WATER LEAK

Haskell City employees were greeted with the good news of another water leak Wednesday morning when they arrived at work. Water was coming out from under the sidewalk at Boggs and Johnson Furniture on the east side of the square.

NOW WHAT?

City crews remove a small area of pavement in an attempt to locate the leak. During the past week city crews have been kept busy repairing water leaks in below freezing temperatures. City officials estimate about 40% of the homes in Haskell are without water due to the freeze.

Record Cold Spell Causes Problems For Entire Area

A record breaking cold spell struck Haskell, as well as many other parts of the country, last week and damage estimates are still not available.

Freezing temperatures arrived in Haskell December 18 and remained below freezing until December 26. The spell of constant freezing stretched over a period of over 200 hours and broke records across the state.

Temperatures hovered near or below zero for several nights.

In addition to the extreme cold, a light snowfall and later freezing rain hampered travel for much of the period.

Haskell Water Superintendent Thomas Rodriguez said Tuesday that the city water system had suffered six major breaks in mains caused by the freezing temperatures and that city water was turned off at least once to repair leaks.

He also added that many service lines had frozen between mains and meters and as many as fifty homes had been without water for this reason.

Rodriguez said that the city had also experienced problems with garbage service resulting from problems with access as well as problems with equipment caused by the cold.

Haskell plumber W.O. Nanny said that all local plumbers had been busy during the cold and estimated that possibly as many as 40% of the homes in Haskell might have damage to water lines caused by the cold.

He added that many of the water lines were still frozen and until temperatures rose to above freezing and remained for some time, it would not be possible to estimate the total number of houses affected.

Nanny said that much of the work done by plumbers was simply to cap leaks and try to maintain some limited amount of water to many homes and that repairs would be started as soon as possible.

Steve Roper, manager of Lone Star Gas in Haskell, said that the main problem the gas company had encountered was a supply problem.

According to Roper, Lone Star had adequate amounts of gas available, but extremely high demands for gas could not be met by supply lines.

Lone Star began curtailing gas to industrial users and large commercial users December 25. The curtailment was lifted December 27 but Roper added that another prolonged cold spell would probably result in further curtailments. Locally gins, car dealers, the County Courthouse, and other large commercial users were asked to cut back on gas consumption to a minimum level of plant protection. Schools also fell into the curtailment category but because of Christmas

Fred Barnett Nominated For Service Academies

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm has announced that Frederick Lee Barnett, of Haskell, has been included in a slate of nominees to the United States Service Academies.

Barnett gained nominations to the Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, CO, the Military Academy in West Point, NY and the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, NY.

The Academies will now evaluate Barnett along with the other nominees, and select a Principal for admission, with Qualified Alternates. Alternates will be given further consideration depending upon available vacancies.

Country Club Slates New Year's Dance

The Haskell Country Club members and their out-of-town guest will ring in the New Year with a dance beginning at 9:00 p.m. Saturday. The theme will be western so dress warm, come on out and help welcome in the New Year.

WTC Names Spring Semester Instructors

Instructors for several courses to be offered at the Haskell extension center of Western Texas College in the spring semester have been named by Dr. Wendell Jones, Director of Extension Centers.

Billie McKeever will be the instructor for English 132, scheduled for Monday nights.

Dr. Edward Barkowsky will teach American Literature (English 231), with classes on Tuesday nights.

Robert Adams will teach Government 231, American, State and Local Government. This class will meet on Wednesday nights.

W.L. Holt is to teach Mathematics 135, Math Concepts I, in a class meeting on Wednesday nights.

Also on the schedule is Biology 145, Principles of Biology.

Registration for the spring classes is to be held from 6:30-8 p.m. on Jan. 12 in the Haskell High School Library. Classes begin on Jan. 18. Persons wishing further holidays, were already on minimum consumption.

Sue Pate, local manager of West Texas Utilities, said WTU had encountered only minor isolated problems from the weather but all utility companies have been alerted to possible problems.

Th WTU Paint Creek Power Plant changed from natural gas to oil during the industrial curtailment and continues to use oil to generate at capacity levels.

The change to oil causes some operational problems but does not effect the capacity of the power plant. Among the problems in using oil is the requirement of almost twice the manpower required when using natural gas.

Ranchers have been extremely busy during the freezing temperatures feeding livestock and breaking ice to enable livestock to drink.

The widespread area covered by the ice and snow and the prolonged freezing temperatures have caused problems for many ranchers in securing feed. Icy roads caused delays in delivery of feed as well as limiting travel to remote pasture areas by some ranchers.

Reports of ice as thick as 14 inches on tanks and ponds have caused many oldtimers to this area to scratch their heads when pondering the question, "Has it ever been this cold this long before now?"

Although temperatures rose to above freezing Monday, weather forecasts were not overly optimistic that the end to the cold was in sight. The forecasts continue to call for freezing rain, snow and below freezing temperatures with several new fronts developing to the west and northwest.

information about the extension center are invited to contact Bill Blakley at 864-2891 or Dr. Jones at WTC in Snyder. Offices at WTC will be closed until Jan. 3 for the mid-winter holiday.

WTU Receives Approval For 5.1% Rate Increase

West Texas Utilities Company has been granted a retail rate increase totaling $12 million annually by the Public Utility Commission of Texas.

The overall increase amounts to 5.1 percent, much less than the 11 percent the company had said it needed. The company had asked for $25.6 million in its request to the cities and the PUC.

The exact amount assigned to various customer classifications and the effective date of the new rates awaits PUC approval of rate tariffs which will be filed early next week. Company officials said the rates are likely to go into effect around January 1.

The approved rate hike also is less than the interim rates WTU has charged customers in 32 of its cities since October 22, which means that those customers will be receiving refunds and will see their rates lowered slightly. The interim rates, collected under bond and subject to refund, were designed to increase the company's annual revenue by $18 million.

Approximate effects of the rates changes on a typical residential customer's bill are as follows, based on 600 kilowatt-hours of electric usage and including fuel costs:

Proposed rates, $46.85; present rate, $44.16; and increase $2.69 or 6.1 percent.

Interim rate, $49.56; proposed rate, $46.85; and decrease $2.71 or 5.7 percent.

Company officials said the refund on interim rates probably will be made in the February billing. Customers due refunds who have moved out of the WTU service area should contact their former local offices.

Interim rates were placed in effect October 22 in the following communities which had suspended WTU's proposed rate increase: Abilene, Anson, Baird, Ballinger, Benjamin, Big Lake, Blackwell, Buffalo Gap, Childress, Cisco, Clarendon, Crowell, Eden, Hamlin, Haskell, Impact, Knox City, Melvin, Munday, O'Brien, Paducah, Quanah, Rising Star, Rochester, San Angelo, Spur, Stamford, Throckmorton, Tye, Wellington, Winters and Woodson.

Interim rates were not placed into effect in the following cities, because they denied the rate increase and their cases had been appealed to the PUC: Alpine, Aspermont, Balmoreha, Bronte, Clyde, Cross Plains, Dodson, Estelline, Hawley, Iraan, Jayton, Junction, Lawn, Lueders, Marfa, Memphis, Menard, Merkel, Miles, Presidio, Putnam, Quitaque, Rankin, Santa Anna, Shamrock, Sonora, Sterling City, Turkey, Tuscola and Valentine.

Brush and Palette

This Christmas Season has been filled with many blessings. We now look forward to the new year. Perhaps you will be making some resolutions and I hope one will be to paint more. During the cold winter days you possibly can find time to get out your paints and create a good painting. The greater number of artists we have the more interesting it will become. We are enjoying an increase in artists over the area enjoying their talent both for profit and pleasure. I think we have the potential and we are rapidly developing into a real artists' area. Make a resolution to paint more this year of 1984!

Q. How can I keep from wasting paint by mixing much more than I need?

A. Try putting out a small amount of one color and then adding the second color, a very little at a time. With darker colors, add a bit of white or the next highest value in the same hue, adding this color just a bit at a time. The best way I have found to mix colors is to start with the lightest color and add the darker colors to it. If you find yourself in too big a puddle already, and need to adjust it more, then pull some of the color away to one side and work with a smaller amount. You can then use the over amount to tone a canvas, if you don't need it elsewhere in your painting.

Q. I have an oil painting that has become dirty and discolored from dust and gas fumes. Can I clean it myself?

A. The safest way for a "do-it-yourselfer" is to use a professional restorer (purchased at your better art stores). Grumbacher makes a good one, if you use their products. Try it first on a tiny spot in the lower corner, because unless you have painted the picture yourself, you have no idea what kind of quality of paint was used. Some of it might come off. It is seems all right, then clean just a small section at a time, going over it repeatedly. Use a soft cloth and rub gently. Anytime the paint begins to come off in any quantity, stop right then, or you will soon have a bare canvas. If your painting is cracked or damaged, or if the varnish has run, the job had better be done by a professional.

HINT: Paint the beautiful. Help everybody who views your painting to see the loveliness of God's world.

Write your questions and hints to me, Faye Schnuriger, P.O. Box 134, Haskell, Texas 79521. I will not use your name but do want you to sign your letters.

Guidelines For Helping Children With Arguments

One of the major obstacles to harmonious relationships among siblings is the constant arguing, bickering, and fighting that goes on between them.

You probably won't be able to eliminate all such interaction. But you can help your children learn to settle their disputes in constructive ways. This will help them understand and feel better about each other so they'll be less apt to fight when they disagree (perhaps even when you are not around as well).

Following are some guidelines from Growing Child, the monthly child development newsletter, to help you help your children settle their disputes more amicably and with respect for each other.

When your children argue or fight over something, try to get the whole story of what caused the problem before jumping to conclusions and blaming or punishing anyone. Even in a situation where a child seems to hurt a younger sibling who can't tell his side of the story, give the child a chance to tell hers.

For example, say to her "You must really have been mad at the baby to hit him," and then let her explain. Let her know her angry feelings are acceptable but that you can't let her hit him.

In an argument between two children who can both talk, give each a chance to tell her point of view. You can help this process by describing the situation rather than judging it: "It looks like you two can't agree on which television program to watch. You both seem pretty upset. Want to tell me about it? Laurie, you go first. Then Joey, I want to hear your side of the story." This kind of approach will save a lot of hurt feelings and resentment between your children, and it will help them learn to settle disputes themselves without fighting.

After each child has had a chance to tell her or his point of view in a dispute, help each also see the other's side of the situation. If you try to convince a child (or an adult) that the other person is right, she will resist you because you're saying at the same time that she is wrong. On the other hand, if you can show each child that you understand and accept her side, she'll be more willing to also listen to the other's side.

At this point, with your continuing help in translating each child's feelings to the other as needed, they should be able to work out some sort of compromise. You've helped them over this particular conflict and shown them a model they can learn to use to settle differences in the future, both with each other... and with others.

The Growing Child newsletter follows a child's development, month-by-month. For more information and a free sample newsletter, write to Growing Child, P.O. Box 620, Lafayette, Indiana 47902. Include child's birthdate when writing.

GET SMART SHOPPERS— SAVE $$$ AND EAT BETTER

Americans spend a much smaller percentage of their income on groceries today than they did in the past. In 1930, when the average hourly wage was $1.07, consumers spent .27 or 25% of their hourly wage on food. In 1980, with an increased average hourly wage of $7.50, they spent only .90 or 12% of their hourly wage to purchase groceries. Today, food really is a good buy.

Saving money at the supermarket is no accident. By following a few simple guidelines you can expect to cut your monthly grocery bill considerably. The food experts at Shurfine-Central Corporation say, be choosy. Often you have the option to select from among national brands, quality-controlled private labels, or generics. National brands are almost always more expensive but not necessarily more nutritious or of a higher quality. Controlled private labels, like the Shurfine and Shurfresh brands from another smart idea. Shurfine's "Smart Shopping Tips" will help you in organizing your shopping time, maintaining a proper mix of nutrients, and of are not brands at all, but course, keeping food expenditures to a minimum.

For a free copy of the Shurfine's "How To Save Money at the Supermarket," write Shurfine Shoppers home economist, Dept. MS2, P.O. Box 1503, Melrose Park, Ill. 60160.

Simple Lifestyle Changes Can Help Prevent Diabetes

Diabetes occurs most often in certain types of people, and these individuals should make simple changes in their lifestyles and also become familiar with the symptoms of the disease.

According to the Texas Department of Health, diabetes occurs most often in people with diabetic relatives, those over age 40, and people who are overweight.

It is impossible to do anything about the first two risk factors, but being overweight can be controlled through proper nutrition, diet, and exercise. In fact, keeping your proper weight is frequently the only way of preventing diabetes and reducing its severity, especially in older people.

More than 80 percent of adult diabetics are overweight when their diabetes is discovered.

If you are in the high risk category you should learn the symptoms of diabetes in addition to maintaining your normal body weight. The symptoms include frequent urination, excessive thirst, extreme hunger, tiring, skin infections, and blurred vision.

Physicians can, even in the absence of symptoms, discover diabetes by testing the blood sugar. Many physicians regularly test their patients who are most likely to develop diabetes. If the presence of diabetes is suggested by the test, more tests will be made before a diagnosis is given.

The majority of persons with diabetes have Type II, formerly called maturity-onset diabetes because it most commonly develops after age 35. Type II diabetes often can be controlled by diet and exercise, although oral medication or insulin may be required.

If left undetected or untreated, severe complications from diabetes can result including blindness, glaucoma, cataracts, nervous system disorders, heart disease, gangrene resulting in amputations, arteriosclerosis, and kidney failure.

In Texas, it is estimated that 700,000 persons or five percent of the state's population are believed to have diabetes.

For more information, contact Dr. Willard Drake, Jr., Bureau of Adult Health Services, Texas Department of Health, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756. Phone: 512-458-7534

You can remove spilled food and odors from your refrigerator with a sponge and a solution of one tablespoon of a product such as 20 Mule Team Borax and a quart of warm water. Rinse with cold water.

To remove stubborn coffee stains and smells you can fill any non-aluminum coffee-maker with water to full cup capacity, then add a teaspoon of borax for every cup. Let your pot percolate, then let it stand for 20 minutes and rinse thoroughly.

Small Businesses To Benefit From Bill

In the last minute rush before Christmas recess, Texas Rep. Charlie Stenholm joined forces with two other congressmen to introduce a major reform bill which could open bidding doors to small businesses seeking federal contracts. The current onerous Davis-Bacon wage requirements effectively block many small contractors from the bidding process.

The bill technically amends three laws: the Small Business Act, the Davis-Bacon Act, and the Copeland Anti-Kickback Act. If the bill clears both houses, any contractor qualifying as "small" under Small Business Administration standards would not be subject to the Davis-Bacon wage decrees or to the heavy reporting requirements of the Copeland Act when he or she bids on contracts of $1 million or less.

According to John Motley, deputy director of federal legislation at the National Federation of Independent Business, "This is a critical bill for small business. In essence, eliminate the Davis-Bacon proviso, and you make small firms competitive; cut the Copeland requirement and you reduce the mound of paperwork. These are the largest factors blocking small contractors from bidding.

The General Accounting Office, in its 1979 report to Congress, called for a repeal of the Davis-Bacon Act. The comptroller general explained why in the report: "1. there have been significant changes in the economy since 1931 which we believe make continuation of the act unnecessary, 2. after nearly 50 years, the Department of Labor has yet to develop an effective program to issue and maintain accurate wage determinations, and it may be impractical to ever do so, and 3. the act is inflationary, and results in unnecessary construction and administrative costs of several hundred million dollars annually."

The GAO review of 30 federal or federally assisted projects pointed out that the majority of the wage rates issued by Labor were higher than the prevailing rates in 12 localities and lower in the other 18. In the 12 higher rated areas, wages costs paid on the projects averaged 37 percent more than the comparable wage costs in the locality's prevailing rate. These higher wage costs ranged from a low 5 percent over Labor's figures to 123 percent higher.

In the 18 localities that showed a lower figure than Labor's prevailing wage, the GAO report points out that local contractors were generally given the contracts.

GAO's analysis? "Thus, the act's intent—to maintain the local prevailing wage structure—is carried out only when the administration of the act has no effect."

Haskell Bond Sales At 64%

Sales of U.S. Savings Bonds during the period January through September 1983 in Haskell County amounted to $202,122,865, an increase of 28.5% over the same period a year ago, John W. Dixon, Chairman of the Board and CEO of E-Systems, Inc. in Dallas and Volunteer State Chairman for Texas, announced today. These sales represent 90.0% of the State's 1983 assigned dollar goal of $224,700,000.

Sales of Series EE Bonds were $2,026,000 during September 1983, for a total of $41,787.00 for the first nine-months of 1983 in Haskell County, R.W. Herren, Volunteer County Chairman, said. These sales represent 64% of the County's 1983 assigned dollar goal.

Nationally, September 1983 sales of Series EE Bonds amounted to $315 million, up 22% over September 1982, making a nine-month total of $3.06 billion, an increase of 32%. Savings Bonds held by the public amounted to $70.6 billion as of September 30, an increase of $272 million for the month.

According to the County Chairman, the U.S. Treasury Department has announced a market-based interest rate of 9.38 percent for the first semiannual interest period of Series EE Bonds issued between November 1, 1983 and April 30, 1984. This is the third semiannual rate to take effect since the market-based, variable rates were introduced a year ago. The combined market-based rates—11.09% from November 1982 to April 1983; 8.65% from May to October 1983 and this latest one of 9.38% for November 1, 1983 to April 30, 1984—make the average yield 9.70 percent for the three periods. Older Series EE and E Bonds and U.S. Savings Notes also receive the variable rate; however, all Bonds must be held at least five years from their date of purchase or November 1, 1982 (whichever is later) to receive these rates.

New Tax Law Changes Veterans Land Board To Begin Monthly Payments

Information reports, similar to those required of financial institutions on interest and dividend income, are now required for certain transactions involving direct sellers, barter exchange members, and brokers. The new information reporting requirements, enacted under the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA), cover transactions taking place after December 31, 1982.

Nonemployee compensation payments totalling $600 or more during a calendar year must be reported on Form 1099-MISC, "Statement of Recipients of Miscellaneous Income," by trades or businesses that do business with nonemployees such as freelancers or independent contractors. These reports must contain the income recipient's name, address, identification number, and the total amount of payments made to the individual during the year.

Reporting is now also required on Form 1099-MISC from any business that sells $5,000 or more worth of consumer products to a direct seller on a "buy-sell basis," a "deposit-commission basis," or any similar arrangement. A sale is on a "buy-sell basis" if the buyer's compensation includes part or all of the difference between the cost to him or her and the sales price. A sale is on the "deposit-commission basis" if the buyer retains all or part of the consumer's purchase deposit as compensation.

Finally, brokers—including barter exchanges, dealers, stock brokers and other intermediaries—are required to furnish Form 1099-B, "Statement for Recipient of Proceeds from Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions," on all gross proceeds on transactions occurring after June 30, 1983. However, brokers may report on all 1983 transactions.

In all cases, the information reports must be furnished to the IRS by February 28, and to the person receiving the payments by January 31. IRS will use the reports to ascertain whether taxpayers have been accurately reporting all taxable income.

More information on these new reporting requirements may be found in the instructions for Form 1096, "Annual Summary and Transmittal of U.S. Information Returns." A new publication, Publication 911, "Tax Information for Direct Sellers," is also available by writing or calling the IRS.

Texas A&M ranks tops in management

Texas A&M University's Department of Management ranks third in academic excellence among public universities in the United States in a recent poll conducted among Academy of Management members.

Texas A&M is the only state-supported university in the Southwest included among the top 15 institutions listed by the academy for outstanding management departments.

"We're thrilled about the results of the survey," said Dr. Lyle Schoenfeldt, head of the Texas A&M College of Business Administration's Management Department. "It represents the culmination of a lot of work by a lot of people over the last seven years who have actively recruited some of the best management professors and researchers in the country who are given as much freedom as possible to explore their areas of expertise and the necessary support for teaching and research."

The recent survey ranks only the University of California at Berkeley and the University of Illinois ahead of Texas A&M.

New Program Available For Unemployed Vets

According to C.H. Herren, Veterans Service Officer for Haskell County, certain unemployed veterans may now be eligible to participate in a new program to train for jobs.

Unemployed veterans of either the Vietnam Era or the Korean Conflict may be trained for jobs in programs approved under the Emergency Veteran's Job Training Act of 1983 (Public Law 98-77). By payments being made directly to the employers by the Veterans Administration, the law makes it more attractive to hire veterans.

To qualify, veterans must have been unemployed for at least 15 of the last 20 weeks. The maximum period of training is nine months, except for veterans with service-connected disabilities rated 30% or more, or who are shown to have serious employment handicapping service-connected disabilities which are rated less than 30%. These disabled veterans can be trained for up to 15 months, if necessary.

Veterans who want to begin a program of training under this new law must apply by completing VA Form 22-8932, available at any VA office. Upon receipt of the form, and a copy of veteran's DD Form 214, the VA will determine eligibility. If entitled, veteran will be furnished with a Certificate of Eligibility, which he takes to the employer who is willing to train him for a new job.

Additional information on this new program for training unemployed veterans may be obtained from your local Veterans Service Officer or Veterans Employment Representative at the Texas Employment Commission.

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro announced today that the Veterans Land Board will begin phasing in a monthly payment plan for all veterans participating in the Land Program.

"Veterans have repeatedly told me they would prefer monthly payments on land loans. A change from semi-annual to monthly payments will benefit many veterans who want to more accurately plan their finances, and will encourage more veterans to participate in the land program," Mauro said.

Land loan repayments have been semi-annual since the program first started in 1949.

Over 80,000 veterans have participated in the program which offers low-interest loans of up to $20,000 for the purchase of ten acres or more of land.

The new monthly payment program will begin with veterans who obtain applications for loans after January 1, 1984. They will automatically get a monthly repayment schedule for their loans. Veterans who obtain loan applications before January 1, 1984, and veterans who are now making semi-annual payments will be offered the option of converting to monthly payments beginning in the Spring of

If veterans wish to change from semi-annual to monthly repayment of their loans, the interest rate on their original loans will not change. Full details on this new option will be provided to all present participants in the land program beginning with semi-annual statements mailed in April and July 1984.

"The start of a monthly payment program is part of my commitment to encourage all eligible Texas veterans to take advantage of the Land Program's benefits. We are offering another service to veterans by making it easier for many to participate in the program," Mauro said.

Superintendent's Views

BY JAMES LANIER
Superintendent, Haskell ISD

Haskell Kiwanis Club in co-operation in the Haskell schools are reinstating the Haskell Invitational Basketball tournament. Haskell had an outstanding tournament for years but lost their date in 1969 due to being in the state playoffs in football. As the basketball programs improved, we began to think of a tournament. Again dates became the problem. We then looked at holiday tournament. There are several advantages to a holiday tournament. The first and most important is that you do not have to miss any school with your athletes. Another advantage is in order to be competitive in basketball you must play and workout during the holidays. A tournament which guarantees three games takes care of this scheduling problem.

Many good teams, especially ones who traditionally get their football teams in the playoffs are looking for a place to get some quick games. It appears with our football program that we are going to be pretty consistent in the playoffs. This works to our advantage. A tournament also serves as a showcase for our excellent basketball teams. Haskell is building a well rounded athletic program of which we can be proud. This tournament is another way for the fans to become a part of this program.

One of the problems of any tournament is the cost. The only way to meet his expense is through gate receipts so it is important for all Haskell fans to turn out and encourage the Indians and Maidens and serve as gracious hosts to the other teams in the competition. Our merchants have graciously contributed to a program with rosters, etc. to help defray the cost.

Therefore, the supporters, fans, parents, and general Haskell citizens need to turn out for some excellent entertainment and good school basketball. We are looking forward to seeing all of you on Thursday, Dec. 29, Friday 30th to, and Saturday 31st. Our gym will seat around 600 people. We would like to have it full.

New Roadside Program Being Tried By THD

Travel and Information Division
State Department of Highways and Public Transportation

How do you groom more than a million acres of Texas rangeland in a fashion that pleases a constantly viewing public, when your budget is decreasing?

That's the question posed for the highway department and they've got an answer.

Vegetation Management System—an innovative concept whose time has come—is being implemented by "the world's largest gardener."

Last year, faced with annual mowing expenses exceeding $32 million, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation (DHT), started a pilot program to increase cost effectiveness in its roadside maintenance.

Dramatic results in the 29 test counties across the state prompted DHT to put the program into effect statewide.

DHT Chief Landscape Architect Craig Steffens reports statewide mowing costs for 1982-83 dropped 12.8 percent due to the success of the Vegetation Management System in pilot counties and to an unusually dry year. He estimates cost savings after one year of the program statewide could be as high as 23 percent, with savings even more dramatic after several years of operation.

Native vegetation requiring little or no maintenance will cut costs as well as enhance the natural beauty of Texas roadsides.

The idea behind vegetation management is to maintain roadsides in a cost effective way by making right of ways blend more naturally into the native environment. Attention is given to establish or encourage vegetation that is native to the area and requires little or no maintenance.

The agricultural principles employed include range management, erosion control, wild flower preservation and propagation and control of noxious weeds.

In the past, roadside maintenance usually consisted of mowing from one right of way line to the other, which was both expensive and dangerous to personnel and travelers. New selective mowing will still achieve priorities of traffic safety, protection of the state's multibillion dollar highway investment and aesthetics.

Money saved in labor, repairs, equipment and fuel can now be applied to highway repair and other expenditures.

Scientists think that the house mouse originated in Asia.

TAX PLANNING

Written by Gerald Rodgers, CPA

INFORMATION RETURNS (WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW CAN HURT YOU)

Wage statements (W-2's) are familiar to everyone, and employers and employees alike understand that wage information must be accurately reported to the IRS. 1982 legislation provided stricter reporting requirements for other kinds of income as well. Whether you're a payer or a recipient of such income, you can simplify your dealings with the IRS by knowing and following the rules.

Generally, such income is reported on forms in the number 1099 series. The payer of the income must issue a form to the recipient by January 31, 1984, and file a copy with the IRS by February 28, 1984. Recipients should report the amounts and sources on their personal tax returns exactly as they appear on the 1099's that they receive. "Lumping" amounts together or using a different source name can confuse the IRS and cause you to be billed for additional taxes.

In addition to the familiar interest and dividend income 1099's, your broker is now required to file Form 1099-B reporting stock, bond, and commodity sales and other exchange transactions. 1099-G must be used by governmental units to report payments such as unemployment compensation and, for the first time, state and local income tax refunds of $10 or more.

Businesses must use Form 1099-MISC to report payments of $600 or more made to any person for "services performed." This form must also be used to report sales of $5,000 or more of consumer products to anyone for resale.

Other 1099's are required for All-Savers. Certificate interest, original issue discounts, patronage distributions, and profit-sharing and retirement plan distributions.

Penalties for failing to file these information returns or to provide correct social security numbers to those required to prepare these returns have been increased substantially.

Consult your tax advisor to be sure you're meeting the requirements.

College News

Degrees were granted to 75 graduate students and 150 undergraduates at Tarleton State University winter commencement Dec. 18. The 225 students represent the largest winter graduating class since TSU started awarding degrees as a four-year institution in 1963.

Nancy Lynn Kimbrough, of Haskell, graduated with honors with a BBA degree in office administration.

Ed Pettit, member of the Tarleton Athletic Hall of Fame, was commencement speaker. Pettit was an All-Texas fullback at TSU in 1964-65 and is currently owner of a construction company with offices in Austin and Galveston.

Neal Guthrie, Stephenville, and Dan Standlee, Arlington, were invested into the Tarleton State University President's Commission during the commencement program. The two join 30 members of the commission who were invested at commencement last year. The commission is composed of friends and former students of Tarleton who serve in an advisory capacity to the president of the university.

Supplemental Feeding Best With Systematic Approach

A systematic approach to supplemental feeding can help cattlemen maintain the condition of their beef herds while keeping a handle on costs.

Supplemental feeding is necessary since cattle can only store protein and minerals in limited amounts, points out Dr. Dennis Herd, beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. However, he suggests supplementing only if increased performance will more than offset the cost or if it's necessary for humane treatment of cattle.

He offers the following general guidelines:

1. Allow cows to graze selectively. The forage they actually consume will be slightly more digestible and contain more protein than the average of all forage in the pasture. Overstocking eliminates the potential for selective grazing and greatly increases the need for, and the expense of, supplementation. On the other hand, many pastures must be supplemented, regardless of the amount of forage, for satisfactory animal performance.

2. Keep out year-round a good salt plus 8-12 percent phosphorus and calcium mineral mix. An exception might be where phosphorus is supplied by protein and energy supplements.

3. Begin protein supplementation before cows lose a lot of weight and condition. A killing frost is a definite signal to start in the fall. Protein would also be beneficial during drought periods when grass is dry and tough. It's cheaper to save condition in late summer and fall than it is to feed a poor cow back into shape during late winter.

4. Adequate protein is essential for normal feed or energy intake and digestion. Adding .5 to 1.5 lb. of a 30 to 40 percent protein supplement to low quality forages—those with less than 6 percent crude protein—can increase forage intake as much as 30 to 60 percent and digestion 6 to 12 percent. Such supplementation where forage quantity is plentiful can turn a drastic weight loss into an acceptable loss or maintenance situation.

5. Energy in 1 to 2 lb. of a high-energy supplement may slightly stimulate digestibility (1 to 3 percent) and intake (5 to 10 percent) of poor forages. However, levels above 10 to 12 percent of the diet (2-3 lb. per 1,000 lb. of live weight) will generally slightly depress forage digestibility and have a substitution rather than a supplementary effect on total energy intake.

6. The best way to handle energy-deficient situations is to manage to stay away from them. Improve hay quality. Control calving seasons so quality forage is available when cows and calves need it most. Use fertilization and limited supplementation to be sure cows are in good condition starting the winter, thus greatly reducing heavy seasonal supplementation.

7. If cows are getting too poor, feed higher levels of supplement or get ready to pay the price of a reduced calf crop and lower weaning weights.

8. This same substitution effect exists where hay is used to supplement pasture.

9. Use 1 to 2 lb. of a high-protein, high-energy supplement to help cattle clean up dead grass in the fall before it rots. Then really haul out hay as the total feed. Don't tease them with a third to half feed of hay as it will depress pasture use. Remember that a pasture is used up long before the last bite is gone.

10. Look ahead! Try to stay out of situations calling for high levels of supplementation—it's seldom profitable. On the other hand, a little supplement (even a lot) at the right time can be a profitable management tool.

★ Texas Safari: an adventure among wild animals

by Richard McCune, chief of media relations, Texas Tourist Development Agency

CLIFTON, Texas - Tucked away in rugged limestone hills and lush canyons of the Bosque River area just northwest of Waco is the spectacular setting of an animal wonderland billed as The World's Largest Exotic Animal Drive Through Park, better known as Texas Safari.

A lifetime dream of such a place has come true since 1981 for Waco businessman and rancher A.C. Parsons, who has been described as fascinated with animals since childhood.

Parsons set off 800 acres of his 2,000-acre Seven Gables Ranch for just such a park where animals from all over the world could be seen and enjoyed close up in most cases and virtually all within average camera range.

While many of the creatures are so familiar with automobiles crawling the winding roads at 5 m.p.h. that little attention is given them, an admonition to remain in cars throughout the seven-mile tour of the park is the firm rule, including marked pullover stops to view Indian caves and the scenic panorama from the hilltops some 300 feet above the valley for miles around, for examples.

(Animals can be taken out of the wild, but the wild can not always be taken out of the animal.)

Ironically, the most dangerous animal is the seemingly docile zebra, which has a nasty temperament and has been known to turn on their keepers.

And that is why visitors see them, alongside the equally mean ostriches, in a well-fenced enclosure near the headquarters. The big birds, incidentally, are a variety from Africa, Australia and South America.

Texas Safari visitors are also cautioned by humorous signs to take it easy on the steep grade leading downward to the headquarters gift shop and concession.

While it's not dangerous at all, they've left the hulk of an old water truck on the bottom of a hill as a visual joke and reminder to take it easy.

Most of the animals along the route are seen roaming free, with fencing apparent mostly at cattle guards and virtually none to distract from the openness as visitors move through five distinct areas.

International Plains contains open-land grazing animals native to virtually every continent; Mount Kilimanjaro Preserve features mostly horned creatures of the world; in the Texas Plains are native deer, buffalo, longhorns and turkeys; and in the African Compound and Ponds are ducks, geese and swans, ignored by unruly zebras nearby.

The only zoo-like containment is for lions, tigers and bears, and a giraffe is seen in a paddock adjacent to the headquarters.

Comments from visitors have been gratifying, said manager Roy Ackland, especially on cleanliness of the operation and total absence of litter. And so far, it is visitors who are the best advertisement for Safari, along with return visitors who come back to see it all again.

Among the 60 or so species of wild animals, which number more than 2,000, also are a pair of huge Belgian draft horses, domestic cattle, bison and sheep of every description and origin around the world.

Added to the menagerie in July 1981 were three adult white rhinoceros from South Africa, now numbering four with birth of a baby and more expected.

The adults, weighing some 8,000 pounds each, arrived in huge crates on a flat bed trailer, which required a crane to lower them to the ground. To keep the rhinos cool, each crate was fitted with electric blowers.

Described as small-brained, with poor eyesight but good hearing, the rhino is no match for animals wandering into its territory. The rhinos since have remained near enough to the road in the park for easy viewing and no longer care to plow through a nine-gauge fence which they can easily snap, nor display territorial vengeance.

In addition to delighting travelers, Texas Safari is also in the brood stock import-export business. Young or surplus animals are sold regularly to other wildlife parks, zoos and private wildlife collectors. Many of the sheep birth year around, although spring-time is a seasonal baby boom, including deer and other antlered species.

Forage is abundant at the park, and most of the animals relish hay and commercial range feed, placed near all roads for even better close-ups of the creatures.

The park is popular with organizations which travel in convoys of recreational vehicles they park on the grounds. Many make more than one trip around the grounds, which is just fine with the management which places no extra admission during their stay.

Texas Safari seemingly knows no season, and is open every day from 10 a.m. to one hour before sundown. Photography supplies, animal feed and gifts are available at the main building.

To reach it from the north on I-35, take State 22 to Laguna Park and Farm Road 219 to Clifton; from the South on I-35, exit State 6 northwest. Continue through Clifton from the south to signs on State 6, oppositely from the north and northwest. Information; Texas Safari, Route 2, Clifton TX, 76634; Tel. 817/675-3658.

January Checks Reflect Increase

The Social Security checks delivered January 3 will include a 3½ percent automatic cost-of-living benefit increase, Glyn Hammons, Social Security district manager in Abilene, said recently.

The automatic increase, formerly made in July checks, was delayed for 6 months by 1983 legislation designed to strengthen the Social Security system. Future increases will also be made in January checks.

Social Security and supplemental security income (SSI) payments are increased automatically when the cost of living increases 3 percent or more from one year to the next, Hammons said.

Examples of the new benefit rates include: The maximum monthly payment to a worker age 65 in 1983 will increase from $709 to $734; The average monthly benefit for a retired worker will increase from $411 to $425; The average monthly benefit for a retired couple will increase from $709 to $733; The average monthly benefit for an aged widow or widower will increase from $380 to $393; The average monthly benefit for a disabled worker, wife, and children will increase from $835 to $864.

More information about Social Security benefit rates can be obtained at the Abilene Social Security office, located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360.

Retirement used to be a taxing situation. But not any longer. Because now, you can open an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) at Commodore Savings — the simple-to-understand retirement account that will save you money today so you can enjoy better tomorrows.

Just add up the benefits for yourself:

- All contributions are tax-deferred and 100 percent deductible. You pay no taxes on the money you invest in your IRA or on the interest it earns until you begin taking distribution as early as age 59½.

• Save as little or as much as you want each month. Up to $2,000 a year if you are single and employed. Up to $2,250 a year for a couple where one spouse is employed and the other is not. And up to $4,000 a year for a working couple. Save as little as $10 a month. Even skip a whole year's contributions if you prefer.

• Pay much less tax on your retirement income. By retirement age, you'll probably be in a lower tax bracket, so the taxes you'll pay on your IRA retirement income could be much less than you pay now.

• Almost everyone can qualify. If you are under age 70½ and are earning an income, you qualify for a Commodore IRA, even if you are already participating in another retirement program.

Best of all, the money you put into your IRA earns a guaranteed high compound interest rate. Save $2,000 a year for just 20 years, and your IRA investment could amount to well over $100,000!

Seven different retirement plans are available, including Regular IRA, Spousal IRA, Employer IRA, rollover IRA, Payroll Deduction IRA, IRA/SEPP and Keogh Plan. Find out which plan is right for you. AUSTIN—Around this time next year, you'll be able to buy those special red, white and blue license plates that commemorate the Texas Sesquicentennial.

Only twice before has the state allowed slogans on vehicle license plates, once in 1936 to commemorate the Texas Centennial and again

In honor of Texas' 150th birthday, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission directed that approximately 7.5 million sets of plates be produced during the next biennium bearing the Sesquicentennial slogan.

When the Sesquicentennial license plates are ready, they will be issued for new vehicles and for out-of-state vehicles being registered in Texas for the first time. In addition, they will be issued at the time of registration if current plates are at least five years old and the owner wants new plates. The special plates will also be issued as replacement plates and annual license plates.

Individuals who wish to get personalized Sesquicentennial plates for the year 1986 can order them beginning August 1, 1984.

Plans for the state's 150th birthday celebration began in 1979 when the 66th Texas Legislature created a special commission to coordinate the observance. The highway commission approved the issuance of the special plates at the request of the Sesquicentennial Commission who appeared before them last August.
