WTU grants refunds

West Texas Utilities customers this month are receiving refunds and also paying less for electricity they use.

The double-barreled relief comes from a continued decline in the company's boiler fuel costs, which by law are passed on to the customers. The company is refunding over $5 million—an average of about $11 per customer—in retail revenues collected in excess of actual fuel costs over the past several months. At the same time, the amount charged customers for fuel is being reduced.

The fuel cost refund is the third within about a year for WTU, thanks mainly to the decline in the price of natural gas, WTU's main boiler fuel. A further decline in fuel costs is expected when WTU's new coal-burning Oklahoma power station goes on line late this year.

"The cheaper coal should partially offset an anticipated increase in base rates necessary to pay the plant's construction costs," said Don Welch of Abilene, vice president and director of customer services.

Welch said the new fuel cost factor, which was set by the Public Utility Commission at WTU's request, brings WTU's standard residential summer rate down below average for investor-owned utilities in Texas.

A WTU customer now will pay $72.59 for 1,000 kilowatt-hours, compared to $80.01 under the old fuel cost factor, and $40.55 for 500 kilowatt-hours, compared to $44.26. The average reported by the PUC for eight investor-owned utilities in August was $76.84 for 1,000 KWh and $38.67 for 500 KWh. The average reported by the PUC for eight investor-owned utilities in August was $75.55 for 1,000 KWh and $40.72 for 500 KWh.

WTU's average rates for an entire year now are even lower. Including both summer and winter rates, the 12-month average would be $68.84 for 1,000 KWh and $38.67 for 500 KWh.

Holliday next foe for Indians

Haskell gets another shot at its first 1986 victory Friday night when the Indians travel to Holliday.

Coach Harold Hill calls Holliday one of the better AA teams in the area. Holliday opened its season last week with an 8-3 victory over AAA Jacksboro, while Haskell opened with a 14-14 standoff against Munday.

Hill described Holliday as a ball-control team which ran off 68 plays last week while Jacksboro ran only 30. "They like to control the clock," the Haskell coach said.

The coach was not too pleased with the Indians' performance against Munday. Although he said there were some bright spots, he said he felt the offense should have broken more plays. "We had a couple of opportunities we didn't capitalized on," he said. He attributed the inefficiency to "first-game jitters" and said he expected his team to rebound this week and correct some of the mistakes made last week.

Operated by Band Boosters

New concession stand open

After almost two years of planning, Haskell Band Boosters were open for business in their new concession stand for the season's first football game Friday night.

Volunteer labor by band parents enabled all fixtures of the inside of the new metal building to be installed in time for the first game. Volunteers did the carpentry, plumbing, electrical work and painting.

Club members expressed their appreciation to those who helped.

"Without these no-pay and unnoticed workers the completion of the concession stand could not have been possible," said a club spokesman. "These people need a big 'thank you' for their talents and work effort so freely given to this project."

The concession stand will be open for business during all home games, including junior varsity and junior high.

Food served goes beyond the variety of pe-packed snacks. Featured are local store cooked chili, used for hot dogs and frito pies, home baked potatoes. An item added this year is homemade burritos. An assortment of cold and hot drinks is being served.

All parents of junior high and high school band students are urged to get involved in the club's activities. The next meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m. Sept. 15 at the Band Hall. Program plans are for more discussion of the fall festival for Oct. 25.

Rochester girl wins top 4-H honor

A 16 year-old Rochester High School junior has received the county's highest 4-H Club Award.

Michelle Scoggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Scoggins, is recipient of the Gold Star Award, which goes annually to one or two deserving Haskell County 4-H'ers.

To be considered for the honor, a 4-H'er must possess excellent leadership and citizenship abilities, must have outstanding academic credentials and have church and community responsibilities outside 4-H work.

In recognition of her selection, Michelle received a Gold Star pin furnished by the State 4-H office, a 4-H jacket donated by Trammel Bit Co., and a U. S. Savings Bond, courtesy of the Home State Bank in Rochester. In addition, she and her parents will be special guests at the District 4-H Gold Star Banquet at the Haskell Memorial Civic Center on November 4 and also at the Haskell County Extension Homemakers Information Day, November 15.

Michelle has been a member of the Rochester 4-H club for eight years. She has participated in local, county, district and state 4-H contests. Last year she won the main dish division at the State 4-H Food

Show. She also participates in District, State, and National trips. She attends Teen Leader Lab each year, and this year she attended Texas 4-H Congress in Austin and participated in the Washington Citizenship Focus trip. She keeps records of all these events by submitting a 4-H record book. Her record book has been submitted for state judging the past two years.

Michelle shares her talents and knowledge by being a junior leader for her local club. She has been on the County 4-H Council for 6 years and is currently serving as the County Council Chairman and District Council representative.

Michelle also represents her 4-H Club as well as Haskell County by presenting programs for many of the Civic Clubs in the County. She has served as a judge for neighboring County's food shows and has done radio shows and T. V. appearances.

She is also a model student at school. She is an honor student, a cheerleader, and a member of the band. She competes in U.I.L. events and is an F. F. A. member.

Child abuse tips

The Haskell County Child Welfare Board offers some more tips to parents concerning child abuses since September has been declared Child Abuse Prevention Month by County Judge B. O. Robertson.

Children who may be too frightened to talk about sexual molestation may exhibit a variety of physical and behavioral signals. Any or several of these signs may be significant. Parents should notice extreme changes in behavior such as loss of sleep and recurrent nightmares or disturbed sleep patterns and fear of the dark. There may be regression to more infantile behavior such as thumb sucking or excessive crying. There may be unusual interest in or knowledge of sexual matters or expressing affection in ways inappropriate for a child of that age. A child may develop fear of a person or an intense dislike at being left somewhere or with someone. Other behavioral signs such as aggressive or disruptive behavior, delinquent behavior, withdrawal, running away, or failing in school should alert parents to observe physical and behavioral signs.

Retired teachers meet Wednesday

Sunday School classes install officers

On Sept. 8, the Naomi and Fidelis classes met at the First Baptist Church for the installation of their new officers for the year beginning Oct. 1.

Frances Lane, president of the Naomi Class, had charge of the meeting and she welcomed the members and guests. Ford Cole gave the invocation and Frances Lane introduced Elaine Densman and let her take charge of the installation.

As she called the names of the officers, they came forward and read scriptures she had given them to read.

Alice Wootan, director of department IV, lighted a candle, which represented Our Lord being the light of the world and read Matthew 5-14-16. Faye Gray, assistant director, read Psalms 1-1 and 2 and she placed the open Bible on the table.

Teachers Billie Cadenhead and Olevia Leonard. Mrs. Cadenhead is the teacher of the Naomi Class and she read from 1 Thessalonians for her scripture and placed the book, "Our Daily Bread," on the table. Mrs. Leonard, teacher for the Fidelis class, read that constant prayer and daily devotions are essential for the growth of the Christian. She placed the book, "Open Windows," on the table. Ethel Lou Shelton, secretary for Adult IV of the Church, had a rose which represented the beauty of the gifts God has given us. Her scripture was Psalms 96:6-8. Presidents are Brytis Chamberlain of the Fidelis class and Thelma Williamson for the Naomi class.

Mrs. Densman used the bee hive for an example and the presidents could represent the queen bees. The queens see that the others work. They take the leadership.

Vice presidents Iola Henshaw and Callie Robison. Their duty is to take over the leadership in the absence of the presidents. Secretaries for classes are Ozelle Frierson, Lucile Ganaway and Vivian Roberson. Their duty is to keep accurate records of the classes and learn about all activities of the church.

Lorene Adams, treasurer, is to keep the financial records and the spending of the funds and report to the class how the funds have been spent. She is to be prompt in her labor of love. Earmal Bevel, assistant, is to send greeting cards and to do the correspondence of the class. Social chairmen, Opal Nanny, Juanita Rhea and Ozelle Frierson, are for the Fidelis class. Their duty is to see that the class has fellowship. Group captains, Pauline Derr, Lorene Mullins, Henrietta Sego, Veta Furrh, Nettie McCollum and Mattie Muriel Felker, are to notify the members of all meetings and keep check on the absentees.

Music chairman is Iola Henshaw and assistant is Freddie Ballard and pianist is Olevia Leonard. Their duty is to keep the group cheerful, happy and inspired with music and songs.

Mrs. Densman presented each officer with a bee and she emphasized in this busy bee hive we are to work and spread sweetness like the honey of the bee. She gave each member of the group a package of honey, which is symbolic of the sweetness we are to spread in our daily life. She closed by reading a poem, "Brotherhood." Bro. Densman closed with prayer.

Ford and Donna Cole led the group in singing, accompanied at the piano by Olevia Leonard.

Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, cookies, candy, punch and coffee were served to the following members:

Helen Oates, Lucile Ganaway, Vivian Roberson, Allen Wheatley, Grace McKelvain, Katherine Schwartz, Nettie McCollum, Brytis Chamberlain, Mattie Muriel Felker, Virginia Henshaw, Lois Sherman,

The National Arbor Day Foundation is giving 10 free shade trees to people who join the nonprofit Foundation during September.

A Pin Oak, Red Maple, Weeping Willow, Red Oak, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Silver Maple, Tuliptree, European Mountainash and Sugar Maple will be given as part of the Foundation's campaign to encourage tree planting.

LIKES VS. DISLIKES!

Once you've decided to buy a home, you'll probably want to take the first step - looking at homes that are "For Sale". But, maybe, that isn't the first step. You see, in order to recognize the home of your dreams, it may be necessary to first take a close look at your present home.

Before you contact a realtor, take the time to analyze your present home in terms of what you like and dislike about it. Take a sheet of paper and draw a line down the middle. Then write "Likes" above the left-hand column and "Dislikes" above the right-hand column.

Now take a tour of your present home, room-by-room, and write down the various positive qualities you've enjoyed about the home. These could be the things like the floor plan which has been excellent for the parties you enjoy so much, or the generous counter space in the kitchen. In the "Dislike" column write down the negatives which you've found to be drawbacks in your present home. These may include the fact that there is no "mudroom" for the children to use on rainy days, only one bath for your 6 family members to use and so on.

Then invite your real estate agent to visit your home. This will give you a chance to discuss your list and the agent will get a clear idea of your wants and needs.

If you're planning to sell your home soon and would like information on its current value, give us a call at 864-2665 or come by our office located at 417 S. 1st.

Group discusses role of foster parents

Debbie Vaughan, who heads the Child Protective Services for nine surrounding counties in Region 4 of the Texas Department of Human Services, and Marilyn Catalina, who has been a foster parent to 17 children over a period of eight years, conducted a very informative introductory Nova training period concerning foster parenting for five couples and one other person from Haskell and Seymour at East Side Baptist Church Monday night. Mrs. Vaughan is from Seymour and Mrs. Catalina from Abilene.

Foster care is a program designed to provide a substitute family life experience for a child in an agency-approved household, who needs care for a temporary or extended period of time. During this time the child's biological family is either non-existent or dysfunctional.

The primary goal of foster care is to reunite families or to insure the child will leave foster care for a permanent placement. Foster care is founded on the premise that all children have the right to physical care and educational and emotional nurturance. Foster parenting is not a lifetime commitment to a child, but a commitment to be meaningful during a child's lifetime.

To have a certified and licensed home, prospective foster parents must attend three-hour training sessions over a period of six weeks. There are a number of other requirements.

Brian Burgess and Mary Martin represented Haskell County Child Welfare Board.

Anyone desiring information can call the Texas Department of Human Services, 864-2682, or come to the office located on the third floor in the courthouse.

Turnbows take trip to New York

Steven and Connie Turnbow recently returned from an eight-day vacation trip to New York.

The Turnbows flew from D-FW to New York where they enjoyed seeing the Cathedral Church of Saint John The Divine, the largest Gothic structure in the world; also the World Trade Center, Empire State Building, Chase Manhattan Bank, United Nations, Federal Building, New York Stock Exchange, China Town, South Street Seaport and other places of interest.

One of the highlights of their trip was getting to take a horse drawn carriage ride around Times Square.

Their helicopter ride took them over Manhattan Island, New Jersey, Roosevelt's Island, Battery Park, Staten Island, Upper New York, Governor's Island, Lower New York, Ellis Island, Harlem, Liberty Island, Brooklyn and the Brooklyn Bridge.

They also enjoyed touring around Manhattan Island on a yacht cruise.

They had the pleasure of traveling from New York to Atlantic City,

New Jersey, and strolled on the famous Atlantic City Boardwalk.

Their favorite and most impressive sight of all was the Statue of Liberty. When Steven saw her for the first time, he said he felt the complete sense of pride in his country. He feels this is one of the times a true American appreciates the great gift of freedom and liberty which God generously gives each American.

Conservation Viewpoints

USDA Soil Conservation Service
Assisting
Haskell Soil and Water Conservation District

Haskell County producers bid 3,665 acres of land into the Conservation Reserve Program during the August application period. Notification was received last week that 16 contracts on 2,130 acres were accepted in the county.

Jim Hudson, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, stated that producers had been notified by mail of their contract status and his office will begin contract preparation this week. Hudson said many farmers had contacted SCS about planning dates.

In Texas, 4,168 producers bid in 1,147,975 acres of cropland with contracts accepted on 2,954 farms totaling 827,991 acres. According to Hudson, three counties, Cochran, Bailey and Andrews, hit or exceeded the 25-percent rule.

Across the nation, 5,091,618 acres were accepted this round out of 6,490,000 acres bid. The highest bid accepted in Texas was $55 per acre, with $40 being the bid cap in pool 2 of which Haskell County is a portion.

A fourth sign-up period may be conducted in November for 1987 crop years.

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

Last year, Texas was the third largest wheat producing state with a 187 million bushel crop.

According to the Texas Wheat Producers Association, our state has been exporting some 90 percent of its wheat, much higher than the 50 to 60 percent U.S. wheat growers as a whole are estimated to export.

It's easy to see then, why Texas wheat farmers are particularly concerned about decisions affecting U.S. wheat exports—such as the World Bank's recent $350 million low-interest loan to help Argentina boost its agriculture exports, including wheat.

Argentina already has doubled its share of world wheat exports in four years, while the U.S. share has decreased by 38 percent.

And the volume of our nation's wheat exports dropped some 43 percent between the 1981 and the 1985 marketing year, which ended in July.

Subsidized export sales—such as the recent shipment to Russia—will only be a limited help since the price of wheat has fallen from $3.91 a bushel in 1981 to $3.16 in 1985, and is projected to hit $2.25 to $2.50 in the new marketing year.

Our wheat farmers are in a tight spot, and their situation will be made even worse by such actions as that World Bank loan—20 percent of which is funded by the U.S. government.

Our tax dollars are being used to help Argentina pay off its international debt by increasing its wheat export sales—in direct competition with American farmers.

That just doesn't make sense.

While it's not a bad idea to help these countries find ways to pay their debts, we don't have to encourage competition in commodities—such as wheat—that U.S. producers already are struggling to sell in the world market.

Right now we have our own debt and an enormous trade deficit to reduce. And in agriculture trade, we have to turn the tide that—for the first time in 15 years—has us importing more farm products than we export.

I have joined in sponsoring legislation requiring U.S. representatives to international development banks to vote against loans that would create competition harmful to American producers of commodities or minerals already in world surplus.

If such a loan is approved over our objections, the U.S. government's contribution to that development bank would be reduced by an amount equal to our share of the loan.

The Foreign Agricultural Investment Reform (FAIR) bill has been approved by the Senate as an amendment to larger Export-Import Bank legislation.

I was one of 15 Senators who wrote to the chairman of the Senate Banking Committee requesting that the FAIR proposal be retained when members of a House-Senate conference committee meet on the overall legislation.

American farmers have enough problems without having U.S. taxpayers subsidizing their foreign competitors.

Square dance club to begin lessons

"Country Squares," Haskell square dance club, is reorganizing and will start beginners' lessons Sept. 15.

Lessons will be from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Corral Building at the fairgrounds. Leon Ivy of Munday will be the instructor and everyone is welcome to attend.

Reorganization of the local club coincides with Square Dance Month being observed in September. Gov. Mark White issued the following proclamation:

Square dancing is a popular form of recreation for many citizens of Texas. It is a wholesome, enjoyable, family-oriented activity that provides an opportunity for relaxation and fellowship.

Some of the earliest forms of this truly American dance can be traced to wagon trains moving westward. Square dancing has become a part of our Texas heritage and continues to attract attention to our state.

September is traditionally the month in which square dance clubs open classes for beginners. Through participation in these classes, a unique aspect of our rich cultural heritage is handed down from generation to generation.

It is fitting and proper that special recognition be paid to square dancers of the State of Texas as they open the door to beginners who will share the friendship, fun and relaxation enjoyed by those who participate in square dancing.

Therefore, I, Mark White, Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the month of September 1986, as square dance month in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 23rd day of July, 1986.

In a historic decision the Boy Scouts of America approved changing the requirements to be a Cub Scout from age to grade. Prior to this, some

Steinfath reunion held Aug 30

The fifth reunion of the Steinfath family was held at the Sons of Hermann Lodge in the community of Irby on Aug. 30.

The meeting began at 2:30 p.m. with 58 members present. There were descendants present from each of the following families:

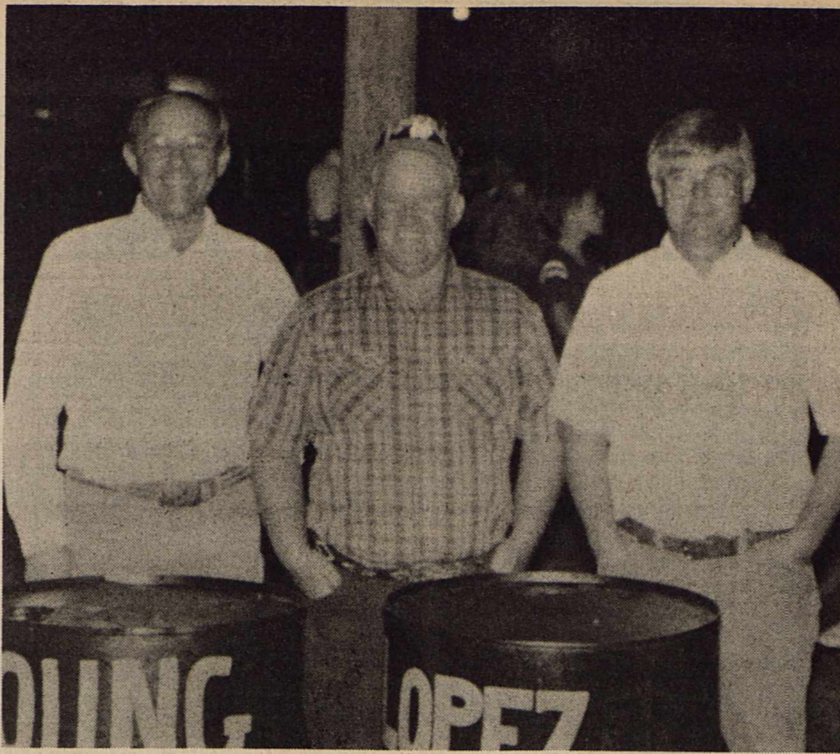

August Steinfath, Mary Kretschmer, Martha Kretschmer and Lena Weise. The largest group was the August Steinfath family. The couple traveling the longest distance to attend were Connie and Rob Adams of Houston. The oldest member was Fritz Steinfath of Haskell.

Newly elected officers are Walter Kretschmer, president; Lena Steinfath, vice president; and Kathryn Medford, secretary-treasurer.

Everyone enjoyed an afternoon of fellowship, cards and dominos. The day was concluded with a covered dish supper. The next reunion is planned for the last Saturday before Labor Day in 1988.

Most adults assume vaccinations, like tricycles and long summer vacations, are just for kids. But, according to the Texas Medical Association, many adults are not adequately protected against vaccine-preventable diseases.

Dyess group shoots for record hoagie

What do you get when you mix 100 pounds of Danish ham, Swiss cheese and American cheese, 95 pounds of hard salami, 110 pounds of cooked salami, 25 pounds of onions, three cases of tomatoes, 72 heads of lettuce, two gallons of vinegar, two gallons of oil and 650 feet of bread?

Hopefully, for the Dyess Air Force Base Officers' Club, the answer is the world's largest hoagie sandwich.

Club members will attempt to make it into the Guinness Book of World Records by creating a 650-foot hoagie Sept. 19 at the base parade grounds. The current Guinness Book of World Records lists the Officers' Club at Altus AFB, Okla., as having made the largest hoagie sandwich, measuring only 520 feet. Altus AFB set the record in 1985.

According to M/Sgt. Victor Jackowsky, manager of the Dyess

AFB Officers' Club, once all the ingredients are gathered and the volunteers organized, it should take approximately four hours to construct the world's largest hoagie.

Sgt. Jackowsky is very excited and optimistic about the upcoming challenge of making the 650-foot hoagie. "Our chances of beating the current record of 520 feet are great," he said, "thanks to the support of Dyess AFB people and vendors throughout the Abilene area."

Abilene area vendors are donating all the ingredients to make

Letters to the Editor

Editor: I'm writing this letter to the public because I think that I have falsely been accused of something and my name has been slandered because I never delivered nothing.

The reason I'm in jail is because a man asked me a question and I answered him, and if it's anything wrong with answering a yes or no question I'd like to know what it is. That's all I did, was to answer a question.

But the way it was put in the paper makes me look like a criminal which I'm not, and I want everyone to know I'm not. And because of what they put in the paper makes me look bad. So bad that my friends and former employers have nothing to do with me. It's not right what they're doing to me or my name. I think it's discrimination. The other day I read a little script in a paper that goes like this:

"There's always an answer, There's always a way--although there's no prospect in sight of better tomorrows. Just learn how to pray and all things will at last come out right...you'll be rewarded. The good Lord above--your plight and your need understands. All that He asks is your faith and your love. Know this: you'll be safe in his hands. Hands you can trust in the dark and in the light--to guard and to guide and to lead you aright."--Patience Strong.

That's what I've done--gave the Lord my hand to guide me through this. If no one else will stand by me or lend a helping hand, the Lord will. Thanks for listening.

Obituary Farm program participants must meet federal regulations

Pearl King

Funeral services were held Tuesday at the First United Methodist Church for Pearl (Mrs. Henry) King.

Mrs. King, 96, a retired cafe operator, died Sunday at Haskell Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. Cecil Shirey officiated at the services. Burial was in Willow Cemetery, under direction of Holden-McCauley Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Hess Hartsfield, Bill Lane, Ray Webb, Wallace Cox Jr., Bertis White and Olen King. Honorary pallbearers were Raja Hassen and Charles Smith.

Mrs. King was born May 6, 1890, in Dexter, Kansas. She and her first husband, Claude W. Warren, opened a coffee shop in Haskell in 1931 and later built the Warren Drive-In and operated it with their son, Willard and his wife Cathryne until 1951.

She married Henry King August 30, 1979. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include her husband; a daughter and son-in-law, Marian and Glynn Boley of Ada, Oklahoma; five grandchildren; nine great-grandchildren; and three great-great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by two sons, Claude C. Warren in 1934 and Willard Warren in 1984, and by a daughter Louise Turner in 1985.

You're reading The Haskell Free Press, and we thank you!

To qualify for the 1986 farm program benefits, program participants must maintain acreage conservation reserve (ACR), or idled cropland in accordance with the acreage reduction and land diversion regulations.

"Once adequate protection is established on this acreage to prevent soil and water erosion, farmers are required to use normal control measures for weeds, insects and rodents," said Glenn Brzozowski, executive director of the Haskell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

"If these measures are insufficient," Brzozowski said, "additional control measures are mandatory."

Brzozowski said it would be unfortunate at this point for a producer to be found out of compliance because of failure to control weeds on acreage conservation reserve land. "Keeping the land free from weeds is a very important program requirement and farmers who fail to do so will be out of compliance and could lose program benefits," Brzozowski said. "Provisions for maintenance and conservation management are part of the acreage reduction program contract."

The ASCS official explained that most farmers want to do what is best for their land and many of them have made conservation practices an integral part of their family operations.

About 60,000 acres of cropland in Haskell County have been diverted from crop production to ACR through the 1986 farm programs. ASCS is checking farms to see that the acreage is properly maintained.

Vaccines save $1 billion a year

Immunizations save U. S. citizens an estimated billion dollars a year in health care costs—more than any other preventive health care practice.

These savings illustrate the remarkable effectiveness and good sense of immunizations, according to Dr. Robert Bernstein, Texas Commissioner of Health. "The widespread use of vaccines in the U. S. has had a tremendous impact on disease prevention," Bernstein said. "We have seen the number of diphtheria cases reduced from 206,939 cases in 1921 to no cases in 1985, and polio cases have decreased from 21,269 cases in 1952 to none in 1985."

He added that past success in controlling these diseases does not mean that immunizations are unnecessary. "Quite the contrary, if children are not immunized, we risk new epidemics of infectious disease," he said.

In Texas, 1,211 cases of vaccine-preventable disease were reported in 1985. These included 450 cases of measles, 321 cases of mumps, 52 cases of rubella, 379 cases of pertussis and nine cases of tetanus.

To help prevent cases of vaccine-preventable disease, Dr. Bernstein advised parents to check family immunization records to be sure they are complete and up-to-date. "Parents whose children are not immunized should call a doctor or local health departments to make arrangements to receive the vaccinations," he said.

In Texas, state law requires immunizations for polio, tetanus, measles, rubella, mumps and diphtheria before children may register in public schools. In addition, the Texas Department of Health and American Academy of Pediatrics recommends pertussis shots for children, beginning at two months of age.

Texas has increase in crime statistics

Texas crime statistics compiled for the first half of 1986 exceeded the figures recorded for the same period in 1985. Both the crime rate and volume of index crimes increased, according to the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"The crime rate noted for the first six months of this year rose 15.8 percent to 3,604, crimes per 100,000 population," said Col. Jim Adams, DPS director. "The volume of index crimes for the same period was 589,985, an increase of 18.6 percent compared to the first half of 1985."

Adams said all seven major crime categories were up.

Robbery showed the largest increase in the violent crime listings, increasing 34.6 percent.

The number of aggravated assault cases rose 30.1 percent, while rape and murder posted increases of 13.6 percent and 1.1 percent, respectively.

Motor vehicle theft led the three property crime categories, showing a 21.2 percent increase. Burglary was 20.5 percent higher, while an increase of 15.6 percent was recorded in the number of thefts.

Twenty percent of the index crimes reported were cleared by arrests in the first half of 1986. The estimated value of property stolen during the commission of index crimes was over $705 million with $281 million worth of property recovered by police officers.

There were two Texas law enforcement officers killed in line of duty by criminal action in the first six months of this year. One officer died in a duty-related accident. Additionally, a total of 2,192 assaults on officers were reported.

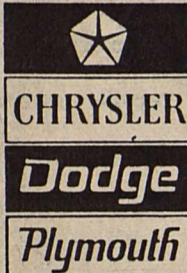

DWI arrests in the first half were down 9.2 percent and totaled 62,404. Drug-related arrests decreased 7.4 percent to 29,551.

The crime statistics were derived from reports submitted by 797 Texas law enforcement agencies to the Uniform Crime Reporting Section of the DPS.

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 15 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the legislature to provide by general law for the apportionment of the value of railroad rolling stock among the counties in which the property of the railroad is located for purposes of property taxation, and would delete the requirement that the Comptroller participate in making the allocation. To comply with both statutory and constitutional law, the apportionment currently is being made by the State Property Tax Board in conjunction with the Comptroller.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment allowing political subdivisions the opportunity to engage in and transact business with authorized mutual insurance companies in the same manner as with other insurance companies."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 73 proposes a constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to authorize any county, city, town, or other political subdivision to use public funds or credit to pay insurance premiums on nonassessable life, health, or accident policies. Due to the prohibition in the constitution against the lending of credit and granting of public money, political subdivisions currently are prohibited from becoming shareholders in associations such as mutual-insurance companies, in which policyholders are shareholders. A nonassessable mutual insurance policy does not allow a company to raise capital by assessing the policy-

St. George Church plans celebration

The annual Jamaica will be held Sunday, Sept. 13, at St. George Church from 11:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Many fun activities are planned.

There will be a number of food stands featuring home-cooked Mexican food. Games for children, as well as adults, also are planned. A live band will be featured during the afternoon and bingo will be played by those who prefer to sit and take it easy.

Another feature will be the grand raffle with prizes of $300, $200 and $100.

The coronation of the queen will take place at 5. Candidates for Jamaica queen are Sheila Castoreno and Mary Helen Martinez.

Teams for the Jamaica live been working for a long time to prepare for this Sunday. The last event before the Jamaica will be a dance this Saturday, Sept. 12, from 8 p.m. to 12 at the Haskell Civic Center. Candidates will be presented to the public at the dance.

Members of St. George are hoping that the weather will cooperate with the big festival Sunday. In the event of bad weather, many of the planned activities will be held inside.

Sonora caverns 'most beautiful'

Expert speleologists call Sonora Caverns the "most beautiful cave in the world."

It is, and nothing defines beauty like the "Butterfly," the only formation of its kind in the world.

The cave has more crystal on its walls than any other and because of its small opening, it is a clean, sterile cave. Exquisite cave coral and coral globulite cover the cave.

Insurance deadline approaches

Wheat growers are reminded that Sept. 30 is the last day to apply for crop insurance for barley, oats and wheat in Texas and Oklahoma counties, according to Bruce Hottel, Federal Crop Insurance Corp. (FCIC) district director for USDA.

Recently, a new crop insurance plan, called Actual Production History (APH), became available to farmers for specific crops. It is designed to promote actuarial integrity and fairness on a producer-by-producer basis. "Using your own farm records or other available sources of information, an APH yield is determined for each crop produced. An individual APH yield is figured by averaging your annual yields for up to the 10 most recent years, including 1986 yields, if you have information available prior to the crop insurance sales closing date. For years that you lack farm records, FCIC will use 'transitional yield' based on local production history. The higher your individual APH yield, the more insurance protection you are offered," explained Hottel, "and the lower your premium rate."

Since no one crop insurance policy is best for every situation, individual and financial needs must be considered before buying insurance.

To find out more about the program, contact an authorized insurance agent, Hottel urged.

Every year thousands of Texas hunters take to the outdoors in search of wild game.

But law enforcement officials in southeast Texas say a few hunters last fall stumbled over a different type of game—a con game.

Investigators say that during October 1985, a series of advertisements were run in Houston and Beaumont newspapers offering several deer, turkey and quail leases.

Most Wanted: Con artist added to list

The hunting leases sounded too good to be true. They were. It turned out that the leases did not exist.

Prospective customers were given a telephone number to call. The number turned out to be to an answering service in San Antonio.

A person claiming to own the hunting leases would contact potential clients who had left their telephone numbers with the answering service. An appointment would be made to see some land, usually near the town of Hondo in south central Texas.

Potential customers would be shown some land. They were not aware that the "owner" of the land had simply changed the locks on some of the gates and entered onto the land as though he owned it.

Detectives say warrants have been issued in Jefferson, Uvalde and Bandera counties for Lon Paul Robbins in connection with this scam.

Robbins, 55, is described as a white male, 5-8, 180 pounds, with blue eyes and brown hair. He occasionally wears a short beard and moustache.

He has worked as a new and used car salesman in the past, investigators say, and he is a suspect in a scheme to steal and transport automobiles from the Port Arthur area.

Keys to the new vehicles were either stolen from the new car show room or the keys would be reproduced, detectives say, with the suspects returning at a later date to merely drive off in the vehicle. Some of the vehicles stolen in this manner were new pickup trucks, according to the Jefferson County Sheriff's Department.

Robbins was last seen in the Port Arthur area on July 2 when he fled from law enforcement officials who say he left behind several sets of Chrysler and GM keys.

Robbins has been added to the Texas Most Wanted list. A cash reward of up to $1,000 is being offered by the Governor's office for information leading to his capture. Anyone with information is asked to call the Texas Crime Stoppers Advisory Council toll free at 1-800-252-8477.

Grant established at HSU

Hardin-Simmons University has established a Texas Equalization Grant Alternate Award of $1,000 a year.

Gerry Armstrong, director of financial aid, said the award has been established in the light of proposed cuts in the budget and reduced funds for the Texas Equalization Grant (TEG) for students attending private and church related colleges and universities.

"This money does not come from state sources," Armstrong said. "It comes from a private source."

The award will be given in increments of $500 per semester and will be given in addition to other aid for which a student may be eligible, he said.

Armstrong credited the HSU administration and trustees for the "additional funding" to supplement the TEG.

"All we've been reading about lately is cuts in the state budgets," he said. "These cuts, whatever the final outcome, will adversely affect the Texas Equalization Grant program. (TEG)."

The HSU official said the new award is a "strong indicator of our willingness and ability" to help students.

Did you know?

Feeling blue?

Well, if you're a satin bowerbird, that means you're feeling great.

Ranger Rick magazine reports that the dove-size Australian bird's favorite color is blue. Male bowerbirds decorate their nests with with blue objects to impress female bowerbirds. This means gathering blue flowers, feathers, plastic toys, pens, toothbrushes and any other blue objects that the bowerbird finds attractive.

We know that most banks are pretty much alike. Some have more branches than others, while all offer the same kinds of accounts, the same basic interest rates, the same financial programs. If there's a difference between banks, it's got to be the way a bank takes care of its customers.

And here's where we lay claim to the successful growth and dependability of our bank ... in the professional, prompt, attentive and interested service we like to give every customer of ours. Regardless of whether you keep your checking account with us or make us responsible for watching over a multi-million dollar business, we're steadfast over the long haul!

TAX PLANNING

Written By
Richard E. Rodgers, CPA

TAX LAW TO BE SIGNED SOON

The media is full of information about the tax bill approved on August 16 by the House-Senate Conference Committee. Almost everyone is predicting quick and easy passage of the bill by the full House and Senate; President Reagan has hailed the bill as a "triumph" and says he will sign it. But don't act too hastily based on early information that you receive about the bill. Take the time to get a clear picture of how the bill will affect you, not only this year, but also for several years. Develop a strategy that will save you the most in taxes over the long run.

While the general form of the bill's provisions are generally clear at this point, working out the details and tying up the loose ends were left to the joint tax committee staff. The final bill is expected to be lengthy and as one analyst put it, "not all that simple."

In its broad outlines the bill is considered landmark legislation, the first significant tax reform since World War II. When it is fully in effect, this law may indeed give us a fairer and simpler tax code. However, the transition rules may leave taxpayers anything but impressed with the bill's fairness or simplicity.

What the bill does do is lower individual and corporate tax rates and shift over $120 billion in taxes from individuals to corporations over a five-year period. It takes more than six million low income people off the tax rolls altogether and provides four out of five taxpayers with a single 15% tax rate. It eliminates deductions and credits that have been perceived as "loopholes."

As the details of the bill are revealed, take the time to review the new law's effect on your situation. There should still be time to act to cut your 1986 taxes and, more importantly, to plan a strategy that will minimize your taxes in future years as well.

Haskell Nursing Center

This month we have three birthdays. Easter May, C. V. Langford and Pauline Williams. We would like to wish them all a happy birthday.

We have a new resident we would like to welcome, Dan Anderson of Rule.

Wednesday of last week Rev. Hodges came out and had a devotional for our residents.

Sunday, C. L. Shipman gave us a

Sunday service. All the residents came out for it. Then the Church of Christ singers came out and sang some songs for us. At 4, the Church of Christ came out for church services.

We would like to thank everyone for coming out.

Pauline Williams was visited by Joy and Aubry Spelding.

Dan Anderson was visited by all his family.

Comment deadline extended

Closing date for comments on the proposed Highly Erodible Land and Wetland Conservation provisions—commonly referred to as cross-compliance, sodbuster and swampbuster—of the Food Security Act of 1985 has been extended from Aug. 26 to Oct. 25, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced.

These provisions are designed to reduce soil loss due to wind and water erosion, protect the nation's long-term capability to produce food and fiber, reduce sedimentation and improve water quality; assist in preserving the nation's wetlands; and lessen the incentives to produce agricultural commodities on highly erodible farmland.

The comment period was extended because of the complex issues involved in implementation of the new provisions.

Comments should be sent to: Director, Cotton, Grains and Rice Division, USDA/ASCS, Box 2415, Washington, DC 20013.

Comments must be received on or before Oct. 27 to be assured of consideration.

Chinese flavor for State Fair

The China Pavilion will be open daily from 10 to 10.

Annual 4-H awards program honors 45 in Haskell County

Forty-five Haskell County 4-H members received awards for their accomplishments in 1986 at the annual Haskell County awards program Aug. 28. The Rule and Weinert 4-H clubs hosted the hamburger supper at the First Baptist Church in Rule.

DON'T SHOOT AT POWER LINES!

NEVER SHOOT AT POWER LINES or the insulators that hold them, because the result could be a dangerous downed electric line. A severed line could cause a serious electrical outage, and the downed line itself could be extremely hazardous.

- Keep Children Away from Electrical Outlets
 Don't let small children play near electrical outlets. A child could put some object in an outlet when you're looking away. A wise safety precaution would be to put safety caps in all wall outlets.
- Always Disconnect Cords by Pulling on the plug
 When disconnecting electrical items, be sure to pull on the plug — not the cord! If you pull on the cord, you'll eventually wear it out and expose hazardous wires. Also, don't overload extension cords or outlets.

ADDITIONAL SAFETY TIPS:

- Use Power Tools Wisely
 Be sure wiring is in good condition and all circuits are grounded. Never use electric tools in the rain or on wet surfaces. Also, when buying new equipment, look for the "UL" seal of approval from Underwriters Laboratories.

Kristi Rainey marries Michael Ken Neill

Kristi Diann Rainey and Michael (Mike) Ken Neill, both Lubbock residents, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, Aug. 30.

The ceremony was conducted in the First Baptist Church of Friona by Daymun White, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Rainey of Friona and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Neill, also of Friona.

Eva Miller, organist, and Lucy Beth Hinkle, pianist, accompanied Geary Brogden and Linda Murphres, vocalists. They sang "Up Where We Belong," "Through the Eyes of Love," and "Just You and I." Then Linda sang a solo, "A Long and Lasting Love," and Geary sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The altar was decorated with a brass arched candleabra entwined with lemon leaf, English ivy and white baby's breath. Two heart-shaped brass candleabras held fresh flower arrangements of white gladioli, white carnations, orchid daisies, white daisies, white Fuji mums, lemon leaf, English ivy, leather leaf and baby's breath.

Completing the altar setting was the unity candle decorated with violet flowers surrounding the wedding invitation. The unity candle was flanked by two smaller candles that were lit by the couple's parents before being seated.

The parent's pew was marked with dark purple satin and orchid chrysaline ribbon, greenery and white daisies. The grandparents' pew was marked with ribbon identical to the parents' pew and was adorned with greenery and baby's breath.

As the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she was attired in a cathedral length gown of polyester sheer. The gown was designed with a sculptured open neckline trimmed with venice lace and faux pearls. The dress featured long puffed Juliet sleeves and fitted bodice trimmed with alencon and venice lace, sequins and faux pearls with a basque waistline. The full skirt was accented with venice lace motifs. The founce hemline extended to a cathedral length train. The back of the dress was trimmed with stin bows and ruffles.

The wide brimmed satin hat was trimmed in venice lace adorned with sequins and faux pearls. A blusher of illusion was gathered at the side with a satin bow and a pouf of English net extending to a fingertip length net veil.

The bride carried a silk cascade bouquet of purple and white cattaeya orchids, lily of the valley, white stephanotis, nephthytis and miniature English ivy. Two pearl hearts were in the center of the bouquet, with pearl springs scattered throughout.

Following bridal tradition, she wore a pearl necklace, belonging to Julie Cathey, a close friend of the family, for something old. Her wedding attire was new. She borrowed a pair of pearl earrings from her sister-in-law, Penny Rainey. She wore pennies minted in the year of the bride's and groom's births in her shoes. She also wore the traditional blue garter and a garter designed and made by her sister-in-law in her chosen colors.

Cindy Marble of Floydada was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Penny Rainey of Seminole, sister-in-law of the bride, Kathie Ross and Connie Martinez, both of Floydada, Tomi Hochleutner of Hurst and Christy Prock of Lubbock.

The feminine attendants wore tea length gowns of violet lace with matching satin lining. The gowns featured sabrina necklines and bodices belted with satin cummerbunds at the waistlines, highlighted with a bow in the back. They carried bouquets of silk orchid cornflowers, orchid trueedia, dark purple statice and miniature ivy leaves tied with lace and satin ribbon atop white satin and lace fans.

Steve Carlile of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen were Rusty Rainey of Friona, brother of the bride, Michael Chaney of Abilene, Scott Slater of Burkburnett, Paul Melton of San Angelo and Bill Roser of Lubbock.

Serving as ushers were Jeff Rainey, brother of the bride, Mark Neill, brother of the groom, and John Cass.

Flower girls were Katy Weatherly and Tessa Baker, both nieces of the groom from Friona. Tyson Neill of Friona was the ring bearer and candles were lit by Lisa Weatherly, niece of the groom, and Jonathan Isbell, cousin of the bride.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Christy Pruitt registered wedding guests. Tian Younger handed out rice bags.

The reception table was covered with a white satin lace cloth gathered with violet bows atop a white floor length skirt. The bride's bouquet was placed in a sterling silver candleabra, serving as the centerpiece.

The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a Precious Moments bride and groom figurine. The bottom tier was formed by six small heart shaped cakes surrounding a crystal flowing fountain. Punch, nuts and mints were also served from the bride's table.

The groom's table was covered with a gray floor length cloth. The groom's chocolate cake was decorated with fruit and the centerpiece was a carved watermelon basket filled with fruit. It was surrounded by an assortment of fruits, cheese and crackers. Coffee was also served.

Mysti Younger, Pam Cathey and Donna Birchum, cousin of the bride, served cake and punch from the bride's table. Serving from the groom's table were Becky Dunn, Cheryl Weatherly, Susan Baker, sisters of the groom, and Lisa Neill, sister-in-law of the groom.

Others assisting with the reception were Connie Neelley, Karene Cass, Becky Riethmayer, Stacy Hancock, Cherry Wells, Julie Cathey, Pat Battey, Betty Chaney and Mary Maddox.

For a wedding trip to the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the bride chose a pink candy-striped sundress with matching full length jacket, a gift from the groom. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russel Rainey of Weinert, grandparents of the bride, Mrs. Dean Allred of Clyde, the bride's grandmother and Mr. and Mrs. Cayce Dunn, Derek and Jennie of Casper, Wyoming, sister of the groom and her family.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Floydada High School and is employed with Republic Band Mortgage Corporation of Lubbock.

The bridegroom is a 1983 graduate of Friona High School and is currently attending Texas Tech University. He is employed with Texas Tech Burnett Center for Beef Cattle Research.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at the T-Box Restaurant in Friona.

Several bridal courtesies were held for Kristi prior to her marriage.

Mark White fights for political life

AUSTIN—Texas Gov. Mark White, fighting for his political life, took the offensive last week against the Texas House, threatening to veto the new betting bill unless House Speaker Lewis' team solves the state's fiscal crisis in a second 30-day session.

What White means is raise taxes, and he's backed by Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby on that issue.

But the House again demonstrated its opposition to a tax hike when some 85 state representatives rallied to support House Speaker Gib Lewis. Opposed for re-election back home, Lewis is also fighting for his career.

Tempers were hot and House members complained of being pushed around by the governor and senators who want a sales tax increase.

The House and Senate are now farther apart than before. Endgame politics and re-election rhetoric may have derailed what appeared to be a new basis of cooperation.

Cut First, Tax Later

Last week, Lewis softened his stance, saying he was not entirely opposed to a tax hike. In fact, for days, Capitol scuttlebutt had it that Lewis would allow a minimal tax bill in the second session because he had saved his re-election face.

Hobby, for his part, signaled he would accept the so-called Band-Aid approach that senators had vowed to kill.

But after White's threat, the budget is being sacrificed for parimutuel betting, but the real issue is predominate House sentiment that taxes should be raised in January, not now.

Now Into Deficit

By mid-week, Hobby warned legislators they faced the most radical loss of funds of any state in the nation's history. By not acting, they could also become the nation's laughing stock.

Hobby called the first session a flop, but said a stopgap plan of tax hikes, budget cuts and accounting maneuvers will keep state checks from bouncing, if the House okays it in September.

The House Republican response was to question the accuracy of Democratic Treasurer Ann Richard's statistics.

The curtain rang down early Thursday on the first special session, four days after the state ended the fiscal year $231 million in the hole, the first deficit in 25 years.

Lawmakers finished business on only three major issues: legalized betting at horse and dog tracks, school discipline and interstate and branch banking.

Pressured and determined, the governor came out fighting. He gave legislators the weekend off to face voters back home before starting the new session Monday morning, when he planned to address a joint session.

They went home fatigued, particularly the workhorses on the budget committees who had started weeks ago hammering out the budget cuts.

Don't let anyone tell you re-election politics don't figure in. They do.

What's Left?

The situation remains that White and Lewis factions are still on a collision course. Either one, or both, may win or lose in November despite the tax issue. But they are playing hardball like it hasn't been played in years.

Departing for home, most legislators were too tired or confused to speculate what, if anything, may be accomplished in the next 30-day session. A little hope was held out that possibly a combination of cuts and taxes, tied together in one bill, will emerge, and peace will be at hand.

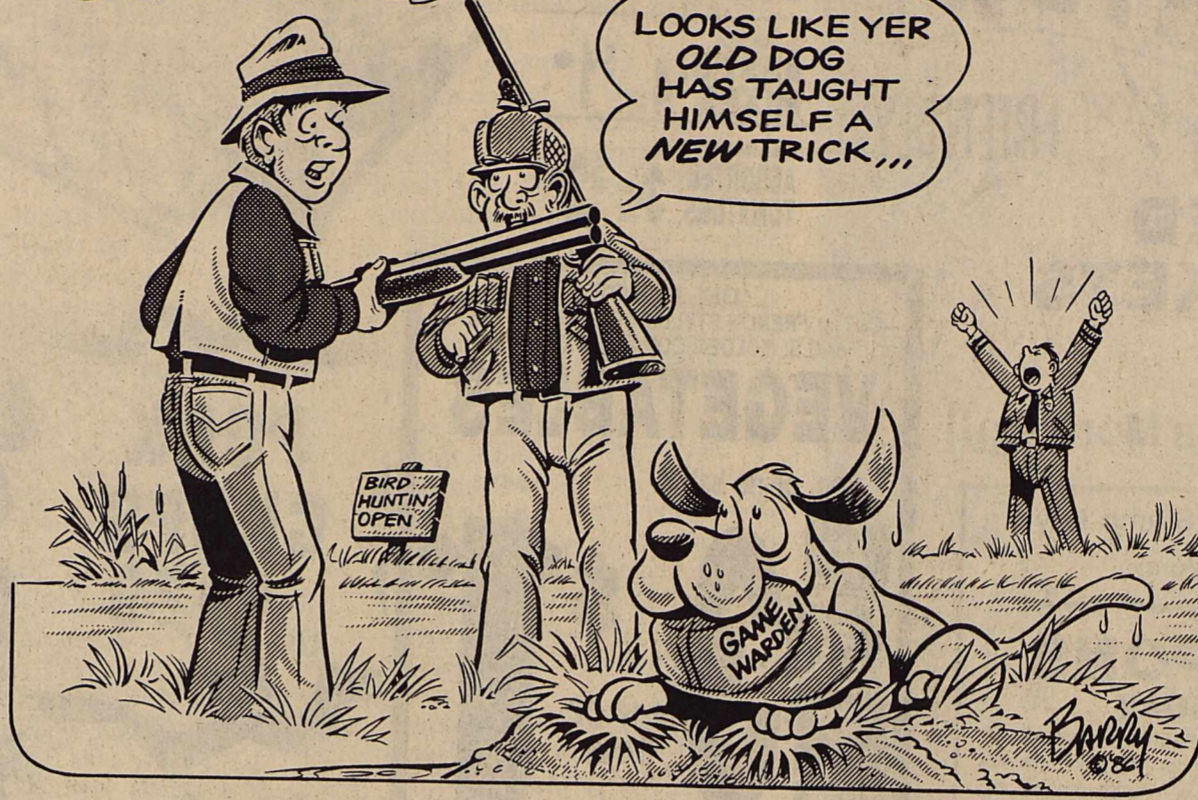

Support for a tax bill is more evident in the House. With little to show so far, his supporters realize how another session of failure will harm Mark White's re-election campaign. Half-a-loaf wouldn't hurt, but they'll get it when Lewis says they can.

Clements-White Debate

Meanwhile, the negotiations are on again for a televised debate between White and Clements.

Clements, leading in the polls, officially started his fall campaign last week in Dallas. He complained the media attached the word "secret" to his plan to balance the budget. He denied ever using it.

plain talk

BY WENDELL FAUGHT

I heard a neighbor tell his daughter how he used to hear programs on the radio BTY (before television).

"What did you look at?" was her response.

Anyone old enough to recall the pre-1950s knows that radio listeners of those days looked at whatever was at hand. You could listen to the radio while sewing, ironing, sweeping the floor, doing homework or shining your shoes. No pictures were emitted from the old Philco, so you just used your imagination to erect the scenes and profile the characters.

Since TV, I've watched hundreds of football games on the tube. But during that span I have yet to see a game as exciting as some of those revealed in the word pictures of Ted Husing, Bill Stern and Harry Wismer.

Today, we want everything neatly tied up in a single package. We call not on our mind to create the images of the heroes of the novels we read. Instead, we watch television where the features of every character, right down to the tatoos, are presented in glowing color.

Mark Twain couldn't tell anyone what Tom Sawyer looked like. No reader of the classic would mentally form the same picture. But today's preschooler knows his every physical characteristic. When Margaret Mitchell created Rhett Butler and Scarlet O'Hara, I'm sure she didn't have Clark Gable and Vivian Leigh look-alikes in mind.

Kids don't play baseball as they once did. In the old days, you could play baseball with three or four players on each side. The ball (singular) and bat (singular) may have been recycled discards and if a couple of kids had baseball gloves they shared them with players on the opposing team. Every player was his own umpire; if he didn't think he was out at first base, he wasn't out unless a protester was tough enough to physically remove him from the base.

Kids could play when, and as long, as they wanted. A game could start at 7 o'clock in the morning, in the heat of the afternoon or shortly before dark. Sometimes they kept score, but they never kept track of innings. The game was over when the kids got tired, lost interest, someone had to leave or some distraction prevailed.

Kids still play baseball. They play on nine-man teams, have uniforms, umpires and all that stuff—and they play at 7:30 on Tuesday night, period. Parents sell Cokes and hot dogs and peanuts. Like the television program, it's all a packaged thing.

We've become an over-organized country. Everything goes by the clock. Good or bad, your normal TV show is going to last 30 minutes, less time out for commercials, so it can be completed in time for the next one to begin. Your dose of the evening news is going to be 30 minutes (less commercials) whether there's a lot of news to report or nothing of interest. Your weather report is going to be x-number of minutes, even if the most significant weather news of the day is the temperature in Presidio.

Everything's packaged for us. Decision making has passed on to others.

Seat belt use brings fewer traffic deaths

Front-seat fatalities in passenger cars and light trucks fell 13.3 percent during the first nine months under the new mandatory safety belt law in Texas.

There were 217 fewer deaths in September 1985 through May 1986 (1,407), compared to September 1984 to May 1985 (1,624).

"Traditionally, summer months are a challenge to fatality reductions because of heavy recreational driving. And, of course, with the lowered gasoline prices, we have a real challenge. We are confident, however, that the good news trend will continue, even if the percentage points slip a little during the summer," said George R. Gustafson, Texas Safety Association president.

Ask VA

Q. Do the new eligibility assessment procedures for veterans set income limits for VA health care? What are these limits?

Yes. Income limits were set by Public Law 99-272, the Veterans' Health Care Amendments of 1986, but they do not apply to service-disabled and several other groups of veterans. The income limits or categories are as follows: Category A applies to veterans whose income is below $15,000 if single or $18,000 if married, plus $1,000 for each additional dependent; Category B covers veterans whose income is above $15,000 (but not over $20,000) if single, or $18,000 (but less than $25,000) if married, plus $1,000 for each additional dependent; and Category C applies to veterans whose income exceeds $20,000 if single, or $25,000 if married, plus $1,000 for each additional dependent. Category C veterans must agree to pay a deductible.

Q. When does the home eligibility for a veteran expire?

A. Loan entitlement is no longer subject to an expiration date.

House members rallied at Lewis' office. Lewis repeated his first position: cut the budget first and then we'll think about raising taxes.

Lewis still holds the majority of votes in a divided House. One frustrated pro-tax representative even accused Lewis of aiding White's Republican opponent, former Gov. Bill Clements. He implied no tax bill would wound Mark White.

Are we watching legislators vote on the basis of whether they want to support the re-election of either Mark White or Gib Lewis? Or can the fiscal crisis stand as a valid issue by itself? Maybe both.

Veto Anyway?

White is suspected of wanting to veto the betting bill anyway. Pro-horserace members are reluctant to give White his tax bill until after the new bill becomes law. They don't trust him.

On the surface, it appears

The first organized rodeo in Texas, and possibly in the world, was a two-day event held in the summer of 1888 at Canadian, in the Texas Panhandle. The rodeo was held adjacent to the Santa Fe Railroad stockyards. The idea was conceived by a group of cowboys from the Laurel Leaf Ranch. Events featured were steer roping, bronc riding, calf roping and horse racing.

Indians, Munday battle to 14-14 tie

Haskell did all of its scoring in the first five and a half minutes Friday night as the Indians opened their 1986 campaign with a 14-14 tie against the Munday Moguls.

Munday also got a touchdown in the opening minutes, and added another in the final period.

The Indians scored first when Stephon Brockington went over from 7 yards out to climax a five-play, 24-yard drive set up by Steven Rodriguez recovery of a Munday fumble on the opening kickoff. Mark Young ran a keeper for the bonus points and Haskell was out front 8-0 with the clock reading 9:40.

It was a short-lived lead. Munday's John Browning took the ensuing kickoff at his 18 and handed off to Cornelius Jones who raced 82 yards for a touchdown. When Lowell Hutchens passed to Ernest Escamilla for a 2-point conversion to knot the score at 8-8, the game lacked 40 seconds being three minutes old.

Less than three minutes later, the Indians' Joel Torres hauled in a Munday punt at the Haskell 19 and raced 81 yards for a touchdown. A 2-point conversion attempt failed.

The Indians nursed the 14-8 margin until the 6:05 mark of the final period when Anthony Stinnett ran 42 yards for a touchdown. Louie Torres blocked Hutchens' extra-point attempt to leave the score knotted at 14-all.

Haskell had an opportunity to re-take the lead, but an intercepted pass put out the lights. After Haskell recovered a fumble at the Munday 28, Young's pass was intercepted by Stinnett at the goal line.

Both teams had major threats during the middle rounds. A 19-yard touchdown pass from Young to Ponciano Lopez in the second quarter was nullified by a penalty. Young then passed on fourth down to Derrick Billington but he was pulled down at the 10, a yard short of a first down.

After Munday's Jones brought the second-half kickoff back to his 47, the Moguls marched to the Haskell 7. A penalty cost the Moguls 5 yards and Andy Griffith added 4 more yards to the deficit by hitting Jones behind the line. Jones' fourth-down field goal attempt was low and wide.

Pirates to open season

The Paint Creek Pirates open their new football season at home Friday night against Moran.

Last week's scheduled game at Hermeleigh was cancelled because of bad weather and roads which were closed due to flooding.

Weinert's Bulldogs will open their season at McCaulley Friday night and the Rule Bobcats will open at Trent.

Only Haskell County six-man school to play last week was Rochester and the Steers defeated the Guthrie Jaguars 19-13 in Guthrie. This week, Rochester will be at home against Patton Springs.

Scott O'Neal ran for two touchdowns and Paul Ortiz passed to John Mark Wyatt for another as the Steers opened on a victorious note.

Scout troop reorganized

A rally for new members and a reorganization of Boy Scout Troop 136 was held Monday evening.

Bill Perry, scout master, has planned a year of fun and adventure and for the scouts, as well as the teaching of many new skills.

Perry announced plans for the Camporee Oct. 17-19 on the Weldon Norman farm in Rule. He said that scouts should spend at least 18 nights camping each year, six of these at summer camp. He plans for Troop 136 to have all these campouts.

Because of the emphasis on camping, Troop 136 is in urgent need of camping gear. Anyone with outdoor cooking equipment they are not using is urged to donate it to the Boy Scouts. Any other donations will be appreciated. These may be given to Ann Johnston at Haskell National Bank or to Perry. A car wash is scheduled Saturday, Sept. 27, to help raise money for camping equipment. Money is badly needed.

Sam Pace, chairman of the Scout Committees, set up committees to be active this year.

Next meeting will be at 7 p.m. Monday, Sept. 15, at the Scout Building by the Methodist Church. Anyone interested in joining is invited to attend. Any boy 10 1/2 and in the fifth grade through 18 years is eligible.

Boosters discuss needs of athletes

The Indian Booster Club met in its regular meeting Monday night in Coach Lisle's classroom with president Dan Griffith presiding.

Under old business the suggestion of designating funds for the various sports was discussed.

Head coach Harold Hill said it would be better if when a particular need is seen that the club go with it. One possibility for 1986-87 is helping with runways for long jump and pole vault and aprons or straightaways for the track team. This would benefit girls and boys from junior high up.

It was pointed out that sufficient funds must be preserved for the spring all-sports banquet which honors all high school athletes.

Concerning the upcoming game with Holliday, Coach Hill said they are a big team that will "run right at you." They like to get the football, keep the football and run the clock off. Holliday ran 68 of the 98 offensive plays last week in beating Jacksboro, 8-3. They are one of the better AA ball clubs around and they play old-fashioned, hard-nosed football, according to the Haskell coach.

Football fans being urged to wear gold

Band Booster club members are urging Haskell football fans to wear gold shirts at the games.

Adult polo shirts and V-neck children's shirts with Indian black emblems are available from the Booster Club. Adult shirts are priced at $12 and children's at $8. Various sizes are available.

Shirts will be sold at the Band Booster concession stand, or they may be purchased by contacting a club parent.

You're reading The Haskell Free Press, and we thank you!

Indian foes

Opponents of the Haskell Indians won four, lost four and tied one in opening games of the season Friday night.

Holliday bested Jacksboro 8-3 and Quanah upended Childress 19-7. Electra lost to Frederick, Okla., 6-0 and Knox City was clobbered by Seymour 44-0.

Among district 7-AA teams, Hamlin cored a 14-7 victory over Clyde, Anson edged Cisco 7-6 and Hawley played Baird to a 7-7 tie. Stamford lost to Eastland 27-0 and Albany fell to Throckmorton 14-0.
