TWO-DAY INTENSIVE DRIVE NETS 305 MEMBERS TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Saengerites Lose First Half-Day Lap, But Come Back Wednesday to Win by Margin of 8 Points.

A total of 305 memberships in the Chamber of Commerce were secured in the intensive two-day campaign that closed late Wednesday night.

Walter Saenger's team was unofficially declared the winner by a margin of only eight points.

The workers met in the offices of the organization at 7:30 o'clock last night and final reports were turned in.

The winning team consisted of Walter Saenger, A. B. Williamson, Scott Schreiner, Chas. L. Mason, R. A. Franklin, Glenn Brooks, Herbert L. Crate, J. M. Dennis and Cecil Robinson.

Due to the sickness of Ben Smith, the team he was to have led was reorganized and L. W. McCoy elected captain.

The losers are: L. W. McCoy, Ally Beitel, Milton Pampell, Alois Renschel, A. F. McClellan, A. T. Adkins, J. B. Young and J. C. Yeary.

The first shot of the membership war was fired early Tuesday morning following a luncheon for the teams at the St. Charles Hotel Monday night.

Final instructions were issued to both captains and their teams at the dinner and lists of prospects were given to each worker.

Following the giving of instructions and prospect lists a pep rally took place. Defies flew thick and fast among the team workers and great excitement prevailed.

The principal decorations used included trace chains, pitchforks, padlocks, and other implements of torture used on the losers for the first half day.

Actual competition began about sunrise Tuesday morning with both teams actively soliciting memberships. Captain Ben Smith was unable to take part in the opening skirmish due to illness.

His team was temporarily demoralized, but quickly reorganized and set to work with the determination to win in spite of a sick leader.

A second luncheon of the workers was held Tuesday noon at the St. Charles at which reports for the first half day's work were submitted.

The winner of the restricted work was then decided, Ben Smith's team scoring the greatest number of points.

Unofficial standing Tuesday noon was reported as follows: Smithies, 121 members, $494 collected, for a total of 2,915 points; Saengerites, 106 members, $25 and 2,645 points.

Memberships counted 20 points and each dollar collected scored one.

After the luncheon the Saengerites were marched into the street chained together with cow bells adorning their necks and with the winning team, armed with pitchforks, as guards.

The Schreiner Institute band preceded the teams playing the funeral dirge. Walter Saenger, leader of the losers, carried a large banner with the words, "Lost Today, Tomorrow Saved." After parading through the

EXTRA BOOSTS DRIVE

The membership drive of the Chamber of Commerce was started off in great style with an extra edition of The Mountain Sun Monday noon.

The special edition was put out for the Chamber of Commerce and carried sensational headlines similar to city extras on big news stories.

A bulletin followed by a story "By Special War Correspondent" was the main feature of the page.

The extras were sold for a nickel each for the first hour to make the stunt more realistic, after which they were distributed over the entire city by some 15 or 20 newsboys.

The money received from the sale of the copies belonged to the Chamber of Commerce.

The entire edition boosted the Chamber of Commerce and the membership drive in particular.

were filed the red column was painted up to show the total to date.

The campaign closed Wednesday night was one of the hottest contests ever put on by the local Chamber of Commerce and met with the greatest response of any previous drives for members.

The competition between the teams was the keenest possible and many were the good natured challenges and jibes that passed back and forth among the contesting factions.

Every member of the campaign was reported in his pastures by Herman Schulze Wednesday morning.

Mr. Schulze said field sparrows were waging a fight against the insects and are helping to a large extent in keeping their numbers down.

By putting on a campaign of eradication while the pests are small, a great deal of trouble and damage may be eliminated, according to Mr. Yeary.

If the work of poisoning the hoppers is delayed until they are nearly grown there is danger of their jumping into streams after getting the poison.

Such action might cause a number of fish to be killed from eating the poisoned hoppers.

A bulletin on grasshopper fighting has been received from R. R. Reppert, A. & M. College entomologist, and is reproduced here:

Farmers in many parts of Texas are fearful lest last year's damage from grasshoppers may be repeated this season.

From some of our western counties are coming reports of grasshoppers already hatching, although at this early date no damage has yet resulted.

It is difficult to foresee what the outcome may be. Last year the dry weather reduced the pasture growth and drove the hoppers to the cultivated fields, bringing about heavy damage that might otherwise have been avoided.

With the moisture in the soil this season it is possible that even if large numbers of the hoppers emerge they will remain in the pastures and the damage to cultivated crops may thus be light.

At the same time, farmers should be fully prepared to wage a fight if necessary. Success in saving the crops will depend mainly on promptness in destroying the hoppers previous to their actual entrance into the fields.

Do not wait until they have destroyed half the fields.

The following formula is the one recommended, having been used with success in Texas as well as in other States: Wheat bran, 25 pounds; white arsenic or Paris green, 1 pound; lemons or oranges, 6 fruits; low grade cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts; water, 2 gallons.

Mix the bran and poison thoroughly while dry. Dilute the molasses with the amount of water named. Squeeze the lemon juice into this diluted molasses, then grind the rind of the lemons with a meat chopper and add this also to the liquid. Now mix the liquid thoroughly with the poison bran mixture. After an even mixture has been obtained, add more water and mix, until a mash is obtained so that after being squeezed in the hand, it readily falls apart.

Grasshoppers feed in the morning, and as the bait loses its attractiveness when dry, it should be applied so as to be as moist as possible at this time. It will therefore be best to put it out about sunrise. Provided the ground is not so hot and dry as to remove the moisture during the night, it may be put out late in the evening in case the area to be treated is too extensive to be quickly covered in early morning.

The mixture should be scattered, as if sowing seed, by hand, or any type of seeder capable of distributing it. The amount given in the formula should cover about five acres.

Where the hoppers have become distributed over the cultivated field, the entire area should be sown, and the application repeated in a few days if necessary. If the hoppers are found to be advancing from pasture lands, distribute the mash in front

COUNTY AGENT ADVISES EARLY FIGHT AGAINST GRASSHOPPERS

Insects Already Reported in Kerr County—Entomologist Suggests Means of Combatting.

A war on grasshoppers before their numbers reach huge proportions is advised by County Agent J. C. Yeary. Reports have reached his office to the effect that the insects have already appeared in Kerr County.

Small grasshoppers in numbers were reported in his pastures by Herman Schulze Wednesday morning.

Mr. Schulze said field sparrows were waging a fight against the insects and are helping to a large extent in keeping their numbers down.

LOCAL RED CROSS TO SPONSOR LIFE SAVING CLASSES MAY 14

Capt. J. S. Law, Expert of Water Sports and Life Saving, to Give Lectures and Demonstrations.

Classes in life saving are to be conducted here Wednesday, May 14, by Capt. J. S. Law, assistant director of life saving for the Southwestern Division of the American Red Cross.

The purpose of the Red Cross life saving program is to eliminate preventable loss of life by drowning and to correlate and disseminate swimming and life saving knowledge.

Captain Law is a graduate of Springfield College, a Nationally known school of physical education, and his services are donated by the division office to the local chapter.

He is known Nationally as a former college athlete and is an authority on swimming. He has organized and directed large numbers of classes in swimming with effective results and is familiar with every phase of physical education.

He demonstrates the carries and death grip releases with ease and skill and lectures from deep water, which is called his "wet platform," holding the interest of his audience to the last demonstration.

"Drownings are preventable," Captain Law says. They recur year after year in the same places and from the same causes, and he believes that through education every boy and girl can be made a life saver. Also by emphasizing life saving instead of too much speed, and by placing life saving equipment, he says the majority of accidents can be prevented and the water made safe for people.

Details of the program for Captain Law's visit here are fast nearing completion and further announcement of same will be given in these columns next week.

MACDONA DARK HORSES BESTED BY ATHLETICS IN SLOW CONTEST

Shorty McCarty, Outstanding Star of Visitors Sunday—Locals Bunch Hits to Score 11-7 Win.

Continuing their winning streak the Athletics trounced the Macdona Dark Horses on the local diamond Sunday afternoon, 11 to 7, in a slow game featured by heavy hitting by the locals and unexpected opposition by the visitors.

Both teams fielded erratically at times, but the domestics redeemed their bobbles with bunched hits.

Ford was on the mound for Macdona and his offerings baffled the locals for the first inning or two. After that they located the wide, slow curves and the visitors were kept running all over the lot after the ball.

Barry started for the Athletics and went through six innings and gave up six tallies. Humphries was given a chance to warm up during the last three frames and permitted but one tally to cross the pan.

Shorty McCarty was the bright light for the visitors. He poled one over the left field wall in the fifth and hit safely every time he was at bat. He also played a good game at short.

The visitors were first to score, working a tally across in the second. The locals came back and put over two and then added more until the count stood 6 to 3 at the end of the fifth. In the sixth three runs crossed the plate to tie up at 6-all.

Then the home team opened up and when the last man was put out in the first of the ninth five runs had swelled the locals' score and the visitors had grabbed off one.

SCHREINER INSTITUTE WINS THREE-SCHOOL TRACK MEET

Local Boys Score 81 Points, Brackenridge High 47 and San Antonio Academy 18.

Schreiner Institute proved too much for the Brackenridge High and San Antonio Academy track teams and took a three-cornered meet between the schools here Saturday with 81 points. Brackenridge was second with 47 and Academy trailed along with 18.

Exceptionally fast times were made in all events, in some instances high school records being smashed.

Motte of Schreiner won the low hurdles with a time of 26.3 seconds. Wysonog of Academy, walked off with the dashes, winning the century in 10 flat and taking the 220 in 21.4 seconds.

Schreiner took the mile relay, making faster time than any made in high school meets this year.

Motte of Schreiner and Urban of Brackenridge were tied for high point man with 16 points each.

The above cut shows the two ponds and the buildings at the Kerr County Bass Hatchery, which is located on C. R. Eddins' place eighteen miles above Kerrville along the Old Spanish Trail.

It does not show, however, the gravity flow of 400 gallons per minute of pure spring water which feeds the ponds, nor the immense amount of work necessary to bring the water from the spring three-quarters of a mile above, through two underground tunnels across Fessenden Branch, and the open ditch which winds around the hillside, many places being picked and blasted through the solid rock.

The Hatchery is one of the projects put through by the local Chamber of Commerce the past year and cost approximately $3,000, the greater part of which was invested by the public-spirited business interests of Kerrville and the citizens of Kerr County.

It will be maintained by the Chamber of Commerce under Government supervision for stocking the Guadalupe River and tributaries in the county. The two acres of ground occupied by the ponds and buildings were donated by Mr. Eddins, who has also generously agreed to add another acre for a third pool if it is decided to enlarge the plant.

The ponds were stocked with black bass in January, seventeen breeders being installed in the upper pool and thirty-seven in the lower. As there was practically no feed in the ponds minnows were also planted for the breeders to feed on, care being taken to eliminate all perch and other fish which would destroy the spawn.

Owing to the late spring the breeders are just now starting their spawning and it will be probably two weeks before any baby bass make their appearance in the ponds. It is estimated that better than a million bass will be hatched out, and then the fatal battle royal for the survival of the fittest will begin, as, like all game fish, bass are cannibals.

The small bass grow very rapidly and those which hatch out first will be large enough to eat up large numbers of the late broods. The parent fish will also devour countless numbers of their own offspring. While it is not known just how many will survive, it is expected that several hundred thousand inch-long bass fry will be available about the latter part of June for planting in the streams.

As the young bass attain a growth of about a pound the first year those planted this summer will be large enough for catching by the opening of the fishing season next year, so it can be readily seen that the Kerr County Bass Hatchery will be the means of keeping the Guadalupe and tributaries well stocked with black bass, which will attract tourists and fishermen from all over the State.

After the first season the ponds will be settled and filled with the attendant aquatic insects which the fish feed on so that a larger number of breeders can be installed and the production increased. Mark Riley, Superintendent of the Federal Hatchery at San Marcos, who has supervision of the local plant, states that after the first year it will keep the streams of Kerr County well stocked regardless of the heavy fishing which will naturally follow.

SCRAPS FROM SCOFIELD

Miss Maxine Garrett went out with her family Sunday afternoon.
 Miss Helen J. Hoskins visited her aunt, Mrs. Miller Harwood, Sunday.
 Monday night of last week several of the girls and teachers went to the Presbyterian Church to hear Dr. Wharton.
 Both Saturday and Sunday evenings the Scofield girls attended Dr. Wharton's services at the Presbyterian Church.
 Miss Maxine Garrett went to San Antonio with her family last Saturday morning. She returned to school Sunday afternoon.
 Last Friday morning Misses Louie and Mae Louise Dolph went to San Antonio for the week end. They returned Sunday evening.
 A change has been instituted in our daily program. Our exercise and recreation periods have been changed on account of the warm weather.
 Friday afternoon Miss Louise Reutzelt went to San Antonio to spend Easter at home. After a very pleasant visit, she returned Sunday afternoon.
 Last week's Scofield news was not sent in to the press in time to be included in that issue of the Mountain Sun, so it is included in the "Scraps from Scofield" this week.
 Miss Sarah C. Scofield, Mrs. W. H. Skinner and Miss Helen J. Hoskins attended the reception given for Rev. Macdougall and family at the Episcopal Parish House last week.
 A little program was given Monday afternoon of last week in commemoration of San Jacinto Day. The Senior English class read essays on the subject and several talks were given.
 The Scofield girls enjoyed a swim in the Guadalupe after school Monday afternoon. Now that warm weather has set in it is hoped that this will be a part of the exercise several times a week.
 This past week two baseball teams have been organized. The two captains are Misses Maxine Garrett and Marion Meredith. The two teams are evenly matched and each scores many pretty plays in the daily games.
 Nearly all the Scofield girls and teachers enjoyed an all-day picnic on the river Saturday. The site chosen was on the Junction road, about five miles out, by a good swimming pool. Swimming passed the time until dinner, when the party was joined by Mrs. George H. Garrett and son, Elbert, and Roy Joyce, her nephew. Quite a scare was experienced when Miss Louie Dolph fell off the swing, but fortunately she is a good swimmer and was unhurt. Before sundown the party again indulged in swimming, after which we returned to school in the moonlight.

CAN TAXES BE REDUCED?

Texas Good Government Association: Among all the issues, promises, and pledges that mark the present race between candidates for the Governorship of Texas, one issue seems to be of paramount importance. Indeed all other issues are closely bound up with this one outstanding issue which relates to taxes or, in other words, the cost of running the State Government.
 Every citizen in Texas is vitally interested in the subject of tax reduction, although it is entirely reasonable to assume that no thoughtful citizen would agree to reductions calculated to cripple the State Government or retard the development of Texas. It matters not which of the candidates you are supporting for Governor, the subject is of importance to you because it affects your individual welfare, as well as that of the State. Since all of us want taxes reduced, just how and to what extent can this desirable end be attained, if it is safely within the range of attainment?
 Several of the candidates running for Governor have made no specific pledges concerning tax reduction, other than to promise an economical administration if elected.
 One candidate promises to make a substantial saving if elected, by abolishing some of the departments of administration and consolidating others. He does not go so far as to name specifically the departments he would eliminate or consolidate, nor does he state whether he refers to departments created by the Constitution or departments created by statutory enactment.
 Another candidate running for Governor promises to save taxpayers a total of $10,000,000.00 over a two-year period through the introduction of business methods in running the State's affairs. Up to this time his statements are too vague and indefinite to either criticize or commend, although he does name the approximate amount of the saving he would effect.

Still another candidate very frankly gives it as his opinion that it will be next to impossible to effect any material saving through tax reduction during the next administration.
 Now, let's briefly see what may be done to reduce taxes during the next Governor's administration, using the amount of taxes appropriated during 1923-1924 as a basis for our calculations.
 The State appropriated a total of $42,028,399.85 to cover its activities for the period 1923-1924. Of this amount, more than half or, to be exact, $24,217,900.94, was appropriated for Public Education. This amount represents 57 1/2% of the total taxes collected. Can any reduction be made in this item? Three facts should be considered here. First, the vast improvement possible in our public school system. Second, the fact that our present average school term covers a period of only 3 1/2 months in the year, when our State Constitution definitely prescribes an average six months term of free schools for our boys and girls. Third, the growth of our State, with a constantly increasing host of boys and girls to be educated. Now, if our school system is improved, the term extended to meet the Constitutional requirement, and the increasing school population taken care of, it is quite probable that our next appropriation will be larger rather than smaller than the last. It is perfectly apparent that no reduction in the item of public education would be countenanced for a moment by the people of Texas.

The next largest item of Government expense is the cost of building and maintaining Public Highways. For the years 1923-1924, the State will spend a total of $8,593,957.54, on its Public Highways. This item represents 21 per cent of total State expenditures. It is unthinkable that any citizen of Texas would advocate stopping or reducing public highway construction when we have too few good highways now, and when we stop to realize that the future of our State is largely limited by its highway construction program. It is immediately apparent that no reduction can be made in this item. The tendency is rather towards a larger program of highway construction, which would effectually block any reduction in taxes.
 The third largest item of State expense is the maintenance of our institutions for the care of the State's blind, insane and other wards. For this worthy purpose the State will spend in 1923-1924 a total of $3,007,842.94, which represents 7 1/4 per cent of total appropriations. Since we now have a large number of helpless wards of the State poorly provided for, account of limited accommodations, it would not be right, if possible at all, to reduce this item of expense.
 The fourth largest item of State expense is accounted for by an appropriation of $1,450,963.40 to pay pensions to our Confederate Veterans. This item which represents 3 1/2 per cent of the State's entire appropriations is incapable of any material reduction, and no Texan would want it reduced if the reduction imposed suffering upon our old veterans whom it should be considered a privilege to care for in the best way possible.
 The four items named account for a total of $37,300,654.82, out of appropriations for 1923-1924 aggregating $42,028,399.85, leaving only $4,727,745.03 to cover Departmental, Judiciary and Miscellaneous expense. In view of the facts just related, and in face of the State's prospective growth, it is difficult to understand just how we may reasonably expect a reduction of $10,000,000.00, or anything like even half that amount, when the savings would have to be made from total appropriations of less than $5,000,000.00—and some of THIS expense is of course necessary.
 The candidate who promises to abolish or consolidate a number of the State Departments could not possibly save more than a pittance to the taxpayers, even though he should be able to fulfill his pledges. Some of the Departments are Constitutionally created and could not be abolished unless the fundamental law of the State were changed or amended. This would require four years time and a vote of the people.
 We present these facts to the people of Texas, so that they may not be led to build their hopes upon expectations which seem clearly impossible of fulfillment. We hold no brief for any particular candidate; our sole purpose being to present the truth in order that our citizens may understand what to expect under the next Administration, no matter who is elected or what may be promised. If we desire a greater Texas, in all probability our future taxes will be higher than in times past, in spite of some economies that certainly may be introduced in the administration of the State's business and doubtless will be, regardless of who may be victor in the coming election. But there certainly can be no sane reduction in taxes, under the next administration.

DRODDY GARAGE TO HAVE
DRIVE-IN FILLING STATION

Work was begun this week on the remodelling of the Droddy Garage and the building of a drive-in filling station.

The present concrete block building is to be extended back about 35 feet, with a strip seven feet wide added on the south side. The front of the house will be moved back some 20 feet or more to provide room for the drive-in station.

Included in the improvements will be a ladies' rest room, added room in the mechanical repair department, more storage space and a more convenient arrangement of the building which the drive-in feature permits.

The garage will be closed during the progress of the improvements, which it is expected will require a month to complete.

SHEEPMEN — RANCHMEN — FARMERS!

The other day a discussion was overheard which took place between two ranchmen. (For convenience sake we will call them John and Frank).

John—"Hello Frank, do you feel like going out to Chas. Real's ranch, I want to buy a few rams?"

Frank—"Yes, I'll be glad to go with you. I bought a bunch of ewes the other day and will need a ram a little later; don't know much about sheep and would like to ask you a few questions, as you are an old sheep man."

John—"I have bought rams from Chas. Real a good many years and have had splendid success with them."

Frank—"Why do you prefer his rams to others?"

John—"He has a splendid flock of Delaine-Merino ewes and buys the highest priced stud rams on the market, getting the type mostly wanted in this country. Then he devotes his entire time to the breeding of rams for the market. They are never neglected one day from the time the lambs are born until the ram is sold to the customer. Through that he gets better size on them than most others."

Frank—"How are his prices?"

John—"His prices are very reasonable for the kind of rams he breeds; you get splendid values in buying from him."

Frank—"Are his rams heavy shearers?"

John—"By far the majority of his flock are extra heavy shearers; then he has some each year on the Delaine type, which are a little lighter in wool. He usually has a few rather wrinkled rams—a fine cross on light shearing ewes."

The Sun this week received an article from the pen of Otho A. Morris for publication, about the deplorable conditions existing at the city dump grounds out on Tivy Mountain Road near the negro cemetery. Owing to the scarcity of news space in these columns and the length of the article, it is impossible to reproduce it in full, but The Sun believes Mr. Morris' complaint should receive consideration. According to him, trash is dumped on both sides of the road and some people even leave the carcasses of dead animals lying out in the open to defile the air with the stench of their decaying bodies. Mr. Morris does not blame any officials for the condition of the dump ground, but says that public indifference is to blame. Drive out that way some evening and look into the matter yourself. The Sun agrees with Mr. Morris that if sufficient number will make this drive, some means will be found to remedy the situation.

"Think" in San Antonio Express: Just as "everybody knows where the shamrock grows," so does everybody know that Southwest Texas is unequalled among all other sections as a place of lasting delight through the winter months. All the old-timers have known just as well that there is no part of the country better suited in the important item of climate as a summer playground. But the thing that counts is the spread of this accurate information. And it is spreading and taking root and being adopted. If the proof of the pudding is the eating of it, and nobody denies it, then the proof of the climate in San Antonio territory is to be found in the army of visitors. The Presbyterians and the Methodists are lining up for their annual summer protracted outing at Kerrville.

GOVERNOR NEFF IS RIGHT

Texas Commercial News is not in politics, but it believes that, in the selection of a President of the United States, its clientele, Texas Commerce and industry, should have an opinion.

We unqualifiedly agree with Governor Pat M. Neff that our delegation of 40 citizens of Texas should go to the National Convention uninstructed.

That is the first step in returning to that ideal the framers of our immortal document, the Constitution of the United States, had.

They never felt that the electorate could select a man capable of directing the affairs of this nation, for the electorate's knowledge of the duties to be performed and the qualifications of those who would aspire to this important post, they knew, was too imperfect.

If it were true then with our four millions of peoples scattered along the Atlantic seaboard how much truer it is today with our country spanning the earth almost and with one hundred fifty millions of people under our care.

The time has come for us to go back to that ideal of the fathers—select our wisest men and let them select our chief ruler.

Not only that, but the time has come when we must quit "picking" our presidents from among those who seek the office, and go out and conscript the brains and talents capable of ruling America as America should be ruled.

Not only should Texas quit listening to self-seeking politicians, and quit "choosing" from among those who offer, and quit sending "instructed" delegates to the National Convention, but every State should do that—even as a party measure.

From every State there should be sent its quota of delegates, uninstructed. These men would meet without any personal predilections for any man. They should place upon the table the names of those whom one or more members think worthy and able to fill the office of President of the United States, and then thrash out the various names until the convention could agree upon one man as that party's standard bearer.

No man can choose when he is uninformed, and the electorate of America are uninformed as to the available men for the Presidency. If an electorate can not choose, how could they instruct.

There should go from Texas 40 of her greatest men with just one purpose: To name the biggest and best man in the United States for the Presidency of the greatest Nation on earth.

Governor Neff is right, and his leadership in this should be followed.—Texas Commercial News.

whatever value it once might have had because most people who travel the highways nowadays do so at a speed which makes reading the message on a billboard sign next to impossible. Even if every sign were read, the average motor journey of 50 or 100 miles on an afternoon brings such a jumble of impressions from the hundreds of signs encountered by the fleeting eye, that the selling effectiveness is lost. It is about the same as a salesman who would leap through the door, shout, "Good morning, name's Smith, selling chewing gum, want any? Goodbye," and dash out again in two seconds.

VETERANS' HOSPITAL HAS EXHIBIT AT SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio Light, April 30th: A wonderful degree of craftsmanship and art as possessed by patients in the U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 93 of Kerrville is being shown in a special exhibit in the lobby of the Gunter Hotel this week during the meeting of the State Medical Association.

This exhibit consists of samples of the work done by the patients there in the various stages of their recovery from tuberculosis. All of the work is done by hand and is for the purpose of keeping the patient's mind occupied.

There is a special tendency among tubercular patients towards a nervous disposition which reacts unfavorably to the efforts of the institution to cure them. A patient's mind must be occupied or else he will worry about his condition, his family or other things which his misfortune has thrown away.

On the other hand the amount of work a patient may do varies with his condition. Some only do 15 minutes' work at a stretch while many of them are semi-ambulatory, or able to walk about to some extent. The bedridden patients are called infirmaries patients and those who are up most of the time are ambulatory.

Hand Work Suitable

When a patient first arrives a physician determines the extent of his disability and he is kept under a period of observation. Then it is decided what the patient may do without impairing his health further. Hand work and similar handicraft is suitable for the infirmaries patient and some good examples of their work are shown in the Gunter Hotel lobby.

There are also examples of beautiful hand tooled leather work. One hand bag in particular is beautifully shaped, hand tooled and has a suede lining and a mirror and billfold inside. Some of the bags are entirely of suede.

Another art that is particularly suited to the infirmaries patient is the macrame work. This consists of knotting string and twine into bags and belts. Examples of both are shown in the exhibit here.

An example of the work being done by one of the more active patients is shown in hand etched brass book ends, trays and similar articles.

Have Some Artists

Reeds are woven into lamp shades of all sorts and the wood department has patients who turn out wooden lamps and smoking stands of perfect workmanship.

Some of the patients show exceptional ability in the arts. Several oil paintings are in the exhibit, one of President Coolidge and another of a scene on the Guadalupe River near Kerrville. Another patient, bedridden, has an exhibit made up of physiological charts that shows painstaking work.

Hungry Nine Still Going Strong

The Hungry Nine got the best of Medina on their home lot last Sunday in a one-sided ball game. The score stood 9 to 2 after nine innings of stellar ball by the locals.

"Pedro" Lloyd was on the hill for the Big Appetite gang and hurled in great style. He was touched for a few scattered hits, but with better support should have had a shut out. Eight of the opposing batters struck in vain at his offerings.

A pair of misplays by the locals permitted the Medina team to cross the pan with their only tallies. Lochte led the Hungry Fellows in the defense.

The locals are looking for out of town games with such teams as Kott's Garage at Fredericksburg, Simonville, Junction, Bander a or Boerne and are issuing a defi to these teams.

If you want a game with the local second team write W. L. King at Kerrville or call Leroy at phone 241.

The Musical Conservatory of Notre Dame Institute presents its first graduate in a public recital this Saturday at 8:30 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The general public is cordially invited to attend this recital for which no entrance fee is charged.

Albert Duplantier of Goggan Bros. Music House came here during Fiesta Week to give the Grand Piano a final tuning.

Mrs. Ed. Hoyer, organist of San Fernando Cathedral, and one of our guests last summer, presented her music pupils in a recital in San Antonio on Monday of this week.

Easter Excursions

During the Easter vacation the boarders at Notre Dame Institute held several outings. First came the celebration of Miss Louise Colbath's birthday by a splash party at Lake Side Park.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH NOTES

By Member

Though Sunday was a very beautiful day, it was quite a sad one for St. Peter's congregation as it was Dr. Macdougall's last with us.

Instead of a sermon he gave us a useful, practical admonition, urging all to carry on, each doing his part in keeping up the services of the church...

The Y. P. S. L. at 8 p. m. was most interesting. A debate was held on the question as to which, Pilate or the Chief Priests, was most guilty in having Christ crucified.

Tuesday's sermons were "Jesus Among the Churches," taking the following points of view: His program, His plan, His patience and His passion.

Wednesday's talks were on "A Friendly Christ, A Friendly Church, A Friendly Church and 'Man Shall Not Live by Bread Alone.'"

Thursday morning sermon was an old theme in a new light, as we often sing "Jesus' Lover of My Soul" and never think of anything else, but after hearing the talk on "Jesus' lover of the Body" we were convinced that the right care of the body and the dedication of the body for God's service should be the motto of every Christian.

Friday morning's talk was the beautiful story of "Ruth," giving special emphasis to the phrase "Entreat me not to leave thee, nor to return from following after thee, for whither thou goest I will go, and where thou lodgest I will lodge, thy people shall be my people and thy God my God."

Little Miss Leona Johnson accepted our suggestion to bring a friend, being accompanied by Lanett Gordon. If each one of us would do so well we could easily double the attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Reed of the Bible Class are the parents of a son named Tommy Jr. This little fellow arrived safely Sunday afternoon. We welcome him as a charter member of the Cradle Roll and wish him a long and useful life.

Sunday School every Sunday at 10 a. m. Visitors always welcome.

A very successful and interesting series of services by Rev. Lawrence Wharton, of the University Presbyterian Church at Austin, was concluded Sunday night.

Dr. Wharton talked to the boys at Schreiner Institute each morning at 10:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. The themes of his sermons were along the subject of Easter or "The Risen Christ."

The Monday night sermon was on "What the Resurrection Meant to Jesus."

Our Sunday School opened with an inspiring song service, Mrs. H. W. Elders presiding at the organ.

Evelyn Reed again took the honors in the Bible drill. Next Sunday we will have the final test in these drills on the Old Testament. Following this we will begin a new series of the New Testament. This work is being done by the Bible Class. Two hundred and forty chapters were read by this class during the month of April.

people shall be my people and thy God my God," this being the story of Unconscious influence or "contagious religion." The evening sermon was one for thinkers, "The White Horsemen of the Apocalypse," an earnest appeal was made to the sinners.

Saturday night in the story of "The Potter's Wheel," Jeremiah 6th chapter, in which the fact that God is willing and anxious to give every man a second chance was made very plain.

The Sunday morning sermon on the last clause in Luke 18:8 "When the Son of Man Come, Will He Find this faith on earth?" In the story of the importunate widow the character of the widow was portrayed and this was compared with the righteous judge. Several definitions of faith were given, and descriptions of Christian faith, courageous faith, and powerful faith were also given, the definition to dynamic faith being "Daring to live a life believing that God is waiting to welcome us to our eternal home."

Sunday night's sermon was on "The Abundant Life," taking the text from the Gospel of John "I am come that they have life and have it more abundantly." The advantages of a Christian life were shown in four ways: 1st, an invincible faith; 2nd, power of character; 3rd, a place in the world; 4th, an endless horizon.

Special music for the Sunday morning service consisted of the anthem, "Awake," by the choir, with W. Scott Schreiner and Andrew McCurdy in the solo roles and a duet, "In Heavenly Love Abiding," sung by Mrs. G. M. Doyle and Miss Harriet Garrett. The choir also rendered special music throughout the entire week.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET AT COURT HOUSE SATURDAY

A meeting of the Kerr County Game Protective Association is called for next Saturday at 2:30 p. m. at the Court House, at which time an election of officers will be held and permanent organization perfected. A round-table discussion of conservation and protective measures will also be held and arrangements made for publishing some educational information on the fishing and game laws to be distributed to the many visitors this summer.

Deputy Game Warden Gildart reports that over a hundred members have been signed up in the new organization and that the membership is made up of citizens from all parts of the county. Several of the membership lists have not been turned in and publication of the names will be postponed until next week.

The hearty response with which the Kerr County Game Protective Association has been received by the citizenship of the county shows that it is a movement that will be of great benefit in protecting the fish and game resources, and while the main efforts of the organization will be along educational lines each member stands pledged to report any flagrant violation of the game and fish laws that may come to his knowledge.

THANKS

As the fishing season is now open and the banks of the river will be lined with fishermen and near-fishermen let us stop and think for a moment.

First, the credit for the success or failure of any public enterprise should go to the citizenship of the community affected. In this connection I desire to express to the citizenship of Kerr County my most sincere thanks for the co-operation in the almost universal observance of the new law which closed the fishing season in this county for three months this year.

Second, now that the Bass Hatchery has been completed and will soon be stocking the streams in the county, it devolves upon us to give our moral support to the protection and preservation of the new stock if we are to increase our fish resources. In this connection let me urge that every sportsman appoint himself a committee of one to advise anyone whom he may see about to violate the fish law and if such persons should adopt a defiant attitude report the matter to the Game Warden.

Don't:
Catch bass less than eleven inches in length and more than 10 in one day.

Catch crappie less than seven inches in length.
Catch more than 35 of all kinds in one day.

Catch or take fish by any means other than ordinary hook and line, trot-line or artificial bait.

Use fish or minnows more than three inches in length for bait.
Use bass for bait under any consideration.

Use seine more than ten feet in length for catching bait.
Leave fish on the bank to die.

Buy or sell any fish taken from the waters of this county.

Again thanking you for past considerations and asking for a continuance of same, I am,
Yours to serve,
J. W. GILDART,
Deputy Game Commissioner.

ST. JOE ISLAND WILL BE GAME PRESERVE FOR PROPAGATION OF BOB WHITE QUAIL

San Antonio Express, April 27th: St. Joseph Island on the Texas coast, across the bay from Rockport, is to be made an extensive game preserve for the conservation and propagation of the Bob White quail, according to Dr. Frank Kent of this city, who has put the plan into fulfillment with the aid of Cyrus B. Lucas, owner of the property, and W. W. Boyd, State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner.

It has been his ambition for 20 years to have St. Joseph Island put to use for such a purpose, Dr. Kent said. St. Joseph Island embraces over 30,000 acres, and is from one to two miles wide, and from 18 to 20 miles long. It is being conducted as a ranch, having 2,000 head of fine, high grade Hereford cows on it, and the climate conditions and range is so excellent that Mr. Lucas boasts of obtaining the highest percentage of calves from the mother cows, and the lowest death rate, of any ranch in the United States.

Mr. Lucas is a game conservationalist also, and although there are over 50 head of deer on the island and hundreds on his different ranches, he has never killed a deer. "W. W. Boyd, State Game, Fish and Oyster Commissioner, is the most active officer the State has ever had," said Dr. Kent. "Each year over $100,000 is paid into the State Treasury by the sportsmen, which they are glad and willing to do. A few years ago the funds were transferred to the general fund by the Legislature, and instead of their money being spent for the protection and propagation of our fish and game, it was expended for roads, schools, etc., except a small sum for maintenance of the department. But thanks to the untiring efforts of our Game Commissioner Boyd, the sportsmen's money is allotted to the special game fund, and this money is being spent for the employment of game wardens on good salaries; quail are bought by the thousands and distributed to the four corners of the State; fish hatcheries are being built, and game farms established. This is as it should be."

To Stock Island With Quail
Dr. Frank Kent, a naturalist, was the first secretary of the Texas Game and Fish Association, established May 21, 1912, at a meeting held by the sportsmen of the State at Waco, and has labored untiringly for the conservation of game and fish.

Realizing the difficulties encountered in rearing wild game in captivity, Dr. Kent has had in view for a long time the possibilities of St. Joe Island, as the birds could be liberated there and allowed to rear their young in a natural manner. "The natural enemies of game now on the island will be trapped and the necessary eternal vigilance employed to keep the island free of varmints,"

Dr. Kent said. Several hundred pairs of Bob White and scaled quail, trapped in Mexico, have been liberated upon the island, and the increase from these birds will be trapped next February and March, and be distributed to all parts of Texas, under the direction of local game wardens to the Sportsmen's Game Protective Association, which obligates itself to protect them for two years and posting all lands where the birds are liberated.

"Each spring the island will be restocked with quail trapped in Mexico, and their increase used to plant in our depleted covers. Surely no philanthropic work could be of more interest to the sportsmen of this State than the work of Mr. Boyd," Dr. Kent added.

Propagation of Pheasants
Small tracts on the island will be fenced and planted in milo maize and red top cane, which the quail are very fond of, which will furnish food so necessary for the growth and development of the birds.

Dr. Kent maintains breeding pens in San Antonio, New Braunfels, Flatonia and Burton, for English ring-neck pheasants, which is predicted by sportsmen to be the future game bird, as they can be reared as easily as chickens.

These birds are very wild and they have to be kept in enclosed pens. They show no tendency to incubate their eggs while in captivity, and the eggs are hatched under domestic hens, preferably bantams. Each pheasant hen lays from 40 to 60 eggs, averaging about 50, and the eggs sell for 25 cents each. A hen is worth $10 to $15.

The laying season differs according to location. They begin laying in March and continue through June.

Mr. Boyd has contracted with Dr. Kent for some of the pheasant eggs from his pens, which will be distributed to sportsmen of the State who will give their best efforts to propagate this game bird in our State, said Dr. Kent.

Wild turkeys trapped in the Kerrville section will be liberated this fall on St. Joe to propagate. As they increase they will be trapped and liberated over the State.

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, Texas University

The Honey Grove Citizen calls attention to the fact that a recent murder trial cost Fannin County more than $1,000. If the Citizen will make a closer study of the question it will find that the average cost of murder trials exceeds $1,000. In the case referred to, doubtless the time of the court officers—district judge, attorney, clerk, sheriff and outside attendant—was the expense of the grand jury and its officers. While allowance was made for jury and witness fees, the no way compensate them for the time given to such trials. It would be nearer correct to say that the average cost of a murder trial in Texas is $2,000, which is but a small sum compared with the industrial losses sustained by the state. It pays too much for murder and too little for schools.

letic contests develop the best that is in youth. I heard several debates last week that would have been creditable to groups of leading lawyers and orators and showed an understanding of governmental questions hardly conceivable in such young students. The astonishing thing in connection with these debates was that the young subjects debated as the boys, and not the girls. One of the points involved. One of the debaters would have thought this impossible.

San Saba has organized a "Seventy and Over" club, composed of those who have reached seventy years of age. That is a good kind of a club provided it does not allow itself to grow too reminiscent. It does not pay to allow the mind to dwell over-much in the past. While not forgetting the past, we should, as we grow older in years, live joyfully in the present and strive to make the most opportunity of the day. Days yet to come. Much retrospection is likely to develop morbid introspection. So far as it is humanly possible the aged should try to keep in touch and sympathy with all that is young about them.

Texas is all about now, and the whole State looks like a great flower garden. Nature has done wonders in and about Texas. The people are all about it and in distributing the so-called abundance one may get them in great numbers. The Indian pink, the cacahua—multiplied acres of them—are planting with dozens of other native plants in the effort to put on the most beautiful display imaginable. Get out in the great open and revel in the pictures painted for you and that may be enjoyed without cost.

TWO-DAY INTENSIVE DRIVE NETS 305 MEMBERSHIPS FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

man was "on his toes" and alive to every chance to secure new members. The warfare Wednesday afternoon was carried on quietly although the enthusiasm and rivalry was at the same high pitch of the day before. Both teams kept their tallies dark and each was uneasy of the other. Neither had the slightest idea of the outcome until the results were tabulated late last night. The main penalty to the losing team will be inflicted at the membership meeting Friday night, May 9, at Lake Side Park. The nature of this punishment is shrouded with mystery, no information of any kind being available. It will come as a surprise to every one, including both teams. Probably the most notable feature of the entire drive was the readiness with which the people responded with their application. It is but another indication that the people of the community are eager to boost this section and to work together to make Kerrville the best place in the world in which to live. When the fact is taken into consideration that the membership of the Chamber of Commerce has increased more than 50 per cent as a result of the drive, it is easily seen that the organization has won the confidence and support of the people through its good work of the past few years, more notably during the last twelve months.

Rocksprings-Kerrville Highway

Edwards County Leader, April 25: In the Leader last week was a news item telling of some of the difficulties in the way of connecting up Highway No. 41, between here and Kerrville. It was the general understanding when Edwards County started building its part of this highway that the road would be completed in the other counties between here and Kerrville, but it now develops that there are difficulties in the way of getting the work started in Real County.

It is of large importance to Rocksprings and Edwards County that this Rocksprings-Kerrville Highway be completed on to Kerrville for the reason that practically all the work we are now doing on this road, and all the money we are expending on it will be practically thrown away unless the road can be connected.

We understand that it is largely up to the State Highway Department as to what is done, and that the Highway Department may decide not to do anything. It would seem that Edwards County is amply justified in sending a delegation down to Austin for the next meeting of the Highway Department to tell them that Edwards County wants that highway built across Real County. If no one goes down there to tell them this they may begin to believe that those opposed to, or at least are not very strong for a good road to Kerrville, are in the majority. They need to be told emphatically that Edwards wants the highway across Real. There should also be some Real County citizens in that delegation.

At the same time the delegation suggested could find out exactly what Kerr County was going to do about Highway 41. It has been reported from time to time that Kerr County was sure going to build its part of this important highway, and they probably are, but thus far we have seen no direct evidence that Kerr County is going to do anything about it.

COUNTY AGENT ADVISES EARLY FIGHT AGAINST GRASSHOPPERS

of their line of march for a distance of a couple of hundred yards, keeping also the margin of the pasture land treated daily until the danger of damage has passed. The mixture should be made exactly as directed, leaving out no part. Where the infestation is general, community action is recommended. The materials should be provided in large quantities, and a large amount of the mixture made up at a central place late in the evening, or better, well before daylight in the morning. Each farmer will then take his portion and apply immediately. The following steps are suggested for carrying out a campaign:
1. Watch for numbers of the insects in the pastures and along the fences.
2. If found abundant there, locate sources of the various ingredients of the formula (write the wholesale drug companies in the larger cities of Texas regarding supplies and prices of the poison).
3. Have the County Commissioners establish a revolving fund for the purchase of poison and its resale to farmers at cost.
4. If the hoppers threaten the crops, start action at once. Establish central mixing plants.
5. Persist in the fight until the insects are destroyed and the crops saved.

Be guided by the advice of your County Agent, such assistance will be given by the Extension Entomologist as is physically possible.

Experiments in Montana have shown that amyl acetate, substituted for lemons, has increased the effectiveness of the poison bait. The most effective formula there appeared to be as follows: Wheat bran, 25 pounds; salt, 1 pound; white arsenic or Paris green, 1 pound; low grade cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts; amyl acetate, 1 ounce; water, 10 quarts.

Amyl acetate is a substitute for the fruit has been tested in Texas by the Federal entomologists, and while the results were successful, we hardly think the work has been sufficiently extensive as to justify us in giving this latter formula our unqualified endorsement. We suggest that farmers stick to the first formula, and experiment on a small scale with this latter formula. Amyl acetate has the advantage of being much cheaper. Use only high grades of amyl acetate denoted as "C. P.," "U. S. P.," or "technical," and avoid compounds presented as "banana oil," "bronzing liquids," or "amyl acetate derivatives," which contain so little of the active material and so many impurities as to make them unadopted to grasshopper work.

Noll Believes in Advertising
Henry Noll of the Noll Stock Co. believes in advertising and never misses a chance to boost his business but he is undergoing quite a bit of joshing over one of his latest advertising stunts.

Several years ago when the Noll Stock Co. put on auto delivery service they had a practically new horse-drawn wagon left on their hands. Mrs. Dora Brown, who recently opened up a grocery in the lower part of the city, offered to buy the wagon.

Henry, sensing an opportunity for boosting his business, offered to sell the wagon to her at a reasonable figure if she would permit him to carry an ad on one side of the wagon. She agreed, and the trade was made. When the wagon appeared on the streets on one side it bore the legend, "It Pays to Trade at Noll's." But on the other side in glaring letters was the additional information: "You Can Buy Cheaper at Mrs. D. Brown's."
