Ral goes to Midland

Haskell has lost one of the most successful high school basketball coaches in Texas.

Jim Raughton, whose Indian teams won 95 games and lost only 23 during his four-year tenure as head coach, has accepted a position as assistant basketball coach at Midland High School.

His resignation was formally accepted Tuesday night at a meeting of the Haskell School Board.

Raughton's Indian basketball teams won district championships in each of his first three years as coach. Last year's team was district runnerup.

He became head coach in the 1982-83 season and the Indians • posted a 24-8 record. In 1983-84, the mark was 26-5. The following year, 1984-85, the Indians were 25-2. Last year's record was 20-8. The 1985-86 team, with only two lettermen returning, was the only Raughton-coached team which didn't win the district, but its second-place finish was much higher than anyone expected it to do.

Raughton also was a junior high history teacher. His wife, Sherry, taught at Rochester.

Gene Long is in charge of youth activities and these and other details will appear in the next edition of The Free Press.

Homemade Ice Cream Chairman for the Ice Cream Division, sponsored by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, is Delight Jones. Chamber Welcoming Committee members and members of the Board of Directors are being asked to donate freezers and homemade ice cream to be sold at the Summer Sizzler.

Mrs. Jones announced that the Ice Cream Freezoff was such a popular contest last year that it will be repeated in this year's event. Gift certificates of $50, $30 and $20 will be presented to the top three winners in both the adult and youth categories.

Entry fee will be the donation of the ice cream for resale. Entrants must be there with their ice cream at 2 p.m. Out-of-town judges will determine the winners. Judging will be by number, instead of name. Only after they have reached their final decisions will the judges know the identity of persons entered. Charlie Jordan of KTAB-TV, Abilene, will again be a celebrity judge.

Roewe said the Summer Sizzler attracted many people last year for the day-long event, including a large number from out of town.

Activities are planned to offer customers discounts throughout the city, so service clubs, other organizations and churches can hold fund-raising events for their individual program needs. The promotion also gives the community a day of fun and togetherness.

Most insurance companies grant discounts on premiums to drivers who complete the course.

Classes are taught by Bob Hart of the Department of Public Safety in Mineral Wells.

The Disney Channel Magazine is distributed to all subscribers of the Disney TV channel. The current issue, in which the work appears, is dated Aug. 3-Sept. 13.

City sales taxes fall behind last year

The City of Haskell received a check this week for $18,435.36 as its share of sales taxes collected here in June and during the second quarter of this year.

The amount of the check reflected a downturn in local business from a year ago when the check for the same period amounted to $21,542.74.

For the year to date, Haskell has received $111,264.20 from the one-percent city sales tax. This is a 4.51-percent decrease from the $116,517.04 received during the same period last year.

Rule's check this week was for $5,411.72, up sharply from the $3,407.86 received last year. So far this year, Rule has received $22,452.57, an increase of 36.37 percent over the 1985 figure of $16,464.62 for the same six-month period.

Rochester's check this week was for $637.91, while O'Brien received $384.96 and Weinert $375.57.

Due to Rule's huge increase, the combined collections of all five Haskell County communities at the year's half-way point total is 0.45 percent ahead of last year.

Previously, they were basic firemen. Intermediate certification requires 122 hours of certified training beyond the 162 hours required for basic firemen.

A different kind of Bible School at East Side

Bible students hear storyteller

It wasn't your normal Bible School.

But for the 118 boys and girls who participated in the East Side Baptist Church's "Marketplace 29 AD," it was a Bible time experience which was geared to make a more indelible impression on them than the traditional Bible School.

The four-day program, which began Monday of last week, ended with a grand finale Thursday evening.

During the four days, the youngsters (ranging from age 3 to sixth-graders) spent nearly three hours daily re-living Biblical times and observing Biblical customs, re-created Biblical amid surroundings.

During each session, the participates tried to live, dress, work and eat as people did during the time of Christ. They were organized into 12 groups, representing the 12 tribes of Israel. They played Jewish games and performed Jewish dances. They listened to a Jewish story teller, and performed skits.

Adults occupied booths in which they taught skills to the boys and girls. There were booths for brick making, pottery, carpentery, weaving, baking, rope making, scribing, basket weaving and musical instrument making.

Hot weather hazardous to health

Hot, humid weather can be hazardous to your health, particularly if you work outdoors. Outdoor workers often suffer from such physical disorders as heatstroke, heat exhaustion, heat cramps and fainting when they do not take time to adjust to the heat. To avoid heat-related problems, workers should take frequent rest breaks, drink fluids every 15 to 20 minutes, wear loose garments of thin cotton fabric to enhance air circulartion near the skin, and slow down work speed.

Workers also need protection from equipment heat sources and need to work in well ventilated areas.

Forless money.

Now great coffee flavor costs less. Thanks to "Custom Roasting," a new coffee roasting process, you can get terrific coffee flavor at a lower coffee price.

You see, Custom Roasting intensifies the flavor of coffee beans. It also expands the beans more than conventional roasting methods, so there is more coffee surface area to interact with the water in your coffee maker.

Since you get more flavor from each bean, you use less coffee to get the taste you love. And that saves you money.

To help you save even more, here's a special offer. Just redeem the coupon below and you'll get 40¢ off your next purchase of new Maryland Club Custom Roast Coffee.

White doesn't think his tax plan is dead

AUSTIN-Some Texas House members think Gov. Mark White's tax plan is dead in the water right now. White doesn't think so.

Last week, the governor re-versed himself and decided to support what he considers a compromise position: an $810 million sales tax hike on a temporary basis. Now he's squarely between the two other powers: Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby wants a $2.8 billion tax hike while Speaker Gib Lewis wants no new taxes.

Lewis was a little surprised. since a week earlier White was his ally in the no new tax position, but he stood firm believing the House hasn't the votes to pass a tax bill.

Right now, the biggest hurdle White must leap is State Rep. Stan Schlueter, a conservative Democrat who chairs the Ways and Means Committee where the tax bill must originate.

Schlueter says, "No way!", and he's got a fistful of Republicans on the committee to back him up.

White Hopeful

Still, White remains hopeful. He's counting on the Senate and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby to pressure the House, but how?

At this point, the remaining valid issue is budget cuts. One scenario has the Senate refusing to cut as deep as the House unless the House sends over a tax bill.

Bold action indeed for senators who face reelection in less than three months.

Another scene has White using special sessions to keep legislators in Austin until a tax bill is passed. But that would prevent his fellow Democrats from campaigning back home.

A New Issue?

Are there new issues he could inject into the special call to entice House members to vote for a tax hike? Hard to do with political careers at stake.

But to return to the source, the Ways and Means Committee won't let a tax bill reach the House floor for debate. The first gate is guarded by Schlueter and his GOP allies there. The fact is that Republicans One, some people actually consider a tax hike to be good electoral politics. Even though it goes against common wisdom, the case can be made that grateful tax recipients vote for pro-tax candidates.

White is behind in the polls now, and the GOP may not want to chance the oddball effect which would revitalize his momentum. Besides, by stifling his tax bill, they can accentuate his lack of leadership.

Two, a tax hike means they might be sacrificing long-time ally, Speaker Gib Lewis. Time has caught up with the Fort Worth Democrat and he now lives in a Republican district, opposed by a well-backed Re-publican. A tax bill could spell defeat for Lewis.

Political Survival

While Republican voters across the state might applaud the sacrifice, Lewis' loss could upset the delicate alliance in the House which has truly ben-efited the GOP.

Certainly, it would hasten polarization and the setting up of party caucuses, like in Congress. The GOP could emerge even more of a minority party in influence.

The above considerations fall under the category of political survival, which is secondary to survival of state government.

While one hopes for all legislators to be statesmen all the time, it's more realistic that each one does value his or her political survival. How readily they pass beyond that point is a private happening in their souls, and rarely seen by the voters.

And up at Bridgeport, the City Council has had to order the police department to slow down on its aggressiveness in enforcing city ordinances. Last month, city policemen issued 229 citations for such offenses as unkept lots, junk vehicles, loitering, etc. An 84-year-old woman got a ticket for weeds on a vacant lot which she says she pays regularly to have maintained. Another woman said she got a ticket for loitering on a Dairy Queen lot after she stopped to talk for a couple of minutes with a friend. A councilman told of another Dairy Qeen incident in which a customer received a ticket for standing outside his car in a drive-through lane while awaiting his order.

have mustered enough leadership in the House under Speaker Lewis to control the tax issue. Quite simply, the House can't pass a tax bill until House Republicans say it can.

That isn't to say they wouldn't let the House vote on a tax hike under certain conditions.

For one thing, almost everyone agrees privately that a tax hike is needed, either now or next session.

Now or Later?

So Republicans who are gambling that former Gov. Bill Clements will defeat White in November are asking themselves whether it's better to have a tax hike now under White or in nine months under their own governor? Matter of fact, by letting a tax hike out now, they might be softening up White for an easier defeat.

There are two pitfalls in that

The late dean of the House, Bill Heatly, "The Duke of Paducah," once advised fellow members that the day comes for each of them when they walk out the chamber door for the last time. Soon, few people would remember their names. and the important thing was for them to remember their own political acts without private shame.

BULLDOGGER ....

Liberty Hill cowboy Ben Pickett is credited with creating the rodeo event of buildogging. While holding a steer's horns and twisting the steer's neck Pickett would bite the animal's lip and force it to the ground. He perfected the act and in the early 1900's he joined the "Miller Brothers 101 Wild West Show." He was stomped to death in 1932 by a horse. Pickett was a black cowboy.

IS AN AD THE ANSWER?

So, you've decided to sell your home. If you were only allowed to use one method to accomplish the successful sale of your home, what would that method be? Would it be newspaper advertising? A yard sign? A real estate agent?

Many would agree that newspaper advertising is the single most desirable source of buyers, yet some surprising facts have come to light as the result of a national home-buying survey. It seems that 16% or less of all home buyers come as direct result of newspaper advertising, while 52% to 70% come as a result of real estate agent referrals. It might be concluded, then, that 84 or more out of 100 buyers do NOT buy from newspaper ads, while as many as 70 out of 100 buy as a result of a real estate agent's activities.

It's obvious from those figures that there must be more to selling a home than meets the eye. While newspaper ads are used to attract a certain degree of attention to a particular home, the people skills of a professional real estate agent undoubtedly contribute greatly to the successful sale of the home.

Newspaper ads which target certain groups of buyers using specific, proven language and wording can be very effective, yet should be considered only a small part of the overall plan for marketing your home the interest of young people it attracted is underscored by the number of participants. The Rev. Darrell Feemster, East Side pastor, said the church's regular annual Bible School attracts about 70 kids. The 118 who took part in last week's program came from Stamford, Weinert and Munday, as well as Haskell.

Fixty-six adults also were involved. While most of them were from the church's membership, help came from Munday and also from the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

The pastor's wife, Connie, said 'Marketplace 29 AD'' was the culmination of four months of work. The original idea for the program was developed in Michigan. It has since been presented in a number of places, including Abilene.

The Feemsters expressed their appreciation to all who helped. In addition to those who devoted time to the preparation and presentation, many other people assisted with monetary and material contributions for costumes, props and other expenses. The community support also was encouraging.

The church hopes to repeat the program some time in the future. 'We'll need to wait a couple of years or so," said Feemster, "when we'll have a new group of kids."

Rice Springs Care Home

By Judy Wolsch Activity Director

Residents had a resident council meeting on Thursday. Everyone was satisfied with the home. Everything passed recent inspection.

We would like to thank Dorothy Bowers for doing some of the ladies' nails this week, and the Country Band for all the good music which is always enjoyed by all the residents and outsiders.

Several of the ladies got together and sewed quilt squares together Friday afternoon. We are still in need of a folding quilting frame.

Peggy Darden came Friday afternoon for sing-along and we appreciate her, as well as our volunteers: Maxine Grand and Nialene Hall who came and played music for several and visited one-to-one.

We also thank the Methodist ladies for their service Monday morning.

The First Baptist Church has started having our residents over once a month for lunch and we sure all appreciate each one who had a hand in this.

Also a thank you to William Hodge and his family for their service on Tuesday, Jo Simpson for her devotion on Wednesday and Suzanne Jones for her Bible study class.

And we don't want to leave out all of our visitors by any means; you're just what all our residents need: lots of good friends and visitors to make each long day a little shorter.

Mrs. Howard Burns from Dallas, Mrs. H. W. Ammonett and Mrs. Faye Overby from Bedford all visited Mollie Darden. Gracie Taylor from Dallas, Chris and Corey Moore from Munday visited H. H. Klose, John Hicks with the Specks and Ada Bowman, Sherman Ervin with Mrs. Free.

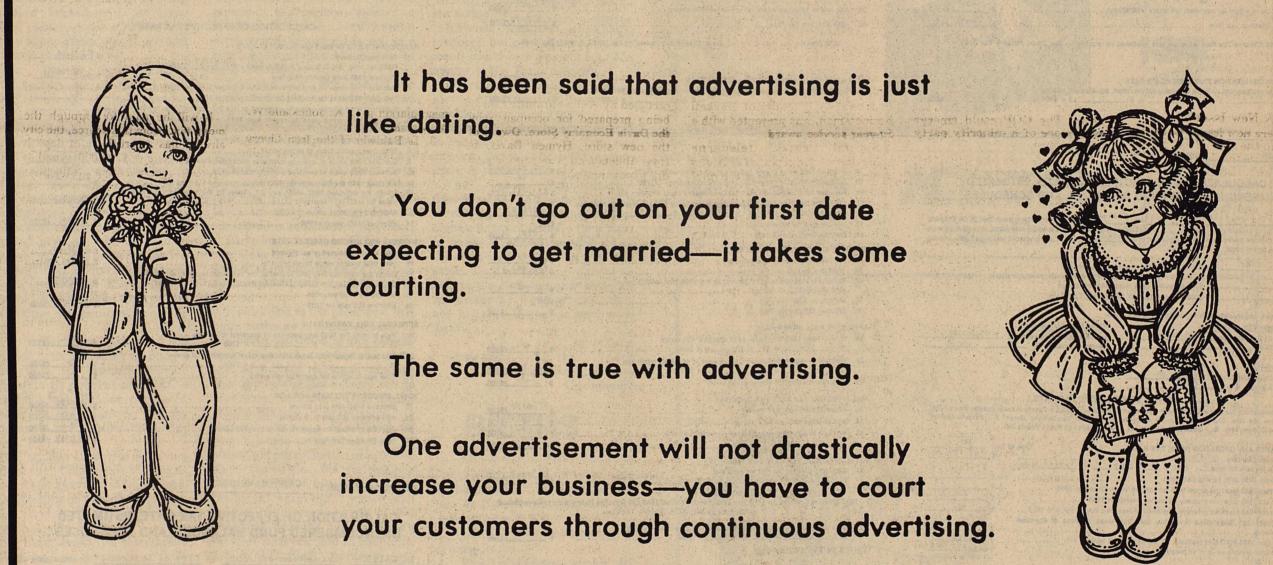

Emma Blackwell with Herbert Klose, Dolores Navert with Natalie Dippel and Herbert Klose, Margaret Tanner and Jean Baugh with Effie Lusk, Katherine Post with Agnes Rike, Frank and Virginia Stroud with J. C. Hargrove and Juanita Sullivan from Roseville, Calif., with Albert Holley, Lavern Tekell from Borger with Nellie Ash, Raymond and Phama Wilhite from Knox City with Walter and Lois Speck.

And my apologies to these visitors I left out earlier:

Jim Morion, Mrs. Essie Long, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Marion, Alin Marion and Danny Hill. All these folks have visited in our home with Jess Kreger.

Letters to the Editor

'Can you condemn them for wanting to live?'

Editor: All that consider us guilty before a just trial has ended should ead the Bible a little better.

You don't have a drug ring. You have people trying to survive the only way they know in the hardest of times. Can you condemn them for wanting to live? You don't really know them or their hearts. God does.

You hypocrites who want to look good to your family and friends:

Can you truly say you are pure in

I forgive those who do harm to me, in the paper, on TV and in their heart? I don't think so.

own minds, even though I know I am innocent. Can you do the same of your enemies?

I will surely pray for you. God is with us. How about you?

Paint Creek Baptists start building fund

Editor: Paint Creek Baptist Church (under that name) was organized in 1938 when Paint Creek Rural High School was started.

Howard Baptist Church, which was started about 1900, and Post Baptist Church, which was started a little later, decided to consolidate and move the two buildings across from the school under the name of Paint Creek Baptist Church.

In 1949, a parsonage was built and in 1951, a new auditorium was built and the old part was used for the educational building. Paint Creek Baptist Church is now one of the oldest Baptist churches still having regular services in Haskell County.

We do not have a large number in Sunday School because many of our young people have had to leave farming because of the farm economy, but many Sunday mornings if the weather is pretty and the fish are biting, we have people come in from the lakes for church services.

On Saturday morning, April 19, 1986, about 6:30 a.m., the Paint Creek community was hit by a devastating storm (hail, wind and rain). When the storm was over the auditorium, educational building and the parsonage had all been severely damaged.

The stained glass windows in the auditorium had been in for about 35 years, but a firm in Abilene found the same glass for the church in Kokomo, Ind. The aduitorium and parsonage were repaired, but the two old buildings that make up the educational building had been repaired so many times that the church decided to tear that building down and erect a new educational building.

The job of tearing the building down has nearly been completed and a building fund has been started. Plans are being drawn up for the new building.

Many people have stopped and asked what we are doing and what our plans are. Some have made donations to our building fund. Paint Creek Baptist Church wishes to thank you for your concern and interest.

Mrs. R. V. Earles

AT FIRE SCHOOL

Six firemen from Haskell attended the State Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M last month. Here, in one of the classes, firemen work on a combination electrical, LP gas and gasoline fire. Attending from Haskell were Tom Watson and Don Comedy, instructors in hose loads and public relations, respectively, and Clayton Neal, Billy Tatum, Chester Lamb and Joe Alves.

Volunteers honored by Council

Four Haskell residents have been honored as "Outstanding Nursing Home Volunteers" for 1986 by the Ombudsman Task Force of the West Central Texas Council of Governments. Honorees include Charles Swinson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shaw and F. A. (Mutt) Bryant.

Jimmy Walls of WCTCG said they were recognized for their extraordinary willingness to give of themselves.

Nominations for the award were submitted by nursing home activity directors, senior citizen center volunteer coordinators and members of the Ombudsman Task Force.

The awards were presented to those who provide a variety of services to the residents of nursing homes.

"Their service is immeasurable and touches many lives," said Walls. "They are special people meeting a special need."

A handbook listing over 1,000 schools by geographic location and occupation is available free by writing to: NATTS, Dept. PK, P.O. Box 10429, Rockville, MD 20850.

Ask VA

O. I filed a claim for compensation about three months ago and have had my exam. I have not heard anything from the VA. How can I find out the status of my claim?

A.Initial claims often take longer than three months to process. You should wait a little longer before checking on your claim. If you are concerned, however, you may call the local VA regional office to check the status of the claim.

Human services program vital to Texas

Editor: I cannot believe that hundreds of thousands of Texas citizens can stand by and watch, in all good conscience, as the state legislature proposes to dismantle, piece by piece, program by program, the human service delivery system of this state.

Let's stop apologizing for human ervices in Texas. Let's stop deceiving ourselves that drastic decreases in programs serving disabled Texans will not have drastic consequences for them and for the state. These people are real and their needs are real.

The Texas Rehabilitation Commission, for which I am Board chairman, serves thousands of people with disabilities each year with vocational rehabilitation, training and counseling-all of which is directed toward one goal: getting disabled people back into. the work force as contributing, taxpaying members of the community.

Workers are taxpayers, but disabled persons, who are denied the right to work by being denied vocational rehabilitation services, will spend many more in institutions and public assistance programs just to maintain persons who are disabled in non-productive lives.

This is not quality of life, this is dependency which will only perpetuate itself.

As a business man, I understand the enormous responsibility facing the state legislature in assuring that expenditures do not exceed revenues, but, severe cutbacks in funding for health and human services involve a moral as well as a practical imperative which none of us can ignore.

For the last few legislative sessions, I have watched the Texas Rehabilitation Commission being asked to do more and more with less and less; and it has. After the legislative process was completed in fiscal year 1985, TRC came away from that session with a $4.2 million decrease from the fiscal year 1985 level in state funding for its vocational rehabilitation programs.

Early in the spring of this year, the Governor's executive order asked state agencies to reduce come on top of the "Gramm-Rudman" fiscal year 1986 federal budget cuts of $2.5 million which prevented the Commission from providing services to an estimated 3,800 disabled persons who would otherwise have been served. We are anticipating an additional cut of $2.2 million in fiscal year 1987 from the Gramm-Rudman-Hollings Deficit Reduction Act.

These state funding cuts for TRC

Estimates show that, given these proposed budget cutbacks, the net result would be a loss of about $14 million to the Texas economy.

We must be allowed to continue giving opportunities for work to disabled citizens of Texas.

Disabled Texans have not shared in the good times this state has enjoyed. Can we afford for them to share in the bad times?

The Texas Rehabilitation Commission and other human service agencies need the support of the citizens of Texas in their fight to continue delivering services to the disabled community of the state. Don't allow yourselves to Go not pay taxes. Rather, they remain dependent on public assistance-dependent on the state.

The unfortunate irony of the situation at this point is that budget reductions for human service programs in general and TRC's vocational rehabilitation programs, specifically, will utlimately cost the state many more dollars than they "save."

TRC studies show that for every sollar the Commission spends toward the successful vocational rehabilitation of one of its clients, Texas receives 13 dollars back into its economy.

We must avoid the temptation, therefore, to practice "false economy." For every dollar the Texas Rehabilitation Commission is unable to spend today because of Gudget cutbacks, the State of Texas spending for fiscal year 1986 by 13 percent.

It has come to the point now that more cutbacks in funding, such as are being discussed in the current special session of the state legislature, will seriously damage this agency's ability to carry out its statutory mission. The Texas Rehabilitation Commission is currently facing a $2 million cut from the case service budget of its vocational rehabilitation program in fiscal year 1986. We anticipate a similar reduction in available funds for fiscal year 1987, which will result in approximately 3,200 disabled persons not receiving services each year and an additional 1,500 disabled persons not returning to employment each year. Deeper cutbacks would affect service delivery to thousands more disabled Texans.

believe the problems and the needs will disappear. They are real, they are urgent. We must deal with them.

Jerry Kane Chairman of the Board Texas Rehabilitation Commission

IRS AUDITS & YOU

There are some steps you can take to make a audit of your tax return less likely and, in the event that you are audited, steps that you can take to make that experience less painful.

To avoid being audited, your best defense is a good offense. File an accurate, complete return, and keep good records and supporting documentation for income items and deductions that you claim. Keep your records long enough to meet the statute of limitations for the tax return related to them. The federal statute is three years from the later of the date the return is due or is actually filed. The statute is six years if over 25% of gross income is omitted from the return, and there is no time limit on fraudulent returns or where no return has been filed.

Two kinds of audits are conducted by the IRS. The first is the office audit, an examination done by correspondence or at an IRS office. The IRS will ask for information or documentation related to specific items on your return. These audits can often be concluded very quickly by providing the requested information. The second kind of audit is the field audit which is usually conducted at the taxpayer's home or place of business. Questionable items on the return have been identified by the IRS, but the agent is not limited to these in his examination.

The IRS uses a complex system to select returns for audit. In general, your return will be at higher risk for an audit if you take certain kinds of deductions (deductions for tax shelters, home office, or travel and entertainment, for example), if your occupation involves cash income, (taxi drivers and waiters, for example), or if your income is high.

If your tax return is actually selected for audit, your best strategy is to be cooperative and provide the requested information promptly. Unless the problem is simple and routine, contact your accountant immediately. A professional can put your mind at ease and very likely save you time and money.

Blower adds to cooling costs

How you run your air conditioning blower fan may be costing you more in utility bills.

Many people set the fan selector on manual rather than automatic. This leaves the blower fan running constantly and makes them feel more comfortable.

From an energy standpoint, it's much better to set the blower fan on automatic because you get better moisture control. Part of the air conditioner's job is to remove moisture. When the blower fan is left on constantly, it re-evaporates water collected on the condenser coils and puts it back into the air. Using box fans, circulating fans or ceiling fans to move the air will achieve the same effect as constantly running the blower fan, and at less cost.

Federal Land Bank lowers interest rates

The Federal Land Bank of Texas lowered its variable interest rate on Aug. 1 to farmers and ranchers who finance with the bank.

Variable interest rates on farm and ranch loans decreased to 11 percent and rural residence and farm-related business loans decreased to 11.5 percent. According to Dale Bullinger, president of the Federal Land Bank Association of Haskell, the reduction will save Texas farmers and ranchers almost $12.5 milion in interest cost annually.

The Land Bank, which provides more than $2.5 billion in rural land financing, had been locked into an interest rate freeze for more than a year. The bank's board of directors first asked the Farm Credit Administration (FCA) for an interest rate reduction in September 1985. The Texas board had asked for a one-percent across-the-board decrease for the Federal Land Bank. However, FCA would not allow more than a one-half of one percent reduction at this time.

Bullinger noted that the Texas Land Bank was one of the first of 12 Federal Land Banks nationwide to get approvals of an overall interest rate reduction. He added that district banks wanting to lower interest rates must meet certain criterion set up by FCA.

"We are pleased that FCA has approved our request," Bullinger said. "For some time now, we have been looking for ways to give our borrowers some relief on the cost of their operations. We will continue to ask our regulator for even lower

Texans big eaters while traveling

When a Texan "hits the road" in his car, he will spend about $30.42 a day in total expenses, according to the Texas Auto Visitor Profile, conducted by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

While on the road, Texans spend about 26.5 percent of their budget, or $8.06 a day, on food. Since Texans travel with an average of 2.3 persons per car, the daily average potential expenditure on food, purchased in grocery stores and restaurants, is $18.53.

rates for our borrowers."

Bullinger said the Federal Land Bank of Texas will lower its rates even though the bank posted a loss for the first six months of the year.

Because of aid required for other financially stressed Farm Credit Banks, our earnings dropped from a positive $12 million to a negative $17.2 million," Bullinger explained. "This was the result of a nationwide agreement that provides for capital infusion into system banks experiencing serious financial difficulties."

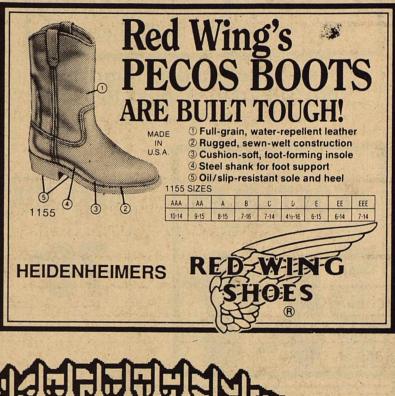

The Federal Land Bank of Texas and its 44 Federal Land Bank Associations provide credit to 30,000 of the state's farmers and ranchers.

Changes noted in licenses for fishermen

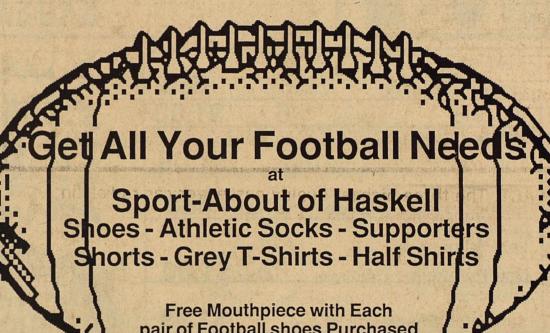

Changes in fishing license regulations this year will affect sportsmen 65 and over, as well as those under 17.

Darold Roberson, owner of Western Auto in Haskell and local license dispenser, says that beginning Sept. 1, free fishing licenses will be issued to fishermen falling within these age groups. In the past, they have not been required to have fishing licenses as long as they had proper identification showing their ages. Although they will be issued without charge, these fishermen will be now be required to have licenses.

Roberson also said that lifetime licenses for fishing and hunting are being ofered for the first time this year. They are priced at $300 each. A combination license, covering both sports, costs $500.

Bank declares dividend

The Haskell Bancshares Inc. of Haskell, parent company of Haskell National Bank, has announced that a cash dividend will be paid to holders of common stock of record as of August 1986.

"In spite of our depressed nomy the past two years and the expected very little increase in our economy the next 12 months, Haskell National Bank has earned and maintained a reasonable profit and we will share it with our stockholders," said R. C. Couch Jr., chairman of the board of directors. Couch also announced the additions of two new members to the board of directors: Robert Howard and Andrew P. Gannaway. Howard, who is assistant vice president, commercial loans, at First State Bank in Abilene, is the grandson of R. H. Herren, retired and chairman emertius of the board of Haskell Bancshares, and Mrs. Herren. Known as "Rob," he has been in banking since 1981, having started with Republic Bank and Trust of Tulsa, Okla. He has been with First State Bank in Abilene the past four years as credit analyst and commercial loan officer. Gannaway, senior vice president in charge of agriculture loans, was elected to the board in February. Known as "Andy," he served as secretary of the board for several months before being added to the board, and he will continue in that capacity. He started with Haskell National Bank in 1980. He is married and lives at 1304 N. Ave. M. It was previously announced that Larry McMillin has become a member of the board. McMillin, who joined Haskell National Bank last October as vice president, commercial loans, and compliance officer, has had some 10 years experience in banking, starting in Arlington and later going to Bells and Leonard before coming to Haskell. Haskell National Bank has been serving this community since 1890 and soon will be celebrating its 100th anniversary of continuous service in Haskell. "We are proud to have been 'Partners in Business' in Haskell the past 96 years and are looking forward to many more years as your home-owned, independent bank," Couch said.
