VOL. 100--NO. 36

HASKELL, TEXAS 79521, September 4, 1986

14 PAGES - ONE SECTION - PLUS ONE INSERT

The Haskell City Council last Thursday approved a 1986-87 budget calling for expenditures of $979,525. The figure represents a decrease of about 3 percent from the 1985-86 budget with expenditure projections of $1,009,369.

Faced with a loss of revenue sharing funds and increased expenses in insurance costs and other services, it was necessary to eliminate three full-time paid positions to keep the budget in the proximity of the one of a year ago. In addition, it calls for reductions in overtime pay, capital improvements and equipment, and eliminates funds for reimbursement of expenses to Council members.

To increase revenue, the budget provides for an increase in water rates from $1.85 per thousand gallons to $1.95, and a flat 50-cent increase for sewer services, from $2.90 to $3.40 per tap. A fee will be levied on users of the city landfill who are not subscribers to the city garbage service (basically those living outside the city limits). Landfill fees will be $3 per pickup load and $7 per truck load. The attendant on duty at the landfill will verify the names of users against a master list of garbage service customers.

The Council decided against increasing the rental fee for airport hangars from $50 to $60 a month, an idea which had been considered.

Jerry Atkinson, manager of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, and R. C. Couch, chairman of the board of directors, appeared at the Council meeting to discuss the dispute between that board and the City over the calculation of the rate the City is charged for water.

In another matter, city administrator Robert Baker reported he had received an estimate of $3,879.90 as the cost of rebuilding a portion of the curb in the 100 block of N. Ave. E. He was instructed to check out the possibility of using city employees for part of the work to reduce the cost.

Artists to lease building

Operation and maintenance of the Corral Building at the fairgrounds will be assumed by the Brazos West Art Association.

The City Council Thursday night accepted a proposal from the organization that the building be leased for 25 years at $1 a year. Club members will make needed repairs on the building and will assume all liability for the property.

Approval of the agreement is subject to a written contract.

The Corral building was formerly used by the Haskell County Fair Association.

Activities here Saturday to kick off pool campaign

Haskell Kiwanians will serve hamburgers Saturday as one of the features of the "splash day" activities at the city swimming pool and city park. The event is serving as a kickoff to a fund-raising campaign to help renovate the swimming pool.

Several business firms are donating all the food for the hamburger feed. These include Modern Way, M System, Pogue's Meat Locker, Mrs. Baird's Bread and Coca Cola Bottling Co. All proceeds from the sale of the hamburgers will go to the swimming pool fund.

Another feature of the day will be the auction of a 1980 Chevrolet in good condition. The vehicle, a former city police car, will be sold to the highest bidder. Bidding begins at 6 p.m.

Several other activities are in the planning stages for the splash day. There will be entertainment, but plans had not been finalized as of Tuesday.

The pool will open at 10 a.m. and will remain open all day, said city administrator Robert Baker. Admission to the pool will be a $2 donation, but a person is not required to make a donation to attend the events at the park.

Baker said the City wants everyone to come out, inspect the pool and bath house and participate in the activities.

The fund-raising project will be the first effort to raise $43,000 the City needs to match a state grant of $63,000 for the renovation of the swimming pool. A number of organizations have enthusiastically endorsed the pool project and some of them will be promoting events to raise money.

Baker said the City is open to ideas for raising funds. Anyone with an idea is asked to call him to City Hall. Anyone wishing to make a donation to the fund may do so at City Hall.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has approved the $63,000 grant to the City for the pool, with the stipulation that the other half of the $126,000 project be financed through local funds. The City has $20,000 earmarked for the pool, leaving $43,000 to be raised.

The City is hopeful that the goal can be met in time for the swimming pool to be renovated before next summer.

Jenny Brzozowski gets her first kindergarten instructions from teacher Shirley Sloan when she enrolled Friday morning. Jenny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brzozowski.

Dalyn Gilly wins F. W. Martin award

Dalyn Gilly of Haskell has been named winner of the 1986 F. W. Martin Memorial Achievement 4-H Award. Mrs. Mary H. Martin presented her with an engraved individual plaque, and her name was added to the large plaque which hangs in the County Extension office.

Dalyn is the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Gilly and is a sophomore at Haskell High School. She has been a member of her local 4-H club for seven years. During this time she has carried 12 4-H projects, including breeding sheep, sheep for show, beef, foods and nutrition, clothing, child development, home environment, livestock judging, leadership, horticulture, conservation of natural resources, and mechanical skills.

She has participated in county, district and state livestock shows, county and district fashion shows, district and state method demonstration contests, district record book judging and county and district food shows.

Dalyn is president of the Haskell Community 4-H Club and is second vice chairman of the Haskell County 4-H Council. She also is a member of the County 4-H and Youth Committee.

She has represented her club and Rainfall total inch over normal

August rainfall of 2.83 inches boosted moisture for the year to 17.25 inches, exactly one inch above the eight-month normal, according to Sam Herren, official weather recorder.

Temperatures during the month of August ranged from a low of 65 degrees on Aug. 28 to a high of 107 degrees on Aug. 19.

JUST PASSING THROUGH WEINERT

R.S. and Betty Sanders look over the new book they have authored, "Just Passing Through Weinert." The book was released by the printer Tuesday. The Weinert couple will be guests of honor at an autograph party Saturday, from 9 a.m. until noon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tiffen Mayfield in Weinert.

History of Weinert published in book

The long-awaited history of Weinert is now available.

"Just Passing Through Weinert, A History of Northeastern Haskell County," written and published by R. S. and Betty Sanders of Weinert arrived from the printer this week and is now available.

The book is a well-made hardback containing more than 400 pages and over 300 priceless photographs. The book's nine chapters contain history not only of Weinert and its school and churches, but also a short history of each of the 10 surrounding communities of Cliff, Lone Star, Brushy/Ample, Cottonwood, Dennis Chapel, Ferris Ranch, Lake Creek, Myers, Pleasant Valley and Pleasant View.

"Just Passing Through Weinert" begins with the Tonkawa and Lipan Indians and progresses through the buffalo hunters, the open ranges, the clod hoppers and early ranching to present-day Weinert.

Besides many interesting stories and facts, it contains 175 family histories and the history of approximately 50 business sites.

An extensive appendix contains lists of Weinert seniors (1935-1985), a list of Weinert teachers, membership records of Weinert, Brushy and Curry Chapel Baptist churches, cemetery records of Weinert, Pleasant Valley and Brush cemeteries and population figures for 1900 and 1910.

The authors spent more than two years researching, collecting and compiling facts and pictures for the book.

An autograph party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Sanders will be held from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday in the home of the Tiffen Mayfields in Weinert. Friends, and anyone else interested in the history of Weinert, are invited to drop by, purchase a copy of the book and have it personally autographed by the

Haskell weather

When it rains, it often pours

"Our annual rainfall may not be very much," the old timer told the visitor. "But you ought to be here the day we get it."

There's absolutely no pattern to rainfall in Haskell. Droughts have followed floods. It's rained more in a 24-hour period than it has in some entire years.

Sam Herren has been keeping weather records in Haskell County 43 years. And he has obtained records which go all the way back to 1890.

Wettest year ever recorded was 1941 when rainfall totaled 48.20 inches. What a year it was: 11.09 inches in November, 8.57 in May, 5.42 in August, 5.06 in April, 4.72 in June, 3.96 in February, 2.56 in September, 2.03 in July 1.84 in March and 1.61 in December. Only

November, with .97 and January with .37 fell below the one-inch mark.

By contrast, the driest year was 1956 when only 10.14 inches of moisture was received. There was only a trace in June of that year. March and September were little better with .02 and .03 inches, respectively. There were only four months that year when moisture measured as much as an inch, May with 2.95, August with 1.81, December with 1.23 and October with 1.05.

It was almost as bad in 1910 when moisture totaled just 10.87 inches. The 1917 total was 12.36 inches and in 1901 it was 13.76.

While several years come close to matching 1956 in lack of rain, no year comes anywhere close to 1941 as the wettest year. The 37.62 inches received in 1906 ranks that year as the second wettest ever in Haskell. It rained 36.54 inches in 1930, 35.83 in 1919, 35.18 in 1932 and 34.76 in 1969. Several other years show more than 30 inches.

What about 1978, the year of the flood? It's pretty far down the list at 29.81 inches. However, the 15.41 inches in August of that year ranks far and away as the most rain ever recorded in a single month—and virtually all of it came within a 24-hour period. Only two other months in Haskell's history have hit double-digit rainfall totals—the aforementioned October 1941 (11.09) and May 1982 (10.38). It rained more than 9 inches in October 1923, July 1960, August 1966 and May 1969.

FIRST NATIONAL CUTS RIBBON

Members of the Welcoming Committee of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce were on hand Tuesday morning for the ribbon-cutting ceremony at the new First National Bank building in Haskell. Bobby Hobgood, bank president, cut the ribbon. The bank moved into its new building over the weekend of Aug. 23-24. A formal opening of the new facility is planned for a future date.

Garden Club wants members

"To own a bit of ground, to scratch it with a hoe, to plant seeds, and watch the renewal of life--this is the commonest delight of the race, the most satisfactory thing a man can do."

This gem of wisdom was written by Charles Dudley Warner in 1870 in his "Summer in a Garden," and members of Haskell Garden Club do indeed agree with his sage observation into the true nature of man.

As the club begins its new fall season, it is extending a special invitation to all Haskell residents to join with them in enjoying the interesting, informative and diversified programs planned for this year.

Contrary to popular belief, membership in the club does not require one to have a green thumb, be an accomplished horticulturist, or keep a perfect, park-like yard. The only requirement is a love of and respect for nature, and an interest in preserving and enjoying the beauty and wonder of it. The fellowship of meeting together with others who share such interests is rewarding.

The theme for this year is "A Potpourri of Gardening Pleasure." Program content will include nine programs featuring the artistic, one on birds, five on civic development and community involvement, two on education, one on heritage, nine on horticulture, one on landscaping, three on preservation and conservation and one on therapy. Embodied within these general categories are many different aspects of a wide spectrum of gardening interests. Several authoritative speakers have been scheduled to give programs.

The first meeting of the season will be a salad luncheon Thursday, Sept. 11, at 11:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Tom Kaigler, 901 N. Ave. F. The program will be "Blending the Sweets of the Past With the Spice of Today."

Interested persons wanting more information about the club or wishing to make reservations for the luncheon are urged to call Mrs. Kaigler, program director for the year, at 864-3283.

Oldsters reminded of flu shots

The American Lung Association of Texas has reminded people 65 years and older that it is time to get their 1986 immunizations against pneumonia and flu.

Safe vaccines exist, but are under utilized, particularly against pneumonia.

In the United States today, pneumonia is still the sixth leading cause of death. There are as many as a half million cases occurring annually with approximately 54,000 deaths a year.

Older persons and people with chronic diseases are less likely to fight off pneumonia and its complications. Studies show that the death rate due to bacterial pneumonia for people 64-74 years old is two and a half times higher than the population as a whole. For those 75-84 years old, the rate is 10 times greater.

For information about flu and pneumonia, contact the American Lung Association of Texas, 1-800-252-LUNG.

BIRTHS

Rick, Anita and Griffin Perry are proud to announce the birth of their daughter and sister, Sydney Alison, on Aug. 18, 1986, at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Sydney weighed 7 pounds, 10 1/2 ounces, and was 20 inches long.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garland Foil of Rule, announce the arrival of their son, Jonathan James Foil, born August 30, 1986 at Haskell Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lbs. 1 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. David Davis of Stamford, announce the arrival of their son, Aaron Lee Davis, born August 28, 1986 at Haskell Memorial Hospital, weighing 8 lbs. 5 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Charles Foster of Stamford, announce the arrival of their son, Brandon Lee Foster, born August 28, 1986 at Haskell Memorial Hospital, weighing 8 lbs. 12 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Espinoza of Goree, announce the arrival of their son, Christopher Lee Espinoza, born August 28, 1986 at Haskell Memorial Hospital, weighing 7 lbs. 5 oz.

Skin cancer most common cancer type

A "golden tan" may be fashionable, but if the price of having one is premature aging and wrinkling, and possibly cancer, perhaps it is time for styles to change, says the Texas Department of Health.

Some 400,000 new cases of skin cancer, the most common form of human cancer, will be diagnosed this year in the United States. And most of them, recent studies conclude, will be the result of repeated overexposure to the sun.

Dr. Cliff Price, TDH associate commissioner for Personal Health Services, said, "Many people fail to realize that overexposure is more damaging than just the pain and peeling associated with a sunburn. The fact is that the temporary discomfort of a sunburn may not be as serious as the permanent radiation damage that goes unnoticed, sometimes for years."

Dr. Price warned that ill effects from the sun are cumulative. "It is as if each person has an individual tolerance for how much of the sun's ultraviolet light he or she can stand in a lifetime. Children and older people, and persons with light skin, especially those who are fair-haired, generally have a lower tolerance to overexposure than those with dark skin. But even dark-skinned people have their limits."

Dr. Price added that Texans, particularly those who spend much time outdoors at work or play, are more at risk than persons living outside the Sun Belt.

People should become more alert to the warning signs of skin cancer as they grow older, since their risk of having skin cancer increases with age, he said. Warning signs include a sore that does not heal or any unusual skin condition, such as a change in size or color of a mole or birthmark.

Dr. Price recommended a monthly skin self-examination. Use a full-length mirror and hand mirror to study the whole skin carefully for overall condition and tiny changes, including the skin of the scalp and between the toes. Any noticeable change warrants a physician's attention.

To reduce the risk of overexposure to the sun, Dr. Price advised Texans to:

*Wear protective clothing, including hats, long sleeves, even gloves.

*Choose, and use sunscreens which are best suited to skin sensitivity. Apply a sunscreen at least an hour before going into the sun and reapply after swimming or heavy perspiration.

*Avoid sun exposure between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. when the sun's ultraviolet rays are most intense.

*Do not use sun lamps, tanning parlors, or tanning pills.

*Be especially cautious of sunlight when using prescribed drugs, since some tend to increase the skin's light sensitivity.

"By taking these precautions seriously and using common sense, most people will not have to worry about skin cancer. And if they do develop cancer, they will discover the condition early. The majority of cases can be completely cured if discovered in their first stages," Dr. Price said.

Lung cancer increasing

Until recently, breast cancer was the most common cause of cancer death among women in Texas and the U.S. However, in 1979 the lung cancer death rate among white Texas women surpassed that of breast cancer. For black women, this occurred in 1982.

The lung cancer deaths are decreasing for young men in Texas, but lung cancer deaths in women are projected to continue to increase and exceed the rate of men by the year 2000 since women have stopped smoking at a slower rate than men.

Meeting Monday for foster parents

Adults interested in serving as foster parents for abused or neglected children are invited to attend an orientation meeting Monday. The meeting will be at East Side Baptist Church, 600 N. 1st East and will begin at 7 p.m.

"There is a real need in this community for foster parents," said Winona Curfman of Snyder, child placement worker with the Texas Department of Human Services.

Leisha Solomon Greenroy

Solomon, Greenroy vows read Aug. 23

Leisha Dawn Soloman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Solomon Jr., became the bride of Mark Allen Greenroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greenroy of Houston, Saturday, Aug. 23. The afternoon ceremony was in the Assembly of God Church in Haskell.

The Rev. Darius Johnston of Fort Worth and the Rev. Curtis Amburn of Haskell officiated in the double-ring ceremony.

The traditional wedding music was performed by the "Bell" choir of Christ Church of Fort Worth. Pianist was Gale Owens of Graham, who accompanied Russ Madill of Euleus as he sang.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a formal gown of white satin, featuring a high Victorian illusion neckline with leg-o-mutton sleeves with alencon lace and satin. The bodice was outlined with alencon lace with pearls and sequins. The full formal-length skirt was enhanced with patches of applied alencon lace flowers and fell into a chapel length train with alencon lace flowers circling the entire edge of skirt and train. Her veil fell from halo of white flowers.

For something old, the bride wore her own diamond necklace; something borrowed was a white Bible, belonging to her sister, Judy Callaway; something blue was a traditional blue garter; and something new were diamond studs, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Judy Callaway of Haskell, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Becky Howeth of Haskell, sister of the bride, Phillis Hardage of Waxahachie, Kim Baccus of Wichita Falls and Starla Saali of El Paso. Andrea Callaway, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid.

They wore tea length dresses of red taffeta. The bodice was fitted with heart shape neckline and they carried red and yellow bouquets.

John Collins of Houston served as best man. Groomsmen were Russ Madill of Euleus, Troy Bradley of Houston, Brent Williams of Waxahachie and Clinton Winthrop of Arlington. Rusty Howeth of Haskell, nephew of the bride, was junior groomsman. Hollis Callaway and Bobby Howeth of Haskell served as ushers. Cole Callaway of Haskell, nephew of the bride, was candlelighter. They all wore black tuxedos.

Following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the Haskell National Bank building, catered by Flora Pace. The three-tiered wedding cake was adorned with red and yellow roses and was served from a table covered with white lace and a red tablecloth.

The groom's table was decorated as the bride's, with chocolate cake and silver coffee service and a centerpiece of red and yellow flowers.

Servers were Karen Mitchell of Haskell, Angelia Reid of Dallas and Derinda Larned of Wichita Falls.

The rehearsal dinner, held in the bank building, was hosted by the groom's parents and catered by Flora Pace.

After a trip to San Antonio, the couple will live in Fort Worth.

Watercolor workshop in Hamlin

Haskell area artists are invited to attend a watercolor workshop in Hamlin Sept. 12-13.

Danny Gamble of Canyon, noted watercolorist, will conduct the workshop. Gamble has conducted similar workshops in Ruidoso and many other locations over the southwest. He uses a new technique with opaque wash, a re-workable medium.

Fee for the workshop is $45. Sessions will be from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday, Sept. 12, and from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 13.

For more information, call 915-576-2155.

Seven died last year in school bus wrecks

Last year in Texas there were 1,228 accidents involving school buses, with seven fatalities and 323 non-fatal injuries. Schools are about to open again, and drivers are once more being cautioned to be unusually attentive in and around school zones and school buses.

An increasing problem in recent years has been drivers who either ignored or were unaware of the law restricting vehicles from passing a school bus while the bus is loading or unloading children. Children often cross the street in front of the bus, and a car that's trying to pass may not see them coming.

The problem became so bad two years ago that the Texas Legislature considered requiring buses to have mechanical arms at the driver's window that would extend into the traffic lane while the bus is stopped. At present, buses in Texas have flashing lights at the front and back of the vehicle when stopped, as well as signs noting that vehicles are required to stop for buses.

To emphasize the importance of stopping for these buses, the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has produced public service announcements with Texas singer-songwriter Jerry Jeff Walker as its spokesman.

Screening service

Screening services for diabetes, high blood pressure, anemia and weight will be conducted in Haskell Sept. 18 by the Texas Department of Health. Immunizations also will be given.

Services will be offered from 9 a.m. until noon at the health office located at 530 S. 2nd St. Immunizations will be from 1 to 3 p.m.

Another special session likely

AUSTIN—The Legislature last week continued its stalemate over House and Senate plans to revitalize a shrinking state budget, and lawmakers expected to carry on in a second 30-day special session throughout September.

Gov. Mark White, on a collision course with the House with his plan to raise the state sales tax, told House Speaker Gib Lewis that unless House members softened, they could expect him to keep them in Austin another month.

Meanwhile, the House showed the first signs of cracking under immense pressure to raise taxes, when two

The moving force behind the bill was the closing of 15 Texas banks this year. Proponents want out-of-state banks to infuse Texas with new cash; opponents fear they could drain more cash from Texas.

The House version removed the Senate's restriction to limit it to nine metropolitan counties. Also, the House added a new bank holiday, Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday.

The bill allows out-of-state banks to buy existing banks in Texas, but not create new ones. No non-Texas savings and loan can buy a Texas bank. Every bank in Texas will be required to have a majority of Texans on its board of directors.

Two controversial provisions: no out-of-state bank can accumulate more than 25 percent of all Texas bank deposits under its control, opposed by some as too lenient; and the door is open to banks in all other states.

The branch banking bill is expected to be on the November 1986 ballot for voter approval.

Parimutuel, Lottery Advance

The Legislature last week stood poised to pass legalized betting at horse and dog tracks and setting up a state lottery similar to those in 22 other states.

Those issues will also face voter approval, but not until a 1987 election.

The House tentatively passed the parimutuel betting bill, already approved in the Senate. And the Senate gave tentative passage to the lottery bill.

Other Action

The Senate also approved additional benefits to boost early retirement by state employees, while the House advanced the Senate bill to retract a three percent pay raise for state employees starting next month.

The House also nodded ahead a bill eliminating a 5-cent-per-gallon tax credit for gasohol not made in Texas. The move would add $13.4 million to the state's general revenues but not harm the gasohol industry here.

"Hell Freezes Over"

When Texas Democratic Party chairman Bob Slagle recently blasted former GOP Gov. Bill Clements for not selling all his shares in a drilling company doing business in Libya, many understood he was trying to help the Democrat, Gov. Mark White.

Then a few days later, a look at the list of stockholders for Schlumberger, Inc., revealed the name of former Secretary of State John Fainter, one of Gov. Mark White's top operatives and closest friends.

Slagle, who should never be accused of faint-heartedness, refused to back off his statement that Clements must sell those shares and stop giving aid and comfort to an unfriendly nation.

In fact, he told one audience he would apologize to Clements when "hell freezes over."

STATE CAPITAL

HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

conservatives, Bill Hollowell, D-Grand Saline, and Hugo Berlanga, D-Corpus Christi, agreed to carry a bill raising the sales tax by seven-eighths cents.

Last week, senators passed and sent to the House their bill to cut only $418 million, and with it went an ultimatum from Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby. Hobby predicted the Senate, in the end, would reject all cuts unless a tax bill was enacted.

Signs of Cracking

The House at first quickly rejected the Senate cuts, sending the issue to a conference committee where lawmakers saw little hope of a compromise before adjournment Sept. 4.

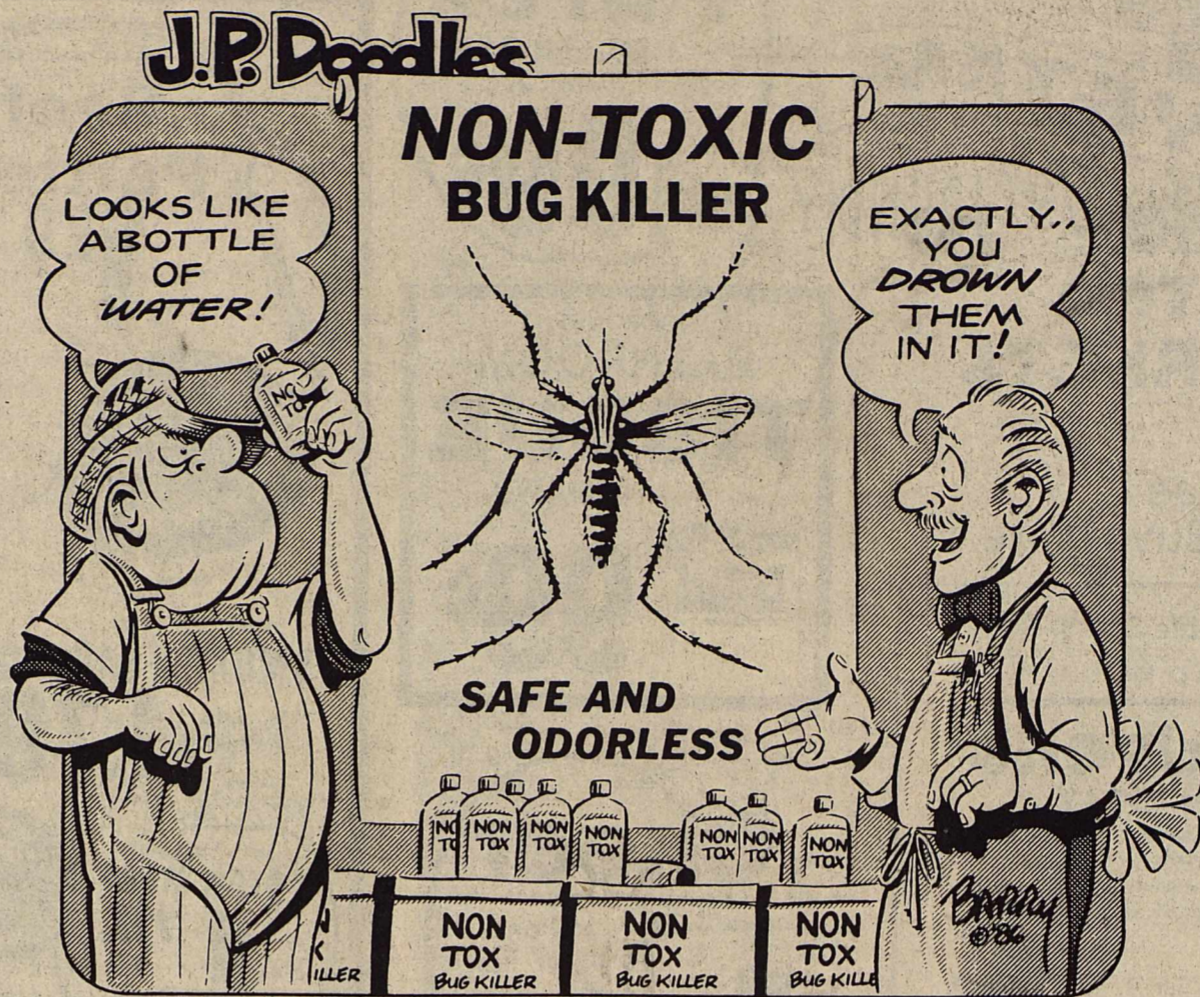

But by the end of the week, Hollowell, a multi-term Democrat who might easily win an in-House contest for "Most Conservative State Representative," agreed to carry a tax hike. He was joined by Speaker Pro Tem Berlanga, and pro-tax legislators took hope.

The crucial House leadership, Speaker Gib Lewis and Ways and Means chairman Stan Schlueter, still vowed to stop a tax bill.

Quietly, the House agreed to adjust some cuts, particularly those made to higher education. The Senate also wants to leave funds intact for court-ordered reforms in prison and mental health facilities.

"Simple Slam Dunk"

The House followed suit to permit branch and interstate banking for the first time in Texas, a quick action that sponsor Rep. Bruce Gibson, D-Godley, called "a simple slam dunk." The bill went to the governor's desk for signing.

Okay, you football diehards. Did you know you can buy a suite in Texas Stadium? And in Sunday's Dallas Morning News gives the details:

"One of the most elegant suites in Texas Stadium, decorated in an old world oak design including an oak wet bar imported from England. Located on the prestigious first floor of suites, 16 tickets plus one bartender pass available with suite. Priced at $550,000, or a one-year lease for $50,000."

Short on cash? No problem. The seller will consider trade, terms or options.

There was a hint of an apology in a letter to parents that Bill Blakley sent home with students after they registered Friday.

Referring to the discipline management plan the school adopted in compliance with a provision of HB 72, the elementary principal's letter said in part:

"We realize that parts of this plan are ridiculous if we are talking about a four- or five-year-old, but state law required that we write it. So we wrote it. It is hoped that a little common sense can be used in applying it."

The counter revolution has begun. Experts now tell us that coffee does not cause cancer. Surely, there's something else that's safe.

Rep. Jack Kemp, whose political style is often compared to that of John F. Kennedy, missed a golden opportunity the other day to utter a statement which might have been even more memorable than JFK's "I am a Berliner."

Kemp, who lives in the upstate New York community of Hamburg, told a group in Berlin: "I come from Hamburg." If only he'd said what he is instead of where he's from.

It's hard to understand all the fuss over drug tests that some employers and some units of government want.

Physical examinations have long been required as conditions of employment with many firms. Is it any more discriminatory to deny a person a job because of drug dependency than it is to deny one a job for a bad heart?

A friend, who's just hit the big "six-oh," says it's a real milestone. He writes: "It confirms the rapid approach of retirement, Social Security, complete loss of memory and burial plans."

Did you know?

In Texas during 1985, there were 1,211 reported cases of vaccine-preventable diseases.

From Out of the Past

30 Years Ago Sept. 6, 1956

Haskell schools have enrolled a near record total of 854 students for the 1956-57 term. In the high school there were 157 enrolled: 58 sophomores, 50 juniors and 49 seniors. Junior high has 226 with the seventh grade having 83, the eighth grade 75 and the ninth grade 68.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Brown and daughters, Donna Cheryl and Karen Lynne, will move to Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 8.

The Westerner Cafe will serve free coffee and donuts Monday from 8 to 10 a.m. to celebrate being in their new address. Formerly located north of the Texas Theatre, the Westerner opened Tuesday in the new location on the east side of the square. The Westerner is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Al Arend.

Ninety students enrolled at Mattson on its first day. One or two more are expected to enroll next week.

A suggestion placed before the City Council at its last meeting concerning the possible elimination of center parking on the north and east sides of the courthouse square has developed opposition. A petition protesting any action is being circulated.

Two Haskell youths, Roy Ernest Wright and Lee Edwin Hollar recently enlisted in the U.S. Navy and are now in boot training at San Diego.

A check for $100 has been received by the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department from Compton Trucking Co. of Abilene for services rendered by local firemen recently when an oil transport truck owned by the Abilene concern caught fire.

The Haskell end of the Wichita Valley Railway had its first wreck this week. There is a slight down grade from Haskell southward and Wednesday night two flat cars loaded with steel rails got loose and ran six miles to the end of the track where they went off and tumbled over.

Miss Una Foster, after spending several weeks at home, has returned to Boston, Mass., to resume her art studies.

Clay Parks has sold his residence in the east part of town to T. D. Roberts of Dallas County.

R. E. Sherrill and Prof. F. L. Morrow returned Wednesday from a trip over several western counties. They say they saw some pretty country but none as good as Haskell.

A. H. Day is having a nice residence built in the north part of town.

Early days recalled

"On the 18th of October 1879, myself and brother, R.D. Wilfong, left Catawba County, North Carolina for Texas. On Nov. 18 we ate dinner at this place, then known as Rice Springs.

"That evening we drove to Double Mountain River. During our drive we saw large herds of deer, antelope and a few buffalo, and hundreds of wild turkeys. There were but few people here at that time. Our post office was Fort Griffin, a distance of 60 miles.

"The settlers here at that time did not own anything but stock. At the time we could buy the land for 25 cents to $1.00 per acre.

"The fall of 1879 myself and brother, R. D. Wilfong, marked 750 wild hogs. This country was known as the Wild West at that time. I have often seen the time when it did not rain for 8 or 12 months. The year of 1886 the Government sent provisions to this country to assist the drouth stricken sufferers. I am the oldest settler in this county at this time."

[From a letter by F. C. Wilfong deposited in the cornerstone of the old Sherrill Building in February 1907.]

TEXAS TRAILS
LONE STAR STATE HISTORY by DAN BROWN

THREE DOLLAR BILL ...
The Republic of Texas issued its first money, in the form of promissory notes, during the fall of 1837. It became known as "Star Money" because of the five-pointed star printed on the front of each note. Although the Republic of Texas Congress provided for the issue of coins, none were ever minted. The denominations of the paper money were $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500 and a $3 dollar bill.

everywhere and He watches over us all the time.

People should read their Bible every day and pray for those people who are in jail over something they didn't do. Can't you see them trying to survive in this world. They are not criminals.

This world is full of hate and madness instead of happiness. People cry with tears for these persons, because of their trying to make a living and trying to survive too. I feel so much for these people because I care for them. They're human just like the rest of us, and have feelings too.

God is with them all the way and so am I. Happiness is where you find God, not enemies and hate, because it don't get you no where at all, but sadness. I think people should be kind to everybody and go to church and read their Bible every day and be kind to people instead of being hateful to everybody. Take your family to church and pray for your friends and enemies. And may God be with you all.

McFadden gets life for robbery

Jerry Walter McFadden, who led authorities on a two-day manhunt after he took a female deputy hostage and escaped from jail, was sentenced to life in prison last Wednesday for stealing two cans of beer at gunpoint.

A jury in San Antonio deliberated two hours before finding him guilty of aggravated robbery. McFadden, 38, faced a minimum of 25 years in prison because he was indicted as a repeat offender.

McFadden, who has been convicted three times of sex offenses including once in Haskell County, also is awaiting trial on an unrelated capital murder charge arising from the rape and strangulation of an 18-year-old Hawkins woman.

In July 1985, the unemployment rate for women who maintained families stood at 10.5 percent, more than three percentage points above the national average of 7.2 percent.

county at various 4-H activities. She attends District Teen Leader Lab at Brownwood each year. This past summer, she attended Texas 4-H Roundup at Texas A&M, Special Interest 4-H Camp at Brownwood and Texas 4-H Congress in Austin. Last year she served as a judge for the Knox County Food Show. She has done radio programs and has appeared on the Harry Holt Farm Show.

Dalyn also is active in school activities. She is an active member of FFA and is on the sophomore class activities committee. She plays basketball and is a member of the Indian tennis team. She attends the First Baptist Church where she is a member of the Youth Group, Youth Choir and Acteens.

The F. W. Martin Memorial Achievement Award is given each year to a Haskell County 4-H member by Mrs. Martin. It was established in 1977 to honor the life and achievements of F. W. Martin who served as Haskell County agent from 1944 to 1967.

Guidelines used to determine the winner are achievements in 4-H activities, responsible citizenship, leadership ability, scholastic excellence and service to club, school, community and church.

Agents currently serving Haskell County make a list of 4-H members considered worthy of the award. Mrs. Martin contacts 4-H leaders, school officials and other interested individuals and then makes the final decision.

WINS 4-H AWARD

Dalyn Gilly, left, received the F.W. Martin Memorial Achievement 4-H Award from Mrs. Mary H. Martin, widow of the long-time county agent in whose memory the annual award is given.

The book has been anxiously awaited by the residents of Weinert. Mrs. Mayfield reflected the opinion of many when she said: "Yes, it is finally here and the people of Weinert are proud—proud of our town, proud of the book, proud of R. S. and Betty, and proud that it is completed. Can you believe that he is finally going to quit asking questions?"

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

LOANS TO FAMILY

Loans to family members, especially from parents to children, are often too casually arranged. What are the consequences of charging less than the going rate of interest on a loan to a family member? What tax treatment are you entitled to in the event the loan goes bad?

Interest-free loans at less than the going rate of interest are generally treated by the IRS as though they required the going rate of interest. Such loans will create interest income to the lender and a corresponding interest deduction for the borrower. The interest deemed received by the lender is then considered to have been gifted back to the borrower.

The rate of interest "imputed" by the IRS is determined by the length of the loan and the current rate of interest on certain obligations to the United States.

There will be no imputed interest if the loan is under $10,000 or if the borrower has annual net investment income of $1,000 or less and the total loans do not exceed $100,000. For practical purposes, the borrower can only use the funds to acquire non-income producing assets (a car, boat or home, for example).

If the debt becomes uncollectable, the lender will get one of two possible tax treatments. If it's a non-business loan, the lender will get a short-term capital loss under the current tax laws. (The upcoming tax legislation may do away with capital gain and capital loss provisions entirely.) The lender will be entitled to the preferred ordinary loss if the loan is in connection with the lender's trade or business.

If you are providing financial assistance to some family member, whether it's a direct loan, an assignment of equity in property, or a line of credit at a bank, give proper concern to both the legal and tax aspects of your transaction.

What's lean?

It's good to know that lean beef is as low in calories and cholesterol as chicken, but how do you tell what's "lean?"

With some label information and knowledge of beef cuts, says a Texas A&M specialist.

Nutritionist Mary K. Sweeten says consumers can easily find low-fat, low-calorie beef at the meat counter if they'll read the package labels. "When you're shopping for lean cuts of beef, the simplest thing to do is to look for Nutri-Facts labels," she says.

The Nutri-Facts program, which is sponsored by the beef industry, is now found in many supermarket chain stores. Participating stores display cards in the meat case that show the calories, fat, cholesterol and other nutrients per three-ounce trimmed serving for various cuts of meat.

As of 1985, 69 percent of women maintaining families were white, 28.8 percent were black, and 8.9 percent were of Hispanic origin.

Jill Jennings wins Wirges Scholarship

Jill Jennings is winner of the Thelma Wirges Scholarship, it has been announced by Barbara Cornelius, director of district 3 of the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists.

The scholarship, totaling $500, is presented each year to a deserving 4-H member in honor of Thelma Wirges, retired district extension director.

To qualify, a student must have completed at least three years of 4-H club work in district 3 and must have excelled in home economics related projects each year and in home economics leadership. An overall high school grade average of at least "90" also is a requirement.

Miss Jennings was an active 4-H member in Haskell County eight years, carrying projects in foods and nutrition, clothing, fashion revue, child care, home designer, leadership and citizenship.

She served her local club and the Haskell County 4-H Council in various capacities as both officer and committee member and shared her 4-H experiences by serving as junior leader for a foods group, a clothing group and a child care group.

This past summer, she placed first in the fruit and vegetable division of the State 4-H Food Show.

She was a member of the National Honor Society at Haskell High School where she graduated this year as an honor student. She also was a twirler for the Indian band, a member of FHA and business manager and copy editor of the school newspaper. She worked part time for the Haskell Free Press.

Miss Jennings is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jennings. She is attending Lubbock Christian College.

A survey conducted in Texas from July 1, 1984, through May 31, 1985, indicated that approximately 18 percent of children two years of age were incompletely immunized.

BAG DEERES

Ed Ekdahl of Avoca and Wayne Peiser of Haskell were winners in the "Deere Season Giveaway," a spring promotion of the John Deere Co. Ekdahl was the winner of a 100G trimmer while Peiser won a 550 portable generator. Both registered at Hale Farm Supply. More than 250 John Deere dealers in a seven-state region took part in the promotion designed to create consumer awareness of the company's lawn and garden equipment.

Social Security never requests fee

Some of the advertisements that appear in newspapers and magazines may lead some people to believe that Social Security asks for a fee in exchange for the services it provides.

This is not so. Social Security never requests and would never accept a fee for any of its services, says M. Glyn Hammons, district manager of the Abilene office which services Haskell.

"Anyone who does request a fee in exchange for Social Security related information does not represent us," said Hammons. "Yet, some people do pay for information which is freely available from any Social Security office."

Octoberfest '86 for older Texans

Texans 55 and older have an opportunity to enjoy camping programs at the Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood this fall.

Called Octoberfest '86, the camping program offers older Texans a chance to spend a week "learning and doing" in a comfortable and supportive atmosphere, says a 4-H specialist at Texas A&M.

This year's program offers five different sessions: Sept. 30-Oct. 3, Oct. 7-10, Oct. 14-17, Oct. 21-24 and Oct. 28-31. Each session offers a variety of "hands on" experiences as well as a wide range of recreational activities. Reservation forms are available at any county extension office and should be received by the Texas 4-H Center at least one week prior to the camp the individual plans to attend.

Did you know?

A group of roebucks is called a bevy, according to International Wildlife magazine.

The term may stem from the old French beverie—a drinking session, since roes are frequently seen together at a watering place.

Speaking of water, a group of ducks is called a paddling when on water, but on land or in the air they're simply a flock.

Velma Hill

Velma Hill, 79, a resident of Haskell since 1979, died at 11:45 p.m. Aug. 31 at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

Graveside services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday (Sept. 2) at Willow Cemetery. The Rev. David Green officiated and burial was under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Mrs. Hill was born July 10, 1907. She was married to E. L. Hill in Cleburne. He preceded her in death Jan. 12, 1983.

She is survived by one son, Johnny L. Hill of Tye; three brothers, R. E. Trussell of Cleburne, Alfred Trussell of Stockton and H. R. Trussell of Rule; three sisters, Mammie Bullard of Cleburne, Janie Carol of Stockton and Emmie Trussell of Haskell; and one grandchild.

Haliburton, Delma Williams, Harry Howard, Gene Rose, Hoie Harrell, Buck Callaway, Willie Buerger and J. L. Cameron.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Donnie Carroll Hodgkin and Lonnie Wayne Hodgkin, both of Haskell; two brothers, Roy Hodgkin of Abilene and Chester Hodgkin of Haskell; four sisters, Mrs. Hazel Jordon of Euless, Mrs. Jesse Waltman of Bovina, Mrs. Elsie Booe of Graham and Mrs. Elvin Kinney of Rule; and four grandsons.

He was preceded in death by a son, Bobby Wayne, a brother, Ralph, and two granddaughters.

Nora Gladys Macon

Nora Gladys Macon, 79, of Rule died Aug. 21 in the Haskell hospital.

Funeral services were Aug. 22 in the First United Methodist Church of Rule with the Rev. Tommy Wilson officiating. Burial was in the Rule Cemetery.

A native of Haskell County, Mrs. Macon was a teacher in the Haskell Independent School District for 35 years before her retirement. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church and the Rule Garden Club.

Her husband, Willis Olis Macon, preceded her in death. Survivors include a son, Carroll Macon of Rockwall; two brothers, Morris Neal of Rule and Ellis Neal of Livingston; and a sister, Mary Ruby Brown of Andrews.

Marlin Loewen

Graveside services were held Monday, Sept. 1, at Willow Cemetery for Marlin Jewel Loewen. The Rev. James Densman officiated. Burial was under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Loewen, 62, died Aug. 30 in Haskell Memorial Hospital. He had been a resident of Haskell since 1970 when he came here from St. Joseph, Mich.

Born in St. Joseph Oct. 4, 1923, Loewen was a member of the First Baptist Church. He was married to Opal Harrington in Haskell Aug. 30, 1978.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Marlin Jay Loewen and John Loewen, both of La Marque; a daughter, Marlene Jean Greenburg of Houston; and two sisters, Millie Hoadley of Berrien Springs, Mich., and Marion Darr of St. Joseph, Mich.

New signs in place in Rochester

Twenty-four new traffic signs have been placed at intersections in Rochester. Q. D. Byrd, city manager, said there are 12 stop signs and 12 yield signs.

The stop signs have been placed on north-south streets, while the yield signs are on east-west streets.

The manager said that obedience of the new signs will be strictly enforced.

Enrollment 406 at elementary

Enrollment in Haskell Elementary School reached 406 on the first day of the new school year Tuesday.

The individual class breakdown was:

Kindergarten 69; first grade 78; second grade 59; third grade 48; fourth grade 52; fifth grade 49; and sixth grade 51.

Total enrollment was 17 higher than the 389 enrolled on the first day of school last year.

$790 for MDA

Haskell area residents pledged $790 to the muscular dystrophy at the weekend telethon, County Chairman Joel Fox announced. Combined with the $850 raised earlier by the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, the local contribution to this year's drive was $1,640, Fox said.

Haskell Nursing Center

Mrs. Shaw came out and did manicures for our ladies Tuesday morning. She had 10 ladies getting their fingers done.

Rev. Hodges will be here Wednesday. We all look forward to seeing him and his wife.

Thursday, the Sweet Home Singers will be here at 4 to sing for us.

Sunshine ladies came Wednesday for a sing-along. Everyone enjoyed them.

George Goble was visited by Mozelle Hopper and family.

Lillia Greenwood was visited by Jamie Baker of Lubbock.

Lector Thomason was visited by Kenneth Thomason from California and Wanda Jeater of Graham.

Pauline Williams was visited by Rolland Rose of Abilene.

We would like to express our sympathy to the family of Velma Hill. She will be missed by all of us.

Cub Scout rally to be Thursday

A rally for Tiger Cubs and Cub Scouts and their parents will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 11, in the Haskell Elementary School cafeteria.

All eligible boys interested in the fun and adventure of scouting are invited to attend.

Cub Scouts is open to boys from the first grade through the fifth grade.

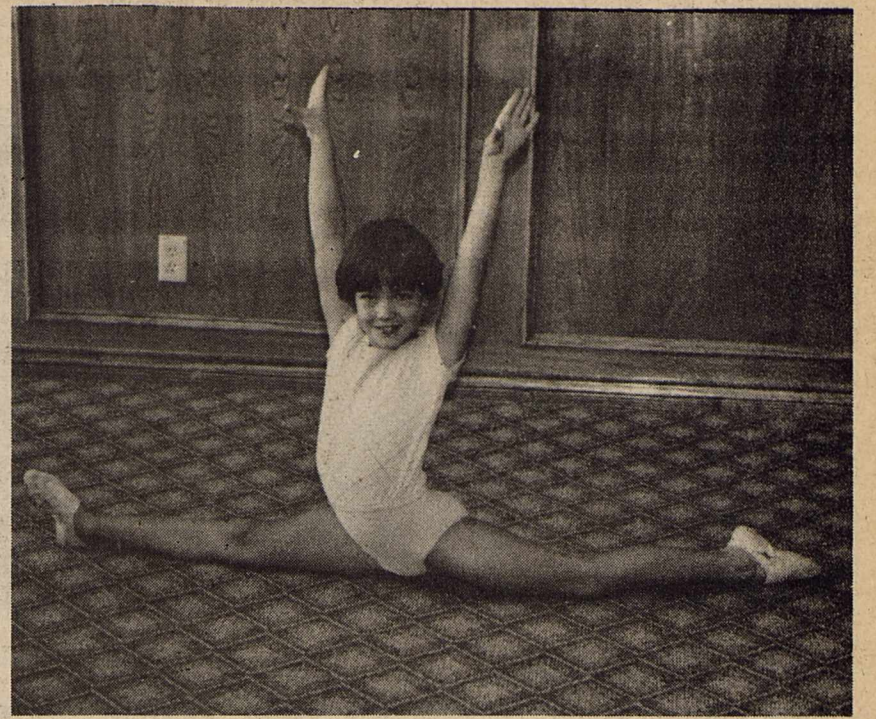

Scout Troop meets Monday

Boy Scout Troop 136 members and their parents will have a rally Monday, Sept. 8, in the Haskell National Bank Community Room. The event begins at 7 p.m.

Bill Perry is the new scoutmaster for the troop and has planned a year of fun, adventure and learning of skills.

To be a Boy Scout, a boy must be at least 10 1/2 years old, completed the fifth grade and not yet be 18.

Thank you for reading The Haskell Free Press.

TUMBLING LESSONS

Heather Hobgood, 9, is one of about 50 students who had enrolled by Tuesday in the tumbling classes which are being offered this year to youngsters from 3 through high school. Heather competed this past summer in the national U.S. Acro Gymnastics Federation contests in Mobile, Ala., where she came in third in a field of 56. Classes begin today (Thursday) in the old gymnasium and will continue each Thursday during the school year. Instructor is Dawn Fortner of Lubbock, assisted by Debbie Hobgood of Haskell. For more information about the tumbling classes, call Mrs. Hobgood at 864-3697.

Talk to your children

Since County Judge B. O. Roberson issued the public proclamation denoting September as Child Abuse Prevention Month in Haskell County, the Haskell County Child Welfare Board offers the following advice and tips to parents on preventing child sexual abuse:

Perhaps the most critical child sexual prevention strategy for parents is good communication with your children. This is not only challenging, but difficult, especially for working parents and parents of adolescents.

Talk to your children every day and take time to listen and observe. Learn as many details as you can about your children's activities and feelings. Encourage them to share concerns and problems with you.

Explain that children's bodies belong only to them and that they have the right to say no to anyone who might try to touch them.

Tell your children that some adults may try to hurt them and make them do things they don't feel comfortable doing. Often these grownups call what they're doing a secret between themselves and the children.

Explain that some adults may even threaten children by saying that their parents may be hurt or killed if the child ever shares the secret. Emphasize that an adult who does something like this is doing something wrong.

Tell your children that adults they know, trust and love, or possibly someone in a position of authority like an uncle, babysitter, teacher or policeman, might try to do something like this. Try not to scare your children. Emphasize that the vast majority of grownups never do this, and that most adults are deeply concerned about protecting children from harm.

Make sure your children know that if someone does something confusing to them like touching, taking a naked picture, or giving them gifts, you want to be told about it. Reassure them and explain that they will not be blamed for whatever an adult does.

VISIT ALASKA

Group tours Northwest

On July 30, a Trailways bus, driven by Billy Foster of Dallas and directed by Weldon Cowan of Nocona Fun Tours left on a 22-day trip to Alaska. The trip covered over 9,000 miles through seven states, two Canadian provinces and the Yukon Territory.

Nineteen of the 44 passengers, most of whom reside in Haskell, are long-time friends from Haskell County. They included Johnny, Eloise and Dudley Perrin, Virgil and Margaret Wall, Chester and Mary Abbot, J. L. (Tobe) and Martha Toliver, and Glen and Jonna Caddell of Haskell; and Marvin and Myrtle Plemister, Ted and Faye Jetton and Rene Vojkufka of Weinert. Judy Anderson from Knox City and Ben and Polly McMillin from San Angelo, former Haskell residents, also were in the group.

Other Texas tour members came from Nocona, Bowie, Muenster, Denton, Dallas, Roanoke, Wichita Falls, Dean, Amarillo and Perryton. One person was from Oklahoma.

Points and activities of interest included visits to Grand Teton and Yellowstone National Parks, Seattle, Expo 86 in Vancouver and a ferry ride aboard the Maraspina through Alaska's Inside Passage which is surrounded by the beautiful Tongass National Forest.

Highlights of the ferry ride were a midnight trip through the Christmas Tree Lane in the Wrangel Narrows and a 5 a.m. viewing of the Northern Lights. Brief trips ashore were made when the bus continued a tour of Alaska with stops at Tok, Fairbanks and Anchorage. There was an eight-hour shuttle bus trip through Denali National Forest.

Tour members were rewarded by sightings of bears, caribou, ptarmign, mountain goats, glacier-fed streams, tundra-covered slopes, wild flowers and majestic snow-covered peaks. Plans to see Mt. McKinley were thwarted by clouds. Viewed with great interest by most of the group was the Alaskan pipe line.

The return trip followed the Alaskan Highway through the Yukon Territory, British Columbia, and Alberta. A memorable visit to the Banff ice fields, a climb to "touch" a glacier and a stop at Lake Louise were forever recorded on minds and film.

Many miles were also spent reminiscing with old friends, getting to know new friends, singing, playing dominoes, reading, sleeping and telling jokes and stories. Sunday mornings were spent in short devotionals, singing of spiritual hymns, prayer and praise to God, creator of all the beauty enjoyed by these travelers to Alaska.

Rochester airman completes basic

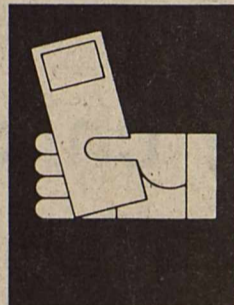

Army Private Donald E. Adkins has completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. He is the son of Billy D. and Jeanette Adkins of Rochester.

During the training, he received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

Did you know?

The label "chicken" is usually pinned on non-aggressive people, but National Wildlife magazine reports that real chickens can be aggressive and even violent.

A good example is the chicken's "pecking order." The strongest hens shower blows on the lesser ones, winning priority over feed, dusting areas and roosts.

Weinert counts on experience

A solid group of seasoned performers should provide the nucleus for a good football team at Weinert this season.

The Bulldogs won't open their 1986 season until next week. Their first game is at McCaulley Sept. 12.

Coach Chet Forehand's latest edition will depend heavily on the performances of three Perez boys, all starters on last year's outstanding team which reached the state semi-finals in the six-man playoffs.

Rickey Perez was an all-state end last season and Johnny Perez was all-district at the end position. Louis Perez, another all-district selection, will be the team's quarterback this year. All are seniors.

Other experienced hands include Robbin Raynes, Barry Walker, Kevin White and Mondy Mayfield.

New faces include Ruben Castillo and Shane Stout, a pair of juniors who didn't play last year.

Graduated from last year's team which posted a 10-2 record are all-state quarterback Shannon Forehand and running back Ed Perez. Forehand was a safety on defense and Ed Perez was a linebacker.

Coach Forehand says his team's biggest problem will be the big turnaround it faces as players are shifted to new positions. If proper adjustments can be made, he feels the Bulldogs will do well during the upcoming season.

Paint Creek opens in Hermleigh

"If we can stay healthy, we should be competitive," says Coach Max Calk in analyzing the Paint Creek football prospects for 1986.

The Pirates open their season in Hermleigh Friday.

Three seniors, three sophomores and four freshmen make up the roster of the Pirates. "We're very slim in numbers," the coach said.

Four experienced players are expected to carry big loads for the Pirates. Senior tailback Keith Medford heads the group. Others include senior quarterback Danny Letterman, sophomore center Ty Williams and sophomore end David McEwen.

Another sophomore, Dan Benton, who did not play last year, will probably be a split end for the Pirates, the coach said. Senior Thad Jennings, who transferred from Old Glory last year, may see duty as a quarterback and/or split receiver if he gets a medical OK to play.

Freshmen make up the other prospects. Among them are Chris Cockerell, end; Johnny Hoadley, tight end; Troy Jeffcoat, fullback; and Garland Medford, center.

Community supper in Rochester scheduled tonight

Rochester's annual Community Supper will begin at 7 p.m. today (Thursday) on the school playground.

Sponsored by the Rochester Booster Club, the yearly event provides a means to introduce teachers, parents, athletes, band members and others to the community.

The menu will include sirloin steak, beans and bread. Guests are asked to bring vegetables and desserts. Tea will be furnished by the Booster Club.

Meal tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Club Dance

A dance for members and guests will be held Saturday night, beginning at 9 o'clock, at the Haskell Country Club. Members may bring in-town or out-of-town guests.

Haskell County teams now in district 5-A Re-alignments of six-man football districts this year will find all four Haskell County teams competing in district 5-A. Nine teams make up the district.

Two-time state champion Jayton, which hasn't lost a game since it dropped to a six-man program in 1984, will not be in the district.

Joining Weinert, Paint Creek, Rule and Rochester in the district are Newcastle, Woodson, Lueders-Avoca, Benjamin and Goree. The district will not be divided into two zones as it was last year.

Ready or not, the Haskell Indians open their 1986 football season at home Friday night against the Munday Moguls. Kickoff is 8 o'clock.

It's a different setting from a year ago when Haskell took a 33-0 pasting at the hands of the then defending state Class A champions.

Munday's tough again this year. The Moguls have won 28 games and lost just one over the past two years, the lone loss coming in last year's semi-finals when they went down to eventual champion Goldthwaite a week after losing their all-state quarterback.

Unlike last year, however, the Indians will field an experienced team. Nineteen lettermen return from the 1985 outfit which lost its first six games and then bounced back to win three in a row to gain a playoff spot.

Coach Harold Hill and his assistants will field a team with experience at every position. And few teams anywhere will be able to match the Indians this year in speed.

As of Tuesday, Mark Young was considered the most likely candidate to open at quarterback for the Indians. In pre-season practices, Young has been in a three-way contest for the quarterback position with Pat Perez and Chan Guess.

JVs at Munday

The Haskell junior varsity football team opens its 1986 season tonight (Thursday) at Munday. The game begins at 6:30 p.m.

Fifth Quarter planned Friday after game

A "fifth quarter" fellowship following Friday night's football game will be sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Haskell.

All youth (7th through 12th grades) are invited to enjoy refreshments, games and other entertainment.

The fellowship will be in the family activity center (south of the church complex). It will end at midnight.

Teaming with him in the backfield will be Stephon Brockington at left halfback, Joel Torres at right half and Paul Harvey at fullback. Fred Shaw, still hobbling from a leg injury, will probably see limited action at fullback.

Hill was disappointed in the Indians' performance in the scrimmage at Bronte last Friday. "We looked terrible," the coach said.

It was a complete turnaround from the Indians' impressive outing against Aspermont in the first scrimmage a week earlier. After having had things pretty much their own way at Aspermont, the Indians may have been overconfident at Bronte.

There should be no problem of overconfidence here Friday. Munday is for real.

Hunters reminded of gun violations

With the dove season here, General Telephone is reminding hunters not to shoot in the direction of telephone lines and poles.

W. C. Wells, general manager of GTE's mid-Texas division, said that a shot may disrupt telephone service and endanger many people who depend on their telephones during an emergency. Damaged communication lines often do more than disrupt weekend plans, he said. The lines may be carrying emergency messages which guide planes, serve radar tracking stations or connect missile sites.

"Just remember," Wells said, "each minute a telephone is out of order, the safety of many people may be threatened, which is reason enough not to shoot birds on telephone lines or poles."

Another good reason, he said, is that it is against federal and state laws to disrupt communications.

Golf tourney this weekend

A two-man low-ball golf tournament is scheduled Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 6-7, at the Haskell Country Club. The pro am will be Friday.

Entry fee will be $90 per team. No meal is planned for Saturday night.
