

Next Wednesday, March 3, marks the deadline to file for City and School elections.

Local voters will select three members to the School Board and a new Mayor and three Councilmen to the City Council.

...If individuals will announce for the positions.

At the present time only one person has announced for the School Board and one candidate for Mayor and one candidate for the City Council. This leaves two slots open on the School Board and two open on the City Council.

The importance of these positions is obvious and the time is upon us to find dedicated individuals who are willing to serve.

Haskell is fortunate in having had progressive, interested public servants for many years. Their dedication is apparent when you compare Haskell with other towns this size or when our schools are compared with others.

As the filing deadline nears, the chance of an unqualified individual being 'talked into running' increases. Not as an attempt to elect unqualified people, but in a desperation move to find 'anybody' who will agree to serve.

As citizens of this community, we owe a debt of gratitude to the individuals who have volunteered their service in the past. At the same time, we owe something to this community.

Not everyone is able to serve on the Council or School Board, but every citizen should be able to contribute to the betterment of the community in which they live.

Serving on the City Council or School Board is a truly thankless job. When things go right, nobody tells you, but when something goes wrong you don't hear anything else.

Only qualified individuals with the best interest of our students and community can continue the tradition of progress.

It's our responsibility to select these individuals and after they are elected, to give them our support and assistance.

Haskell County Now Receiving Oil Royalty

Haskell County Judge John Wayne McDermott reported during the regular meeting of the Haskell Commissioners Court Tuesday that Haskell County had received an oil royalty check in the amount of $15,867.50.

The check reflects the County's portion of oil production on a parcel of land in Hockley County. The check pays royalties from September 1981 through January 1982 which averages about $3,000.00 per month.

In other action, Commissioners accepted the low bid of Lanco Insurance Company for liability insurance on County vehicles. The bid was for $4,055.00 for a one year policy.

Commissioners also approved a resolution to add a 15% fee to all delinquent taxes and also authorized office space for Game Warden Alton Chapman.

Brush and Palette

Have you ever heard that painting a picture is like taking a trip? You have to know exactly where you are going and every road and route you must take to get there. It must all be clear in your mind but this only comes with knowledge and experience. Amateurs paint like a person who gets in his car and tries many new roads, hoping each will be the right one. Each stroke of the brush will teach you something as it will either help or hurt the painting. Lay the paint on as thoughtfully as you can from the beginning, using the knowledge you have gained from concentration and study.

Q. Where can I get a first class reference book for technical art information?
A. I have mentioned in this column before "The Artist's Handbook of Material and Techniques" by Ralph Mayer. It is considered the most authoritative (and indispensable) source book. The latest edition (749 pages, hard-bound) is available from art suppliers for $16.95, at this writing.

Q. How can I protect the back of a painting done on canvas?
A. Some of the recommended methods are to brush the canvas with red lead or white lead in oil. Another is coating the linen canvas with tin foil attached with gold size. Impregnating the back of canvas with tannin or formaldehyde, two layers will make it more resistant to moisture. Stretching two layers of canvas together helps protect the back of the oil painting.

Some painters tack a sheet of cardboard to the back of the stretchers, cutting a small rectangle in it, which lets the canvas breathe. An air-tight covering seals the canvas, whereby it will become brittle and rot even more than exposed canvases.

Q. What type brush should be used for applying Gesso and varnish?
A. A good quality brush is just as necessary to use with Gesso and varnish as it is with your painting. The bristles will break on a 'bargain' brush and produce inferior results. Some good brushes to use are a high quality sign-writer's cutter, or a chisel-edge brush of soft white bristles with a short handle. A pure bristle brush is always better than a nylon one.

FCIC Explains All-Risk Crop Insurance

When Congress decided to minimize crop disaster programs, it came up with what nearly everyone agrees is a better idea: A nationwide program of All-Risk crop insurance in which the government pays a substantial part of the premium for an insurance policy individual crop producers can tailor to their own needs.

The new insurance program, sponsored by USDA's

Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC), begins with this year's crops and is available through local private insurance agents.

According to Ross Smith, FCIC District Director, farmers in Haskell County can now obtain insurance coverage for cotton, grain sorghum and corn.

Smith explains that farmers can "customize" their insurance in a variety of ways. For one thing, starting this year, a farmer with documented yield history for at least three years can obtain a production guarantee based on past yields. Each farmer has a choice of carrying a policy that guarantees either 50 percent, 65 percent, or 75 percent of average yield. Each also can choose from three selections, the price to be paid for each pound or bushel that actual production on the farm falls below the guarantee.

Another choice involves hail insurance. By electing to delete hail and fire coverage from the All-Risk policy and carrying private hail and fire coverage instead, a farmer's premium for All-Risk insurance will be reduced accordingly. Or, if the maximum hail and fire protection is wanted, a farmer can purchase private insurance to supplement the coverage provided by the All-Risk policy.

To make All-Risk insurance as affordable as possible,

Smith points out that the Federal Government pays up to 30 percent of the premium. The balance, which is paid by the farmer, is a tax-deductible business expense. This further reduces the net cost of carrying insurance protection. In addition, discounts—ranging from 5 percent of the premium after one year, to as high as 50 percent of the premium—are given to policyholders with few or no insured losses.

Haskell County farmers desiring information about the insurance options available to them and what various levels of protection would cost should contact their local insurance agent.

Chamber of Commerce Interviews The Media

BY WANDA DULANEY
Manager, Haskell
Chamber of Commerce

Good communications is essential to any enterprise, to any relationship, whether it is a community or individuals. BOTH parties must TALK; BOTH parties must LISTEN.

In any city, people will complain that their organization or activity doesn't get enough publicity. Let's examine the circumstances:
(1) Did you notify the media that this was taking place? (2) Did you tell them WHO, WHAT, WHEN, WHERE AND WHY? (3) Did you contact them as far in advance as possible? (4) Was it during a holiday when countless others were celebrating the occasion with similar events? (5) Was it something that could not wait until the next edition or later programming in case they were overset or already booked?

It has to originate with YOU—the reader, the listener, the viewer. A radio station cannot broadcast news that it has not been told; a newspaper cannot print what it does not know.

With the constant activity in this busy town and with its busy people, it would be impossible for the small staffs of our radio station and newspaper to personally cover every event every night. BUT IF YOU WILL CALL THEM, GIVE THEM THE FACTS AND HONOR THEIR DEADLINES, the local media will do everything in their power to report your news. They have assured the Chamber of Commerce that THEY WANT YOUR INFORMATION AND ENCOURAGE YOU TO CONTACT THEM.

During 1982, the Haskell Free Press has granted the Chamber of Commerce the space to do weekly profiles of our community and with it, the privilege of choosing the subjects. KVRP-FM has given air time to spotlight segments of our town. This week we feature the people and the systems that bring us the news of Haskell—our media.

KVRP-FM RADIO
Covering eight counties—as far West as Post; as far East as Graham; as far South as Coleman and as far North as Quanah—HASKELL RADIO STATION KVRP-FM 95 operates on 100,000 watts. "The Voice of the Rolling Plains" originates from a studio on the Rule Highway, west of town. It is owned by the Rolling Plains Broadcasting Corporation—Ken Lane, president, Nelda Lane, secretary.

Nelda says the station is Ken's baby, and Ken recalls being interested in owning a radio station ever since he had his first radio in a 1968 Chevrolet pickup. They chose Haskell for their station, because it was their home, the county seat and a trade center. Ken's a native of Haskell and Nelda came from Ft. Worth. They met while students at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls and married in 1961. They've lived in Haskell ever since. They are active in the Methodist Church where Nelda is on the Worship Committee and Ken on the Board of Stewards and the Finance Committee. With a degree in organ, Nelda's musical talents are much in demand and she is also active with the Progressive Study Club. They are members of the Chamber of Commerce and Ken serves on the general board of Coop Gin #1 and helps with the Junior Livestock Show.

KVRP was cited from a 1981 Media Survey as the Number One Station in an eight county area in listening estimates from all dayparts and demos. It has a weekly audience of 17,000 which is equivalent to a 45.9% rating. By comparison, four Abilene Stations have an average cume rating of 11.1% and Wichita Falls 8.4%. In the six a.m. to ten a.m. air slot, KVRP has 30% of all the listeners, from ten to three, 40.3%; from three to seven 42.6% and from seven p.m. to midnight 27.9%.

The format is MUSIC, NEWS, WEATHER. The music is country and individually selected by music director Rick McCracken. At 6:00 a.m. Associated Press News; at 7:00, 8:00 and 9:00 local news; 10:00 A.P., 12:00 local; 2:00 A.P., 4:00 A.P., 5:00 and 6:00 local. Weather reports via Ft. Worth Weather Bureau are fifteen and forty-five minutes after the hours and at the end of each newscast.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS: On Sunday morning, Dusty

Garison, minister, First Christian Church, hosts an hour of sacred music followed by the "Voice of the Rolling Plains" program, with news director Tara Benedict as program moderator. Farm shows include AG Weather and the Helming Report.

PERSONNEL: Gary Barrett is station manager, with Tex Harrison, program director; Rick McCracken, Music Director; Viola Sims, Sales; Mike Williamson, Joel Fox, Charles Reed, John McDermott, Lori Schoonmaker, broadcasters. FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION (FCC) requires each radio station to devote a certain amount of air time to public service. Of course the station must be selective and use only good quality programming, essential to maintaining listeners.

Keep in mind that this is an eight-county station and must broadcast news about all of the cities therein, not exclusively Haskell. Locally, the station routinely covers City Council, School Board and Commissioners Meetings, report scores of sporting events, do live interviews at County Fair and other activities of GENERAL interest to the most people. They will announce coming events, special recognitions, current issues, happenings and news, but they need tips on these as far in advance as possible. They prefer WRITTEN information giving the name of the event, date, time, place, purpose and other related notes. A postcard will do, or a letter. Send it to KVRP, Box 773, Haskell, Texas 79521. The sooner the better.

HASKELL FREE PRESS
Born on January 1, 1886 and with a present circulation of 2,650, the Haskell Free Press is the oldest continuing business in town.

One can subscribe to the weekly newspaper and receive it in their mail on Thursdays in home deliveries, on Wednesday evening via post office box or from the newstands at any of the following establishments on Wednesday afternoons: Modern Way, Buster's, Allsup's, Haskell Steak House, M-System, Colonial, and at Woods Pharmacy in Rule.

Owners since August 1, 1970, Bill Comedy and son, Don Comedy, are President and Vice President, Publisher and Editor. Bill has been in the newspaper business since 1937, with former affiliations at Coleman, Brownwood, Lamesa, Seminole, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Throckmorton. Don's background includes Lamesa, Abilene, Lubbock, Cisco, Eastland, Ranger and Throckmorton. Both men are involved in community affairs, with Bill to be incoming president of Rotary, on the Planning and Zoning Board, and Junior Livestock Association. Don is a member of the Volunteer Fire Department, an instructor for the State for Emergency Medical Technicians, past president Lion's Club, and secretary, Industrial Foundation. The Comedys are members of the First United Methodist Church.

Working with them are

Mrs. Randy Shaw, Mrs. Phillip Cockerell, and Jana Hunt. They assist with re-writing, circulation, ad composition, and paste-up, binding and typesetting.

The newspaper is prepared by offset, photo composite, evolving from the raised letter cast material of old. Three computerized typesetting machines valued at $35,000 are used.

Bill sells the ads for the paper, making weekly rounds to call on regular customers. Don writes the news. We did a spot check from last week's paper to determine the proportion of news versus advertising. Out of the 1,200 column inches in that edition, 506 were for ads and 694 covered news. How does one differentiate from the other?

IF IT SELLS YOUR GOOD NAME, IT'S PUBLICITY; IF IT SELLS YOUR PRODUCT, IT'S ADVERTISING. Another example: If a merchant has a pig to give away for charity, it's news, but if the merchant wants to sell the pig, it's profit. When clubs, churches, groups have sales to raise funds for the betterment of mankind, there will be no charge for the story, but if a firm has a sale, it will rightfully cost the merchant to see it in print.

DEADLINES: All news, display and classified advertising must be at the paper not later than Tuesday at noon. Make it earlier if you can. If your event is to take place Tuesday night, call it to the attention of the editor before Tuesday noon.

MUST INFORMATION BE TYPED? Not necessarily, but it must be plainly written or printed.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR must be signed.

NAMES OF PERSONS ATTENDING FAMILY REUNIONS, WEDDINGS, ANNIVERSARIES, ETC. will NOT be published as space will not permit.

NAMES OF OUT OF TOWN VISITORS are printed weekly. Contact your newspaper.

WILL NEWSPAPER RUN BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS? Yes. The hospital gives the information to the editor if the baby is born locally. If elsewhere, let the Free Press know.

HOW ARE OBITUARIES HANDLED? Holden-McCauley Funeral Home contacts the Haskell Free Press with information concerning any services they conduct. Please call the newspaper if it relates to an out-of-town funeral for a local person.

CLUB NEWS: Reporters who have brought the information in the past are encouraged to continue doing so.

PICTURES: The Haskell Free Press will consider printing any size black and white photograph of good quality for reproduction if it relates to a news story. They will do news photography when they are able to cover your event but not the type of pictures professional photographers handle such as wedding coverage, portraits, bride's photos, etc.

SPORTING EVENTS: They cover all high school football games but cannot attend all the more frequent basketball and baseball games. They will be happy to report their outcome if coaching staffs will notify the editor.

The newspaper reserves the right to edit and to delay publication until space is available on those items that are not time-dated.

Regular weekly columnists for the Haskell Free Press are James Lanier, Superintendent, Haskell Independent School District; Fay Schnuriger, who reports on art; Jim Hudson on Soil Conservation and Wanda Dulaney, Chamber of Commerce.

ABILENE REPORTER NEWS
HOW DO YOU GET YOUR STORY OR PICTURE IN AN OUT-OF-TOWN NEWSPAPER? Your best bet is to contact the official correspondent who has been designated for the purpose. Mrs. Gary (Jill) Druessedow is Haskell's stringer for the Abilene Reporter News. Jill has a degree in Journalism from Midwestern University. She teaches journalism at Haskell High School and previously taught this subject for ten years at Wichita Falls High School and for four years at Stamford High School. She informs us that the Abilene Reporter News wants news of general interest to all its readers and seeks news tips on any major fire, fatalities, disasters. If your club or organization has an unusual observance or activity coming up, call Jill as far in advance as possible. If you want your engagement, wedding or fiftieth anniversary in the paper, call Jill to get the forms the newspaper requires that you complete, remembering to do so as far in advance as possible. The paper will consider good quality black and white pictures, glossy prints only, if they are related to a news story. So call our Abilene Reporter News correspondent Jill Druessedow at 864-3757 or mail information to her at Box 113; Haskell.

TELEVISION
Both KTAB-TV and KRBC-TV have expressed to the Chamber of Commerce an interest in receiving news about Haskell. Airtime is very limited and must cover in fifteen minutes the things that will interest the most people. Several items appear on each newscast so the competition is great, especially with those that concern holiday activities. If your organization is having an unusual event that isn't likely to be duplicated with a similar and simultaneous activity, the chances of coverage are good. If you're having an annual banquet, that alone is not of enough general interest, but if your guest speaker is some out-of-town dignitary or celebrity, chances are the TV stations will cover. Keep in mind that TV cameramen want ACTION shots, not still photographs. So ask yourself if you can offer the station more than just shots of people chewing food or someone talking into a mike. Just place your call to the News Room at either station, and VERY QUICKLY tell them who it is, what it is, where it is, when it is, and why it is. They won't make a commitment—they can't. Their programming is contingent upon hot news first. But they will make note of your request and cover if at all possible.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—During the spring and summer months, the new home buying bug bites many Texas consumers.

In many cases, as soon as a consumer decides on what home to buy and closes the deal, he or she will need to think about landscaping the property. That's because, while some developers do the landscaping before the house is offered for sale, others eliminate that expense and the pass on the savings to the buyer, allowing him or her to select the trees, lawn, and shrubbery.

While some new home buyers in the latter category may decide to tackle the job themselves, others decide to hire a landscaping firm. In many cases, these firms are established, reputable members of the business community. They provide a useful service both to new homeowners and the many subdivision developers. They can be expensive, however. The landscaping work on an average size lot may cost $1,500 or more, depending on the complexity of the plan and the type and size of plants desired. Of course, as landscaping architects and other experts point out, good landscaping can add value to the property far in excess of its cost.

But attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division warn that not all landscapers are reputable. Some "landscaping specialists" are really "con-men" who operate on a seasonal basis and prey on new homeowners and subdivision developers. These operators may run their business from a pick-up or a flat-bed truck. Some of their tactics include contracting with a consumer or developer to put in a certain quality of lawn and shrubbery and substituting cheap, low-grade plants instead. The landscaping may look all right initially, but may fail to thrive.

Most of these itinerants solicit their business door-to-door in new subdivisions. New homeowners and subdivision developers should be very cautious when approached by door-to-door solicitors offering landscaping services and should be aware of the protection provided them by the Home Solicitation Act. The Act, which allows cancellation of any contract for $25 or more by midnight of the third business day, is useful if you're dealing with an established firm or individual, or if you have withheld payment. Most itinerants are not established business-persons, however, and most want their payment "up front". This means they may be impossible to track down if you want to cancel and get a refund.

Our Consumer Protection Division attorneys suggest several ways to protect yourself from such hazards. (1) Investigate thoroughly before committing yourself to a contract for landscaping work, or to advance payment for such a job. (2) Get at least three estimates from established firms or individuals. (3) Ask friends and relatives for recommendations and check with the Better Business Bureau to see if any complaints are on file about the firm or person you choose. (4) If you hire an itinerate "landscaping specialist", never pay for the work in advance, and always carefully check the finished job, perhaps waiting a week or so to observe the condition of the plants before paying.

If you have a consumer problem with a fraudulent landscaper, contact our Consumer Protection Division in Austin, Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Lubbock, El Paso or McAllen.

Sagerton Ballpark Recently Completed

Although the Sagerton School closed in the Spring of 1965, ex-students and local residents will be happy to know that their "Eagles" have made a comeback, in the form of a ladies softball team. With lots of appreciation and thanks to County Commissioner Bud Turnbow, the Sagerton women can now be the Home team. He furnished his time and labor to build a backstop, and level and grade off a park south of the Sagerton School. Also many thanks go to Joe Clark for furnishing the material. The Sagerton Community really appreciates the time consuming work spent on this worthwhile project. Young and old alike, will benefit from the ballpark as it has already provided some Sunday afternoon entertainment. There will be a meeting tonight, February 25th, in the Sagerton School to organize this years team. The discussion will include election of officers, selection of uniforms and setting practice dates. Last years team had 12 dedicated young women; with lots of injuries; errors and few runs, but the fun and experiences were memorable. In order to make this years team a success and put our new ballpark to use, we need everyone to participate and back their Home town once more.

Plea Bargaining Aids In Judicial Process

The following article is a public service by the Haskell Free Press through the cooperation of Joseph Thigpen, District Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of this District and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

PLEA BARGAINING: A WORKABLE SYSTEM

What is plea bargaining? It is the method of disposing of the vast majority of criminal cases in every state and federal court in the nation. It is not a system separate from the jury system in which criminals are let off scot free. Plea bargaining is directly tied to what juries are doing in criminal cases.

could expect to appear for jury service each year. After a case is filed against a defendant, an experienced trial attorney: (1) reviews the evidence and estimates, based upon his experience with actual jurors from the community, what a jury would do with the case if they heard it in a trial setting, (2) offers the accused a punishment not greater - and probably less - than what the parties think a jury would be likely to assess, and (3) negotiates with the defense attorney on what experience indicates that a jury would do.

When harsher or lighter verdicts than expected are given, they are taken into account in future negotiations. In the process of plea bargaining, if juries begin coming down hard on armed robbers, for example, longer sentences are recommended for that crime. Thus the punishment imposed by a jury in one trial actually will affect the disposition of many other cases in which a plea bargain is ultimately reached.

56 Haskell Students Now Attending WTC

Fifty-six students from Haskell County are enrolled for the spring semester at Western Texas College according to statistics compiled by the Student Services office.

Fifty-nine Texas counties, 17 states outside Texas and two foreign countries are represented at WTC this spring. Scurry County has the largest number of students with 547. Nolan County is second with 135 and Mitchell County is third with 99.

Counties with 10 or more students in addition to Haskell are Jones with 46, Fisher with 38, Crosby with 32, Dickens with 18, Knox with 16, Stonewall with 14, Lubbock with 12 and Taylor with 10.

The spring semester at WTC will end on May 21. Registration for the nine-week summer session will be held on May 26 and classes will begin on May 27. Information about summer classes can be obtained by contacting the Student Services office.

Want Ads Put 'em to work for you— You'll know they work!

In our state courts, there is also a check and balance in the plea bargaining system because all the prosecutors can offer in the bargain is to recommend a certain punishment to the judge. It is the judge who makes the final determination, and he may reject the agreement if he finds it unfair either to the people or to the accused.

Finally, there is a major advantage to the prosecution, and ultimately to the public, in obtaining a plea-bargained punishment. With certain rare exceptions, a plea of "guilty" arising out of a plea bargain cannot be appealed. That means that the public is guaranteed that the defendant will "stay guilty" and serve his time.

A sentence that is certain to be carried out and that is imposed as near as possible to the time of the crime will do more to deter and punish criminals, and safeguard the public than will a (possibly) slightly lower sentence imposed, if at all, somewhere down the line after a lengthy appeals process.

In summation, plea bargaining: (1) enables prosecutors to dispose of 95 percent of our cases expeditiously, (2) does not burden the taxpayer with additional expenses, and (3) greatly increases the certainty that the punishment a criminal receives will be carried out.

Unless someone comes forward with the financing for a system in which each case can be tried by jury, there is no alternative to some form of plea bargaining.

The criminal judicial system functions much better, in the prosecutors' view, than the public's opinion would indicate. The system will function even better if the public also understands how it really works. With understanding can come both confidence and cooperation.

Plea bargaining works.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The increasing productivity of American farmers is one of the greatest success stories of the 20th century. This phenomenon has been made possible not only by improved technology, but also by the ever-increasing skill of our farmers.

Farming today is both a business and a precise science. Today's farmer is an expert in meteorology, soil sciences, marketing, finance, and even computers.

The Future Farmers of America have played an important part in developing today's cadre of skilled farmers. We observe National FFA Week February 20-27, a good opportunity for all of us who enjoy the bounty of the farmer's labor to pause to consider his contribution to our lives and our nation's economy.

For 55 years, FFA has helped prepare young men and women for careers in the industry of agriculture. I am proud to be the first member of the U.S. Senate to become a life member of the National FFA Alumni Association.

This vocational student organization has given us producers and suppliers of agriculture products, community and business leaders, and government representatives at all levels. Currently, the organization includes nearly 500,000 students in 8,000 schools throughout the U.S. These young people are learning to be good citizens as well as productive agri-business leaders.

FFA Week coincides with the birthdate of George Washington, a fine agriculturalist as well as a primary shaper of our nation. Farming was the mainstay of early America, and continues to be our most basic industry. We are the best-fed nation in the history of the world. Our farmers also supply much of the rest of the world with basic agricultural commodities -- and in the process make a major contribution to the U.S. balance of payments.

Texas plays a particularly crucial role in American agriculture. Our state ranks third in cash receipts for overall agricultural production. We produce in some quantity virtually every agricultural product that is found within the continental United States. We rank first in upland cotton production, first in sorghum grain production, first in wool production, first in cattle feed, and high on the list for a host of other products.

Texas owes much of its prosperity to its farmers. Thus, it is particularly fitting that we recognize the young men and women in FFA who are about to embark on careers in agriculture.

This is a trying time for the agricultural industry. Costs are rising; markets are uncertain, and high interest rates impose heavy burdens. But the need for dedicated, competent farmers is greater than ever before. I am proud of the young Texans who are working to make farming more productive, and who are willing to commit themselves to a career in this vital industry.

Western Texas College To Present Production

Medicare Deductible Increased For 1982

Medicare patients, you'll pay more for your Part A "deductible" this year-- That's the part for yourself (or which you may have supplemental insurance for), reports Judith L. Warren, a family life education specialist-aging.

As of Jan. 1, 1982, patients are responsible for the first $260 of each new 90-day benefit period. In 1980, the Part A deductible was $180. In 1981, it was $204. Also, during 1982, Medicare patients in the hospital from 61-90 days will be responsible for paying $75 a day, rather than the $51 they had to pay last year.

Warren is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

New State Tax Laws Now In Effect

Kenneth Graeber, executive director of the State Property Tax Board (SPTB), today announced a statewide effort to inform property owners in Texas of their rights and remedies as taxpayers.

"Major changes in the state's tax laws were effective January 1 with implementation of the new Texas Property Tax Code," Graeber said. Among the more significant provisions are those which:

--Establish a central appraisal district in each county which will value all property for tax purposes and provide that value to each taxing unit in the district;

--Provide a single board of equalization--which will be empowered to hear taxpayer appeals on a wide range of matters rather than just questions of value;

--Make it possible for taxpayers to file all exemption applications and property renditions with one office in a county rather than with multiple tax offices;

--Permit one-time applications for homestead exemptions and open-space land valuation, rather than annual applications as previously required;

--Provide, for the first time in Texas, a method for taxpayers to limit property tax increases to eight percent annually through an initiative and referendum process applicable to all taxing units.

Graeber said that in all except 17 of the state's 254 counties, the new appraisal district has been implemented. Local officials delayed appraisal district operations until 1983 in Bexar, Glasscock, Gray, Hartley, Jasper, Jeff Davis, King, Leon, McMullen, Moore, Oldham, Rockwall, Stonewall and Zapata counties.

Implementation of full appraisal district operations was delayed until 1984 in Bowie, Crockett and Harris counties.

The SPTB administrator noted that in counties which have delayed appraisal district implementation, taxpayers should file their property renditions and exemption applications with city, school, county and special district tax offices as in prior years. In all other counties, renditions and exemption applications should be filed with the appraisal district's chief appraiser.

"It is important that taxpayers file renditions and applications for tax relief prior to May 1," Graeber said, to call attention to available exemptions and tax administration procedures, he noted that SPTB will be working with appraisal districts, local tax offices and the state's news media to help make Texans aware of changes in the law.

"State law requires any person who owns or manages income-producing personal property on January 1 to file a rendition statement with the appraisal district," Graeber noted.

Additionally, the chief appraiser of a county may require rendition of other taxable property upon notice to the owner or manager. Special rendition procedures apply to property on which an exemption applicable on January 1 terminates during the tax year. In such a case, the person who owns or acquires the property on the date eligibility for the exemption terminates must render the property for taxation within 30 days of that date.

Transportation companies subject to regulation of the Railroad Commission are required to render the value to their intangible property to the State Property Tax Board.

Banks and railroad companies are required to file special rendition statements with appraisal district chief appraiser.

Graeber said rendition forms are available from appraisal district offices or from local tax offices in those counties where appraisal district implementation was delayed. Transportation businesses may obtain report forms from the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

Complete information on rendition requirements and on the availability of tax exemptions and special valuation for agricultural land is contained in a pamphlet produced by SPTB titled "Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities!"

The pamphlet, which also includes suggestions on how to prepare and present a taxpayer appeal, is available at no charge from appraisal district offices, from most local tax offices, or from the State Property Tax Board.

"The property tax is the primary source of local government revenue in Texas, and will generate approximately $6 billion this year to help fund the operations of public schools, cities, counties and special districts," Graeber said.

"We urge all property owners to become familiar with the tax process and to file renditions and apply for all exemptions or other tax relief measures to which they are entitled," Graeber concluded.

At General Telephone... We're Not Simply Talking About Service Improvements We're Making Them In Haskell

At General Telephone, better service isn't just a goal, it's a solid commitment. General Telephone spent over 354 million dollars in 1981 on capital expenditure projects (i.e. new electronic switches, expanded cable projects, modernization), and GTE will spend over 410 million dollars in 1982 to provide you the best telecommunications available.

For Haskell this investment in service improvement is working as shown below. General Telephone is working hard to continually provide you with the best of service.

The Texas Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has established certain standards in public hearings, and our service results are listed against those standards.

FTA Members Attend Convention

Six members and their adviser from the Haskell High School Chapter of Future Teachers of America attended the 33rd Annual Texas Future Teachers of America Convention February 19-21 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel, Houston. Approximately 3,000 members and advisers from across the state attended.

"Tomorrow Depends on Today" was the convention theme. State President Karl Travis of Tulia presided over the convention - two general sessions and the House of Delegates. W.C. Newberry, Ed. D., Southwest Texas State University, San Marcos, gave the keynote address at the First General Session. His topic was "The Few Among the Many." Dr. Newberry is an educator, philosopher, and humorist and has spoken in 41 of the 50 states and delivered over 1,000 speeches. He combined facts, humor, and philosophy in an entertaining and interesting manner.

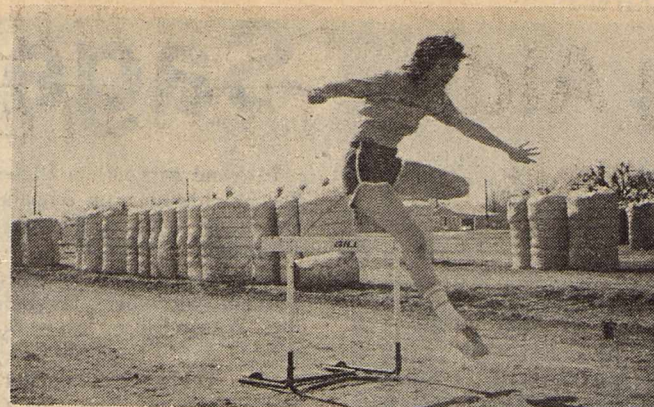

At the District 14 caucus, 3 Haskell Chapter members were selected to fill the 10 delegate places representing their district. Certified to vote at the House of Delegates were: Anthony Garland, H.H.S. freshman and District 14 Parliamentarian-elect, Michael Iley, H.H.S. junior, and Julie John Wallace, H.H.S. senior.

Skits and speeches for state office candidates highlighted the Second General Session, followed by entertainment, including a dance and light show in the Grand Ball Room. On the morning of Feb. 20, convention activities resumed with the Mr. and Miss FTA competition, state committee meetings, and workshops. Workshop topics included: Campaigning for Office, Career Orientation, Fund raising Projects, "I'm Just a Chunk of Coal, but I'm Going to be a Diamond Someday," Publications and Newsletters, Scrapbooks and Historians, Texas Student Education/Student National Education Association, and What Makes a Good Leader?

The House of Delegates convened the afternoon of February 20. Elected as TFTA State officers for the coming year were: Philip Sanov, Gladewater H.S., President; Nita Fields, Brady H.S., Vice President; Shelia Williams, Recording Secretary; Brent Walker, Freer H.S., Financial Secretary; Michelle Renee Williams, Fabens H.S., Historian; and Anna-Laura Howell, Medina Valley H.S., Parliamentarian.

The final highlight of the convention came Saturday evening with the Awards Program. Marva Solomon, Abilene H.S. senior representing District 14, was selected Miss FTA and was awarded a $1,000 college scholarship. Other awards included 10 top projects, scrapbook, and yearbook competition.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

March 1 through 5 has been declared Texas Education Week. We would welcome each of you to visit our schools during this week. We would greatly appreciate you visiting your child's classes, eating lunch with us, or simply looking over how we are presenting the educational program for the students of Haskell. We will, again this year, have two separate open houses for the schools. The secondary (Junior High and High School) will have their open house on Tuesday, March 2, at 7:00 p.m. The elementary school will host their open house on Thursday, March 4. I understand the Kindergarten will again delight us with a program of fun and frolic so I hope each of you will attend one or both of the open houses. Remember, this is YOUR school and you have an obligation to take part in it. Besides, we are proud of what we are doing and want to show off just a bit.

As little as we realize it, Texas has had a system of public schools for many years. In fact, this was one of the first governmental actions under the new government of the Texas Republic. Indeed, one of the underlying causes of the Texas Revolution was the lack of public schools and the refusal of the Mexican government to provide such. One of the prime movers in providing public schools for Texas was the Grand Lodge of Freemasonry of Texas. They pushed extremely hard, provided revenues and literally caused public schools to come into existence. All through the almost 150 years of Public Schools in Texas, the Masons have been involved. Even today almost every new building constructed for public education has a cornerstone donated and dedicated by a local lodge.

Texas are a proud lot and one of their greatest joys have always been their public schools. Even though controversy surrounds public education today, Texans are trying to improve public education for the boys and girls of the State. In fact, 52 percent of this state budget is allocated to education. Our Permanent School Fund is second to none in the United States.

We, involved in public education in Haskell, are no less dedicated to your school and our kids, therefore, come on out and visit YOUR school at either open house, during class sessions, or both. WE WELCOME YOU.

"The Desert Song" Scheduled March 2 In Wichita Falls

Where these days can be found a dreamy heroine, a hard-riding, swash-buckling hero, a belly-dancing villainess, dagger-toting sheiks, a father-and-son misunderstanding and a harem of ladies from Barcelona? The answer unfolds at Wichita Falls Memorial Auditorium the night of Tuesday March 2 as "The Desert Song" sweeps onto the stage at 8 p.m.

"The Desert Song" is a romantic musical set in Morocco that has enthralled people for nearly sixty years. Sigmund Romberg (composer of "The Student Prince" and two dozen musicals of the 20's) wrote songs for this show of such richness and vitality that today "One Alone", "The Riff Song", "The Desert Song" and "The Sabre Song" will certainly be hummed by the audience during the show and as they depart. Oscar Hammerstein II (famous for the lyrics of "Showboat", "Oklahoma!", "South Pacific", etc.) along with Otto Harbach and Frank Mandel (collaborators on "No No Nanette") gave lyrics once humorous, majestic and haunting.

To get tickets to this performance, go to the Creative Energy Regional Ticket System outlet of The Music Box; and let the Red Shadow sweep you off into "The Desert Song" March 2, 8 p.m. at Wichita Falls Memorial Auditorium.

Busy People Make Best Volunteers

If you need volunteer help for your group, agency or association, search out busy, dedicated people—they usually make the best volunteer leaders.

"Volunteers play a key role in the success of many organizations and groups," notes Dr. Lanny Bullard, 4-H and youth specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "PTAs, civic groups, social agencies and youth organizations such as 4-H depend heavily on volunteer leaders for the success they enjoy."

Getting the type of volunteers an organization needs to accomplish its goals and objectives requires careful attention to recruitment, emphasizes the specialist.

"Recruiting can never be a mass enterprise—it must be highly specialized and detailed," says Bullard. "Each person is an individual and must be treated as someone special. Facts about individuals, such as their special interests, abilities and skills, are essential in the recruitment process."

To centralize recruiting, assign names of potential volunteers to the membership committee and others in the organization with similar personal interests, suggests the 4-H and youth specialist. For instance, it's best for a recruiter to work in his own neighborhood, social circle or business firm where he has prestige and influence. Also, recruiters with interests similar to those of potential volunteers should make those contacts.

Bullard advocates the personal approach in contacting potential volunteers. "No method has ever been more effective than face-to-face contact," Bullard points out. "Your personal conviction and enthusiasm about your organization is evident in the tone of your voice, your facial expression and your choice of words. Thus a personal interview is a recruiting must."

To find prospective volunteers, recruiters can turn to various community resources, including directories, voting lists, chambers of commerce, churches, alumni groups, existing organizations and clubs, and listings of new residents.

"As a recruiter, be sure you are familiar with your organization's policies toward volunteers, what kind of people are to be approached and what the organization requires of them," suggests Bullard. "Remember that good volunteers are developed, not born.

"If, for example, you need more young people, you might concentrate on alumni lists, young marrieds known to business or real estate firms, or parents of kindergarten children. If you want those interested in civic affairs, you need to turn to voting lists, public affairs groups or subscribers to certain magazines and newspapers," notes Bullard. "And if you're seeking supporters for a cultural program, you might turn to a list of library card holders, college alumni, recently retired businessmen, or participants in arts and crafts fairs or exhibits."

"Of course, the best resource of all for finding volunteers is the present membership of your organization," he says. "A satisfied member is the best advertisement."

Bigger Profits Begin In The Cascot Lab.

You already know that Cascot cottonseed can increase your yield by as much as 25%. What you may not know is why Cascot varieties are so much better. Well, it didn't happen overnight. The people at Custom Ag Service used the latest scientific methods in selecting and breeding until they came up with disease resistant, early maturing varieties. They selected quality seed perfect for farming in all conditions. Characteristics like premium mike and storm resistance were developed in all the Cascot varieties.

And finally they eliminated contamination by using a separate gin for new seed development.

If you're not planting Cascot this year, try 100 acres and compare its yield to your seed. We're betting next year you'll be knee deep in Cascot.
