Runoff one big 'yawn'

Haskell County Democrats "yawned" through Saturday's primary runoff with only 189 of them going to the trouble to vote.

With no local races to be decided, no district or congressional races on the ballot and no major state offices being contested, Haskell County's voter turnout followed a statewide trend which saw extremely light voting.

For the most part, Haskell County went along with the winners. John Sharp was the choice of 159 county voters for the Railroad Commission, while P.S. Ervin received only 27 votes in Haskell County.

In the three races for places on the Supreme Court, Haskell County favored Oscar Mauzy by a 101-84 margin over Shirley Butts for place 1; Robert Campbell by a 121-59 count over Jim Brady for place 2; and Jay Gibson by a 151-38 margin over Raul Gonzalez.

In the race for Criminal Appeals Judge, place 1, Haskell County favored Rusty Duncan 154-25 over George Martinez.

Only Gibson for place 4 on the Supreme Court was not a state winner among those carrying Haskell County.

City gets tax check for $8,620

The City of Haskell received a check for $8,620.70 this week as its share of the state sales tax. The check represented taxes collected in April.

For the same period last year, the city received $8,738.56.

Rule's check was for $796.97. So far this year, Haskell has received $83,904.38, about one percent less than the $84,836.05 received during the same period last year.

Cities receive checks each month from Bob Bullock, state comptroller.

Rule schedules public hearing at 8 tonight

The City of Rule will conduct a public hearing at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Rule City Park for the purpose of finalizing the activities and elements contained in the Community Development Program application.

Authorization will be given to submit this application to the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

All citizens, particularly low income residents, are invited and encouraged to attend.

Pet vaccine clinic to be Saturday

Haskell pet owners are encouraged to take their dogs and cats to the fairgrounds Saturday where Dr. Tom Hargrove, local veterinarian, will administer rabies vaccinations.

The shots will cost $4 per animal.

The vaccine clinic will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

TIME OUT

This group from the Wagon Train relaxes in the morning sun in Haskell Wednesday. They are Hazel Anderson of Leon, Kan., Juan Brown of Mountain View, Mo., Pat Schmidt of Stephenville, Ruth Packer of Bracketville, Mary Miller of Dodge City, Kan., and Roy Brown of Leon, Kan.

Livengood appointed vet service officer

D. E. Livengood assumed duties June 1 as Haskell County Veterans Service Officer.

He was appointed by the Commissioners Court to succeed Bud Herren.

As Veterans Service Officer, Livengood will assist veterans in obtaining benefits or in other matters. His office is on the first floor of the Haskell County courthouse and his office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

A veteran of World War II, Livengood was parts manager for Medford Buick-Pontiac for 21 years.

Wagon Train receives big welcome in Haskell

Haskell gave a Texas-size welcome last week to the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train and the hundreds of participants in the mobile celebration.

The wagon train, moving eastward from Rule, arrived in Haskell shortly before 3 p.m. Wednesday. A large crowd greeted the visitors along US 380 and on North 1st Street as it moved through town.

The 61 wagons and 150 riders went directly to the fairgrounds to make camp for the night.

Everything went perfectly for the historic occasion. A brief dirt storm and then a light shower hit the town shortly after the wagon train's arrival, but the weather had become beautiful by 5:30 p.m. when the public program at the fairgrounds began.

Nearly 2,000 persons ate hamburgers, french fries and cookies and drank ice tea at the hamburger supper. With the Sagerton Hee Haw Band providing music from an outside stage, 1,810 hamburgers were served to wagon train visitors and townspeople.

Many of those who ate stayed around for the entertainment at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center. County home demonstration clubs put on a "Texas Sampler" and gospel singing groups from Rule, Haskell, Rochester and Weinert performed before the full house.

No head count was made at the Civic Center, but proceeds from the event came to $852. Admission was $2 for adults and $1 for junior high and high school students. Elementary students were admitted free. Proceeds went to the Civic Center. (Profits from the hamburger supper will be used by the Haskell County Sesquicentennial Commission for whatever project its members choose.) Profits from the Lions Club's pancake breakfast Thursday morning were earmarked for the Civic Center.

As predicted, the visit of the wagon train turned out to be a huge event for the Haskell community. By early Wednesday morning, before the train had left its campsite in Rochester, Haskell already was filling up with horses, wagons, campers, recreational vehicles and support personnel.

Many from Haskell visited with members of the advance party. Without exception, the visitors were a friendly group and were

Looking into the threatening skies, Hazel Anderson of Leon, Kan., said, "Someone up there has been smiling on us. We've had rain only three times since we left the first of the year."

Before reaching Haskell, the wagon train visited two other county communities. Members spent Tuesday night in Rochester where a rousing welcome greeted them, along with a steak cookout. The train took a noon break in Rule Wednesday as residents of that town had the opportunity to extend their greetings and to feed the visitors.

Thanks to everyone!

By Jerrene Couch
Sesquicentennial Chairman

The Wagon Train has come and gone, but we have many pleasant memories.

Some 1,700 people were fed hamburgers, french fries, tea and Texas sugar cookies on June 4 at the fairgrounds. We are indebted to many people for this delicious supper.

A special thanks goes to our cooks, Kiwanis Club, for cooking the hamburger patties, Rotary Club for cutting up the tomatoes, lettuce and onions, the Fireboys for cooking the french fries, the Fireboys Auxiliary for making and serving the tea and the Progressive Study Club for donating a part of the Texas sugar cookies.

Also a big thanks to our servers, the Welcome Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and to the Sagerton Hee Haw Band whose music we really appreciated.

Our program in the Civic Center was most successful and we are grateful to each one who had a part in this—the singers from Rule, Rochester, Weinert and Haskell, and the four Haskell County Extension Homemakers clubs.

Thanks to our Haskell High cheerleaders for the many duties they performed, one being to go to Rule and numbering the wagons. This was done so that the Brazos West Art Club could judge the wagons and give the 10 prizes (painted cow bells) that night.

Thanks also to The Free Press, the Chamber of Commerce and the Ministerial Alliance for their help. Without the working of the Horse Club and City and County law officials things would not have been in order as it should have been and we are most grateful for these fellows. Then the Lions Club ended the Wagon Train stay with a delicious pancake breakfast.

Thank you one and all who had any part in this "happy" occasion. We appreciate everything you did for Wagon Train.

DOWNTOWN HASKELL

A large crowd turned out in Haskell Wednesday afternoon to greet the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train. Sixty-one wagons paraded down North 1st Street.

Hearty eaters that crew was

What does it take to feed a Wagon Train and the people who turn out to see it?

Well, in Haskell Wednesday night, here's what was consumed: One thousand, eight hundred and ten hamburger patties and a like number of buns.

- Four lugs of tomatoes.
- Three cases of lettuce.
- Sixty pounds of onions.
- Ten gallons of pickles.
- Four gallons of salad dressing.
- Three gallons of mustard.
- Five hundred pounds of potatoes.
- Sixteen gallons of cooking oil.
- Eight barrels of tea.
- Sixteen hundred cookies.

LUNCH AT RULE

The Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train pulled into a Rule gin yard for lunch Wednesday. Rule residents provided the lunches for the visitors.

We made a better coffee. You'll enjoy the change.

New "Custom Roast" Coffee.

Now better coffee flavor costs less. "Custom Roasting" is a new coffee roasting process that gives you more coffee flavor at a lower coffee price.

How?

Two ways. First, custom roasting involves the carefully controlled movement of coffee beans through the roaster under exacting conditions of heat, air velocity and time. This intensifies the natural coffee flavor.

Second, this special process expands coffee beans significantly more than ordinary roasting. The result is more coffee surface area to interact with the water in your coffee maker. And this gives you more flavor from the coffee.

The result is that you need less coffee to get more flavor. Which means you save money.

And to help you save even more, here's a special introductory offer. Just use the coupon below and you'll get 70¢ off your next purchase of new Maryland Club Custom Roast Coffee.

Peiser, Barnett engagement revealed

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peiser of Haskell have announced the engagement of their daughter, Christina Dawn, to Tom Robert Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Paul Barnett of Haskell.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ella Peiser of Haskell and the late Alfon Peiser. She is a 1986 graduate of Haskell High School and is employed at Rice Springs Care Home.

The prospective bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of Haskell High School and is a second-year law enforcement major at Cisco Junior College. He plans to be a DPS officer for the State of Texas.

A June 20 wedding is planned at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Haskell. All family and friends are invited to attend the 8 p.m. ceremony.

Haskell Nursing Center

On June 4, the Wagon Train came right by our home. It looked like it would rain us out, but the sun came out and we had a beautiful day.

The activity director and her husband put up a canopy, compliments of Holden McCauley, for our residents to sit under. We had 39 residents who were able to be taken outside and did they ever enjoy the outing and Wagon Train. On June 4, it was Pat Martin's birthday and his daughter and son, Teresa and Pat, brought a birthday cake with a Wagon Train on it and they served the residents cake and punch out under the canopy. A good time was had by all.

The Assembly of God ladies came out and had a devotional and a sing song. Thanks to these ladies.

Thanks to the Haskell Church of Christ for their Sunday services. The residents look forward to their coming.

Eleanor Blohm came Thursday morning for a musical program. She got Mr. McDermott to sing and the residents really liked that.

We have a new resident, Mrs. Edith Green of Haskell, and we want to welcome her into our home.

A great big "Thank You" to everyone who helped with the residents on June 4, getting them out to the canopy for the Wagon Train. It was fun.

Balancing Goddess easier than budget

AUSTIN—Capitol architects trying to put the recast Goddess of Liberty back on top of the Capitol have an easier task than the next wave of lawmakers who will balance the state budget.

The architects briefly tried using a Texas National Guard helicopter to lower the Goddess onto her post, but winds and wet weather aborted those attempts.

The day before, Texas House members convened in their Chamber for a special one-day meeting where Comptroller Bob Bullock warned them the budget deficit could hit as high as $2 billion.

Bullock said slumps in construction, retail, and manufacturing industries have compounded the problems caused by low oil prices, and a rapid turnaround in oil prices won't solve the problem.

He suggested the way out is to broaden the tax base, which perhaps would allow a lower tax rate.

Broadened Sales Tax

Bullock's news startled legislators, and in his speech he jabbed the cold, hard facts, including the reminder that some wouldn't be reelected. Naturally, with Election Day just a few short months ahead, many favored cutting the budget to meet available revenues without a tax hike.

Some, like Texas Education Commissioner Bill Kirby, urged a tax increase to avoid loss of state services.

Kirby asked lawmakers not to retreat from the reforms which, along with growth in enrollment, are driving up the price of public education. His preference was to raise taxes and make no budget cuts in education.

Bullock, Hobby

But look for budget cuts to be made everywhere, and for the sales tax base to be broadened when the Legislature meets next January.

That's the path recommended at this point by both Bullock and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who together are probably the two figures most respected inside state government.

In fact, if all state officials took a detailed test on Texas government, Hobby and Bullock would be valedictorian and salutatorian, but who could say in what order?

Both have served some 16 years in office. Hobby controls the state budget while it's in the Legislature. Bullock controls it out in the real world. In the real world, Hobby is opposed for reelection; Bullock is not.

Clements' Alternative

An alternative plan is pushed by former Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican, and his plan could pick up some voter support.

Clements is for cuts, not taxes. But he also wants to use dedicated funds, not taxes, to balance the budget after cuts are made.

His plan means changing state law to undedicate those funds, particularly for highways and education. While Hobby, a Democrat, hasn't commented on Clements' plan, he is thought to have no great love for dedicated funds.

Prison Construction

An unusual plan to issue bonds for prison construction was approved last week by the Board of Corrections to help the state immediately build a prison without going into debt.

Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox must still approve the legality of the plan.

The new, non-profit Anderson County Development Corp. will issue $78 million in bonds to build a prison on state land in Anderson County. The Legislature will decide next session to lease or purchase the prison.

The directors of the corporation are three county commissioners of Anderson County.

The procedure is modeled on the legal one for building state health facilities.

Mattox, by the way, revealed last week he is continuing to be harassed by an unknown source, the latest incidents being a dead cat someone left on his doorstep and veiled threats left on his answering machine.

Some months ago, two fires, both suspected acts of arson, broke out almost simultaneously in Mattox's state offices in Austin and Fort Worth.

Last week his home was picketed by a religious group opposed to state licensing of children's homes.

W. S. Fouts of the south side was in town Thursday. He told us that crops were showing up well in his neighborhood and that cotton which was up to a good stand was not seriously damaged by the hail and heavy rains of last week.

G. B. Powell, who did fancy stone cutting for the courthouse at this place when it was being built, has returned to Haskell after an absence of about 14 years.

D. Scott, late of Farmersville, has moved to Haskell. He will engage in the manufacture of brick and in contracting and building.

S. L. Robertson has had a store building erected just north of the post office and he moved his stock of goods into it Thursday. He will conduct his business there until his new stone building is completed on the west side.

J. D. Cook and R. G. Merritt have moved their barber shop to the west side.

A double wedding occurred at the Lindell Hotel in this place Sunday afternoon, June 3, when W. M.

Bolander and Miss Mae McCutcheon and W. G. Moree and Miss Eula McLain were united in marriage.

Sam Neathery, an attorney of McKinney, and Jim Neathery of Farmersville are visiting their brothers, Dr. A. G. Neathery and S. N. Neathery.

Teachers turn attention to other matters

A high passing rate on the Texas Examination of Current Administrators and Teachers (TECAT) now allows most Texas educators to turn their attention to other aspects of House Bill 72 that affect their job performance and salary levels.

The May/June issue of APTÉ News, official magazine of the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE), contains an extensive article on the progress toward a statewide teacher appraisal system for career ladder purposes. The article explains the "domains" covered by the appraisal instrument and the teacher self-appraisal, as well as the number and types of classroom observations required by the State Board of Education.

Comments on the TECAT results and the SBOE waiver policy for school districts with emergency personnel needs are also discussed by Editor Nora Sheppard.

Coverage of ATPE's successful sixth annual convention and the ATPE-sponsored forum of gubernatorial candidates is also provided in this issue of the magazine.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

A Michigan patent lawyer discovered it pays to shop at K Mart.

With a little legal maneuvering he turned a $1.67 purchase into $250—twice.

He noticed that a four-pack of notepads with a "free" dispenser was selling for $1.67, while the notepads alone were priced at $1.48. He therefore reasoned that the "free" dispenser actually cost 19 cents so he sued K Mart in small claims court under the state's consumer protection law.

He won the maximum award of $250. Later, he observed the same "bargain" again so he sued again. And again, he got $250—this time in an out-of-court settlement.

When we first began hearing of it a few years ago, it was called "tax simplification."

Later, the term "flat tax" rate became popular. As more politicians became involved, some of the proposed rates became "flatter" than others.

Somewhere along the line, they quit talking about simplification and flat tax rates. It became simply "tax reform."

After being "fine tuned" time and again, the proposal finally reached the U.S. Senate last week. What had been conceived as a plan to change the income tax laws so we simpletons could understand them turned out to be 1,489 printed pages of gobbledegook.

SUPER TEAM ...
In the summer of 1902 the Corsicana baseball team of the Texas League set a world's record with 27 consecutive wins. They held baseball's highest winning percentage (.793). Their biggest victory was against the Texarkana team, when they won 51-3. They never relieved a pitcher during the entire season. Most amazing of all — they did it all with only 11 players.

Weinert News

[From last week]
By Myrtle Plemister

The Weinert community mourns the loss of a very dear and useful citizen in the passing of R. M. (Milton) Walker on May 28. He had lived here most of his life, and served as city secretary many years, a duty he gave up only a few weeks before his death.

His children were all graduated from high school here, and will always call Weinert "home." They are Luther (deceased), Erma Faye Standlee of Seymour, Mary Sallie of Memphis and Raymon of Weinert. Raymon will be moving soon to Missouri where he will undergo back surgery next week. Our condolences to this fine family.

Graduation exercises and reunions kept many of us busy this past week. Sallie Sanders was in Irving for the graduation of Ricky Sanders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Sanders. She said three high schools had graduation exercises on the same day in the stadium. There were over 750 graduates in each class.

While in Irving, she also visited a brother-in-law, Gussie Sanders, who is hospitalized there and is very ill.

Mildred Guess was in San Antonio for her grandson's graduation, also. He is Randolph Burr Guess, and was one of 600 students graduating from Robert E. Lee High School there on May 31.

Dorothy Lee Finn of Clovis, N.M., came to Weinert to take her mother, Bertie Alexander, to Abilene for a reunion of Dorothy's brothers and sisters, held at the Colonial Inn the past weekend. Herschal and Merle Alexander must take the prize for having the busiest schedule! After attending the reunion on Friday, they rushed to Munday to see their grandson, David Owens, graduate from junior high. Then Merle's family, the descendants of Mr. and Mrs. Cleve Garrett, met for a reunion in the Weinert Community Center Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tab Garrett of Rochester, with all their descendants, worshipped with the Church of Christ on Sunday. They are former residents of Weinert, having lived here when they were newlyweds many years ago. Mrs. Garrett's parents, Oren and Grace Shue of Abilene, accompanied them to worship services.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones of Chula Vista, Calif., were in Weinert visiting relatives. They came to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of Eddie and Myrnie Sanders.

Doris and Jerry Walker, with Deena and Barry, were in Lubbock Sunday to visit her mother in the hospital there. She had surgery on Monday and Doris extended her stay to be with her.

Eddie and Myrnie Sanders were a busy couple this past weekend with two grandchildren graduating from high school at the same time. They attended baccalaureate services at Munday to honor grandson Kraig Sanders, and graduation exercises at Wichita Falls May 30 to honor granddaughter Tammy Offutt. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Offutt also attended the graduation at Wichita. Tammy is their granddaughter also.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Watkins visited her mother, Thelma Edwards, for the weekend. Kelly returned home with her parents after spending the school year here in Weinert.

Bob and Betty Carroll and Keith of Nashville, Ark., were in Weinert for a few days to visit her parents, Ted and Edna Boykin. They were met here by their twin daughters and children of Corpus Christi, Brenda Marcum, with Jessie and Samantha, and Linda Yanta with Laura and Tania. Betty and Bob have a chicken ranch and had to rush home to prepare for the arrival of baby chicks.

The Weinert Senior Class left Sunday afternoon for a week's trip to Jamaica and other places.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Sanders celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on May 30. Their children and grandchildren honored them with a reception at the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church on June 1.

Grandsons Kent and Kraig Sanders ushered guests, and Kole Sanders attended his grandparents' registry. Eddie and Myrnie were assisted in receiving guests by their children, Kenneth and Brenda Sanders of Weinert and Shirley and Wayne Offutt of Wichita Falls.

Granddaughters Tammy and Cindy Offutt served at the bride's table, with Mrs. R. S. Sanders assisting. Grandson Marty Offutt, with Laurie Hester, attended the groom's table.

Appointments were in gold, and punch was served from a magnificent gold bowl. Corsages were of red roses, and Myrnie chose a mauve colored chiffon dress for her attire.

Guests from 11 cities registered and expressed their congratulations to this wonderful couple.

Kay Smith and Gwen Campbell catered the reception.

Plain talk...

Hackett was on one of the TV talk shows raving about how easy it was for him to lose a fraction of a ton on the Dr. Adkins' diet. Next time I saw him, I could visualize GOODYEAR painted across his torso.

If you're an employer, there are a lot of questions you cannot legally ask a job applicant. On the other hand, you can get the same information by asking other questions.

So far, there's nothing wrong with requesting an applicant's name, but you can't request his/her marital status. It's OK to ask the birthdate, but if you discriminate because the applicant is over 40, you could be susceptible to a lawsuit.

It's all right to ask the address, but only in order to reach the employee. You cannot ask if the residence is owned or rented. You can ask if the applicant is a citizen of the U.S., but not of what other country.

When asking a question about disabilities, you can ask: "Do you have any physical problems that would interfere with your ability to do heavy lifting?" But don't ask: "Do you have any disabilities?" Do not ask if the applicant has ever been arrested, but it's all right to ask: "Have you ever been convicted of a crime?"

Asking if the applicant has a car could be considered discriminatory. If the job necessitates the driving of a car, then the question of access to a personal car is valid.

Never ask if the applicant has children, wants children or is finished having children. Nor should you ask how an applicant's child will be taken care of during working hours.

Just remember. If the question isn't job related, don't ask it.

Guy Kennedy also had hole-in-one

An article in last week's Free Press stating that Mark Bailey's hole-in-one at the Haskell golf course May 27 was the first hole-in-one here in several years brought some response.

Guy Kennedy had a hole-in-one on the third hole in 1984.

Lightning damages can be minimized

Lightning is deadly and annually kills more Americans than tornadoes and more than hurricanes and floods combined.

However, since lightning usually kills only one person at a time, lightning deaths do not attract as much attention as other weather-related fatalities.

"Lightning is particularly common with spring and summer thunderstorms in Texas, so individuals should take certain precautions during stormy weather," advises Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Extension Service.

Quick thinking combined with common sense can go a long way in preventing lightning fatalities when thunderstorms are on the prowl," Nelson emphasizes.

He lists some "dos" and "don'ts" regarding lightning safety:

- Outdoors:
- Do seek protection immediately. Safe places include a building that's protected from lightning; a large, steel-framed building; an enclosed automobile; a large, unprotected building.
  - Don't touch any metal fences, wires, clotheslines or pipes. In a car, keep your hands off any metal or the radio.
  - Do get off your bicycle, golf cart, horse, tractor or motorcycle.
  - Don't take cover under lone trees, taller trees in groves or in unprotected shelters such as those on a golf course or camp ground.
  - Do head for a cave or under a cliff if you're hiking in mountains or other hilly areas.
  - Don't huddle in groups; spread out a few feet from one another.
  - Do head for a low spot—lower than ground level—such as a ravine, gully or ditch, but not one that's filling with water.
  - Don't remain near railroad tracks.
  - Do get off beaches, piers or docks and get away from pools, oceans and lakes.
  - Don't swim, wade or go boating; head for land at the first signs of a thunderstorm.
  - Do seek shelter in a clump of head-high trees or a thicket of small ones if you're stuck in a forested area.
  - Don't stand in open spaces, since most lightning fatalities are people who are taller than surroundings—a golfer in the middle of a fairway, a farmer in a field, a rider in open country.

-Do immediately set down golf clubs, tennis rackets, fishing poles and other metal objects that can act as lightning rods.

Indoors:

- Do get away from appliances and metal fixtures such as refrigerators, ranges, sinks, bathtubs, air conditioners, washing machines, clothes dryers and television sets.
- Don't use the telephone except in an emergency.

Family Planning offers assistance to women here

Winnsboro couple to conduct revival

Evangelist and Mrs. Mike Eddy of Winnsboro will be conducting revival services at the First Assembly of God Church, 1500 N. Ave. E. The revival begins Sunday, June 15, and will continue through Friday, June 20. Services will begin at 6:30 p.m. Sunday and at 7:30 p.m. during the week.

Rev. Eddy is an ordained minister of the Assemblies of God. He graduated from Southwestern Assemblies of God College (SAGC) in Waxahachie in 1977 with a bachelor of science degree in Christian Ministry.

While attending SAGC, he traveled with three musical groups and served one semester as youth pastor in Azle. Since graduation, he has shared his ministry as an evangelist, preaching revivals and youth camps throughout the United States.

Special singing will also be presently nightly during the crusade. The Rev. J. C. Amburn, pastor, invites the public to attend

Nominations being accepted for committee

Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is accepting nominations for county committee elections for the Haskell-Throckmorton area committee. This notice is issued to inform eligible voters of the right to nominate candidates by petition. Copies of the petition and instructions on its completion can be obtained from the local FmHA office.

Persons nominated should be currently engaged in the operation of a farm, have their principal farming operation within the county or area in which activities of the county or area committee are carried out, derive the principal part of their income from farming (that is more than 50 percent of their gross income must come from agricultural production), be a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, not have an FmHA insured or guaranteed loan and be well qualified for committee work.

Nominations must be received in the Haskell County office no later than June 10.

FmHA committee elections are open to all eligible voters without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, political affiliation, marital status, sex and/or handicap.

Edwin Roberson performs with choir in Atlanta

Edwin Roberson of Haskell is one of 40 members of Hardin-Simmons University's Concert Choir who performed last weekend for the Southern Baptist Convention's Church Music Conference.

Dr. Loyd F. Hawthorne directed the choir in its presentation Sunday. Included in the concert was "Psalm of Celebration" by Hayes which was commissioned by the 1986 SBC Church Music Conference.

Other works included "Rise Up, Arise" by Mendelssohn/Hirt, "By Grace Are Ye Saved" by Dean, "I Got A Key" arranged by Shaw/Parker, "My Heart Dances" by Fritschel and "Benedicite" by Vaughn Williams.

It almost seemed an accident that Syretta Russell of Gainesville found herself driving a two-mule team hitched to a circa 1800's Conestoga wagon.

Her husband, Randy, had applied for a substitute teaching job in Gainesville. It just so happened that he applied to the woman who had been selected to serve as the head teacher on the Wagon Train. She offered him a teaching job on the Wagon Train and he accepted.

A private duty Registered Nurse by profession, Syretta was offered a position as one of three secretaries on the Wagon Train. She also accepted and with their young son and daughter, the couple started making plans for the six month trip which would take them over 3,000 miles around Texas.

After a few weeks on the trail, the regulars soon settled into a routine. One of the problems was adjusting from a 55 mile per hour pace down to about 4 mph. Another big challenge was getting accustomed to a strictly regimented schedule. Being told what time to leave, when to arrive and virtually every second of the schedule in between is not the norm in today's society. Traveling in a group which sometimes numbers almost 1,000 also presents a variety of new problems not normally encountered in everyday life.

After several hundred miles on the trail, Syretta decided to buy a horse. A couple of hundred miles later, Randy also bought a horse. A friend on the Wagon Train hauled their horses forward on the days they couldn't ride. Then the friend had to go home to take care of some business and Randy had to go find a horse trailer.

The next episode in the lives of the Russell family came when they were asked to drive the wagon representing the State of Maryland when the owner had to return home for a couple of weeks. After four months of traveling with the Wagon Train it only seemed natural to accept the task. School would soon be out and Randy would start his summer vacation and could help with the wagon.

regular experience and after the first day Syretta was about ready to quit. Her only comment about the first day was, "everything hurt".

During the trip from Hawley to Abilene, I rode with Syretta, listened to her recount wagon train experiences and admired her skills in handling the team.

She told of reading a book based of the diaries of women on a wagon train to Oregon. At the end of the trip the majority of the survivors were women and children. Many of the men had died of illness or been killed in accidents.

The Equal Rights Amendment wasn't necessary to demonstrate her ability in doing what many would call "a man's job" during the course of the day.

The Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train will cover over twice the distance in less than half the time that the pioneers spent going west. It's easy to sit in front of a color television in a climate controlled house and say, "these folks have paved roads and bridges", but eight hours on horseback or driving a wagon in sleet or snow or 100° weather is the same today as it was 150 years ago.

Outrider for our wagon was Boyd Cecil of Flatonia. Boyd has spent the last five months going back and forth between his ranch and the Wagon Train. His enthusiasm for the project was obvious and contagious.

He displayed with pride the brands of famous ranches such as the YO and Pitchfork on his chaps and heaped praise on the people along the route who had worked so hard in making the brief stay of the Wagon Train a pleasant one.

It's easy for a community to open their arms to such a wonderful group of people who have made sacrifices which we'll never realize during the past five months.

Syretta Russell and Boyd Cecil and the hundreds like them on the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train are the very able representatives of the pioneer spirit which makes Texas what it is.

Most Wanted Fugitive has many problems

For someone who is just wanted for unauthorized use of a vehicle, Larry Wayne Alfred is sure attracting a lot of attention from several Texas police departments. Alfred, 25, allegedly stole a 1984 Mazda pickup in Corpus Christi in April.

However, that might be the least of his problems.

Corpus Christi police detectives would like to talk to Alfred about the Dec. 8 murder of Leo Cantu during an armed robbery.

And Beaumont police detectives would like to question him about the March 30 armed robbery at a local convenience store where the clerk was shot in the leg.

This week Alfred has been added to the Texas Most Wanted list. A reward of up to $1,000 is being offered by the governor's office for information leading to his arrest.

Alfred is described as a black male, 5-8, 160 pounds, with black hair and brown eyes.

The warrant charging Alfred with unauthorized use of a motor vehicle was the result of a complaint filed by the Blinking Caution Lites company of Corpus Christi. Alfred, an employee of the firm, allegedly took a company truck to Portland, Texas, on April 28 and never brought it back.

At the time of the theft, Alfred was being investigated by Corpus Christi detectives for Leo Cantu's murder.

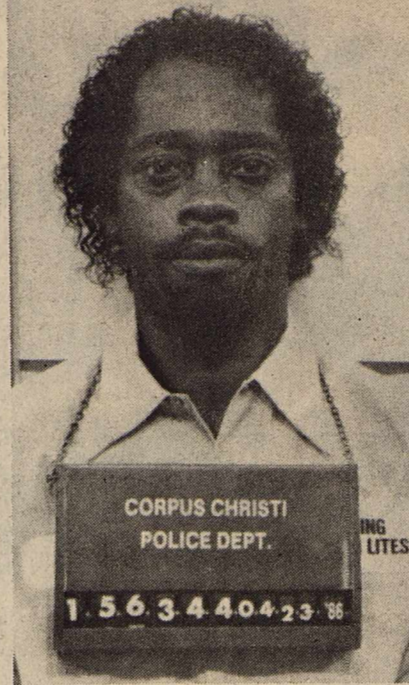

Investigators say Cantu and his wife had driven to a car wash around 10:30 p.m. when they were suddenly confronted by two armed black men. The offenders forced the couple back into their own vehicle and had them drive to a downtown Corpus Christi restaurant, where Mrs. Cantu was an employee. The gunman ordered Mrs. Cantu to open the restaurant and the safe, then tied her hands and feet and left her in the office.

Cantu was taken as a hostage. His body was found about an hour later near the city landfill. He had been shot several times.

The Beaumont convenience store clerk was much luckier, receiving only a leg wound in the March 30 robbery at the Market Place No. 3 store. Investigators say an armed robber entered the store and ordered the clerk to get on the floor. When the clerk refused, the offender aimed a .45-caliber automatic at the employee's chest and squeezed the trigger. Fortunately, the weapon misfired. When the gunman fired a second shot, it hit the clerk in the leg. The offender fled the store, taking with him $15 in cash.

Anyone having information on Larry Wayne Alfred's current whereabouts is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll free at 1-800-252-8477. Callers do not have to identify themselves.

Eating fish may be good for heart

Fish has long been hailed as "brain food," but now it is also being lauded as food to help protect the heart.

Most kinds of fish are low in cholesterol, fat and calories, as well as some oils that may help to prevent heart attacks, says Annette Reddell Hegen, a seafood consumer education specialist with the Texas A&M Extension Service.

These special polyunsaturated oils, different from those of vegetable origin, are called omega-3 fatty acids. All fish and shellfish contain them, she says, but oiler, fatter fish are the richest sources of the fatty acids. Marine fish have more of the omega-3 fatty acids than freshwater fish, she adds.

Eric Turnbow scholarship recipient

Eric Tyler Turnbow has been selected for the Robert D. Gunn freshman scholar award by the Department of Geology and Geophysics at Midwestern State University.

The award is named for a nationally prominent Wichita Falls petroleum geologist who has made available grants to attract students with exceptional scholastic and potential to attend Midwestern.

Eric was graduated from Weinert High School this May and will enter Midwestern in the fall. He is the son of Woody and Georgia Turnbow of Weinert and the grandson of the George Grays and the Woodrow Turnbows of Haskell.

Rice Springs Care Home

By Judy Wolsch
Activity Director

The past week was a great joy for residents of our home. The Wagon Train coming through Wednesday afternoon brought back a lot of memories. We had 55 residents out of 79 who were able to get out in front and view the wagon train.

We would like to say a special thank you to all the staff, families and friends who helped prepare and helped out in all ways to make this a great day.

This week we will be honoring our fathers. We have 15 men in our home and all are fathers.

J.C. Hargrove is the father with the most children, Henry King is our oldest father and Joe Teague is our youngest father.

We would like to express our gladness to Laura Parker and her family. Laura came into our home Saturday. Welcome Laura, we hope you enjoy our home.

Another special event this week for our residents will be Thursday morning at 9:45 when the First Baptist Church from Rule will be bringing over their Vacation Bible School children.

While it may be true that money can't buy love it can buy life, especially when you give a contribution to the Haskell Co. Ambulance Memorial Fund. Your contribution is tax deductible, and will be useful for years to come. Don't hesitate. Make arrangements now to give. Thank you.

KVRP to purchase Stamford station

KVRP Radio of Haskell is purchasing KDWT in Stamford, pending approval from the Federal Communications Commission.

The announcement comes from Ken Lane of Haskell, president of Rolling Plains Broadcasting Corp., which owns the 100,000-watt KVRP, 95.5-FM.

Present owner of KDWT is MabMac Corp. of Ballinger, which purchased the station in 1983.

Lane said the application for transfer of ownership was sent to the FCC last week and he expects the actual change in control to take place in the next six-to-12 weeks.

Lane said that the country format of the Stamford station will remain as is, and that the current staff will stay. Some personnel increases are planned for the future, he said.

Lane emphasized that KDWT (1400-AM) will continue to maintain a local emphasis on Stamford and Jones County.

"It is our intent," Lane said, "to continue to broadcast Stamford football games on Friday nights during the fall and to continue to carry local news with emphasis on Jones County."

He added that with the capability for simulcasting with KVRP, the Stamford station will be able to extend its broadcasting hours from daytime only to 24 hours a day.

"The two stations working together will be a good combination," said Lane.

KDWT has been on the air in Stamford since 1947. KVRP in Haskell began broadcasting in 1981.

Luncheon honors retirees

Mrs. Wanda Morrison and Mr. Lee Cockerell were honored with a retirement luncheon May 30, given by the faculty at Paint Creek School.

The buffet table was filled with a wide assortment of salads and desserts. The tables were decorated with wooden tulips and springtime appointments.

As a token of their appreciation, the faculty presented Mr. Cockerell a Savinelli smoking pipe from Italy. Mrs. Morrison received two counted cross-stitch wall hangings inscribed with her favorite biblical scriptures.

Together, Mr. Cockerell and Mrs. Morrison have accumulated 57 years of service to the Paint Creek School and community. Mr. Cockerell brought his wife, Myrtle Lois, and family to Paint Creek in 1963 and was custodian at the school for the next 23 years. All four Cockerell children are graduates of Paint Creek School. They are Lee Roy of Paint Creek, Larry of Abilene, Phillip of Haskell and Luann of Abilene. Mr. Cockerell plans to spend time with his seven grandchildren and much more fishing.

Mrs. Morrison came to the Paint Creek community in 1952 with her husband, Pat, who was superintendent until his death in 1968. For the last 20 years she has been the school's secretary. All three Morrison children attended Paint Creek School. They are Vickie of Bonham, Janay of Wichita Falls and Jo of Abilene. Mrs. Morrison hopes to spend more time with her four grandchildren.

The faculty at Paint Creek will certainly miss Wanda and Lee next fall, but wish them much happiness in their retirement.

County 4-H winners seek district honors

Ten 4-H members from Haskell will be among 200 4-Hers who will compete for honors at the Rolling Plains 4-H Fashion Show June 17 in the Munday School Auditorium.

In addition to district honors, senior division contestants will be competing for the right to represent the district in state competition in Austin in July.

Theme of this year's event is "On the Trail With Fashion," according to Jane Locknane, Knox County extension agent who is chairman of the planning committee.

Already these entrants have won in county competition. Contestants are judged on their sewing and construction skills, as well as on overall appearance.

They will model their creations in a public fashion revue at 1:15 p.m. Awards will be presented following the fashion revue.

West Texas Utilities Co. is sponsor for the District 4-H Fashion Show, as it has been for many years. WTU will provide awards, facilities, meals and individual pictures for participants.

Each senior and intermediate contestant will compete in one of four categories of clothing: daytime tailored, daytime non-tailored, sports and specialty wear, or evening wear. Juniors will compete in the popover skirt, active sportswear and specialty wear on non-tailored daywear. Special awards will be presented to participants exhibiting the best cotton garment or ensemble, the one modeling the best wool or mohair outfit and best model in each age division.

The cotton awards are sponsored by the Rolling Plains Cotton Growers and the wool awards are sponsored by the Greenbelt Sheep Growers.

Seniors, beginners and intermediate contestants will be judged in separate groups and will compete for awards in their own skill classification. Only the senior winners will advance to the state contests.

Representing Haskell County will be:

Seniors: Faye Mullino and Michelle Scoggins of Rochester and Dalyn Gilly and Tamra Burnett of Haskell.

Intermediates: Jennifer Shaver of Rochester and Stacy Birt of Sagerton.

Juniors: Katherine Martin and Kim Gilly of Haskell and Amy Tibbets and Christy Mathis of Rule.

Make travel this summer enjoyable

"Texans are lucky because they have better highways on which to travel to more enjoyable places," says Major V. J. Cawthon, regional commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The department would like to emphasize that vacation driving during the summer months is far more enjoyable when traffic laws are obeyed," he added. "It is much easier and less expensive to drive within the law."

Cawthon reminded motorists that when it is hot and the highways are crowded, fatigue and lack of alertness is a serious problem on long vacation trips. The motorist should stop every two hours to rest and never drive more than 10 hours a day, he said.

During the hot summer months, alcohol consumption will be on the increase. Traffic increases with added tourism and highways can become more dangerous.

"This year could be the greatest tourist season Texas has ever had; for the state visitor industry, you could call it a billion-dollar summer," said Cawthon.

The major reminded the Texas motorist to be alert, buckle up and drive within the 55 mph speed limit. Trips should be planned with plenty of time to reach the destination and return in comfort and safety, he said.

Seven couples get marriage licenses

Seven marriage licenses were issued during the month of May by the office of County Clerk Woodrow Frazier. They included:

Chester Daniel Sikes and Mary Jo Elliston, both of Knox City. James A. Kemp and Catheryn Lisa Jones, both of Haskell.

Otis Jackson and Susie Lewis Sellers, both of Haskell.

Eduardo Minotto Bloise and Linda Muriel Lane, both of Houston.

Edmond Dwayne Hill of Floydada and Peggy Elizabeth McHam of Rochester.

Rod Gilbert Petty of Stamford and Julie Ann Lee of Rule.

Rochester whoops it up for Wagon Train visitors

By Marguerite Gauntt

The Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train was welcomed to Rochester at 3 p.m. June 3.

All along the parade route was heard whoops, hollers, waves and greetings from both the wagon train members and the spectators. For the older people, memories came flooding back of days long ago when they arrived in this country or when friends and neighbors arrived.

After setting up the campsite the public was invited into the campsite to visit and get a bird's eye view of paraphernalia of a wagon train. Many had never seen or will ever again see this important legacy of our past.

At 6 o'clock, Haskell County's 4-H clubs had an ice cream freeze off and afterwards, everyone had the opportunity to eat the delicious ice cream and cake.

A crowd of 1,850 enjoyed the charcoal steak supper, the Wagon Train members being special guests at no charge. There was plenty to eat and ample space to sit in the yard and under the spreading trees. During this time the Rochester Steer Stage Band performed for the crowd.

An estimated 2,200 attended the program. Master of ceremonies was the Honorable B. O. Roberson, Haskell County judge. Welcome was by George Mullino, Rochester Wagon Train spokesman. Response was from Quentin McGowan.

Plaques received at the presentation of awards included:

Ermine Mullino: In appreciation for the use of the Vestus and Lissie Alvis home place as a Wagon Train campsite.

Cole and Susan Turner in appreciation for the use of their home as a campsite.

Most authentic wagon: The Johnson family of Henrietta.

Best looking team: J. B. Hampton of Sunset. (His mules were 13 and 14 years old.)

Most authentic rider: Roy Anderson of Leon, Kans.

Entertainment began at 8 p.m. and was still being enjoyed past 12 p.m. The wide variety of entertainment included square dancers; Stonewall County senior citizens; Bonnie Workman, W. H. Patterson, Ken Walsh, Cindy Guess, Royce Speck's Band; the Imitation Stats and banjo renditions.

Rochester feels honored to have been chosen as a camping place for the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train members. A special thanks to the many individuals who gave their energy and contributions to coordinate this spectacular event in Texas history.

Also a special thank you to our neighboring counties and communities who joined us and helped to have this celebration.

The Haskell Co. Ambulance Memorial Fund needs your support. You never know when you or a loved one will need these services. What would happen if someday they weren't there because you didn't give your fair share? Think about it...

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Gerald Rodgers, CPA

WARM WEATHER TAX TIPS

Summertime can be a great time for cutting taxes if you make the right moves. Consider these possibilities:

- If you and your spouse work, the cost of sending your children to a summer camp may qualify for the child care credit. Specialized camps or educational camps don't qualify.

- That summer clean-up around the house will probably produce outgrown clothing and household items you no longer want. Donate them to a charitable organization for a tax deductible contribution.

- If you mix business with summer vacation travel, the business portion will be deductible. That includes your lodging, meals, transportation, and incidental expenses (such as tips) to the extent they are business-related. Taking your spouse along on a business trip isn't deductible unless his/her services or presence is business-related. However, the portion that is non-deductible is only the excess over what you would have paid as a single.

- If you have a business, consider hiring your minor children for the summer. The wages you pay them are deductible to your business and will be taxed in the children's lower or zero tax bracket. There's also no social security tax to pay on the children's wages unless your business is incorporated.

- Summer is a good time to do business entertaining. Be sure you keep complete records of the cost, the date, who was entertained, and what the business purpose was.

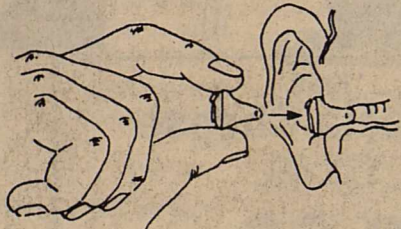

- If you're in business, consider having a non-working spouse fill in for vacationing employees. The salary you pay your spouse is not subject to social security tax (unless your business is incorporated) and will create eligibility for an IRA contribution on your spouse's part. Also, unless tax legislation changes this, you'll be eligible for the working couple's deduction. If you have children who require child care, you'll also be eligible for the child care credit

Obituaries

Maude M Rhoads

Funeral services were at 4 p.m. Tuesday in the First Baptist Church for Maude M. Rhoads.

Mrs. Rhoads, 86, died Monday morning at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. James Densman, pastor of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. Jimmy Hopper, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated at the services. Burial, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home was in Pleasant Valley Cemetery.

A native of Wise County where she was born Oct. 28, 1899, Mrs. Rhoads had lived in Haskell County since 1900.

She was married to Preston Derr Nov. 28, 1915. He died in 1956. She was married in 1959 to T. A. Rhoads, who died in 1975.

She is survived by a daughter, Nellie Kate (Mrs. Woodrow) Frazier of Haskell; a brother, T. W. Free of Haskell; four grandchildren, including Joan Strickland of Rochester; 11 great-grandchildren; and seven great-great-grandchildren. She was preceded in death by one daughter, Joan Derr Berryhill, in 1982.

USDA sets policies for meat labels

"The U.S. Department of Agriculture has established some policies on labeling meat and poultry that can help consumers select lean beef," says nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten of Texas A&M University.

She explains that "extra lean" will be reserved for products containing no more than five percent fat, while "lean" and "low fat" will be used only on products with less than 10 percent fat.

In either case, the amount of fat must be stated on the label. The new USDA regulations also define "light," "lite," "leaner" and "lower fat" as terms that can be used on products which have at least 25 percent less fat than the majority of that product in the marketplace.

She notes that labels with any of those terms must explain the comparison on the label. So, for example, a label for "leaner" ground beef might state, "this product contains 20 percent fat, which is 33 percent less fat than is in most ground beef."

Processors have one year to change their labels according to the USDA regulations, but many will voluntarily comply prior to that deadline, she says.
