FB Leader Finally Wins First Place!

MELISSA CANO

Cano Places In State Meet

Melissa Cano went to Round Rock for the state cross country meet last week. Out of over 100 runners, Melissa brought back this medal for her very impressive eighth place finish.

Week eleven proved to be a surprise for contest players with many upsets and a tied professional game that everyone missed. There are only two more weeks in the Bovina Blade Football Contest and Jessica Stowers, the total point leader of each week, has finally won the weekly cash first prize of $20.

Jessica correctly picked ten games of sixteen. Three other contestants, Travis Lockmiller, Dorothy Harris and Frances Johnson also picked ten games correctly.

Jessica missed the Perryton vs. Denver City, White Deer vs. Canadian, Notre Dame vs. LSU, Auburn vs. Georgia, Philadelphia vs. Baltimore (TIE) and Oakland vs. San Diego games.

The Dallas 17-Washington 14 tie-breaker game was no worry for Jessica. She predicted the final score to be 17-10-Right on the money! She received $20 for her efforts.

Lockmiller was seven points off the tie breaker score. He received second place and $10.

Dorothy was twelve points off the Dallas score and received third place and $5.

Frances was twenty-one points off the final score and she missed-out on the weekly cash.

Because the Philadelphia vs. Baltimore game was tied, everyone missed it. The Eagles and Ravens played a complete over time and neither team scored so the game ended in a tie. In the Blade contest, contestants can pick a "tie" instead of a team, but no one did. The Blade will pay $10 to anyone who correctly picks a tie!

Nine contestants correctly picked nine games. They were Jo Blackwell, Peggy Hargrove, David Miles, Louis Mejia, Carmen Porras, Janie Sherbon, Dorothy Stowers, Robert Tapia and Frances Willard.

Thanksgiving Services Set For Sunday

Community Thanksgiving services will be held at First United Methodist Church this Sunday evening at 7 p.m.

Brother Gary Morgan, pastor of First Baptist Church, will be preaching and Father Edward Kieran of St. Ann's Catholic Church and Rev. Neely Landrum, pastor of First United Methodist Church will participate in the services.

Fellowship will follow.

An offering will be taken and given to the Community Benevolence Fund. Everyone is invited.

Holiday Closings

Bovina ISD will be closed November 26, 27 & 28 in observance of Thanksgiving. Classes will resume on Monday, December 1.

Bovina City Hall will be closed on Thursday, November 27 and Friday, November 28 in observance of the holiday.

LION'S CLUB HONOREES....Eighth grade students Stephanie Tamez and Travis Stanberry were guests of the Bovina Lion's Club for lunch in November. The club honors two students each month.

FRIONA'S BI-DISTRICT football game last Friday night was played in absolutely the worst weather conditions that Ye Editor ever witnessed, and Carol will attest that the only thing that has kept Y.E. from missing a Friday evening's football game (even while we were dating) has been hospitalization, a death in our extended family, eye surgery, etc., etc.

Bull Town Bulletins

By Bill Ellis

In fact, I had put off scheduling a cataract/cornea transplant surgery, advised in early August, until the playoffs were over. I had hoped to delay it at least another month.

We covered a Bovina bi-district game against Wheeler, played in Amarillo some years back that was played in extra cold weather, and we've been to a couple of games at Dimmitt late in the season, where there was some snow on the ground.

But last Friday's game had the snow and ice, with a heavy mist/light sleet falling for most of the game. The chill factor was below zero. It was a bitter, bitter evening.

The wonder of it all was that Friona lost only one fumble in the entire game. Seminole's ball-carriers were separated from the ball six times, with Friona recovering three. One of these was on the Indians' first play from scrimmage, when Sammy Perez alertly picked up the live ball and ran for a touchdown, to give the Chieftains (who had just driven for a score) an early 12-0 lead.

Personally, Ye Ed can't figure out why there weren't two dozen fumbles, with the game being played in those conditions. We felt that the bitter cold and wind limited Friona's excellent passing game, even though sure-handed Angel Vega made one of his patented catches on the 65-yard pass-and-run TD play in the second half.

Gentleman that he is, Friona coach James Morton wouldn't blame the weather on Friona's loss. "Usually, adverse weather turns what would have been an offensive battle into a defensive one. The fact that there were two explosive teams on the field was underscored by their offensive output in spite of the weather," Morton said.

Chieftains, you have had a great season. 10-1 figures out to be 91 percent wins. Your two-year record of 23-3 also top-notch. It may be that your two-year mark of 23 wins is more games than had ever been won in three straight seasons!

LITTLE BITS of wisdom: "In the land of the blind, the one-eyed man is king."

We saw a sign while going through Pampa recently. A small home-owned "hamburger joint" (how long has it been since you heard that term?), displayed a sign that reads: "Over 12 Dozen Sold!"

As long as there are consumers like the "Good Old Boy's" better half, America's economy has nothing to worry about! Ask her about her new buck-wheat filled pillow.

ST. MARY MOBILE CLINIC...The unique exterior of the St. Mary Mobile Clinic is certain to make heads turn as it pulls into Bovina to begin offering primary medical services this week. The newest program of St. Mary Hospital's Mobile Services Department, the unit will be at St. Ann's Catholic Church, 409 Third St., every Thursday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Persons may make an appointment by calling 1-800-388-6266. Walk-ins also are welcome.

Sheriff's Office Offers Tips For Holiday Safety

The Parmer County Sheriff's Office is reminding everyone that the holidays season has approached once again and that means people will be traveling and purchasing gifts for those special occasions and special persons.

People tend to be more vulnerable during this the holiday season. We in law enforcement tend to see an increase in residential burglaries during this time of year.

With this in mind, the Parmer County Sheriff's Office would like to give citizens of Parmer County a few reminders to keep this holiday season a joyful celebration.

Person's living out in the country should be on the lookout for any vehicles that are unknown or are suspicious to the area. If such a vehicle is spotted contact the Sheriff's Office with the following information-model, make, color and location, if possible.

•Be careful about putting Christmas tree in front of a picture window especially those families who live out in the county. This is an invitation for a burglar who might believe there are lots of gifts.

•When leaving home, make sure all doors and windows are locked.

•Tell a close neighbor that your home will be vacant.

•Contact the local law enforcement agency--Farwell, Bovina, Friona and Sheriff's Office--when your home will be vacant for an extended amount of time.

•Leave external lights on around the home especially around the entry ways. This will make it more difficult for a burglar to gain entry into your home without being spotted.

•Leave an interior light on. Have a friend turn different lights on each night. If a person is watching your home this gives the illusion that someone is home.

•Have serial numbers of valuables and have pictures for identification.

Nothing you do will keep a crook from becoming a crook but we need to take what steps we can to protect our neighbors from being victims in an ongoing battle with crime.

Have a safe and happy holiday season!

AMANDA SMITH

Amanda Smith Is Student Of The Week

Nominated by teachers Carolyn Beauchamp and Judy Jennings, senior Amanda Smith was selected as student-of-the-week.

She was described as a cooperative, hardworking, pleasant, good student.

She is active in Mustang Band, earning all-region in 1997. She is a Fillie varsity basketball player and sent a "key of success" to Austin with Melissa Cano last weekend.

EASY DOES IT.....Pay-N-Save employee John Schlenker points out a scratch-off lottery ticket vending machine the store installed recently. Customers can use up to a $20 bill to get tickets from the machine. But beware! The sign says "This machine does not give change." (Ron Carr Photo)

TOP READERS.....The top point earners for the second six weeks at Bovina Middle School were Angela Villarreal, Jolyne Ortiz, and Sarah Morgan. These three young ladies out-read principal Robert Rumph to earn chances on a grand prize drawing for a stereo at the end of the year.

Charlotte Rumph Wins Student Writing Contest

Bovina Elementary fifth grader, Charlotte Rumph, recently won second place of 78 other entries in the Division I Student Writing Contest sponsored by the Panhandle Authors for Literacy.

Charlotte is the daughter of Robert and Johnnie Rumph.

Her entry, a short story fiction, is titled Kids: Different Outsides, Same Insides.

It had been a hard week for Christy Singer. The flight from Sydney, Australia to Amarillo, Texas made her exhausted. In the seven days since her grandfather's death, they had packed all of their possessions because they had decided to move back to the states to be with her grandmother. Her dad's professional career as an opera singer allowed them to live anywhere they pleased.

In the fall when Christy started fifth grade, all of her classmates thought she was weird because of her Australian accent. When the students teased her she tried to ignore it.

But one day she just could not stand it any longer. She said to her mom, "I don't have any friends. They all make fun of me. They laugh at dad's job and our last name."

"I know it's hard honey," said Mom, "but you've got to understand that when people tease you, usually they don't feel good about themselves. So they tease you just to make themselves feel better."

If only we had kept our puppy Spanky. If only we hadn't left him in Australia. Then at least I'd have one friend, thought Christy.

Monday at school Christy's teacher, Mrs. Mullin, gave everyone a special assignment. They were supposed to write a report about a country or continent. Christy almost immediately decided to do her report on Australia. She was so devoted to making it perfect that she would stay up past midnight every single night.

On Friday, Christy presented her report to the class. Everyone was really impressed with it. They didn't realize that there were so many interesting facts about Australia. They found out that it's called the "Land Down Under" because it's the only continent totally below the equator. They also learned that a region of Australia is called the "Outback," just like their favorite restaurant.

At recess some girls played with Christy. One of them even apologized. "Man did we judge you wrong. We thought you were stuck up because you had a lot of money. We are really sorry," she said. Christy finally had friends and she could stop talking about them!

The transition of moving to Amarillo was finally completed on Christmas morning. Christy woke up to something licking her. When she opened her eyes she couldn't believe her eyes!

"A puppy!" she squealed. "Now I have everything I could possibly hope for."

Valmont Irri. Honors Brooke Pipe & Supply

Valmont Irrigation has announced that Guy Brooke of Brooke Pipe & Supply in Hereford, earned the Parts and Service Quality Circle Award. The award was presented at the company's regional sales meeting in Omaha, Nebraska.

Jim Eiting, vice president of sales at Valmont Irrigation, says the award is based on customer satisfaction.

"Our customer surveys show that the quality of their dealer is one of the farmer's most important considerations in the buying decision," he adds. "At our meeting, we shared information on new remote control technology, 'smart computer' controls, advanced water conservation practices and other ways to increase profits for irrigators."

"The local dealer plays a critical role in bringing new ideas to market by delivering information, technology and service to the producer. That is why Valmont is dedicated to providing education programs for our Valley dealers and why our dealers are the best in the business."

Valmont Irrigation is the world's leading manufacturer of mechanized irrigation equipment. For more than forty years, Valley products have been enhancing food production while conserving and protecting natural resources. Valmont has sold over 100,000 Valley center pivots and linear machines worldwide, irrigating roughly ten million acres in more than 90 countries.

By RON CARR

"Yes I did." "Yes it was." I gave those two replies often last weekend. They were the answers to two questions everyone seemed to ask.

"Did you go to the ballgame?" "Was it cold?" In preparation for winter, a few weeks ago I bought some Long Johns, extra thick socks, turtleneck, and a long sleeved red shirt. Friday night I wore almost all of it.

I am a cold weather weenie. Do not even like snowflakes, icicles, or wind chill.

At the insistence of "Momma Carol" Ellis, me and old Bill scurried around for a ride to Levelland. No way, she said, should us two old geezers drive in that weather, especially her car.

Truth is, we didn't want to set out on icy roads ourselves. So we found a good samaritan. D.A.R.E. officer Roy Don Smith and his wife Carol came to our rescue. We loaded our gear into the Smith's van about 4:30 p.m., stretched out and headed for Lobo Field in Levelland.

It was time for Bill to plan our eating strategy. Forget that there was a couple of inches of ice and snow and the wind chill was below zero, nothing like food to warm the soul.

Besides we needed to talk about something to keep our mind off Roy Don's driving. (Just kiddin', Roy. You done good. We appreciate the ride.)

Bill had called a friend in Levelland about a restaurant called The Spot. It was closed for remodeling. He suggested a nice home style place, The Bounty. Gave us directions. When we finally arrived a little after 6 p.m. at The Bounty, it had already closed.

Next door was Savannah's Mexican food place. The joint was full, half of them Friona fans.

Some of the Friona folks went out to their vehicles and brought their winter clothes inside the restaurant to change. Can't have too many clothes and nachos on a night like Friday.

It was heavy cold at the ballpark. Overcast with icy air and a steady icy mist of half sleet, half snow.

Lobo Field is a nice stadium. There was a big roomy press box on the home side, which tonight belonged to Seminole. Bill and his son-in-law Noel headed over there to join Mike Hutson and Clint Mears in the Chieftain broadcast booth.

I headed to the sideline, camera bag in tow, wondering if this was such a good idea. At the entrance gate, Jerry and Cindy Butman were handing out complimentary red knit gloves to all Friona fans.

The gloves were red, with WT Services and Go Chieftains imprinted on them, a thoughtful touch by our newest Friona business, WT Services, for whom Cindy Butman will be office manager.

When I finally made it to the field, I was glad to see how many Friona fans filled the stands. You couldn't see much but faces underneath the blankets and hoods, but they were all there, supporting the boys.

Imagine my surprise to find five industrial strength electric heaters blowing warm air along the Chieftain sideline. I figured at least I could keep my fingers and toes functional.

Little did I know that fellow photographer Don Spring and I would use the heat throughout the game to try and keep our cameras working.

Yes, it was so cold the shutter froze after only a few minutes, maybe 3-4 pictures, then thaw out the camera.

I normally take 2-3 rolls of 36-shot film at a Chieftain game. This night I would manage one roll, plus about 12 shots on a second one.

How cold was it? Mascot Tammy Spencer burned the knee off her outer layer of clothes on one of the heaters. Team manager Ronald Diaz got a gloved hand too close to the heat and melted it. Neither were hurt.

How cold was it? For the first time this year, there was not a line at the women's restroom at half time. Some ladies said too many clothes, too much trouble.

The concession stand, operated by the Levelland Lobos boosters, was selling coffee for $1.00 a cup as fast as they could sell it.

Upstairs, Mike and Clint and Bill and Noel were in a booth behind a glass. That's the good news. The bad news is the booth wasn't heated. The glass kept fogging up. If you watched the video Saturday, you saw Mike Hutson's expert wiping motion to keep the camera area clear after every play.

How cold was it? The band didn't march and for most of the game didn't play either. The valves on the brass instruments froze. The drums kept the crowd spirit up as best they could.

None of this, though, seemed to seriously effect the players. After all, there were 81 points scored in the game despite the conditions. We led all the way. Were never behind until the overtime score.

Only twice were the Chieftains behind this season. Once to Dalhart, and Friday night to end the season.

Suddenly and abruptly, the game and the season ended. We weren't prepared for it. Our plans were to go farther. Maybe a lot farther.

The realization was especially devastating to the young Chieftain players. The seniors with a deflected pass and a tick of the clock, played their last play in a Chieftain uniform. Many of these boys had played together since 7th grade under the watchful eye of Coach James Morton.

Some brilliant high school football careers ended that icy evening. The grief, shock, and emotion were overwhelming to most of the young men.

There were tears. Lots of 'em. On the field and in the stands. Across the field, the Seminole Indians, who had won their first playoff game since 1943, reveled in their victory, as well they should.

Friona coaches consoled our boys as best they could, knowing there is really nothing you can say at this particular time. The team slowly left the field to the north end dressing room.

I was putting my camera away and still warming my feet, when I noticed two people walking up the field from the south end.

Chieftain fullback Daniel Cuevas had been especially distraught over the loss. He had remained in the end zone, staring at the score board, tears flowing, unable to overcome his grief.

Head coach James Morton went to help Danny Cuevas, as he has done for all his players at one time or another.

Coming toward me and then past, Coach Morton walked up the field, holding Danny Cuevas' hand like a father would for his son.

A little farther along, he put his arm around Danny's shoulders and continued on to join his teammates in the locker room.

Folks, I felt a lot of pride at that moment. It was time for James Morton's boys to be men and he was still helping them get there.

Coach Morton has developed a program at FHS that transcends athletics. He developed and instilled in these young men a program to live, to study, to compete, and to believe.

And this night, a man cared enough for a boy, to walk with him in his sadness. What an example and lesson. My walk back to the van seemed warmer.

Across the field, Seminole had a bi-district trophy.

On the ride back to Friona, Coach James Morton would be taking a team bus full of trophies. They are called the 1997 Chieftains.

We're All Proud Big Red. Let's play some basketball.

Stevens Chevrolet Acquires Stagner GMC Dealership

Stevens Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Inc. of Hereford announced this week the acquisition of the Buick, Pontiac, and GMC automobile and truck franchises formerly held by Stagner-Carr Motors of Hereford.

John Stagner has joined the staff at the Stevens dealership which will now be known as STEVENS 5-STAR CAR & TRUCK CENTER and will reflect the name change in the combination of franchises which has expanded to include Chevrolet, Oldsmobile, Buick, Pontiac, and GMC Truck—all at the Stevens location at 545 N. 25 Mile Avenue in Hereford.

Jerry Stevens, Vice President, said he is very excited about the change and that "John Stagner's years of automobile experience and his many friends and customers in the Hereford area will be a great asset to the STEVENS 5-STAR line-up."

A much larger, expanded inventory will be available to the STEVENS 5-STAR customers upon arrival of the newly ordered inventory. Recent remodeling and additions to the Stevens dealership such as the large outdoor covered showroom and the expanded main showroom and the office area compliment a larger selection of all makes and models in the dealership.

John Stagner, a Hereford native and 20-year veteran of the automobile business, stated that "the opportunity to continue to sell and service my many friends and customers in the Hereford area at the STEVENS 5-STAR CAR & TRUCK CENTER is a very positive move for me and I want to invite my friends and customers by for a visit and a tour of the Stevens facility."

The Stevens dealership has been a full service franchise in Hereford since 1981 and has large service and parts departments well-equipped with the latest and most modern equipment with well-trained service technicians.

L. D. "Steve" Stevens stated that with the addition of the Buick, Pontiac and GMC franchises "it gives us the opportunity to provide our special pricing policy which has made us one of the leading dealerships in our region to all makes and models under the STEVENS 5-STAR name."

IRS Hosts Seminar In Amarillo

Internal Revenue Service taxpayer advocates are known for their "cutting through the red tape" expertise. They tackle chronic tax problems that taxpayers cannot seem to get resolved.

In order to make taxpayer advocates available to more people, the Internal Revenue Service has begun conducting "IRS Listens" sessions throughout North Texas. One hundred forty-nine people attended the first three "IRS Listens" events held in the Dallas/Fort Worth area in October.

Another 144 North Texans received one-on-one help with tax problems at the Problem Solving Day on November 15.

Amarillo is the site of an "IRS Listens" session on Thursday, December 11. Taxpayer advocates will be available to listen and help people from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the IRS Office, 7201 Interstate 40 W., Suite 105. The IRS North Texas District Director will also be present.

Instead of communicating by letter or by telephone, "IRS Listens" lets people talk face-to-face with someone who has the authority to cut through the red tape. "IRS Listens" could be the answer for people who have not been able to resolve their tax issue through normal IRS contacts.

All help from the IRS is free and available on a first-come, first-serve basis. For more information, call the IRS Taxpayer Advocates Office at 214-767-1289.

Parmer County SWCD To Sponsor Annual Contests

Each year at this time, the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District sponsors a coloring, poster and essay contest for the school children in Parmer County. The Parmer County S.W.C.D. sponsors these contests each year to encourage soil and water conservation and help the children become aware of such concerns at an early age while making it fun and rewarding for them.

Kindergarten through second grades will participate in a coloring contest. The entries will be judged from each school. There will be a first, second and third place winner from each grade in each school and they will receive ribbons. The top entries will then be judged county-wide. The first, second and third place county winners will receive trophies.

Third grade through sixth grades will participate in a poster contest. The posters will be on a 22"x14" poster board and all art work should be flat. The themes for this year is "Backyard Stewardship" and "Wonders of Wildlife."

The "Backyard Stewardship" theme emphasizes what each of us can do in our own backyard, school yard or neighborhood to practice and promote positive stewardship. The "Wonders of Wildlife" theme stresses the relationship between wildlife habitat and proper land management, especially on lands managed for urban and suburban home sites, farms and private production lands.

The entries from each school will be judged. There will be a first, second and third place winner from each school who will receive ribbons. The top entries will then be judged county-wide. The first, second and third place county winners will receive trophies.

Seventh grade through twelfth grades will participate in an essay contest. The essay contest will be on "Soil and Water Conservation." This title includes, but is not limited to, the following general concept: the soil and water resources of this nation are vital for providing us with the necessities of food and shelter. Soil and Water Conservation Districts are engaged in the effort to carry out a local conservation program that meets the needs of the nation's soil and water resources for continued productivity.

The entries will be judged in two categories per school. Seventh and eighth grades will be category one and ninth through twelfth grades will be category two. Each category will have a first, second and third place winner who will receive ribbons. The top entries will then be judged county-wide with the first, second, third and fourth place winners receiving monetary awards.

The first placed winners of the poster and essay contest will be sent to Temple for a regional contest. This is an open contest and does not in any way jeopardize Texas University Interscholastic League eligibility.

All entries must be received in or before Friday, January 16, 1998.

For more information, check with your school principal or call or come by the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District at (806) 247-2220, 1306 West Ninth Street, Friona.

Hereford Man Bases Novel On Early Panhandle History

Gerald McCathern, a Hereford native who was lured into writing as an activist in the American Agriculture movement, has published a new historical novel, Horns.

The book, priced at $21 is on sale at the Friona Star, and would make a great Christmas gift.

Horns is an historical novel, set in the Texas Panhandle during the years immediately following the Civil War, 1865 to 1875. Although the war between the states had ended, another war was erupting in the Texas Panhandle, a war to gain control of the huge grasslands known as the Llano Estacado, between the Indians, buffalo hunters, the U.S. Cavalry and Texas cattlemen.

The only survivor of the Alamo, Colonel Jim Cole has his arm severed by cannon fire in one of the last battles of the Civil War and is saved from certain death by a young private from Kentucky, Ned Armstrong. They escape the clutches of the Yankee army and travel to the Texas Panhandle to establish one of the largest cattle ranches in Texas, which had been a land grant to Colonel Cole by President Sam Houston and the Republic of Texas Legislature in 1845.

Being the first whites to establish roots on the Llano Estacado, they make friends and become blood brothers to half-white Chief Quanah Parker, then travel to Central Texas where they round up a herd of five thousand head of maverick longhorns and trail them back to their ranch on the plains, taking with them Cole's new bride, widow Belle McCardle and her two children, Kate who is sixteen years old and Sonny who is fourteen.

Horns describes the hardships of the cattle drive, setting up a frontier ranch in a land controlled by the ferocious Comanche Indians the invasion of the buffalo hunters who begin the slaughter of the estimated fifty million head of buffalo which roamed the plains, the Red River Wars which erupted as a result of the hunters taking hides from the Indians sacred hunting grounds and the battles between the U.S. Cavalry and the Indians.

Assisted by Quanah and some of his braves, Cole and Armstrong drive offspring of their herds to market at the railroad at Dodge City across uncharted Indian country, battling Apaches and the weather to establish the first cattle trail from the Texas Panhandle to Dodge City. They become friends with Bat Masterson, Billy Dixon and other noted historical figures.

Horns graphically describes the tough frontier towns, gun battles between the cowboys and buffalo hunters over the favors of the "painted ladies" of the saloons and rape and murder on the prairies.

After ten years of fighting and only after the slaughter of the huge buffalo herds is Quanah Parker and his Comanches finally defeated in the battle of Palo Duro Canyon and forced onto the hated reservation in Oklahoma, leaving the huge grasslands to the Texas cattlemen and their longhorn cattle.

McCathern blends an exciting fictional story with documented historical events in the style of Louis L'Amour and Larry McMurtry. The reader is kept spellbound from the first page when Quanah and his tribe leave the Llano Estacado to live forever on the reservation in Oklahoma Territory.

NEWS AROUND TOWN...

Carlene Jones and her good friend, Ruby Shipley of Clovis, made a 750-mile trip to Memphis, Texas and on to Oklahoma and visited with family members.

In Memphis, they visited with Carlene's grandson, Jon and Nikki Riddle and their children, Kyla, Kassie and Kade. Jon owns a pharmacy in Memphis. His parents are Jon Lin and Brenda Riddle of Bovina.

They also visited with Carlene's sister-in-law, Beula Martin and Carlene's sister, Violet McQueen and her son and his wife, Larry and Dora McQueen.

They drove on to Oklahoma and visited with other relatives.

Over the past weekend Carlene's daughter and son-in-law, Kathy and Lowell Boozer of Canyon visited in Bovina.

Irma Jo Englant's mother, Drucilla Kelley of Pleasant Hill underwent surgery to remove a brain tumor in the Lubbock Methodist Hospital this week.

The surgery was on Monday of this week and family members said she came through real well. She is 89 years of age.

*****
Little one-year-old Jordan Windle, son of Shaun and Joanna Windle of Clovis and grandson of the James Claytons, is back in the Plains Regional Medical Center in Clovis with pneumonia. This is the third time he has been hospitalized in just a few weeks.

Pernie and Dick Free have returned home recently from a trip to visit with their daughter and family at Bakersfield, California. Their daughter is Cherry Ann and her husband is Pete Meads. They were also able to visit with their two daughters and their families.

The girls are Felisa Ann, who has two sons, Bret and Brady. The other daughter, Jennifer, has one daughter, Paige. All live in Bakersfield.

The Frees flew to California and said it only took two hours and thirty-two minutes from Dallas to Bakersfield. They spent most of the month of October in California.

*****
Several members of the First Baptist Church enjoyed a trip on the church bus to Clovis on Sunday and had dinner at Furr's Cafeteria. Those who made the trip were Dale and Tonya Gober, Jack and Ona Patterson, Don and Juanda Murphy, Joe Looney, Erra Jamerson, Artie Faye O'Hair, Lois Smith, Mearle Morgan and Dick and Pernie Free.

James and Sandra Clayton also drove their car over and joined the group.

The group had a lot of fun and are hoping to make this a monthly outing.

*****
Sid Lloyd spent the weekend in Hale Center with daughter Patsy and Larry Webb. Patsy came for Sid and they brought her home on Sunday. Sunday, they drove to Lubbock and attended church along with Patsy and Larry's daughter and her husband, Becky and Billy Don Hughes. Becky and Larry sang a special in the worship services.

Sid said Saturday they went Christmas shopping and ate out in Plainview.

Mark Englant was taken by ambulance to the Clovis Hospital recently at 4 a.m. suffering from lots of pain. He had pulled a muscle in his back and had a dislocated rib that caused severe pain. His wife, Toya, said he was by himself and was afraid he might pass out so he called the ambulance. He is doing better now.

Toya had gone to Glen Rose, Texas to see her children. Her aunt, Evelyn Joyce Vineyard, came back to visit with her dad, Amos Steelman and two brothers, Dickie and Eddie Gayle Steelman and sister, Vi Hutto.

*****
Marie Venable and Helen

Blalock found out recently about their brother, Fred Langer, who had disappeared several years ago. Fred's step-daughter, Sherry, gave them his death certificate which indicated he died of cancer back in 1992.

Funeral services were held in Espinola, New Mexico and he was buried in the National Cemetery in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Fred lived with his wife in Bovina for many years and the couple had one daughter, Kim. Fred worked for the county for many years. He was survived by his sisters and a brother, Joe of Muleshoe. It is unknown whether his wife is still living or where his daughter is. We express our sympathy to Marie and Helen.

*****
Tony Beauchamp and Luke Steelman drove to Norman, Oklahoma and attended the Oklahoma University game. OU lost but the boys had a good visit with Tony's sister, Lori, who is a freshman at Oklahoma University.

*****
Tommy Scaff underwent hip surgery at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. He was born with problems in his hip and had to have surgery when he was five years old at Scottish Rites Hospital in Dallas.

Tommy has suffered lots of pain and finally got into the hospital but had to wait from Monday until Friday to have the surgery. On Tuesday, he had been in the hospital ten days and hopefully he will be out by the time the paper comes out.

Tommy's mother-in-law, Virginia Steele, said he would have to be on crutches with no weight on his leg for six to eight weeks. Hopefully, all will go well when he comes home.

*****
Marian and Dixie Carson drove to Coperas Cove and picked up a load of calves at Dolph Moten's ranch recently. They visited with Dalph and his wife who live in town and Dolph's mother, Lois Moten, lives on the ranch. They spent the night with Mrs. Moten.

They said Dolph was mostly into ranching. He was the first editor and publisher of the Blade and raised his family in Bovina.

The Carsons drove onto Cedar Park and visited with daughter Joan, her husband, Mike Strawn and their son, Caleb. Then they went back by Coperas Cove and got their load of calves.

Don and Juanda Murphy attended her fiftieth high school class reunion, held at Ballinger, Texas. Juanda said there were seventy-two who graduated. Twenty-two are deceased and twenty-seven attended the reunion which was lots of fun.

The Murphys then drove on to Austin and attended the Southern Baptist Convention. There were six thousand registered.

While in Ballinger, Juanda visited with all three of her brothers and Don's mother and sister.

Brother Gary Morgan and his wife Donna, of First Baptist Church, attended the convention and they were also able to visit with grandparents.

Jerry Ware and her neice, Maxine Bennett of Pampa, drove to Kingsland and visited with Jerry's brother and sister-in-law, Clyde and Jewell Windom. The family enjoyed seeing lots of country, visiting and eating out.
