Lost Child Found.

Galveston, Tex., Oct. 15.—Snatched from the arms of its father by the merciless storm of September 8, 1900, the little child of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wright, of League City, for five years mourned as dead, has been found alive and well and will be restored to its parents.

At the time of the storm which swept this section of the country, carrying death and destruction in its wake, the Wright family, consisting of man and wife and one child, Alex Wright, Jr., less than 3 years of age, lived at Virginia Point, across the bay from Galveston. The father, a carpenter by trade, was in the employ of the Galveston, Houston and Henderson railroad.

Early in the day the bridges across the bay connecting Virginia Point with Galveston, were swept away, and as the storm increased in fury the water rose above the little settlement at Virginia Point. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon, as the Wrights were struggling with wind and water, the child was swept from its father's arms and carried to sea. Mr. and Mrs. Wright were finally rescued more dead than alive, but no tidings of their little one greeted them. No one doubted the storm had claimed it with the thousands of other victims.

Over four years ago a handsome flaxen-haired boy was adopted by a well-to-do couple living ten miles from Brownwood. They secured the child from a Luling orphan asylum and have tenderly cared for and even lavished the little fellow with everything his heart desired. He is now eight years of age, heir to a fine estate, but his own parents have claimed him, and he is to be returned.

The morning after the storm searching parties near Texas City found a 3-year-old lad more dead than alive on the roadside. No one knew the baby, and, believing it was a foundling, the child was sent to the asylum at Luling. The storm had carried the little fellow to sea and then returned him after about a twenty-five mile voyage on the raging sea and deposited him about fifteen miles from where he was snatched from his father's arms.

A friend of the Wright's heard of the child's adoption from the asylum and his having been picked up at Texas City after the storm. He informed the Wrights and the father and mother visited their long-lost darling, who was an only child, and are now preparing the formal procedure to release the asylum and foster parents from any further responsibility.

Favorably Impressed With Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 17.—J. B. Larkin, of Springfield, Mo., is one of the arrivals at the New Maverick Hotel. Mr. Larkin sells horseshoes. Last night, in telling his experiences, among other things he said:

"I have been in the State since August 1st, and have been doing considerable traveling; but every time I take the map of Texas, out and gaze at it, it appears I have not been anywhere. I tell you Texas is a wonder. I make most of the cities, as well as the smaller places. These towns are more numerous here than in any other State I have ever been in, and then people say the State is not settled. Of course it isn't, and won't be for a long to come; then there's too much ground to be covered with houses and farms in a few years. There are large sections of the country that have not yet been penetrated by railroads. After a few more years the transportation lines will be covering all this apparently waste land. People are coming to the State every day, and there is plenty of room for others.

"I returned from Kerrville today. That little town is at the end of the Sap railroad. Now, when you get off the train at Kerrville, you can start in a northwesterly direction and you will not come to a railroad until the Texas & Pacific is encountered at Big Springs or Metz. This territory is larger than many States in the Union. Kerrville appears to be flourishing and there is no wonder, for the merchants there control all the trade for miles and miles around. Sheep raising seems to be the leading industry in that section, although cattle and horses are also raised in considerable numbers. One gentleman I met at Kerrville told me that a party there had sold 1,000,000 pounds of wool. Not so bad, is it.

"The country through which I just passed is one of the prettiest I have ever visited. It is the richest looking mountain country I have ever seen and the valleys are green and fresh as though it was spring instead of late in the fall.—San Antonio Express.

McDonald's Negro Still Free.

Edna, Tex., Oct. 16.—After following the escaped county convict, referred to in last night's dispatches, for thirteen miles in the direction of Bap City, Captain McDonald pulled his dogs off the trail and returned to camp last night. The dogs followed the trail all night, but the weather was hot and they were too exhausted to be allowed to proceed farther. Captain McDonald had taken the negro out to let his dogs run him for awhile, but the negro proved to be a better sprinter than was thought.

The Edna people are not excited over the escape of the negro, regarding it more in the light of a joke on Captain McDonald than otherwise. The officers in the surrounding counties have been notified, and the speedy recapture of the negro is confidently expected.

Captain McDonald informed General Hulien today by telephone of the escape, but the latter told him he had already read it in the morning papers. The noted Ranger captain has been joked a great deal about losing the negro, but he takes the joke good naturedly.

Monk Gibson Alone Will Be Indicted.

Edna, Texas, Oct. 16.—The grand jury adjourned this afternoon until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, at which time a final report will be made to the court, with a request to be discharged for the term.

It is understood that before adjourning this afternoon a vote was taken on the question of presenting Monk Gibson and a bill was returned against him.

At tomorrow morning's session the bill will be fully prepared and returned into court and at the same time the body so reporting will ask to be finally discharged.

The grand jury will also report that after an exhaustive investigation it had been unable to connect anyone except Monk Gibson with the crime. Every clew that has been found and everything that has been suggested that might tend to incriminate others has been thoroughly investigated and not a scintilla of evidence has been given to the grand jury that tended to exculpate Monk Gibson or pointed to anyone else as the guilty party.

Edna, Tex., Oct. 15.—Soldiers, like other men, sometimes meet with incidents that make bright spots in memory. Sergeant C. J. Baldwin of the Governor's Cadets is no exception to the rule. While camped at Edna he was furnished with a picture of his mother taken when she was a girl. Mr. L. E. Ward, a citizen of Edna, attended school in Missouri thirty-three years ago and knew and was an intimate friend of Sergeant Baldwin's mother, then a beautiful young girl. The picture was presented to the son by Mr. Ward, and as the young soldier had never been able to secure a picture of his mother when a girl his appreciation of Mr. Ward's thoughtfulness can better be imagined than expressed. His mother still lives and no doubt she, too, will be glad to learn through this incident from her friend of by-gone years.

Woman is Branded.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 15.—The cases of the State of Texas against Monroe Rogers, charged with disfiguring the person of his wife and assault to murder, are set for trial Monday at the Criminal District Court. The facts in the matter as made public are such as to have attracted much attention.

The woman is branded upon the arm with the letters of a name. Upon her neck are alleged to exist scars caused by the use of a sharp knife.

According to the allegations of the State, Monroe Rogers is said to have bound his wife, and with a file, heated red-hot, seared upon her flesh. She entered complaint against him.

These contentions have been vigorously denied in a habeas corpus hearing held several months ago. A strong defense was presented.

Negro Makes His Escape.

Edna, Tex., Oct. 15.—Captain McDonald returned tonight after having spent the best portion of the day trying to recapture a county convict whom he had taken out for the purpose of using him in exercising his trained dogs. The negro, after getting out from town a few miles, was given a start of the dogs and the latter were put on his trail. They followed the trail very readily until they got so hot that they had to be pulled off. It was evident at the time that the negro had taken advantage of the trust reposed in him and hiked out for a far country. When last heard of he was ten miles from Edna, in the direction of Bay City, and was traveling faster than a locomotive. The negro was serving out a fine of $123 for aiding and abetting the escape of a person accused of crime and had served only about three weeks. He had been made to work about the jail yard, ever since the soldiers first came to town and having heretofore showed no inclination to escape it was thought he could be trusted on the present occasion.

Young Man Murdered.

Tuskegee, Ala., Oct. 15.—Albert A. Combs, a well known young man of Montgomery, was waylaid and murdered last night near Chehaw Station. Combs had left Montgomery Saturday to visit his father at Notasulga, Ala., but the express train which he took, not stopping at Notasulga, he chose to walk from Chehaw, seven miles distant.

He was assailed, beaten senseless with a blunt instrument, shot through the brain four times and placed on the rail road track. A train struck the corpse, and severed one arm from the trunk and otherwise mutilated the remains. The pockets of Combs had been rifled.

Attempt at Rescue.

San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 18.—After an exciting biting, scratching and hair pulling match with one man, six women, two girls and several dozen small children, officer Joe Dwyer returned to police headquarters about 8 o'clock Sunday night with just enough clothes to keep his brother officers from arresting him, and about one-third the amount of hair he had when he went on the call, but he led his prisoner in triumph to the jail.

About 7:40 o'clock Officer Dwyer responded to a call for an officer at a saloon on Laredo street. When he arrived a very irate and somewhat intoxicated individual wanted to have a saloon keeper arrested for putting him out of the saloon.

After proper inquiry Dwyer explained to the man that he could not make the arrest for want of grounds. They were then standing near the man's home. The explanation caused the man to take a sudden desire to mash Dwyer's nose, and he proceeded to gratify his desire with the result that Dwyer pinned his arms and was leading the man to jail, when he yelled lustily to his wit.

The rest happened all in a bunch. Dwyer said he counted the women until ten had gotten out, but by that time his hair was in his eyes and half a dozen women chewing on his arms. The man was using his feet vigorously.

Dwyer managed to hold on to his man while the mass of struggling humanity rolled about in the street. They rolled under Dwyer's horse, which, mixing up in the struggle, stepped on the owner's back. Dwyer acknowledges he was just about ready to tell his fingers were crossed when two officers came to his assistance, and the man was placed in jail. The woman gave bond.

Duel to Death.

Tchula, Miss., Oct. 16.—In a sensational pistol duel here tonight, W. A. Sprattin and Jake Glenn, two well known traveling men, met death. Sprattin, it is said, charged Glenn with cheating in a game of cards.

Later the two men met on the principal street of the town and both began firing. Glenn was struck by four bullets, while Sprattin received his death wound. Glenn represented a Greenwood music house and Sprattin traveled for the National Drill Company of Memphis.

Japanese Avoid Luxury.

Avoidance of luxury is a point of honor among Japanese fighters. "All know the story about General Nogi," says a writer, "who when, during the China war he was presented with a costly cloak, sold it for the benefit of the sick, declaring that he had one cloak already and there were many soldiers without any. An officer would consider himself disgraced if he took into the field elaborate food or overabundant clothing."

Died.

Mary Irene White, at Kerrville, Texas, October 8, 1905. After an illness of months the spirit of this lovely woman was called home. Of her life may be said that was spent in obedience and devotion to the home that she so dearly loved. As a member of the Presbyterian church she was a constant and untiring worker for the Master. Hers was an example of a beautiful Christian life. For the past three years she had lived in West Texas in the hope of restoring her health. Her mother was at her bedside when she died. To mourn her loss are her mother and four sisters. She was buried in Kerrville October 9th, attended by her mother, three sisters and friends.

Sunshine Library.

Mr and Mrs. H. E. Gedney recently gave the library twenty-five volumes of fiction.

The Misses Cotton who are going to leave Kerrville generously gave a large number of books from their own private library to the Sunshine library, where they have spent so many pleasant hours.

Mrs. James Wilkinson of the St. Charles Hotel, thoughtfully brought in a set of magazines for the distributing table.

Books are continually being sent the library from distant places and the number of volumes on our shelves now number 786.

In another column will be found a notice of the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Glen Rest Cemetery Association. The ladies earnestly request that each member and all those who are interested in the Glenn Rest Cemetery be present. A year ago the ladies decided to ask each family interested in the cemetery for a donation of at least one dollar per year towards paying the sexton's salary and other expenses in keeping up the cemetery. This request was very cheerfully responded to, and the collection will be taken the first week in November, each year.

In a recent examination in physics at the medical department of the University of Texas, out of a class of 26 members, Chas. Rawson, a recent graduate of Tivy High School, secured the highest mark. This speaks well for Kerrville schools and her pupils.

Music and games and a review of the former happy days occupied the time of the guests until the large doors of the dining room were thrown open and refreshments announced. The New Beer Extract.

A fearsome scientist out West has invented a beer extract something like a thousand times as strong as the customary lager of commerce. You put a drop of this fluid into a glass of water, and immediately you have a yellow, foaming, nutritious, fat-making, exhilarating offset to nervous prostration and insomnia, that could be sold for 5 cents, and people who pay 5 cents for an extract also made of the chemicals and worth barely a cent, will never know the difference. This discovery will end the brewery business. Those vast constructions in Williamsburg, Milwaukee and St. Louis, where the stranger wanders in a transport of expectancy, knowing that one glass goes with every visit, and where thousands of men are all the time doing things for the welfare of the race and the occupation of Carrie Nation, will become Salvation Army barracks, or ice houses for the egg trust, and every man may keep his beer supply on tap in his vest pocket.

Prohibition states will disappear from the map, to all intent, for any unregenerate person may ramble over it from end to end, an unsuspected, yet perfect alcoholic battery. A pill bottle containing the yellow extract will achieve the moral overgrowth of half the population. All that is necessary for the population to do is to supply the ice water, and it can then sit in the shade of its hop vines and laugh at the laws itself has made. Yet there is a terrible possibility in the new chemical. Suppose a man surcharged with enthusiasm, or imbibing in the dark, or in any other way disaffected toward realities, were to drink a whole spoonful of it. The effect would be that of simultaneously imbibing twenty-five or thirty gallons of beer. He would become an example to the neighborhood and endanger popular liberty by becoming a text for a new lot of excise laws. He would slumber for two weeks, the envy of the oppressed and anxious, and maybe he would slumber forever. Beer extract will have to be sold under the same restraints as cigarettes, at least in Vermont and Kansas, where, not being used to it, they swallow hotter stuff in such inordinate quantities.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14th, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think I could have lived over two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me great relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by the Rock Drug Store.

Jury Tasted the Hog.

The celebrated hog case of Perry Allen against James Way, at Flint, Mich., has been settled. Allen bought a hog of Way, claimed it was not fit for food, and sued to recover. The case was tried in justice court and slices of one of the hams broiled over an oil stove were served to the jury, which, even after sampling the pork, was unable to agree.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Grover, 101 N. Main St., Ottawa, Kas., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by the Rock Drug Store.

The Best Doctor.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Texas, writes, July 19th, 1902: "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headach and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the last eight years." Sold by the Rock Drug Store.

Typewriting Soon Fades.

The registrar of deeds of a Yorkshire, England, district writes that typewritten parchments are useless as memorials. He has examined a large number of such documents, and he finds that typewriting on parchment deeds is not durable. In deeds deposited so recently as 1902 many lines are already illegible and several lines have completely disappeared.

Dowie's Hawaiian Rival.

Dowie has a rival or imitator in Hawaii in Rev. J. M. Ezera, for a number of years pastor of the native Congregational church at Ewa, and considered, next to Rev. S. L. G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "His daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till he used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c at the Rock Drug Store.

Citation By Publication.

THE STATE OF TEXAS. } To the Sheriff or any Constable of Kerr County, greeting:

You are hereby commanded, that you summon, by making publication of this citation in some newspaper published in the county of Kerr for eight consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, the unknown heirs of John E. Oehse, Sara A. Oehse, Benjamin Starkey, Donelson Walker, Frederick Schlador, Gustav Theisen, Joseph Deutz, John Dunlap, Wm. H. Young, M. M. Tong and Addie Coeke, whose names and place of residence are unknown, to be and appear before the Honorable District Court of Kerr County, for the 38th Judicial District, at the next regular term thereof, to be holden at the Court House of said County in the city of Kerrville on the first Monday in January, 1906, the same being the 1st day of January, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 5th day of October, 1905, in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 664, wherein Lee Wallace is plaintiff and said unknown heirs of John E. Oehse, Sara A. Oehse, Benjamin Starkey, Donelson Walker, Frederick Schlador, Gustav Theisen, Joseph Deutz, John Dunlap, Wm. H. Young, M. M. Tong and Addie Coeke are defendants. Plaintiff sues in trespass to try title and alleges: Generally that he is the owner in fee simple and in possession of lots Nos. 79, 80, 81, 82, 83 and 84 in block No. 19 in the town of Kerrville in Kerr County, Texas, a part of survey No. 116 in name of B. F. Cage, and patented by the State of Texas to said B. F. Cage, and alleges specially that plaintiff has title to said six lots under the five years' Statute of Limitation provided by Article 3342 of the Revised Statutes of Texas, and also has title to said six lots under the ten years' Statute of Limitation provided by Article 3343 of the Revised Statutes of Texas.

Plaintiff further alleges that defendants are asserting some kind of claim, interest and title in and to said six lots of land hostile to plaintiff's title thereto which interferes with plaintiff's full and free use and enjoyment thereof. That said ancestors and predecessors of defendants in their said claim of title and interest in and to said lots have placed of record in the records for deeds of Kerr County, Texas, in following volumes and pages certain instruments in writing, as follows:

In Vol. B, pp. 204 and 205, a pretended deed from Jonathan Scott to said John E. Oehse for said lots Nos. 79 and 80. In Vol. B, pp. 5 and 6 a pretended deed from G. Tegener, F. Tegener and Susan Tegener to said John E. Oehse for said lot No. 81. In Vol. A, pp. 303 and 304 a pretended deed from J. S. Goss to Benjamin Starkey for said lots Nos. 81-82-83 and 84. In Vol. A, pp. 390 and 391 a pretended deed from W. E. Pafford to said Donelson Walker for said lot No. 83. In Vol. B, pp. 348 and 349 a pretended deed from Michael Hillaire to said Frederick Schlador for said lots Nos. 82 and 83. In Vol. B, pp. 271 and 272 a pretended lien from said John E. Oehse and S. A. Oehse to Gustave Theisen and Joseph Deutz and John Dunlap on said lots Nos. 79 and 80 to secure $446.48. In Vol. D, pp. 504 and 505 a pretended lien from John E. Oehse and S. A. Oehse to Wm. H. Young on said lots Nos. 79-80 and 81 for $60.00. In Vol. D, pp. 680 and 681 a pretended lien from John E. Oehse and S. A. Oehse to M. M. Tong on said lots Nos. 79-80 and 81, to secure $100.00. In Vol. E, pp. 160 and 161 a pretended lien from John E. Oehse and S. A. Oehse to Addie Coeke on said lots Nos. 79-80 and 81 to secure $175.00.

Plaintiff further alleges that all of said defendants are asserting some character of claim, interest and title in and to said six lots of land under each and all of said above mentioned deeds and liens so placed of record as aforesaid adverse to plaintiff's title to said lots. That said pretended deeds and liens so placed of record constitute and are a cloud upon plaintiff's title to said lots, hinders plaintiff in the full use and enjoyment of the same, detracts from the value and are an obstruction to the sale thereof.

Plaintiff prays that defendants and each of them produce upon the trial of this case, said above mentioned deeds and liens so placed of record as aforesaid, in default of which plaintiff will make proof thereof by secondary evidence.

Plaintiff prays for citation, for judgment against defendants for said six lots of land and for judgment quieting and establishing plaintiff's title to said six lots and removing cloud cast upon plaintiff's title by said adverse claims of defendants and by said above mentioned deeds and liens and the record thereof. Prayer is also made for general relief.

WHEN THE KIDNEYS ARE AILING.

The Urgent Need of Prompt Restorative Measures is Something That Every One Should Understand.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine."

Slight disorders in the kidneys or urinary organs are more serious than most people think. The first warning symptoms should receive prompt medical treatment to ward off Bright's Disease or some other dangerous malady. When the kidneys are ailing and the symptoms become sufficiently pronounced to be noticeable the condition calls at once for prompt measures to stay the progress of the disease. Prickly Ash Bitters is the remedy needed. Taken on the appearance of the first symptoms, such as pain in the back, puffiness under the eyes, irregularities in the urine, digestive disorders, it will save the victim incalculable misery and suffering, mental torture and expense. Used at the beginning of the trouble it cures quickly. Used in the more advanced stages it will win back health and strength as rapidly as circumstances will possibly permit.

Accept no substitute. Insist on having the genuine Prickly Ash Bitters with the large figure 3 in red on the front label.

A clergyman who was out walking one Sunday came across some boys who were playing baseball on a vacant lot. Going up to one of them who had just been struck out, he said: "Young man, don't you know that it is wrong to play baseball on Sunday? What would your father say, if he knew about it?"

"You'd better ask him," was the reply, "he's playing shortstop."—Harper's Weekly.

How She Got Him.

In St. Louis the other day a girl expressed disbelief to her sweetheart that astronomers could possibly calculate the hour and minute of an eclipse of the sun.
 The young man asserted they could and that the pending eclipse would eventuate to the minute.

"Nonsense," said the girl; "I'll make you a bet. If the eclipse occurs on time I will marry you at once; if it doesn't I won't marry you at all!" Of course the eclipse was on schedule time, and so they were married. Smart girl! It is a safe wager that she knew more about eclipses and the ability of the scientists to calculate them accurately than the young man did, and that she took this means of helping him over a hard place.—Savannah News.

An Effective Sample.

An English clergyman was very fond of a particular hot brand of pickles, and finding great difficulty in procuring the same sort at hotels when traveling, always carried a bottle with him. One day when dining at a restaurant with his pickles in front of him, a stranger sat down at the same table and with an American accent presently asked the minister to pass the pickles. The minister who enjoyed the joke, politely passed the bottle, and in a few minutes had the satisfaction of seeing the Yankee watering at the eyes and gasping for breath.

"I guess," said the latter, "that you are a parson?"

"Yes, my friend, I am," replied
 the minister.

"I suppose you preach?" asked the Yankee.

"Yes sir; I preach twice a week usually," said the minister.

"Do you ever preach about a hell fire?" inquired the Yankee.

"Yes; I sometimes consider it my duty to remind my congregation of eternal punishment," returned the minister.

"I thought so," rejoined the Yankee; "but you are the first of your class I ever met who carried samples."—Selected.

An old lady was carefully brush-ing her hair one morning in winter in the presence of a small grandson. As is usual when the hair is cold and crisp, "Why, grandmother, what makes your hair stick out like that?" asked the small boy in wonder. "Only the electricity that gets into my hair these cold days," she replied.
 "Well, if we haven't got the funniest family I ever saw. You've got electricity in your hair and ma has got gas in her stomach."

He Was Given a Job.

A small boy entered an office in New York the other day, very early in the morning, when the merchant was reading the paper.
 The latter glanced up and went on reading.

After three minutes the boy said: "Excuse me, but I'm in a hurry." "What do you want?"
 he was asked. "A job." "You do? Well," snorted the man of business, "why are you in such a hurry?"

"Got to hurry," replied the boy.
 "Left school yesterday to go to work, and haven't struck anything yet. I can't waste time. If you've got nothing for me, say so, and I'll look elsewhere."

"When can you come?" asked the surprised merchant. "Don't have to come," he was told; "I'm here now, and would have been to work before this if you'd said so."

Not So Thrilling.

"I see in this morning's paper that there was a big killing in Kansas City yesterday," said the first of two men who had just climbed into the car.

"Yes, they killed a good many thousand," answered the man beside him.

The man in the seat behind them leaned forward and listened.

"What did they do with them after they were killed?" asked the first speaker.

"Skinned 'em."

"That's horrible work," answered his companion.

The man who had been listening was horrified to learn of this crime and, touching one of the men on the shoulder, said: "Will you please show me what page of the paper that is on," and he extended his paper.

"Yes, sir," answered the gentleman addressed, "always glad to accommodate. Here it is on the market page, under the heading of 'cattle.'"

The horrified gentleman understood and did not read the news
 he thought so exciting.

Tivy High School Notes.

The attendance is excellent, there being very few absences.

An order has been made for some good books on Nature Study, including "The Butterfly Book," "How to Identify Our Native Wild Flowers," "A Book On Insects," and "Our Native Birds." These books all have numerous colored plates and are written by the best authority on the subject. These helps, together with the aquarium recently made, give Tivy High School a most excellent equipment for doing good work along a line which is being much advocated throughout the United States.

Hon. J. L. Slayden has promised Kerrville a visit in the near future. Through his influence at Washington we hope to obtain some valuable material on "Trees" and "Fisheries."

Some new "sand-boxes" have just been made for the classes in geography. This work is invaluable to young students in forming a definite idea of contour of mountains. Some "desk numeral frames" have also been placed on the desks in the primary department. This emphasizes individual responsibility, and is quite an addition.

Miss Battaile, teacher of the Second Grade, is very much missed by her pupils. They hope she will soon be well enough to return.

Most of the pupils of Tivy High School have invested in "High School Class Pins." This is a great promoter of school enthusiasm and legitimate pride. The school colors are old gold and pale blue, typical of high ambition attained through purity of purpose and nobility of effort.

The Tenth Grade has also made an order for a specially designed pin for the graduating class. In after years nothing will recall so vividly the memories of school days as souvenirs of this kind.

By order of the board there will be no holiday Thanksgiving. Instead, however, there will be exercises appropriate to the occasion in each room at the high school. These exercises will begin at 2:30 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend. The object of all such holidays should be to keep alive the spirit and feelings which prompted the beginning. But, strange to say, they have come to mean to most students only a "day off."

School will close for the Christmas holidays on Friday, December 22nd, and will reassemble on Monday, January 8th.

Miss Linnie Burnett is teaching for Miss Willie Battaile who has been sick for the past week.

A play is soon to be given for the benefit of Tivy High School Library. Our library is very satisfactory with one exception. The Fifth, Sixth and Seventh Grades need some good parallel work. It is hoped that this entertainment will be well attended.

Two Plucky Young Women.

Last Saturday while Misses Augusta and Ella Lindner were picking cotton in a field near their father's house, they came upon a little rabbit, which remained so perfectly still that one of the girls thought there must be something wrong with it. She was in the act of stooping to pick the little animal up when her eyes rested upon an immense rattlesnake, lying coiled a couple of feet from the rabbit, which gazed at the moving reptile as though charmed by it.

The young women were both decidedly startled by thus suddenly discovering themselves in such dangerous proximity to a rattler, and one of such unusual size in the bargain, and they drew off to hold a council of war. The result was that Miss Augusta hurried to the house and secured a pitchfork and a loaded Winchester, while her sister kept watch upon the snake and its intended victim.

When the weapons arrived on the scene Miss Ella, who had never fired a rifle in her life, took the Winchester, while Miss Augusta proceeded to jab the prongs of the fork through the body of the snake which was striking angrily at his assailants. When he quieted a moment, the girl behind the gun pressed the trigger and the gun "did the rest"—not only to the snake, whose head was blown to atoms, but to the girl, who was kicked to the ground by the recoil of the gun, which happened to be of 44 calibre.

The snake had ten rattles and measured six feet without the head. At the discharge of the gun the rabbit regained its senses and scampered off.—Comfort News.
