International Fair Exhibit.

The San Antonio & Aransas Pass railway is inaugurating a move to have every town and county along its line represented at the Great International Fair in San Antonio in October next, and to this end submits the following:

First, Have your town and county organize a local committee or board to collect, receive, ship and arrange a collective exhibit showing your products and resources.

Second, Said exhibit to be under the direct control of a local commissioner appointed by your local board.

The exhibit when placed in Exhibition Hall, at San Antonio, will be available to every live wide awake man from your section of the country for advertising purposes. This will enable each locality to show just what you have to offer to prospective settlers.

The great importance of such exhibits cannot be overestimated. If the reader is interested in this move, confer with Mr. S. S. Pence, agent for the S. A. & A. P. at this point.

The San Antonio International Fair is not a county affair, but will be of immense magnitude, representing as it will, Texas, the great west and the Republic of Mexico.

The ladies cemetery association gave a most enjoyable ice cream festival last Thursday afternoon and evening, on the spacious lawn of Mrs. A. G. Morris. The patronage was liberal in the afternoon. As the sun went down the light shed by many Chinese lanterns, united with the rays of the moon, brought out a pretty picture. The event was enjoyable in every way. $31.57 was netted to the cemetery fund.

TO THE PUBLIC.

All indications at the present writing are that the Kerrville Park Association will be a grand success.

From the prompt response of the shareholders in the payment of the first installment, and in many cases shareholders paying their subscription in full, show the confidence they have in the enterprise.

Letters I am receiving from different places show the interest people are taking, and if the same spirit that has thus far been shown by the people is kept up, our first meeting cannot fail to be a grand success in every way.

Work will soon be commenced and pushed to completion.

In speaking of the park, etc., I wish to state that the directors are doing their full share in this venture, and I may state that it is their aim and object to have clean, fair and square racing. In the near future a racing committee will be appointed of representative men, who will make rules governing the racing at our meetings. These rules will be vigorously enforced, and nothing tending to cast a suspicion on the racing, will be tolerated.

Another thing I desire to call to the attention of the public, is that when any information concerning the park or its meetings, etc., is wanted, they will kindly ask for the same from headquarters, as the officers stand ready at any and all times to give all the information to the public they possess. As regards the advertising feature, I would ask every merchant, in fact everybody, who has the interest and welfare of our town and its enterprises at heart, to do all in their power to advertise as liberally as they can.

J. F. BEAR, Secretary.

There was some reckless shooting done at the dam last Wednesday. Mrs. Hixson, whose residence is on the river side of Water street, narrowly missed being struck by one of the flying bullets, while in the yard near her back door. It is said the shooting was done by some of the visiting soldiery. Boys, be careful.

Visiting Military.

Light Battery K, commanded by Capt. C. L. Best, arrived here last Sunday from Fort Sam Houston, and went into camp on Tivy that near the river.

It will be remembered that this gallant command came here for range shooting last year. They were recalled the day after their arrival, for active service in Cuba. The battery made itself heard and felt in the war, having participated in the battles around Santiago July 1st and 2d, and 10th and 11th.

Now the boys have come back covered with glory, and the Paper hopes they will enjoy their well earned rest.

The battery has been strengthened since its previous visit, it now numbering six guns.

Mr. J. L. Burnett, a lawyer, who came here with his family recently from Tellechim, Choctaw Nation, Indian Territory, died last Sunday morning. The remains were shipped to Arkansas for interment. Mrs. Burnett requests the Paper to convey her thanks to the people of Kerrville for their kindness, especially Mr. and Mrs. Rawson, Miss Simpson, Mr. Prentice, Miss Ritchett.

Owing to railway washouts the Paper failed to receive its weekly supply of ready print for its last issue. We were compelled to use some old stock that had been left over from last year. Hence our readers received some stale news last week on our inside. An advertisement announced that L. Welge, was doing a general merchandise business at the old stand near the depot, having a camp yard, when everybody knows they are strictly in the dry goods, furnishing goods, hats, boot and shoe line on Water street, and keep no camp yard.

Centre Point Camp Meeting

Begins Thursday Night, August 10th

For more than forty years the people of this section and surrounding country have met in annual encampment and have seldom failed to have a gracious revival. Last year we erected a mammoth tabernacle. For the coming meeting, Kerrville, Bandera, Medina and Boerne charges are to join with us.

We send forth this circular that all who are interested may understand the time and conditions.

The meeting must be self-sustaining. Bring your tent if you have one. If you have no tent, come in wagon. If it rains you can sleep under the shed where there will be room for all.

You can live as cheap here as at home and for a few days enjoy an outdoor camp meeting.

One hundred years ago in Russellville, Ky., was held—hundreds were saved with an everlasting salvation.

Come and join with us in this great work. Come praying for the conversion of a thousand souls.

Trusts and Combinations...

Trusts and Combinations are becoming alarmingly common in the east. It looks to a casual observer that manufacturers are forming and combining for higher prices in order to oppress the consumer. But as long as we can buy goods outside the trust will maintain the low prices that we have established in this Western country. We are receiving constantly, New, Fresh, Good Goods which we sell at least possible price. A visit to our store will prove both pleasant and profitable.

Some men are known by the company they don't keep.

Discretion is not cowardice, neither is blatant volubility courage.

Every time a wise man makes a mistake it teaches him something.

Uncle Paul Kruger continues to remark "Boo!" to the British lion.

Always pay your milkman spot cash. Never request him to "chalk it up."

The man who doesn't put his hand to the plow will get none of the plowshares.

Mr. Edward Atkinson is kept rather busy perusing letters from gentlemen who decline to become stampeded.

When we advance a little into life we find that the tongue of man creates nearly all the mischief in the world.

Sherman admits that he secured Platt's consent before becoming a candidate for speaker, and he is still trying to figure out how it happened that that was not equivalent to an election.

Manufacturers of wooden pumps are holding a convention, the expressed purpose being the formation of a combine to raise the price of their product. This will be painful news to several thousand country milkmen.

Waldorf Astor has lived in the atmosphere of money so long that he imagines everybody on ordinary ground has conceived a dislike for him, especially Americans. It is not so. If he were a little more human and a little less exclusive he would find that the average man is not malicious or envious, but a good fellow and a just one. And, after all, there have not been meaner things said of him in the newspapers than have been said of every conspicuous person.

According to Corporal Henry C. Edwards of troops D. 4th Cavalry, who was recently interviewed in Pittsburg, Pa., American soldiers are in command of some of the insurgent troops in the Philippines and are fighting their former commands. Last summer a number of the United States men were dishonorably dismissed from our army for various offenses. He said: "They had no money and could not get transportation home. Being banished from the camps of the Americans, and not being allowed to stay in Manila, they had no recourse but to go to the insurgents. Aguinaldo made some of them assume command of his forces because they were better trained than the natives. Those who did not want to fight us were compelled to do so."

The boy king of Spain, according to the London Daily Mail, is not loved in Madrid. His presence in the streets arouses no popular enthusiasm. At times, when the guard is changed at the royal palace, his troubled face may be seen at a window, gazing out, but no one cheers, and he remains almost unrecognized. No hat is raised, or other obeisance paid him by his sullen subjects, when he rides abroad in melancholy state! Among a more generous people, his youth, his misfortunes, a consideration of the troubled future which confronts him, would at least awaken pity. His manners, which are placed almost on a par with those of a Russian, are not without attraction. His very looks are disliked. He is too blonde in hair and complexion. "He is no Spaniard," say his subjects of Madrid, and this which is to them a cause for reproach will hardly be thus viewed by the world at large.

It is not improbable that the early part of the new century will see all distinction between Europe and Asia as separate continents abolished. As matter of fact, they are geographically one continent, as a glance at the map will show. They are now rapidly coming one politically, as well. The Russian empire binds them in at the north. The British empire makes Asia-European at the south, and in the Middle Kingdom almost every day sees new acquisitions of territory by European powers. We are within measurable distance of the time when China, Persia and the few other independent states of Asia will have gone the way of India and Turkestan. Then, with one common ownership, as with one common geographical formation, the two continents may well be reckoned as one. "Eurasia" is the term which has long been applied to the great plain which extends over a large part of both continents, and also to the Aryan race, which, originating in Asia, is now dominant in Europe. A few more years may see the united continents figuring upon our maps as "Eurasia." What then will follow?

Gov. Roosevelt said recently in a public address that a man is bound to work for his living if he needs it. If not, he is bound to work for the good of the public. The old socialism was expressed by the phrase, "The world owes me a living." The new socialism, on the contrary, is embodied in Mr. Tait's little tractlet in a magnificent English gallery: "This art collection is presented to the city of London as a thank offering for thirty years of business prosperity."

If we were in Germany we should say that the Kaiser's play was the finest ever written. It is better to be generous in criticism than to go to jail; and who wants to wet the hopes of an ambitious young man?

Large heads do not always indicate genius. Too often they are monuments of the previous night's foolishness.

There are some things in the world that a man is able to find out, but it's different with a woman.

WATER'S WORK.

Great Damage Results From the Terrible Floods.

Calvert, Tex., July 1.—The most disastrous rain for several years in this district fell here Thursday night. The entire town is in a fever of excitement over the discovery and report of horrible and distressing scenes.

It has been raining here for several days, and at times it seems that the clouds poured out their fullest supplies on this town.

Last night the streams and big rivers around here were filled to their fullest capacity, running over, and everything ahead of them was swept to destruction.

The reports came in that the two rivers, Little and Big Brazos, had met and that help was needed badly.

On hearing of this A. M. Meredith requested that all business houses close and that everybody go to the rescue of the unfortunates.

This was done at once and carpenters were put to work building boats. A number of lives have been reported lost. So far only five bodies have been recovered, all being colored.

Twelve houses were damaged, and twenty-six in the low part of the city are water-blocked.

The railroad bridges at both ends of the town have been destroyed. One of them was built of stone and cement. It had undergone the rises of the past twenty-five years, but was compelled to succumb to the terrible rush of waters. The mayor and citizens have provided shelter and food for the destitute.

It is impossible to get between the two rivers, to ascertain the true damage there, but from observations the water appears to be in the lowest place six feet, and in the highest place twenty feet.

In the Calvert coal mine camps the water is reported to be six feet deep. The damage to property is incalculable.

Brazos Creates Havoc.

Waco, Tex., July 1.—The Brazos river is falling, after reaching a point within six inches of the highest mark in its history since the country was settled by whites, and within two inches of the flood in 1885, the highest rise since the civil war.

In East Waco between fifty and one hundred blocks were flooded, and boys traveled the streets in boats.

The damage to bridges in the county and city will probably reach $75,000.

The injury to farmers below Waco is serious. Some of the largest farms and best crops in the Brazos valley are under water.

The destruction of fences is a big item, and will run into thousands.

The river is falling nearly as fast as it rose.

It went up thirty-one feet and six inches above low water mark, and at 9 o'clock Wednesday night was six feet under the highest point reached on the present rise.

More Washouts.

Corsicana, Tex., July 1.—Additional reports of high water and damage to railroad property and crops have come in. On the Cotton Belt road near Mount Calm a washout occurred Thursday night and yesterday all trains to and from Waco have been compelled to take the Hillsboro branch in order to get through.

All the yard force here were sent to the break and to other weak points on the line west to repair damage already done and to strengthen weak places with bags of sand, which were sent out from here.

Celebration Postponed.

Brenham, Tex., July 1.—The Brazos river navigation convention and the celebration of the unveiling of the Texas independence monument at Washington have been postponed until July 26 and 27 on account of the flood.

Many miles of fence are swept away. Prairie farms are badly washed and in some instances almost ruined. Nearly every house in Brenham is flooded by water beating through gables and pouring down eaves. Many streets are cut up and are impassable. Many narrow escapes from drowning, but no casualties.

Train Wrecked.

Timpson, Tex., July 1.—A Marshall, Timpson and Sabine Pass mixed train went through a bridge near here and two cars were wrecked. The place was a twenty-foot embankment. One lady was slightly injured. One car of brick was torn to pieces.

Seventy Missing.

Calvert, Tex., July 3.—The excitement over the disastrous rain has not abated in the least. The arrival of every man from the Brazos bottoms attracts large crowds of curious people to hear any new developments or damage and the condition of the water at the place from which he came.

The two large bridges which spanned the Brazos river yielded to the madly rushing stream.

From all reports every bridge within a radius of ten miles from here has been swept away.

The earlier reports of heavy loss of life in Robertson county caused by the meeting of the waters of the Brazos and Little Brazos rivers have been confirmed. The information received here is meager, but it is to the effect that over seventy people are missing.

Nine bodies have been recovered. The floods of the two rivers came up so rapidly that the negroes living in between the water courses had no opportunity of escape.

They were caught in a trap and drowned.

No Improvement.

Austin, Tex., July 3.—There is no improvement in the distressing situation in the extensive flooded districts of central and south Texas. On the contrary, the inundation is growing worse.

There has been another twenty-four hours of heavy, continuous rain which have added to the already unprecedented volumes of water in the rivers and creeks in this rich agricultural region of the state.

There seems to be no end of the rain. The sea of water now extends from the north central part of the state to the gulf, a distance of 200 miles or more, and with an average width of probably seventy-five miles.

Brazos Falling.

Waco, Tex., July 3.—The Brazos river is less than half full and still declining. The Bosque and other tributaries are down low, and not much above their ordinary flow. Water is standing in lakes in the lowlands and there is a small of fermented vegetation in the air. There were slight showers in this region yesterday with bright sunshine and high temperature between the showers.

In the wheat belt south of Waco less than half of the grain was threshed, and the rest is spilling in the shock.

Passengers on the Cotton Belt say in the fine wheat lands between Waco and Gateville they can smell the odor of the spoiling sheaves in the breeze that enter the cars.

Carcasses of hogs, cows and horses floated down the river. As far as is known, no one was drowned, although narrow escapes were made.

Bull Fight.

El Paso, Tex., July 3.—About 1500 Americans were attracted from El Paso yesterday afternoon to see Ignacio Fernandez, a Spanish woman, put two bulls to death in the Juarez bull ring. The woman's work was very coarse, and any butcher could have killed the bovines with greater ease.

The crowd was disgusted, and several American women in the audience sickened and fainted at the sight of the poor brutes bleeding slowly to death, but fighting to the last, with the blood streaming from their wounds. Not a single member of the troupe was injured, and not even a horse was gored.

The state department has concluded a reciprocity treaty with Jamaica.

Guards on Trains.

Texarkana, Tex., July 3.—The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf Railway company has placed armed men on all of its trains. This action was deemed necessary in view of so many hold-ups perpetrated on that road of late, and for the further reason of intimidation of threatened robbery that has recently been obtained by the secret service of the company. There are ten men with Winchester on each train.

A Deplorable Happening.

Corsicana, Tex., July 2.—News was received here of a most deplorable accident, fatal in results, that occurred near the little town of Roam. Mamie Johnson, aged 15 years, was accidentally killed by her 12-year-old brother, John, who handling a gun, his sister watching his actions. The Johnsons are well-to-do people, and the sad accident has plunged the Roam community in deep sorrow, the little girl being quite popular.

At Arkadelphia, Ark., Ben Stafford was mortally wounded in a street duel.

Country Flooded.

Wharton, Tex., July 3.—The country is flooded. The downpour was unprecedented in volume, exceeding the storms of 1886-87. As reports drift slowly in, slight fears turn to grave alarm for the crops. Fifty per cent of the corn is blown down. The path of the cyclone to the north of town was narrow, doing but little damage, except to timber. Wrecking crews coming in from the Southern Pacific say that for fifteen miles west of Wharton there was an unbroken sheet of water.

Beautiful Gift.

Decatur, Tex., July 3.—Sheriff Tom McClure has received a beautiful gift from two inmates of the Rusk penitentiary. The gift is in the shape of a hat made of horns, tipped with silver. The convicts who made this present to Sheriff McClure are the Campbell brothers, Bob and Dan, who were convicted in the courts here years ago and sentenced to state prison for life. The gift was prized very highly by Sheriff McClure, and well it might be, for it is acknowledged to be a masterpiece of work.

Denied Bail.

Athens, Tex., June 30.—Jim Johnson was the first witness in the lynching case yesterday. Was at the Humphries' funeral, heard widows say they did not know who did the hanging.

Dr. Campbell heard Mrs. Jim Humphries say they did not know who composed the mob.

W. H. Redford testified to the same effect.

After a consultation, the defendants' attorneys returned and filed a motion in writing giving the names of the witnesses before the inquest and asking that the testimony there taken be produced and that the defendants' counsel be permitted to inspect the same, and if not produced that the record of the inquest be filed with the district clerk as part of the record of this case.

Assistant Attorney General Morris said that the inquest has not yet closed, but is proceeding from day to day, and there are more steps in contemplation which may prolong it for quite a while.

The motion of defendants' counsel was argued at length by E. B. Muse, of Dallas. The assistant attorney general replied and said that the defendants' counsel was nesting around trying to find out what their witnesses had sworn to and what facts the state had in its possession.

Judge Muse concluded the argument with an eloquent speech.

The court overruled the motion and remanded the defendants to jail without bail.

Overflow at Waco.

Waco, Tex., June 30.—The sky has the appearance of polished copper and the rain is falling with pitiless fury. There is no lightning, but low thunder rumbles.

Waco creek, which rises in the hill west of the city, winds sinuously through the southern wards and empties into the Brazos at the foot of Jones street, is out of its banks and flooding the houses along its course for a quarter of a mile or more.

It has forced from fifty to one hundred families out of their houses.

A majority of the sufferers are colored people.

The fire department, the entire police force and the sheriff and his deputies, together with a number of citizens, worked at rescuing the families in the creek bottom and succeeded in saving everybody.

Struck by Cyclone.

Dodge, Tex., June 30.—A cyclone about fifty feet wide struck Oklahoma, where the Columbia Lumber company has a large sawmill in operation.

The cyclone completely demolished the dry kiln, blowing it with the lumber hundreds of yards. There were fortunately only two men in the dry kiln at the time. Both escaped by jumping. One was blown a short distance, but escaped miraculously with no injury. Mr. John Roark of Dodge was slightly injured. A man is said to have been blown away.

Covered With Water.

Ennis, Tex., June 30.—Mr. George Alderman of Waxahachie passed through here yesterday morning en route home from a commercial tour in southern Texas. He said that he came over the Cotton Belt road from Waco and that the road from Dawson to Corsicana was in most places entirely covered with water. The rain in that section has been very heavy and the prairies are flooded.

The next meeting of the state teachers will be held at El Paso.

Worst in Years.

Galveston, Tex., June 30.—Reports here indicate that the railroads of Texas are having about the worst time they ever experienced with washouts.

Advices were received here of washouts on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas as both north and south of Smithville, and washing out the Houston and Texas as Central both north and south of Navasota. The Santa Fe discontinued its passenger service between Galveston and Temple, as they could not send them out either on their own line nor on the Houston and Texas Central or the Katy.

Washed Away.

Austin, Tex., June 30.—All of the streams and rivers of central Texas are on the greatest rampage known for many years.

The bridge of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas over the Brazos river near Smithville was washed away.

Buffalo bayou is higher than for years.

Traffic Disturbed.

Houston, Tex., June 30.—The railroads have suffered very much from an over-supply of water along the lines. As a consequence the Santa Fe, the Katy and the Houston and Texas Central had to abandon some trains yesterday and last night.

Dreyfus at Rennes.

Rennes, France, July 3.—Dreyfus arrived here at 6 a. m. Saturday via l' Orient and Redon. The prisoner appeared to be in good health. He wore a blue suit, a gray overcoat and a soft hat. His hair is turning gray and his beard is of a reddish color. He held himself very erect.

The landing of Dreyfus at Quiberon was almost unnoticed. At 9 o'clock Friday evening the guardship Gandon put to sea to meet the Stax, which had been sighted. The unusual bustle attracted many people to the harbor, but as they saw nothing, the crowd dispersed. The only persons remaining were those who knew where the prisoner was to be landed.

Dreyfus, who had been brought ashore in the boat, was immediately placed under the guard of a captain of engineers and a servant and a corporal of gendarmes, who formally handed the prisoner over to M. Vigile. The latter then entered a landau with Dreyfus and two detectives and started for the railway station, which was reached without incident.

The train stopped at Rabellais, three kilometers from Rennes. There the party alighted and quickly entered a carriage drawn by two splendid horses, which immediately started at a sharp advance for Rennes.

Preceded by his guards, Dreyfus entered the prison, was formally consigned to the care of the governor and was taken to a cell in the second story.

Though rain fell heavily all night, the sun shone out brightly when Dreyfus entered the prison.

The governor of the prison sent Mme. Dreyfus the news of the arrival of her husband, and she immediately went to the governor and asked permission to see Dreyfus.

Leave being granted, the faithful wife entered the prison almost unnoticed, and was conducted to cell No. 830, accompanied by Mm. Havet.

The meeting between the long-parted husband and wife can be better imagined than described. Naturally, it was most touching. Both Dreyfus and his wife were deeply affected. They remained long clasped in each other's arms, tears and smiles intermingling with tender endearments.

Mme. Dreyfus issued from the prison in a state of collapse. She found her husband much aged, with beard and hair whitened and body shrunken and stooped. She said Dreyfus knew nothing of the events of the past two years.

The weeping wife acknowledged the courtesy with which she had been treated. The gardienne who was ordered to be present at the interview carried out instructions, and kept at a distance.

Fatal Collision.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 3.—As a result of a street car collision last night on the road of the Monon Gap Transportation company, two people are dead, five seriously injured and ten others more or less hurt.

The dead are: O. S. Ferguson and W. H. Kirkland, motorman.

The accident happened on a steep grade near Highbridge.

The two cars which collided were heavily loaded with passengers.

About a month ago, near Athens, Ala., a boy named Thomas killed his father with a shotgun, but claiming it was an accident, he was not arrested.

On the 24th, becoming enraged at his oldest sister, he cut her so severely she died. His mother went to her daughter's assistance, and met the same fate. He then departed.

Have Departed.

Pana, Ill., July 3.—The last of the colored colony of fully 2000 persons banded by the operators during the past ten months to supplant union men, departed Sunday night on tickets furnished them by Gov. Tanner.

All mines are silent and the operators' claim-pits have been closed indefinitely. However, it is reported that when repairs now under way at Springfield and Pana mines are completed these pits will be opened with union men.

Blew His Brains Out.

Vinita, I. T., July 3.—News has reached here that Arch Stambaugh, a prominent farmer and stockman, who resides some ten miles east of Grove, I. T., committed suicide. He had made deliberate arrangements to shoot himself and wrote instructions in regard to the final disposition of his property and burial, and when he had completed his last instructions retired to his room and deliberately took a pistol and blew his brains out.

Cotton Fire.

New York, July 3.—Fire, which is supposed to have started from spontaneous combustion, destroyed Independent-warehouse No. 1, at the foot of fourth street, in which 12,000 bales of cotton were stored. Frederick R. Sewall, vice president of the corporation, places the loss near $300,000.

The contents of the building belonged to firms represented in the New York cotton exchange. The company carried its own insurance. Owners of the cotton took their own risks.

Francis is Tranquil.

Paris, July 3.—As the outcome of the government's prudence all France remains tranquil. Maitre Demange and Labori, with Mathieu Dreyfus and his wife arrived last evening at Rennes. The town is quite tranquil. Maitre Labori, who will defend Capt. Dreyfus before the court-martial has never yet seen him.

Was Not Chastised.

A new story of Henry Ward Beecher was told at the Plymouth church prayer meeting by Dr. E. K. Cressey of Brooklyn Hills, L. I. It was a story of Dr. Cressey's boyhood. One day his mother left the hoodlum and his brothers that they must be very quiet and not romp while she was gone. There was a hairbrush with which Mrs. Cressey was wont to punish violations of the domestic statutes when any such occurred. Her well ordered household, and the youngsters promised to be good and remained as still as mice.

Presently Mr. Beecher arrived to make a call on the Cresseys, and found no one to receive him but demure looking boys. A flash of anticipation came into his eyes, as he joyously told his young hosts to prepare for the romp of their lives.

"That mamma told us we wasn't romps," protested the future doctor of philosophy.

"I'll take all the responsibility," responded the great preacher.

When Mrs. Cressey heard indications of a snarl, filled with indignation at this unheard of rebellion in her quiet little republic, she rushed into the house with words of stern rebuke and rebuked, petrified.

Henry Ward Beecher was flat on his back on the floor, with a parcel of ghost dance on his prostrate form and emitting shrill yells. The appearance of the avenger instantly froze all the rebels into silent consternation, except the arch-insurgent. Climbing to his feet, the unabashed clergyman said:

"Mrs. Cressey, I promised my friends here to take all the responsibility for this outbreak, and here I reappear for the hairbrush, and presented it to her with a cheerful smile, and she was ready to take whatever is due them. You may begin at once."

But for once there was an infraction of the laws in the Cressey household that went unspanked.

Notable Affairs.

Cincinnati, O., July 3.—The Golden Jubilee Saengerfest closed Saturday with results that make things of the notable gatherings of the kind. The cloud of disappointment with darkened its beginning was widely scattered by the great concerts at the help of phenomenal weather. The most possible "good time" has been enjoyed by the tens of thousands of visitors, and the memories of the fest these pits will be full of pleasure.

Rioting in Spain.

Valencia, Spain, July 3.—Very serious disturbances are in progress here under the orders of the captain general of Valencia, Gen. Molto. His troops occupied the streets and held all the strategic points.

At the beginning of the riots the mob placed obstructions on the street railway tracks and stopped the cars, stoning the gendarmes when they tried to remove the barriers. Finally the troops charged and the first shots were fired. Several persons were wounded and one killed.

Meets July 20.

St. Louis, Mo., July 3.—A call for a meeting of the national committee, to be held July 20 at the Sherman house, Chicago, was issued yesterday by former Governor Stone of Missouri and acting Secretary Johnson of Kansas, representing the committee.

The call was issued in accordance with the decision of the recent conference held in St. Louis, of which Mr. Stone was chairman.

Disson Dead.

Tetra Haute, Ind., July 3.—John Dixon was found dead in a miserably furnished house boat on the Washburn river. The Dixon cotton swindle in 1876 was perhaps the greatest swindle perpetrated up to that time in the west. The Missouri Pacific Railroad company lost upward of $200,000, it is alleged, by this man, whose scheme was to secure bills of lading for a quantity of cotton, requiring the two and an original bill for a shipment and then to sell the which had been lost.

KERRVILLE PAPER.

EDWARD SMALLWOOD, Editor and Proprietor.

A BAD PREDICAMENT.

The Girls Surprised the Young Man... A very amusing story is told concerning a prominent young Louisville society man who visited Chicago during the world's fair.

One morning he overleapt himself, and as his door was unlocked, what was his surprise to find three pretty Louisville young women enter the room.

The young man did not mind his imprisonment at first, but grew very nervous as the minutes gradually lengthened into hours.

NOT A STRANGER.

His Features Were Familiar to the Long Suffering Bank Clerk.

"I suppose I'll have to go and get somebody to identify me before you'll cash this check," said the man at the bank cashier's window, dolefully.

"Your name," replied the cashier, after a moment's inspection of his caller, "is Ambrose Haybenslaw."

"That's right," exclaimed the other in surprise. "How do you know my name?"

"You were cured of nervous exhaustion and kidney disease of eleven years standing," was the reply, "by taking fourteen bottles of Blainham's Sarsaparilla, price $1 a bottle, sold by all druggists, some genuine with out the name of the manufacturer in raised letters on the bottle."

A lawyer tells a story of how he got even with a preacher. It was on the occasion of his second marriage. After concluding the ceremony the minister took advantage of the privilege accorded him by custom of kissing the bride.

ONE ON THE BAND.

The Cable Car Human Knocks Out the others.

There are more ways than one of embarrassing a brass band. The story of the man who rendered the wind instruments of such an organization useless by sucking a lemon in full sight of the performers has often been related and the resultant watering of their mouths fully explained.

Usually gripmen do not stop to let passengers on; preferring to see the passenger endanger his neck by catching the car on the fly.

PERIL IN TEA.

Excessive Use of the Beverage Often Causes Insanity. A report upon insanity in Ireland, which has just been issued, estimates among the causes of mental failure, the insubstantial diet of the poorer population, tending to produce anamia and constitutional weakness.

"While the moderate use of properly prepared tea," the report adds, "is regarded as innocuous, or even beneficial in its action on the nervous system, its ill effects when decocted or over-infused on persons who make it their staple article of dietary are dwelt on by almost all the resident medical superintendents in their several reports.

"The excessive use of tobacco, also, especially among the young, whether by smoking or chewing, in the opinion of certain of our medical superintendents, acts, though perhaps in a minor degree, injuriously on the nervous centers."

In many parts of Ireland it has been found that bread and tea have been substituted for porridge and milk, and for potatoes also, and that the tea is generally of an inferior quality, and the method of preparation is to put a quantity in the teapot early in the morning and to allow it to stew during the day, water being added as required.

Missing means different things according to where you happen to be at the time.

In West Africa the natives hiss when they are astonished; in the New Hebrides when they see anything beautiful.

The hair is preserved by keeping the scalp clean, cool, and free from dandruff, and the body in a healthful condition.

The great popularity of Ayer's Hair Vigor is due to the fact that it cleanses the scalp, promotes the growth of the hair, prevents it from falling out, and gives it that soft and silky gloss so essential to perfect beauty.

Frederick Harty, of Roxbury, Mass., a gentleman fifty years of age, was fast losing his hair, and what remained was growing gray.

After trying various dressings with no effect, he commenced the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor.

"It stopped the falling out," he writes, "and, to my great surprise, converted my white hair (without staining the scalp), to the same shade of brown it had when I was 25 years of age."

Ten Years Younger.

Mrs. Mary Montgomery, of Boston writes: "For years, I was compelled to wear a dress cap to conceal a bald spot on the crown of my head; but now I gladly lay the cap aside, for your Hair Vigor is bringing out a new growth. I could hardly trust my senses when I first found my hair growing; but there it is, and I am delighted. I look ten years younger."

A Giant Obelisk.

Redstone, N. H., is the proud possessor of the biggest granite block in the world.

It is 145 feet long, 35 feet wide and 28 feet in depth. It took 200 pounds of powder to blow it out in one piece.

The largest previous piece of granite quarried in America was a shaft 57 feet long and five feet thick at the base, quarried in Vinahaven for a soldiers' monument, but that weighed after polishing only one one-hundred and twentieth as much.

As it stands the great shaft of stone measures 140,000 cubic feet and weighs 12,510 tons. If it were cut into an obelisk of the usual proportions it would weigh about 4,500 tons and would be much heavier even than any obelisk ever set up in Egypt.

The largest known block of brownstone in the world is a fallen shaft at Karrah, 120 feet long and 15 feet square at the base. It weighs but 3000 tons.
