GEORGE BOWLES

IS HOME AGAIN. TALKS ABOUT SOUTHWEST TEXAS AND THE GOOD "BOOSTING" DOES.

Well, I guess you all thought I got "lost in the shuffle" at the final wind up of the legislature, but like the proverbial bad penny, I have turned up again. I have not had much to say for several weeks. Most people don't quite understand my situation in the matter. Being under obligation to the gentleman from Kerr, who was paying my board and lodging at Austin, I couldn't very well jump onto the legislature with both feet like everybody else in Texas who could write a little was doing and so I just kept quiet. You know when people get to reading one kind of news, it becomes "kinder" fashionable, just the same as open work socks and low necked shoes, and when a certain kind of reading is fashionable, there is not much use in trying to spring something else on the public. I think, though, that the public who are no more constant than the average widow, have forgotten the keenest edge of the wickedness of the legislature and are by this time ready to read a little story about something else, so I am just going to give you a little neighborhood talk about Southwest Texas.

When I got back home from Austin I walked down to my house and the flowers were in bloom and the big buds and blossoms were hanging over the fence smiling a welcome to me. The old "bunty" hen was scratching in the bed where my wife had planted the merigolds. Mrs. Bowles was sitting on the gallery stringin' beans and fixing a lot of new potatoes to put in the pot. I got out my old clothes and put them on, then I got out my pipe and sat down on the back steps to smoke and meditate a while. Now meditating is a pretty bad business because a fellow never knows what will bob up in his head when the wheels of meditation get to turning. I don't think it would make any difference where a fellow went he'd be glad to get back to Southwest Texas, and especially to this part of it. Of course there are some other places that people are glad to get back to, or think they are and that means the same thing. Everything depends for its appearance upon the view point of the fellow that's looking. In other words the amount of weight depends upon whose scales it is weighed on, and that reminds me of a story.

You will all remember, I am sure, an old Dutchman by the name of Holmgreen, who ran the ice factory here several years ago. Well, he went away from here and I kind of lost track of him until a fellow told me a story about him the other day. It seems that our old German friend got the ice factory habit and couldn't quit and it turned out that he got mixed up with the ice factory at Alice some way. When the ice season came on this spring, just about the time people began to buy Lisle thread instead of wool and the first hatching of June brides had been taken off, the old Dutchman got on the ice wagon to make the morning round with the driver. The first house they came to the old fellow jumped out with the ice hooks, grabbed a block of ice and made a sprint for the back door and the refrigerator. He didn't know the storks had visited that house the night before, so when he saw two motherly looking old ladies on the back gallery gravely discussing some weighty subject, he raised his hat and said: "WieGatz, vass ist." The ladies promptly explained that the stork had brought a fine son to the home and they were in distress because they had no scales to weigh it.

Whereupon Holmgreen said: "Ach, das maechts nichts aus, I haf der fine sehale by mein wagon in-inside. I shall bring it right away now." So he deposited the ice and returning to the wagon he brought the scales and the baby was weighed. Now those scales were made to weigh ice that was for sale, and not to weigh babies, and the result was that the seven-hour-old Texan weighed exactly 47 pounds. So as I said, it all depends upon the view point, or whose scales you use, how things look or what they weigh, but I am unable to get on any side of this section of Texas that will keep it from looking good to me.

There was a little bit of a drouth here early in the spring, but good rains fell about a month ago and now no one could tell there had been a dry spell, unless he had been on the ground and saw it. This mountain country can get over a drouth quicker, and can raise a good crop on less rain than any country on earth. Some "smart Alec" said it was because it had done without water so much it had got to be like the people, didn't care for it.

The people in this country are getting along as well as any in Texas and everybody knows the people in Texas are getting along as well as anyone on earth. Kerrville is improving right along and so are all the neighboring towns. The Chautauqua will open here on the 9th of July and last until the 25th. It is going to be a success because it is in Texas and Texas is now raising good crops of everything except failures, we don't know how to make 'em and don't want to learn.

The West Texas Fair is getting out its catalog and the fair, which will take place August 22 to 24, inclusive, will be a hummer. Everybody wants to get his coat off and go to boosting for the Chautauqua and the Fair.

Talking about "boosting" reminds one of some of the things that have been accomplished in the world by boosting. Up in New England, I am told, that there are fine places called summer hotels away out in the hills, where people go to spend the summer. Now I have no doubt that is true and the time is, not far away when right here in our own mountains—

Where the Guadalupe all laughing, gay,
Gladdens the heart with rainbow spray
And storm scared oak and cypress tall
Echo the music of boatman's call—is going to be the greatest place for summer residences in all the Southwest. Why we've got the whole world skinned a mile for climate. Up in New England and even in the hill country of the old South the land is so poor you can't raise your voice on it, while here in the valleys are fertile as the fields of plenty and the very mountainsides are carpeted with daisies and forget-me-nots.

All it needs is just "boosting." If any of you know a good thing that needs boosting let me know and just as soon as I get the garden hose out and split a little more wood for Mrs. Bowles, I'll help you boost it.

MRS. M'KINLEY DIES.

WIFE OF MARTYRED PRESIDENT PEACEFULLY PASSES AWAY SURROUNDED BY RELATIVES AND FRIENDS.

Canton, Ohio, May 26.—Mrs. McKinley died at 1:05 o'clock this afternoon. The transition from life to death was so peaceful and gradual that it was with difficulty that the vigilant physicians and attendants noted when dissolution came. There was no struggle, no pain. Mrs. McKinley never knew of the efforts made for days to prolong her life, and of the solicitous hope against hope of her sister and other relatives and friends for her recovery.

At the McKinley home when death came there was Secretary Cortelyou, Mr. and Mrs. Barber, Mrs. Sarah Duncan, Mrs. Luther Day, Justice and Mrs. William R. Day, Drs. Portmann and Rixey and nurses.

"Mrs. McKinley lasted hours longer than was expected," said the secretary. "Her vitality was wonderful," said Dr. Portmann. It was by Secretary Cortelyou that the announcement of the demise was given to the public. As this was flashed over the land William McKinley post and George D. Harter post, Grand Army of the Republic, were forming in line and the strains of the band playing "The March Religious" went to the Methodist Episcopal church to listen to the annual memorial address given by Dr. Baxton, Mrs. McKinley's pastor.

THIRTY YEARS AN INVALID.

Mrs. McKinley's life of almost sixty years had been made familiar to the nation by the fact that more than half of it was a period of invalidism. Through all this, however, she showed a firm and unwavering belief in the career of her husband and by her cheering words, in spite of personal afflictions, encouraged him when there was darkness at hand. She believed that his star of destiny would never set until he had become president of this land and for more than a quarter of a century cherished that belief until her hopes were realized.

After President McKinley's death she expressed a desire to join him, and prayed day and night that she might die. Later, however, she frequently told friends she desired to live until the completion of the mausoleum, which was the gift of the nation and which is to be dedicated on Monument hill September 30 next.

Ida Saxton McKinley was born in Canton June 8, 1847. James A. Saxton, her father, was an intellectual and progressive business man and banker, his wife a lady of extraordinary culture and refinement. Ida Saxton was reared in a home of comfort and ease. After attending Canton schools she was a pupil at a school at Delhi, N. Y. Later she went to a Cleveland academy and finished her education at Brook Hill seminary, Media, Pa., where she spent three years. Part of the years of her young womanhood were spent at the Stark county bank which belonged to her father. On several occasions she had charge of that institution.

WAS MARRIED IN 1871. While she taught Sunday school in the Presbyterian church the young lawyer, William McKinley, was superintendent of the First Methodist Episcopal church Sunday school. Among many admirers and suitors the handsome young soldier, who had been with Grant and Sheridan, and won distinction in the Shenandoah valley, was the favored one.

By James Saxton, the father, these words were spoken to McKinley when the hand of his daughter was gained:

"You are the only man I have ever met to whom I would entrust my daughter."

On January 25, 1871, William McKinley and Ida Saxton were united in marriage. The wedding was first performed in the then new Presbyterian church, Rev. Dr. Buckingham of that congregation and Rev. Dr. Edalay of the First Methodist church officiating.

After an Eastern trip, including Washington, the McKinleys purchased the home on North Market street which in later years became famous as the McKinley college. It was during their short sojourn in this home—hallowed so many sorrows—that Mrs. McKinley's health broke down under the burden of grief that was theirs. There was born to them two daughters, Katie, on Christmas Day of 1871, and Ida, on April 1, 1873. But the heartstrings of the mother's tenderest love were broken when Ida passed away in August, 1875.

Mrs. McKinley's mother had died the month before the young one had seen the light of day. The first born lived for three and a half years to be enshrined in the affections of her devoted parents and then passed from earth. Then it was that the almost broken-hearted wife became an invalid.

MARRIED LIFE WAS HAPPY.

Her life as the wife of William McKinley was a devoted one. They never kept house while he was in congress because of her invalid state. She, however, desired to be with him as much as possible and spent much time in Washington. On his campaign tours while he was congressman, governor and president, she journeyed with him as far as practicable. After Governor McKinley's term of office ended they came to Canton in January, 1895, in time to celebrate their silver wedding anniversary in the first home of their early married life. This wedding anniversary was the beginning of a year and two months' residence in Canton, during which time Mr. McKinley was nominated and elected president.

At Washington, as the first lady of the land, she was unable to act as hostess at brilliant social functions. After crushing blow which came to her with the assassin's bullet friends despaired for her life for a month or more. She rallied, however, and for several years enjoyed better health than usual. She would not consent to leave her Canton home.

Mrs. McKinley was fond of the drama. She and her husband numbered as one of their most intimate friends the late Joseph Jefferson, who was frequently a house guest of the McKinleys. Among her diversions was the knitting of slippers, which she bestowed as keepsakes to friends and handed to the needy. She was fond of flowers the rose being her favorite for many years. In recent years the president's carnation shared a place in her admiration.

DISPOSITION OF ESTATE.

Bereft of children at an early stage of married life, she showed her affection for children until the end of her life. It was a common thing for her to stop her carriage when driving along the street and call to some prattling child and kiss it. The McKinley estate was appraised at $215,000 at the death of the president. By the terms of the will of Mr. McKinley, the estate at the death of Mrs. McKinley was to be divided equally among his brother, Abner McKinley, now deceased, and his sisters, Mrs. Duncan and Miss Helen McKinley of Cleveland.

Engineer Falls From Locomotive.

A. F. Haile, a freight engineer on the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio Railway, a resident of this city, fell backwards from the running board of his engine three miles this side of Schulenberg early yesterday morning and was instantly killed.

Pat Simpson, the conductor of the train, said last night: "The train was going down a grade through a cut, and was running at a very slow speed, the steam being entirely cut off. Some of the oiling apparatus was out of order and would not work while the steam was on, so Mr. Haile walked out on the running board to oil the machinery while the steam was off. He evidently fell backwards and struck his head against the embankment, breaking his neck. I do not believe the train was running fast enough to have killed him if he had fallen differently."

A special car was furnished by the officials of the Sunset Route, conveyed the body of the dead man and the family over the International & Great Northern to Brackeen, where the funeral took place. A committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Engineers and of the Railway Firemen accompanied the body.

Mr. Haile was a member of one of the best known families in San Antonio—San Antonio Express.

Mr. Haile was at one time a resident of Kerrville and has many friends and acquaintances who will regret to hear of his death.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE CREATION OF IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS IN CERTAIN CITIES.

JOINT RESOLUTION amending Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, providing for the creation of improvement districts in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants, and charging the cost of certain improvements made therein against the abutting property.

SECTION 1. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: That Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

SEC. 9. The State tax on property, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debts, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of public free schools, shall never exceed thirty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation; and no county, city or town shall levy more than twenty-five cents for city or county purposes, and not exceeding fifteen cents for roads and bridges, and not exceeding fifteen cents to pay jurors, on the hundred dollars valuation, except for payment of debts incurred prior to the adoption of the amendment September 25, A. D. 1883, and for the erection of public buildings, streets, sewers, water works and other permanent improvements, not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, in any one year, and except as in this Constitution otherwise provided; and the Legislature may also authorize an additional annual ad valorem tax to be levied and collected for the further maintenance of the public roads; provided, that a majority of the qualified property taxpaying voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, not to exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars valuation, of the property subject to taxation in such county. And the Legislature may pass local laws for the maintenance of the public roads and highways, without the local notice required for special or local laws.

In addition to the foregoing, cities of more than five thousand inhabitants may lay out within their corporate limits, improvement districts in which they, by and with the consent of a majority of the taxpayers owning real estate therein, may build sidewalks and charge the cost thereof against the abutting property, and may build sewers and pave streets and charge one-third of the cost thereof against the abutting property on either side of the streets upon which such improvements are made in such district, and the amount charged against all such abutting property shall be deemed and held to be a tax against and a lien upon such abutting property, and the Legislature is required to enact laws prescribing the means for ascertaining the amount properly chargeable against each parcel of abutting property, and providing for the enforcement of its collection.

SEC. 2. The Governor is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for submitting this amendment to the Constitution to the qualified voters of the State of Texas, on the first Tuesday in August, A. D. 1907, at which election all voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots: "For the amendment to Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution, permitting property owners in cities of more than five thousand inhabitants to create improvement districts, one-third the cost of which to be charged against abutting property on either side of the street."

SEC. 3. The lateness in the session, the crowded condition of the calendars of both houses, and the importance of this proposed amendment, create an emergency and an imperative public necessity demanding that the constitutional rule, and senate Rule No. 37, requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and the same are hereby suspended. L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION CREATING THE OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to Article four (4) of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 27, providing for a Department of Agriculture, with a bureau of labor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Article four (4) of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding thereto Section 27, when a majority of the qualified electors for members of the Legislature of Texas at an election for that purpose shall vote in favor of the amendment, shall read as follows:

SECTION 27. The Legislature shall provide for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture, who shall be either elected by the qualified voters of the State, or appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of two-thirds of the Senate, as the Legislature may provide; whose term of office, duties and salary shall be prescribed by law; in which department there shall be established by the Legislature a bureau of labor, when required by the public interest.

SEC. 2. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue and have published the necessary proclamation for the submission of this resolution to the qualified voters for members of the Legislature of the State of Texas, as an amendment to the Constitution of Texas, to be voted upon on the first Tuesday in August, 1907. All persons favoring said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, as follows: "For the amendment to the Constitution, providing for a Department of Agriculture and a Bureau of Labor." And those opposed to said amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots, as follows: "Against the amendment to the Constitution, providing for a Department of Agriculture and a Bureau of Labor." And the sum of ($2000) two thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publications, proclamation and election. L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A HOME FOR CONFEDERATE WIDOWS.

JOINT RESOLUTION to amend Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, so as to authorize the grant of aid in the establishment and maintenance of a home for the disabled and dependent wives and widows of Confederate soldiers and sailors and such women as aided the Confederacy, and making an appropriation.

SECTION 1. BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: That Section 51 of Article 3 of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended in 1903, be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Article 3. Section 51. The Legislature shall have no power to make any grant or authorize the making of any grant of public money to any individual, associations or individuals, municipal or other corporations whatsoever; provided, however, the Legislature may grant aid to indigent and disabled Confederate soldiers and sailors who came to Texas prior to January 1, 1880, and who are either over sixty years of age or whose disability is the proximate result of actual service in the Confederate army for a period of at least three months, their widows in indigent circumstances who have never remarried and who have been bona fide residents of the State of Texas since January 1, 1880, and who were married to such soldiers anterior to March 1, 1880; provided said aid shall not exceed eight dollars per month, and provided further, that no appropriations shall ever be made for the purpose hereinbefore specified in excess of five hundred thousand dollars for any one year. And also grant aid to the establishment and maintenance of a home for said soldiers and sailors, their wives and widows and women who aided in the Confederacy, under such regulations and limitations as may be provided by law; provided the grant to aid said home shall not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand dollars for any one year, and no inmate of said home shall be entitled to any other aid from the State; the Legislature may provide for husband and wife to remain together in the home; and provided further, that the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the grant of aid in case of public calamity.

SEC. 2. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas on the first Tuesday in August, 1907.

The sum of $5000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to pay the expenses of carrying out the provisions of this resolution. L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION FIXING THE SALARY OF MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE.

AN ACT to amend Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to the compensation of members of the Legislature.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 24. The members of the Legislature shall receive from the Public Treasury such compensation for their services as may from time to time be provided by law, not to exceed one thousand dollars for each year in which a biennial session of the Legislature is held under the provisions of this Constitution, and five dollars for each day of any Special Session held during the subsequent year, and in addition thereto, they shall receive mileage in going to and returning from the State Capitol, not to exceed three cents per mile; the distance to be computed by the nearest railroad route, and the Comptroller shall prepare and preserve a table of distances for each county seat now or hereafter to be established, and by such table the mileage of each member shall be paid; no member shall be entitled to mileage for any extra session that may be called within one day after the adjournment of a Regular or Called Session.

SEC. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday in August, 1907, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment, shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words: "For the amendment to Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution, relating to the salary of the members of the Legislature," and all those opposed, shall have written or printed on their ballots, the words, "Against the amendment to Section 24 of Article III of the Constitution, relating to the salary of the members of the Legislature."

SEC. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of the State, and the sum of $1000 or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of the general revenue of the State not otherwise appropriated to pay the expenses of such publication and election. L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION AUTHORIZING THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A STATE PRINTING PLANT.

JOINT RESOLUTION authorizing the submission to a vote of the people of the State of Texas of a proposed amendment to Section 21, Article XVI, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to printing, publishing, stationery, paper and fuel, and making an appropriation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Section 21 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be so amended as to hereafter read as follows:

Section 21. All printing and publishing, and all stationery, paper and fuel for the various departments, and for all offices, whether created by his Constitution or by law, shall be done and supplied as may be provided by law, and for the accomplishment of these objects and purposes the Legislature may provide and establish all requisite means and agencies, invested with such powers as may be deemed adequate and advisable.

SEC. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday in August, A. D. 1907, at which election all voters favoring said proposed amendment shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "For the amendment to Section 21 of Article XVI of the Constitution, relating to stationery, printing, paper and fuel," and all those opposed shall write or have printed on their ballots the words "Against the amendment to Section 21 of Article XVI of the Constitution, relating to stationery, printing, paper and fuel."

SEC. 3. The Governor of the State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and existing laws of the State.

SEC. 4. That the sum of two thousand ($2000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any funds in the Treasury of the State of Texas not otherwise appropriated, to pay the expenses of such publication and election. L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE STATE CONSTITUTION AUTHORIZING THE LEVY OF A ROAD TAX.

JOINT RESOLUTION amending Section 9, of Article 8, of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 9a, increasing the amount of tax that may be voted for the purpose of improving public roads, and to allow counties or political subdivisions of counties by a majority vote of the qualified property tax paying voters of the county, or subdivision thereof, voting at all elections, to be held for that purpose, to adopt same.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That Section 9 of Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Section 9a, which shall read as follows:

Section 9a. A majority of the property tax paying voters in any county or one or more political subdivisions thereof in this State, voting at an election held for that purpose may vote a tax for road and bridge purposes not to exceed 30 cents on the $100 valuation of property subject to taxation in such county or political subdivision of such county, or may issue bonds not to exceed 90 per cent of the assessed value of the real property in such district, for such road and bridge purposes, provided that such tax, or proceeds of such bonds, shall be expended in the territory in which it is voted, and no other, and this provision of the Constitution shall be self-enacting without the necessity of further legislation.

SEC. 2. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation submitting this amendment to the qualified voters of Texas at the general election held in this State, in case any previous election shall be held in the State for other purposes, then this proposed amendment shall be submitted to the qualified tax payers. And the sum of $2000, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the treasury of the State of Texas for the purpose of submitting this proposition to a vote of the people of the State of Texas. L. T. DASHIELL, Secretary of State.

Mrs. Bowser got "touched" for $1,090 at Port Arthur last week. Now it is Mrs. Bowser's time to say, "I told you so."

Practical politics is the art of deceiving the ignorant and then "burning them up."—DallasNews.

Another definition is "making the voters think they are doing something smart, when you know they are acting the fool."

THE RUSK PRESS JOURNAL is not claiming the earth, but "she do maintain" that Rusk has got the world skinned a good English mile in the matter of pretty girls and "onery dorgs."

THE BELTON JOURNAL "ort to be ashamed" to say such ugly things about the legislature. Why the 30th legislature gave more newspaper men a chance to show how smart they were than anything that has happened in the history of Texas.

The smell of petroleum seems to have been too much for the negro juror sitting on the Waters-Pierce oil case at Austin last week. If half the things that have been said about Pierce and other people who are alleged to have been mixed up in the Standard oil business, are true, it would make a decent buzzard leave a slaughter pen.

The Houston strawberry has begun its twenty-third week and it shows no sign of skiddooing.—Houston Post.

When we go to Houston we will call for some strawberries of a later crop. Those of the 23-week vintage have been on ice too long.

THE DALLAS NEWS and the Austin Statesman are still quarrelling over the tax law matter. Let the legislature alone, "it's done been." Don't you fellows know that a corpse smells bad if you dig it up too soon after it is buried.

DEWITT county reports eighteen divorce cases on the district court docket. Cuero must be trying to get in the class with Chicago. We don't know anything about her record for rapidity along those lines, but Cuero has long been a humming good town in every other way.

It is said that bridge whist has caused a number of women in Detroit to go insane. Here in Texas it seems to be the husbands and children of the bridge whist ladies who get the worst of it.—Houston Post.

Oh, I don't know. A woman who would rather play bridge whist than to darn socks and string beans wouldn't be much of an ornament anywhere, except in a padded cell.

SEEMS like the reformers will never be content. Now that the lid is on so tight in Houston that you couldn't prize it up just a little with a pinch bar, and the women and children can't get chewing gum and lemonade on Sunday, State Health Officer Brumby comes along and wants to deprive them of the privilege of being bitten by mosquitoes as they've always been. Soon the ancient customs will all be gone.

HOUSTON has the worst case of Sunday law enforcement on record. An effort is now being made to prohibit the delivery of ice on Sunday, and some wretch is talking about getting out an injunction to close the churches, undertakers' shops and doctors' offices. Some of that gang of reformers will develop a case of brainstorm if they don't look out. It is said of a certain section of Ohio that it was cheaper for the State, to build a branch penitentiary there than to transport convicts. Houston is likely to get an asylum on the same theory.

A KID always howls when you take a green cucumber away from him and tell him it will make him sick to eat it. Grown people kick at Mother Nature the same way. The drouth in this section in the early spring ruined almost all the wheat crop, and the people howled. Cotton has been planted on most of the wheat fields and indications are for a good crop of cotton. It is now probable that cotton will be worth more in October of this year than it has been at any time since the Civil War. So we don't always know what is best for us.

Remarkable Rescue.

That truth is stranger than fiction, has once more been demonstrated in the little town of Fedora, Tenn., the residence of C.V. Pepper. He writes: "I was in bed, entirely disabled with hemorrhages of the lungs and throat. Doctors failed to help me, and all hope had fled when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. Then instant relief came. The coughing soon ceased; the bleeding diminished rapidly, and in three weeks I was able to go to work." Guaranteed for coughs and colds 50c and $1.00, at Rock Drug Store. Not to be Fooled.

A resident of Newton, Mass., who was noted for his great kindness to animals, viewed the first horse cars with dismay. "It's sheer cruelty, that's what it is," he insisted, and the plea of convenience or necessity had no influence upon him.

"I'd walk to Boston and back before I'd add a pound's weight to what those poor creatures have to drag," he declared, and no persuasion could induce him to ride in a street car dragged by over-worked, tired horses.

When electricity was applied and the cars went smoothly along without the horses, his son said: "Now, father, you can ride on the street-cars without worrying about horses. You can go into Boston at your ease now."

"James," said the old man, "you always rush at conclusions; you don't study into things as I do. Don't I read in the papers about every car having to have so much 'horse' power? And don't I know well enough what that means?" and the old gentleman sighed.

"It simply means, my son, that the poor horses are being worked just as hard and just as many hours, only we don't see 'em."

"Those power-houses could tell sales, I reckon! No, I've no use for street cars now than I ever had, and for the same reason."—Youths Companion.

For years codliver oil has been known to be one of the best strength and flesh producers, but owing to the disagreeable taste and odor many patients are unable to take it.
Bernard's Emulsion of codliver oil with coconut oil, hypophosphites and aromatics is so combined and thoroughly emulsified that it is more easily digested than milk and is very palatable. It makes bone, blood and muscle without taxing the digestion. Every bottle guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money back. For sale by W. H. Rawson, druggist, Kerrville.

ARE IMPROVING HEREFORD HERDS.

Hereford Breeders of Southwest Texas Find It Highly Profitable To Improve Beef Breeds.

The breeders of Texas and particularly Southwest Texas and West Texas are finding it profitable to improve their Hereford herds to the highest standard. In this connection it is relevant to call attention to the auction sale of Herefords, which will include eighty-five (85) registered individuals from several of the best prize winning herds of the Southwest, which auction will occur at Leedale Stock Farm, which is picturesquely located seven miles southwest of San Angelo. The date of the sale is Thursday, June 6th.

A big barbecue will be served at 11 o'clock in the morning, and free transportation will be afforded all from San Angelo to Leedale.

The offerings include the entire Hereford herd of 42 cattle of C. W. B. Collins, who is selling out on account of having sold his ranch. Four of Lee Brothers' renowned show herd and 34 other selected Leedale cattle and five from the herd of Broome & Farr, will be offered at this auction, at which there will positively be no reservations.

Anyone may have a catalog by addressing Phil C. Lee, San Angelo, Texas. This will prove a splendid opportunity for belated bull buyers of Kerrville and Kerr, Gillespie and Kendall counties.

While A-meri-cus was standing at the telephone Sunday night, he heard an exceeding great noise from about five miles in the country. We at once called up our old friend, John A. McBryde, the great friend of the commonwealth, and asked him where and what was the source. He answered in a moment: "That is only my twin baby girls crying for their supper." They were born Friday morning the 24. They are sprightly youngsters very much like their father, only a great deal better looking. Mother and babies doing well and with proper attention, John A. will recover.

HARPER NEWS.

This place was visited Sunday morning by a heavy rain and hail. The greatest damage done by hail was in the Doss' Valley neighborhood. Another hard rain fell Tuesday night, accompanied by considerable wind and lightning.

One of the most enjoyable events of the season was the one given at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Swift on last Friday day night, celebrating the betrothal of their daughter, Zelma to Mr. Hugo Hopf. At the proper time delicious refreshments of ice cream and cake were served the many guests, after which congratulations were extended the young couple, wishing Miss Zelma much happiness in her future, and congratulating Mr. Hopf in winning the heart and hand of a sweet, Christian girl. Miss Zelma was the reipient of many nice presents from her many friends who wish her all sunshine and no shadows.

Quite a crowd from Harper went to Spring Creek last Saturday to attend a picnic given by Miss Mary Norris for her school.

Messrs. Oscar S. Lars and D. C. Barker spent Saturday in Fredericksburg attending to business.

Clay Billings is on the sick list this week.

Mr. Swift and little daughter, Zanalla, visited over on the Guadalupe Friday.

Miss Nell Bryant of Brownwood is here on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. John Weckind.

Mr. and Mrs. Deaton and son, Martin of Mississippi are visiting their daughter, Mrs. John Morris.

THE CHEAPEST AND THE BEST FLOUR IN TEXAS.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC HEALTH AND VITAL STATISTICS STATE OF TEXAS.

Austin, Texas, May 1, 1907. To the Honorable Mayor and City Council:

Gentlemen:

It is usually the unexpected that happens, and we want to be prepared for any emergency that might arise.

During the past six months, for the first time since the year one, there has not been a case of yellow fever reported in the whole Republic of Mexico, due to perseverance in their efforts towards the exterminating that breed of mosquitoes that convey disease. In consequence they are better able to withstand an epidemic than we are at present. It would be a parody to have Mexico quarantine us because of yellow fever within our State this Summer, yet such a thing is possible.

From Salina Cruz, on the Pacific coast, across the Isthmus, there are close railway connections and fast time, and it is now possible that a man during the period of incubation of yellow fever could reach Houston, or any other South Texas point, in three and a half or four days time, taking sick at that point and possibly causing an epidemic. Such rapid transit and close railway connections were not possible even one year ago, so you can readily see the necessity for our taking every possible precaution.

I think it is essential that what work there is to be done along sanitary lines, especially as relates to mosquito extermination, should be done immediately, for after the middle of June this mosquito is propagated rapidly.

It is a recognized fact that it not only requires pure water—usually rain water—but that it should be at a temperature of 65 to 70 degrees for their rapid propagation.

I hope that you will see that your mosquito ordinances are rigidly enforced, and that grass and weed cutting, draining ditches, and general sanitary work, be done at once. Very respectfully,

W. M. BRUMBY, State Health Officer.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS OF THE FAIR

COMMITTEE URGES TEACHERS AND PUPILS TO PREPARE EXHIBITS.

The West Texas Fair will open August 22. The management has provided for a display of competitive school work and all schools are requested to enter the competition. Judge Lee Wallace, Prof. H. W. Morelock and Mr. George W. Walther comprise the committee having in charge this particular feature of the Fair and they earnestly request the co-operation of all the teachers and pupils in an effort to make the school exhibits at the West Texas Fair this year a credit to the classes participating, to the Fair, and to Texas. The catalog will be out in a few days and may be had by applying to Mr. Chas. Reel, the Secretary of the Fair. Other information may be had by applying to the committee. Each school will be allowed, if they prefer, to go to the Fair grounds and arrange its own exhibits in the hall, or they may leave exhibits at Judge Wallace's office at any time within five days of the opening of the Fair and same will be put on display by the committee.
