CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES BY FATHER KEMPER

Sunday night at 7:30 p. m. there will be a scriptural lecture in St. Mary's Church, to which non-Catholics are cordially invited.

High mass will be sung at ten o'clock. Rosary will be recited at 3:00 p. m. During the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament.

Last Sunday Father Kemper baptized two pair of twins at Comfort, Miss. The first couple were brothers, and received the name of Cosmas and Damian respectively. The second pair was a brother and sister, and they were christened Benedict and Scholastica. The son of Chas. Landry, blacksmith of Camp Verde, was also baptized at the same time.

On Tuesday evening Mr. Albert Benson was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Lina Fassal of Fredericksburg. Sponsors were Mr. Felix Kraus and Miss Emelia Staudt. Mr. Clarence Mosel and Miss Nora Bargas. The wedding took place in the priest-house. Last Thursday afternoon Mr. Victor E. Roth, a jeweler of New Braunfels, was married to Miss Edna Hamilton, by Father Kemper, in the residence of Mr. James M. Hamilton. This second couple will make their home in the native city of the bridegroom.

The Parish Dramatic Club will give their entertainment on Friday, Oct. 30th at 7:30 p. m. in Washington Hall of Notre Dame Institute. For the convenience of the countless friends who have been anxiously awaiting this annual Halloween celebration, tickets will be procurable early in the week at the rate of fifteen cents for children, and twenty-five cents for adults. Owing to the limited seating capacity, it is well to make your reservations as soon as possible. You will enjoy the delightful program, and will at the same time have the satisfaction of helping a worthy enterprise.

Mr. Carl Larken left for the Hot Wells on Tuesday. Mrs. Susie Hero, the peregrinating Arabian saleslady from Floresville, was a busy visitor here last week. Mrs. Frank Kreuger returned earlier than she had anticipated from visiting her relatives around Yorktown, on account of an attack of chronic illness. Mr. Wm. Reno has sold his blacksmith shop and will soon move with his family to San Antonio, where they will join the St. Francis family.

write United States officers. Postmaster before United States Commissioner Edwards purposed to show that Gomez had offered Immigration Inspector Reynolds and Deputy United States Marshal Dibrell, who made the arrest, a diamond ring valued at $500 and $1,000 in Mexican money if they would release him.

Gomez was jailed on failure to furnish $2,500 bond. Immigration department officials will ask for his deportation upon the ground of his being an undesirable alien. The military tribunal in the city of Mexico charges Gomez with the killing of an American, J. C. Dennis, near San Luis Potosi, last May.

Voters, Take Notice.

To the voters of Commissioner's Precinct No. 1, Kerr County:

Prior to your present commissioner I served you in such capacity for ten years. At that time we had no sufficient road fund with which to do any permanent road work and had very few men in the precinct who had any experience in building good roads.

Last year $40,000 worth of bonds were issued for the improvement of the roads of this precinct. I am heartily in accord with the movement and so far as it is possible for me to expend the balance of the fund allotted to each road, I shall carry out the plan of the present commissioner. I realize that in building good roads that experience in such work is a valuable asset and I would not favor any change in the road working force if possible to retain them. I favor a progressive administration of our county affairs judicially and economically administered and at the same time I favor the lowering of the county tax rate to the minimum as soon as possible, if same can be done without detriment to the public good.

I favor a business administration of our affairs and at the same time advance as our finances and resources will permit without becoming a burden to the taxpayers.

Respectfully, FRITZ A. KARGER. (Political Advertisement)

"HOW rapidly our ideas change. Take the stoves, for instance, that I and every one else used to think were such wonderful heaters.

"Why, they are nothing compared to one I saw the other day. They call it—

Cole's Original Air-Tight Wood Stove

"Talk about heat! I never saw anything to beat it. It had thin, polished sides—that smooth, shiny kind, and how the heat came through it.

"They had it in a great, big room—must have been down to freezing at least when they started the fire—and in five minutes it was fine to sit in.

"Burns wood, you know. You can shut it up tight and keep the fire all night with dry wood.

"And it stays tight, too, when you close it—one of the Air-Tight, Stay-Tight kind made by the Cole Mfg. Co.

"The combustion is so perfect that you only take out the ashes once in six weeks.

"Greatest wood-stove, so they all say, and just what I am going to have for our house."

It is foolish that man knows a good stove when he sees one. Come to end of us show 3-U what took his fancy.

$150,000,000 Pool Is Assured.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 19.—The formation of the $150,000,000 cotton fund is assured, according to a statement from Festus J. Wade, head of the committee entrusted with the duty of raising the subscriptions received by Henry D. Lindsay, president of the Dallas cotton syndicate, today. In his statement Mr. Wade gives much credit to the banking institutions of New York for what he terms, the "magnificent manner in which they responded" by agreeing to subscribe one third of the total, or $50,000,000. In addition to the above Mr. Wade announces that the United States government is doing everything it can do to broaden the market for cotton and that the governments of England, Germany, Austria, Japan and China are being urged to protect their own textile industries by purchasing American cotton now. He points out that those who fail to buy now at war prices will later be unable to equitably compete with the manufacturers in such countries as do purchase.

The Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters entertained Rev. and Mrs. S. J. Drake at a farewell party at the Pythian Hall on Thursday night of last week.

At the close of the regular business meeting of the Knights the ladies took charge of the program, and spread a feast that would have put to shame the good cheer of famed King Arthur's table. School Children May Dance Modern Steps.
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Chicago public school children will be allowed to dance the "hesitation" and other new waltzes at school functions as a result of a ruling today by Mrs. Flagg Young, superintendent of schools. Variations of the waltz and other steps danced to ragtime will be barred.

"When these dances were forbidden in schools," said Mrs. Young, "the students went to the public dance halls, where they learned questionable steps. The children have not been satisfied with the waltz and two-step alone."

McAdoo's Ideas are Wanted.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Secretary McAdoo of the treasury department has been invited to appear before the house rules committee tomorrow morning and express his views concerning three bills pending there for relief of the cotton producer. Chairman Henry believes a special rule on one of the bills with the other two as pending amendments, will be reported to the house for consideration before adjournment.

One of the cotton bills Mr. Henry introduced calls for advancement of $500,000,000 on cotton by the government through banks at 10c per pound and held until market goes to 12c. Another was offered by Mr. Henry of Oklahoma for the cotton conference for advancement by the government of $250,000,000 to the producers of cotton and tobacco at 4 per cent, the machinery being worked out by the secretary of the treasury, and the banks being used as fiscal agents to transact the business for the government.

The third bill is by Mr. Hardwick of Georgia for depositing $250,000,000 in banks of the South and only in such banks as will agree to lend it to producers of cotton and tobacco at a rate not exceeding 4 per cent, thus making it a bank transaction in place of a governmental one. This is the essential feature of the bill by Mr. Howard of Georgia, and in some respects the bill of Mr. Vaughan of Texas.

Priest Kills Agent and Stops Train.
Chicago, Oct. 29.—Father J. J. Mullen, pastor of the Holy Rosary Church, tonight stabbed and killed Thomas W. Patterson, the station agent at Hillside, a suburb, following a quarrel in which Patterson had no part. The priest then stood on the right of way of the Illinois Central Railroad, stopped a through train, and threatening passengers and train crew with a knife, boarded it. He was overpowered after a struggle and locked up at Hillside.

According to the housekeeper at Father Mullen's parish house, he left there this morning in his automobile, taking a friend named Scemoni. They were going to gather mushrooms, she said.

According to Scemoni, the priest and himself, visited a number of suburban towns, arriving at Hillside early in the afternoon. There, Scemoni said, there was an argument about the European war in which his views did not coincide with those of the priest. Father Mullen then was led around in a rage, Scemoni said, going down the railroad track and turning into the railway, where Patterson, the agent, and his wife lived. He paced the platform for awhile and then beat on the door of the station. When Patterson opened it he was attacked, Scemoni said.

Carranza's Family Sent to Border.
EAGLE PASS, Tex., Oct. 29.—The family of Venustiano Carranza, Constitutional first chief, reached the Mexican border today. It was announced that they would make their residence temporarily at Piedras Negras, opposite here, on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

The move was reported to be for the safety of Carranza's family in case of developments unfavorable to him. Piedras Negras was Carranza's provisional capital when his revolution was in its early stages. It is in the State of Coahuila, his home territory, over which he was governor when he raised his revolt against Huerta.

It is said on good authority here that Carranza remarked he might have difficulty in getting his family out of the country, but that as for himself, with the family in safety, he could fight his way out.

Ready for Conference.
AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 29.—The fifteenth annual session of the West Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will convene at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning in the First Methodist Church of this city and continue through the week.

By courtesy of the First Southern Presbyterian Church, the boards of the conference will meet each afternoon at that church. These boards are as follows: Education, missions, church extension, Epworth League, American Bible Society, Sunday school and the joint board of finance. The standing committees will meet each afternoon at the First Baptist Church. These committees are: Temperance and Sabbath observance, conference relations, district conference records, books, periodicals, orphanage and rescue home and memoirs.

Steel Trust Case Arguments Heard.
Philadelphia, October 29.—Final argument in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation, the greatest combination of capital in the world on the ground that it was created in violation of the Sherman antitrust law, was begun here today before four United States circuit judges, sitting as the United States court for the district of New Jersey, in which jurisdiction the proceedings were instituted. The case is being heard by Judges Bufington (presiding), McPherson, Hunt, formerly of commerce court, and Woolley, recently appointed to succeed Judge Gray, retired.

It is agreed that the entire week should be devoted to the arguments. J. M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, who has had charge of the case for the government since the inception opened the argument. Henry E. Colton, special assistant to the attorney general, also will speak for the government.

Among counsel for the steel corporation is George Welwood Murray, New York, who will argue in behalf of John D. Rockefeller and his son, Thy, with Andrew Carnegie, George W. Perkins, E. H. Gary, Charles M. Schwab, Henry C. Frick and others are involved in the suit.

After citing the decisions in the Tobacco, Standard Oil, Northern Securities and Harvester cases, Mr. Dickinson plunged into the formation of the corporation and instanced numerous cases of what he alleged to be vicious practices in suppressing competition in the manufacture of iron and steel in wire and tin plate.

Mr. Dickinson, discussing the merging of the five great industrial and financial interests, including the Morgan interests, properties controlled by the Carnegie company of New Jersey, Moore interests, the Gates interests and the Rockefeller interests. He enumerated the directors of the company to show how the various interests were interlocked. The government charged Andrew Carnegie was one of the "active conspirators" in bringing about the combination and took his bonds, secured by the merged property, with full knowledge of the essential features of the conspiracy.

Capt. Robert E. Lee Dead.
Washington, October 29.—Word was received here today of the death of Captain Robert E. Lee, youngest son of General Robert E. Lee, the Confederate commander, at Upperville, Va., last night. He had been seriously ill for some time. The body will be interred at Lexington, Va., Friday morning.

Doctor Charged With Killing Two.
Walnut Ridge, Ark., Oct. 19.—Dr. J. C. Hughes was arrested here today charged with the murder of Alf Bagley and of his father, I. J. Bagley, who were shot and killed in Walnut Ridge October 22, 1910.

Seven years ago Dr. Hughes was a witness against Alf Bagley, who was charged with killing an officer. Bagley was acquitted, but killed from ambush three years later. His father was killed while on his way to purchase burial clothes for his son.

Dr. Hughes was evanescent of killing the elder Bagley by a coroner's jury in 1911. John Bagley, a brother of Alf, also was killed by a mysterious shot from a Walnut Ridge store. Last month Solon Crooks, a son-in-law of the elder Bagley, was killed from ambush.

The arrest of Dr. Hughes is the first ever made for any of the four murders.

AT HOME

The Mountain Sun is now at home in the new Schreiner block. We have a beautiful, modern home, and everybody is welcome here. The new building stands on the identical spot where The Sun was born, fifteen years ago. Though our volume number shows thirty-two years, seventeen of them were inherited from the old Kerrville Paper, published by the late and much-loved Ed Smallwood, which was absorbed by The Sun after Mr. Smallwood's death. The first issue of the Mountain Sun, under that name was published Christmas 1899, in a little wooden building that stood on the exact spot where the new office now stands. During those fifteen years there have been many changes in the city of Kerrville. We came among the people of Kerr County, and of southwest Texas, a stranger, and they took us in, and for all these years they have been kind to us. We have tried to reciprocate in kind, and have given fifteen of the best years we could hope to have to the business of building up a great weekly newspaper, and at the same time doing all we could to build up the town of Kerrville, the county of Kerr, and the State of Texas. That which in our judgment has been for the best interest of the community we have cheerfully given our unstinted support. When it has been possible for us to do a good turn to some other section or community, we have as cheerfully lent a hand. The position of The Kerrville Mountain Sun among the weekly newspapers of the State, and the fact that wherever Kerrville is known, and that is in diverse and many quarters of the globe, The Kerrville Mountain Sun is known, and is credited with having been one of the chief agencies in the progress of the town and this section of the state, is our reward for all the labor we have expended.

During those years it has been our pleasure to serve the people in many capacities, but in none of them have we been so able, we believe, to render the service that our employers merit, as when speaking our through the columns of the Kerrville Mountain Sun in the interest of the Hill Country of southwest Texas.

We are, as stated, now at home and ready to receive company, both for pleasure and for profit. We are not going to give a one-day "house warming," but desire it understood that our days of welcoming the people of Kerrville, and of southwest Texas, and all the strangers that may come within our gates, are all the days that we shall be permitted to publish a newspaper. If you bring us something that should not be printed we will candidly tell you so, and probably a little later you will thank us for doing it.

We are going to keep right on publishing the Mountain Sun, and follow the same policy that has placed it in the position it occupies. We are not always going to tell the truth because sometime we might tell a truth that would hurt you very badly. On the other hand we are not going to intentionally and knowingly publish lies, because no one can profit from them.

In conclusion, we thank the good people of Kerrville and the Hill Country for a generous support in all our undertakings, and pledge them a continuation of the very best service we are capable of giving.

Troops Not to Depart Mexico Until Christmas.

Galveston, Oct. 29.—The evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American troops will not take place until after Christmas, if then, is the news brought to Galveston by passengers on the United States transport, San Marcos, that made port Monday with a large number of passengers, the majority of them army men. The news was brought, too, that the outposts had been ordered strengthened by General Frederick Funston as a precautionary measure. The army men say, however, that an attack is not expected. They say a bag of supplies was stopped.

Colonel Daniel Cornman, commander of the Seventh Infantry, arrived on the transport on sick leave. Colonel Cornman has been in poor health for several weeks in Vera Cruz, and was, in fact, carried aboard the transport on a stretcher. The ocean trip improved his health, however, and he was able to walk ashore unassisted.

Twenty-one enlisted men and two marines were aboard the transport, taking the trip for the pleasure of it. This is vacation week in Vera Cruz for many of the men, and when given the opportunity to make the trip to the states and back with the transport they embraced it. The San Marcos will return to Vera Cruz with wood and supplies, and will be re-arranged to her regular run, leaving Galveston on the 15th and 20th of each month within a short time.

Hardin Moore is Asked to Resign.

WAXAHACHIE, Tex., Oct. 28.—Judge Moore, Democrat, member of the Legislature from Ellis County, and the County Treasurer, announced yesterday that he had written a letter in which he gave a general statement to some of the principles of socialism. The committee was hastily called together to consider Mr. Moore's letter. Some of the committee members thought Mr. Moore should withdraw his resignation, in view of his letter, but Mr. Moore did not indicate what he would do. The committee was called again to meet this afternoon, and it is understood he was asked to resign.

Residence Burns.

Fire broke out in the residence occupied by Mrs. Dalis Kent at the corner of Mountain and Jefferson streets, last Saturday evening about dusk. The fire started from some unknown cause, in the second story, and was well under way before the occupants of the building were aware of it. An alarm was promptly turned in, and the fire company responded with alacrity. All the furniture and household goods were removed from the ground floor, and a safe from the second story was also saved. The building was badly damaged, the entire roof being practically ruined.

How Much Blindness Could be Prevented.

There are about 300,000 blind people in the United States. It costs about $15,000,000 a year to support them. Probably 75 per cent of this blindness is due to two causes, namely, sore eyes at birth and neglected eyes during early school life. The first cause can be removed in the simplest manner. All that is necessary is for the doctor, or midwife to drop into the eyes of the newly born babe a few drops of a 2 per cent solution of nitrate of silver. This will kill the germs that produce the disease which almost fills so many blind asylums.

How easy this is, and how much good would be produced to the human race if this procedure was always carried out! Those who are about to become fathers and mothers should see to it that this simple act is performed. It costs nothing, is harmless, it prevents blindness, it can easily be done, therefore, it should invariably be done!

The second cause of blindness is the neglect of children's eyes during early school life. Thousands of eyes could be saved every year if eye diseases and defects were detected and cared for in early life. Eye diseases are frequently quite simple at the start, but rapidly become worse if neglected. The eyes of school children should be examined every year, and diseases and defects detected.

Local boards of health could do this if they had sufficient money to employ competent doctors or school nurses, but boards of health are proverbially "hard up," and usually have not enough available money. Boards of education could employ doctors or nurses, but boards of education are also often insufficiently supplied with money.

School teachers can do this work without additional expense. Instructions have been published in periodicals and books many times, and the plan is perfectly easy and practical. When accomplished it will be as great a blessing to the teachers as to the scholars; for by transforming stupid children to bright children, their daily work will be much easier.

Teachers cannot and should not attempt to diagnose or treat eye diseases, but by the accepted tests they can tell that something is the matter. At the same time that the eye tests are made the teacher should also examine the ears, noses and throats of her pupils. Simple methods for such examinations can be learned in a few minutes by any competent teacher.

Dr. Cronin has found that 39 per cent of school children were two years behind their grades and that 90 per cent of this is due to eye, ear, nose and throat diseases or defects. He examined 150 defectives in one school and found that 127 of them had ear, nose and throat defects, and that thirteen of them had eye defects. These conditions were relieved and in six months 75 per cent of the children were re-examined. They were all doing well and were rapidly advancing in school. Their character had also remarkably changed for the better. Such a plan which has been successfully carried out in over 100 towns and cities during the past year involves no expense to the taxpayers, relieves the medical profession of the suspicion of urging medical inspection of schools for selfish reasons and yet enables the teacher to separate the normal pupil from the defective and to recognize the defects in vision under which some of her pupils labor.

For Trade.

I will trade eighty acres, over forty in cultivation, one mile from Pleasanton, Atascosa County, for a farm at or near Kerrville or Center Point. Pleasanton is the fastest growing town in Texas. In the junction of two railroads. At Pleasanton is located the round house, offices, machine shops, etc., of the S. A. V. & G. railroad. Good soil and plenty of fresh water at shallow depth. Arabian well on my farm. For further information write. Good six room house, barn and other improvements.

Toned up Whole System.

"Chamberlain's Tablets have done more for me than I ever dared hope for," writes Mrs. Esther Mae Baker, Worcester, N. Y. "I used several boxes of these tablets a few months ago. They not only cured me of bilious attacks, but toned up my whole system." For sale by all dealers.

Would Inspire Confidence by Regulating Stock Rialto.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—A tremendous opportunity to inspire the public with confidence and take a step in the direction of restoring normal financial conditions, in the opinion of Senator Miles Poindexter of Washington, would be for the New York Stock Exchange to submit voluntarily to some form of government regulation before reopening for trading.

"I believe that the New York Stock Exchange should be regulated by the national government," said Senator Poindexter today, "but, of course, it will be impossible for congress to enact any legislation in the immediate future looking toward the regulation of stock exchanges. Adjourment is upon us, and the next session is the short one in which we will not have much more than enough time to put through the appropriation bills."

"I do not know whether it would be practicable for the state of New York to put into effect any scheme of governmental regulation before the time for reopening the exchange comes or not, but certainly some such regulation should be had. In the event that it is possible to get through any legislation, either state or federal, the stock exchange members should show to the public their desire to protect everybody from the suspicion of double dealing and offer voluntarily to permit such regulation without any law being passed compelling it."

While declaring that it was highly desirable that some form of governmental regulation should be imposed on the New York Stock Exchange before its re-opening, Senator Shafer, one of the senators on the banking committee, who stood by Senator Owen in his efforts to have passed last winter a bill for the regulation of stock exchanges, admitted today that there was no immediate prospect of national legislation.

"I think something ought to be done by the state of New York," said Senator Shafer. "There is intense opposition in congress to any federal regulation, but there should be no opposition to state regulation. Measures hurried through are usually so full of holes as to be worthless," he said.

"Perhaps the ideal situation would be for the New York Stock Exchange governors to submit voluntarily to some form of regulation."

KERRVILLE MERCANTILE CO.

Says Railroads Face Crisis.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 19.—"We are facing a financial crisis which, unless it is averted soon, will mean receiverships for practically all the railroads operating in Missouri." Such was the substance of a plea for relief presented to Governor Elliott W. Mayor today by B. F. Rush, president of the Missouri Pacific Iron Mountain system and spokesman for the heads of nine other Missouri railroads, who were present.

The ten officials were unanimous in the declaration that freight and passenger rates on interstate business are so low that it is almost impossible to serve the public without a loss. A reduction in rates of 25 per cent, the men declare was followed by increases in the cost of labor and material necessary to railroads. Governor Major promised careful consideration of their pleas.

Details of Decree Received.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Details of the decree of the Carranza government vacating all of the mining concessions granted and titles issued by the Huerta government have reached the state department through the Brazilian minister, in charge of American interests in Mexico.

The decree repeats the declaration of Carranza and fixes the period of time within which all of the Huerta acts are invalidated as from Feb. 19, 1913, to Aug. 15, 1914. It covers all acts executed by the mining agencies of the Mexican republic. As a matter of equity, all interested persons are granted sixty days from Sept. 3 to apply for titles, by default of which the land will be considered as free to appropriation by any interested person. In all new applications the interested persons are required to deposit $5, the stamp tax for the new title.

Bryan Says Wilson Deserves Support.

JOPLIN, Mo., Oct. 19.—Declaring that President Wilson had "made good and consequently should be supported," Secretary of State Bryan in an address here tonight urged the election of democratic United States senators and representatives.

"I come to you tonight with a record of things that have been accomplished, such as has never been equalled by any other administration in the same time," declared Mr. Bryan. "No other congress had better earned its salary and the president could not have done what he has done if he had not a democratic senate and house. When I see how necessary it is for a president to have the support of the senate and house, my regret at not having been elected president in 1896 is not as great as it used to be. The acts of the president are alpha and omega, but the senate and the house are the rest of the alphabet."

In discussing the Mexican question, Secretary Bryan said "the mothers of this country are grateful for a president who desires all the world at peace."

Mr. Bryan described peace treaties which the United States has recently negotiated with other nations and stated that before Christmas he hoped to have treaties made with practically every important nation in the world.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 20.—A luncheon given in his honor today by former President Taft was the final incident in the visit to Washington of Henry Watterston, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Colonel Watterston's visit to the White House ended the differences existing between President Wilson and George Harvey, former editor of Harper's Weekly, and Mr. Watterston. His visit, like that of Mr. Harvey's recently, was on the invitation of President Wilson."

Don't take this course. Kerrville residents should profit by the following experience.

F. A. Maier, San Antonio, St. New Braunfels, Texas, says: "For a long time my back ached and I felt as if I wanted to sit down all the time. My head ached and my kidneys didn't do their work regularly. I had no ambition when I got up in the morning and didn't feel like doing anything. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and had used them only a short time before I felt better. My kidneys became normal, the pain left and I gained in health and strength. I have had no sign of kidney trouble since I was cured. I gladly repeat my former praise for Doan's Kidney Pills."

"THE MASTER BUILDERS"

Old Things Appeal to Us

Sometimes when a fellow gets bilious and his tobacco don't taste good, he thinks he wants to try something new. Generally he finds the old things that have been tried in the crucible of time are best suited to his tastes after all. When he reaches that conclusion he very wisely goes back to them, and finds the same old excellence of flavor is there, the same old friendly feeling that he has known so long, and he says: "I just thought I wanted a change, but there is nothing like the old established things in life.

It is the same way in business. It is the old-established things that count. Things cannot become old without a starting point, it is true; but you and I know that a pipe never smokes just right until it is old, a violin never makes the sweetest music until age has ripened its tone, friends are never fully cherished until time has placed the seal of genuineness on them. So, in the matter of business concerns, it takes time to try them. Time and years of experience smooth out the rough places of business policy. A good, safe, just business policy, like an old violin in the hands of a master, has its tone ripened and all the friction and discord removed. It is a pleasure to do business with such a house, an "Old House" with such a ripened, perfected business policy as has stood the test of years and is still strong and full of life.

This is the "Old House" in the lumber trade of this section of Texas. We not only appreciate our friends who have made such a business possible in Kerrville, but extend a cordial invitation to all to visit us and find out about our way of handling orders for lumber and supplies in any quantity.

Plaintiff Has Say at Judge.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 19.—William K. Forlong, who claims the democratic congressional nomination for the Fourth Illinois district, standing in Judge Wines' court today, and claiming at the judge, said: "This is the most honorable decision ever rendered in an American court. You may call it up if you please."

Forlong claimed James T. McDermott, who resigned as representative following the Mulhall charges and entered the present primaries for "redemption," obtained the nomination by fraudulent votes. The official canvass, however, confirmed McDermott's nomination and Forlong sought to bring the case into court.

A technical mistake in procedure prevented Judge Wines from taking cognizance of the case. Forlong's outburst followed.

"This was the crookedest primary ever held in Chicago," Forlong continued. "Fifteen thousand persons who voted for me have a right to be heard in this case. Your honor has no right to throw me out of court."

"Will you stop?" was all the court said, but he said it four times without quenching the indignation of the defeated candidate. Beyond this he took no notice of the defiance.

Mexico Gives Word U. S. Requests Are To Be Met at Vera Cruz.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 21.—Prompt withdrawal of the American forces from Vera Cruz was foreshadowed today by the approval given by the Mexican National Convention at Aguas Calientes to the requests of the American Government for protection of Mexicans who served the United States and for other desired guarantees.

The State Department received word that the convention had instructed General Carranza to comply with the American Government's requests and a proclamation is to be issued by him covering the various points involved.

The American Government asked not only that clericals and Mexicans who served the American force during their occupation be free from deportation or punishment, but that taxes and customs duties already collected by the American officers be returned.

American Consul Silliman arranged these questions with General Aguirre, Constitutional commander in the vicinity of Vera Cruz, after which the subject was referred by Carranza to the national assembly.

It is not known what when the troops and ships will be ordered from Vera Cruz, but it was intimated the action of the United States would be taken irrespective of the deliberations of the convention on the question of a provisional government.

Reports General Villa had moved an army within threatening distance of the convention were not credited by Administration officials, who pointed to the fact only yesterday American Consul Agent Carrothers telegraphed that Villa said he had purposely drawn his forces from the vicinity of Aguas Calientes so as not to appear to be courting the assembly a charge which he believed Carranza officials readily would make against him.

Those killed were S. Frank Johnson and W. Everett Rhodes of Smithville, engineer and fireman, respectively, on the wrecked train, and Ben Campbell of Bellmeade, a fireman. The latter died at a Temple hospital tonight as a result of his injuries.

At the general office of the Katy Railroad here today it was said that it had no information as yet as to the cause of the derailment. The official list of injured, as issued from the railroad's headquarters here, is as follows:

Late this afternoon the Katy railroad office issued the following statement relative to the accident:

"Katy train No. 6, northbound, from Galveston and San Antonio, was derailed at milepost 391, about one mile north of Bartlett at 4:12 a. m., Oct. 19. Engineer J. P. Johnson and fireman D. E. Rhodes were killed; an extra fireman, B. F. Campbell, whose presence on the engine was unauthorized, was badly injured. Engine and tender jumped the track, turning over. Mail car, baggage car and combination mail and coach, the first three cars in the train, turned crosswise on the tracks. The fourth car, Galveston chair car, derailed, but did not turn over. Balance of the train remained upright.

The train was running at about twenty-five miles an hour and on straight track in small hill. Tracks torn up for about four hundred feet. A few negroes in mail combination car claim to be slightly injured. No other passengers were injured in the slightest degree. Doctors from Granger and Bartlett were hurried to the point of derailment to look after those claiming injury. Passenger train No. 2, which follows No. 6, pulled sleepers back to Taylor. Train No. 2 and the sleepers of No. 6 were derailed via International & Great Northern to Milano, thence Santa Fe to Temple."

Religious Sect Causes Epidemic of Diphtheria.

Iola, Kan., Oct. 19.—The epidemic of diphtheria has broken out in Gascon, a town of 1,500 inhabitants near here. Schools have been closed. Seventeen new cases have been reported in the past twenty-four hours.

The epidemic has been raging for ten days and two deaths have resulted.

It is said the disease was spread by a family belonging to a religious sect which refused to call a doctor when their daughter was stricken, but took her to one of their meetings and prayed over her.

The Fool Hunter's Prayer.

These are the golden autumn days the rich, full, six-cylinder, 40-horse power October days. These are the days when every man with red blood in his veins yearns to get out into the glorious woods and shoot a hunter or a guide. Let the indolent sedentary loll in his office chair. Let the devotee of indoor sports push the balls around the pool table, but as for us, give us a gun and a beltfull of buckshot shells and turn us loose. Turn us loose where the underbrush is good and thick and let us pepper the festive hunter in his hunting pants. Or, if the fates be kind, let us shoot a guide on the wing, or on the left clavicle, or even on the run. What cares a good sportsman where he shoots a guide as long as he shoots him? Oh, care naught. He little reck. So hail, mighty Nimrod! hail Diana, hail! Also snow. And if the fates and the gods and goddesses of the hunt, prove unkind, then lead us to the cheerful and romantic rail fence and inspire us to climb over and drag our gun after us. And then, Oh spirit of the chase! strike the coroner on us quickly, that we may not remain remains too long and thus muss up the thrice glorious golden October landscape.

The Army and Mental Disease.

The mental anguish, depicted by the numerous tales of suicide, madness and desertion among soldiers, to say nothing of mental frenzy expressing itself in wanton murder, that have come to us from our ill-fated friends across the sea, leads us to realize that there have been made as yet no scientific studies of the effect of war on the minds of officers and enlisted men in the army. Fortunately for our nation, there has been no opportunity to study the effect, on a large body of men, of short rations, loss of sleep, great emotionalism, exhausting exposure, excessive physical exertion, homesickness, etc., yet these in combination produce a strain that might well prove fatal to the equilibrium of many a mind that in regular routine would show no weakness. To be mentally sound in such conditions is of more importance than to pass the eyesight test, or to be typhoid proof.

In the light of modern psychiatry it is rumored that more than one great battle has been lost by a general who was in the early stage of paresis, and doubtless dozens of men who have met the fate of deserters had their doom written in their brains. Although the mental effects of war strain have not been studied, our War Department has been carrying on, under the Surgeon-General's advice, a very interesting inquiry concerning the mental status of the Army. The studies show that the mentally diseased, and those who are congenitally or otherwise mentally defective, form an important problem in armies and navies.

Of all the discharges for disease or external causes, practically speaking, one-fifth are on account of mental disease in some form. That is to say, out of 1,062 men discharged in 1912 on account of disability from all causes, more than 200 were found to be mentally diseased or defective during the year; and these did not include the retirements for neurasthenia or hysteria, which, although the patients are not insane in the accepted sense, are in reality mental diseases that will seriously affect one's efficiency in time of strain.

Of all the mental diseases, it was found that dementia praecox was by far the most frequent form; it averaged about 56 per cent each year, of all the dismissals. The report gives a clear, concise outline of the modern conception of dementia praecox, explaining the way in which it may appear in the army in young men who have never shown any of the symptoms of irresponsibility when sheltered by their parents or friends, but who cannot "get along" when they are required to speak, act, and even think in prescribed and orderly fashion.

The symptoms, with the vivid case descriptions that follow, will afford the regular army surgeon much insight into cases that would seem to be merely undisciplined. In fact, the text of this bulletin, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, will be of tremendous social value to every officer, as well as to any one dealing with large bodies of men whether in reform schools, prisons, factories or mines.

Why Silos Fall Down.

It is about time for someone to start an investigation to learn the reason why so many silos are falling down. Anyone who has occasion to read the various country weekly newspapers is astonished at the number of wood and concrete silos that are reported as falling over. It would be found perhaps that the reason in most cases embraced the old cause, cheap labor and cheap materials. The farmer should know that he can not get good work and good goods unless he pays for them. If he intends to invest in a silo let him get the best that money can buy and let it be erected by the most responsible man in the business. In such a case the farmer will never be sorry. The best is the cheapest, in the long run.
