KERRVILLE, KERR COUNTY, TEXAS, FRIDAY

The Old Hun Spirit Still in Our Midst

The Hun still is in our midst. The same modern Judas Iscariot who has slunk along the dark alleys of the Nation while American boys were dying in France, betraying, conniving with crimes of every description, dipping his hands in the foulest crimes of history, is still at large.

He was unable to destroy the faith of America in its time of trial.

All the wiles of a degenerate race could not shake the ideals and principles of the United States while the stress of war was upon us; but he has not despaired.

While the Hun across the sea cries: "Mercy, Mercy," when there is no mercy, the Hun in our midst is seeking by every insidious device in his power to dethrone reason and to confound the authorized spokesmen in the coming peace negotiations.

"Brotherly Love" is his theme now.

To a Christian nation he comes with the doctrine which Christ taught.

But he forgets that the same Christ who taught brotherly love did not let the money changers back into the temple. He forgets that a Christian nation does not let its murders go free. He forgets that leniency is only meted to those who deserve leniency.

The graves are still fresh in Flanders. The dismantled homes of thousands of humble, peace loving peasants are still smoking along the old battle front in France.

May there ever be the vision of Americans while the honeyed words of Hunned interests are whispered in beguiling tones to American ears.

The fight against savagery, brutality and oppression still is on.

It behooves every American to remember.

We remembered the Maine, we remembered the Lusitania, but we still have ships on the seas.

The dead children of France and Belgium we did not forget and we cannot forget that their debt has not been paid in full.

France wore the yoke of war, Germany must bear the yoke of peace.

Capt. Inf., U. S. A.

Parent-Teachers Club

There will be a meeting of this organization Dec. 11 at four p. m. in the senior Auditorium, to which all the mothers are invited.

Child welfare will be discussed at this meeting, and there will be a talk on this subject by Mrs. Dawson who understands the care and attention that should be given the children. The basis and center of all earthly life is the family health. It is not by medicine, but by acting in accordance with natural laws, that health of body, and mind and morals can be secured at home. Without a knowledge of such laws, the mothers love too often finds its recompense only in the child's coffin.

A good mother has been called nature's chief adviser, for she is not only the perfection of womanhood, but most beautiful and valuable of nature's productions, to her the world is indebted for the work done by most of its great and gifted men.

Let us attend these meetings which deal with child welfare, and inform ourselves upon the best methods of bringing health and happiness into our homes. Every parent is urged to come whether or not they are members of the Parent Teachers Club.

At the close of the meeting there will be an informal getting together of these present ever cups that cheer but do not intoxicate.

The Boys That Marched Away

The town seems kind o' lonesome Since the Boys have marched away;

("One—Two—Three—Four")

Don't seem like nothin' else 'tall Can ever make it gay;

("One—Two—Three—Four")

Don't 'pear to do no work

Don't hanker after play,

Just like to sit with folded hands

A thinkin' all the day—

A thinkin' and a prayin'

For the Boys who marched away.

Just so high, only yesterday,

They played at soldierin'

("One—Two—Three—Four")

Round the house and down the lane,

'Cross the road and back again;

'Till mother calls, "Come, Laddie, dear,"

For sleepy time is drawing near."

(The drowsy birds chirped soft refrain)

Tomorrow you may march again.

With tired head a noddin',

Droopin' low on mother's breast,

The laddie counts the shinin' stars

A twinklin' in the west—

("One—Two—Three—Four")

While mother sings soft, sweet and low

A cradle song of long ago.

Long lashes droop o'er blue eyes deep,

And baby murmurs, half asleep,

"Now I lay me down—Amen.

Tomorrow I will march again."

Lot o' time we've spent a talkin'

Of that war across the sea;

But we didn't seem to sense it

That 'twould come to you and me.

Even when they was a drillin'

On the square and on the green,

Somehow seemed they still were playin'

The old game of soldierin'.

But there goin's draw us nearer

Mother hearts across the sea,

And somehow 't's brought us closer

To the Christ on Calvary.

And the way they went a marchin'

Left its memory on our hearts—

To the last the staunchest soldiers

Still a playin' out their parts:

Just a clappin' and a cheerin'.

'Cause they knew our hearts was breakin'.

Jus' a wavin' hands an' smilin'

(Though I spect their own was achin')

Jus' the bravest, truest fellows, Actin' like they felt so gay.

'Cause they couldn't bear to grieve us,

That is how THEY marched away.

But some day they'll be comin' home,

A comin' home to stay.

("One—Two—Three—Four")

Then won't there be rejoicin'?

In the old town on that day?

The flag will be a wavin'.

And the bands! How they will play!

And with the long war ended,

We'll be glad they marched away,

For their country's call they answered,

And the Captain there above

Lookin' into hearts courageous

Knew their gift was one of love

With tired head a noddin',

Droopin' low on mother's breast,

The laddie counts the shinin' stars

A two klin' in the west.

("One—Two—Three—Four")

All the pain and hurt forgotten,

Peace and rest are reigning now;

Mother's kisses softly falling

On his lips, his hair, his brow—

PURPOSES OF FOOD ADMINISTRATION THE DAY OF ITS BEGINNING.

The hopes of the Food Administration are threefold: To guide the trade in fundamental food commodities as to eliminate vicious speculation, extortion and wasteful practices and to stabilize prices in essential staples—Herbert Hoover, August 10, 1917.

SEVEN LOAVES OF BREAD FOR EVERY PERSON IN U.S. SAVED FROM WASTE

Farmers and Threshermen Patriotically Respond to Call of Food Administration.

From information received by the U. S. Food Administration from the principal grain growing states, it is now possible to announce with fair accuracy the amount of wheat saved last harvest by improved methods of handling. According to official calculations, efforts toward cleaner threshing and fully 10,000,000 bushels of wheat and corresponding savings of other small grain harvested and threshed in a similar manner. In addition, other sources, though unable to furnish figures, reported greatly reduced harvest losses.

The figure for wheat alone is equivalent to seven one-pound loaves of bread for every person in the United States and represents food that formerly was either an absolute loss or was recovered to only a slight extent by poultry and livestock. While opportunities in this branch of conservation were being early expectations. It is noteworthy also that results were secured principally through voluntary cooperation.

No conservation measure of the Food Administration, it is declared, has received more wholehearted support than that pledged and rendered by farmers and threshermen toward reducing grain waste at its source.

The benefits of our food-saving campaign that was a vital factor in the winning of the war were not all to these we fed. We have at home a new appreciation of food that will prevent it ever being wasted again by those that have come to understand the religion of saving and the place that food occupies in our new, world-wide human relations.

Out of empty granaries to draw 141,000,000 bushels for export—the will of a free people accomplished that marvel.

Do you remember when food was saved by voluntary action was deemed a daring adventure in democracy?

Increasing its toll upon the millions who have been liberated from the Prussian yoke. Famine would undo the work which has been accomplished in freeing the world for democracy. No stable government can be established and maintained by a nation harassed by hunger. A starving people turns to rioting and anarchy. Food has given strength and courage to the nations fighting for democracy. It must now give the nations strength and tranquility to re-establish themselves in freedom and democracy. Without our help it would have been absolutely impossible for the Allies to maintain a living ration. Since our entry into the war we have been contributing largely to the support of one hundred and twenty million people whose normal food supplies have been cut off, whose production has fallen almost to the vanishing point, whose fields have been devastated by Germany. The food exported from the United States in the past year has been sufficient to supply the complete ration of twenty-two million people. It is hard to grasp the magnitude and significance of the assistance which has been lent the Allies by the patriotic voluntary service of the American people. The food we sent abroad last year would have been sufficient to feed one-fifth of our population. And this was done in spite of the fact that we entered the year with short crops. Our surplus was practically nothing. An overwhelming proportion of the food that left this country last year was saved out of the normal home consumption of our own people. In spite of difficulties met in internal transportation and shortage of ocean tonnage our food exports last year amounted to a figure that a few years ago would have been unbelievable. Even the most optimistic element of our population faced with anxious consternation the prospect which opened before us with the beginning of the 1917 harvest year. The American people have not been compelled to save. They have been appealed to on the basis of humanity and of patriotism. They have responded voluntarily. Besides such incidental benefits as the improvement in figure and health that we've reaped from our meatless, wheatless days, think of the fun we've had out of them—the new crop of jokes, jibes, topical songs and cartoons to replace the mother-in-law joke and the boost to our reputation for ready humor!

Eighty millions of men cannot be taken out of production for four years without losing a portion of their fields. It will be years before their fields recuperate, farms are restored and herds restocked. Save food.

Kitchen Oilcloth. When oilcloth is used about the kitchen on shelves or around the sink, paste it on instead of tacking. A much neater appearance is the result and it wears better.

Manliness and Art. Art is a manly business, if every human occupation could be called manly, for the utmost efforts of the strongest men are needed for success in it.—P. G. Hamerton.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES BY FATHER KEMPER

The customary Christmas entertainments will not be given this year by the Notre Dame students or the Mexican pupils on account of the precious time consumed during the quarantine. Vacation begins with school close on Friday the 20th and continues till Thursday, Jan. 2.

Thanksgiving Day, the greatest in the history of our country, was observed religiously and patriotically in accordance with the wishes of President Wilson. A High Mass was sung in St. Mary's Church, followed by the solemn Te Deum and Benediction. Thereafter the scholars of both parochial schools were dismissed to enjoy the legal national holiday.

On the previous day, Wednesday, the Notre Dame children sang a Requiem for their former companion Henry'Irl Reno.

The usual First Friday services were held on the sixth instant at 7:15 a. m. This time is synchronized with St. Nicholas' day. St. Nicholas, popularly known as "Santa Claus," was a bishop of the fourth century remarkable for his charity to the children and the poor, to whom he often brought his offerings by stealth at night.

Sunday is the patronal feast of the United States, namely that of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin. On this day our former Bishop, Rt. Rev. Shaw, will be invested with the pallium as Archbishop of New Orleans by the Apostolic Delegate. Simultaneously the new Bishop for San Antonio, Rt. Rev. Arthur Drossaers, will be consecrated. A personal invitation to the double ceremony was extended to Father Kemper but local obligations make it impossible for him to attend.

Its Too Important—Don't Wait Till After Christmas.

Our students are with us from many different states and the majority of them do not go home for the holidays owing to the great distance, therefore we teach right through the holidays.
The sooner you enter, the sooner you will be holding a good position. Our school is like a big bank or mercantile establishment, it runs throughout the year, we are always well organized and receiving new business every day. Every student gets individual instructions; he is not held back by slow students, or crowded too fast by bright ones; he goes just as fast as his ability will permit. Should he happen to be slow or backward in his work, he is not embarrassed by others knowing how he is getting along. With our methods of individual instruction, and our own copy-righted systems, we are demonstrating that it is useless to attend a commercial school teaching other systems and requiring from seven to ten months to finish the course, when they can finish with us in half that time at half the cost, be more efficient and get a better position, because of their thorough and extensive training. It is our practical methods, our personal attention and our modern systems that enable us to accomplish so much in so short a time.

Our literary subjects, which are given free with our course, are woven into the main courses in such a practical way that they are mastered in half the time required by the old methods, and are thoroughly understood from practical application. We guarantee a better course in less time, at less expense, and a better position than any other school, and it is evident that we have been securing these results or we could not have built up an annual enrollment of more than 3000, and drawn patronage from 39 states and seven foreign countries, and received the approval of the Government to train the returning soldiers and sailors.

The wild joy of the inhabitants is pathetic in the extreme, and especially in Alsace and Lorraine, which is occupied by the Third American army together with the French under General Mangin. These "lost provinces," now regained, have ever remained loyal at heart to France and they welcomed the Allies and the doughboys with open arms.
For Lorraine the great demonstration took place in Metz, which was entered by Mangin's army on Tuesday.
That general was injured the day before when his horse fell, but Marshal Petain was there and, standing before the statue of Marshal Ney in the main square, reviewed the troops. The inhabitants had overturned the German statues in the city and made the place gay with the allied flags and with their own national emblems. Similar scenes were witnessed in Strasbourg and other cities of Alsace. Near the Swiss border the French troops first reached the Rhine.
The American army of occupation, commanded by General Dickman, and about 250,000 strong, marched across the old German frontier into Lorraine and swung to the northward toward Luxembourg, the marines on its right passing into Belgium. In the grand duchy no less than elsewhere the Yankees were enthusiastically greeted. Their advance was made always with due caution, however, and the task of moving so large an army forward steadily and keeping up its supplies and communications was performed in perfect manner.
Meanwhile the British and Belgian armies of occupation were keeping pace with their allies, advancing through Belgium close on the heels of the retreating Germans.

Everywhere the victors found vast stores of weapons and materials which the Huns left in accordance with the stipulations of the armistice, and in general it was said the Germans were carrying out the terms imposed on them. There was pillaging in some places, and occasionally a storehouse was blown up, but these instances were comparatively infrequent. The worst charge against the conquered foe related to the released allied prisoners. Many of these, usually sick and half starved, were merely turned loose to make their way to their friends as best they might.
England sent to Berlin a stern protest against such violations of the armistice terms.

The allied fleets have passed through the Bosphorus to the Black sea, and allied troops have been landed in Onstantinople and on the Gallipoli peninsula. In what was Austria-Hungary the process of occupation also goes on, French troops having entered President Wilson has ended the doubt as to his going to Europe by announcing that he will attend the opening of the peace conference, though it probably will not remain to preside over its sessions or take part in them. The entire government seems to be pleased with this decision. The members of the American delegation had not been announced when this was written, but it was believed they would include former President Taft and perhaps Secretary of Agriculture Houston, as well as Secretary of State Lansing and Colonel He

According to the Washington correspondent the president will need to influence the peace conference in five matters especially. These are:
The creation of a league of nations to enforce peace.
An agreement to reduce military armaments.
An agreement making freedom of the seas a subject of peace subject to regulation by a league of nations.
A square deal for the German people.
All in Russia.

Fear of these the prop, probably will willingly leave to Mr. Wilson and the other diplomats to settle, but the first, a square deal for the German people, is calculated to arouse the apprehension of many millions of people in America and the countries of the Atlantic. Even if they are not demanding revenge, they do demand that a square deal be given America's Britain, France, Belgium, and the other nations that fought Considerable stir was caused by the rumor that the former kaiser intends to return to Germany because his pronouncement in Holland was considered the queen and government of the Dutch. Wilhelmina weathered the crisis and the radical Dutch abandoned their attempt to force her to abdicate, but doubtless she would be glad to get rid of Wilhelm. Hohenzollern. Germany might permit him to return, though the danger of his becoming the center of a reactionary movement is regarded. However, it is to be regarded the peace treaty will settle the fate of the deposed kaiser so that he will never again be considered. Charles of Austria is a better state than William, for though he is said to be a ple nor the allies have any serious chances to make against him.

coups d'etat and made Kozhak the virtual dictator and commander of the all-Russian army and navy. He is called "supreme governor." Several opposing ministers were imprisoned.
What the course of the commissioners of the allied governments will be is not known.

Along the Dvina the bolshevik attacked the allied forces and were repulsed with heavy losses. Since then they have contented themselves with shelling the Russo-allied positions from the gunboats, with which they are better supplied than their adversaries.
An event that was very gratifying to Washington and the entire country was the overthrow of the Ukrainian government and the capture of Kiev by anti-bolshevik troops from Astrakhan under General Denikin.
This opens the way for the allies directly into the heart of Russia. While they were being ousted at home, the Ukrainians were engaged in continuous fighting with the Poles in Galicia, where they had taken Lemberg, and in Bukovina, where they held Chernovitz. There, as in the Ukraine, the Ukrainians were helped by German officers.

No news has come from eastern Siberia, nor is much to be expected, since its dissemination is under the control of the Japanese. The recent lifting of the censorship does not seem to apply to that region.

The government took two steps last week that aroused much comment and not a little protest. The first was an order making effective governmental control of all the marine cable systems of the United States; and the second was the consolidation of the services of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies under governmental control. Postmaster General Burleson is in control.

Congress adjourned on November 15 in order that the members might have a brief rest before the short session opens on December 2. The president has planned that all important legislation shall be held up during his absence in Europe, the scheme being to have the vice president and speaker withhold their signatures to bills or orders; but considerable opposition to this plan is developing. Many leaders of Congress contend that there is an urgent necessity for legislation in the present emergency of reconstruction, in which America already is being outstripped by European nations.

President Wilson signed the food production stimulation bill with the provision rider, and consequently the United States will be "bone dry" from June 30, next until the time when the rationing of its fighting forces has been completed. The importation of all intoxicating drinks stops at once, except that wines may be imported until May 1, 1918. The liquor licensees may contest the constitutionality of the law.

SELF

Fifteen years ago we put our first Kerrville Christmas Ad in The Mountain Sun that in this corner we may say, just between you and us and the gatepost, that The Mountain Sun each week contains some exclusive features that you will be glad to see, and as the cost is so small, slightly less than the postage on one letter a week, the circulation department has suggested to the "Den" that we suggest to you and to your friends that if not already subscribing you drop $1.50 in the slot and get on the list.

Somehow, all through his thirty years' newspaper experience, this editor has felt strongly drawn to the folk in the homes that are visited every week by the paper he helps make. "Impersonal Journalism" may be all right for the big city dailies, which are primarily for money-making, but in the country newspaper work, where the makers of the home paper come right down to earth and live and breathe and have their being right alongside Neighbor Smith and Fellow Citizen Jones, we confess to a weakness for the "personal" side. We love to touch elbows, as it were, with the folks about us—love to know something of their joys, their sorrows, their hopes—love to get a friendly slap between the shoulders sometimes—yes, even love to have a friendly word of criticism and advice when it is given in the right spirit. Come in just any time and cheer along our way.

Der Kaiser imagined himself the modern Attila, but it was only imagination; he now knows that Foch is the real modern Caesar and Napoleon rolled into one. What Caesar and Napoleon accomplished der Kaiser only dreamed of. Caesar made Rome a greater Rome, Napoleon made France a greater France; but der Kaiser made Germany what? A wreck—and the amount of salvage depends upon the German people, whom der Kaiser essayed to lead and has now deserted ex-Congressman Bob McNary at the head of the movement; it is likely that material results will follow.

With oodles of sweet potatoes in East Texas; and the crop undiminished; with wheat in West Texas, and the supply of yearlings increasing rapidly, the man who is afraid he'll starve to death in this State ought to hurry up and do so at once, so as not to worry others with his pessimism.

When a voting precinct makes a habit of casting an average of six hundred votes in a primary election (and we know of such a precinct) and then casts less than one hundred and fifty in the general election, we are forced to the conclusion that there are some very indifferent Democrats in that precinct or no Republicans at all.

Red Cross Christmas Roll Call Organized

The committee on the Red Cross Christmas Drive met Wednesday at the Business Men's Club to discuss ways and means for handling the annual Membership Drive. Mr. Rawson is Chairman of the Drive with Mr. Huntington as Cashier and Mrs. G. M. Doyle as City and County Chairman of the Women's Committee. Those present at the meeting were: Mr. Renschel, Mr. Rawson, Mr. Huntington, Mr. Carpenter, Mrs. Dole, Mrs. Wallace, Miss Florrie Galbraith, Mrs. Weiss, Mrs. Gedde, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Fiske, Mrs. Compette, Mrs. Otto Schwetzel and Mrs. Dede Garrett. Other members of the committee will be announced later.

If you ever saw prettier mornings than some this week has given us, you certainly must be an old settler. Clear and crisp, with the mercury as low as 18 above zero, the mornings have been glorious and invigorating, almost enough to cure a grouch of his pessimism.

Private Robert K. Everett, who is stationed in the U. S. Marine barracks at Paris Island, South Carolina, arrived a few days since on an eighteenth-days furlough to visit his homefolk near town, only to learn upon arrival that they had recently moved to Northwest Texas, near Wichita Falls. He wired for an extension of his furlough and will follow them up.

Capt. C. J. Seeber, who organized and took our Kerr County volunteer company into service when Uncle Sam entered the world war, spent several days here on furlough since last issue, and was warmly greeted by his many friends. My Kerr County boys have a record their homefolk need never be ashamed of," said Capt. Seeber. He is now in command of Co. H, 62nd Pioneer Inf., stationed at Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg, S. C. and is strongly in hope that his regiment will be ordered to Europe for reconstruction work, the pioneers being similar to the engineers, and a tremendous mount of such work is to be done in the battle-torn section.

Mrs. A. C. Schreiner left Friday for San Antonio, where she went to meet Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schreiner Jr. and little daughter Nellie Ganter, who are returning from a three months stay in Louisville, Ky., where Mr. Schreiner attended the Officers Training Camp at Camp Zachary Taylor.

LIBERTY BONDS.

Every Bond holder is a patriot of the United States, and it is a poor exchange to trade a Liberty Bond for stock in an oil company of doubtful value.

Of the many millions of acres of public lands the title of which is in the Federal Government, the United States owns some 53,000,000 acres of coal lands.

To exchange a United States Liberty Bond for stock in a coal company of doubtful value is not sound finance. Safety first is a good business motto for Liberty Bond holders.

Why you should use Cardui the woman's tonic, for your troubles, have been shown in thousands of letters from actual users of this medicine, who speak from personal experience. If the results obtained by other women for so many years have been so uniformly good, why not give Cardui a trial?

Take CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Mary J. Irvin, of Cullen, Va., writes: "About 14 years ago, I suffered untold misery from female trouble, bearing-down pains, headache, numbness... I would go for three weeks almost bent double... My husband went to Dr. for Cardui... After taking about two bottles I began going around and when I took three bottles I could do all my work." E-80

Bronchial Trouble.

Mrs. A. E. Sidenberder, Rockfield, Ind., states: "For an attack of bronchial trouble which usually assails me in the spring I find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the only thing that gives me relief. After using it for a few days all signs of bronchial trouble disappears."

Primitive Methods of Farming. In Central America many primitive agricultural implements are still retained. The native farmer still uses a plow with a crooked tree-branch pointed with iron. The objection to the modern two-handled plow is that one hand is needed for guiding the animal, hence the introduction into Honduras of a trial modern-style plow with one handle.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is Quicksilver and Acts Like Dynamite on Your Liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system. When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up on one side, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. It is to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't grip. It is good business and it is a tonic to hold your Liver.
