Rule plans Christmas program

Plans have been finalized for the annual Rule Christmas program to be held on Main Street Saturday, Dec. 13.

The Children's Pet Parade will start at 3 p.m. Ann Wilson will be in charge. First, second and third prizes will be given in two categories, costumes and riding, with three divisions in each, preschool/kindergarten, grades 1-3 and grades 4-6. Prizes will be $5, $3 and $2 in each category and division.

Following the parade will be a choral program with Katherine Carter and Lou Landes in charge.

At 3:30, there will be a drawing for cash and prizes donated by local merchants. Merchants are now giving tickets for each $5 purchase. The person whose name is on the ticket, or some member of the household, must be present to win. Only two prizes can be won by a household.

Winners in the home decorating contest and the Christmas poster contest will be announced at this time.

Homes will be judged on Thursday night, Dec. 11. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded.

There will be three divisions in the Christmas poster contest, grades 1-3, 4-6 and 7-8. Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 will be given in each division.

Goodfellows to distribute food and toys

Lions Club Goodfellows will distribute food and toys to needy Haskell families again this year.

Donations of food and toys are underway and on Dec. 23 and Dec. 20, the names of those who will qualify for the Goodfellow's project can be placed, by application, in the office of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, beginning at 2:30 p.m. on each of the two days.

On Dec. 23, Goodfellows will meet at the High School Ag Building to pack the boxes and on Dec. 34 the boxes will be delivered to those who have been selected to receive them.

The project will be conducted as it has in previous years and a sincere effort will be made to provide food, toys and a happy Christmas where there might not otherwise be provisions for Christmas, said project chairman Dusty Garrison.

Cash donations to the project may be made at the Haskell Free Press, P. O. Box 1058. Those wishing to contribute toys may leave them at the Haskell Fire Department.

Shopper edition deadlines given

All deadlines for next week's issue of The Haskell Free Press will be at noon Monday. Deadlines apply to display advertising, classified advertising and all news articles.

The early deadline is necessary to allow for the printing and distribution of the Christmas Shopper edition. Ten thousand copies will be printed and distributed in Haskell, Throckmorton, Knox, Stonewall and Jones counties.

Extra copies

Extra copies of the rural school section which appeared in The Free Press last week are available at The Free Press office.

INDIANS WIN

Jerry Davis gets off a shot against Seymour here Friday night as the Haskell Indians defeated the Panthers, 57-54, to even their season record at 1-1.

Indian teams win over Seymour

Haskell basketball teams were to play Breckenridge here Tuesday night and then not play again until next Tuesday when they travel to Merkel.

No games are scheduled Friday because of the Thanksgiving holiday.

In games here last Friday, both Haskell teams won over Seymour.

The Maidens defeated Seymour, 51-42, to bring their season record to 2-0. The Indians edged the Panthers, 57-54, to even their season record at 1-1.

A big second quarter powered the Maidens over the Pantherettes. Behind 11-8 at the end of the first period, the Maidens poured it on in the second period to take a 26-19 lead at intermission. Julie Rowe led the scoring with 18 points.

The Indians led throughout their contest, holding an 11-point lead going into the final period. They then had to fight off a furious Panther attack to salvage the three-point victory. Dusty Meeks' 20 points topped the scoring.

Both Haskell junior varsity teams won, the girls taking a 39-33 victory and the boys winning by a score of 38-30.

Deadline Dec. 11 for Santa letters

Santa Claus letters to appear in the Christmas issue of the Free Press must be received by Thursday, Dec. 11.

All letters received by that date will be published in the Christmas issue.

MAIDENS WIN

Julie Roewe gets two of the 18 points she scored against Seymour Friday night as the Maidens won, 51-42, for their second win in two outings.

Theme floats entered in Christmas parade

Chamber of Commerce

The fifth annual night Christmas parade in Haskell will be one of the most unique and colorful activities in the parade's history. That's the word from the sponsoring Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Parade time will be 6 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 6.

The theme, "Christmas Around the World," has resulted in 13 floats in this category, which has the strictest regulations.

Each float must be lighted, have music on board and the vehicle pulling the float must be covered.

Entries include: Mexico, First National Bank; North Pole, Haskell National Bank; United States, Olney Savings; Hawaii, Kiwanis Club; Israel, State Farm Insurance; Holland, Rotary Club; Japan, Kids' Duds; Haskell, Lions Club; England, Lane Felker; Children Worldwide, Learning Center; Ireland, Foursquare Gospel Church; Alaska, Fire Department and Auxiliary; Switzerland, Kay's Cleaners.

Each float will depict Christmas observances in the locales represented.

Other floats will include one from the Mental Health Association, the New Year's float of the City of Haskell.

The Haskell High School Band, with Carl Wilke director, will head the parade.

For the fifth consecutive year, the Love Twirling Academy and Love Dancing Group, Roz Love of Abilene, director, will be in the parade. These little children somehow manage to perform beautifully despite sometimes adverse weather conditions and they warm the crowd of up to 7,000 people with their spirit.

Another familiar sight in the Haskell Christmas parade will be the Six White Horses and their riders, carrying the Six Flags Over Texas, an ensemble from Hardin-Simmons University.

Clowns and other surprises for children are being added as confirmations are being received daily at the Chamber office and will be announced accordingly when final plans are worked out.

Invited to ride in the caravan of dignitaries are the mayors and Chamber presidents of area cities: Anson, Aspermont, Hamlin, Knox City, Munday, Rochester, Rule, Seymour, Stamford, Throckmorton and Weinert. Prior to the parade, a reception will be held in their honor at the Community Room of Haskell National Bank. The dignitaries and their wives and husbands will be the guests of Haskell Mayor Abe Turner and Mrs. Turner, and Haskell Chamber president Bill Comedy and Mrs. Comedy.

Not to be overlooked are the many people on the team who make it all come about the night of the parade-- Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, members of the Sheriff's department, the fire department and the Welcoming Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Merchants are again requested to outline their store windows in Christmas lights, and also all offices in the courthouse, planning to turn them on by 5 p.m. on Dec. 6 so the City will be ablaze with lights when it gets dark.

It is hoped that all residential areas are also decorated and lighted at this time.

PLAN PLAYOFF GAME

Guthrie Superintendent Bob Clompton, left, meets with Haskell Superintendent James Kemp and Chamber President Bill Comedy here Monday morning to make plans for the Guthrie-Jayton six-man football playoff. Guthrie's Jaguars have a 10-1 record, while Jayton has not been beaten in the past three years. The Jaybirds are going after their third straight state championship. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. Friday in Haskell's Indian Stadium.

Water treatment plant among best

The Texas Water Commission last week included the City of Haskell's wastewater treatment plant as one of the 10 best in the state.

Other wastewater plants considered the best in the state in water quality were:

City of Hudson, Lower Neches Valley Authority, City of Borger, City of Odessa, City of Aransas Pass, Williamson County MUD No. 3 and the Corpus Christi Petrochemical Co.

By contrast, the worst water treatment plants in the state included:

Saginaw Park Utility Co. Blue Mound Plant in Tarrant County, Henderson County Municipal Water

Authority in Chandler, Texas Department of Corrections Meat Processing Plant in Anderson County, Nor-Sham Inc., Best Western Intercontinental Airport Inn in Harris County, Consumers Water Corp, Hickory Ridge Plant in Montgomery County and Timbercrest Village Utility Co. in Harris County.

The designation of the Haskell plant as one of the state's best did not come as a complete surprise to city officials. Although it was not in the top 10 last year, it was singled out for special recognition.

Harley Poteet served as the City of Haskell's sewer superintendent for 16 years until he retired Nov. 1.

In Rule Lions Building

Pecan Show to be Dec. 3

The fourth annual Haskell County Pecan Show will be in the Lions Club Building in Rule next Wednesday, Dec. 3.

Here are the rules pertaining to the Pecan Show:

Entries will be accepted from pecan growers in Haskell County only.

All pecans entered in the show must have been grown in 1986 by the exhibitors.

Each entry must consist of 40 pecans, brought in a plastic ziplock bag. Paper plates will be furnished for the exhibit.

All entries of nuts must be entered and delivered to the County Agent's office by 5 p.m. Monday, Dec. 1. Entries must be identified by grower's name, address and pecan variety (if known).

Growers are limited to one entry of each variety per family. (Example: John Smith can enter one entry of each variety such as Burkett, Mahan, Stuart, etc.).

There is no limit of number of entries of seedling or native pecans.

Pecans must be left on display until 4 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 3. Open house will be from 1 to 4 p.m. Dec. 3 for the public. Pecans may be picked up between 4 and 5 p.m. Dec. 3.

Classification committee or official judges will place entries in correct classes for judging. Judging of varieties will be from 9 to 11 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 3.

Classes will be judged on size, color, appearance, shell thickness, cracking quality, kernel quality and attractiveness.

Ribbons will be awarded 1-5 places in each class. A class with less than five entries will be given awards based on judges' decision.

The Pecan Bake Show, held in conjunction with the Pecan Show, will be judged in two divisions, adult and youth, in the following classes: Pies, cakes, cookies, candies, coated nuts and quick breads.

Food exhibited must have been prepared by the exhibitor. Pecans do not have to be grown by the exhibitor, but pecans must be included in the recipe contents, and not used just for decoration.

Food exhibits must be entered between 7:45 and 9:45 a.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 3.

A complete set of rules for the Pecan Bake Show is available at the County Extension office in Haskell.

Weinert club entertains guests

On Tuesday night November 18, The Eager Housewives Home Extension Club were guests of the Weinert Home Extension Club in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Sanders.

The group was entertained with games directed by Alice Yates and winners were awarded prizes.

A delicious salad super was spread on the buffet and after invocation by Myrtle Phemister Weinert Club Members selected guests and escorted them to the tables. Decorations of chrysanthums (saved by the hostess from the early freeze) and fall colored napkin rings enhanced the autumn theme.

After supper, Betty Sanders showed slides and did a splendid narration of her trip to Israel. She quoted scriptures and told of biblical events that took place in the place being shown on the screen.

Door prize was awarded to Phoi McGuire and was a hand made quilted wall hanging of Bethlehem made by Alice Yates.

Guests for the event included Jo Etta Burnett, Ophelia Newsom, Anita Payne, Mary Bradley, Phoi McGuire and the extension agent, Lou Gilley.

Weinert members included Laverne Mayfield, Annie Mae

Roberts, Henrietta Rueffer, Cordie Cunningham, Alice Yates, Myrtle Phemister, a new member, Debbie Crump and the hostess Betty Sanders.

New members are desired at all times. Please call Alice Yates or Faye Jetton by December 1 to get your name in the new book for 1987.

Texas gets doses of 'the unusual'

AUSTIN—Last week Texas was served "the unusual":

- With the first cash management notes issued by the Treasury, Texas made an extra $12 million or more because a Wall Street bidder made a math error. Ours to keep.
- In a rare display of outspokenness from the high court, Texas Supreme Court Justice Franklin Spears criticized Chief Justice John Hill of grabbing for power and ignoring other members of the court. Hill denied it.
- And a new twist on lobbying was added when a Houston lobbyist offered to pay some legislators for attending a cocktail party. Some were incensed.
- Spears' beef is not with Hill's integrity or legal ability, but with his treatment of other justices as assistants instead of equals. Hill's recent campaign for appointed instead of elected judges has caused Spears to speak out.
- Hill is for the appointment system, but seven of nine justices oppose it, Spears said. "I think he (Hill) wants a voice in who gets named judges at all levels," Hill said no.

man said it did not consider the money payment for attendance.

Official Language

The resolution may cause a revolution after top officials in the Texas Republican Party called for constitutional amendments to make English the official language.

But Mexican-American Democrats chairman Ruben Boinilla, Jr. called the resolution an underhanded maneuver to isolate Hispanics in Texas.

At issue is whether such a designation would force out bilingual voting ballots and other official documents. A law on the books makes English the official curriculum language.

Of interest is whether the Texas GOP, which made such strong gains with the candidacy of Roy Barrera, Jr., has shot itself in the foot in the eyes of Hispanic voters.

Other Highlights

- A federal appeals judge temporarily halted the feds' tree-crushing operation to clear areas of an east Texas forest damaged by pine beetles.

Rains have also slowed the controversial clearing, which opponents say needlessly destroys plants and wildlife.

- Texas A&M University officials opened a $4.5 million center to house the Ocean Drilling Program, a multinational project to study the sub-ocean core.

- A recount has been sought in state representative District 32, which includes Victoria, where a Republican won for the first time this century by a 19-vote margin.

- Clive Cussler, the famous author of "Raise the Titanic" and other books of naval intrigue, led a team which found what they think is the long-lost Texas navy warship "Zavala" buried under a Galveston parking lot.

They failed to locate the schooner "Invincible," which sank in Galveston Bay in 1837 after fighting the Mexican navy at Yucatan.

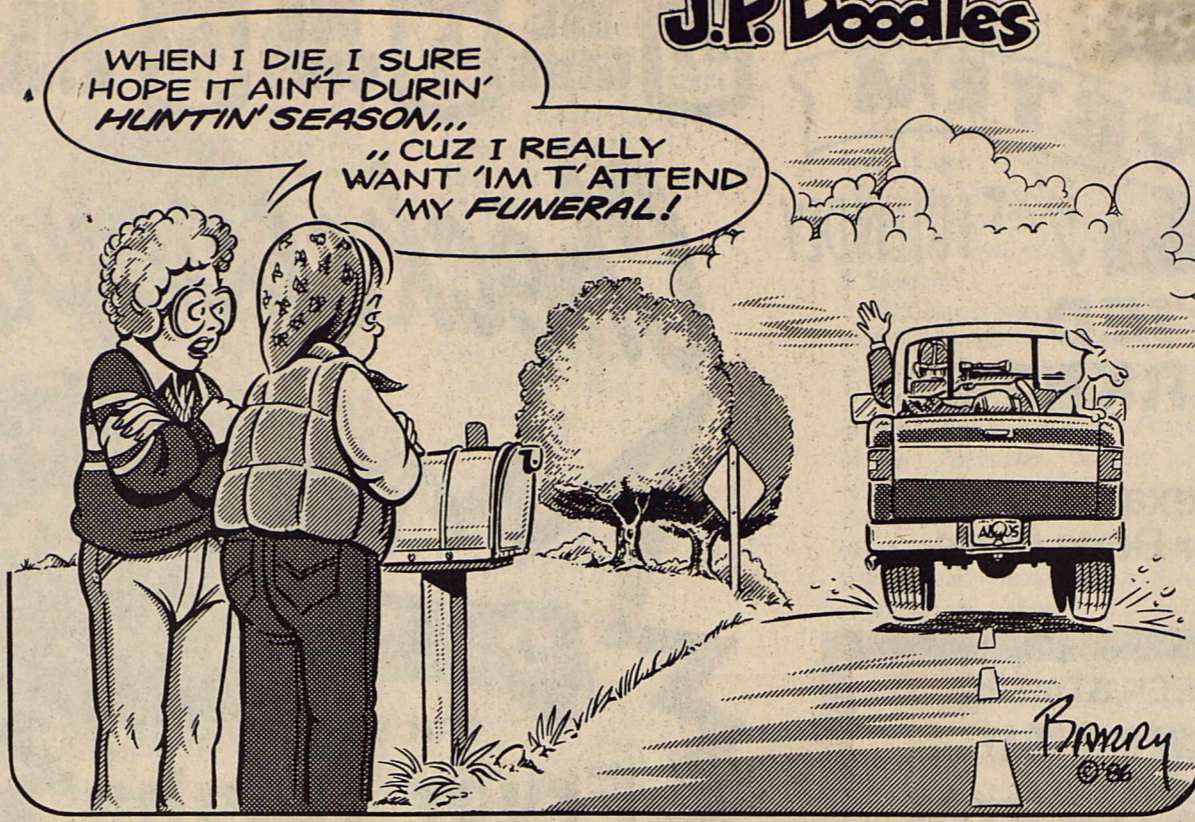

Cussler was aided by divers from Texas A&M and the Texas Antiquities Committee. His operation finds wrecks and turns over the salvage operations to proper authorities.

Ask VA

Q: I own a manufactured home on a rented lot. I would like to purchase a lot for it. Can I do this using the VA guaranteed loan program?

A: Yes. A VA guaranteed loan may be used to buy and improve a lot on which to place a manufactured home you already own and occupy.

J.P. Doodles

The following piece, which in effect is a review of "Guide to the Language of Real Estate, Banking, Law and Building," sounds strangely familiar. Although it was mailed to the editor last week, it's identical to the one published in this newspaper about a year ago. But it's still interesting.

Every trade or profession has its own jargon--words and phrases that insiders understand but are a foreign language to most others. It's hard enough to learn the meaning of words used by one profession, but those buying, renting, insuring, remodeling or building a home will have to translate lawyerspeak, builderspeak, bankspeak and real-estatespeak, into something they can understand.

For instance, if a "kicker" conjures up a vision of a soccer player or a goal post with a football sailing through, that is not what it means when the person using the term is a landlord or lender. To these people it means an extra charge in addition to the rent or principal and interest. For instance, if a store is rented for $1,000 a month, the landlord may ask for a "kicker" of three percent extra for all the business you do over $30,000 for the month. A lender for an income property might add a "kicker" that gives him a portion of all rents over a certain dollar amount.

Boiler plate does not refer to the walls of your furnace when you are dealing with those involved in law or real estate. Boiler plate is the pre-printed form that contains most standard clauses for the type of contract, lease or mortgage that you will be asked to sign.

When the landlord wants an escalator, he isn't asking for a moving stairway to take him to the second floor. He means that he has inserted an escalator in the lease that will raise the rent at intervals during your tenancy.

Lintels are not used for soup. They are beams over open spaces in your walls such as doors, windows or fireplaces.

Points are not the tips of arrows and spears, although, they too can hurt. To a lender or a borrower, points are a percentage of the amount to be borrowed that is paid to the lender to increase his profit. Each point is one percent.

Although you might suspect that a party wall is a place to lean during conversation at a cocktail party, to a builder it is the common wall between two buildings.

Ante to a lawyer is not money put in a pot during a poker game. Ante is simply Latin for "before."

To help people translate this, sometimes incomprehensible, jargon the Consumer Education Research Center has compiled a dictionary of more than 3,000 words and phrases you need to know to buy, rent, lease, insure or mortgage property. "Homeowners and Renters Guide to the Language of Real Estate, Banking, Law and Building," is $4 from CERC, 439 Clark St. South Orange, NJ 07079.

-Letters to the Editor-

Editor: I would like to reply to "former band member" who chose to criticize our Haskell High School Indian Band but lacked the intestinal fortitude to have his/her name printed.

I have had a child in the HHS band for 18 of the past 26 years. We have had Sweepstakes bands some years, and some years not. The members worked equally as hard during the "not" years as during the winning years. My band member this year is equal to his older brothers and sisters and we are proud of him.

Has "former band member" stopped to think that back in the sweepstakes years we had 70 to 80 band members? What has happened to the numbers? More than likely the result of all the "population explosion" criticism of the past.

Also has "former band member" stopped to think that in every type of competition, whether it be ball teams, bands, UIL or anything else, there is a building time and a winning time?

Did "former band member" win sweepstakes every year he/she was in band? Did "former band member" not have any fun at all when in the band? If not, then I feel sorry for them. True, some of the old traditions may have fallen by the wayside, and I am sorry for that, but I'm not driving the same car or wearing the same style clothes as 10 or 15 years ago either.

Break On Interest

The state sold $600 million in short-term notes and the New York syndicate which bought half the bond issue apparently bid 0.03 percent on one part, instead of the 3.75-to-4 percent range.

The math error means Texas will save $12 million or more in interest, because both Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox and Treasurer Ann Richards say the bond sale is final.

Some 19 firms bid on the notes which provide cash for state government that used to be borrowed from other state funds at higher interest rates.

"Outright Attempt"

A lobbyist for the Houston transit authority invited 13 legislators to two receptions and said money raised there will be divided among their officeholder accounts, perhaps as much as $500 each, if they attend.

The Common Cause group and some legislators reacted negatively and state Rep. Randy Pennington said lawmakers "should be incensed at the outright attempt to buy special interest."

TAX PLANNING

Written By
James E. Rodgers, CPA

REAL ESTATE REPORTING

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 obligates real estate brokers, mortgage lenders, or other persons responsible for closing a real estate transaction to file certain information with the Internal Revenue Service.

It appears that all real estate sales, including business and non-business property, will be required to be reported after January 1, 1987. The reporting will be done on a Form 1099 (much the same as the one now used for interest and dividend reporting).

It appears that the party responsible for reporting real estate sales will be the broker. New IRS regulations will define the term "broker" for this purpose. The broker may be any of several people involved in a real estate transaction. The primary responsibility for reporting could lie with the realtor, attorney, title company, mortgage lender, seller's broker, buyer's broker, or any other person that the Internal Revenue Service chooses to designate in the regulations.

The new regulations will specify the information to be supplied on Form 1099. It will require information which will give the IRS the identity of the seller (by name, address, and taxpayer identification number), the amount of the sale, and the date of sale.

Since this will affect all closings after January 1, 1987, it seems appropriate to set up good office procedures now to allow you to comply with the new law. Even if your office will not be primarily responsible for reporting, perhaps a procedure for obtaining a copy of the report for your files would be a good idea. The final regulations may not be available before January 1, 1987. One should therefore establish procedures with the best information available at this time.

The responsible party will be subject to a penalty of $50 for each unreported transaction.

If we can be of assistance to you in complying with this new filing requirement, please contact us.

Party honors Virgil Cobb

A retirement party was held in the Community Room of Haskell National Bank Nov. 18 to honor Virgil Cobb who is retiring from West Texas Utilities after 34 1/2 years of service.

Cobb was hired as a trainee for Paint Creek Power Plant in March 1952. He trained at Lake Pauline Power Station, Qunah, Concho Plant in San Angelo and Abilene Power Plant before returning to Paint Creek in 1953. Since that time he has been employed in many positions and has served as assistant plant superintendent since 1966.

Cobb was presented a plaque from the company, a "Friendship Award" and a gift certificate from the Paint Creek employees as well as numerous other remembrances from friends and family.

The party, which was hosted by the Paint Creek Plant employees, was attended by out-of-town guests, family members and employees and their families.

Out-of-town WTU personnel included Bill Anderson, plant operations manager, Abilene; Aubrey Carroll, superintendent, McCamey; Elmer Champion, retired assistant superintendent, and E. K. Finley, maintenance foreman, Oak Creek; and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Pecchacek, Lake Pauline, Qunah.

Out-of-town family members and friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cobb of Lubbock, Dr. Robert Cobb and Rena Tyler of Midland, Mrs. Tina Holland and Christy Hobbs of Moab, Utah, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Byford of Breckenridge, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Lampp of Hobbs, N.M. and Edwin Daddle of Fort Worth.

When asked about plans for the future, Virgil stated that he plans to travel, raise cattle and assist his wife, Evelyn, with H&R Block Tax Service.

Reduce chimney dangers

Preventative measures can help reduce dangerous creosote and tar buildup in your fireplace chimney and flue, says a Texas A&M housing specialist.

"Both flue and chimney units should be cleaned before the first fireplace fire of the seasons," says Dr. Susan Quiring. "It also may require cleaning again during the winter, especially if you burn wood that has not been air-dried or seasoned."

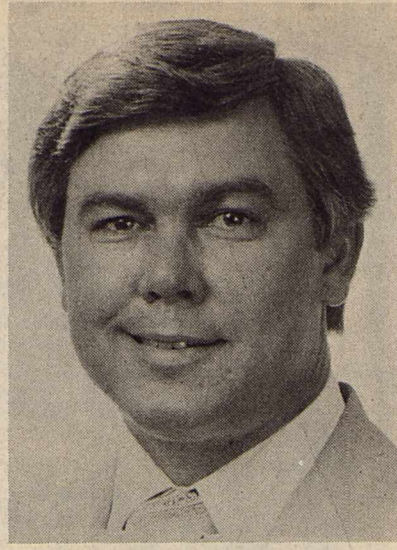

The specialist says a fourth-inch accumulation of creosote indicates the flue needs cleaning. She suggests checking the fireplace by hanging a flashlight from the top of the flue to a third of the way down the flue. Then, look up the lighted flue and the fireplace with a mirror to get an estimate of the buildup.

Mortgage money available to Texans

Approximately $80 million in low-interest mortgage money will become available to homebuyers in Texas beginning Dec. 1, a Texas Housing Agency official announced.

The FHA-insured loans will be offered to eligible low- and moderate-income borrowers at a fixed payment rate of 7.99 percent for 30 years, with a three- to five-percent down payment, said Dan A. McNeil, executive director of the Texas Housing Agency.

We have pens that write pink, light blue, purple and burgundy to match your favorite stationery. Pick a color at the Haskell Free Press.

Mike Guess

Mike Guess to join PCA staff

Mike Guess will become a loan officer in the Stamford Branch office of the Rolling Plains Production Credit Association Dec. 1.

He will fill the position vacated by the Nov. 1 retirement of Lloyd Blackwell.

A native of Haskell where he and his family reside, Guess graduated from Haskell High in 1970 and from Texas Tech with a BBA degree in 1974. He has extensive experience in agriculture. He grew up on a farm and for the past 12 years has been involved with his own farm and cattle operation. He has two years experience as a cotton warehouse manager and since 1980 has been a partner and manager of a cotton buying and merchandising business.

Guess and his wife, Beth, have two sons, Chan and Mart, and attend the First Baptist Church in Haskell. He is vice president of the Haskell Booster Club and serves as secretary of the Haskell Independent School District Board of Trustees.

Teachers complain to State Board

The Texas State Teachers Association has registered a written complaint with the State Board of Education concerning the board's tentative legislative recommendations to be made to the Texas Legislature when it convenes in January.

TSTA President Charles Beard said that the absence of any salary schedule proposal in the State Board of Education's legislative program "speaks volumes" to Texas teachers in terms of the board's priorities for education.

Land diversion procedures given

A voluntary paid land diversion for the 1987 feed grain program has been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Richard E. Lyng.

Participants choosing to participate in the paid diversion will be required to divert 15 percent of their feed grain acreage base to acreage conservation reserve, Lyng said. He said diversion payment rates per bushel are $2 for corn, $1.90 for sorghum, $1.60 for barley and 80 cents for oats. Fifty percent of the diversion payment will be paid in advance, with half in cash and the balance in generic commodity certificates.

The voluntary 15 percent paid diversion in combination with the 20 percent acreage reduction announced

Sept. 29 gives producers the opportunity to set aside 35 percent of their feed grain base acreage.

Lyng said the 1987 per bushel established target prices for feed grains will be the same as for the 1986 crops--$3.03 for corn, $1.74 for sorghum, $2.60 for barley and $1.60 for oats.

The secretary also announced: --Loan rates per bushel for the 1987 crops are $1.82 for corn, $1.74 for sorghum, $1.49 for barley, 94 cents for oats and $1.55 for rye.

--A marketing loan program will not be implemented.

Other program provisions common to the 1987 crops of feed grains, wheat, cotton and rice were announced May 30 and Oct. 24.

Lung diseases rank third in death causes

Lung diseases are the third most common cause of death in the United States today, says the American Lung Association of Texas. Besides the cost in human suffering, the direct economic cost of lung disease to the nation is expected to reach a staggering $40.9 billion in 1986.

Lung cancer remains this country's most deadly form of cancer. Only 13 percent of lung cancer patients live five or more years after diagnosis. It is a frightening fact that the incidence of lung cancer in American women has risen 380 percent in the last 35 years. Already the leading cancer killer among men, lung cancer has now surpassed breast cancer as the foremost cancer killer of American women.

According to the ALA of Texas, much of the premature death and disability caused by lung disease is unnecessary and can be prevented. Cigarette smoking causes 80 to 90 percent of deaths from chronic obstructive pulmonary diseases such as emphysema and chronic bronchitis. Other lung diseases--including respiratory distress syndrome in infants and acute respiratory distress syndrome in adults--are still not fully understood and require additional research to find improved means of prevention and treatment.

New tax bill presents need for planning

With the 1986 tax reform bill now signed into law, individuals need to start doing some serious thinking and planning regarding tax strategies before the year draws to a close, says an economist with Texas A&M.

General recommendations include deferring income since tax rates will drop next year, making full use of a salary reduction plan, reviewing portfolios and selling certain stocks to take advantage of the long-term capital gains rate, seeking high dividend investments, avoiding investments with immediately reportable income, increasing deductions, buying big-ticket items, considering municipal bonds, taking a close look at tax shelters and children's accounts, keeping IRAs and being aware of the alternative minimum tax.

Save those green tomatoes

When the first killing frost of winter approaches and you still have green tomatoes on the vine, home economist Marilyn Haggard suggests testing them for maturity.

Cut a couple of tomatoes that you aren't certain will ripen. If the knife cuts through the seeds, the tomato is not mature and will not ripen. Use these tomatoes for relish or green tomato pickles.

If the seeds move away from the knife and are not cut, the tomato is mature and will ripen indoors.

By Felix Rodriguez

The Paint Creek junior high girls played Benjamin on Monday, Nov. 17.

The Paint Creek girls faced an upset on their first game of the season. In the first quarter, it was a defensive game with the Mustang's leading 8-0. Monica Howeth lead the first half with 6 points for Paint Creek.

In the third quarter, Benjamin was still holding the lead by 10 points. Monica Howeth was the game high scorer with 14 points. Sharla Timms had 4, Candy Parsons had 2.

Aggie kicker has local ties

There is a definite Haskell flavor to the Texas A&M football team this year.

Placekicker Scott Slater of Fort Worth is the grandson of Jack and Doris (Harrell) Slater, former Haskell County residents, and the great-grandson of Bill and Lucy Harrell of Rice Springs Care Home.

His 90 points scored for the Aggies this year have already broken the team record set by Tony Franklin. In last Saturday's 74-10 smashing of TCU, Slater had nine extra points and a field goal.

A walkon, still playing without benefit of an athletic scholarship, Slater is a junior with two more years of eligibility remaining.

He is the son of Brad Slater of Fort Worth.
