KERRVILLE, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1915

LOCAL HAPPENINGS AT BUSY MEDINA

(Regular Correspondence)

Geo. Johnson after a month's visit in Wilson county, is again in the shop with his brother Dick.

Miss Gertrude Roberts has finished a term of school in the Jones district.

The Misses Katie and Rebecca Shuptrine are attending the Kerrville Normal.

Miss May and Miss Otha Caton have returned to San Marcos for the summer session of the Normal.

Nobody counted the sheep and goats as they went through town Sunday morning, but some say there were four thousand. They looked to be that many and sounded like many more. Your correspondent was told that the were being taken to Edwards county. Names of owners were not learned.

Mrs. Vaughn who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. Finney, returned to her home at Utopia Tuesday.

A large crowd attended Mother's Day services at the Methodist church Sunday.

Threshing has begun. Medina has never been busier. Houses have been renovated to beat spring house cleaning, roofs have been repaired, windows put in, store fronts put up, and fallen trees cleared away.

The farmers have gone into their devastated fields and have planted beans, peas, maize, June corn and even a little cotton.

There is still much talk of the hail "beating anything ever seen," but our people are displaying a fine spirit as most are heard counting their blessing rather than bemoaning their fate.

Baptist Church Notes.

Well Friends, I have some good news for you. Next Sunday we are to begin a meeting of days at the Baptist church and I am now inviting you to be with us each service. Rev. J. Edward Johnson, of Waxahachie, is to do the preaching and we expect a good singer to lead the choir and we do here and now most cordially invite every singer in Kerrville, and the visitors as well to help us in the music.

The pastor and church would most cordially invite all the officers of the county, the merchants, the doctors, the lawyers, the carpenters, the blacksmiths, the hotel people, the railroad people, the stock raisers, the bankers, the preachers, the school teachers, the bums and all others, to come to these meetings. If we at Kerrville, don't need a real revival I don't know the signs of the times. Come. Come.

J. B. Riddle, pastor.

Prof. Chapman was formerly of Atlanta, Ga.

Other teachers elected by the board were Prof. Johnson of Okla., and Prof. E. R. Dabney of Boerne. We understand Prof. Dabney has accepted the position as teacher of German and History.

Farm Car.

L. D. Lowther, local agent of the S. A. & A. P. Railroad announce that a special passenger coach, designated as "Farm Car Special," under supervision of Mr. H. M. Madison, Farm & Immigration Agent, will at an early date, to be later arranged, come on this branch of the Sap and will be set out at Center Point and Kerrville and, in this car lectures and demonstrations will be given that will be very beneficial to farmers and interesting to others. The object of this special car is to help Diversified Farming and three important subjects will be handled.

Instructions will be given by an Expert Canner as to the best method of canning fruits, vegetables, meats, or other products, such as farmers and the general public, may bring to the car while at your station, the chief idea being to impart practical information on this important subject.

Samples of Canned Goods furnished Mr. Madison will be exhibited at places where the "Farm Car" stops, with a view of encouraging the sale of Texas Products within the State, thus keeping Texas Money at home.

Farmers are asked to bring in specimens of Pests of all kinds, and state the particular damage that is being done.

A state Etymologist will take pleasure in explaining the most effective method of destroying them.

Making Soil Mulches, and how to retain moisture will be thoroughly explained. Our territory gets an abundance of rain for all purposes if people applied scientific methods for holding the moisture in the soil.

Sweet Clover, and other valuable grasses will be exhibited, and their value for pasture, hay and feeding will be fully explained.

If the above three points are well understood they will no doubt be worth a great deal each year to every farmer, and for this reason the "Farm Car Special" ought to be exceedingly interesting, instructive and profitable to everyone.

POULTRY DEPARTMENT

SUCCESSFUL METHOD WITH CHICKENS

The beginning of a chick's life is in the breeding pen and if all conditions are not correct here we cannot hope for success. The breeding bird should be selected with the greatest care and each individual should be the best specimen of breed obtainable and should possess health and vigor to the highest point obtainable. They should be housed in comfortable quarters, be supplied with wholesome food, plenty of fresh air and plenty of exercise. Such conditions are most favorable to fertile eggs; eggs that are capable of producing, with proper incubation, a chick that with ordinary good care will reach maturity rapidly and make a profit for its owner. Large breeds take longer to mature and should be hatched earlier for winter eggs, though chickens can be raised successfully the year round. We begin in September and hatch till July, then rest till September. Unless one expects to raise in large number hens are best for the amateur, or for farm yard, though the incubator is very convenient when you cannot get a hen to set early in the season.

Leave the chicks under the hen about 24 hours after hatching before you place them in their permanent quarters. The box or brood coop should be protected from the weather so that the rain cannot beat in and make it wet and uncomfortable. As a rule it should be placed in some dry, sheltered spot and face the south. Give the hen mother a constant supply of corn close in front of her coop in easy reach. Feed the expensive food for the little chicks on a feeding board or in a covered hopper in front of coop just out of reach of the hen so she can not waste the chicks' food. For the first few days the chicks should be confined close to the mother's coop. After they are about a week old they can be given free range on grass if so desired. If the weather is cold the coop should be placed under shelter in an open shed where the chicks can have indoor fresh air, as fresh air is very important to their well being. Give them variety and green food and after five days give them some fine pure beef scraps and good dry grain. Food should be kept before them all the time. Keep the chicks with their hen mother until she weans them; then place them in colony coops and yards, with from 25 to 50 in a flock. The fewer in each colony house the better. Do not crowd them.

Feeding the Baby Chicks.
A dry mash made of two parts of bran, one part wheat shorts or rice bran, one part corn meal, and 10 per cent cotton seed meal and a small amount of beef meal, kept before growing chicks after two weeks old is a very fine feed. Feed grain beside this mash. The mash can be fed in a very shallow box with one-inch mesh poultry netting tacked over it to keep from scratching it out. When about six weeks old they can be fed by keeping a good mixture of grain or chick feed before them until they are large enough to eat a mixture of hen food. Table scraps are fine for chickens. Boiled wheat, oats or corn is a fine change.

Indigestion will cause bowel trouble, which is fatal. Feed sparingly until two weeks old. Over-feeding or chilling or getting wet or damp feet means bowel trouble and death. Like all babies, they must be carefully guarded for the first period of babyhood, which lasts two weeks or three with chickens. More are killed by over-feeding than under feeding. As soon as they can stand to digest it push them. Buttermilk is a fine feed, as well as sweet milk, after two weeks. It will take the place of meat or beef meal.

Separate male from female as soon as you can distinguish the sexes. If you have different yards they grow better. Get them to laying by October or November if possible. Kill or sell the cockerels as broilers as early as possible to save food, except the most promising ones you want to keep. Select breeders carefully and build up your breed.

See that your chickens are kept free from lice and mites at all times. These are death to baby chicks and to growing chicks, and detrimental to any fowls. Keep premises clean, sprayed with kerosene and carbolic acid. Sprinkle this freely in chicken yard and fowl houses.

PRZEMYSL IS RETAKEN BY AUSTRIAN ARMIES

Petrograd Removing Men to New Base Indicating Lemberg Be Evacuated.

London—After a siege of three weeks the fortress of Przemyśl, in Galicia, has fallen to the Austrians. The Russians were in possession a little over seventy days.

This news was received in London with a certain degree of surprise. While it had been well known that the Russian position at Przemyśl was serious and that the artillery fire of the German allies was daily becoming more terrific the announcement from Vienna of an Austrian victory was not expected so quickly, particularly in view of the official statement from Petrograd of last Monday saying the Austro-German grip before Przemyśl had been broken and that the offensive in the great Galician struggle had passed to the Russians.

The Austrians entered Przemyśl at 3:30 o'clock this morning after a hammering with heavy guns that lasted more than twenty days. The capitulation of Przemyśl must be ascribed to the effectiveness of this artillery onslaught. The occupation of the fortress by the Austrians will remove the danger of the Russian threat against Cracow.

When the Russians starved out the Austrian garrison at Przemyśl, an operation which brought them into the fortress on March 22, they did it slowly and systematically, conserving the lives of their men as much as possible. The method which the Austro-Germans have been employing recently to accomplish the same end, has been entirely different. Their expenditure in men and ammunition has, perhaps, outdone anything in this war, not even excepting the German rushes for Calais and the terrible struggle along the Yser river.

When the Russians abandoned some of the outer Przemyśl forts, they had no time to destroy the guns which, on falling into Austro-German hands, were turned by their new owners against the inner fortifications, says a dispatch from Copenhagen.

The retaking of Przemyśl is

ANOTHER BATTLE SHIP SENT TO MAZATLAN

Other Warships May Be Ordered There to Protect American Interests.

San Diego, Cal.—Wireless advices here by the United States cruiser Colorado state that the Mexican authorities at Mazatlan have appropriated the waterworks there, eighty per cent of which is owned by American capital. The cruiser Raleigh is now en route to Mazatlan to look after American interests. The cruisers New Orleans and Cleveland are at Guaymas and if the situation warrants it is believed they will be ordered to proceed to Mazatlan.

General Iturbe, in command of the Carranza troops at Sinaloa, continued the radio report, has abandoned operations in the northern part of the State during the rainy season, which has now begun. This leaves General Flores of the Carranza forces with two thousand troops at Navajo, Sonora, without reinforcements from the south. Nineteen bridges of the Southern Pacific railroad have been burned, six kilometers of telegraph lines in Sinaloa have been destroyed by the Villa forces.

Mayo Indians are reported robbing and pillaging in the interior of Northern Sinaloa, while two thousand Yaquis are assembling in South Sonora. Telegraphic communication between Guaymas and the Yaqui Valley is still interrupted. Conditions are quiet in Guaymas and that vicinity.

characterized by British observers as one of the most remarkable feats of the war.

Immediately after the surrender of the Austrian garrison, the Russians began a western movement through Galicia and it was predicted that they would soon over run both Silesia and the plans of Hungary.

A terrific Austro-German offensive was inaugurated, however, the result of which was to drive the Russians back to the San and to enable the Teutonic allies to encircle Przemyśl and attack it from the north and the southeast.

The strength of the Russian garrison within the fortress has not been made known in London.

COOKING RECIPES

Tomato Catsup—Cook sound ripe tomatoes thoroughly. Put through sieve to get rid of skins and seeds. Pour this pulp into jelly bag, allowing it to drip until of the consistency of catsup, then return to kettle, season, bring to boiling point and bottle. By this method you will have a delicious red catsup with the real tomato flavor, which is killed by the usual hours of boiling down. The juice which ran through the jelly bag is excellent for baked beans, macaroni and fish, if boiled up once, salted and put in air-tight jars.

Vanilla Wafers—Cream one-half cup butter with one cup sugar. Add two eggs beaten light, two and one-half cups flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls baking powder, and two teaspoonfuls vanilla or lemon extract. Brown lightly.

German Toast—Break five slices of stale bread in pieces in a deep pudding dish. Add half a cup of grated or thinly-sliced cheese, two eggs slightly beaten and milk to cover. Season with salt and pepper and dot with bits of butter. Bake half an hour. For variety you can use left over breakfast food or cooked rice in place of the bread.

Potato Fritters—One pound of potatoes, half a cup of flour, two eggs, a little salt, half a pint of milk, two ounces of butter. Boil the potatoes, then mash them with butter, add the flour, salt and eggs well beaten, make the whole into a thick batter; if too thick add some milk; put it by dessert spoonfuls into a pan of boiling lard, fry until golden brown, drain on blotting paper and serve.

Tomato Pie—Take nearly ripe tomatoes, pell, slice or chop. Make a rich crust, put in the tomatoes, adding two teaspoonfuls lemon extract, a pinch of salt and a liberal sprinkling of flour. Dot with bits of butter. Add sugar according to the tartness of the tomatoes and size of the pie. Bake in two crusts. The richer the crust for this pie, the better it will be.

SUBMARINES RAISING OFFERS NEW PROBLEM

Honolulu.—After being raised from a depth of more than 300 feet to within 24 feet of the surface, further salvaging of the wrecked submarine F-4 had to be suspended on account of a large hole in the shell and danger of the hulk breaking in two. A new method of lifting is to be tried and a month's delay is expected.

Naval Constructor Julius A. Furer will sail on the Sierra for San Francisco Saturday to supervise the construction of six huge cylinders at the Mare Island Navy Yard, which will be submerged alongside the F-4, lashed to its sides and then pumped out, furnishing great lifting power. It is hoped that the F-4 can thus be brought safely to the surface.

HOG RAISING

Perhaps the most important feature to be considered in starting a herd is the selection of a boar. The pure bred sire should be the only kind used when with grade sows, because as a rule he transmits his characteristics more truly than does the grade sire. The uniform bunch of pigs that he sire will do better in the feed lot and sell for a higher price on the market. The grade or scrub boar has exerted a great influence in keeping down the proper development of the right kind of hogs in Texas. The herd boar should have a strong, vigorous constitution. A strong constitution is indicated by a deep wide breast, well sprung ribs, strong back and loin, a bold, bright, active eye, and an active, thrifty appearance. He should possess the characteristics of the breed and at the same time be of the type most in demand by the butcher. A medium sized boar as a rule will prove most satisfactory. The small, short-bodied, dumpey type are not satisfactory breeders. And the big, heavy-boned, upstanding boar with coarse, thick hide, and hair does not sirt pigs of the desired quality by the packer and butcher.

The masculine characteristics should be definite and without coarseness. A short, thick neck, a beld carriage, a compact body and two well developed testicles are good indications of masculinity. The form of the boar should be deep, wide and symmetrical. The back line should show a gradual even arch from the shoulders to the rump, and the lower line should be straight. The slope over the loin and rump should be gradual and not abrupt. The width of body should be uniform from the shoulders back to the tail head, showing smooth, deep, full sides, a thick, wide loin, and deep, full sides, a thick, wide loin, fully developed hams. He should stand on strong, clean, short legs that are set wide and straight under the body. The pasterns should be short and strong and the toes should not spread apart. A board that is narrow in the hind quarters, shallow bodied, narrow in the head, low in the back and weak in the pasterns is too faulty to be used as a breeder. It is very important that the boar be an especially good one, because as has been said he is half the herd.

To avoid infestation of worms, hogs are best kept on unfertilized ground, such as newly plowed and seeded pastures or in fields where hogs have not been kept for a number of years. It is of much benefit to keep feeds, such as these before hogs at all times: Limestone, corncobs or other charcoal, common salt, rock phosphate, bone meal, cinders, slacked coal and wood ashes. The hogs will eat of these about as they need them, and they will be a material help in keeping the hogs healthy.

Swine make the cheapest gains when grazing or harvesting their own feed. Where it costs eight cents a pound to produce pork under dry-lot feeding, pork can be produced on pasture for four cents. It costs just about half as much to develop hogs on pasture as in dry-lots. No further argument is needed to support the principle of grazing the hog. Brood sows, boars and young hogs should be out on pasture almost every day in the year. The leading pasture crops for swine grow well in this section. Alfalfa, rape, peanuts, wheat, oats, rye, clovers, soy beans, cow peas and barley should be considered.

SECRET MEETING HELD BY WAR EXPERTS

Washington — Secretary of War Garrison staged one of the most mysterious sensations that Washington has seen since the days immediately preceding the Spanish-American war.

At 7:30 o'clock Secretary Garrison called to the office several of the leading officers of the army, and behind locked doors he held them in conference until long past midnight.

Secretary Garrison was surrounded by General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, Major General Tasker H. Bliss, assistant chief of staff and chief of one continental mobile army; General Enoch Crowder, Judge Advocate General of the army, and the Assistant Secretary of War, whose particular functions related to military affairs.

At 11:30 a member of the conference said there was absolutely no significance in the meeting and there was behind it nothing in which the public could possibly be interested.

Notwithstanding this statement, persons who are familiar with War Department routine appeared to be satisfied that Mr. Garrison had suddenly gathered about him his general officers for the purpose of bringing up to date the military plans of the general staff which may be needed as a sequel to the Mexican statement or as an aftermath of the note which President Wilson is expected to send to the Kaiser.

The first day a boy owns a hat his mother is kept busy finding it for him, and from that time till he totters around the house at the age of eighty some woman is kept busy on the same task.

About all a boy is good for till he is twelve is to run on errands and eat the last piece of pie.

If you want a boy to deliver a pint of berries to a neighbor, give him a gallon when he starts.

NOW SENDING SECOND NOTE TO GERMANY

Washington, D. C.—President Wilson worked most of the new note to Germany. The situation had developed to a point where the American government is determined to learn promptly whether German submarine commanders hereafter will respect the principles of international law.

It is understood the note will re-state that the Lusitania was on a peaceful cruise, did not resist capture and was unarmed.

It was reiterated at the State Department that while affidavits contending that the Lusitania was armed, have been considered carefully, he proof of the United States that the Lusitania was not armed was beyond question. None of the signers in the opinion of officials, could have made as searching an investigation as did customs inspectors.

Had there been explosives aboard, officials say, clearance would have been refused. Before the Lusitania sailed all such facts were in possession of the American government. Count Bernstorff conferred briefly with Secretary Bryan today.

Interest in the conference between the president and Count Bernstorff was heightened today as further details were coming to light. One important result, it can be stated upon high authority, is that there will be no alteration in the administration's plan to ascertain whether the German government will abide by international law or follow its own rules of maritime warfare.

border, have been ordered to the Philippines for an indefinite tour of duty. Their places on the border will be filled temporarily by the Tenth and Thirteenth regiments.

While no orders have yet been issued, it is probable the permanent relief will be the Seventh and Eighth regiments, which have been in the Philippines for more than four years and which are now to be relieved by the Ninth and Fifteenth. This belief is strengthened because the last named regiments will leave all their horses and equipment at their respective headquarters.

The Ninth regiment, with headquarters at Douglas, Ariz., is at present patrolling the border from Slaughter's Ranch, New Mexico, to Douglas. It will sail from San Francisco August 5.

The Fifteenth regiment, with headquarters at Fort Bliss, El Paso, has patrolled the border from El Paso east to Fabin's District, and had one squadron in the Big Bend district. It will sail July 5.

THREE FLORIDIANS SHOT

Miami, Fla.—Three men are dead here as the result of an attempt today to deliver from the county jail John Ashley, under sentence of death on June 18 for the murder of a Seminole Indian. The dead: B. H. Ashley, brother of the condemned man. Wilbur W. Hendrickson, jailer. J. R. Riblett, police officer.

According to a police statement, B. H. Ashley went to the jailer's alone, called Hendrickson to the door and killed him. Before Ashley could enter the jail building two policemen arrived and he fled. He was overtaken by Riblett and in an exchange of shots both were mortally wounded.

The bond of sympathy between father and son is cemented before the latter has donned his first trousers. "We," each seems to be unconsciously conveying to the other, "are under the same thumb."

MEXICAN RELIEF WORK PRESSED BY MANY

President's Message Reaches Leaders and Is Sent Also to Inform People.

Washington, D. C.—While the government awaited the effect of President Wilson's warning to contending military factions of Mexico, the American Red Cross, aided by the State and War departments, carried forward comprehensive plans for relieving hungry non-combatants in the famine-threatened Republic.

Orders were telegraphed to consular officers along the border to co-operate in assembling and moving food supplies and similar instructions will be given the frontier military posts. Brigadier General Devol, general manager of the Red Cross, conferred with War department officials preparatory to leaving for Texas in the next day or two to supervise the movement of supplies into Mexico. The general wired the American Railway Association at New York asking that the railroads grant either free transportation or reduced rates for foodstuffs to border points. Meanwhile Miss Mabel T. Boardman, chairman of the relief committee, undertook arrangements to organize special committees in many cities to collect and forward supplies purchased or contributed. Tomorrow all the plans will be placed before the Red Cross executive committee, which includes among its members Secretary Lane, Counselor Lansing of the State Department, Surgeon General Braisted of the navy and Solicitor General Davis.

Secretary Bryan announced during the day that the Brazilian minister at the City of Mexico is arranging for a train to carry 150 Americans to Vera Cruz, where they may embark for the United States. Mr. Bryan said other foreigners who wanted to leave the capital because of the food shortage would be taken on this train.

Messages of Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz and Consular Agent Carothers at Chihuahua told of the receipt of copies of President Wilson's statement announcing that unless the military factions themselves succeeded in composing their differences and restoring constitutional government, the United States would be obliged to find other means of accomplishing this end. It is supposed Consul Silliman handed a copy to General Carranza, but Carothers may not be able to reach Villa immediately. A copy for Roque Gonzales Garza, provisional president of the Villa-Zapata government in the City of Mexico, was sent to the Brazilian minister for delivery.

American Ideals.

"The American man of ideals has revolted against the saloon domination in politics. Its viciousness is such that the clear thinking man has risen against it. In Terre Haute we have seen it. There the frauds so recently uncovered can be traced to the saloon politician."

Thus spoke George W. Simmons, vice-president of the Simmons Hardware Company of St. Louis, in an interview with a reporter from the Kansas City Times. He is counted as a hard-headed business man, successful in a large way with a tremendous enterprise. But in the stress of his exacting duties he has not forgotten that he is an American—also it is obvious that he has ideas.

He is practical about his idealism. He does not merely theorize about what should be done, but goes ahead to tell you how the necessary things can and must be done. He adds, in the interview quoted above:

"The indifference of the business man in politics is one of the most serious conditions with which we have to deal. If we do not steer our lawmakers into the courses proper for them by our awakened use of the ballot, we cannot honestly complain of what they have done."

And there you have it. The people themselves must destroy the great source of political corruption and unfair legislation.

Painting is Catching

This thing of painting farm houses is mighty catching," said an observant man to us the other day. "You let Bill Jones paint his house and have all the passers-by admiring it, and the next thing you know Tom Brown and Henry Sykes say, 'Well, Bill Jones ain't no better than I am, and I guess my folks are as much entitled to a painted house as his are.' So they paint, too." It's a mighty good sort of contagion to be going round. Paint pays not only in preserving lumber but in giving new pride and dignity to the family in the painted house. A farmer in a painted house seems to rather feel that he has lined up with the progressive folks, has advertised himself as such, and it's up to him to make good.—Progressive Farmer.

Editors Meet Today

As we go to press the editors of Texas are gathering at Corpus Christi for the Thirty-Sixth Annual Meeting of the Texas Press Association among whom "we are one of which." There is no question about the boys being shown the time of their lives for the "Naples of the Gulf" has a way all her own when it comes to entertaining.

The Farmer Boy

We are not given to boasting but we are proud of the farmer boys of this vicinity. Of course we would give due credit to the town boys, we are talking about the country boys now. They are with rare exception a healthy, intelligent and happy class of young men. We feel like taking off our hat when we meet them upon our streets, and no class is more welcomed to our office. Too many boys leave the farm where they would have made substantial and good citizens, and go to the city where only a small per cent succeed in life's battle. There are farmers who fairly drive their boys away by too closely confining them and restricting them. There is no excuse for this. The farmer boy is entitled to his vacation, to several relaxations, his visits to the city, good books, magazines and the home paper. To the observing one it is plain to be seen that the old farm is the best place in the world for the average young man and never fails to bring a happier and more useful life than the town or city. Young man, you who till the soil and earn your bread by the sweat of your brow, we are proud of you; our latchstring is always out to you and you will always have a friend in this paper. Come to see us and give us the news from your neighborhood.

Swat the Fly

It is always open season for hunting flies and some towns pay the small boy a bounty for bringing in there pelts. Flies can be torpedoed, shot from aeroplanes, or killed in the trenches by gas bombs. Everything is fair in love and fly time. But a safe rule is the old one about not shooting until you see the whites of their eyes. Anyhow, make a good job of it, and leave nothing to the hazard of chance. A Chicago man was in London when his mother-in-law passed away. His wife cabled: "Mother died today. Shall we cremate or bury?" The answer went back by wireless: "Both methods. Take no chances."

Did you notice that there is a general cleanup campaign on in Kerrville? Let the warfare against weeds, trash, flies and rats continue and our little city will soon be as sanitary and healthful as it is naturally beautiful.

Kerrville is full of school teachers here attending the Normal. Let us make their six weeks' stay here so pleasant and profitable to them that they will say nice things about Kerrville and her people when they go back home.

Learned men tell us that in Latin the word "editor" means something "to eat." In the United States its meaning is altogether different. It means to scratch around like blazes to get something to eat.

We shall not presume to judge the merits of the election fraud cases at Corpus Christi in advance of the trial, in which a number of the prominent officials of the county and city are involved, but if the government has a true case against them, then we say let them suffer the penalty of the law without regard to prominence or official standing.

Ensign Otto Nimitz at Home.

Mrs. Wm. Nimitz and daughter, Miss Dora, returned home Tuesday night from a most delightful trip to the East and to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis where they witnessed the graduation of Otto Nimitz. All Kerrville will be proud to learn that Otto graduated with credit and is now Ensign Nimitz. He accompanied his mother and sister home for a two weeks visit before taking up his duties on one of Uncle Sam's war ships.

Dan Sparks.

The body of Dan Sparks was brought up from San Antonio and interred in Glen Rest Cemetery last Friday. Mr. Sparks had been a sufferer from asthma for a long time and lately had been very serious and had been under treatment in a hospital at San Antonio where he died. He has for a number of years been residing at Kerrville and had many friends here who gathered to tenderly lay his body away. He has a brother, Newt, Sparks, living at Tarpley and unmarried.

BEEKEEPERS NOTES

—By E. G. LeSturgeon

Any question pertaining to Bee-keeping or Honey-making will be gladly replied, either directly or through these columns. Address letters to P. O. Box 1048, San Antonio, Texas.

Dear Mr. LeSturgeon: You offered to answer questions. Will you answer a few for me? Here they are:

1. How many pounds of bees make a good average colony?

2. Where can I get a good Texas Bee Journal?

3. If I buy a queen of you and put her in one of my hives will all my bees in the hive be pure bred as soon as those I now have died out?

4. When I introduce a queen will I have to remove the one that is there now?

5. I have three colonies in old-fashioned "gums." Can I safely transfer them when they fill their present gums, say by June 15th. Will they have time to gather supplies for the winter.

A. F. Snyder, Texas.

You speak about our having said that we would answer questions. We are always glad to do so and thank you very much for having sent them. That is what we are here for.

1.—The average size of the colony varies. There is sometimes as many as a bushel of bees in a colony. Now these weigh one pound to a quart so that a gallon of bees ought to weigh about four pounds. A colony of bees may range from one to eight gallons of bees.

2.—There is no Texas Bee Journal. The best bee journal is, of course, the American Bee Journal published at Hamilton, Ill. It is the only bee journal devoted entirely to this industry, and the oldest in America.

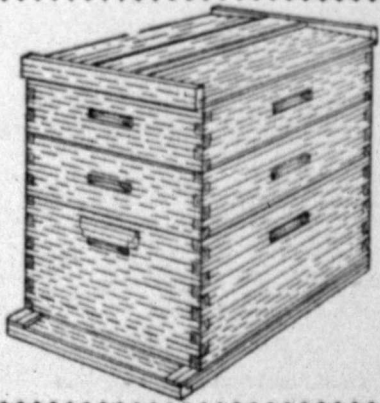

3.—If you buy a queen and put her into your hive in a matter of 5 weeks you will have no bees in the hive excepting the off-spring of that queen. The life of a bee is very short and every one of the young bees hatching out will be the children of the new queen. In very few weeks there will be nothing in the hive but pure bred bees from your new queen.

4.—You cannot introduce a queen into the hive without first killing the old queen because otherwise the queens would go together and have a fight and very likely lose your new one that way because she would be the stranger. The best way is to kill the old queen and then two days afterwards introduce the new queen according to the printed directions which is sent on all queen cages.

5.—It will be well for you to transfer your bees into the new hive directly after the present honey flow. That is to say, as you suggest, about June 15th. Particularly is this true in your case where you have late blooming cotton and other things for your bees to fall back upon. In fact, we would not be surprised if you had young and vigorous queens if your bees would actually make some surplus honey in their new home after you transfer them.

WAR BABIES STILL PUZZLE TO ENGLAND

Twenty Thousand Cases Come To Light Through Inquiry Into National Trouble.

London.—Great Britain is still struggling with its "war baby" problem. Preliminary to expected parliamentary action in the case of thousands of unmarried war mothers carried away by military training camps, hundreds of views on the subject have been forwarded in the press and at public meetings by persons prominent in church and society.

Several women's societies have taken up the problem with a vigor and are investigating reports that at least 20,000 young women through Britain now face the problem of bearing nameless children. Prominent among these is a committee of the National Union of Women Workers formally delegated by the Archbishop of Canterbury and York, Adeline, Duchess of Bedford, Lady Londoberry and other notables to investigate and report. This report will be made to a committee at large composed of representatives of other organizations and of, which the Archbishop of York will preside and a general program of relief will then be instituted. Over twenty women's societies of London have also formed a consolidated committee to deal with the situation.

The country faces an entirely new situation in the opinion of Muriel, Viscountess Helmsley, one of the most prominent workers, who today expressed her views on the question.

"It is necessary to set up new social machinery. That existing for years is not capable of dealing with such a problem as this. There should be some law to allow the girl to attach responsibility to the father before the child is born.

"The best thing in this emergency will be for the father and mother to be assisted to form a home when it becomes possible. Assistance might also be given the girls by a school of mothers. My last word would be, 'assist these unfortunate girls, but do not glorify them and allow them to think they have done a fine thing for the nation. Do not taboo them, but don't make heroines of them.'

The Bishop of Oxford said today: "Let us do all we can, with all the force at our control to deal without undue publicity. We have a part to play in this universal battle.

Mrs. Mary Drew, daughter of the famous W. E. Gladstone, said: "The cases of the unmarried mothers should be carefully and individually dealt with locally, the cases sifted and differentiated. It is folly to place them all in one class. All life is sacred, and the younger and frailer it is the more lovingly it should be tended."

Scores of others high in the social life of England have commented similarly publicly on the question.

Authorities on English law quote the statutes that to legitimize these soldier "marriages," if Parliament should take such step, would be contrary to all the traditional principles of common law in the British Isles.

The thinking public at large is watching the unique and troublesome question, for the first time in England, with keenest interest. In the meantime those who have taken the immediate nets of the situation in hand are expected to formulate a moral policy within the near future.

SPRING GREENS.

When cooking greens this spring try this method: After cleaning them thoroughly put them in a large pan and pour over them a kettle of boiling water in which half a teaspoonful of soda has been dissolved. Drain this off, put them in the kettle and cook them as usual. The scalding takes away the sometimes strong and unpleasant flavor.

Look pleasant. A smile carries farther than a Krag-Jorgensen. Its penetration is irresistible.

AMERICANS LOSE LIVES ON TAMPICO DOCKS

Captain of Steamer Reports Assassinations of Citizens of United States.

Houston, Tex.—Captain Oscar Lane of the steamer Winifred, from Tampico, which docked here, said he positively knew of six American citizens who had been killed near Tampico in the last few days. Four, he said, were assassinated from the river bank while in boats and two were shot in a pumping plant. John Smith, an engineer for the East Coast Oil Company, he said, was assassinated in a row-boat last Saturday. He added that he feared a general uprising and massacre of Americans in and near the Panuco oil fields.

After detailing the several instances of which he had knowledge, Captain Lane made this statement: "If conditions are not changed down there soon I believe all Americans will be driven out of the district. There seems to be a general feeling there against all citizens of the United States. One side is no more to blame than the other."

While Captain Lane said he had positive knowledge of circumstances surrounding the death of six Americans, he knew the name of only one. He said: "John Smith was shot from ambush."

"Two men were killed a few days ago in a pumping plant in the oil field and three others were killed in the same manner Smith was, at various times and at different points along the river.

While Captain Lane said he did not know the names of all those assassinated, he understood that the American consul at Tampico had all the facts and that full details had been sent to the authorities in Washington.

The oil fields are about twenty miles up the river from Tampico. They are under the control of the Villistas. Tampico is controlled by the Carrancistas.

WORLD'S TINY REPUBLIC NOW ENTERS WAR

Tiny Republic on Adriatic Approves of Italian Policy.

Amsterdam—Via London—A dispatch from Lugano Switzerland, says that San Marino, the tiny republic on the Adriatic, but entirely surrounded by Italian territory, has approved the Italian attitude toward Austria and has declared itself to be in a state of war.

San Marino is on highland, a few miles from Rimini. The fact that the republic has joined it impossible for Austria-Hungary to make use of its territory as a neutral landing place for aeroplanes.

THOUSANDS FLEE FROM MONTEREY

Laredo, Tex.—The train arriving from Monterey today brought over a thousand people to Nuevo Laredo and many attempted to cross to this side, but were stopped. Besides three coaches filled there were nine gondolas or coal cars attached to the train, and each of these were filled with people, mostly destitute.

The poor are being furnished free transportation by the railroads and are leaving Monterey on every train and flocking to the border, but, realizing that they will become public charges, the United States immigration and health departments are allowing very few to cross to the American side.

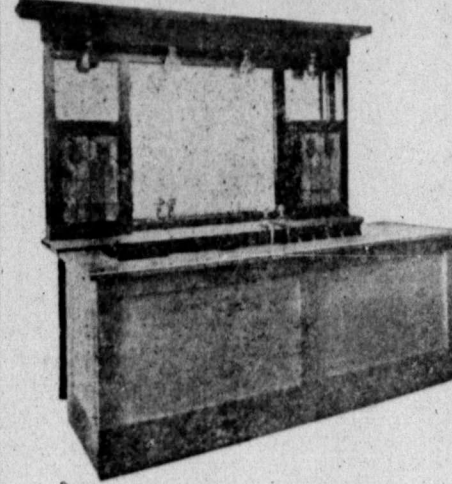

During the past four days exceeding two thousand of these people have arrived in Nuevo Laredo. They are unable to find accommodations there, but are not allowed to come to Laredo. They are mostly women and children.

Bills dealing with tuberculosis are now being considered in thirty-two state legislatures.

PASSPORTS ARE TAKEN FROM TWO AMERICANS

Persons Living in Dresden Punished for Actions Declared Disloyal.

Washington, D. C.—It was explained at the State Department that the passports of Leon Raines and Karl Recknagel had been revoked because of their published attacks on the American government. They were reported to have issued an open letter to President Wilson in the press of Germany and to have been the authors of circulars and pamphlets criticising the United States.

As the giving of passports is a courtesy on the part of the State Department, the privileges were ordered revoked through Ambassador Gerard on the ground that the men violated their allegiance.

Revocation of the passports makes it practically impossible for either Raines or Recknagel to return to the United States before conclusion of the war. In the meantime they will be without protection usually given by this government to its subjects in foreign territory. State Department officials said if the men returned to the United States there was no law under which they could be refused admission or their citizenship be denied.

EUROPEAN WAR NEWS

Weekly Review

June 1.
The heavy reinforcements which have been coming to the support of the closely pressed Russians in middle Galicia apparently are making themselves felt, as the latest reports from the Russian war office declare that the battle on the San river is developing in favor of the Russian troops.

A strong offensive has been undertaken by the Russians on various fronts and in the Dniester region they report the capture of 7000 prisoners, and nearly 19,000 between the river Pilica and the upper Vistula, in the period from May 12 to May 24.

The Italian invasion of Trent is proceeding steadily and reports from the frontier say that the group of fortifications commanding the passes leading to the vast entrenched camp which has its center at Trent have been occupied by Italian troops.

Although recent reports from Constantinople have favored the Turkish troops in the operations in the Gallipoli peninsula the British war office announces that in a furious engagement of recent date the Turkish casualties numbered 2000, while the allies lost only 300.

An Italian dirigible has dropped bombs on the Austrian naval base of Pola, the arsenal, according to the report of the Italian ministry of marine, being set on fire.

June 2.
Berlin—The war office gave out the following statement today: "The French yesterday attempted to break through further north. An attack on a front of one and one-half miles directed against our positions between the Souchez-Bethune road and the Brookmat Carey, broke down under our fire with heavy losses. The only point at which hand-to-hand fighting developed was west of Souchez, where we were victorious."

"In the forest of Li Petre we recaptured the greater part of our lost trenches. Here the enemy suffered considerable losses."

"A munition depot of the enemy, situated at a point north of Saine Menehould and northeast of Verdun, was blown up. As a reprisal for the bombardment of the open town of Ludwigschafen, we threw numerous bombs last night on wharves and docks of London. Enemy airmen last night bombarded Ostend, damaging some houses."

"In the eastern theater of war near Ambroten, thirty miles east of Libau (Courland), German cavalry defeated the Russians Fourth Regiment of Dragoons. Near Shavli hostile attacks were unsuccessful. Our booty amounts to 24,700 prisoners, seventeen cannon and forty-seven machine guns. South of the Niemen and the Pilica, 6943 prisoners, eleven machine guns and one aeroplane."

"The conquerors of Zwinin (a ridge in the Carpathians) the Prussian guard under command of the Bavarian General Count Bothmer, stormed a strongly fortified place on the St. and broke through Russian positions near and northwest of Stry. Up to the present time we have in this region captured fifty-three officers, 9182 men, eight cannon and fifty machine guns."

Rome—The following official statement was issued tonight by General Cadorna, chief of the general staff: "Our advance beyond Torol-Trentino frontier continues and we have occupied the important height of Zugna, which dominates Roverto."

"Our front advancing in Val Sagrana has arrived within five miles of Borgo and is supported strongly on two slopes of the valley. The mountain of Belvedere, which dominates Fiera di Primieri, is also in our hands."

"A battalion and a half of Austrians, with machine guns, attacked our Alpine troops in a defile of Monte Croce on the Carnia frontier May 30. The Alpine troops repulsed five spurited attacks, then took the offensive in a violent rain and thick fog, putting their assailants to flight. Our losses were light."

"The rain continues on the Friuli frontier and the water courses are swollen, but our troops are in supreme confidence to overcome their difficulties."

June 3.
Paris—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight: "In Belgium the British troops have carried, at the point of the bayonet, the Chateau Hooze near Zonnebeck."

"To the southeast of Neuville St. Vaast the Germans have delivered a counter attack in the 'Labyrinth.' We have repulsed them and have made new progress, taking some prisoners."

"It is interesting to note that between May 9 and June 1 the French division which took Carancy, Ablain St. Nazaire, the Malon mill and the sugar refinery at Souchez, have made 3100 prisoners of whom sixty-four are officers, and buried the bodies of 2600 Germans, and have themselves lost in killed, wounded or missing 3200 men, of which total two-thirds are slightly wounded."

"In Champagne the Germans attempted a night attack near Beausejour but were immediately thrown back in their trenches."

"In the outskirts of Le Petre forest we repulsed two violent attacks."

Vienna—An official announcement today says: "The result of the bombardment of Pola by Italian airships is incorrectly stated by the Italian admiralty. Four bombs were exploded, but the damage was very slight. No fire broke out."

"In the bombardment of Monfalcone one civilian was slightly wounded by splinters of stone."

June 4.
London—With the capture today of Prezemysl the Austro-German armies achieved the main object of the great thrust which they commenced against the Russian lines in Western Galicia just a month ago.

"They have yet to drive the Russians farther back and establish themselves in easily defended positions which will enable them to detach forces for operations against Italy and the allies in the west."

"Most of the forts had been destroyed by the Austrians before they surrendered and this is considered in military circles here to account for the forts succumbing so quickly to the German attack."

June 6.

Considerable gains by the allied force in France, on the Gallipoli Peninsula and in Asiatic Turkey are chronicled by London and Paris, while damage to Austrian positions on the Adriatic by Italian warships is reported by Italy. Berlin admits two reverses claimed by Paris—at Neuville St. Vaast, where the Germans have lost two groups of houses and the relinquishment of the sugar factory at Souchez.

The Germans, however, assert they and their Austrian allies continue to make good progress against the Russians in Galicia, taking from them numerous positions and capturing large numbers of men and guns.

An advance of 500 yards along a front of nearly three miles, in which two lines of Turkish trenches on the Gallipoli Peninsula were taken by the allies, is reported by London and Paris. The fighting was of a most sanguinary character, position after position being taken by the allied troops and then reverting to the Turks in furious counter attacks. Allied battleships, cruisers and destroyers aided their land forces in capturing the Turkish positions.

In the taking of Amara, on the Tigris river, in Asiatic Turkey, the British received the surrender of the Governor and some 30 officers and about 700 men. In all that district the British took prisoners more than 2000 men.

M. Ribot presented with the bill memoranda showing that the extraordinary appropriations since the war began and including the estimates for the third quarter of 1915, would amount to $4,400,000,000. In-

DECISIVE ACTION NEAR IN CITY OF MEXICO

Before End of Present Week United States Will Have Set in Motion Program for Early Peace Below Border.

Washington, D. C.—Before the end of the present month the United States will have taken decisive action to end the present "intolerable conditions" in Mexico. President Wilson has sent no ultimatum to the warring factions in Mexico, and he will send none, but it can be stated, on the highest authority, that the United States government is prepared to carry out its announced intention of ending present conditions of anarchy, unless the Mexican factions themselves reach agreement, and that the united support of the Central and South American governments will be a force back of the United States in any move taken. Next Tuesday, unless something unforeseen intervenes, the President will discuss with the Cabinet measures that must be taken to force the creation of a constitutional government in Mexico. There will be no attempt to hurry a decision. Originally the President on the suggestion of Duval West, had intended to take up the entire Mexican situation this coming week. He wanted to dispose of the German note in advance. But Carrancistas seized foodstuffs en route to the City of Mexico and this forced his hand.

Mr. West is due back in Washington June 20. Ostensibly the reason to be assigned will be that he is going to Baltimore to be treated further for "stomach trouble." In reality he will come here so that he may be available for consultation with the President and the members of the Cabinet when the Mexican situation becomes acute.

The President has made up his mind that there is to be no unnecessary interference with the plans of the United States. He is prepared for the refusal of the Mexican factional leaders to reconcile their differences. That in itself will not bring about intervention by the United States. But he is determined that the American Red Cross shall have free hand in its work of relief in Mexico. And he is further determined that in every step that is taken to rehabilitate Mexico the constitutional limitations of that country shall be recognized by the United States.

Of course, should the factions in Mexico attack the Red Cross workers, then the United State will immediately use force. The reserve fleet of warships and the troops now at Texas City on the border and in the western army posts are ready for the word.

Washington, D. C.—Informal efforts—as yet without official sanction—are being made by Mexicans connected with the Villa-Zapata movement in Mexico to bring about a reconciliation with the Carranza faction, with the view of establishing a government that could claim recognition at the hands of the United States.

Elsio Arredondo, Washington representative of General Carranza, received a message from a Carranza consul on the border saying he had been approached by a Villa official, speaking presumably with authority, to learn what could be done to initiate peace negotiations. The message was forwarded without comment by Mr. Arredondo to General Carranza at Vera Cruz.

Enrique Llorente, agent here of the Villa-Zapata coalition, said he had no official advice that any peace parleys had begun and believed any preliminaries in this connection would be arranged through his agency. He said he had received a telegram from Miguel Diaz Lombardo, Secretary of State of the Villa-Zapata government, in which the latter announced his departure from Chihuahua for Leon to confer with General Villa on the general situation.

American Red Cross officials are rapidly putting into effect their plans for relieving starving Mexican non-combatants. An army transport will leave Galveston tomorrow for Vera Cruz with a large consignment of corn and beans for the City of Mexico, arrangements having been made for safe passage of the supplies through Carranza lines. On its return trip the transport will bring back any Americans or other foreigners who may have reached Vera Cruz from the City of Mexico or other points in the interior and desire to leave the country.

Brigadier General Devol, general manager of the Red Cross, left for the Texas border to confer with Major General Stone and other officials at the border about handling

GEN. OBREGON CLAIMS A GREAT VICTORY

Defeat of Angeles and Villa Forces and Occupation of Leon Reported.

Vera Cruz—Defeat of the forces of Generals Angeles and Villa, the capture of the town of Leon and of all of Villa's trains and artillery is announced in a report of General Obregon of the Carranza army re-relief supplies. Up to the time of his departure General Devol had received no reply to his request through the American Railroad Association that the railroads grant free transportation or reduced rates for foodstuffs destined to the Mexican famine sufferers.

Informally some Carranza officials expressed their own opinion that the efforts of the Villa element to make peace is a confession of military failure and the coming disintegration of the movement. Peace negotiations were viewed by the Carranza men, therefore, as an obstacle to an early military triumph by General Carranza with consequent recognition. On the other hand, in Villa quarters, it was reiterated that General Villa had from the first expressed a willingness to eliminate himself and restore peace and that others in the vicinity of Celaya indicate that the Villa forces have the upper hand.

Officials of the Washington government declined to comment on the situation. Since the warning contained in President Wilson's statement, officials here have observed developments with interest but no further movement has been taken by the United States through its consular representatives, to forward the movement of domestic harmony in ceived here. The report says: "I have achieved an important victory. After a five days' battle Angeles and Villa, with small groups of followers, fled in different directions. Our forces are pushing them north of Leon."

"Leon has been occupied by the Carranza troops. All the enemy's trains and artillery were captured. The battle extended over a zone of 300 miles."

"I have ordered the reconstruction of the railroad and telegraph with Vera Cruz."

El Paso, Tex.—No word has been received here for two days from the fighting in the State of Guanajuato. The last direct advices came from General Felipe Angeles at Leon and state that General Villa, with a force of cavalry, had circles east of General Obregon's entrenched line at Trinidad and captured Silao, thereby cutting Obregon's line of communication with Irapuato.

DENIES WRITING NOTES

Atlanta, Ga.—James Conley, negro factory sweeper, who last night completed his sentence of one year as accessory to the murder of Mary Phagan, denied that he had written the "Anna Maud Carter" letters which played such an important part in Leo M. Frank's extraordinary motion for a new trial.

Conley's denial, made today in the presence of Solicitor Dorsey, was the first intimation that Conley had not been the author of these letters, by which Frank's lawyers sought to show that Conley had written the famous "murder notes" FOR SALE—Fine Haynes carriage; cost $750.00; for single or double; will sell for a song. ### Fine Grain Crop.

The threshers started last week and some fine yields of both wheat and oats are reported.

L. A. Schreiner's field near town averaged 81 bushels of oats per acre and H. Heimann's 73 bushels oats and 35 of wheat. The grain is so wet that the market has not yet opened but it is thought a good price will be paid for both oats and wheat.

English as She is Spoke.

An Arkansas widow whose husband died intestate, leaving her a small insurance benefit but a large family, appeared one day in the probate court.

Here is the rest of it: "Air you-all the jedge of reprobate?" "I'm the judge of probate," said his honor. "Well, I reckon that's what I mean," said the widow. "You know jedge, my husband died detested, an' he left me several little infidels, an' I want to be appointed their executioner." Who was it that said language was invented to conceal thought?

BILLIE SUNDAY'S BEST EPIGRAMS.

When you quit living like the devil then I will quit preaching that way.

No man has any business to be in a bad business.

Whisky is all right in its place—but its place is in hell.

It won't save your soul if your wife is a Christian. You have got to be something more than a brother-in-law to the church.

If every black cloud had a cyclone in it the world would have been blown to toothpicks long ago.

You can't raise the standard of women's morals by raising their pay envelope. It lies deeper than that.

Bob Ingersoll wasn't the first to find out that Moses made mistakes. God knew about it long before Moses was born.

Going to church doesn't make a man a Christian any more than going to a garage makes him an automobile.

Don't try to be a Daniel Webster. Jesus put the cookies and jam on the lowest shelf.

Be natural. I try to be. I don't have one tone of voice here and another when I go to the grocery.

Take the miracles out of the life of Christ and the historical fabric will fall to pieces.

God doesn't save on the installment plan. A man is either on the road to heaven or on the road to hell.

God Almighty enjoys a little fun sometimes.—He made monkeys and parrots and donkeys—and some of you.

It's easy for you to sit in the cushioned pew in church and sing "Rescue the Perishing" and never stretch forth a hand to do it.—Ex.
