The Legend of Santa Claus Tells There Is But One of the Good Saint and Not a Whole Santa Claus Family.

The Legend of Santa Claus is beautiful one, and many lively fancies that have originated in the minds and the beautiful sentiments that have eminated from hearts that were quickened by the Christmas spirit are without number. We have all been taught there is but one Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus. We all know that when the good old fellow gets ready to start on his annual visitation to the hearts and homes of all the boys and girls, and men and women in the world, his good wife heats a mammoth she darns his mittens and patches his fur coat and round top cap, and then when all is ready, when he has cracked his whip over the fleet reindeer and driven away, she stands in the door of their faraway home, and shading her eyes with her hand, watches until he has Then the good old disappeared. down by a bright fire there in her far Northern home, while the s now J. J. Ralston of Rock Springs was and ice are all about. The cat Kerrville Wednesday after mill sleeps on a rug before the fire, the supplies for the Rock Springs Sup- teakettle simmers on the hearth and the good old lady nods and smiles through the night. Occasionally, she replenishes the fire and keeps the cakes hot in the oven for Bill Mrs. Hugh Edens of the Verde Santa Claus, when he shall return reek community was shopping in from making his visit to all the boys and girls.

CHAS. SCHREINER CO. there was a whole tribe of the ROOMS-Furnished for house Santa Claus family? No there is just one really, truly Santa Claus, his main stopping place. In Kerrville that place is the Kerrville Fresh sour kraut and dill pickles Mercantile Company. Somehow Old HEIMANN & GRONA.
