GEORGE BOWLES

Talks to the Boys and Girls About School Days, and Tells Them the World Is Their's to Conquer.

HERE has long been an old standing joke about the boy hating to go to school. I have often wondered if there were really many boys and girls who disliked attending school. Of course, no one should expect the average little fellow in the Primary Department to understand the value of training his mind for the future trials of strength between it and the minds of other men and women who will be in the conflict for human supremacy in the years to come.

Next Monday morning all the boys and girls in Kerrville will go to school. The school building, that has been standing so silent through the summer, while the boys and girls were resting their minds and strengthening their bodies, will again echo and re-echo with happy laughter and joyous shouts of the children. The rooms that have been closed all summer will again be animated by that nameless rustling noise that is made by a class of real live boys and girls while studying their lessons. You, perhaps, were not in this room last term. The boys and girls who occupied this grade last year are gone up a step higher on the ladder of learning. This step that you are now on was honored and broadened by them and they have left it to you to make still broader and more honorable. Every right minded boy and girl is proud of promotion in school. That is right. Going forward and upward is a good thing to do in all the vocations of life, but when you have reached a step a little higher than the one you now occupy, it is your duty to so conduct yourself, and to so execute the work you are engaged upon, that it will be an even greater credit to those who come after you when they shall have reached the same eminence.

I do not mean by admonishing the boys and girls to strive for the greatest excellence that I would have them devote every moment to the close study of their text books. Play is as essential to wisdom as is labor, not because we learn so much from play, but because it keeps the physical being healthy, and thereby promotes the better exercise of the brain.

To the High School grades a few words might be said just at this time that would benefit them greatly. It does not make so much difference who says a word if it is a good word and benefits some one. Every boy and girl in school ought to wear a motto bearing the word "why." There have always been a lot of the brightest boys and girls in school who readily grasped a problem when told how to solve it, but could not tell "why" it was solved, in that manner. Studying without thinking is like eating without chewing, all right perhaps for a boaconstrictor, but very unwise for a person possessing human characteristics. There are boys and girls, and even men and women in the world who are under the impression that studying and thinking are the same thing. They are wrong. Studying the works of Plato and Socrates gives us an insight into the wonderful mental strength of men who could fathom such seas of wisdom before books were to be had, and could soar to such heights of truth, poetry and soul music before the worlds libraries contained lexicons tabulating the thoughts of men who had gone before; but "thinking" was the cause of Plato, Socrates, Homer and other ancient philosophers and poets making the deductions that men quote today after a lapse of more than 2,000 years. Yes, says some one, but they were specially endowed with ability to think. No one questions that statement, men and women are still "specially" endowed, by the Great God, to perform special work in his vineyard. Was not Dr. Koch specially endowed to make a life study of the matter of Tuberculosis, and was not his discovery of as great importance to the human family as any that have been made before? Has not the result of Thomas Edison's "thinking" been of almost inestimable value to the world of mankind? They are two men in the last century who are the peer of any that have lived on earth, as "thinkers." There are many others. I do not say that there has been, or will ever be a boy or girl graduate from the Tivy High School, who will become a world famous character, but I do say that there is no valid reason why such should not be the case. At least, we may be sure that whatever the limits set upon our ability to acquire knowledge, by a wise Creator, we shall never reach them if we fail to think, as well as to study. The strongest man who ever took part in the ancient Olympic games, the swiftest runner whose fleetness of foot caused the Greeks of old to crown him with laurel, and to sing songs of his fame, would have been a pigmy in strength, or a snail in speed, had he not cultivated his physical abilities. In the same manner, Socrates would never have been a great philosopher, had he not cultivated his God-given ability to think. There are great helps to wisdom in these days. We have the knowledge acquired by those who have gone before us, but of all the pitiful things on earth, a mind crammed with the knowledge of other people, a mental ship loaded with priceless treasures of thought, but without the governing power, the steering apparatus of independent "thinking," is the most abjectly pitiful thing that I can imagine.

never become a great poet, painter, philosopher or genius of world-wide fame, but you may rest assured that the more you think, the greater will be your ability to think and the greater your happiness. There has lived no man of all the great minds in the world who could think things that you cannot think. You have, as Emerson says, a right to share in the common heritage of wisdom; which is the estate that the Great God has prepared for partition among the thinkers of the world. If you do not inherit your patrimony, if you do not go up and possess the wonderful wealth of knowledge that is at your command, you will, in the years to come, have none to blame except yourself. You have heard the old statement in grammar, that it is not proper to say, "he learned me to do this," but that we should say, "he taught me to do it." The ablest instructor in the world cannot "learn" you a thing. He can only "teach" you, and you must do the learning by study and by "thinking." There is a book, written by Dr. O. S. Marden, entitled "Every Man a King" that should be read by the graduating class of every high school in the world. The world is yours, happiness is yours, health and riches are yours, and you can possess them if you will only "think."

We often hear someone telling of the wonderful achievement of some man or woman who had no opportunity of attending college, no advantages in schools of any kind, and yet became famous. It was no more trouble for that man to become famous from the little log cabin in the pioneers clearing, from the humble stand of a news boy on a busy corner, or from any other humble position, than it would have been for him to acquire fame from modern schools and high places of learning. He was a "thinker," and thinking is the power that conquers all things, the energy that rules the universe.

School days are happy days, and should be. There is a picture hanging in the hearts of many men and women throughout the land about which clusters happy memories. The figures in the picture are painted in red, and purple, and gold. The yellow of the Golden Rod, the brown of autumn leaves, and the red of ripening berries, while the garment of royal purple that is the regal garment of kings pervades the atmosphere of the scene. Beneath the picture is the title, "The First Day of School."

When time shall have drawn apace and you too shall look back along the walls of Memories picture gallery, and shall see numerous pictures of the "First Days of School" that you have known, may none of them be more beautiful to you, than that of the first day of school, 1908. My last wish upon the subject is, "May that picture have in its very center, in raised characters of gold, the two words, "Think—Why!"

CARE OF THE EYES.

Few Women Give Their Eyes the Ordinary Care That They Would Give a Sewing Machine. Few Men Devote the Attention to Their Eyes That They Give a Piece of Machinery That is in Daily Use.

It is a well known fact to all people of intelligence that the human eye is purely a piece of intricate mechanism of the very most complicated nature possible. The ordinary troubles that arise with the vision are rarely due to anything more or less than neglect of the eyes. If a part of some machine that a man of intelligence was operating should become weak, and apparently be on the verge of giving way he would never be so dense as to let the machine rest over night in the hope that it would be all right to perform its usual functions after the rest. He would at once set about reinforcing the weak part, in the hope of making it as strong as the other parts of the machine. If that could not be done he would try to relieve some of the strain from that part, if possible, by placing a little greater strain in another quarter.

There are, perhaps, some cases of weak eyes that are remedied to an extent by Optico-Surgery, but this is almost always in cases of deformity of the eye. The normal eye is rarely, indeed we believe never, benefitted by the use of any kind of surgery, or the application of any foreign substance whatever, except it be some simple remedy to relieve acute inflammation. The real remedy for the eyes that have become weak from over strain in reading, working upon intricate patterns of lace, or even from weakness caused by ill health, is to strengthen the muscles of the eye by properly fitted glasses. When one muscle that governs the eye becomes weak it relaxes and allows the stronger muscle to draw the lense out of exact adjustment, so that the light does not reflect the object properly. When this occurs the weak muscles and nerves become gradually weaker, and finally painful.

The time has come when men of alleged professional ability can no longer deceive the intelligent laity in regard to these things. A man who can properly grind glasses is an expert mechanic, nothing more. The professional optician is but a man who from years of study under proper instruction, becomes expert in the handling of that delicate piece of animated mechanism, the human eye, and becomes so familiarized with the effect of certain lenses upon the muscles of the eye that he can, with the assistance of modern optical instruments, remove the strain from the weak member of the machine and allow it, with the assistance of nature to become strong again and readjust itself to its natural functions.

It is not necessary to use a long string of technical terms in an attempt to "pull the wool over the eyes" of the people in these matters. I have studied in the best schools of Opticians in this country, and have a diploma. I have practiced the profession for years and have the endorsement of men of unquestioned integrity. You need not go a long way and spend a lot of money in order to have your eyes "treated." There is every reasonable probability that they do not need "treating" in any other way than having glasses properly fitted. I have the same mechanical optical instruments as you will find in the city establishments, my charges for fitting the glasses will be no greater than any other first-class optician will charge you, and you will not have to pay the expense of the red plush covered furniture in the waiting room. Just plain, honest service, for honest people. If your eyes are weak come to me and I will refer you to people who live right here in Kerrville who will tell you what I did for them.

A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you of my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Pendleton to Le Grande, Ore., writes Sam A. Garber, a well known traveling man. "I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the coach and came said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in this car. I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so you could not straighten them, and with a death like look on her face. Some ladies were working with her, giving her whiskey. I went to my suitcase and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and I worked with her, rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grande, where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband in case another dose was needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grande she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car." For sale by all druggists.

Will Install a Seismograph.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 7.—The State meteorological observatory, located at the University of Texas, is being considerably improved for the work of the ensuing year.

The first seismograph to be installed in the State will be a part of the equipment. An anemometer, or wind gauge, and a mercurial barograph, or barometer, will also be installed.

Dr. Frederick W. Simonds, head of the School of Geology and Meteorology, will, it is understood, recommend the employment of an experienced meteorologist to assist him in conducting the observatory, inasmuch as the Government has shown no disposition to employ one.

A Paying Investment.

Mr. John White, of 38 Highland Ave., Houlton, Maine, says: "Have been troubled with a cold every winter and spring. Last winter I tried many advertised remedies, but the cold continued until I bought a 50c bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery; before that was half gone, the cough was all gone. This winter the same happy result has followed; a few doses once more banished the annual cough. I am now convinced that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best of all cough and lung remedies." Sold under guarantee at Rock Drug Store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

In Memory of Thomas W. Lowrance
Who was born October 23, 1906, and died August 23, 1908.

Parting is sweet, though solemn,
To bid our dear babe good bye,
Though we shall meet him in heaven,
The one to our hearts so nigh.

At the table we miss him there,
And only see his vacant chair.
We cannot realize that he's left us
For a brighter world to view.

Oh, how we miss those sweet words
Which through his lips were spoken
And the voice so oft times heard,
Now leaves us heart broken.

Could we but see that tender smile
And hear those foot-steps slow,
Oh, could he speak to us again
With voice so soft and low.
Rock Springs, Tex. His sister,

Don't be afraid to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to your children. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. It always cures. For sale by all druggists.

Shark Took His Tarpon.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 5.—J. W. Robbins, ex-state treasurer, returned from Tarpon recently, where he goes annually for a few weeks tarpon fishing. He reported excellent fishing of all kinds, having caught sixty nine mackerel one morning.

While tarpon fishing he reports having had a peculiar adventure. He had landed a 6-foot tarpon and had the fish across his boat to take a scale from it, as is customary, a proof that he had landed the fish. While he was doing this a 10-foot shark attempted to capture the fish. He frightened the shark away at first, but it returned and caught the tarpon in the middle. Mr. Robbins clubbed the ravenous fish with his oar, but it refused to release its hold until it had bitten the tarpon in two and carried a piece of it away.

How To Get Strong.

P. J. Daly, of 1247 W. Congress St., Chicago, tells of a way to become strong. He says: "My mother, who is old and was very feeble, is deriving so much benefit from Electric Bitters, that I feel it's my duty to tell those who need a tonic and strengthening medicine about it. In my mother's case a marked gain in flesh has resulted, insomnia has been overcome, and she is steadily growing stronger." Electric Bitters quickly remedy stomach, liver and kidney complaints. Sold under guarantee at Rock Drug Store. 50c.

Will Sue 100 Corporations.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 7.—Assistant Attorney General James D. Walthall will shortly direct his attention to the corporations delinquent under the gross receipt tax.

There are over 100 such corporations and suits will be filed for the collection of the back taxes and penalties for delinquency. The Waters-Pierce Oil Company is one of the corporations that has failed to pay the tax. It is possible that suits will be filed in the immediate future.

Good For Biliousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent. better than I have for weeks, says J. J. Firestone of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for biliousness." For sale by all druggists. Samples free.

Social Dance.

A dance was given at Pampell's hall on Tuesday night in honor of Capt. Ross Irving, of San Antonio, and other visiting young people.

Mail Schedule.

The Junction mail backs are now running through without a stop, leaving Kerrville at 1:00 p. m., reaching Junction at 2:30 a. m., leaving Junction at 2:30 p. m., arriving at Kerrville at 3:30 a. m. This shortens the time each way from 10 to 12 hours, also making close connections here with the trains, which greatly benefits the service, for which the new contractors, Embry and Petmecky, deserve praise.

Postmaster Real has recommended to the Department a slight change from the above, by with the mail would leave Junction at 6:30 a. m. and arrive at Kerrville about 6:00 p. m., retaining the present time of leaving, 1:00 p. m., which he did at the request of the people at Junction.

Tablets, ink, pens, pencils, at the lowest price. THE FAMOUS.

An Appeal to the Farmers.

The citizens of Kerr County have decided to enter the San Antonio Fair to be held September 26 to October 11, for the best county exhibit, and to advertise the wonderful resources and possibilities of this section. To this end we ask your hearty co-operation and support, as this is a large undertaking and we can not afford to fail. We have made arrangements to store anything perishable in the ice house here, and everything else will be stored in the second story of the Lowry Building. If you have anything that will make the display attractive not included in the following list we will be glad to have it. Please do not wait until the last day to bring us anything you have and do not wait for further solicitation as it is impossible in the short period we have to personally see all. We will load a car about September 20, and I will be in charge of everything and we will return everything to you without cost. The merchants of Kerrville and Center Point will receive articles to be entered and deliver them to us.

Of the following named articles we want as many good specimens as we can get. As many varieties as possible of apples, crab apples, peaches, pears, quinces, plums, pomegranates, persimmons, apricots, prunes, dates, grapes or other fruits. Fresh, canned, preserved, dried, and jellied fruits.

Every variety Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, turnips, onions, beets, cow peas, spinach, pepper, okra, lettuce, artichokes, wax beans, green beans, dry beans, peas, carrots, cucumbers, egg plants, parsnips, sweet corn, green corn, pop corn, squash, pumpkin, cushaw, watermelon, muskmelon, pie melon, cabbage, cauliflower, radishes, celery, garlic, gourd, asparagus, chicory, endive, kale, kohlrabi, leek, mustard, parsley, salsify, rutabaga, herbs, fresh, canned, preserved or dried.

Wines, cordials, cider, beer, vinegar, sugar sorghum molasses, honey—comb and extracted, cured meats, beef, bacon, lard, sausage, hams, soaps, pickles, marmalades, catsup, butter and sauces. Also breads, biscuits, rolls, cakes, butter cheese and bees wax.

A bundle ribbon cane, sorghum cane, wheat, oats, millet, rye, barley, cron fodder or any other forage. Bales of alfalfa, field grass, sorghum, oats, Johnson grass, peanut and peavine hay, shredded corn, millet, red top cane, Hungarian grass, prairie hay, bermuda hay. Samples of one peck wheat, oats, rye, barley, sorghum cane seed, Johnson grass seed, alfalfa seed, millet, hemi and milo maize. Kaffir corn, cotton seed, speltz, peanuts, pecans, almonds, walnuts and hickory nuts.

A tomato display of as many varieties as possible in fresh, canned, preserved, dried, pickled, wines, vinegar, etc., etc.

Wool, mohair, tobacco, cotton, charcoal, castor beans, flax, eggs, broom corn, mounted horns, insects, curios and relics.

L. A. MOSTY.

They Take The Kinks Out.

"I have used Dr. King's New Life Pills for many years, with increasing satisfaction. They take the kinks out of stomach, liver and bowels, without fuss or friction," says N. H. Brown, of Pittsfield, Vt. Guaranteed satisfactory at Rock Drug Store. 25c.

Discoveries in Archaeology.

Prof. Edgar L. Hewett, of the American Institute of Archaeology who is making excavations in the Pajarito cliff dwellers' park in Northern New Mexico, has been unearthing some unusually valuable finds. Excavations are disclosing the first round communal dwelling ever found, and new and unique specimens of stone implements are being taken from it. The building had 600 rooms and in the adjoining caves, of which there are 800 in the canyon, four separate floors, each covered by the debris of ages, were uncovered, showing that four different generations of these prehistoric people had lived there.

A large communal building, deemed mythical until now, has been discovered just where the traditions of the Pueblo Indians said it could be found, and it will also be excavated, as will also the extensive ruins near the "Stone Lions."

For a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle may be cured in about one-third the time usually required, by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely, and giving it absolute rest. For sale by all druggists.

Auto Party Robbers' Victims.

Taylor, Texas, September 7.—A telephone message from Circleville, five miles north of Taylor, says that while a party of Granger autoists were enjoying a moonlight drive last night along the San Gabriel river, the auto party was held up by two robbers, who sprang from the roadside and relieved the gentlemen of their pocket change and the women of their jewelry. Further particulars are unobtainable.

A Sure-Enough Knocker.

J. C. Goodwin, of Reidsville, N. C., says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve is a sure enough knocker for ulcers. A bad one came on my leg last summer, but that wonderful salve knocked it out in a few rounds. Not even a scar remained." Guaranteed for piles, sores, burns, etc. 25c at Rock Drug Store.

GOOD ROADS AND PROGRESS.

To begin with we would state that when we speak of good roads we are not discussing the kind of roads that are good when the weather is fine and there has been no washing rains. From the very outset we want it understood that in our judgment what is meant by good roads, is a system of roads for Kerr county that are as good as any in the world. This article is the first of a series of articles on this subject, and the purpose is to get the people of Kerr county to thinking about good roads and the advantages they will bring. When that shall have been accomplished it will be but a short step to realization of something that should be the dream of all intelligent people in the world, especially those of rural communities.

At the very outset we want to say that to build roads, good roads, in the fullest meaning of that expression, will require money. To get money for any kind of public use, requires taxation, and to tell people that you want to tax them for the common good usually raises a protest. We are undertaking the task of putting the good roads matter before the people of Kerr county, believing that they are sufficiently more enlightened and progressive than the commonality of people in rural districts to readily grasp the enormous benefits to be derived from a proper system of highways. We are doing this in the belief that our people are equal to the most progressive people in the state, and in the belief, also, that if they had figured out the small cost of the enterprise, compared with the great good that will result, they would say at once: "Let us go and do this thing."

To make a good showing at road building in this county it will require $50,000. That, says one is a great amount of money. Yes, quite true, but it is not much money for a thing that will increase values hundreds of thousands. We are not going to try to convince the people of a thing that is not feasible, or that they cannot at least figure out to the last mill before they undertake it. Indeed, it is for the very purpose of getting the people to think and figure the matter over with the greatest care that this article is prepared.

The present law governing the issuance of bonds for road building permits the issuance of bonds to the amount of one-fourth the value of the realty in the county, or other subdivision voting same. That provision would bring the issuance of half a million in bonds easily within the law, but the purpose is to buy something that we really need, and to get it now, when it will do us most good. Also to get it for as little money as possible.

The interest on $50,000 at 4 per cent is $2,000. Then there must be $1000 put by in the sinking fund each year for the purpose of paying off the bonds at maturity. That would necessitate the raising of $3,000 each year by taxation. Yes, says one, it would make my taxes higher. True, if you have $1,000 worth of property you will have to pay additional taxes to the amount of 75 cents per year. One trip with a loaded wagon over the good road when completed will enable you to save more than that amount in the greater load you can draw with given power. If you have property worth $10,000 it will cost you $7.50 per year for good roads. No man owning more than that amount of property can fail to see the good resulting to him far in excess of the cost. So far, we have discussed the good roads problem from the simple view point of riding, driving, walking, and hauling heavy loads over them. Now, let us consider "good roads" from the practical, intelligent, business view point of enhancing the value of our property, and consequently cutting down our tax rate. In the first place let us remember that Kerr county has as good road building material as that from which the great Appian Way, or "Queen of Roads" was constructed, which, after a lapse of 2,300 years is a "good road" today. Good roads in Kerr county will be a permanent investment. With a system of good roads there will be summer homes built in the mountains of this section until this will be second to no place in America as a summer resort. An investment of $50,000 in good roads in Kerr county by the end of the year 1910 will double property values, or in other words, aside from the values of pleasure and ordinary profit from their use, we will have a profit of $2,000,000 or more from enhanced values of realty.

As stated, this article was written for the purpose of making the people think, and we are especially anxious to know promptly what they think about the Good Roads proposition, and will greatly appreciate it if they will tell us.

Kerrville Mountain Sun.

Among the public enterprises in Kerrville there is none more prominent than the Kerrville Mountain Sun, published by J. E. Grinstead, statesman, poet, literary genius, all round booster. Grinstead has published more miles of long primer boosting Southwest Texas than any other weekly newspaper published in the State. He never gets busy literally, but is always "getting busy" figuratively and doing things for this part of Texas. The Sun is an easy winner among country weeklies of Texas. In addition to publishing a newspaper, Grinstead has plenty of time to mix in politics, tell stories and hoe his garden.—San Antonio Light.

We never like to question the other fellows statement, but if we knew the above statement to be true, we would quit washing rollers and throwing in "Pl."

The nomination of Ed R. Kone, of Hays county, for the office of Commissioner of Agriculture, by State Executive Committee, is said to have been "a plum handed to Southwest Texas by Governor Campbell." This section had reached the conclusion that Gov. Tom's orchard was entirely composed of lemon trees.

A big steamer will soon navigate the Guadalupe, according to the Cuero Star. It will be pleasant if they have it in operation by November 3. Then the "also rans" can charter it for their excursion up Salt River. The gang who went up the creek after the primaries had to go in skiffs.

The State Photographers Association met at San Antonio this week. After a highly satisfactory convention, L. T. Powell, of San Antonio, was elected president. The "Shadow Snatchers" are now ready for the task of making pictures of budding politicians for the public prints.

Died.

Mrs Emliye Daey died at her home in this city Tuesday, September 8. Mrs. Daey was 72 years of age and was the mother of Robert Daey and Mrs. Henry Nurenberger of this city. The funeral took place on the following day.

Married.

Mr. Lew Baldwin and Miss Ella Jones were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents on Johnson Fork, Wednesday, September 9, Rev. R. A. Cochran officiating. Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. Pattie Hannis and Miss Alice Williamson of this city were among the friends of the young couple who were present at the wedding and who will be joined by many others in wishing the newly wedded pair long life and happiness.

Center Point Celebrates.

Center Point, Texas, September 7.—Today has witnessed one of the most successful public entertainments in the history of the town. The Labor Day exercises here today were under the auspices of the Loyal League, and all proceeds went to the Christian church.

The entire program of the day's celebration was carried out without a hitch. Speeches were made, appropriate to the occasion, by Congressman Jas. L. Slayden, of San Antonio, Judge Ben H. Kelly, of Kerrville, Rev. Hamby and Rev. Streater, of Center Point.

The chief features of the day were the election of the Labor Queen, Miss Retha Cocke, who chose as her king, Mr. W. L. Leigh. Following that came the coronation of the queen, and a long parade of decorated floats in honor of the occasion. The prize for the best decorated float was awarded to the Center Point band, whose "band wagon" was a thing of beauty. A parade of decorated baby buggies, with babies in them was a very pretty feature of the entertainment. Rev. J. M. Streater, who was master of ceremonies, did himself proud in presenting the laurels to the prize winners.

The barbecue in connection with the entertainment was a success from every way it could be looked at. There was the greatest abundance of finely prepared meats, coffee, bread, pickles and the "trimmin's." The ladies of the Christian church conducted a booth for the sale of cold drinks and confections.

The occasion was not one for the exploitation of political booms, though there were several candidates present. The speeches were rather on the patriotic order. On the whole the day was one of relaxation from the strenuous duties of life, was greatly enjoyed by all present, and was just such an entertainment as will have a tendency to make the people proud of themselves and of their country, and cause them to undertake other such enterprises for the common good.

There was a large contingent of Kerrville people present, and all report having enjoyed the occasion greatly.

PROFESSIONAL MENDER.

A woman of the middle west, being left a widow with a crippled grandson to support, is making a living and saving money too, by mending clothes. She advertised to do this work and received many replies. One pleased customer brought another and so on, until her time is entirely taken up with the work and she was able to give some of it to others as needy as herself. One can usually find plenty of seamstresses, yet a woman to mend clothes is indeed a blessing in a community.

All Property Owners

should realize the value of identifying themselves with a home bank, of joining interests with those who are working for the advancement of this town and vicinity. This matter is of real and actual importance to each and every one of us. If you are not a property owner and would like to become one (every man, every woman and every child has a right to and should have a home—a home in which they can feel a personal interest and take pride in adding the little improvements which make for the beauty and comfort of life) start an account with this bank, it will assist you to conserve and save a larger part of your income and is the first step toward a home of your own. Begin now.

Horse Thiet Captured.

Sheriff J. T. Moore returned the latter part of last week from Seguin, having in charge Hans Schnelle, wanted in this county on a charge of horse theft. Schnelle is now in jail awaiting the action of the grand jury.

The young man who is about 19 years of age, is a native of Germany, and has been in the United States about a year. He was working for Oscar Strohecker, of the Turtle Creek community, and on the 20th of August took a horse and saddle from Strohecker's ranch, and sold it to W. E. Limberger, of Center Point, receiving a watch and a certain amount of money. Officers were put to work upon the case, with results as above stated.

Young Schnelle is well educated and constantly requested books to read. The kind of literature he desires indicates that he came to this country imbued with a desire to become famous along the route traveled by Buffalo Bill and other hunters, guides and scouts. Reading German translations of such literature is no doubt responsible, in a large measure, for the young man's crime.

At a certain country court the judge is, in his private capacity, a very kind-hearted man. The usher of the court is aged—very aged—but as he had been a faithful servant for many years, he was retained in that capacity. One morning he fell asleep in court and began to snore. The noise he made naturally disturbed court proceedings, but the judge displayed great tact in dealing with the matter. "Usher Jones," he called out loudly, "some one is snoring!" The usher woke. He jumped to his feet and glared ferociously round. "Silence!" he roared. "There must be no snoring in court."—Exchange.

The Pole Cats Change O' Heart.

From time immemorial the pole cat has been an outcast among animals. The world has respected him; it has never loved him. There are certain of his qualities and attributes which forbid a close acquaintanceship. But now, thanks to a remarkable scientific discovery, all this is to be changed. The pole cat is to wave not only his present place among the living beautiful creatures of the out-of-doors, but will bear a message of fragrance to the world as well. It is from a Mississippi country weekly that we glean the glad tidings. A gentleman farmer of that state, who is the proprietor of a chicken farm, has also a pole cat farm near by it. Not long ago his chickens fell sick. He mixed coal oil in their feed, and was surprised to find that the next batch of eggs which his faithful hens produced smelled strongly of petroleum.

A bright idea dawned upon him. His face flushed with the joy of anticipated discovery. His heart throbbed wildly—even as Newton's must have beat when he noted with delight that the apple did not fall up instead of down. If the odor of oil was strong in the output of the hens, why then—! Enough! He had long hated the odor of his pole cat farm. Now he mixes lavender, bergamot and orange flowers with the food which he gives the pretty little animals. The results are all that the most fastidious nature could wish; a delicate and delightful odor hangs about the pole cat farm now—a scent that vies with the violet and puts the musk rose and magnolia to shame. Thus is an animal of lovely appearance, but of terrible reputation, transformed into a creature fit to be the theme and inspiration of a whole school of lyric poets.—Home Magazine.

Two Are Drowned in Fishing Party in Galveston Bay.

Interrupted while pitching tent on Red Fish reef on an arm of the Galveston Bay, Northwest of the city of Galveston, a party of twenty prominent citizens of Galveston, members of an exclusive hunting and fishing club of the city, battled with a heavy sea and stiff gale last night for several hours, and two of the party were drowned, while others are more or less exhausted by the experience of the night.

Twenty members of the club left Galveston Saturday afternoon for two days fishing on the reef. Anchoring the yacht off the reef, they went ashore in a small boat, and at 10:00 o'clock Saturday night, while they were arranging camp for the night, the squall struck them. Five of the party, John Lubbin, secretary-treasurer of the Dallas-Galveston News; County Clerk G. F. Burgess, Ben Phillips, John L. Moore and John Goggan, decided to get out of the rough weather, and to spend the night on the yacht. They started in the small boat, and had gone but a short distance when heavy seas overturned them. The capsize boat escaped them.

Phillips and Lubbin were rescued by the heroic work of Rex Cooper, one of the party, who plunged into the heavy sea to their aid, and Burgess got to the side of yacht, and was thrown a life preserver, which sustained him in an exhausted condition until help from shore, rescued him. Goggan and Moore were lost in the blackness of the night, and it was more than twenty minutes before the body of Goggan was found. Life was not extinct, but so near that it was impossible to resuscitate him. Moore's body was recovered Sunday afternoon.

The survivors of the party spent the entire night caring for their injured associates and hunting for the body of Moore, and all were brought into Galveston Sunday evening on private yachts more or less exhausted and injured.

The water where the tragedy occurred is but five feet deep normally, but the heavy seas was the cause of the tragic result.

Mr. Goggan was a native of Ireland, aged 60 years. As a boy he lived in Cincinnati, but in 1866 located in Galveston. He was president of the Thomas Goggan & Co. music house, with branches in several Texas cities.

Mr. Moore was 33 years of age, a native of New Orleans. He was a member of the wholesale grocery firm of Moore Brothers.

Camp Hughes Fishing and Hunting Club, of which they were members, has been organized 20 years, and this is its first tragedy.—San Antonio Express.

Forest Fires Threaten Mesaba Range.

Duluth, Minn. Sept. 7.—The Mesaba Range is again threatened with the fire horror which swept over Chisholm Saturday and wiped out thousands of acres of standing timber. After a day of quiet the flames, which died down Sunday, were fanned into renewed fury again today, and are sweeping on toward Hibbing, Buhl and Nashwauk from the south.

The town of Snowball, of 600 inhabitants, was completely destroyed this afternoon by fire that came upon it suddenly. The people had no opportunity to fight the flames, and fled in terror to the nearest settlements. Snowball is two miles from Nashwauk.

Aurora is entirely surrounded by forest fires.

Between Nashwauk and Hibbing a region of twenty-two miles, the forest is one continuous battle front of flames.

Box Ball.

The following letter has been received by Geo. W. Walther from the manufacturers of the Box Ball Alleys:

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3.
MR. GEO. W. WALTHER,
Kerrville, Tex.

DEAR SIR:
I have carefully read the newspaper clipping of your enterprise and am greatly interested in it.

Your ideas in regard to this recreation hall and ours are exactly along the same line.

We have always held without fear of successful contradiction that the right kind of an amusement plan in any town is sure to elevate rather than depress the morals, and suppose we have done more throughout the whole country in elevating the amusement business than any other manufacturers making any other kind of game.

We are putting forth every possible effort in this direction to make it even better. We think Kerrville is to be congratulated on having within its borders a man of your characteristics, and it is absolutely certain that your efforts in this direction are sure to make its impression upon the country.

We beg to remain, yours truly,

Business Change.

A. B. Williamson has bought the Rock Drug Store. Mr. Williamson has sold his interest in the firm of Newman & Williamson, and will devote his entire time and personal attention to the drug business. In speaking of the matter
Mr. Williamson said: "The Rock
Drug Store has almost as great a reputation as the 'Divine Sarah'
or 'positively last performances,' but this is the last time it will be sold. I have purchased the establishment for the purpose of building up a business for myself in that line, and I intend to stick to it until I succeed. I solicit the patronage of the general public, and will do my best to merit it. A competent pharmacist will be in charge at all times.

Mr. Williamson is a competent business man, and we bespeak for him the kindly consideration of the drug buying public.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE

LEADERS IN LOW PRICES.

Dry Goods and Clothing

Cheapest is never best in anything. Our goods in this department are bought with an eye to service. The dry goods are the best and the most stylish fabrics in the market.

Our clothing department is in charge of an expert tailor and we guarantee "better service for the money."

Groceries and Hardware

Groceries are always sold very close. The larger the bill the merchant buys the closer he gets the goods. The bigger the shipment the lower the freight. We buy in car lots and our customers get the benefit.

Our hardware department is always up-to-date.

Vehicles and Machinery

We are handling Springfield and Studebaker wagons and vehicles, Aeromotor and Samson wind mills; Collins' pumpjacks; Moline disc plows and Deering binders and mowers.

Windmill and machine repairs, pumps, piping, etc.

To the Patrons of Tivy High School.

All difficulties are most easily and thoroughly remedied in their incipient state. This especially holds true for school life in two important particulars: First, discipline; secondly, the type of work pupils do. The object of this article is to ask the co-operation of the patrons of Kerrville "at the proper stage of the game." We do not to trouble you unnecessarily. You have duties of your own just the same as we have. Besides, you have employed us to manage your schools and we will try to do our duty. While this is true, you are, or should be, interested in your child and we want you to know what he is doing. There are two ways you may find out. Every four weeks a report card is sent out; every pupil has one and it is the patron's duty to examine this card. Don't let a child waste a year's time and at the close say, "I didn't know so and so, else I should have done so and so." Every four weeks call for this card and see for yourself before it is too late to remedy. Then come to us and we will work for a change.

No teacher can roll the wheel uphill while the parent is holding back by censuring the teacher and excusing the pupil. Come to see us. Perhaps you will learn something about your child and his relations to school life you didn't know before.

This year I shall spend more time in supervision and shall, therefore, be in a better position to explain more specifically the nature of any difficulty. In all cases I shall be perfectly frank about matters—this is the only method that is justice to your child. And while my report may not always be the most favorable, take it good naturedly and let us formulate some plan for the betterment of the child rather than ruin him by anger at an imaginary injustice done him by the teacher.

In all cases where pupils fall below the required average I will mail a statement of this fact to the parents of the child. If you will then come to see me I shall be glad to tell you where I think the difficulty lies and how we may seek to remedy it. This same step will also be taken with respect to any pupil whose conduct is not satisfactory. This method gives the pupil every chance, also affords you an opportunity to know if we are not trying to be just.

Very respectfully,
HORACE W. MORELOCK.

There is always a "last straw." The two-bits you spend with the popular show, "Chowder," may be the money that buys stamps to send the very final letter that will cause Texas to have a Tuberculosis Sanitarium. Try it anyway. You get your money's worth in fun and help along a good cause at the same time.

It Is Charity in a Way, But You Get Your Money's Worth.

On Friday night, September 18, there will be given an entertainment at Pampell's Opera House, this city, for the purpose of raising funds for the incidental expenses for the "Crusade for Health," that has recently been organized by the Kerrville Woman's Club. This performance will be called "Chowder," because it will consist of a great number of specialties, and will have something for the taste of all who may attend. In a way this "Crusade" is a charitable move, but its magnitude is so great that it is rather a great humanitarian object than a mere matter of human charity. The money spent patronizing the entertainment will be an aid to the enterprise, but all those who have the good fortune to attend will be amply repaid in the pleasure it will afford. The popular price of 25 cents will prevail, and there will be no reserved seats. The Crusade is for the purpose of doing good to all the world, regardless of class, caste, worldly wealth or honors, and the entertainment given for its advancement will have no reserved seats, but will sell tickets for the uniform popular price of a quarter.

FROM TURTLE CREEK.

The farmers have begun picking cotton. Cotton is very good in this part of the country.

Mr. Tompkin, of Shreveport, La., has been visiting in the neighborhood for several days.

Miss Jessie Denton, of Ingram, who had been visiting Miss Addie Denton for a few days, returned to her home Monday.

Alonzo Rees, of Center Point, was here on business this week.

Miss Vida Gibbens is attending the Institute this week.

Lonie Barline, of Medina City, was a visitor here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Norwood are visiting at Medina.

Mrs. Will Knot, of Kerrville, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Norwood.

Elbert Denton left Wednesday for Stowers Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lamb are the happy parents of a fine baby girl.

KERR COUNTY TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.

The Teachers of This County Spent This Week in Preparation for Work. Kerrville City Schools Will Open Monday.

The County Superintendent and the Superintendent of the Kerrville public schools decided that the holding of an institute in the middle of the term, as heretofore, was detrimental to the best interests of the schools of the county, so it was decided to hold the week's institute before the schools opened, and prepare the teachers for their labors at the beginning, instead of in the middle of the term.

There was almost a complete roster of the teachers of Kerr county present at the Institute, and the week's work has been a highly profitable one. The program, which was published in these columns several weeks ago, was carried out according to arrangement. A complete report of the labors of the Institute will appear in our issue of next week, when it will have been prepared by the Secretary, who has been unable to do so up to this time.

Town Creek Bridge.

The County Officers desire to call attention to the law prohibiting fast driving across the Town Creek bridge. It is alleged that this law which is a reasonable one and necessary to protect the bridge is being frequently violated. It is believed, that this is the result of thoughtlessness and not wilfulness. However, someone will have to pay a fine to make the public heed this perfectly reasonable law, but we hope you will not be the one.
