

THE DROUGHT, which has plagued area farmers and agri-businessmen for more than a year, is not just an area-wide, nor a regional phenomenon.

According to articles in two of the nation's leading magazines during the past week, the drought is a nation-wide problem, and one which has become very serious in many sections of our country.

In fact, many experts are predicting that the energy crisis may seem pale by comparison to the water crisis which the country may face during the coming decades.

Newsweek Magazine, in its issue of February 23, 1981, pointed out that one-fourth of all the water used daily in America comes from underground aquifers.

In 1950, the article said, the nation pumped 12 trillion gallons of water from the underground supplies. By 1980, this figure has more than doubled. Today, it is said that 21 billion more gallons flow out of our underground water reservoirs than seep into them.

The magazine article touched upon the problem on the High Plains of Texas up through Nebraska, where the supplies in the Ogallala Aquifer are being depleted at an alarming Likening the cost of water to the production of food, it was pointed out that it takes huge amounts of water to produce a steak. From the water which was needed to irrigate the corn that was fed to the steer, a single steak may have required 3,500 gallons of water to produce.

"The water that goes into a 1,000-pound steer would float a destroyer," the article said. It also said that it takes 14,935 gallons of water to grow a bushel of wheat, 60,000 gallons to produce a ton of steel, and 120 gallons to put an egg on the table.

And, as stated, the problem isn't just ours on the High Plains of Texas. New York state declared a drought emergency on January 19. The Northeast and Midwest have been victims of a weather phenomenon which has forced their usual rains to fall either in Canada or out in the Atlantic Ocean.

One expert theorized that the Northeast may be entering a long drought period.

Meanwhile, the Mississippi River has reached its lowest point in a century, with sandbars on every hand. Barge traffic on the river has been seriously curtailed, and this has affected the freight business. The river channel has been dredged in places to assure that the few boats still running can do so without being grounded.

Even the spring thaws aren't expected to help the situation with the Mississippi, because in most cases the snows from which the river draws for its water have been much less than normal during the current winter season.

The Los Angeles area also is threatened with a water shortage, and a big battle is raging over the city's water supply, located 250 miles north. Farmers in the area would like to use the water to irrigate their crops.

The great Northwest annually gets too much rain, and water experts have for years tried to devise a plan to divert water from some of the rivers in that area to the Southern California area, without success to date.

The same could be said for the proposed water import program proposed for this area. At times, the program has seemed like a possibility.

Now, with virtually every corner of the nation in the same boat, the High Plains will have to convince residents of the rest of the nation and world of the necessity to produce food, in order to secure a guaranteed water supply.

Sandra Lu Sides and Kenneth Lee Schlaudt, Jr. were united in marriage in a ceremony Saturday, February 14, in Bovina's First Baptist Church. Rev. Jerry Rockwell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony, before an alter of green hanging ferns on tall graduating poles adorned with blue and white bows. Other varieties of assorted greenery completed the altar setting.

Traditional wedding selections were played by LaVonia Moody, pianist, and accompanied Grady and Dorothy Sorley as they sang "I Pledge My Love" and "Always and Forever."

Escorted to the altar by Sid Killough of Hereford, uncle of the bride, she selected a formal gown of white organza over white satin designed with a Queen Anne neckline enhanced with venice lace. Her empire bodice was closely fitted and adorned with appliqued lace flowers, ornamented with seed pearls. Her sheer long sleeves were traced with lace and caught at the wrists by cuffs. The long flowing skirt fell into a chapel length train, trimmed with venice lace.

Her fingertip length veil of illusion was edged with matching venice lace and was caught with lace flowers ornamented with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of long stemmed white daisies, white mums and blue dutch iris caught together with a blue bow and ribbon.

In keeping with tradition, she wore her grandmother's necklace that her grandmother had worn on her wedding day, for something old. Her gown was new. She wore the traditional blue garter made by her mother. She also carried a sixpence in her slipper for luck. The coin was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Bell.

Valerie Schlaudt of San Angelo, sister of the groom, was the maid of honor. Donna Schlaudt, also of San Angelo, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Terri Phillips of San Angelo, also a sister of the groom, was the bridesmatron.

The feminine attendants wore floor length dresses of blue satin with a sheer yoke inset of blue and green lace flowers with stand-up collars and fastened with tiny covered buttons. They wore hairpieces made of white daisies and carried long stemmed white daisies and mums.

Lary D. Sides of Arlington, brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Sides of San Angelo, brother of the bride, and David Phillips, also of San Angelo, brother-in-law of the groom. Ushers were Ronnie Killough of Hereford, cousin of the bride, and David Schlaudt of San Angelo, brother of the groom.

Kelly Killough of Hereford

The groom wore a pale blue tuxedo

with matching vest, trimmed with medium blue lapels and bow tie. He wore a white daisy boutonniere.

The male attendants wore matching pale blue tuxedo jackets with medium blue vests and pants, with matching lapels. They also wore blue bow ties and white daisy boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Minter selected a rose pink dress made of crepe. The loosely fitted bodice featured a round yoke with gathers and long full sleeves. The dress was belted at the waistline with a tie belt and featured an accordian pleated skirt. She wore a corsage of white daisies with a blue bow.

Mrs. Schlaudt chose a beige crepe dress, featuring high round neckline with long fitted sleeves and accordian pleated skirt. She also wore a corsage made of white daisies with a blue bow.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth edged with lace, centered with three white tapers encircled by the attendants' bouquets. The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed in blue and white flowers separated by white columns. Each layer was centered with a large blue rose. The top layer was topped with a miniature bride and groom figurine.

The Bovina Stock Show and the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show were both held last week. Many people in our community helped with these shows.

The Bovina Chapter FFA members want to say a big THANK YOU to everyone who helped weigh the animals, those who helped with the actual show and to our Administrators. Also, the members really appreciate Mr. Widner's and Mr. Cannon's many extra hours of work for these shows. We, too, thank Mr. Bill Ellis and Julia Ann Moody for their coverage of these two events for the newspaper. And, last but not least, thanks to all those businesses and individuals who bought animals at the County Sale. We appreciate your support very much.

Members are now preparing for the Houston Stock Show. It will be held the week of March 2 through March 7. Members, with their animals, will be leaving Bovina on Monday, March

Group Asks For Write-Ups

Judy Cotton of Lubbock was the principal speaker at the monthly meeting February 5 of the Parmer County Historical Commission at the Senior Citizens Building in Bovina.

Most of the field representatives of the Parmer County History Book were present and gave encouraging reports on the progress since January 8.

"We are still needing general county history information," says Grace Whitefield, co-chairman of the book project. This department of the book is to cover such things as (1) Tales of "yesteryear"; (2) farming and harvesting changes of implements and methods; (3) poems. depicting the county, past and present; (4) sketches or paintings of historical scenes; (5) homes, old and new, with contrasting pictures; (6) celebrations of community interest; (7) XIT facts and memories; (8) colorful stories of people, who settled the county; special social events, early home life, early day morals and manners; (9) the passing years....people and events with pictures to show the changes; (10) documented "firsts" in community and county.

If anyone can help with stories on these headings, it will be greatly appreciated, Mrs. Whitefield says. Just send the information to P.O. Box 577, Friona, Texas, 79035.

No word limit or cost will be applied to this general county history. The stories can also be brought to the adult classroom of the Union Congregational Church at Friona.

For further information, county residents may call 247-3815, 247-3856 or 265-3542.

Family histories are still needed, Mrs. Whitefield says, as well as memorials, tributes and business histories. The business histories are requested by March 15.

The history book can be ordered and paid for anytime. The cost is $35.00 per book if picked up, and $37.50 if mailed.

Only the number of books ordered in advance will be printed. There will not be extra books available after they are printed, it was reminded.

Rites Held For Nephew

Memorial services were held for Roger Walden recently in San Antonio. Graveside services were held on Wednesday, February 18. He died Saturday, February 14.

Mr. Walden was born in Littlefield and moved to Lubbock at an early age. He entered the Navy after graduating from high school and served in the South Pacific during World War II.

He was Vice-President of Project

Control, Inc., of San Antonio.

Survivors include his wife, Mary; his mother, Juanita Walden of Lubbock; a daughter, Barbara Cole of the home; a son, Roger Vic Walden of San Antonio; two sisters, Mrs. Joe Badura of Rosemead, California and Glenna Verne Campbell of Vero Beach, Florida; and an aunt, Mrs. Hylton Moore of Bovina.

Judge Boone, Wife Injured In Accident

District Judge Pat Boone of Littlefield, and his wife Janet were in a serious automobile accident last Sunday, February 15, in Lubbock, and have been hospitalized there with serious injuries.

Hospital spokesmen said that Boone suffered a fractured pelvis and a punctured lung, and his wife sustained fractured ribs and a punctured lung.

Judge Boone had been scheduled to preside over 11 criminal cases in Parmer County District Court this past week, but due to the accident, jurors were sent home on Tuesday and Wednesday.

District Clerk Dorothy Quickel said that the scheduled cases have been postponed until a temporary judge can be appointed to handle the cases.

A new list of jurors will be summoned for the court cases, which will be re-scheduled as quickly as possible.

Cage Teams Runners-up In District 3-AA Race

Bovina High School basketballers both took second place in District 3-AA in the tournament held this past weekend at La Plata Gymnasium in Hereford.

Both teams won their opening games to advance to the finals. The Mustangs won their game against Springlake-Earth, 63-39, and the Fillies won their game against Kress, 58-23.

In district finals played Friday night, the Fillies lost to Springlake-Earth 48-37, but the Mustangs overpowered Vega, 62-58, forcing a playoff since Vega was the roundrobin winner after a play-off with the Mustangs Monday night.

In the game with Kress Thursday night, the Fillies had four players in double figures. Leading the Fillies was Lisa Shepherd with 15 points. The Maroon fems' outstanding second quarter put them well ahead, they held Kress to three points and only 12 for the last half of playing

Clovis Included In MX Planning

The Air Force announced Monday it awarded an $11.8 million contract to EDAW Inc. of San Francisco to begin planning for operating bases at the sites under consideration for use in the proposed MX mobile missile system.

Planning work is to begin immediately in Beryl, Utah, Milford, Utah, Coyote Spring Valley, Nev., and Clovis, N.M., and later in Ely, Nev., Delta, Utah and Dalhart, Texas, the Air Force said. The contract runs for 15 months.

EDAW will assess what the needs are for bases in those areas, such as housing, utilities, roads, buildings and what effect the bases would have on the communities and environment, the Air Force said.

The Air Force has proposed that the MX system be located in Nevada and Utah but a final decision has not been made. The plan approved by the Carter administration calls for deploying 200 MX mobile missiles among the 4,600 shelters spread throughout desert valleys in Utah and Nevada.

time

The Fillies then met Springlake-Earth, District 3-AA's number one team in the finals Friday night. Lynnette Bentley put in the first two points of the game. The first time period ended with S-E one point ahead, 7-8.

S-E outscored the Fillies 16-2 in the second period, but Bovina came within four points of their opponents in the third period, but S-E reeled off six unanswered points during the next 1½ minutes to take the game.

Bovina's Fillies finished the season with an 18-8 record and second in district.

Coach Neal's Maroon Mustangs had an easy win over Springlake-Earth, leading 18-33 at halftime. Harvey Shepherd tossed in 24 points.

In Friday night's finals the Mustangs overpowered the Vega Longhorns in the fifth meeting of the two teams. The teams stayed close, ending the first quarter with Vega two points ahead.

Then the Mustangs pulled ahead 27-21 at halftime. Vega came within one point of the Mustangs three different times in the last four minutes of the final period, the last time with 2:35 on the clock. Ricky

Parmer County Cotton Growers Plan Election

Parmer County cotton producers and agribusinessmen will elect a Producer Director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at a 7 a.m. breakfast meeting on Thursday, March 5 in the Bovina Restaurant, Bovina.

Announcement of the election comes from JeDon Gallman of Rt. 1, Friona, Parmer County Businessman Director to the 25-county cotton organization. W.L. Edelmon of Friona, who had served as Producer Director to PCG since 1965, was killed January 13 of this year in a truck-pickup accident.

Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a businessman and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years for two-year terms. Each is eligible for re-election every second year.

All producers and businessmen are invited to the meeting. However, under PCG By-Laws, only current dues-paying members of PCG will be eligible to be elected a director or to vote in the election. This provision of the by-laws will be fully explained at the meeting.

A member of the PCG staff will conduct the election, give a review of current and planned PCG activities and answer questions about the organization and its objectives.

Shepherd hit two key baskets to wrap it up for the Mustangs.

In the playoff game Saturday night, the Mustangs led by two after the first quarter, then were tied at 23 at halftime. The Ponies had a bad third quarter, scoring only six points, trailing 43-29 going into the final quarter.

The Mustangs couldn't get any closer to the Longhorns than nine points until Richard Shepherd's two points in the final seconds brought the Mustangs within seven as the game ended 58-51.

Harvey Shepherd led the Mustang effort with 23 points before fouling out in the last 40 seconds, followed by Ricky Shepherd.

Bovina ended the season with a fine 22-5 record and second in District 3-AA.

Save 10% on Seed Tec hybrid sunflowers now and cut irrigation costs later.

Special discounts on special hybrids.

From now through March 14, save 10% on the high-yielding hybrid sunflowers from SeedTec (formerly WAC). Proven winners like SeedTec 301A, the sunflower developed for high oil content plus excellent drought tolerance.

A solution to rising irrigation costs.

One way to cut irrigation costs is to plant SeedTec sunflowers, the cash crop that thrives in the hot, dry weather of West Texas. With just one or two waterings, your SeedTec sunflowers will have all the moisture they need for top performance. Compare that to the expense of irrigating corn or sorghum, and you'll see why SeedTec sunflowers are the logical alternative to high pumping costs.

So if you want to save 10% on quality sunflower seed now and cut irrigation costs later, call your local SeedTec (WAC) dealer today.
