 in the High School Lunch Room. The menu will consist of chicken spaghetti, lime jello salad, tossed green salad with Hidden Valley Ranch dressing, chess cake, French bread, tea and coffee. Food assignments were made, and tickets distributed. Tickets will sell for $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for elementary school age children or younger. Tickets may be purchased from members or by contacting Nedra McCauley.

Faye Woodson, parliamentary pointer, led the reading of the Club Constitution and By-Laws, and urged members to attend the Mesquite District Board Meeting in Clyde, October 10.

Franciene Johnson, the featured speaker for the meeting, was introduced by Gladys O'Neal. Mrs. Johnson attended the 14th Annual Meeting of the Beautify Texas Council in Grand Prairie, June 17-19. This meeting brought together various groups from all over Texas who have been actively involved in the beautification of their areas. In addition to adult area volunteers, youth groups—Campfire Girls, Scouts, 4-H groups, and school groups—attended to present their projects for awards.

Inspired by what she had learned, Mrs. Johnson conducted an organizational meeting August 18 to interest groups in the clean-up and beautification of Haskell. Individuals affiliated with various organizations in Haskell attended. Lou Gilly, who works with Home Demonstration clubs and FFA groups; Juanita Dunnam, the Garden Club; Tom Watson, the Fire Department and men's civic groups; and Jill Druesedow, publicity, were present.

As a result of that meeting, the Fire Department volunteered to burn weeds from vacant lots after the first frost, with the stipulation that the owners keep the lots clean thereafter. Contact Tom Watson for this service. Also, the Retail Trade Committee was asked to conduct a clean-up of the downtown area before Homecoming activities.

This organization will be meeting on the first Tuesday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the City Council Meeting Room. The public is invited to attend.

After discussing the status of the government grant for the improvement of the City Park, Mrs. Johnson recommended that the Progressive Study Club organize a campaign to raise funds for the purchase of a "weathered"

Cor-Ten steel bridge for the park. The bridge was not included in the grant given Haskell for the park. The bridge would be virtually indestructible and is a much needed addition. The club has taken the matter under advisement.

After the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served by hostesses Gladys O'Neal, Bernadine Blankenship, and Jennifer Burgess.

Sandy Grider To Speak In Aspermont

The Aspermont chapter of Women's Aglow Fellowship will meet Thursday, October 8, at 9:30 a.m. in The New Place, Aspermont. A nursery will be provided at fifty cents per child per hour. All area women are invited to come and bring a salad to share in a salad luncheon to be served at noon.

Speaker for the program will be Sandy Grider of Abilene. Sandy is a former homecoming queen and cheerleader from Abilene High School. She is also a former college and high school teacher with a master of science degree in secondary education. In 1972 she re-committed her life to Jesus Christ and was baptized in the Holy Spirit. She now teaches Bible studies for Women's Aglow, church and retreats. Sandy is president of Women's Aglow in Abilene and serves as hostess for a new Christian radio program in Abilene. Sandy is a single parent with three precious children, twin girls and a son. She has almost completed a book entitled "Adam—Where Are You?" which expresses the heartcry of God as He calls His children to come into intimate communion and fellowship.

The message that she will be sharing is on God's earnest desire for worshippers. By looking at the Tabernacle of Moses and discovering the pathway of the church through the ages, we will see that the call of the hour is to begin to worship beyond the veil into the Holy of Holies. For worship is not simply sitting passively in a church service. Worship is reaching up with all of our hearts to make divine contact with the One who is always reaching out to us. Worship brings us into His Presence and it is in His Presence that we are actually transformed into His beautiful image.

The Aspermont chapter of Women's Aglow Fellowship issues a special invitation to all interested area women to come and hear this exciting speaker.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Brazos Electric Power Cooperative, Inc., in accordance with provisions of the Public Utility Regulatory Act of Texas, hereby gives notice of the Cooperative's intent to implement a new schedule of wholesale electric service rates, effective October 31, 1981, or as soon thereafter as permitted by law.

The proposed rate changes, all at the wholesale level, will affect all Brazos' member cooperatives and interconnection customers and are expected to result in an approximate 61.12% increase in gross revenues when compared to a test year, April 1, 1980, through March 31, 1981.

The increased revenues are necessitated primarily by a newly constructed lignite-fueled generation plant, mine, and associated transmission line providing electric power to the Brazos System consumers.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected member distribution cooperative and interconnection customer of the Brazos System. It is available for inspection at the Cooperative's offices in Waco, Texas.

Pioneer Seeds Honor Joe Clark

Joe Clark of Sagerton, was honored recently as the outstanding dealer for Pioneer brand seeds on the Rolling Plains. He was presented a "D" Award, signifying the honor, by Pioneer district sales manager Rodney Clark.

The award was based on points earned throughout the 1981 sales year for various sales and customer service activities. Only nine dealers across Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, the territory served by the Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., were honored with "D" Awards this year.

The winners of 1981 "D" Awards were announced by Jim Lindsey, president of Southwestern Division of Pioneer, who said competition for the awards was tougher in 1981 than ever before.

"The 'D' Award represents the highest honor a Pioneer dealer can earn, and that in itself makes it very special. Dealers who win this award have gone the extra mile in serving their customers, and that's why we're proud to honor them," Lindsey said. "Pioneer could not be the leading company in the seed industry without dealers like Joe who recognize the importance of providing good service to our farm community. On behalf of Pioneer, I personally want to extend my congratulations to Joe for this outstanding accomplishment," Lindsey concluded.

In addition to receiving a plaque commemorating the award, Clark will have his name permanently placed in the Sales Hall of Fame at the headquarters of the Southwestern Division of Pioneer at Plainview.

Pioneer markets a full line of agricultural planting seeds through a network of over 600 dealers in its three state area.

Crop Insurance To Replace Disaster Program

A new insurance plan authorized by Congress is now available to wheat and barley growers in Haskell County, according to Ross Smith, District Director of USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation. A key feature of the insurance program, which is designed to replace the ASCS disaster payments program, is that the government pays up to 30 percent of the premium cost.

Another important feature, Smith adds, is the opportunity it provides for wheat and barley growers to choose the amount of protection they want to carry. It's possible to purchase a policy that guarantees 50 percent, 65 percent, or 75 percent of the local average yield. Policyholders can also select the price per bushel they want to be paid in the event of a loss. The choices are $2.50, $3.50 and $4.50.

Smith offers this illustration of how the insurance works: In an area where the average wheat yield has been 21.5 bushels per acre, farmers can elect to carry a policy that guarantees 11.0 bushels, 14.0 bushels or 16.0 bushels. If a wheat grower chooses the maximum guarantee of 16 bushels per acre and the maximum price per bushel of $4.50, he will be paid an indemnity of $4.50 for each bushel his yield is below 16.0 bushels per acre. This is based on dryland coverage. Irrigated coverage would be more.

Because of sharply higher production costs and last year's drought losses, Smith points out that most policyholders are choosing insurance that protects their entire production investment. Others are carrying enough insurance to guarantee the amount of income needed to meet specific financial obligations, such as the repayment of bank loans or land rental payments.

The deadline to apply for 1982-crop wheat and barley insurance in Haskell County is 10-19-81. Federal All-Risk Crop Insurance policies can be purchased from the local FCIC representative or from private insurance agents and lending institutions. Wherever purchased, the protection and the cost are the same.

Soil Testing Important To Crop

Getting your soil tested has always been important, but now this proven practice is more important than ever, emphasizes Max Stapleton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Texas A&M University System.

Fertilizer is getting more and more expensive, so it's crucial for producers to get the most from their fertilizer dollar. Getting a profitable return from fertilizer depends on the supply of available nutrients already in the soil. A soil test can provide an estimate of this supply.

A soil test will determine which nutrients are deficient in the soil for a particular crop so that a producer can fertilize to supplement the soil supply, points out Stapleton. It's not profitable to supply nutrients already available in the soil in sufficient quantities for a particular crop or to supply added nutrients that the crop does not need or cannot use.

Stapleton emphasizes that now is an excellent time to take soil samples since soil test results can be obtained more quickly this time of the year due to a smaller volume than in the spring. And, once producers have their test results, they can order the fertilizer they need for the coming season.

So, to plan the best fertilizer program, get your soil tested now, suggests Stapleton.

Joint Venture To Aid Rehab Center

The International Petroleum Exhibition for Public Education, sponsored by the Joint Venture for Crippled Children, will be Nov. 7-9 in the Round Building of the West Texas Fairgrounds in Abilene.

The high point of the three-day event will be the Joint Venture For Crippled Children Oilfield Equipment and Services sale at 1 p.m. Nov. 9.

Benefitting from these events will be the West Texas Rehabilitation Center which has treatment facilities for handicapped children and adults in Abilene, San Angelo and Snyder. More than 10,000 patients were treated last year without charge.

JVCC chairman Dick Bowen announced that 72 booths as well as outdoor exhibit space are available to businesses who would like to inform the public about their petroleum operations.

"There is a great deal of interest in the oil business right now. This should be a real interesting and very educational show," Bowen said.

"This is also a time of great need for the Rehab Center and this will be an opportunity for the people in the petroleum industry to really help," he said.

Booth space will be 10 feet by 10 feet and rent for $350. Outdoor spaces, approximately 30 feet by 30 feet, will rent for $350 also.

This is the third JVCC sale.

Donated to previous sales have been wildcat prospects, a variety of equipment and services, and oilfield art.

The Joint Venture for Crippled Children was started in 1978 as a partnership between the petroleum industry and the West Texas Rehabilitation Center.

Members of the Joint Venture steering committee planning these events are: Dick Bowen, chairman; Jerry Anderson, Tony Andress, William B. ## Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

Use of each teachers interests and expertise for the improvement of instruction is nothing more than good administration. A good example of this happened in our sixth grade this year. The sixth grades teachers Mrs. Letha Newton, Mrs. Debbie Earles, and Mrs. Paula Everett, came to Mr. Blakley with a proposal concerning development of an art program in the sixth grade. Mrs. Everett is a talented artist with an excellent background in art. The other two teachers were willing to take her late recess duties if she could teach art. Mr. Blakley immediately saw this as an opportunity to allow a segment of our school population to be exposed to a learning experience. Quickly, a program was established along these lines.

Like all pilot programs, we realize certain things may change as the program develops. However, we will give you an outline of what we are trying to do. Each sixth grade student has one art class a week. Also, they have the opportunity for additional work time at other periods of the day, if they show strong interests or wish to complete a project. The students come out of the last recess in small groups for their art instruction. Mrs. Everett began the instruction by teaching colors both primary and secondary and how to blend these colors. They have already used watercolors to paint pictures of trees, silhouettes, and other still forms. The next projects will be craft work centered around the holiday season. Art fundamentals will be blended in during this period. Poster making and depth study will also be a later project. Later on some pencil sketching will be developed with each child working to his or her ability level. Art appreciation will be blended into the program throughout so that the students will be exposed to the old master and have some knowledge of the works of famous artists. Local artists will be invited to show their works and techniques to these students.

Mrs. Everett is a graduate of McMurry where she majored in Elem. Education with an art minor. She also did some study at Texas Tech as well as attended numerous workshops and seminars in art, crafts, and the teaching of art.

Farm Bureau Has County Convention

Speaking before 250 members and guest at the annual county convention U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm of Stamford said both the problems of the country and the problems of agriculture might well be solved by a little help among one another. The 17th District congressman approved of extending the present farm legislature for a year and wants an amendment to set up a presidential commission to study the current problems in agriculture and then make some recommendations for solutions for these problems.

Students representing the county at the TFB Seminar this year in Waco were introduced. They were Mikeana Wilcox, Monty Moeller, and Randall Frierson.

In the brief business session eleven resolutions were presented and approved to be sent on to the State Convention in December.

Seven directors were elected with five hold-overs. They were T.C. Burson, president; Jerry Hannsz, vice president; Don Ballard, 2nd vice president; Cole Turner, and Steve McGuire, hold-overs. Bob Aycock, Joe Davis, Leon Stegemoeller, Harlan Weinert, Phil Coleman, Kenny Thompson and Bill Jones were elected for a two year term.

Since the agency manager and agents were relatively new, they were introduced to the convention. They are Lonnie Tate, Agency Manager and his wife Phyllis; Agent, Ike Neal and Agent, Dale Bullock and wife, Mondie. They all three came to Haskell from Olney.

Door prizes were given at the end of the meeting.

WASHINGTON OKAYS SEX PERVERSION

Within the memory of middle-aged Americans, residents and visitors to the nation's capital could walk the streets in complete safety. Washington was, as it should be, a showplace of safety.

Then something called "home rule" was enacted. Washington got its own mayor and city council. Crime shot up. The streets of the capital are no longer safe; sex crimes and teenage pregnancies led statistical compilations for the nation's major cities.

Alarmed, Washington's city fathers decided to do something about it. The result was the "D.C. Sodomy Licensing Act," which was submitted to Congress on July 21 under Section 602(c) of the District of Columbia Self-Government and Governmental Reorganization Act (PL 93-198). The act legalizes every sexual act, whether sodomy, sadism or any other perversion purportedly committed with the "consent" of any party 16 years or more of age.

Although Washington is self-governing, Congress still has the power to override any acts passed by the city council.

New Owners To Operate Weinert Store

During a public reception on Saturday, September 26, coupled with a pleasant day of visiting, area people made their last purchase of groceries from the John A. Mayfields of Weinert. As of January 27, 1982, Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield would have operated the business 35 years. They have sold the Mayfield Grocery and Cafe to Joey and Caron Yates of Weinert. The Mayfields, both reared in the Weinert area, purchased the store from the M.L. Raynes, now residents of Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield reared a son and two daughters during the years they operated the store, all sharing in the work at the store, market and cafe. Their three children were present on Saturday.

Actually, the first store was located in the old business part of the downtown section. At that location the business grew and Weinert residents, including high school boys and girls were needed as extra help.

During the first seven years, many staples were sold in bulk, hand slicers were used in the market, cookies and candy were sacked by hand and weighed for the customers, and no grocery baskets were used.

On June 17, 1955, fire destroyed the building and contents. After this, the Mayfields built a new store adjacent to the highway and have operated a more convenient shopping place, even adding a cafe. Expansion included frozen food storage and ice cream and soft drink machines. Many hardware items were added and more employees were needed. Mr. Mayfield stated, "I have had very pleasant experiences with my employees. A number of the students worked after school on a part-time basis and then full time in the summers. Several faithful employees have served twelve, eighteen and twenty-eight years, and served well. We appreciate them very much and couldn't have done without them."

Many pleasant and joyful memories will linger with the Mayfields, prosperous times and hard times both for themselves and their customers, but they were survived together. Credit has always been extended and no big problem has ever arisen. To the contrary, customers have expressed their appreciation to the Mayfields for "Carrying them through rough times" and have also appreciated the convenience of having a monthly charge account.

Mr. Mayfield has maintained farm and ranch interests during the years and plans to continue these interests. In ending their many years in the grocery business, the Mayfields made this comment, "We extend to our customers heartfelt appreciation and gratitude for your support during these years. You, our customers, are most important to us. Our wishes are that you support Joey and Caron as you have us. You are very special."

TAKING A BREAK

Taking a break on Saturday, September 26 at the Mayfield Grocery in Weinert were the new owner, Joey Yates, at left, and John A. Mayfield, owner and operator of the store for almost 35 years. Mr. Yates took over the operation officially Monday, September 28. Area customers and friends dropped by and enjoyed refreshments throughout the day Saturday.

Market Of New Sugar Substitute Set

A new sugar substitute— aspartame—is expected to be on the market in about six months.

Aspartame, to be marketed under the tradename "Equal" by G.D. Searle Co., was approved recently by the Food and Drug Administration.

The new product is made up mainly of two amino acids, phenylalanine and aspartic acid, points out Al Wagner, food technologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. These, along with other amino acids, are the normal building blocks of protein in foods consumed as part of any healthy diet.

Phenylalanine and aspartic acid combined in a certain manner produce an intensely sweet-tasting substance called aspartame that is about 180 times sweeter than sucrose (sugar), says Wagner.

According to Wagner, aspartame has FDA approval for use as a sweetener in the following foods:

—Dry, free-flowing sugar substitute for table use in package units not to exceed the sweetening equivalent of 2 teaspoonfuls of sugar.

—Sugar substitute for sweetening hot beverages, including coffee and tea.

—Cold breakfast cereals.

—Chewing gum.

—Dry bases for beverages; instant coffee and tea; gelatins, puddings and fillings; and dairy products and toppings.

FDA approval is based on four additional conditions regarding final product labeling and Searle's record keeping:

—Any food containing aspartame must display a warning statement for phenylketonurics (persons sensitive to phenylalanine, much like diabetics are to sugar) that the product contains phenylalanine.

—A statement not to use aspartame in cooking and baking must appear on the label. Aspartame breaks down when exposed to prolonged heat, with a consequent loss in sweetness.

—If a food containing aspartame is represented to be for special dietary use as might be expected of a low-calorie product, the food must be labeled in compliance with FDA's special dietary foods regulation.

—Searle Co. is to monitor actual use levels of aspartame for the FDA.

Advantages that aspartame is supposed to have over other non-nutritive sweeteners are that it is virtually indistinguishable from sugar in taste, has no bitter or metallic aftertaste, and seems to act like a flavor enhancer for some fruits, such as MSG (monosodium glutamate) does for high-protein foods.

A major disadvantage is that it is not stable to heat for prolonged periods.

Consumers sensitive to the somewhat bitter aftertaste often associated with saccharin sweeteners will be delighted with this new product as will others who use non-nutritive sweeteners, believes Wagner.

WE ARE ENJOYING A WHOLE LOT OF A GOOD THING

For many years now, most of us have taken a plentiful supply of electricity for granted. We've found more and more uses for electricity, because, as Reddy Kilowatt kept telling us:

Electricity is Reliable
Electricity is Clean
Electricity is Efficient
Electricity is Quiet
Electricity is Flexible and Electricity is Low in Price

Electricity is still all of these things... even low in price compared to other goods and services. But there's no escaping the fact that costs of supplying it are constantly going up... and so is usage.

People in WTU territory are using more electricity than ever before (9,020 kilowatt-hours per residential customer in 1980, compared to 5,856 in 1970).

With the demand for its product steadily increasing, WTU can't stand still. It must grow, too.

The growth is carefully planned, with the customer's welfare foremost in mind. WTU is considering only the necessities. But to keep giving the kind of service you're used to, we're going to be involved in some costly updating of production, transmission and distribution facilities. And, of course, we must maintain a staff of people qualified to keep the system operating. You can depend on WTU to continue providing a reliable supply of electricity. But let's all realize what it takes to produce it, and use it wisely.

It's too good to take for granted.

Reddy Supplies the Energy... But Only You Can Use It Wisely.
