Special congratulations to Emily Cox and Shannon Lane for their fine performances at the State Track Meet in Austin last Saturday.

Both girls finished in sixth place, Emily in the 100 meter hurdles and Shannon in the 1600 meter run.

To finish in the top six in the state is commendable and Haskell should be proud to have students like Emily and Shannon and a host of other young people who work hard to represent us across the state.

Not just the state winners, but the students in band, the athletes, cheerleaders, twirlers, UIL participants and FFA groups.

The troublemakers get the attention, they are remembered, and all to often, they are the example adults use in discussing our youth.

We are fortunate in Haskell to have so many fine young people and so few troublemakers. Again, not just the winners, but the students who go to class, study hard and obey the rules.

The students who spend many hours practicing for various forms of competition are to be commended. They are the examples we should be using. Not their successes, but their dedication to principle, their respect for authority and their willingness to represent our school and our community.

Yes, we have some troublemakers, but as the 1981-82 school year draws to a close, let's forget the troublemakers for a few days and express our thanks to the 99.9% of our young people who truly deserve more than we can give.

Chamber To Coordinate Centennial

Mayor Franciene Johnson has asked the Chamber of Commerce to coordinate centennial events for the remainder of 1982, as Haskell continues its 100th anniversary celebration.

Mrs. Lois Richardson and Hank Sherman are the Chamber's co-chairmen for centennial programs and projects, with the Chamber planning a Men's Style Show and Barn Dinner Theater Presentation later in the year along with other events.

Service clubs, churches, school groups, community organizations are encouraged to plan at least one activity that will carry the centennial theme.

It will be advantageous if all groups making such plans call the Chamber of Commerce office before finalizing a time schedule to be sure they will not be competing with another activity.

The Chamber number is 864-2884.

Special Meeting Set To Reorganize Haskell Boy Scouts

A special meeting to reorganize Boy Scouts in Haskell will be held Monday, May 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church Scout Hut according to Ed Hester, Scout Master.

Further information is available by contacting Hester.

Elsewhere in the Haskell Free Press is printed a schedule of games. Minor League games will begin at 5:00 while Major League games should begin around 6:45.

School Board Discusses Cheerleader-Twirler Policy

New policies concerning cheerleaders and twirlers was discussed at length during the regular meeting of the Haskell School Board Tuesday night.

A group of parents, a student, cheerleader sponsor and band director met with the board to discuss the issue.

All agreed that stricter controls on the expenses were needed and that changes in the selection process should be considered. Other items discussed included the school purchasing part of the uniforms or assisting in the expenses and changing qualifications for serving as cheerleader or twirler.

Following over an hour of discussion, board members requested that cheerleader sponsor Betsy Bellah and band director David Mooney submit written recommendations to the board at a special meeting May 20 for consideration. Board members also asked that present cheerleaders and twirlers be given an opportunity to provide input into the recommendation.

In other action, board members agreed not to grant additional exemptions on residential property.

The exemptions of $5,000.00 for homesteads and $10,000.00 for persons over 65 were maintained.

Superintendent James Lanier gave a report on the vocational program and also reported that a 1973 bus had been sold at auction in Abilene for $1,850.00.

Athletic director Blue Holt presented the athletic department budget as part of the continuing budget study of the board.

Board members also agreed to approve a Title I Coop Agreement and agreed to hire David Mooney as Band Director and Melody Christian as fifth grade teacher.

Commissioners Hear Tax Valuation Report For 1982

Members of the Haskell County Commissioners Court approved a bond for Kyle Wilfong, Chief Appraiser of the Haskell County Appraisal District, and heard a report from Wilfong concerning local tax values.

Wilfong told Commissioners that early estimates show that the 1982 values to oil, gas and utilities will increase from about $78 million in 1981 to $113 million. He also said that preliminary estimates of personnel and real property values show an increase from about $100 million in 1981 to about $400 million in 1982.

Wilfong added that using these estimates, the Commissioners could lower the tax rate from 32¢ per one hundred dollars value to less than 10¢ and collect the same amount of taxes.

In other action, Commissioners agreed to pay $2,000 to the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department to go toward the purchase of a new rural fire truck. Commissioners also agreed to pay $2,500.00 per year for the next three years to the Fire Department to be used for maintenance and upkeep on Fire Department equipment.

Marsha Whittemore, Director of the Haskell County Experienced Citizens Center, met with the Court to answer questions concerning the operation of the Center.

She stated that Commissioners Perry and Turnbow had questioned the legality of several items. She explained the items and also asked for assistance from the Court in seeing that bills of the Center were paid promptly. Commissioners asked that she work closely with County Auditor Alene Collins and that the two cooperate fully in working out the problem.

73rd Methodist Conference Set In Amarillo June 3-5

The 73rd session of the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church will convene at Polk Street United Methodist Church in Amarillo Thursday, June 3, and continue through Saturday, June 5.

Several major items of business are on the agenda of the three-day meeting, including a recommendation for the re-structuring of the Conference Office.

The recommendation, which comes from a Study Committee formed during the last Annual Conference meeting, calls for the administrative and programming responsibilities of the Conference Office to be brought together under the staffs of two Conference councils.

Under the recommendation, which would abolish the Conference's Administrative Council and Council on Professional Ministries, the programming responsibilities of the Conference Office would be assigned to the staff of the Conference Council on Ministries. The administrative and financial responsibilities would be assigned to the staff of the Council on Finance and Administration.

Another proposal to be discussed at the meeting calls for the formation of a long-range study committee to make plans for improvements and renovation at the Conference's two campgrounds at Ceta Canyon and Camp Butman.

Bishop Louis W. Schowengerdt will preside over the three-day meeting. Dr. Ira Williams is the host district superintendent. Dr. Clifford Trotter is the host pastor. And, Dr. D.L. Dykes of Louisiana is the conference preacher.

Other business at the June meeting will include the ordination of deacons and elders, and the announcement of pastoral appointments for 1982-83.

Preschoolers Should Have Eye Exam

Youngsters off to school for the first time should have their eyes examined before entering, suggests Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist. Summertime is a good time to take care of this, she says.

Shirer is on the home economics staff, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Unfortunately, the specialist points out, far too many parents wait to see if the school uncovers any sight problems before taking children to have an eye exam.

"Many kids can have poor vision in both eyes but that's all they know, and they think that's the way everybody sees," she says.

Prime candidates for eye exams are children between ages four to six, Shirer notes.

Warning signs of vision problems parents can watch for are constant squinting, especially to see things in the distance, and holding everything very close to the eyes, the specialist says.

Cattlemen's Round-Up Receives Boost

The 1982 Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children fund drive got off to a good start in Bront when a full-blooded Chianina heifer sold at the annual Chadbourne Ranch Sale for $7,750.

Some 63 lots of Chianina bulls and females from the ranch breeding herd sold for a total of $204,700 to average $3,249 per lot April 30 during the third Chianina Production Sale. Eighteen full-blooded females averaged $6,008 and totaled $108,150. Nine full-blooded bulls averaged $3,361 and totaled $30,250.

Eight percentage bulls sold for a total of $13,200 to average $1,650. Twenty-four percentage females averaged $1,138 and totaled $27,300.

Rehab II was born February 23, 1982. The $7,750 donation to CRCC will be converted into services for the handicapped at West Texas Rehabilitation Centers in Abilene, San Angelo and Snyder. WTRC, with an annual budget of $3 million, operates on donations. CRCC is one of the largest fund-raising arms of the center.

"We are extremely pleased that Conda Richards, owner of the Chadbourne Ranch, has kicked off the 1982 CRCC," commented Shelley V. Smith, WTRC executive director. "It was Conda's grandfather, the late Conda Wylie, who started CRCC some 22 years ago."

Although a good part of the annual operating budget for WTRC comes from the petroleum industry and other benefits, much of the overall pledges come from the agriculture community like CRCC activities. Due to the current severe agricultural conditions that have precipitated, the West Texas region is experiencing an economic slowdown.

Smith pointed out that regardless of the economic situation, WTRC should be showing no deficits in caring for the handicapped. "WTRC is located smack in the middle of the region described in the national press as 'the most prosperous in the nation,'" he added. "We need financial help, always."

After Smith made that comment in a candid way to a WTRC supporter at the sale, an armadillo sold at the end of the sale for $1,500 to benefit WTRC. Now the thought occurs we need to have an armadillo roundup to benefit WTRC!

Quality Circles Encouraged For Increased Productivity

For years, the Japanese have been known for the quality of their output and for their productivity. The principal reason for this is that they have had an employee-participation activity called Quality Circles going strong for them for twenty (20) years.

A Quality Circle is a group of people from the same work area that meets voluntarily on a regular basis to identify, analyze, and solve problems in that area. The members get special training during their meetings, which are usually one hour, once a week on company time; and over 90% of their suggested improvements are accepted and put into effect by management.

The activity provides a savings-to-cost ratio averaging six-to-one; and it can be implemented in any type or size of organization for a very small up-front cash outlay. It's beginning to spread rapidly in the United States.

The traditional Quality Circle principles work well; but most deviations and alterations of the original activity either produce only mediocre results or fail altogether. There is a right way to conduct it and a wide variety of wrong ones. In every known case of Circle failure, according to Don Dewar, President of Quality Circle Institute of Red Bluff, California, and co-founder and past President of the International Association of Quality Circles, it has been found that the traditional principles of the concept were not adhered to.

Many of this country's business and government organizations of all sizes now have Quality Circles in operation and the demand for this new-to-us approach to management is increasing rapidly. Some companies keep their Circles under wraps because they feel that this gives them a competitive will enable them to survive a deep depression. Unions, once they understand the principle of Quality Circles, urge their members to participate.

News clipping services are noticing a dramatic increase in the number of articles on Quality Circles in the media. "The time will come when organizations without Quality Circles will not be able to successfully compete with those that have them," says Don Dewar of Quality Circle Institute; and the validity of this statement seems to be becoming increasingly evident.

To receive a free information packet which includes a comprehensive booklet on Quality Circles and/or information on the various formats of Quality Circle training, contact: Quality Circle Institute, 1425 Vista Way, Airport Industrial Park, P.O. Chamber Urged Home Hazard Hunt

BY WANDA DULANEY
Manager, Haskell Chamber of Commerce
 Spring is clean-up time in America. It is also a good time to remove the hazards in one's home that can cause accidents.

In the interest of home safety, your Chamber of Commerce recommends that EACH FAMILY HAVE A HAZARD HUNT.
 Here's what you do: (1) Appoint a Safety Director. This can be Dad or Mom or one of the kids. (2) Conduct a room-to-room survey of potential hazards and list them on the check sheet. (3) Have a family discussion to see what can and will be done to eliminate them. (4) Assign family members to the tasks with a set time-period to get them fixed. (5) Have another family meeting to discuss your progress and your plans to rid your home of all hazards.

People who are aware of danger are less likely to have accidents. The same applies to places of business. Safety is everyone's concern and not just that of management. Here are some basic precautions:

1. Keep floors free of objects and spills that can cause falls.
2. Sweep up broken glass immediately.
3. Be sure that high storage

- is secure on the shelves and can't fall off on employees or customers.
4. Keep sidewalks free of debris, water, spilled items, glass.
5. Do not stand on folding chairs or ladders that aren't braced.
6. Do not carry too heavy a load—make two trips instead.
7. Lift with your legs, not your back.

May 16-23 To Recognize Soil Stewardship Week

Soil Stewardship Week annually focuses on the care and conservation of our soil, water and related resources. This year's observance is set for May 16-23, with the theme: "A Time for Tenacity." "Tenacity (firmness or persistence) is needed in using our natural resources wisely and in conserving them for future generations," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"We need to give particular attention to creative conservation and management practices to protect our precious land and water resources," emphasizes Harris. "Everyone has a personal responsibility to care for the soil, water and other vital elements making up our environment."

America's farmers who till the soil are particularly concerned about the loss of valuable cropland to urbanization and other uses, notes the specialist. In addition, soil productivity continues to decline due to destructive erosion. "We must protect our soil resources because we depend on them for the food we eat as well as for the food we ship abroad," notes Harris. "Our farmers work hard to protect this nation's soil and water resources, and each one produces enough to feed 70 other people."

"We should applaud the work of our farmers and ranchers in using our natural resources wisely," adds Harris. "At the same time we need to pledge our support and efforts to become actively involved in caring for these precious resources that have set this country apart from the rest of the world."

The Extension Service annually supports Soil Stewardship Week in cooperation with the Soil and Water Conservation Districts, which give primary leadership to the activity.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the well-being of our people depends upon the production of ample supplies of food, fiber and other products of the soil; and
WHEREAS, the quality and quantity of these products depend upon the conservation, wise and proper management of the soil and water resources; and
WHEREAS, our people have a mutual interest in the land and share the responsibility of preserving its productivity; and
WHEREAS, conservation districts provide a practical and democratic organization through which landowners are taking the initiative to conserve and make proper use of these resources; and
WHEREAS, the conservation districts are carrying forward a program of soil and water conservation in cooperation with numerous agencies and countless individuals;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, in full appreciation of the value of the soil to the public welfare, and desiring to honor those who protect it, do hereby proclaim May 16-23, 1982 Soil Stewardship Week in the County of Haskell.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the County Judge to be affixed.

Conservation Viewpoints
USDA Soil Conservation Service

The Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District will join in the nationwide celebration of Soil Stewardship Week to take place on May 16-23, 1982, according to an announcement by R.V. Earles. The theme of this year's celebration is "A Time for Tenacity."

"This is 'A Time for Tenacity' in our faith, in concept, in communication, in cooperation, in the political arena, in experiments and research, in leadership, in priorities, and in total commitment," cites the National Association of Conservation Districts (NACD) in the 16-page Soil Stewardship Week booklet. Forward for the publication was written by President Ronald Reagan. NACD has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week since 1955, in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. Informative material on the Soil Stewardship Week theme each year is distributed through local conservation districts to clergymen, lay leaders, churches, civic and educational organizations and to individuals participating in the observance.

"With the growth of population and the world demand for food and with the clearing and development of most land that is suitable for cultivation, we must turn our attention to the task of saving every acre," according to NACD. "The dream of adequate supplies of food and shelter must cover a period that extends far into the future because this is the only world we have and the total heritage of our descendants."

Information and materials for the 1982 observance of Soil Stewardship Week are available in this area from the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District.

Armyworm Moths Showing Increase

Increased numbers of armyworm moths are being found in the light trap at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center at Lockett. Light infestations have been reported in wheat in the Blacklands. Therefore, producers should begin to inspect for armyworms in Haskell County and continue to inspect the wheat periodically for the next three weeks.

Armyworms are most likely to be found in areas where wheat is rank and lush. Because armyworms hide around the base of plants during the day, look for damaged leaves or entire leaves eaten away.

Heavier damage from armyworms is usually found when cool, wet conditions prevail. Recent rainfall will increase the possibility of damaging armyworm infestations but because of the dry conditions prior to the rain damaging widespread infestations are not expected.

Control measures for armyworms are suggested when there are 4 to 5 larvae per square foot and army worms are causing foliage loss. As wheat matures to the hard dough stage more foliage loss can be tolerated but excessive damage to the stem or head can reduce grain yields.

The insecticides that are suggested for armyworm control in wheat are carbaryl, methomyl, methyl parathion, parathion, toxaphene and trichlorfon. Additional information on armyworms and control measures is presented in B-1251 "Insects and Mite Pests of Small Grains - Management Approaches." This publication is available at the Haskell County Extension Office.

Texas Traffic Deaths Show 1981 Increase

Texas traffic deaths increased by six per cent last year compared to 1980, according to statistics compiled by the Department of Public Safety. The mileage death rate, however, decreased by two per cent. The rate was 4.2 deaths per hundred million miles traveled in 1981 as compared to 4.3 in 1980.

"A total of 4,701 fatalities were recorded on our state streets and highways for 1981," said Colonel Jim Adams, DPS director. "This was the fifth consecutive record year for motor vehicle deaths in Texas."

DPS reports 2,071 city traffic deaths in 1981 which is 44.1 per cent of the total fatalities, while rural highway accidents claimed 2,630 lives or 55.9 per cent of the deaths.

Adams noted that DWI-related deaths last year totaled 1,082, an increase of eight per cent above 1980.

"Fatalities attributed to drunk driving made up 23 per cent of the total killed, according to investigating officers. However, we believe this figure would be as high as 50 per cent if Texas law required blood alcohol measurements from all drivers involved in fatal accidents," he said.

Motorcycle deaths reached 442 in 1981, rising 17 per cent compared to the previous year. Seventy-five per cent of the cyclists killed were not wearing helmets.

"Total accidents reported by state and local officers last year numbered 458,017, six percent high than 1980," Adams pointed out. "Our statistics also show that 206,196 persons were injured in Texas traffic mishaps in 1981. That amounts to an 11 per cent increase over the previous year."

Statistics show motorists traveled 111,036 billion miles last year compared to 1980's 103,255 billion miles. This represents an increase of 7.5 per cent.

The DPS director urged drivers to observe speed limits, use seat belts and refrain from drinking if they plan to drive.

Knee Deep In Cascot

Planting certified cottonseed from Custom Ag Service is the first step in putting you "Knee Deep in Cotton". Cascot varieties are consistently high yielders on dry or irrigated land. Add to that high disease resistance, early maturity, storm resistant bolls, and premium micronaire and you've got just a few of the reasons you should be planting Cascot varieties like: Cascot B-2, BR-1, L-7 and new C-13.

If you're not planning on using Cascot, try 50 or 100 acres and compare its yield with the seed you're using now. We're betting that next season you'll be "Knee Deep in Cascot".

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

This week I will return to writing about some of our students who have excelled this spring. I realize this column will appear after the actual fact. However, I felt obliged to write on the subject of my last weeks' column; therefore, I lost the normal time sequence.

We qualified one student to state in literary events. Sharla Drinnon qualified in shorthand where she placed fourth. This was Sharla's second trip down. She qualified as a Sophomore in typing. Her sponsor coach was Susan Pope.

The girls track team qualified two girls to state, Emily Cox in the 100 meter hurdles and Shannon Lane in the 1600 meter run. Emily is a Senior. This is also her second trip. She qualified as a Sophomore. Shannon Lane is a Junior. Coach Bobby Busby is their coach.

Mark Bailey qualified for regional as district medalist in golf. He finished fourth in regional. This was Mark's second trip to regional. Mark is a Junior and plays well. His coach is Jimmy Raughton.

The last group to feature is the regional qualifiers in boys track. Randy Campbell, "my bodyguard", won first in district in the shot put. Randy is a Senior. Jamie Davis qualified in the 300 meter hurdles. Jamie is a Junior. Andy Rodriguez qualified in two events, the 800 meter dash and 1600 meter run. Andy is a Junior. Freshman Todd Harris qualified in the pole vault. It is really unusual for a Freshman to qualify. The coach of the boys track team is Jimmy Lisle.

These students and others featured before in this column have represented our school and our community well. We are and should be very proud of these students.

It always pleases me to hear remarks like I heard at Quanah. A lady who had both a son and a daughter competing told me that we had the most polite, courteous student body of anyone that they compete against. She also said our fans were always courteous. She added that we were always the most competitive group in any activity. It is nice to know that people from other schools notice.

HOW DO YOU SPELL RELIEF?

For most Haskell County residents relief was spelled "R-A-I-N" last week when up to five inches fell. Pictured above is the car of Letter Carrier Bud Herren as it looked when he completed his route one day last week. Miller Creek Lake caught about four feet of water and is within inches of running over the spillway. Lake Stamford caught about six inches of water.

Tick Populations Increase With Warmer Weather

Tick populations increase dramatically with warmer weather, causing inconvenience and health hazards for homeowners and pets.

Ticks are biting, blood-sucking parasites, and their bites may become inflamed and infected due to toxic secretions, points out Max Stapleton, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Tick paralysis, tularemia and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever may be transmitted through tick bites.

Brown dog, American dog and Lone Star ticks are the most common in Texas home landscapes. Brown dog ticks are reddish-brown while American dog ticks are yellowish-brown when unfed and slate gray when engorged. The brown dog tick rarely occurs in rural areas; instead, it hides in crevices around buildings. American dog ticks are most often found along roads and trails. The Lone Star tick has a characteristic white spot on its back and commonly referred to as a spot backed tick.

A female tick may lay several thousand eggs, beginning a two- to four-month life cycle. Remaining stages—six legged larva (seed tick) and eight legged nymph and adult—generally develop on separate host animals. After each feeding the tick drops off the host and temporarily hides until the next developmental stage.

Regardless of the species, control is basically the same for all ticks, says Stapleton. Heavy infestations in the home may require treatment by professionals. Household sprays containing diazinon, Dursban, Baygon, resmethrin or Vapona will provide excellent control of light infestations.

Outside the home where vegetation is thin, use 5 percent carbaryl (Sevin) dust at 20-25 pounds per acre. Increase the rate as vegetation thickens. If using a spray, mix five tablespoons of 25 percent diazinon emulsifiable concentrate (EC) in one gallon of water. Apply one gallon of spray per 1,000 square feet.

Chlorpyrifos (Dursban) is also suggested for tick control. Apply 1.5 ounces of material per 1,000 square feet of treated area. When spraying, pay particular attention to roadsides, animal trails, paths and pet resting areas. Retreatment may be required if tick populations continue to be observed. Always read the label on the insecticide container for application instructions. Properly store any unused portion of the insecticide under lock and key to prevent accidental child poisoning.

Most species of ticks can't survive in cleared areas where they are exposed to excessive sunlight and predators, points out Stapleton. Keeping areas clear of debris is important in tick control.

Hikers and campers may want to use repellent materials on their jacket cuffs or the bottoms of their trousers. Also, Stapleton recommends tucking trousers into the tops of socks or boots. Sleeves buttoned tight will also aid in protection.

Stapleton advises pet owners to examine their animals frequently. Light infestations can be controlled by rubbing carbaryl dust into the pet's hair. Also, treat the animal's sleeping quarters every week.

If a tick becomes attached to the skin, remove it with a slow, steady pull. Be careful not to break off its mouthparts. A drop of chloroform, isopropyl alcohol, ather, acetone or fingernail polish rubbed over the tick may help remove it. It can be removed a half-hour later with less damage to the skin because its oxygen supply is cut off, says Stapleton.

Always apply an antiseptic to tick bites, adds Stapleton. If your hands touched the tick, wash them thoroughly with soap and water to reduce the risk of spreading disease.

Sam Cobb Receives TTU Alumni Award

Sam Cobb, vice president of Rich Meat Service of Hobbs, has been given the Outstanding Alumni Award from the Texas Tech University Saddle and Sirloln Club, which is the fraternal and social club of the Animal Science Department at Texas Tech.

The award was given for Cobb's assistance in several fund-raising activities, his willingness to guest lecture about the meat industry for TTU classes and in recognition of his business pursuits since graduating from Texas Tech in 1976.

Cobb earned a bachelor of business administration degree at Tech and while a student there taught labs in animal science. He also was active in livestock and meat judging teams and helped the Saddle and Sirloln Club with fund-raising activities.

Cobb has been in business with his father, S.G. Cobb, since his graduation and has a ranching partnership with Ben Alexander.

He is married and he and his wife, Ronda, have two children. He is the grandson of Mrs. S.G. Cobb of Haskell.

Local Vet To Attend Seminar

Dr. Thomas Hairgrove of Haskell will be attending a seminar on "Basic Bovine Reproduction Procedures and Techniques" May 16-18 in Castroville.

Sponsored by the Texas Veterinary Medical Association and the Texas Academy of Veterinary Practice (TAVP), the "hands-on, hands-in" seminar will include clinical examinations as well as classroom instruction.

TAVP President Dr. John W. Fields of Sonora, said,

"Veterinarians attending the seminar will gain knowledge of bovine reproduction designed to help the practitioner in developing a producer's best possible herd."

Materials to be covered in the three-day seminar will concentrate heavily on practical applications. This is the fifth and final class for the course on basic bovine reproductive procedures and techniques. This basic course is the prerequisite for subsequent bovine reproductive seminars scheduled for later next year. Future workshops will focus on other bovine reproductive areas, including embryo transfer, said Fields.

Designer of the curriculum and instructor for the course is Dr. Joseph M. Wright, owner of the Medina Valley Veterinary Services in Castroville. Wright is a nationally recognized leader in embryo transfer and bovine reproduction, and the foremost authority in the state of Texas.

Apply Early For Social Security Retirement Checks

Persons who are planning to retire before age 65 should apply for their monthly Social Security benefits no later than the last day of the month they want benefits to begin. Glyn Hammons, Social Security district manager in Abilene said recently.

Generally, benefits payable for months before age 65 can begin no earlier than the month of application. This limitation also applies to widows and widowers who will receive benefits before their 65th birthday.

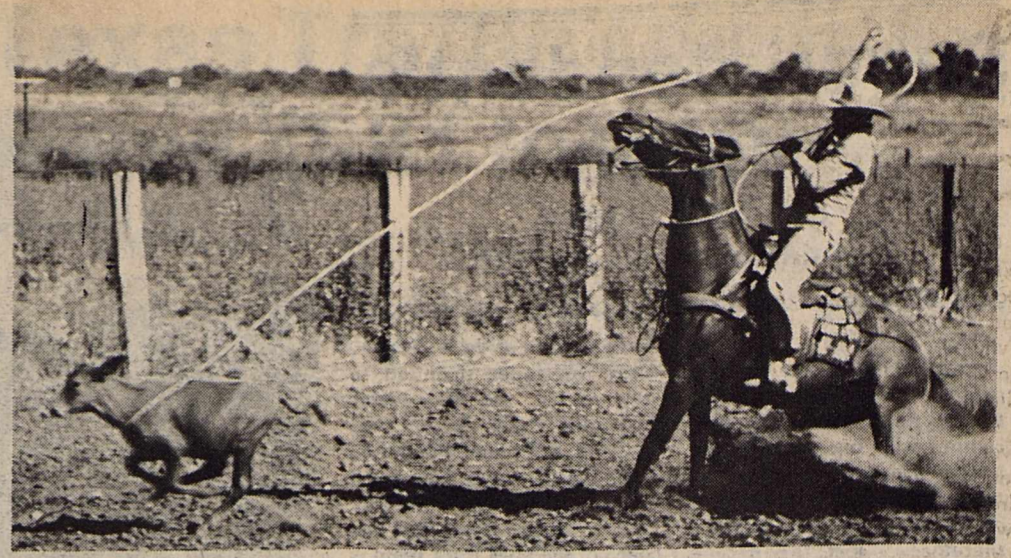

A person who applies for benefits after age 65 can receive benefit payments for up to 6 months before the month of application. Those who want to make certain that their benefit payments will begin on time may apply as early as 3 months before they want benefits to start.

Benefits can be paid only for months a person meets the eligibility requirements throughout the entire month.

To facilitate the processing of their applications for Social Security benefits, applicants should bring to the Social Security office their Social Security card; proof of age; a marriage certificate for those applying for wife's, widow's, or widower's benefits; children's birth certificates, where applicable; and records of their earnings during the preceding 2 years. In addition, persons applying for disability benefit should have the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the doctors who treated them and the medical facilities where they were treated for their disabilities.

"People who do not have all these documents should not delay applying for benefits," Hammons emphasizes. "It is possible that other records could serve the same purpose. Applicants can learn what other documents may be submitted by contacting their local Social Security office." The address and telephone number of the Abilene office is 698-1360, 142 S. Pioneer. For those living outside of Abilene there is a toll free number 1-800-392-1603.

A & M Economist Says Lower Productivity Can Cause Inflation

COLLEGE STATION — While most economic reports focus on inflation, interest rates and layoffs, one economist says a vital, but often ignored, statistic has been the continual decline in productivity.

Productivity increased at an average annual rate of 2.8 percent between 1948 and 1966, dropping to 1.6 percent between 1966 and 1973 and even further to an average .8 percent annual rate between 1973 and 1978, says Dr. M. L. Greenhut, who holds the title of Distinguished Professor of Economics at Texas A&M University. Inflation will follow decreasing productivity, even if the budget is balanced, provided the Federal Reserve increases the money supply to recent rates, he said.

"The current period of protracted inflation began around 1966 and was initiated by greater commitments in Vietnam without any timely changes in our tax and other policies," said Greenhut, co-author of a recently published book, "Economics for the Voter," which put current economic thoughts in layman's terms.

Groundbreaking Set For WTU Plant

Groundbreaking for West Texas Utilities Company's first coal-fired power plant will be held Saturday, May 22, at the plant site eight miles southeast of Vernon.

The public ceremony at 2 p.m. will be jointly sponsored by WTU and the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. Participants will include U.S. Representative Jack Hightower of Vernon; Glen D. Churchill of Abilene, president of WTU; Bob Arnold, Wilbarger County judge; and Roy Dickey, Jr., mayor of Vernon.

A luncheon for members of Vernon civic clubs and their spouses will be held earlier at the Wilbarger Auditorium in Vernon.

The Oklaunion Power Station will be a joint project of three operating companies in the Central and South West System. WTU will be the major owner and will operate the plant, while Public Service Company of Oklahoma and Central Power and Light Company will own smaller shares.

Total capacity of the plant's first generating unit will be 640 megawatts. Construction is expected to take more than four years, with the unit scheduled for commercial operation in December, 1986. Boiler fuel will be low sulphur coal from Wyoming.

Ryan Construction Co. of Wisconsin is contractor for site preparation. Foundation work is scheduled to begin in October.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials said hunters and fishermen in the state should be aware that the state's trespass laws now have more teeth.

House Bill 717 enacted by the 67th Texas Legislature went into effect last Sept. 1 and it increased fines and/or jail sentences for those caught trespassing.

Persons trespassing to hunt with firearms or bow and arrow are subject to "Class A" misdemeanor charges, which carry a fine of not more than $2,000 and/or not more than one year in jail. The Class A misdemeanor trespass also includes entering a person's habitation, whether or not the trespasser is carrying a weapon.

Trespassers not carrying a weapon are subject to Class B misdemeanor charges, which carry a fine of not more than $1,000 and/or 180 days in jail.

Officials also remind sportsmen that they can be charged with trespassing on property even if the area is not posted with signs. Crossing any fence or other enclosure designed to keep livestock in or trespassers out constitutes trespassing. Also, "no trespassing" signs are sufficient to keep out trespassers in the absence of a fence.

Further, if a landowner notifies a person orally or in writing that he cannot trespass, that person is obliged to stay off the land even if it is not fenced or posted with signs.

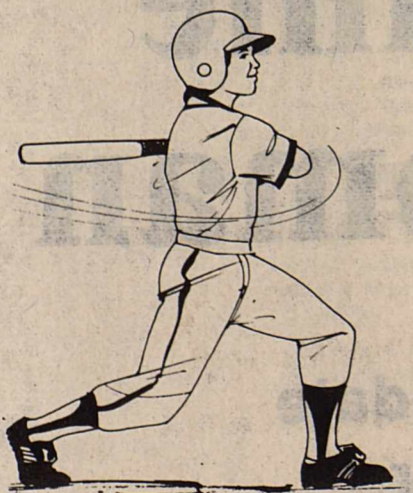

Further questions about trespass laws can be answered by your local game warden.

Haskell Butane Acquires Propane Powered Ford

Haskell Butane has acquired a propane powered 1982 Ford Granada, it was announced today.

The Granada is part of the first production run of originally equipped propane powered motor cars built in the United States. Last year there 350,000 conversions of gasoline powered vehicles to propane, a 10 fold increase since 1978.

"These alternative fuel cars are part of a national effort to reduce dependence on petroleum products," said Roy Pitman, owner of Haskell Butane. "There is a substantial supply of propane fuel in the United States. Ninety percent of this fuel is produced in this country."

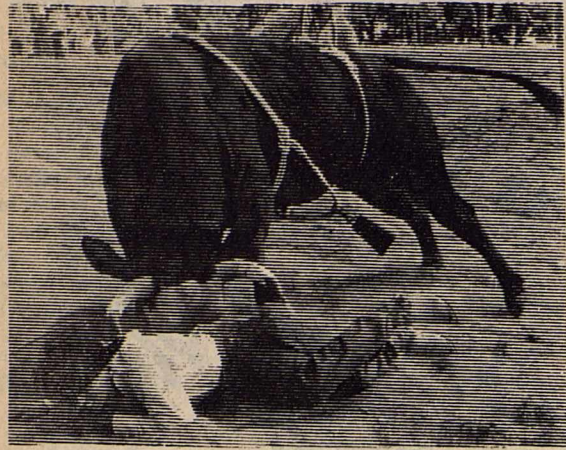

Pitman said propane costs about 30 cents to 50 cents less than a gallon of gasoline. "This savings alone is important to the fleet operator over the lifetime use of the car. Engine life should nearly double and maintenance costs will be reduced through less wear on spark plugs, exhaust and fuel systems."

Propane also burns cleaner than gasoline, an environmental plus, said Pitman.

Pitman's Granada is the first propane powered car in this area.

You can order one of these propane powered cars from Bill Wilson Motor Co. in Haskell.

Letters To The Editor...

Dear Editor:

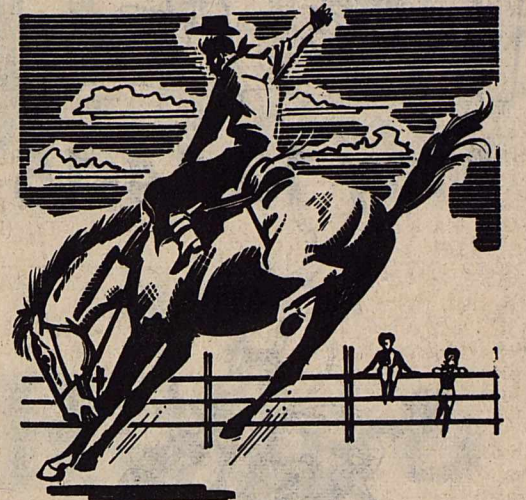

I would like to express my appreciation publicly to the memory of Mr. H.K. Henry for the encouragement he gave me and the kindness he showed me when he was my Vocation Agriculture teacher back in 1936-37 in Haskell High School. He made me have confidence in myself. He gave me a reason for being. He opened my eyes to a higher goal than self. He set a spark ablaze in my heart and gave me a vision. I already knew what God wanted me to do with my life, but God used this man to set many things in perspective.

About a year ago I wrote Mr. Henry and thanked him for what he did for me. Thank God for teachers and leaders in the public schools who continue to push their students in the right direction.

Sincerely,
Robert Barnett
