PROPOSED RAILROAD FOR KERRVILLE

Representatives of Capitalists and Railroad Promoters Hold Conference with Kerrville Business Men's Club.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR NEW ROAD
Seeks to Connect Kerrville and San Angelo by New Line and to Make Outlet From the Plains Country to Gulf.

On Saturday morning of last week an important called meeting of the Kerrville Business Men's Club was held in the club rooms. The meeting, which was presided over by President Alby Bell, was called for the purpose of hearing representatives of a proposed new railroad for Kerrville discuss the matter. These gentlemen were R. S. Timmerman, of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. F. P. Robinson, of Greenville, Tenn., both of whom are experienced railroad men, and have been identified with the promotion and construction of various shortline railroads.

The prospectors were out making a preliminary reconnaissance of the country through which the road is to be built. They came to Kerrville by way of Mason and Fredericksburg, having taken a look at a route that had been proposed from San Angelo to those points. They were very much pleased with the indications of prosperity in and about Kerrville, and with the country round about.

From Kerrville they went to San Antonio, but returned here last night and will leave this morning for San Angelo, via Junction and McKitvitt. They will be accompanied by a party of Kerrville people to a halfway point on the proposed route between Kerrville and Junction, where they will be met by a party of representative business men of Junction, who took charge of them and undertook the conduct of the expedition from that place on to Junction. From Junction the remainder of the trip will be made via McKitvitt and other points, to San Angelo.

These reconnaissance are of course but the preliminary work in the field, upon which the investigators of the route can base their report to the proper authorities of the company they represent. There is, however, no doubt of the feasibility of the route, and it is a well-known fact that such a line of railway as that proposed would open a vast field that is now lying practically dormant for want of railway facilities. Many thousands of acres of fine farming lands are now in pastures because the haul is too long for agricultural products to be grown at a profit. The building of this line would put in the forefront of the agricultural sections of Texas a great scope of country that has been supposed to be useless for agriculture simply because it was not plowed up and planted in crops of various kinds. All over that section the value of these lands for agricultural purposes has been fully demonstrated by small tracts that have been put under cultivation on the ranches for the purpose of growing forage and garden stuff for home use.

The great value of this city of having this line of railway rests in the matter of being situated upon a trunk line of railway. The building of the Panama Canal means more, perhaps, to Texas than to any state in the Union. A trunk line of railway that would give to all the panhandle territory, and to the states west and north an outlet direct to the Texas coast, must of necessity in a short time become a great railroad. Not only would such a railroad acquire a great amount of territory from the country immediately about its line but an incalculable amount of freight seeking the coast would be attracted to that point.

It has often been said that roads and other enterprises are always built on paper. This is not true, for the roads and other enterprises are built on paper, but in this instance the road is to be a real reality, and one that is destined to become one of the great highways of the southwest. This is the road that Kerrville has long wanted, and the enterprising business men of this city are going to make an earnest effort to secure it. In fact we are going to get the road if it is built.

SAP DEPOT DESTROYED BY FIRE

Flames Wipe Out Freight and Passenger Depot Tuesday Night. Loss Complete.

ORIGIN OF FIRE NOT KNOWN
Heroic Work of Fire Company Saved Adjacent Buildings. South Wind Helped.

The most destructive fire that has occurred in Kerrville in many years resulted in the complete destruction of the San Antonio & Aransas Pass Depot at this place Tuesday night.

An alarm was turned in shortly after 11 o'clock, but by the time the first company was on the ground the entire building, which had evidently taken fire from within, was a mass of flames. In the freight warehouse were a number of barrels of oils of different kinds, which together with lard bacon and other inflammable merchandise made a terrific fire. On a siding near the depot were two cars of merchandise. These were also completely destroyed.

Aided by a strong south wind the firemen put up a valiant fight for adjacent buildings, and none were burned, although some of the nearer ones became very hot and were scorched some. Oceans of water from the powerful streams played on the building and on the blazing structures kept the heat down until at 2 o'clock the fire was practically out.

The amount of the loss has not yet been determined, but will run into many thousands of dollars. A splendid demonstration of the ample water facilities for firefighting, and also of the capabilities of the Kerrville firefighters, was given in the manner in which the big fire was handled.

The Charles Schreiner Company and The West Texas Supply Company, each of whom has a large warehouse on the track near the depot, gave $25 each to the general fund of the fire company in token of their appreciation of the strenuous efforts made in behalf of their property.

GAYNOR IS LAID AT REST; 1,000,000 VIEW THE FUNERAL

Cortege Moves Through Department Statistics Humanity From New Brooklyn.

BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED
Bell in the Tower of the Brooklyn Borough Hall Tolls For First Time in Many Years.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Historic Greenwood Cemetery, the resting place in Brooklyn of many famous dead, received the body of New York's late Mayor, William Jay Gaynor, at mid-afternoon today, with funeral services in his honor that were without parallel in the history of the city. In the presence of the family, the honorary pallbearers, including William Howard Taft, and city officials, among them Mayor Kline, the flag-draped coffin was committed to the grave in the Gaynor family plot. The brief Episcopal service was read by the Rev. Frank W. Page, former pastor of St. John's, the church where the Mayor worshipped.

A million people, it is estimated, saw the funeral cortege move slowly first from the City Hall, where thousands had witnessed the body lying in state Sunday, to Trinity Church, where Bishop Greer conducted the solemn services; then back past the City Hall, across the Brooklyn Bridge, through Brooklyn streets past the late Mayor's, eighth Avenue home, and on to the cemetery.

Upon the bridge, hung in black, traffic did not move. City employees stood six feet apart, heads uncovered, as the police-escorted cortege proceeded in the mayor's home borough. Below the river noises were stifled. Not a craft blew its whistle. Not a gong was sounded. The funeral train across the bridge and for a distance in Brooklyn paralleled a favorite route of the Mayor, who in all kinds of weather was accustomed to walk to and from the City Hall.

The bell in the tower of the borough hall in Brooklyn tolled for the first time in many years. Numerous church bells also sounded their muffled beats. Trinity's first and then in Brooklyn, in Brooklyn public schools, turned forth their pupils, who stood among the mourners in the streets. In the Mayor's own neighborhood clubs and residences were draped in crepe, while flags were at half-mast.

When the church services had ended the great masses of flowers that had been in Trinity and the City Hall were sent to various hospitals, the choicest among them, orchids and chrysanthemums, to St. Mary's, the Hoboken (N. J.) institute where Mr. Gaynor lay after being shot down by an assassin three years ago.

The satisfaction on which Mayor Gaynor's body was carried was built on the order of a pageant car, twelve feet long, eight feet wide and seven feet high. The body of the catafalque was made of heavy oak, draped in black.

SPEAKER SAYS GOVERNOR IS USING GUNMEN

House Leader in Tennessee Does Not Propose to be "Intimidated."

LEGISLATURE IN UPROAR
Speakers' Coats to Show No Concealed Weapons Carried.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 24.—With the declaration that he did not propose "to be intimidated by Governor Hooper nor his gunmen," Speaker Stanton of the Tennessee House of Representatives, charged on the floor of that body yesterday that "gunmen" had been stationed in the hall of the legislative chamber and that two suit cases filled with munitions were then in the office of the superintendent of the capitol.

Mr. Stanton's declaration brought to a climax factional feeling between the "regular" democratic wing of the Legislature and the "fusionists," who are supporting so-called "law enforcement" legislation proposed by Governor Hooper. On test votes yesterday the fusionists were shown to be in the majority by a narrow margin. The enforcement bills will be called for passage today.

Before Mr. Stanton had concluded several members were on their feet with their coats shed to show that they were unarmed and charges and counter charges followed.

The speaker asserted that scurrilous articles had appeared in certain newspapers threatening to unseat him.

There are two suit cases of guns in the office of the superintendent of the capitol, sent there by friends of Governor Hooper, but even this will not scare or intimidate me," Stanton declared. "I am speaker of this House and propose to remain so to the end. I do not propose to be intimidated by Governor Hooper nor his gunmen and their efforts to force me to make rulings will do them no good."

Representative McFarland was recognized first after Stanton concluded. Coolett denounced the men who "ram down weapons in his pocket" and declared that any man guilty of such a practice was a coward.

Representative Lex Stone, throwing back his coat to show that he had no weapons, turned to McFarland with the declaration that "any man who would call a set of armed men to guard the door of the legislative hall is just as much a coward as the man referred to by Mr. McFarland."

"Why not send the gunmen out and let honest men have a chance?" shouted Stone. "He declared that if the House was to be cleared 'all armed thugs' should be included."

A motion to appoint a committee to investigate the charges made by Mr. Stanton and to bring the superintendent of the capitol, George C. Renfro, before the House, was voted down.

Governor Hooper sent a special message to the House today relative to yesterday's exciting situation. Declaring any intimation that he was responsible, directly or indirectly, for the presence of any body, armed or unarmed, about the legislative halls, absolutely false, he said: "The efforts being made by armed bullies, city detectives and deputy sheriffs of Davidson county to intimidate the advocates of law enforcement in the legislature are most reprehensible."

The presence of the "city guard," he said, was doubtless responsible for the presence of friends of law enforcement members. The governor expressed the belief that neither side needed outside assistance in considering the bills.

Gaynor Will Filed.

The value of the estate is estimated at $2,000,000.

W. W. ALLEN Wolves Do Damage

W. W. Allen died at his home in Kerrville Sunday, September 21, after a lingering illness of several weeks. The funeral took place Monday at 10:30 a. m. Services were conducted at the home by Rev. S. J. Drake and Rev. W. P. Dickey. The burial was under the auspices of Kerrville Lodge A. F. & A. M.

W. W. Allen was born at Aberdeen, Miss., January 28, 1852. He came to Texas with his parents when a child and spent the early years of his life in Lavaca county. His father, W. W. Allen, Sr., was County Clerk of Lavaca County for many years. Upon reaching manhood the deceased became a stockman, was a prominent ranchman of Lavaca and Waller Counties for many years. In 1889 Mr. Allen purchased a ranch in the western part of Kerr County, and made his home with his family in Kerrville.

W. W. Allen was a man of many sterling qualities. Coming of good old colonial stock he was a man whose words was as good as his bond. His great grandfathers were prominent officers in the Continental Army and Navy. Few men have lived in this section of Texas who won and merited the general esteem of all the people more than did W. W. Allen. Notwithstanding his quiet retiring disposition, he made many friends, and those who knew him well were the ones who appreciated most his excellent character.

The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Deceased is survived by his widow, who is a daughter of Dr. J. E. King, of Cuero, and their three children, Raymond and Ed Allen and Mrs. Dan C. Summers. Also three sisters and a brother, Judge R. B. Allen of Hallettsville, Mrs. T. H. Spooner, of Gonzales, Mrs. R. E. Henshaw, of Henstead, Mrs. J. D. Palmer, of Yoakum.

The funeral service was simple and impressive, as becompted with the character and disposition of the man, and the grief at the loss of so good a citizen was general in the hearts of a wide circle of friends.

Among those who attended the funeral from a distance were Mrs. R. E. Henshaw, Henstead; Mrs. Eda Spooner, Gonzales; R. H. Allen, Hallettsville; Mrs. Sol West, San Antonio; Mrs. F. G. Patton, Yoakum; Mrs. Betty Dewrey and son Ross Irving, Yoakum; Mrs. M. K. Stiner, San Antonio; W. J. Moore, San Antonio; Robert Real, Liveoak.

MEAT FAMINE IN U. S. FEARED
Packers Declare Responsibility is Up to Farmers.

CHICAGO, September 22.—The responsibility of averting a future meat famine was put up to small farmers by speakers at the eighth annual convention of the American Meat Packers Association today. All the speakers agreed that if the decrease in meat production of the last 10 years is not stopped the question of the meat industry for the people of the United States will be most serious.
Among the remedies suggested by the speakers were:
"Every small farmer should raise at least two beef steers a year to offset the decreased production of the great ranches of the West."
"The remaining ranges should be put up in farms to put all farmers on an equal footing."
"Development of the hills of New England with their bountiful springs and prevailing shade as a beef producing country."
"Substitution of corn for cotton in the Southern States and the consequent development of the cattle and hog production."
The report of the executive committee sounded the first note of the danger of a famine.
"The American meat packing house situation and that of consumers of meat food products in this country are in a condition more precarious than at any time in our history," the report stated.
"We are facing a condition in the production of meat food products which would have been thought impossible 10 years ago."
"The shortage of live stock which has been impressed upon us as packing house producers for several years, has been intensified during the last year. Our population is growing at its normal rate, demand has overtaken production and we are now on a basis which shows that demand exceeds the supply to such an extent that we have abnormally high prices for meat food products."
"The farmers are not furnishing nearly sufficient number of animals to keep the packing houses in operation on anything like full time, and this results in heavy losses and there seems to be no prospect of relief."
"Despite the heavy price for live stock of all kinds, statistics show that the farmers not only are not increasing their production of meat food animals, but that such production is decreasing at an appalling rate."
"Among other causes for the shortage of meat, the report pointed out another loss of meat food animals through preventable diseases and the untimely slaughter of calves."
The committee appointed to confer with Government officials regarding the wisdom of the Federal Government dictating what ingredients shall be used in meat products.
"Our principal difficulty has been that those in power know practically nothing of the actual conditions of packing house operations. We have been in the hands of capable, well-meaning scientists on one hand, and political officeholders on the other."
The report declared that the action of the Government in changing the character of labels on canned goods after once they had been accepted by the Government cost the packing industry $250,000 annually.
Speakers at the National convention of butter and egg men urged the need of National legislation to regulate the storage of these products in order to avoid repeated charges of price raising and monopoly.
"This conference should advocate National legislation on the subject of storage," said J. L. Homigan of New York, in an address. "If every state has its own laws with regard to the length of time we may keep eggs and produce, we will soon have a condition like those caused by the present divorce laws."

(By Rev. P. A. Brunner)
Try first yourself, my friend, to do thy very best.
Then let thy heart, secure of Heaven's blessing, rest.

The strength, each day, to win a battle shall be thine.
God means that of thy effort thou shalt walk the way

He wills that thou shalt pray, but He does also ask
Of thine own self a willingness to do thy task.

Value Discoveries of Opal in Nevada.
Mention has been made of the opal deposits of Virgin Valley, Humboldt County, Nev., in the chapter on precious stones in several of the annual reports on the mineral resources of the United States, published by the United States Geological Survey. The quality of the opals was thus described in the report for 1912:

The best gem opal from this region is unexcelled in variety and brilliance of fire and color by that from other localities. The cut gems exhibit wonderful flashes of green, blue, yellow, and red of various shades. In some the color is uniform over the whole stone or over large areas, changing as the gem is turned from green to red and from red to blue, and so on. Some of the gems show a rich ultramarine blue in one position with green or red in another. Many gems display various bright colors arranged in patches, and each patch changes color as the stone is turned. The brilliant flashes of peacock-feather colors obtained from the opal of dark color yields a gem which might be called black opal, but most of it is not like the Australian gem of that name, since it occurs in thick pieces and the colors are less localized. The majority of the dark colored gems, no matter how beautiful in reflected light, become a rich reddish-brown color in transmitted light. Lighter-colored opal with good color and fire is also found and is very beautiful.
The locality was visited by Douglas B. Stewart, for the Geological Survey, August 19, 20 and 21, 1912, for the purpose of procuring information for the report of mineral resources for 1912 and for an enlarged report on precious stones to be prepared during the course of the next three years.
The locality is in Virgin Valley, in Humboldt County, Nevada. The nearest post office or small town is Denio, Ore., situated on the Nevada line. The opal field is about 25 miles southwest of Denio and may be reached by automobile or team from that town or from Cedarville, Ore. It may be reached by automobile or team from Reno or Winnemucca, Nev., a distance of about 45 miles and 112 miles, respectively.
At the opal claims that have been located were not visited by Mr. Stewart. In several of them from which valuable gem material has been obtained were examined. The occurrence of the opal, is similar at the different localities. The matrix consists of beds of greenish clay, including pebbles and debris of rhyolite and other rocks with varying quantities of petrified wood. The opal-bearing clay beds are interbedded with other strata of white, gray, and yellowish, more or less consolidated mud, sands or gravels. These formations contain a large proportion of volcanic ash and breccia and are overlain by basaltic lava.
The formations lie nearly flat or with dips rarely exceeding 10 degrees. Block faulting has disturbed the formations considerably so that the opal-bearing strata occur at diverse elevations. The opal deposits examined lie at elevations ranging from about 5,000 to 5,500 feet above sea level. Erosion has exposed the formations in different positions, so that the opal strata outcrop in places as bands in cliffs or steep hillsides or form blanket beds over small areas under mesas and plateaus.
The opal-bearing clay is sticky and gumbo-like when moist, but on drying it swells and cracks apart to a crumbling mass. Pick and shovel with horse scrapers are required for surface mining and the former will probably answer all purposes for underground mining.
The greater part of the precious opal is associated with petrified wood, generally forming a cast of twigs, limbs, bark, parts of tree trunks, or roots or occurring as seams or deposits in or around petrified wood in which the original texture of the wood is beautifully preserved.
A mistake has been made in cutting the Nevada opal too soon after it has been mined. Time should be allowed for proper seasoning of the stone without exposure to dry air, so that any excess of moisture may be lost slowly without causing the gems to crack.
The opal field has been very lightly developed but has probably yielded over $20,000 worth of rough gems. A few superb specimens worth several hundred dollars apiece and many fine gems, worth $50 to $200 apiece have been obtained, and the prospects of the field as a producer of valuable opal are bright.

Bean Claims Last Survivor of the Battle of San Jacinto.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 22.—W. P. Zuber, last survivor of the Battle of San Jacinto and a veteran of the Civil War, died at the home of his daughter in this city tonight, aged 93 years. He came to Texas with his parents from Georgia at the age of 10, and enlisted in the war of Texas Independence at the age of 16. He has recorded his recollections in a book, "Eighty Years in Texas," which, though unfinished, will be published. He came to Austin from Robertson County seven years ago and has been employed by the State as a guard in the Senate chamber, where his portrait hangs.
He will be buried in the State cemetery Wednesday with Masonic honors.

Mr. Zuber came from fighting stock. His grandfather, Abraham Zuber, witnessed the surrender of Cornwallis to Washington on October 19, 1781, and it was through this ancestry that Mr. Zuber was a Son of the American Revolution.
The survivor of the army of Texas was born in Georgia on July 6, 1820. He came to Texas with his parents in 1832. When he was 16 years of age he enlisted in the army of Texas, in Captain James Gillespie's Company, Colonel Sidney Sherman's Regiment where he saw active service from March 1, to June 18, 1835, at which time he received an honorable discharge from the army.
After the independence of Texas he served in several campaigns against the Mexicans and Indians. Having acquired a taste for war in his youth, he again served his country in the war between the States. At the beginning of the war he was 39 years of age—the limit of the conscript age. He was, therefore, not conscripted, but volunteered, enlisting in Company H, Twenty-first Regiment, Texas Cavalry, Confederate Army, and saw constant service from 1862 until the "break-up" in 1865.

Mr. Zuber has lived in Texas for eighty-two years. He has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church seventy-three years and of the Methodist Episcopal Church South from its organization in 1849. He liked to be a secessionist, but was opposed to the conscript laws.
Among the paintings in the Capitol is a portrait of Mr. Zuber, which hangs in a prominent place near San Houston, Davy Crockett and the rest of the great heroes of Texas.

Albanian Mission Seized
VIENNA, Sept. 22.—The Greek authorities at Koritsa, in Albania, today seized the American mission school there, where instruction is given to nearly 100 Albanian girls. The information reached here in a telegram from Avlona, the principal seaport of Albania on the Adriatic Sea.
The Greeks also have arrested many Albanians who recently returned to Koritsa from America and other foreign countries, releasing them from detention only when the Albanians promised to join in the agitation for the incorporation of the district in Greece.
The British consul at Monastir has entered a vigorous protest with the Greek government on behalf of the Americans.
The whole affair forms part of the Greek terrorization of the Albanian population, with the object of compelling them to agree with inclusion of the whole of Albania in the kingdom of Greece.
Last week Greek officials at Koritsa endeavored to take forcible possession of the American mission school building, but the housekeeper refused to hand over the keys. The Greek soldiers beat her mercilessly and carried her off to prison. The mission is in charge of Phineas B. Kennedy, a native of New Jersey, and a Princeton graduate. Mrs. Violet B. Kennedy conducts the ladies' literary society, whose object is to give the elements of education to the women of Albania.

Now that we have had Thaw all through the hot weather when there was no special need of it, it is up to some fool newspaper to start a frost just at beginning of winter when wood is four dollars a cord and no heavy underwear in the wardrobe.

If it is a fact that the emigration of the farm boy to the city has caused the high cost of living, it is about time for some one to write to Willy to come home to roost. If living gets much higher a lot of us will have to quit.

New York and Tennessee are running a race to see which can be guilty of the greatest political disgrace. The odds appear to be on New York because there are more of them, but there is still the reply of the cowboy to his bedfellow. "No, but they are oats bigger."

Six people were poisoned in Houston from eating toadstools instead of mushrooms. Didn't know poison would hurt people that would eat mushrooms.

A head line reads, "Republicans of New York Demand Change of Rules." That is not startling, there was a little went into effect all over the country on the fourth of March that republicans would like to demand a slight change in.

Split skirts are a right. A lot of people who wear them are just saved the humiliation of sulitting some other kind of clothes because they wear skirts.

Wide Area Swept by Forest Fires.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 24.—Forest fires which are burning today in various sections of Northern California, have already caused losses estimated at considerably more than $1,000,000.

In Napa county, a territory 18 miles long and five miles wide, has been laid waste and early today 600 men were at work trying to check the spreading flames. The greatest damage has been done in Cappel, Foss and Gordon canyons, where ranch houses, orchards and grain fields have been in the path of the fire.

A desperate fight is being made to save Napa Soda Springs and Wilson Inn, both of which were still in danger at daybreak.

Wild horse Valley, ten miles east of Napa, still is threatened and state troops are aiding large forces of fire-fighters at that point.

In Cappel and Foss Valleys, 17 houses have been destroyed.

In Santa Cruz county the fire is roaring through thick underbrush and big red-woods towards Santa Clara county.

Forest Notes.

Washington stands first in lumber production, with Louisiana second.

It is said that 90,000,000 broom handles are used annually in the United States; one for each man, woman, and child.

The lands burned over during the terrible fires on the Idaho national forests in 1910 are now largely covered with a thick growth of young tree seedlings, by natural re-seeding.

Manufacturers of artificial limbs are seeking substitutes for English willow, used because of its combined lightness and strength. It is claimed that the Port Orford cedar of the Pacific coast will prove equally serviceable.

In the open yellow pine forests of Washington and Oregon a collapsible plow is being used in digging fire lines to stop surface fires. The plow can be dismantled and folded into a compact form, so that it can be packed on horseback, and weighs only 40 pounds. When in use, one man with a horse can do the work of 20 or more men working with shovels.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Phillip Cook and Mrs. Ira Kircheville, a sister of the bride was matron of honor. Miss Irene Lewis was maid of honor and Robert M. Young best man. Mr. and Mrs. Carr left immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip through Florida via New Orleans, and will be at home after November 1 in Los Angeles.—San Antonio Express.

Colquitt off to Panama.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 22.—Governor Colquitt left at 10 o'clock this morning on the trip to Panama and will be absent about a month. He was accompanied by Mrs. Colquitt and daughter, Miss Mary; Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Graves of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald, wife of Auditor, Fitzgerald of the Railroad Commission. At Houston he wore a straw hat. When one of the newspaper correspondents at the Capitol attempted to joke with the Governor's personal staff, wife and son, and Miss Garland Bonner, the party will sail for Panama from New Orleans September 24 on the United States Fruit Company's steamship Paraismina. Although a northerly wind was blowing at the time the Governor left Austin, he were a straw hat. When one of the newspaper correspondents at the Capitol attempted to joke with the executive relative to his summer headgear, the Governor good naturedly remarked: "The summer season is far from being over in Panama, and I am making this trip for comfort and pleasure. That straw hat will come in handy, and that is the reason I am wearing it."

distribute it equitably among all classes and sections in order to compensate as many citizens as possible, in such degree as may be possible, for the contribution which all must make to the Government's revenue.

Of course, under the plea for equitable incidence selfish interests might obtain benefits equivalent to "direct protection," and lawmakers should have a care lest they be deceived or lest they practice injustice under the temptation to benefit their constituents. But it is the business of lawmakers to be careful and equitable and just.

Whatever Senator Sheppard may think of "incidental protection," he can not be excused for denying incidental benefit to his constituents when he can secure it without injury to any other citizens and without sacrifice of necessary revenue.

If the scales of tariff justice should incline more to one man than to another, if one should have a greater portion of incidental benefit than another, surely the producer—the man with an income of only $318 a year—the only creator of wealth, should be favored. The cost of raw material makes little real difference to the manufacturer, so long as all manufacturers must pay the same; he will add his profit and the consumer must pay. It makes little difference to the merchant or trader what an article costs, so long as it costs his competitors the same; he will obtain his profit in a fair field. The consumer who is neither manufacturer nor trader but a mere employe, has opportunity to combine with other employes to secure increased wages when the cost of living exceeds his income. In all the manufacturing, trading and laboring world there is more or less opportunity to shift expense burdens, to equalize income and outgo, to adapt business to circumstances and to maintain living profits. But the farmer has no such opportunity. His condition is absolute and irremediable. He can not shift taxes; he can not add new expenses to his selling price. He must cultivate whether at a profit or loss; he can not shut down or run on short time. He must bear what the Government imposes and take what the Lord sends. He feeds and clothes the world, and yet he is its least rewarded servant.

Great fortunes are made in manufacturing, in trade and in transportation, but nowhere on this earth today is there a great fortune which represents one man's achievements in tilling the soil. Every fortune in manufacturing, in trade and in transportation was accumulated in handling the products of the soil, but the producer himself is denied fortune. Manufacturing, trade and transportation in their true economic relation are the servants of production, but the servant is become greater than the master and the Democratic party deliberately contributes to maintain the status by giving to the commercial world all the incidental benefit which inevitably flows from tariff taxation. The immediate or early effects of this tariff bill may not be marked or readily perceptible in all cases or in the whole range of economic results. Wool has declined about 6 cents a pound in anticipation of free wool, but may not go lower and may even react on account of the world shortage in supply. Six cents a pound means much to the wool grower, but the high price of mutton may save him from disaster.

The effect of cheap wool on cotton may not be presently perceived because the cotton crop is short and the consumption of cotton goods is increasing about 2 per cent a year. Still, that wool and cotton bear a price relation, and ultimately one must influence the other if either fluctuates materially in value. To argue otherwise is to contradict every principle of economic adjustment.

There is a shortage, also, in meat animals the world over. As a consequence free meats may not now cause cheaper live stock. Senator Sheppard contends correctly that while hogs did not decline under free trade, they would have advanced under a tariff. In like manner, if cattle, hogs, sheep and poultry do not decline under free trade they would have advanced under a tariff. The Senator seems to think they will decline, for in speaking of free meats, he says: "The dissolution or circumvention of the beef trust, a menace alike to the cattle producer and the meat consumer, is as much a part of the Democratic program for a lower cost of living as the revision of the tariff, and will lead to lower prices of meat in the centers of population without reducing the price at the farm." That part of the program is doomed to disappointment. If there is a beef trust—which we do not affirm—the same trust that controls the meat industry of this country controls the meat industry of South America, whence meat imports are expected to come, and it may be set down for a certainty that the combination will not permit its business in South America to injure its business in North America. If there is such a trust it will use its powers to depress or to hold down prices at the farm and to maintain or advance prices in the centers of population. Free meats will afford it precisely the opportunity it desires.

As to clothing our calculation shows that no substantial relief may be expected—at least no relief commensurate with the injury to producers—for the bill confessedly provides "reasonable protection" to New England. Under the bill the consumer is entitled to a reduction of 60 cents on account of free wool and a reduction of $4 on account of the reduced tariff on a $30 suit of clothes. Let us see whether we get it in the next 12 months.

In whatever manner the possible results may be calculated the net effect of it all is this:

If the bill brings a substantial relief to the consumer it will be almost entirely at the expense of the producer. If tariff revision does not injure the producer it can not help the consumer.

"Hence," the consumer wins; "tails," the producer.

And that is Democratic tariff reform in accordance with the principle of free raw materials.

Government Reports Lowest Fire Loss

With the middle of September, the fire season on the national forests has come practically to an end with less damage than ever recorded. There is always some danger, from carelessness of campers or of settlers burning brush and clearing land, but the real danger season extends only from the middle of June until the middle of September.

Forest officers throughout the west are congratulating themselves on a season so markedly free from heavy losses. They feel that the immunity from loss has been due to two principal causes, partly to a favorable season, but largely to a much better organization for fire prevention than has been attained heretofore. The effectiveness of the organization is shown particularly by the fact that while there were in all approximately 2,600 fires, as against 2,470 last year, yet the area burned so far this year is only about 60,000 acres as against 230,000 acres in 1912, and 789,000 in 1911.

A single administrative district, which covers the intermountain region of southern Idaho, western Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, and western Arizona, gives an example of the most favorable situation. Only 42 fires were encountered, 29 of which originated in Idaho. The total area burned ever amounted to only 356 acres, which is considerably less than four one-hundred-thousandths of the total area patrolled by forest officers in these states.

California, Arizona, and New Mexico have suffered most during the past season.

The various causes of fires have not changed greatly in their relative proportions. Railroads and lightning head the list, with campers next. There has been, however, a marked decrease in the number of fires caused by burning brush, which, according to the forest officers, indicates a closer co-operation with the settlers in and near the forests and with timberland owners in fire prevention and control. It is still true, nevertheless, that a large proportion of all fires started are due to human agencies and may generally be charged against carelessness. Fires caused by lightning are of course not preventable, but the system of look-outs by which they may be detected immediately after being set is greatly lessening the loss from this source.

TELLS ON THE KIDNEYS

Kerrville People Have Found This to Be True.

The strain of overwork tells on the weakened kidneys. The hurry and worry of business men, the heavy lifting and stooping of workmen, the women's household cares, tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they can no longer filter the poison from the blood and the whole body suffers from the waste matter that accumulates. Weakened kidneys need quick assistance. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened kidneys; they work out backs—have proven their merit in thousands of cases. Below is convincing proof from this locality:

N. H. Roberts, carpenter, 701 E. Elmira St., San Antonio, Texas, says: "I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as being all the relief I could get."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

"THE MASTER BUILDERS"

ARE, after all, what men and women are. The creative genius is awake in the child mind at the earliest dawn of intelligence. The desire to build something, to make something beautiful. The above picture will call to mind some incident in the child-life of everyone who sees it: You have not changed, but have merely grown older. Your desire to create, to "build a house," is the same today as when you built houses of blocks in the shade of the oaktree, except that your efforts are directed by the judgment and cultivated taste in such matters that years and experience alone can bring.

We are all the kind of "Master Builders" that want a home, and when we get one we want to make it better whenever it is practicable. There is a home building instinct in the heart of every human being, and the greater the civilization and enlightenment, the stronger the spirit of social progress, housebuilding and home making. To the "Master Builders" of the world, to those men and women who in their childhood were moved deeply by the desire to build houses, and who cultivated the spirit of creative genius and became builders indeed, when they reached maturity years, the world owes much of its progress.

You have a home perhaps, and desire to make it more attractive, or maybe you have no home and desire to build one. In either of these circumstances we shall be pleased to consult your wants with you. We are pioneers in the Lumber-Business in this section of Texas. We carry a complete stock of everything used in the building trade. Our reputation, established by almost a quarter of a century of daily business operations in Kerrville, and half a century in San Antonio, are back of our guarantee to every transaction in which we engage. If you are in the market for lumber or other builders' material in any quantity, we are at your service, and offer you all that a long business career and a thorough knowledge of the lumber business means to the careful buyer.

Hopes to Sign Bill This Week.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Disputed points between the Senate and House in the tariff bill narrowed down to such chief features as the income tax, the tax on cotton futures and the general administrative provisions. Democratic managers expected to send the conference report to the House by Thursday.

President Wilson told callers today that his conferences with leaders led him to believe all differences would be smoothed out and he would sign the bill this week.

"I've got my pen sharpened," said the President.

Chairman Simmons of the Senate Finance Committee and Senator Hoke Smith assured President Wilson today that they expected the bill to be ready for his signature the end of the week. The last moments of the passage of a tariff measure, however, always offer opportunity for rejection of a conference report and further deliberations on points upon which either house may insist.

Democratic leaders from the South are said to be agreed on the cotton future tax compromise proposed by Representative Lever and endorsed by Postmaster General Burleson and Senator Hoke Smith. Instead of the high Clark tax it proposes a smaller tax on cotton for which the Government has fixed standards. The option exchange men are protesting against it.

Chairman Simmons said he had not discussed the cotton future tax with the President, but indicated the Senate managers would not yield to the House on their amendment.

With consideration of the income tax section today the Senate amendment lowering the minimum exemption from $4,000 to $3,000, allowances for dependent wives and children and larger taxes on higher incomes came up for settlement.

Chairman Alexander of the House Merchant Marine Committee, with Representatives Johns of Virginia, Smith of North Carolina and McGill-Heuddy of Maine, asked the President to favor an amendment to the tariff bill giving a 5 per cent discount in duties on imports in vessels wholly built in the United States, no matter where owned.

A House provision for a 5 per cent discount for goods in American owned ships was struck out by the Senate on the protests of many foreign Governments that it was a discrimination in violation of their treaties. The President did not commit himself, but indicated that if the new amendment did not conflict with treaty rights he would favor it.

President Wilson having practically determined to make an address before the Southern Commercial Congress at Mobile, Ala., during the latter part of October, was besieged with requests today from various Congressmen to visit their towns en route.

Representative Bartlett wanted the President to stop at Macon, Ga. Representative Wilson asked him to go to Pensacola, Fla., and Senator Sheppard invited the President to go to Dallas.

The President told them all he would only have time for the visit to Mobile and regretted that he would not be able to make any other stops.

To prevent the introduction into the United States of a dangerous potato disease known as potato wart, potato canker or black scab, the Federal Horticultural Board has decided to continue the quarantine against potato importations from the British Isles, Germany, Austria-Hungary, Newfoundland and the two French islands at the mouth of the St. Lawrence River, St. Pierre and Miquelon.

The London Bureau of Agriculture recently, through the British embassy, asked this quarantine be raised or modified, but the horticultural board has ruled against a change in the regulations.

The board declares that the present condition of the 1913 potato crop in the United States is more promising and that indications are no importations of potatoes from abroad will be required this winter.

Secretary Garrison will direct an investigation by Governor General Francis Burton Harrison of charges by Dean Worcester and W. H. Phipps, Auditor of the Philippines, that slavery exists in the islands.

The administration will get a formal opinion from the Attorney General of the Philippines on the sufficiency of existing laws for punishment of slavery. Prosecutions of offenders are expected.

Free entry of wood pulp and paper was granted by the Treasury today to Belgium and Denmark under the "favored Nation clause" of their treaties. The action follows the principle of a customs court decision granting Europe free wood-pulp and paper because that privilege is accorded Canada.

President Wilson today received an offer of a winter home in Columbia, S. C. A delegation from that city told him the house in which he had spent a part of his boyhood and which his mother had originally designed, had been renovated and would be bought by the city if he would come to Columbia. The President told his visitors that if he made his winter home anywhere it would be in Columbia, but that it looked very much as if he would spend the coming winter and others hard at work at the White House.

President Wilson will leave the Capital early tomorrow morning for Princeton, N. J., to vote for Acting Governor Fielder in the Democratic gubernatorial primary. It will be the first time the President has visited his home town since he left March 3 to come to Washington. He will return to Washington the same evening.

John A. Peters, Republican, recently elected to the House from the third Maine district, was sworn in today.

DANGEROUS CALOMEL GOING OUT OF USE

A Safer, More Reliable Remedy Has Taken its Place in the Drug Store and in the Home.

A few years ago, men, women and children took calomel for a sluggish liver and for constipation. They took risks when they did so, for calomel is a dangerous drug. Your family doctor will be the first to tell you this if he discovers you dosing yourself with calomel.

But the drug trade has found a safer, more pleasant remedy than calomel in Dodson's Liver Tonic.

W. H. RAWSON & SON tell us that their drug store sells Dodson's Liver Tonic in practically every case of biliousness and liver trouble where calomel used to be taken.

Dodson's Liver Tonic is a vegetable liver tonic that is absolutely harmless for children and grown people. It sells for 50 cts. a bottle and is guaranteed to be entirely satisfactory by W. H. Rawson & Son who will refund your money with a smile if it does not give quick, gentle relief without any of calomel's unpleasant after-effects.

Three Die in Collision

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Three persons were killed and forty injured early today in a head-on crash of two Long-Island-Railroad electric trains at College Point, Long Island. Of the injured one will die. The dead are Conductor George Borckel, Motorman Fred Loder, Motorman Charles Hohlien.

Most of the injured were mill employees on their way to work. The train running forty miles an hour, rounded a curve near the station from opposite directions, almost simultaneously, and the crash was in evitable. The steel cars buckled but did not telescope. This fact doubtless saved many lives. A hotel near the scene and a number of residences nearby were thrown open for use as emergency hospitals.

Many ambulances and a corps of physicians were summoned to the scene.

The Pennsylvania Railroad issued a statement saying that the accident had been caused, so far as could be determined, by the negligence of the operator at Whitestone Junction, who allowed the train bound for New York to leave the double track before the other train had cleared. The road's statement placed the total number of injured at forty.

Walter Maize, 30 years old, who was in charge of tower "C" at Whitestone Junction, was arrested by order of the coroner this afternoon and held in $10,000 bail. Maize denied that he was responsible for the accident.

Mayes Grants 15 Pardons.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 22.—Acting Governor Will H. Mayes, today granted fifteen pardons, not having devoted most of the day to the consideration of pardons. All of the pardons granted had been acted upon favorably by the Board of Pardons, and were also recommended by the legislative committee which investigated the "lost convicts" in the State penitentiaries, and of which the Acting Governor was chairman. Included among the men pardoned were several who have served over twelve years in the penitentiary.

Full and complete pardons were granted in some instances, while in others the pardons were conditional.

KENDALL COUNTY FAIR

Attendance Was Large and the Exhibits Exceptionally Good.

The Kendall County Fair, which was held at Boerne on Friday and Saturday of last week was a great success in every way. The fair had been postponed from the week before on account of the rain, and out of consideration for this the weather man smiled and the two days of the fair was perfect weather. On account of a large number of working people who could not attend on the two days arranged for the fair, the big exhibit was kept open over Sunday that all might have an opportunity to see it.

The management of the fair is well pleased with the result. Big crowds attended every day, and financially the first fair at the new fair grounds was all that could be asked. The exhibits were large and of a quality that spoke well for the agricultural and live stock industry of Kendall county. In the ladies department the exhibits were of the usual high character.

acted shown by the women of Texas in their handiwork. A very attractive art department was among the chief attractions, and the floral department was a beauty.

The people of Kendall county have good cause to be proud of their fair, and of the splendid manner in which it was conducted.

Pool Halls Must Close.

AUSTIN, Sept. 21.—The attorney general's department rendered an opinion to authorities at Mount Vernon, Tex., to the effect that pool halls at that place will have to close their places of business after an election is had resulting in favor of prohibiting the operation of such halls and in accordance with the law, the result of said election being declared and published, that such law becomes effective when the paper containing the last publication is mailed in the postoffice, and that it will be illegal thereafter for the pool halls to operate.
