Indians to host Stamford

Haskell coach Harold Hill said he really did enjoy the Indians' victory over Rotan Friday night—for about 20 minutes. Caught up in the excitement of his team's first win of the year, it took him that long before he thought about the next opponent.

That opponent will be the always-tough Stamford Bulldogs, who turned up for the Haskell show with a smashing 42-6 triumph over a good Anson team.

Kickoff for the district 6-AA contest at Indian Stadium will be 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Stamford boasts a 5-2 season record and the Bulldogs are 2-0 in district play. They opened their 6-AA campaign two weeks ago with a 53-18 victory over the same Rotan team the Indians beat last week.

Included among the five victims is Iowa Park, a team which beat Haskell 48-6.

Hill calls Stamford's Tim Delce "the best back I've seen in a long time." He scored four of Stamford's six touchdowns against Anson last week, two on punt returns. He ran for 112 yards and completed a 36-yard halfback pass.

And the Haskell coach warned that the Bulldogs are by no means a one-man team. They're big and physical, Hill said. Their fullback weighs 240 pounds.

Rejuvenated Haskell, winner last week for the first time this season, counters with a young, small team which has been gaining a lot of experience during a murderous schedule. The Indians' offense is led by Mark Young, 145-pound sophomore, with assistance from Felipe Arredondo, 124; Johnny Castillo, 132; Stephon Brockington, 165, and Kendall Larned, 170. Arredondo and Larned are seniors, Castillo is a junior and Brockington is a sophomore.

Defensively, Haskell has had occasional periods of near greatness, despite some of the big scores run up by opponents. Sammy Baker, a 200-pounder, was a real thorn in the side of Rotan last week. He was credited with six tackles and 16 assists.

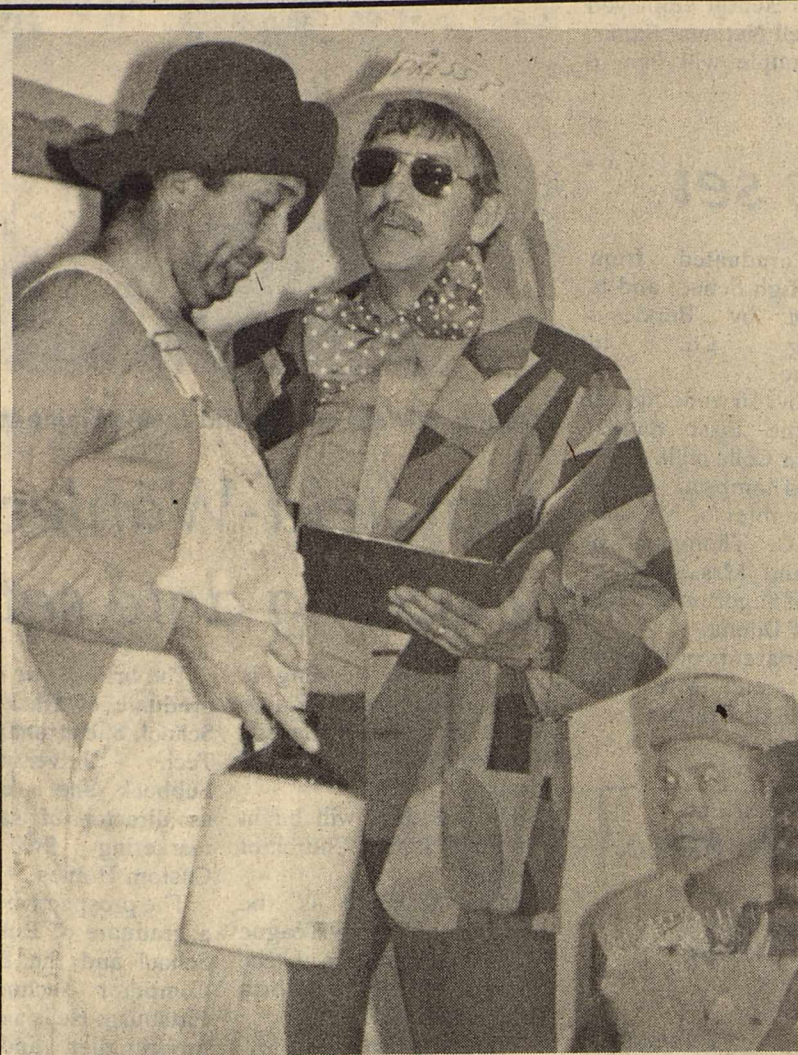

The overall Indian defense was superb against Rotan and it rose to meet several challenges by Hamlin the week before and Iowa Park the week before that, even though the Indians were badly beaten in both games.

Haskell stands 1-1 in district play, while the Bulldogs are 2-0.

Club dance

The Haskell Country Club will host a Halloween dance Saturday, beginning at 9 p.m.

Members and their guests are invited to come dressed in costume.

AT THE THEATER

What a blast!

It's getting better and more popular every year.

The fourth annual dinner theater of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce attracted nearly 500 persons to the Civic Center Saturday evening.

And nobody asked for his money back.

The audience was greatly appreciative of the performances of the 16-member cast, made up entirely of members of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The play, written and directed by Chamber manager Wanda Dulaney, was entitled "Hillbilly Country," and presented a humorous story of a reunion of two mountain families, a reunion which developed into a lot of other things as the plot unfolded.

Preceding the play was a buffet-style dinner, prepared by members of the cast.

Profits from the dinner theater help support the Haskell Chamber of Commerce. It is one of two fund-raising projects the organization sponsors.

Turkey Walk slated for Nov. 2

Well, it's about that time of the year when you should dust off the old running/walking shoes and get the sweatsuit in shape because Nov. 2 is the date of the Great American (Texas) Turkey Walk.

Sponsored by the Haskell County Chapter of the American Heart Assn., the walk consists of the 10 miles between Haskell and Rule.

This year's event is expected to be an even bigger success than the one last year. Walkers who raise at least $100 will receive a turkey. Additionally, there will be several nice prizes given to the runners-up (walkers-up).

Registration begins at 8:30 a.m. the morning of the race and the journey starts at 9 o'clock sharp. Haskell walkers begin at the Haskell National Bank, while those walking from Rule start at the Rule

County areas to receive surplus food

USDA surplus food commodities will be distributed Monday in Rule, Rochester and Sagerton.

Commodities will be distributed from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. in Rule and Rochester and from 2 to 3 p.m. in Sagerton. Places of distribution will be the Church of Christ in Rule, First Baptist Church in Rochester and Faith of Lutheran Church in Sagerton.

Recipients must present identification before receiving commodities.

Opposition to Amendment 5 voiced here

The administrator and the director of nurses at Haskell Memorial Hospital are urging defeat of Constitutional Amendment 5 in the Nov. 5 election.

Bud Comedy, administrator, and Anita Perry, director of nurses, say that passage of the amendment will impose more regulations on the operation of the local hospital district.

It may be necessary, they said, to raise taxes to meet new legislature-imposed requirements.

Amendment 5 is described on the ballot as "the constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts."

The constitution now authorizes the establishment of hospital districts within the state, but does not provide that the legislature set the requirements and services of the districts.

The two local health officials said the amendment raises the question as to whether the legislature, rather than the hospital district or hospital board, should determine the services that the district will provide or how it should provide those services.

Health clinic to be offered here Nov. 21

Screening services for diabetes, high blood pressure, anemia and weight will be offered in Haskell Nov. 21 by the Texas Dept. of Health.

Adult risk assessment and immunizations also will be offered. These services will be offered at the Texas Dept. of Health, 530 South 2nd.

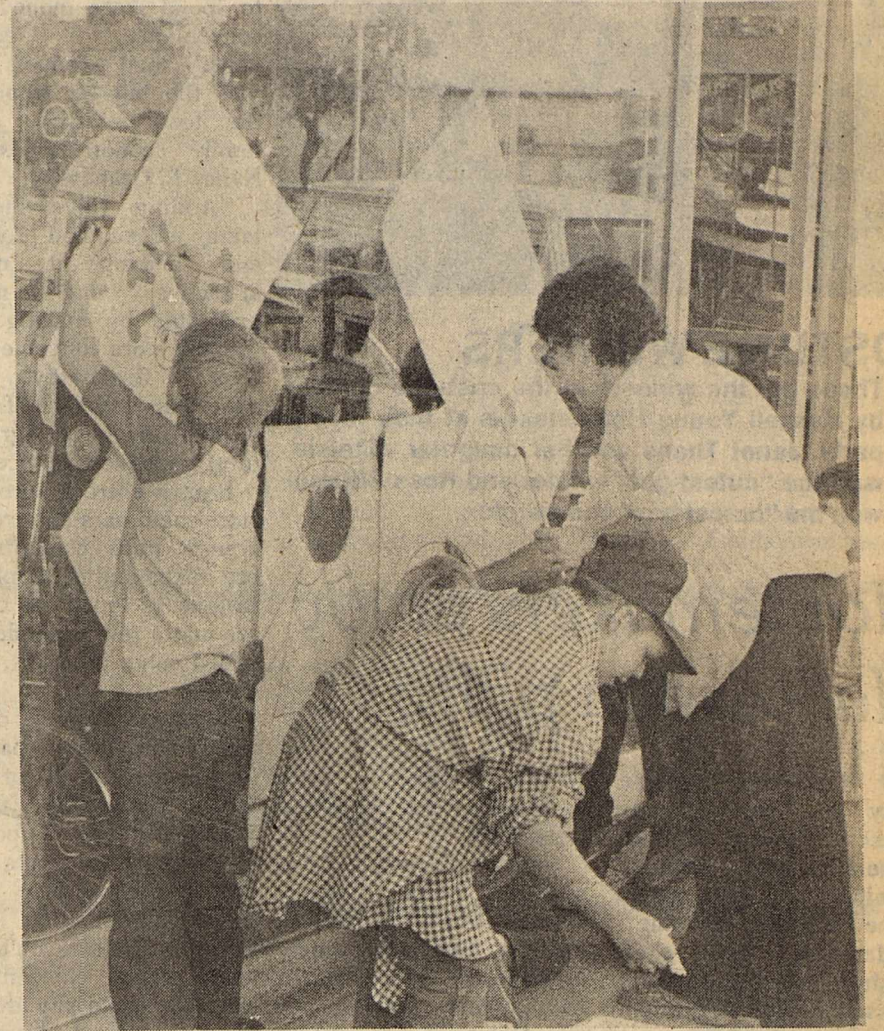

The adult risk assessment clinic will be from 9 a.m. until noon. Immunizations will be given from 1 to 3 p.m.

Insurance

City of Haskell employees now have health insurance, as a result of a City Council decision made in special session last Tuesday.

Councilmen accepted a bid from Lanco Insurance of Haskell for a group plan with Time Insurance Co.

All city employees are covered. Dependents may be added at the employees' expense.

WINDOW PAINTING

Members of Den 5 of the Cub Scouts paint the windows at Western Auto Store in Haskell Monday. Students and organizations are painting windows all over town this week, competing in the Halloween contest sponsored by the Haskell Retail Merchants Assn. Den leaders of Den 5 are Frankie Cothron, Rhonda Lisle and Paula Everett.

New mannequins to aid CPR classes

Three new mannequins are now available to use in teaching local CPR classes, thanks to donations by the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs of Haskell.

Don Glandon, one of the instructors in the classes which are held several times a year, said each of the service clubs donated $250. The $750 total was enough to purchase two adult-size mannequins and an infant-size.

"This will be a tremendous help in our program," Glandon said.

In the past, it has been necessary to borrow a mannequin from the hospital and class sizes have been limited due to the availability of only one mannequin.

Eight-hour classes, divided into two four-hour sessions, are conducted several times a year by the Haskell County Chapter of the American Heart Assn. In addition to Glandon, instructors are Casey Caldwell and Charles Harvey, CPR classes are open to anyone interested. There are no prerequisites. There is a nominal charge which is used to keep up the equipment.

Those completing the classes are certified in CPR. Glandon said some people take the classes strictly for personal reasons, but others need the certification to qualify for certain jobs.

Anyone interested in enrolling in a CPR class should contact Harvey at the hospital or Glandon or Caldwell at Emergency Medical Services.

Halloween carnival to be Saturday

A Halloween carnival is scheduled from 6 to 9 Saturday evening at the Corral Building. Sponsor is the Haskell VFD Auxiliary of the Haskell Fire Dept. Auxiliary members will operate a spook house and a "kiddie corner" for smaller children.

Girl Scouts will have a "bobbing for apples" booth and a cake walk will be sponsored by the Track Association.

Band Boosters will be operating three booths: "Go Fishing," "Ring Toss" and "Dart Throw."

A "Sponge Throw" will be operated by the Cub Scouts and the Lions Club will have a "Bean Toss."

Concession stands will be operated by members of the Cub Scouts and the Kiwanis Club.

Wildcat

Danick Exploration Corp. of Dallas will drill a 5,000-foot wildcat and test the Weinert (Strawn) on a 100-acre lease 10 miles northwest of Haskell.

The No. 3 T.M. Barton spots 1,992 feet from the north, 921 feet from the west lines, Joseph Korus Survey.

GRAND FINALE

All members of the "Hillbilly Country" cast got together at the end of the play for a musical rendition Saturday night. Nearly 500 spectators laughed their way through the Chamber of Commerce sponsored play.

Rain delays harvest

Haskell County cotton farmers have been singing the blues of late as rain has brought the just-started harvest to a virtual standstill.

Little of the county's 106,000 acres of cotton has been harvested, largely due to the weather.

"Every day it rains, the farmers are losing," said County Extension Agent Max Stapleton.

Not only is a lot of cotton being lost on the ground, but the grade of the cotton is suffering.

Also hurting cotton farmers is the price of cotton and cottonseed. "About 50 cents a pound is generally considered the break-even price on cotton, but the market is quite a bit lower than that," Stapleton said. He also said that in normal years farmers expect to get enough out of cottonseed to pay for the ginning, but that won't happen this year.

Earlier this year, the 1985 crop looked like a bumper one for Haskell County. But there was long, hot, dry stretch in the summer which took its toll.

It's been three years since the county produced a good cotton crop, and it's been four years for some farmers, the county agent said.

While cotton farmers awaited a break in the weather, county rangelands have benefitted greatly from the recent rains.

COSTUME WINNERS

These are the winners in the costume contest by Haskell Young Homemakers at their recent party. Janet Thane and her daughter, Chelsie, won the "cutest girl" winner and Ross Pittman won the "cutest boy" competition.

Homemakers enjoy Halloween party

A Halloween costume party was held by the Haskell Young Homemakers last Monday evening in the high school home economics building. Members and their children attended the party dressed in wide assortment of ghosts and goblins. "Go Fish," "Can Throw," "Dart Throw" and other booths were provided for the children's entertainment. After refreshments were served, prizes were awarded in three categories. Cutest girl costume prize went to Jessica Turner; cutest boy costume to Ross Pittman, and best family costume to Janet Thane and daughter, Chelsie. A door prize was won by Valiene Bullinger. Members were reminded of the upcoming arts and crafts, scheduled for the Civic Center Nov. 9.

Art Assn. meets

Members of the Brazos West Art Assn. met Oct. 14 with 14 members present. It was decided the club will participate in the Young Homemakers sale Nov. 9. Each club member is to bring a baked item and at least one craft item to sell. All proceeds will go to the club to be used for programs and to help the Haskell Training Center toward a heating system at their new location.

Consumers pay extra for convenience

You may be paying as much per pound for the convenience of individually packaged treats like fruit leather rolls for your child's lunch box, as you would for a pound of lobster.

With consumers willing to spend more money for convenience, "added-value" food products are now the biggest trend in the food industry, says family economics expert Nancy L. Granovsky. "Adding value means taking a basic food product and making it more attractive and more profitable by making the product more convenient," says Granovsky, a specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Frozen entrees, grocery store salad bars and frozen orange juice concentrate, pre-mixed and then sold in cartons in the dairy case, are just a few examples of added-value products, she explains.

"Many consumers don't realize what they're paying for the convenience of less food preparation time, because per pound comparisons of costs are difficult to make," the specialist points out.

For example, if you buy a whole fryer chicken on sale, you could pay around 49 cents a pound. But when that chicken goes into a frozen dinner or entree, Granovsky says the price goes up into the range of $2.50 to $5 per pound.

"You may not mind the higher prices of added-value food, if you place a high premium on your time," Granovsky says. "But if you need to cut back on expenses, or you'd rather spend some of your money on things other than food, you might start by considering the cost of convenience."

Hobby Club plans coming activities

Members of the Sagerton Hobby Club met Oct. 17 in the home of Mrs. Frances Club. Final plans were made for the upcoming bazaar, Christmas names were drawn and the Christmas party discussed.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess to Adela Niedieck, Wilma Teichelman, Rachel Teichelman, Joyce LeFevre, Dorothy Toney, Aline Summers, Margie Hertel, Velma Lou Lammert, Mrs. Ulmer, Mrs. Benton, Christine Stremmel and two visitors, Mrs. Mary Gibson and Mrs. Mildred Kitley.

George Edward Wahler and Jackie Elaine Mayfield

Mayfield-Wahler wedding date set

A Nov. 16 wedding is planned by Jackie Elaine Mayfield and George Edward Wahler, both of Garland.

The wedding will be in the First Baptist Church of Garland.

Miss Mayfield is the daughter of Vernay Teague of Haskell and Mrs. Larue Sprong of North Brunswick, N.J.

Wahler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Wahler of Butler, Pa.

The bride-to-be is a 1979 graduate of Haskell High School. She attended Texas Tech University in Lubbock. She is employed as director of sales and marketing for Shipley Custom Homes.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Butler High School and the School of Computer Technology in Pittsburg. He is a computer programmer and billing director for Dresser Industries.

Secretaries prone to on-the-job stress

Sandra's boss needs her to take a week's worth of his scrambled notes and pull them together into a concise, organized report as soon as possible.

Julie's supervisor wants 100 copies of a 73-page report stapled and collated now.

Irma's manager needs a two-ton trade show display shipped to Seattle immediately, if not sooner.

The pressure-packed situations are familiar to many of the 15 million women in this country—one out of three working females—who are secretaries, phone operators, clerks, data processors, key punch operators and receptionists.

A recent survey by 9 to 5, the National Association of Working Women, indicates that office workers, particularly those in a busy company, often suffer from severe stress. Much of the pressure is due to their high workload and the inability to regulate how and when that work gets done.

"There's always too much to do and too little time for many secretaries," explains Deborah Darby, program manager of Hendrick Medical CarePsychCenter, a treatment program for acute emotional problems.

"Office workers also typically feel they don't get the recognition they deserve," she adds. "They often feel trapped in a job that offers them relatively little chance of advancement and relatively low pay."

The secretary whose stress goes unchecked may become depressed and anxious and suffer from low self esteem. The 9 to 5 study indicates that certain job conditions can also result in high blood pressure, heart disease, ulcers and colitis.

Understatement

In one of the political understatements of the year, Congressman Charles W. Stenholm told a Haskell audience last week that the House-passed farm bill does not please everybody.

Consider these contrasting reactions from two Texas farm organizations:

Texas Farm Bureau President S.M. True commended 15 Texas congressmen, including Stenholm, for their votes. Among the five critical votes the Plainview farmer singled out was the one which defeated the Bedell amendment on marketing certificates.

"The Bedell amendment and the Alexander substitute would have led to severe restrictions on acreage of row-crop producers in order to comply with budget requirements, and would have seriously impacted livestock and poultry producers," the farm leader said.

On the other hand, Joe Rankin, president of the Texas Farmers Union, said he believes the action is a do-nothing bill that fails to provide the income support private farmers need to survive.

"We were disappointed in the failure of the Bedell amendment because we felt it was a step in the right direction," said Rankin.

Oh, well. You win some and you lose some—and you get to vote for or against a congressman every two years.

Vote for No. 2

Approval of Constitutional Amendment No. 2 by state voters in the general election on Nov. 5 will conserve the water supplies of the state of Texas, thereby making water available for future use by municipalities, industries and agriculture.

Voter acceptance of this constitutional amendment, which provides for the issuance and sale of $200 million in bonds to create the Agricultural Water Conservation Program, will set the wheels in motion for irrigators throughout the state to obtain low interest loans for upgrading their irrigation application efficiency.

Seventy-two percent of the water currently used in the state of Texas is used by agriculture. At the onset of this bonding program, a pilot program funded with $5 million will be established to test the success of a low interest loan program, as well as test the interest of irrigators in this type of program.

Funds available through this bonding program will be administered by underground water conservation district and the soil and water conservation districts throughout the state.

Irrigation application efficiency improvements that could be considered under this loan program include the modification of existing center pivot sprinkler systems. This type of modification has been documented to improve water-use efficiency up to 20 percent. Additionally, the installation of the underground pipeline, which eliminates evaporation and deep percolation water losses in transporting irrigation water, could be funded, eliminating water losses from 10 to 20 percent per 1,000 feet. Also, the purchase of a surge irrigation system that improves irrigators' efficiency from 10 to 40 percent could qualify for a loan under this program.

Under the provisions of Constitutional Amendment No. 2, the only cost to state taxpayers would be in the case of a default on a loan made under the Agricultural Water Conservation Program. Even then, the cost would be minimal, as the equipment purchased under the loan would be sold at public auction. The proceeds of this sale would be used to repay the loan. Any balance remaining on the loan would then be shared on a 50-50 basis by the soil and water conservation district or the underground water conservation district issuing the loan, and the state.

Letters to the editor

Editor:

The Salvation Army needs a little help. In addition to our own local programs, we must help our neighbors to the South. The earthquake brought devastation to Mexico. It also brought the Salvation Army, who are providing basic needs to thousands of people, such as food, shelter and medical supplies. Water is a terrible problem. People are dipping water from street drains to take home. Other needs the Salvation Army is providing are work gloves for thousands of volunteers clearing away the rubble.

Most of your readers will be receiving a Salvation Army return envelope in the mail soon. I hope they will respond with a gift to the Salvation Army. I hope everyone will remember that the Salvation Army serves the very basic needs, and even a very small amount of money is important.

Thanks

Don:
Please accept my thanks on behalf of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association for the generous coverage your paper gave our recent news release on the Beef Promotion and Research Act, a provision of the 1985 Farm Bill. The banner headline and layout on Page 5 of the Oct. 10 edition were tremendous. TSCRA has always prided itself on the good working relationship it has enjoyed with the news media. It was personally gratifying that my hometown paper would provide the editorial space you gave the TSCRA news release.

Let me also compliment you and your staff on the excellent local coverage. For those of us who don't have the opportunity to visit Haskell as much as we would like the Haskell Free Press is our window on the community.

As always, if TSCRA or I can be of assistance, please don't hesitate to give us a call.

Newspaper's appearance being changed

By Wendell Faight

I'm not sure how many people noticed the difference, but the front-page flag on last week's newspaper (name plate) took on a new look.

Missing from the flag for the first time in many years were the various illustrations which denote the industries of the Haskell area. While we have nothing against this type of advertising (although it wasn't exactly up to date), the modern trend in newspaper typography is to eliminate all the non-functional clutter and to display the various elements of a page in as sharp and clean a manner as possible.

Time was when newspapers thought all the space on a page had to be filled with something. Flags took on the appearance of a circus poster. The ears (the space before and after the flag) were cluttered with boxes, illustrations, weather reports, or just about anything else to "use up the space."

In hot-metal days, the era before photo composition, a lot of this was necessary. You just couldn't get by with "nothing" in a space. Something had to be there to compress the hundreds of lines on a page to each other—or, as they said in the trade, "the page wouldn't lift." No hot-metal printer ever earned his badge without "pieing" a page of type.

And there's no need to fill every area with metal—or anything else. Borrowing a trick from the magazine industry, editors discovered that just plain old white space can be neater and much more attractive than non-functional black type.

One of the first areas to be explored was column rules—that hairline which ran between columns of type. And out they went. Today, few newspapers use column rules. In their stead are generous areas of white space. Readership studies have proved time and again that readers prefer the "open page."

Another thing that may have been noticed in the Free Press last week was the use of downstyle headlines, or at least an attempt. Downstyle simply means that only the first word and proper nouns are capitalized in a headline.

I Once Took Part In A College Class Readership Survey That Revealed That A Reader's Speed And Concentration Are Seriously Impaired When He Is Reading A Group Of Words Which All Begin With Capital Letters.

Last week's effort at this change was a rather feeble one. We didn't try to change all headlines, but concentrated on the front page only since we made the decision at the last minute. The result was a combination of the two styles.

There will be more changes in the appearance of the Free Press in weeks to come. A major one is due with the first issue of November when we convert to a six-column format. For some time, the front page has been six columns, but all inside pages have remained eight columns.

Here again, the change is being made to give a more open appearance and to make it easier on the reader. As newsprint manufacturers have gradually decreased the size of paper and presses have been made to adapt to the new sizes, column width has had to be reduced accordingly. The result has been that columns have become "too tight," making for weird hyphenation of words and odd-looking spacing between words, not to mention eye strain on the reader.

There's one other major reason for converting to a six-column format and it is probably the most important of all. Because of new, standardized advertising sizes being adopted by advertisers, ad agencies and advertising illustration services, it is becoming increasingly difficult, and in some cases impossible, to fit advertising in the space ordered.

We anticipate some problems with local advertisers. What is a four-column ad now, for instance, will be a three-column ad in the new format. Column inches will be increased in size. Whereas the current advertising page contains 168 column inches, the new one will have 126, although the page will actually be the same size.

After a few issues, advertisers should be real comfortable with the new sizes.

Just call it "modernization."

Halloween precautions listed by safety agency

As the October onslaught of ghastly ghosts, terrible trolls and startling skeletons approaches, Texas Safety Assn. suggests sensible precautions to keep Halloween happy and safe for your children and home.

"When in doubt, throw it out," advises George Gustafson, executive vice president of TSA, when discussing Halloween treats. "If a food or candy item has no wrapping, or the covering is loose or torn, discard it. Wash and slice fruit before allowing your child to eat it. Concerned and considerate treatgivers might help by providing non-food items, such as pennies or nickels, snack food coupons or bright decals for the children's school binders," he adds.

Common sense and prior planning play a big part in assuring your youngsters' safety and enjoyment, while still allowing them the thrills of this fall celebration. A few suggestions include:

—Pre-planning the route, staying in familiar neighborhoods and only visiting homes that show the trick-or-treat signal of a lighted porch or yard.

—An older teenager or adult should accompany young children on their journeys. Older children walking their route with friends need to thoroughly discuss safety rules with parents beforehand.

—Set time limits for their travels. Some communities designate Halloween treating hours. Also, take into account that Halloween falls on a week night this year, which means that the costumed imps and aliens turn back into students early the next morning.

—Costumes and masks should not restrict movement or eyesight, or trail on the ground. Face paint or normal make-up products can provide frightening effects while allowing freedom of sight. Use lots of light colors in costumes, or reflective tape, and pass out plenty of flashlights. Dark of night adds to the thrill of the celebration, but hides the dangers of curbs, stones and cracked sidewalks.

—Make certain your yard, driveway, porch and sidewalks are free of obstructions if you are handing out treats to the tiny revelers. If you're driving, take extra care to watch for small, ghostly pedestrians.

"Remember to check your local newspaper for holiday activities," Gustafson adds. "Group activities at organization-sponsored haunted houses, recreation center parties or neighborhood celebrations often offer a fun-filled alternative to the traditional Halloween trek."

Seminar response is heavy

Response to a series of Texas Employment Commission sponsored seminars has exceeded agency expectations.

The seminars, to be held in 28 cities statewide, are designed to show Texas employers ways to reduce tax costs.

Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers, the employer representative at TEC, said "My office has been inundated with telephone calls and correspondence since the seminars began last month. We are obviously meeting a need. Our only problem is that we cannot accommodate all the people who want to attend the seminars as we go throughout the state."

Seven seminars have already been held and, in each case, maximum capacity was reached several days before the scheduled program date. People had to be turned away due to space limitations. "I urge employers to respond immediately to their invitations," Nabers said. "Most of the seminar facilities hold between 300 and 400 people. When we receive reservations beyond that number, we have to disappoint many who want to attend."

Teen venereal diseases alarm health officials

Almost a fourth of all gonorrhea and 10 percent of all syphilis cases reported to the Texas Department of Health (TDH) are among teenagers aged 15 to 19 years, according to state statistics.

"Those figures are particularly alarming," said Dr. Thomas G. Betz, chief of the Bureau of Communicable Disease Services at TDH. "What's disturbing is that those percentages have stayed constant even though Texas has had fewer total cases of syphilis and gonorrhea reported for each of the last three years."

(The cases of reported primary/secondary syphilis declined from 6,338 in 1982 to 5,136 in 1984. Gonorrhea decreased from 81,850 cases in 1982 to 65,802 in 1984.)

An equally alarming trend has developed among young teenagers who are less than 14 years of age, Betz said. "Cases of gonorrhea have increased in that age group for the last three years. In 1984, we had 542 cases of gonorrhea in children between 10 and 14 years of age."

Amendments endorsed by builders

The State Water Plan as adopted by the Texas Legislature and subject to voter approval has been endorsed by the Texas Assn. of Builders.

The State Water Plan is contained in Constitutional Amendments 1 and 2 and will be considered by the voters on November 5.

"This plan is needed if we want to assure that water will be available for our growing population. We can no longer depend on federal funding to help us develop and preserve our water resources," said Don Mrogan of Dallas, President of the Texas Association of Builders.

Such trends are disturbing for several reasons, Betz said.

"An older person is more likely to know that sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) like gonorrhea and syphilis require prompt medical attention," Betz said. "But teenagers, especially the younger ones, often don't understand the implications of STDs. They may not realize that they need medical attention or know where to get that care."

Here's what we'll be voting on Nov. 5

Following is a brief synopsis of each of the 14 constitutional amendments upon which Texas citizens will vote in the election Nov. 5, as prepared by the Texas Research League:

1. Authorizing the issuance of an additional $980 million of general obligation bonds to finance water development, water quality enhancement, water conservation, and flood control.

2. Authorizing the issuance of $200 million of agricultural water conservation bonds.

3. Enabling cities to spend public funds for replacing water lines on private property and to assess the cost against property owners.

4. Permitting proceeds from the sale of land dedicated to the permanent school fund to be used to acquire other land for that fund.

5. Authorizing the legislature to regulate the provision of health care by hospital districts.

6. Permitting state prisoners to be placed in penal facilities in other states pursuant to an interstate agreement.

7. Allowing Chambers County to be divided into two to six justice of the peace precincts.

8. Providing $500 million in additional general obligation bonding authority for the Veterans Land Board to finance more low-interest home mortgage loans to veterans.

9. Permitting the legislature to provide for the prior approval of the expenditure or emergency transfer of appropriated funds.

10. Authorizing the Veterans Land Board to issue up to $500 million in general obligation bonds to create the Farm and Ranch Finance Program to provide financing assistance for the purchase of farm and ranch land.

11. Giving the legislature the authority to determine the manner in which a person is charged with a criminal offense.

12. Granting to the Texas Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals jurisdiction to answer questions of state law certified from a federal appellate court.

13. Creating the Judicial Districts Board, providing for the reapportionment of district-court districts, and providing for the administration and jurisdiction of the courts.

14. Abolishing the office of county treasurer in Andrews and El Paso counties and the office of county surveyor in Collin, Dallas, Denton, El Paso, Henderson and Randall counties.

Yard sale planned by youth

Young people of the First Presbyterian and Trinity Lutheran churches will have a yard sale from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday at 304 North Ave. E, next door to the Presbyterian church.

They will offer clothing, furniture, household items, games and much more.

Proceeds from the sale will help fund the youth activities, namely the annual ski trip/retreat in the spring.

No sales will be made prior to 8:30 Saturday.

Paint Creek Homecoming set

Plans are being finalized for the 1985 Paint Creek Homecoming, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 2.

The Paint Creek Homecoming Assn. has announced the registration will begin at 1 p.m. and the business meeting will begin at 2 p.m.

Officers for the 1989 homecoming will be announced during the business meeting.

Members of the senior class will sponsor a supper in the high school cafeteria, beginning at 5 p.m. Cost will be $5.50, with children under 8 paying $2. Supper reservations should be made in advance by contacting the senior sponsors, Jimmie and Brenda Cearley at 864-2471, or any Paint Creek senior.

A pep rally will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the school gym. At 8 o'clock, the Paint Creek Pirates will host the Rochester Steers in a district six-man football game. Halftime activities will include the crowning of the homecoming queen and the coming home queen.

The coming home queen will be selected by Paint Creek Homecoming Assn. officers who will choose a person who has shown loyalty and has given outstanding service to the school and the community.

Homecoming officers for 1985 are Billie McKeever, president; Phyllis Coleman and Wanda Thompson, co-secretary/treasurer, and Max Calk, school administration representative.

Time changes Sunday morning

Remember that hour you lost last April?

Well, you're going to get it back Sunday.

When the clock reaches 2 a.m. CDT Sunday, the forces that dictate that it will be 1 a.m. CST and daylight saving time will be more—until next April.

Many Haskellites will set their clocks and watches back an hour before retiring Saturday night. Others probably will leave them on daylight time, enabling them to awake at the usual time Sunday morning, look at the clock and then roll over for another hour of sleep.

The return of standard time is likely to be popular with Haskell students who have trudged to school several times of late in dark, foggy weather. And even if the dreary overcast of recent days continues, it's not likely that many 8-to-5 workers will be driving to work with their car headlights on.

Help available for low-income

More low-income women, infants and children who are nutritional risk will be receiving food assistance and nutrition education in Haskell as a result of a recent release of federal funds.

Local officials of the Texas Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) are encouraging those who feel they may be eligible to apply for WIC services.

The clinic is located at 530 South 2nd in Haskell and is open from 8 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday. Potential clients may contact the WIC program at 864-3430 to make appointments to visit the clinic.

WIC participants receive monthly supplies of nutritious foods such as milk, eggs, fruit juice, iron-fortified cereal and iron-fortified infant formula.

Monthly nutrition education classes also are provided so that WIC participants can learn about the relationship between health and good nutrition and how to buy and prepare nutritious meals.

To receive this assistance, participants must have health or nutrition related problems and meet specific low-income criteria.

"Eating a nutritious diet is one of the most important things a pregnant woman can do to help assure a healthy baby, but eating a nutritious diet isn't always as easy as it sounds," according to Catherine Litteer, director of the WIC Program in Texas. That is why she is encouraging low-income pregnant and breastfeeding women, infants and children up to five years old, who have been found to be the most vulnerable to the effects of malnutrition to apply for WIC services.

"Some pregnant women simply can't afford a nutritious diet, and many more don't know how to plan one," explained Ms. Litteer. "The consequences of poor prenatal nutrition can be anemia, toxemia, prematurity, low-birthweight infants, complications in delivery or other maternal or infant illnesses."

The benefits of good prenatal nutrition, achieved through the WIC Program, has been documented in a study conducted by the Harvard University's School of Public Health. The study found that every $1 spent to aid pregnant women avoided $3 in hospital costs that would have been spent for treatment of their babies. The cost to taxpayers is less to prevent complications than to pay costs resulting from complications. Since the program is delivered through local health care agencies, WIC encourages early and frequent prenatal and child health care.

The ultimate goal is to achieve a positive change in dietary habits that will improve participants' nutritional status. The futuristic nature of the program, training young mothers, who will in turn teach their children good eating habits, has far reaching potential.

Nominees wanted for W. Texas awards

Nominations are now open for the coveted West Texas Chamber of Commerce Cultural Achievement Awards for the 1985-1986 year, according to WTCC Cultural Affairs Chairman Lloyd Vincent, San Angelo.

Each year, the WTCC honors individuals and organizations for outstanding contributions to West Texas culture. Past recipients of the award have included artists, musicians, authors, craftsmen, cartoonists, corporations and others who have made outstanding contributions to the culture of West Texas.

Nominations and materials supporting the nominations, such as news clips, brochures, letters of recommendations, programs and other written information, should be sent to Cultural Affairs staff representative Terri Young, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1561, Abilene, TX, 79604, no later than Dec. 15. Material may not include video tapes, slides, records, tapes or anything that requires mechanical assistance.

Nominees must reside in the 132-county area served by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and be able to attend the presentation.

For additional information contact Terri Young at (915) 677-4325.

Selling Haskell Co. for over 25 years

WHAT'S THE RUSH?

You've just listed your house "For Sale" with a real estate professional. One of the reasons for doing so was to avoid all the inconvenience of having buyers show up at your door at crazy hours insisting that they must see your house immediately.

So now you're ready to settle into a nice easy selling routine in which your realtor always calls several hours in advance of a showing. This allows you time to pick up the house when necessary.

BUT WAIT! Your phone just rang - they're going to show your house in 10 minutes. The dinner dishes are still on the table and the baby's already asleep. What to do? What to do? Don't panic. Do let the house be shown.

Many times, the most motivated buyers are in an extreme hurry to purchase a home, and get it over with. These buyers sometimes make unreasonable time demands on the real estate broker due to their limited time schedules, but, nevertheless, they are strong buyers and usually have ready cash to back up their needs.

Learn to be flexible when working with your broker. Understand that normally he will provide you with reasonable notice before a showing. But be prepared to allow showings on short notice when he indicates the urgency. Remember that the broker's goal is the same as yours - to sell your house!

If you need information to help you solve a real estate puzzle, call us at 864-2665. We'll be happy to share our knowledge with you at no cost or obligation.

Obituaries

Dr. Ben Anderson

Dr. Ben Anderson, 42, of Odessa, a dentist formerly of Haskell, died Sunday at the Medical Center Hospital in Odessa after a short illness.

Services were at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church in Odessa.

The Rev. H. Bailey Stone, pastor of First Baptist Church officiated. Graveside services were at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Willow Cemetery in Haskell.

Born Nov. 12, 1942, in Bukkie, La., he married Mary Alice Davis Sept. 5, 1965, in Weinert. He attended school in Haskell and graduated from Haskell High School.

He was a graduate of Tyler Junior College in Tyler and a graduate of North Texas State University in 1966. He graduated from Baylor University School of Dentistry in 1971.

He specialized in pedodontics dentistry at Baylor University in 1973. He practiced dentistry in Midland and came to Odessa and practiced in 1975.

He was a member of the American Society of Dentistry for Children, the Texas Dental Association, the Southwest Society of Pedodontists, and the American Dental Association.

He was vice president of Nimitz Junior High Band Booster Club in Odessa. He was a member of the Odessa Chuck Wagon Gang.

A member of the Xi Psi Phi Fraternity, he obtained the highest academic average during his four years of dental school.

He was a member of First Baptist Church in Odessa.

Survivors include his wife of the home; two daughters, Ashli and Lindsay, both of the home; two sons, Matthew and Justin, both of the home; his parents, Carl and Bonnie Anderson of Haskell; a sister, Betty Brown of Eagle Lake; three brothers, Tom Anderson of Denton, David Anderson of Towlett, and Darel Anderson of Haskell; and his grandmother, Bertha Groves of Shawnee, Okla.

Calendars retail for $9 and can be ordered by writing to: Timberlake Sales and Marketing, P.O. Box 110492, Arlington, Texas 76007.

"I have a large territory to cover between now and Christmas, but word is starting to spread. The calendar has been available in stores around the state since April 26, and more and more people are calling me, because they've seen the calendars and want one for themselves or for a friend. And I've already received several re-orders from my retail accounts."

Texas woman has new calendar

Everyone knows what happened on March 2, 1836... the Declaration of Independence for the Republic of Texas was signed. But do you know what happened on Jan. 17, 1821? An enterprising young woman from Arlington does.

Ellen Timberlake, a fourth-generation Texan and long-time resident of Arlington, has published a historical calendar commemorating the Texas Sesquicentennial that will be celebrated next year.

"The idea just hit me one day last October," said Miss Timberlake. "It took me six months to do all the research and the layout, and I convinced a friend of mine to do the drawings."

The project is called "Texas: A Commemorative Calendar for 1986" and features a historical event from early Texas history for every day. Each month features an original pencil drawing of something from around the state that was also significant during that era.

The drawings were done by Tammy Jo Wilson, also an Arlington resident and native of Gatesville.

Miss Timberlake said that sales are going well, but that it is difficult to find the time to call on an entire state. "Even though I have a manufacturer's representative working for me out of the World Trade Center in Dallas, I still am making most of the sales calls myself," she said.

Retail stores aren't her only potential customers. She said that several organizations have approached her about the possibility of selling calendars as a fundraiser, and a couple of companies have purchased them to use as promotional items.

Miss Timberlake points out that it is always exciting to take an idea, see it through the developmental stages, and then actually go out and sell it. "But," said Miss Timberlake, "what I will always remember is that I did something special for the Sesquicentennial."

By the way, on Jan. 17, 1821, Moses Austin was given permission to settle 300 families in Texas, but he died on June 10, 1821, before seeing his colony settled. His son Stephen F. Austin, was to see his father's dream fulfilled.

Just in case you were wondering.

Ag education program to be reviewed

A review of educational programs conducted for families in the Panhandle, Rolling Plains and South Plains by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service will be presented in Childress Monday for legislators who serve the area.

The area Legislative Information Day will begin at 7 p.m. at the First Bank and Trust of Childress, formerly the First National Bank, at 301 Main Street, said Jerry Cummins, Childress County Extension agent.

He is local coordinator for the event. The bank will serve refreshments.

State Rep. Foster Whaley of Pampa will be host to his fellow legislators. Those invited include State Sens. Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls, Bill Sarpalius of Canyon and John Montford of Lubbock, and State Reps. Steve Carraker of Roby and Charles Fennell of Holiday.

Also invited are county judges, chairmen of county program building committees for Extension, other county officials and leaders from the area, and members of the Extension administrative staff from College Station.

Extension also will be represented by the district directors and many of the county agents and specialists who serve the three districts.

Crude Oil Production Data Given

Texas crude oil production averaged 2,239,406 barrels daily in July, according to Railroad Commission Chairman Buddy Temple.

This figure compares with June production of 2,269,872 barrels daily and July 1984 production of 2,300,631 barrels daily.

Texas oil production in July 1985 totaled 69,421,575 barrels, up from 68,096,165 barrels in June and down from 71,319,547 barrels in July 1984.

Through July this year, the state has produced 641,845,204 barrels of oil. Through the same period last year, Texas wells had produced 645,916,366 barrels.

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS
Word could never express my love and appreciation to Doctor Frank Cadenhead and my neighbors and friends. My sincere thanks to the many friends who brought food, sent cards and visited Morrell during his months of illness. I would like to thank the staff of Haskell Clinic and hospital for their concern and loving care. A special thanks to Woody Woodard. Every day Morrell felt like going to town, Woody was always ready to take him. God bless each of you. Cloys Dick and family. 43p

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to thank the ambulance service, the police department, the fire department, Dr. Frank Cadenhead, Haskell Memorial Hospital and all the volunteers who helped during my accident on Sept. 24th. I would also like to thank all those who helped by praying and with all the financial help that was needed so much. God has blessed our family so much during this time. May God bless each and everyone of you. Sherry, Ronald and Margaret Stratton. 43p

Card of Thanks

CARD OF THANKS
The family of Ray D. Merchant wishes to express our thanks and appreciation to Haskell Memorial Hospital, Rice Springs Care Home and the doctors and nurses who cared for him with such concern. Also a special thanks to the Haskell Foursquare Church and members, the East Side Baptist Church and members, neighbors and friends for their prayers, concern, calls, memorials, visits, flowers, cards, food and the thoughtfulness shown to our family in so many ways. All of your many acts of kindness were a source of comfort and strength to our family in our time of need. May God bless each and everyone. Mrs. Alma Merchant, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Merchant and Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Merchant. 43p

CARD OF THANKS
With God's goodness and your prayers we are home. We could not put into words our thanks to each one who prayed, visited, sent cards, and called. Also for our good neighbors who kept our yard for two months, brought food and did so many other things. We can't be thankful enough for Dr. Thigpen, the medics and hospital help for doing such a wonderful job taking care of Jim. We shall forever be grateful for the good Christian people of Haskell. Jim and Ruby Alvis. 43p

Victory: How sweet it is!

Indians beat Rotan, 26-7, for first win of season

By Wendell Faught
It may have been billed as an unimportant football game between two teams with winless records.

But as far as victory-starved Haskell players and fans were concerned, it may as well have been the state finals, the Rose Bowl and the Super Bowl, all rolled into one.

The long-slumbering Indian offense literally exploded with four second-half touchdowns to nail the Rotan Yellowhammers, 26-7, in Indian Stadium Friday night.

In winning their first game of the 1985 season, the Indians called upon the same weapon used all season against them—the long run.

There were no flukes. Three backs and a guard got into the touchdown-making act. Stephon Brockington sped 60 yards in the third period to bring the Indians even 7-all. Mark Young raced 44 yards half-way through the final quarter to give Haskell the lead, marking the first time all season the Indians had led anybody.

Guard Val King scored from 40 yards out on a perfect execution of the trick guard-eligible play made famous by the Nebraska Cornhuskers and Johnny Castillo clicked off a 56-yard masterpiece.

In their only demonstration of playing the gracious hosts, the Indians had spotted the visitors a touchdown in the last 50 seconds of the first half when Rotan's Steve McClain picked off a Patrick Perez pass at midfield and returned it for a touchdown.

This was to be the only turnover of the game for the Indians who lost not one fumble for the first time this season.

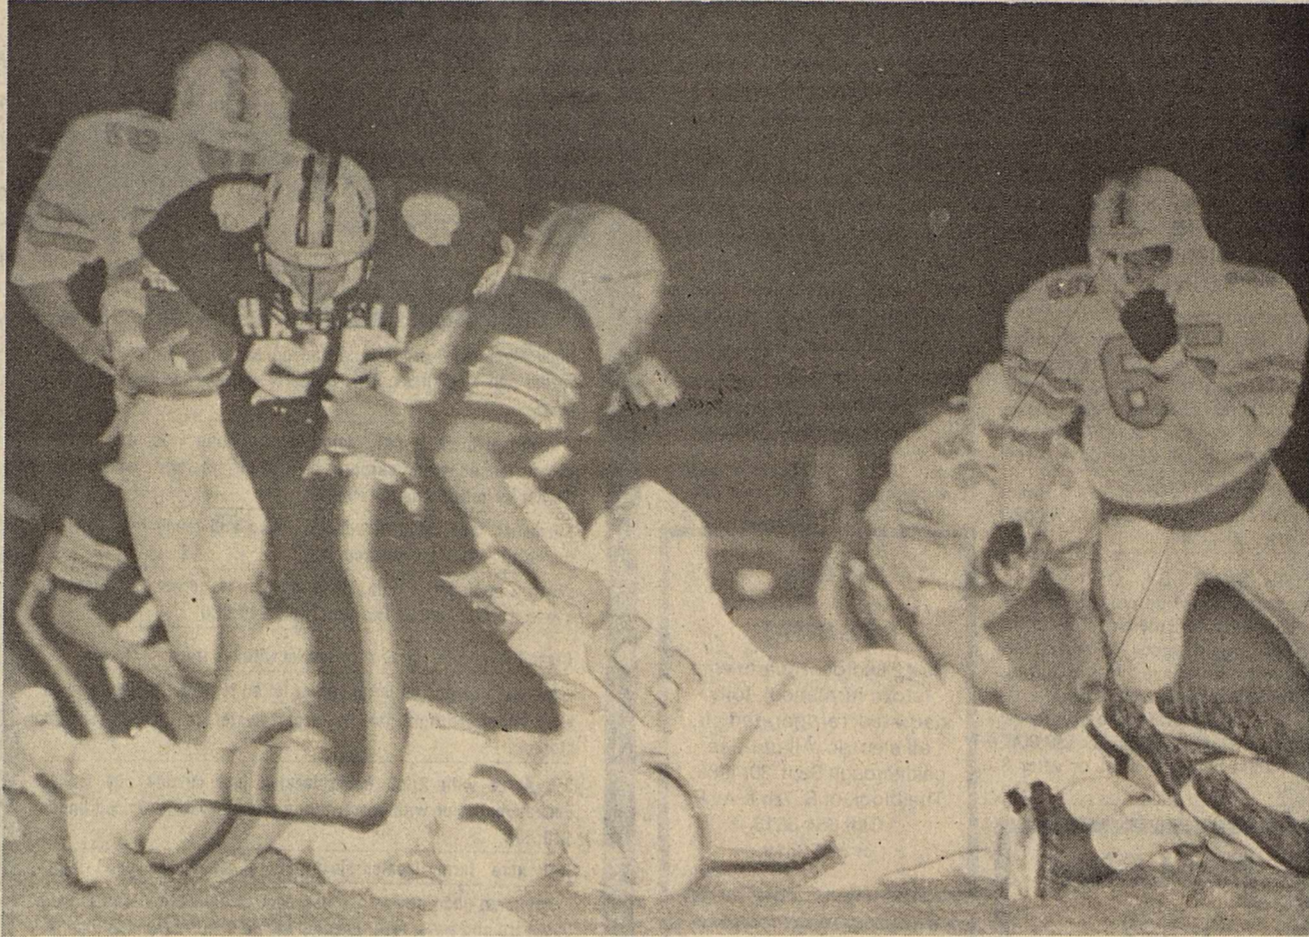

Rotan threatened several times during the first half. On their first possession, the Yellowhammers marched from their own 38 to the Haskell 8 where they surrendered the ball on downs. Four pass completions by quarterback Jerry Carter fueled the drive. Two big defensive plays, one by Young and another by Fred Shaw, put out the lights for the visitors.

Haskell got a big break on the first play of the second period, but the Indians failed to capitalize on it. After recovering a fumbled punt on the Yellowhammer 20, the Indians could gain but five yards and had to give up the ball at the 15.

Shortly thereafter, Steven Rodriguez intercepted a Carter pass and returned it to the Rotan 47, but a clipping penalty moved the ball back to the Indian 38.

It looked like it would be a scoreless first half until McClain intercepted the Haskell pass to put the Yellowhammers out front 7-0 with less than a minute to go.

Haskell scored on its first possession of the second half. Taking over on their own 13 after a Rotan punt

THE GO-AHEADER

Somehow, Haskell's Mark Young broke clear from this mess and then went on to complete a 44-yard touchdown run against Rotan Friday night. The touchdown, coming halfway through the final period put the Indians out front 14-7. They went on to score two more touchdowns to post a 26-7 win.

had rolled dead at that point, the Indians finally got their offense cranked up. Young picked up 7 yards and then 2 yards. Arredondo ran the keeper for a first down at the 24. Kendall Larned picked up 3 yards to the 27 and Young peeled of 13 to the 40. Brockington then went 60 yards for the touchdown. The extra point by Joel Torres knotted the score at 7-7.

With 6:40 remaining in the third quarter, the Indians had turned the tide. Rotan could muster but two first downs the rest of the evening and never crossed midfield again until the final 20 seconds.

In the meantime, the Indians stormed back for three last-quarter touchdowns.

With a little more than eight minutes to go, a 13-yard pass from Arredondo to Young put the Indians in business at the 50. Young picked up 6 to the 44 and then the Haskell sophomore broke loose for a touchdown. He appeared to be stopped at the 28, but he somehow managed to break loose from a storm of would-be tacklers.

The next Haskell touchdown fooled everyone. Instead of snapping the ball to the quarterback, the center put the ball on the ground. King picked it up while the quarterback faked a handoff to a running back through the line. King ran the other direction and had clear sailing to the goal line 40 yards away.

Less than three minutes remained to be played, but the Indians weren't through. Taking over on downs at their own 44, Arredondo was stopped for no gain. On the next play the Haskell quarterback ran all the way, but the play was called back and re-run because of offsetting infractions. On the next play, Castillo duplicated the feat, running the same 56 yards for the Indians' final touchdown. Torres' kick made it 26-7 with only 32 seconds left.

With the help of a 15-yard penalty against Haskell and two pass completions of 22 and 6 yards, Rotan moved to the Indian 18 for its deepest penetration of the second half. But time expired as a desperation pass from that point fell incomplete.

Dance

A Halloween costume dance will be held at the Irby Hall by the Sons Of Hermann Friday night from 8 til 12.

Sports Stuff

The 26 points the Indians scored against Rotan represented exactly the number of points they have scored in their first six games. The two extra points kicked by Joel Torres were the first by Haskell this year.

Felipe Arredondo must be wondering what it takes to make a play stand up. The Haskell quarterback ran 56 yards for a touchdown late in the game, only to see it called back. Late in the first half, he had a 25-yard gain which also came back because of a penalty.

Joel Torres boomed a 57-yard punt in the third quarter. The Indian punter has been one of the bright spots all year in the Indians' offensive arsenal.

The Indians scored on each of their last three possessions. And they didn't fool around about it. They went 60 yards in four plays, 58 yards in five plays and then 44 yards in two plays (not counting Arredondo's 44-yard TD which was called back).

The three touchdowns came in a span of five minutes and 46 seconds.

Rotan turned down a penalty in the Indian's first touchdown drive, a decision which may have cost the Yellowhammers.

Instead of taking a five-yard stepoff which would have given the Indians a second-and-eight at their own 15, they took the play which made it third-and-one at the Haskell 22. Arredondo easily converted the first down. Four plays later, the Indians scored their first touchdown.

Rotan quarterback Jerry Carter, a 190-pound junior, completed the first six passes he threw.

But most of them were short-gainers. A couple went for six yards each, another for three yards, one for four, one for 12 and one for 16. He was two-for-six for the rest of the first half, one of the completions being for 21 yards and the other one for no gain. He hit four of 14 in the second half.

The trick play the Indians pulled to score their third touchdown is the one made famous by the Nebraska Cornhuskers.

The center, instead of snapping the ball to the quarterback, simply puts the ball on the ground. It's considered a fumble (although intentional). The guard, who is eligible to advance a fumble, picks up the ball and runs with it.

It was the second time the Indians had tried the play. Coach Harold Hill said, "We tried it against Hamlin," the coach said, "but it only resulted in a big pileup."

Weinert girls advance to bi-district play

The Weinert Lady Bulldogs' volleyball team will advance to bi-district play as a result of district matches played Monday night.

Weinert completed the regular season with a 4-2 record, finishing district play behind Chillicothe which was 6-0.

Weinert was defeated by the Eagles 15-13, 15-5 in its first match Monday, but came back to handle Harrold 15-2, 15-13. Earlier, the Lady 'Dogs had drilled Knox City with two losses and Harrold with one.

Weinert will meet the undetermined first-place team from District 10.

JVs at Stamford

The Haskell junior varsity will play Stamford at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Stamford.

Weinert squeaks past Rule team

By Stacy Hester
The Weinert Bulldogs got their fifth straight win of the year Friday night by defeating the Rule Bobcats 30-28.

Rule jumped out to an early lead when the Bulldogs scored on their opening drive. Alfredo Valerio went over from 14 yards out and Bobby Walker converted the point-after with 7:48 left in the first quarter.

Weinert also scored on its opening drive with Louis Perez running over from four yards out for the touchdown. Kevin White's conversion tied the score at 8-8 with 5:27 left in the first quarter.

The Bulldogs got their next score when Shanon Forehand ran 31 yards to score. White again converted the PAT with 1:09 left in the first half. This gave the Bulldogs a 16-8 lead at halftime.

In the second half, Rule came back and Valerio threw to Lester Walaker for a 66-yard touchdown with 6:10 left in the third quarter. After a missed

PAT, the score remained 16-14.

Edward Perez then ran over from seven yards out. The point-after was unsuccessful with 4:38 left in the third quarter. This touchdown was set up by a long pass play. It left the score, Weinert 22, Rule 14.

With 4:57 left in the fourth quarter, Rule tied the score at 22-22 on a four-yard run by Valerio and Walker's conversion. The Bobcats then kicked off and Forehand took the ball down the field to set up Weinert's next score which was on the next play when Forehand threw 49 yards to Ricky Perez for a touchdown. White's PAT put Weinert out front again, 30-22.

But Rule wasn't through. The Bobcats stormed back to score again with Glen Vanderbilt getting the touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Valerio. The missed PAT left the score, Weinert 30, Rule 28.

Weinert will play Lueders-Avoca at 7:30 p.m. this Friday in Weinert.

Paint Creek wins in a romp

The Paint Creek Pirates traveled to Lueders-Avoca to take on the Raiders Friday.

The Raiders took the opening kickoff and ran it all the way back for a touchdown. After one quarter of play, the teams were tied up 14-all. The Pirates finally got their stuff together in the second quarter, scoring 31 points and holding the Raiders to only 6. That made the score Pirates 45 Raiders 20 at the half.

Scores in the first half came from Mikeal Gonzales with four, Keith Medford with two, and Steve Derrick, Kenneth Jeffcoat, Thad Jennings all followed with one apiece.

At the 6:30 mark in the third quarter the Pirates called the game by the 45 point rule with a one yard run by Jamie Braly making the final score, Pirates 66, Raiders 20.

Fumble recoveries were made by Steve Derrick with two; David McEwen and Jamie Braly followed with one each.

The Pirates will travel to Jayton to take on the undefeated Jaybirds this Friday. The Pirates are 3-4 for the year and 1-1 in district play.

FIRST TOUCHDOWN

Pursued by a covey of would-be-tacklers from Rotan, Haskell's Stephon Brockington goes over the goal line after a 60-yard run for the Indians' first touchdown Friday night. The TD tied the score at 7-7 midway through the third period.

Brother pair included on 'most Wanted' list

The story of Elisario Candelario's murder follows a similar tragic script to thousands of others that have occurred before it -- a group of friends drinking, a disagreement, then a murder.

On Aug. 11, Candelario was brutally gunned down and stabbed to death at a residence near the southeast Texas community of Pearland.

The 34-year-old victim had spent most of the day drinking with four other acquaintances. Shortly after midnight, he had given the others a ride back to a trailer outside the L&B Protective Coating plant on FM 865.

Then, suddenly, the evening took a violent twist. Investigators say they are still trying to determine what caused two men to start fighting with Candelario.

Witnesses say Candelario tried to leave. However, one of the men grabbed a .20-gauge shotgun and followed the victim outside. The witnesses say they heard one shot being fired.

Apparently the suspects returned to the trailer, dropped the shotgun and fled on foot along with a young girl who had been in their company during the evening.

Investigators say that based on the statements of the witnesses, arrest warrants have been issued for Moises Guerrero Beltran and his brother Francisco Beltran.

The pair reportedly left the Pearland area after the killing and caught a Greyhound bus in Houston bound for Austin, where they have relatives.

This week Moises and Francisco Beltran have been added to the Texas Most Wanted list.

Moises Beltran is 24 years old, 5-5, 135 pounds, with brown hair and brown eyes. He is also known as Ramon Beltran. In addition to his problems in Brazoria

MOISES BELTRAN

County, investigators in Fort Bend County would like to talk to him about a homicide in their jurisdiction.

Investigators have very little information on Francisco Beltran. They don't even have a photograph of the fugitive. But describe him as being between 18 and 19 years of age, 5-6, 130-135, with dark shoulder length hair and dark complexion. They know he uses several nicknames, including "Prieto" and "Negro". They believe the brothers have remained together since the homicide and probably will be caught together.

This week $1,000 rewards are being offered for information leading to the capture of Moises and Francisco Beltran.

Anyone who might have information on the brothers' whereabouts is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll-free at 1-800-252-8477.

In all cases callers do not have to reveal their identities.

Texas Most Wanted is a cooperative program between the Department of Public Safety and Texas Crime Stoppers.

Pride.
A tradition in the good country.
And at Olney Savings.

The tradition of pride runs deep in the good country, and it sets the people here apart from others.

In one sense, it's pride in being the best they can be. But more importantly, it's pride in knowing that their efforts are directed toward a common good -- the kind of pride that can be experienced only through shared achievement.

At Olney Savings, that's the kind of pride we encourage -- and always will. Because that's the kind of pride that makes the most important things in life happen.

Come see us soon. Or call and we'll come see you. We'd be proud to serve you.

New business offers help

A new business in Haskell, offering a service not previously available locally, is the Learning Corner, located at 111 North Ave. D.

Owned and operated by Kathie Boatman, the Learning Corner offers a form of developmental learning for all children, in addition to help for children with special needs.

There are classes for infants (up to 18 months), toddlers (18 months to three years) and preschoolers (three to five years old).

In addition, there are classes for remediation and tutoring for students who are working below their grade levels in school.

Most classes are an hour in length with half the time devoted to needed developmental areas.

Parents are requested to accompany their children in the infant and toddler range. They are able to observe the activities so they can practice them at home.

Mrs. Boatman explains that a developmental learning program encourages children in physical, mental, social and emotional growth. She says it offers an individualized program to meet a specific child's needs: offers personal contact and interest, guarantees success for the child, increases motivation and helps the child develop a positive self-image.

Mrs. Boatman, who was a teacher for 15 years, opened the Learning Corner June 11. She already has students from Lueders, Knox City and Stamford, in addition to those from Haskell County.

The owner taught in Haskell five years and in Snyder eight years. She also taught one year in Castorville and a year in California.

She holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Southwest Texas State University and a master's in educational diagnostics from Abilene Christian University. She is certified to teach children with learning disabilities and the mentally retarded, although she is quick to point out that classes at the Learning Corner are designed for all kinds of children.

Finding a lot should come before purchase of mobile home

The first stop in shopping for a single-wide or double-wide manufactured home shouldn't be a sales lot, but the land you intend to put it on, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist.

"Don't put money down or sign an agreement on a manufactured home before you have a contract with a park or subdivision, or you have purchased your own land," cautions Dr. Jane Berry.

"Otherwise you run the risk of having a house that doesn't fit the lot, or being unable to put the house where you want to live."

Since a manufactured home can be the most expensive consumer product you buy, next to a conventional home, the specialist recommends careful comparison shopping.

"First check out the reputation of the dealer," says Berry. "The dealer's assistance, service and care—or lack of it—will have a great affect on your satisfaction with the manufactured home."

She suggests checking the dealer's reputation with a local credit bureau, Better Business Bureau or bank.

As you look at manufactured homes, consider both price and financing, says the specialist.

"Dealer financing is often the quickest and easiest, but comparison shopping among the dealer, your bank, savings and loan association or credit union for the best financing option can save you money in the long run," remarks Berry.

Also determine the services you will receive, says the specialist.

"Find out what type of delivery, setup and leveling services are offered by the dealer," advises Berry. "Ask who will make needed repairs during the warranty period and check to see if the home can be re-leveled after six months if this is necessary."

The service provisions of the sales contract should be an important part of your buying decision and a basis for comparison among dealers, she remarks.

The housing specialist also points out that repossessed or foreclosed manufactured homes can be a good buy for consumers on a tight budget and those who can't qualify for credit on a new manufactured home.

"But beware of any pressure tactics to get you to purchase a new or used manufactured home," cautions Berry.

"High pressure tactics often indicate a phony deal, so don't be pushed into buying just because the dealer claims someone else is interested in the home or the price is going up next week," she adds.

TEXAS TRAILS
LONE STAR STATE HISTORY by DAN BROWN

UNION CANNONS...
Late in 1861 Confederate Brigadier General H.H. Sibley led a Texas army west to invade New Mexico. The Texans met a Union force at Valverde ford on the Rio Grande in February, 1862. The Union army was defeated. The Texans captured six cannons. Within a month the Texans had taken most of the territory. Bitter winter weather and short supplies made the Texans retreat to San Antonio. They brought with them their prized cannons.

Liquor tax hike wanted by commission

The Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse has announced that it would like to see more federal excise taxes levied on liquor beyond the 19-percent increase placed on distilled spirits this October.

Commission Executive Director Ross Newby says further increases in excise taxes on liquor, beer, and wine will reduce the incidence of alcohol abuse and alcoholism, provide funding for treatment and research, and would help to reduce this country's federal deficit.

"At a time when revenues are declining, this not only provides a common sense approach to reducing the federal deficit, but offers tremendous potential for the future of alcohol programs nationwide," said Newby.

Stenholm discusses Farm Bill Congressman speaks to Haskell audience

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm told a Haskell audience last Tuesday that the House-passed Farm Bill goes a long way in helping efficient farmers survive today's hard times while staying within the bounds of fiscal responsibility.

"Obviously, the bill does not please everybody," the Congressman said. "No farm bill does that, and there are still some important setps ahead before we get a final congressional product."

Stenholm addressed a joint meeting of the Haskell Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs in the Haskell Civic Center.

Most of the congressman's remarks were directed at the five-year farm bill passed by the House of Representatives after three weeks of lengthy bi-partisan debate.

The House version of the 1985 Farm Bill provides that for five crop years, beginning in 1986, market prices of major crops will be made more competitive by authority to link loan rates more closely to market conditions, Stenholm said. The major crops include wheat, cotton, corn and rice.

A system of target prices would be retained. These target prices would not be cut from current levels for the 1986 and 1987 crops years. The bill also would allow five percent target price reductions for 1988, 1989 and 1990 crops, but these cuts could not take effect unless farmers' costs first declined by the same amount.

"The House Ag Committee produced a bill which lays down a program preserving the basic income protection which farmers need in these dangerous times while taking steps toward making the market prices of American products more competitive in world markets," said Stenholm.

The bill, known as HR 2100, reauthorizes and in some cases revises federal farm credit and rural development programs. It also extends the Food Stamp Program for five years. The Temporary Food Assistance Program (commodities) is re-authorized for two years.

"I realize the Administration has urged and promoted drastic changes and cuts in come programs," Stenholm said. "And while I agree with the President's general principle of making farm programs more responsive to market signals and less to government policies, I disagree with the extreme approach to this goal. Until we improve the macro-economic conditions within our borders, improvement in farm country will be extremely difficult, and even impossible, to obtain."

The Nose Knows.

An aromatic chemical is added to natural gas to give it a distinct odor. One that's easy to detect. It's this distinct odor and knowing what to do when you detect it that keeps gas safe.

If you're outdoors and smell gas, you should call your local Lone Star Gas office.

If you're indoors and detect faint whiffs, check to see if a pilot light has gone out or a burner valve has been left partially open. These are corrective steps you can take yourself.

If your equipment is working properly and you still smell gas, please follow these precautions:

1. Don't switch anything electrical on or off. Don't strike a match or do anything that could cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave immediately, leaving door open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby phone and call Lone Star.

Help us keep natural gas one of the safest energies available. Use your nose. Then use your head...and follow the proper precautions.

(Just a reminder: Before you do any digging, call your local Lone Star Gas office so they can inform you on pipe locations.)

Farm equipment people express optimism

By Wendell Faught
Optimism prevailed Thursday morning when representatives of the John Deere Co. and Hale Farm Supply formally announced plans for a new John Deere dealership to serve the Haskell/Jones County area.

The formal announcement came during a press conference and "meet the customer" rally at the Cliff House in Stamford. Rain forced the event to be transferred from the site of the proposed new building 1.7 miles north of Stamford.

Joe Pat Hale, president of Hale Farm Supply of Abilene, a partner of Hale in the Haskell business, expressed their optimism in the new venture, which in effect, will be consolidation of the John Deere dealerships of Haskell and Jones counties.

While pointing out some of the perils faced by the agriculture industry, Hale said he is excited about the new business. He said about a half dozen farm equipment dealerships have gone out of business in the area in recent years. He explained that by consolidating dealerships it will be possible for one firm to handle the needs of a larger area. "And if we weren't confident, we wouldn't be investing three-quarters of a million dollars," he added.

The Haskell businessman said he expected the new firm to be a credit to the area it serves. He said a new 16,000-square-foot building will be erected on the US 277 site already purchased. There will be a half-mile of highway frontage. The building will be attractive, with landscaping and a sprinkler system, Hale said.

"I'm sorry we can't stay in Haskell and in our nice building there," Hale said, "but we just have to get bigger and serve a bigger area."

"We're here to serve the communities of this area—all of them. We're not here just for Stamford, but for all the other communities as well."

In the construction of the new facility, Hale said the company planned to spend every dime possible in this area.

Hale also announced that during opening week of the new business, probably in February, "we'll donate half of all markup on sales to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center." Both Hale and Rhodes are directors of the center.

Rhodes said the company will be a positive influence in the communities it serves. He also said it will be selling many products not previously available in either Haskell or Stamford.

Dave Noble of Dallas, John Deere vice president, and branch manager, told the group that his company "is tied to the soil just as you are."

He explained that farm equipment companies, just like farms, are moving toward consolidation. Small dealerships are no longer feasible, he said. A recent study concluded that half of the country's 10,000 farm equipment dealerships will disappear by 1990, Noble said.

John Deere, Noble said, is the only profitable farm equipment manufacturer in the country today and it is committed to keeping its costs under control. He said the company has reduced the number of its employees by 40 percent and has initiated other cost-containment procedures.

State Rep. Rick Perry called Thursday a "historic day." He applauded the communities of Haskell and Stamford for their cooperation. Expressing his optimism in this area, Perry said he is glad that John Deere also has expressed its optimism through the commitment it is making.

Other speakers at the announcement party included Keith Scott, president of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce, and Joe Harrison, manager of the Stamford Chamber of Commerce. Guests included Mayors Abe Turner of Haskell and Bob Pritchard of Stamford. Representing John Deere, besides Noble, were Bill Lemmons, division sales manager; Charles Steinman, agriculture general sales manager, and Mark Noel, area representative.

Represented among the 60 guests were residents of Anson, Rochester, Rule, Albany and Hamlin, in addition to Haskell and Stamford.

Social Security number application rules given

People of the Haskell area who plan to apply for a Social Security number should remember to apply at least two weeks before they will need the number, Glyn Hammons, Social Security manager in Abilene, says.

It takes this time to process the application, evaluate the evidence, search the files at Social Security headquarters and issue and mail the Social Security card.

When applying, a person must have evidence of age, identity and citizenship or legal alien status, Hammons said. In addition, a person 18 or over applying for the first time must apply in person.

The best evidence of age and citizenship is a public record of birth issued before age five. If this is not available, religious records established before age five may be considered. Only if these are not available can other evidence be submitted.

Evidence of identity can be any document showing identification data, such as a physical description, photograph, or signature. Examples include driver's license, voter's registration, school record, report card, identification card, marriage record, draft card, military ID, building pass, adoption record, court order for name change, clinic, doctor, or hospital record or organization membership.

People applying for a duplicate card to replace one lost must provide evidence of their identity. Also, a person who wants to change her or his name in Social Security records must provide evidence of identity under both the old and new names.

Only original documents or copies certified by the issuing agency are acceptable.

For more information about applying for Social Security numbers, contact the Abilene Social Security office located at 142 S. Pioneer. The telephone number is 698-1360.

Halloween makeup ideas to be offered

A special class in Halloween makeup will be held at Vernon Regional Junior College. This class will be especially for mothers to learn how to apply make-up on their children for Halloween evening.

Instruction will be given in the different ways of applying make-up and what types of make-up to purchase. Halloween faces will include witches, clowns, and other horror creatures. Make-up will be provided for this class.

Only one session of this fun class will be held and it will meet on Monday, Oct. 28 from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The fee will be $5.

Kay Cook, chairman of the VRJC Fine Arts Department and drama instructor, will be the instructor for this class. Early registration is recommended as class size will be limited. For more information or registration forms, call the VRJC Continuing Education Office at 552-6291.

Refinery input drops in June

Railroad Commission Chairman Buddy Temple has announced that 52 refineries in Texas processed 127,194,678 barrels of crude oil and hydrocarbon blends during June.

The June volume compares to 130,266,669 barrels in May and 131,034,500 barrels in June 1984.

18-year-olds must register on birthdays

Young men born on or after Jan. 1 1960, are required to register with Selective Service within a month of their 18th birthdays.

Registration takes less than five minutes at the post office. Registrants are asked to fill out a simple form, asking only for name, date of birth, address, telephone number and Social Security number.
