Ticks vs. Booze

H. A. Ivey of Sherman in a recent letter to Home and State calls attention to the effort being made in Texas to create sentiment in favor of eradicating the cow tick. He says, "Our Governor has announced his intention of asking for an appropriation of $100,000 of Texas money for the destruction of this pest that inflicts such discomfort upon the Texas cow and such economic loss to her owner, the Texas cattle man."

"But why should Texas statesmen and newspapers who can see so clearly the 'imperative public necessity' for the destruction of the cow tick, be stone blind to a like 'imperative public necessity' for the destruction of the Texas saloon, which unquestionably inflicts upon the people of Texas a far greater economic loss than the cow tick, not to mention the untold and untellable woes and heart-ache which the saloon inflicts upon human beings? Are not folks more than cows? Ought not the welfare of liquor-cursed people to appeal to Texas statesmanship as powerfully as the woes of tick-pestered bovines?"

Any unbiased person can see with "half an eye" that the liquor saloon sustains the same economic relation to the body politic that the tick sustains to the cow. The tick subsists upon the blood of the cow without producing anything for the cow's betterment, and the saloon subsists upon the fruits of industry in the community without producing anything for the benefit of the community. The more business the tick does with the cow, the worse for the cow; and the more business the saloon does with the community, the worse for the community."

Some of our readers no doubt object to so much prohibition matter in the paper but we believe a paper ought to stand for the best interests of its town and people, and there is no other thing that so hinders the progress of the town and injures our people, financially, morally, educationally and religiously as liquor. There is not a week passes, nor possibly a day, but that some home in our town is brought to mourning and often to suffering on account of liquor sold over the bars of Kerrville. It is not through malice, spite or hatred toward anyone in the business or who upholds it that we so persistently oppose the liquor traffic but only for the good of humanity. Those who suffer most from it are women and children who can not help themselves and it is for these that we plead. May God speed the day when public sentiment will be so strong against the saloon that one cannot longer exist.

It looks like that Mexico is soon to have peace and a civil government. Our government and Argentine, Brazil, Chili, and other nations have recognized Gen. Carranza as the present constitutional president. Conditions in Mexico have improved and the country now has a chance to build up and show to the world that it can maintain a government of law and order. Lawlessness certainly has had sway long enough.

Our public-spirited neighbor, Center Point, has organized a lyceum bureau and is having a course of high class lectures and entertainments. Why not Kerrville?

England has a new law against treating the penalty being a fine of $500 and six months in prison. Its enforcement will so cripple the saloon profits that many will go out of business. When one fellow treats another it carries a sort of obligation on the part of the other fellow to treat. If only those would drink who really wanted the liquor or beer, and would not ask others to share the demoralizing habit, there would be little business for the barkeepers, and when the demoralizing business don't pay it will stop, for there is no honor or moral uplift about it.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr.
Hughes Would Die, But
One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.
I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.
I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Theford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Theford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Hog Swims 20 Miles

Uncle Dick Dowdy was in town Monday from Johnson creek. He came after the hog which Tom Ferris advertised last week. This hog with five others in the same pen washed away in the big rise and Uncle Dick has gotten them all back This one washed down the river from 13 miles above Kerrville to within three of Center Point, a distance of 20 miles. A pretty good swim.

The Four Rats.

A Scotch laborer once told his wife, on awakening, a curious dream which he had during the night. He saw coming toward him in order, four rats. The first one was very fat, and was followed by two lean rats, the rear rat being blind. He appealed to his wife to interpret the dream, but she could not help him.
His son, a sharp lad, ventured his interpretation:

"The fat rat," he said, "is the man who keeps the saloon ye gang till sae often, and the two lean ones are me and my mither, and the blind one is yerself, father."
