PRESS CONFERENCE

Trammell Bit & Spur To Relocate, Expand

The Haskell Industrial Foundation, Bob Herren, President, has leased the building formerly occupied by Herman Marcus Manufacturing Company to Trammell Bit and Spur Company of Haskell and Potts Longhorn Leather Company of Dallas.

With twenty-four employees currently associated with the local company, this expansion will eventually result in the employment of approximately seventy-five persons, according to Bob Brandon, manager for the Haskell plant.

Joining Brandon in Haskell last Thursday to sign the lease were William S. Potts, owner; Bill Hanning, associate, and Doug Loesch, plant coordinator from Potts Longhorn Leather Company of Dallas.

Officers and directors of the Industrial Foundation are: Bob Herren, R.C. Couch, Jr., Darrell Roberson, Royce Adkins, Don Comedy, J.B. Gipson, Elbert Johnson, Wilda Medford, Jack McAdoo, Pat Hale, and Doyle High.

Trammell Bit and Spur Co. is currently located at 501 North 1st in Haskell.

Brandon says his company plans to be in operation in the new location in about thirty days. He said that the Dallas firm made their choice because of the work of the Industrial Foundation, their ability to lease the available building and the employment opportunities they foresee.

"There is a better work force for their needs", Brandon added.

Trammell Bit and Spur Company manufactures a line of very high quality hand-made bridle bits for horses, fabricated from stainless steel. They are finished and marketed from here. These are sold to every major distributor in the United States and Canada, and some are exported to Australia and Germany. A national sales force calls on these accounts.

"We are now going back into the production of spurs and are building a handmade spur cut out of one piece of solid iron. Most spurs are made from about four different laminated and welded parts", Brandon explained.

Also on hand to greet the Dallas businessmen were Tom Watson, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce and Wanda Dulaney, Chamber manager. Abe Turner is chairman of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce Industrial and Professional Development Committee as well as a member of the Industrial Foundation.

"On behalf of the Board and Membership of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, we are very pleased about this transaction and feel that such an expansion will be a great asset to our community", Watson said.

Speaking on behalf of the Industrial Foundation, Bob Herren stated "We are real happy to have made this deal with Bob Brandon and Potts Longhorn Leather Company and hope that this will be a long and lasting relationship with these companies and the Industrial Foundation."

Rule Changes Confuse Geilhausen Tennis Issue

A week ago the issue of Robert Geilhausen competing in State UIL tennis competition seemed clearcut. He would not.

Now, after the State UIL Executive Committee overturned a regional rule change and two class action suits have been filed in court, the issue has become much more confusing.

The original change came last year when Regional UIL officials introduced a rule which would change tennis competition to double elimination instead of single as in the past. The change was submitted to a vote and Haskell as well as several other schools voted against the change. A majority of schools in the region favored the change and it was adopted.

At the Regional Tournament, Geilhausen was defeated in the double elimination tournament, but under State UIL rules would have finished in second place and advanced to State.

Following the Regional Tennis Meet, two schools, Marfa and a five A school lodged protest concerning the change.

Late Tuesday afternoon, a State UIL committee overturned the regional rule change and notified Haskell school officials that Geilhausen would be included in the State meet.

Wednesday morning Haskell

High School Principal Clayton Neal told the Free Press the issue was still undecided since two suits had been filed in court and the outcome of the suits could have a bearing on the issue.

According to Neal, following the ruling of the judges in Lubbock and Amarillo, the State UIL Committee will again meet. He said that current plans were for Geilhausen to leave Haskell Thursday morning and begin play Friday morning at 11 a.m.

Neal added that Haskell has not lodged a protest and is not involved in any of the class action suits.

STATE QUALIFIER

Haskell High School track will be represented this weekend in Austin at the State Track Meet by Todd Harris in the pole vault. Harris finished second in the Regional Track Meet in Lubbock last weekend to earn a berth to the State Meet.

Soil Stewardship Week Underway

The Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District has announced they will join in the national observance of Soil Stewardship Week to take place on May 8-15, 1983, according to an announcement by R.V. Earles, chairman of the district.

The theme of this year's observance is "Living Waters." This focus is especially appropriate as each one of us is dependent on, water and related resources. Together we must work for the good of all to utilize, conserve and properly manage those resources in our care. Participation in Soil Stewardship Week activities offers an opportunity to reflect on the nation's natural renewable resource problems and consider actions to resolve them or reduce their impact.

The Haskell SWCD was organized in 1977 for the purpose of offering farmers, ranchers, and the local community a voluntary conservation technical assistance program through which individuals could seek and request conservation assistance to meet their individual land's capabilities and needs.

"Basically it is the district's responsibility to provide technical assistance when requested relative to proper soil use and treatment, erosion control practices, solve drainage problems and assist farmers and ranchers with crop, range and pastureland management," said R.V. Earles.

The National Association of Conservation Districts has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week in the United States since 1955, in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. Informative material on the Soil Stewardship Week theme each year is distributed through local conservation districts to clergymen, lay leaders, civic and educational organizations and to individuals interested in participating in the celebration.

Information and materials for the 1983 observance of Soil Stewardship Week can be obtained in this area from Soil Conservation Service, Haskell.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

Members of the Haskell Fire Department responded to an alarm at Home Furniture about 1 a.m. Tuesday. Almost all inventory in the building was severely damaged or totally destroyed. Damage to the structure has not been estimated awaiting insurance adjusters. Billy Marr, manager, estimated that the store usually has about $200,000.00 in inventory but because of the introduction of Xerox products and a special promotion, it will be some time before an accurate estimate will be available. According to Jim Sampson, owner of White's Auto Store, next door to Home Furniture, he received minor smoke damage in his building but no fire or water damage. Sampson, Marr and Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Chapman, owners of the building occupied by Home Furniture, were all complimentary of the Fire Department for the outstanding job in controlling the fire.

Brush and Palette

There is a remarkable difference in color and structure to be seen in almost any landscape, depending on whether we look at it towards the sun, or away from it. The entire aspect of the scenery changes! Make use of a mirror in order to view the scene in two directions simultaneously.

A field of corn, a meadow, a field of bluebonnets are yellow-green toward the sun, but away from it they are bluish. Look at one little leaf in particular. Pick it, and hold it towards the sun and then away from the sun. In the former case, you will see chiefly light falling through the leaf, in the latter case, light reflected by its surface. The colors and lights are sometimes influenced by the direction of the wind.

The waves in a field of ripe wheat are chiefly caused by the changing aspect of the ears. Suppose that the wind is blowing towards the sun: facing the sun, we see practically only bright light waves; these arise when the ears bend in such a way as to cast shadows on those near to them. These changes appear with every direction of wind and with the altitude of the sun.

Fruit trees in full bloom are white only when seen away from the sun. Seen towards the sun, the blossoms stand out black against the sky.

Similarly the branches and twigs of trees are grey and brown seen away from the sun; black and without detail when seen towards the sun.

A brick-paved road is brown-red towards the sun, white-grey away from the sun. A gravel road is white-grey towards the sun and brown-grey away from the sun.

An uneven road, covered with snow, seen towards the sun, looks, as a whole, darker than the smooth snow at the side; away from the sun it is the other way round.

These and many other instances give altogether an inexhaustible opportunity for observation. Always try to find the explanation by first observing things as a whole and then individually.

Study color, how does humidity affect color? Become knowledgeable as to your surroundings, what happens when a color is juxtaposed a red rose, a green meadow?

HINT: Gustave Moreau told his pupil Matisse, "The mannerisms of a style can turn against it after a while, and then the picture's qualities must be strong enough to prevent failure."

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Brownie/Dad Overnights Awarded For Cookie Sales

The West Texas Girl Scout Council has announced that Camp Boothe Oaks, Sweetwater, will be the site of three Brownie/Dad Overnights. The Brownie/Dad Overnights are an annual camping event held for first and second grade Brownies who sell seven or more cases of Girl Scout cookies during the West Texas Girl Scout Council Cookie Sale.

The Brownie/Dad Overnights began as an incentive award in 1974 when thirty-two Brownies and their Dads took advantage of this camping opportunity. Since the inception of the Brownie/Dad Overnight the participation has grown at an astounding rate. This year, 375 Brownies are eligible to attend one of the three overnight sessions. A Brownie may bring another guest if her Dad is unable to attend for any reason. The three events are scheduled for May 20-21, June 3-4, and June 24-25, 1983.

During each of the events, the Brownies will be "buddies" with their Dads for the weekend. The Brownies will spend the night in platform tent units. The events will be staffed by Camp Committee members, Camp Boothe Oaks counselors and West Texas Council staff. With their guidance, the Brownie/Dad pairs will participate in flag ceremonies, nature hikes, arts and crafts, a cookout, archery, swimming, volleyball, and canoeing on Lake Trammell. Brownies from Haskell who have been awarded Brownie/Dad Overnights are: Andrea Bridwell, Treci Burson, Tanya Dunnam, Anita Gonzales, Stephanie Green, Tamera Hawkins, Lora Headstream, Tommi Lin Clay, Lynn Newberry, Heather Stewart.

Families Must Provide Support For Dieters

Some of the biggest obstacles that moderately obese people face in their quest for slimmness may sit across the family dining table, according to a Baylor College of Medicine weight control expert.

The success of any diet depends not only on a motivation of the obese person, but also on realistically evaluating the environment, said John P. Foreyt, Ph.D., associate professor of medicine and psychiatry. That includes the level of social support from a spouse, family, friends and co-workers.

The family that chides an obese person about his weight and then brings home high calorie foods or demands fattening dishes for dinner isn't helping for a reason.

"Families are the single greatest saboteurs of obese people," Foreyt said. "You are going to have to face the fact there may be people out there who want you to be the way you are. They may have a need for you to be obese."

Foreyt said that, for example, a husband may feel comfortable if his wife is fat; there is no threat that she will be attractive to someone else. Also, a husband may feel there is no need to look good himself if he feels his wife will always be there.

Foreyt said if there is a lack of support at home, an individual must recognize that the odds of losing weight are stacked against success. The next step is to try to get the family's support and get them involved.

"If they are not going to help you, you have to learn to deal with it without them," he said. You then have to weigh the benefits of losing weight against the problems it may cause at home. The first step toward change is understanding the barriers of change."

Foreyt said families should be complimentary and supportive, understanding of the psychological hell the obese person is going through.

"Dieting is extremely stressful and it causes all kinds of negative feelings," he said. "That person will tend to take it out on the family around them. The supportive family must understand the behavior is temporary, caused by the stress of dieting."

Understanding is also required from family and friends for the person who overcomes the odds and is successful in losing a significant amount of weight and keeping it off, perhaps for the first time.

"When people do succeed, they are different people and they need to be different people," Foreyt explained. "The spouse and family has to come to grips with the fact they are now living with a different person. That's often difficult for a family to do, because they have their habits too. Those habits need to change, just like the obese person's have changed. If that does not happen, often there is severe disruption within the family that will require professional help."

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

Each year I try to devote a column to the graduating seniors. As the school ebbs to its final conclusion, the climatic ending is graduation. As this year's seniors put the finishing touches on their high school careers, a moment of reflection seems to be in order.

The Senior Class of 1983 has seen many glorious moments and few down moments. This group of energetic young citizens has participated and contributed mightily to success in all co-curricular activities of HHS since entering high school. Seventeen of the boys were on the district winning football team and four on the district winning basketball team. Three seniors were keys to the successful tennis team and three seniors sparked the golf team. All five of the starters in girls basketball will be lost via graduation as well as many of the points scored by the girls district winning track team. Many leaders in the band, FFA, FHA, newspaper, annual staff, etc. will move out of the halls of HHS and on to the ranks of alumni. However, before one would begin to think that this group was only interested in co-curricular activities, one must examine their academic successes.

From the ranks of the Class of 83 come prospective engineers, dentists, architects, teachers and even a couple of prospective coaches. The thrilling truth to these ambitions for a school teacher is that the academic successes of the 1983 Seniors allows us to predict success as a fulfillment of the majority of these ambitions. Many of these seniors are fine scholars.

The Seniors of 1983 have given good leadership to the rest of the student body with their spirit, their academic abilities, their ability to set goals and reach them, and their ability to establish worthwhile priorities in their life and school career.

However, the most important thing that can be said about this year's class is that they are nice kids. I have often said that the school year of 1982-83 may be the best year of my twenty-four year career. Much of this pleasure is due to the friendly, co-operative nature of the Seniors of 1983. These young men and women started the year determined to leave their pleasant mark in the annuals of HHS and, I believe, have succeeded. It will be with great pride that I look upon this group on May 20, graduation night. To call the roll of names as President of the School Board, Jerry Hannsz, presents the diplomas will be a task I assume with great pleasure and sense of pride in their achievements. However, one in the professional status of teachers cannot but help feeling a sense of loss as he or she passes on this fine group of young people to other pursuits in life beyond high school. Congratulations, Seniors of 1983! Good luck in your future endeavors! You will be missed in HHS!

Texas homeowners can now select a new, semi-dwarf variety of St. Augustine grass for their lawns. The new St. Augustine grass is called "Seville," says Dr. Richard Duple, turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. It is a patented variety of St. Augustine grass produced by Pursley Turf Farms of Palmetto, Fla., and is sold through Texas nurseries and garden centers as rooted plugs in plastic trays. "Seville is resistant to St. Augustine Decline virus, moderately shade tolerant, medium textured and as cold tolerant as other St. Augustine lawns each year." Seville's semi-dwarf charac-

HIGH SCHOOL CHEERLEADERS

New St. Augustine Grass Variety Available

ter makes it one of the best looking varieties of St. Augustine, says Duple. However, the grass develops a dense turf that is subject to heavy thatch accumulation. This can be prevented with weekly mowing at a height of 1-1/2 inches and avoiding excessive nitrogen fertilization. The specialist recommends no more than 3 to 4 pounds of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet per year. With weekly mowing, grass clippings need not be removed.

"Seville also is more susceptible to Downy mildew, a fungus disease that can severely discolor and stunt St. Augustine grass," notes Duple. "Downy mildew has severely thinned stands of St. Augustine grass in many Texas lawns." Seville, like other St. Augustine grasses, is susceptible to iron chlorosis, a problem which can be corrected temporarily with several applications of iron sulfate or iron chelate.

Dear Mr. Comedy: Congratulations are in order for Gov. Mark White, Sen. Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Rep. Fred Agnich for their successful efforts in passage of the Texas Wildlife Conservation Act of 1983.

Not to be forgotten is Texans for Wildlife Conservation, whose members include the more than 800 sportsmen's clubs in Texas. The group was formed to promote passage of the act, which would not have been possible without their devotion and sacrifice of time and energy.

The act gives the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department statewide authority for wildlife management and eliminates locally specialized wildlife laws previously in effect in 116 Texas counties. The Texas Wildlife Conservation Act at last enables the Parks and Wildlife Department to manage our state's wildlife resources on a scientific basis statewide.

In my opinion, it is the most far reaching wildlife conservation legislation ever passed in the state.

Generations to come of outdoor enthusiasts and sportsmen truly owe Governor White, Senator Lyon, Representative Agnich and Texans for Wildlife Conservation a debt of thanks.

Sincerely,
Vice Chairman,
Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission

FORD TRACTOR ANNOUNCES

8 3/4% ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE

Five-year Lease/Purchase Plan!

Now, Ford Tractor brings you the benefits of leasing—at a new low rate.

Qualified lessees can lease any Ford farm tractor over 30 horsepower from DEKALB Equipment Leasing Corporation at lease rates computed using a low 8 3/4% ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE. Plus get a fixed price purchase option at the end of the lease. Related implements also qualify when leased with eligible Ford farm tractors.

If you want a tractor to use rather than to own, this new plan offered by Ford Tractor through DEKALB Equipment Leasing Corporation offers several potential important advantages:

- The 15% or 20% security deposit may be less than normal down payment requirements and will be returned at lease-end.
- There is no obligation, and no re-sale worry, at lease-end.
- Cash payments may be lower than those of an installment purchase contract.

CHOOSE YOUR TERMS!

Leases may be written for three-, four- or five-year terms. Payments may be made annually, semi-annually or monthly. At the end of the lease period, you have two options. You can turn the tractor back in and DEKALB will return your original security deposit. Or you may purchase the tractor at a price agreed upon when the lease was initiated. We'll be happy to explain the advantages this new lease plan may offer you. Stop in soon!

Example of a lease-purchase transaction, not necessarily for a particular Ford tractor or for your particular transaction:

Cash price: .....	$35,000
Refundable deposit/trade-in: ..	7,000
Five annual end-of-year payments: .....	7,740
Total cost of five-year lease (after refund of deposit): ....	38,700
Additional cost to purchase tractor at end of lease: .....	3,500
Total cost of lease and purchase: .....	$42,200

"Mild" High Blood Pressure Could Be Dangerous

Blood pressures at the low end of "high" blood pressure (90 to 104 mm Hg diastolic) are often called "mild". Yet pressure in this range, if untreated, can still result in the complications associated with high blood pressure: heart disease, kidney disease, and stroke. In fact the risk of many heart problems and early death for people with so-called mild high blood pressure is more than twice that for those with readings below 90 mm Hg.

Fortunately, however, recent studies show that treatment can make a big difference in reducing early death and illness for people in this group. It can also prevent pressures in this range from going to even higher levels where a patient's chances of developing serious complications are even greater. One study, the National Heart, Lung, and Blood Institute's Hypertension Detection and Follow-Up Program (HDFP), recently reported specifically on the effects of treatment on stroke. "Mild" high blood pressure patients treated systematically in special HDFP centers had 31.8 percent fewer fatal and nonfatal strokes than others in the program who received routine care in their communities. Other studies, such as the Australian National Blood Pressure Study and the U.S. Public Health Service Study of Mild Hypertension also show major benefits for treating levels characterized as "mild".

Treatment for pressure in this category often involves dietary changes such as losing weight and cutting down on sodium. Drugs may also be prescribed, particularly if patients have a family history of heart problems, high cholesterol levels, diabetes, or other factors that increase their risks of developing complications.

Until the recent studies, most of the medical community had not been treating "mild" high blood pressure, because the benefits of treatment had not been clearly established. In 1980, the Joint National Committee on Detection, Evaluation, and Treatment of High Blood Pressure revised earlier national recommendations to include treating pressures in this range. The committee also suggested a new term for diastolic levels between 90 and 104 mm Hg, stratum I, because they believed that the word mild was an inappropriate way to describe a serious condition. The new recommendations mean that high blood pressure patients, as well as the health professionals who treat them, need to pay careful attention to blood pressure elevations at any level.

For additional information on mild high blood pressure, write: High Blood Pressure Information Center, 120/80 National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, MD 20205.

"Preservation Is Housing America" Is Theme For National Historic Preservation Week

"Preservation is Housing America" has been proclaimed as the theme for National Historic Preservation Week, May 8-14. In Texas, this heritage awareness week is sponsored by the Texas Historical Commission and the National Trust for Historic Preservation.

Some 5,000 preservation and neighborhood groups in the nation will hold events in honor of Preservation Week. Their purpose is to make the public aware of the important contribution historic buildings are making to the prosperity of America's cities and towns, particularly in meeting the critical need for affordable housing.

"Living in old houses makes good sense for everyone. It keeps neighborhoods healthy and supports the tax base of cities. Historic buildings are the anchors of our community," according to Texas Historical Commission Executive Director Curtis Tunnell. The issue of housing was chosen as the theme for the eleventh Preservation Week because new economic realities make preservation and rehabilitation a viable alternative to demolition and new construction, and an economically preferred approach to the demand for housing in this country. Virtually one-third of the country's total housing stock is more than 40 years old—a substantial resource of almost 27 million units.

The Texas Historical Commission, the state agency for historic preservation and sponsor of Preservation Week in Texas, provides a variety of educational and consulting services. The Commission's 18 governor-appointed members oversee a staff of professional historians, archeologists, architects, museologists, and experts in related fields. The THC works closely with some 250 county historical commissions and numerous nonprofit heritage groups across the state. The Commission also is Texas' liaison office with federal agencies on preservation projects.

The National Trust, responsible for Preservation Week across the country, is the only national, private, nonprofit, membership organization dedicated to the preservation of historic buildings, districts, and maritime resources in the country. Chartered by Congress in 1949, the Trust provides technical and advisory services to its member organizations through its Washington headquarters and six regional offices.

For further information about preservation activities in your community, contact your county historical commission, or the Texas Historical Commission, P.O. Box 12276, Austin, Tx. 78711.

The Services of the Texas Industrial Commission will be explained by Industrial Development Consultant Jack Shultz of Austin. Rick Vaughn, Director Community Services, Lone Star Gas Co., Ft. Worth, will emphasize the strength of working as a team, utilities sites, building and zoning, government and taxation. The Chamber is proud to present three such outstanding leaders and grateful for their participation. Gary Vest joined West Texas Utilities Company in 1976 in the Area Development Department where he has worked in the attraction of new industrial customers and for the economic development of the company's service area. He is a graduate of McMurry College with a degree in Business Administration. He completed the Basic Industrial Development Course through Texas A and M University and attended the Economic Development Institute at the University of Oklahoma. He currently serves as a director of the Texas Industrial Development Council and on the industrial steering committee for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Rick Vaughn, Director Community Services-West, joined Lone Star Gas Company in 1978 to help promote and coordinate economic and community development activities throughout his company's service area, and to assist in the area of utility regulation at the state and local levels. Prior to 1978 he served on the City of Ft. Worth's Manager's staff where he helped coordinate community facilities projects within the city of Ft. Worth. His background as a real estate broker and his experience in municipal government combine to give a unique perspective in local economic development. He is an active member of the Texas Industrial Development Council and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Vaughn is a graduate of Texas Tech University, with a degree in Business Administration, and holds a Masters degree in Public Administration from Texas Christian University. John Shultz was a career Army officer for 26 years, serving in the infantry in the U.S. and overseas. Upon retirement in 1972 he was with a consulting firm in the Washington D.C. area, working mostly with Department of Defense projects. vation workshops. In January 1983 he requested to transfer to Industrial Locations and Services and is now a member of the Texas Development Council. This past week the Haskell Chamber of Commerce called a press conference, with Abe Turner presiding, for the announcements to the public by the Haskell Industrial Foundation that they have leased the building formerly occupied by Herman Marcus Manufacturing Company for the expansion of Trammel Bit and Spur Company and Longhorn Leather Company of Dallas. Spokesman included Bob Herren, president of the Haskell Industrial Foundation; William Potts, owner of both companies; Bob Brandon, Administrator, Trammel Bit and Spur Company. Media representatives included: Haskell Free Press, KVRP Haskell, KDWT Stamford, KRBC-TV (Channel 9), KTAB-TV (Channel 10), KTXS-TV (Channel 12) and the Abilene Reporter News.

Making use of the VRJC television-broadcasting studios in the Learning Resource Center club members have been on the air since March 28th. The Broadcasters learn and practice disc jockey skills. Their music choices cover pop/country/and soul, and rock. Students utilize the TV studio capabilities by focusing cameras and projecting images of the college seal, colorful record jackets of the selections being played, and relaying brief camera shots of individual club members as they sit at the turntables, broadcasting. Air time for the programs being projected over the college cable channel 2 station is Tuesday, 4-9 p.m., Wednesday, 4-6 p.m., and Friday, 2-5 p.m. KVVW Vernon provides AP information which is used in a 5 p.m. newscast. Officers for the club are Kevin Lindsay, president, Debbie Ide, vice-president, Carla Kent, secretary, Robert Lewis, treasurer, and J.J. Wallace, reporter-historian. Other members are Matt Davis, April Green, Roger Hardy, Junior Quintero, Wade Reynolds, and Anthony Wooley. Faculty advisors for the organization are Dr. Joe Mills, president of VRJC, and Jeff George, media specialist. Other VRJC student clubs and organizations include Phi Theta Kappa, the national junior college honorary scholastic society; The Drama Club; The Rodeo Association; The Baptist Student Union; Circle K; The Aggie Council; Office Education Association, and numerous other campus organizations. VRJC encourages the founding of any organization that is in keeping with the philosophy and purpose of the College and the interests of the students.

J.J. Wallace, a student at Vernon Regional Junior College and a member of the VRJC BROADCASTERS Club, monitors TV frames before they go out over the airwaves.

Jim Hightower Announces Registration For 1983 Family Land Heritage Program

Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower announced today that registration for the 1983 Family Land Heritage Program will open May 10 and extend through August 16. "Hard times have dogged the farmer constantly," said Hightower, "making it all the more commendable that some families have managed to keep the old home place in production for a century or more."

Program was created by the Texas Department of Agriculture to honor families who own land which has been maintained in agricultural production for 100 years or more by the members of that family. Since 1974, when the program began, 1,558 properties in Texas have qualified for the Family Land Heritage Program. The basic requirements of the program are: Continuous agricultural production on the farm/ranch for 100 years, land ownership within the family, complete operation or supervision of the farm/ranch production by family members who are Texas residents, and a size of at least 10 acres with a minimum of $50 income from farm or ranch products or if less than 10 acres, sales of at least $250 a year. TDA is the final judge of eligibility.

ceremony in the Capitol next November," Hightower said. The honorees will receive a certificate and a copy of the Family Land Heritage Registry. The Registry is a brief history of each farm or ranch and includes old photographs of the families and homes. Those who feel they meet the basic qualifications and wish to apply may obtain an application from their County Judge, County Historical Commission chairman, the nearest TDA district office, or by writing to: Family Land Heritage Program, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, TX 78711.

Hanna Named To Energy Committee

House Speaker Gib Lewis has named State Rep. Joe Hanna, D-Breckenridge, to membership on the Energy Committee of the Southern Legislative Conference.

Rep. Hanna is serving his seventh term as a member of the Texas House of Representatives and is Chairman of the House Energy Committee. "The committees of the Southern Legislative Conference are the policy originating bodies which make recommendations to the full conference affecting the Sunbelt States," Lewis said in announcing the appointments. "In these selections, we have named some of the best committee chairmen and members who reflect the interests and viewpoints of the Texas House committees. They will provide valuable input into the SCL committee process and the policy-making decisions of the conference," he concluded.
