The Rodeo is the main event of the weeklong Frontier Days Celebration, continuing the observance of Haskell's one hundredth birthday.

It will begin each night at 8:00 p.m. on May 13, 14, and 15, with Charles Thornhill, announcer, and produced by Runt Sloan of Newcastle who is also furnishing the stock.

A pair of boots will be given away each night, donated by Heads or Tails Western Wear, Boot Hill and Lane Apparel. Stubs from admission tickets will be drawn for these prizes.

Admission to the rodeo is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

A new event at the Rodeo will be the Merchant's Calf Tying. This will include women participants.

Extension Clubs designed to help you grow and develop while having a good time. Each club conducts programs in the areas of family living, clothing, nutrition, housing, health and managing family resources. Membership is available without regard to sex, age, race, socio-economics level, religion or national origin. Extension agents seek to involve people representative of all groups in the county to plan and conduct educational programs for the public and for specific audiences. Extension Homemakers clubs are formed by groups of about 10-15 homemakers who want to learn together. They meet in homes or community meeting places. Each member is involved—members learn by attending monthly meetings and by receiving training to become effective program leaders and officers. Club members teach, take part in discussions, plan recreation and participate in community projects sponsored by clubs across the county.

You may form a homemaker club or study group by finding other homemakers with similar interests. Your county Extension Agent-Home Economics will help you organize the group or you may contact any of the 5 homemaker clubs already established. These clubs are:

Brush and Palette

There was an endless panorama of bluebonnets and some bare terrain that stretched out so stark and forbidding. The area between Brady and Fredericksburg is a photographer's delight. There were many painters on the roadside taking advantage of this God Given Beauty. The colors of Mexican Hats and Indian Paint Brush and other colors seemed to explode like a collection of Roman candles. Each mile brought the extravaganza of elegance - they became brighter and even more determined to make the onlookers gasp in wonderment. You cannot see a better show anywhere and you don't have to pay a penny at the box office. Take a drive into the bluebonnet country - it will be a trip to always remember. Only the Great Artist could paint this picture!

Q. What colors do you use to paint bluebonnets?
A. Using a light blue made from Prussian and White, paint in the distant flower patches. Move into the middle ground with Dioxazine Purple. Some of the foreground flowers will be darker blue, using Prussian and Dioxazine. The greens are mixed with Prussian and Yellows depending on your source of light and how much light there is. Paint in a few white thistle, pink primroses and some yellow flowers to avoid monotony.

Q. What brushes do you use to paint bluebonnets?

A. Various brushes are used, depending on the location of the flowers. A small fan brush is used horizontally to make the distant flowers. It is also used sometimes to make grass in the foreground. It is hard to determine what brushes are used - it really depends on HOW you use the brush. A one-half inch Aquarelly (Grumbacher) brush does for me what some painters might think could not work for grass, etc. Get to know your brushes and what they can do for you and what you can do for them.

Q. What do you mean by "mass color"?

A. Sorry, perhaps I thought most of you knew what "mass" color meant. The full-strength surface color of a pigment is called a mass tone; sometimes called "top tone". The mass tone is laid down first, then other colors are painted on top - not worked in but lightly brushed on. This will give a two deminon appearance.

HINT: As you work, put yourself and your thoughts into each picture.

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134 Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Lou Gilly Attends 4-H Spring Training Meeting

New officers were elected and volunteer leaders received training in clothing, energy safety and swine production during the Spring training meeting here (March 31) of the Rolling Plains 4-H Adult Leaders Association.

Almost 70 leaders and county Extension agents at the meeting in the First Christian Church also heard former 4-H member Regina Hoff of Archer County report on her six-month exchange visit to Holland as part of the International 4-H Youth Exchange (IFYE).

Heading the leader association this year are Clara Richards, Jones County, chairman; Odie Sullivan, Wilbarger County, first vice chairman; Hollis Burgess, Young County, second vice chairman; and Marie Shaw, Dickens County, secretary-treasurer. Attending the meeting from Haskell County was: Lou

Gilly, County Extension Agent-H.E.

Concurrent workshops provided training on three of the 67 project areas available to the 4,076 4-H Club members in the 21 Rolling Plains counties. Some 775 adult volunteers lead 105 clubs of 4-H, the youth educational program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

New ideas and changes in 4-H clothing programs were the topic of one workshop. It was conducted by Anita Whitfill and Bea Levy, Hall County 4-H leaders, and Extension home economics agents Shirley Lewis of Kent and Sylvia Quintero, who serves Hall, Motley, Stonewall and Throckmorton counties.

Educational programs promoting safety in the use of various forms of energy were the topic of another workshop. Leading it were Kit Horne, farm and ranch supervisor, and Steve Thomas, both of West Texas Utilities Co., Abilene. They previewed a new safety film which WTU produced and will present at district 4-H camps this summer.

Trends and developments in swine production were covered in a workshop led by Herman Fox, Cottle County 4-H swine leader and breeder. Leaders visited his Paducah farm and took part in some

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

This column this week will be directed to parents, particularly parents of high school students; more especially, parents of college bound students. Most of the information was taken from "Issues in Higher Education", a publication of the Southern Regional Education Board.

College preparatory programs in high school are expected to equip students for college work. But colleges often find that many high school graduates are not prepared for the academic work of the first year of college. The current mood of disillusionment with education reflects a public feeling that academic quality has deteriorated. Americans have high ideals for education—they insist that schools provide an education of substance and content. Yet high schools throughout the country (including ours) are experiencing a phenomenon contrary to the above ideals. The fact is many students want to avoid what they term "hard courses" especially in their senior year. They often indicate a desire to "slide" during this all important year; yet this is the final year in public school to polish up skills developed and concentrate on skills to be acquired for use in higher education. We hear many "excuses" for avoiding these more demanding courses. However, in my own mind, I can find no justification for any of them. One of the more common courses avoided is Senior English. It is in this course that we (as do most schools) concentrate on writing skills. In all surveys this is the most common deficiency of entering college freshmen. You, as a parent, should insist that your student should take this course. Other areas where deficiencies are prevalent are mathematics and science. Oftentimes, in counseling with students, they indicate an interest in highly technical courses such as dentistry, engineering, or medicine and yet only want to meet minimum requirements in these areas. In most cases, not only will they possibly have a hard time in gaining admittance to this type of program, they will probably encounter great difficulty in reaching successful completion.

In our method of schedule building we use preregistration as the prime source of development. You are asked to sign your child's preregistration form. This is a method for us to let you know what curriculum is available for your child. I feel that it is very important for you to insist that your child gain the best education possible. Among other methods, you can insist that your child take courses that prepare them for their chosen fields. If you and your child decide that college is a part of their future, then you should strongly encourage them to take courses such as Senior English, advanced mathematics, chemistry, physics and other courses that include thought provoking processes and development of skills such as writing. Also you should be sure that these courses are presented in a way to best develop your child's potential.

Recycling Water Study Now Underway For Power Plants

Texas A&M University environmental engineer has begun studying the feasibility of recycling water used by lignite-fired electric power plants across the state.

Dr. Bill Batchelor, an associate professor of civil engineering, said the main drawback would be scale formation, which causes a loss of efficiency in heat transfer. Scale is formed when some chemicals present in the water become more concentrated as recycled water evaporates.

At a time when economical water resources are fast reaching a limit in Texas, researchers believe that by the year 2000, more than three-quarters of the state's gross water use will involve recycling (using your own water over and over) or reuse (using someone else's treated wastewater for industrial purposes), said Batchelor.

While the state's demand for municipal and industrial water should double in the next 20 years, the amount of water needed for generating energy is expected to leap by a factor of five or more, he said.

Anthonys To Celebrate Anniversary

Sixty years ago in 1922, young Charles Ross Anthony opened the first store in what is now the C.R. Anthony Company chain of nearly 300 stores. The ideals that Anthony believed in - friendly customer service and family-oriented merchandise at affordable prices - continue to be the basis of the company's success today.

"Even in 1982, our sixtieth anniversary year, customer service is still our number one priority," states Bob Anthony, President of Anthony's. "And given the current national economic situation, we know our customers want the real value that Anthony's merchandise offers them."

The company is gearing up for its official anniversary date in May, says Ron Cawthon, director of sales and advertising. "We are advertising special '60th Year' items each week throughout 1982, with an emphasis on fashion and savings." Other anniversary projects include a customer contest to begin in May, with winners being selected in July.

Many nationally known manufacturers are giving support to Anthony's anniversary celebration by way of contest prizes and advertising funds. "This not only enables us to run more advertising during this special year, it also lets us remind the customers that we have these famous brands at lower prices," says Cawthon. And while Anthony's is promoting these famous brands, their own house brands continue to be popular with customers. Anthony-produced merchandise includes jeans, shoes, luggage, and shirts. "We're very proud of the quality of these items," states Cawthon. "Customer response has been good because they're made well, look great, and cost less."

There are now 299 Anthony's stores in 21 states. Company headquarters are located in Oklahoma City, as is Anthony's Distribution Center, where the majority of merchandise is shipped to stores via a company-operated truck line.

Anthony's recently held its annual manager's convention, one of the company's biggest events of the year. "We show new fall merchandise, discuss the year's goals, and hold an awards banquet," according to Cawthon. "It's lots of work, but also a lot of fun, and everyone gets excited about the rest of the year."

Anthony's is owned primarily by stock-holding employees, retired employees, and their families. Bob Anthony, a grandson of C.R.

Anthony, is president of the company, and other relatives of the founder also work for the company. "Almost all our executives started at the store level," Anthony says. "Everybody has an opportunity to move ahead. Our company is built on an incentive system that encourages hard work and lets our 'Anthony Merchants' share in the success they have created."

Perhaps the reason for this company's growing success is best summed up by its slogan, "We'll keep you looking good for less." As Ron Cawthon says, "It's a formula that's worked for us for 60 years - and it's going to keep on working. Anthony's will be around a long, long time."

Larry Lofin, manager of Anthony's in Stamford says, "My employees and I would like to invite all the fine people of the Big Country to come in and celebrate our 60th birthday with us. We would be thrilled if one of our area customers won the beautiful little car, since they are the ones who have made our success possible. We just can't thank them enough!"

Warmer Temperatures Will Increase Horn Fly Numbers

Horn fly numbers will increase with warmer temperatures in April and continue to increase during May. Peak numbers will be reached during May or June. When peak numbers will actually occur will depend on temperature and moisture conditions.

Hot, dry conditions during July reduce horn fly populations. Populations usually remain low until rainfall in August again makes conditions more favorable for horn fly population increase.

To be most effective, horn fly control measures should be applied to reduce population levels in the spring (May & June) and in the fall, August, September, & October) since highest populations are expected during these months. Cool conditions in October reduce horn fly activity and numbers.

Insecticides for control of horn flies are available to be applied as sprays, back rubber applications, dust bags and ear tags. The material and method of application that best fits the individual producer's production program and is most economical should be selected. To be most effective, the insecticide should be applied to reduce horn fly numbers as populations increase in the spring and again in the fall.

When dry weather conditions are more favorable for horn fly activity,

When dry weather conditions result in low levels of horn fly activity insecticides should not be applied until the moisture conditions are more favorable for horn fly activity.

New Businesses Increasing

Despite continuing economic uncertainties, the determination to start a new business remains strong as the Nation celebrates Small Business Week, May 9-15.

Statistics compiled by government and private sources show a sharp rise in business bankruptcies over the past eighteen months. But at the same time, new small businesses have opened their doors at a higher than normal rate, the U.S. Small Business Administration reports.

Incorporations of new businesses for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1981, totaled about 575,000, 10 percent higher than the previous year. The bulk of these incorporations represented small companies.

"The American dream of owning your own business, of being your own boss, clearly remains strong in our country," says Frank Swain, SBA's Chief Counsel for Advocacy.

Other SBA studies show that small firms continue to be the main source of new jobs. Businesses with fewer than 20 employees, SBA said, create two out of every three new jobs.

Small businesses already account for about half of total U.S. employment -- about 50 million jobs, providing the livelihood for more than 100 million Americans.

These and other small business contributions to the economy will be highlighted during National Small Business Week, May 9-15. During that annual event, which is sponsored by SBA, outstanding small business entrepreneurs from each state will be honored at ceremonies in their home towns and in Washington, D.C. The week will be climaxed by selection of the Small Business Person of the Year at the White House.

Cancer Questionnaire Available

Despite cancer's deadly reputation, one third of the approximately 800,000 people with new cases of it each year survive to lead normal lives for many years. Many are cured permanently.

The determining factor in most instances is early detection, according to the Texas Medical Association.

To help accomplish this, the American Cancer Society's Texas Division has developed a questionnaire that enables individuals to evaluate their cancer risk.

The pamphlet, "Cancer: Assessing Your Risks," uses the person's age, lifestyle and medical background to estimate his or her chances of contracting six types of cancer—lung, colon-rectum, skin, breast, cervical and endometrial (lining of the uterus).

Each answer to a series of multiple-choice questions is given a specified number of points. The higher the point total for each cancer, the greater is a person's risk in that category. People with a high risk are advised to discuss the subject with a physician.

In the lung-cancer section of the questionnaire, an example of a high-risk person would be one over age 50 who has smoked more than a pack of cigarettes daily for 25 years while working in an asbestos plant.

The cancer society's program has the support of the Texas Medical Association & the Texas Department of Health.

The questionnaires can be obtained for free from area and district offices of the American Cancer Society or by writing the American Cancer Society, Texas Division, Inc., P.O. Box 9863, Austin 78766.

Small Grain Certification Set May 24

Monday, May 17th, is the final date to certify small grain acreage, whether you are participating or non-participating, according to Glenn R. Brzowski, County Director of the ASCS. All small grain acreage should be reported. Certify acres for harvest, grazing, and those acres that will be used for CUA (set-aside) whether it is for wheat, oats, cotton or feed grains.

Failure to certify can cause loss of all program benefits, cause the yield to be set at zero for upland cotton and the program crop acreage to be zero for each program crop.

Acreage tolerance for the 1982 crop year is (1) CUA (set-aside) - 1 acre of 10% of the reported acreage where the determined acreage is less than the required acreage. (2) Program crops - 1 acre of 5% when the determined acreage differs from the reported acreage (small grains and feed grains; irrigated and dry will be check separately.)

Former Haskell Resident Heading Stanton Alcohol Plant

With two years of research under their belts, the officers of Stanton Energy Company (Stanton) are hopeful that work will be underway for the construction of a $4.5 million commercial alcohol plant within the next 60 days. The proposed location of the ethyl alcohol plant is the Stanton City Dump, a proposal which met with resounding acceptance when it was presented to the city fathers recently.

Economy and ecology are two key factors in the plans for success for the developers of the project. The solid wastes (garbage) deposited at the dump sit will become boiler fuel, and after the garbage is burned only 10 percent of the mass will remain for burial in the sanitary landfill.

Sam Baker, a Stanton construction contractor, heads the project and serves as president, contractor and administrator, a native of Haskell, he is the son of Ruby Baker and the late Jack Baker of Haskell. He has been active, along with W.D. (Dub) Watson Jr., a Midland engineer, is researching and planning the plant for the past two years. Phil Borden, also associated with Watson's engineering firm, and an auctioneer out of Amarillo, joined Baker and Watson about two months ago. Watson serves as secretary-treasurer and specializes in engineering of the plant. Borden serves as vice president and specializes in presentations to investors, agency work and equipment locations and study.

Texas Produce

The "fresh approach" is the in-thing this year. Fresh vegetables are plentiful in Texas now, so make sure you get your share.

"Ask for fruits and vegetables grown in Texas," suggests Tom Longbrake, horticulturist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "You'll be supporting Texans who earn their livelihood from growing your groceries."

Texas supplies broccoli, cabbage, carrots, spinach, lettuce, potatoes and sweet potatoes in April and May. May also brings cantaloupes, cucumbers, honeydews, squash, peppers and tomatoes. Blackberries, plums and early peaches will be available in late May.

"Buying vegetables direct from growers at 'you-pick' operations and roadside markets is increasing in Texas," notes Longbrake.

"Cost savings can be passed on to consumers by farm markets who sell locally grown produce through reduced costs in transportation, packaging and refrigeration."

Tomatoes are the most popular vegetable bought at roadside markets followed by watermelons, peaches, black-eyed peas, okra, squash, new potatoes and green beans, says the horticulturist.

"If you're in the cost-cutting mood, consider buying fresh produce by the bushel for canning or freezing at home," suggests Longbrake.

So get fresh with Texas produce. Local radio and newspaper ads can tell you where fresh produce is available.

PLANT LAYOUT

The plant, which will consist of several buildings for the various stages of the process, will take from 12 to 15 months to complete once construction is underway. Included in the plant will be a building for receiving the garbage, an incinerator building, the actual alcohol plant, office building, along with a building for research and development.

All three of the plant founders are quick to explain that the deal still is in the critical stages with regard to final okays from the State Railroad Commission, State Health Department and the potential investors. And they are just as quick to emphasize the point that the basic plant will not be a "pioneering type venture," and that the first objective will be to produce commercial grade alcohol on a profit-making basis.

"We're not pioneering the production of commercial grade alcohol," Borden said, "everything we have planned can be done on a turnkey basis. It takes a pioneering spirit, but all the equipment is proven. We will do some research and development work, with the point being that this will be in the form of a profit-making pilot program." Borden added that the initial set up at the Stanton dump will "just be a seed for expansion and diversification," as the research and development phases of the project grow.

Baker is pleased with the natural layout of the landfill area and terms it "excellent" for the new company's needs.

Along with the prospects of profit from the alcohol production of the plant, Baker explained that a major by-product of the operation will be CO₂ and he pointed out that there is a readily available marked in the oilfield recovery methods of the area for this by-product. Additionally, the grain by-product of the process is an excellent cattle feed.

Initial estimates for the plant call for the production of some 1.5 million gallons of ethyl alcohol, which will also yield nine million pounds of CO₂.

Play Night Set Saturday

The Haskell Horse Club will hold its first trophy play night of the year May 8th at 7:30.

Trophies will be given down to 3rd place with ribbons for all other places in each age group.

Age group will include 8 and Under, 9-13, 14-18, with novice class in 8 and Under and 9-13 age group only.

Jackpot events will be 18-39 and 40 and over age group. Each jackpot event will be $6.

Events will include barrels, flags and poles.

BASIC OPERATION

Watson offered a quick breakdown of the basic plant operation stating that grain will be purchased from area farmers, ground up, cooked, fermented and converted to ethyl alcohol and CO₂. Watson stated that the purity of the plant's alcohol will be ensured by the fact that a full-time chemist will be among the 15 to 20 permanent employees the plant will start with. By meeting the quality control requirements and producing commercial grade alcohol, the plant could attract several chemical markets seeking pure chemical food stock.

Baker is slated to meet with several state agencies within the next week to firm up last minute details of the project in order to move the project closer to the end of tentative planning, and closer to becoming a reality.

Letters To The Editor...

Dear Editor:

Hello! I decided to write to another state to seek penpals who might be interested in discussing world events that will soon touch the lives of each one of us.

World conditions can't get much worse. Mankind, through technology, has brought us all to the brink of annihilations from pollution or nuclear war. An people are so frightened by the thought of nuclear war, (which they view as Armageddon,) that nearly every segment of society is involved in searching for some striking new way to bring in world peace and security. I Thess 5:3 you may have noticed that around the world people are advocating a total freeze on the armaments buildup. Quite a number of them are pressing for complete dismantling of present nuclear weapons.

However, Armageddon is not a nuclear war between the two great super powers and it cannot be avoided by quick action on the part of sincere people. The scriptures clearly show it is God's war. (rev. 16:14,16) Shortly, God will bring an end to wars everlasting by Armageddon. Ps. 46:6-11 (LB) says: "Come, see the glorious things our God does, now he brings ruin upon the world and (thereby) causes Wars To End through-out the earth breaking and burning every weapon." Right-hearted persons who respont to Gods word now can hope to survive through it all into a world bringing with real peace and happiness. Ps. 37:9-11, 29 A nuclear war by man would not allow any such hope of survival.

I enjoy writing to penpals, and I will answer anyone who takes the time to write.

Dear Editor:

Doubtless 17 year old Gonzalo Patricio Silva of Guarando, Ecuador has heard of the justifiably famous reputation of Texans for hospitality.

So he will be even more perplexed when he gets word that he will not be able to come to Texas next fall as scheduled, to live with a U.S. family and attend high school for the 82-83 school year in exchange for a U.S. student to his home and country. The family which agreed to host him has changed its mind. Gonzalo's family will honor their commitment to host a U.S. student.

It is hoped, through your cooperation in publishing this letter, a Texas family will volunteer to host Gonzalo, not only to uphold the state's reputation, but because they would actually enjoy doing so and would mutually benefit from the experience.

Texas families willing to host a B average senior with hobbies including football, basketball and reading will be interested in knowing that Gonzalo's father is a lawyer and his mother a nurse. He has a 13 year old sister and he has fair English.

Hosting families provide a bed (he can share a room), 3 meals a day and transportation to school and church. He has his own money for personal things and is fully insured. He will be a member of the family, share in the tasks and tax deductible.

If interested please call the Western office of International Fellowship collect at 602-282-7353, or write P.O. Box 1212, Sedona, Az. 86336, or to Mrs. J.F. Lilly, P.O. Box 539, Lometa, Tx. 76853.

singing convention.

We would like to especially thank the commissioner court and the Haskell National Bank.

The people of Haskell are blessed with having a bank like this and such a wonderful place to meet.

This singing convention means a lot to Haskell County. If you were not there for sure missed a blessing with all the younger people and especially the elder people of our community.

There were people from all parts of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico and all of them spent time and money here. All the motels were filled and many of them ate at the different eating places. Over fifty ate breakfast in the restaurant. All the food, ice besides the gas, oil, clothing and other things purchased in Haskell County again we say a great big thanks and hope to make next year much larger.

Italy Is New Grain Sorghum Export Target

A change in consumer demand may open a new Italian market for grain sorghum. Italian housewives are asking for poultry with a very white fat. In fact, they are even willing to pay a little extra to get it. This is reversal in buying choices. Until recently, the notion prevailed in Italy, as in many other parts of the world, that a healthy bird must have yellow fat.

"Just a few years ago, we were trying to convince Italian housewives that the color of the fat made absolutely no difference in the quality of the meat," said Elbert Harp, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association. "We even had poultry nutritionists develop rations with additives to produce the yellow color in the fat of poultry."

Harp and Dr. Earl Gleaves, Poultry Specialist with the Nebraska Extension Service, were in Italy April 17-22 to meet with feed manufacturers and poultry and egg producers. The project was sponsored by U.S. Feed Grain Council and arranged through their director for Italy, Dr. Romano Graziani.

"We were able to tell the Italian poultry producers that they can have poultry rations as good, or better, than those they are now feeding if they will use grain sorghum--and that it will produce birds with white fat," said Harp.

The Italian poultry market is definitely one that is worth promoting, according to Harp. "If they decided to use sorghum as the principle grain in their broiler and turkey rations, it could amount to sales up to 40 million bushels of sorghum per year or the equivalent of 5 percent of the annual U.S. grain sorghum production.

Gov. Proclaims Hospital Week

Governor William P. Clements has designated the week of May 9-15, 1982, as TEXAS HOSPITAL WEEK in recognition of the efforts of hospitals in effectively promoting the health and welfare of the citizens of Texas.

In his statements, Clements commended hospitals for delivering "the necessary and oftentimes critical care to hundreds of thousands of sick and injured Texans each year". He continued by saying, "It is fitting to salute the health care system in Texas for its contributions to the public welfare, for high standards of care, and for educational and research programs that each year raise those standards to higher levels."

Additionally, TEXAS HOSPITAL WEEK honors the dedicated health professionals responsible for the delivery of care as well as hospital governing boards, auxiliaries and volunteers who contribute thousands of hours in the service of their local citizenry.

"You've Got A Friend In The Hospital, 'Pardner'," the theme for TEXAS HOSPITAL WEEK reflects the role of hospitals and their staffs as friends in helping community residents stay healthy.

Today's complex hospital industry still has a simple, basic mission - to care, offer support and help, and be there when needed. As advocates of individual and community health, Texas hospitals are among the best friends people can have.

Throughout the year, hospitals also encourage Texans to be their own best friend by living healthier lifestyles and wisely using the health care delivery system in their locale.

The official memorandum was signed by the Governor during ceremonies held at the Capitol. Present were George M. Fleming, Ed.D., FACHA, Executive Director, San Jacinto Methodist Hospital, Baytown, and Chairman, Texas Hospital Association (THA), and O. Ray Hurst, CAE, THA President.

THA is the Austin-based trade association for hospitals in Texas, with over 750 institutional and 4,200 personal members.

To The Voters of Precinct 2

New Law Affects VA Health Care

According to C.H. Herren, Service Officer for Haskell County, a law recently passed by the Congress will provide a number of liberalized benefits for eligible veterans of the U.S. Armed Forces.

The new law is Public Law 97-72, entitled "Veterans Health Care, Training and Small Business Loan Act of 1981", and was signed by the President on November 3, 1981. The following provisions are included in the law:

(A) Veterans who served on active duty in Vietnam or who were exposed to ionizing radiation from detonation of a nuclear device, may receive medical care for disabilities resulting from Agent Orange, toxic substances or radiation. Medical care is provided through VA hospitals and clinics.

(B) Provides liberalized program of dental outpatient care to certain eligible veterans.

(C) Extends for three years readjustment counseling for Vietnam veterans through the special VA Counseling Centers.

(D) Provides a two-year extension for certain veterans to use their GI Bill educational benefits. This extension period applies to veterans whose ten-year delimiting date has passed and they have unused entitlement.

(E) Authorized the VA to operate a small business loan program for Vietnam and service-connected disabled veterans. Thus far, no funds have been appropriated for this program. It cannot begin until Congress appropriates the money for the VA to initiate the program. The effective date, if funds are provided, is May 3, 1982.

THANK YOU

I hardly know how to express my gratitude for the land slide victory you good people of Precinct 4 gave to me in the election May 1st. All I can say is "thank you so very much". I will try even harder to be a better Commissioner.

If I can be of help to you in any way feel free to call and if it's at all possible I will do so.

I am looking forward to doing some more projects in our county and towns in the next four years.

Proper Planning & Maintenance Aids In Planting

With the planting season rapidly approaching, now is the time for getting that planting machine ready for the task ahead.

"Modern planters are designed to place the seed into the ground accurately with speed and simplicity," said A.C. Richardson, the International Harvester agricultural equipment dealer in Haskell. "The operator needs a basic understanding of how his planter functions so he can then properly care for a few critical areas of the machine," the dealer said.

When preparing to plant any crop, A.C. said there are three key areas to consider: tires, seed openers, and seed selection mechanisms.

Plant population will vary depending upon tire size, tire pressure and soil conditions that affect tire rotation. Tire sizes and sprocket settings must be coordinated when calculating desired plant populations.

A simple solution to matching planter tires to the population chart requires a piece of rope about three feet long. With the planter loaded with seed a fertilizer and ready to go to the field, wrap the piece of rope laterally around a planter tire through the wheel rim opening so it makes a ground mark with each forward revolution.

If the chart guide is based on a tire size that travels 86 inches with each revolution, and the distance between the rope marks is 90 inches, for example, a field will be under populated with seed. To determine what the population is going to be, simply divide the desired 86 inches of travel, by the 90 inches of travel the tire is making and multiply this by the desired population—in this example - 26,000. The equation reads 86 times 26,000 divided by 90 equals 24,844 actual plants per acre.

The key factor is 86 over 90 or .955 percent of your desired population. This is approximately 5 percent less than desired or some 1,200 plants.

Refer to the plant population chart and find a sprocket setting that is close to 5 percent higher than the desired population (27,000 to 27,500). Use this new setting. You will know you are to plant at 5 percent less than this figure, or close to the 26,000 plants per acre you desire.

If you find that the population rate is still off, then there is a more complicated problem elsewhere in the system. But first, make the tire revolution measurement with the planter fully loaded as this will more than likely establish the correct setting. One such calibration of the planter drive wheels to the chart should suffice for the planting of the entire crop.

The seed openers, whether they are runners or the double disk type, should be checked carefully for wear, obstructions, and proper function. This is a very critical area which determines the proper placement of the seed in the row, and any stoppage or malfunction has a direct effect upon the desired plant population. So, be sure to make the repairs indicated.

The third critical area on all planters is the seed mechanism. It should be checked for worn and broken parts. All parts should function properly.

Plate-type: Worn or sticky cut-off pawls and knockout rollers should be replaced or corrected for free movement. Seed plates should be checked for wear or damage.

Plateless-type: Check for worn or broken parts such as fingers and springs. Proper operation of such parts is essential. Remove and clean all build-up of foreign materials from these mechanisms. Follow the recommendations of the operator's manual for the frequency of inspection.

Air-type: Check the seed tubes for foreign material or potential stoppages. These may be cleaned by simply pulling a piece of cloth through the tube in a manner similar to cleaning a gun barrel. Check for damage or poor fitting seals that would cause air pressure leakage. Inspect the seed cut-off brush assembly for wear and replace if necessary.

The increased productivity of big modern machines is what today's farmer demands so that he can make his own available hours more productive. "This short span of time available for planting probably yields the biggest dividend of any operation in the crop year. That's why it's so important to have that planter in top condition before it goes to the field," A.C. concluded.

Observe Blooms To Insure Pollination

Before long, blooms will be dropping from squash, cucumbers and tomatoes in many home gardens, says Max Stapleton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

On squash and cucumbers, male flowers which produce pollen are separate from female flowers which produce fruit. To complicate matters even more, male and female flowers may not be open on the plant at the same time. If this happens, flowers will fall off due to lack of pollination, explains Stapleton.

Usually male blooms will appear first on squash and cucumber plants. Male blooms are attached to the plant by a green stem while each female bloom has a small squash or cucumber attached directly behind the petals.

Female squash and cucumber blooms falling off early in a plant's life when male blooms are not present is normal. However, when female and male blooms are both present and female blooms continue to fall off, then there's a pollination problem, says Stapleton.

Pollination means the transfer of male parts to female parts. This task usually is accomplished by bees or insects visiting the flowers. Blooms of squash and cucumber plants are only open for one day. If pollination does not occur during this period when the bloom is open due to a lack of pollinating insects, then inadequate pollination occurs and fruit drop follows.

If pollination is a problem, you can hand-pollinate the blooms. This involves pulling off a male bloom and rubbing or dabbing it on the female bloom. The result will be that you'll have squash to eat within five to seven days, says Stapleton.

Tomato blooms drop off because of another type of pollination problem. The tomato bloom, unlike squash and cucumber, is classified as a perfect flower, which means that the same flower has both female and male parts. The problem is that female parts of the flower that must be pollinated are located above the male part which produces pollen. If pollen is inactivated by high temperature or made sticky by cool, wet, cloudy conditions, the female flower part will not be pollinated and the entire flower and the potential tomato will fall off.

Tomato flowers are wind, or mechanically pollinated, so you don't have to worry about having bees. Flowers can be artificially set or made to stay on plants by using blossom-set hormone which is sold by many local garden centers or nurseries. These tomato-setting products are most effective during early spring when cool temperatures and cloudy conditions cause poor fruit set, points out Stapleton.

So, if your blooming vegetables start dropping their flowers, try to figure out the reason why. A little time and attention paid to your plants during this critical period will result in more groceries on the dinner table.

1982 Census Of Agriculture Set For Late December

Plans for the 1982 Census of Agriculture are on schedule according to Bruce Chapman, Director of the Commerce Department's Census Bureau. The census, to be taken starting next January, will provide basic information measuring the trends in number of farms, commodity production, land use, and income levels in agriculture. Chapman indicated that the rapid changes occurring in agriculture due to the declining farm income situation, along with continuing high interest rates, makes the information from the agriculture census extremely important to the nation's policymakers as well as farmers themselves. Chapman points out that complete and accurate responses by farmers will ensure a high quality picture of the agriculture industry to everyone's benefit. Census forms will be mailed out in late December to 2.5 million farmers and ranchers to collect data for the 1982 calendar year. Designed to reduce the burden on respondents through greater ease in reporting, the census form will vary by region, and questions have been reworded to be more understandable. While the basic census program is included in the proposed 1983 budget, the agriculture censuses of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, and Guam, a large-scale sample survey supplemental to the basic census, and a series of later surveys were dropped. These deletions were among other changes in bureau programs resulting from budget reductions, according to Chapman. Farmers and ranchers will not be the only group involved in a census for 1982. The 1982 Economic Censuses, which cover manufacturing, transportation, mining, retail and wholesale trades, and the service industries, will also be taken. Taken together, these censuses will document rapidly changing patterns in production, income, capital spending, and other facts vital to measuring the nation's economy. The report form for the 1982 Census of Agriculture which already has been tested with several thousand farmers, has been updated from that used for the 1978 census. Several items have been dropped and several added to meet current data needs. For example, a question asking for expenditures for interest has been added. Bureau officials point out that regional versions of the form for 1982 will simplify the completion of the report. Much of the data gathered next year will be similar to that in 1978 and earlier censuses. It will include: the number and characteristics of farms, acres in farms, average value of land and buildings, harvested acreages, and numbers of livestock on farms. Questions on expenditures include purchase of feed, fertilizer, pesticides, lime, gasoline, and other farm fuels, customwork, farm labor, and livestock and poultry purchases. Information reported by farm and ranch operators is held confidential by law. Data from the reports are seen only by sworn Census Bureau employees who are subject to fine and imprisonment if revealing any individual information. Published reports contain numbers only to prevent identification of single farms. Chapman pointed out that the confidentiality provisions of the census law just recently were reaffirmed by a unanimous decision of the Supreme Court.

Bike-A-Thon Nets $374 For St. Jude Hospital

$374 was raised for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital April 24 as local bikers pedaled in the Rule Wheels for Life Bike-a-thon. "Even though we only had five riders and three others working to raise money, the ride was a great success," Bike-a-thon Chairpersons David Hestand and Donna DeVries-Hestand said in announcing the ride's results. "Everyone who participated did a wonderful job." Top money raiser was Dickey Frazier who raised $161. He was awarded a new watch for his efforts. John and Paul Leonard both raised $37 to win the second top money raising prize. Rusty White raised $25 in his efforts. Each of these kids earned a St. Jude's tee-shirt and Dickey Frazier earned a St. Jude's jacket.

"The $374 raised from the ride will help continue the research into childhood cancer and other catastrophic diseases," David and Donna said. "Children here and everywhere will be helped by this successful Bike-a-thon and the progress being made at St. Jude Hospital."

Twyla Pace Shares ACU Valedictory Honors

Mrs. Twyla Pace of Haskell will share valedictorian honors at the spring commencement ceremonies at Abilene Christian University, Sunday, May 2.

Mrs. Pace is completing her college work with a 4.0 grade point average and will graduate summa cum laude with a bachelor of science in education degree, majoring in elementary education.

She is a 1961 graduate of Haskell High School, and is the daughter of Mrs. Betty Jo Hipp of Abilene. At ACU she has been a member of Kappa Delta Phi, honorary English organization, and Alpha Chi National Honor Society. She also has attended Midwestern University and Western Texas College and has been listed on the Dean's Honor Roll at ACU for three semesters.

Mel Witcher of Lampasas and Sherri Lynn Abee of Owensboro, Ky., also earned a 4.0 average and will be honored as co-valedictorians.

Cops can increase fuel efficiency and save tax dollars

COLLEGE STATION — Cops can cut fuel consumption in their patrol cars and save taxpayers' money, says a long-time lawman trained in fuel efficient driving.

"Altering some old driving habits and improving others can increase a vehicle's gas mileage by as much as 20 percent," says Charles Kenner, an instructor for the Law Enforcement Training Division of the Texas Engineering Extension Service. Kenner has spent almost 30 years in the law enforcement profession.

TWYLA PACE

Aggie inventor inducted into Hall of Fame

COLLEGE STATION — The inventor of the integrated circuit and the hand-held calculator—a Texas A&M University electrical engineer—has been chosen for induction into the National Inventors Hall of Fame.

Jack S. Kilby of Dallas will join Thomas Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, the Wright Brothers and other legendary inventors already named to the distinguished group. Kilby is one of five inventors named this year to the honor coordinated by the U.S. Patent and Trademark office.

Kilby was elected for his invention of the integrated circuit which he created in 1958 when an engineer at Texas Instruments Inc. The integrated circuit was a revolutionary advance in solid-state electronics and led to new products such as the pocket calculator. He has been on leave of absence from TI since 1970.

The inventor joined the Texas A&M faculty in 1978 as a Distinguished Professor of Electrical Engineering. He divides his time between Texas A&M programs and his other research activities.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Medicare is a federal insurance program which provides institutional and outpatient care for persons 65 years of age and older. The program is divided into two parts. One part helps to pay for medically necessary in-hospital and post-hospital care. The second part pays reasonable charges for doctors' care and other medical services which are considered medically necessary.

Although Medicare pays a large part of the health care expenses, it does not pay them all. Low income citizens may be eligible for another federal insurance program called Medicaid, which covers any remaining medical costs. However, persons who are not fully covered by both programs may want to consider buying private insurance to supplement Medicare.

The federal government in conjunction with a private insurance association has published a pamphlet entitled "Guide to Health Insurance for People with Medicare." This booklet has been distributed throughout the United States. It instructs people who want information on private insurance to supplement Medicare to "check with your State Insurance Department or State Consumer Protection Agency."

Vaccinating shrimp increases production

COLLEGE STATION — In the first field experiment of its kind, a Texas A&M University veterinary microbiologist has successfully immunized saltwater shrimp against harmful bacteria.

The immunity lasted through harvest, and production was greater in the ponds containing immunized Pacific white shrimp, said Dr. Donald Lewis.

The experiment was part of the continuing research program at Texas A&M's shrimp mariculture center near Corpus Christi. The studies are funded by the Texas A&M Sea Grant College Program along with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

ment or State Consumer Protection Agency." The Texas Attorney General's office is charged with state enforcement of the Texas Deceptive Trade Practices and Consumer Protection Act. A number of citizens have contacted the Attorney General's office asking for advice on the purchase of a private insurance policy. The public should be informed that the Attorney General of Texas has no authority to give such help or guidance. In fact, state law in Texas specifically prohibits the Attorney General from giving legal advice or professional counseling to private citizens.

It is unfortunate that many citizens, in relying on this ill-advised circular, have been frustrated by our inability to provide the assistance the pamphlet has directed them to seek. We have asked the Department of Health and Human Services and the Social Security Administration to correct this unauthorized direction at their earliest convenience.

In the meantime, citizens who desire counseling on the purchase of private health insurance to supplement Medicare should contact their local, regional or national Social Security Administration office.

Doctors Offer Tips For Dealing With Stress

Everyone experiences stress. No one can avoid it totally. Even while asleep, the body must continue to function and react to the stress imposed by dreaming.

Canadian physician Hans Selye, author of several books on the topic, says the only complete freedom from stress is death.

What is important, then, is to learn to deal with stress, according to the Texas Medical Association.

Stress is the mental or physical tension resulting from the body's reaction to emotional, physical or chemical changes. These stress-producing changes can be pleasant or unpleasant because although the mind can distinguish between the two, the body often cannot. It may react similarly under either circumstance.

Men and women seem equally susceptible. But people who are competitive, impatient, fast-paced, successful and look at achievement and possessions for a sense of worth are more likely to develop stress-related illnesses that individuals who are easy-going and tolerant.

Headaches, upset stomachs, asthma, allergies and ulcers are commonly associated with stress. Studies now are being conducted to determine possible links between stress and heart disease, high blood pressure and cancer. Still, it is often difficult to establish a direct connection between stress and disease.

Doctors offer several tips to deal with stress:

--Learn to relax. This may involve napping, sitting quietly or reading a book at the end of the day.

--Exercise adequately. Running, walking and playing tennis are ways to ease mental stress. --Share your worries with someone you trust and respect. Another person sometimes can offer a new view of a stressful situation and help find a solution.

--Get enough sleep. Lack of sleep can lessen your ability to deal with stress by making you more irritable.

--Learn to accept what you cannot change. If a problem is beyond your control at this time, try to accept it until you can change it.

Utilities Companies Offer Safety & Economy Tips

BY WANDA DULANEY
Haskell, Manager
Chamber of Commerce

The local utility companies agree that by a concentrated effort on the part of each individual, the consumer's bill can be cut considerably simply by following a few measures to economize.

The Chamber of Commerce has asked that these companies review for this newspaper article some of the ways this can be done. They have also been asked to define their services, list their personnel and to give safety tips for accident prevention and first aid.

Once again, the Chamber of Commerce is extremely grateful to the Haskell Free Press for giving us the opportunity to publish these articles in the interest of the people of our community.

West Texas Utilities Company
407 N. 1st

8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m. weekdays
864-2366

Local manager of WTU is Sue Pate. The District Office is in Stamford and General Office at 321 Cypress, Abilene.

West Texas Utilities is a subsidiary of Central and Southwest Corporation, based in Dallas. Miss Pate has been with the company 37 years; Wayne Wainscott, serviceman, 31 years; Pat Sammons, bookkeeper-cashier, 17 years; Belia Abila, bookkeeper-cashier 4 years; Cliff Short, serviceman, 3 years, and Phillip Henshaw, serviceman, 2 years.

EMERGENCY NIGHT NUMBERS ARE LISTED IN THE TELEPHONE DIRECTORY.

West Texas Utilities owns 8 power plants located in or near Abilene, Bronte, San Angelo, McCamey, Quanah and Haskell. They are all interconnected. Haskell is served by a 69KV line from Paint Creek Power Plant, to their substation and north from Haskell. In the event the Paint Creek line should go down, we can also be served from the North.

The Paint Creek Power Plant is located on Lake Stamford. Its function is termed production, which involves the entire WTU system. J.A. Carroll is Plant Superintendent. He makes his home in one of the company-owned houses located near the plant.

AVERAGE ELECTRIC CONSUMPTION IN HASKELL during 1981 was 720 kw or $38.20 per month. The most electricity is usually used in July and August.

TO REPORT AN ACCIDENT OR PROBLEM INVOLVING WTU WIRES OR POLES call the local office during business hours or one of the night numbers if after hours.

IF YOUR POWER GOES OFF (1) Check with your neighbors. Call them or go outside to see how widespread the outage is. (2) If your house is the only one affected, check your breaker box. (3) If the trouble is not on your side of the meter, call and give the following information: your name and address, time of outage, and the area affected.

SAFETY TIPS FOR ELECTRIC USAGES: (1) Always follow the manufacturer's directions in using electric appliances (2) Avoid overloaded circuits— not only is it dangerous, causing wires to overheat, but it makes appliances less efficient and can damage them (3) Never come in contact with electrical wiring, switches or equipment while standing on wet surface or wearing wet clothing. (4) If extension cords are in use, check the insulation on them frequently and be sure they are heavy enough for the load. (5) Use only weatherproof cords designed for outdoor use when operating electrical yard tools such as hedge trimmers, mowers, etc. (6) Treat electricity with respect and never get careless or take chances. (7) WTU is particularly concerned for the safety of children flying kites or model airplanes near overhead wires. A wet or metallic string in contact with a wire can be fatal.

ELECTRIC SHOCK. When a person comes in contact with an electrical source his body becomes a part of the circuit. He may not be able to let go. Avoid contact with the victim. If there is a switch or breaker controlling the source, turn it off. If not, you may free the person with a dry piece of wood. Check his respiration and pulse and if either has stopped, administer first aid immediately. Mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is recommended. If heart stoppage occurs, it should be used in combination with external cardiac compression. Burns may be visible where the current entered and left the body. Apply a dry sterile dressing if possible, but nothing else. Get medical help immediately.

HOW TO SAVE ENERGY. West Texas Utilities Co. encourages all its customers to practice economy, and the key to economy is conservation. Keep caulking and weatherstripping in good repair. Close dampers when fireplaces are not in use. Check thermostat settings on heating and cooling equipment, and clean filters at least once a month. Open drapes and take advantage of sunshine on clear winter days to boost your heating, but close them in the hot summertime. These are things that can be done without any investment, but there are measures that can be made to make most homes more energy efficient, with the cost recovered in savings on fuel costs. WTU has a Residential Conservation Program and is now prepared to make an energy audit of the customer's home at his request. More information about this program is available at the local WTU office.

Steve Roper is local manager and has been with Lone Star Gas Co. for 7 years. Joan Dulaney has been office clerk for 28 years and Chester Hodgins, serviceman, for 32 years.

The parent company is at 301 S. Hartwood, Dallas.

WHAT IS THE GAS SOURCE FOR HASKELL? From well head to transmission lines to distribution lines to household.

WHEN GAS IS SMELLED call the company and there will be no charge for making a leak test. There is a service charge for lighting pilots.

WHO SHOULD BE CALLED IN CASE IN EMERGENCY ON WEEKENDS, EVENINGS OR HOLIDAYS? Steve Roper 864-2296 or Chester Hodgins 864-3319.

You can smell natural gas because Lone Star has added a harmless chemical to it as a safety fixture. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, check gas equipment first. It may be something that is easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out or a burner valve that is partially open. If the odor of gas gets stronger and seems to be everywhere (1) Do not switch anything electrical on or off (2) Do not use telephone in your own home (3) Do not strike a match (4) Do not do anything that might cause a spark. (5) Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate. (6) Go to a nearby house a call Lone Star Gas Co. Wait until they find the source of the odor to determine if it's safe for you to return to the house.

HOW HIGH SHOULD RANGE BE TURNED? Qualified service persons should make all adjustments on gas-burning equipment. It should be a clean blue flame—not a floating orange flame.

ANY CAUTION ABOUT OPEN FLAMES, OPEN HEATERS? Keep them away from curtains or any other flammable materials. Allow plenty of fresh air to circulate in the room. All gas burning equipment should be vented to the outside air. Always turn open space heaters off when sleeping or away from the house.

WHAT KIND OF PIPING SHOULD BE USED? The only piping approved by the Company for use in the house is black steel under the floor and in the attic. Above the floor appliance connectors should be copper or black steel.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE FOR SOMEONE WHO IS OBVIOUSLY OVERCOME BY GAS FUMES? This is a form of carbon monoxide poisoning. Remove the victim to a source of fresh air, give artificial respiration if the victim is unconscious. Call for medical assistance and advise them to bring oxygen to the scene.

The Gas Co. suggests to those buying new water heaters to remember that high efficiency ones use less energy. Water heaters are the second largest users of energy in the home. For instance, it takes about 15 gallons of hot water for a bath or a 5 minute shower; 10 gallons for a dishwasher load; and from 25 to 40 gallons for a load in an automatic clothes washer. Your Gas Company says to pay attention to the area around your gas water heater. Don't block holes in the door or floor of the heater closet. For safety's sake and efficient operation, check heater vents to be sure they aren't clogged. Never store combustible items—mops, rags, papers near the water heaters.

For the best laundry results, both washer and dryer should be used correctly. Use the automatic cycles that are appropriate for each laundry load. For best drying results, keep the lint filter on your dryer clean.

The average gas consumption in Haskell is 8 MCF annually, with the most used in January and February.

HOW CAN PEOPLE CONSERVE IN THE AMOUNT OF GAS THEY USE? (1) Cut the thermostat back at night. (2) Use less hot water when washing. (3) Turn water heater thermostat down to 120' (normal setting on most of them) (4) Cook on a gas grill during the summer to cut down on cooling cost. (5) Insulate walls and attic. A crawl space under the floor. Storm windows and doors.

Desmond Dulaney, City Secretary and Chief Administrator for nine years, describes the present city employees as very efficient, dedicated and dependable. "I personally value each one of them highly and think the City is very fortunate to have such reliable workers."

He was referring to Olen Bartley, Director of Public Works, with 17 years of service; Randy Shaw, Water Superintendent 6 years; Harley Poteet, Sewer Superintendent 9 years; Dudley Phelps, Truck Foreman, Sanitation, who has been a City employee 24 years; Wayne Walters with the City since March 1982; Robert Ortiz, also hired in March, with the Street Department; David Gonzales 8 months and Thomas Rodrigues, 2 years, who works in the Water Department; Roy Norville, 2 years, Robert Crane 1 year, and Rickey Phelps 1 year, with the Sanitation Department, and Walter Hargrove, gatekeeper at the land fill since March 1982.

He further praised office workers Mary Watson, with 16 years; Ruth Jimenez, 5 years, and Lila Brock, 1 year; plus Fire Department Supervisor Floyd (Satch) Lusk since 1949; Night watchman Fred Draper 5 years; and the Police Department Chief Tom Paul Barnett 2 years plus a former term of service, assistant Chief Braley 2 years and Officer David Hart 8 months.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY REGARDING WATER, SEWER, ETC. ON EVENINGS, HOLIDAYS AND WEEKENDS, People may call Olen Bartley 864-2895 or Randy Shaw 864-2023.

The average water consumption per month in Haskell is fifteen million gallons. The most water is used during July, August, and September.

DOES THE CITY FURNISH WATER FREE OF CHARGE TO MEMBERS OF THE HASKELL VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT? Only 3,000 gallons per month. (Editorial comment: Some people are critical of this. But isn't it a small reward for someone who risks his life for us every time he answers a call to a fire in our community?)

The source for treated water for Haskell is from the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority.

Existing creek problems create drainage problems, but hopes for future improvements are present.

WHAT NECESSITATES CUTTING OFF THE WATER FROM TIME TO TIME? Mainly joints in cast iron pipe leaks.

ANY PUBLIC WARNING GIVEN RESIDENTS BEFORE WATER IS SHUT OFF? KVRP fm very generously runs public service announcements. The Haskell National Bank also alerts people via its marquee. Telephone calls are made routinely to Rest Homes, Hospital, Clinics, Dentist offices, all cafes and drive-in restaurants, beauty shops, etc.

ARE BOTH WATER TOWERS STILL IN USE? Yes. 250,000 capacity at the new one; 150,000 at the downtown tower, plus 500,000 stored at the airport. The more storage, the less insurance. The new structure provides added storage and added pressure to the north end of town.

WHERE DOES THE CITY SEWAGE GO? To the Sewer Plant Southeast of town where it is processed and discharged into a spring branch.

WHERE DOES THE CITY GARBAGE GO? To the Landfill East to town. Last fiscal year, over $100,000 was spent to dig pits in which refuse is buried.

WHAT IS THE SCHEDULING FOR HOME GARBAGE PICKUP? One time per week.

HOW OFTEN IS GARBAGE COLLECTED FROM PLACES OF BUSINESS? At least 3 times a week. Some establishments have such large quantities daily that they require more frequent collections.

Experienced Citizens Center Holds Awards Banquet

BY MARSHA WHITTEMORE

The Experienced Citizens Center has special people. These people are called Volunteers.

In Matthew 25:37-40, the righteous asked Jesus... "37 Then shall the righteous answer him saying, Lord, when saw we thee or hungry, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?"

38 Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came into thee?"

40 And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto mee." (KJV)

A volunteer is a special gifted person. They are primarily responsible, dedicated individuals. They donate precious time, talent and energy. Volunteer work is diverse as their own personalities. There is an intangible reward which results from good works.

These volunteer are courteous, understanding, tactful and patient. This mixed with the ingredients of loving, caring, sharing and living. Our pioneer forefather's folks who raised barns knew community involvement. Society is proving through volunteer service, individual count, that human beings care for each other.

Volunteers are such an important part of the center that a new program had begun especially for them. In recognition of the outstanding volunteer, they will receive an award and become volunteer of the month. They will be awarded for hours served through faithfulness and eagerness to serve.

There are many areas in which they may serve. Volunteers for the telephone reassurance, to deliver meals to the sick or shut-ins, to help wrap silver (for the ones that can not stand to help serve), to clean and set the tables, to serve during the meal, take trays to the ones who cannot stand in the lines. To help clean dining area.

Volunteers to teach classes in Oil Painting, Crafts, Sewing. A retired teacher or present teacher to volunteer to teach a class of History, Government, Language, and an English teacher on how to write a book or a poem. These are special hour classes.

A series of programs have been started at the center under the heading of 'Classics of America'. April 1st a program called the 'Chart of Life' was given. A person is born and as he grows he has different labels to identify himself. But when these identifications are separated from our birthrights as a American Citizens, when our choices are separated from our God given birthrights to live in dignity, then we know age has nothing to do with our living. It's what we want out of our lives.

The Senior Citizens have sometimes set back and allowed others to come in and do things for them. Some have to some do because this has been the trend of American life style in the past.

When a senior citizen stops and retires, so does his muscles, his mind. A person must keep active and mentally alert.

The senior citizens earns the title of Senior. You graduate from high school a senior. From college a senior. Then there comes a time in life you become a senior. Top in your class, a Senior in Life.

You're a special people today. Never again will it be said that a people will hold a span in their life time from the Covered Wagon to the Moon. Dreams are dreams, but now can come true the desire to paint, to knit, go back to school, to build, to write a book.

Perhaps just to serve others as Mrs. Estelle Burson of Haskell.

Estelle is the Volunteer Co-ordinator of the ECC. Her job is a large one. She calls on volunteers to help serve daily for the month. Keeps up with their hours and days on the reports that are turned in each month.

Since February 1981, Estelle has been volunteering at the center. She has put in 426 1/2 hours, not counting time spent at home calling those to serve the next serving days. 426.5 times 3.35 dollars, using the federal minimum wage figures she has donated not only her energy but contributed $1428.78 of her precious time.

This is money the center can not afford to pay those who help. In turn this is not only the volunteers contributions but their way of gaining satisfaction of serving those as Jesus taught.

"I'm a native Tennessean. I will have been a Texan forty-five years this May," said Mrs. Burson.

I met Raymond Burson forty-five years ago when he brought his mother to Tennessee to visit his aunt that lived down the road from us. We married May 16, 1937.

We moved to Haskell County where he had lived all his life. And lived here every since except four and half years we lived in California.

In January 1943 we farmed in Rule then moved to my present home in 1945. We farmed and worked taking care of our children. We never had time to join anything.

We had four children. Wanda Feemster of Abilene, Sherry Upshaw of Sweetwater, Tim and Tony Burson, our twin sons of Haskell. I have twelve grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Raymond died in October 1978 and my life stood still for a long time.

Then I began to go out to the center. I started to renew old friends that I hadn't seen in a long time and met new ones. In February 1981 I began volunteering at the center so I could help others that couldn't help themselves. I set up new values in my life, making me a whole person once more," smiled

Estelle, "and I like people very much." April 18-24 was designated for National Volunteer week. Based on Gallup Poll data, Texans give more than 130 million hours of service per year valued at almost half a billion dollars, using federal minimum wage figures.

There were more than 115,000 persons who volunteered some 5.5 million hours of services during 1981 in support of state agency's program.

Also in the month a talk was given by Don Comedy, Editor of the Free Press on becoming involved with their community. They become involved. Due to the age limited those at the center could not give to the Bloodmobile but many made five calls each asking others to give for a very worthy cause.

Wednesday, April 28 a group of young people of the Sweethome Baptist Church's "Puppet Ministry" presented their show on "Patriotism". This was a hit at the center. Thursday, April 29 a Flower show and sale arranged by Mrs. Emma Reed, was held. Flowers were contributed for the sale and all proceeds will go into the building fund.

The highlight of the month was the Volunteer Appreciation Banquet, Friday, April 30, at 7:00 p.m.

The program began by the introduction of the special guests: County Judge and Mrs. John Wayne McDermott, Commissioners; Mr. and Mrs. C.E. 'Chunky' Tidwell, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry, Mr. and Mrs. C.A. 'Bud' Turnbow, Mrs. Thelma Edwards. The Rev. and Mrs. Randy Hatfield. Rev. Hatfield, Pastor of Sweethome Baptist Church of Rule, was the guest speaker.

Salads of all kinds was furnished by members and was served buffet style in the beautiful decorated dining room using colors of the Spring May Pole as the theme.

Music was furnished by the Minister's "Brotherhood" while everyone finished eating.

Certificates of Appreciation for Volunteer Service to Older Texans and Certification of Recognitions to an Outstanding Older Texan signed by William P. Clements, Jr. Governor of Texas and Chris Kyker, Executive Director of Texas were issued to those having the most hours and the those outstanding at the center and their community.

These certificates were presented by Judge John Wayne McDermott, Certificates of Appreciation for Volunteer Services were presented to Lela Mae Atchison, Nita Burson, Lena Dendy, Mae Herren, Ethel Tidwell, Nerva Oates, Susie Mae Sellers, Elaine Blohm, Marie Bartley, Jess Leonard, Sherry Adams, pianist, H.L. 'Cooter' Boles, song leader.

Certification of Recognition to an Outstanding Older Texan was presented to Viola Tidwell, Estelle Burson, the late Norman Bevel, accepted by his wife, and Slover Bledsoe.

Knee Deep In Cascot

Planting certified cottonseed from Custom Ag Service is the first step in putting you "Knee Deep in Cotton". Cascot varieties are consistently high yielders on dry or irrigated land. Add to that high disease resistance, early maturity, storm resistant bolls, and premium micronaire and you've got just a few of the reasons you should be planting Cascot varieties like: Cascot B-2, BR-1, L-7 and new C-13.

If you're not planning on using Cascot, try 50 or 100 acres and compare its yield with the seed you're using now. We're betting that next season you'll be "Knee Deep in Cascot".

The Cottons of Tomorrow... Today.

The award presentation was followed with thirty minutes of music from the 'Brotherhood' featuring Mike McKinney, Pastor of First Baptist Church.

Darrell Feemster, Pastor of East Side Baptist Church, Mike Struve, Pastor of First United Methodist Church, Bo and Mo McKenny of Odessa and Dallas.

Connie Miles, Bro. Mike's sister, sang "Amazing Grace" in a beautiful solo without music.

The speaker Randy Hatfield, Pastor of Sweethome Baptist Church, spoke on involvement for the Senior Citizens. How valuable their supply of information, experiences, and their love is to others.

How needed they were in their community. He told of the Bible speaking of 'out days being number.' How many people, when they become a certain age, stopped and wait for life to end.

"If this be true," said Randy, "then your days would have ended the day you chose to stop. You are valuable, you are need, you are loved. Become involved with life.
