Devaluations rescinded

A decision to reduce evaluations of all Haskell County property was rescinded last Thursday by the Haskell County Central Appraisal District Review Board.

The Board instructed the chief appraiser to make the necessary changes in the appraisal district records to comply with the order rescinding the previous order of June 25. The Central Appraisal District will take the necessary steps to comply with the order of the Review Board and will have the revised appraisal records to the taxing entities as soon as possible.

The decision to rescind the previous order came after members of the Appraisal Board had met with an attorney, Gil Bragg of Austin. The Review Board met at the same time.

Bragg told the group that if the school districts of Haskell and Rule followed through on their notices of intent to file suit in district court that the Appraisal District would be included as a defendant in the suit. He said a suit would result in long, complicated and expensive legal procedures. He further advised the Board that the schools probably would prevail in their appeal due to the technicalities of the State Property Code. This would result in a complex rebilling of taxpayers later in the year.

After discussions with the attorney by members of both the Appraisal Board and the Review Board, the Appraisal Board rescinded its meeting. The Review Board then voted unanimously to rescind its earlier vote. Chairman J. B. Gipson informed the Review Board of the decision.

Members of the sponsoring Brazos West Art Association expressed extreme pleasure with its first Arts and Crafts show, held Saturday and Sunday.

Despite temperatures in the 100s, attendance was estimated at 350 or more.

Terry Gilbreath of Clyde was judge for the arts show. Shirley Hudgens of Rochester provided the flower arrangement which provided the backdrop for the crafts show.

Participants in the crafts show were:

Ann Boles of Hamlin, country, miscellaneous; Judy Benton of Haskell and Jeryl Cooper of Stamford, miscellaneous; Nita Greene and Billie Vaughn of Stamford, ceramics; Jolene Arnold of Greenville and Frankie Cothran of Haskell, bird houses, wood; Lee Burson and Rose Iden of Haskell, monogram; Irene Moon of Stamford, ceramics; Winnie Sherman and Gladys Darnell of Haskell, collectibles; Jim Williams and Lou Williams of Colorado City, wood.

Dr. Cliff Ray
New Haskell dentist

Dr. Ray begins dental practice here

Dr. Cliff Ray has assumed the dental practice of Dr. J. Edward Harris at 601 S. First St.

A Knox City native, Dr. Ray moved to Haskell from San Antonio where he received his doctorate from the University of Texas Dental School. He holds a bachelor's degree from Abilene Christian University and an associate degree from Sayre (Okla.) Junior College.

All records of Dr. Harris have been retained by Dr. Ray, assuring patients that services may be continued uninterrupted.

Dr. Ray is no stranger to Haskell. Two different times, while attending college, he worked as a lab and x-ray technician at the Haskell hospital.

Dr. Ray and his wife Judy, who are expecting their first child in September, are residing at 606 N. Ave. G. Mrs. Ray is a registered nurse and is presently working in Anson.

Dr. Ray grew up in Knox City and graduated from high school there. His parents are Jerry and Susie Ray of that city. His father is a superintendent for Phillips Petroleum Co.

Dr. Harris is leaving dentistry after learning that he is allergic to many of the chemicals used in the industry. The 33-year-old Haskell native began his practice here in January 1982.

Upon discovery of the allergies which were affecting his health, Dr. Harris said he made the decision to leave the profession while he is still young enough to enter another career. At this time, he is not certain what that career will be. He is working with a professional guidance counselor. "I'm exploring as many opportunities as possible," he said.

Dr. Harris and his wife, Jill, have a 2-year-old son, Evan.

Thermometer reaches 108 for two days

Sweltering Haskellites bade an eager goodbye to July Thursday on the heels of two consecutive days of 108-degree temperature readings.

The year's high temperature to date was recorded on both July 30 and July 31, said Sam Herren, local weather recorder.

Probably very few can recall it, but the month's lowest reading was back on July 3 when the mercury dipped to 69 degrees.

Despite several weeks of dry weather, Herren reported that the rainfall total for 1986 to date is nearly an inch above normal. The first seven months saw 14.42 inches of moisture, compared to a normal seven-month total of 13.48. Of this, 3.57 inches fell in the month of July—early in the month.

Football boys to be given physicals

Haskell football players in grades 9 through 12 will take physicals today (Thursday) at 9:30 a.m. at the field house. Coaches said all boys in these grades planning to play football this year should be there.

Cost of the physicals will be $3, and the boys will be required to pay for them. In the past, the school has paid for the examinations.

Physicals for other students will be given after school starts.

Fair to add arts, crafts sale

There will be a Country Arts and Crafts sale this year in conjunction with the annual Haskell County Fair.

It is scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 27, from 9 a.m. until the fair closes at 10 p.m. Consigners are being asked to set up between 7:30 and 9 a.m. that Saturday.

The sale will be in the Fair building which has been used in the past to display youth exhibits. There are two large evaporative coolers in the building and several electrical outlets for those desiring to bring fans.

Booths will measure approximately 6 feet by 12 feet and will rent for $20 each. One five-foot table and two chairs will be furnished. It is possible there will be some peg boards available, as well as some five-foot display tables which are framed on all four sides. (Availability of these items will not be known until late Friday afternoon when the County Fair exhibits are all in place.)

To reserve a booth, send name, mailing address and phone number along with $20 to Laela Martin, 1401 N. Ave. K, Haskell, TX 79521. Checks should be made payable to the Haskell County Fair Association. Money will not be refundable after Sept. 15. There will be approximately 18 booths for rent on a "first come first serve"

Many complain about sleep

Approximately 25 percent of adults complain about sleep, according to Dr. Frank Perez-Guerra, director of the Scott and White Sleep Disorders Center and associate professor of internal medicine at Texas A&M University College of Medicine.

"More medicines are prescribed and used in connection with sleeping problems than for any other medical problem," said Dr. Perez-Guerra. "It has been well established that sleep, or lack thereof, has a significant impact upon one's health."

The clinical specialty of sleep disorders medicine began to evolve in the 1950s when research on the brain's function during sleep began. Major hospitals established sleep disorders centers, such as the one at Scott and White at Temple, to diagnose and treat sleep disorders.

Sleep disorders such as insomnia or constant daytime sleepiness can ruin careers, health and personal relationships. Some sleep disorders, such as sleep apnea (pauses in breathing during sleep), can be life threatening. Narcolepsy, a disease which causes daytime sleepiness and attacks of uncontrollable sleep can be disabling.

According to the APSS, the medical, economic and social toll of sleep disorders is staggering, from the thousands of tired industrial shift workers who work when the brain is timed to sleep, the accident victim who lost his fight to remain alert at the wheel, to the elderly grandfather placed in a nursing home because of nighttime wandering, to the sleepy child who once again fails the fifth grade, to the grieving couple who has lost their sleeping child to sudden infant death syndrome. Sleep disorders medicine is concerned with these and all individuals affected by any disturbance of sleep and alertness.

Although more research is needed to solve all of these problems, researchers have established these facts about sleep:

-No matter what a person's age or occupation, the right amount of sleep to get at night is the amount that keeps the daytime pressure to sleep at a relatively safe level. Each American should have a clear idea of how much nighttime sleep keeps his or her daytime pressure to sleep at a manageable level.

-Daytime sleepiness is caused by poor, inadequate, or abnormal sleep. Heavy meals, boring and monotonous activities and warm rooms encourage, but do not cause, the pressure to sleep.

-Nearly all adults obtain less than optimal sleep and most have a sizeable sleep debt. The sleep loss continues to add up like an unpaid charge account and each day the pressure to be sleepy in the daytime grows greater. Drowsiness creates dangerous and vulnerable situations. A person with a big sleep debt is more easily affected by alcohol.

-The average high school senior requires about 10 hours of sleep at night to maintain optimal alertness throughout the daytime. The typical high school student actually averages about seven hours of sleep.

-About one percent of the population suffer from sleep apnea. Sleep apnea sufferers, typically overweight middle-aged men who snore heavily, awaken hundreds of times during the night as they struggle to breathe against closed breathing passages. They may not be aware of their abnormal sleep nor understand why they are overwhelmingly sleepy during the day. The condition can affect the function of many jobs and may occasionally be fatal.

-The peak time of dying from all causes occurs during the night, not the day. Researchers are interested in knowing why sleep is less safe than wakefulness and how to make it safer and more restorative.

-Insomnia affects nearly everyone at one time or another. Transient insomnia occurs from jet lag, tension and environmental disturbances.

YEARS AGO OUR FOUNDERS MADE A WISH

... today that wish is still coming true.

Our founders visualized us as a vital part of our community that is much more than a place where money changes hands. Their wish was to encourage both business and individual growth and to employ sound banking practices that serve as a cornerstone for continued success.

Our wish, today, is the same. We continue to work toward that goal and will maintain the tradition set forth by our founders.

We want that wish to keep coming true.

Legislators seek economic cures

AUSTIN—Like cooks making stew, several state officials moved last week to throw their own economic cures into the boiling caldron of a special session:

- Gov. Mark White called for budget cuts, even the abolishing of several state agencies which he would name later.
- Texas Banking Commissioner James Sexton started drafting a bill to allow out-of-state ownership of Texas banks, and
- Sponsors of the horseracing, dogracing and lottery bills called for the Legislature to consider those issues.

White, who sets the agenda, will probably widen the special call once it appears that the necessary budget cuts will be made.

Although Hobby is the only major figure publicly supporting a tax increase, that issue may also be added to the special call.

Forecast Questioned

The tax issue will surface once lawmakers determine how much revenue remains to be raised to avoid an estimated $3.5 billion deficit.

But as pressure built last week, some lawmakers questioned the accuracy of the deficit forecast made by Comptroller Bob Bullock. It was reported that a leaked interoffice memo revealed some of Bullock's top economists advised him the shortage was $700 million less, in their opinion.

Bullock staunchly defended his numbers. His final figure is a worst case scenario that could improve if Texas wins several court cases.

And, Bullock said, the state treasury could stay solvent until January's regular session by piecing together various state funds and delaying some large scheduled payments.

Tax Opposition

Still opposed to raising taxes are two key figures, Speaker Gib Lewis and Rep. Stan Schlueter, D-Killeen, who chairs the panel where tax bills originate.

Schlueter, who has harshly criticized the governor for lack of leadership, softened when White finally came out with his plan to abolish agencies.

Lewis and Schlueter head up a faction of lawmakers who want to leave a tax bill for the regular session to approve.

Mauro Endorsed

Texas Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, a Democrat, received endorsements from two key Republican House members last week.

Mauro welcomed the surprise support from Reps. Gerald Geistweidt, R-Mason, and Randall Riley, R-Austin, who applauded Mauro's management of the Texas General Land Office as historically one of the best.

With the move, the two House Republicans backed away from GOP candidate M. D. Anderson, Jr., a dance hall owner from Seven Points, who is not related to the family of Houston cancer hospital fame.

And in a turn to the opposite direction, a Democratic state representative from Beaumont announced he will work against Mark White's reelection by asking minorities not to vote for White.

State Rep. Al Price said White has not appointed enough black regents at Lamar University despite numerous requests.

White's campaign office responded the governor has appointed more blacks to state boards and commissions than all past governors combined.

Price stopped short of endorsing White's opponent, Bill Clements.

Interstate Banking

The Eden Bank was closed last week by Banking Commissioner Sexton, the 13th Texas bank to fail this year because of bad oil and agriculture loans.

Sexton immediately renewed his plea for Texas to repeal its constitutional ban on interstate banking.

Some banks need outside capital, and branch banking should also be permitted to allow assumptions of liabilities of failed banks, he said.

Letters

Editor: Senior trip at this age? Sure! If you know the seniors of 1960—it's not at all unusual.

This close-knit group of Haskell exes are still at it. The ties that have grown from grade school through high school, and 26 years of Haskell homecomings, continue to grow and draw the class closer together.

The class of 1960 voted at the last class reunion to start a dinner club which would meet each year in a different city or state to enjoy dining, sightseeing and weekend entertainment, but most important to keep in touch and see each other more often.

The class held its first meeting recently in San Antonio and stayed at the La Mansion Del Rio on the river. The group enjoyed fine food and entertainment and late night strolls along the beautiful river walk. Daytime brought shopping and sightseeing, but of course the most enjoyable part of the weekend was being together—sharing memories and making a lot of new ones in the process.

Plans for the next place and date of the next club meeting will be discussed at this year's Haskell Homecoming.

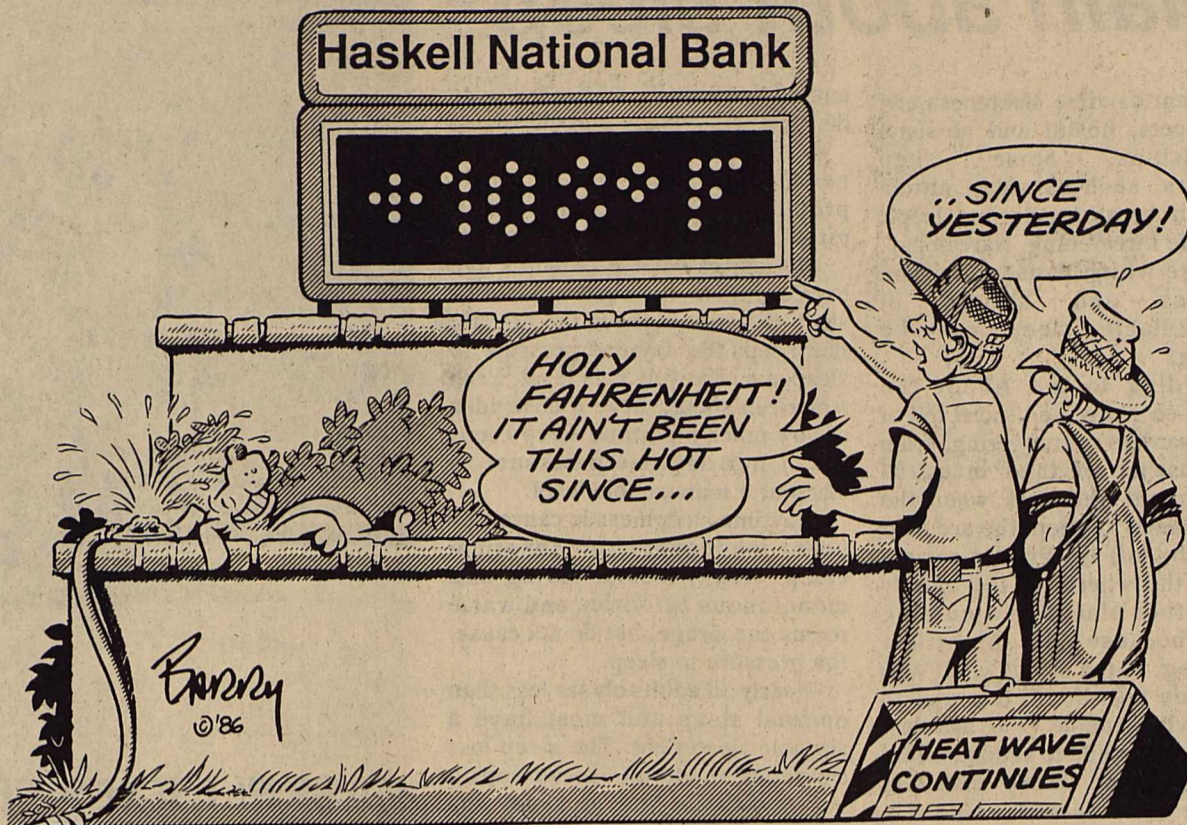

If you have already received an article on this, just combine them. We didn't decide who would send this in so I'll take a chance.

A. Yes. The amount of the guaranty may be increased to an amount equal to the combined total of both of your entitlements, however, the guaranty may not exceed 60 percent of the loan.

A. Yes, as long as it is not on the list of prohibited countries.

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

I just can't wait until the results are in.

I'm talking about the results of the Republican Presidential Task Force poll. Questionnaires were mailed out last week and respondents were asked to return their completed forms to Senator John Heinz who will tabulate the results and let the President know what the public thinks of him.

I wasn't on the mailing list. I sneaked a peek at a copy marked "For Bill Comedy Only."

The questions are mind-boggling:

"Which of President Reagan's agenda issues below do you personally favor?" the questionnaire asks.

Among them were:

-A new tax system which is simpler and fairer to all.

-An end to government's "war on business" from excessive regulation.

-Providing a more solid Social Security system for today's and tomorrow's senior Americans.

-Balancing the federal budget by ending run-away special interest spending and rooting out mismanagement of taxpayer dollars.

-A justice system dedicated to justice—not leniency—in the "war on crime."

A cover letter warns: "Even if you are undecided about some questions, it's urgent we get it back (the questionnaire) for accurate results."

And those Republicans are impatient: "Please do it today while it's fresh on your mind."

Come on now, Senator. It's all right to impose a deadline, but be realistic. You just don't answer questions like that without giving some thought to them for a couple of days.

No less informing are the results of polls we have been receiving in news story form from something called the Foundation on Free Enterprise of Austin, funded in part by a grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston.

We ran one of them three or four weeks ago which contained the startling information that most Texas prefer Texas being a state rather than an independent country. (Our forefathers arrived at that conclusion in 1845, without benefit of a poll.)

Last week's release was just as shocking. Would you believe that Texans are greatly concerned over the future of the state's oil economy? That's what the poll showed.

Now comes another: "A recent poll conducted for the Foundation for Education on Free Enterprise reveals that a clear majority of Texans favor spending cuts over

Railroad days

The Free Press
Aug. 4, 1906

At high noon Thursday, the last of the rails were spiked down near the depot site in Haskell and the construction train moved slowly down the end of the line marking an event long hoped and worked for by Haskell citizens—the completion of a railroad into Haskell.

When the construction train made its first appearance in Haskell, Messrs. Jones and Bomar, in charge of the work, called for some of the young ladies to blow the whistle. Misses Lucile Hughes and Eula and Alice Poole responded and climbing into the cab pulled the cord that gave voice to the first locomotive whistle ever sounded in Haskell.

The Haskell Telephone Company received two carloads of poles over the Wichita Valley Railroad yesterday. This was the first railroad shipment ever delivered from a train in Haskell.

TALL WINDMILL ...
The world's tallest windmill was erected in 1900 on the Yellow House Division of the XIT Ranch forty miles west of Lubbock. The windmill had to be placed 132 feet in the air in order to be higher than the nearby cliffs. This allowed the West Texas winds to turn the wheel, pumping underground water to the surface.

increased taxes as a means of balancing the state budget."

And how about this gem in the wrap-up of the poll: "Concern about the economy is the most important issue facing Texans today, according to the poll results."

I don't know what the Moody Foundation is, but I have a strong suspicion that its money could be put to better use fighting poverty, crime—or fire ants.

Remember when you bought oranges, lemons and bananas by the dozen?

It's understandable why grocers today sell them by weight, but it's still confusing to a price-conscious shopper. I've bought hundreds, maybe thousands, of bananas over the years but I still have no idea how much a normal-size banana weighs.

And it's not just the edibles. Some time ago my wife asked me if I would buy a piece of rope to make a tree swing in our back yard. It didn't seem to be a bad idea, but I said I would have to do some measuring to determine how much rope we needed. I never did get around to doing it.

One day she announced that she had bought the rope for the tree swing.

Knowing her shopping habits which dictate that the best way to be sure to buy enough of anything is to be sure to buy too much, I impulsively asked her how much rope she had bought.

"A pound and a half," she replied.

Song praises cotton

Coal miners, lumberjacks, cowboys and Marines have all been immortalized in song. Now it's the cotton farmer's turn.

Mississippi song writer and recording artist Paul Ott has paid a musical salute to cotton farmers whom he describes as "the ones who put the white in the red, white and blue."

Ott's song goes on to salute cotton farmers as men who have repeatedly persevered despite lean times and seemingly little hope.

Entitled "Cotton Man," the song is currently being aired by radio stations across the Cotton Belt. The recording was produced under a grant to the Cotton Foundation by FMC Corp.

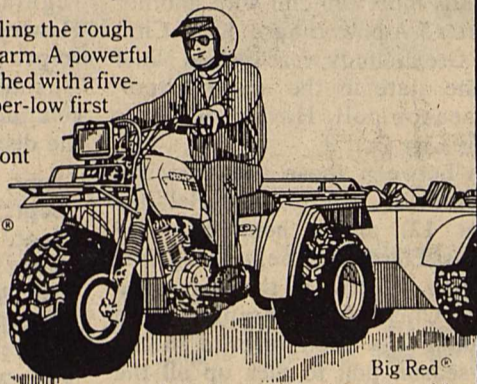

Dr. Arlie Bowling, executive direction of the Foundation, said the song is a well-deserved tribute to the cotton farmer.

"We also are gratified that FMC is contributing all the proceeds from the sale of the record to support cotton research," he stated. "Hopefully, benefits from that research will help cotton farmers overcome some of the difficulties described in the song."

The record, which sells for $5 can be ordered from The Cotton Foundation, P.O. Box 12284, Memphis, Tenn. 38182.

With 2172, where there's water, there's more wheat.

If you're growing wheat under irrigation and want maximum returns, don't plant a dryland wheat variety. Instead, plant a variety with the genetic potential to take advantage of that extra moisture.

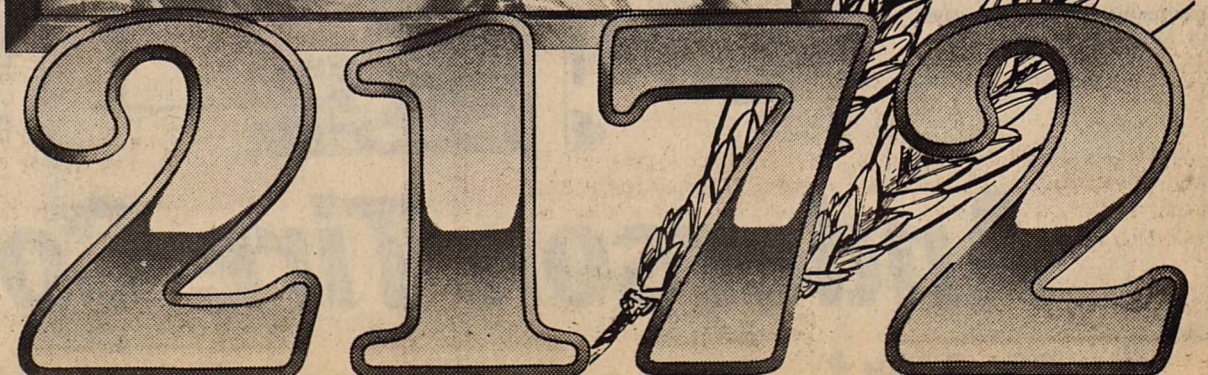

Pioneer wheat breeders developed 2172 to respond to the irrigated growing conditions of the Texas and Oklahoma High Plains.

2172 matures early, winters well, and offers good grazing qualities and good disease resistance.

Indians face another tough slate in '86

You can never accuse the Haskell Indians of being afraid of anyone.

Last year, Coach Harold Hill's Warriors played what was generally considered to be the toughest Class AA schedule in Texas. It may not be any easier in 1986.

For openers, the Indians will kick off their new season by hosting Munday. The district 5-A Moguls are loaded again this year. The Texas Sports Writers Association last week placed Munday a solid No. 1 among Class A teams of Texas. The Moguls, who won the state championship two years ago, appeared well on their way to a second title last year when they lost their quarterback in the quarterfinals. They lost to eventual champion Goldthwaite the following week, a loss which snapped their 30-game winning streak. They will be out to start another winning streak when they play Haskell.

And if that's not enough, the Indians must contend with another district 5-A powerhouse, Knox City. The Greyhounds were ranked No. 4 in the state in the sportswriters' preseason poll. Haskell plays at Knox City Oct. 3.

In between those two contests, the Indians will play at Holliday (Sept. 12), and at home Sept. 19 against Electra and Sept. 26 against Quanah. Electra is the defending state Class AA champion, and Quanah is a solid favorite in the pre-season poll to pick up all the marbles in district 2-AA.

If there's any comfort in this year's schedule it may be that the Indians will not be playing Seymour and Iowa Park, as they did last year. Seymour is ranked No. 2 in Class AA in the writers' pre-season poll and Iowa Park is picked to win district 6-AAA.

It won't get any easier when the Indians wade into the district competition. They open district 7-AA play here Oct. 10 against the Hamlin Pied Pipers, the defending district champions who didn't lose to anyone last season until they bowed to Electra in the quarterfinals. In fact, that's the only game the Pipers have lost in two years.

The following week (Oct. 17) Haskell tests new 7-AA member Albany in Albany. That's a week before the Oct. 24 showdown with Stamford, picked in the pre-season poll as a co-favorite with Hamlin.

Two home games, against Hawley on Oct. 31, and against Anson Nov. 7, will close out the regular season for the Indians. Hawley is expected to be vastly improved from last season, and Anson, under a new coach, is counting on making a good run at the district crown.

Sept. 5: Munday here
Sept. 12: Holliday there
Sept. 19: Electra there
Sept. 26: Quanah here
Oct. 3: Knox City there
Oct. 10: Hamlin here
Oct. 17: Albany there
Oct. 24: Stamford there
Oct. 31: Hawley here
Nov. 7: Anson here

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

TAX REFORM

(The Work Continues)

The tax conference committee is at work reconciling the differences between the House and Senate tax bills. The result of the committee's work is likely to become law sometime in September.

The House and Senate bills already agree in a number of areas, and these provisions are likely to appear in the final bill. The two agree on provisions that would:

- Eliminate investment tax credit
- Eliminate the working couple's deduction
- Eliminate income averaging for non-farmers
- Fully tax unemployment benefits
- Reduce to 80% the deductibility of business meals and entertainment
- Repeal the $100 single, $200 joint, dividend exclusion
- Increase the earned income credit

Some of the main areas where the two bills disagree include the following:

- Deductibility of IRA contributions (House keeps the deduction; Senate eliminates it for individuals covered by employee pension plans)
- Top individual tax rate (38% in House bill; 27% in Senate)
- Top corporate tax rate (36% in House Bill; 33% in Senate bill)
- Capital gains (House top rate is 22%; Senate treats capital gains as ordinary income, so top rate is 27%)
- Sales tax (fully deductible in House plan; limited deduction in Senate plan)
- Effective date for law (House January 1, 1986; Senate January 1, 1987. Major exception is that both bills repeal investment tax credit effective January 1, 1986)

The final bill agreed upon by the tax committee conferees must be approved by both the House and Senate and signed by President Reagan before it becomes law.

Softball tourney this week

The Haskell Kiwanis Club will sponsor a men's slow-pitch softball tournament, beginning today (Thursday) and continuing through Friday and Saturday.

Teams from Haskell, Rule, Stamford, Jayton, Hamlin and other surrounding towns will be participating in the double-elimination tournament.

Kiwanians will operate a concession stand, offering plenty of food and drinks throughout the tournament.

Stamford gets nod in 7-AA

Stamford's Bulldogs have been selected by Texas Football to win the district 7-AA football title this year.

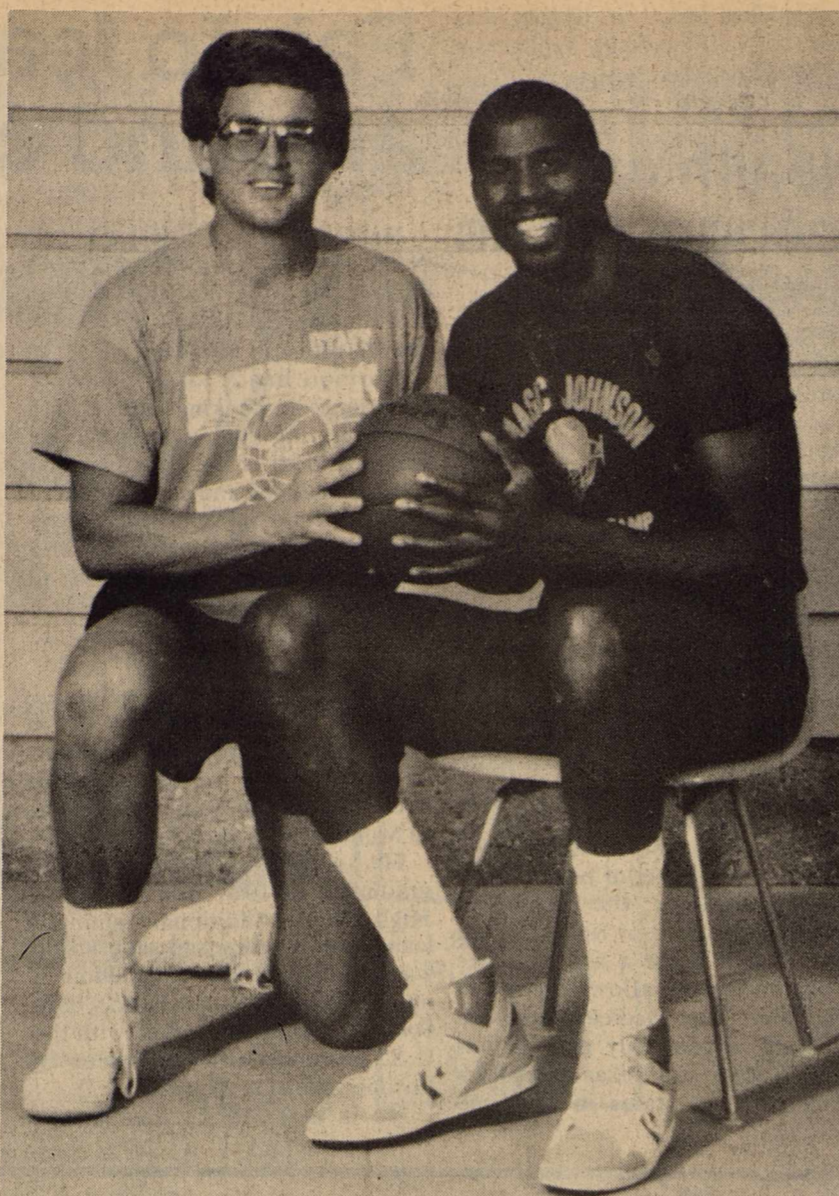

Defending champion Hamlin was predicted to take second and the Haskell Indians were selected third.

Anson was the fourth-place choice, while Albany and Hawley were chosen fifth and sixth respectively.

Defending state champion Electra was selected to repeat its 1985 title in Class AA. Munday and Knox City were chosen No. 1 and No. 2 respectively in Class A. Haskell will play all three of these powerhouses.

Herpes

Genital herpes first came to the public's attention as a sexually transmitted disease a few years ago. Now about 300,000 new cases of herpes are reported in the United States every year. The only protection currently is prevention, and there is as yet no cure.

Mark Coffman and Magic Johnson

Weinert basketball coach Mark Coffman recently served on the staff of the Earvin "Magic" Johnson basketball camp in Los Angeles.

Three hundred youngsters, age 10 to 17, attended the four-day camp. They learned various basketball skills and put their newly learned techniques to test in daily games.

Several NBA stars appeared at the camp. In addition to Johnson, the Los Angeles Lakers' great, stars included Isiah Thomas of the Detroit Pistons, Mike McGee of the Atlanta Hawks and William Bedford of the Phoenix Suns.

A highlight of the clinic was a game between the staff and the NBA players. Coffman was among the coaches who played with the professionals.

Coffman returned to California Saturday to serve on the staff of the John Wooden basketball camp.

Indians begin football drills Monday morning

Haskell High School football prospects checked out equipment Wednesday in preparation for pre-season practices which begin Monday.

At 8 a.m. Monday, coaches are expecting 44 to show up for the first session of two-a-day drills which will continue until the Indians suit up for their first pre-season scrimmage at Aspermont Aug. 22.

Time of afternoon practices will be set on a day-to-day basis, said head coach Harold Hill. Coaches will attempt to avoid the hottest parts of the summer days.

The two-a-days will be two hours each. The Indians won't don pads until the Friday of the first week.

It's a much more optimistic coaching staff which will greet the Indian hopefuls than the one which was on hand a year ago. Nineteen of 25 lettermen are returning from last year's young team which lost six straight games before peeling off three consecutive district victories for a second-place finish and a spot in the playoffs. A year ago, only five lettermen were on hand for the opening call.

Missing from this year's roll call will be quarterback Felipe Arredondo, tight end Sam Baker, fullback Kendall Larned, guard Val King, flanker Mike Wallace and guard Scott Schaake. All have graduated. King actually had another year of eligibility, but elected to graduate early.

Arredondo, Baker and Larned also were defensive standouts.

The Indians should have experience at every position. Coaches are concerned about the depth of the offensive line. They can field a highly competent crew of starters, but a loss of a key performer could be a serious problem.

A lot of time will be spent in the opening practices in finding a new quarterback. Mark Young, an outstanding all-around performer last year as a sophomore, will be given a shot at the man-under position. Pat Perez, a defensive end who saw limited duty at quarterback last year, also will be evaluated. A third candidate will be Chan Guess, who quarterbacked the junior varsity last season. Young and Perez will be juniors, Guess a sophomore.

The Indians will have a second pre-season scrimmage Aug. 29 at Bronte. They open the 1986 season at home Sept. 5 against Munday.

Booster Club meets Monday

At the Monday meeting, the group will be working on painting barrels and other projects for the coming year.

Dan Griffith is president of the Booster Club.

Hamlin to host net tournament

The Hamlin Tennis Association will host its annual tennis tournament Aug. 7-10.

THE KEY TO LOWER COOLING BILLS

...YOUR THERMOSTAT!

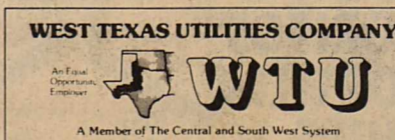

RAISE YOUR THERMOSTAT SETTING TO LOWER YOUR COOLING BILLS

You can lower your cooling bill up to 50% by raising the temperature in your home from 72° to 78°. West Texas Utilities recommends that you set your thermostat at 78° or higher for efficient summer cooling. Portable fans or ceiling fans can help the higher thermostat settings feel more comfortable.

Also, check the filter in your air conditioning system regularly. A dirty filter could keep your system from operating as efficiently as possible. Clean permanent filters according to manufacturer's instructions, and replace non-permanent filters.

For more conservation tips on summer cooling, call your local WTU office.

Health care recognized as problem

Providing health care for the state's uninsured and underinsured is recognized as a problem by the people of the State of Texas, according to results of a statewide poll conducted by Shipley and Associates on behalf of the Texas Hospital Association.

Strong support exists for an expanded state role in indigent health care. Sixty-seven percent of the 805 respondents to the random telephone survey consider such care to be a very important issue, and 50 percent want to see more state money spent on this program. Only eight percent want less spent.

When respondents were informed of the large number of poor Texans not covered by the Medicaid program, 76 percent reported that they would favor a higher state contribution to allow expanded eligibility. The Medicaid program currently covers only one in four poor Texans, and Texas ranks 45th among the 50 states in Medicaid funding.

Many newlyweds don't live happily

Newlyweds who dream of living happily ever after should weigh the reality that there are about half as many divorces as marriages each year in Texas.

The ratio of marriages to divorces has been fairly consistent for several years.

Last year, 201,632 marriages were performed and 100,394 marriages were dissolved in Texas. In 1984, there were 210,978 marriages and 98,958 divorces in the state.

The most numerous age group of people getting married was 20-24 for both males and females (62,745 men and 63,842 women). Divorces were more common in the 25-through 29-year-old age group, where 22,329 men and 23,082 women were divorced in 1985.

The largest number of divorces occurred in the first five years of marriage (43,990). Some marriages hardly got off the ground. Statistics show that 7,374 marriages ended in divorce within the first year.

In the young and not-so-young age groups, 40 males and 898 females ages 15 and under were married, while 3,448 men and 1,899 women 65 and older were married.

Divorces in the very young were not common in 1985. No males and just 10 females ages 15 and younger were divorced last year. Among those 65 and older, 1,444 men and 777 women were divorced.

Slightly less than half of all 1985 divorces (50,057) involved no children. About 25 percent (24,662) involved just one child. The total number of children involved in divorces last year was 87,690.

Barbecue

The annual barbecue of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association will be Thursday, Aug. 21, at Lytle Shores Auditorium in Abilene.

RECEIVES PLAQUE

F.A. (Mutt) Bryant, right, receives a plaque from County Clerk Woodrow Frazier in recognition of his services to Haskell County. The plaque was from employees of the courthouse and jail where Bryant served as custodian until his retirement Friday.

Bryant retires from courthouse

Seventy-seven-year-old F. A. (Mutt) Bryant didn't come to work Friday morning.

He retired as custodian of the Haskell County courthouse Thursday. "I'm not sure what I'll do," said Bryant, "but I don't intend to be idle."

Courthouse and jail employees threw a party in his honor at the courthouse Thursday afternoon. There was punch, cake, cookies and other snacks to absorb as workers expressed their appreciation for Bryant's work and extended their best wishes on his retirement.

Bryant went to work for Haskell County March 1, 1976, after he "retired" as a mechanic for Perry Motor Co. He had been at Perry for 13 years.

Born in Bosque County, Bryant farmed for 10 years after his marriage in 1931. He then ran a service station and garage in Kopperl in that county before going to work for Prewitt Motor Co. as a mechanic, first in Stamford and then in Hamlin, before joining Perry in Haskell in 1963.

As custodian of the courthouse, Bryant has been responsible for all maintenance of the building and its grounds, as well as the Haskell County Jail. He is being replaced by Joe Ortiz, who has served as his assistant for the past four years. "He'll be a good one," says Bryant of his 22-year-old successor. "He's a real good worker and he knows how to do things."

Bryant's wife of 54 years died in June of last year. He has two daughters, Barbara Terrell of Stamford and Merle Anders of Victoria.

There's a right time to discharge worker

Jane had a humdinger of an attendance problem, and was often late to work.

Excuses ranged from illness to car trouble, to court appearances, ill children, you name it.

Her employer dutifully exercised the progressive disciplinary steps outlined in the employee handbook, and had carefully documented these actions.

After all this, Jane called in again one morning and said she was ill. She was discharged, and immediately went to the Texas Employment Commission and filed for her unemployment. And she got it.

It turned out that she really was ill that day and was able to provide the TEC representative with medical documentation to prove it.

In this case, the employer simply chose the wrong time to discharge the claimant. To be denied unemployment benefits, an individual must have been discharged for some willful act of misconduct. Physical illness is a condition beyond one's control and is therefore not a willful act. And even though the claimant may have committed various acts of misconduct earlier, she was not discharged proximate to those occurrences.

Food Distribution

Surplus food commodities will be distributed to eligible citizens of Haskell next Thursday, Aug. 14, at the Experienced Citizens Center.

Persons 60 years and older will be served from 8 to 9 a.m. and those under 60 from 9 to 10 a.m.

School spending

Here's how Haskell stacks up

In the two years since the legislature enacted House Bill 72, local school budgets have grown by $2.7 billion. This higher spending level has been funded as much by local property taxes as by the record-setting increase in state taxes.

Over the two years, an added $1 billion in state aid was matched by a

$1 billion increase in local school property taxes. Last year, trustees in the 1,063 local school districts levied the largest school property tax increase in history—$551 billion—for a total tax bill of $4.6 billion.

The Haskell Independent School District's tax levy last year was increased by only two-tenths of one percent for 1985-86 as compared to a 13.3 percent increase for the average school district in Texas.

The figures come from the latest issue of "Bench Marks for 1986-87 School District Budgets in Texas," an annual publication of the Texas Research League, an Austin-based, educational corporation engaged in governmental research.

School budgets adopted last year called for spending $3,346 per student for current operations. Haskell ISD's budget provided for $3,006.24 per student based on the 642 students in average daily attendance in 1984-85.

Four dollars in five were spent for salaries. Statewide, payroll expense averaged $2,705 per student, as compared to $2,248.76 in Haskell. Payroll expense is a combination of salary levels and staffing patterns.

Average salary for classroom teachers paid by Haskell ISD in 1984-85 was $20,826. The average among all school districts in Texas was $23,281 per classroom teacher. While the legislature and local school trustees focused discussion on classroom teachers' salaries, statewide only two-fifths of the 1985 budget increase was used for that purpose.

In Haskell ISD, the average salary for administrators was $34,868, and $20,900 for other professional support employees (librarians, counselors, nurses, supervisors, etc.).

Taxpayers provided one teacher for 13.8 students in Haskell ISD, compared to a statewide pupil-teacher ratio of 1-16.3. Because of small classes, especially at the high school level, and abbreviated teaching schedules, many classes have more than the average number of students. HB 72 requires no more than 22 students in kindergarten, first and second grade classes next year, but one-fourth of the districts obtained a waiver from that restriction last year.

The average school district imposed a property tax at the rate of 76.3 cents per $100 of appraised value, which value averaged 89.2 percent of market value (selling price). The "true tax rate" was 68.1 percent (76.3 times 89.2 percent) statewide. Locally, the rate on market value in Haskell ISD was 78.1 cents. The tax on a house in this district that would sell for $80,000 would have been $636. If the homeowner were eligible for homestead exemptions, the tax would have been $597, and if owned by a person 65 years or older, the tax on an $80,000 house in this district would have averaged $517, or less if subject to a tax freeze.

Revenue lost from exemptions totaled $915 million, which was $135 million more than the previous year. To balance school budgets, the revenue loss from exemptions was imposed upon other taxpayers in the school district.

Local property taxes plus state aid was $3,367 per student in Haskell ISD as compared to $3,299 statewide. The primary purpose of state aid is to equalize state and local tax resources among schools. In 1985-86, tax resources ranged from less than $2,500 per student in 10 districts to more than $10,000 in 12 districts.

Labels give information on kinds of fat

For healthy eating, extension nutritionists recommend checking ingredient labels to determine what kind of fats are in food products.

Look for a listing of palm oil, palm kernel oil and coconut oil. Although these are vegetable oils, these fats are saturated and raise the level of cholesterol in the blood.

Also check to see if the product contains hydrogenated vegetable oils. Vegetable oils become saturated when they are "hydrogenated" to make a solid fat. Some margarines and shortening are hydrogenated. Instead, look for corn, soybean, safflower or sunflower oils which are polyunsaturated.

Breast cancer is a frightening disease. In the United States, one out of 11 women will develop breast cancer at some point in her life.

Haskell Nursing Home

The birthdays of August are: Rosie Wood and Pearl Conner. We would like to wish them a Happy Birthday.

Vivian Shaw came Tuesday morning for manicures and one-to-one. She also had her granddaughters with her.

Rev. Hodges came Wednesday for a devotion. His wife came with him. The residents always look forward to seeing them.

Thursday morning, Mrs. Blohm and John presented a musical program for our residents in the dining room. Everyone enjoyed the special music.

Ford Cole visited in the home this week. We always enjoy him and the video he brings out.

Visiting Pauline Williams were

Darlene Briant and Pooley, Maryellen Lees, Mr. and Mrs. Roads, Hellen Alls and family.

Visiting Rose Woods were Kim and Thomas Martin.

Visiting Lelly Greenwood were Jewel Mann and Robert Simpkins of Stamford.

We would like to thank all of our visitors and volunteers for coming out.

Dance

George Maxwell will play Friday night at the monthly dance of the Sons of Hermann Lodge. The lodge's monthly meeting will be Sunday with a pot luck luncheon at Irby Hall.

Knox County to host seminar

A seminar on budgeting and hedging stocker cattle will begin at 9 a.m. Aug. 28 at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Rhineland. A $6.50 registration fee will include the cost of lunch.

The event is being sponsored by the Knox County Livestock and Range Committee.

Interested producers may pick up registration forms at the First National Bank in Munday, Citizens State Bank in Knox City or the Knox County Extension office in Benjamin. The completed forms and the registration fee must be returned to the Knox County Extension office by Aug. 15.

County bond sales figures revealed

Series EE savings bonds sales in Haskell County amounted to $4,572 during the month of May, R. W. Herren, volunteer county chairman, has announced.

Total sales in the county during the January-May period were $23,007. This figure represents 20.7 percent of the county's 1986 assigned dollar goal of $111,000.

Statewide, 47.4 percent of the state's goal of $370 million had been reached at the five-month mark.

Big apple

Mrs. Cloys Dick left a 15-ounce apple at the Free Press office last week. It came from a 15-year-old tree in her yard at 1606 N. Ave. F. She said she had picked several bushels of apples from her trees. Most of them were smaller, but there were quite a few large ones, she said.
