

NOTE: The following is printed from the Andrews County News 'Drifting Sands' column written by James Roberts.

Members of the oil industry must feel a lot like the shepherders of the Falkland Islands—everybody's comin' at 'em!

The war off the coast of Argentina is a military action while the war in Washington over the budget is an economic action—and the shepherders of the Falklands and the oil industry of this nation are caught in the middle.

The budgets proposed in Washington feature a deficit of around $100 billion dollars.

A quartet of seventh graders with experience only in dealing with allowances and not politics could tell Congress in 20 minutes how to solve the problem—cut spending $100 billion. But that's much too simple for anyone in our nation's capital—especially in an election year.

Most congressmen from the northern and midwestern states had rather raise taxes by $100 billion than cut spending by the same amount. And most of them have pet bills on how to do it—put more taxes on the oil industry.

For example, five members of the House have come up with a new bill called the National Crude Oil Tax. The bill would establish a permanent, 30 percent tax on crude oil. This is in addition to the already passed windfall profits tax. The bill would also put a ceiling on how much the oil-producing states like Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana could put on the severance taxes levied.

Where do you think the five Congressmen who introduced the bill hail from? Naturally, Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Vermont.

It's a typical spend, spend theory but put the cost on somebody else.

Personally, we'd like the Congressmen from Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and a few other producing states to throw some tax bills in the hopper.

For example, we could put brother Dingell in his place by placing a national sales tax on cars as they emerge from the Detroit plants instead of at the point of sales.

Too, Michigan is the only state in the union that borders on five Great Lakes. They have an advantage over the rest of the states as far as fresh, surface water is concerned. Why not a National Great Lakes tax on each gallon of water pulled from Lake Michigan. After all, the lakes are a national resource and should be shared by all.

And over in Minnesota, more Scotch Tape is made there than anywhere. The tape is so indispensable, it's probably a national resource. Why not a national tax at the source on Scotch tape.

Minnesota is the land of 10,000 lakes—more than all the rest of the states combined. They should be considered a national asset and all of us should share in them—why not a tax on the lakes including Minnehaha Falls where Longfellow penned the immortal Hiawatha?

And bless little old Rhode Island, why not a tax on the nation's leading costume jewelry makers?

The first Baptist Church in America was established in Rhode Island in 1638. Northern Baptists could be considered a national asset—why not put a head tax on every Baptist north of the Mason-Dixie line?

And conservative Vermont that wants to tax Texas oil for the benefit of the northeast! Weighing scales, ski's and fishing rods come forth from that state and truly deserve a federal tax of 30 percent. They've got 56 ski areas that can't be found in Texas, Oklahoma or Louisiana—surely for the benefit of the rest of the nation, we should tax daily ski runs.

Think of how much revenue we could get out of Pennsylvania if we taxed iron ore and steel at the mill. They also produce mushrooms and apples and coal that certainly deserve a national tax of some kind.

And how about the brotherly love of Philadelphia? Now that's a commodity that remains untaxed. Congress might do well to consider a tax on love, brotherly or otherwise.

The proper love tax, duly enforced and collected, could probably erase the projected deficit with perhaps a little left over to pay on the national debt.

But knowing Congressman Dingell of Michigan's voting record, he'd probably come right back with a national tax on babies, booze, and bellyaches.

Are you listening, Congressman Hance?

WTU Receives Special Award From 4-H

West Texas Utilities, a long-time supporter of the 4-H program in Texas, was recognized for its outstanding service during the 1982 State 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M University June 8.

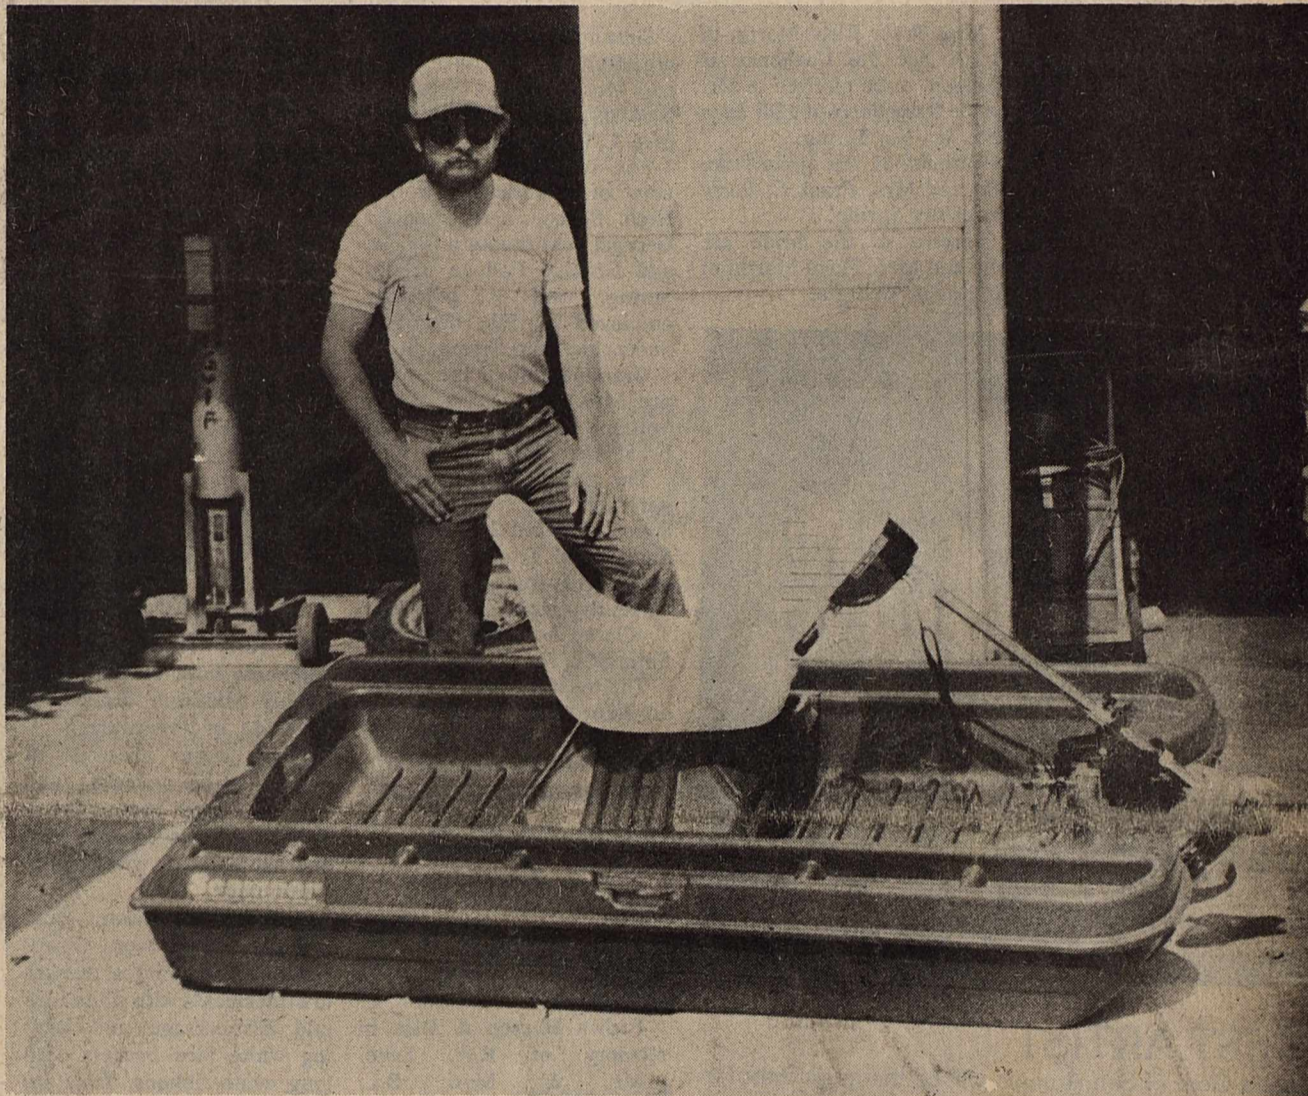

Bill Tedder, director of public relations for the Abilene-based company, was presented a special plaque by the Texas 4-H Foundation, the service organization of 4-H, and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, 4-H's parent organization.

West Texas Utilities has been a staunch supporter of 4-H throughout their service area, which includes parts of the South and Rolling Plains, the Trans-Pecos area, and the West Central and Central Texas, said Tom Davison, executive director of the 4-H Foundation and a 4-H and youth specialist with the Extension Service.

The utility company has provided financial support for such 4-H activities and programs as district Gold Star banquets, district fashion revues, district 4-H roundups and district food shows.

In addition, West Texas Utilities has provided entertainment for a host of county and district 4-H events and has supported the new 4-H energy program, said Davison.

The past year the company aired a special promotion for National 4-H Week on its regular television commercial.

THE WINNER

Tommy Munday of Haskell was the winner of the one man bass boat with electric trolling motor given away Sunday, June 13 by the Haskell Bass Club. Proceeds from the project will be used to furnish playground equipment at Scott Memorial Park at Lake Stamford. The club collected around $500.00.

'Action' Is Theme Of 1982 Cancer Crusade

Can people help protect themselves against cancer? The American Cancer Society will answer YES during its 1982 educational and fund raising Cancer Crusade beginning June 17.

"We'll be bringing our neighbors and friends in Haskell life-saving information that will show them how cancer can be beaten," declared Charles Thornhill, chairman of the 1982 crusade. We will ask that everyone give generously to support programs of cancer research, education and patient services".

More than three million Americans are alive today, thanks to advances in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer. Low-dose x-rays can now find breast cancers too small to be felt, and the five year survival rate for early breast cancer has risen to 85 percent. Simple slide tests for hidden blood in the stool help find colon and rectum cancer.

The five year survival rate for these cancers is now 71 percent.

"Most lung cancer could be prevented if people would stop smoking." Better chemotherapy now controls some forms of childhood leukemia, and better radiotherapy means Hodgkin's disease is no longer fatal when treated early.

When cancer touches one out of every four American families, is it any wonder that the Cancer Crusade has a special meaning to people?

Today we're saving the lives of one out of three cancer patients. With our present knowledge and know-how, we could save one out of two—if only people were more alert to cancer's seven warning signals and the safeguards against cancer. The emphasis of this year's Cancer Crusade is ACTION. Early detection is the key to improving the cancer picture, and it's something everyone can help to bring about.

Splash Day To Benefit Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society will sponsor its first Splash Day benefit Tuesday, June 22, 1982, to support on-going programs of cancer research, education and services to cancer patients.

Mrs. Robert Bartley will chair the event set to begin at 3:00 p.m. at the City Swimming Pool.

Similar to the Society's 'Swim-For-Life' events, Splash Days are being sponsored by more than 20 ACS units throughout Texas this summer. Participants of any age will swim laps for pledges or contributions secured from friends, neighbors, business persons and relatives prior to the event.

Pledge and donation forms may be obtained at the City Pool, or by contacting Charles Thornhill at 864-2842.

The Haskell Splash Day event will award prizes to winners for a variety of achievements, such as most money collected by an individual, most money collected by an individual on the "not winning team", etc. Participants will be grouped into teams according to the number of entries and by age group.

The top award will be a $25 savings account with the Haskell National Bank. Other prizes will include T-shirts, swim wear, and gift certificates.

Participants will turn the funds collected in on July 1 at 2:00 p.m. at the City Pool.

"I think it's going to be a good time—and we're raising funds for an extremely good cause—cancer control," said Mrs. Bartley.

City Sales Tax Up 19.60% From 1981

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday sent checks totaling $35.5 million to 966 Texas cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for June.

"These monthly rebates are keeping ahead of last year's payments," Bullock said. "With 1982 half over, they are nearly 14 percent higher than the amount we had paid by this time last year."

Houston received the biggest check, $7.5 million, bringing the total that city has received during 1982 to $75.2 million, up 17 percent over 1981.

The City of San Antonio received a check for $1.8 million, up 13.5 percent from last June's payment.

The cities of Fort Worth and Austin each received $1.2 million checks and El Paso received $822.00.

The City of Amarillo received a check for $406,000, up almost 13 percent from last June's payment.

Lubbock's $517,000 payment is up more than 12 percent from June 1981 and the city's payments so far this year are nearly 10 percent higher than last year.

Bullock also forwarded June rebates to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. The Houston MTA received $8.7 million, bringing the total received this year to $83.4 million. The San Antonio MTA got a check for $976,000, bringing the 1982 rebate total to $10 million.

The city and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

Brush and Palette

Perhaps some do not know the difference! A correspondent writes: "The other day I visited a well-known art gallery and witnessed two men, who came to award prizes for sculpture. Some of the pieces were placed on a ledge in front of which stands the desk of the gallery's manager. One of the judges pointed out an object on the shelf and said to his companion that the piece was worthy of an award. He was about to finalize the solemn act of attaching the tag of merit to the object when the gallery manager turned around and said, 'Sir, that's the electric fan'".

A. This is a rubbing technique. First apply a color to the canvas after deciding the desired location of the object. For instance: If you are making a fence post, apply the basic color, then on the underside of the canvas, place a textured piece of wood at exactly the place of the post. Then, using your painting knife, scrape off the paint just from the designated post. This gives a painted texture unlike any technique acquired with a brush or knife. An old barn is a good subject for Frottage.

Q. I have a number of paintings executed in heavy impasto. How can I re-use the canvases?
A. First, sandpaper the paint layers. An electric vibrating sander will greatly speed this task. Then immerse the canvas in hot water to soften its size. Let this set a few hours. Usually, but not always, the priming and all the paint adhering to it will come off. Remember, you will always know that you have painted over a used canvas. Suppose your next picture is a framer?

HINT: To remove creases, dampen the paper thoroughly between wet blotters and leave it to dry flat on a wet plate of glass.

Write to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Texas Tourists Are Subject Of Study

Among out-of-state auto visitors who came to Texas during 1981, Dallas, San Antonio and Houston proved to be the state's most popular destinations according to a profile of auto travelers released today by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

"That may be no surprise," said Tom H. Taylor, director of the department's Travel and Information Division, "because those cities are always among the top visitor destinations in Texas. But where last year's highway travelers came from was a bit of a surprise.

"While it's logical that neighboring Oklahoma was our number-one supplier of auto visitors," said Taylor, "our figures show that distant California and Illinois were right behind.

"We thought cross-country auto travel might have faded after the shocks of oil embargoes and dollar-a-gallon gasoline," Taylor explained. "But at least for 1981, the long-distance drivers were back on the highways."

Auto visitors from other states who spent less than 30 days in Texas drove an average of 1,046 miles; those who stayed in the state longer than 30 days drove 2,624 miles. Those short-term visitors stayed an average of 6.92 days; long-term visitors stayed 84.51 days in Texas.

The variation between the long- and short-term visitors was as wide in average expenditures as in the length of stay. Short-term expenditure per person per day was $26.67; long-termers spent $11.96 per person per day.

Data for the report are from survey cards distributed at the Department's 12 tourist bureaus that served more than two and-a-half million travelers last year.

To give a clearer picture of the visitor to Texas, the profile also gives data on the accommodations used, the size of the group, purpose of the trip, visitor age groups, income, and how they spent their travel dollars. Although no totals are given in the report, the percentage figures provide a representative profile of the state's highway visitors.

"The more we know about our visitors," Taylor said, "the better job those who serve tourists can do."

For a free copy of the 1981 profile, write Texas Visitor Industry Survey, Box 5064, Austin, Texas 78763.

$119.50 Raised To Benefit M/H Association

Alice Yates raised $119.50 in the May drive benefiting the Mental Health Association in Texas.

Bellringer workers collected house-to-house during the Spring campaign.

Proceeds benefit the non-profit, non-governmental agency whose members are dedicated to fighting mental illness while working on behalf of the mentally ill and their families.

"The Mental Health Association exists entirely on donations, such as those raised in the May campaign", said Mrs. Virginia Barlow, state president.

Barlow thanked Ms. Yates and the Bellringer workers in Weinert, calling them an important team in the movement to promote mental health in the state.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

TABS (Texas Assessment of Basic Skills) is a test given to all the third, fifth and ninth graders throughout the State of Texas, during the month of February. TABS test the students in the basic skills in three areas; math, reading, and writing. The purpose of the test is to give the teachers, parents, students, and the general public some idea just how well the basic skills in these three areas are being taught and learned. The results of the test are reported on a percent basis; that is, what percent of a class successfully performed in each area.

During the three year history of these tests, Haskell ISD has made a slight improvement. The third grade scored an 84 percent in math, 85 percent in reading, and 80 percent in writing. The highest areas in math were multiplying whole numbers and identifying fractional parts. The lowest skill was order whole numbers. In reading, the highest area was following written directions--98 percent with the lowest being identifying main idea-- 56 percent. In writing, the third grade scored highest in spelling--98 percent and lowest in punctuation--53 percent.

The fifth grade scored 81 percent in math, 72 percent in reading, and 88 percent in writing. The highest area in math was dividing whole numbers--94 percent and interpreting graphs--94 percent with the lowest being identifying geometric terms and figures--51 percent. In reading, the best area was using context clues--90 percent with the lowest area distinguishing fact and nonfact--57 percent. In writing, the best area was spelling--100 percent with the lowest area being punctuation--70 percent.

The test given at the 9th grade level is, in reality, an exit level test. That is, if a student does not make a successful score, they must repeat the test the following year. It tests the basic skills a student should acquire by the time they finish high school. This year the scores on the exit level test were 77 in math, 74 in reading, and 85 in writing. In math, adding and subtracting whole numbers was the highest scoring area--98 percent, with the lowest being solving personal finance problems--49 percent. In reading, the highest area was in using reference skills, 96 percent, with the lowest being making generalizations--57 percent. In writing, the high areas were spelling and capitalization--91 percent, with the low area being correct English usage--70 percent.

While these tests reflect only the basic skills, they do give the school some basis for lesson planning, curriculum development, etc. They also give the school a comparison on the state level and the regional level. They also help us to check on our yearly improvement as we strive to provide the maximum education for the students of the Haskell community.

ICA Against Pending Legislation

Independent Cattlemen's Association President Roy Wheeler today contacted members of the Texas Congressional delegation asking that they not support pending legislation levying stiff fines on employers hiring illegal aliens. The legislation sponsored by Senator Alan Simpson of Wyoming and Rep. Ronald Mazzoli of Kentucky was recently reported out of committee and will soon be considered by Congress.

Wheeler explained the legislation requires an employer establish the citizenship of all his workers, including temporary employees, before hiring. If illegals are hired, the employer could face stiff fines of up to $2,000.

"Such requirements would be resented by workers, encourage discrimination and lend themselves to fraud," Wheeler insisted. He suggested that a far better process of combatting employment problems would be to arrange a federal bracero program, strengthen funding for the border patrol or tighten visa eligibility.

Wheeler concluded that it's difficult to believe that the government is placing immigration liability on employers when they have refused to properly consider a bracero program and hire more people to police Capitol Hill than they hire to police the entire U.S. borders.

Sidewalk Saturday If you were not on the Haskell Square this past Saturday, you not only passed up some excellent bargains, you also missed a lot of fun.

We talked with several merchants who had record sales, both from their sidewalks and inside their stores. We talked with many out of town customers who were amazed at the quality and quantity of the items on sale. The most repeated comment was "When is Haskell going to do this again?" The Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is planning another Sidewalk Sale for this Fall. It promises to be even bigger and better.

New Chamber Members Since so many additional citizens have joined the Haskell Chamber of Commerce thus far in 1982, we plan to do a profile of each firm or individual who has signed up since January of this year. It will appear in this column in the very near future. To belong is to invest in the good of your community. All individuals and merchants are invited to join. Please call the Chamber office 864-2477 for details or see Membership co-chairmen Tom Watson and Pat Byford.

1982-83 Hunting & Fishing Regulations Adopted

New regulations on taking red drum (redfish) in both fresh and saltwater and numerous modifications of deer hunting regulations highlighted action by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission in a meeting here Thursday (May 13).

The commission adopted 1982-83 hunting and fishing regulation changes for counties under its regulatory authority. However, sportsmen are cautioned that in some counties, the adopted regulations are subject to approval or disapproval by county commissioners courts. Hunting and fishing laws in non-regulatory or "general law" counties remain the same.

The adopted regulations will go into effect Sept. 1, 1982. Hunters and fishermen should consult the Parks and Wildlife Department's 1982-83 hunting and fishing regulations digests and supplements which will be available from license outlets in August, officials said.

A revision of the method for controlling the harvest of antlerless deer in counties which have an either-sex deer hunting season was one of the major hunting law regulation changes adopted.

In those counties, the department will issue special antlerless deer tags to landowners in areas having a surplus of antlerless deer on an unlimited basis. Last season, hunters were required only to attach tags from their hunting license on antlerless deer taken. Most Texas counties have the standard antlerless deer permit system, wherein landowners are issued a specified number of permits, based on deer populations in the county or compartment of the county.

The antlerless deer tag system for either-sex counties offers the potential for a significant harvest of surplus antlerless deer, but gives landowners more control than they had in the previous program, officials said.

In most counties, the white-tailed deer season will be Nov. 13, 1982, to Jan. 2, 1983. Other hunting regulation changes included:

--Antlerless deer permits no longer must be attached to a foreleg of the animal. The regulation requires only that the permit be attached to the carcass.

--The commission proposed the addition of 14 counties to the "either sex" deer hunting regulation, with tags issued to landowners on an unlimited basis in portions of those counties which have an overpopulation of deer. Counties added are Bandera, Comal, Crockett, Edwards, Gillespie, Hays, Kerr, Kimble, Lampasas, Mason, Real, San Saba, Sutton and Val Verde. This proposal is subject to approval or disapproval by commissioners courts in these counties.

--Duvall County was given the early antlerless-only deer hunting season, Oct. 23-Nov. 7, to provide landowners additional hunting days in which to remove surplus antlerless deer.

--Smith County was given the standard 51-day deer season, with a bag limit of three deer, no more than one buck, antlerless by permit only.

--Harvest of antlerless deer by permit will be allowed in Robertson County, subject to approval by the commissioners court.

--Dimmit, Edwards,

Kendall, Kinney, Medina and Real Counties received the standard 30-day archery-only deer season, Oct. 2-31, which provides five weekends of hunting, subject to approval by commissioners courts in those counties.

--Controlled archery-only deer hunts conducted by the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service will be permitted on the Hagerman National Wildlife Refuge in Grayson County. The deer season remains closed in the remainder of Grayson county.

--A no-closed season, with a bag limit of two, is proposed for javelina in Edwards, Frio, Kerr, Medina and Real Counties, subject to commissioners court approval.

--The bag limit for squirrels in 32 northcentral Texas counties was eliminated, since existing hunting pressure is low.

--Hunters in 12 Panhandle counties offering a two-day prairie chicken hunting season will be required to bring birds to department check stations so biologists can determine the age and sex ratio of the harvest.

--As in the past, the commission delayed setting quail bag limits until late summer production surveys are completed.

--A standard-length turkey season was approved to run concurrently with the deer season in Dimmit, Kendall, Kerr, Kinney, Uvalde and Zavala Counties, subject to approval by county commissioners courts. The change also would allow archery turkey seasons in Dimmit, Edwards, Kendall and Real Counties.

--A spring 1983 turkey gobbler season will be proposed for 11 additional counties. They are Bandera, Brooks, Edwards, Frio, Gillespie, Kendall, Kerr, Kimble, Medina, Reagan and Real. This recommendation is subject to approval of county commissioners courts.

--An additional small portion of south Newton County was adopted for a spring turkey gobbler season in 1983, as a result of increased populations from restocking programs.

Tips To Prevent Mail Theft Offered By USPS

Theft of mail is a violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 1708, which carries a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment and/or a $2000 fine. Unfortunately, criminals pay little attention to the consequences of their immediate actions.

The Postal Inspection Service is attempting to prevent theft of mail from all sources by informing and educating as many elements of society as possible. The United States Postal Service is a principle victim but the ultimate victim is a business or individual who depends on mail for their livelihood and existence. The loss of a social security or retirement check addressed to an elderly or retired person can have devastating emotional and financial significance.

Mail is most vulnerable at the point of delivery. An extra effort should be made by mail recipients to know their carrier's schedule and make every effort to be at home to personally accept delivery of valuable mail. Retirement and social security checks are delivered on a fixed schedule which is known by the addressee and criminals as well. Have a neighbor retrieve your mail if you cannot be available and do the same for your neighbor. Also, deposit your mail for collection at a post office or collection box. If this is inconvenient, place letters on your house letterbox for collection shortly before your carrier arrives. Your personal mail can be used most effectively to defraud your bank, consequently creating a very inconvenient situation. Make every effort to protect your incoming as well as outgoing mail by using these common sense suggestions.

Crime prevention can be a community effort. Everyone receives mail almost on a daily basis. This provides common grounds for neighbors to become better acquainted and watch out for each others mail and mailbox. If a concentrated effort is made to protect your mail, potential mail thieves will not be given the opportunity to make you a victim.

If you have information regarding theft of mail, contact your local Postal Inspector or Postmaster.

Weather Forecasting Affected By Proposal

COLLEGE STATION — The ability to predict tornado conditions and sudden thunderstorms could be hurt by the federal government's elimination of 18 weather stations and a move to close the Fort Worth regional office of the National Weather Service, says a Texas A&M University meteorology professor.

However, such actions probably won't affect two- or three-day forecasts like those that recently warned Americans in the Midwest and Northeast of approaching blizzards that proved to be the worst in history, said Dr. Kenneth Brundage.

Brundage said the closing of any regional weather service office might be felt worst in the area of coordination with area disaster agencies and city governments.

The proposal to close the Fort Worth office, which makes regional forecasts and acts as the central weather service operation for the southernmost tier of states, came at the peak of tornado season in Texas.

A special thanks go to the Rule Little League for the use of their field & concession stand while ours was under water. Also many thanks to Dorothy Clark & Billie Kupatt for working in the concession stand during our games & to all the people who donated food to help us out. Without them there would have been no tournament.

This week will end the League games for Sagerton but we will continue to play area teams once or twice a week. Plans are still underway for a light system & we still have some work left on our bleachers & field but as soon as the crops are in the ground, baseball will be back in full swing again in Sagerton.

The men's team is still playing with the Rule League on Tuesday's & Friday nights at Rule.

Around The Ballpark

Last Thursday two exciting games were played at Little League park. At the end of four innings, the Bears and Cats tied 8-8. In the second game, the Cubs defeated the previously unbeaten Hawks in a barnburner with a score of 5-4.

In other games last week, the Eagles trounced the Tigers, 29-12, and outscored the Cubs, 7-4. The Hawks beat the Rams 10-5 earlier in the week. The Red Horses raced by the Cats 18-1, while the Crows eked out their second win by sneaking by the Bears 5-3. Friday night's contests were rained out.

Tax Incentives Available For Conservation

Farmers investing in soil and water conservation now get additional tax incentives.

A recent announcement by Secretary of Agriculture John Block indicates that farmers receiving payments made for conservation practices approved under the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) after Sept. 30, 1979, can exclude them, under certain conditions, from their gross income for federal income tax purposes.

"This will affect landowners who don't qualify for special tax treatment of soil and water conservation expenses and farmers for whom these expenses are high relative to their gross income," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist in management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Previously, farmers were allowed to treat as current deductions certain expenditures for soil or water conservation or the prevention of erosion that would otherwise be capitalized. As capitalized expenditures, they would be added to the cost of other basis of the land and deducted for tax purposes as depreciation or according to the new accelerated cost recovery system.

To take soil and water conservation expenses as current deductions, the taxpayer must cultivate, operate or manage a farm for profit, either as an owner or tenant, notes Hayenga. For an owner receiving farm rental, the rent must be based on farm production.

"Someone receiving cash rent not based on production does not qualify unless he participates materially in the farm's operation or management," says the economist.

Also, the total deduction of capital expenditures for soil and water conservation in any tax year is limited to 25 percent of the gross income for farming during that year.

In the past ACP payments received as incentive for soil and water conservation practices were included in income but were offset by the allowable deductions for these expenditures up to the 25 percent limitation, if the farmer qualified.

"Now, landowners need to include only those payments that are for expenses they can deduct in the current tax year," Hayenga explains.

Farmers receiving ACP payments for expenses exceeding 25 percent of their gross farm income can now exclude them from their income.

Also, those individuals who don't qualify as farmers and are not allowed to report these expenses as current deductions can exclude ACP payments from their income.

However, before such payments can be excluded, certain other conditions must be met, says the economist. For example, the IRS must find that the payments do not substantially increase annual income from the property involved. And no deduction, depreciation or investment credit may be claimed for any expenditure made with excluded ACP payments. "A landowner who disposes of property that was acquired, improved or otherwise modified with money excluded from income under these rules must treat all or part of any gain from the disposition as ordinary income," adds Hayenga.

The decision to exclude all or part of any ACP payments from gross income must be made no later than the tax filing deadline including extensions.

Since these tax regulations are rather complex, Hayenga advises farmers and landowners to seek advice from a tax consultant.

Further information is available from the Internal Revenue Service and the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.
