SOME FEASIBLE PLAN MUST BE PROVIDED FOR CHARITY

The Sun takes up again the problem of charity that confronts the people of Kerrville. The Red Cross hasn't the funds to continue this work. While there are some advances made that will be returned, it will be easy enough for the Red Cross to find a suitable place for these amounts when received.

Considering the fact, that with every member secured for the Red Cross, there must be fifty cents paid the headquarters of that organization, the Sun considers it advisable to save this amount for our local charity work, as it is needed much worse here than at headquarters.

To do this, it will be necessary to drop the Red Cross as a channel through which to do this general charity work, and thereby save this fifty cents for each member.

The Sun suggests that the local post of the American Legion, the Chamber of Commerce and all of the churches, as well as the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion, unite and provide funds for charity and organize a body to handle the work.

One secretary could attend to the Legion work, the Chamber of Commerce, the correspondence pertaining to assisting ex-soldiers in securing their Government allowance, as well as keep the books pertaining to the contributions and expenditures.

Then, select a committee of about seven, to be subdivided into three other committees, one of which would have charge of the soliciting and receiving of funds, another to investigate the cases of charity and the third to disburse the money or provide the means for relief.

This plan would relieve the churches of a considerable load that they are carrying; would prevent the donating nearly every day to some supposed object of charity by the business houses, which is done upon the presentation of a petition or request for help.

Should such an organization be effected, the people would be requested to refuse to contribute to any cases of supposed charity and send the persons applying to the committee having this matter in charge. In that way it could be ascertained the deserving cases, and by uniting of funds much more help could be extended.

With the reputation of Kerrville extending rapidly as a health resort, and the locating here of the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium, more cases of charity will come up than we have had heretofore. We cannot shut our eyes or ears to the pleas for help. The reputation of the town is at stake and we must meet the situation, as befits Christianized, humane, enlightened and generous people. To do our duty, we should organize to handle the burden as systematically, economically and efficiently as possible.

The Sun trusts that the churches, the American Legion, the Ladies Auxiliary, the Chamber of Commerce, as well as the Red Cross organization, will consider these suggestions and arrange for some concerted action.

KERR COUNTY GRAND JURY RETURNS 16 INDICTMENTS

The Kerr County Grand Jury adjourned last Saturday after returning sixteen indictments—one for assault with intent to murder, two for burglary of residence, two for carrying pistol, six for bootlegging, and others for minor offenses. This is most excellent work performed by the Grand Jury and will do much toward stopping the law violations that were becoming quite numerous in this section.

The criminal docket of the Kerr County District Court was begun Monday morning, and the following were empaneled as the petit jury for service in cases this week:

Moritz Bohmert, Henry Barton, F. Tatch, Richard Dietert, W. A. Albrecht, Willie Burney, Otto Lisch, J. R. Herndon, Wm. Reef, E. E. Dietert, Albert Peschel, George McElroy, Joe Gardner, Roy Littlefield, Louis Real, E. H. Kensing, Henry Dietert, Harry Williams, K. A. Holekamp, A. E. Oehler, Willie Ward, B. F. Denton, Ernest Duderstadt, T. M. Hagens, Henry Priour, Wiley Evans and H. T. Durant.

The following cases had been disposed of up to Wednesday noon:

Jeff Duncan, charged with assault with prohibited weapon; District Attorney Brooks dismissed the prohibited weapon charge and Duncan entered plea of guilty to assault.

In the case, wherein J. G. Cannon was charged with bigamy, the case was dismissed by District Attorney Brooks, as he stated that the evidence was insufficient, it being shown that after Cannon's first marriage it was ascertained the woman he was supposed to have married had a living husband from whom she had not been divorced.

August Pankratz, charged with slander; case dismissed.

Joseph Coleman and Will Moos were tried by jury on charge of entering J. F. Leisering's residence and burglarizing it, and each were convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for five years.

Alfred Prevost, charged with theft of property under valuation of $50.00, was convicted and sentenced to jail for ten days.

Oscar Taylor and Chas. Walker, charged with theft of property under valuation of $50.00, were convicted and sentenced to jail for forty-eight hours.

Ralph Johannessen, charged with carrying pistol; jury trial and acquittal, owing to the doubt as to whether the pistol had a cylinder.

Telsfero Trevino was tried Wednesday afternoon on the charge of having sold whiskey to a minor, a young son of Mr. Cochran. The jury returned a verdict of guilty and assessed the Mexican's punishment at two years in the penitentiary. This is the first of the bootlegging cases to be tried on indictments found by the recent Grand Jury, and it is said that there are five more of these cases, mostly against Mexicans and negroes.

GREAT AMOUNT OF WORK BEING DONE AT SANATORIUM

One cannot correctly judge the stupendous amount of work being done at the American Legion Memorial Sanatorium, unless a circuit is made of the building activities and those proposed. Thursday afternoon of last week, a Sun reporter made this round with S. H. Huntington and A. T. Adkins, and the information gained was well worth the trip.

The infirmary is going to be a Sanatorium in miniature, and it is to be one of the largest structures on the ground; the power house is also to be a huge affair, the smokestack will be much taller than the one at the small power plant, while the water tower will reach toward the skies.

At the power plant, which is being constructed, we found C. O. Forgy, the genial superintendent of the McKenzie Construction Company, who was in charge when the first unit was built, is again on the job, and his company has this contract. He has as his assistant F. H. Nesbitt.

Mr. Forgy stated that they expected to complete the power house, as well as some other of the larger buildings, under the contract of McKenzie Construction Co., with in eight months.

The well that is to furnish the water for the whole Sanatorium has been sunk to a depth of about 700 feet, and the water comes to within less than fifty feet of the top, it is stated. This well, which is near the new power plant, is soon to be tested to see if its capacity will prove sufficient for the amount of water estimated to be needed.

There are also two large tunnels to be built that will go from the power plant to all parts of the ground, near the various buildings, so that steam, water and light conduits can be installed under ground. We saw a few sections of the iron frames for these tunnels, and they will be large enough to send a truck through them easily.

Two or three of the ward buildings are nearing completion, which is desired, as the two completed in the first unit are filled, and other applications of patients are on file for admission.

This Memorial Sanatorium is going to be a bigger thing than any of us here have ever contemplated. When completed and filled with the 600 patients, for which room is to be provided, there will be needed several hundred people to care for them, making a population at the Sanatorium of nearly a thousand.

Then, the huge and magnificent buildings, with the landscape work to be done, and the improved farm and dairy that will follow, will make of the Sanatorium one of the beauty spots of Texas. It will indeed be a Memorial highly creditable for the cause instigating its creation.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION PUSHED BY SEVERAL SUB-CONTRACTORS

Friday afternoon of last week, The Sun managers and Ben Smith went in Salter's jitney to the road construction camp of C. W. Stone, near the Kimble County line. We will pass over part of the trip, as a description of the Divide, where a "few" rocks would be sprinkled in days gone by, wouldn't look well in print. However, will digress to state, that if there ever was a section where a well constructed highway was needed, it is along this Divide.

Arriving at the Stone camp, we found work progressing quite well, though Mr. Stone said that only a small crew was then engaged, but soon it was expected to cover the thirteen-mile strip he has under contract with sufficient force to wind up the work rapidly.

Two miles of road had been completed for the rock or gravel top surface and ready for the steam roller, and another mile had the base completed. This specimen of road work shows that substantial construction is being done, and that if kept up, will give this county one of the best and most durable highways in the State.

As we went to the Stone camp, parties of workmen could be seen along the route, clearing the right-of-way of trees and stumps, while others were scraping off some point that was too high, and still others were putting in culverts and cement dips.

The new highway, from Ingram to Mountain Home, will not follow the old road, but is surveyed above the high water of Johnson Creek, so will meander along the foot of the hills

BOND MONEY RECEIVED

Kerr County has received its money for the road bond issue. The County Board met a short while Monday and set aside $116,769.88 for the county's part of the Highway, being built from the Kimble County line to Kerrville.

and small mountains, traversing a section that Engineer Simpson says will make one of the finest scenic highways anywhere in this country.

Ben Smith says that he don't see how they are going to build that road without a lot of suspension bridges, and he will have to "be shown."

HOW APPLICANTS FOR POSTMASTER HERE STAND UNDER CIVIL SERVICE

Postmaster W. G. Carpenter recently received from Senator Morris Shepard a copy of report of the examination of applicants for postmaster at Kerrville, which is as follows:

W. G. Carpenter	90.40
A. E. Self	82.20
Emil Gold	70.60

An appointment for postmaster of Kerrville will possibly be made within the next week or so. Mr. Gold is said to have the endorsement of County Chairman Bonnell of the Republican Committee, and also of Chairman McFarland of this district.

WRESTLING MATCH GIVEN UNDER AUSPICES AMERICAN LEGION POST

The athletic enthusiasts of Kerrville were offered a diversion in the form of a wrestling match Thursday evening of last week, between Walter Klaerner of Fredericksburg and Osborne of San Marcos, with amusing preliminaries. Klaerner won the match, obtaining the first fall in five minutes and the second in twelve. The fans were enthusiastic and many have expressed the desire that it be repeated.

The next item of interest will be the Legion Minstrel, under the supervision of Dr. G. M. Macdougall, to be given at Pampell's Hall on Washington's Birthday, Wednesday evening, February 22nd. This promises to be the attraction of the season, as can easily be seen from the following program:

Mr. Wickes, the Mystery Man, in Black Magic (all new), J. A. Wickes; "Paradise" (Kriesler), Mrs. Scott Schreiner; "Comin' Through the Rye" and "Larboard Watch," Men's Club Glee Club; "Dutch Girls," under direction of Mrs. John Burney; pianologue, Bruff Sisters of Center Point; High School Minstrels, under direction of Prof. Moses.

Don't forget the meeting Thursday night, February 16th.

CHARMING VALENTINE BUNCO PARTY GIVEN AT SCOFIELD SCHOOL

Misses Bernice Henry and Joan Wilson delightfully entertained with a charming Valentine Bunco party last Saturday, at the Scofield School, in honor of Miss Marion Miller.

The decorations were carried out with Valentine motifs.

A mint-eating contest provided much merriment. Miss Lillian Draper won first prize and Miss Kathryn Kingsbury the consolation.

Miss Miller and Miss Kingsbury won high score in Bunco, and Miss Miller was presented with the guest-prize, a beautiful hand-made French bouquet.

The table was beautifully decorated with a profusion of red hearts, while red streamers, caught at each corner of the table with huge bows, gracefully twined over the center of the table, where they were held in place by an electric light. The covers were marked with dainty heart-shaped place-cards. By each plate lay a sealed fortune, the reading of which caused much laughter.

A delicious luncheon was served to the following guests: Miss Miller, the honoree; Misses Lillian Draper, Clotilde Durham, Calista Stapp, Kathryn Kingsbury, Mae Whitworth; the hostesses, Miss Henry and Miss Wilson, and Mrs. S. S. Henry of Rock-springs.

A USEFUL BANK

Service with us means "TO BE OF USE TO."

To continue as a useful bank, our purpose is to serve not only each individual as best we know how, but also to extend our usefulness to the entire community.

We like to know that every one of our patrons is a friend of the bank. It gratifies us when our friends refer to the accurate, ready service of their bank. Then, we know our bank is useful.

There is much satisfaction in serving. We have found it so.

DELIGHTFUL VALENTINE PARTY GIVEN BY MRS. J. B. HOLT

One of the most delightful Valentine parties of the week was that given by Mrs. J. B. Holt on Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Woman's Missionary Union.

When each of the guests received their invitation, they were asked to bring with them a large tea-towel, needle and thimble. This caused much excitement, for all wondered who the "bride" was to be.

The first part of the afternoon was spent in hemming the towels with red thread, furnished by the hostess. All started hemming at the same time, as the one finishing first was to receive a reward. Mrs. F. T. Butt was the lucky one and was given a pretty cup-towel, with a cup and saucer embroidered in one corner.

After this a Valentine story, which had been cut into small pieces, was put into its proper form.

Then followed the interesting and laughable task of trying to pin cupid's arrow in the center of the heart. Mrs. Lewis Lee received the prize in this, a lovely candy heart. Another enjoyable contest was that of trying to throw hearts into a bucket.

The guests were then invited into the dining room, which was lovely in its Valentine decorations. The table was artistically decorated in hearts, a large cake, on which were six tiny candles, forming the center piece. At each plate there sat a red and white Chinaman pin cushion, and on his back was a small valentine as a place card. These were unique as well as useful favors.

After all had found their places, little Jimmie Holt entered the room carrying a large stack of cup-towels, tied with red and a large bow on top. Mrs. Holt then told the guests that the cake, with its six tiny candles, was in honor of her little son, Jimmie, who was 6 years old this Valentine Day. Then, turning to Mrs. F. E. Garrett, she said: "Mrs. Garrett has the honor of having Valentine as her birthday, also, to her we present the towels. Thus, the 'towel mystery' was solved, and all were pleased to thus honor Mrs. Garrett.

In closing her word of thanks, Mrs. Garrett stated that she had a surprise for the guests. She said she had been forbidden to tell it, but she knew all would wish to know it, and this surprise was, that Valentine Day was also Mrs. Holt's birthday. This news caused a round of applause.

After the guests were all seated, delicious refreshments of marshmallow pudding with whipped cream, angel food cake and mints were served.

The guests departed, feeling that they had spent a most delightful afternoon and were indeed indebted to Mrs. Holt for her gracious hospitality.

DEPUTY GAME WARDEN BOGLE CATCHES 'EM' ON THE WING

Friday of last week, Deputy Game Warden Bogle arrested H. R. Bauer of Brady on the charge of having killed a wild turkey hen, hunting out of season and without a license, as well as trespassing—four counts in all. Bauer entered pleas of guilty before Justice of the Peace Turner and paid fines and costs of $69.00.

It seems that Bauer and a man named Abernathy, both of Brady, were on the Divide buying furs, and that Friday morning some of the road construction crew heard a shot in the Live Oak Ranch and notified Robt. Real, the manager. Soon after that Bauer and Abernathy drove up to the ranch and Mr. Real managed to inspect their truck, but could not find any game, nor even a gun.

Mr. Real then notified Deputy Game Warden Bogle by phone, who suggested that possibly they had concealed their game and gun in the brush before going to see Mr. Real, so with that possibility, Mr. Bogle went to Harper to intercept the two men as they were reported headed that way. He arrived in Harper ahead of them, but finally located where they had camped this side of that place. There he found a turkey hen swinging from the roof of the top of the truck. The men were much surprised to know how Bogle or anyone else had found out that they had killed anything, but quietly submitted, and as Bauer was the one who confessed to doing the killing, was the only one fined.

The old saying, "That it is an ill wind that blows no one good," was exemplified in this instance, as Mr. Bogle gave the turkey to Mrs. Ollie Gammon, if she would prepare it and furnish Sunday dinners to as many shut-ins as the game would supply. This, Mrs. Gammon agreed to do, and by Sunday morning had ten nice dinners prepared for the people she concluded needed such a treat. This was very commendable in both Mr. Bogle and Mrs. Gammon and the latter worked until late Saturday night to prepare the turkey and accessories for those she had decided to thus compliment.

Real Estate Transfers

F. Duderstadt and wife to A. B. Taylor, five acres on line of Highway, out of Survey 656, J. Billings; $100.00.

L. A. Schreiner to E. H. Prescott, the Louis Schreiner home place in Kerrville; $9,000.00.

Lillian Council et al to F. H. Secrest, north quarter of block 74, Tivy Addition to Kerrville; $1,000.00.

Deputy Internal Revenue Collector

On the dates given below there will be a Deputy Collector in Kerrville to assist taxpayers in preparing their income tax returns for the year 1921: February 10th, 20th and 21st—office at Chas. Schreiner Bank.

SATURDAY'S PLAY

The Brownsonites are elated over the rapid disposal of tickets for their entertainment in Washington Hall on Saturday, February 18th, at 8 p. m. All proceeds will be devoted towards the purchase of another school encyclopedia. In order not to molest the citizens, the students paraded out the town among themselves, and agreed to discontinue the canvass as soon as the seating capacity is sold, thus assuring to every purchaser full value for his money. A stage will be erected in Washington Hall so that the entire audience will be able to enjoy the complete program.

Most of the numbers, as might be expected, have some bearing on the commemoration of Washington's Birthday. In fact, as customarily, the entertainment begins with a patriotic song. There will be a pleasing variety of music, dancing, recitations, drills and dramatics. The main feature is a three-act comedy pregnant with a moral lesson humorously told. This alone is worth double the admission price of only 15 cents. If you intend to be there, make your purchase before all unsold tickets are ordered withdrawn.

Lincoln's Birthday

The 113th anniversary of the birth of "Honest Abe" was observed at Notre Dame on Sunday and Monday. "Old Glory" greeted the rising sun and floated proudly from the lofty pinnacle till dusk.

The prize essay about the martyred Civil War President was composed by Willie Voss and published in the St. Louis College Bulletin.

Notre Dame boarders observed Lincoln's Day with a long hike across the hills and down the railway ties, of which Abe had split many a hundred before becoming our county's chief executive.

On Washington's Birthday no classes will be conducted either at Notre Dame or at Our Lady of Guadalupe School.

Next week is "Patriotic Song Week" and special stress will be made on memorizing our National Hymn, "The Star-Spangled Banner," and other patriotic airs. This Americanization movement will be followed strictly, not only in Kerrville but in all Catholic parochial schools.

Rees-Simon Recital

The fifth concert given by the San Antonio Symphony Orchestra was held Thursday last week in Beechey Hall. Mrs. Mattie Herff Rees was soloist, and Hertram Simon was violin soloist. Mr. Eugenius of the Notre Dame music conservatory went down to be benefited by the classical performance.

On the same day Miss Helen Ahnert went to the Incarnate Word College to visit her aunt, Miss Eva Christ, who is a postulant in our teaching community. After a few years of rigorous training Miss Christ is given the option of receiving the veil and professing the religious life. However, she does not become a full-fledged nun until she has completed about seven years of voluntary probation, during which novitiate she is free to leave or be admitted to dismissal.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By Annie Claire Enderle

The first team of basket ball girls play the fastest team of San Antonio next Saturday on the local court. The time for calling the game has not been fixed yet, but everyone is invited to attend and promised a good game. The girls of San Antonio are known as the Turner Girls. This team has not been defeated, neither has Tivy, so we will see which team is the best. This game will be returned the following Saturday in the Alamo City on an indoor court. This will be new for the local girls, as it will be their first experience on such a court.

The first team of boys went to Boerne to return their game. They lost 42 to 17, but deserve credit for playing as well as they did. Those who went were: Charles Horn, Arthur Saenger, Robert Hagens, Otis Powell, William Henry Rawson and Harold Chaney. They were accompanied by Lucile Taylor, Elizabeth Peterson, Bruce McGee, John Saucier, Randolph Wheless and Earl Nance. The girls' game was postponed on account of sickness of one of the Boerne girls.

The Eleventh Grade history class, who are using the Literary Digest in their course of study, have decided to debate on the question in the February 4th number. The topic is "Beans As Breeders of Divorce." John Saucier has the affirmative and Chas. Horne the negative. Each one has his side and the one who wins will have a treat by the opposite side with a Mexican supper at Johnnie Ayalas.

The Mothers' Club sold two cakes on the school grounds Tuesday at five cents a slice, bringing a nice sum.

New pupils entering school this week are: Holton Clarke, Eighth Grade; Thomas Clarke and James Emerson, Ninth Grade.

Prof. Moses has taken charge of the Minstrel, to be given at Pampell's Hall on the 22nd, for the American Legion. There are quite a few in it and much practicing is being done, so it will be a success.

The Girls' Club met at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the High School Auditorium. An oath was taken by the following: Lucile Taylor, Mary Claire Williams, Anna Neblett Thorburn, Dera Kinsey, Annie Claire Enderle, Kathleen Van Vorhees, Euola Klein, Lourina Mayhugh, Amy Arno, Myrtle Rose Dietert, Izola Wheeler and Minnie Dietert. Others who failed to take this were absent.

The Mothers' Club met Wednesday of last week in the High School Auditorium. The subject of the program was "How to Keep Well." A vocal selection was given by Mrs. Latham, "Fresh Air and Exercise" by Mrs. Wheless, "Food" by Mrs. Robt. Knox, "Milk, the National Drink" by Mrs. Leisering, "Nerves and Grouches" by Mrs. Dr. Jackson, and a piano duet by Mrs. J. B. Young and Lucile McCoy. The question was discussed and it was decided to send for a health inspector. Many ways for raising funds were also brought before the meeting.

The "Put and Take Novelty Agency" show, given by the Primary and Intermediate Grades last Saturday night, was a great success, and the teachers and pupils who took part feel repaid for their time and labor. They wish to thank the parents, who so ably helped them. A little over $80 was cleared. The amusing performance will be repeated at a matinee Friday afternoon of this week at 3 o'clock for the benefit of the Parent-Teachers' Association. Admission, 5 and 10 cents.

Mrs. Roger Self is substituting this week in Mrs. Payne Williamson's place.

VEHICULAR TUNNELS UNDER HUDSON RIVER

New York, Feb. 11.—Breaking ground for the two Hudson River tunnels connecting Jersey City and New York is expected to take place about March 4.

The land work from the Manhattan side, from West Street to the pier heads, has already been completed at a cost of $650,000. The six points are the two pier heads of West and Canal Streets and the two pier heads off Jersey City, and the land work out of the pier heads.

The tunnel contract is estimated at $23,000,000. The total cost will be more than $28,000,000. The construction is to be of cast iron and concrete.

It is expected that the vehicular tunnel, on completion, will take care of 15,000,000 vehicles a year. The present traffic of vehicles across the Hudson is about 48,000 a day. By the time the tunnel is opened, it is estimated the traffic will have doubled.

The project to build the two tunnels began in July, 1919. Surveying of Canal Street was completed in 1920 and the Manhattan section of the tunnels, out to the end of the piers, was finished recently.

A supreme tempter for appetites of big and little folks

"Lissen, you Herbie, you let go of those Kellogg's Corn Flakes or you'll be late for school—and I won't wait for you another minute!"

Put it right up to Kellogg's Corn Flakes to do a master job sharpening breakfast appetites! And, they'll repeat at lunch and supper—for Kellogg's are irresistible in downright goodness! They win every one because their flavor is delicious and because their crunchy crispness is unailing! You'll prove that!

Such a cereal you never ate before! You'll say Kellogg's are a revelation—and they will be, in particular, to any one who has eaten imitation corn flakes! Kellogg's are as distinctive in flavor as they are in crispness. And, Kellogg's are never tough or leathery!

Start eating Kellogg's Corn Flakes tomorrow morning! You can't afford to miss such happiness as Kellogg's hand out to young and old alike! But—please be sure you get KELLOGG'S, the delicious Corn Flakes in the RED and GREEN package. Look for the signature of W. K. Kellogg, originator of Toasted Corn Flakes. NONE ARE GENUINE WITHOUT IT!

Bear in mind KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes are made by the folks who gave you the JUNGLELAND Moving Pictures. Coupon inside every package of KELLOGG'S Corn Flakes explains how you can obtain another copy of JUNGLELAND.

Don't Stub Your Toe!

ONE dark night—so the story goes—a certain monarch placed a large boulder in the middle of the road. Thousands of his people, thereafter, severely stubbed their toes or troubled to walk around. At length, one lusty youth—wiser than the rest—seized the stone and heaved it from his path. And where it had rested, he found a bag of gold.

Are you stubbing your toe? Are you overlooking any bags of gold? How about the advertising in this paper? Do you read it—CONSISTENTLY? It is a bag of gold to many of our readers.

In our columns you will find the advertisements of alert and progressive merchants who seek to tell you something they think you ought to know. This advertising is news about the very things that interest you most—articles that will save you money, lessen your work, or add materially to your comfort and well being.

Thrifty men and women read advertising. To them it is a plain, every day business proposition—a duty they owe themselves and their purses. It tells them where they can buy exactly what they want at a price they can afford to pay.

Advertising pays them. THEY MAKE IT PAY.

IT WILL PAY YOU, TOO. READ IT.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES
By Father Kemper
VALENTINES

There were "flappers" in the old pagan Roman days, who at the Lupercal feast used to send questionable billet-doux to their swains.

By happy coincidence we sent out half a thousand parish valentines in the form of an illustrated Year Book, fresh from the press.

This Sunday there will be no Benediction after the High Mass, but instead a parish business meeting will be held in St. Mary's Church.

Papal Coronation
Last Sunday Pope Pius XI, 260th successor of St. Peter, was solemnly crowned in the Capitol of Christendom.

Like his illustrious predecessor, Benedict XV, the reigning Holy Father spent a great part of his life in the Vatican, but in the twenty-five large halls of the library, instead of in the diplomatic service.

The divine appointment of the first pope was the text unfolded from the Bible at the Comfort service.

After the mass, the good people of Comfort agreed in their selection of a six-foot statue of St. Joseph to correspond with the one of the Blessed Virgin.

Death of Mrs. Eby
Last Friday the Great Master called to His throne the soul of Mrs. Lester F. Eby.

E. L. Perrin of New Orleans has rented one of the bungalows at the Drees Sanatorium outside of Comfort.

On Sunday the wife and five children of Dr. Chas. L. Coco came from Hamburg, La., to make this their home.

Oscar Stehling of Fredericksburg visited his brother, Rudolph, on "Fite-Nite," when he motored here with Klaerner, the Texas champion.

L. J. Brooks, District Attorney from Hondo, is again with us, owing to court session.
Arthur Mosel of Ingram has been serving on the Grand Jury. For this reason his son, Benny, gave up his position in San Antonio to attend to the ranch.

Those having the misfortune to suffer from backache, urinary disorders, grave, dropsical swellings, rheumatic pains, or other kidney and bladder disorders, will read with gratification this encouraging statement by a Kerrville man.

Frank Michon, City Marshal, Broadway, Kerrville, says: "My kidneys were out of order and every time I got wet or took cold, it settled on my kidneys. I had a soreness and a dull ache in the small of my back that worried me, and my kidneys didn't act right."

Church of Christ

Last Lord's Day was a pleasant day for church work. Large crowds at each service, morning and evening. Bible reading on Thursday night is carried on with much interest.

Our attention and interest at last Sunday evening's service was Heaven. It's grandeur in every way that God saw fit to bring to our finite mind that we may catch a vision of its bliss.

There will be regular services of the Church of Christ in Kerrville each Sunday, and also Sunday School, at the regular hours for all services.

A lawsuit, started some 600 years ago, was recently called for trial in a French court. The costs and fees of several centuries exceed the value of the object sought.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH
J. GRADY TIMMONS

Sunday was a bright and successful day for the Methodist Church of Kerrville. The Sunday School was larger than at any time for the year, and the wheels of Methodism in Kerrville are turning in a fine way.

The Pie Supper held at the church Thursday evening of last week was a marked success. More than twenty-five dollars was realized as a result of the supper and a splendid fellowship was enjoyed.

The Baraca Class met in regular session last Sunday morning in the class room of the pastor's study, and a large number were present. The room was filled with enthusiastic young men. The Biblical athletic character studied was that of Peter in his role of an oarsman.

Rev. Sloan L. Batchelor, pastor of our church at Kingsville, was in our city last Saturday, en route to the vicinity of Junction, where he was going to perform a marriage ceremony. He was formerly pastor of the Methodist Church in Junction.

On Monday evening at the parsonage we had a double wedding ceremony—Lewis Terry Cowser and Miss Buelah E. Barker; William Roy Bradshaw and Miss Gladys Leona Conarro. The grooms are two young men from the vicinity of Junction and the brides are popular nurses at Secor's Hospital. We wish them long continued happiness and prosperity.

The program for next Sunday follows:
Sunday School meets at 9:45 a. m. The School is growing and we extend to you a cordial invitation to be with us if you are not already in some school.

At 11 a. m. we will have our morning worship. The subject is: "Jesus at Work."
The Junior League meets at 3:30 p. m., and the Senior League at 7 p. m.

NEW CONSTITUTION FOR TEXAS IS DISCUSSED

Austin, Tex., Feb. 12.—Calling of a constitutional convention, for the purpose of not only framing a new organic law for Texas, but also to write into it, a complete new educational code reorganizing the entire educational system of the State, was discussed Saturday at the "Think-Out-Loud" conference called by Governor Neff.

This information was obtained late Saturday at the conclusion of the conference from one of those in attendance, for the newspaper correspondents were barred from the conference. According to this member, the majority of those present, however, thought that a new code completely revising the educational system of the State, could be accomplished by a statutory enactment to be presented at the next session of the Legislature.

At the conclusion of the conference, Governor Neff was sought but he did not throw much light on the concrete accomplishments of the conference. The Governor said, however, that it was "a most interesting gathering," and its keynote was to work out an educational system for Texas, from the rural schools to the University of Texas, along broader lines.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
J. B. HOLT, Pastor

Sunday was a special day with us in as much as we made a special effort to pay off our indebtedness. The meeting was largely in the hands of the Finance Committee. The people responded in a splendid way, paying up their pledges and making gifts.

At the evening service we received into our membership Miss Ruth Nichols. Miss Ruth is a fine girl and a member of the Philathea Class of our Sunday School. We rejoice over her conversion.

At Prayer Meeting on Wednesday night we received into our membership Mr. and Mrs. Clark and four children from Houston. We gladly welcome this fine family into our midst.

The Philathea Class of our Sunday School will give a "Colonial Tea" on Monday evening, February 20th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Garrett. These young people wish to start a Sunday School Library.

MISSIONARY PROGRAM, BAPTIST W. M. U.

The W. M. U. of the Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. F. E. Garrett, Tuesday, February 21st, at 3 p. m., and the following program will be given:
Leader, Mrs. Lewis Lee; hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King"; talk, "Our New Mission Fields," Mrs. Clark; song, "How Firm a Foundation"; "Building," Miss Faye Turley; special music; Personal Service Period, Mrs. W. C. Nowlin; hymn, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus."

MEN'S CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING PROGRAM

The Men's Club of the Presbyterian Church met in regular session in the dining room of the St. Charles Hotel at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, and the following program was rendered:
Invocation, Miller Harwood; song, "I Am Praying for You," by Club; report on Older Boys' Conference at A. & M. College, Frances Melear and Sidney Wheelock; song, "Just As God Leads," by Glee Club; address, "The Responsibility of the Home," Herbert L. Crate; refreshments and 30-minute informal discussion; song, "The Old Oaken Bucket," by Glee Club; sketch, "A Baseball Game," by Marshal Leazar, Wm. Henry Rawson and Charlie Horn; song, "Where He Leads Me," by Club; benediction, Herbert L. Crate.

The next meeting of the Club will be held on Tuesday night, Feb. 28th.

Dust-shooting revolvers are part of the equipment to be taken into the jungles of Brazil by scientists. The revolvers are to be used in bringing down high-flying insects that cannot be netted. The scientists are carrying 2,000 grains of quinine, and they are planning to penetrate far beyond the River of Doubt in their search for hitherto uncaptured specimens for the zoological collections of colleges in the United States.

A slab of Connecticut Valley sandstone on which are imprinted seven footprints of a giant dinosaur, which traveled that way millions of years ago, has been presented to the department of geology of Mt. Holyoke College.

IS IT THE HEAD OF GREED THAT HINDERS FORD?

Troup Banner: For some months Henry Ford, the founder of the Flivver industry in the United States, has been trying to make a deal with the Government, whereby he would take over the great Muscle Shoals Nitrate Plant on the Tennessee River in Alabama. We believe that those who are informed really desire that Mr. Ford should have the 100-year lease on this Government property for which he is negotiating. But there are selfish interests seeking to thwart his plans, and to prevent the Government from consummating the deal with him.

We are no particular admirer of Mr. Ford, except that in the recognition that he is a wonderful business man. Every paper in the country is being deluged with propaganda extremely hostile to Mr. Ford's proposition to the Government. It comes from the National Fertilizer Association of 1010 Arch Street, Philadelphia, which organization offers to supply any additional amount of matter along the same lines as that it has sent out. We have read their propaganda. We believe that their motives are those of selfish greed, with no thought of the best interests of the people. Mr. Ford has done many things that we cannot admire; but we never objected to his paying the Government the $76,000,000 income tax which he paid last year. Nor do we object to his leasing and operating the Government Nitrate Plant at Muscle Shoals, an enterprise which the Government has put more than eighty million dollars into, and finds itself unable to operate it.

It appears that President Harding has violated the spirit and letter of the Civil Service law. He's naughty.

The hen, cow and pig can do a great deal to pull the farmer out of debt, as well as provide a good living and competency. Try these first-aid remedies.

The Republicans, like all other parties that are on the outside, find it easier to criticize and tear down than to prepare and put through the right kind of remedial legislation.

From all indications, Lakeside Park will be a creditable amusement resort when the improvements started are completed. Mr. McClellan, who has bought this property, seems to understand his business.

COURTESY AND MODESTY

John D. Mell, in Christian Index: The Old South has long since been dead, and only a faint memory of it now remains in the minds of men. There are among us just a few old men and old women who lived in it, suffered for it, and still intensely love it. But they are fast passing on, and in a few years will be all gone, and then none will be left to revere it. The world would be infinitely better off, and life would be sweeter and happier, if some of the things that lived in the Old South would never die. It had many high and holy customs in the daily life of its children, but its chief glory was the gentle courtesy of its men, and the sweet modesty of its women. Its men each day were gentlemen in the noblest sense, and its women each day were modest in the holiest sense. Reverence for sacred things, respect for age, polished urbanity of manner, sweetness of temper, and deep, abiding, pure homage for woman, were the ineffable qualities of the minds and hearts of men of those days. And the women, in the finest and holiest sense, were worthy of the men. They held in their characters, and deep in their souls, that sweet modesty which is the ineffable glory of the pure woman. The brazen look, the painted face, the indecent dress, were as impossible for the women of the Old South, as they are for the angels in heaven.

And they ought to be impossible among us today. Somebody ought to teach some of our young women about the finer and happier things of life they are missing. Immodesty in the woman will always attract the eyes of the man, as it always has, in all the history of the world, but it never has, and never will, attract his heart. The woman who is immodest, places an impassable gulf between herself and the respect and affection of a real gentleman.

The finest and noblest quality in a true man lies dormant in his mind and heart, and can only be brought to life and activity by a modest woman. The highest and holiest usefulness and happiness of a true woman can never be obtained in this life or in the life to come, unless she succeeds in awakening this thing that lies dormant in the man.

God has linked courtesy and modesty together, just as He has linked the destiny of the man and the woman together. When modesty dies, courtesy dies also. When there are in this world no more modest women, there will then be in this world no more gentlemen.

There ought to be preached in the pulpits and taught in the schools, and above all, lived in the homes, a revival of the old-fashioned courtesy and modesty of the Old South. If our boys are not to be courteous any more, and our girls are not to be modest any more, then most of the hope and happiness of life are gone.

New people are coming to Kerrville nearly every day, and we are glad to have them locate with us.

It is reported that even Ex-President Wilson considers it the duty of the Democratic Senators to support the treaties agreed upon by the Arms Conference. If they do not do so, the party will be snowed under again, and possibly by more than the seven million majority that buried it at the last election.

PITTSBURG PLUS

Capper's Farmer: If a machinery, implement or any metal products manufacturer buys a ton of steel at Duluth, Minn., steel mill, he pays for the steel and in addition he pays $13.20. That $13.20 is the freight charge on a ton of steel from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Duluth, Minn. And, although that Duluth steel was made from nearby Michigan iron ore, and never was within a thousand miles of Pittsburgh, still the buyer must pay freight on it as if it had been shipped from Pittsburgh.

The same is true if a manufacturer buys steel made at Gary, Ind., or at Chicago, or anywhere else. He pays the extra freight, $7.60 a ton from Pittsburgh to Gary or Chicago, on that steel, just as if it had been shipped to Gary or to Chicago from Pittsburgh, although that steel was made in Gary or in Chicago from Minnesota iron ore and Indiana limestone and with Illinois coal.

So when the manufacturer fabricates that steel into implements, machinery, wire, pipe, sheet metal, nails or any of the thousands of steel articles used on the farm, he must add to his cost the $13.20 a ton imaginary freight on the steel he bought at Duluth or the $7.60 a ton imaginary freight on the steel he bought at Gary. The same condition holds if he bought the steel at any other point, for the steel mill made the manufacturer a price and then added to that price the freight rate from Pittsburgh to that mill.

And the manufacturer passes that imaginary cost, that Pittsburgh Plus price, to the consumer. The farmer pays it on every piece of steel he uses, from carpet tacks to tractors.

Pittsburg Plus was put into effect in 1901 by the United States Steel Corporation. At first it made little difference. Pittsburgh was the center of the steel industry and most of the steel came from there. Besides, freight rates were low.

Then the steel industry moved west; later, freight rates went up and up. Gary was built and there the steel corporation makes steel 18.17 per cent cheaper than at Pittsburgh, as Judge Elbert H. Gary, head of the corporation, voluntarily admitted. At Birmingham, Ala., steel is made 18 per cent cheaper than at Pittsburgh, yet at both these places the price is made with plus cost of freight from Pittsburgh.

Lawyers for the steel interests explain Pittsburg Plus is a great, necessary stabilizing factor—whatever that means. The War Industries Board found Pittsburg Plus such a hindrance during the war that the board suspended Pittsburg Plus. It was put into effect again after the war and remained active until the bottom dropped out of the steel market with the after-war depression. It failed to "stabilize" during the months of depression.

Now that business is improving there is a movement to put it into effect again. Manufacturers and dealers throughout the Middle West and the Farm Bureau have asked the Federal Trade Commission to put Pittsburg Plus to sleep forever.

Oklahoma is getting in a worse political condition every year. Bank failures that are considered fraudulent, judges and other officers, including some State officials, are accused of being parties to the misuse of bank funds, while law violations and general bribery, corruption and perjury seem to permeate the entire State and its official affairs. Either a general cleaning inside the Democratic party must take place or some kind of opposition will bring it about. The political rascality in that State smells to high Heaven.

The recent Grand Jury in Kerr County did some effective and creditable work. As Judge R. H. Burney stated in his charge to the Grand Jury: "If we have any law violations in our county, we want to attend to inflicting the punishment." And there is no doubt but what there have been law violations, and in some instances these infractions continued longer than they should. All that is necessary to be done to stop the illegal sale of whiskey and gambling in Kerr County, is for the courts, the officers and juries to show the proper spirit of complying with the law and their respective duties, and the thing will be effected.

Our good people who desire to do all they can to make it pleasant for the ex-soldier boys at the Sanatorium, must remember that after these boys enter that institution all their wants, which it is thought they are in need of, are provided, so it is not necessary to take them anything, nor is it advisable to give too much amusement or entertainment for them. There are ex-soldier boys here not yet admitted to the Sanatorium, nor has the Government allowed their compensation, who do need help, possibly, and to

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrison and little daughter, Hester, of San Antonio arrived last Saturday for a visit with Mrs. Harrison's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Schreiner. Mr. Harrison will leave for Mexico in a few days to look after his mining interests and Mrs. Harrison and Hester will remain here until he returns.

The Baptist Sunday School will give a Colonial Tea at Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Garrett's, Monday evening, Feb. 20th. Don't forget your silver offering. (Advertisement 9-1tc.)

Mrs. Mineola McCoy of Hunt, who was such an efficient correspondent of The Sun from that place, while having charge of the store, was a pleasant caller last Saturday. She informed us that she would soon move to Rocksprings with her father, T. J. Moore, where he has bought a garage and some other interests. It is to be trusted that Mr. Moore will soon return to Kerr County, where he still has considerable property.

Mary Elizabeth Osborne, 8-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Osborne, died at the Buckner Orphans' Home February 10th, as a result of burns received when her clothing caught fire from an open fireplace two weeks ago. Mary's remains were shipped here, arriving Sunday noon. The funeral service was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Richerson, and was conducted by Rev. J. B. Holt. The members of the Sunbeam Band sang two songs. This was indeed a sad death, and the many friends of Mrs. Osborne sympathize with her in her deep sorrow.

The Rev. John Galbraith preached at the morning service of the Episcopal Church last Sunday. His subject was "The Use of Suffering in Life," and he preached a most helpful sermon which was listened to with deep interest by a large congregation. The Rev. E. N. LeBlanc also assisted in the service and addressed the Sunday School in his usual bright and interesting manner. The father of the Rev. Mr. Galbraith was for many years Rector of the Episcopal Church here and his departure left a blank which has never been filled, for he was a man of rare piety and attainments.

The American Legion Auxiliary entertained the patients at the Legion Sanatorium at a delightful Valentine party Tuesday evening. Miss Edna Henke acted as general chairman and with the assistance of Misses Elsie Johnston, Kate Renschel, Lucy Brandon, Helena Brown, and others, arranged a series of contests and games appropriate to the occasion. Hearts were used as decorations, and fruit punch was served. A large number of young ladies from town were invited guests, and music was furnished by the High School Orchestra. Mrs. Kuhlmann and Mrs. Wheless were the chaperones.

The Valentine Dance, given Monday evening at the Queen Theatre Ball Room, was a very enjoyable affair. Music was furnished by the Hunter Melody Players, one of the "band" Orchestras from San Antonio, and composed of splendid musicians. Clarence Shand is the pianist; Merrill Poyle, saxophonist; W. P. Frank, drummer; and Roy Davis, soloist on their respective instruments. The large crowd in attendance at this dance will be glad to know that the Hunter Melody Players are booked for a return engagement at the near future. The date to be

By MILDRED WHITE

Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

The girl sat in a luxurious chair, in the marble pillared balcony. Below in the lobby of the great hotel, people moved continually on their various ways; but the one for whom her violet eyes were seeking, had evidently been delayed. She arose to slip off her heavy fur cloak, and stood a slim figure in modish blue.

Impatiently, she swayed upon its chain, the key of her hotel room, she had decided not to leave it at the office until sure of being called for, yet she was anxious to leave, anxious for the homlier comfort of her father's fireside. Elaine dangled her key as she bent over the padded railing—then, dropped it. She was too astonished to draw back into obscurity, as she saw the weighted key land deliberately on a dark uncovered head—a man's head, with no deep cushion of hair to relieve the blow.

The man painfully surprised, glanced up quickly, rubbing his parred crown; then he stooped to recover the key. Elaine saw him still smoothing his head as he read the room number on the metal tag attached, then he waved the key up to her in announcement that he would restore it. He came slowly up the wide stair, and he was young, and tall, and good to look upon.

"Your key, I presume," he said rather coldly.

"I am so sorry," she began confusedly, "so careless of me. I did not realize—"

The young man sat down promptly before her. "That you were aiming a blow," he finished. His own laughing eyes, now expressed open admiration, and his words might have intended a double meaning. Elaine flushed, very prettily, but her tone was severe.

"I was," she remarked, "waiting for someone, the time seemed long." "It usually does seem long" the man responded pleasantly, "when one is waiting for a someone. Happy someone"; he added daintily, and sank further back in his opposite chair. Elaine turned to him, her round chin tilted. "You are—also waiting?"

Dismissal was in the question. The young man merely smiled. "For your apology," he told her, "you cracked me on the head." She did not want to laugh but the man's smile was as engaging as his manner was ridiculous. Elaine did laugh, and promptly regretted that friendliness.

"When my key slipped," she informed him, "I was standing there, looking for Tom. Tom, is the man I love. He is coming to take me away." The pleasing countenance immediately became forlorn. "Away," the young man echoed. Elaine nodded.

"To a home," she explained heartlessly, "of our own." Across the balcony the orchestra played. For a time the young man listened in silence, then his somberness lifted.

"Would you mind," he politely questioned, "telling me the name of this lucky Tom. I knew a couple of Tom's at college. Where did this particular Tom of yours go to college?—if he went." Elaine dimpled.

Tom attended college in this city. I think that is why he likes so much to come back. Tom's other name is Cavers." The stranger leaned forward and joyously clasped his knee. "Well, would you believe it!" he cried, "Tom Cavers, good old Tom! Why, he was the best friend I had here in school." Elaine raised her eyebrows. "That is amazing," she said. "Never hear Tom speak of Jerry Wraybourne?" the young man went on. The girl considered, then shook her head. "But it's not strange," she admitted. "I don't remember half the names of the people Tom talks about."

"You are going off to a home of your own," Jerry Wraybourne slowly repeated. He tossed his dark head. "Oh! Well," he muttered, "every man ought to have at least his one happy hour. This, is mine. I am going to order tea on the balcony, and you are going to partake of it with me. You, across from me at a tea-table, as I have dreamed the you, would be," he broke off abruptly.

"What nonsense," Elaine jeered, but her violet eyes softened. The music came to them now, fraught with a new tenderness, as they sat. "It's queer," the young man was saying. "How some fellows reach out and get what they want, while some other poor devil dreams a dream of hope, all his life, only to wake up at last with—" he laughed shortly. "a blow on the head. I suppose your Tom will be coming along now. I'd better get out. You see, I may as well confess. I've been lying to you. I never knew a Tom Cavers. Just wanted to prolong the pleasure of looking into your face. I thought if I seemed to be a friend of this Tom's, it might give me at least this chance." The girl impulsively put out her hand. Across the tea cups, they looked at each other tensely, wonderingly. "Of course you could not have known Tom at college," she explained demurely. "For Tom, you see happens to be my father. It is he for whom I am waiting to take me to our own home. You were so daintily flirtatious Mr. Jerry Wraybourne, that I had to deceive you in self defense." Jerry grinned joyously. "There were two of us then," he exclaimed. "Well-met. And now I want to stay and meet your father who he comes may it!" Elaine settled back in the big chair. "I am a little so tardy," she remarked comfortably.

Edwards County Echoes

Leader, Feb. 10: A contract was signed Monday afternoon between Frank Cloudt and sons, E. F., Frank Jr. and Walter, and their wives, and J. D. Wallace, wherein Mr. Wallace buys the Cloudt Headquarter Ranch, consisting of 6,400 acres of land, about twenty miles north of town. It is a good ranch and well improved. Mr. Wallace now lives in Sutton County east of Sonora, but he and his wife will move to the Headquarter. F. F. Cloudt, who now lives at the Headquarter, has not yet decided where he will move to. No stock was included in the deal and Mr. Wallace will bring his stock from over in Sutton County.

Last year we had 504 voters and this year we have 947 voters, of which 56 are exemptions. The big increase is probably accounted for in the fact that this is election year, and because a man was obliged to pay his wife's poll tax when he paid his regular taxes. We have a great many lady voters for the candidates to be nice to. The extra number of poll tax payments has added quite a sum to the tax funds. The following figures show the number of voters at each voting place in the county: Rock-springs, No. 1, 394; Barksdale, No. 2, 228; Kickapoo, No. 3, 50; Guthrie, No. 4, 38; Anderson, No. 5, 32; Hackberry, No. 6, 42; Carta Valley, No. 7, 81; Hodges, No. 8, 26; exemptions, 56.

Nearly all the Edwards County ranchmen are now having to do more or less feeding, especially of cattle, and with conditions as they are, to provide feed is a problem, but ranchmen in this country learn to be resourceful. J. I. Henry passed through Sunday, going from Sabinal to his ranch, with a load of cake. John said he had taken his Ford truck loaded with sheep down to Sabinal and traded them for feed. After it was done he had a few less sheep to feed and his overstocked pasture was relieved that much. Several of the ranchmen are cutting brush for their sheep and goats. The animals will graze off the low brush in the pastures and the idea is to cut down the higher brush so they can reach it. O. Q. Marshall says he has two men cutting brush and provides feed for three or four thousand head. And his sheep and goats are doing well. He says sheep will eat brush just as well as goats when they can reach it, but a sheep will not reach for it as will a goat. And the cutting of brush is said to improve the pastures, as a large number of young sprouts will come from the stump.

Bids for Building Fences Wanted

For Kerr County roads, the following materials:

3,200 6-inch fence posts, 6 feet 6 inches long. 12,800 stays, 4 feet 6 inches long, 400 corner posts, 8 inches at top and 7 feet long. 100 gate posts, 5 inches at top and 12 feet long. 20 miles of 30-inch hog proof wire netting, galvanized. 60 miles of galvanized barbed wire have been bought by county.

Bids will be received for labor of building fence according to the specifications, and will be entertained in six-mile sections. Specifications can be seen at the office of the County Clerk and of Mr. Henry Renschel. Sealed proposals should be addressed to Mr. Henry Renschel, Chairman of Committee, Special Road District No. 1.

Bids will be received up to Feb. 25th, 1922, at 10 a. m., and then publicly opened.

Bid on labor only for building fence where holes are in dirt and also an additional bid extra per hole dug where fence posts are in rock.

A number of young ladies of the Baptist Church met at Mrs. W. L. Skinner's Wednesday evening for the purpose of organizing a Girls' Auxiliary. They formed an organization by electing the following officers: May Bess Chappelle, president; Addie Lee Garrett, vice president; Estelle Wellborne, secretary; Luda Bell Burney, treasurer, and Beatrice Chappelle, pianist. This being their first meeting no business was taken up, but a pleasant social hour was enjoyed by all, and then dainty refreshments were served, after which adieu was said to the kind hostess.

Rev. W. G. Harbin, after an absence of several weeks in West Virginia and other points, returned home Sunday. Rev. Harbin is one of the general evangelists of the Methodist Church, South, and while away he attended a meeting of the general evangelists held at Birmingham. He also held meetings at Logan and Elizabeth, W. Va. At each place he had more than one hundred conversions. Logan is one of the mining towns, where the miners have given much trouble of late. Mr. Harbin says there were about one hundred soldiers there during the time he conducted the meeting. While at home visiting his family, Bro. Harbin will conduct a revival meeting here at the Methodist Church, beginning Sunday, February 19th.

2,000 Rabbits Killed in Drive

Paint Rock, Tex., Feb. 11.—About 100 men engaged in a rabbit drive near here Thursday, and as a result more than 2,000 rabbits were killed.

The rabbits are more numerous than ever before, and unless steps are taken to exterminate them, it is believed they will destroy crops as fast as they come up in the spring.

and 25 cents for adults will be charged and a large attendance is urged, there being lots of fun in store for those who do come. The proceeds will be used toward the purchase of new furniture in the way of desks, etc., as the old furniture now being used is not in keeping with the building.

Postmaster Garland and L. R. Fessenden have just returned from a business trip to the Alamo City. They were accompanied home by Liberty New, a brother-in-law of Mr. Fessenden, who will assist in the construction of the new home to be erected by Mr. Fessenden in the near future.

J. L. Tullis and C. E. Salter of The Mountain Sun of Kerrville were welcome visitors Friday of last week. They were accompanied by Ben Smith of the Magnolia Oil Co. We appreciate these visits from our Kerrville friends and hope they will come often and give us an opportunity to get better acquainted.

Dr. W. B. Mackey and wife of the North Fork, and J. W. Orr and son, Will, of Hunt, motored to Kerrville Thursday of last week, stopping here on the return trip. Dr. Mackey went down to consult his physician, being the first time the doctor has been out since his accident a short time ago, when he was kicked by an unruly colt and several ribs fractured, two penetrating the lungs. It is thought an operation will be necessary.

Justice Turner's Court

The following cases have recently been disposed of in Justice of Peace Turner's Court:

Annie Pendley Robinson, charged with vagrancy; fine and costs of $21.70, and required to leave city.

H. S. Affleck of San Antonio, charged with three cases of game law violations during the hunting season—the killing of turkey hens, hunting without license and trespassing; pleas of guilty and total fines and costs of $86.80.

Ralph Johannessen, charged with fighting in public place.

H. R. Bauer of Brady, charged with killing turkey hen, hunting out of season, trespassing and hunting without license; total fines and costs of $68.00.

Game birds and animals of China are being wiped out owing to wholesale exportation in cold storage to satisfy the demand for foreign markets. There are no adequate game laws in that country.

HUNT HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Mackey was a visitor in Hunt last week.

Marvin Bode was the guest of his friend, Will Orr, last Sunday.

Miss Annie Orr was the guest of Miss Mabel Hardin last Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Mangold and daughter, Hazel, were visiting in Hunt last Sunday.

Mrs. Dick Dowdy of Ingram visited her daughter, Mrs. Charlie Stone, last week.

Cleve Griffin and family visited his brother, Walter Griffin, and family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Dubose entertained the young people with a singing Sunday evening.

Uncle John Dubose, who has been sick with rheumatism all winter, was able to attend church last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Beaver entertained the young people of Hunt with a supper and party last Saturday night.

Mrs. R. V. Nichols and children of Ingram visited her sisters, Mrs. A. D. Dubose and Mrs. R. C. Walker, last week.

The social, given at the home of Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Walker, was enjoyed very much by those who attended.

R. E. Lumpkins and daughter, Miss Josie, of Ingram, attended services at the Primitive Baptist Church here last Sunday.

WHITE WOMAN IS AMONG BOOTLEGGERS CONVICTED

Bastrop, Tex., Feb. 10.—Mrs. Minnie Blonk, the first white woman convicted in Bastrop County, was given two years in the penitentiary for bootlegging by a jury in the District Court today.

Four other convictions for bootlegging at this term of the District Court were: A. P. West, two years; David Brice, one year; E. Guse, one year; Charles Harbert, five years. Three cases for bootlegging were continued and two are set for trial this week.

"AUNT MARTHA'S CORNER CUPBOARD"

AUNT MARTHA used to go to her corner cupboard and produce articles of common, or garden variety that folks never thought about because they were so matter-of-fact. When she told the simple story of these articles, they took on a marvelous interest and new importance.

Every week this newspaper publishes new editions of good "Aunt Martha's Corner Cupboard." These are the advertisements. Each advertisement has an interesting story to tell. It gives you information about something that will make you happier and more comfortable or save you money. They help you save steps.

Even the smallest of the advertisements says a whole lot.

"THE HOUSE OF QUALITY"

enforcement is going forward as rapidly as any sane, reasonable prohibitionist has the right to expect.

"A year ago, a large proportion of the 'best citizens' and many of the cities were so violently prejudiced that they were in effect accessories to crime. Today the best citizenship, even in these great cities, is coming to recognize that any law must be enforced, and that any policy adopted by the American Nation is entitled to a fair trial on its merits.

"All that prohibition law enforcement needs is a fair chance, and it is beginning to get it."

ALMOST IMPOSSIBLE TO CONVICT BOOTLEGGERS, SAYS DALLAS SHERIFF

Dallas, Tex., Feb. 11.—That it is practically impossible to convict a bootlegger or a moonshiner in Dallas County under the existing laws and the existing situation, was stated by Sheriff Dan Hartson.

Hartson said that within the last 14 months he has sent to the United States District Court of the Northern District of Texas over 400 cases of violations of the prohibition law and that of this number practically all had either been pigeon-holed or dismissed. The few cases out of the 400 actually brought before the court, according to the Sheriff, were those in which the defendants were willing to plead guilty and accept a fine. In no instance, he said, has one of the cases been actually tried in court, although for some time he endeavored to get brought to trial a bootlegger arrested for the fifth time.

Sheriff Hartson said that he had invested over $3,000 in getting these cases ready for the court and that in some of the cases actually brought before the court the fine assessed did not amount to as much as it had cost him to catch the violator.

The army airship Roma, recently purchased by the United States Government from Italy, was christened with a bottle of liquid air. The bottle was dropped from a free balloon on the bow of the craft.

The greatest home-owning city of any of the thirty largest cities in the United States is Toledo, Ohio, according to reports. Seattle and Baltimore stand second and third, respectively, and New York City is last on the list.

OF BASKET BALL

The basket ball fans have been enjoying the treat furnished them by the teams of the Kerrville Sunday School League.

The first game of the league season was played Thursday night of last week between the Presbyterians and Methodists, resulted in a score of 14 to 3 in favor of the Presbyterians. The second game was staged Monday night of this week between the Baptists and Presbyterians, and resulted in a score of 14 to 8 in favor of the Baptists. Both games were hard fought and interesting from start to finish.

It is very gratifying to the officers of the League and all interested in Sunday School work to see the improving attendance and increasing enthusiasm manifested by the public.

The next game will be played Thursday, February 16th, between the Methodists and Baptists at the Methodist Church court at 7:30 p. m. Everybody be there. Admission 10 and 25 cents.

The schedule for the remaining portion of the season is as follows:

Monday, February 20th, Presbyterians vs. Methodists; Thursday, February 23rd, Presbyterians vs. Baptists; Monday, February 27th, Baptists vs. Methodists; Thursday, March 2nd, Methodists vs. Presbyterians; Monday, March 6th, Baptists vs. Presbyterians; Thursday, March 9th, Baptists vs. Methodists.

CHEER'O CLUB MEETS AT LOVELY HOME OF MRS. OLA B. GAMMON

The Cheer'O Club held its regular meeting on Monday, February 13th, Garrett stated that she had a surprise with Mrs. Ola B. Gammon and Miss Edith Tullis as hostesses, at the home of the latter.

After the transaction of business, a list was read of the many sick in the community and the ex-service boys to be visited. It was reported that the boys at the American Legion Hospital now had practically everything in the way of comforts, and were very appreciative of the attentions of the Cheer'O Club in the past.

A most enjoyable musical program was given as follows: Solo, Mrs. J. Grady Timmons; solo, Miss Eva Mae Staudt; solo (in native Spanish), Mrs. M. E. Bogle.

After the program, a heart-guessing contest was engaged in, this being the Valentine feature of the occasion. For guessing the most, the prize fell to Miss Gladys Howard, and the booby to Mrs. H. H. Kuhlmann.

Delicious refreshments, accompanied by small, dainty heart-shaped baskets as favors, were served to the thirty guests present.

Three new members were added: Mrs. Wm. Reed, Mrs. M. E. Bogle and Mrs. Miller.

Mrs. Gammon and Miss Tullis made most charming hostesses, and the hospitality was thoroughly enjoyed.

APATHETIC CITIZENS BLAMED FOR LAXITY IN DRY ENFORCEMENT

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 10.—The "apathetic citizen" and the "lethargic public official" are two of the outstanding obstacles blocking better enforcement of prohibition laws, Maj. Roy A. Haynes, National Prohibition Commissioner, told the Ohio Dry Law Enforcement Convention today.

"I do not class these apathetic citizens and lethargic officials with the lawless," he said, "but I cannot dissociate them from my problem of law enforcement. I know there is no form of lawlessness, no matter how deeply entrenched, financially, politically or socially, that can stand in our country against the awakened public conscience."

He is convinced Commissioner Haynes said, that one of the most serious tasks the prohibition enforcement department has "is to arouse this apathetic citizen." There are 30 paid organizations, he said, striving day and night to accomplish the impossible feat of causing the repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Drinking among young people and in society, Mr. Haynes declared, must be regarded as a National fad, and not a custom.

"It would be as logical," he continued, "to charge the crime wave to woman's suffrage, as the prohibition amendment. That is a world condition and in America, we find the reflex. The facts show that the total known importation during the last fiscal year was one-half of 1 per cent of the total consumption of liquor in the United States the year before prohibition.

"To the propaganda that prohibition is not proving successful, it is only necessary to say that prohibition

The Most Important Room in the House.

THERE are any number of conveniences that help to make the home more livable, but the well equipped Bathroom is the most important requirement to make the house comfortable.

People used to believe that installing a bathroom—one that was modern and convenient—could not be done without spending a lot of money.

That is not true today. It is no longer necessary for you and your family to deny yourselves the comfort of a modern bathroom.

If your bathroom is not what you would like it to be, call us on the telephone or drop in at our office and let us show you the possibilities of installing modern fixtures and plumbing in your home. The cost will probably be less than you expect.
