High Winds Rip Through Haskell Area

Straight, steady winds of 60 miles per hour and gusts estimated at 85 miles per hour ripped through Haskell Sunday afternoon and damage estimates are still far from complete.

Over fifteen Haskell businesses lost plate glass windows during the storm and most had some damage to inventory when rain blew into the stores. Several other businesses received damage to roofs and awnings and several reported that high winds had blown air conditioning units from their mounts on rooftops.

Extensive damage occurred to several homes when high winds tore patio covers and roofs loose and flying tree limbs and debris crashed through windows.

Radio station KVRP clocked straight winds at 60 mph and estimated that gusts could have been as high as 85 mph during the height of the storm.

West Texas Utilities reported the loss of service to all Haskell customers for about 25 minutes and for most of the South part of town for about two and one-half hours.

The local three man WTU crew began repairs shortly after 5 p.m. Sunday and completed the major repairs about 7 p.m. Monday, working about 26 hours non-stop. They were assisted at various times by line crews and a distribution crew from Stamford.

Local WTU manager Sue Pate stated that they had about 35 individual cases and that most damage was caused by flying tree limbs and other debris.

Frazier's Appliance and Nine Point Grain received the most extensive damage of local businesses. Frazier's lost most of their windows and an awning in front of the store sagged almost collapsing the front wall. A large tin building at Nine Point Grain was totally destroyed by the wind.

Trussell's Tire Center lost a large awning as did Farm and Ranch Supply.

Businesses which lost windows included: Fouts' Dry Goods, Anderson Tire Co., WTU, The Hayloft, Free Press, Bill Wilson Motor Co., and Jones-Cox.

Most extensive damage to homes was to the roof of the Roger Moeller home and the mobile home of Robert Crain.

Many trees throughout town were either blown down or large limbs were broken. Several residences also received damage to small out-buildings and fences.

Damage estimates to area crops are still incomplete but Glen Brzozowski, local ASCS manager, says that as many as 10,000 acres of cotton could have damaged with possibly as many as 3,000 to 4,000 acres totally destroyed.

Rochester received damage from the same storm and several homes and buildings in the area between Rochester, Haskell and Rule also received damage.

Caution Urged During Holiday

The Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety called on drivers to use extreme caution in traveling the streets and highways in Texas during the July 4th holiday weekend.

Major Vernon Cawthon said, "We realize the added dangers of traveling by motor vehicle during holiday periods and want to help motorists avoid the tragedy and suffering which could mar this otherwise happy occasion."

He pointed out that the DPS will be conducting its holiday "Operation Motorcade." He said, "We will continue to work with the news media to keep motorists posted on unusual traffic conditions and to advise them on where and why serious holiday accidents are occurring."

Cawthon said, "Excessive speed and driving while intoxicated continue as the primary law violations contributing to fatal accidents," and he warned, "DPS troopers have been directed to be especially watchful for motorists exceeding speed limits or under the influence of alcohol."

Cawthon also reminds motorists that many lives could be saved and serious injuries could be reduced during the crowded driving time through greater utilization of seat belts.

He added, "The DPS will place all available troopers on the state's highways during the holiday, and we urge every Texas driver to join in an all-out effort to make the July 4th holiday as safe as possible."

Butter & Cheese Giveaway Set

Members of the Haskell Kiwanis Club will distribute free USDA cheese and butter this Friday beginning at 4 p.m. at the building located behind Jones-Cox and Co.

Commissioners Set Budget Workshop

Members of the Haskell County Commissioner's Court agreed to advertise for bids for the purchase of two dump trucks for Precinct 3 and scheduled their budget workshop for July 11 during their regular meeting Tuesday.

Members of the court also accepted a proposal by County Sheriff G.T. Garrett to allow County jail prisoners to perform work on County roads.

Under the proposal only prisoners serving misdemeanor sentences will be allowed to work and they will be accompanied by a deputy sheriff. Present plans call for the prisoners to clear weeds and grass from the right of way at the intersections of County roads. Prisoners will be given three days credit for each day worked as allowed by law.

In other action commissioners heard an annual report from Haskell Fire Chief Tom Watson concerning the contract between the Fire Department and the County for rural fire protection. Chief Watson also reported on the recent actions of the disaster committee and expressed thanks to commissioners, the Sheriff's Office and Department of Public Safety for their assistance.

Council Increases Rates Outside City Limits

Members of the Haskell City Council approved rate increases for City services outside the City limits Tuesday night in regular session.

The rates for water, sewer and garbage service to customers outside the City limits were all adjusted and will become effective with the August 15 billing.

Water rates were increased from $12.00 for the first three thousand gallons and $2.00 for each thousand gallons thereafter to $15.00 for the first three thousand gallons and $4.00 for each thousand gallons thereafter.

Sewer rates were increased from $2.10 plus 15¢ for each thousand gallons registered on the customers water meter to $4.20 plus 30¢ for each thousand gallons registered on the water meter.

Garbage rates were increased from $6.00 to $8.00 with the City reserving the option to adjust individual cases depending on distance and other factors.

In other action, members of the Council approved the 1983-84 budget, accepted two recommendations of the Zoning Board of adjustment and suspended a decision on a WTU rate increase request.

The 1983-84 budget approved by the Council includes proposed spending in the amount of $938,841.15.

Council members accepted the recommendation of the Zoning Board to change the zoning classification of the Mike Newberry residence allowing a beauty shop to be located in the garage of the residence. Council members also accepted the recommendation of the Zoning Board to deny the request for change in zoning at the Jerry Lowrance residence which would have allowed a restaurant to be built.

Members of the Council also approved plans to install a new sewer line in the Middleton addition to serve an area where several homes are scheduled to be built.

Council members also heard a report of the receipt of $1,274.49 from payment in kind entitlement from the City's wheat crop at the airport.

Retail Trade Committee Meeting Changed

The regular quarterly meeting of the Retail Trade Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been postponed to Wednesday, July 20 at 10 a.m. in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank.

All merchants are urged to attend this meeting to discuss Dollar Days, Sidewalk Sales and to begin Christmas planning.

Boll Weevils Increasing

Boll weevils have been found in high numbers in squaring cotton fields. All fields should be observed very closely when pinhead-size squares begin to appear. If weevils are found, apply insecticide when first squares reach the third grown stage. This is 1/4" in diameter, the same as a pencil eraser. A second application made 3 to 5 days after the first will be needed if boll weevils are still found 3 days after the first treatment.

Pheromone trap catches have been extremely high, so boll weevils are likely to be found. Pinhead to third grown square can occur in one week, so check fields now to prevent future weevil outbreak.

Bar-B-Que

A free bar-b-que will be held July 9, at 6 p.m. at Haskell Nursing Center for the friends and families of residents. All persons planning to attend are asked to contact the Haskell Nursing Center no later than July 6.

FFA Convention Set July 13-15 In San Antonio

Six thousand Texas FFA members and guests are expected to attend the 55th Annual Convention of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, July 13-15, 1983, at the San Antonio Convention Center.

The FFA is composed of students who are studying vocational agriculture in the public schools in preparation for a variety of careers in Agriculture and Agribusiness. Vocational Agriculture is well known for "Educating Through Experience" - a "Learning By Doing" process which uses the FFA to give students experience. The ultimate objective is to produce future leaders for American agriculture with its vital role of producing food and fiber. Texas now has more than 900 FFA chapters with over 60,000 active members and more than 500,000 former members.

During the convention, over 2,000 award winners will be recognized with more than 1,700 members receiving the Lone Star Farmer Degree, the highest level of recognition by the state association. Educational scholarships totaling more than $450,000 will be presented to many of the members in attendance.

Durwin Hill, Executive Secretary, reports that deserving adults who have supported the FFA and its activities will be recognized by the presentation of Honorary State Farmer Degrees, Distinguished Service Awards, and VIP Awards.

Outstanding speakers scheduled during the three-day convention include Michael Broome, nationally renowned speaker and humorist, Charlotte, North Carolina; Grant Teaff, head football coach, Baylor University, Waco; and Jan Eberly, National FFA President, Fallbrook, California.

Randy Brady, state president from Humble, will preside at the general sessions. These sessions will include the election of the 1983-84 state president from the state officer candidates nominated by the 10 area associations. From 10 area nominees, voting delegates will also select the state FFA sweetheart to represent the state association during 1983-

84. Those in attendance will hear and recognize the Outstanding Public Speaker who will represent Texas at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Missouri.

Recreational activities will include the Fun Night and Talent Contest where the delegates will select the Outstanding Talent Team from 10 area nominees.

The Texas FFA Alumni Association will hold its annual meeting on Thursday afternoon along with the State FFA Convention. In addition, the alumni will host a reception for the past state FFA officers and participate in the presentation of its publicity award.

Convention participants will have the opportunity to visit with approximately 60 commercial exhibitors to observe new methods, products, and equipment in the agribusiness industry.

Texas Poultry Sales Shows Decrease In 1982

Texas ranks sixth in the nation in poultry and egg production, bringing in a gross income of $482.7 million to the state, according to 1982 statistics.

That income, however, represents a 9 percent decrease from 1981, mainly because of a 30 percent decrease in turkey production, says Dr. David B. Mellor, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Poultry income fell in the United States by about 4 percent.

Major poultry items included in the Texas statistics are eggs, broilers, turkeys and chickens. Eggs grossed $179 million; broilers, $258 million; turkeys, $40.6 million; and farm chickens, $5 million.

Both egg production and income decreased in Texas in 1982, but Texas is still sixth in the nation in income from egg sales, notes Mellor. There is a trend toward more egg production in some midwestern and eastern states and decreases in southern and western states.

Texas dropped to the eighth state in broiler income last year and fell to eleventh place in turkey production and income. The state had only 3.2 percent of the national gross income from turkeys last year, says Mellor.

Texas eggs sold for an average price of 69 cents a dozen in 1982 while broilers averaged 29 cents per pound live weight and turkeys sold for 39 cents a pound live weight.

Both the price farmers received for eggs and broilers decreased slightly in 1982, notes the specialist.

As far as per capita consumption of poultry and eggs is concerned, Americans ate only 263 eggs last year, the lowest number ever, Mellor notes. Each American also consumed 11 pounds of turkey and 49.5 pounds of broilers.

Further-processed meat consumption was up in '82, leading to increased use of broilers and turkeys, adds Mellor.

Popular Diet Plans And Products Are A Waste Of Money

"Many of the millions of dollars that Americans spend on diet books, plans and products are a waste of money," says Marilyn Haggard, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

According to Haggard, a recent study of fifteen popular diet plans shows many make unfounded claims, encourage poor nutritional practices through misinformation, and require unnecessary expense.

For example, popular diet plans may promise rapid weight loss or claim to reduce specific body parts, such as the stomach. Yet research shows that one to three-pounds per week is optimal for long-term weight loss, says Haggard.

"Spot reducing" can take place only with the addition of specific physical exercises, if at all. Overall weight loss is usually required to reduce weight in one specific part of the body, she adds.

Although nutritionists, physicians and health educators recommend a balanced diet, reducing plans often encourage an unbalanced intake of foods. For example, some diet plans claim that carbohydrates are harmful, and recommend eliminating them from the diet. Yet omitting the carbohydrates found in cereals and breads could cause a lack of thiamine, niacin and iron necessary for good health.

Other diet plans advocate over-consumption of particular food groups like protein or fruit, which cannot provide all necessary nutrients.

"Many popular diets also contain misinformation about digestive processes," states Haggard. Some plans claim that certain combinations of foods will "burn" fat, that digested food cannot cause weight gain, or that stomach enzymes cannot digest a variety of foods at once. To "help" the digestive process these diets recommend eating only particular foods.

Other diet books assert that people can eat as much as they want of certain foods and not gain weight, or that they can eat as much as they want and still lose weight. This is simply wishful thinking and has no basis in fact, says the specialist.

By requiring the purchase of special foods, devices or books, or promoting the use (and sale) of diuretics, appetite depressants, "miracle" foods vitamins or minerals, the diet "industry" makes money off of consumers.

Diet plans are usually advertised with anecdotal evidence or testimonials by successful clients. But the ads don't discuss all the people who tried the diet and failed to maintain a weight loss.

According to Haggard, there are no scientific studies showing that any of these popular diets are successful in the long run for most people.

The best way to reduce is with a nutritionally balanced diet, moderation of eating habits, increased physical activity and the establishment of good eating habits, which will result in gradual weight loss, she says.

Carp Fishing Provides Food And Entertainment

For a fishing thrill, catch a carp.

Carp are generally plentiful, bite readily, are an excellent fighting fish and offer variety for family menus, says a fisheries specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"The body conformation of carp can make even the most jaded fisherman think that he has latched on to a whale," says Dr. James T. Davis.

To help enjoy the thrill of catching one of these hard-fighting fish, Davis offers a few tips.

Find a fishing place around brush piles or ledges in a calm, secluded cove. Just below a dam is also an excellent spot to find carp, says Davis.

Fishing success can be improved by baiting the location with such materials as fermented grain, cottonseed cake, rotten potatoes or orange cubes. Several dough baits can also be prepared. Scatter the bait at least six hours before you want to fish. Each baiting should be effective for about 24 hours.

To select tackle, choose at least a 15-pound test line and hooks of size eight or larger, suggests Davis. Big carp are usually caught on a size 4 hook. Fish on the bottom and have patience, because when carp begin to bite, they tend to mouth the bait before swallowing it. At the first steady pull, get ready for a fight.

Carp, like all fish, spoil easily, so gut and gill the fish as soon as possible, advises the specialist. Most fishermen bleed carp by cutting off the tail. Also, skinning the fish before cooking tends to reduce their strong flavor.

For best cooking results, score the fish with a knife about every 1/8- to 1/4-inch. While deep fat frying is most popular, alternatives include baking, pickling, smoking or stew.

Burial In National Cemetery Available To Vets

According to C.H. Herren Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, veterans should remind their families that burial in a Veterans Administration National Cemetery may be available if desired. Burial in a National Cemetery is open to any veteran discharged under other than dishonorable conditions, with no charge for the opening and closing of the grave, and the grave marker is provided free of any charge.

National Cemeteries in Texas, and their anticipated close-out dates, are as follows: Fort Bliss (El Paso), after year 2000; Houston, after year 2000; Fort Sam Houston (San Antonio), year 1999.

Although the law does not provide for grave site reservations, a veteran may make things easier for survivors by expressing a desire to be buried in a VA cemetery, keeping military service records accessible and verifying his eligibility in advance.

To be eligible for burial, service must have been in the active military service of the Armed Forces, Reserve or National Guard personnel not meeting these requirements, but who die as a result of active duty or training, also may be eligible. Service members who die while on active duty are eligible. Burial is also available to an eligible veteran's widow, widower, and minor children. Under certain circumstances, a child who became permanently disabled prior to age 18 may also be eligible for burial.

When a veteran or dependent dies, the documents verifying eligibility should be presented to the funeral director handling the burial, who will then contact the National Cemetery to establish eligibility and make plans for the burial.

Vaccinations Help Keep Children Healthier

Although smallpox was once a dreaded disease that often killed its victims, a vaccine now appears to have eradicated it. And polio, the crippling childhood disease, has been brought under control with a vaccine.

Because of these advances

4th Of July Fly-In Set In Colorado City

The popular Fourth of July Fly-In will be held again this year in Colorado City at the Northwest Jetstrip Airport five miles northwest of the City. Starting off the morning's activities of this 21st annual event will be the Fly-In breakfast of bacon and eggs, toast and coffee, cooked and served in the main hangar. The breakfast will be served from 7 to 10 a.m. and will be free to fly-ins, but a small charge of three dollars will be required of those that drive in.

Shortly after 7 a.m. a Lockheed C130 Hercules will arrive from Dyess AFB. This four-engine jetprop transport is used by the Air Force for global transport and will be open for inspection by the public. The crew will give guided tours while the aircraft is on display and on departure the aircraft will demonstrate short field landing and take-off, as well as its ability to taxi backwards.

During the morning there will be parachute jumps from immunizations, many infectious childhood diseases that once caused serious illness and death are now rare. To keep them that way, vaccinations are necessary.

The Texas Medical Association suggests this American

Medical Association schedule of routine vaccinations to give a child maximum protection against serious infectious disease:

- 2 months old: Polio, DTP (diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis, or whooping cough)
- 4 months: DTP, polio
- 6 months: DTP
- 15 months: Measles, mumps, German measles (rubella)
- 1½ years: DTP, polio
- 4-6 years: DTP, polio
- 14-16 years: DT (diphtheria and tetanus)

Also available are vaccines for other diseases such as pneumonia, influenza, typhoid fever, hepatitis B, rabies, plague, yellow fever, and cholera. These are not considered routine but are for specific situations.

Immunizations make people resistant to specific germs. A vaccine, administered by injection or by mouth, consists of dead or harmless versions of a particular infectious agent. The body produces antibodies to ward off the agent. Although the person does not suffer the symptoms of the disease—except maybe slight fever—the body becomes immune to the disease.

Parents should tell their doctor before immunizations begin if their child has ever had convulsions. They also should tell the physician if the child is ill when the vaccine is to be administered. For instance, a cold could mean a short delay in giving the vaccine.

high altitude with trailing smoke, with the jumpers landing at preselected places. An hour long aerobatic show is scheduled from 10 to 11 a.m. At least four aircraft will present a thrilling display of aerobatics and precision flying.

Awards will be presented at 10 a.m. for the oldest airplane, the oldest pilot, the youngest pilot, the most unusual airplane, and for the pilot coming the longest distance.

The popular airplane rides will again be offered starting at 8 a.m. The rides will be 15 to 20 minutes going over Colorado City Lakes and over Colorado City. The charge for these rides will be six dollars per person and will be available as long as there are enough people to fill an airplane. These popular rides usually last into the middle of the afternoon.

The Fly-In is sponsored by the Mitchell County Fly-In Association. There is no admission charge to visitors.

Social Security Increase Delayed

The automatic Social Security benefit increase based on the cost of living, previously effective each July, will be delayed for 6 months, to January 1984 because of a recent law designed to strengthen the Social Security system, Glyn Hammons, Social Security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

The purpose of the delay is to save the system money and help it regain its financial strength, Hammons said. Largely because of economic conditions in recent years, Social Security has had an increasingly severe financial problem.

The changes in the law are designed to meet the problem both in the near-term and into the years after 2000. Other changes provide additional income to the system. They include:

The Social Security tax rate increase scheduled under previous law for 1985 will go into effect in 1984. The new 1984 rate will be 7.0 percent each for employees and employers, up from the previous rate of 6.7 percent. But, employees will receive a tax credit against 1984 taxes of 0.3 percent, which will be given when taxes are deducted from wages. In effect, 1984 employee taxes will remain at the level set under previous law.

Also, part of the tax rate increase scheduled for 1990 will go into effect in 1988.

Starting in 1984, the Social Security self-employment tax rate will be equal to the combined employee-employer tax on wages. This will be 14.0 percent for 1984. Previously the rate for self-employed people was about 1½ times the employee rate.

Under the new law, self-employed people will receive a self-employment tax credit of 2.7 percent of self-employment income for 1984; 2.3 percent for 1985, and 2.0 percent for 1986-89. After 1989, these credits will be replaced with deductions designed to treat the self-employed in much the same manner as employees and employers are treated for Social Security and income tax purposes.

A free leaflet, "Social Security Strengthened" is available at the Abilene Social Security office which tells about all the changes in Social Security. The office is located at 142 S. Pioneer and the telephone number is 698-1360.

Combining Prints & Textures Is Current Fashion Trend

From Lou Gilly
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

Combining printed or textured fabrics is the idea behind an exciting current fashion trend. These fabrics can be combined in a single garment, or several garments of contrasting fabrics may be worn together to create the effect.

Practice is the best way to get a feeling for which fabrics and prints work well together. There are no set rules for this technique, but here are several suggestions:

- FOR PRINTS
1. Use a common color when mixing prints. Try to select the strongest or most dominant color or shade.
  2. Fabrics using the same design in different sizes work well in combination. A wide stripe and a narrow stripe may be used together, for example. 3. A positive-negative effect can be created by using two calico prints that are identical except the print and background colors are reversed.

4. Related or similar prints often coordinate well. Just remember that overwhelming prints or prints with no predominant color scheme do not mix easily.

5. When mixing different patterns—like stripes with plaids—remember that each pattern should be about the same size and color. 6. Consider using a dot or stripe with a small scale print in the same color.

FOR TEXTURES

1. A "fuzzy" fabric will often mix well with a flatter surfaced one.
2. Consider the weight of each fabric if you are mixing them in one garment and make sure that they are not too different.

3. Arrange the fabrics with the most delicate on top and the heavier fabrics toward the bottom, for a more pleasing appearance.

4. Be sure to select compatible fabrics with the same care requirements.

Prints and textures can be tied together with binding, bias details, compatible lining, piping or foldover braid. Use accessories like belts, ties or scarves to accent color for a finishing touch.

Look at current fashion trends for ideas about mixing prints and textures for an exciting look to update your wardrobe.

Financial Aid Now Available

Small business in a 19-county area of West Texas will be eligible to receive financial help through the newly created Big Country Development Corporation, U.S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) announced today.

The corporation has been certified by the Small Business Administration and will be authorized to lend up to $500,000 per qualifying business for fixed assets. To qualify, the borrower must provide 10 percent of the investment package and obtain financing for another 50 percent from a commercial lending institution. The remaining 40 percent would come from the Development Corporation, Tower explained. The Certified Development Corporation portion of the loan can be for up to 25 years, although the commercial loan must be for at least half the period of that loan.

The counties covered by the Big Country Development Corporation include Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Mitchell, Knox, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, and Throckmorton.

"The availability of long-term financing from the Development Corporation should make it easier for businesses to get the required loan from a commercial institution," Tower explained.

"This Small Business Administration program establishes a partnership between private and public resources. It is particularly valuable because it will spur economic development in the region, and is an excellent

Drivers education gets high marks from recent survey

COLLEGE STATION — In Texas, driver education apparently ranks up there with Mom, baseball and apple pie, according to the results of a survey conducted by the Texas A&M University Safety Education Program.

Of 180 Department of Public Safety licensing officers, high school principals, parents, students and average citizens questioned, almost 100 percent of them supported driver education, said Dr. Maurice Dennis, director of the Safety Education Program which conducted the survey for the Texas Driver and Traffic Education Association.

"Driver education has recently come under a number of attacks," said Dennis, "but in this survey people are saying it's a program they believe in."

"Costs are borne more and more by parents. The state currently reimburses the school system $12.50 per student, while the cost to the school is $136.00," he said. "And some of the kids who need driver education the most are unable to take it because of the cost involved."

Dennis said a campaign called "Help 200,000" (the number of young people in Texas who reach driving age each year) is trying to influence the state legislature to take a look at driver education — not only to put more money into the program, but also to raise standards and mandate improvements.

Carbohydrates Important To Diet

Carbohydrate foods like pasta, potatoes, corn and bread are often portrayed as the fattening "villians" in American diets.

But they are actually full of energy, nutrients, fiber and protein, and not all that fattening, says Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

According to the specialist, the chemical composition of carbohydrates is indicated by the name — carbo- for carbon; and hydrate, for water.

Simple carbohydrates are the sugars and sweeteners found in fruits, vegetables dairy products and processed sugar. Complex carbohydrates are many simple carbohydrates joined together in growing plants. They form the starches and fiber of vegetables, fruits and grains.

Carbohydrate foods provide an efficient source of energy essential for functioning of the muscles, brain and nerves and for good use of other nutrients in the body, explains Sweeten.

They act as carriers of many essential nutrients, including vitamins and minerals. They are also a good source of dietary fiber, and an inexpensive source of protein.

"Many people don't realize that carbohydrates contribute four calories per gram to their diet — which is the same amount of calories per gram contributed by protein." Fat contains nine calories per gram. "So carbohydrates are not the fattening foods they have often been called," declares Sweeten.

Research has shown that obese people do not necessarily eat excessive amounts of carbohydrates, but they often eat more fat than people of normal weight, she adds.

Carbohydrates provide a wide variety of nutrients in anyone's diet, says Sweeten. Whole grain foods and enriched breads contribute essential B vitamins and minerals. Carbohydrates-containing fruits are major sources of vitamin C.

Vegetables, such as carrots, sweet potatoes, yellow squash and dark green vegetables are good sources of vitamin A.

Wheat flour and cereal products also account for about 17 percent of the protein in the U.S. diet. And except for dairy products, carbohydrates are low in fat and contain no cholesterol.

"Far from being fattening 'villians,' carbohydrates are necessary for a balanced diet," says Sweeten. Consumers should be wary of any diet that recommends severely limiting or eliminating carbohydrates, cautions the specialist.

PIK Improves Cotton Picture

The previously gloomy cotton picture has done an about-face due to the government's PIK (payment-in-kind) program and an increase in domestic usage.

Whether or not this price strength will continue, however, depends a lot on Mother Nature, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Despite about a 40 percent cutback in cotton acreage due to farmer participation in PIK and the acreage reduction program, cotton supplies will still be plentiful this fall if good weather prevails," says Dr. Carl Anderson.

"The market price may drop to near the loan rate at harvest time, so farmers should consider forward contracting or hedging in the futures market some of their crop during periods of market strength," suggests the economist. "The market will be especially sensitive to weather developments during the growing season."

The 1983 cotton crop shapes up this way. Farmers will likely plant a little more than 8 million acres, and yields will likely be higher than normal because farmers are using their best land and have fewer acres to care for, so they can manage them better. Thus 1983 production could reach 9.5 to 10 million bales, estimates Anderson.

"Of course, bad weather in the U.S. as well as in China or Russia could change the situation drastically and reduce the 1983 cotton supply," he notes.

While the U.S. is trying to cut back on cotton production, Russia and China are attempting to increase production, says Anderson. Thus, prospects are good for foreign production to remain fairly high during the coming crop year. The 1982 crop in China reached a surprising 16.5 million bales, up three million from the preceding year.

Production in 1979 was only 10.1 million bales.

"Overall, the export market this year is likely to be somewhat soft," believes the economist. "However, a pickup in the U.S. economy could improve domestic usage." While the market's current strength offers some hope for cotton producers, demand could stagnate later in the year, depending on weather conditions and the outlook for the '83 crop, notes Anderson.

Three-zone Dove Setup Considered By Commission

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission will consider establishing a three-zone mourning dove hunting alignment for the state when it convenes in Austin on July 28. If adopted, the three-zone system would replace the two-zone setup which has been in effect since 1946. Ron George, dove program leader for the Parks and Wildlife Department, said the three-zone proposal is designed to provide better hunting opportunities when doves are available and reduce the number of immature doves in the hunter's bag.

Details of the proposal have been published in the Texas Register, and interested persons may direct comments to Ron George, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, Tx. 78744, prior to July 28.

Under the proposed system, the state would be divided into a Panhandle Zone, consisting roughly of the Panhandle-South Plains, the Northern Trans-Pecos and portions of North and Northwest Texas, a Central Zone covering most of East and Central Texas; and a Rio Grande Zone encompassing all the Rio Grande Valley, South Texas and the Southern Trans-Pecos.

If approved, the Panhandle Zone mourning dove season would open Sept. 1. The Central Zone would open on the first Saturday in September (Sept. 3 this year), and the Rio Grande Zone would open the first Saturday after Sept. 16 (Sept. 17 this year).

The new system would establish a season of 45 consecutive days with a 15-bird daily bag limit for the Panhandle Zone; a 70-day split season for the Central Zone consisting of a 60-day fall season and a 10-day winter season beginning the first Saturday after Jan. 1 (Jan. 7 in 1984) and a 12-bird daily limit; a 70-day split season would be established in the Rio Grande Zone with an aggregate 12-bird daily bag to include no more than two white-winged doves. In an area designated as the Special Four-Day White-winged Dove Area, the four-day whitewing season would be Sept. 3-4 and 10-11, 1983, during which the daily bag limit would be 10 white-winged doves and 12 mourning doves. Shooting hours in this area during the whitewing season would be noon to sunset; shooting hours for the rest of the seasons and zones would be 30 minutes before sunrise to sunset.

In the El Paso portion of the Panhandle Zone there would be no four-day whitewing season as such, but hunters would be permitted to take 15 doves daily, not to include more than two whitewings, during the mourning dove season.

As in the past, all persons who hunt white-winged doves would be required to have a White-winged Dove Stamp in their possession in addition to valid hunting license. George pointed out that persons exempted from having to purchase a hunting license because of their age or any other reason still must possess a whitewing stamp to hunt white-winged doves.

The retention of one fully-feathered wing would be required in the Rio Grande Zone and the Special White-winged Dove Area at all times. This requirement simplifies identification of dressed birds in areas where both mourning doves and whitewings occur. This would not be required in either the Central or Panhandle Zones, George said.

George said, "While it is recognized that the three-zone system may not completely resolve all dove regulation problems, department biologists believe this system would provide better hunting for most Texas hunters."

Nitrites Extend Use Of Cured Meats, Poultry

Consumers today are assured of safe cured meat and poultry products because of a food additive called nitrite.

Nitrites prevent food spoilage by inhibiting the growth of bacteria, some of which causes botulism, a potentially lethal condition for humans.

Nitrites have an especially important role in protecting today's cured deli meats which are marketed in vacuum packages as well as canned, says Dr. James Denton, a poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Meat packaged in this manner would provide a good medium for botulism-causing bacteria were it not for the protective nitrites.

Actually, nitrites go back a long way—even to Biblical times when salting and curing was a popular method for preserving meats, notes Denton. Salt (sodium chloride) used in the curing process back then likely contained low levels of nitrites, such as sodium nitrite.

Before the advent of refrigeration, the curing process was the most reliable method for preserving meats, notes the specialist. The most common method was the "dry cure" in which a salt, sugar and nitrite mixture was applied directly to the meat as a dry mixture. This mixture "dried" or reduced the meat's water content and also reduced water activity in the moisture remaining in the meat. Both of these effects significantly reduced the potential for bacterial growth, thus preventing meat spoilage.

Even after refrigeration came into being, people had become accustomed to the flavor of cured meats, so use of a brine method became popular, Denton points out. The method involves soaking or injecting meat with a mixture of salt, sugar, nitrite and water. This still gives consumers the flavor of cured meat but with a much lower salt content and only enough nitrite to effectively store the meat up to two weeks.

Smoked meats prepared without the use of nitrite are just that—smoked—and have a shelf life of only five to six days, says Denton. Meat cured with nitrite in the brine and then smoked is stable in the home refrigerator for two weeks.

Cured meat should be frozen if it's to be kept longer than two weeks, emphasizes the specialist.

A&M professor writes textbook on agricultural marketing

COLLEGE STATION — A Texas A&M University agricultural economist has co-authored a new textbook that teaches agriculture students about marketing concepts.

Dr. Robert E. Branson of Texas A&M's College of Agriculture co-authored the text, "Introduction to Agricultural Marketing," with a former doctoral student and professor of agricultural economics at Western Illinois State University, Dr. Douglass G. Norvell.

Published by McGraw-Hill Inc., the text has been described as "the finest innovative introductory text on the subject in years."

Branson said he wrote the book because of a dire need for a better understanding of how agricultural producers could market their products for greater returns on investments.

The author's view marketing from three vantage points — producers, agribusiness firms and consumers — and discuss conflicting goals and interests among these groups, as well as their contributions to progress.

A Series Of Informative "Plain Talk" Thoughts Regarding Your Money Matters

Experts In Checking

Have you ever stopped to think of just how many checks a bank handles in a day... a month... or even a year? The amount of checks we've handled since our bank first opened its doors is staggering. We're experts in providing the checking account services needed by our customers. Accurate statements that arrive on time every time are sent to our customers each month.

Checking is more than a means of exchange. Checking statements and cancelled checks serve as a valuable tool in the keeping of records. Most of us at one time or another have used a cancelled check to prove payment of a purchase or bill. Some of the newer institutions offering checking have eliminated the practice of returning cancelled checks to their customers in an effort to reduce their cost. That's a corner we're just not willing to cut. It may cost us a little more, but we feel you want and need those cancelled checks.

So check with the experts.

Purchase Of Own Phone Can Save Consumers Money

"Most consumers can save money by purchasing their own telephones," says Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Consumers have had the option of buying their own phones since 1968. But while 25 million people acquired leased phones last year, only 5 million purchase them. One reason for the lack of purchases, says Piernot, is that few people realize they are paying rental fees on their phones. That cost is included in the monthly service charges and seldom listed as a separate item. Although rental charges and the cost of phones varies among companies, the potential savings are obvious. For example, a standard rotary telephone may rent for $2.50 per month. The cost of buying this same phone from a local phone store is $29.95. Therefore, in twelve months the consumer can pay back the purchase price of the phone. After these 12 months, the consumer is saving the $2.50 each month that the phone is in the home.

Rather than purchase phones like those they already have, however, many consumers are tempted to buy fancier novelty phones or even "designer phones," which can be costly, says Piernot. Next to the standard rotary unit, the most popular phone for purchase is a trimline with pushbuttons in the handle. These phones rent for about $4.50 per month and sell for about $75. Purchasing a pushbutton phone can cause slight problems in some areas, cautions the specialist. A consumer replacing a rental push button phone with a purchased one, may have to pay for the special line to handle the touch tone signals. "One disadvantage of phone ownership is maintenance," says Piernot. Most equipment now available for sale has a 30 to 90 day warranty. Thereafter the consumer pays the cost of service. Fortunately, standard phones have very few problems. With careful handling and use these phones should last 15 to 20 years. Some experts estimate a repair call once every seven years.

According to Piernot, consumers should consider service in making a choice between renting and buying. Some phone stores will do their own service. Others require the consumer to pay for shipping the phone to a central or regional repair center. Charges for repair service can also vary as much as the styles of phones available. So consumers should figure the repair costs in calculating the life-time cost of purchasing a phone. "Consumers who do nothing more than buy a phone like the one installed in their home can save money," says Piernot. "But they should consider service repair costs, the cost of novelty phones and any special charges before making that purchase."

Rex Allen Will Be TCR Special Guest

Well known show business personality Rex Allen will be a special guest for the 53rd annual Texas Cowboy Reunion this year. The show, which benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, features the works of 43 of the top Western artists in the nation. A reception and dinner is set for 6:30 p.m. at the John Selmon Memorial Gallery, to be followed by the sale, and a special quarter horse and art auction.
