KERRVILLE FOOTBALL TEAMS

One of the largest crowds that has ever witnessed a local gridiron contest was on hand Armistice Day to see our local teams win both games.

The first game was played between Tivy High School and Rocksprings, and the home boys won 34 to 0. The score was rather one-sided, but it only showed the superiority of Tivy rather than the weakness of their opponents. CONTRACT SOON TO BE LET The game was very interesting, as Tivy was compelled to fight for every inch of ground that she gained. The local boys showed up well, every man playing good, clean football, while Rocksprings showed the real fighting spirit and put up a good game in the face of defeat. Malnor Shumard returned Tuesday from a few days visit at Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rees and family of San Antonio were week end visitors here last week. Mrs. Geo. P. Walker and Mrs. C. G. Walker are spending this week visiting in New Orleans.

Misses Juanita Pope and Mabel Burney returned last Wednesday from a several days visit at San Marcos. Miss Polly Hamlyn of San Antonio spent the week end here visiting relatives. She returned home Sunday

Frank E. White has started erecting a new residence on the site where his former residence was destroyed by fire several weeks since...

Mrs. W. D. Burney returned last Thursday from East Bernard, where she had been visiting her daughters, Miss Lois and Mrs. E. E. Otto.

John Griffeth of Floresville came up Saturday for a brief visit with relatives here. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Griffeth, who has spent several weeks here. A. Hinman of San Antonio has opened a repair shop in the Mooney building. He will repair watches, clocks, sewing machines, etc. He will put in a stock of goods later.

This section was blessed by another good rain Sunday night which will give the small grain a good start. The fields are already putting on a dressing of green which is pleasant to look

L. B. White and family went to Stockdale last Friday for a visit with relatives. Mr. White returned Saturday, but Mrs. White and little daughter, Sibyl, will remain there for a longer visit.

DEPLORE THE LACK OF LEADERSHIP IN PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 10.-President Harding is today in midstream with the tides of his own party running against him.

Personally popular, respected and esteemed, Mr. Harding has failed to convince many of the influential leaders of the Republican party that he has made the best use of his opportunities in the last two years. They are not ready to say he shall not be nominated for a second term in 1924they are sympathetic with any effort he may make in the next two years the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Nelto retrieve his mistakes, and they wish him success, because they would rather renominate him than face a contest inside the party, but the pre-vailing impression is that Mr. Harding is not sufficiently aggressive, not possessed of enough initiative to lead the party in these, its most trying years of regeneration.

For the Republican party is in the process of evolution. Leadership never was more essential. The Nation is aching to be led—it is tired of following will-o-the-wisp politicians and it is even more tired of Congress and its dilatory ways. President Harding is being criticised more for his lack of leadership than any one thing. The country accepted at first his argument that the legislative and executive branches of the government should be kept independent, but now it believes Mr. Harding has taken his own doctrine too literally.

"We voted in 1920," said one Re- and family. publican editor, "to do away with the dictatorship of Woodrow Wilson, but we didn't expect the pendulum to swing back the other way altogether. We must have one-man leadership."

gress to run its own course without regard to the best interests of the party. As if in illustration of this point, Republican chieftains without exception, and dozens of editors, unanimously agree that Mr. Harding's veto of the bonus was the most popular act of his administration. Why? Because he overruled Congress. Because he took the bit in his teeth and did a courageous thing in a political year. Because he followed his convictions. Even many who think he was unwise to veto the soldier bonus bill concede his courage. The thing which hurt Mr. Harding more than anything else was his attitude during the rail and coal strikes. of all engines of warfare because it There is feeling that he waited too spreads the propaganda that causes

Mr. Harding wabbled in handling the shopmen's strike. Many in his own party will never forgive him for being willing to restore seniority rights to the strikers and a great many morefor laboring men are more numerous than employers-will never forgive him for permitting the Attorney General to apply the injunction process to labor. Still another group commends the use of the injunction as a weapon of protection for the public but insists that the railroad executives were equally guilty of conspiraacy to restrain commerce if two or more of them entered into agreements or understandings which by concerted action against their employees had the effect of restraining interstate commerce. The injunction is criticised by them as one-sided.

WHO PAYS FOR THE BILLIONS OF WASTE IN OUR MARKETS? - FARMERS

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, in Capper's Farmer: Anyone acquainted with business and practical economics will agree that we have in this country a most wasteful system of distributing our necessities. It is 20 to 25 per cent too high. And the hardest part of it is that the whole burden of this waste falls on the biggest and most necessary producer, the farmer. Unquestionably the biggest problem today is how to secure remunerative prices for farm producis. I am sick of hearing a world of balderdash about supply and de-mand. I recognize the importance of these factors in price making, but enyone's common sense tells him cost of production must be considered in making farm prices, just as in other

Go into practically any large city and notice the antiquated, senseless waste in marketing food. Take Chicago or New York; tons and tons of food are trucked from railroad and steamer docks to market centers, and then trucked back again to the railfor redistribution to smaller rs. How can the marketing busikeep up that senseless waste? It does not happen in any other busi-ness. Automobiles, shoes, clothing are not shipped to Kansas City and then back to Keokuk, Ia., and Springfield, Ill. But farm products are always back-tracking through city streets and out again over the railroads, piling up millions of dollars of needless expense that is passed on to the farmer in the lower price he re-

Watermelons sold as low as 15 and 20 cents, farmers' price, in New York son last summer. The price the consumer paid for watermelons ran as high as a dollar. A number of farmers did not dig their potatoes this year because of low prices. Yet I venture that thousands of persons in New York last summer would have been glad to pay a reasonable price for melons, and before another crop comes potatoes will be making somebody a big profit.

Everybody else is co-operating. Farmers must come to it. There is no other way to remedy the useless waste and antiquated marketing methods of the other branches of business and Congress has provided a farmers' co-operative law that gives opportunity for co-operative farm marketing.

The Chiropractor can keep your physical machine in perfect order, and this, good friend, means happiness. Do Chiropractic adjustments really restore health? Fifteen thousand successful Chiropractors, with enviable reputations, scattered all over the United States, is our answer.

Twenty-seven years ago Chiropractic was unknown. Today it is a successful competitor of any health system in existence. If Chiropractors had failed to bring health to millions of sufferers, where all other systems had failed, could it have progressed to the position it holds today? Our answer is NO!

Sr. Eugene of Notre Dame Insti-tute returned to Kerrville after the close of the second annual convention of the Southern Catholic Hospital Association. The meetings of doctors and nurses were held at Santa Rosa Infirmary and were presided over by the Very Rev. Dr. C. B. Moulinier, S. J., organizer of the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada, and regent of the Marfor 1923 was designated at St. Paul's Sanitarium, Dallas. Sisters Mary Victory and M. Lydia, B. A., R. N., favorably remembered at Notre Dame, read scholarly papers before the professional gatherng, which represented nearly every Catholic hospital in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Sr. Eugene reports that the Tag Day at San Antonio for the free care of crippled children brought in nearly five thousand dollars, despite the rainy weather and the drives conducted by the Y. M. C. A. and the Red Re-enrollment in the Red Cross was begun on Armistice Day at Notre Dame. A quartette of High School girls was delegated to represent our school at the patriotic program held in the Baptist Church. This quartette, composed of Misses Frances and Stella Michon, Madeline Sinn and Wilhelmina Mosel, sang the martial hymn, "For God and Country.

Martin Louis Michon and John Clifford Flye donated to the school library a dozen volumes of popular juvenile paste. works.

LURID PICTURE OF CHAOTIC CONDITIONS IN EUROPE

First Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club on the "Changing East." In his speech he a moment on the mysteries of China peror he will be forever glorified." and Japan, discussed Germany's important place in the economic scheme sailles is not a treaty of peace but a treaty of war.

Marcosson, who has interviewed every personage of importance in the world, declared that Hugo Stinnes of Germany is the most extraordinary man in the world; Lloyd George the greatest politician, and Jan Smuts, premier of the Union of South Africa, the greatest and the only statesman on the world's horizon.

"Give Us Our Daily Hate" "Figuratively speaking," Marcos-son declared, "in every home of those war-torn countries, over the door is a framed motto which reads 'Give us this day our daily hate!' That feeling can be traced directly back to the Treaty of Versailles, because at the end of the war Europe was chopped up with a meat axe instead of a delicate instrument like the Mayo brothers would use on a human body.'

He told several amusing incidents of the chopping process, one of which was that under the change a new frontier had been established between a fire department and a large, handsome railroad station.

"The station caught fire," he said, out to save it they were turned back slowly turned to dead ashes."

Other amusting, though tragic on. happenings, aftermaths of the war, were told. One was of an English concerning an English general who lie and that wish was denied.' lost both legs and an arm in the war and the war department sent him a rubber stamp letter a short time ago asking him if he was still disabled.

German Situation In discussing Germany, the speaker ods of relief for it. One was that the reparations payments must be stopped until the country is better able to pay international loan. He described with scription price six dollars per year. Nealy as Commissioner of Precinct vivid detail its shrinking currency No. 3 and Vernon McCaleb takes the that is being printed in bales and Orange groves in California are prothe cause of that, he declared. The currency and almost desperate condition of Austria was also touched upon.

Turning from Germany to Japan, Marcosson declared that it is one of Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 10 .- A pic- the most overrated countries in the ture of lurid hate and a hotbed of war world. "The story that the Japanese in European countries was painted by are supermen is only a myth," he de-Isaac Marcosson, noted international clared. "They have no morals and newspaper reporter, who spoke at the their women are held in the lowest contempt of any people in the world. The country is feudal. For king and country is their motto. A Japanese marked the transition, and touched for | believes that if he dies for his em-

Of the Chinese, the speaker labeled them super-grafters, each an indiand charged that the Treaty of Ver- divualist standing on his own feet looking for his own graft.

"The civil wars of that country." "It was built by politicians and not by statesmen," he said, "and in my opinion is a 'receipt of ruin.'"

The civil wars of that country," he asserted, "are only schemes for looting. The soldiers draw no pay and about every six months they have a about every six months they have a war and the winning side loots the towns captured."

Predicts Lloyd George's Return Marcosson made two forecasts in his speech. One was that the year would see the return of Lloyd George to power and the other was that the present Prince Regent of Japan would see the end of the king business.
"This is true of Japan," he asserted "because a liberal movement is under way that will free it from the feudal institutions that have marked its thousands of years of history." Marcosson said little of his exploits of interviewing the great and the near great, except that he found the really great men simple, easy to talk to, easy to reach, but that the mediocre great surrounded themselves with formalities and limitations that marked them in the scale of things. Of Clemenceau, Tiger of France, he painted a tragic picture. It was a picture of an old, old man who aroso every morning at 2 a. m. in the year of 1917, when it was touch and go whether or not France could hold back 'and as the fire department dashed the Germans until the American armies could arrive in force, taking at the frontier because their passports | an automobile trip to the front, wadhad lapsed. They were turned back ing in the mud, blood and filth of the while the commodious railroad station battle line to shake hands with men of the French army and cheer them

"He was an army himself," Mar-cosson said. "I knew him in those days widow who applied for a pension on and I know him now, and France the ground that she was the widow of it would seem has forgotten him. He an "unknown soldier." Another was desired to be president of the repub-

PECULIAR IN PLANT WORLD

Strange and Valuable Property Possessed by the "Compass," Indigenous to America.

One of the world's most curious plants and one that is indigenous to this country alone is the compass plant, which was first brought to the attention of the scientific world by Gen. Benjamin Alvord in 1842. It received its name from the strange property exhibited by its leaves of presenting their faces to the rising and setting sun.

This remarkable species, says the New York Post, is a perennial plant of the order compositae. The first year it bears only radical leaves; the second year and after it is a flowering herb, with four or five leaves from 12 to 30 inches in length. It is found in the rich prairies of the Mississippi valley, from Minnesota to Texas. The polarity of the leaves was known to hunters and settlers long before General Alvord discovered it, and they would resort to it when lost on the prairies on dark nights, as by feeling of its leaves they could easily get their bearings. Many lives have been saved by this plant.

By the movements of the "weather plant" an expert is able to foretell the weather and warn of forthcoming storms, cyclones, earthquakes, fire damps and volcanic eruptions. This plant, which bears the scientific name of abrus precatorius, is a native of Cuba. It bears no flowers, and consists merely of a long stalk from which branch numerous twigs containing rows of delicate looking leaves. The leaves frequently change color or close, while the twigs bend themselves into curious positions.

HANDY WITH HIS REVOLVER

Old-Time Sea Captain Notorious for His Brutality to Those Under His Command.

One of the most inhuman characters in the history of navigation was "Bully" Waterman, a captain who commanded a ship between New York and San Francisco years ago. His treatment of the crews under his command were classics of cruelty. On one of his voyages he left New York with a crew of 42 men, and by the time the vessel reached San Francisco 17 of them had been shot by Waterman, most of them fatally, his excuse being that they refused to obey orders.

When the ship returned to New York the authorities were waiting for Waterman, but he learned of his danger and contrived his escape. He landed on the Jersey coast, and the ship was unloaded and cleared in the name of the irst officer When the vessel left iff came aboard and announced his determination to stay there until he found Waterman. When Sandy Hook was reached the acting captain told the sheriff that he was about to steer for Cape Horn and advised his returning to New York by the pilot boat. He did so, and soon afterward Waterman boarded from a coasting schooner. He never returned to New York, but died in California.

"Acknowledging the Corn."

The expression "to acknowledge the corn," meaning "to confess to a charge or imputation," had its origin in the misfortunes of a certain upcountry gentleman years ago in New Orleans. This individual arrived in that city with two flatboats, one laden with corn and the other with potatoes. His first night there he entered into a disastrous gambling game during which he lost all his money and finally put up his two boat-loads and lost

Returning to the wharf after the game he discovered that the boat bearing the corn had sunk, and was a total loss. The next morning the winner arrived at the wharf claiming his winnings. The unlucky voyager said to him, "Stranger, I acknowledge the corn-take it; but the potatoes you can't have, by thunder!"

"Golf" Comes From Dutch Word. Why is the ancient Scottish game

now so popular in this country among those able to support the extensive links required, called "golf?" The answer is to be found in a letter written by Sir Walter Scott, in 1842:

"I should doubt very much that the word 'golf' is derived from the verb 'gowff,' or to strike hard. On the contrary, I conceive that the verb itself is derived from the game, and to 'gowff' is to strike sharp and strong, as in that amusement. If I were to hazard a conjecture, I should think that the name 'golf' is derived from the same Teutonic expression from which the Germans have 'colb,' a club, and the Low Dutch 'kolff,' which comes very near the sound of 'golf.' If I am right, the word 'golf' signifies 'the game of the club,' "

Plant's Remarkable Growth.

A recent note in science records what is believed to be the temperate zone record for a single season's growth of a shoot of the tree type of woody plant. This quite phenomenal shoot grew from the stump of a be headed Paulownia and reached a height of 21 feet 6 inches, a circumference of 10 inches at the base, and had 24 leaves, one of which, measured in late July, was found to be 38 inches long in the largest dimension.
