City OK paving 2 blocks

Paving of approximately two blocks of South 6th Street, from US 277 east, was approved by the City Council during a called meeting July 1.

The item was placed on the agenda of a meeting called for the primary purpose of discussing the budget for the coming year.

Cost of the paving will be approximately $8,000. By contracting with Bobby Nobles Construction Co. of Colorado City to do the work while the company is involved in the HUD paving project in the southwest part of town, the city was able to get a very favorable price on the job. Equipment and personnel already are on hand and material is readily accessible.

All-Stars hurdle first foe

The Haskell Little League All-Stars got past their first hurdle in the area playoffs Monday night with a 5-1 win over the Twin City All-Stars of Rule and Rochester. The tournament is being played in Rochester.

Tuesday night the Haskell team lost 9-7 to Stamford to fall into the loser's bracket. Haskell was to play Twin Cities again Wednesday night.

A loss to Twin Cities will eliminate Haskell. A win will set up another game with Stamford Thursday. Another game, if necessary, will be played Friday. The area tournament is a double elimination event.

The area winner advances to district playoffs in Iowa Park next week.

Headstream names new area director

Sarah B. Meinzer of Benjamin has been named the new director of the Headstream Memorial Center. She replaces David C. Smith of Haskell, who resigned May 9.

The Headstream Memorial Center, which serves Haskell, Knox and Stonewall counties, is an outreach department of the Vernon State Hospital.

Mrs. Meinzer is a graduate of Knox City High School. She received a BA degree in sociology and a minor in psychology in 1978 from Midwestern State University. She is a certified social work associate and was previously employed for seven years as a social worker for the Texas Department of Health. She is a member of the Knox City Child Welfare Board and is a former member of the advisory board of the Headstream Memorial Center.

Mrs. Meinzer and her husband, Wyman, have two sons, Hunter and Pate.

Plastic bags requested for garbage

The importance of using plastic bags when disposing of garbage in city dumpsters was emphasized this week by City Administrator Robert Baker. The city official pointed out that the hot summer weather makes it even more important that garbage be placed in plastic bags before disposal.

Dumpsters letting off foul odors during the summer months will be emptied and deodorized by the City of Haskell if patrons will call City Hall.

Baker said Monday this service is being offered during the summer. In some instances, discarded food placed in dumpsters during hot weather has created odor problems.

The City also reminded Haskell citizens that dead animals are not to be placed in dumpsters under any circumstances. The City, if notified, will remove dead animals from any city resident's property.

Church of Christ singers

Singers study here

For the 21st consecutive year, the Church of Christ in Haskell is sponsoring its annual Singing School which draws students from all over the state of Texas, as well as several other states.

This year is one of the biggest in recent history with a total of 115 students enrolled from five states. Students are here from one end of Texas to the other, and from Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Washington and California.

The school is held each year to teach students the fundamentals of reading music. Special emphasis is given to training young men and boys to lead singing in church settings. Since Churches of Christ maintain strictly acapella singing in their worship services, the song leader plays a vital role in leading the congregation during the song service.

The school is made up of students beginning at age 10, and this year there are two men in their 60s who are present. A number of girls come each year to improve their abilities in singing and always bring beautiful harmony to the songs as the male and female voices blend together. Each day the students are in classes in the morning, afternoon and evening, and there are periods in which the entire groups come together for practice.

Instructors this year include Holland Boring Sr., who is the director of the school and who has been here since its beginning in the mid 60s. Bob Connell, former minister for the church in Haskell and now at the Central Church of Christ in Abilene, is also present for the 21st year. Along with these men are Paul Epps of Temple and Cecil Price of Dallas. These men were guests of the Haskell Lions Club

Sale to resume

Haskell Livestock Auction will resume its weekly sale this Saturday, after having closed last week for the holiday.

Tuesday and presented a program at the luncheon, as is customary each year.

The public is invited to the closing program of the school which will be held in the Church of Christ auditorium Saturday afternoon, July 12, beginning at 4 p.m. The program will last approximately two hours, and everyone is encouraged to come and hear these students in their closing presentation.

CHEVY CLASSICS

These three classic Chevrolets were parked in downtown Haskell last Wednesday. Owned by Jackie Sanders of Irving, the cars were enroute to Stamford to participate in the rodeo parade. Sanders is a brother of Mrs. Dudley Phelps. He is a member of the Chevy Classics Club of Fort Worth. Congressman Charles Stenholm and his wife rode in one of the cars during the Stamford parade.

Crops reporting deadline Tuesday

Haskell County farmers have until Tuesday (July 15) to report their 1986 planted acreages to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Glenn Brzozowski, county executive director of ASCS, says all producers need to report their crops whether they participate in the acreage reduction programs or not. The information will be used to insure future benefits and to protect crop acreage bases.

To be certain of planted acres, farmers may request that their crops be measured. For a fee, ASCS will measure planted crops before farmers report acreages.

Brzozowski says before program participants can receive price supports, deficiency payments and other program benefits, the entire farm must be certified correctly.

Producers who have not reported are urged to do so before the July 15 deadline.

New president at 1st National Bobby Hobgood assumed duties Monday morning as president of the First National Bank of Haskell.

He succeeds Mabry J. Brock, one of the organizers of year-and-a-half-old bank, whose resignation as chairman and chief executive officer was announced last week.

Hobgood is in the process of moving his family to Haskell from Wolffarth, where he has served the past eight and a half years as vice president of the American Bank of Commerce.

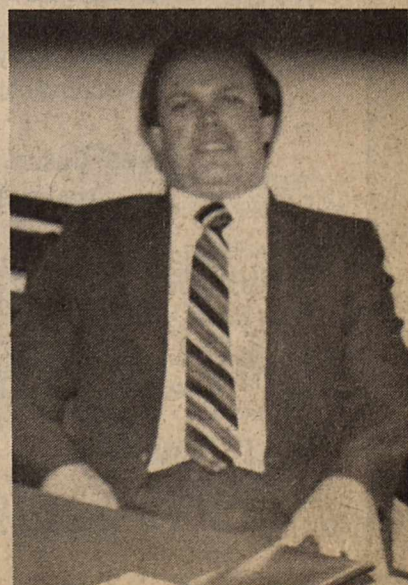

A native of Wolffarth, Hobgood has been in the banking and allied businesses since receiving his degree in finance from Texas Tech University in 1973. Before returning to Wolffarth, he spent a year as manager of the Dimmitt field office of Plainview Production

Credit Association and a year with Western Production Credit Association in El Paso. Earlier, he was associated with Security National Bank of Lubbock for two and a half years, after having been employed by that bank on a part time basis as an undergraduate at Tech.

Mrs. Hobgood (Debbie) was an elementary physical education teacher last year at the Frenship school in Wolffarth. She and her husband are parents of two daughters, Holly, 11, and Heather, 9, and a son, Jason, 5.

Mrs. Hobgood and the children will be moving to Haskell within the next two weeks.

First National Bank also announced this week the election of Bill Jones of Rule to the board of directors.

Mrs. Rueffer hostess to Homemakers

Weinert Extension Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Gus Rueffer for its July meeting. Roll call was answered with "My favorite house plant I have success in growing."

As the opening exercise, Mrs. Rueffer chose to read a list of "clever sayings" with the members filling in the missing words.

Betty Sanders, as program chairman, showed a slide presentation furnished by Jim Hudson of the SWCD. It showed how a group of elementary children in first through sixth grades in Hockley County made an "outdoor learning center" for their district. Each child was given a tree that he cared for until he reached sixth grade, then it was planted in a public park to be enjoyed by all.

She later showed slides of her recent trip to Hawaii.

Alice Yates gave the council report and also reported that the club's quilt is ready to be quilted.

Next meeting will be Aug. 5 in the home of Betty Sanders when the program will be "Finding Time for Fitness." Visitors are always welcome.

Thought for the day: "It's too bad we can't forget our troubles as easily as we forget our blessings."

Haskell Nursing Center

Mr. Cox at the age of 94 came out and showed us some of his rope tricks, then he sang us some songs.

The Sweet Home Singers came out. Even with all the rain, we were so glad they came out again.

On the 4th of July, Robert Riggs came out and shot off some fire works. We had 15 residents come out, and a lot of people from town. Everyone had a good time. We would like to thank each person for their help in getting the residents in and out and bringing the chairs in and out.

Wednesday, Rev. Hodge came out. Mrs. Blome came out to play the piano for us on Thursday. Colene Moody played the piano for us also.

We would like to thank Rev. Hodge and Mrs. Blome for the time they take each week.

East Side sets program for youth

A "Bibletimes Experience" is planned Aug. 4-7 at East Side Baptist Church in Haskell.

A church bulletin gives the details:

"Travel back into the past to a period of time between 4 B.C. and 29 A.D. Things are stirring in the marketplace. Families have already been to the well for their daily supply of water. The odor of baking bread is in the air, mixed with mouth-watering aromas coming from the candy shop.

"You can occasionally hear the rasp of the carpenter's tools as he fashions a yoke for oxen. The potter is busy setting up a display of his wares, and across the way, the basket weaver prepares to weave.

"There is a festive mood in the air. The villagers hurry their chores, for they don't want to miss the storyteller coming to the marketplace today. Others gather around the well, for they have heard it rumored that the Great Teacher and Miracle Worker, one who is called the Christ, is traveling this way and may stop in the village with his followers.

"This is a scene we will endeavor to recreate for our children in the Bibletimes Marketplace in the Fellowship Hall of East Side. For three nights, Aug. 4, 5 and 6, they will experience, insofar as we can make it happen, what life was like when Jesus lived. They will be part of a typical Jewish family, participating in family worship, ritual and responsibilities. They will visit shops of the marketplace and learn about Bible time occupations by working as apprentices. They will hear the storyteller, and they will witness events in the life of Jesus as they are enacted in their midst by street players.

"You won't want to miss out. This program is for children ages 3 through sixth grade. Registration is limited to the first 120. Deadline for registration is July 30."

The grand finale will be Thursday evening, Aug. 7.

School officials attend classes

Four administrators in the Haskell school have completed a certification class at Hamlin. The class dealt with the use of the state appraisal instrument in evaluating teachers.

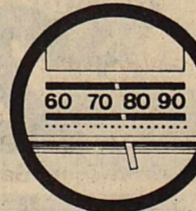

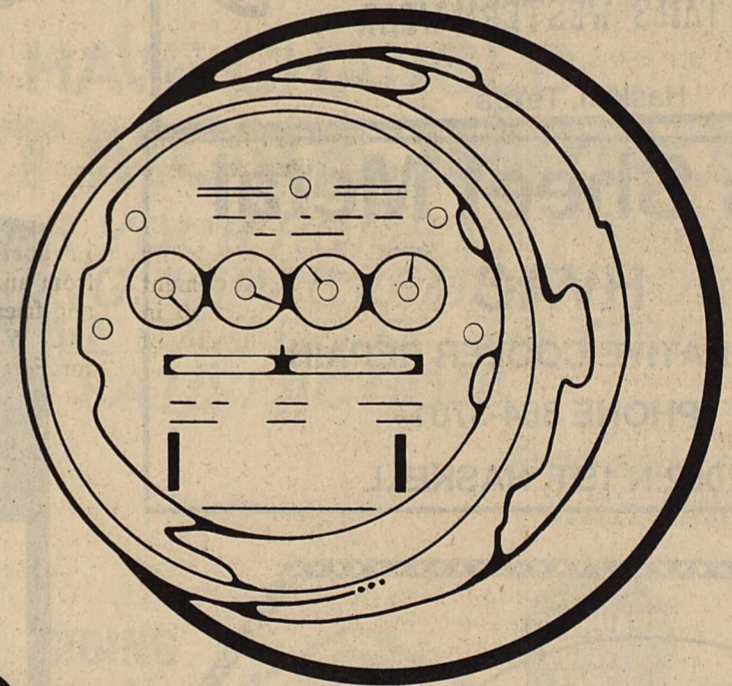

Attending the class were Dr. James Kemp, superintendent; Clayton Neal, secondary principal; Harold Hill, assistant principal; and Bill Blakley, elementary principal.

State law mandated that all administrators who evaluate teachers attend the class.

HELP SLOW YOUR ELECTRIC METER DOWN THIS SUMMER.

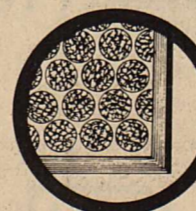

Set Your Thermostat at 78° or Higher.

The recommended thermostat setting for summer cooling is 78° or higher. Portable fans or ceiling fans can help you feel comfortable at higher thermostat settings. Don't forget to turn fans off when you leave the room.

Tightly Seal Air Leaks in Your Home.

Make sure all cracks around windows, doors, pipes and wiring are tightly sealed with proper caulking and weatherstripping. Also, R-30 insulation in the ceiling, and R-16 insulation in the walls is recommended to adequately insulate your home.

Check Your Filter Regularly.

A dirty filter could keep your air conditioning system from operating as efficiently as possible. Clean permanent filters according to manufacturer's instructions, and replace non-permanent filters.

For more information on how to help slow your electric meter down this summer, call your local WTU office.

TOP TAILORING

Seat belts urged by TMA

For many people, summertime means more leisure time and that can mean more time spent in a vehicle. Picnic trips, vacation trips and trips to visit family can be fun and relaxing. The Texas Medical Association reminds you to make them safe by using your seat belts. Seat belts really do save lives and reduce injuries. During the first four months under the new safety belt law in Texas, front seat fatalities decreased on average of 14 percent.

STEPPING OUT

Ready for the ball in their award-winning evening gowns are these three seniors in the Rolling Plains District 4-H Fashion Show at Munday (June 17). From left are Tamra Burnett, Haskell County, third; Sharon Singleton, Young County, second, and Ursula Richards, Jones County, first. Ursula will represent the district in the State 4-H Fashion Show in Austin.

Group to attend state 4-H Congress

Four 4-H members from Haskell County will attend the Texas 4-H Congress in Austin July 13-15.

They will be among some 500 4-H members from across the state attending the Congress which will focus on learning about the legislative process and how to become involved in local citizenship activities. Congress headquarters will be the Marriott at the Capitol Hotel.

Representing Haskell County will be Tamra Burnett and Dalyn Gilly of Haskell and Michelle Scoggins and Chad Ballard of Rochester.

Highlighting this year's Congress will be tours of the State Capitol, LBJ Library, actual participation in the Texas Legislature and special "public policy" seminars.

Each delegate will be sworn in, as a "state senator" or "state representative" and will take part in developing and passing legislation. A special Texas Sesquicentennial celebration the last evening will conclude the three-day program.

Texas 4-H Congress is the highlight of the 4-H careers of many older youth. It is held in a different Texas city each year to allow the use of various unique educational aspects.

Ask VA

Q. I was married to a World War II veteran for 40 years. After his death I learned he had been married before and had never divorced his first wife. Will this bar me from a widow's pension?

A. No. If you had no knowledge of the legal impediment, the VA may deem the marriage to be valid. This type of case requires special consideration and may delay a final decision.

Q. My son was killed while on active duty and I am receiving dependency and indemnity compensation benefits from the VA. Am I entitled to the CHAMPVA medical benefits program for dependents and survivors?

A. No. Dependent parents are not entitled to CHAMPVA.

Bursitis not usually serious

An aching, swollen knee, elbow or shoulder may be a symptom of bursitis. A common complaint, bursitis is not a serious disorder, according to the Texas Medical Association.

The name comes from "bursa," a soft sac filled with a lubricating liquid that minimizes friction between body tissues that must constantly move by each other. Bursas are usually found near joints, either between the skin and underlying bones or between tendons and bones.

Outdoor workers face higher risk

People who work outdoors have one thing in common with sun bathers—a higher risk for developing skin cancer.

"Farmers and ranchers, construction workers and others who work outdoors may not expose large areas of their skin to the sun, but the cumulative effect of the sun's rays just to the forearms, head and neck can add up over time.

Weinert News

By Myrtle Plemister

Fourth of July 1986 has been one of the most chest-swelling, heart-melting, eye-watering, patriotic experiences of our time. Those who were not impressed at the birthday celebration for Miss Liberty must not have had immigrant forefathers (those who do not have are native born, Indian descent). It was a memorable occasion.

During the holidays, Weinert welcomed many of its former residents home, as they visited relatives and friends here.

Among these were Deena Peak with daughters Janet and Caty or Nashville, Ark., visiting the girls' grandparents, Ted and Edna Boykin. Deena was the wife of David Boykin, deceased.

Ted and Faye Jetton were happy to have their daughter, Sandra Stafford, with husband Don of Oklahoma City. Sandra was honored recently at the National Convention of the Express Placement Co., an employment agency she works for as local manager in Oklahoma City. Besides receiving three awards for meritorious service, she was awarded the coveted national "Outstanding Overall Placement Specialist" award which signifies she placed more people with jobs than anyone else in the company. Congratulations to another Weinert ex!

G. C. Brockett Jr. of Alamogordo, N.M., was an honored guest in the home of his parents, Pud and Suzie Brockett. G. C. owns a chain of hamburger houses in various towns, but his family's speciality is "George's" Cafeteria in Alamogordo at which his whole family works. He has invited all to come by "George's" every time we are out in that area.

Other visitors of the Brocketts included Pete and Ida Brockett of Munday, "Jo Boy" Coffman of Goree, Mrs. Bobby Reeves with Chris and Courtney of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Coffman, Drew and Jordon of Weinert.

Ann Glascock of San Angelo, with five of her 10 adopted children, visited with Helen Boykin Sunday. Ann's children are attending the singing school in Haskell. She is the daughter of Roy and Leta Plemister.

Other visitors in Helen's home were Raymon and Janie Boykin, Randy and Shelly of Vernon.

Jerry and Doris Walker had reason to set off fireworks earlier than July 4th as their second grandson, 7 pound, 11 ounce Rance Trevor, arrived on July 2. He was welcomed home by big brother Justin and his parents, Cindy and Stacy Parrott of Wichita Falls.

Diane Carroll accompanied Tina and Bill Briscoe to Arlington last week. They enjoyed a visit with Nancy and Budge McGuire, Karen and Jo Beth, former Weinert residents, and then attended the night productions at Six Flags over Texas.

Floyd and Helen Stout are attending a family reunion in Fort Worth. This is still July, month of reunions.

The family descendants of Jim and Ophelia Alexander will gather this weekend at the Kiva Inn in Abilene for two days of fellowship.

David and Peggy Plemister with Marcus and Greg, arrived from West Palm Beach, Fla., for an extended visit in Texas and Oklahoma. On the way, they stopped in Glenview, Ill., for a visit with their son, Lance Corporal D. Bryan Plemister, who is stationed with the Marine Corps there. Our sick are recovering and will be returning home from the hospital in a day or two.

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

DON'T BANK ON THE IRS

Never, never use the Internal Revenue Service as a banker - unless, of course, you have their permission to do so beforehand. This should be the last place that you go for an unauthorized extension of credit.

When the cash flow is tight, many small business operators choose to pay their suppliers first and the employee withholding tax to the IRS last. Before the manager knows it, another month has passed and another set of payroll taxes has gone unpaid.

The Internal Revenue Service will take steps to minimize this liability as quickly as possible. They take a dim view of your owning several thousand dollars in payroll taxes but even a dimmer view of that liability growing to several more thousand dollars.

For those of you who may already be in the unenviable position of owing back payroll taxes, we have this advice. Pay the IRS. If this is truly impossible to do, contact your local district IRS office before it's necessary for them to contact you. This will be a positive indication to them that you will cooperate to solve the problem.

Most collection officers will try to work with you as long as you're willing to cooperate with them.

Corporate officers, beware. The IRS can hold corporate officers liable for unpaid taxes of the corporation (actually, it is a penalty equal to the corporate liability). In a recent court decision an employee who was not a corporate officer was also held liable even though he was told by his boss to pay other bills and not the IRS. The court said he had the option of quitting instead of doing as he was told. As unfair as that may sound, it is an indication of how serious a problem unpaid payroll taxes can be.

LBJ most admired Texan

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson is the most admired Texan among Texans surveyed recently in a poll for the Foundation for Education on Free Enterprise, Inc.

Participants were asked: "What single person from the State of Texas, living or deceased, do you admire most?"

LBJ was named by 17.3 percent of the respondents. Sam Houston was the choice of 12.2 percent. Ranking third was "my parents," listed by 7.6 percent of those polled. Next came Barbara Jordan, Mark White, Ross Perot, Henry Cisneros, husband/wife, Bill Clements, Sam Rayburn, John Connolly, grandparents, Stephen F. Austin, Phil Gramm, son/daughter, Henry Gonzales and George Bush.

Also receiving mention were Davy Crockett, Larry Hagman, Roger Staubach, and even some non-Texans such as Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy.

The state of the economy is very much on the minds of Texans, the poll clearly shows. Concerns about the economy topped the list of the most important issues facing the state, followed by the oil industry, education and unemployment. Interests such as taxes, crime and illegal aliens came further down the list of subjects that worry Texans.

When asked what they like most about Texas and what they like least, the answer was the same—the weather.

Other things people like about Texas are the friendly people, landscape, unlimited opportunity and a peaceful lifestyle. Things they like least include Yankees, bugs, animals, immigration, narrow-minded people and high taxes.

The poll also showed that Texans are about evenly divided as to whether the state's 150th birthday is more important than the 100th birthday of the Statue of Liberty, with native-born Texans favoring the former.

Texans, overwhelmingly, prefer the capitalist form of government to either socialism or communism with nearly 73 percent of those polled opting for capitalism. Most of the others did not answer this question. Surprisingly, 30 percent of those in the 18-25 age group said they preferred socialism.

The Foundation for Education on Free Enterprise, Inc., headquartered in Austin, is a recently established tax-exempt organization whose activities will include researching and publishing information on the free enterprise system as it relates to Texas. It has been funded, in part, by a grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston.

Marriage licenses issued to six

Six couples were issued marriage licenses during June by the office of County Clerk Woodrow Frazier.

Receiving licenses were: Tony Athonio Hubbard and Henri Lenora Seymore, both of Abilene; Roy Kay Miller of Rule and Lera Jean Rogers of Haskell; Tom Robert Barnett and Christina Dawn Peiser, both of Haskell; W. T. Lain of Cleburne and Rosie Lee Payne of Haskell; Albert Hershel Allen and Vergie Alice Scheets, both of Haskell; and Reginald Steven Link of Stamford and Rhonda Burleson Wilson of Aspermont.

Two graduate with degrees in pharmacy

Two students from Haskell were among 51 awarded bachelor of science in pharmacy degrees at the close of the spring semester at the University of Texas in Austin.

The list of degree recipients, announced by Dean James T. Doluisio of the College of Pharmacy, included Kimberly Kay Lane and Emily Jean Thigpen.
