

Local names included on 'lost' list

An historic Sesquicentennial treasure awaits thousands of Texans Sunday, the date the State Treasury distributes the largest list of "lost" property ever published in the United States.

The list contains the names of 150,000 persons and firms, including 14 from Haskell County, with abandoned or "lost" accounts worth at least $50, said State Treasurer Ann Richards. The entire list represents a total of $117 million in lost property.

The list will be inserted in 17 major Texas newspapers with a circulation of almost 3 million," Ms. Richards said. "It will also be sent to all libraries and district clerks' offices as part of our continuing effort to reunite Texans with their lost property."

"For history buffs, this list contains the names of three to four times as many Texans as were in the entire state 150 years ago," she said, "and the $117 million in accounts is about 230 times larger than the cost of running the Republic in 1836."

In the past three years, the Texas Treasury has returned more than $5.6 million to rightful owners. That represents 64 percent of all money returned to Texans in the 25 years the state's Unclaimed Property Law has been on the books.

Almost 87,000 of the names on the list come from abandoned savings and checking accounts, Ms. Richards said. Another 43,000 represent abandoned stocks, dividends, royalties and unpaid wages. About 13,000 are abandoned life insurance policies and about 7,000 are abandoned safe deposit boxes.

Under state law, such accounts become abandoned if they are allowed to remain idle a certain length of time, usually three or five years, depending on the type of account.

If the company holding the account is unable to contact the owner, the account is reported to the State Treasury and later turned over to the state.

Persons who believe they have money in the Unclaimed Money Fund should either write the Texas Treasury, P.O. Box 12608 Capitol Station, Austin, TX 78711 or call the Texas Treasury's toll-free number, 1-800-321-2274.

Included in the list to be distributed Sunday are the names of Joe E. Ables, Thelma Adams, Adkins and Chapman, J. R. Ballard, Linda Combs, the Fieldman Motel, Jerry Hannsz, Joe Wayne Killion, Mutts Drive Inn, Manuel Pimentel and Lester Watson of Haskell.

Also included are Ellis A. Hamilton and Kenny Don Hisey of Rule and A. M. Lee of Rochester.

Flashback

The famous Spanish explorer Coronado may have been the first white man to see what is now Haskell County.

In 1541, when Coronado went north into New Mexico in search of the rich city of Quivira, he turned east and legend has it that he came to confluence of the two arms of the Brazos River in the northwest corner of Haskell County. If so, he would have been the first white man in the county.

The Brazos River was named as early as 1690 or 1691 by the Spanish, taking its name from "Brazos de Dios," meaning "the arms of God."

Haskell native

Artist to capture Challenger

[Editor's note: The following article appeared in the Feb. 26 issue of the El Paso Times. Mrs. Syling is the former Janet Pennington, born in Haskell in 1941. A Haskell High graduate with the class of 1959, she is the daughter of Oleta and Curt Pennington of Haskell. She is married to Capt. Jim Syling of the New Mexico State Police in Alamogordo, N.M.]

The last flight of the shuttle Challenger has become a still life in the American consciousness—mention it to anybody and a mental image of the catastrophe springs forth.

Those images, from the liftoff to Challenger's fiery death in the Florida sky, now will be preserved on canvas by an Alamogordo artist. Janet Syling, an oil painter who specializes in still lifes and patriotic scenes, has been chosen to paint her impressions of the flight for the Coast Guard Art Program.

Syling will travel to Cape Canaveral this summer to sketch scenes for her paintings. She will submit three canvases to the Coast Guard next year. One will be selected for a world exhibit.

Mrs. Eron McGuire with her quilt

Rochester woman has winning quilt

"Congratulations! We are very pleased to inform you that your quilt has been selected as one of the top 100 entries in the Great Texas Quilt Round-Up."

That was the opening paragraph in a letter received last week from the Texas Sesquicentennial Quilt Assn. by Mrs. Eron McGuire of Rochester.

Her quilt is now eligible to receive one of three cash grand prizes and six other cash prizes totaling $5,100 being given by the sponsors of the round-up.

Winners will be announced Friday evening, April 18, during a gala opening of the Great Texas Quilt Round-Up exhibition at Highland Mall in Austin.

The opening in Austin has been scheduled as part of Texas Quilt Appreciation Days, a Texas-sized week's worth of concurrent exhibits, tours, lectures and activities related to quilts and quilting in Texas.

Mrs. McGuire was informed that her quilt will be seen and enjoyed by thousands of people as the exhibit tours shopping centers in cities throughout Texas during 1986 and 1987.

The Rochester woman, whose quilt depicts dogwood blossoms of East Texas, said she worked a month on making the quilt for entry in the contest.

Farmers invited to crisis seminar

Haskell County farmers have been invited to attend a "Farm Crisis Seminar" in Merkel at 6 p.m. Tuesday, March 11.

The meeting will be at the Taylor Electric Cooperative building, 1610 North 1st (Old Highway 80). It is being sponsored by the Texas Dept. of Agriculture, the Texas Farm Crisis Hotline and area attorneys and financial advisors.

The seminar is designed to provide farmers with information about the Farmers Home Administration, bankruptcy, foreclosure, taxes and other pertinent topics.

About three hours of legal and financial information will be presented. A question and answer session will be included.

Nearly 800 farmers attended the first four Farm Crisis Seminars in Lubbock, Amarillo, Houston and Greenville in January. Farmers were able to get first-hand answers to their questions about the options available to them as they suffer through the worst economic crisis since the Great Depression.

The Texas Farm Crisis Hotline, organized by TDA, is a free service for farmers affected by the current economic crisis in rural Texas. It is funded by a grant from Willie Nelson's Farm Aid program, along with commitments from Milbern Travel Agency of Austin, the Texas Conference of Churches, the Texas Baptist Conference, Texas Rural Legal Aid and other legal service organizations, the Texas Corn Growers Assn. and private contributions.

Located in Austin, the hotline is staffed from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday. A message service will record calls at other times. The calls will be returned at the time requested. Information received during hotline calls is confidential. The number is 1-800-247-4243 (1-800-AGRI-AID).

For more information about the seminar in Merkel, call 915-367-5002.

Controversial exam

Teachers to be tested

Nearly two years after the controversial idea of a teacher competency test was approved by the Texas Legislature, Haskell County teachers will join 200,000 other state educators Monday in taking the Texas Examination of Current Administrators and Teachers (TECAT).

Tests here will be administered at the Haskell Elementary School. Three test sessions are scheduled, one beginning at 7:30 a.m., another at noon and a third at 4 p.m. Each county teacher has been assigned to one of those sessions.

There is no time limit set for the test, but it is estimated that it will take two and a half or three hours to complete.

Statewide, it is predicted that five percent of the teachers will not pass the exam.

The exam will have 55 multiple-choice questions on reading skills and 30 multiple-choice questions on writing skills. To pass, a teacher must correctly answer 75 percent of the items on each part.

Educators also will be asked to write a 150-word essay. An outstanding grade on the essay will relieve a teacher of having to pass the writing section of the multiple-choice test.

All exams will be graded by National Computer Systems Inc., an Iowa testing firm, with results reported to teachers individually by May 1. Teachers will only be told whether they passed or failed.

"Those who fail will be given a diagnostic analysis of why they failed as well as remediation guides to help them pass a second test," said Nolan Wood, director of teacher assessment for the Texas Education Agency.

The consequence of failure is clearly stated in the state's 1984

The marquee at Haskell High School which usually advertises an upcoming school activity brought a different message this week as students took their annual spring break.

Haskell enjoys mild February

For the most part, the weather in February represented one of the mildest winter months ever experienced in Haskell.

The temperature rose to 90 degrees on Wednesday, Feb. 19, according to Sam Herren, official weather recorder. Spring-like temperatures in the 70s and 80s were common during the month.

Lowest February temperature was recorded on Feb. 11 when the mercury dropped to 18 degrees.

Moisture during February totaled one inch, with .4 of that coming in the form of snow. Since no moisture was received in January, the one-inch total for the year is considerably below the normal 1.84 for the first two months of the year.

Cub Scouts win honors at camporee

A Haskell Cub Scout den was awarded a blue ribbon after being selected as the best Webelos den competing in the Chisolm Trail Council Spring Camporee at Rod Jones Ranch near Fort Phantom Friday and Saturday.

Five members of Webelos Den 1 of Pack 136 competed in the event.

Competition was in flint and steel fire building, knot tying, friction bridge building, compass reading, tracking and trailing and wood cutting.

Scouts also were judged for camp site and uniforms.

Competing were Brad Lane, Stacy Martin, John Headstream, Shawn Jordan and Jeremy Andress.

The Haskell Scouts were accompanied by Bill Perry, Bill Lane, Cary Headstream and Charles Andress.

COAST GUARD ASSIGNMENT

Artist Janet Syling, a Haskell native, has been commissioned by the Coast Guard Art Program to commemorate the last flight of the space shuttle Challenger.

Rule Chamber plans annual banquet April 1

Annual banquet of the Rule Chamber of Commerce will be April 1.

Guest speaker will be western artist and speaker Kenneth Wyatt of Tulia.

Tickets to the banquet, which will go on sale soon, will be $7 each. The Junior Class will serve the meal.

Chamber members are asking citizens of Rule to assist in selecting the Outstanding Man and Outstanding Woman of the Year. Nominations, along with reasons for the choices, are to be sent to the Rule City Hall by March 15.

Officers for the coming year will be announced at the banquet.

Plans are underway to serve the Wagon Train when it comes through the Rule-Rochester area in June.

Livestock mart active Saturday on heavy run

A very active market on all classes of stocker cattle was noted Saturday at the weekly sale at Haskell Livestock Auction, according to Carter Fore.

The feeder cattle market was steady to softer.

Featured during the day were 1,438 head of cattle, 10 hogs and six goats.

CIVIC CENTER GETS SHRUBBERY

Haskell Garden Club members apply the finishing touches to the new shrubbery at the Civic Center Tuesday morning. The landscaping project was made possible when the Beautify Haskell Council made a cash contribution to the Garden Club.

Council donates funds for shrubs

Members of the Haskell Garden Club set out the shrubs at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center last week and this with the help of Tom Watson, Gordon and Sherli Johnston of Fairbanks, Alaska, Joe Bob and Linda King, Mrs. J. O.

Blankenship, Mrs. Toni Kaigler, Edith James, Juanita Rhea, Juanita Dunnam, Bud Turnbow and Jerry Atchison.

Purchase of the shrubs was made possible through a generous gift from the Beautify Haskell Council.

Garden Club members expressed their gratitude to the Beautify Haskell Council for its contribution.

New building approved for Hardin-Simmons

An additional $1 million from Mrs. Charles Logsdon of Abilene will make possible a $3 million theology building and chapel at Hardin-Simmons University.

Trustees approved plans for the new building and chapel at their semi-annual meeting.

Mrs. Pousson judge at pageant

Mrs. Sue Pousson of St. Charles, Mo., formerly Sue Williams, the daughter of Lucy Williams and the late Arthur Williams of Rule, was selected as one of the five judges of the Missouri Junior Miss competition. The contest was Feb. 16-17 in Afton, Mo.

The judges panel represented a cross section of America in terms of background, vocations, experience, age and leadership.

Contestants were judged in five distinct divisions: physical fitness, poise and appearance, creative and performing arts and interview, with a separate judging panel determining the rank and standings in scholastic achievement.

A graduate of Rule High School with the class of 1955, Mrs. Pousson attended North Texas State University, majoring in music education with concentration in piano and voice. A 25-year educator in music and piano, she has also been involved in the music programs and school musicals at St. Charles area high schools.

She is a housewife and mother of four. She is a member of Piano Teachers Round Table, St. Louis Area Music Teachers Assn., Missouri Music Teachers Assn. and Music Teachers National Assn.

Church to feature classes by Ziglar

East Side Baptist Church has announced the beginning of a new class, to be taught by Zig Ziglar, and presented live via satellite from Discovery Broadcasting Network, Dallas.

Title of the class is "Tri-Dimensional Success."

The class will begin at 8:30 a.m. each Sunday in the Fellowship Hall. It will be over by 9:20 a.m.

Ziglar, author, motivational speaker and teacher, is well known for his best-selling book, "See You at the Top," which has over a million and a half copies in print.

He is considered by his peer group and by audiences everywhere as one of the best and most versatile speakers in America. He has traveled more than three million miles, conducting workshops and delivering his messages of humor, hope and enthusiasm to audiences of all kinds and sizes.

"East Side Baptist Church is pleased to have this opportunity through the means of satellite to bring this quality speaker on a regular basis," said the Rev. Darrell Feemster, pastor. "Everyone is welcome to come and take part."

Ask Your Realtor or Builder About WTU's Energy Savings Plan

It Will Save You Money!

An E.S.P. Home will save you up to twenty-six percent in home energy bills a year. An average 1800 square foot home will cost approximately $775 a year to heat and cool. The same size E.S.P. Home will cost approximately $570 a year to heat and cool. That results in an annual savings of over $200! (Energy savings may vary according to the type of home, family size and individual energy usage habits.)

All E.S.P. Homes have been carefully inspected and qualified to meet the strict energy efficiency requirements that will help you get the maximum value for every kilowatt-hour of electricity you buy.

And, if you decide to sell your E.S.P. Home in the future, you'll have the Energy Savings Plan helping you save money again through an increased resale value. Most prospective homebuyers will be looking for a home that will give them the best value for their energy dollar — YOUR E.S.P. HOME!

Obituaries

'Pete' Wright

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) for James M. (Pete) Wright.

Wright, 64, died Tuesday morning in Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Services will be at East Side Baptist Church with the Rev. Darrell Feemster officiating. Burial will be in Willow Cemetery, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be Ben McGee, Frank Jenkins, Boyd Rousseau, Robert Weaver, Claude Payne, Tommy Watson, Dave Miller and Leon Jones.

Members of the Haskell Fire Dept. will serve as honorary pallbearers.

A resident of Haskell since the early 1920s, Wright was a member of the Baptist Church and the Haskell Fire Dept. He was a World War II veteran and a retired employee of West Texas Utilities.

He was born Oct. 12, 1921, in Brownwood. He was married Jan. 1, 1941, to Zenobe Nadine Owens in Haskell.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Nadine Teague of Abilene and Connie Cothron of Haskell; four brothers, Vernon Wright of Haskell, Otis Wright of Knox City, the Rev. Bob Wright of Spur and Roy Wright of Abilene; six sisters, Ella Mae Atchinson of Lovington, N.M., Maudie McFadden and Argie McFadden, both of Haskell, Mary Stover of Montague, Rosa Lee Briscoe of Midland and Patricia Anderson of Mount Pleasant; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by his parents, a son and three brothers.

Almeida Harris

Almeida McGregor Harris died Feb. 25 in San Marcos after a brief illness.

Mrs. Harris was educated in Waco and Haskell. She attended the University of Texas where she was a member of Pi Beta Phi.

She married Dr. John Huggins Harris in 1926 and lived in New York City until 1948 when they returned to Texas. She was a Realtor in Houston for 30 years before retiring after her 80th birthday.

Mrs. Harris was a descendant of early pioneer Texas families, the daughter of Albert William McGregor and Irene Lescher McGregor of Waco, and the granddaughter of Dr. G. C. McGregor for whom the city of McGregor is named, and Annie Portia McGregor, the great-granddaughter of Charles Fordtran and Almeida Brookfield Fordtran of Industry, Texas. Her ancestors were significant in the colonization of Texas and the formation of the Republic.

She was a confirmed Episcopalian and gave a lifetime of dedication and service to St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Waco, the Church of the Heavenly Rest in New York City and Palmer Memorial Church in Houston.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Dr. John Huggins Harris of Fulshear, Texas, and her first born, John Huggins Harris Jr. She is survived by her brother, George Lescher McGregor of Dallas, and two sons, William McGregor Harris of Round Top and Robert Locke Harris of San Marcos.

Mrs. Harris was buried Feb. 28 in the McGregor family plot at Oakwood Cemetery in Waco. Graveside services were conducted by the Rev. Raiford Heigh of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Waco.

Robert E. O'Neal

Robert E. O'Neal, 87, of Miracle Valley, Ariz., died Jan. 27 at Sierra Vista Community Hospital. He had been an Arizona resident for 43 years.

O'Neal retired from Phelps-Dodge at Morenci in 1961.

He is survived by his wife, Alene of Miracle Valley; two sons, Norman O'Neal of Miracle Valley and Raymond O'Neal of Ranger; one sister, Loree Hamilton of Haskell; one grandchild and two great-grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by two brothers, Horace O'Neal of Seymour and Lee Roy O'Neal of Haskell; one sister, Mrs. Vernon Lusk; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. O'Neal who came to this area in 1921.

Funeral services were held at the Miracle Valley Chapel of the Southern Arizona Bible College. Interment followed in the Miracle Valley Cemetery.

Edgar N. Wilson

Graveside services were held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Weinert Cemetery for Edgar N. Wilson. Funeral services were at 9 a.m. Tuesday morning at Crosier-Pearson Chapel in Cleburne.

Born in Rule, April 23, 1926, Wilson died Sunday at Memorial Hospital in Cleburne. A veteran of the U. S. Air Force, Wilson was a retired U. S. Postal Service employee. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Cleburne.

Wilson is survived by a son, Edward F. (Eddie) Wilson of Stamford; his mother, Mrs. Ruby Wilson of Fort Worth; three sisters, Rosa Stallings of Fort Worth, Julia Bains of Granbury and Opal Stacy of Dallas; and two grandsons, Jason Wilson and Cole Wilson, both of Stamford.

Cattle decrease

The Jan. 1 cattle inventory released by USDA was the smallest since 1963.

The cow herd was the smallest since 1952.

The report confirmed what cattlemen knew—herd liquidation continued in 1985.

Local girl competes in area pageant

On Feb. 1, Erica Hollingsworth competed in the Charisma Girl Pageant at the Kiva Inn in Abilene. She won the best portfolio, talent and was first runnerup in the overall pageant. She will compete in the state finals in May. The National Pageant will be in Hollywood, Calif. Erica placed second in the Winner's Circle division at the Big Country "Our Little Miss Pageant" in Stamford Feb. 22. She will attend the State Pageant in San Antonio in June.

Overtured
An opinion that would have banned failing students from attending sports banquets has been overturned by the state education commissioner. The commissioner ruled that social events such as band, football and similar banquets do not come under "no pass/no play" and may be attended by failing students. The reversal came after the commissioner was pressed by the Highland Park (Dallas County) Independent School District.

Lodge to meet
The Sons of Hermann Lodge will hold its regular monthly meeting at 3 p.m. Sunday, March 9. The lodge's cakewalk has been cancelled. The dance will be held from 8 p.m. to 12 March 14.

Artist

The artist, who says she is "so patriotic it's corny," said she was the first artist named by the Coast Guard to record the tragedy. She described her selection as deeply moving.

"It's such an honor to have your art become part of history," Syling said.

The Coast Guard created the art program in 1981 and since has named hundreds of artists to interpret daily life in the service, Coast Guard national public affairs spokesman Jim Ward said.

Artworks produced through the program are donated to the Coast Guard for exhibit at its headquarters in Washington and at museums around the world, he said.

Ward said the program has become "an excellent storyteller of Coast Guard life. It creates a very valuable and graphic history."

Syling became involved with the program through her membership in the prestigious Salmagundi Club in New York. The club, the oldest professional art association in the United States, screens artwork for submission to the Coast Guard.

The Alamogordo artist joined the Coast Guard program in January and will submit several pieces for display the next two years, she said.

One of Syling's oils, titled "Honor," a still life of a bugle and a U. S. flag, will be exhibited in New York City this year.

A housewife and grandmother of five, Syling started painting about 20 years ago and since has developed a style evocative of the snapshot-like realism that flourished in the Renaissance.

Her paintings imitate the portraits of Rembrandt—in each, only the subject is allowed to absorb light, a touch that makes the faces and subjects on the canvas stand out against the dark background.

Her work has been displayed in New York, Houston and Albuquerque. Area galleries offering her paintings are the Smith Gallery in Ruidoso and the Linda Lundeen Gallery in Las Cruces.

Syling said she envisions three scenes of the shuttle catastrophe. One may show Coast Guard recovery efforts after the explosion. The others probably will focus on the launch.

Syling said she will steer away from the explosion because she wants the paintings "to show the excitement during the launch, not the tragedy."

"I'd like for us to remember it as something special," she said. "So many times if you can make something positive out of a tragedy, it's better."

She said she expects to finish the paintings by January.

Youth camp at Brownwood during summer

Haskell County 4-H members are eligible to participate in camping programs this summer at the Texas 4-H Center, located on Lake Brownwood.

Information and applications are available at the County Extension office at 101 South Ave. D in Haskell.

The center offers a unique camping experience for youth 9-19.

For 9-to-11-year-olds, four-day camps are scheduled for July 6-9 and July 9-12.

Youth aged 12 to 14 can attend camps July 13-16 and July 16-19.

These camps offer fun and adventure and include swimming, sailing, canoeing, shooting sports, crafts, outdoor cookery, high adventure, recreation and parties.

For youth aged 14 to 19, a week-long special interest camp is offered June 23-28 to provide in-depth training in a selected area, including computers, shooting sports, food and fitness, canoeing and sailing, clothing, tennis, photography or water skiing. This training is combined with the fun and excitement of camp life, and evenings provide "whole camp" activities.

Campers of all ages learn to adjust to camp environment, share responsibilities and appreciate natural surroundings while enjoying the fun of activities designed especially for them.

Experienced resource teachers and qualified college-aged counselors conduct activities. County Extension agents and volunteer adult leaders supervise campers at all times.

Black gets death sentence

A former Haskell man has been sentenced to death by a district court jury in Bryan.

Robert Black Jr., 39, was found guilty last week of capital murder.

He was convicted of hiring his wife's killer through an advertisement in Soldier of Fortune magazine, a publication for weapons and military enthusiasts.

According to prosecutors, Black offered a mercenary $10,000 and expenses to kill his wife, Sandra Black.

Mrs. Black, 36, was found shot to death Feb. 21, 1985, in the couple's Bryan home. She had suffered gunshot wounds to the eye and the back of the head, police said.

John Wayne Hearn of Atlanta testified during the trial that the slaying took place after he and Black discussed several ways to stage it. Hearn admitted he shot Mrs. Black with her own .22-caliber pistol. He said he later threw the gun into a lake.

Hearn's mother, Mary Watson of Columbia, S.C., testified that her son received an envelope containing a letter and a $1,000 cashier's check signed by Black.

The envelope arrived at her home Feb. 15, 1985, and she opened it and gave it to her son the next day, she testified. Her son left Feb. 19, saying he was going to Bryan, she said.

Hearn, who is serving a life sentence in another killing, told jurors he would get another life sentence for testifying against Black.

Hearn said Black decided to fake a burglary and helped him ransack the house, even telling him what jewels to take as collateral on the murder contract. He said Black handed him a pistol to use.

District Attorney Bill Turne asked Hearn why the killing was arranged.

"So Bob Black could have the house, the insurance money, and so he could have his girlfriend," Hearn said.

UNION CANNONS...
Late in 1861 Confederate Brigadier General H.H. Sibley led a Texas army west to invade New Mexico. The Texans met a Union force at Valverde ford on the Rio Grande in February, 1862. The Union army was defeated. The Texans captured six cannons. Within a month the Texans had taken most of the territory. Bitter winter weather and short supplies made the Texans retreat to San Antonio. They brought with them their prized cannons.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

RETIRE WITH MONEY

Many people feel that accountants deal primarily with taxes and business problems. Another very important function of accountants is assisting individuals with personal financial planning.

Personal financial planning should be tailored to your specific needs. If your current net worth and projected earnings are not going to provide adequate funds for retirement, your personal financial plan should address this problem first and foremost. If you have more than enough assets now to provide for an adequate retirement, your primary concern may be a gifting program and a plan to reduce estate administrative and tax costs.

Where do you start? Your net worth is determined by preparing a list of all your assets and all of your debts. The preparation of this personal "balance sheet" each year provides a yardstick by which you can measure the success or failure of your financial plan.

It's necessary to evaluate your insurance requirements at least annually, to determine that you are neither under-insured nor over-insured.

Tax planning is important, particularly on any transaction involving amounts equal to 10% or more of your net worth.

Extensive estate and gift tax planning is appropriate for those individuals who have more than adequately provided for their retirement. There are, however, some estate planning considerations for all individuals. For example, even if you have no accumulated assets, who will be the guardian of your minor children in the event of the death of you and your spouse?

Personal financial planning can be a significant benefit to all individuals, old or young, rich or poor.

Track team to test competition at Anson

Haskell's boys' track team gets its first taste of competition Saturday when it travels to Anson for the Tiger Relays. A dozen area schools will be participating.

Indian Coach Jimmy Lisle was still undecided Monday morning just how his team will line up. He indicated he would be experimenting a great deal in an effort to determine where his team members will fit best.

One of the brightest spots on the 1986 Haskell team likely will be the mile relay team. Three members of the 1985 quartet which advanced to the regional are back this season, Mark Young, Stephen Rodriguez and Ponciano Lopez. Coach Lisle said he was not sure who would be this year's fourth member of the relay team, but he said he may try Stephen Brockington at Anson this week.

Young also is expected to compete in the sprint relay and the quarter mile run. Rodriguez will run the 800 meters and the mile and Lopez will probably run the quarter mile. Brockington is expected to enter the 200 meter sprint.

Field events at Anson Saturday begin at 8:45 a.m. and running events at 9 o'clock. Finals in the running events are scheduled to start at 2 p.m.

Marriage licenses issued by clerk

Three marriage licenses were issued in February by the office of County Clerk Woodrow Frazier.

Licenses were to Ronald Wade Raynes of Munday and Gay Lynn Hudson of Weinert, Earl Lynn McDonald of Haskell and Betty Putman Minefee of Rule and Elijo Cano Garcia and Emilia Aguirre Martinez, both of Haskell.

At Stamford

Maiden track team romps

Haskell girls totally dominated the Reunion Relays in Stamford Saturday as the Maidens got their new season off to a resounding start.

The Maidens accumulated 202 points, more than twice as many as second-place Eastland which had 99. Rotan managed 61 points while Anson and Stamford tied for fourth place with 41 points each.

The Maidens amassed 10 first places in the 15 events, including two relay teams and eight individuals. They also had six seconds, two thirds and a fifth.

First places went to: 1600 relay team of Sheree Dumas, Gloria Castillo, Teresa Rodriguez and Leiza Morales. 800 relay team of Vicky Chavez, Tammi Miller, Teresa Unger and Joy McKeever.

Sylvia Castillo in the 1600 run. Vicky Chavez in the 200 dash. Tammi Miller in the 100 dash. Joy McKeever in the 100 hurdles. Sylvia Castillo in the 3200 run. Tina Lacey in the discus. Sheree Dumas in the high jump. Tina Lacey in the shot put. Second-place honors went to: 400 relay team of Teresa Rodriguez, Tammi Miller, Teresa Unger and Joy McKeever. Vicky Chavez in 100 dash. Sheree Dumas in 400 dash. Donna Rowan in 800 run.

Joy McKeever in triple jump. Vicky Chavez in long jump. In addition, Teresa Rodriguez took third in the 400 meter dash, Sheree Dumas was third in the triple jump and Donna Rowan was fifth in the discus.

Chamber reveals program for 50th anniversary banquet

By Wanda Dulaney

A capacity crowd is expected by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce at its 50th anniversary banquet at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 22. It will also celebrate the Sesquicentennial of Texas.

Members of the Chamber's Board of Directors, their wives and husbands, and members of the Chamber Welcoming Committee are planning, preparing and serving the banquet which begins with a chuck wagon supper.

Kay Smith is food chairman; Carolyn Reynolds, ticket chairman; Delight Jones, decorations chairman; and Dickie Greenwood, program chairman.

President's Table

The 25 living past presidents, of whom only seven are not still residents of Haskell, have been invited to sit at the Special Presidents' Table. They will be recognized for their past service and continuing support.

Story from the Past

Greg Melton, history teacher of Haskell High School, will tell a story concerning Texas—one of the most colorful states of America throughout the years.

Sing-Song—Texas Style

A rousing sing-song of Texas tunes will be led by Carolyn Everett, with Ellen Rieger, pianist.

Congressman's Greetings

One of the honored guests will be Congressman Charles Stenholm who will bring greetings to the audience as a Texan to fellow Texans, a neighbor to his neighbors.

Bustles to Blue Jeans

With Bettye McBroom as commentator, a unique style show is planned in which models will wear authentic clothing of styles worn during the 150 years of Texas history.

Co-sponsors for this part of the program are the six Haskell ladies' shops, the Personality Shoppe, Clothes Closet, Yellow Rose, Lane-Felker, the Slipper Shoppe and the Hayloft, and department stores carrying women's clothing, C and B, Hassen's and Heidenheimer's.

Most Outstanding Citizen

Traditionally a highlight of Chamber banquets is the announcement of the name of the Most Outstanding Citizen (or citizens). Every effort is made each year for the award to be a surprise to the recipient.

Special Entertainment

A musical group called "Triple Shot" will play and sing country tunes which are favorites of Texans. Their appearance is being sponsored by West Texas Utilities, Modern Way, The Drug Store, Lanco Insurance, Kids Duds, Pat Walker's, Haskell Free Press and Haskell Commercial Printing Co.

Anniversary Tabloid

The Haskell Free Press is printing a special tabloid in recognition of the 50th anniversary of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

It will contain stories and pictures of past presidents, the Welcoming Committee, the Board of Directors, program participants at the banquet, goals, future plans, etc., and will be distributed in the regular issue of the Free Press of March 20 to its full circulation, and will be used as the printed program at the March 22 banquet.

Endorsements and good wishes by businesses and individuals will complete the tabloid.

Tickets

Tickets, at $7.50 each, are now on sale at the following locations:

Haskell National Bank, Haskell Free Press, Lanco Insurance, Olney Savings, Modern Way Food Store, Medford Buick and Pontiac, Bailey Toliver Chevrolet Co., Trammel Bit and Spur, Kids Duds, Kay's Cleaners, J and R Radiator, Dr. Ed Harris office, Bill Wilson Motor Co., Sport About, District Clerk's office, KVRP.

Sears, Hayloft, Hartsfield Agency, Carousel, Tom Watson, Pat Casselberry, Tommy Watson, Perry's, Johnson Pharmacy, Haskell Nursing Center, Video Vendor and the Chamber of Commerce.

Casual Dress

Since the program, decorations and food service are to be informal, then typical Texas attire—anything you're comfortable in—will be the most appropriate wear.

Chamber officials are striving for the banquet to be entertaining, enjoyable, informative—and long on fellowship.

QUEEN RUNNERUP

Rendi Drive, granddaughter of Mildred (Kenamer) Kelso, was recently chosen second runnerup in the Lubbock Lions Club Queen Contest, held in the Texas Tech University Ballroom in Lubbock. Rendi, 17, is a junior at Coronado High in Lubbock. She is the daughter of Patsy (Kenamer) Driver and Dell Driver of Lubbock.

Stretch for exercise

There's one exercise that everyone—from toddlers to oldsters and from weekend joggers to pro athletes—can do, and that's stretch.

The wonderful thing about stretching is that you don't have to be in top physical condition or have special athletic skills. Also, you can do it any time, like at the start of your day, at work to release nervous tension, when watching TV or in the car.

Simply stretch any part of your body to the point where you feel a mild tension, and relax as you hold the stretch. The whole process should take 10-30 seconds.

Those few seconds of stretching, if done on a regular basis, will reduce muscle tension and make your body feel more relaxed. It will increase your range of motion and help your coordination.

Stretching should always be done before and after physical activity like running, skiing, tennis or swimming. It prepares your body for the activity and can prevent injuries such as muscle strains.

Stretching also has some psychological benefits since it can be a good stress and tension reducer. Plus, it just feels good.

Journalism scholarships available

High school seniors in West Texas are invited to apply for journalism scholarships at Midland College for the 1986-87 school term. Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Allison professor of journalism at Midland College, announced this week.

The scholarships are funded by a $750,000 endowment provided by the James Allison family, former publishers of the Midland Reporter Telegram, and provide books, fees and tuition valued at more than $600 for those receiving scholarships. The Allison endowment also provides the funds for the Allison Chair of Journalism, the only such endowed journalism chair in a community college in the United States.

Those students granted scholarships are also eligible for paid staff positions on the college's weekly newspaper and twice-yearly college magazine.

Interested students should write to: Ralph L. Sellmeyer, Allison Professor of Journalism, Midland College, 3600 North Garfield, Midland, TX 79705. Those who desire additional college financial aid should also write Bill Burns, director of financial aids at the college.

State Capital Highlights

Bob Bullock gets high marks for innovation

By Lyndell Williams
Texas Press Assn.

AUSTIN—Embattled Gov. Mark White may be the man in the center of the public's eye, but the most innovative man in state government may be Comptroller Bob Bullock.

White moves around the field a lot to get media attention, but not all of it goes as planned—like last week when he ordered a hiring freeze for state agencies, then the next day began advertising for a $25,000-a-year aide for himself.

Bullock, on the other hand, has lots of ideas which no one else seems to think of. After warning that state layoffs may be necessary to balance the budget, he surveyed his own employees to see whether any were willing to cut their hours and salary by one day a week. Beats getting fired into the street.

"He (Bullock) was just flat serious about making budget cuts. We're leaving no stone unturned," his press aide said.

Makes you wonder how the Democratic primary might be turning out if Bullock had run for governor against White this year.

"White's New Math"

The prediction of state layoffs came in a report prepared by Bullock's staff entitled "The New Math of the Governor's Budget Plan," a title which some might think indicates a little scorn by Bullock's staff for the amateurism on White's staff.

At the bottom line, the leaked report predicted that White's plan could have as little as $100 million and $557 million at best. The State's looking at a $1.3 billion shortfall unless the estimate is revised, up or down.

To reach $1.3 billion, staff layoffs would be necessary, and the city most impacted, of course, would be Austin.

White In Washington

In Washington, where he prepared to take the Texas budget case to the feds, White responded there is "always a chicken little out there who says that something can't be done." If you're beginning to detect some professional competitiveness between White and Bullock camps, perhaps it's there.

White attended a National Governor's Association meeting and took the offensive by seeking a meeting between President Reagan and other oil state governors.

White wants the feds to impose a tariff on imported oil to stabilize the Texas oil market and stop the loss of state revenues.

Bipartisan Plea?

White wants Reagan to back the tariff which has been proposed by U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen.

He also asked the Republicans in the Texas congressional delegation and the three GOP candidates seeking to unseat him to persuade Reagan to levy the import tax.

Wall Street Q & A

Then, White was off to Wall Street next, where he expected to boost investor confidence in Texas.

The state's leadership wants to speed up diversification of the state economy and rely less on unpredictable oil revenues, which contribute to about 13 percent of the state budget.

Bullock says the fastest growing industry in the state is services, which is hardly taxed at all.

The next Legislature will surely restructure the state's tax base to new industries, but some say the overhaul will take four to six years, given the historical pace of pushing new ideas past lawmakers.

Other Highlights

Other highlights of the Capitol week included:

—State Sen. Buster Brown was disqualified from the Texas Attorney General's race by the Texas Supreme Court.

The High Court ruled Brown voted for an increase in the AG's salary last year, and that the Legislature could not override a Constitutional prohibition of a candidate seeking an office which he had just voted a pay raise.

—Hundreds of sign-waving teachers met on the Capitol lawn to protest the HB 72 school reforms pushed by Mark White.

—Kent Hance, GOP candidate for governor, sent out a letter asking for $100,000 in contributions, admitting he needs to buy TV ads to stay alive in the race. Hance said he stands to lose critical time slots on April TV without the funds.

—The U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear a legal challenge to the controversial no-pass, no-play reform, thereby backing up the Texas Supreme Court's earlier ruling. The plaintiffs, Houston-area parents and students, will continue the legal fight in a Houston state court.

You must be careful just how you say it!

By Wendell Faught

I can't vouch for the authenticity of this little gem, but I've seen it a couple of times in the past year or so. It's supposed to be taken from the files of a California state agency, the Bureau of Public Assistance.

Anyway, it does stress the need to be explicit in language use if you want to avoid any problem with misunderstanding.

Draw your own conclusions about what these folks were trying to say: I am forwarding my marriage certificate and six children. I had seven but one died which was baptized on a half sheet of paper.

I am writing the Welfare Dept. to say that my baby was born two years old. When do I get my money?

Mrs. Jones has not had any clothes for a year and has been visited by the minister regularly.

I cannot get sick pay. I have six children. Can you tell me why?

I am to report that my husband who was missing is dead.

This is my eighth child. What are you going to do about it?

Please find out for sure if my husband is dead. The man I am living with now cannot eat or do anything until he knows.

I am very much annoyed to find that you have branded my son illiterate. This is a dirty lie as I was married a week before he was born.

In answer to your letter, I have given birth to a boy weighing 10 pounds. I hope this is satisfactory.

I am forwarding my marriage certificate and my three children; one of which is a mistake as you can see.

My husband got his project cut off two weeks ago and I have not had any relief since.

Unless I get my husband's money pretty soon, I will be forced to lead an immortal life.

You have changed my little boy to a girl. Will this make any difference?

I have no children as yet as my husband is a truck driver and works day and night.

In accordance with your instructions, I have given birth to twins in the enclosed envelope.

I want money as quick as I can get it. I have been in bed with the doctor for two weeks and he does not do me any good.

"Light" is the magic word these days. Whether it's beer, cake, mayonnaise or cars, you gotta be light to be good.

The Free Press should get on the bandwagon. I figure we're at least 90 percent lighter than the Sunday edition of the Dallas Morning News.

A brief trek into New Mexico over the weekend afforded me the opportunity to discuss New Mexico politics—always the most popular game in town in that state.

While Texas Gov. Mark White may think he has his problems, they appear minor compared to those of his New Mexico counterpart.

New Mexico Gov. Toney Anaya is complaining that he gets no respect in the press. In the past year, two state appointees went to prison, another is awaiting trial for diverting public monies and one of the governor's secretaries has been charged with accepting bribes.

Despite political corruption, the State Legislature of New Mexico is getting tough. In its recent session, the Legislature approved a bill making it illegal for state pen inmates to possess deadly weapons.

We'll soon say goodbye to pony rides

By Richard L. Leshner
President

U.S. Chamber of Commerce

America is awaking to the fact that the liability crisis is for real. But how many have considered how much the crisis could affect us all from cradle to grave?

Or even before the cradle, for that matter. Early February saw a strike by obstetricians in Boston fed up with rising malpractice insurance rates. And once Junior is born, a number of vaccines, including diphtheria-pertussis-tetanus, may be unavailable because litigation-shy manufacturers have stopped making them.

The baby may have been unplanned. G. D. Serle recently was forced to stop selling a safe and medically approved interuterine birth-control device. Serle had never lost a lawsuit, but just defending them was eating up nearly a tenth of the company's income.

Junior's cradle itself is bound to be more expensive since lawsuits have abounded over injuries to babies in their beds. He might not be able to get a car seat either.

And who's going to take care of Junior if Mom works? Many day-care centers can't get insurance.

As Junior grows up, life may not be as much fun for him. All those neat toys he sees during the cartoons may be off the market after being attacked by consumer safety activists. Skip the carnival. Who can afford the $5 ticket to cover the insurance for the pony rides?

And forget about peanut butter sandwiches and the Twinkies. They've been battered by suits over allegedly misleading labeling and turning youngsters into "junk-food junkies."

Watching the Super Bowl on TV—or participating in sports himself—is out of the question. Ten of the 13 football helmet manufacturers already have been driven out of business by lawsuits over injuries. Mom and Dad had to send the dog to the pound since they couldn't afford the increase in the homeowner's insurance in case

Stenholm cuts expenses

Editor: I had the honor and pleasure of speaking at the West Texas Press Assn.'s winter meeting in Snyder recently. It was a wood opportunity to discuss congressional activities and hear the insights of the publishers and editors from our area. Weekly newspapers are one of my best sources for news.

At the convention luncheon, I touched upon the effects of Gramm-Rudman and our efforts to balance the federal budget. I support the spirit of Gramm-Rudman and will make every attempt to cut spending, including in those areas which affect the Congress and me personally. This year my office budget has been trimmed by eight percent; not frozen, but cut. I can live with that. I am preparing for future cuts.

One of the most publicized congressional expenditures has been the cost of postage, or "Congressional Franking." Every year, each member is allowed six "postal patron" mailings to the households in his or her district. Feeling that this is too costly, I voted for a bill that would have reduced the allotted annual number to four, but the measure failed. Since coming to Congress, I routinely have used just one mass mailing a year. However, as a part of my eight percent budget cut, I am not even sending out that single mass mailing this year. Enclosed you will find a dummy copy of the Viewpoint I was preparing for the residents of the 17th District before the project was shelved. I believe it contains pertinent information that you might have occasion to use as reference material. Please read the Viewpoint and feel free to use all or part of it for your publication. After your perusal, I would like for you to give me your thoughts by answering the attached questionnaire.

Keeping citizens informed is a vital service and a responsibility which you and I share. Crucial to our country's foundation was the right of citizens to know and have a say in what our government does. For my part, I feel that responsible mailings are a way to keep constituents abreast of how I vote.

Tests blasted

Editor: Travis County District Court Judge Harley Clark's decision that the statewide literacy test is constitutional will allow the state to make or break the careers of professional Texas educators on the basis of whether or not they pass a single test. This fact is more than a disappointment to educators and a severe blow to their already devastated morale.

It is an injustice to educators, to their students and to the public. Faced with taking a test that will determine whether or not they will continue their chosen careers, it is unrealistic to think that teachers are not distracted from their classroom duties. That, in addition to the lower and lower morale and higher and higher frustration of their teachers, is not fair to the students.

And the public is being sold a bill of goods. Taxpaying citizens of Texas have been led to believe that the literacy testing program will identify "incompetent" teachers. First, we don't know if there are any. Second, a single test is an improper, ineffective and invalid way to find out.

Haskell man heads schools at Peaster

The Peaster Independent School Board has announced the appointment of Philip C. Bledsoe as superintendent. He will assume duties July 1 upon the retirement of Carl Barker, superintendent for the past nine years.

Bledsoe is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bledsoe of Haskell.

He came to Peaster as principal in 1984, having previously been employed with the Fort Worth Public School System.

With almost 20 years of experience in the Texas public school system, Bledsoe received his BS degree from North Texas State University in 1965 with a major in Industrial Arts. He earned a Master Degree in Administrative Education in 1968 from North Texas.

As an Industrial Arts teacher, Bledsoe was named the North Texas Regional Industrial Teacher of the Year in 1982 for the second time in his teaching career, the first time coming in 1970. In 1984 while he was serving as chairman of the Industrial Arts Department of Arlington Heights High School, the department received national recognition as the "Most Outstanding Industrial Arts Department in the Nation."

Bledsoe has served as the

president of the North Texas Industrial Arts Assn., chairman of both state and local student industrial arts fairs and was a co-founder of the first North Texas Industrial Arts Regional Fair in 1967.

He and his wife Grenetta and daughter Tammy make their home in Weatherford. Mrs. Bledsoe is the third grade teacher at Peaster and Tammy is a freshman at Peaster High School.

Letters to the Editor...

The State Board of Education, Texas Education Agency and local school districts should turn their full attention to working with classroom teachers and building administrators to develop a valid, fair and effective evaluation system that really will identify poor and unqualified teachers, and provide remedial assistance to improve the quality of teaching. TSTA is eager to devote its considerable resources to work with them to that end.

The percentage of individuals who pass or fail a standardized test—any standardized test—is more or less pre-determined by the cutoff score set for passing. Based on the cutoff score the State Board of Education has set for the Texas Examination of Current Administrators and Teachers, the Texas Education Agency predicts that five percent of those taking the TECAT will fail.

Some teachers may simply be poor test-takers. Other teachers may excel at test-taking, but be ineffective at conveying information in such a manner that students actually learn it. A standardized pencil and paper test cannot make the distinction.

That means some extremely competent teachers will fail the test and some incompetent teachers will pass the test. And 95 percent or more of all educators, 199,500 professionals, will be put through an agonizing wringer for no reason at all.

For these substantive reasons and because we remain convinced that the TECAT requirement and its method of implementation are clearly unconstitutional, TSTA will continue to pursue every avenue to make certain that a single test is not the sole criterion for determining whether or not a teacher keeps his or her job. At the very least, we will insist that remedial assistance be provided for anyone who fails and that this help be provided before a certificate is revoked.

Our attorneys are carefully reviewing and analyzing Judge Clark's written decision and we will make a decision regarding an appeal based upon their recommendation.

Further, based upon TEA's preliminary data, we believe the test, if given, will be discriminatory against minorities, handicapped, some bilingual teachers and those whose area of specialty is outside language arts. We will track the results and we will take the issue to federal court if we find discrimination has, in fact, occurred.

Specifically, Judge Clark ruled that:

(1) The statute in question is found to be constitutional:

(2) The decisions made and the actions taken by the State Board of Education in connection with implementation of the statute are found to be lawful and in keeping with the intent of the statute and the legislature; and

(3) The testing already planned and announced should proceed as scheduled.

he bit somebody.

Depressed by the loss of these privileges—and his dog—Junior goes to discuss his problems with his minister. Sorry, the minister won't do any more spiritual counseling because he's been burned by malpractice suits.

Despite these setbacks, Junior manages to struggle through school, after he signed a release promising not to sue if he didn't learn how to read. But there aren't many new jobs. Those companies that haven't been forced out of business are laying off employees to cover high insurance premiums.

Junior finally finds a job at the clerk of the court's office. They have plenty of work handling their share of the two million lawsuits filed every year.

At a ripe old age, Junior suffers a stroke and is rushed to the hospital. His bill for the 18 hours before he dies is $20,000, largely because the doctors order a battery of extra tests to avoid a malpractice suit.

But that's OK. The insurance will pick it up.

(P.S. This modern fable may seem to pass into the realm of fantasy, but the fantastic thing is that every turn of events portrayed is based on a real case or occurrence.)

Ride off on a Deere.

Enter our Deere Season Giveaway.

Spring is just around the corner, so now is the time to visit your John Deere dealer to stock up on the latest equipment from Deere's complete lawn and garden line.

And while you're there, go ahead and sign up for the Deere Season Giveaway, your chance to win a 100 Series Lawn Tractor, 21-inch self-propelled lawn mower, edgers, trimmers, blowers and a whole lot more.

No purchase is necessary, and you don't even have to be present to win. One hundred lawn and garden prizes are up for grabs, so don't miss out on the action at your John Deere dealer.

The Deere Season Giveaway. It starts March 1 at your local John Deere dealer. And remember, you can't win if you don't enter, so hurry and sign up today for your chance to win.

February 6, 1986

Dear Friends & Customers,

After 16 years we have built a new facility and moved our business three miles North of Stamford on U.S. 277.

We have enjoyed our relationship with many loyal customers in the Haskell and surrounding areas. You made our every accomplishment possible and we will cherish your business and friendship always. Although we hated to leave, there were no other alternatives and we are very excited and have positive feelings about this move.

We feel this moved represents a real opportunity for us and we hope for you as well. We have made several innovate changes such as a toll free number, lower hauling rates, better service, more modern facility and an expanded parts & equipment inventory.

Jean & I will continue to live in Haskell and will continue to be active in the community. We look forward to serving you and I hope to continue the wonderful friendship developed during the past 16 years.

Joe Pat Hale
