Luther Conwill

After a lingering but patient illness, Luther Conwill, aged 24 years, passed away at the home of his mother in this city, Friday, July 3, at 5 o'clock p. m. The family came here last winter from Wichita Falls hoping that the young man's health might be improved but, like many others, it seemed that he came too late. The funeral was conducted by Rev. S. J. Drake after which his body was laid to rest in Glen Rest Cemetery. The sorrowing family have our sincere sympathy.

LESSON FOR JULY 12

GREATNESS THROUGH SERVICE

LESSON TEXT-Mark 10:32-45 GOLDEN TEXT-"The Son of man also came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many." Mark 10:45.

This is a time in the life of our Lord that vibrates with interest as we rapidly approach his last tragic week upon earth. At the beginning of his Perean ministry (Luke 9:51) we read that Jesus "steadfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem." Now that journey is nearly ended. He had reached a place near Jericho. Knowing the antipathy of the rulers, those who journeyed with Jesus were "amazed," and some as they followed him on this journey were "afraid"

The contrast of self is the distinthe self-renouncing Master.

Assurance of Faith. 1. The Self-seeking Disciples, vv. 32-41. As Jesus clearly spoke to those told of his condemnation and deliverance to the Gentiles; his persecution, was then that James and John pre- boxful of them. of which he had been speaking. Their request was otherwise a correct one. In of your performance last night? order to share with Christ in his glory we must share his cup and his baptism of shame and suffering; see 14:36; Matt, 26:39; John 18:11; H Tim. 2:12; Rom. 8:17; Matt. 16:24, James and John (v. 39) did not stop to measure the meaning of their request, and comfort in hitting upon the right Wanted Places of Authority.

II. The Self-renouncing Master, vv. 41-45. In answer to the indignation (v. 41) of the other ten disciples Jesus without any manifest impatience calls the disciples "unto him" and sets before them their absolute equality, and yet at the same time a way of exaltation, v. 43. Jesus is ever calling times. us "unto him," for he desires to lead us out of lives of selfishness into those of fulness and service. These ten were not altogether without selfishness; they wanted the places of authority, also. Once before, chapter 9:33-36, this same controversy had arisen and was again manifested (Luke 22:24) and that, too, at a solemn occasion, as he announced his approaching death and instituted the supper. It was not till after Pentecost that it became possible for a disciple to write "in honor prefer one another," Rom. 4: 10, Phil. 2:3. This reply of Jesus to the indignation of the ten is a teaching by contrast and accurately describes the Gentile method of self-advancement. Over against it he sets forth the method of the "Son of Man." Till this present day such are the methods of those who are of this world only

In his kingdom it is different, greatness is inverse ratio until we find the greatest is the one who serves most perfectly. In emphasizing this verse (v. 45) it is quite common to omit the last clause, "and to give his life a ransom for many." So to omit it is to neglect his work of redemption and overly emphasizes the altruistic aspect of Christianity. Men are not saved by any such method. Jesus is the greatest example of a perfect servant because he did give his life. Let us also remember that he gave that life and that no man took it from him, John 10:18.

HIT THE SPOT. Postum Knocked Out Coffee Alls.

There's a good deal of satisfaction thing to rid one of the varied and constant ailments caused by coffee drinking. "Ever since I can remember," writes an Ind. woman, "my father has been a lover of his coffee, but the continued use of it so affected his stomach that he could scarcely eat at "Mother had coffee-headache and dizziness, and if I drank coffee for breakfast I would taste it all day and usually go to bed with a beadache. "One day father brought home a pkg, of Postum recommended by our grocer. Mother made it according to directions on the box and it just "hit the spot," It has a dark, seal-brown color, changing to golden brown when cream is added, and a snappy taste similar to mild, high-grade coffee, and we found that its continued use speedily put an end to all our coffee ills.

"That was at least ten years ago and Postum has, from that day to this, been a standing order of father's grocery bill. "When I married, my husband was a great coffee drinker, although he admitted that it hurt him. When I mentioned Postum he said he did not like the taste of it. I told him I could make it taste all right. He smiled and said, try it. The result was a success, he won't have anything but Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Postum now comes in two forms: Regular Postum-must be well boiled-15c and 25c packages. Instant Postum-is a soluble powder. Made in the cup with hot water-no boiling-30c and 50c tins.

The cost per cup of both kinds is about the same.

The salt should be fine grained, free from lumps, and should be scattered very uniformly. Nedeljo Gabrinovics Told of the Plan to Kill the Pair With Bombs. Prinzip Also Talks.

Vienna.-In the presence of Emperor Francis Joseph, the new heir to the throne-the Archduke Charles Francis Joseph-many archdukes and archduchesses, cabinet members, dipomatic and high military and civil officials, funeral services for the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife, the duchess of Hohenburg, who were assassinated last week, were held in the chapel of the Hofburg Friday.

Vienna.-Nedeljo Gabrinovics, who threw a bomb at Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his wife while they were proceeding to the Sarajevo town ball last Sunday, Friday made a complete confession.

Gabrinovics declared that after learning while at Belgrade that the archduke was going to visit Sarajevo he communicated with Gavrio Prinzip, who fired the fatal shots, with the result that they resolved to go there to kill the archduke, the duchess and their suites and themselves

Prinzip, who previously had denied he had any accomplices, Thursday broke down under examination and exclaimed:

"I now regret my crime, for my comrades deserted me in a shameful manner. They should have thrown the bombs, but the cowardly scoundrels did not. Consequently, I revenge myself on them by betraying

EXPLAINS HIS POSITION ON WO MAN SUFFRAGE MOVEMENT.

Five Hundred Members of General Federation of Women's Clubs Visit White House and Get Reply.

Washington .- Five hundred members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs marched to the White House Tuesday and drew from President Wilson a final refusal to accede to demands that he support the movement for a woman suffrage amendment to the federal constitution.

The president reiterated his statements to previous delegations that his party had not embodied this question in its platform and for the first time announced his personal conviction that the suffrage issue was one for settlement by the states and not by the federal government. The women departed plainly disappointed and chagringed.

Headed by such leaders as Mrs. Ellis Logan, Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley, Mrs. Rheta Chile Dorr and Miss Alice Paul, they had marched to the White House with bands playing and banners flying. They massed themselves in the historic east room, many carrying babies. Once inside the White House the women made no demonstration and allowed their leaders to do all the talking.

There was no applause as the president entered the east room. Mrs. Ellis Logan, president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, told the president of the adoption of a suffrage resolution at a recent general convention of her organization in Chicago. She then introduced Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. Dorr. The latter spoke of the strength of the movement and said the situation had changed materially since the Baltimore convention. There was a short pause and then the president stepped forward and addressed his callers.

"No one could fail to be impressed by this great company of thoughtful omen," said the president, "and I want to assure you that it is to me most impressive. I have stated once before the position which as the leader of a party I feel obliged to take and I am sure that you will not wish American Delegates and Mediators of me to state it again. Perhaps it would be more serviceable !! I ven tured upon the confident conjectu that the Baltimore convention did n embody this very important quest in the platform which it adopted by cause of its conviction that the principles of the constitution which alloted these questions to the states were well considered principles from which they did not wish to deviate.

"You have asked me to state my personal position with regard to the pending measure. It is my conviction that this is a matter for settlement by the states and not by the federal passion being for local self-governgreat communities into which this na- ists. tion is organized of their own policy and life, I can only say that since you declared in indefinite recess. turned away from me as a leader and asked me my personal views, I am obliged to state it very frankly, and I believe that in stating it I am probably in agreement with those who framed the platform to which allusion has been made."

BREAK BETWEEN VILLA AND CARRANZA NEAR

Members of Constitutionalist Junta at San Antonio Say Things, Are Far From Harmonious.

San Antonio, Tex.-The break between Carranza and Villa has reached a most critical stage, according to members of the constitutionalist junta in San Antonio. Within a short time. the members say, possibly within a week, the leadership of the constitutionalist forces will be definitely decided, Carranza either resigning and giving place to a chief of Villa's selection or else so fortifying himself behind his military adherents among the constitutionalist officers that Villa will be forced to recognize his supremacy.

Carranza, they say, has called a meeting at Monterey of all officers who are friendly to him. They attach significance to the alleged fact that neither Villa nor Governor Maytorena of Sonora have been invited to send representatives to the meeting.

In the meantime, it is pointed out, Villa, whose retirement to Torreon nated, was declared off. after his capture of Zacatecas is held to be his first step toward sending troops to Monterey to take possession of the Monterey-Tampico railroad, will try to force Carranza from control of the army. It is claimed that more than a week ago Villa asked Carranza to resign, and that the latter's reply was the summoning to Monterey of all officers whom he considered loyal to Niagara Falls, Ont .- An indefinite recess of mediation was decided on Tuesday by Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil and Ministers Snarez and Naon of Chile and Argentina, respectively. This action followed the receipt of a note from General Carranza, expressing an inclination to participate in formal conferences with Huerta delegates for the solution of Mexico's internal problems, but asking for more time in which to consult his subordinate generals, The constitutionalist chief declared he wished to get full authority from the signers of the plan of Guadaloupe, the platform of the constitutionalist movement, so that delegates might be clothed with plenary powers.
