Indians Down Paducah, 28-20

The Haskell Indians further complicated the District 7-AA race last Friday by defeating the Paducah Dragons, 28-20.

The Munday Moguls lead the District with a 3-1 record followed by Haskell, Seymour, Quanah, and Crowell with 2-2 records and Paducah with a district record of 1-3.

Action this Friday will put Crowell against Munday; Paducah vs. Seymour; and Haskell vs. Quanah.

If Munday wins, they will represent the district. If the Moguls loose, the issue becomes more confusing.

Wins by Crowell, Seymour and Haskell will put the district in a four way tie between Crowell, Munday, Seymour and Haskell.

Wins by Crowell, Paducah and Haskell will create a three way tie between Crowell, Munday and Haskell.

In action last Friday night, the Tribe and Dragons exchanged TD's in the first and second quarters and ended the first half at 14-14.

The Tribe scored their first TD with 1:51 left on a two yard run by Jonnie Hise. The PAT failed and the score was tied 6-6 at the end of the first quarter.

The scoring drive by the Tribe covered 30 yards in four plays including an 18 yard run by Joe Benavides.

The second quarter was almost a replay of the first with the Dragons scoring with 7:54 left and the Tribe coming back to score with 1:03 left.

The Dragons successfully completed the two-point conversion attempt and enjoyed a short 14-6 lead.

After an exchange of punts, the Tribe took over on their own 22 yard line. On the second play of the possession, quarterback Mark Bailey connected with James Davis on a 54 yard pass. Benavides carried for 13 and two before scoring on a six yard run. Bailey passed to Benavides for the two point conversion tying the score at 14-14 at halftime.

The Dragons took the second half kick-off and marched 63 yards in ten plays for their final TD of the night. The PAT failed.

The Tribe scored on their next possession, moving the ball 67 yards in nine plays. Highlights of the drive were carries of 19 yards by Benavides and 13 yards by Curtis Forehand. The score came on a fourth and one situation when Forehand gained enough yardage for the first down and had the ball knocked loose when he was tackled. Bailey picked up the fumble and carried in for the TD. The PAT was good and the Tribe lead 21-20 with 4:08 left in the third period.

The Tribe defense held the Dragons on their next possession.

The Indians moved the ball 52 yards on five plays on their next possession and scored on a 15 yard pass from Bailey to Casey Hannsz. Benavides carried three times during the drive for runs of 17, 7, and 13 yards. The PAT was good and the scoring was completed giving the Tribe a 28-20 lead with 31 seconds left in the third quarter.

The Dragons only successful fourth quarter drive was halted when Davis intercepted a pass giving the Tribe the ball on their own 36 yard line.

The Tribe moved the ball to the three yard line before time ran out.

Benavides was the leading ground gainer with 154 yards on 22 carries. Forehand carried 14 times for 74 yards and Hise carried nine times for 45 yards.

The Tribe will host the Quanah Indians this Friday at 7:30 p.m. All Haskell fans are urged to be on hand and support the Tribe.

Chamber Directors Seeking New Manager

The board of directors of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce voted at their regular monthly directors meeting to begin interviewing and taking applications for the position of manager of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce. The office has been without a full time manager since July, when Jerry Jennings resigned to take employment with a firm in Abilene. Members of the board have served in a part time capacity to handle the activities of the Chamber, and have been doing a very good job.

Anyone interested in this position should contact members of the Chamber Executive Committee for a job description and application. Those members are Gene Long, President; Von Marr, Vice-President; Charles Thornhill, Secretary-Treasurer; and members of the Committee Sue Pate and Raja Hassen. These members will accept the applications, screen them, and then interview candidates for the position before presenting them to the full board.

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce has worked very hard, with a great amount of cooperation from the general membership, to make and maintain Haskell's reputation as a great place to live, to shop, and grow, and hopes to maintain this high level in the future.

Congressional Aids Visit In Local WTU Facilities

Four congressional staff members were in Haskell Monday to study the operations of an electric utility company in a non-metropolitan area.

The four are taking part in a month-long Fellowship Study Program sponsored by Central and South West Corporation and its four operating subsidiaries, which includes West Texas Utilities.

They are Nan Elwood, legislative assistant to Representative Eugene Johnston (R-NC); Bob Frishman, press secretary and legislative assistant to Representative Shirley Chisholm (D-NY); Jed Morrison, minority counsel to the House Committee on the Budget; and Drew Pettus, administrative assistant to Representative Al Swift (D-WA).

The program's aim is to give four Washington D.C. staff members the opportunity to increase their awareness of business by viewing first hand the operating aspects of the electric utility industry.

In Haskell, they were hosted by Local Manager Sue Pate, who explained customer service from the local perspective. They had visited the WTU District office in Stamford earlier in the day. From here they went to Vernon, where they toured the site for the coal-fired Oklaunion Power Station which WTU will start building next spring.

The four arrived at CSW headquarters in Dallas October 25 and since have visited Public Service Company of Oklahoma at Tulsa and Southwestern Electric Power Company at Shreveport. They spent one day this past week in Austin, visiting CSW's Legislative Affairs office and various state agencies.

Following their trip to West Texas they will go to Corpus Christi to study Central Power and Light Company operations before returning to Dallas.

They will be accompanied during their tour by Dick Brooks, vice president and director of customer services, and Sherwyn McNair, director of information services.

Chamber Directors Plan Annual Christmas Program

Haskell Chamber of Commerce board of directors, and members of the Retail Trade Committee finalized basic plans for the annual Christmas Program for the 1981 holiday season, this week.

This annual event, sponsored by the Chamber and its members, will be very similar to those of the past years.

Approximately $2,000.00 will be given away to shoppers of Haskell businesses, in three drawings. The dates for the drawings are Saturday, December 5, 12, and 19, at 2:00 p.m., on the Courthouse Square.

There will be nine winners at each of the drawings, the first ticket drawn winning $100, and the next eight winning $50 each. Shoppers do not have to be present to win, but if their name is called, and they are not present, they will receive one-half of the amount drawn for, with the other one-half being put into the jackpot for the final drawing on Saturday, December 19, which will be at least $500. The winner of the jackpot will have to be present.

Haskell merchants will unveil their holiday decorations on Thanksgiving night, November 26, and the downtown decorations will be turned on at that time.

A very aggressive advertising campaign for Haskell merchants will be carried out during the holiday season, featuring many good buys for shoppers throughout the area, as well as the bonus of the prizes of the drawings, which have totaled some $50,000 during past years. These prizes are just a small way of saying "Thanks" to the many shoppers and customers of Haskell.

Documentary On Care For Elderly To Air

"No Place Like Home," a documentary report on long-term care for the elderly will air on thirteen and nationally over most PBS stations Monday, Nov. 16 at 9 p.m. ET. (check local listings, in many cities, "No Place Like Home" will be rebroadcast Sunday, Nov. 22, 1981 at 3 p.m.)

Actress Helen Hayes, who recently celebrated her 81st birthday and who has long been an outspoken advocate for the elderly, is narrator and host of the hourlong program. In "No Place Like Home," she travels throughout the United States, reporting on nursing homes and on a range of alternative approaches to long-term care for the aged, including home care day care and congregate living.

Tracing the origins and development of nursing homes in America -- from the almshouses of the 1800's to the more than 18,000 institutions that today constitute a $21 billion industry -- "No Place Like Home" reports that approximately three-fourths of this country's nursing homes now are privately owned and operated for profit; that the U.S. Government pays two-thirds of the nation's total nursing home bill; and that 78 percent of the $5 billion spent annually on the elderly through Medicaid goes into nursing homes -- while less than 1 percent is allocated to home care services.

According to the documentary, providing care for the frail elderly at home often can be less costly and, in the opinion of many former and present nursing home residents interviewed by Miss Hayes, unquestionably more desirable than nursing home care. Moreover, although it is projected that one out of every five Americans eventually will enter a nursing home, experts estimate that as many as one-third of the more than one million people now living in nursing homes would not need to be institutionalized if alternative services for the elderly were more widely available. "No Place Like Home" illustrated that model alternative programs do exist in some U.S. communities. Haskell is just such a community, in that it has its own Home Health Agency of Texas, Inc., an in-home nursing and home health aide program supported by the local physicians. HELEN HAYES ON HOME CARE: "Growing old is a slow and personal process that affects each of us differently. Yet it is a terribly demanding time, because it forces changes we are not always ready to make." "Science has taught us to lengthen life. Now we must learn to make a longer life worth living. Older people deserve choices that let us live out our days as we wish. We've seen people making such choices all over America, and we realize what we might have known from the start: For most of us, there really is no place like home."

The artist doesn't paint the background as a separate unit since it must unify all the factors contained in the format. A background is one of the most determining elements in the construction of the painting since it sets the scene and is the success of the picture. One of my teachers, Dick Turner, said that he took as much time or more to create a good sky than it took to paint the rest of the picture. Whether it is the sky for a landscape or the background for a still life, it must be very fitting for the subject. The background represents atmosphere even if it is a drape or a wall or a sky. Being careful that it does not become just space, as it will then become troublesome to paint. Haven't you seen backgrounds that simply looked like space rather than atmosphere? Q. What part does light play in the background of a picture? A. Using paint to substitute for the effect of light, the background area is not a mystery. Light causes contrast of color. One way is to push into the background area the light effect of the entire room rather than just the immediate surroundings. Q. How do you get the depth in the background? A. Color vibration can stimulate atmosphere. One color is said to be flat, then placing another color in juxtaposition, the feeling of depth begins. Q. Can arrangement of colors give depth in the background? A. Yes, using your color wheel, determine the complementary colors. Working them with consistent rhythm of application you will find them to be just the color for a flat painted area to recede. Q. Using Ivory Black has resulted in an uneven background. What have I done wrong? A. You did not say if you were using Ivory Black in admixture with white and other colors of if you are using it separately to make an absolute black. Lamp Black or Mars Black would be a better choice if you use only black because of their opacity. Ivory Black is transparent. Q. My shadows have no substance in them. Am I making them too dark? A. Not seeing your picture, it's hard to answer your question. Shadows are most always affected by the reflected light and the color of the object. What is a shadow? It is the absence of light, isn't it? Therefore, the shadow is in a darker value - the grass or ground does not change color, it is the absence of light. Here again, refer to your color wheel and add some complementary color to the shadow. HINT: "Lay the paint on, wipe the brush, lose the edge" - S. Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

It is amazing how quickly this school year is passing. As I sat down to write my column this morning and began to grope for a subject, it dawned on me that the last regular season football game is this Friday night. I have not mentioned the football season since early in the fall. Our four sub-varsity teams finished the season last week. We saw a great deal of improvement in these teams throughout the season. There are definitely several athletes on the Jayvees that seem to be ready to step into varsity level competition. The Frosh had a good season and several of the Freshmen athletes are growing like "weeds". The Junior

Holle. The Hobby Club met in the home of Mrs. Johnny Teichelman Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Delbert LeFevre the president had the business meeting decide to have the Christmas party at the Old High teams played well and showed good improvement.

The varsity season has been a "topsy turvy" type of season. It ranged from a high of beating traditional rival Stamford in the last two minutes of the game to losing in the last two minutes in the homecoming game against Seymour. Despite injuries to key players, grade deficiencies, inexperience, we seem to be marching to at least an even season. Those of us who have been around for a while were probably spoiled by the highly successful three playoff seasons. We enjoyed the thrill of victory and the excitement of playoff football. Of course there is still a possibility of a tie in district and playoffs again. (I am writing last Friday.) However, these successes may have overshadowed some important things about high school sports. One important aspect is that winning cannot be the only criteria by which to judge a season. There is a group of youngsters who are winners no matter the outcome of the season. That is our Seniors. The majority of these 17 boys have stayed out all 6 years and tried hard. For several, this is their first season on the varsity. I, for one, admire these youngsters for their determination and desire. They are probably not the best athletes to have ever worn the black and gold, but they do not want for trying. This may be the most important aspect of interscholastic football.

Friday night is our last regular season game. Our opponent is the Quannah version of the Indians. They are also a team suffering through the pains of a rebuilding season. I know that the athletes on both teams would appreciate your support and your attendance at the game. So we hope each of you will be at Indain Stadium on Friday night at 7:30 p.m. to lend your voice and being to these young men. Also, I, for one, am going to reserve one loud cheer for these determined Senior kids. I know regardless of the outcome of the game or the season, they can walk tall with their chins high and truthfully acclaim. "I tried my best." See you at the game.

Glory Hall named were drawn. Those who attended were, Mrs. Alvin Ulmer, Mrs. M.Y. Benton, Mrs. Mike Hertel and baby, Mrs. Arthur Knippling, Mrs. Bill Hertel, Mrs. Alfred Hertel, Mrs. Christine Stremmel, Mrs. Clarence Teichelman, and Mrs. Delbert LeFevre.

The Bredthauer family dinner was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bredthauer in Stamford. The dinner was turkey and dressing and all the trimmings. Those who attended were, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bredthauer of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Greenwood of Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bredthauer of Rule, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer, Mrs. Herbert Nierdieck of Sagerton, Mrs. Claud Seifres and son Jeffery of Hamlin. FFA To Honor E. A. Howard

E.A. Howard, Jr., vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor at Post High School has been nominated to receive the FFA's Honorary American Farmer Degree.

Howard was nominated for the Degree by the Texas FFA Association and the nomination was approved by the National FFA Board of Directors which recently met in Alexandria, VA. The Honorary American Farmer Degree is the highest honorary degree presented by the FFA. This year 72 teachers of vocational agriculture were nominated to receive the degree during the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, Nov. 12-14.

E.A. Howard, Jr. has been a vocational agriculture teacher at Post High School for 17 years and taught Vocational Ag for a total of 30 years. During that time he has had two students who earned the American Farmer Degree, 16 students who received the State Farmer Degree and two students who earned state proficiency awards.

Each year at least 50 of the 12,000 teachers of vocational agriculture in the nation are awarded the Honorary American Farmer Degree. The Degree is awarded on the basis of points scored by a teacher for his accomplishments as a vocational agriculture instructor, FFA Advisor, and is a participant in professional vocational agriculture teachers' organizations.

Teachers are awarded points for each student they supervised in earning state and national FFA awards. Teachers also receive points for serving as officers and committee members of the National Vocational Agricultural Teachers' Association and for their participation in national meetings of the FFA and other profession associations.

E.A. Howard, Jr. is one of ten vocational agriculture teachers from Texas to be nominated for the Honorary American Farmer Degree this year. He plans to attend the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, on November 12-14 where he will be presented the degree pending final approval of the nomination by the student FFA delegates who must vote on all honorary presentations of the National FFA Organization.

Mr. Howard is a graduate of Haskell High School and received his B.S. and Masters Degrees at Texas Tech University.

Cotton Classing

Local cotton prices were weak to one cent per pound lower during the week ending November 6, according to B. B. Manly of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office in Abilene. Most cotton sold at 47 to 56 cents per pound in slow trading. Base micronaire, grades 42 or higher with staples 31 or 32 sold at 7½ to 9 cents over CCC loan values. Lower quality cotton sold at 2 to 6 cents over loan values, which placed physical prices as low as 38 cents per pound. Demand was light for most qualities, and was very light for staples 33 or longer.

Cottonseed prices paid farmers continued the lowest received in several years, ranging from 75 to 90 dollars per ton.

Dry weather allowed the cotton harvest to gain momentum during the past week. Harvesting is later than usual this season but is still earlier than it was last season. About 29,000 cotton samples were classed last week, which brought the seasonal total to 68,000 samples classed.

The quality of early season ginning has been low for grade, high for micronaire, and about average for fiber length. Grades were 43% 42, 21% grade 52, and 15% grade 41. Fiber length was 49% staple 32, 26% staple 33, 18% staple 31. Micronaire readings were 96% within the base range. About 18% of the samples classes were reduced in grade because of bark or grass content.

REFUGEE DAMAGE $8 MILLION

FORT CHAFFEE, Ark—Cuban refugees housed at this western Arkansas military base have ripped out fixtures and broken furniture, and the cost of repairs to the federal government will be about $8 million, the post commander says.

Col. Ray Spence says repairs to the base will begin after the last 543 of more than 25,000 Cuban refugees are resettled. Spence said the government already has spent more than $3 million to repair damage the refugees caused.

From the District Attorney's Office

Stopping Crime Is Every Citizens Duty

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is a public service by the Haskell Free Press through the cooperation of Joseph Thigpen, District Attorney. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this District and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

Without private citizens exercising their responsibility to report crimes, the arrest, prosecution, and punishment of criminals would be impossible. Crime prevention, and the entire criminal justice system, relies on the assumption that laws are made by the people and that it is primarily the people who enforce them. A patrolling police officer rarely witnesses a burglary or robbery in progress. Most of the time the responsibility for bringing the criminal to justice falls on the VICTIMS and WITNESSES of crime.

The first duty of a victim or witness is to REPORT ALL CRIMES. National victimization studies sponsored by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration of the U. S. Department of Justice reveal that a large number of crimes are never reported.

According to the studies, non-reporting victims often feel: the incident is not important enough to report, they will suffer much inconvenience by being a witness, or they will be exploited and subjected to undesirable media coverage.

Whatever the reason, unreported crime means less police protection in your neighborhood because law enforcement administrators use crime reports to determine manpower needs for each police district.

WITNESSES. You do not have to identify yourself when reporting a crime. Generally, police dispatchers understand the problems of witnesses and will usually send a cruiser. With an anonymous witness, however, the police officer who arrives at the scene must personally witness the criminal act in progress (a rarity) or dredge up a willing witness to go on record.

Crimes cannot be successfully prosecuted without identifiable witnesses.

If you are willing to accompany the victim through the litigation process you can usually expect three or four appearances in court. In an effort to cut lost earnings to a minimum, some prosecutors' offices put witnesses "on call" on those days when they are most likely to testify so work-time is maximized.

Some witnesses are fearful of threats and recrimination. Remember: if you, as a witness or victim, receive a threat, it is: 1) a crime; and 2) almost never carried out. Threats should be immediately reported to the investigating police officer, the prosecuting attorney handling your case or, if possible, the victim/witness assistant attached to the prosecutor's office.

VICTIMS. If you're victimized by any kind of crime, report it to the police. Besides your right to prosecute the offender, several avenues of compensation are open to you. One, of course, would be your own insurance. You can also bring a civil suit against the defendant or you can work out a deal for restitution.

If your community does not have a victim/witness assistance program, there are many things you can do: work with your county or municipal prosecutor to develop free public transportation services for witnesses, victim/witness intimidation bureaus, child day-care facilities for witnesses or victims, or victim/witness assistance offices staffed by college students, the elderly, or other lay volunteers.

This article is provided by The Prosecutor Council in cooperation with your local prosecutor and the Texas Crime Prevention Institute. For further information call: Joseph Thigpen 817/864-2072.

Letters To The Editor

(EDITORS NOTE: The Haskell Free Press will publish letters to the Editor dealing with any subject. All letters must be signed but names will be withheld by request. All letters are subject to editing for length and liability.)

Dear Editor:

On June 4, 1981 a letter that I wrote to the people of Haskell, Texas was published in the Haskell Free Press.

In that letter I said that I was in prison and that I was up for parole; and waiting for my answer to come home or to stay there another year.

I expressed my gratitude to the people of Haskell, and to those who at the time of my imprisonment encouraged me with their support in prayer and in God's love.

All I'd like to say today is that God has made it possible for me to come home, and that's where this letter is coming from this time.

My parents and friends met me with open arms and many people that I could not place, but afterwards remembered also did the same.

I'll be living here with my parents (Silvestre and Amelia Ozuna) at 201 South Ave. D., and will be attending the Calvary Baptist Mission, pastored by Rev. Santiago (Jim) Garcia.

If anybody ever wants to talk to me or even ask questions, I'll be happy to share with you my experience and how through Jesus Christ was able to accept reality, and then let him lead me. I too am a miracle and Jesus mended my broken heart. God bless you all.

Sincerely Yours,
Daniel L. Ozuna

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service

Homeowners are becoming increasingly aware of the energy savings possible with landscaping. Through proper use of trees and shrubs, in conjunction with the natural terrain and manmade structures, the climate around a home can be modified to reduce heat gains in the summer and heat loss in the winter. A decrease in energy use is usually brought about by either protecting the house from the wind or shading the house from direct sunlight.

By knowing this it seems the best arrangement of trees for year round energy conservation would be windbreaks for reducing wind velocity in the winter along with vegetation that shades the home in the summer. Windbreaks are simply a single row or several rows of trees and/or shrubs located upwind from the home in the direction of the prevailing wind. If wind direction is variable then windbreaks may need to be extended along several edges of the property. The optimum distance for reducing air filtration is about one to three times tree height.

Windbreaks serve several other purposes also. They can protect a garden or other crops from the damage caused by blowing soil particles. Windbreaks are esthetically pleasing to most people and they benefit the wildlife by providing food and shelter. Summer shade is best provided by locating vegetation along the sunny borders of the home. Shade for the walls mostly on east and west sides of the home can be provided by shrubs or perhaps ivy, but shade for the roof requires taller vegetation. Not only do these practices help reduce energy cost, they bring beauty and a homelike setting to a home and community. The returns in comfort and economy far outweigh the cost. The time to start thinking about these landscaping options is now. For information on planning, establishing and managing windbreaks feel free to contact your local Soil Conservation Service office.
