Temperatures Fall To 3° As Cold Front Hits Area

Old Man Winter finally arrived in West Texas with temperatures reaching into single digits during the past week.

Official U. S. Weather Observer Sam Herren recorded a low of 3°.

The extremely low temperatures caused more than an uncomfortable coldness for area residents with a multitude of broken water pipes reported and auto batteries that were more than uncooperative.

Most area schools were closed Monday at noon when Lone Star Gas curtailed delivery of gas to large industrial users.

Local Lone Star Manager Steve Roper told the Free Press that there was no shortage of gas, but that delivery lines were not big enough to handle the large volume of gas needed during the extreme cold.

According to Roper, during extreme periods of cold, large industrial customers are curtailed. He added that no danger of low pressure exists but that area customers are asked to cut-back 25% if possible.

A combination of the cold weather and mechanical problems also existed for West Texas Utilities Monday. The unusually low temperatures caused an increased demand for electricity and mechanical problems in Central and South Texas increased the load on area power plants. WTU also asked that users attempt to reduce usage by 25% if possible during the extreme cold.

Schools in Haskell and much of the area were dismissed at noon Monday and had not returned Wednesday because of the extreme cold and officials were not sure when schedules would return to normal. One official said, "We're on a day to day basis and only the weather will determine what happens".

Appraisal District To Assist Taxpayers

Employees of the Haskell County Appraisal District will travel to area Haskell County towns during the next two weeks to assist local taxpayers with exemptions and renditions.

The employees will be in Rochester at the Bank January 19; O'Brien at the Co-op Gin January 20; Weinert at the School January 21; Paint Creek School January 22; and at the Rule City Hall January 25 and 26.

Chief Appraiser Kyle Wilfong reminds taxpayers that homestead exemptions, as well as farm and ranch exemptions for agricultural use must be signed if the taxpayer wants the advantage of the exemption.

The full extent of the farm and ranch implement exemption is pending at this time, Wilfong said, but he urges all farmers and ranchers to sign the exemption listing all of their equipment.

Employees of the Haskell County Appraisal District desire to assist taxpayers in any way possible.

Taxpayers are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to complete exemptions and renditions. Any one who has received an exemption form in the mail may complete the form and return it by mail or bring the form in for assistance.

Deadline for completing exemption certificates is May 1.

County Wheat Producers Schedule Tuesday Meeting

Haskell County wheat producers, faced with reported record state wide acreage plantings, market uncertainties, and continued low prices have set a county-wide meeting to study their plight and map strategies for future production and market decisions.

Ken Lane and Rick Perry, County Directors of the Texas Wheat Producers Association said the meeting, open to all producers, is scheduled for Tuesday, January 26, 7:30 a.m. at the Haskell Steak House in Haskell.

The county director said that staff and/or officers of the state-wide organization will be on hand to discuss emerging information related to the program provisions of the 1982 wheat program, political uncertainties and impact on wheat markets related to the continuing review of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. trade relations and crop situation and market outlook for the coming months as harvest approaches.

Perry and Lane said that this is a particularly important meeting for producers to attend in that the market and price picture for the new crop marketing period may be directly related to what action, or the lack of it, that farmers take in connection with the use of set-aside acres, use of the loan and reserve programs and marketing strategy.

Often we are dismayed by a sudden, unavoidable change of plans or a drastic change of lifestyle. The children go away to school, get married - all of these things have an impact on our way of living. We come against this kind of thing in art, also. For example, the painter or someone in the household suddenly becomes allergic to turpentine, oil or the paint itself. Don't panic!

There are water based paints such as acrylic, watercolor, casein and tempera, pastels, felt tipped markers, beautiful inks and the lead pencil that you use daily. Don't close your mind to these other media. Acrylics can be managed, though fast drying. Watercolor can be made as strong and vibrant as you wish - either opaque or transparent. All mediums are effective when you learn to use them.

Q. How do you use oil pastels?

A. These differ from the chalk pastels. You can achieve good effects without the use of turpentine, without odor. Oil pastels can be used on paper (a heavier grade is recommended), illustration board or regular canvas, without any 'mess'. The blended colors don't rub or roll off and need no fixative. Some brands can be applied thick and mixed, but not to the extent in which oil colors can be mixed.

There are two other ways of painting with oil pastels. 1) Dip the oil stick in turpentine and use directly on the support. 2) Apply the colors and then go over them with a brush dipped in turps. Very little turps is needed to do this. Experiment with oil pastels.

Q. What is a vignette and how do I start one?

A. The dictionary says "An unbordered portrait that shades off into the surrounding ground." In art today, the four corners should be in different shapes and sizes for good composition, uneven and ragged. Feather the edges of the paint so there will be no hard edges in toward the center of the canvas. With stronger colors, start the picture - not necessarily a portrait but a landscape, a still life or bowl of flowers. The background is usually light and airy with the subject dominating in colors. Flowers are lovely painted in vignette, letting some stems and leaves extend into the background color. Isn't fun to experiment with new techniques?

baby's breath and tied with pink and burgandy ribbons.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a cream colored floor length cloth with a ruffled edge. Burgandy colored hurricane lamps with lighted white candles accented with greenery and silk burgandy rose buds were used as a centerpiece. Cosmetics Have Come A Long Way In 200 Years

How important a role cosmetics played in the lifestyle of the 18th century was underscored by the last conscious act of the Marquise de Pompadour. Just before she died and after she received the final rites from a priest, she carefully rouged her face and then closed her eyes for the last time.

"When it came to cosmetics, the Age of Enlightenment was still in the Dark Ages. It's doubtful that a single 18th century cosmetic could have passed muster with the Food and Drug Administration," says Bob Dressler, senior vice president of research and development at Merle Norman Cosmetics. In celebration of its 50th anniversary the Los Angeles-based company with 2,600 studios across the country has funded "The 18th Century Woman," a new exhibition that opened at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York on Dec. 16.

Makeup application and the function of makeup were vastly different in the 18th century. 'Plastered' aptly describes the heavy-handed approach to makeup that was often necessary to mask the accumulation of dirt, since bathing was considered dangerous to health, and to help cover the marks of smallpox so prevalent at that time.

"The porcelain look, with chalk white face and red cheeks, was fashionable almost throughout the century," says Dressler. There was no attempt at subtlety. Among the upper classes the effect was intentionally artificial, women painted their faces white (a suntan was lower class, a sign of working in the fields). Eye brows were then penciled in and delicate blue veins added.

Next came the rouge, heavily applied. How and where it was placed varied. The ladies of the Court of Versailles applied well-defined flame-colored patches high on the cheek, close to their eyes. In English portraits of the period, rouge appears low on the face, extending from cheekbone to jawbone in a triangle, and a few years later in a round pattern. By 1781 the rage for rouge had reached such proportion that 2 million pots of color from vermilion to scarlet to mauve were sold in France alone and ladies of fashion took their cosmetic boxes with them wherever they went to renew their makeup. The final touch was the application of the mouches, beauty spots made of specks of black, gummed silk or paper.

"Artifice was everything then," Dressler says.

Today science has made available a wide range of superior products. Constant safety testing by both cosmetics companies and the FDA ensures that cosmetics are the safest current technology can provide. At Merle Norman, for example, all products are manufactured in-house so that complete control can be exercised over every aspect of production, Dressler says.

"Today science -- and our knowledge of how to protect and enhance the skin with products that have been thoroughly screened and tested -- makes it possible for women to look lovely without having to hide under thick masks of makeup. Cosmetics have come a long way since the Court of Versailles."

Safety Urged In Use Of Kerosene Heaters

Dramatic increases in home heating costs have developed a demand for small portable heaters to provide spot heating according to Lou Gilly and Max Stapleton, Haskell County Extension Agents with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The agents point out, however, that many challenging questions are being asked by consumers about the safety of the kerosene type heating units.

- Hazards associated with kerosene heaters include:
1. The lowering of available oxygen and a possible increase in carbon monoxide.
 2. The threat of burns from direct contact with the unit.
 3. An increase in the risk of fires. The agents point out that these hazards will vary according to the heater design and the use of good judgement regarding its operation.
- The agents explain that users should use kerosene heaters only during waking hours and always have a window open about one inch or keep a door ajar during operation.

Only clear white kerosene should be used in kerosene heaters. Other fuels including regular yellow kerosene should not be used as these fuels will smoke and interfere with operation.

The agents further caution that heaters should always be placed away from curtains and other combustibles and the use of smoke detectors in areas where heaters are used is recommended.

Consumers wanting more information about the hazards of kerosene heaters and recommended safe operating procedures can request the data sheet entitled "Portable Kerosene Heaters" by writing to Haskell County Extension Office, Box 693, Haskell, Texas 79521 or calling 817-864-2546 or 817-864-2658.

Haskell Chamber Comments...

WANDA DULANEY
MANAGER

There are many points in the Constitution and By-Laws of The Haskell Chamber of Commerce which best describe the function of such an organization. To cite a few:

It is organized primarily for the purpose of advancing the commercial, industrial, civic and general interest of the City of Haskell and the surrounding area.

The Chamber, in its activities, is non-partisan and non-sectarian and may take no part in or lend its influence or facilities, either directly or indirectly, to the nomination, election or appointment of any candidate for office in the city, county, state or nation.

The funds for the operation of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce are from membership.

The government of the Chamber, its direction of work and the control of its properties are vested in a Board of Directors. With Gene Long as president, these leaders are Lois Richardson, Bobby Simpson, Bill Lane, Jr., Sue Pate, Joe Alves, Don Comedy, Donny Rieger, Ed Walling, Jerry Hunt, Hank Sherman, Raja Hassen, and Charles Thornhill.

Memberships in the Haskell Chamber of Commerce are classified as Firm, Individual and/or professional memberships. Any reputable person, association, corporation, partnership or estate that is in sympathy with the purpose of the organization is eligible to apply for active membership.

The input from and participation of the members is extremely important and the opinions of other citizens equally valuable. Constructive criticism of the organization is also welcome, particularly if it is followed by suggestions for betterment and if the suggestions may be constituted as a commitment to work to help bring about such improvement.

In every town, every city, there are a few people who are negative in their thinking and whose conversations are laced with "It won't work", "No", "I'm against it", "I want no part of it" and "Get someone else". Fortunately, the positive forces of caring people who convert their concern to action outnumber the negative, non-productive factors and make it all worthwhile.

The Constitution and By-Laws of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce were thoughtfully constructed and are upheld by its directors and membership. It is from this basis that the organization revolves.

Aerial Applicator Training Scheduled In Vernon

To be licensed to apply pesticides in 1982, aerial applicators must participate in a training program and complete a test. The training program is being conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the test by the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA).

Pesticide applicator training for aerial applicators who were unable to take the training at San Antonio on January 9, will be conducted at the Chillicothe-Vernon Research and Extension Center on January 21 at 1:30 p.m. Testing will be conducted by the TDA following the training program.

Training and Testing will also be conducted at the Research and Extension Centers at Stephenville on January 20, and at Dallas on January 18. Both training programs start at 1:30 p.m.

If an applicator is unable to attend one of these programs, training on an individual basis is available at each of the twelve Texas A&M Research and Extension Centers. Individual testing is available of the TDA District offices.

To make arrangements for individual training and testing, telephone the Research and Extension Center and the TDA office. Your County Extension Agent can provide you with the telephone numbers.

Superintendent's Conservation Viewpoints

BY JAMES LANIER
 Superintendent, Haskell ISD

The week of January 25-29, 1982, has been designated as Texas School Guidance Week. School guidance is an important part of our program. There are 4,967 school counselors in Texas. These professionals are employed in school to work and care about each child, each teacher, administrator, parent, and community member with whom they work. Perhaps the most overlooked fact about counselors is the concept that they are not in schools to deal primarily with those who are in trouble but are in schools to serve all students, their teachers, and parents, so that the students can make substantial academic progress, learn to make appropriate educational, career, and social decisions, and on the basis of information about themselves and the work world, make post-secondary school plans which meet their needs and help them in becoming economically productive citizens.

Haskell has two counselors, Mrs. Betty Davis and Mrs. Nancy Toliver. Mrs. Davis works with our regular program. She is responsible for all the testing program on all three campuses, (achievement tests, mental, maturity, interest inventories, and TABS). She also works with Juniors and Seniors in performing the necessary tasks to enroll in college or vocational schools. She conducts a financial workshop for parents of students who plan to go to college but are in need of financial help. Mrs. Davis also works with students who are having problems such as social problems, academic problems, or peer relationship problems.

Mrs. Nancy Toliver works with our Plan A students. These students demand a more extensive testing program as we must determine the source of their learning problems and make a diagnosis of a remedy to at least attack the learning disability. Mrs. Toliver strives to work very closely with parents of these children, teachers and administrators. She is extremely conscious of these students varied needs. She tries to help the Plan A teachers plan individual programs so that each child can develop to the maximum of their ability. Mrs. Toliver also heads a VAC program which allows the Plan A students to develop practical experience in the job market.

Too often, we think of guidance as a frill or as a "thrown in" part of our program. This is far from the truth. We serve our philosophy of the maximum benefits to all students. I, as the chief administrator of this communities school, am happy to pay homage to these two ladies and their programs. They certainly fill a vital role in our program.

USDA Soil Conservation Service

Conservation Viewpoints

The construction of 178,000 ft. of new parallel terraces in the first quarter of the 1982 fiscal year has set the pace for what looks to be another big year for the application of soil conservation practices in Haskell county. The Great Plains (GP) and Long Term Agreement (LTA) programs in Haskell are aiding local farmers and ranchers to carry out extensive conservation programs again this year. At the present time we have not received funds for new contracts and participation in the GP or LTA programs, yet we are hopeful for the very near future.

The ASCS office has received funds for participation in the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) and will take applications for assistance beginning Monday January 18 thru Friday January 29. At this time applications will also be taken for participation in the LTA program for Haskell county even though funding for this program has not yet been received. Many of you have expressed a need for assistance thru these programs and you, along with others whom we want to get to visit, will want to make your applications.

The RCA response forms are still available at the SCS office and remittance needs to be made by tomorrow, Jan. 15. If you are unclear on the RCA proposals and their effects on Haskell county conservation programs, then contact the Soil Conservation Service office.

Paint Creek Students Participate In Program

Tri-County Bas Club Tournament

Students in the Junior and Senior classes at Paint Creek School are involved this week in activities designed to assist them in job seeking and job retention. The program is especially designed to assist students as they enter the job market skills for securing the very best job they can get with what they have to offer an employer. The program, known as Building Employability Skills in Teenagers (BEST), is conducted two hours a day for five days, and emphasizes the concept of learning by doing. Activities are developed to make the experience as realistic as possible and as close to the real working world as can be done in the classroom. On the first day of the program, students are organized into working crews with foremen selected to "boss" each crew. To increase realism, students punch a time clock each day and those clocking the full ten hours will be awarded a certificate of achievement on Friday. The second day is devoted to leading the students to take a closer look at themselves and their interests and goals. The third day covers communicating with others and "selling" themselves to the employer on the day of interview. The fourth day is devoted to developing skills in decision making, especially those employed in career selection.

The final activity on the fifth day is a "role played" interview with a real employer from the community, with each working crew entering an applicant contestant for the job. The employer then selects the best applicant based on his completed application form and personal interview. These interviews are video taped and played back to the students. At the end of the 10 hour block, Certificates of Achievement will be presented to successful students by G.W. Avants, Superintendent of Schools. This program is sponsored jointly by the Vocational Agriculture and Homemaking departments in the school with the assistance of the school counselor. People sponsoring the program at Paint Creek are: Jimmie Cearley Vocational Agriculture Teacher, Judy New Homemaking Teacher, and Kathryn Rowland School Counselor.

The program was developed by Larry Dooley of Region 14 Education Service Center. Mr. Dooley and personnel from the ESC, assisted by the local school people, make the daily presentations.

Six Flags Engineer Retires At The Age Of 94

Three short whistle blasts turned heads as an antique steam locomotive slowly pulled into the depot at Six Flags Over Texas. A cheer went up from the 100 or more friends and relatives gathered to take part in Charlie Patton's retirement party.

The crowd's enthusiasm was directed at the newly painted engine, whose name had been permanently changed from the "Mirabeau

B. Lamar" to the "Charles Jefferson Patton" to honor the retiring railroad man.

At the age of 94, Patton was leaving railroading after 74 years at the throttle, the last 21 of which were spent at the Arlington theme park.

"That's really something," said Patton, staring through round, wire-rimmed glasses at his name on the new sign. "That's really something."

The railroad veteran then stepped up into the train's engine compartment, settled himself before the maze of levers and dials, adjusted his glasses and cap, and turned to get an OK from the conductor.

"All aboard," shouted the conductor. And a minute later Patton had maneuvered "his" train out of the station, and around the bend for a last 1 1/2 mile run around the park.

Patton had been a railroad engineer at the theme park since its opening in 1961, but his railroad experience goes back to the turn of the century.

The railroad veteran started working on trains in 1907, shoveling coal for the Texas & Pacific Railroad on the 250-mile run between Fort Worth and Texarkana.

"The T&P was one of the best railroads in the country," he recalled. "I used to make the Fort Worth-Texarkana run a dozen times a month in all kinds of weather.

"On one run, just outside Terrell, we were rounding a bend in the track after a heavy rain. Runoff water from the rain had washed out the dirt from under the tracks just ahead. We steamed right into the washout, and the locomotive, a few cars and several yards of track all dropped into a big hole in the ground. It took a huge derrick to pull us out."

Patton operated "every fast train the T&P had." He was the engineer on passenger trains of all descriptions.

"In the old days our trains were just like the ones in Western movies," he said, "only we never got chased by Indians."

Once Patton had to leap from his locomotive cab to avoid injury.

"I was firing a passenger train one night," he remembered, "when I looked up and saw a freight train coming down the same track. We were inside the T&P station so we weren't moving very fast. The engineer and I threw the brake, closed the steam valve, and at the last moment we both jumped clear of the train.

The trains collided, but there wasn't much damage."

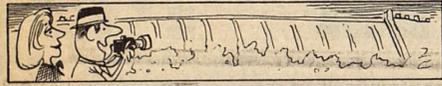

But all that happened decades ago. For his Nov. 21, retirement celebration Patton traded his oil-smeared engineer's uniform for a dapper three-piece suit.

He received an engraved plaque and a gold railroad watch (he bought his last watch in 1920). But the highlight of the day, said Charlie Patton, was watching his favorite old train roll into the depot with a new name emblazoned on its side...the "Charles Jefferson Patton."

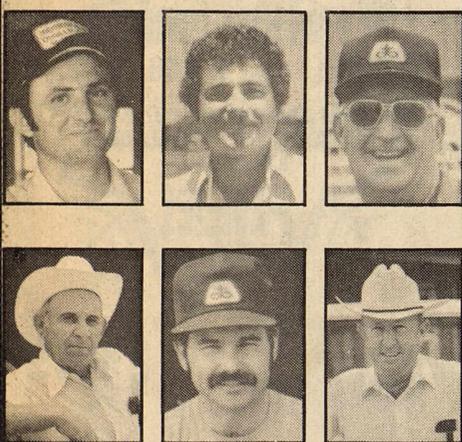

TRAIN ENGINEER RETIRES AT 94

Six Flags Over Texas railroad engineer Charlie Patton has retired after 74 years at the throttle, 21 of which were spent at the Arlington theme park. At a special presentation Six Flags honored Patton by changing the name of his favorite train, the "Mirabeau B. Lamar," to the "Charles Jefferson Patton." The veteran railroader also received a plaque and a gold watch. Patton joined Six Flags in 1961 after working on the Texas and Pacific railroad since 1907.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor,
To clarify inquiries concerning a letter published in this newspaper last week from a Billy L. Toliver, members of the Toliver families checked local records for such a person. There is no record of such a person being born in Haskell County, he has never lived in this community so far as we can determine and he is not related to the Toliver families living here now.

Yours truly,

State Senator Ray Farabee announced his candidacy today for re-election to the Texas Senate representing the 30th District. The 30th Senatorial District will cover a twenty-nine county area, plus part of Denton County, in North Central and Northwest Texas, if the proposed re-districting plan is approved. This will include Haskell County. Farabee, who is 49 and a Democrat was elected to the State Senate in 1974 and is now completing his second term of office.

Senator Farabee has served for 6 years on the Legislative Budget Board which has primary responsibility for preparation of the State Budget. He was appointed by Governor Clements to the Texas 2000 Commission where he serves as Chairman of the Agriculture Committee. He was appointed by Lieutenant Governor Bill Hobby to the Select Committee on Public Education and was recently appointed to the Finance Subcommittee of the Water Task Force.

Over the past seven years, Senator Farabee has sponsored legislation to benefit this area as well as the entire State. As a result of his legislation, broad and significant changes can be expected in areas of taxation, education, and criminal justice:

Taxpayers will save $18 million in 1982 because of the repeal of the state inheritance tax.

Taxpayers will save $8 million in 1982 because of the exclusion of livestock and poultry from property taxes.

Small investors will save at least $4 million annually through the prevention of fraud in the sale of business opportunities.

Prospective public school teachers will have to pass a standardized test demonstrating their competency in basic subject areas, such as English and Math.

Retired teachers will be better able to keep up with inflation due to increased benefits ranging from 7 percent to 21 percent, depending on the date of retirement.

Street traffic in prescription-type drugs will be reduced as much as 40 percent because of stricter record keeping requirements on prescription drug dispensing.

Convicted major drug dealers will serve a minimum of 10 years in prison and will forfeit to the state all property purchased with illegal drug profits.

The backlog in handling criminal appeals after trial, currently 4 years, will be reduced by at least 50 percent because 14 courts are now able to hear criminal appeals instead of just one.

In October Haskell County received a direct benefit from Farabee's lateral road fund bill in the amount of $82,830.69.

"Texas is on the right track and we want to keep it there," Farabee said. "As Chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, I will work to maintain the healthy economy in Texas and provide solutions to the problems which will be facing us in the 1980's. I would like to continue my public service for the 30th District and the people of Haskell County to deal with these challenges".

Farabee has been cited twice by TEXAS MONTHLY as one of the top ten legislators in Texas.

BETTER RED THAN DEAD?

That's what a majority of students seem to think, according to a survey of U.S. high school and college students conducted by Northwestern University, the University of Wisconsin and "U.S. News & World Report" magazine. Here are some of the results: 61 percent of the students said the profit incentive is not necessary to the survival of free enterprise; 62 percent thought a worker should not produce all he can; 62 percent said the government has the responsibility to provide jobs; 56 percent believe there should be close government regulation of all business; and 53 percent believe in government ownership of banks, railroads and steel companies.

BAN WATERMELONS

In early summer, a man put a watermelon in a bag and, claiming it was a bomb, robbed the Illinois State Bank of Chicago, according to "Private Property/Free Enterprise." The patriotic newspaper, with tongue in cheek, went on to say: "Because of the seriousness of such robberies and because other robbers may use the same approach, drastic measures are needed. Congressmen should be urged to enact laws requiring registration of all watermelons, with confiscation and banning as the ultimate aim."

GTE Experiences Equipment Malfunction

On Friday, January 8, a malfunction in the General Telephone equipment office in Seymour briefly occurred causing all long-distance calls to be processed through the operator, according to Bill Drennan, Brownwood division manager for General Telephone Company.

"Ironically, both computers were temporarily out of service in the Seymour office which controls the processing of all long-distance calls for some 19 communities, including Aspermont, Haskell, Holliday, Knox City, Munday, Olney, Rochester, Rule, Seymour and Throckmorton," Drennan said.

"We apologize for the inconvenience this disruption of service may have caused and appreciate the patience and understanding demonstrated by our customers," Drennan concluded.

The Heat Pump the most efficient system for heating and cooling.

A heat pump can actually produce more than 2 units of heat for every unit of electricity used, in a properly insulated home.

Unlike a conventional furnace, the heat pump doesn't make heat. It transfers or "pumps" heat. Even on cold days, there is some warmth in the air. The heat pump transfers this heat into your home to warm you and your family.

THE ELECTRIC HEAT PUMP WILL SAVE YOU MONEY! If you have plans to buy, build or remodel, or need a new heating and cooling system for your home, call a local factory trained HEAT PUMP DEALER or talk with WTU. We will arrange for a WTU heating and cooling specialist to contact you.

Dear Mr. Editor:
As farmers prepare to start another crop, there is very little hope that prices will change. With the high cost of production, high interest rates, and other unforeseen expenses, we are looking at a dismal future as farmers.
There are many farmers that are starting their last year of farming unless commodity prices change drastically. The farmers of today are the hope of agriculture and must unite in asking for better prices in the market place. In Haskell County alone there are so many farmers butting heads on issues that concern all of us. It is time for all farmers and farm organizations to band together if we are going to survive in agriculture. We know that organizations don't always agree on issues, but if we as farmers could evaluate and agree on a plan of action for all farmers—it is better than talking and doing nothing about it.

It seems that agriculture is the first to suffer when the economy goes bad. This community depends upon agriculture for its survival. When farmers cannot agree it hurts the entire community.
It is time for farmers and businessmen alike to band together if agriculture is to survive. It is time that we tell the folks in Washington how high interest rates, high production costs, and low commodity prices are effecting our farming communities.

We urge you to write your Congressman and Representative telling this story, if our communities are to stay a farming community.
Your Haskell County Farm Bureau Board of Directors is ready to do its part in helping all farmers to achieve their goals.
Very truly yours,
T.C. Burson, President

Three Attend Texas Farmers Union Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Thornhill and Ken Lane of Haskell attended the 78th annual convention of the Texas Farmers Union in Fort Worth on January 7-9. During the session, delegates and members called on the Congress and the Reagan Administration to provide a responsible farm program which will benefit both producers and consumers. The TFU has labeled the 1981 Farm Bill the "Farm Bankruptcy Act" and adopted policy to rectify problems created by the legislation.

Following the convention theme "Family Farms for the Future", delegates approved a 1982 policy calling on the federal government to restore farm price support levels geared to the historically proven full parity concept. Commodity prices are in a three year decline and the current parity level is at the lowest point since 1932. With this in mind, TFU members urged a program of supply management and support levels which will restore profit to the number one industry in America - agriculture.

In his address to the convention, TFU President Mike Moeller said "we have a Farmers Bill of Rights program which if approved will free the American farmer and rancher to set their own prices, control agricultural production through a democratic referendum and have control over imports and exports of agricultural goods." Moeller added "you won't get the government out of agriculture simply by cutting FHA loans and dismantling the farm programs."

Obituaries

E. A. Schaake

Funeral services for Ervin A. Schaake, 77, of the Paint Creek Community were held Sunday, January 10 at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Haskell with the Rev. Harvey Faltisek officiating. Burial was in Highland Cemetery in Stamford under the direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Brazos River Study Underway

The scenic Brazos River below Possum Kingdom Reservoir dam has long been attractive to canoeists, but its sport fishery resources have remained fairly mysterious. Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists plan to learn more about the 25-mile stretch of the Brazos between the dam and Farm Road 4 in the next few months.

Biologist Bruce Hysmith of Denison said crews will profile the river and assess fish populations, flow rates, tributary inflows, gradients and water quality. "The Brazos in this area is unique because of the extreme fluctuations in flow rates caused by water releases," Hysmith said. "When the river is down for a while, the water warms up. Then large releases of extremely cold water change the water temperature very quickly."

Obituaries

Mr. Schaake died Friday, January 8 at the Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Born August 29, 1904 in San Saba, he married Elsie Thane on January 3, 1929 in Sagerton. He came from Jones County to Haskell County in 1936 settling in the Paint Creek Community where he was engaged in farming. He was a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church and the Sons of Hermann.

Obituaries

Survivors include:

his wife, Mrs. Elsie Schaake; one son, Lee Roy of Haskell; one daughter, Glenna Mae Kinnibrugh of Vera; two brothers, Ewalt of Eddy and Walter of Stamford; two sisters, Frieda Knipling of Sagerton and Erna Schaake of Stamford; six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Obituaries

He was preceded in death by one brother and two sisters.

Pallbearers were Herman Raphael, Albert Thane, Wayne Wells, Roland Schaake, Michael Kinnibrugh and Willie Buerger.
