facility to document what percentage of the operating costs is caused by individuals using the landfill. In other Council action, Mayor Royce Williams reported the receipt of $5,090.01 sales tax and $1,167.61 from the Haskell Housing Authority in lieu of taxes. Commissioners Discuss County Judge's Salary

A legal question concerning a portion of the salary of the Haskell County Judge was the major item of business during the Commissioners Court meeting Tuesday.

The question centered around the issue of Judge John Wayne McDermott receiving $100.00 per month as a county road overseer.

During the first meeting of 1982 Commissioners appointed themselves road overseers in their precincts but did not appoint the judge. The legal question arose at that time.

During Tuesday's meeting, Judge McDermott reported to the Commissioners that County Attorney Charles Chapman had researched the law and also contacted the Attorney General's Office. The Judge reported that it was the opinion of both Chapman and the Attorney General's Office that it was legal to pay the fee.

Commissioner C. E. Tidwell entered a motion to continue paying the Judge $100.00 per month as a County Road overseer. The motion died without a second.

It was pointed out during the meeting that the fee had been paid to the Judge and each Commissioner since the 1960's and possibly as early as the late 1950's.

Chapman told the Free Press Wednesday that several laws concerning road overseers had been repealed in the mid 1960's but that a law replacing them insured the legality of the fees. He added that the money could be called by any name or simply added to the salary but, that there was no legal problem in calling it a road overseer fee.

Judge McDermott told the Free Press Tuesday that he had, on numerous occasions, inspected various County roads after receiving a request to do so or a complaint about a particular road.

Efforts were made Wednesday morning to contact each Commissioner. Bud Turnbow and J. R. Perry were contacted and Thelma Edwards and C. E. Tidwell were unavailable.

Both Commissioner Turnbow and Perry stated that they intended to continue to receive the $100.00 per month road overseer fee and charge 18¢ per mile expenses. Commissioner Turnbow said that he was not in favor of the Judge receiving the fee because he thought it was illegal.

Commissioner Perry said he was opposed because he did not feel the Judge had acted as a road overseer by assisting the Commissioners with road problems or inspecting roads.

In other action members of the Court accepted the bid submitted by Lanco Insurance for all County buildings and contents. Lanco was the low bidder and premiums for the three year policy will be $17,045.00.

Commissioners also agreed to advertise for bids for liability insurance on County owned vehicles. Bids will be opened February 23.

Members of the Court also tentatively accepted a bid to construct a boat ramp at Scott Memorial Park. Acceptance of the bid hinges on the approval of the project by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department which will pay a portion of the cost of the project.

4-H Girls Plant Arbor Day Trees

The Haskell 4-H girls planted seeds to make trees in observance of Arbor Day January 15.

When the seedlings become large enough, they will be transplanted.

Gov. Bill Clements designated January 15 as Arbor Day, said Mrs. Francene Johnson, mayor pro-tem. The Beautify Haskell Council urges all citizens to respond to this state proclamation by planting trees.

Nothing beautifies a town and lifts the spirits of its people as do trees. A clean, beautiful town is a source of pride to its residents and an invitation to visitors to return, said Mrs. Johnson.

Stocks, Liles United In Candlelight Ceremony

Margie Ann Liles and Phillip Stocks, both of Haskell, were united in marriage at First Baptist Church in Haskell, Saturday, January 23, 1982 at 4 o'clock in a candlelight service with the pastor, Rev. Mike McKinney officiating for the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Liles and Mr. and Mrs. Audie M. Stocks, all of Haskell.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was presented by organist, Mrs. Carl Bailey, Miss Laurie Reynolds, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Bailey, sang "The Wedding Song" and "We've Only Just Begun." On entering the church foyer, guests were greeted by Miss Lissa Hunt, of Haskell, who registered them in the bride's book, at a white satin lace trimmed clothed table, using a white plume pen. A crystal vase holding pink silk rose buds and greenery with baby's breath and accented with burgundy ribbon complimented the round registry table. Miss Hunt wore a burgundy polyester dress, fashioned with a self ruffled yoke, with ruffles repeated on her long sleeves. She wore a corsage of champagne silk carnations.

The altar was decorated with a brass heart trimmed in burgundy silk Morning Glories, and white tapers. On each side of the heart were brass spirals, trimmed in silk greenery and holding seven white tapers.

Pew markers were large white satin bows.

Escorted and given by her father, the bride wore an all white gown of French Organza and Chantilly lace, featuring a Queen Ann neckline set in a Chantilly princess bodice, delicately beaded. The all-lace Bishop sleeves were enhanced by the lace cuffs with mushroom pleated ruffles at the wrist. The A-line Organza skirt draped softly to a scalloped Chantilly border over wide accordin pleated ruffles. The skirt flowed to a chapel length train, topped by a keyhole on the bodice.

The bride chose for her headpiece a beaded chantilly Juliet cap with a double layer of bridal illusion with a border of Chantilly lace and a rolled edge. Her tiered, finger-tip veil also featured seed pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of burgundy silk roses and pink silk carnations, complimented with baby's breath, pink forget-me-nots, and streamed with pink velvet ribbons.

For "something old" she wore a gold bracelet belonging to her great grandmother, Mrs. Jim Free of Haskell; for "something new" diamond necklace of her mother's; for "something borrowed" she wore diamond earrings belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Bill Liles. Margie wore a blue garter made and given to her by Mrs. Gladys Stewart of Haskell.

Her father wore a burgundy tux with pink ruffled shirt, with a boutonniere of silk dusty pink rosebud.

Mrs. Stan Petross of Abilene, sister of the bride, served as Matron of Honor. She wore a floor length burgundy polyester dress featuring double spaghetti straps and tucked bodice, with a skirt in soft fullness. She carried a crescent bouquet of pink silk carnations and burgundy rose buds, with baby's breath accented with pink velvet ribbon. She also wore a small circle of pink forget-me-nots and baby's breath in her hair.

The mother of the bride chose a Muted Yellow knit suit, with blouse of same shade with a softly tied bow at the neck.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pastel floral polyester dress.

The mother's wore corsages of silk champagne carnations.

The bride presented each mother with a long stemmed white rose.

The groom, dressed in white formal tails with white ruffled shirt and boutonniere of burgundy silk rose bud, chose as Best Man, Bill Steele of Haskell. He wore a burgundy tux with pink ruffled shirt and a boutonniere of dusty pink rosebud.

Stan Petross of Abilene, brother-in-law of the bride, and Clayton Sorrells of Rule, cousin of the groom, lighted candles and seated guests. They wore burgundy tuxedos with pink ruffled shirts. Boutonnieres were dusty pink rose buds.

A reception honoring the couple was given in the Chapel immediately following the ceremony, hosted by the bride's parents. They were assisted in receiving by their parents. The bride's table was covered in quiana knit with a tulle overlay, draped with burgundy and pink satin ribbons, accented with miniature pink roses and bells.

The centerpiece was an arrangement of burgundy hurricane lamps holding white candles, and surrounded by silk greenery, burgundy and pink silk roses accented with baby's breath.

The bride's cake was a two-tiered columned, lavishly decorated with white icing, dusty pink roses, tiny white shells and lovebirds, with a top of bells and lovebirds. Pink punch was served from a crystal punch bowl service, and white chocolate mints and nuts were an added accent. All appointments were crystal and silver.

The bride and groom cut the cake with a burgundy handled knife finished with long pink streamers tied in love knots. Pink and burgundy napkins with greenery along with silk Morning Glories and garlands of silk Lilly of the Valley.

Emily SoRelle of Haskell and Cody Stocks, cousin of the groom, handed out white rice bags, tied with burgundy ribbon from white-lace trimmed baskets. Tiny burgundy and pink silk rose clusters centered the handles, accented with burgundy and pink streamers tied in love knots.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Ft. Stockton, Abilene, Ft. Worth, Weinert, New Mexico, and San Angelo.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Haskell.

The bride is a Senior at Haskell High School, where the groom graduated in 1979. He is employed by Bill Wilson Motor Company in Haskell.

The bride is the daughter of Pat Moore of Colorado City and Jerry Moore of Big Spring. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kupatt of Sagerton.

The church was decorated with two nine Branch candelabras and two fifteen branch candelabras decorated with fresh greenery. Brass stands with fresh greenery and candles decorated pews of the church.

Soloists were Dan and Maria Stevens. They sang the theme from "Ice Castles", "True Love", "Wedding Song" and "Today".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white silk chiffon dress with four tier lace skirt and Victorian neckline. Her veil of illusion fell from a circle head piece of white silk flowers. Something old was pearls belonging to her mother; something new was her wedding veil; something borrowed was the wedding dress, belonging to her sister, Kelly McBee; and something blue was her garter, made by Mrs. Wayne Shawn.

Matron of honor was Kelly McBee, sister of the bride of Big Spring. Maid of honor was Christy Moore, sister of the bride of Big Spring. Bridesmaids were Lisa Hammond of Colorado City, Dawn Messer of Odessa, Angie Biggs of Lubbock and Kris Kupatt, sister of the groom of Sagerton. They all wore floor length dresses in rust quiana and carried bouquets of rust and peach roses, azalias with baby breath.

Best man was Rod Townsend of Lubbock. Groomsmen were Fred Baitz of Sagerton, Kirk Stubblefield of Lubbock, Randy Anderson of Lubbock, Gary Myers of Aspermont and Ricky Miller of Snyder.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church. The groom's table held a two tier chocolate cake and a silver coffee service. Members of the house party included Beverly Fuller of Abilene, Sharon Jordan of Tyler, Karen Thomas of Colorado City and Velve Townsend of Lubbock.

The bride's going away attire was a navy wool pantsuit with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Texas Tech University with a BS degree in Business Education. The groom attended Western Texas College and Texas Tech University.

After a wedding trip to Austin, the couple will reside in Sagerton.

Study Club Hears Program By Mrs. Martin

Mrs. Mary Martin, retired Haskell teacher, spoke to members of the Progressive Study Club, January 21, at their regular meeting. Introduced by Arnolia Foote, Mrs. Martin began by asking, "Me? Retired?" and then continued by relating her experiences in South America since her retirement from the Haskell school system.

Mrs. Martin worked as a volunteer teacher of English in South America in a private school in Manaus, Amazonas, Brazil for six months. She worked through the Foreign Mission Board of Southern Baptist Convention.

While in Brazil, Mrs. Martin lived with Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Doyle, career missionaries. She explained that her job was to teach English to approximately 1200 Brazilian children from 4-year-olds through third graders attending the Ida Nelson school. In the 15 minutes allotted each class, Mrs. Martin taught such things as greetings, names of family members, names of cartoon characters and numbers using pictures, hand motions and songs. She explained that the children recognize the cartoon characters because the cartoons are American with Portuguese dubbed in.

ed slides of Manaus, including slides of the school where she taught and some of the people she encountered while teaching in Brazil.

Following the slide presentation, members examined the many Brazilian artifacts Mrs. Martin had displayed. Refreshments were served by hostesses Anita Herren, Ruby Holt and Faye Woodson.

Brush and Palette

"How to care for your art work" is a concern you should have if your art is truly valuable. Perhaps with home remedies, you can clean and restore the work but it would be good for you to seek recommendations from several sources before making a decision. Some of the other factors for you to consider are as follows. ATMOSPHERIC CONDITIONS - The most common problem affecting art work is excess moisture. It can damage the supporting material - whether it's canvas, wood or paper. Moisture causes paint to crack and peel and the background to wrinkle or shrink. It also causes mold problems.

To kill mold spores, separate all parts of the art work and place them in strong sunlight for an hour. Give a second treatment if necessary. An art restorer can remove the brown spots. Always hang paintings and prints away from heat registers or air ducts and try to avoid cold outside walls. A picture placed over a fireplace may be aesthetically pleasing but the soot and heat can be destructive. Avoid placing art work where sunlight hits it for a period of time as the sunlight can penetrate the varnish. Even reflected light can damage pastels and watercolors. When storing your art work, select and place where air circulation is good and never stack paintings on the floor.

CLEANING - It's a good idea to dust oil paintings every few months with a clean, soft racoon or badger brush. Don't use cotton balls or a cloth. You can clean a picture glass with a cloth dampened with window cleaner, but DON'T spray directly on the glass! Droplets might run down and get into the picture itself. On acrylic covers, use a cloth dampened slightly with a mild detergent and water.

INSECTS - Certain insects appreciate art. Silverfish, termites, cockroaches and woodworms are particularly fond of paste, glue sizing and wood pulp paper. Inspect the back of the frames often and if you find evidence of insects, call an exterminator and ask him to use insecticides that will not stain paper. Call to his attention that you have valuable art work.

So far we have discussed general care of paintings and prints. Next week we will discuss specifics, such as water colors, pastels, oil paintings and prints.

Threet, Whittemore United In Marriage

Tommi Ann Whittemore and Terry Ray Threet were united in marriage on Friday, January 15, 1982 in the Sweethome Baptist Church at Rule.

Rev. Randel Hatfield performed the candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Ms. Marsha G. Whittemore and Thomas E. Whittemore of Rule, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Threet of Sulphur Springs.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a candlelight satin crepe gown with a contoured waistline of Spanish lace dipping in back. The skirt fell into a Chape sweep. Appliques of roses cut from the lace trimmed the train forming the same contour, of waist, on the front of skirt. These were sprinkled with seed pearls.

The finger tip mantilla, of Spanish lace, attached at the waist gave a cape effect. Seed pearls were sprinkled on applique roses across the head piece. Both gown and veil were fashioned by the bride's mother.

The bridal bouquet was of burgundy and ivory silk roses. Something old and borrowed was a white linen handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother. Something blue was the traditional blue garter. A six pence placed in her shoe was a gift to her.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gene McKenzie, sister of the bride, of Coleman. The bride's maids were Mrs. Kent Smith, sister of the bride, of Knox City, Mrs. Charles Threet, sister-in-law of the groom, of Rule, Miss Carla Marquis and Miss Linda Coker of Rule.

They wore matching dresses of burgundy satin with burgundy lace tops closed at waist with burgundy velvet bow. Each bride's maid carried an ivory silk long stemmed rose with ivory satin ribbons.

The flower girl was Shana McKenzie of Coleman, niece of the bride. She wore a burgundy satin and lace dress made in same fashion as the bride's maids. Shana carried a white basket, of petals, and the base of her bouquet of silk flower had been used in her mother's wedding.

Ring bearers were Cody Roberson of Rule and Marc Smith, of Hawley. The first pillow with the bride's rings had been used in both the bride's sisters weddings. Marc carried a heart shaped pillow, made from satin and lace of the bride's gown, that held the groom's ring.

Serving the groom as Best Man was his grandfather, J.W. Threet of Haskell. Groomsmen were Jerry Don Threet of Sulphur Springs, the groom's father, his brothers Charles and Rodney, of Rule. Ronnie Oliver and Mark Whittemore, brother of bride, served as ushers.

Soloist was Mrs. Sheryl Smith of Hawley. Mrs. Randel

Hatfield accompanied on the piano. Miss Shana Vahlenkamp registered the guest.

Mrs. David Wolsh, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake. The three tier cake was topped with a ceramic bride and groom. Four small heart shape cakes were placed at each corner of large cake. Streamers of bride's colors from top of cake to each heart cake gave beautiful effect. The bride's table was covered in a lace cloth and the punch was served from a crystal bowl.

Ronnie Oliver and Dan Stevens served the groom's table spread with white linen cloth. A silver cake server and silver coffee server completed the table.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Threet, for the wedding party at the Cliff House in Stamford.

The couple have made their home in Rule. The bridegroom is employed with Whittemore Enterprises, Inc.

Aspermont WAF Receives Charter

The Woman's Aglow Fellowship of Aspermont met Thursday, Jan. 14, with Marlene Swink, local board president, as speaker. Marlene's teaching was on three women of the Bible who, although anonymous, were recorded for all time in the Bible as pivotal points in the lives of others because of their obedience and response to God's call upon their lives.

Mrs. Carol Peet of Pampa, Woman's Aglow Fellowship Area president, and Mrs. Patsy Gates of Borger, WAF Area vice-president, attended the meeting to present the local board an official membership certificate in Woman's Aglow Fellowship International.

The WAF Aspermont chapter had its first meeting in August at which time those attending voted to apply for a charter in this international Christian women's organization and officers were elected. With the charter now in hand, the Aspermont WAF is accepting memberships; monthly meetings are second Thursday of each month at 9:30 a.m. in The New Place, Aspermont. Since the WAF International is not connected to any Christian denomination, meetings will be in the new Community Center as soon as space is available.

Started in 1967, WAF International has more than a thousand chapters in countries around the world. Forty nations were represented at the recent international convention in Niagra Falls, New York. The purpose of WAF is to worship, praise and glorify God in all areas of our lives; to win souls for Christ; to share with believers everywhere the full gospel of Jesus Christ, including Jesus as the baptizer in the Holy Spirit and as healer; to work for spiritual unity among Christian believers; to foster fellowship among women; to encourage each woman to be a member of and to participate in the activities of her local church; to help women recognize their role and relationships according to the Scriptures.

For more information attend meetings as publicized or contact one of the following officers: Marlene Swink, Aspermont, president, Carol Hall, Hamlin, vice-president, Betty Farley, Aspermont, secretary, Joan Pitcock, Aspermont, treasurer or Clea Baird, Rule, Corresponding Secretary.

Mrs. Lee To Head New Patient Relations Program

Former dietary director, Milla Perry Lee, began a new service to Hendrick Medical Center patients January 18 with the establishment of a patient relations program. Mrs. Lee will provide a new link between patients and Hendrick's entire health care team. She explained her new role, "I will add another dimension of concern for our patients as a problem-solver, planner of new services, and backup for the staff. The new program will attend to the finer points of patient care others simply do not have time for."

"I will be depending on, and working with, almost every department at one time or another in this effort, and I am excited to build on the relationship I have enjoyed with all of you as director of dietary," Mrs. Lee added.

Executive Vice President Tucker Bonner, who has worked in other hospitals with patient relation programs, feels Hendrick has reached the point in size and service to warrant this emphasis. "As Hendrick serves the citizens of this, and surrounding communities, there is a growing need for specialized focus on the relationship with our patients. Milla will, and can, facilitate new ways to serve our patients, and expedite solutions to their problems through avenues not existing in our present structure," Bonner said.

Mrs. Lee will report directly to Bonner. In addition to working with HMC's departments, she will tap community resources which could aid the new program. Her 12 years of experience at Hendrick, and extensive community involvement, will be invaluable in building our new program, Bonner said.

Milla came to Hendrick as dietary director after graduating from Texas Tech University and a one year internship at Baylor Medical Center in Dallas. She is currently pursuing a master of business administration degree at Abilene Christian University. She is on the board of the March of Dimes and Abilene's Meals on Wheels program; served as chairman of Hendrick's successful 1981 United Way campaign, and is on the board of the Abilene Junior League. She was an editor of the League's outstanding "Best Little Cookbook in Texas" published recently. Milla was voted one of the "Outstanding Women of America" in 1976. She grew up in Haskell County and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Perry of the Paint Creek Community.

Local cotton prices were mostly steady during the week ending January 22. Prices ranged from 1 to 1½ cents per pound over CCC loan values. Grade 42, staple 32 cotton miking 35 to 49 sold at 48 to 51 cents per pound. Mixed quality lots sold at mostly 38 to 48 cents per pound. New Orleans Futures for grade 41, staple 32 were quoted at 57.75 for March delivery; down 85 points from Thursday's close of the previous week. Demand was mostly moderate; but was heavy for grade 42, staple 32 cotton miking 35 to 49. Trading was moderate and contracting was inactive.

CCC loan entries of 1981 crop cotton totaled 1,515,000 bales through December 31. Loans were outstanding on 1,353,700 bales, of which 908,200 were Form A (producer) and 445,500 were Form G (cooperative) loans.

Cottonseed prices paid growers were steady at 70 to 90 dollars per ton; mostly around 75 dollars per ton.

The 1981-82 cotton harvest has been virtually completed. B.B. Manly, of the USDA Cotton Marketing Services Office in Abilene, stated that most cotton remaining to be ginned consisted of module cotton in Howard, Martin, and Mitchell Counties. About 51,000 cotton samples were classed in Abilene during the week ending January 22, which brought the season total to 915,000. Mr. Manly stated that he expects total 1981 cotton production to be near 1,000,000 running bales for the Abilene classing territory. About 1,107,000 bales were produced as the area's record crop during 1979.

The quality of late season cotton was comparable to earlier ginnings, reflecting the high percentage of module cotton being ginned. Cotton classed last week was mostly Light-Spotted, relatively short staple, and mostly premium mike. Grades were 47 percent 42's, 24 percent 52's, and 16 percent 32's. Fiber length was 58 percent staple 31, 27 percent staple 30, and 12 percent staple 32; with the average staple being 30.8. Micronaire readings were 86 percent within the 35 to 49 range, averaging 39. Fiber strength averaged 23 grams per tex breaking strength for the season. About 33 percent of the samples classed were reduced in grade because of grass or bark content.

Applications Available For Spring Turkey Hunts

Applications are available for spring turkey hunts to be held on four wildlife management areas operated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A total of 208 permits will be issued at a public drawing to be held in department headquarters in Austin at 10 a.m. Feb. 25. Applications must be submitted to Austin prior to 5 p.m. Feb. 22.

Application forms and instructions may be obtained from department offices across the state or by writing to the department at 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744, or by calling the toll-free information line, 1-800-792-1112.

Areas to be hunted: Engeling W.M.A. -- 20 miles northwest of Palestine in Anderson County, 10,941 acres, 75 permits.

Gene Howe W.M.A. -- six miles east of Canadian in Hemphill County, 5,821 acres, 35 permits.

Kerr W.M.A. -- 11 miles west of Hunt in Kerr County, 6,493 acres, 70 permits.

Matador W.M.A. -- 11 miles north of Paducah in Cottle County, 28,183 acres, 28 permits.

The hunts are conducted as part of the department's continuing research and management programs and are not necessarily indicative of high game populations. The hunts will be held during April with a bag limit of one gobbler per hunter.

Cotton Producer Attends Washington Meeting

Weldon Rodgers of Paducah, president of Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. of Stamford, represented that group and other area farmers when he attended a special meeting in Washington, D.C. last week.

Jesse Moore, director of the Cotton Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service, called a meeting for January 7 to give producers and merchants a chance to air complaints and try to solve some existing problems concerning cotton classing.

Rodgers, when his turn came to address his group, said he felt the Smith-Doxey Act (cotton classing act) was the "cotton farmers salvation". "Farmers were at the mercy of the cotton buyer before the Act was passed. Now at least we have a buffer—hopefully a non-partisan one", Rodgers said.

Rodgers also said he felt that pressure had been applied on cotton classers by merchants to lower the class of cotton and "we think the original class should continue with a bale of cotton until it reaches the mill".

He added, "Of all the countries to which cotton is exported, Japan is the largest buyer by percentage (80 percent) on class cards. I feel this is a direct result of the trade team visits to and from Japan, sponsored by various segments of the Cotton and Chemical industries in the U.S."

Delay of receipt of class cards has been a problem in most areas. However, in the Paducah area the local classing office records show no delay longer than 10.8 days. Some of the delay has been attributed to shipment of samples and slow mail return of cards.

The meeting got off to a heated start, due to opposition of the two factions involved, but Rodgers said he felt it would up with a better understanding and the ground was broken for further agreement.

As a result of the meeting, the AMS administrator called for action no later than one week to begin establishing standards for checking the three different type classing machines now in use. Staple length uniformity in classing was the primary concern of the merchants, with trash content secondary.

While in Washington Rodgers also met with the assistant administrator of ASCS (Hoke Leggett). He was informed that the CCC interest rate on price support loans has been lowered from 14½ percent to 12½ percent, effective January 1, on all loans made last year...but the old loan rate applies until January 1, 1982.

"It looks to the Department of Agriculture as if target price payments will be in the neighborhood of 7 percent on PROJECTED YIELD. This will mean approximately $35 per bale to the farmer", Rodgers said.

He talked with Congressman Stenholm and aides Jack Hightower and Joh Tower, recommending that - regarding recent FmHA loan policies - an individual case review be made, taking into consideration all circumstances contributing to the delinquency. These recommendations are now under consideration by top officials.

Crowell Farmer Elected Farmers Union Director

Floyd Borchardt of Crowell was elected director of district 3 of the Texas Farmers Union during the 1982 convention held in Fort Worth. As a district director, he will serve along with eight other family farmers from across Texas on the TFU executive board of directors.

reserve and a mandatory reduction in interest rates. Also, the TFU policy calls for prohibition of purchases of farmland by aliens, improving soil and water conservation programs, developing alternate energy and providing more protection for landowners with mineral rights, leases and in cases of eminent domain.

Public Television To Air Tax Tip Special

KERA-TV and the Internal Revenue Service will present "Your Tax Return: The Bottom Line on Improving Your Form," a three-hour program designed to help Texas taxpayers prepare their Federal Tax returns, on Sunday, February 7, 1982, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. CST. Robert Guillaume, the star of the television series "Benson," will host the program.

The show will provide step-by-step guidance through the Form 1040A as well as a review of Form 1040 and Schedules A and B. A panel of IRS tax specialists will answer common taxpayer question such as how does the new tax legislation affect the average taxpayer, when income averaging can be used to save money, how to claim the Earned Income Credit and what tax benefits are available to older Americans. Special accommodations for the deaf and hearing-impaired will be made.

"Your Tax Return: The Bottom Line on Improving Your Form" will also alert viewers to some commonly made errors on tax returns and to some tips on choosing a preparer. Information relating to payment of estimated tax and when to change one's withholding will also be covered.

Viewers who have questions as they go through their returns can call the IRS toll-free number listed in their tax package. IRS tax assistants will answer regular taxpayer service phones during the three-hour program as toll-free phone numbers are flashed on the TV screen. Deaf and hearing-impaired taxpayers with TTY equipment will be able to use the TV/Telephone - TTY Service for tax help. The TTY toll-free number for Indiana is 800-382-4059. Hearing-impaired residents of all other states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands should call 800-428-4732.

Most cattle owners realize that to get the best results from their grass they should not graze more than fifty percent of the plant during the growing season. However, many people do not understand that this rule of thumb also applies during the plants dormant period.

It seems logical that after the plant has dried up and gone into dormancy, that the part we did not graze is no longer feeding the plant so it can be grazed on down. Actually though, the half of the plant that was left during the growing season has many important jobs during the dormancy of the plant.

The ungrazed portion of the plant protects the crown of the plant from extremely cold temperatures during the winter months. The crown of a plant is the tender growing portion which contains new growth buds, much like those you see when a leaf drops from a broadleaf tree or shrub. Buds in grasses may be close to the ground in short growing grasses or they may be two or more inches above the ground in the more productive bunch grasses. Naturally if the grass stubble is grazed below the point of the new buds then the buds will be destroyed. If destroyed the buds must be replaced in the first several weeks of the growing season in the spring before any rapid leaf growth can begin. By losing this best part of the growing season, we lose much of our forage production.

Grass stubble will also trap snow during snow storms. This snow then melts and runs along the plant into the soil. The mulch on top then helps reduce evaporation of soil moisture. By blocking the wind from the soil, tremendous amounts of moisture are saved from evaporation. This moisture plays an important role in the growth of the grasses coming out of dormancy.

Always remember to take half and leave half in the growing season and dormant periods. The stubble we leave is not wasted feed. It is an investment in next year's crop.

One last reminder, get the RCA responses in by Friday the 29th. Response forms are still available at the Soil Conservation Service office.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

Enterprise and determination are among the key elements of the American spirit. Nowhere are these qualities displayed in more abundance than by our nation's disabled citizens.

People who have had to overcome disabilities to become educated, set up homes and move around their cities have shown us what can be accomplished through determination, a strong motivation to succeed and, in many instances, a great deal of ingenuity.

Employers have discovered that their disabled employees who possess these qualities make excellent workers. We have developed more sensitivity toward the needs of disabled Americans, and begun to realize that we as a people have an obligation and a need to bring the disabled into the mainstream of society.

The International Year of Disabled Persons in 1981 helped focus attention on the problems and needs of the 35 million Americans who are affected by physical or mental disabilities throughout their lives -- as well as the even more numerous temporary disabilities most Americans face at one time or another. A Senate resolution awaiting House action would make 1982 the National Year of Disabled Persons to continue this effort.

The disabled ask only that they be given the opportunity to participate fully in American society -- its work, its recreation, and its commerce.

Some of these activities -- most notably, education -- are the responsibility of federal, state or local governments. But increased public awareness has increased the private sector's role in this effort. This partnership of government, private organizations, employers, and individual citizens holds great promise for a brighter future for the disabled.

A nation's most valuable resource is its people. And we cannot afford to overlook what our disabled citizens have to offer. As individuals, our lives would be far less rich without knowing and coming into regular contact with our disabled neighbors. As a parent, I know that our children need the example of courage and determination demonstrated by disabled citizens.

I hope that all of us will be more aware of how we can contribute to the goal of full participation in society by the disabled, not just during designated years, but until the goal has been met.

The annual Haskell County Junior Livestock Show is this weekend. In any agri based county, a stock show is an important event. I believe we have a very good one in Haskell. There will be approximately 140 exhibitors county wide. The FFA of Haskell ISD will have 50 students showing animals. The types of animals include poultry, rabbits, sheep, swine, and beef cattle.

Of what value is a program such as this to the exhibitor? The student exhibitor-boy or girl—must feed and groom their animal with the help of parents, ag teachers, or county agent. They must assume the responsibility of care for an animal. The fruits of their labors will be judged in comparison with others their own age. Often times, the animal becomes a family project which can draw families closer together. The student must learn some basic economics because no one wants to lose money on a project. Many of them develop a strong love for animals by caring for one. I have observed youngsters crying as they sell their animals.

This group is the ag teachers who also are FFA advisors and the county agent, Max Stapleton. They put in long hours of preparation and planning. They work closely with the Board of Directors (who are another group of dedicated volunteer people who are absolutely necessary).

We in Haskell ISD are so fortunate in having two excellent ag teachers, Duane Gilley and Calvin Powers. Mr. Gilley has been in our system for eleven years. He has a masters degree from Tarleton State University. He is totally dedicated to the teaching of ag and to boys and girls. Mr. Powers has been with us two years. His B.S. degree is from Texas Tech. He has several years of practical experience which helps him in his work with students interested in ag-related occupations.

We hope all of you can come to the stock show and please go by and say thank you to these dedicated people who make this event a success. A pat on the back is very cheap wages.

Haskell County Junior Livestock Show has a premium sale where they will "sell" 87 animals. These premiums are donated by individuals, businesses, and various organizations through out the county.

The event to me is always an exciting experience. I love to watch the youngsters trying their very best to catch the eye of the judge. I even enjoy watching the dust rise from the show ring. Often times it is cold at show time. I think my most enjoyable cup of coffee and doughnut was in a cold show barn.

A Nation Danced So That Others Might Walk

January 30 was a gala event throughout the country during the 1930s and '40s. Birthday Balls honoring President Franklin D. Roosevelt were held everywhere — from the best hotels to local fire houses. Their purpose was to raise money to conquer polio, a dread crippler that could strike even the President of the United States.

The President's Birthday Balls began in Warm Springs, GA, in 1934, where FDR went regularly for therapy. He believed that swimming in the mineral waters helped his paralyzed muscles. Stricken in the early 1920s with polio (called infantile paralysis in those days), he feared at first that the disease would end his bright political career. He had already been Undersecretary of the Navy during World War I and the Democratic Vice Presidential Candidate in 1920.

Instead, he fought back with the limited treatment then available and became Governor of New York in 1928 and, by 1932, President of the United States. He served in the nation's highest office until his death in 1945. The Birthday Balls raised funds for nationwide work to relieve suffering from infantile paralysis.

This was a tall order during the grim Depression years, but help was urgently needed. Basil O'Connor, later to become president of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis (March of Dimes), remembered his first impression of Warm Springs as a "broken-down resort... with the squirrels running in and out of the holes in the roof." But the idea of a national fight against polio caught on and a National Committee for the Birthday Ball for the President was formed in 1934.

President Roosevelt founded the March of Dimes to conquer polio and prevent its crippling effects from striking others.

The first Balls raised over $1 million, an astonishing figure for a nation wracked by mass unemployment. Often organized by postmasters, these dances took place, the New York Times reported, "wherever the Stars and Stripes flies... in every State of the Union... Alaska to Little America... Hawaii to the Canal Zone."

In his book, "The Gentle Legions," Richard Carter explained that "The 1934 balls transcended their original purpose and became a national celebration of the fresh hope that Americans felt for their country, as well as an honor to Roosevelt and an occasion to 'dance so that others may walk'."

When FDR accepted the $1 million check in a White House ceremony, he handed it to his law partner Basil O'Connor and announced that "Doc" would take charge. It quickly became evident that the Birthday Ball Commission could not continue as the polio rallying point. The unified mission that would lead to an unprecedented alliance between science and lay volunteers needed to be independent of politics. At FDR's urging, O'Connor became the founding president of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 1938. With an advisory committee of leading physicians, the Foundation made grants available for virus research, epidemic aid, and care and treatment of polio.

Volunteers would raise the money; the best scientific minds would put it to work. By 1955, the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, with full support from the March of Dimes, would end forever the threat of epidemic polio. Since then, the oral vaccine developed by Dr. Albert Sabin, who also had full March of Dimes funding, has become standard preventive medicine.

Crib Mobiles Good Training For Infants

A baby is born with all systems go. But it takes a while to get all those systems working together, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

A crib mobile is a good systems-coordination-training-ground for a three or four month old baby.

To make a crib mobile, start by fastening a dowel rod or yardstick across the top of the crib at the baby's chest level. Tie a crosspiece at the middle with a stout piece of twine.

The crosspiece should be a length of rubber hose or a cardboard tube like the ones on clothes hangers—but no sharp rods or sticks, in case the mobile breaks, and no long dangling strings or anything else the baby could possibly hurt himself with.

From each end, dangle another length of string. Tie an object small enough for baby to grasp on each one. For instance, on one side might be a small square or round block, and on the other side a short rubber bone to balance it.

Other objects to use are a teething ring, squeaky toys (especially those which have human-like heads and faces—babies love these), a bootie, rattle or small plastic bottle. The objects can be changed once a week or more often if baby loses interest. By using fewer objects at a time and changing them fairly often, you will avoid overstimulating the baby. This is important, because loading a baby up with too many things can kill curiosity just as too scanty an environment can.

The objects on the mobile should be at the distance of the baby's outstretched palm, and the swing of the crosspiece should be enough so that when the baby finally grasps the object, he can get it just into his mouth.

A baby will be more interested if the objects have bright colors and contrasts of light and dark. For instance, if a block is a solid color, paint a bull's-eye on the bottom with black non-toxic marker; infants at this age find such a design more interesting than simple lines and corners. If the bootie is white, get a long black shoelace to lace it and hang it with.

With the mobile in place, the baby will soon be batting it with his newly opened hand. Later, he will try his first grasp—a clumsy one—with fingers closing only after they touch the object. When he finally has a grip on the elusive object, he will reflexively bring it to his mouth to explore it with his tongue and lips. He cannot let go voluntarily, but he will relax his grip when something else catches attention—at which time the object will pop neatly up into the air to entice him again later.

This, then, is the first major educational objective: to get several systems—seeing, reaching, feeling, tasting—to work together on a single object. At this point an object begins to be something real and permanent to baby, apart from his own self. This perception is necessary before he can begin his next intellectual task: finding out what objects are for and what he can do to them.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information on the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write to Growing Child, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, IN 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing. A year's subscription to the newsletter costs $11.95.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

Federal law, the Controlled Substances Act, has historically distinguished between "narcotic" and "non-narcotic" drugs. As a result, penalties for trafficking in "non-narcotic" drugs are much lighter.

However, the historical distinction between narcotic and non-narcotic substances loses its validity when you examine current patterns of drug abuse and consider that drugs like quaaludes, LSD, "angel dust" and amphetamines are classified as non-narcotics.

Recently I introduced legislation to sharply increase criminal penalties for illegal trafficking in such drugs. My bill, in line with a recommendation by the General Accounting Office (GAO), would eliminate the distinction in penalties between "narcotic" and "non-narcotic" drugs listed in Schedules I and II of the Controlled Substances Act.

Right now, trafficking in narcotic drugs is punishable by a maximum 15 year prison sentence and a $25,000 fine, while the dealer in non-narcotic drugs listed in Schedules I and II is subject to a jail term of only five years plus a $15,000 fine.

My bill would require that all traffickers in dangerous drugs listed under those schedules be punished by imprisonment of up to 15 years and a fine of $25,000. Second offenders would face 30 years in jail and a $50,000 fine.

Narcotic drugs in Schedules I and II include heroin, morphine and codeine. Non-narcotic drugs in those two schedules include methaqualone (quaalude), LSD, phenicycline (angel dust) and amphetamines.

There is, for example, no more dangerous drug used illegally today than angel dust. And while my legislation, passed in 1978 to clamp down on angel dust abuse is proving helpful, more needs to be done.

A recent GAO study reviewed cases involving 68 clandestine laboratories which were shut down by the Drug Enforcement Administration. These laboratories were manufacturing non-narcotic drugs listed in Schedules I and II. Two out of every three of the 153 violators arrested in conjunction with these lab shutdowns got off either scot-free or received prison sentences of three years or less.

The legislation I propose will put those persons who traffic in poisons like angel dust, LSD and speed on notice that—once they are caught—they will face more than a slap on the wrist.

Law enforcement officials will have renewed incentive to concentrate on putting these clandestine operations out of business. And, ultimately, my bill will help focus attention on the serious problems that result from abuse of so-called "non-narcotic" drugs.

Haskell Chamber Manager Addresses Kiwanis Club

Wanda Dulaney, Manager of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, was the guest speaker at the weekly breakfast meeting of the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday January 26.

She cited service clubs as being the backbone of the community.

"If you were united as merchants and professionals, you might act as competitors, be eager for praise and quick to criticize, but as members of a service club, you are just a group of citizens who enjoy the fellowship and the joint efforts to reach common goals to help your town and its people."

She added that a city cannot survive on commerce alone.

"It is the SPIRIT of a community that counts, the cooperation, the extra-curricular activities that bring people here. It also causes them to stay."

She pointed out that most of the members of a service club spend a great deal of time away from their businesses as they help on one project or another and that business may even suffer.

"But if you'll examine your priorities, you'll realize the goodwill this brings for an individual and consequently strengthens your business or practice."

"Let's face it," she emphasized, "people do business with people they like, people they know, people they trust and people they respect. So if belonging to a Service Club does nothing else, it helps a community to know you better."

She commented that the Chamber of Commerce has multiple advantages, with the privilege of working with all segments of the community—the commercial, the industrial, the professional, the civic and toward the advancement of all.

She recommended that citizens should take the time to look around them, to note the cleanliness, the well-kept homes and businesses, the buildings, the stores.

"Bask in the warmth of the friendliness of everyone you meet. There's something special about Haskell, and it's especially obvious in the service clubs."

In conclusion she said "The Chamber of Commerce supports you and salutes you. Congratulations on being a club your town can be proud of."

Haskell Chamber Salutes Local Organizations

By Wanda Dulaney, Manager
Despite their fun-loving spirit, they are fiercely loyal to their organization, totally supportive, equally dedicated, and serious in purpose. These are the members of the SERVICE AND CIVIC CLUBS OF HASKELL. Each one thinks his club is best.

The spirit generated through these groups spreads throughout the community in an umbrella of togetherness that causes Haskell visitors to come, to return, to stay, to join.

The Chamber of Commerce points with pride to the hard-working individuals who do so much for their town through these affiliations.

THIS IS THE FIRST IN A SERIES OF ARTICLES HIGHLIGHTING LOCAL SERVICE CLUBS, written from information provided by their presidents, and edited in the order in which they were received. Others will be included as soon as questionnaires are returned from their presidents:

ROTARY CLUB (Abe Turner, President) Motto: "Service Above Self". Club Colors: blue and gold. Purpose: Service to community. Meets Thursday noon at Haskell Steak House. Song Leader: Ford Cole; Pianist: Paul Cox. 25 members range in ages from 30 to 70. Members are leaders in their field of endeavor. Oldest club of its kind. Stresses attendance. Tries to live by 4-way test: (1) Is it the TRUTH? (2) Is it FAIR to all concerned? (3) Will it build GOODWILL and BETTER FRIENDSHIPS? (4) Will it be BENEFICIAL to all concerned? Main annual event is a Spaghetti Supper held in the Fall with the purpose, the Scholarship Fund. Theme for Rotary International is World Understanding and Peace through Rotary.

BRAZOS WEST ART ASSOCIATION (Fern Livingood, President). On the second Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. local artists gather at the Community Room, Haskell National Bank, for demonstrations by guest artists and programs of other special artistic interests. The twenty-nine members have as their motto: "live life to the fullest, hurt nothing, humble nothing, destroy nothing, leave all that is beautiful to be enjoyed by others." Art shows are held during the year to show their work and sell their paintings. They also participate with entries in the Haskell County Fair. Age range of members: 25-75.

GARDEN CLUB (Mrs. C.B. Rhea, President). The purpose of the organization is to stimulate the knowledge and love of gardening, to aid in the protection of "native trees, plants and birds, and to encourage civic beautification. Ranging in age from 40-80, the 27 members hold their meetings on the second Thursday of each month at 2 p.m. in the Haskell Community Room. Programs are on horticulture, civic development, artistic arrangements, education, therapy, community service, conservation, landscaping. Club motto: "Learn by Doing". Pastels are the club colors. In the Spring and Fall, members participate in district meetings and have a flower show in September at the Fair Grounds.

LIONS CLUB (Joe Alves, President). This international organization organization assembles at the Haskell Steak House each Tuesday noon where Mike Struve and Kiersta Lane are song leader and pianist. Programs vary from speakers to slides to readings, etc. The 34 members' ages are 20 to over 65. Requirements to join: Male. Any person of good moral character and good reputation in the community. Club motto: "We Serve". Club colors: purple and gold. Purpose of club: to take active interest in the civic, cultural, social and moral welfare of the community. Annual events include the Goodfellows Christmas project to help the needy; Pancake Supper in the Fall to provide funds for Goodfellows, Broom and Mop Sale in Spring to provide funds for other charitable activities. The Lions Club buys eye glasses for all needy persons in Haskell County, contributes to Haskell County Livestock Show, Kerville Camp for Children, Rehab Center, Eye Bank. Presents Aaron Award in Haskell, Zone Speech Contest with $1,000 scholarship to winner, and Run-Away Hot Line. Haskell Lions is one of 32,200 International Clubs in 151 countries, 6 continents. Says their President in Haskell "If you attend a meeting you might catch grown men cutting up and having a good time, but we take our obligations seriously, and our friendship is sincere."

KIWANIS CLUB (Ed Walling, President) "We

Build" is their motto, and the 23 local members of this International organization, ages ranging 27 to fifties and up, believe in emphasis on the human spiritual rather than the material values of life, to provide a practical means to form enduring friendships, to render altruistic service and to build better communities. The Kiwanians meet every Tuesday morning at 7:00 a.m. at the Haskell Steak House, with Judge Joe Williams as song leader and members rotating responsibility for programs. It is a family and youth oriented organization, with Ladies Nights on Valentine Day, at their Christmas party, summer family cookouts at Rice Springs Park and at their Installation Banquet. They donate to the Junior Livestock Association, and the Abilene State School Chapel Fund, sponsor a Turkey Shoot, run a concession stand at the Scout Show, and purchased a vacuum cleaner for the local school Football Field House. A favorite of the members is the singing of Christmas carols at Best Homes and distributing baskets of fruit for the patients. Any adult male interested in community, family, fellowship and goodwill is eligible to be a member.

VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT (Tom Watson, Chief) Twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week, every week, every year thirty-five firemen age 21 to 72, are on call to extinguish the fires in your home, your business, your community. They save lives at the risk of their own, protect property, rescue drowning victims, and wreck victims, search for lost persons, and alert the city with storm warnings, again risking their lives to do so. They meet at the Fire Station every Monday night for business and training and are very strict about their requirement that every fireman attend at least 75 percent of the fires and training programs. These men hang the banners and flags which are displayed in Haskell for patriotic observances and special events. In June of each year, delegates attend the State Firemen's Convention. The local Fire Department is rated as one of the best in the State.

FIRE DEPARTMENT AUXILIARY (Nancy Trussell, President). This organization exists exclusively for the purpose of supporting the Haskell Fire Department in its activities and projects, but they are also known for other benevolent deeds. For instance during the Haskell floods a few years back, these ladies served diligently helping the Red Cross help local disaster victims.

Neil Tibbets Retires After 29 Years As County Agent

EDITORS NOTE: the following article is reprinted from the Gainesville Register.

After more than 29 years of advising Cooke County farmers and ranchers on how to improve their production, County Extension Agent Neil Tibbets is retiring.

Tibbets, who announced his retirement to county commissioners Monday, will work his final day Jan. 31. Replacing him will be Craig Rosenbaum who will begin work Feb. 1.

Tibbets is retiring now because, at age 55, he is old enough and has enough years of service to receive a good retirement pay, he said.

He also believes it is time for him to move on and give a younger man a chance to breathe new life into the Cooke County Extension Service.

"I think that if anyone has worked someplace for approximately 25 years, its good to let someone else come in," he said. "Maybe a younger man can come in and do a better job."

After retiring Tibbets has no specific plans, he said, although he intends to continue living at his home in the Gainesville area and work his small farm and small herd of livestock. He also has land interests in West Texas.

"I just plan to kind of take care of the home front," he said. "I enjoy working with agriculture and I plan to continue to work with it."

A native of Haskell County, he began work with the Texas Agriculture Extension Service in February 1953 as an assistant county agent in Dallas County. In October 1955 he came to Cooke County as county agricultural agent, the position he had held up to now.

During his 26 years in Cooke County, Tibbets believes the most progress has been made in crop production, especially small grains, as well as beef and dairy cattle production.

He also believes that the Community Improvement Program has been successful over the past years. A press release by the Extension Service points out that during his stay in Cooke County, there were once nine communities entered in the Community Improvement Program at the district, regional and state levels, and Cooke County has had community winners in all three categories.

"I think we've had a real good extension program in this county," Tibbets said. "But I can't take all the credit. People are receptive - its a good area to work in."

During his years with the Extension Service, he has worked with the Beef Cattle Improvement Association of Cooke County, the Cooke County Dairy Association, the North Texas Hereford Association and the Cooke County Junior Livestock Show. He has also supervised crop demonstrations in small grain varieties and fertilization of these varieties.

Tibbets was awarded the Distinguished Service Award in 1962 from the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association, and a Certificate of Merit in 1981 from Epsilon Sigma Phi, the Extension Service fraternity.

When he moves to his farm, he will be joining his wife, the former Mary Hunsucker. The Tibbets have two sons, Michael, a senior civil engineering student at Texas A&M University, and Martin, a sophomore agriculture engineering student at the same school.

Rosenbaum, the man who will replace Tibbets, is in his mid-30's, Tibbets said, and comes from the Dallas County Extension Service where he works in the livestock program.

He worked in Cooke County approximately 10 years ago as assistant county agent, Tibbets said, working here for about three years.

"He remembers a lot of people, and a lot of people will remember him," Tibbets said of Rosenbaum.

Property Taxes Due Before Feb. 1

An important deadline occurs this month for property owners in Texas. Kenneth Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board, today reminded Texans that local property taxes assessed for 1981 by cities, counties, school districts and special districts must be paid by the end of January. "Taxes not paid before February 1 are delinquent and penalty and interest begin to accrue," Graeber said. The state tax administrator noted that delinquent 1981 taxes will incur a 6 percent penalty and 1 percent interest charge on February 1. Combined penalty and interest charges will total 9 percent in March, 11 percent in April, 13 percent in May, and 15 percent in June. Total penalty and interest on delinquent taxes reaches 18 percent in July, 19 percent in August, 20 percent in Sept., 21 percent in Oct., 22 percent in November, and 23 percent in December.

delinquent tax attorney, its governing body may add an additional penalty to any tax delinquent on July 1. The additional penalty may not exceed 15 percent of the taxes, penalty and interest due. Graeber pointed out that some home rule cities may have different delinquency dates for 1981 taxes. "The Property Tax Code does not affect a city's delinquency date for its 1981 taxes if the city charter or ordinance provides an earlier delinquency date," he said. He also noted that if a taxing jurisdiction mailed its 1981 tax bills after January 10, the delinquency date is postponed to the first day of the next month that will provide a period of at least 21 days after the date of mailing for payment of taxes before delinquent. Taxpayers with questions are encouraged to contact local government tax offices.

Cascot Certified Cottonseed Can Mean 25% Bigger Yields!

Custom Ag Service, now a leader in the market, has selected, tested, and developed four cottonseed varieties which are early maturing, disease resistant, and give consistently higher yields, as much as 25% over your current yields.

CASCOT C-13:
Being released for the first time this season, C-13 has shown great yield potential. Growers have had consistently high yields in excess of two bales per acre from C-13. But, book early for this variety because supply is extremely limited.

CASCOT B-2:
Probably the fastest maturing cotton on the market, this stripper variety has good cold tolerance which allows for earlier planting.

CASCOT L-7:
A great producer on dry land, even better when irrigated, L-7 is cold tolerant, early maturing, and possesses as much wilt resistance as any commercial seed.

CASCOT BR-1:
Fast fruiting, excellent yield potential, outstanding lint quality, extra early maturity (120-130 days), and premium micronaire are characteristic of this variety. Plus BR-1 is a proven producer on dry or irrigated land.

Contact Social Security Before Need Arises

The fact that Social Security coverage is generally mandatory and that taxes are automatically deducted from most paychecks may lull many people into thinking there's nothing they need to do about their Social Security protection until they're ready to retire. However, there are a number of aspects of Social Security that you should be aware of in order to get the most out of the protection. These facts can make a significant difference in how well the program works for you. Social Security is a comprehensive program. How much should you know about the protection you have under the program? The following tips are designed to help you answer this question.

What benefits are available--or when to contact Social Security? In addition to retirement benefits, Social Security pays disability and survivors benefits to workers and their dependents, and there is Medicare health insurance for people 65 or over, for people who have received Social Security disability benefits for 24 months or more, or for people with permanent kidney disease. However, before you and your family can receive benefits, you must apply for them. Without knowing a great deal about the various benefits, you should at least know when to get in touch with the Social Security office. In general, you should get in touch with the Social Security office if:

---You're unable to work because of an illness or injury that is expected to last a year or longer.
---You're 62 or older and plan to retire.
---You're within 3 months of 65, even if you don't plan to retire.
---Someone in your family dies.
---You, your wife or husband, or your dependent children suffer permanent kidney failure. Social Security benefits are designed to replace a fairly stable and predictable proportion of past earning. They are supposed to provide a base of income upon which a person may build to meet the demands of his or her own lifestyle, through private pensions, investments, savings and so forth. The benefit amount is based on your earnings under the Social Security program over your working life. The benefit formula is designed to replace about 20 to 25 percent of annual earnings for high-income workers, 30 to 35 percent for average income workers, and 35 to 40 percent for low-income (minimum wage) workers. You should know the extent to which Social Security can protect you and your family, and use this information in your financial planning. The Social Security office is prepared to answer questions you may have about your Social Security protection. You may call or visit at any time. The Abilene office is located at 142 S. Pioneer. The phone number is 698-1360. For those living outside of Abilene, there is a toll free number 1-800-392-1603.

VA Benefits To Reach New Record

According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, nearly four million veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces will soon be sharing in a record $664.6 million to be paid in dividends on government life insurance policies which are still in force. Because of higher interest rates earned by the insurance funds, the total amount to be paid in 1982 is $45 million more than the 1981 figure.

As in past years, the dividends will be paid automatically on the anniversary date of the individual veteran's insurance policy, and no application is necessary. Payments will be made in various amounts depending on the type of policy, the amount of insurance in force, the insured's age at issue or renewal and the length of time the policy has been in force. Eligible for the annual dividend payments are veterans who have continued their government life insurance policies after discharge or release from military service. Receiving payments will be veterans of World War I, World War II and the Korean Conflict. Approximately 78,000 World War I veterans still carry their insurance, and each should receive about $305 in dividends this year. More than 3,000,000 World War II veterans still have their insurance, and their average payment in 1982 will be $129 for term policies and $246 for permanent plans, with $116 for modified life plans.

A total of 496,000 Korean Conflict veterans have retained their insurance, and will receive an average payment of $71. More than 161,000 disabled veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict holding Veterans Special Life Insurance policies will receive an average of $97 in 1982. This is the third year dividends have paid on this latter program.

Conference On Aging Set In Waco

Texas delegates and observers to the 1981 White House Conference on Aging will reconvene in Waco February 28-March 2 to review conference recommendations and propose strategies for improving life for older Texans during the 1980s.

The conference follow-up meeting, to be held at the Waco Convention Center, is being coordinated by the Texas Department on Aging (TDOA), in conjunction with Baylor University.

"The Texas delegation to the national conference will provide leadership for this post-conference assembly," said Mrs. Chris Kyker, TDOA executive director. "However, it will be an open meeting, and any Texan with special concerns about the elderly is invited to attend."

Registration will begin at 2 p.m., February 28. Workshops and general sessions will be held from 8:30 a.m. on March 1 until 12 noon on March 2.

For information about pre-registration, contact: Texas Department on Aging, P.O. Box 12786, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711 (1-800-252-9240); or any of the state's 28 Area Agencies on Aging.

Home construction called a "disgrace" by building inspector

Many new homes in Texas are constructed so poorly that they constitute a disgrace, says a state specialist in training city building code inspectors.

Although nearly three-fourths of all Texas towns and cities have building codes, there are not enough inspectors to approve new construction, said George Stock of the Texas Engineering Extension Service (TEEX), which conducts year-round classes for inspectors.

The poor quality of some new homes stems from a heavy influx of new people into the Sunbelt and from political pressure from the housing industry to relax building code enforcement where boom times are best, said Stock.
