Tribe Downs, Anson, 14-6

BY SHANE HADAWAY
The Haskell Indians, displaying their lowest offensive output of the year, pulled off a close 14-6 victory over the Anson Tigers.
The Indians and Tigers defense controlled the game throughout. The Indians were held to just 79 yards rushing and 15 yards passing. The Tigers showed a little more offense with 82 yards rushing and 101 yards passing.
The Tigers took the opening kickoff and with 5:08 left in the first quarter scored their only touchdown. It came off a 5-yard pass from Mike Wilson that was tipped by two Indian defenders and caught by Mark Salas for the touchdown. The PAT was no good.

The Tribe's first touchdown was set up because of an interception by Haskell's Carl Dever. He returned the ball 33-yards to the Tigers' five yard line. On the second play of the drive quarterback Todd Harris hit Patrick McCoy on a 10-yard pass for the touchdown. The PAT by Harris was good.

Haskell's second and final touchdown came off a 63-yard punt return by Dever with 1:45 left in the second quarter. The PAT by Harris was good.
Key defense players were linebacker Sam Toliver and Robert Ivey, noseguard Keith Reed and McCoy at end.
McCoy knocked down an Anson pass on the Tribe's 10-yard line on fourth down in the final seconds of the game to help secure the victory.
Two bright spots for the Indians were the special teams play, which sprang Dever loose for his 63-yard punt return for a touchdown and the fact that the Indians just had 18 yards in penalties.
The Tribe travels to Stamford Friday to face the Stamford Bulldogs at 8 p.m. The Bulldogs have an 0-3 record going into the game against the Indians. They have lost to Hamlin 20-0, San Angelo Lake View 47-6, and Vernon 44-7.
Stamford is a passing team. They are quick but not very big. Outstanding players are Mike Young at quarterback and Robert Bird at split end.
Revenge will be a factor in the game since the Bulldogs defeated the Indians last year 12-7.

Civic Center Board OK's Fair Ground Location

The Haskell Indian Booster Club held its regular meeting Tuesday night.

In observation of Junior Night, several junior athlete boys and girls were introduced to a group of approximately 22 members by head coach, Blue Holt.

President Bailey Toliver commended the football boys and the coaches for a job well done

Friday night at the Anson game. The Haskell Indians defeated the Tigers 14-6 despite the fact that many starters had been ill during the week.

After having viewed the Anson game film, Coach Holt commented that this week's opponent, the Stamford Bulldogs, is hard-hitting and quick. They are about the same size as our team, according to the coach, and certainly will not be a push over. Although they have an 0-3 record, they have played tough opponents in Hamlin, Lakeview, and Vernon.

It was announced by Jerry Harris the ice machine to purchased by the Booster Club and the school has arrived. It will be delivered and operational as soon as possible.

Charles Reed reported that all nine dozen caps that the Booster Club had are sold. He has ordered 10 dozen more, and they will be available at the next home game (Quannah) September 30.

After discussion Jerry Harris moved and L.B. Ivey seconded that an additional 8 dozen be ordered.

The fish fry was discussed before adjournment.

Booster Club Hosts HHS Junior Athletes

Members of the Board of Directors of the Haskell Memorial Civic Center voted unanimously Tuesday night to accept the offer of the Haskell City Council and place the proposed Civic Center at the fair grounds.

Proposed plans call for the facility to be built on the west side of the fair ground property facing east.

"Construction at this site will enable us to add to an entertainment area" said R.C. Couch, Jr., president of the board. "With the Corral Building, show barn, rodeo grounds, tennis courts, city park, baseball field, Railroad Museum, Labriere home, swimming pool and overnight camping grounds all in one area, each facility should benefit the others" said Couch. He also added that the proposed construction of a new post office directly across the street from the Civic Center site should also enhance the property.

Couch and members of the board also expressed their thanks to the members of the Council for offering the property in support of the project.

Board members also heard reports on four fund drives. Mattie Muriel Felker reported on the advance gifts drive which is already underway and reports on the residential, business, and rural drives were heard.

Tickets On Sale For Pancake Supper

Tickets for the annual Lions Club Pancake Supper, scheduled for 5:30 to 7:30 September 30 are now available from all members of the club.

Proceeds from the supper will benefit the Goodfellow Fund and other club projects.

Fair Olympics Set Saturday

The Haskell Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor a special Fair Olympics competition for area schools this Saturday at 4 p.m. on the courthouse lawn.

The annual event features representatives of about a half dozen area high schools in special competition with trophies to the winners.

The event is open to the public free of charge and all area residents are invited to view the entire event.

In conjunction with the olympics, members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department will hold a concession stand. Proceeds will benefit the Auxiliary and the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department.

Queen Contest Offers Special Entertainment

Are you guilty of saying, "There's never anything to do around here!" or "I wish somebody would have something so I'd have somewhere to go!" Well you'll have no excuse for staying home tonight. Thirty two of the prettiest young ladies in Haskell County will be on stage at the Haskell Elementary Cafeteria at 7:30 tonight for the Haskell County Fair Queen Contest. The first phase of the competition took place Saturday at an afternoon tea when each girl was interviewed by the judges. They received points for their appearance and their interview. Tonight, we will view the girls in long dresses.

An added treat will be entertainment by a musical group from Dallas. Also, some of Haskell's up and coming beauty contestants and some of our preschool misses, will make an appearance.

The tickets are $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for children, and preschoolers are admitted free. These tickets will also get you into the fair where the Queen and her court will reign after the contest.

You simply can't stay home tonight when there is so much excitement going on. Don't be late. We'll begin promptly at 7:30.

Mitchell, Campbell United In Double Ring Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Karen Kay Campbell and Mr. Melvin Doyle Mitchell were married in a double ring candlelight ceremony Saturday September 17, 1983 at seven o'clock in the evening at the First Assembly of God Church in Haskell. Rev. J.C. Amburn, pastor of the church officiated.

Vows were exchanged before a fifteen branched arched candelabra flanked on either side by spiral candelabra intertwined with greenery. Pews were marked with brass hurricane lamps and white satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell of 1104 North Ave. F and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Phelps of Haskell.

The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Earl Mitchell of Rule and the grandson of Mrs. Evelyn White of Haskell, and Mrs. Susie Green of Rochester.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore an original gown by Michele for Alfred Angelo in white lace, sheer and satin. The entire bodice of laces were Victorian with sheer yoke and silk Venice lace appliques. A deep lace bertha fell over the sheer Bishop sleeves. Lace was repeated on the full sleeve and cuffs. The controlled full skirt of sheer and satin was enhanced with appliques of lace and a deep flounce of lace was repeated on the hemline. The skirt fell into a semi-cathedral length train. She wore a matching Victorian hat with appliques of re-embroidered lace that held her long veil of imported English illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of white bridal roses, lily of the valley and stephanotis showered with white Pique and lace ribbons.

For the traditional something borrowed and old, the bride wore tucked in her sleeve a white linen lavishly lace edged handkerchief of her maternal great grandmother, Mrs. Jack Sanders of Weinert. She wore a blue garter and a six pence in her shoe a gift of Frances Lane. Something new was her wedding gown, her jewelry was a gold chain necklace, gift of the groom on her wedding day.

Matron of honor was Brenda Kay Sartain, cousin of the bride of Dangerfield, maid of honor was Tina Lacey, cousin of the bride, of Haskell. Bridesmaids were Linda Howard, Loretta Payne, Georgia Billington and Shelah McFadden all of Haskell. Junior bridesmaid was Teresa Brazell, cousin of the bride, of Cross Plains.

The bride chose for her attendants identical carpet length dresses of bridal taffeta. The fitted bodice with sheer yoke of Schiffler net was accented with a ruffle and had puffed sleeves. A ruffle was repeated on the hemline of the full skirts and formed a bustle back. Each dress was in a rainbow color of peach frost, lavender, ice pink, bright blue, ruby and peacock blue. The junior bridesmaid wore a miniature dress of the bridesmaids in peacock blue. The honor attendants wore combs with phalaenopsis orchids in the color of their dress in their hair. Each of the attendants carried cascade nosegays of sweetheart roses, interspersed with alstroemeria and ribbon in the rainbow colors to match their dresses.

Little Miss Sheritta Tidrow, niece of the groom, of Haskell, was flower girl. She wore a miniature dress identical to the maid of honor by Alfred Angelo in ruby bridal taffeta. She carried a white wicker basket edged with lace of varied spring flowers and tied with ribbons on each side of peach, ruby and white and wore a cluster of flowers in her hair.

Master Kory Tidrow, nephew of the groom, of Haskell was ring bearer. He wore a three piece silver grey suit with white ruffle shirt. He carried a white heart shaped pillow with ruffled edge and ribbons.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Matt Mitchell of Haskell. Grooms-men were Robert Starr of Abilene, Charles New and Mike Rhoads of Rule, Robert Munoz and Johnny Lacey, cousin of the bride, of Haskell. Junior groomsman was Charles Campbell, cousin of the bride of Haskell. Candelights and ushers were Tom Turner of Rule, and Ricky Sanders, cousin of the bride of Irving.

The groom wore a white Dorchester cut-away tuxedo with bow tie, white ruffled shirt and a boutonniere of white roses with lily of the valley. His attendants all wore silver grey cut-away Dorchester tuxedos with white ruffled shirts and white rose boutonniere. The father of the bride wore a three piece silver grey tux like that of the ring bearer and junior groomsman.

The bride's mother chose a floor length mauve polyester gown with fitted jacket fashioned with long sleeves with permanent pleated ruffles around the neckline, down the front around the hemline and at the bottom of the sleeves. She wore pumps dyed to match her gown and a cattleya orchid corsage with stephanotis and sprigs of baby's breath.

The bride's grandmother wore a formal length dress of polyester chiffon in Blossom Rose, a Martinique original. The empire waistline with gathered bodice had a high rollover collar topped with a chiffon capelet that drapes lightly over the bodice and shoulders and flows to a fingertip length in the back. The full sleeves are cuffed at the wrists and the full flowing skirt fell softly to floor length. All the grandmothers wore white cattleya orchid corsages.

A registry table in the foyer of the church was covered with a white satin cloth. An arrangement with two crystal vases accented with variegated peach and white roses interspersed with stephanotis and maiden hair fern, the brides book and a white plume pin was on the table.

A prelude of traditional wedding music was presented by pianist Ellen Rieger before the candles were lighted. She was joined by Mrs. J.C.

Amburn at the organ for the "Bridal Chorus" while the bride and her father came down the aisle. Rev. and Mrs. Ron Meador of Stamford sang "Just You and I" and "Endless Love", and as the bride and groom lighted the unity candle, "The Lord's Prayer". Before the exchanging of the rings, Marvin McFadden of Haskell read the love chapter of the Bible, I Corinthians 13.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception at the Haskell National Bank Building.

The bride's table was covered in ivory satin overlaid with ivory illusion with lace border and lace appliques. Dividers of crystal separated the four tiered Italian Creme wedding cake, made and beautifully decorated by Mrs. Riley J. Pace with varied sizes of petunia and impatiens flowers in colors of peach, apricot and melon and adorned at the top with two white love birds. The knife was finished with white ribbon bow with rosettes of orchid, melon and white with long streamers of white and peach ribbon tied in love knots with rosettes of rainbow colors on each streamer made for the bride by Mrs. W.A. Lyles.

Fruit punch was served from a brass punch bowl. Brass appointments held mixed nuts and colored mints. Other table appointments were brass. Serving at the bride's table was Barbara Kirkland of Ft. Worth and Malinda Payne of Waxahachie.

The groom's table was covered with a peach cloth with an ecru lace overlay held a large German Chocolate cake topped with chocolate curls and icing in chocolate and beige. The centerpiece was a wood candelabra with five fluted crystal vases with vanilla candles intertwined with poppies, day lilies and daisies in colors of rust, brown and beige. Coffee was served from a brass coffee service. Other appointments were brass. Mrs. Gail Tidrow and Mrs. Sue Bukker, sisters of the groom served.

The registry table was covered with green and white checked gingham cloth with white organdy shorter circular overlay with lace trim. The centerpiece was a candelabra with five crystal fluted vases tied with peach ribbons with peach candles with variegated shades of peach roses, freesia and alstroemeria with maiden hair fern. The bride's book, wicker baskets of scrolls with gold bands and rice bags of rainbow colored rice, adorned the table. Three large tables with blue circular cloths and centerpieces of fresh spring flowers in rainbow colors were in the reception area for the convenience of the guests.

Members of the house party included: Flora Pace, Suzanne Starr, Frances Lane, Glenda Payne, Sue Lacey, Frankie Whitfield and Mildred Rawls. Mr. and Mrs. Yogi Gilleland of Rockwall video taped the wedding and reception and presented it to the bride and groom as a wedding gift.

The bride is a 1983 graduate of Haskell High School and employed by Haskell Free Press.

The groom is a 1983 graduate of Rule High School and is employed by Lee Drilling Co. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will make their home in Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Starr of Abilene hosted the rehearsal dinner at the Haskell National Bank Building.

Mrs. Jack Sanders were in the receiving line. Hostesses were Charlene Therwhanger, Ellen Rieger, Thelma King, Nelda Lane, Jeanie Stout, Frances Bird, Ruby Turner, Glenda Drinnon, Amelia Perry, Beverly SoRelle.

The ladies of the First Assembly of God Church hosted a shower of groceries for Karen and Doyle, Thursday evening Sept. 15 at seven thirty in the fellowship hall of the church. The table was covered with newspaper grocery advertising. A bouquet was made of grocery ads with a blue bow. A drawing across the front of the table depicted Karen pushing a grocery cart filled with groceries. Refreshments were homemade cookies, punch and tea. Becky Howeth and Debra Gibbs served the guests.

Mrs. Edna Anderson and Mrs. Jo Nell Trammel hosted a bridesmaids luncheon Saturday, Sept. 17, 1983 at twelve noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Trammell, 103 Ave. J east in Haskell honoring Miss Karen Kay Campbell, bride elect of Doyle Mitchell. Guests included: Brenda Sartain, Linda Howard, Tina Lacey, Shelah McFadden, Teresa Brazell, Mrs. Kenneth Campbell and Mrs. Dudley Phelps.

They served chicken salad on pineapple rings, strawberry salad, bean casserole, asparagus, rolls, olive balls, relish plate, chocolate pudding, cake, banana split cake from a round table with a bouquet of rainbow colored spring flowers as a centerpiece. Guests were seated at tables covered with gingham checked cloths in pink, blue and green with candle centerpieces.

Fall arrives today! September 22, 1983, the autumnal equinox. The sun changes the nature tunes to longer nights. This is the season of gathering crops and preparing for the cold days and nights ahead. The pumpkins will shine as the moon becomes full nearest the autumnal equinox. Squirrels begin their collecting and gathering nuts, fruit and seeds to hide away in their tree-cavity nests. The flowers and trees prepare for the long winter scattering their leaves and seeds to travel along waysides and creeks - to prepare for the stay under cover so they can spring forth next year. Each year's extraordinary colors bring delight to the painter. We forget from year to year how beautiful the tertiary colors, given to us by nature, can really be.

Q. Much of today's art, particularly in figurative painting, shows the influence of established artists such as Andrew Wyeth. What do you think of this?
A. Influences are necessary to an artist's development, however, this holds good only for young artists not long out of school. A student is constantly searching and re-creates to an artist most admired. A developed artist should realize that his most valuable asset is his individuality, without it he defeats his purpose as an artist. When an artist reaches widespread popularity, unfortunately a whole crop of painters begin to copy him, - what a waste of valuable time! They should spend their time developing their own viewpoints. An unknowing public purchases these weak imitations and fosters more of the same. Years ago a student would serve an apprenticeship under a master. His position would necessitate that he work in the manner of the master. This system DOES NOT exist today. Today a real artist is on his own.

Q. Many artists distort every aspect of their paintings; does this disturb you?

A. Of course not. Deliberate distortion is rather like a higher lever of facility done for definite creative and esthetic reasons. This liberal attitude is what gives a work of art its individuality.

Fast Foods Lacking In Some Nutrients

Twenty years ago, about one of every seven dollars spent eating out went to fast-food restaurants. Today, the ratio is two of every five dollars.

Because the public has turned increasingly to fast foods, concerns over nutrition have been raised. As with most issues, this one has two sides, says the Texas Medical Association.

On the positive side, most fast-food items contain significant amounts of certain nutrients. In general, most provide protein, carbohydrates, fat, and various vitamins and minerals.

On the other hand, fast foods can supply more calories than needed from one meal. Sodium, fat, and sugar levels are often too high, and levels of vitamins A and C too low. Nutrition experts also note that most fast-food restaurants provide few vegetables, fruits, and whole grains. Some of these establishments have responded with salad bars and more variety in their selections.

A recent analysis of 11 fast-food chains to determine how much their food contributes to the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances provided these general findings:

*Fast-food meals contained from 900 to 1,800 calories, meaning 33 to 66 percent of the total daily calories recommended for young men and 45 to 90 percent needed for women.

*The sodium content of many meals ran from 1,000 to 2,515 milligrams. A safe and adequate daily range is from 1,100 to 3,000 milligrams. Two slices of one chain's medium-size pizza would provide 800 to 1,500 milligrams of sodium, depending on the topping ordered and crust thickness. One chain's popular seven-ounce hamburger contained about 1,000 milligrams of sodium, while another chain's burger had 800 milligrams.

*Fat in some fast foods provided an average of 51 percent of the calories consumed. Experts say fat should contribute no more than 35 percent of a person's calories. Fat content is affected by the way foods are prepared (frying, broiling, grilling), cooking temperature, and reuse of cooking fat.

*Fast-food meals contribute

50 to 100 percent of the protein and 30 to 60 percent of the iron and calcium needed by young adults. However, vitamins A and C were very low in most meals.

These findings show the need for consumers to eat balanced meals frequently and to supplement their diets with required nutrients if they often eat fast foods.

Water institute seeks well-managed brush program

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Water Resources Institute has posted "wanted" signs for rustlers that annually steal millions of acre feet of water each year from along river banks, springs and reservoirs.

Heading the most-wanted list are saltcedar and mesquite, but also included are willow, cottonwood, hackberry and elm trees that, along with other plants with little or no economic value, consume 37 percent of all the rain which falls on the Lone Star State each year.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

Every two years, the Haskell-Mattson Exes have a homecoming event. I have never seen a group of exes who enjoy homecoming more. Class parties are going on all over town and last until the wee hours of the morning. People come to the football game to visit. I really think that it is terrific that enough pride exists in our school and community to enjoy an event like this.

We have painted some murals in the halls of HHS since the last homecoming and would like to invite you to come by the school and look over the facilities. We know you are proud of your school and many mementos and memories are within the halls so we will open the facility on Saturday to give you a little extra reminiscing time. We would also like to invite you to the pep rally at 3:00 p.m. Friday in the gym.

The Friday night football game will start at 8:00 p.m. The Haskell version of the Indians will take on the Quannah tribe of Indians at Indian Stadium under the watchful eye of the totem pole. Both tribes seem to have good football teams at this stage. It should provide an interesting evening.

Homecoming is important to the students also. They enjoy the queen's contest, the preparation of displays, the decoration of the gym and hallways but mostly just the excitement of welcoming their predecessors back to our campuses. Even though it is two weeks in the future, I can feel the excitement building among the students.

We welcome all of you who are exes or friends of exes to the homecoming activities. If there is any way that we at the school can assist you in enjoying this event, please let us know. Next year will be the 100th graduating class of HHS so history and nostalgia - so much a part of homecoming - should gain additional meaning this year. We hope to see all of you September 30 and October 1.

Hunting Safety Urged By Texas Medical Assn.

As the main hunting season begins in Texas, safety should be the foremost concern in using a firearm, says the Texas Medical Association.

This applies particularly to hunters under age 21, who cause almost 60 percent of gun casualties. Persons in this age group also make up about 40 percent of all accident victims. For this reason, hunter safety programs in Texas concentrate on the young hunter.

But safety while hunting applies to all ages. As guidelines, the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife lists the Ten Commandments of Firearm Safety:

*Treat every gun as if it were loaded.

*Be able to control the direction of the gun's muzzle even if you should stumble.

*Be sure the barrel is clear of obstructions. Use only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying.

*Unload guns when not in use. They should be carried in cases to the shooting area.

*Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. Avoid all horseplay with a firearm.

Never climb a fence or tree or jump a ditch with a loaded gun. And never pull a gun toward you by the muzzle.

*Be sure of your target before pulling the trigger.

*Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or at water. During target practice, be sure your backstop is adequate.

*Store guns and ammunition separately beyond the reach of children and careless adults.

*Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting. To protect the hunter from being mistaken for big game, the Texas Medical Association and wildlife officials recommend that hunters wear a brightly colored outer garment or cap. The best color is "hunter orange."

For more information on hunter safety programs, call the Texas Department of Parks and Wildlife at 1-800-792-1112.

PUBLIC NOTICE BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 8, 1983

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 91 proposes a constitutional amendment which requires a county with a population of 30,000 or more to be divided into not less than four nor more than eight justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of 18,000 or more but less than 30,000 shall be divided into not less than two nor more than five justice of the peace precincts. A county with a population of less than 18,000 shall be designated as a single justice of the peace precinct or, upon a finding of necessity by the commissioners court, shall be divided into more than one justice of the peace precinct but not more than four. The amendment provides further, that in any precinct in which there is a city with a population of 18,000 or more, two justices of the peace shall be elected. The amendment allows a justice of the peace, constable or commissioner to continue in office until the expiration of his term, although a change in precinct boundaries results in the officer no longer being a resident of the precinct for which he was elected or appointed and allows a justice of the peace or constable to continue in office until the expiration of his term even though a change in precinct boundaries results in the abolishment of the precinct or more than one justice of the peace or constable serving the precinct. Vacancies in the office of justice of the peace or constable that result from a precinct boundary change shall be filled by the commissioners court until the next general election. The amendment would take effect on January 1, 1984, and counties with populations of less than 30,000 and with more than four justice of the peace and constable precincts would have until January 1, 1987 to comply with the amendment.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing fewer justice of the peace and constable precincts in counties with a population of less than 30,000 and providing for continuous service by justices of the peace, constables, and county commissioners when precinct boundaries are changed."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 105 proposes a constitutional amendment which would limit a homestead in a city, town or village to a lot or lots amounting to not more than one acre of land, together with any improvements on the land. The constitutional requirement that, at the time of designation, an urban homestead not exceed ten thousand dollars in value without reference to the value of any improvements on the land would be eliminated.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment replacing the limitation on the value of an urban homestead with a limitation based on size."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact legislation that permits representative associations of agricultural producers to collect refundable assessments on their product sales to be used solely to finance programs of marketing, promotion, research and education relating to those products. It provides, further, that adoption of the proposed constitutional amendment will bring into effect Senate Bill 607, Acts of the 68th Legislature, Regular Session, 1983, with rejection of the amendment resulting in Senate Bill 607 having no effect.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for the advancement of food and fiber production and marketing in this state through research, education, and promotion financed by the producers of agricultural products."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 30 proposes a constitutional amendment which authorizes the Legislature to enact laws to provide for the succession of members of the Legislature in the event of enemy attack and allows the suspension of procedural rules imposed by the Constitution in the event of, or immediate threat of, enemy attack. The amendment empowers the Governor, after consultation with the Speaker of the House and the Lieutenant Governor, to suspend the constitutional requirement that the Legislature hold its sessions in Austin and allows the suspension of procedural rules by the Governor issuing a proclamation in which the House of Representatives and Senate concur by resolution approved by a majority of the members present. Suspension of the constitutional rules may not exceed a period of two years under a single proclamation; however, the Governor may renew the suspension by issuing a new proclamation concurred in by the House of Representatives and the Senate through a resolution approved by a majority of the members present.

The amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing statutory provisions for succession of public office during disasters caused by enemy attack, and authorizing the suspension of certain constitutional rules relating to legislative procedure during those disasters or during immediate threat of enemy attack."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 12 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact legislation providing for the use of the permanent school fund and income from the permanent school fund to guarantee bonds issued by school districts. The amendment provides, further, that the Legislature may appropriate part of the available school fund for administration of the permanent school fund or of a bond guarantee program established pursuant to the amendment.

The constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing use of the permanent school fund to guarantee bonds issued by school districts."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment which would permit the Legislature to provide for the garnishment of wages to enforce court-ordered child support payments. The garnishment remedy would not be available for other purposes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment allowing the Legislature to provide for additional remedies to enforce court-ordered child support payments."

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 14 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Veterans' Land Board to provide for, issue, and sell general obligation bonds of the State of Texas in an amount not to exceed $800 million to provide financing to veterans of the state. The amendment requires that three hundred million dollars of the state bonds be dedicated to the Veterans' Land Fund. The Fund is to be used to purchase land to be sold to veterans under such terms, rules and regulations as may be authorized by law. The amendment creates the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund and requires that $500 million of the state bonds authorized by the amendment be dedicated to the Fund. The Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund will be utilized by the Veterans' Land Board for the purpose of making home mortgage loans to veterans for housing within the state and for the administrative costs of administering the fund and issuing the bonds. The amendment provides, further, that if there is not money in either the Veterans' Land Fund or the Veterans' Housing Assistance Fund available for payment of principal and interest on the general obligation bonds issued pursuant to the amendment, then money coming into the Treasury in each fiscal year is appropriated in an amount sufficient for payment of principal and interest due in that fiscal year.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment for financial assistance to veterans and to authorize the issuance of $800 million in bonds of the state to finance the Veterans' Land Program and the Veterans' Housing Assistance Program."

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 1 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes political subdivisions to exempt veterans' organizations from ad valorem taxation on their property. The amendment requires that the veterans' organizations be chartered by the United States Congress, be composed of members or former members of the United States Armed Forces, and be organized for patriotic and public service purposes. The amendment provides, further, that political subdivisions may exempt fraternal organizations from ad valorem taxation on their property. The amendment requires that the fraternal organizations be organized to perform and be primarily engaged in charitable or benevolent functions. The Legislature would be authorized to enact laws that prescribe eligibility requirements for fraternal organizations to benefit from the exemption and to pass legislation limiting the types or amount of property owned by a fraternal organization which may be exempted from ad valorem taxation.

The proposed constitutional amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to authorize taxing units to exempt from taxation property of certain veterans' and fraternal organizations."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment providing for assignment of judges of statutory probate courts to other statutory county courts with probate jurisdiction and to county courts."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 17 proposes a constitutional amendment that authorizes the Legislature to enact laws which would allow a city or town to expend public funds to relocate or replace sanitation sewerage laterals on private property if done in conjunction with the replacement or relocation of sanitation sewer mains serving the property. The amendment requires that the law authorize the city or town to affix a lien on the private property, with the consent of the owner, to cover the costs of the replacement or relocation of the sewer laterals on the property. The lien may not be enforced until five years have expired since the date the lien was affixed. The amendment provides, further, that the law require that the costs of the replacement or relocation of the sewer laterals on the private property be assessed against the property with repayment to be amortized over a period not to exceed five years and at an interest rate provided by law.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to permit a city or town to expend public funds and levy assessments for the relocation or replacement of sanitation sewer laterals on private property."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 13 proposes a constitutional amendment that would change the Board of Pardons and Paroles from a constitutional agency to a statutory agency and would eliminate the Governor's power to revoke paroles. The Legislature would be authorized to establish the Board of Pardons and Paroles and to require it to maintain records of its actions and the reasons for its actions. The amendment would empower the Legislature to enact parole laws. Constitutional language specifying the qualifications and terms of office for members of the Board of Pardons and Paroles is eliminated. The constitutional language governing the composition of the Board of Pardons and Paroles and the manner of filling vacancies on the Board is eliminated.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to change the Board of Pardons and Paroles from a constitutional agency to a statutory agency and to give the board power to revoke paroles."

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR FOR TEXAS
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The ability of U.S. companies to sell goods and services abroad is vital to our nation's economic health. Yet, it also is critically important that we do not allow sensitive technology to be sold to actual or potential adversaries. The law through which the government tries to balance these national goals is the Export Administration Act of 1979, which expires at the end of this month.

This law has been less than satisfactory in its implementation. It has had the effect of unnecessarily restricting the ability of U.S. firms to do business abroad because of its complicated and time-consuming licensing requirements. Yet it has not prevented sensitive technology from being transferred to the Soviet Union and other unfriendly nations.

In addition, current law does not address the question of export restrictions as an instrument of foreign policy. The President has the authority to impose trade sanctions to express U.S. opposition to the actions of other nations. It is important that he retain this power. Yet, we have seen several instances -- most notably the 1980 grain embargo against the Soviet Union -- in which trade sanctions had little effect on the nation at which they were directed but a devastating impact on American business.

The Senate soon will begin considering a bill to revise the existing law. I believe that this bill represents the best balance of the goals and problems involved in international trade.

In order to restrict the transfer of sensitive technology to the Soviet Union, this legislation first seeks to increase the coordination of Western nations in the export control process. Additionally, the bill would give the Department of Defense the power to stop shipments involving militarily critical items.

However, the Senate bill also eases trade for those items which are not of potential military importance. It would simplify and speed up the licensing process so that American exporters can be more competitive in world markets. In addition, the export community would be given greater representation in the formulation and execution of export control policy.

Finally, the bill before the Senate seeks to discourage the improper or ineffective use of economic sanctions for foreign policy reasons, while maintaining the President's right to use this authority.

Tough standards for economic sanctions would require serious and thorough evaluation by the executive branch before sanctions could be imposed. The credibility of U.S. supplies would be protected by a provision that would allow contracts in effect when economic sanctions were imposed to remain in effect. And economic sanctions could not be imposed as an instrument of foreign policy if the nation in question could obtain the same goods from other sources.

In short, I believe this legislation is a balanced and fair approach to the difficult questions raised the need to increase our export trade at the same time that we seek to avoid unwittingly harming our national interest by allowing our technology to fall into unfriendly hands.

Early Adolescents Face Special Problems

From Lou Gilly
COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

For many years adolescence has been thought of as a period of "storm and stress." More recently, that "storm and stress" has been recognized as a critical period during which youngsters focus on special problems and concerns brought about by physical, intellectual, social and emotional changes.

Most early adolescents — 11 to 14 years of age — share concerns about their physical development and relationships with family and friends, yet they have exaggerated feelings of being very different from others.

Girls usually mature earlier than boys and are more anxious about attracting boys than boys are to gain their favor.

Being an early- or late-maturer poses a special problem for early adolescents. These youngsters may feel "out of step" with their peers. Late maturing boys and girls, for example, may feel anxious and wonder if they ever will attain normal adult height and physical development.

Early adolescents seem sometimes to be emotionally unstable and overly sensitive.

One 14 year old girl, for instance, had her hair done at a beauty shop before a special school party. But she became upset with the way her hair looked because the other kids might think it looked "funny". She cried and then completely changed the new hairdo. While her parents felt that her reaction was extreme and inappropriate, it is actually quite typical. The girl's strong need for peer approval interfered with a more sensible judgement about the hairdo.

Although incidents of this kind may not be pleasant and can cause tension in the family, they are a normal part of a youngster's struggle for identity and independence.

Parents, middle-school or junior high teachers, 4-H leaders and others can be helpful to young people who are struggling for their own identity. Young adolescents need the support of parents and other adults who take the time to listen and accept them just as they are.

Early adolescence is a time of growth and frustration for both parent and child. But it is a necessary step in order for the young person to achieve a sense of identity and self-worth.

USDA Issues Special Provisions

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block today said the U.S. Department of Agriculture will issue special provisions which will allow producers in severely drought-affected counties to harvest hay and forage from their own conservation use acreage for their own livestock.

Block said these provisions will be in effect immediately for the nearly 1,000 counties already approved for grazing. "Restricting use of harvested hay and forage to the individual farmer's own livestock minimizes the adverse economic impact on commercial hay producers," Block said. "At the same time, it will provide some relief to livestock producers who are taking part in this year's acreage reduction and payment-in-kind programs."

Block said approval for additional counties for special haying and grazing will be on a county-by-county basis.

BETTE VILLARREAL serves tamales and bunuelos to the Spanish Class members (back row) Becky Holt, Regina Billington (front row) Stephanie Browning, Kelly Wallace and Lydia Flores.

Spanish Class Observes Diez y Seis

By Jennifer Davis
The Spanish class celebrated Diez y Seis, Sept. 16, with homemade Mexican food. Bettye Villarreal's mother prepared tamales and bunuclos, dough circles fried in oil, then dipped in sugar and cinnamon.

"Prior to Friday's celebration, the students had been studying the background, music, customs, food, and dress of the Mexican people," Glenda Drinnon, Spanish teacher, said.

Friday was the 173 anniversary of Mexico's fight for independence from Spain.

Applications Now Being Accepted

Senator John Tower (R-Texas) today announced he is accepting applications from Texas students who wish to compete for his nomination to the nation's four service academies.

Potential candidates must be between the ages of 17 and 22, unmarried, and a United States citizen. High school seniors should specify whether they wish to attend the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.; the Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, New York; the Military Academy at West Point, New York, New York; or the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland.

"The four service academies offer cadets and midshipmen outstanding educational opportunities," Tower said in making the announcement. "In return, these young men and women commit themselves to serving as leaders in guaranteeing our national security."

Interested seniors may obtain an application from Tower's Dallas office at 1100 Commerce, Dallas, Texas 75242. Academy applicants need to provide a completed application form, a high school transcript (complete through the student's junior year), SAT or ACT scores, rank in class and three candidate evaluation forms. (The evaluation forms will be sent to the student upon return of the application. Additional letters of recommendation are not required.) The deadline for completing the academy application is December 15th.

Now serving his fourth term, Senator Tower is chairman of the Armed Services Committee and is also a member of the Budget Committee and chairman of the Housing and Urban Affairs Subcommittee. He is also chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, and now ranks second in seniority among GOP members of the Senate.

Fire Chief Tom Watson, I was very pleased to read about the men and womens teams both winning first places at the West Texas Fair competition. The practices, training and dedication of these men and women show the pride they have in their community. We in turn are very proud of them and want to express our appreciation for their time and effort which they so willing give to service their community. Congratulations to one and all.

Teach Children Basics; Common Sense

The following article is a public service by the Haskell Free Press through the cooperation of Joseph Thigpen, District Attorney and The Prosecutor Council. Its purpose is to make you aware of a prosecutor's role, of your responsibility as a resident of Haskell County and how we can work together to alleviate some of society's problems.

PROTECTING CHILDREN FROM CRIME

September means school and for parents of young children, their child's trek to and from school each day can be a constant source of apprehension.

Parents should teach their children basic, common-sense precautions and work with school officials and the PTA to initiate crime prevention strategies in and around schools.

*Give your child a healthy suspicion for strangers. A stranger is anyone a child's parents don't know, even if the person knows the child's name or "seems like a friend."

*Children should never accept food, gifts, or an automobile ride from a stranger and should never play around public restrooms.

Teach your children never to open the door to a stranger and never to enter a stranger's home. If your child is selling Girl Scout cookies, Easter Seals, or Christmas cards door-to-door, make sure he or she is accompanied by at least one friend.

*If a stranger bothers your child, the child should take note of the stranger's appearance, his clothing, and the color and license number of his car. Call the police IMMEDIATELY.

Know the length of time it takes your child to walk to and from school. Be aware of the schedule for any extra-curricular activities after school. Immediately check any delay in arrival home. Check out the safest route to and from school and instruct your children to follow that route. If possible, have them walk with others; there is safety in numbers. If your children are to arrive home after dark, arrange to meet them.

Parents of young children might consider organizing "child safety patrols" if child harassment becomes a serious problem. These patrols are composed of parents or concerned adults who walk the streets when school opens and closes each day.

Know your children's playmates and where they congregate. Visit the school and become acquainted with teachers and school officials. You may learn of delinquent behavior before it becomes a serious problem. Give the school instructions to release your children only to persons you have designated in writing.

Tell your children never to admit being home alone, whether to someone on the phone or to someone at the door. If your child is alone and the person asks where you are, the child should simply say that you can't come to the phone or the door right now. Teach your children to give as little information to a stranger as possible. Be sure your baby-sitter is a responsible person and capable of acting in an emergency.

Children should be encouraged to talk with their parents any time they have a problem, whether the problem is with a stranger, friend, or relative. Remind your children that the police officer is a friend who can be called on any time help is needed.

This article is provided by The Prosecutor Council in cooperation with your local prosecutor and the Texas Crime Prevention Institute. For further information call: Joseph Thigpen at 864-2077.

Helpful Information From Experts

How To Care For Your Legs During Pregnancy

By Howard C. Baron, M.D. *

One in four pregnant women develops varicose veins. You may not develop twisted and knotted blue cords on calf or thigh. You could, however, have a dull, aching, heavy feeling when standing or sitting for any length of time. Night cramps, itching, or burning legs are also symptoms of varicose veins.

What causes them? In healthy veins, valves around the inside of the vein wall help keep the blood flowing smoothly towards the heart. But during pregnancy, more blood circulating in the body increases the pressure on vein walls and valves already weakened by heredity, diet and female hormones. The walls of surface veins stretch and the valves do not meet or close properly. Instead of flowing upward, toward the heart, blood settles in the legs. This situation is aggravated by pressure in the abdomen which increases as the baby grows.

Treatment consists of the three E's: Elastic Graduated Compression Hosiery, Exercise, and Elevation. Elastic hosiery with graduated compression compresses the superficial veins in the legs. This narrows the channel of these dilated veins, preventing blood from accumulating in the legs. In order to be effective, elastic hosiery must be properly fitted and have graduated compression—that is, more pressure at the ankle, less at the calf, and least at the thigh. This produces a "milking" action on the leg, especially during exercise, to help blood flow back toward the heart.

Such hosiery is available without prescription at your drugstore. Bauer & Black® Graduated Support Hose and Therapeutic Graduated Compression Hosiery are good examples. In contrast, ordinary support hose have a uniform compression which tends to constrict surface veins in the thigh and block blood flow back to the heart.

Exercise such as walking, or even standing on tip-toe, is also beneficial. Avoid prolonged standing or sitting, especially with your legs crossed.

Elevation—Lie flat with the legs supported above heart level for an hour or so daily.

In addition:
• Eat plenty of fiber to help avoid constipation and the increased pressure it exerts on the lower back veins that drain the legs.
• Stop reading on the toilet. The shape of the hard seat puts pressure on the abdominal veins.

• Stop wearing constricting garments such as high boots with tight tops that may block circulation in the legs.

Money Matters

A Series Of Informative "Plain Talk" Thoughts Regarding Your Money Matters

IRA or IRS

Today, I'd like to tell you about two investment opportunities. One is called IRA and it's available at our bank. The other is called the IRS. Now, there's a good chance you are already investing in the IRS program.

What I'm recommending is this; you take some of the money you've been paying the IRS and invest it in an Individual Retirement Account. It grows until you retire and when you take it out you're in a lower income bracket and you pay less taxes. Now, I don't know how much money you make, but the IRS made 1/2 trillion last year. Who needs the money worse? You or them.

We Think Money Matters!

SWCD Sets Election Of Director

An election for a director to serve in Zone 5 on the Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District Board is scheduled for Tuesday, October 4, 1983 at the Haskell High School, Vocational Agriculture Building announced R.V. Earles, chairman of the board. The election will be held at 7:00 p.m.

State law decrees that to be eligible to vote in a soil and water conservation district director's election, a person must own agricultural land within the subdivision where the election is being held. The person must also live in a county all or any part of which is in the district and the voter must be 18 years old.

Legal qualifications state that a candidate for the office of a soil and water conservation district director must own land in the zone he represents, be 18 years of age and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. He must also live in a county all or part of which is in the district.

Zone 5 of the district includes an area from a line beginning at Haskell, east to Matteson highway, north to FM 1080, west to Rule-Rochester Y, south to FM 1225 then east to highway 277 and back to Haskell; taking in the mid-portion of Haskell County.

Current members of the board of directors of the Haskell SWCD are Earles, M.W. - Phemister, vice-chairman-Weinert, F.A. Ulmer, secretary-Sagerton, Johnny Wheatly-member-Haskell, and Dan Wadzeck, member-Rochester.

The purpose of the Haskell SWCD, with headquarters in Haskell is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The district board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

All conservation programs managed by the district are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

IRS Warns—All That Glitters Is Not Gold

What do the following have in common — a dredging operation to create salable ocean front lots in Panama, an interest in Panamanian gold claim, a limited partnership in a Florida recording production operation, and a Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, book publishing venture?

The answer, provided by the Internal Revenue Service, is that the losses shown by each venture were recently judged by a U.S. Tax Court to be ineligible as a tax deduction. In IRS terminology, each of these ventures is an abusive tax shelter — schemes in which tax deductions claimed exceed the investors at-risk basis by use of financing arrangements without personal obligations for repayment by the taxpayers.

In each of these cases, the IRS says the investors were obligated to pay only a small portion of their total investment. Losses were assured simply by making no serious effort to realize a profit. The "investors" (all in relatively high tax brackets) then attempted to deduct the full amount of their investment as a tax loss. The deductions were challenged by an IRS audit and have been subsequently disallowed.

It is also likely in such cases, the IRS says, that the investor will not even be allowed to deduct the money that he initially did put up for his tax shelter — making his "sure thing" tax shelter an expensive experience.

Generally, the IRS says, abusive tax shelters involve artificial transactions that lack economic reality, inflated appraisals, unrealistic allocations, "wholesale" buying to reap charitable contribution deductions at retail, and package details designed at the start to generate losses far in excess of present of future investment.

Abusive shelters often involve "nonrecourse" loans, the IRS says, for which the taxpayer is not liable for payment and that inflate losses or other deductions. Such financing has been used to inflate deductions and credits to make them larger than the cash investment. However, the law generally provides that the amount on which an investment tax credit is computed and the amount of deductions for losses is limited to amounts actually risked in the venture.

As was the case in the recent tax court cases cited, investing in an abusive tax shelter, the IRS says, can be a very expensive proposition. Consider the consequences: The promoter generally charges a substantial fee; the chance of examination by the IRS is great; and the taxpayer will face payment of the tax, substantial interest on the under payment, plus a variety of penalties.

The IRS advises potential tax shelter investors to consider all the facts and circumstances involved and to seek counsel before investing in any doubtful tax shelter. If something sounds too good to be true, it usually is.

1 Million Calves Receive Brucellosis Vaccine

The Texas livestock industry has achieved a first in its continuing battle against brucellosis.

For the first time in history, more than one million calves have been vaccinated in a fiscal year in this state. The total as of Aug. 31, 1983 was 1,000,278. That means 35.7 percent of all eligible calves were vaccinated for brucellosis in Texas for fiscal year 1983.

"The number of vaccinated calves has almost doubled in the past three years. That is significant since basic changes were made and incorporated into the Texas brucellosis program in 1980.

"It shows livestock producers are accepting those changes," John B. Armstrong, Kingsville, chairman, Texas Animal Health Commission, said.

One of those changes included regulations which encourage freer movement of the vaccinated animal versus the non-vaccinate.

"We want to thank the Texas Agricultural Extension Service through its county agricultural agents in helping us get the information about the value of vaccination to producers throughout this state.

"Veterinarians, livestock organizations and mass media have also worked closely with us in this endeavor," Armstrong said.

Gun-Related Crime In U. S. Hits New Low

Handgun and firearm involvement in U.S. homicide are at their lowest levels in 16 years, and gun-related crime continued to drop in 1982, according to figures released Sept. 11 in the 1982 FBI Uniform Crime Reports.

The number of serious crimes reported to police dropped 3 percent last year, while the overall crime rate dropped 4 percent, the largest decline since 1977. The gun-related crime rate fell 7 percent. Federal authorities in general credited the drops to citizen crime prevention programs and the courts getting tougher with criminals.

According to the FBI data, there were 8,474 reported handgun-related homicides last year, compared to almost 9,200 in 1981 and more than 10,000 in 1980. The FBI reported last year that handguns were involved in approximately 50 percent of the U.S. homicides; this year the reported figure was less than 4 percent.

Firearm involvement in robbery fell to the lowest level ever measured by the FBI, which started keeping track in this category in 1974, and there were 7 percent fewer gun-related robberies in 1982 than 1981.

The FBI also reported that firearm involvement in aggravated assault has not been lower since 1967, and firearm involvement in overall violent crime continued a downward drop that began in 1974.

According to data compiled by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, per capita handgun ownership in the U.S. has increased 32 percent between 1974 and 1982; the FBI Uniform Crime Reports showed that the domestic homicide rate — family members killing family members — actually fell 32 percent during the same time period.

National Rifle Association officials said the drops, which generally have continued in recent years without the enactment of additional federal gun laws, show that more gun laws are not needed in the U.S. and that increased gun ownership by lawabiding citizens acts as a deterrent to crime.

With over 6,000 criminals arrested and over $45 million recovered in stolen property and narcotics, Crime Stoppers is working for Texas. Through financial support, volunteer work, and the use of telephones, the citizens of Texas have made Crime Stoppers an effective means of stopping crime in their neighborhoods.

The crime rate in Texas declined 3% over the first half of 1983, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety. Widespread citizen participation in Crime Prevention and Crime Stoppers programs has been cited as a reason for this decrease.

A Crime Stoppers program is a non-profit organization which is supported through private contributions from civic clubs, businesses and concerned citizens. Crime Stoppers requires participation of law enforcement officials, media representatives and citizens to succeed.

Today, Texas can boast of 96 local Crime Stoppers programs — over one-fourth of the programs which exist in the nation. Governor Mark White, the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council and local Crime Stoppers programs are working hard to ensure that the war on crime is successful. But the fight against crime in Texas needs the help of its citizens.

Citizens with information on felony criminal activity, such as names, addresses, locations of contraband, vehicles and license numbers, are asked to call their local Crime Stoppers program or Texas Crime Stoppers toll-free at 1-800-252-TIPS anytime, day or night.

Cash rewards are available for information leading to the arrest and felony indictment of criminals in Texas. Citizens are not asked their names and will be given a unique code number for reward purposes.

Since the first Crime Stoppers program was established in Albuquerque, New Mexico, in 1976, Crime Stoppers nationally has been responsible for solving more than 33,000 felony cases, recovering more than $130 million in stolen property and narcotics, and convicting over 10,000 suspects brought to trial.

Crime Stoppers across the nation solves a major crime every 31 minutes of operation and recovers over $7,000 in stolen property and narcotics per hour.

Governor White and the Crime Stoppers Advisory Council is asking communities to ban together to build a Texas which is free from the fear of crime.

Farm Safety Week Set September 18-24

Protecting rural children and teaching them safety measures is the emphasis of National Farm Safety Week September 18-24, according to George R. Gustafson, Executive Vice President of the Texas Safety Association.

The 40th annual observance of rural safety has been proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan and is being sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Farm safety is a particular concern in Texas, where 100 persons lost their lives in farm accidents last year, according to Gustafson. The statistics are tabulated by the Texas Farm Bureau, based on data furnished by the Texas State Health Department. These records show that of the 100 deaths, most were related to tractors, firearms, drowning, electric current, and machinery, he said.

Safety leaders estimate that the incidence of these rural-type accidents is actually much greater than those numbers reported, he said.

Although farm fatalities are a major concern, farmers and ranchers should also be aware that up to 20,000 disabling injuries and up to 250,000 serious injuries requiring medical attention occur to Texas farmers and ranchers each year, according to Dr. Gary S. Nelson, Extension Specialist Safety Engineering, Texas A&M University and Texas Safety Association Vice President for Agriculture.

According to Nelson, "If you are a farmer or a rancher, the probability of experiencing a serious injury this year is 1 in 5."

Farabee Explains Amendments

Although some candidates for the 1984 elections have already announced, Senator Ray Farabee (Wichita Falls) is reminding his District that there is also a 1983 election that they need to vote in. At stake are eleven constitutional amendments, two of which were sponsored by the Senator.

"On the years when there is no election for statewide office and voters do not hear candidates campaigning, it is easy to forget that there is still an election. This year it will be held on November 8, and voters will have the opportunity to vote on constitutional amendments dealing with child support, the pardon and paroles system, the Permanent School Fund and other issues. I urge voters from the 30th District to vote for all of these amendments," Farabee said.

Farabee outlined five of the eleven amendments, and promised that his office will release information on the other six in following weeks.

Amendment 1 would authorize counties with a population of 30,000 or less to have fewer justices of the peace and constable precincts. Farabee noted that this amendment would save counties money.

Amendment 2 proposes to change the homestead exemption of urban homesteads from a monetary limitation to the size limitation also used by rural homesteads. This change will avoid future amendments to the Constitution when the price of land or the standard of living changes.

Amendment 3 would allow the Legislature to grant agricultural producer associations the authority to collect refundable assessments on their product sales. Farabee said that such an amendment would allow agricultural producers to promote their products in a more cost-effective manner. He explained that passage of the amendment would not automatically result in mandatory assessments, but would give producer associations the right to hold a referendum to decide if the assessments should be levied.

Amendment 4 would authorize provisions to temporarily fill of the offices of state senators and representatives when incumbents are unable to fulfill their duties during emergencies caused by enemy attack. It also sets a procedure for the suspension of certain legislative procedural rules during these emergencies.

Amendment 5 proposes to allow the use of the Permanent School Fund to guarantee school bonds. Because the current economic conditions result in high interest accommodate the new students moving into Texas. Senator Farabee explained that if the state guarantees these bonds, interest costs can be brought down and necessary building and renovating will cost taxpayers less. Farabee also said that this is virtually a risk-free program for the state, and will benefit school children, teachers and the education system of Texas.

WTRC Cattlemen's Round-Up Underway

Trailers are fanning out throughout Texas picking up cattle and other livestock for the 24th Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children.

Jim Alexander of Abilene, general chairman of the Cattlemen's Round-Up, stated the time is now for a great deal of worry and concern. The drought has been broken in some spots but is still very distinct in other segments of Texas and the Southwest.

Alexander went on to say he hoped that stockmen throughout the state will realize how important their sharing of their livestock for the Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children is this year.

Cattle previously pledged are being picked up from as far away as Hereford, Alpine, Kingsville, deep east Texas, and many other points.

The cattle sale will be Sept. 26 at Abilene Auction, with the horse sale also set at Abilene Auction on Oct. 1. Other sales will be held on Oct. 5 in Coleman and Stephenville; Oct. 10 in Junction; and Nov. 2 in Brownwood.

Persons wishing to donate livestock should contact their area chairman, or call Shelley V. Smith at the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, Abilene, (915/692-1633).

The Cattlemen's Round-Up for Crippled Children benefits the West Texas Rehabilitation Center's programs for the handicapped on campuses in Abilene and San Angelo.
