MURAL UNDERWAY

Members of the Brazos/West Art Association began work Wednesday on a pictorial history of Haskell. The painting will be done on the west side of the S&H Green Stamp building at the intersection of U.S. 380 and U.S. 277.

Again this year, Haskell was well represented at the annual Firemen's Training School, held last week on the campus of Texas A&M University.

Five members of the local department attended the school. Three students, Bill Lane, Jr., Steve Roper, and W. H. McBroom and two instructors, Chief Tom Watson and Don Comedy, attended the 53rd annual school.

In addition to the week of concentrated training which benefits each individual attending, other benefits are provided by the school.

Upon successful completion by three members of a fire department, the city represented, receives a 5% key rate credit on fire insurance. This credit reduces the cost of fire insurance for all property owners in the city.

In addition, the training includes the newest methods and techniques in fire suppression and will ultimately result in reduced fire losses through training.

Another highlight of the school was the announcement by Marvin Setzer, President of the State Fireman's and Fire Marshalls Association of Texas, that effective September 1, 1982, cities should begin receiving additional key rate credit for certified volunteers.

Cities across the state currently receive the credit for paid firefighters, but until recently representatives of the State Board of Insurance would not approve the credit for volunteers.

Representatives of the State Association and the State Board of Insurance are in the process of completing the agreement which will allow credit for certified volunteers.

The certification program is administered through the State Association and was started in 1975. The Haskell Volunteer Fire Department currently has 27 members who have completed requirements for basic certification.

While attending the school, Roper and McBroom participated in Firefighting I and Lane was enrolled in fire department disaster rescue. Chief Watson instructs in hose loads and Comedy in public relations.

Bloodmobile To Visit Next Thursday

A modern day miracle (that has existed forever) is the ability of the body to replenish the blood supply.

According to officials with the Red River Regional Blood Services in Wichita Falls, a donor will replace the unit of blood he donates in only three to five weeks and, in fact, may donate again in only 56 days.

Mrs. Polly Brumfield, Director of Donor Resources Development in Wichita Falls, explained that with today's modern technology, the pint of fluid donated can now be separated enabling as many as six people to be helped from only one unit of blood.

"So, in effect, your donated blood can help save many lives, and doesn't hurt the donor at all."

Citizens of Haskell will have an opportunity to participate in a bloodmobile next Thursday, August 12 from 1-6 p.m. at First Baptist Church.

The blood supply obtained locally is taken back to Wichita Falls for laboratory processing and then distributed to the 42 hospitals in 31 counties in Texas and Oklahoma served by the Regional Blood Services.

Mobile units from Wichita Falls are in one of the serviced cities Monday through Friday. "The need for blood is continuous," Mrs. Brumfield said. "The quantity of blood required to keep the hospitals serviced adequately, plus allowance for emergencies equates to the number of units our mobiles must collect," Mrs. Brumfield explained.

What happens when several emergencies arise at the same time? "That's when you'll see the notices at the bottom of your television screens and hear pleas on the radio asking for donors."

So far, blood donor responses have satisfied the demand. "The people in our area have always answered the call for blood, and we feel certain their unselfish giving will be even better in the future."

Hansard, Adkins Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Jill Ann Adkins of Haskell and James Gordon Hansard of Plainview were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church in Haskell on Saturday, July 31, 1982, at half after five o'clock. Officiating for the double ring ceremony was Reverend Dudley Bragg of Pecos.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Adkins of Haskell, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Martin of Plainview and the late Captain James B. Hansard.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore a traditional gown of white English net over satin, a Galina original by Jim Hjelm. Beaded with pearls, Alencon lace lavishly applied the entire dress. The high wedding band neckline held the sheer English net yoke applied and edged with Alencon lace. Fashioned with a molded bodice, the gown had long sleeves tapered to the traditional point and finished with tiny lace scallops. The beaded A-line silhouette with scalloped lace hemline flows to a full cathedral length train.

Her Alencon lace tiara covered with seed pearls and sequins held the full cathedral length veil of silk illusion, fashioned with a hand rolled hem and sprinkled with seed pearls.

The bride carried a bouquet of white sweetheart roses, white dendrobium orchids, and Star of Bethlehem.

For something old, the bride wore a gold bracelet belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. J.H. Free, which was given to her by her late husband in 1910. Something new was the wedding gown, and for something borrowed, she wore a ruby ring belonging to her mother. For something blue, the bride wore a garter which was made and given to her by Mrs. Jason O. Gordon, grandmother of the groom. The bride wore a sixpence in her shoe brought from England by the groom's sister, Miss Susan Hansard.

White pillar candles in arched candelabrum with lemon boughs formed the background for the bride's altar. Ten foot Spanish candelabrum flanked each side of the altar. The two altar arrangements consisted of white killion daisies, tube roses, agapanthus, and white stock. Arrangements of mixed foliage completed the bride's altar. The bride's aisle was marked with white satin bows, lemon leaf foliage, and baby's breath.

Mrs. Donnie Rieger of Haskell was the organist, and Miss Mona Bledsoe of Denton was the pianist. Together they played the traditional "Bridal Chorus" as the processional and the "Wedding March" as the recessional. They also played duets of traditional and current love songs as the prelude to the ceremony. Mrs. Phillip Golden of Abilene sang "Annie's Song," "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. John Fouts of Haskell. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Hansard of Plainview, sister of the groom, Miss Stacy Martin of Marietta, Ohio, step-sister of the groom, Miss Carol Lehde of Haskell, and Mrs. Tom Grula of Houston. All the attendants wore identical dresses of two-tone chiffon, white over pink. The ruffled neckline of lace over chiffon was worn off the shoulder.

The fitted bodice held the full swinging skirt and was accented by a single matching silk flower held by self spaghetti-type streamers. They wore sheer white nylon gloves with ruffled cuffs and sprigs of baby's breath in their hair. They carried free-formed garden type bouquets of pink alstromeria, rubrum lillies, dendrobium orchids, and nerine lillies.

The best man was Mr. Scott Martin of Austin, step-brother of the groom. The groomsmen were: Mr. Mark Keeter of Corpus Christi, Mr. Ralph Hayes of Austin, Mr. Curt Harlan of San Antonio, and Mr. Mark Leach of Plainview.

The groom and his attendants wore charcoal gray, cutaway tuxedos. The groom's boutonniere was a white sweetheart rose with baby's breath taken from the bride's bouquet. The groomsmen's boutonnieres were dendrobium orchids.

Ushering the mothers were Mr. Eddie Medford of Haskell and Mr. Donald Ebeling of Plainview. Other ushers were: Mr. Larry Fontana of Austin, Mr. Hank Hayes of College Station, and Mr. Steve Haynes of Austin.

The bride's mother wore a formal length chiffon dress in deep pink, a Mike Benet Original. The gown had capelet sleeves and a high neckline. The full skirt with a chiffon overlay was belted with a cummerbund of soft folds of chiffon. The groom's mother chose a formal length chiffon dress in mauve. It had accordion pleats from the waist and was accented by a matching capelet.

Both fathers wore charcoal gray, cutaway tuxedos with a dendrobium orchid boutonniere.

Following the ceremony the parents of the bride hosted the reception at the Haskell Country Club. A European garden theme was carried throughout the club. The round bride's table was covered in a floor length Alencon lace cloth outlined with pearls. The bride's cake was decorated in shades of pink with confection roses, azalea blossoms, and stephanotis. The background was white lattice entwined with wild smilax. The coffee and punch tables were matching crescent tables draped with pink chiffon to the floor. Antique silver eperages held arrangements of pink rubrum lilies, nerine lillies, and godetia. The eight foot rectangular food table was draped in a pink moire. A brass container held an arrangement in different shades of pink. The flowers included in the arrangement were rubrum lilies, nerine lilies, killion daisies, alstromeria, and dendrobium orchids. Seating was arranged at small tables covered with pink cloths. Pink garden flowers in tall plexiglass cylinders centered on each small table complemented the entire look.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Curt Harlan of San Antonio and Mrs. Rex Pittman of Haskell.

Members of the houseparty were: Mrs. Pherl Brossman of Houston, Mrs. George Brown of Haskell, Miss Debbie Stubblefield of Lubbock, Miss Sherrie Everett of Midland, Miss Kelly Croft of Lubbock, Miss Nancy Stacy of Austin, Miss Nancy Williams of Austin, and Miss Beverly Dencer of Corpus Christi.

Also assisting at the reception were: Mrs. Wallace Henshaw of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Davis Porterfield of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Owen Houston of Lubbock, Mrs. Wilda Medford, Miss Amy Medford, Mrs. William J. Kemp, Mrs. Roy Everett, and Mrs. Myron Biard, all of Haskell.

As the bride and groom were leaving the reception, they were showered with rose petals which were distributed to guests by Lyle Fouts, nephew of the bride.

After honeymooning in San Francisco the couple will be at home in Clear Lake.

The bride received a Bachelor of Science degree from The University of Texas at Austin this May and will attend South Texas College of Law in Houston this fall.

The groom received a Bachelor of Arts degree from The University of Texas at Austin this May and will attend The University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston this fall.

The articles that I have written over the past few months have been aimed at trying to help the beginner painter to help himself. There is, however, a point at which attendance at some kind of school is helpful, if for no other reason than to submit to discipline. It is also helpful to a student because of the individual needs (dealing with general principles, of course) and you do learn almost as much from other students as from the instructor. Most students cannot devote long periods of time painting. Most attend classes for one or two evenings a week but I urge you to attend a week-end school or better still, one that lasts a week or more. Your beginning progress is rapid but this is retarded if there is a gap in your painting. It takes time to catch up with your thinking at the end of a previous class - in other words, to get back in the swing.

Q. Can I use pure stand oil for glazing?

A. Yes, but not very well. Colors thinned to a large degree by the medium, if not applied very thinly, will glide down the canvas when held vertically. A resin-stand oil will prevent this and no matter how 'soupy' it will stay on the canvas.

Q. What is the potential of the painter involved solely in the production of textures?

A. There can be no question that this potential will operate at a low register, because the faculty needed to produce intriguing textures is not of great significance. Problems of texture are those of surface and hence decoration. Beautiful texture delights our senses and can be the highpoint of attraction and, next to color, its major merit in a painting.

Q. What is the function of a line in art?

A. Its nature is quite different from that of texture. Originally lines served chiefly to delimit objects. Naturally, objects can be delimited by means of different color, different tonal values and contours of an object. If an object meets its surrounding space with a hard edge, without softening of contours, we think of lines, although no actual line is present. We refer this example to a 'melodious' line because our eye conceives the contours of an object as if lines were palpable lines. Lines in some manner are related to music - lines can be visible and constant - in music they are audible and in flux.

Beauchamp, Griffith Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Riley Griffith of Paint Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Beauchamp of Rochester wish to announce the marriage of their children, Kimberly Suzette Griffith and James Lyndon Beauchamp.

Kimberly Suzette Griffith and James Lyndon Beauchamp exchanged wedding vows at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Saturday, July 31 in the Paint Creek Baptist Church before an altar of brass candelabra affixed with white tapers, palm leaves, ribbon and two white doves. Matching brass spiral candelabra graced each side of the altar area.

Escorted down the aisle by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a victorian styled gown fashioned of Ivory Skinner slipper satin with Ivory Italian lace inset at the front yoke and edging the high Victorian neckline. Tiny seed pearls adorn the rose design of the lace and tiny ivory ribbon encircles the neck band. The entire bodice is created to give the Austrian puff effect and this effect continues on into the full skirt, ending with a short six inch train in the back. The bottom of the bouffant skirt is edged in the same Italian lace which enhances the neckline and tiny ivory bows decorate each shirred panel of the skirt. The long shirred sleeves end in a point over the back of the hand. Both the gown bodice back and sleeves were closed with tiny self covered buttons and hand made crocheted loops.

Her veil fell to floor length from a lace and seed pearl caplet. Edges of the French Illusion veil were finished in Italian lace and seed pearls to compliment the wedding gown. The bride's bouquet was made of pink silk roses, white silk daisies, stephanotis, English ivy and babies breath. Streamers of white ribbon tied in love knots adorned the bouquet.

The bride's something old was the bridal gown which had been made by Mrs. Clara Holt and worn by Mrs. Amelia Perry at her wedding thirty-six years ago. For something new the bride wore a diamond watch, a gift from the groom. Something borrowed was the wedding gown and something blue was the traditional garter, a gift from Mrs. Frances Lane. Mrs. W.A. Lyles gave Kim a sixpence which she wore in her shoe for luck.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Velvet Townsend of Rochester and Maid of honor, Miss Marilyn Griffith, Abilene wore identical dresses of rose bud print of pink on white made with scooped neckline, "Princess Di" sleeves and bouffant skirts, belted with deep pink velvet ribbon. They wore white lace gloves and white shoes and carried nosegays of pink silk roses and babies breath. They wore combs in their hair affixed with pink silk roses and babies breath.

The groom was attired in an Ivory Western styled tuxedo and ivory shirt and ivory string tie. His boutonniere was a pink silk rose and stephanotis to match the bride's bouquet. His gift from the bride was also a watch.

Best man was Rod Townsend, Rochester, and groomsman was David Carver of O'Brien. They were attired in identical western styled tuxedos of silver gray and wore white shirts and silver string ties. Their boutonnières were pink carnations.

Candles were lighted by Danny and Andy Griffith, Haskell, brothers of the bride. They wore gray western suits, pink shirts, and gray string ties. Their boutonnières were of pink carnations.

Allison Offholter, Merced, California, cousin of the bride was flower girl. She wore a pink taffeta dress fashioned like those worn by the bridal attendants.

John Beauchamp, Rochester, brother of the groom was the ring bearer. His tuxedo was fashioned as the groom's attendants. He also wore a pink carnation boutonniere.

Ushers were: Nathan Cockerell, Rochester, Cary Epley, Rochester, and Bucky Sherley, Lawn.

Allen Reunion Held Recently

The family of Eddie Dee and Lola Allen met in Odessa July 24 & 25 for a family reunion at the home of Mr. & Mrs. Fred Stanfield. Everyone enjoyed seeing and visiting with one another after many years.

Family members attended from Kennedale, Hamilton, Weinert, Haskell, Hawley, Merkel, Abilene, Garland, Monahans, Odessa, and Laton, California.

Mother of the bride wore a street length dress of gray bemberg sheer, navy accessories and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a street length dress of pink polyester with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

D'Ann Burris and Laurie Gross provided the wedding selections of "Endless Love" and the "Wedding Song" accompanied on the piano by Peggy Payne and the organ by Mrs. Phyllis Coleman.

Sharla Carver, flautist, accompanied the wedding selections and rendered a solo of the "Lord's Prayer" as the bride and groom knelt on the white satin kneeling bench.

Just before leaving the church sanctuary, the couple each took up a white candle lighted earlier by their parents and lit the unity candle, signifying not three families but the unifying of all into one.

Immediately following the ceremony there was a reception hosted by the bride's parents in the Pat Morrison Auditorium of Paint Creek school. The bride's table covered in ivory satin and overlaid in ivory tulle and lace applique held the three tiered wedding cake of white decorated with pink roses and separated by white columns. A China bride and groom under an arch of white daisies adorned the top of the cake. Around the base of the cake was an arrangement of silk flowers like the ones in the bridal bouquet. The centerpiece on the bride's table was a crystal cornucopia filled with an arrangement identical to that of the bridal bouquet.

Two white tapers accented the cornucopia. Mocha punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Other appointments were silver and crystal.

The groom's table was covered with a white circular cloth overlaid with a gray cotton cloth. An arrangement of pink roses in a country pitcher and bowl centered the table. The chocolate cake, furnished by the groom's parents, served from a silver tray, was decorated with a sheath of wheat. Coffee was offered from a silver coffee urn. Nuts, mints and candy were served from silver appointments.

A table covered with pink embroidered satin was laden with a variety of fruits, such as cantaloupe balls, grapes, strawberries and also held the bouquet of pink satin wheat bags.

Serving in the house party were: Amelia Perry, Jane Smith, Jane Short, Gene Jeter, Grace Hannsz, Anita Thigpen, Kay Smith, Peggy Payne, Wanda Thompson, Debbie Hines, Jamie Stoddard, Kathy LeFevre, Pam Neeley and Carolyn Golson.

For a wedding trip to New Braunfels and Austin, the bride chose a white Jessica blouse and denim Jessica prairie skirt. Her corsage was pink roses and daisies. Her accessories were of navy blue. The groom chose to wear a white oxford cloth shirt and levis.

Pre-wedding parties honoring the couple were: a brunch in the J.R. Perry home at Paint Creek; a pantry party in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Joe Thigpen, Haskell, and an afternoon party in the Warren Short home at Rochester.

When the bride and groom return from their wedding trip, they will be at home in Rochester where the groom is engaged in farming.

Yard Of The Month

Gracious charm is the first impression of the R.P. Riley yard at 901 N. 6th St. chosen for the yard of the month. The planter box of colorful caladiums thrive in the lush shade of the huge Live Oak tree with its hanging baskets of angel wing begonia, fern and coleus.

The cool, green lawn contrasts with the pedestal containers of bright yellow marigolds used for spot decorating and balance. The backyard is very inviting with its fence enclosure, spacious lawn, covered patio and many shade trees of pecan and mimosa.

The following yards were selected as runner-up yards. Mrs. and Mrs. Joe Kimbrough Rt. 2 Ave. J East, have a lovely new yard; the unique courtyard of brick and black wrought iron is landscaped with evergreen wax ligustrum poodle trees and a mini crab apple tree. On the south side of the house there is a bed of dwarf hollies for winter beauty. In summer red geraniums and bright yellow marigolds dominate the scene. Two weeping mulberry trees and sixteen Blaze roses bring a splash of color and vitality to the back yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Odell Helweg 301 Addison Dr. have an interesting yard. The red zinnias in front of evergreen shrubs are balanced by shrubs, wisteria tree and two white crepe myrtles in full bloom.

The two easy-care circular beds in front are what she calls re-seed beds. In early spring larkspur and poppies and in mid summer bachelor buttons and periwinkles take over.

Mr. & Mrs. H.V. Hobbs 1305 N. Ave. F have a most interesting yard. He specializes in variety. In the front yard crepe myrtles, althea, red bud, tree wisteria, a bed of multi color marigolds and perennial phlox brighten the landscape.

Tropical beauty is the word for the enclosed back yard with its huge hackberry and chinaberry trees that shade and cool the house. Morning glory and Jack bean vines climb high on trellises. The lawn area is neatly patterned with colorful flowerbeds enclosed in geometric shapes. Rectangular flower beds border the fence. A repeated pattern of multicolored zinnias & marigolds throughout the garden brings harmony and unity.

Mrs. Owen Cox of 602 S. 5th has a colorful yard. A bed of pink magic lilies (Lycoris) are outstanding at this time. Cannas, crepe myrtle and a variety of other flowers give continuous bloom throughout the summer. The enclosed porch is used as a garden room for hanging baskets, African violets and other house plants. A peach tree, grape vines and a lush vegetable garden grows at the back.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bredthauer have a spectacular bed of zinnias to brighten their yard at 607 N. 5th.

The Garden Club appreciates the way the people have responded to the "Beautify Haskell" request. There are many beautiful, well-kept yards and we try to select yards from each section of town.

Holli High Participating In Gifted Student Program

Donna Spence's resemblance to the average 10-year-old stops at appearance.

Her short pink outfit is accentuated by a summer tan as she heads for class across the university campus.

"In my paradox class we have been discussing the voting system in the U.S. and how it doesn't work," she said.

Spence, from Austin, is a participant in the Texas Tech University gifted and talented youth program, "Shake Hands With Your Future."

More than 450 Texas and New Mexico students were nominated for the program by their school officials, and 250 were selected to participate.

"In one of my classes," 11-year-old Don Ferry of Odessa said, "we were figuring out from the gravitational information we have what our weight would be on other planets."

Program participants range in age from 10-15. They live in university residence halls for two weeks and attend classes aimed at enriching them academically and socially.

"For many, just the experience of living away from home provides insights.

"I really like dorm life. But, if you ever got into a pillow fight, the hard pillows in Clement Hall could really hurt you," 10-year-old Linda Barker of Lubbock said.

Students select classes from a list which includes engineering, creative writing, music, computers, astronomy, architecture, acting, law and medicine.

"The courses give you a real sense of accomplishment," said 13-year-old Melissa White of Abilene.

When not in class, students have mentor sessions, informal meetings with Texas Tech policy-makers, or take tours -- The Museum of Texas Tech University, Textile Research Center, Ranching Heritage Center, Crosbyton Solar Project, KXTV-TV and Moody Planetarium.

And, when not on the road or in class, they can swim, play computer games, skate, square dance, play chess and backgammon or compete in rubik cube tournaments.

"The computer program is interesting because they have five level discs and you can even play 'Star Trek,'" said 11-year-old Tom Egelston II of Snyder.

Two summer sessions are sponsored for the youths by the Texas Tech Division of Continuing Education and the College of Education.

The program, in its second year, is cited by its coordinator, Mary Anne Speck, as a response to a community need.

"Gifted children are in a minority and left out in the typical grade school classroom situation," Speck said. "Children who participate in the program take experiences and ideas back to their classroom. We hope they realize that they can pursue on their own studies of interest throughout the year."

Jil Kirby, a 14-year-old from Pottsville, agrees that the program "gives you a chance to learn about things that you can't get in a small town."

But, even these gifted and talented students can't resist being what they are -- children.

"Saturday is my favorite day during the program. We get to sleep late and play tennis and backgammon," John Flippen, an 11-year-old from San Angelo, said.

For more information on future programs, for gifted and talented students contact Dr. Suzan Schafer, Division of Continuing Education, Box 4110, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409, (806) 742-2354.

The student from the Haskell area participating in the program is Holli High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle High, of Route 1.

Caution Urged In Storage

Many people store medicine in the bathroom. They shouldn't.

That warning comes from the Texas Medical Association, which cites two reasons why:

--The bathroom cabinet generally is above the sink, making the medicine more accessible to children.

--A bathroom's dampness can cause some drugs to deteriorate.

A better place for medicine is a high shelf in a hall or bedroom. Some experts suggest a box that locks, perhaps a tackle box.

Another problem with many medicine chests is that they resemble small drugstores. Overstocking drugs in the home should be avoided. Some products lose their potency or change consistency over a period of time. Buying the "family size" of a product is not a better deal in the long run if it goes bad before being used.

Supplies in a medicine chest should be checked annually. Items to get rid of include tablets that have become crumbly and medicines that have changed color, odor or consistency, or are outdated. That also goes for drug products that no longer have labels.

The medicine should not be thrown into a trash can, where a child could find it. Rather, empty the bottles of medicine into the toilet and flush it. Rinse out the bottles before throwing them away.

Contents of a family's medicine chest depend on the age and health of its members. Here is a general list:

Non-drug products: adhesive bandages of assorted sizes, sterile gauze, cotton, adhesive tape, elastic bandage, blunt-end scissors, tweezers, thermometer, hot-water bottle, heating pad, eye cup, ice bag, dosage spoon and first-aid manual.

Drug items: Aspirin, emetic (causes vomiting), antacid, antiseptic solution, hydrocortisone creams for skin problems, calamine for poison ivy, petroleum jelly, anti-diarrhetic, nonsuppressant cough syrup, decongestant and burn ointment.

WTU Requests Wholesale Rate Change

West Texas Utilities Company filed Monday for a change in wholesale rates for total requirements electric service it supplies to 14 rural electric cooperatives, one municipality and one investor-owned distribution company, and for partial requirements electric service it supplies to two municipally owned electric systems.

Energy Regulatory Commission, WTU proposed rates which will produce about $2.1 million in additional revenue for the Company during the 1983 calendar year. This amounts to an increase of approximately three per cent from these wholesale customers.

WTU requested that the new rates become effective January 1, 1983. Present total requirements rates have been in effect since February, 1982, and the partial requirements rates have been in effect since 1977. Except for the rate level, no other major changes were proposed.

WTU officials said the rate change is needed to bring the Company's revenues from wholesale customers to a level equal to the cost of providing service.

Stamford Electric Coop will be affected by the change.

All-Risk Ins. Deadline Approaching

Wheat growers interested in All-Risk insurance for their 1983 crops should contact their insurance agent as soon as possible, according to F.W. "Ted Crouch, Jr., All-Risk Insurance Field Operations Director.

Although the deadline to obtain wheat insurance isn't until September 15, Crouch suggests three reasons why growers should begin making their plans now. First, early consideration will provide additional time to develop a program of insurance coverage that best meets the individual policy-holder's needs.

Secondly, it can be useful to farmers to have their insurance arranged before they visit with their lenders about production loans. Insurance helps to minimize the uncertainty involved in the year-ahead cash flow projections that many lenders today require.

Third, an early application allows additional time for growers to verify yield records that may enable them to qualify for increased insurance protection.

Crouch points out that the expanded and revised wheat insurance program now in effect provides a variety of ways for producers to tailor their coverage to their needs for insurance protection and to their budgets. For example, policies offer a choice of production guarantees as well as a choice of indemnity payments for each bushel of loss.

The ASCS county office has a list of local private agents who are handling the federally-backed insurance policies.

The Consumer Alert

by Mark White
Attorney General

AUSTIN—Moving? The moving industry has become specialized recently. There are interstate movers regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission and carriers who move anywhere within the state. They must be certified by the Texas Railroad Commission.

There also are movers who restrict themselves to relatively small geographical areas within Texas. These firms may move goods only within the boundaries of a single incorporated city or may operate only between two incorporated cities whose boundaries are contiguous. Others work only on moves from an incorporated city to adjacent unincorporated areas. Some of these companies move only certain kinds of property like household goods or office furnishings. Texas consumers should be cautious in choosing a mover since some companies are not regulated by any government agency.

The Interstate Commerce Commission requires movers subject to its authority to make certain disclosures to customers, to assume liability for goods transported, and to comply with specific regulations on packing materials and procedures. Movers certified by the Railroad Commission must be bonded, must comply with Commission regulations on maximum and minimum charges, and must carry insurance.

Some unregulated companies do not provide proper insurance. Often liability limits are grossly inadequate. The limitation is usually buried in a complicated contract and is not pointed out to the consumer in advance. Failure to inquire into just how much insurance is provided can be a costly mistake.

Inept handling by workers who are unskilled is a frequent source of damage to valuable goods. Often unregulated companies hire transient workers who then ask customers to pay for extra services the company does not provide.

Another thing to watch out for is deceptive pricing techniques. A very low price—what seems like an obvious bargain—may be advertised. Once the customer responds to the ad they discover that certain special conditions must be met to get the advertised price, the mover may make additional charges for moving certain items, or the advertised price may be in effect only on certain days.

Consumers can protect themselves by taking the following steps:

1. Check the company's record by calling your city's consumer complaints department or the Better Business Bureau.

2. Ask the company if it is bonded and if it provides inurance. Check on the kind and amount of insurance coverage and ask if additional coverage is available if you are not satisfied with that which is provided with your contract.

3. Ask about who will actually do the moving, including how long employed and employment background.

4. Check into all conditions which may be attached to special or bargain prices.

5. Make sure of what services are provided automatically and what you may be charged extra for.

6. Read the contract, ask about what you don't understand, and don't sign until you are satisfied.

If you have questions about whether a specialized mover is regulated, call your local Department of Public Safety or the Transportation Division of the Texas Railroad Commission. For aid with consumer problems involving movers, contact the Consumer Protection Division office nearest you.

New Texas Film Now Available

"A celebration of scenery" is the way travel writers describe the state's newest travel film, "Texas! Live the Legend."

Previewed in an hour-long version to a select group a few months ago, the film has been polished and edited to a half-hour format for schools and civic clubs, and is loaned free for the asking from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. "The travel writers are right," said Tom H. Taylor, director of the department's tourism division that produced the motion picture. "All of us find Palo Duro Canyon spectacular," said Taylor, "but wait till you see it from the perspective of a helicopter."

Taylor said that movie viewers will raft through the awesome canyons of Big Bend, climb ramparts of the Guadalupe Mountains in crisp autumn weather, and plunge into the swampy Big Thicket with an authentic Indian guide.

"To be candid about it," said Taylor, "our purpose is to boggle the mind and eye of viewers, and get our tourist business into high gear. Out-of-staters are going to be astonished, and even we Texans tend to forget what our own state has to offer."

The motion picture explores the Texas tropics accented by palms and citrus groves. Landscapes of the majestic Hill Country contrast with the shadowy woodlands of East Texas.

Just to remind viewers where all this variety is really found, the film joins a Texas Longhorn roundup, pays a visit to Judge Roy Bean's saloon, samples a chili cook-off, and takes time for some footwork with a Cotton-Eyed

Joe. National TV and cable network distributors will beam the new Texas spectacular into living rooms throughout the country. For classroom and club showings in Texas, copies may be borrowed from any Highway Department District Office, or by mail from the Texas Film Library, P.O. Box 5064, Austin 78763. Ask for "Texas! Live the Legend," the movie.

Second-Hand Clothing Offers Many Bargains

FROM LOU GILLY
County Extension Agent
Thrift or second-hand clothing stores can mean a 30-50 percent savings on fashion items and family clothing, consumers from throughout the nation are finding.

More consumers in all income groups are shopping at these stores, too. Second-hand clothing outlets are anything from garage and charity sales to "lightly worn" or "little used" designer-label garment sales.

With increasingly better fibers and fabrics being developed, many garments show little wear, although they're deemed no longer useful to the original owner because of changing fashion trends, weight gain or loss, lifestyle patterns or individual preference.

How can you know this system will work for you?

Start by investigating second-hand stores in your local area. Find out store reputation and policies.

Often thrift stores take garments on consignment for a set period of time -- this means they'll keep something for a certain time span and then send it back to the owner if it doesn't sell, so no one garment hangs on the racks until it reaches "old age."

This is a workable system for the consumer who not only wants to buy but who also wants to "trade in" some garments he or she no longer can use.

If at all possible, when purchasing second-hand clothing, try the item on for fit and becomingness. Inspect right and wrong sides for quality workmanship or flaws.

With the economy today, it's now considered "smart" to get the most for your money.

Toys Teach Tots About Environment

Two-and-a-half year-olds are busy learning about living. Speech is developing with a rush.

A 2½-year-old will talk to himself almost constantly as he plays. His experiences are still limited so he talks and plays about what he has seen, heard and experienced, according to Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter.

At this age the child's experiences have largely been centered in and around the home. It is natural and normal then for all children to be interested in dolls (child care) or substitutes (teddy bear or stuffed animal) and their associated doll beds, carriages, etc.

The child is also interested in the delivery trucks and other trucks which operate through the neighborhood. To a child, doll play is perfectly compatible with truck play—the one is not "sissy" for boys nor the other "tomboyish" for girls. Regardless of sex, each child needs toys which reflect his or her total environment so that he or she can practice and learn the associated language and behaviors through play.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development month-by-month. For more information on the social and physical development of children from birth to six years old, write to Growing Child, PO Box 620N, Lafayette, IN 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing. A year's subscription to the newsletter costs $11.95.

Save Energy And Still Maintain Lawn Standards

Texas homeowners can reduce lawn care energy demands without lowering lawn standards.

"While lawns offer many recreational and aesthetic benefits, these may be offset by energy requirements of lawn care," says Dr. Richard Doble, turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Lawn mowing, watering, fertilizing, controlling pests and disposing of leaf clippings are all energy-consuming requirements. In the spring and summer, lawn watering and collecting and disposing of grass clippings place a heavy burden on services provided by cities. Grass clippings often account for more than 30 percent of total trash collections in some cities during this peak season," Doble says.

Several lawn maintenance practices, he says, will help homeowners reduce these energy demands. Reduce fertilizer applications to maintainance levels—2 to 3 pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn per year—to help lower energy demands. (That's 20 pounds of a fertilizer containing 10 percent nitrogen.) By applying only maintenance levels of nitrogen to a lawn, a homeowner can reduce mowing frequency, water use, insect and disease problems, and the volume of grass clippings.

"Excessive fertilization is the single most important factor that creates high energy demands for lawn care," Doble says.

Practices to reduce energy demands of lawns also include returning or composting grass clippings. Use of a mulching mower can be beneficial if grass clippings are not composted, says the specialist.

Also, adopt proper watering practices to save water and energy.

Reduce pesticide use to only essential applications to prevent loss to turf and save energy.

New homeowners should select and plant adapted, low-maintenance turfgrasses to reduce energy demands, Doble advises. Centipedegrass is ideally suited to East Texas, while buffalograss is adapted to much of West and North Texas. Both grasses have low maintenance requirements, yet provide a satisfactory turf cover for lawns.

Grounds covers such as Asiatic jasmine, English ivy or Liriope can reduce maintenance requirements effectively in some situations without sacrificing the benefits of a plant cover. In heavily shaded areas and on steep slopes, use these ground covers in place of grasses, Doble suggests.

"It's possible to enjoy the luxury of an attractive lawn and landscape without excessive energy requirements. In fact, the net energy balance for a lawn can be in favor of energy conservation," Doble says.

The Experienced Citizens Center has placed its emphasis this month on program planning for the new months ahead.

Program planning and the activities are a great part of the center. This is what separates it from other sources of 'just places' to eat. The Programs that help those in need, offer not only nutrition food but food for the spirit and soul. The fellowship and the sharing of life that nothing else can replace.

WCTCOG of Abilene gave a workshop July 15 on programming for the centers. Many new ideas were offered in educational, entertainment, things to do, classes to benefit individuals such as crime prevention or protection and many others.

A survey was passed out to find out which of these were the most wanted. The new monthly calendars have been made out accordingly. Everyone is looking forward to many rewarding months ahead.

The Volunteer $500 Club will begin August 2nd. This new program will have three teams made up of volunteers. Colors of Red, Yellow, and Green are used as team names. Estelle Burson, Volunteer Co-ordinator, is in charge of the teams.

Volunteers that work at the center are donating $3.35 an hour of their time. The team that has pooled $500 worth of volunteer hours are winners.

A special treat will be given to the winners by the losers. Team captains for Monday, Red Team are Eula Mae Herren and Iva Lee Gibson. Wednesday, Yellow Team are Alma Merchant and Mildred Roberson. Friday, Green Team are Olivia Leonard and Elaine Blohm.

Everyone is very excited over the new program and are preparing to be ready to begin Monday August 2.

The Teams are open to new Volunteer for delivering home meals. Serving at the Center or perhaps you have a program you'd like to give. The captains will be delighted to work with you or Viola Tidwell, Program Co-ordinator at the Center.

Each month since our Banquet, April 30, a volunteer has been recognized to express the appreciation to the ones who serve. Without volunteers the ECC could not open to as many as we do.

"I love what I'm doing at the Center. It makes me feel needed. I enjoy the people. I know most of all of them. It fills my day to come. I hate missing a day," said Mrs. Lena Dummam Dendy.

"I was borned January 30, 1912 in Gunter. I lived there a short time. My mother, Mary Ludie Cox, died there when I was very small. Leaving myself and three brothers, Bill of Rule, Clifford and JB of Haskell. We moved in with my grandparents, my mother's parents and lived with them until my dad remarried.

"My dad, Charlie Allen 'C.A.' Dummam lived Fay Johnson. We lived several different places a short time in Oklahoma but moved back to Texas. Lived a short time at Tioga where my grandparents lived. Then moved to a farm close to Whitesboro. We went to a country school called Center.

"My step-mother was very good to us and we loved her very much. I have three half brothers and had four half sisters which we don't think as half brothers or sisters but our very own. They are the late Juanita Sturdy, Estella Breeden and Wanda Ham. Alfion, Wayne and Raymond. "My dad took the fever to middle of game time the fashion show began.

Everyone was to wear something polka dot. Prizes of Polka Dot ballpoint pens were given to each winner. Viola Tidwell won the prize for the smallest dot, Marie Bartley, who made her own costume, won for the largest dot, Hazel Almon of Rule won for the loudest color. Lowrance won for the largest tie and Jess Leonard won for the craziest dress of a big red and white dot tie and a ladies wig. Estelle Burson and Cooter Boles were judges. Everyone loved it.

Game Night is held on the 4th Friday night of the month.

GTE Late Charge To Be Effective Aug. 4

General Telephone business customers who do not pay their telephone bills on time will be charged a late charge fee on past due amounts effective Aug. 4.

The charge will apply only to business customers in accordance with Public Utility Commission of Texas rules.

The fee will be equal to 5 percent of the delinquent amount. The late charge will apply if the bill is not paid by the due date shown on the bill.

Willis C. Wells, general manager - Mid-Texas Division Operations for General, said the late pay charge is designed to place the costs associated with collecting past due business account bills on those customers causing the costs.

"It is not fair to customers who pay their bills on time to have to pay higher monthly local basic rates because of customers who do not pay on time," Wells said.

"Another advantage will be to reduce the amount of uncollectible bills since those business customers who will pay their bills will now have an incentive to pay it before the late charge is assessed. We will be in a better position to determine the bills that may never be collected and take action sooner to reduce losses," Wells said.

"Our late charge policy serves to protect customers since uncollected bills and the related costs are an expense item paid by all customers. By keeping uncollectible bills as low as possible, we can help keep local basic rates lower than they would be otherwise," Wells said.

Wheat Program Critized

Texas Farmers Union President Mike Moeller said today the proposed 1983 wheat set-aside program proposed by the Reagan Administration "is telling the cancer patient to take two aspirin to cure the disease." Moeller said that while the disaster payments to producers who have been hard hit by natural disasters will be beneficial, "it is only temporary relief. It treats the symptoms of low prices but provides no actual cure for the economic depression of the farm sector."

Under the terms announced by Secretary of Agriculture John Block on July 14, wheat farmers who sign up for a voluntary 20 percent set-aside will be eligible for half their 1983 deficiency payment, estimated at $0.25 per bushel.

In Texas, 60 counties are currently eligible to receive disaster payments as a result of the administration's decision on July 15 to declare the Texas Panhandle and South Plains a disaster area. Hail, high winds, flooding and cold weather have resulted in a loss between 50 to 100 percent of the cotton, wheat and feed grain crops in these areas plus other counties in New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Concerning the proposed wheat set-aside program, Moeller said "the USDA is telling the nation as well as farmers that their farm programs are not working." Those estimates by the USDA translate into an average 1983 wheat price of $3.80, far below current costs of production. The most recent figures indicated the parity level for wheat was $7.30 per bushel (USDA-June, 1982).

"For the fourth year in a row, farmers are being told they are going to lose money on their wheat crop as well as on other commodities," Moeller stated. "Instead of having a good farm program which provides incentives to producers, we are going to see another year of low commodity prices, continued high interest rates and escalating production costs. Disaster payments were definitely needed this year, but what is really needed is a legitimate farm program," the TFU President said.

The TFU and the bipartisan Farm crisis Group in Congress are supporting a mandatory set-aside with paid diversions following approval in a nationwide referendum. This would reduce the existing large surpluses while helping to drive up prices on commodities. According to the Congressional Budget Office, such a plan would actually save the government over $900 million over the next four years.

Regarding the disaster payments of $400 million in Texas, Moeller said "it will be a shot in the arm for hard pressed cotton, wheat and feed grain farmers who have suffered from these natural disasters. Conditions are so bad financially for some producers that they are trying to jump out of the basement window."

Unless major changes are made in the farm program this year to reduce surpluses and increase the prices farmers receive for their crops, "we are going to see a record number of family farmers forced into bankruptcy or simply out of business," Moeller stated.

New Pastor Accepts Call At Sweethome Baptist

Johnny and Pam Funderburg, Jr. accepted the call of Sweethome Baptist Church of Rule, July 25, by unanimous vote in special call meeting.

Their first Sunday as pastor and wife began this Sunday August 1. Sweethome is very proud of their new Pastor and his wife.

Johnny Funderburg, Jr. was born in Breckenridge, Texas, June 26, 1960. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Funderburg, Sr., he has a brother Mike, twenty, who plays football and attends ACU in Abilene, and a sister Melissa, eleven, of Breckenridge. The highlight of Johnny's first day was to baptize his brother Mike in the evening services with all his family present. Mike had waited for his brother to find his church.

"I graduated from high school in 1978 and attended one year at Midwestern in Wichita Falls while I played baseball. Then I went to Ranger Jr. College to play ball and before practice began I broke my thumb. This prevented my starting ball. It was during this time I felt the Lord calling me. I was deeply involved with my church and the things going on there." said Johnny Funderburg. "So I attended Hardin-Simmons and graduated this July."

"It was in my sophomore year at HSU we met. We became engaged the next June," said Pam.

Pam Tisdale Funderburg was born at Clark Air Force base in the Philippine Islands on March 17, 1961. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tisdale, have worked as missionaries in the Philippines for over twenty years. Pam lived the first eight years of her life in Tarloc, a small village on the islands.

Her father and mother moved to Dallas where he was pastor of the Casa View Baptist Church for nine years. After Pam's graduation from high school they returned to the Philippines. The Tisdales are home on furlough in Dallas now.

"The Philippines are a nice place to live and the people are very friendly and courteous. I enjoyed my mother and dad's work. I believe very strongly in the missionary work, although I feel Dallas is my home. I have all my friends there and my two brothers. I have a sister in Austin."

Pam Funderburg gives speaking engagements on the missionary work of the Philippines with the showing of films of these islands and the work being done there.

"Pam wanted me to see the place she was born, the church her dad started and the place she was baptized, and the home of her mother and father and their work," said Johnny. Our area has 28 chapters and 575 members, making us the largest area in the state. We are continually growing due to the dedication of our members. We have 4 new chapters this year.

"It was very lovely," smiled Pam. "We had a tropical wedding with orchids and we were married in Manila. I was different."

The new Funderburg Jrs. then flew back to Breckenridge for a celebration of their wedding. They repeated the vows they had written for their wedding. They made their home in Abilene until Johnny finished school and graduated in July.

"I'm very proud of Johnny and his work. Coming to Sweethome is a brand new step for him in following the Lord's work. We intend to follow the Lord wherever He takes us," said Pam.

"The families are my primary goal. To meet the need of those in need. The children, young people, married ones and whatever their problems if I can help. I'm very family oriented and feel the church is one big family. The Family of God."

The railroad was completed. Frontier life was gone."

Many Vets Eligible For VA Hospital Care

A number of honorably discharged veterans appear to have formed the opinion that they cannot be admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital for needed medical care, and such decisions have been made without having personally applied for such care. According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, some of these veterans are financially unable to pay for the needed care in civilian hospitals.

Under current laws, the following persons are eligible for admission to Veterans Administration Hospitals when such care is needed:

(a) Any honorably discharged veteran for a service-connected disability; or for a nonservice-connected condition if veteran is unable to pay for his needed care;

(b) A veteran who was discharged from military service because of a service incurred disability;

(c) A veteran who is in receipt of service-connected compensation from the VA, or would be in receipt except for receipt of retirement pay;

(d) A veteran who is a former prisoner of war;

(e) A Vietnam veteran who may have been exposed to dioxin or other toxic substance while in service;

(f) Any veteran for a nonservice-connected condition if he is 65 years of age or older.

Any honorably discharged veteran who meets any one of these requirements, and who is in need of hospital or surgical care, may apply directly to the nearest Veterans Administration hospital for admission. Application may be made by appearing at the hospital, where an examination will be made to determine the need for hospital care.

Surprise Birthday Party Honors Roy Overton

Roy Alonzo Overton, of the Paint Creek community, was honored with a surprise birthday party Wednesday night, August 4th, in the farm home of his son, Allen D. Overton.

Mr. Overton and his twin brother, Ray Robert, were born August 4, 1898, in Johnson County at the family home near Burleson. His parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Wallar Head Overton, farmed and ranched in and around Burleson, and his father also built and managed cotton gins at Cleburne, Itasca, and Burleson. The family, along with a younger brother, M.E. (Gene), moved to the Post community seven miles southeast of Haskell in 1917, where his father farmed and ranched and for many years managed the Farmers' Coop Gin No. 1 in Haskell. His brother, M.E. (Gene) Overton and his wife now live in the original Overton family home, south of Haskell, which his father built in 1919.

Mr. Overton and Margaret Kuenstler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. August Kuenstler of Paint Creek, were married in Haskell on December 15, 1919. The couple began their married life in a small home West of the now existing Hwy. 277, and farmed on land they rented south of Haskell, from the late R.N. Warren. The Overtons rented and purchased farm land through the years, and built and moved into their new home on the Paint Creek Road in 1949. Mr. Overton still maintains his residence at this address.

The Overtons celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary in 1969 with a family party with his twin brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. Overton, Sr., at the Ray Overton's home in Haskell. Mr. Overton retired from farming in 1964.

In 1970 Mr. Overton was recognized by the Independent Order of Odd Fellow's, Haskell Lodge No. 525, IOOF, for his 50 years of service to the organization. The District Deputy Grand Master of the 91st Masonic District, Grand Lodge of Texas, presented him with his 50 year pin in 1970.

The Overtons had three children, R. Irvin Overton, who is a surveyor for the Texas Highway Department at Stamford and lives in the Ericksdahl community; Allen

D. Overton, who is a farmer south of Haskell near the original Overton home place, and Mrs. James Merle (Stickey) (Dorothy Jean) Raughton, who is an elementary teacher at Haskell Elementary School and lives on the Paint Creek Road; seven grandchildren, Kay Overton, who died in 1967, Dwight I. Overton, of Lubbock, Jean Ann Raughton, of Paint Creek, Mrs. Alan (Marcia) Carmichael, of Lubbock, Mrs. Nelson (Janie) Coulter, of Rankin, Mrs. David (Jo) Hajek, of Seymour, and Jim Raughton and Jana Overton, both of Haskell; and four great-grandchildren, Dustin Hajek of Seymour, Summer Lynn and McKenzie Coulter, both of Rankin, and Amber Raughton of Haskell.

Mr. Overton still drives his car to Haskell for his favorite pastime of playing dominoes, and can often be seen at the Paint Creek Lake engaging in another of his favorite hobbies, fishing. He is an active member of the Paint Creek Methodist Church.

Visitors at the celebration were from Haskell, Paint Creek, Ericksdahl, Allen, Rule and Idalou.
