Presbyterian Locals

The Presbyterian body with which our local Presbyterian church is connected is one of the most active organizations in Foreign Mission work.

Its representatives have had a very important part in the changes in China. Her veteran Missionary, Dr. Dubose, was the leader of the movement that overturned the foot binding custom.

The mission in Africa took the lead and bore the burden of opposing the Belgian atrocities on the Congo.

These are but illustrations of its work for humanity and righteousness in the seven countries in which it has mission stations.

Among American churches it stands second in its per capita contributions to this cause, many of its churches giving more than four dollars per member a year.

Its budget for sustaining the work this year amounts to $560,000.

The Assembly has appointed the week from Feb. 15th to 22nd as a week of prayer and self-denial for this cause. After preaching on the subject last Sunday, Dr. Dickey asked that the congregation would remember this work and bring a free-will offering for the purpose next Sunday, the 22nd.

W. B. Wood and Sam Mayfield of Center Point were in Kerrville on business yesterday.

Don't forget to attend our big Shoe sale now on West Texas Supply Co.

Center Point Letter.

Truman Hill and family have moved to Center Point from their ranch on Spring Creek.

Clyde Miller and family who have lived here for the past year left Wednesday for their former home in north Texas.

The Grain and Elevator Co. have their building at the depot finished and have the machinery nearly all in.

C. E. Painter and family have returned from the Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth and occupy Bob Rees' farm house on the river above town. Bro. Painter preached at the Baptist church last Sunday.

Methodist Church Notes

On next Sunday the Methodist pulpit will be filled by Prof. Dwight L. Hoopingarner of Austin, who will deliver a discourse on some educational subject. Prof. Hoopingarner is a member of the faculty of the State University and we are sure the subject will be an interesting one. Everybody is invited to attend the services.

DIED

The death angel visited the home of E. H. and Maude Stone of Ingram, and took their only babe, Lawrence Woodrow, born Nov. 6th 1912, died Feb. 13, 1914. One year, three months and seven days old. His life was short, but like sunshine in the home. We buried him in the Nichols cemetery, 3 p. m. Feb. 14, Rev. J. H. Jackson conducting the service.

Oh, yet once more, my babe, to hear thy cry!
Oh, yet once more, my babe, to see thy smile!
Oh, yet once more, to feel against my breast
Those cool, soft hands, that warm wet, eager mouth
With the sweet sharpness of its budding pearls!
The mother bowed her head;
Love's troubled fount was in tears o'er-run—
A murmur—a struggle—and grace had won.
"Not my will," she said, "but thine be done!"

BY A FRIEND.

The Society held its regular Missionary meeting at the home of Mrs. Guinn, Tuesday afternoon. There were 17 members and two visitors present. The president called the meeting to order and conducted the business.

Mrs. McCoy led an interesting program consisting of several splendid papers on the life of our great statesman, Isaac Taylor Tichenor.

We were glad to have as our guest, Rev. J. H. Benson, a missionary from Mexico, who has been on the field ten years, and is over for a short stay. He will lecture to the ladies Sunday at 4 p. m. at Fawcett's Hall on our work in the foreign field and papal lands. The ladies are all requested to be present.

After the meeting our hostess served delicious refreshments and a pleasant social hour was spent.

KERR COUNTY INSTRUCTS FOR BALL AND THOMAS

Pursuant to the call of State Chairman A. W. Walker of Dallas a mass meeting of Prohibition Democrats of Kerr County gathered at the court house in Kerrville last Saturday at 2 P. M. where the matter of expressing a choice for the Democratic nomination for governor and the selection and instruction of delegates to the Fort Worth conference next Saturday was taken up.

Upon motion of H. C. Geddie, T. A. Buckner was chosen chairman of the meeting and J. M. Bruff of Center Point was elected secretary upon motion of A. L. Starkey. The meeting was opened with prayer led by Mr. W. E. Pafford of Center Point.

Nominations were then called for and J. H. Hunter of Center Point placed in nomination Hon. Thos. H. Ball of Houston. H. C. Geddie offered the name of Hon. Cullen Thomas of Dallas. No other nominations were offered and no other candidates mentioned. A motion was then made by A. L. Starkey that a vote be taken by secret ballot on the two-nominated and that the one receiving the largest number of votes should be our unanimous first choice and the other our unanimous second choice for governor. Frank Allen and J. J. Starkey were appointed as tellers and when the vote was taken up it showed 23 votes for Ball and 8 for Thomas.

By motion the chair then appointed a committee of three to nominate delegates to the Fort Worth conference as follows: M. O. Britt, Dr. J. L. Fowler, and A. L. Starkey. The following delegates were reported and duly elected: H. C. Geddie, J. J. Starkey, T. A. Buckner, J. T. S. Gammon, J. E. Palmer, Rev. D. P. Airhart, Rev. J. H. Jackson, J. C. Sing, Rev. J. H. Hunter, J. M. Bruff, Rev. R. E. Duke, John Rees, Dr. J. W. Merritt. By motion the names of the nominating committee were added to the list.

A motion by J. E. Palmer was then adopted instructing the delegates to cast the vote of this county as a unit on all matters that may come up for consideration at the Fort Worth conference, and that if a condition should arise whereby it would be useless to longer cast the vote for either Ball or Thomas, then the delegates to use their best judgment in casting the same, and that a majority of the delegates present shall rule in such matter.

The meeting was attended by a large body of representative Democrats from over the county who are in favor of good government and who believe that to have good government in Texas we must go out of the saloon business.

The meeting was entirely harmonious throughout, there not being a dissenting voice in any of the proceedings.

The following from outside of Kerrville precinct were present:

From Center Point, J. M. Bruff, Prof. M. O. Britt, Rev. J. H. Hunter, Rev. R. E. Duke, W. E. Pafford, Dr. J. W. Merritt, J. W. Nelson, John Rees, Frank M. Allen, T. A. McBryde, Truman Hill, Bob Rees. Self, Kerrville's popular jeweler, will begin at once the erection of a new building right beside his present quarters for his jewelry store and expects to have it completed and ready to move in by April 1st. His new store will be 20 by 40 feet in size and will have plate glass front and up-to-date equipment in every respect. Mr. Self's business has steadily grown until he is now compelled to move into larger quarters, and he expects to build and equip a store that will be a credit to the town as well as adequate and convenient for his business. The store will have a concrete sidewalk in front.

Baptist Church Notes.

Rev. T. C. Long of San Antonio preached two very interesting sermons for us Sunday. The evening discourse was illustrated by a chart and was very instructive. Bro. Long remained over and preached at the Mexican Mission Monday night.

Rev. J. H. Benson, a missionary who recently returned from Mexico on account of the hostilities there and is now residing in San Antonio, came up to Kerrville Tuesday and is holding services at the Mexican Mission every night this week. He will preach for the First Baptist Church next Sunday morning and evening.

WEARY OF PANAMA

COL. GOETHALS AND HIS AID WILL BE MIGHTY GLAD TO COME BACK HOME.

CLIMATE IS VERY TRYING

Canal Builders Have Been Drenched With Rain Nine Months of Each Year, but Have Completed Their Task Quickly.

By GEORGE CLINTON.
Washington.—Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of Panama Canal construction, will remain as governor of the isthmus only until January first next. This seems to be assured. The great engineer probably will either accept the police commissionership of New York or undertake some other work of prominence, provided he is placed on the retired list of the army after the canal is opened.

It always has been known that Colonel Goethals did not care to be made governor of the Canal Zone to hold the position for any great length of time. Colonel Goethals, Lieutenant-Colonel William L. Sibert and the other great engineers are willing and even wish to leave the isthmus of Panama as soon as the great work is completed? Why? They need rest and moreover they are tired of the tropical life.

Does anybody blame the chief engineer or his division engineers for wishing in their hearts to come back to the United States? The work in the Culebra Cut, with the nervous strain imposed because of its peculiar difficulties, killed Lieut. Col. David DuB. Galliard. He virtually had finished his labor when he gave up his life. The work of the other divisions on the isthmus was as heavy as that with which Galliard was confronted, but it was not in its nature so trying. If it had been, other great engineers like Galliard probably would have died at their post.

Life on Isthmus Is Trying.
In August of last summer, I visited the isthmus of Panama and was the guest of a division engineer who was one of my classmates at West Point. He is a big man in brain and body, but that he felt somewhat the effects of the tropic sun, of anxiety and of physical and mental labor there was no doubt. What is true of him unquestionably is true of other engineers who have done their work on the isthmus. Seven years of it, and is there any wonder that they yearn for home?

For nine months each year for seven years the workmen of Panama have been rained on. For these nine months they were drenched and dried alternately four or five times a day. The rains descend as they do not descend anywhere else and then they stop and a baking sun comes out to roast man and beast for an hour or two, then to disappear and let the rain go at it once more.

When a young officer of engineers who was assisting the engineer in charge of the construction of the Gatun Locks and dam was working at Porto Bello getting out stone and gravel to be used for foundations, it rained fifty-nine inches in one month. His chief, necessarily anxious to complete his work, kept calling on his lieutenant for quicker action and more material. One day the young officer flashed this telegraphic message to his superior: "Fifty inches of rain not extraordinary; anything more considered an act of God and man's responsibility ceases."

The youngster received no more hurry-up orders.

Work Has Been Done Quickly.
The Panama Canal has been completed quickly. The men building it kept everlastingly at it and yet there was the appearance of leisureliness in the work. It was only in appearance, however. They walked slowly from one post of duty to another, but when they were standing still directing the laborers under them were men to whom tropic conditions were usual and to whom the short hours and the good treatment accorded by the American officers were unusual and made labor with them a seeming pastime.

With few individual exceptions, the working force on the isthmus of Panama has kept its health. The American engineer officers, however, have felt the effects of seven years of labor. Moreover, they are homesick and their homesickness has been accentuated by the fact that the time is near at hand when they can come home for the cure.

Keeping in Touch With People.
President Wilson has said that in all he does he wants to be guided by the views of the country rather than by those of the city of Washington. Not long after his inauguration he said to the newspaper men: "The only way I can succeed is by not having my mind live in Washington. My body must live here, but my mind has got to live in the United States, or else I will fail."

I have got to understand the country or I will not understand my job.

It is probable that every president has felt exactly as Mr. Wilson feels, but it was probably only Theodore Roosevelt who made actual systematic daily attempts to keep in touch with the sentiment of the entire country. Mr. Wilson is doing very much the same thing that Mr. Roosevelt did, and time will disclose whether or not he is wise in so doing. Of course on the face of things it would seem that he has been wise in keeping in touch with the sentiment of the country, but if he misinterprets the sentiment and legislation goes wrong, then perhaps some unthinking ones will say he went to the wrong quarters for his information and should have depended entirely upon the advice of his party leaders in Washington.

Wilson's "Yellow Journal."
It is said that the number of newspapers which reach the White House now is greater than ever before in the history of the country. It is the business of one of the employes to make up for Secretary Tumulty a "daily newspaper." This is simply a compilation of news and editorial opinions from all the great newspapers of the country.

President Wilson takes this compilation, which Secretary Tumulty loosely has called the "Yellow Journal," and reads it through, depending upon it for light upon the viewpoints of all sections of the country. The president, of course, trusts in large measure to the press of the country for information, but it must be said that the press of the country cannot depend to any great extent upon President Wilson for information.

Not in years has there been in the White House so reticent a president as Woodrow Wilson. His well-known phrase "pitiless publicity" has become more or less of a joke among newspaper men. It is perfectly true that he talks to correspondents and tells them things, but on the more important affairs he keeps his own counsel absolutely, and allows the news to come out from other quarters. This is regarded by some of the administration's officials as being bad policy.

Unlike Taft and Roosevelt.
President Wilson in one way is the exact opposite of either President Taft or President Roosevelt. He cares little or nothing apparently for society as such. He attends only such dinners as he feels that he must attend because of his position as president of the United States. There gather in Washington constantly congresses of various kinds. The different lines of business and the different lines of philanthropic endeavor which are followed by men and women throughout the United States lead frequently to Washington where great general meetings are held.

It was the rule of President Roosevelt and President Taft to address virtually all these congresses. President Wilson rarely attends any of them, although he always names some official of government to represent him. Whatever else can be said about Woodrow Wilson, he attends strictly to the business of the executive office, although it must be said some people think that making addresses which will be sent through the country as messages from the president is a part of the duties of the chief executive. Again, it is all in the viewpoint.

Question of Railway Mail Pay.
Within six weeks a report must be made to congress on a subject which has been vexing the government and the railroads for years. The question to be answered by the report is how much money ought to be paid the transportation companies for carrying the mails.

In the last year of the Taft administration, but when there was a Democratic house of representatives, there was a paragraph inserted in the post-office appropriation bill authorizing the appointment of a joint committee on railway pay. It is the report of this committee which must be made to congress soon. The members of the committee are former Senator Jonathan Bourne, Jr., former Senator H. A. Richardson, Senators John H. Bankhead of Alabama and John W. Weeks of Massachusetts, and Representatives James T. Lloyd of Missouri and William E. Tuttle of New Jersey.

While the committee, largely through the activities of Chairman Bourne, has done an immense amount of work in the line of study of a vital topic, it is said that there are comparatively few evidences that a scientific method of readjustment has been discovered.

Mr. Burleson's Estimate.
It is said that Postmaster General Burleson has filed a report with the joint committee on railway mail pay setting forth "that according to ascertainment and conclusion based on the conditions of 1909, the railroads in 1913 were overpaid about $300,000." It may be that another computation difference would wipe out this overpayment margin and prove that the railroad officials are telling the truth when they say that it costs them much more to carry the mails than they get out of the treasury for performing the service.

For a year off and on, and for the last two months exclusively, Dr. M. C. Lorenz, a statistician of the Interstate commerce commission, has been especially employed by the joint committee. R. H. Turner, secretary of the committee and an experienced man in matters of this kind, has made a special investigation. He and Dr. Lorenz have worked independently and without knowledge of each other's conclusions. It is said that when their two reports were compared it was found both had reached the opinion that the railroads were being underpaid about 25 per cent.

The joint committee has under consideration a bill prepared by Dr. Lorenz establishing car-tou-rette as the unit basis for compensation, in place of the quadrennial weighing which it is said experience has demonstrated gives rise to gross error.

The state board unanimously reversed the decision of the board of trustees of the Gonzales independent school district, as well as that of former Superintendent of Public Instruction F. M. Bralley, which refused permission to Syrian children to attend the white free schools. This question has been in controversy for a year and Monday's decision of the state board means that sixty-seven Syrian children of scholastic age in Gonzales may attend the white schools.

The board acted on an opinion given recently by the attorney general's department that to exclude the Syrian children from the free public schools would be unconstitutional and in violation of the bill of rights.

MAY ATTEMPT TO RUSH BORDER

REBELS PREPARING TO GET HOLD OF GEN. SALAZAR.

He Appeals to United States Officers to Protect Him—Troops Are on Guard.

El Paso, Tex.—Unsuccessful in the attempt last week to organize a military expedition against constitutionalists in Juarez by sending men, arms and horses across the border near Ysleta, federal sympathizers in El Paso are organizing another movement by which they intend to cross over several hundred men within a few days to wage war on the constitutionalists. Information regarding the planned military movement had been obtained by government officials at El Paso, and a strict vigilance is being maintained along the border by the United States troops to prevent it from being successfully carried out.

A quantity of arms, ammunition and dynamite was discovered by soldiers of the Fifteenth Cavalry on the Aldegrete ranch near Ysleta Saturday and army officers believe that this was to be used in the filibustering expedition which was planned for last week to cross to Mexico and attack Juarez. The war munitions were hidden in an irrigation ditch on the ranch. The material has been confiscated by the military authorities.

General Jose Ynez Salazar, who is an inmate of the Fort Bliss prison camp, fears that the constitutionalists will make an attempt to rush the soldier guard over him in order to give the impression that they are going to assist him to escape so that the American soldiers will carry out the orders to shoot him if he attempts to escape. Salazar has sent word to General Scott that this is to be attempted and has asked that he be given protection in such case. In reply, General Scott has notified Salazar that if he so desires, he will place him in the soldier guard house at Fort Bliss.

Salazar, through his attorney, Elfo Baca of Albuquerque, N. M., notified General Scott that he would make no effort to escape from his prison. He said he knew that any such attempt would be useless because of his guards.

Maximo Castillo is still at large in the hills west of Pearson, Chihuahua, though he is being hunted by hundreds of constitutionalist troops. Castillo is believed to be in hiding at one of the many small ranches in the mountainous districts west of Pearson and is being sheltered by the native ranchmen. Nearly every Mexican of the lower class in the district is a sympathizer of Castillo's because in the past he has divided up amongst them a great deal of his loot and sums of money he has extorted from Americans after holding them for ransom.

Though Senator Bacon had been seriously ill with kidney trouble and complications developing from a broken rib, his death was unexpected. It came suddenly at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and news of the end fell upon the senate as a shock while it was in executive session.

Second Protest Is Entered.
City of Mexico.—Charge O'Shaughnessy made a second protest Saturday to President Huerta against the newspaper El Imparcial, which continues to publish personal attacks on President Wilson.

The charge went to the president, who assured him that he regretted the attacks, and would see that they were stopped once for all.

General Huerta said he would not tolerate such attacks on the president of the United States any more than he would similar attacks on himself.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. The Man Without Folly.
William Dean Howells, apropos of the tercentenary of the birth of La Rochefoucauld, quoted at a dinner, in Boston some of the famous Frenchman's maxims.
"La Rochefoucauld," said Mr. Howells, "wasn't the sorrowful misanthrope some people think, but a gay and gallant figure. His character was best portrayed, indeed, by one of his best maxims:
"He who is without folly is not so wise as he thinks."

Clever Wife.
Food faddists cause Mr. Ralph Nevill to make some rather piquant remarks in his latest book, "Fancies, Fashions and Fads" (Metuen), and he tells an amusing story at the expense of one of them.

When at luncheon with a friend he observed "that he touched no meat, but ate only certain strange vegetable dishes, which had evidently been prepared for his special consumption. Later on," says Mr. Nevill, "I inquired of his wife if this new diet agreed with her husband.

"It didn't at first," she replied, "but it does now."
"From his looks he certainly seems to thrive on it. He never looked more robust in his life."
"I take care of that," she went on, "though I hope he won't find it out. No man partakes of a more carnivorous diet than he. Every one of those vegetable courses you saw today was full of the strongest meat juice, which, by my orders, is put into everything served to him before it appears on the table."

SCHOOL TEACHERS. Also Have Things to Learn.

"For many years I had used coffee and refused to be convinced of its bad effect upon the human system," writes a veteran school teacher.

"Ten years ago I was obliged to give up my much-loved work in the public schools after years of continuous labor. I had developed a well defined case of chronic coffee poisoning.

The troubles were constipation, flutterings of the heart, a thumping in the top of my head, and various parts of my body, twitching of my limbs, shaking of my head, and, at times after exertion, a general "gone" feeling, with a toper's desire for very strong coffee. I was a nervous wreck for years.

A short time ago friends came to visit us and they brought a package of Postum with them, and urged me to try it. I was prejudiced because some years back I had drunk a cup of weak, tasteless stuff called Postum which I did not like at all.

"This time, however, my friends made the Postum according to directions on the package, and it won me. Soon I found myself improving in a most decided fashion.

"The odor of boiling coffee no longer tempts me. I am so greatly benefited by Postum that if I continue to improve as I am now, I'll begin to think I have found the Fountain of Perpetual Youth. This is no fancy letter but stubborn facts which I am glad to make known."
Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for a copy of "The Road to Wellville."
Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled. Instant Postum—is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and, with cream and sugar, makes a delicious beverage instantly. Grocers sell both kinds. "There's a Reason" for Postum.

THE KERRVILLE ADVANCE

Published Every Thursday at Kerrville, Texas, by T. A. Buckner.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 A YEAR IN ADVANCE

Entered in the U. S. Mails as second class matter at Kerrville, Texas, on Oct. 17, 1913, according to act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Governor Tom Ball

Thomas H. Ball, who was born at Huntsville in 1859, and who has always been of and for Texas and for its highest moral and material prosperity, was with an overwhelming vote indorsed last Saturday as the choice of the progressive prohibition Democrats for Governor, and he will be nominated next Saturday by acclamation. Mr. Ball was a young business man of ability before he became a lawyer. He served his district for ten years in Congress without opposition and when he voluntarily retired, the good citizens of Houston without regard to party presented him with a magnificent silver service as a testimonial of his work in Congress for deep water at Houston and Galveston. Always a pronounced progressive Democrat and prohibitionist he has commanded the respect of all parties.

He was not a candidate for Governor, and never did anything to promote his indorsement, yet every county in his old district indorsed him, and the indorsement came, too, from all parts of the State. He is a prominent layman of the Methodist church and the Christian women of Texas will never receive other than the kindest welcome at the Capitol when he is Governor.

The Advance believes that the nomination of Mr. Ball will enthusiastically unite the prohibitionists and make success certain, and, what is still better, that he will make one of the best Governors our State has ever had. So we say, all hail Gov. Tom Ball.

If we were to turn the $20,000 or more which is wasted for liquor every year in Kerrville into paved streets and cement sidewalks, it would very soon pave every street and put a 10-foot sidewalk around every block in our splendid little city. And they are doing this very thing in many towns in Texas. It doesn't take much figuring to prove that the liquor traffic is a great financial waste and it is conceded by all intelligent and fair minded people to be most demoralizing and harmful in its effect upon humanity.

The Advance learns that a petition will soon be circulated for a commission government for Kerrville to be composed of a mayor and two commissioners. If commission government is adopted by a majority vote it will do away with the election in April of a mayor and city council. Commission governments are popular wherever adopted. It is more economical and less cumbersome.

Judge J. R. Burnett, president of the First State Bank, attended the Banker's Convention at San Antonio last Saturday, and reports that the convention, which was largely attended, unanimously approved the new national currency law. Under this law there will be from 8 to 12 regional banks and the north and east will no longer control the money of the country.

The Kerrville postmastership is still like the weather—unsettled. A strong fight is being put up by the aspirants and, although a report was circulated early this week that the President had sent A. H. Moore's appointment to the Senate, there is still a hitch some where, and the Advance dares not prognosticate what the result may be.

Carlos Bee of San Antonio has announced that he will be a candidate for the State Senate in this district. It may be that Mr. Bee will have no opposition in view of the fact that Senator Julius Real has announced his intention of retiring with his present term.

Cullen Thomas deserves the highest honors in the gift of the people of Texas as a reward for his patriotic service in behalf of good government. What shall it be?

Philathea Class Social.

Last Saturday afternoon the members of the Wesley Philathea Class entertained themselves with a Valentine social at the home of Mrs. D. H. Comparette. The afternoon was enjoyably spent with games and various guessing contests.

Refreshments consisting of ambrosia and cakes were served to about fifteen guests, and all departed very reluctantly, wishing for another "Valentine Day" in the near future.

CHILDREN LOVE SYRUP OF FIGS

It is cruel to force nauseating, harsh physic into a sick child.

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicate "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask at the store for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Adv.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't Look Old! Try Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Gray, Faded, Lifeless Hair.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and abundant with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair fell out or took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, ready to use, for about 50 cents. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is splendid for dandruff, dry, itchy scalp and falling hair. A well-known druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and abundant.—Adv.

Followed the Colors.

OUCH! PAIN, PAIN, RUB RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot," and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn the skin.

Linger up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" at the store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache and sprains. Adv.

HAIR ORNAMENTS OF RICH DESIGN IN FAVOR TODAY

THERE is no abatement in the liking for ornaments for the hair. There is a good deal of talk about the return of the high coiffure, but the last few years have shown women the beauty of well-chosen, and well-designed hair ornaments, and no coiffure can put them in the background without a good deal of a struggle.

The famous French dressmakers, realizing the scope their genius might have in hair ornaments, have turned their attention to designing some of much beauty.

One ornament that makes use of the butterfly is made of tiny black jet disks mounted on black wire. The butterfly measures about four inches from tip to tip of his half-opened wings. He is perched on a bandeau made of the little jet disks strung together solidly—a bandeau about two inches wide. The butterfly is perched at the base of a full back aigrette made up of half a dozen tall, slender spikes.

Another butterfly is made of iridescent pink sequins. This butterfly is bigger than the black one described. Each wing measures a couple of inches. But it is so graceful in color and form that it is in no way too heavy for the hair it adorns. It is fastened to a twisted ribbon bandeau studded with the pink sequins.

Above the butterfly rise three tiny pink plumes, deeper at the tips than at the base—shading from pale bluish pink to deep rose. Whether plumes as hat trimming gain great favor or not this season—and Paris has been trying to reintroduce their use on hats—they doubtless will be much used for hair ornaments.

The American shops show their hair ornaments of good design and little cost their appeal to the average woman's sense of economy, as well as to her sense of beauty. The most effective of these ornaments are doubtless either black, white or black and white combined—rhinestones for the ornaments. Nowhere in women's dress does it look so graceful and suitable as on her hair. Its lightness and delicacy make it a fitting crown to a dainty coiffure.

Jet and rhinestones combined are brilliant in effect. One especially good ornament shows good-sized rhinestones arranged alternately with cut jet in the same size. They are set in a platinum band, in three tiers, and the band is made to extend all around the head. Where it fastens on the left side there is a soft, fluffy group of white feathers of almost downy appearance and texture.

A dainty ornament for a young girl is made of silk apple blossoms and pink aigrettes. The ornament is thrust into the hair at a smart angle by means of a tortoise shell hairpin. The apple blossoms, in natural colors—some dozen of them—are grouped about the base of some soft pink, waving feathers. The contrast between the somewhat stiff blossoms and the soft, waving feathers is good.

TAKE CARE OF THE GLOVES

Length of Service and General Respectability Depend on Way They Are Handled.

Too much cannot be said about the necessity for proper care in removing gloves from the hands, for upon this more than anything else depends the length of time a pair of gloves will wear. After unfastening the glove it should be turned back over the hand as far as the fingers, and then should be pushed off without pulling on the fingers of the glove at all, as when this is done the threads of the sewing are broken, and in a short time begin to rip.

After the glove is off the hands the fingers should be gently straightened out, the gloves smoothed into shape, and put into a box to keep them from the air as much as possible, as it is the air and the moisture in it that rot the fine thread with which a glove is sewn.

Elaborate Fichus.

Fichus are worn either inside or outside the dress. They are made of shadow lace or plain white net. One, in black net, is trimmed with a black satin bow run through a pearl buckle at the bottom. Another has a plain white Medici collar and jabot trimmed with white ball buttons. A more elaborate fichu is made of silk shadow lace with standing collar.

The newest ruff is worn either standing or flat. There are three rows of platted net on a ribbon band, the ends of which are tied in four-in-hand.

A chic looking ruff is made of black net and white maline; the black is edged with picot and the ribbon ends are plain. The more extreme styles are very full and stand high. One is of white maline with black picot edge, a moire bow in black and long moire ends in front.

Fur Chin Straps.

The mode for wearing chin straps of silk or velvet with the small hats of the present day has been in vogue for some time, but among the latest arrivals in the millinery world are wide brimmed velvet hats trimmed with bands of fur, other narrow bands of fur being brought down from the sides to fasten beneath the chin. One model, for instance, was of brick red velvet trimmed with skunk, with a skunk chin strap attached to the brim beneath a knot of brick red velvet ribbon. Ermine is also being used for the purpose, but its peculiar yellow white color is not particularly becoming to even the most perfect of complexions.

Modes for Demi-Season Wear

If ever there was a season in which millinery modes were more becoming than those recently designed (for present wear), the memory of it lingers not in the mind of the closest inhabitant. These lovely "between seasons" hats promise well for the later designs and are so captivating and so inexpensive that almost anyone may indulge in them for the sake of variety in headwear if for nothing else.

"Variety is the spice of life" more truly in the matter of headwear than in any other apparel. The hat is the keynote of the toilette. It is the most important finishing touch, and finishing touches are to be relied upon to give character and distinction in the matters of dress. The between-seasons hat lends an inspiration to its wearer, who has grown tired of her winter millinery and finds it too early to buy a strictly spring hat.

The demi-season hats (as milliners call them) are made of silk, satin, moire, maline and fancy brads mostly. There is never any telling what will be evolved next by the clever people who think out our headwear. Just now they are exploiting the fabrics just mentioned, with jet and small flowers and smart feathers for trimming. Beads and the metal laces, little bunches of small fruits, and many jet ornaments, such as are in the shops in profusion, come in for much consideration also.

The three hats shown here are fine examples of the newest modes. They are rather small, but are not worn as low on the head as our winter hats. They fit snugly and may be kept in place without a pin. Among the new modes are shapes that are worn at quite a tilt to the right. Others set almost squarely on the head, but drooping, close-fitting brims at the right, which curve upward at the left, give them the appearance of being posed at a rakish angle. This pose carried to the extreme, almost covers the right eye. Those who are inclined to be facetious declare that the right eye is not being worn at present. The poise of the hat is a thing to be decided by individuals for themselves. There are hats for those who like the straight pose and hats for those who like the tilted pose. In selecting one the idea of its designer should be considered. If it was made to be worn tilted it will not look well placed in any other way.

In choosing a hat for wear now—and during the early spring (that is during that period when we are waiting for spring)—one cannot go wrong if hats of the same materials as those shown here are selected. JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 22.

FAITH DESTROYING FEAR.

LESSON TEXT—Luke 12:1-12. GOLDEN TEXT—"Every one who shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of Man also confess before the angels of God."—Luke 12:8.

The first verse of this lesson indicates the character of this period in the life of our Lord which we are now studying. It was a time of thrilling interest and of intense excitement. A time when the crowds were so great that they "trode one upon another." This may have resulted from the preaching of the seventy; but we of today can see what Jesus then saw, that this interest was only superficial and transitory. So it was that the Master turned "first of all" to his disciples lest they be deceived by this seeming popularity.

Hiding the Truth.

I. The fear of losing a reputation, vv. 2, 3. The Pharisees made great, pompous claims at their being religious. A hypocrite is one who hides behind a mask, one who is a play actor. It is pretence instead of reality. Therefore, if one is not real his fear of losing his reputation is increased in direct ratio to the extent of his deceit. The principal error of these Pharisees was that they hid the truth and at the same time refused to be ruled by it themselves. Jesus denounces a new publicity (v. 2) of service and in the presence of this vast crowd denounces this hypocrisy as being sin. He also says plainly that what they had been saying in darkness will be proclaimed from the housetops.

Our Lord compares hypocrisy with leaven in that it is the product of corruption, it works secretly, it infects the whole mass. (So hypocrisy will effect our whole life and conduct.) This leaven is a sour-spreading corruption that changes the whole character of a man. It cannot be hid. No amount of care can effectually cover our deceit. We may, for a time, hide our sin from men, but God knows and in due time will publish it abroad (v. 3); I. Tim. 5:24.

Warned by Jesus.

II. The fear of death, vv. 4, 7. Such publicity will and always has led to persecution, and so Jesus calls his disciples to courage, charging them that they fear not those who have power over the body, but rather to fear him whose power is over the soul. Notice the manner of address, "my friends, fear not." Intimacy and courage are suggested. Look up the many times the Scriptures admonish us not to fear, I. John 4:18. Satan and man (v. 5) have power over the body, but they cannot touch the soul. The Christian, however, needs not to fear man or Satan, Isa. 51:12, Rom. 8:31; for the angel of Jehovah (the Lord Jesus) encamps about them that fear Jehovah (Ps. 34:7). Paul tells us that to depart from this life is again, Phil. 1:21; II. Cor. 5:8. We have, therefore, no cause to fear the death of the body. One only, God, has the power after death, to cast the soul into hell (v. 5). He it is who gives us a suggestion of awful consciousness of the soul, and of the body as well, when they are in hell, Matt. 10:28. Jesus has warned us and we are to warn others that they avoid that which was prepared, not for man, but for the devil and his angels, Matt. 25:41. Is there a hell? Yes! Else Jesus was deceived or has deliberately deceived us. Thank God, however, that as a man is of more value than a sparrow, so God has prepared better things for those who place their faith in his son.

III. The fear of making an open confession, vv. 8-12. With such a tender, beautiful assurance of God's care over us it would seem unnecessary for Jesus to admonish his followers about confessing him before the world. Yet such is the persistent hardness and the natural timidity of the human heart that the Master, in mercy, warns his followers, Rom. 10:9, 10. Our Lord looks beyond his disciples to the dispensation of the Spirit and declared that men, speaking against him would be forgiven, but that those who slander, detract and heap vituperation upon the Spirit would commit a sin, a blasphemy, which could not be forgiven. Moreover, in that dispensation of the Spirit, no matter how much men might suffer, or be in danger, they would be taught by that Spirit what they ought to say, vv. 11, 12.

The one who commits this sin, deliberately attributes to the Devil what he knows to be the work of the Spirit, Matt. 12:22-32. It is a deliberate choice of darkness and the heart is so hardened as to preclude repentance. There is no desire for repentance. Those whom Jesus calls to proclaim the truth concerning the Kingdom of God may depend upon a co-operation of the Holy Spirit which will make them fearless of all opposition. The death of the body is but an incident. As we receive the Comforter and come to know the God of all comfort we begin to sense our value to him in carrying out his enterprises and the mystery of his condescending grace. There is no warrant for undertaking work for Christ without adequate preparation, but there is sufficient warrant for fully trusting him in every emergency.

WOMAN WOULD NOT GIVE UP

Though Sick and Suffering; At Last Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Richmond, Pa. — "When I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was in a dreadfully run-down state of health, had internal troubles, and was extremely nervous and prostrated. If I had given in to my feelings I would have been in bed. As it was I had hardly strength at times to be on my feet and what I did do was by a great effort. I could not sleep at night and of course felt very bad in the morning, and had a steady headache.

"After taking the second bottle I noticed that the headache was not so bad, I rested better, and my nerves were stronger. I continued its use until it made a new woman of me, and now I can hardly realize that I am able to do so much as I do. Whenever I know any woman in need of a good medicine I highly praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." — Mrs. FRANK CLARK, 3146 N. Tulip St., Richmond, Pa.

Women Have Been Telling Women

For forty years how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored their health when suffering with female ailments. This accounts for the enormous demand for it from coast to coast. If you are troubled with any ailment peculiar to women why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? It will pay you to do so. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Honeymoon Over.

Mrs. Newlywed—Oh, Jack, you haven't eaten half my biscuits. Really, we have to throw away so many scraps, we ought to keep chickens. Newlywed—Chickens! You mean ostriches.

DIZZY, HEADACHY, SICK, "CASCARETS"

Gently cleanse your liver and sluggish bowels while you sleep.

Get a 10-cent box. Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache. Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Adv.

At the Opera. "Aren't those chorus girls small?" "Condensed milkmaids, so to speak." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Uric Acid Is Slow Poison

Excess uric acid left in the blood by weak kidneys, causes more diseases than any other poison. Among its effects are backache, headache, dizziness, irritability, nervousness, drowsiness, "blues," rheumatic attacks and urinary disorders. Later effects are dropsy, gravel or heart disease. If you would avoid uric acid troubles, keep your kidneys healthy. To stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys, use Doan's Kidney Pills—the best recommended special uric remedy.

A Missouri Case

"Every Night" Mrs. J. P. Pemberton, 712 S. Lafayette St., Kansas City, Mo. My whole body was aching and I had terrible backaches and headaches. The kidney secretions were in awful shape. I gave up hope and was ready to die. Doan's Kidney Pills came to my aid just in time and I improved rapidly until I was well. Today I am well, better than ever before."

inches wide. The butterfly is perched at the base of a full back aigrette made up of half a dozen tall, slender spikes.

Another butterfly is made of iridescent pink sequins. This butterfly is bigger than the black one described. Each wing measures a couple of inches. But it is so graceful in color and form that it is in no way too heavy for the hair it adorns. It is fastened to a twisted ribbon bandeau studded with the pink sequins.

Above the butterfly rise three tiny pink plumes, deeper at the tips than at the base—shading from pale bluish pink to deep rose. Whether plumes as hat trimming gain great favor or not this season—and Paris has been trying to reintroduce their use on hats—they doubtless will be much used for hair ornaments.
