THE NEW BRICK DEPOT AT KERRVILLE, DESIGNED BY HENRY T. PHELPS, OF SAN ANTONIO.

NEW PASSENGER DEPOT

Structure to be of Brick. Work Will Begin Soon, and be Pushed to Early Completion.

The progressive citizens of Kerrville are almost constrained to wish the name of the town Petersburg, in honor of President S. J. Peter, of the "Sap" through whose efforts the town is to have a new brick passenger depot.

The passenger depot facilities at this place have been an eye-sore to the people for many years. About a year ago the Kerrville Business Men's club, through its energetic secretary, Dr. A. F. Thigpen, took up the matter of a better passenger depot. The railroad company entered heartily into the matter with the business men of Kerrville and the new depot, a picture of which is shown herewith, is the result.

The passenger traffic of Kerrville is of considerable importance, as a terminal point, and the improvement in facilities is decided satisfaction to all the people of this section of the country.

Tivy High School.

The final date has been fixed for the oratorical and debating contest for Saturday night, April 12; the exercises to begin at 8:00 p. m.

The "Old Deestrick Skule" given at the High School auditorium was presented to an audience that taxed the capacity of the auditorium. The play was well received by those present and many a hearty laugh was had over the antics of the "skolars" of this school.

The receipts were $101.10, netting $97.60.

The Tivy High School will play its first game of baseball next Saturday when they will meet the Bandera school team on the athletic field of Tivy High. Prospects for a good team are bright and several games are already scheduled for the season.

Crude Oil Supply to Last For Generation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1.—Crude oil as a fuel for the navy will be available from fields in the United States, particularly in the California field, for at least a generation yet to come. This is the substance of a letter written today by Secretary Lane of the Interior Department, to Secretary Daniels of the Navy Department, in response to inquiries by the latter concerning oil reserves.

"Twenty years hence," says Secretary Lane, "the price of fuel oil, which then, as now, will be produced in California, will be much higher than at present, and the production probably will have declined seriously. The failure of the oil supplies of the United States will not take place suddenly. The decline will be gradual and will tend constantly to be checked by rising prices.

"No relief can be expected in the price of fuel at Atlantic ports for commercial uses. Relief to the navy from increasing commercial prices can be secured only by the development of its own reserves, where it should be possible to produce oils at approximately the present cost of production 50 cents or less per barrel, plus transportation to the point of use."

Secretary Lane expressed the belief that the navy could rely on the reserves already existing for an oil supply for a period greater than the life of a battleship to be constructed within the next decade.

SANITARIUM NEARS COMPLETION

Will be Most Complete Institution of the Kind in all Southwest Texas

The New Kerrville Sanitarium-Hospital is nearing completion. The city and all the country round about will have just cause to be proud of this institution. The planning and all the work of construction was under the direct personal supervision of Dr. Wm. Lee Secor. Last year Dr. Secor spent several months in Europe attending the leading institutes of medicine in the Old World, and inspecting the best equipped sanitariums and hospitals in foreign countries. He is also well acquainted with all the better institutions of like character in America, and the new hospital and sanitarium combines the best practical features that such knowledge could evolve.

The new building is of stucco, with fireproof floors, the ventilation is perfect, and every feature of the equipment the most modern obtainable. So perfect is every detail that patients here will have every advantage that could be given them in any sanitarium in America. The number of patients is all the difference that can exist between this and the leading sanitariums of this country. The operating room, modeled after those seen by the doctor in his travels, is a composite reproduction of the most scientifically arranged operating rooms in the world. The hospital rooms are fitted with the latest equipment for successful treatment, and the greatest possible comfort to patients.

Dr. Secor is now booking patients for May, and expects that by the first of next month all will be in readiness to receive them.

Home-study Courses.

The University of Texas is constantly broadening and extending its advantages to the citizens of the state. The work of the Home-study or Correspondence Division is reaching out into the remotest corners of the state and bringing life and hope and educational progress to many an ambitious person who is debarred by force of circumstances from gaining a college education. Over five hundred students in all parts of the state are now actively engaged in this correspondence work. Since the founding of the Extension Department, three and a half years ago, over two thousand applications have been received in the Correspondence Division. There are, in our own community, persons who are prepared to undertake work of college grade, but who have little or no prospect of being able to go away to school. To such persons the University offers advantages that may be made immediately available. It takes tenacity of purpose and a strong ambition to pursue successfully these courses in absence, but there are, no doubt, many of our young men and women who have the proper qualifications to do creditable work of this kind.

An examination of the University bulletin announcing the correspondence courses discloses the wide range of subjects now being offered. There are courses in English composition and literature, elementary and advanced courses in Latin and Greek, and in the modern foreign languages, Spanish, French and German. There are also courses in pure and applied mathematics, in history and philosophy, economics, government, domestic science, business training, agriculture, public speaking, and other academic branches. A few elementary courses in such sciences as botany, zoology, and geology, are also offered.

REAL COUNTY

New County to Bear Name of Senator From This District.

Real County, a new county to be carved out of Kerr, Edwards, Bandera and Uvalde Counties, was provided for during the closing days of the regular session of the 33d legislature.

The name of the new county is a fit tribute to one of the pioneer families of this section of Texas. While it was named literally after the senator from this district, the people will carry the matter in their minds further back to Caspar Real, the pioneer German settler, who established the house of Real in America, and who was in the forefront of every effort to develop this section of Texas. Caspar Real was the father of Senator Julius Real, of the 24th district, for whom Real county was named. The county seat of the new county, it is stated, has been agreed upon as Murphy. The town of Murphy has not been located, but it is stated that there was an agreement to make that the name of the county seat, wherever it is located, Leaky, Texas, is the principal town within the new county at this time.

A new county was a crying need to the people of that section as many of them were obliged to go 60 miles to the county seat to attend court, and upon other legal business.

Roll of Honor, Notre Dame Institute

Eighth grade: Adele Michon, Meta Fritz.

Seventh grade: Earl Newton, Dewey Reno.

Sixth grade: Mabel Clark, Annie Mosel, Mary Mosel, Edna Ruff, Irl Reno, Charles Kuesel, Laurence Fritz.

Fifth grade: J. L. Meurer, Clarence Mosel, Louis Domingues, Verna Hulwer.

Fourth grade: Miss Myrtle Reno, Alice Domingues, Alma Ruff, Maudie Albe.

Third grade: Meta Michon, Rosa Fritz, Helen Mosel, May Carpenter, Elizabeth Newton, Rosa Staudt, Richard Albe, Oswald Farris.

Second grade: Selma Ruff, Fred Ramsey.

First grade: Francis Michon, Marguerite Staudt, Nora Goodwin, Edward Meurer, Fred Goodwin.

Teachers' courses, designed to prepare applicants for first grade or permanent certificates, are also offered. These courses are becoming more and more profitable and popular, because they give the students solid information and thorough training, instead of encouraging them to pursue the more "cram" method in preparing for the State examinations.

A few of these teachers' courses may also be used as admission credits to the University. A large number of both elementary and advanced professional courses are also open to superintendents and teachers who desire to pursue special work in education.

BIG SPRING CLIP OF MOHAIR

Wool is Also Arriving From the Ranges to the Southwest and Shearing will Begin Soon

PRICES ARE RULING STRONG

Mohair Clip For This Market Will Pass Million Mark This Year and Wool Will go Three Million.

There is splendid promise that the record of Kerrville as a wool and mohair market will be broken this year. Already at the big warehouse of Chas. Schreiner more than 450,000 pounds of the spring clip of mohair have been received, and the estimate is conservative for at least 650,000 pounds this spring. This, when augmented by the fall clip, will carry the 1913 yield far beyond the million mark. Of the spring clip 300,000 pounds have been sold and shipped.

The local clip of spring wool has not yet begun to arrive, but about 250,000 pounds of wool have already been received by rail from Del Rio, Marathon, Lozier and other points on the Southern Pacific railroad. There is every indication that the 1913 clips of wool will reach, and possibly pass, the three million mark.

Speaking of market conditions, Capt. Schreiner said:

"It is too early yet to conjecture just what the wool market will be at selling time, but there is now no evidence of a serious falling off in the market. The mohair market which opened strong, has been gaining in strength, and promises to hold steady to the end of the mohair spring season. While the price of the fleece is holding well, ranchmen have received a very fair price in the main for muttons, especially those who were able to place their animals on the market early. Those sold so far have of course been mutton goats, as the sheep have not yet been shorn, except in the territory south of Kerrville, and along the Rio Grande. The outlook for sheep men at this time is quite hopeful, animals are in good condition, and with timely rains the industry should prosper."

Wilson Considers Currency Question

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 1.—Senator Owen, chairman of the new Senate currency committee, had a brief talk with President Wilson today about currency legislation. Senator Owen said afterward they discussed no details but laid the foundations for future conferences. He expressed the opinion that while probably several individual bills might be introduced, one measure would be clothed with administrative support.

Attention of the administration is now centered on the tariff and tonight Representative Underwood will have a second conference with the president on the new bill. Mr. Wilson has had the measure before him a week, has studied it carefully and heard some protests, principally against putting sugar on the free list.

So far as can be learned the president's mind is still open both as to the sugar question and the whether the tariff should be revised by schedule, or in a single bill. The president likewise has reached no decision as to whether the income tax feature of the bill should provide for a flat tax or a graduated system.

Although the White House declined to confirm or deny the report, it was confirmed today that President Wilson virtually has decided to appoint William P. LaFollette of Wisconsin, a brother of Senator LaFollette, to the position of registrar of wills of the District of Columbia. The salary is $4,000 a year. Mr. LaFollette has been a life-long democrat and conducted the Wisconsin campaign for President Wilson. He is ten years older than his brother.

There will be preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday as usual. The protracted meeting will begin Friday night before the second Sunday in April. Rev. N.B. Reed of San Antonio will do the preaching.

Mrs. Emil Loeffler, of Junction is visiting her parents, Judge and Mrs. James Spicer.

FISH OVERTURNS BUGGY

John Josey Has Narrow Escape From Drowning While Crossing Town Creek.

THE GREAT CURIOSITY OF THE WEEK BEING AN enviable reputation for the unusual things that happen without warning to certain people. The latest of these remarkable occurrences was the overturning of John Josey's buggy Tuesday afternoon. (We call attention of any skeptical persons to the fact that Tuesday was election day in Kerrville, and that all saloons were closed.)

The catastrophe, according to Mr. Josey's statement, happened as follows:

While crossing the mouth of Town Creek, near where that stream flows into the Guadalupe river—when it flows at all—the left front wheel of Josey's buggy ran foul of a monster fish that had evidently come out of the deep water of the river and was taking a sun bath. The fish gave a flounce, overturning the buggy, and giving Mr. Josey what he had been promising himself as soon as the first warm weather came. The blow of the wheel appears to have confused the fish so he forgot the way to the river, and started up Town Creek. As soon as Mr. Josey recovered from his surprise and his bath, he took after the fish, which, now thoroughly frightened, was heading for the fountain from whence the stream is supposed to spring. About two hundred yards from where the adventure started the water played out, but the fish had such a good start that he kept on going until Mr. Josey overtook and captured him about half way across the Lowry addition.

Mr. Josey butchered the fish, went back and got his buggy and brought his catch into town and sold $9 worth of fish.

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Mr. Josey wanted to make affidavit to his statement, but we told him that we were satisfied by his simple statement, backed by our endorsement, would be perfectly convincing, especially as such occurrences are quite common here.]

Complete new line of Linens, Crashes, Handkerchief Linens, Frontings, etc., just arrived, direct from Belfast, Ireland. Most complete line ever shown in Kerrville.

CHAS. SCHREINER CO.

Wm. Sporn, manager of the Melissa ranch, was in Kerrville Wednesday. Mr. Sporn left Wednesday afternoon for Oklahoma City.

Mrs. George Morris spent Wednesday in San Antonio.

Starr Baucom left Wednesday afternoon for San Antonio on a short visit.

Nicholas Soubal.

Aged Pioneer Passes Away at Home Had Lived in Kerr County Since 1868. Was Born in France

Nicholas Soubal died at the home of Mrs. Rotge, near Kerrville, Monday, March 31, at the ripe old age of 80 years and a few months. The funeral took place the following day, and the body was laid to its last long sleep in Mountain View cemetery, beside the wife who had preceded him by a few years.

Nicholas Soubal was born in Pissance, France, Oct. 29, 1832. Upon reaching France he was for fourteen years an officer in the Marine Service of France. In 1858 he came to America, and since that time has been a citizen of Kerrville, until his death.

Deceased was a quiet, unassuming man, who had many warm friends among the people of Kerrville and surrounding country. Among the hundreds of people who have come to this section of Texas, from various parts of the old world, few have been better citizens, or have won more friendship in proportion to their activities than Nicholas Soubal. After 80 years, nearly half a century of which was spent in Kerr county, he sleeps upon a mountain side, in a home his native sunny France. Rest to his ashes.

Taft Begins Duties at Yale University.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3.—Prof. William H. Taft's first day on the Yale faculty was a light one. He began his duties yesterday morning by attending college chapel. He arose early and was seated in the body of Old Battell at 8:10 o'clock when the exercises began. He was warmly greeted as he walked back to his hotel from the chapel.

Later Professor Taft met the faculty body and discussed the lectures which he will begin in about two weeks. The exact date has not been set. Lamson Hall has been assigned for the address to the under graduates.

The lectures will be largely informal this spring and the regular series, which he will give as Kent professor of law, will not be begun until next fall. Ex-president Taft spent most of the day in his suite at the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Taft will go house-hunting again soon as they have yet to select their permanent New Haven home. Professor Taft has been made an active member of the New Haven Country Club and expects to spend many afternoons this spring going over the links.

Walter Clark of Ingram was a visitor in Kerrville Wednesday.

GET A CASH PRODUCING EDUCATION

Our school would not be the largest business training school in America if it was not the best. With our original, copyrighted Byrne practical business systems and methods, we produce a good bookkeeper, stenographer or operator in a short time and place him in a good paying position.

The Business World holds out splendid opportunities for those trained to do its work. Seventy-five per cent of the bank presidents hold their present positions through their knowledge of bookkeeping that enabled them to start into the banking work. Andrew Carnegie and many other great financiers, also railroad presidents started at the telegrapher's key. Ex-Senator Wm. E. Mason started as a stenographer as did Geo. B. Cortelyou, now president of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York City; also Wm. Loebe, Jr., now collector of the port of New York. There is no better way for a young man or woman to become familiar with the affairs of business than to secure a thorough, practical business training, then go into a good salaried business position.

Don't lay aside this paper without sending for catalogue of America's largest business training school, the only one enrolling from 1500 to 2,000 students annually, the only one giving thorough and complete courses of bookkeeping and business training, shorthand, telegraphy and business administration and finance, the only one that has an employment with facilities for placing its graduates in the very best positions with mercantile firms, railroads, state and national government positions. We have furnished Uncle Sam with some of his very best clerical and stenographic help. Attend a school with a national reputation whose diplomas are pass-ports into the very best salaried positions.

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____

Wilson Selects Summer Capital.

CORNISH, N. H., March 30.—President Woodrow Wilson has selected the home of Winston Churchill, the novelist, to be his summer capital, according to a telegram received here today from Mr. Churchill, who is now in Santa Barbara, Cal. The message was directed to E. F. Roberts, manager of the Churchill estate, and contained instructions for getting the place in readiness for the President's occupancy.

Harlakendens House, as the Churchill property is known, is a two-story brick structure, situated on a hill three miles beyond Windsor, Vt. It commands a view of the Connecticut River valley and of the Green Mountains. Between six and seven hundred acres of rolling farm land and fragrant pine groves give the estate the seclusion the President desires. Nearby is an artist colony, where Maxfield Parrish, Kenyon Cox and others come during the summer, and where the late Augustus St. Gaudens, the sculptor, spent many vacations.

On the estate are two seven-room cottages, where the executive offices can be established and where the President's attendants may live. A tennis court adjoins the mansion house and at the foot of the hill the Connecticut River offers opportunity for boating.

Manager Roberts said two men were looking at the place a week ago, but he did not know whom they were acting for until he received the telegram today from Mr. Churchill.

Culberson to go to Supreme Court.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 31.—From a source that ought to be perfectly reliable it is learned that, in all human probability, United States Senator Charles A. Culberson will be offered the first place on the Supreme Court. President Wilson has to give and that the Texan will be very likely to accept. Senator Culberson's selection by his colleagues as chairman of the great committee on Judiciary puts him squarely in line for such an appointment and President Wilson's personal and political friendship for him are expected to do the rest.

Indeed, the matter is considered as well as settled in well-informed circles about Washington. This information, if true, and it is believed to be as nearly accurate as anything that has not yet happened can be, is of particular interest throughout Texas. Of course, nobody knows when there will be a vacancy on the world's highest judicial tribunal. But there may be one tomorrow, and probably there will be one before the expiration of President Wilson's term. The term of Senator Culberson, the third one he will have served, ends the day the President's first four years ceases.

At that time Senator Culberson will have rounded out eighteen years in the Senate of his country, four years as Governor and four years as Attorney General of his State. If there is anything in training, he will be as well equipped as any man who ever went to the bench of the Supreme Court. Intimate friends know he has never had more than one ambition that meant the seeking of a higher place than the one he holds—the gown of a justice of the Supreme Court.

The promotion of Senator Culberson would cause not less than a half dozen men in all likelihood to try for the great post Culberson now holds. At least two, and possibly more, of the Texas members of Congress would want the job. Again, persistent rumor has it that Governor Colquitt would measure lances with all comers and in the face of such reports the Governor says nothing.

"It will be a beautiful fight," say the onlookers. It is already known that Congressman Robert L. Henry of Waco will seek to consolidate the Wilson forces of the State behind his candidacy.

One Killed When Engine Explodes.

FORT WORTH, March 30.—Engineer Tom Cole of Marshall was killed, Fireman J. T. Moore of Fort Worth and Brakeman George Thomas of Marshall badly hurt when they were thrown fifty feet into the air by the explosion of the boiler of a Texas & Pacific freight engine at Handley at 8 o'clock this morning.

The boiler was lifted clear from the trucks and after whirling over in the air struck the track again 130 feet in front of the engine pilot, driving a hole five feet deep into the ground. Parts of the boiler were scattered. The top of the sand dome was found 600 feet away in a field. The noise of the explosion was heard half a mile away.

The escape of Fireman Moore from death is almost miraculous. Carried into the air he escaped with a broken arm and scalds. Brakeman Thomas also had a narrow escape, the boiler flying over his head as he stood in front of the engine. He is suffering principally from shock.

Arthur Cooper of Sweetwater was also injured. He was crossing the railroad track at the time to join a section force at work near by. He was struck on the chin and knocked down by a flying fragment of the engine, but was able to go to work a short time later.

No explanation of the accident could be given either by members of the crew who escaped nor by witnesses, though a big gang of men was at work grading within a hundred yards of the spot. The first warning they had was the sound of the explosion.

N. Haas of Handley, who had just passed the engine, said the engineer was then on the ground apparently oiling. He did not see the fireman. Brakeman Thomas, who is said to have been about twenty feet away, walking toward the engine, was too weak to make a statement this morning. So was Fireman Moore.

When the death of Mr. Morgan was seen to be approaching rapidly, Professor Bastianelli and Dr. Dixon forced Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee, his son-in-law and daughter, and Miss Helen Hamilton, who had been in constant attendance, to leave the room.

Mr. Morgan toward the end showed that he was suffering irregularly only by a movement of his right hand. Otherwise he displayed no sign of vitality except by continuous heavy breathing.

Frequent bulletins were issued during the morning showing that his condition was gradually becoming worse and by 11 o'clock the physicians had given up all hope.

Mr. Morgan was unable to assimilate the artificial nourishment administered during the morning and his physical weakness was extreme. Heart tonics were injected but these had no effect and for several hours before his death he was in a state of coma, unable to respond to any questions or to recognize any of those at his bedside.

One of his relatives, Mr. Fitzsimmons, wife of the Rev. M. Fitzsimmons, arrived from Cannes and was shown into the death chamber, but her presence remained unknown to the dying man.

From the time of his arrival in Rome Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee had feared a mistake had been made in bringing Mr. Morgan to Rome instead of taking him direct to London, where he would have been in his own house instead of a noisy hotel and they thought, too, that the climate of Rome was too mild and enervating for him in his condition of ill-health.

Cable dispatches from America, Great Britain and other parts of the world poured in all day making anxious inquiries and expressing the affection in which Mr. Morgan was held everywhere.

The financier's secretary found it impossible to reply to all the inquiries how fouched they were at the manifestations of sympathy they had received.

NEW YORK, March 31.—J. P. Morgan is dead. He died at 12:05 p. m. Rome time. This announcement was made by the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. today.

Henry P. Davison a member of the house of Morgan, made the announcement. He said merely that he had received a cable that the financier had passed away shortly after noon. Mr. Davison had planned to go abroad some time this week, but it is thought probable that this trip will be postponed.

Allies Accept Terms of Peace But Fight On

LONDON, March 30.—Although the great powers have commanded that the Balkan war cease, the fighting continues. The allies, taking heart by successes, politely received the ultimatum and all the details. The spectacle of the six great powers working in harmony on the dreaded eastern question, is matched by the equally strange spectacle of the Balkan states defying them. Meanwhile the concert of the powers remains as strong only as its weakest link, and since Russia cannot be expected to use her army and navy against her slav brethren to loosen their grip on the Turk, the proceedings have been reduced to a diplomatic debate.

The allies have accepted the powers' peace terms as "a basis of negotiations" but cling to their determination to exact an indemnity and refuse to muzzle their guns until the Turks accept their terms. Their experience of the last armistice they declare, was that Turkey used it merely to gain time.

The Bulgarians therefore, continue to batter away at the Tchatalja lines and, according to the last reports, just where it did when the armistice was arranged December 3, last. It is entirely possible that the allies may march into Constantinople before peace is signed.

The entire Bulgarian cabinet is proceeding to Adrianople with King Ferdinand, and will celebrate a te deum in the defunct Turkish capital, while the gallant Shukri Pasha and his generals are prisoners of war in Sofia.

VOTES FOR WOMEN

The three words composing the head of this article have perhaps appeared in the headlines of the press of the old world and the new world more often in the last few months, than any other words in the language, and the opponents of the cause have placed themselves in the lime-light of public opinion often in such a manner as should bring no great gratification to them.

The emancipation of woman, a few centuries ago, from the position of bondage and of being a chattel in the home of her liege was beyond question one of the greatest steps toward the advancement of human affairs that the world has known. But when a pendulum begins to swing there is no knowing just where it will stop, and a pendulum swung too far to the right is just as great a menace as one that has not begun to swing at all.

In all the discussion of the question of equal suffrage that has been published there is an element of bias, pro and con, that destroys its value for the purpose of reaching anything like a logical conclusion in the premises. It is, in the first place, a question of sentiment, and questions of sentiment are not capable of cool consideration by partisans of either side of the case.

The greatest danger to the country, from a purely political viewpoint, in placing the ballot in the hands of women, is that of the voters being swept off their feet by a spasm of sentimentality. We do not mean by this that the country is likely to be inundated by a flood of tears, or that there will be a suffocating wave of violet and carnation perfume that will turn the heads of the people to unwise action, but that sentiment, which acts always unpremeditatedly, even among men of a certain order, may and indeed very probably will, when accentuated by the sentimentality of women, upset the sound judgment of the best and wisest men of the country, and cause political disaster.

Charging women with sentimentality is not an accusation against her, because a woman that is not a creature of sentiment, is not a woman, in the best sense of that word to the world of mankind. As is usually the case, in such crises, all who oppose woman suffrage are held by the pro-suffragists to have an evil design against the better order of things that might result therefrom. This of course is untrue, and is one of the first budding of that sentimentality that is threatened by the movement. There can be no reason advanced why an opponent of woman's suffrage may not be a bit old fashioned, why he may not have had inculcated into his very being, in youth, an image of woman at the distaff, of woman with a laughing babe at her breast, of woman standing as a ministering angel beside the sickbed, of woman ruling as a queen in her home, of woman pure, lovely and lovable, and meaning to man far more in strength and influence for good than her vote can ever mean.

Why question the fact that there are good men and true, who deplore a condition that will shake from its pedestal of purity that image of woman that has made muscles of steel and nerves of adamant in time of battle, that has drawn men, even as the silken cords of love from the invisible hand, toward nobler and better things. Why question your neighbor's sincerity, when he bows his head in sorrowful contemplation of such a change and says:

"And she, whom once the semblance of a scar appalled, an owl's larium chilled with dread, Now views column-scattering bayonet jar, The falchion flash, and o'er the yet warm dead Stalks with Minerva's step, where Mars might quake to tread."

This writer is not in favor of equal suffrage. We do fear the change that may come to the political affairs of the country, so much as the social. We do not fear the coming of the new woman, so much as we grieve for the passing of the old.

If the angel Gabriel should come down and make a public statement that all this talk about people going to hell for their meanness was a big bluff, there are a dozen, waul-eyed, hatchet-faced sanctimonious sons and daughters of Zion—mostly morganatic—right here in this town, who would say, "I told you so," and then go over to their neighbor's houses and swear they believed it was an answer to their own individual prayers. There may not be any hell, but if there isn't there will be a difficult social problem to solve in the great after-a-while—where to put the hypocrites.

There has been a big howl made that low wages are largely responsible for the social evil. The fact is that the richest women in America wear their dresses shorter at both ends than any hired girl we ever saw, and short dresses are one of the chief sprockets in the wheel of social evil. Adam never had any appetite for apples until Eve showed him one and told him it was an apple.

There appears to be a wise provision in all things. One is almost constrained to believe that "what is to be, will be" when he thinks how nicely things fit together. Even the kicker is never out of a job—by the time the legislature adjourns he has chiggers to cuss.

There is a very close alliance between sentiment and bile. There is many a good man and woman carrying the burden of their neighbor's sins who would find the load much lighter if they would take a course of liver regulator, and drink sassafras tea for a few weeks.

Some of the male speakers at the woman's suffrage convention in San Antonio, were in the attitude of the boy speaker at the country school debate, who said: "Feller citizens, I kain't say nothin' agin' wimmen, 'cause my maw was a woman."

The suffragette seance in San Antonio brought on some talk about "the realization of woman's dream." If all the dreams of woman in this country come to pass there will be war.

Among the popular hymns sung at the close of the Legislature were "My District, 'Tis of Thee," and "Go Easy With the Monkey Wrench, My Father Was a Nut," By Goldberg.

The matter of respecting a woman's opinion depends upon what that opinion is. It is very rarely that a man respects another woman's opinion of her.

Among the casualties incident to the closing of the legislature with a bang, Representative Morris took occasion to mention himself for governor.

The closing scenes of the legislature were not without their vein of humor—Chester Terrell is an alleged candidate for governor of Texas in 1915.

The weather the last few weeks has had a lot of people in Texas guessing—whether their winter underwear would hold out until spring.

The alacrity with which a guilty conscience reaches conclusions when a general charge is made, is sometimes quite startling.

Headlines in the dailies state that the "Mississippi Shows Restlessness." Probably stomach worms or somnambulism.

The people of the flood district are willing to put floods in the class with what Mr. Sherman called war.

One would think that those hunger strikes, if persisted in, would lead to "bad form."

The state convention of undertakers ought to be a "stiff" meeting.

Un-muzzle the hoosters, and put Maxin's silencers on the knockers.

A hen in the pot is worth two in the garden.

Kerr County Farmer's Institute Held Meeting at Court House Saturday

The subject "Alfalfa as Adapted to This Locality," was discussed very thoroughly by Mr. Geo. Meeks. Mr. Meeks has several years experience with alfalfa and finds it a very profitable forage crop for this section, to be raised under ordinary dry farming conditions. The crop will make several cuttings in a season and besides will furnish good grazing in the fall. Mr. Meeks takes his stock off about the time small grain is ready for grazing. The plant does not freeze after it is several weeks old, but is easily killed when very young. To get a good stand of alfalfa the ground should be thoroughly cultivated the season before. Corn is a good crop to precede alfalfa. It may be seeded with the grain drill by using the cut-offs for grass seed at the rate of about 10 to 15 lb. to the acre. The seed bed should be in an ideal condition, so the young plants can start off vigorously. Mr. Meeks finds the red post oak land best adapted to alfalfa.

A paper by B. F. Killough on alfalfa raising was read. Mr. Killough finds alfalfa well adapted to this section. The ground does not need to be inoculated with the bacteria like in the Eastern states. So-called button-willow land is also very well adapted to the raising of alfalfa.

Where irrigation can be had the crop yields from 6 to 8 cuttings in a season. When one considers what alfalfa has—nearly the feeding value as iron, a small irrigated area of alfalfa would be a good paying proposition.

A general discussion on beef cattle was held. Much attention will be paid to the raising of high grade stock. Missouri farmers find it profitable to raise beef cattle on land valued at $125 per acre. Why should not we be able to do the same, where conditions are much more favorable here. Our ranges are, through a series of droughty years and overstocking, practically depleted of grass. To get them back to their one time productiveness the ranges have to be given a rest. We have to greatly decrease numbers, but increase in quality of stock. A little while ago a stockman sold a beef in Kerrville, which brought over $90. This steer was raised on the range and then finished up on products of the farm.

The subject of getting a uniform system among thresher owners was discussed. It appears that there is entirely too much waste and not enough business method employed during the threshing season. The idea is to get the thresher owners and farmers together and have a general understanding as to the matter of tolling and feeding of teams and men. For this reason the subject will come up for discussion at the next meeting in Center Point on the last Saturday of this month.

The committee appointed at the last meeting at Ingram in regard to Co-operative Fire Insurance among farmers made its report. A Co-operative Fire Insurance Company for Kendall, and Kerr counties was organized and will go into permanent organization on the 8th of this month. Meeting to be called at 9 a. m. at Faltin's Hall, Comfort, Tex. Everybody interested in Co-operative Fire Insurance is invited to attend.

Meeting adjourned to meet again at Center Point on the 26th of April '13.

Republic of China to Have Recognition

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3.—The United States Government has decided to recognize the new Chinese republic. Secretary Bryan conferred with President Wilson for nearly an hour today at the White House completing the details, and a note is being prepared at the State Department to be addressed to China through the Chinese minister here. Whether it will be presented before the meeting of the constitutional assembly next Tuesday or is intended to reach the Chinese government on that date has not been disclosed, but the mere presentation of the note to the Chinese minister and resumption of formal international relations with the Chinese minister are regarded in diplomatic circles as tantamount to recognition.

This afternoon, at the request of the Secretary of State, members of most foreign embassies and legations in Washington appeared at the State Department and were received individually by Mr. Bryan. Among them were representatives of Brazil, Japan, Great Britain, Russia, Portugal, France, Germany, Netherlands, Belgium, Sweden, Peru, Denmark, Mexico, Austria-Hungary and Spain. The calls lasted but a few minutes in each case, and both Secretary Bryan and his visitors, by agreement, declined to make any statement as to the object of the visits.

Flood Victims Homeless and Without Food

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 3.—Extreme conditions of suffering, resulting from the Ohio flood, were reported today from Uniontown, Ky., where the 1400 inhabitants of the towns and 6000 refugees from the surrounding country districts are huddled in the fair grounds on the only dry spot in an area of ten miles square. The people are without food and have no housing except the stalls of the fair grounds. Ten thousand rations were prepared and will be dispatched on the steamer Lowry this afternoon and tents sufficient to provide the flood victims will be sent at the same time. Captain Naylor asked for aid from Louisville and additional rations were dispatched from there by rail. The river is rapidly creeping over the only railroad connection into the city and unless the Louisville supplies arrive by tonight, the relief train will be cut off from the town. The river at Uniontown is reported to be two feet over the 1884 stage.

Congressman Slayden Will Send in Name For Appointment to Kerrville Postoffice.

Congressman Jas. L. Slayden, seen in San Antonio, Tuesday, stated that he would endorse the application of W. G. Carpenter for postmaster at Kerrville, and would send his name to President Wilson this week. Just when the appointments will be made to this and other like positions is not known, but Mr. Slayden's endorsement practically closes the campaign, and his suggestion will probably be decisive when final action is taken. The campaign, so far as we have heard, for this position in Kerrville, has been free from any kind of unfair methods or hard feeling. Mr. Carpenter will, no doubt, make an excellent postmaster, having had considerable experience as assistant in that capacity.

Break up Robbery of Mails in Paris

PARIS, March 31.—The French postoffice has been puzzled for a long time to discover the persons who were periodically raiding the American mail bags that reached Paris.

For more than eight months a number of detectives were operating in vain to discover the alleged accomplices of the man who continued to be detained in prison.

In the morning at 4 o'clock one of the suspected employees left the post-office and again had a package under his arm.

The last man was immediately arrested and checks to the value of $7,000 were found in his possession.

mail has been going on for years. The last man is supposed to have acted as intermediary and to have succeeded now and then in cashing a stolen check.

Guthrie Objects to Mexican Post

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—It was learned on good authority tonight that George Wilkins Guthrie of Pittsburg has made known to President Wilson a disinclination to accept a tender of the Mexican ambassadorship.

President Wilson appears to be in a highly embarrassing position over the filling of diplomatic places. He has received refusals from Dr. Elliot, offered the ambassadorship to the Court of St. James, and from William F. McCombs, offered the French ambassadorship.

Strange Hebrew Tribe Dates Back to Jeremiah.

JERUSALEM, March 31.—In one of the Arabian deserts a new Hebrew tribe of nomads has been recently discovered. They are descended from the Rechabites, mentioned in the thirty-fifth chapter of the book of Jeremiah.

"The part of the country where we pitch our tents is not altogether a desert. There are fertile pastures for our sheep, where we principally live. We number about 2,500 families and there is a tradition amongst us that the prophet Jeremiah himself led us to the district we now inhabit.

This chieftain added that the sheath of his sword came to him from a Babylonian exile, and that he personally had just undertaken a journey of fifty-three nights. He wanted to see foreign lands, so as to find out whether it was better for his tribe to live in some new place than in their own district.

Coughs and Consumption.

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery.

O. H. Brown of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today."

Double Rate Annulled.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—Patrons of the parcel post system are not to be made to pay for the negligence of postmasters in failing to see that proper stamps were used on the parcels, or that the proper amount of postage is affixed.

Postmaster General Burleson today annulled the order providing for the collection of a double rate of postage when ordinary stamps instead of the distinctive parcel post stamps were used.

Bank Cashier Killed.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 30.—R. P. Brown, cashier of the Barnes State Bank at Barnes, Kan., was shot and killed by a bank robber at 9:45 o'clock this morning.

Citizens fired on the robber as he was fleeing through the streets. Currency to the amount of $600 was taken from the bank, and was found on the body of the robber.

Oil is Struck at Sutherland Springs.

SUTHERLAND SPRINGS, Tex., March 30.—The hopes of oil prospectors in this field seem about to be realized, after more or less spasmodic "wild-cats" through a period of about fifteen years.

Two days after the "strike" in the Bear-Hunter well, a driller on the H. A. Speer farm, across the river from the town, uncovered a stratum of oil-bearing sand which oil men declare to be a very fine grade of paraffine-base oil.

Oil showing in shallow wells has been common over the territory near here for many years, but has never been developed.

Want Civil Service Pensions Extended

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—The economy administration of the Democrats will be attacked by thousands of civil service employees from all parts of the country with a plea to increase the pension budget to include super-annuated government servants on the civil service list.

Charles Russell, National President of the Federal Civil Service Retirement Association; A. W. McKee, former president of the association; W. E. Kelley, national president of the Letter Carriers' Association, and Edward Cantwell, national secretary of the organization, have been engaged to speak on this subject.

As the best instance of the pressing need for federal provision for super-annuated civil servants, the letter carriers have been selected as the body which the convention will found its fight for pensions.

It was stated here today that the delegates to the coming convention were prepared to renew their fight for pension recognition with increased earnestness this year and that representations would be put before Congress if possible, at the extraordinary session.

The Meat Problem.

The Houston Post discussing the future meat supply has this to say: Chicago tells us that the country is facing a meat famine because of decreasing live stock supplies. One authority says it will take seven years to build up the cattle raising industry to a point where a material reduction of prices will be possible. It is estimated that there has been a decrease of one pound of meat per capita per month within the last year.

This is a matter of exceptional interest to Texas, for the reason that Texas still maintains her primacy as the largest producer of live stock. But it is true of Texas that there has been several years a steady decrease in the number of cattle and the rate of increase is constantly slowing. Years ago we were holding the tariff responsible for the high price of meat, and many still regard that as the principal cause, but the fact is live stock production is decreasing the world over and the cost of meat is rising everywhere.

It is doubtful indeed if there will ever again be a period of cheap meat such as the country knew a generation ago. The population of the meat consuming countries is growing rapidly, prosperity has had the effect of greatly increasing not only the number of meat eaters, but the amount of meat consumed per capita, and the dwindling supply shows no symptom of again taking an upward course. We have tried out trust persecutions fully, but found no relief there.

It is safe to say that the cheap meat problem is dead. There will be no cheap meat. The problem now is how long will the human race have meat at all unless cattle raisers and farmers undertake to increase the supply by some intelligent and concerted plan. So far as the old time cattle raisers are concerned they are doomed in such states as Texas. The big ranches are being taken over by the small farmers and we are not far from the day when the last large ranch will have disappeared.

The ultimate solution of the meat problem lies in the hands of the farmers of the South. Diversification of crops, due attention to the production of feedstuffs and the raising of small herds of better breeds than are now produced will bring about a large increase in live stock production of the south, even if the ranches disappear. There is scarcely a farmer in the southern states but who can produce from one to ten beef steers annually for the market. Hundreds of thousands of our farmers produce no beef at all. Some of them are even without milk cows. This is not only overlooking an easy source of profit, but it is unnecessary denial of comforts and luxuries which all the rural people might enjoy.

The small farm herd would receive better attention than the large range herds, they would bring an average of twice the price of range cattle, and the tremendous losses due to exposure in winter might be entirely prevented. It seems to the Post that the subject is one well worth the serious consideration of every intelligent farmer in the south. Our agricultural lecturers and others who are doing so much to uplift farm life and make it more attractive and profitable might with good advantage stress the necessity of the small farmer taking note of the meat question and urge the raising of as large a herd as can be economically maintained, the size of the farm considered. If we are to continue to have an abundance of meat the small farmers will have to enter more and more in the work of live stock production, because the large ranches will soon pass away as a source of supply.

Twenty-four Years on One Work of Art

PARIS, March 31.—A Paris artist hastening to Ivry, a suburb, to see the works of art left by an old man named Fraissard. He died in great poverty, but this, perhaps, is not wonderful when it is added that he never would part with any of his works, no matter what price was offered to him.

For fifty years he executed the most beautiful works of art, mostly in mosaics. Every piece of work he did was a masterpiece, and the two rooms in which he lived contain a wonderful collection of beautiful objects. One is a black marble table with a chessboard in onyx and some cups, glasses and bottles. So delicate is the workmanship that the saucers are transparent. Eight years were occupied in the fashioning of this piece of work.

M. Fraissard's masterpiece took him twenty-four years. It is a black marble table. In the middle is a chessboard, on either side of which are playing cards arranged as fans. On the table are dominoes and dice, cigars and cigarettes and several coins in gold and silver. All these are, of course, inlaid. The materials in the table, besides the black marble, are agate, onyx, porphyry, malachite and lapis lazuli, the tones of which are black, red, orange, blue and white. Ninety different kinds of marble were also used.

In the old man's lodgings there are dozens of mosaics, opal cups, chandeliers and inlaid in all sorts of stones.

Wilson is Gratified.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 30.—President Wilson received with much gratification tonight assuring telegrams from his representative, Secretary Garrison, at Dayton, and others in the flood districts of Ohio. The secretary said the flood at Dayton had subsided and the local relief system was most excellent. Every one needing clothes, medicine or food was being supplied, and no one was in any position of peril. He stated that less than one hundred bodies had been found and he believed the estimate of 500 was entirely too large.

Secretary Garrison told the president that all the government officials of the army, navy, public health and life-saving service were working in concert with the local and state authorities, and there was gratitude on all sides for the action of the national government.

"I think the situation here is very satisfactory and that this community will find itself in an assured position within a very short time and facing only the problem of separation and rehabilitation," said the secretary.

BIG COTTON CONVENTION

DALLAS, APRIL 28-MAY 1

Every man, concerned in the best interests of the Southland, owes it to himself to attend the big Cotton Convention to be held in Dallas, April 28th to May 1st.

This will be a monster rally, attended by thousands of people in all walks of life, and from all parts of the South.

The Convention will doubtless place prominently before the world the wonderful work being accomplished by the Southern States Cotton Corporation, in establishing a stable price for cotton, and a dependable market system for the future.

The convention will be held at the Fair Park coliseum, and aside from the advantages of a trip to Dallas, the broadening benefits derived by contact with leading men of the South concerned in cotton, cannot be estimated. Reduced railroad rates.

ATTEND THE BIG COTTON CONVENTION AT DALLAS, APR. 28-MAY 1

A monster rally that will inaugurate in full effect the campaign for the coming season for a legitimate value for King Cotton.

Long held in subjugation by the arbitrary hand of "finance," it is proposed now to liberate the fleecy staple from the low price. The plan of the Southern States Cotton Corporation is no experiment, but is already in active operation in more than 250 cotton growing counties, and has afforded relief to thousands of farmers.

The convention will be held at the Fair Park coliseum, and thousands of people in all walks of life will be in attendance. Reduced rates on railroads.

FIFTEEN CENT COTTON AND FREEDOM!

This is the clarion cry of the Cotton Growers' convention to be held in Dallas, April 28 to May 1. Come and meet people from all parts of the South concerned in the best interests of cotton. Arrange today to make the trip. Reduced railroad rates.

An epoch-making convention, that is destined to establish a new standard in the cotton growing industry of the Southland, will be held in Dallas, April 28 to May 1. Low rates on all railroads.

DECIDE TO GO TO DALLAS APRIL 28-MAY 1

Dallas will do honor to the cotton growers of the entire South, April 28 to May 1. This is to be a record-breaking convention that will emphasize to the world the fact that the movement for 15c cotton is the development of an economic principle that must be reckoned with. Aside from contact with prominent people concerned in the cotton growing industry of the Southland, the trip will be worth the time and money of any man. Decide to see Dallas, the bustling, thriving city of the Southwest, with its mammoth commercial and manufacturing concerns, its million dollar hotels, magnificent "sky-scrapers," miles of macadamized streets, and more than a hundred thousand people waiting to give you a welcome, April 28 to May 1.

Fifteen-cent cotton and freedom! The world recognizes that this is a principle that must be reckoned with in the future. It realizes that the movement inaugurated by the Southern States Cotton Corporation having for its object a stable price for cotton, means a dependable market system for the future. The South will show her patriotism in a mammoth rally, Dallas, April 28 to May 1.

Ask your railroad agent today about the low rates to Dallas, account the big Cotton Growers' rally to be held April 28 to May 1.

The Cotton Convention, at Dallas, April 28 to May 1, will not only launch the campaign for 15 cent cotton with renewed vigor for the coming season, but will place before the world a plan worked out to maintain a dependable basis for our product that will largely relieve it of the element of guesswork in marketing. This convention will be held at Fair Park coliseum four days, commencing April 28, and promises to have a record-breaking attendance. Low rates on railroads.

All Texas will do honor to the Cotton Growers of the South at the Cotton Growers' rally, Dallas, April 28 to May 1. This convention will doubtless establish a new standard in the cotton growing industry, and should be attended by every man who is concerned in the best interests of the South.

A world-demanded utility is entitled to a stable valuation. Fifteen cents for your cotton. Attend the Cotton Growers' convention, Dallas, April 28 to May 1, and help make it a reality.

Huerta Denies Friction. CITY OF MEXICO, March 31.—

Don't Guess— Be SURE

A guessing contest is about the poorest sport in the world, but if one likes it there is no harm in guessing, as long as it is just done for fun and there is no money at stake. But guessing at anything in business is about the most inexcusable thing a sane person can be guilty of. When you want to buy something buy it from a firm that does not guess, but knows just what it is doing, and then insist upon the seller telling you what he is charging. Don't you do any guessing either, but know what you want, and insist upon having just that.

Our business is run upon the "Know Your Business" plan. We know how to buy lumber just as well as we know how to sell it, and insist upon buying the kind of lumber that our customers should have. We run the lumber business upon the same plan that a bank is run. We get a profit on the lumber we sell, or we don't sell it. You get a profit on the things you sell, or at least you should do so. But there is a difference in profits. There are profits and PROFITS. The profit we take for handling lumber is a fair consideration for handling the material, for keeping it always in stock so you can get what you want, when you want it, and for giving you the very best possible lumber service.

Short figuring don't help any. If you want to build, we want to figure with you. No man buys a coffin because it is cheap. No man builds a house until he is ready to build. If you are ready to build we shall be pleased to make an estimate on your bill of material, and if you will give us the exact specifications we will figure the bill of material so that you will not have to buy from one third to one half more lumber than you contemplated. It is said there are tricks in all trades, and so there may be, but in the long run they don't pay. If there are tricks in our trade it is pretty plain that we have not used them, for had we done so we should have been caught up with good and strong in the almost quarter of a century that we have been doing business in Kerrville.

We are doing business now, and shall continue to do it, in the same old straightforward way that we have always done. When you bring in your spring clip of mohair and wool you will probably want to take back a load of lumber to floor the gallery, or some shingles to recover the kitchen. Perhaps you may want to build a new house. No matter what your wants may be, we are ready to serve you. Your order can't be too large for us to handle without embarrassment, nor can it be too small for us to give our most careful attention.

"THE OLD HOUSE"
ALLY BEITEL, MANAGER

YARD NEAR DEPOT KERRVILLE, TEXAS

Residents of the capital are nervous because of continued rumors of friction between President Huerta and Gen. Felix Diaz, and of plots and intrigues, even to the fixing of dates when a new battle may be expected in the streets or the assassination of one or the other of the principals. On Saturday so keen was the excitement that the president summoned newspaper men to the palace after midnight to issue a formal statement, saying he and Felix Diaz were still friends and working in harmony and that there was no truth in the street gossip. Huerta's statement was reiterated by Diaz.

The Mexican government has made a formal protest to the American Government against the shipping of arms and ammunition from the United States to the rebels, and has requested that greater vigilance be exercised in guarding the frontier. Mexican officials understand that numerous consignments of war material, including many machine guns, have been sent across the border, in some cases even at the regular ports of entry, and are now in the hands of the rebels.

It is pointed out by the same officials that since the rebels control a large part of the frontier, this country is dependent absolutely for the time being on the United States to prevent the rebels from obtaining supplies. That the rebels are securing quantities of ammunition appears to be a fact.

No notable improvement in the revolutionary situation is apparent. The greater successes in recent days are credited to the rebels, although severe punishment in minor engagements has been inflicted on the adherents of Venustiano Carranza near Monterey.

Colquitt Criticised by Terrell

AUSTIN, Tex., April 1.—Chester Terrell, speaker of the House, in a speech delivered to the outgoing representatives today at noon, made a vigorous reply to Governor Colquitt's recent Good Friday message to the legislature. The message was intended as a rebuke to the solons for their supposed shortcomings and alleged failures to legislate for the welfare of the state. The speaker's appearance at the stand for the speech was greeted with long applause.

The speaker defended the House record and scored the Good Friday message rather freely throughout. In addition, he had excerpts from the governor's record, both as a legislator and executive, to point out what he called assertions inconsistent with the utterances the governor made on the policy of the House and the Senate. The Katy consolidation came in for its share of comment and Terrell called attention to Colquitt's record in furthering, as a senator, the Houston & Texas Central consolidation.

He closed with reading a list of important bills which have been passed and was applauded at length. Members of the Legislature met this morning to close up the work of the Thirty-third session. Formal adjournment is scheduled for this afternoon, followed by a general exodus of the legislators for their homes.

Governor Colquitt sent a special message to both branches of the legislature last night calling a special session to meet on July 21 to make appropriations for the support of the state government and to dispose of other matters not given attention during the regular session. The governor's proclamation follows:

"Whereas, the Thirty-third Legislature has adopted a concurrent resolution fixing the hour of adjourning the regular session thereof at noon, April 1, 1913, without making appropriations for the support of the state government as provided by the constitution shall be done.

"Now, therefore, the failure of the Legislature to pass such appropriation bill creates an extraordinary occasion justifying the governor to convene the Legislature in extra session, and I do hereby call the same to convene in the capitol in the city of Final disposition is to be made today of the enabling act, which was recalled by the Legislature. The House adopted the concurrent resolution early yesterday, but it was late last evening before the Senate finally decided to adopt the resolution. The bill is now back in free conference committee. It is almost certain the committee will finally eliminate the objectionable features pointed out by the governor in his message of Saturday night. If this is accomplished the governor will more than likely approve the bill.

Senator Townsend wanted the free conference committee to be instructed not to eliminate the initiative, referendum and recall feature from the bill, and let the governor resume the responsibility of vetoing the measure, but his resolution on that subject was overwhelmingly defeated in the Senate.
