KERRVILLE TO OBSERVE NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY IN FITTING MANNER

Parade of Organizations and Citizens of City to Be Held Friday Afternoon at 2 O'clock.

MILITARY BAND TO BE HERE

Parade to Be Followed by Patriotic Addresses at U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Legion.

Tomorrow, Friday, September 12, will be observed in a most fitting manner by the citizens of the Hill Country, who will stage a monster Defense Day celebration in this city that afternoon.

According to plans formulated at a meeting of the committee at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Tuesday evening, the following organizations will participate in the parade: D. A. V. and American Legion Post from the U. S. Veterans' Hospital, the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants' Association, Red Cross, both from Legion and Kerrville, Legion Auxiliary, Civic League, Parent-Teachers' Association, Garrett-Baker Post of American Legion, Boy Scouts, and students from Tivy High School and Schreiner Institute.

In addition to the various local organizations in the parade a detachment of soldiers from Fort Sam Houston, consisting of two squads, will participate. The parade will be led by the 20th Infantry Band, composed of 28 men, who are being sent up from Fort Sam Houston for this occasion.

The parade will form on Sidney Baker Street and the line of march will be down Water Street to Washington, up Washington to Main and thence to the point of beginning. John H. Ward will be marshal of the parade and will have for his assistants leaders of the various civic organizations.

It is planned on having as many of the disabled veterans from the U. S. Veterans' Hospital in to participate in the parade as possible. Anyone having cars available to carry some of the boys is requested to get in communication with the Chamber of Commerce. While these men will not be able to march in the parade it is planned to let them participate in autos.

Immediately following the parade all those who desire to do so are invited to go out to Legion, where patriotic addresses will be delivered and music appropriate to the occasion will be rendered. In addition to the 20th Infantry Band an orchestra from the hospital will be on hand to assist in the entertainment. Speeches appropriate to the occasion will be delivered by Major Kyle and Judge W. C. Baker of this city. Judge Baker has an enviable reputation as an orator and those who hear his address will enjoy a treat. The program at Legion will be held outdoors near Hospital Ward No. 8.

While the program at Legion is being rendered an aeroplane from Kelly Field will circle over the assemblage, under the guidance of a skilled stunt flyer.

The object of Defense Day is to check up on the man power of the country, and for this purpose registers are being maintained at different business houses of the city where men, women and children can sign up. Friday several booths will be maintained for this purpose and tags bearing the inscription "Defense Day - I've Signed" will be given to all who affix their signatures to the lists.

During war times Kerrville went over the top in every instance she was called upon—men, Red Cross drives, Liberty Loan drives and all other drives—and it is to be hoped that the citizenship of the community will respond as readily to this peace time call of their country as they did to the calls six years ago.

"Camps Work Wonders in Boy-Life" was the heading of a page write-up of Camp Rio Vista in last week's issue of Farm and Ranch by Frank A. Briggs, one of the editors. The page was illustrated by three scenes at Camp Rio Vista and one view of the Guadalupe River near Kerrville. The write-up was an excellent boost for Camp Rio Vista and the Hill Country.

Center Point News, September 4th: An officer of the law happened to be in Center Point a few days ago and came in contact with a handsome man (who does not live in old Kerr County) who was alright but the uniform wasn't up to regulations, being a one-piece bathing suit that fit rather quick. This good officer of the law requested that he dress a little more heavily, which he did.

the standard of construction and workmanship as shown by the observations. "We also realize that your citizenship has been instrumental in making this improvement possible, and that they will now extend further co-operation by hastening house connections to the sewer system, and thus eliminating all possible surface toilets and cess pools.

"At your convenience, we shall anticipate receiving revised plans showing completed layout of the improvements for our files. In the meantime, we shall also be glad to have you keep us posted regarding developments on these and other sanitary improvements.

"Thanking you for your co-operation, and especially for the courtesies extended our representative while in your city, I am,

"By direction, of the State Health Officer,

"Yours very truly,

"V. M. EHLERS,

"State Sanitary Engineer."

Mr. Hoff of the firm of Colglazier & Hoff reports that the paving of the highway through the city has been slowed up considerable because of a shortage of laborers. They have had a representative in San Antonio attempting to secure workmen, but without avail. However with the present crew the work will be completed in the next three or four weeks.

If his firm enters into contract with the city for the paving of Earl Garrett Street, Mr. Hoff states that they will be able to commence on same as soon as they complete the highway project, and will be able to push this project rapidly by reason of the fact that the labor shortage will be alleviated as soon as the first cotton picking in the Coast Country is finished.

The city has worked under a handicap the entire summer by reason of the torn up condition of the city streets and the dust occasioned by the work going on, but with the paving of Water Street and Earl Garrett Street, and the completion of the sewer system over the entire city next season will find Kerrville in position to entertain the summer visitors without having to make excuses on account of the condition of the streets or of the dust. In this connection, it is advisable that all property owners make arrangements to tie on to the new sewer system at once, or at least arrange to have the service connections run from the center of the street to the property line, so that the surface of the street will not have to be disturbed next summer.

The Committee from the Chamber of Commerce that worked up the paving on Earl Garrett Street is composed of W. A. Fawcett, A. C. Schreiner, J. S. Wheelless and Hal Peterson. Some of the members of this committee, especially Mr. Fawcett, have worked long and hard on this project and to them should go the major credit for the accomplishment when the paving is a reality.

PECAN TOUR OF INSPECTION TO BE HELD SEPTEMBER 22-23

Party Will Visit Pecan Groves Near Fredericksburg and Mason on Two-Day Trip.

Monday and Tuesday, September 22 and 23, are the dates set by W. H. Darrow, District Agent of the A. & M. Extension Service, for a tour of the district for the purpose of inspecting the results of top grafting of native pecan trees. Counties participating in the tour will be Kerr, Bexar, Kendall, Gillespie, Medina and Uvalde, and the party will assemble in Fredericksburg September 22nd for the purpose of making the tour.

Kerr County's quota of men making the tour is uncertain as yet, but there should be a goodly number, as considerable interest was manifested in the pecan budding work here early in the spring, some 76 men participating in the work, under the leadership of eight community leaders. It is planned to arrange the county's quota for the tour through the community leaders and all who expect to go on the trip are requested to get in touch with same, who will in turn communicate with J. C. Yeary, County Agent.

Mr. Darrow will have charge of the tour and will be assisted by A. P. Swallow, Pecan Specialist of the Extension Service. The object of the tour is to take men and women, who have been interested in the pecan budding campaigns on the two-day trip to accomplish two things, namely: to inspect a demonstration in the development of a native pecan bottom in order to show what can be done with the native trees, and to show demonstrations in the methods and results of top-working large native pecan trees. This tour is designed as a prelude to a winter top-working campaign and should be attended by all who can possibly make arrangements to go on the trip.

It is planned that farmers from all counties assemble at Fredericksburg Court House on Monday, September 22, at 1 p. m.; thence to visit the pecan orchard of Louis Kneese, a few miles from town. This native bottom was budded to improved varieties six or seven years ago and is now bearing.

Late that afternoon the party will drive to Mason. Those desiring to sleep out can do so in the tourist park in that town, which is situated in a big pecan grove and is well equipped with wood and water. This will leave every man free to camp and cook his meals, or camp and eat his meals in a restaurant, or stay at the hotel, as he chooses.

The next morning the party will inspect the top-worked trees in J. W. White's grove on the edge of Mason, then possibly some other nearby groves. The tour will break up about noon, which will give all parties plenty of time to reach home by night.

JIM PERIL ANNOUNCES FOR COMMISSIONER

In the announcement column of The Sun will be found the announcement of Jim Peril for Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, subject to the action of the voters at the general election in November.

Mr. Peril is now serving his second term as commissioner of that precinct and is again making the race at the earnest solicitation of his many friends who desire a continuation of the good record he has made in office. Mr. Peril lives on his ranch in the Reservation community, 26 miles northwest of Kerrville, and it was only at the last moment, practically, that he was prevailed upon to again be a candidate for the office.

JOLLY, JINGLING, JANGLING JUGGLER OF JURISPRUDENCE

E. H. Turner Has Had Long and Eventful Life as Justice of the Peace in Kerrville.

Away back in the earliest recollection of the citizens of the community E. H. Turner was elected Justice of the Peace of the town of Kerrville.

Time has rolled on and what was then a village is now a city, the pride of the Hill Country. Throughout the years the water has continued to flow down the Guadalupe; bad crop years have been followed by good; children have grown to manhood and womanhood, married and raised families; innumerable health seekers have visited the Hill Country and went away with that for which they sought—health; tourists have come into this section, have been delighted with the scenery, citizenship and climate and have settled here long enough to be called old timers. All these things have wrought changes in the citizenship and community generally, except in one way—Hugh Turner is still Justice of the Peace.

Along with his job as Justice Mr. Turner has other titles. He is City Clerk, City Tax Assessor, Secretary of the Kerr County Aid Association, and a few other things too numerous to mention, besides which he has an addition to the city that he is developing his spare time. But the most important of all he is Justice of the Peace.

Judge Turner is a firm believer in upholding the laws of the State and in his official capacity has meted out punishment to countless violators of same. Especially is he zealous in safeguarding the fish and game laws, as numerous violators of the same can testify. But with it all he is square; no man was ever brought before Turner that did not get a fair hearing, and in a majority of cases admitted after the trial that he merited the punishment inflicted.

However it is in the role of "Marrying Judge" that Mr. Turner excels. During his tenure of office he has united exactly 301 couples. And the knots that Hugh ties are good substantial ones, finished up in a workmanlike manner, even including a kiss for the bride. Several years ago Mr. Turner was deeply grieved over the fact that one of his knots was slipping and he hastened out in the role of trouble shooter to keep the slipping couple from breaking his heart by appearing in the divorce courts.

Mr. Turner has had some interesting experiences marrying people. Always willing to oblige, he has a short form of the marriage ceremony which he uses when the couples appear embarrassed over the ordeal through which they have to go. One time Hugh had a couple appear before him that he mistook for such a couple and he proceeded to perform the ceremony in as painless a manner as possible. After examining the license he did a marriage in nothing flat, only to be informed after the job was completed that friends were then at work decorating one of the local churches preparatory to having the ceremony performed there the next day.

Possibly the most colorful wedding at which the Judge officiated was a negro church wedding. He was notified to come to a certain address to perform the ceremony and when he arrived he found himself in front of a church building, with the interior of same closely packed with sweltering humanity of vari-colored shades of black. In spite of his looks, Hugh is a courageous soul, so in he stepped, doubtless influenced by the prospect of a fat fee from the prospective groom. He found a seat in the amen corner, near a large negro of the ample type of architecture. The heat was stifling, likewise the aroma of a roomful of colored society, and the Judge decided he needed fresh air, so he started to leave. Whereupon his seatmate expostulated: "See here Judge, these yere folks cum to see a weddin' an' the bridal party's a comin' so you jest sit down." And the Judge sat.

In the course of time the bridal party arrived and Judge Turner per-

Three Good Rules

A YOUNG MAN who was determined to build up a snug little fortune decided to learn how others had solved the same problems that confronted him. He found three things were necessary. First—Of course he must learn to earn money and the more he could earn the easier his success would be. Second—He found that it was very important to learn to spend his money properly. It is very easy to "blow in" all a man earns. Third—He found it was no trick to save money if the first and second rules were observed. Any one who knows how to earn money and spend wisely will find a snug bank account easily obtained.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS RE-OPENED MONDAY FOR 1924-25 TERM

Total of 636 Pupils Enrolled First Day—Medical Examinations Being Given.

Formal opening exercises of the Public Schools of Kerrville independent School District were held in the High School auditorium Monday morning and were well attended by patrons of the schools.

The outlook for the coming term is unusually good, according to Supt. R. A. Franklin. The schools have strong faculties and the enrollment is much greater than on any previous opening day. The enrollment Monday morning alone was 636 for Tivy High School and the grammar and primary departments. In the High School alone the enrollment was 135 the first day, more than the total enrollment in this department during any previous year.

The program Monday consisted of addresses by Reverends Merrill, White and Dickey, local pastors, announcements by Supt. Franklin and vocal numbers by Mrs. Scott Schreiner and Miss Harriet Garrett.

An innovation in the schools this year is the physical examination of all pupils by expert medical authorities. This examination was sponsored and arranged by the Parent Teachers' Association, with the assistance of the School Board. By means of it all pupils of the schools have opportunity for a complete physical examination, conducted by local doctors and dentists and also doctors from Thompson's Sanatorium and the U. S. Veterans' Hospital at Legion. This examination is not compulsory but practically every student of the schools is submitting to it. A card chart is maintained of each student's examination for reference and to aid parents in having the imperfections of the child corrected. This examination was begun Tuesday and will continue until the entire student body has been covered.

The schools are starting off this year with a large enthusiastic enrollment and an excellent corps of instructors and the year 1924-25 should be a high water mark in accomplishment.

"WILD GAME OF TEXAS" TO BE SHOWN AT DIXIE THEATER

Scenes Showing Conservation and Protection—Part of Picture Made in Kerr County.

Thursday and Friday nights of this week the Dixie Theater will show, in addition to the regular program, "Wild Game of Texas," a two-reel picture which Game Commissioner W. W. Boyd had made last year to aid in the conservation and protection of wild life in the Lone Star State. The picture will be especially interesting to the citizens of this section as some of the most important scenes were taken in Kerr County with M. E. Bogle, who was the local Game Warden at the time, playing the leading role. J. W. Gildart, who followed Bogle, and F. M. Cowser, Deputy Warden at Junction, are also shown in one of the scenes.

The picture was made by T. Y. Nave and A. Boeger under the direction of Game Commissioner Boyd and they traveled over 10,000 miles by auto filming wild life from the Panhandle plains to the Gulf marshes, with the principal big game scenes taken in Kerr County, which has for years led the State in the protection and propagation of game. Messrs. Nave and Boeger, who are now engaged in making a similar picture for the State of Arkansas and the Federal Government, arrived in Kerrville Tuesday to take some scenes of young wild turkey. They will be assisted in this work by Deputy Game Warden J. J. Dent, and it is expected that some extra fine pictures will be secured.

In addition to the Kerr County scenes "Wild Game of Texas" shows buffalo at the Goodnight Ranch and prairie chicken in the Plains Country, ducks and geese in the Coast Country, quail hunting near San Antonio, and views of bob cats, wolves and wild hogs, etc.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF COMMISSIONERS' COURT MONDAY

Byron Wilson Appointed to Fill Unexpired Term of R. McNutt in Precinct No. 2.

The County Commissioners of Kerr County met in regular monthly session of the Commissioners' Court, with Lee Wallace, County Judge, presiding, and all members present.

Regular monthly bills were allowed for salaries and running expenses of the county. Also pauper allowances made for the few paupers on the county at this time.

The Court appointed Byron Wilson of Center Point as Justice of the Peace in Precinct No. 2 to fill the unexpired term of R. McNutt, resigned. An order was passed issuing funding warrants in the amount of $2,000 to take up like warrants held by the Chas. Schreiner Bank. These warrants were issued for road improvement.

Bill of J. H. Masters as special tick inspector was examined and approved. Monthly estimate No. 4 of Colglazier & Hoff for road work on Highway No. 41 was approved in the amount of $7,123.31.

Several transfers of funds were authorized from one road fund to another to meet the exigencies of the occasion, and several minor bills for road improvement were ordered paid.

Battle of Adobe Walls, Thrilling Frontier Story

The battle of Adobe Walls, fought in 1874, where 28 straight-shooting plainsmen held 500 Comanche Indians at bay for five days, and with their withering rifle fire finally brought conviction to the Indians that the scalps of the 28 were not worth the price it would take to get them, is a desperate adventure of frontier days in the Panhandle of Texas.

John J. Clinton, who died at Abilene, Texas, June 1, 1922, and who at one time was Abilene's chief of police, took part in the Adobe Walls fight. Chief Clinton, in relating incidents of the battle, said it was the most thrilling experience in the more than half-century of his life as Confederate soldier, government scout, cowboy, Indian fighter and Texas ranger.

Leopold and Loeb Get Sentence of 99 Years Each

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Sentence of life imprisonment for the murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks and of 99 years imprisonment for kidnaping the boy were meted out today to Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb by Judge John R. Caverly. The youth of the defendants, 18 and 19 years, was all that saved them from the noose.

An immense crowd gathered about the entrance of the Cook County jail when the decision became known. A score of motorcycle policemen lined up on both sides of the street, held the people in check. The crowd was silent and merely stood around watching the jail doors.

After sentence had been pronounced, Nathan Leopold Sr., father of one of the defendants, who sat with head bowed while Judge Caverly read his opinion, said that he would never attempt to obtain a release of his son from the penitentiary. When asked if that was his attitude, he replied emphatically, "Surely, surely."

"It would have been the path of least resistance to impose the extreme penalty of the law," said the gray-haired judge in his decision. "In choosing imprisonment instead of death, the court is moved chiefly by the age of the defendants, boys of 18 and 19 years."

"It is not for the court to say that he will not in any case enforce capital punishment, but he believes it is within his province to decline to impose the sentence of death on persons who are not of full age."

Pershing Cheers Disabled Vets on Eve of Retiring

Washington, D. C., Sept. 6.—Assuring the disabled former service men that while "I bid you adieu, you may feel assured that your interests and welfare shall always be close to my heart," General Pershing Saturday sent a farewell message to the disabled American veterans.

The message follows: "To the Disabled American Veterans: As you will perhaps know, on the 13th of this month, I am to retire from active service in the army. I cannot do this, however, without expressing to you once more my deep appreciation of the sacrifices which you made in the World War. Your indomitable courage and will made possible the brilliant victories achieved by our army and your deeds will live forever as a record of your devotion to the ideals upon which our Nation is founded."

"While as your former commander in chief, I must bid you adieu, you may feel assured that your interests and welfare will always be close to my heart in civil life as they have in the past."

"With my best wishes and affectionate regards, I remain, as always, "Cordially yours," "JOHN J. PERSHING."

NATIONAL DEFENSE DAY

Tomorrow is National Defense Day, a time set aside by the Government of the United States, not as a preparation for war, but as a preparation for insurance against war.

It is fitting that this demonstration should be held on September 12th, for that is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, in which engagement so many American soldiers gave up their lives in the fight for Democracy.

Defense Day is not intended as a wartime demonstration. It is planned, rather as a peacetime checking up of the resources of the country to insure the continuance of peace. It is a test of our preparedness to prevent war and our preparedness to preserve peace. It is a time for every citizen of the country to renew his or her allegiance to the flag and the principles of freedom.

When this country answered the call of humanity in 1917 it found itself wholly unprepared for participation in the conflict. It was mobilized and endured the grueling work of the training camps, preparing themselves for war that they and their children might in after years enjoy peace. They were preparing for war, not because they liked war but because they liked peace and knew that only through war could they secure that which they wanted.

Later, on the battlefields of France, many of them paid the supreme sacrifice for peace, and near this city is a hospital in which several hundred of these same men are engaged in a fight far more hazardous and trying on the souls of the participants than any battle in which troops engaged on the other side, all being patients there because of their services to bring about the peace that the country now enjoys.

The writer of the lines volunteered the day after the United States declared war on Germany. Fifteen months later the division in which he was sailed for France. It took just that length of time to get the division up to full war strength and properly trained for the duties before it. Even then it took across men who had to learn the manual of arms after reaching foreign soil, and some of these boys gave up their lives on the battle front after leaving their homes only a little over two months. They were entirely unprepared for war and were sacrificed on the altar of the Nation's unpreparedness.

Now is the time to insure peace for the future by seeing that the country does not again get into the deplorable condition that it was in 1917 in the way of both manpower and material. Active participation in Defense Day now may be the means of insuring peace for the coming generations. It is insurance against war and such should receive the hearty support of all citizens of the country.

PASSING THE TAX BUCK

The Country Gentleman: There are many ingenious ways of passing the buck of taxation. In California farmers have been given the heavy end of the pole through a system of State-owned public utilities.

They have finally awakened to the real facts in the case—namely, that when a big electric company or an electric railway company is taken over by the State it becomes a part of the state government and of course does not pay taxes.

The utility is run at cost and those who use it get the benefit. But the costs of government must be paid, there is less property on which to raise revenue and so the rate on all the rest must go up.

Farmers, not being beneficiaries to any extent of the low rates of State utilities, get none of the benefits, but they come in regularly and handsomely in making up the deficits.

The more of these utilities the State takes over the better for the propertyless users in the cities and the worse for the farmers.

When you come to analyze the thing it is easy to see why the landless man is socialistically inclined, why he is so strong for State ownership.

It gives him an advantage—a chance to pass the tax buck to the farmer.

The farmers of California, many of whom have voted with the socialists in former elections, are beginning to see the light, and a number of strong farmer organizations have recently protested against an extension of State ownership of utilities.

The burial grounds of China have always been held sacred, not to be disturbed under any circumstances. The result is that one-twentieth of the country is now occupied by graves. The problem is assuming serious proportions.

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Hayes, Department of Journalism, Texas University

The studious observer at a large political gathering is certain to reach the conclusion that most men are excitedly worked into a high pitch of excitement that subsides almost as rapidly as it is created. When under the influence of excitement they often do and say things of which they would be ashamed in their cooler moments. As a whole people appear to be swayed more by denunciation than by praise, and that which is almost tantamount to a mob spirit can be created by fiery invective. Orators are aware of the power of this appeal to the primordial instincts and in close contests nearly always resort to it. In the most recent campaign in Texas, culminating in the Austin convention, the hate appeal has been used by both sides for all that it has been worth.

Speakers and audience alike have not hesitated to give vent to their feelings in unmistakable terms and often in language anything but polite. The very vehemence of their expressions, though, appear to have cleared the atmosphere somewhat, and to have paved a way that may lead to better understandings, just as pent-up anger when once turned loose, often results in creating friendships between hitherto antagonistic parties. That is certainly the hope of many who are keenly alive to the best interests of Texas, but who have not been violently partisan. There is great need in Texas for the people to work unitedly for the advancement of State and community interests, and this can not be accomplished where ill feeling predominates. Division means death to progress in localities where every ounce of energy is needed.

The pity is that it is so difficult to get capable persons in sufficient numbers to interest themselves in other than political movements. Even the church is made secondary to politics with nearly every one when work is to be done. Community builders often find it impossible to get enough capable help in public matters to put any kind of a worth-while proposition over. We learned how to do things co-operatively during the war, but in many places the people appear to have forgotten that war lesson. That is a good work for the American Legion if it would perpetuate its influence.

Some time ago in a public meeting the statement was made that the average farmer reads but little and therefore cannot have any clear conception of current events. That may once have been true, but farmers and farmers' families are now eager readers of local and State papers and magazines of the best type as well. They read even more closely than the city people and know better what is going on in the world. They are not perhaps as well informed as to the latest moving picture, but in all matters affecting the interests of the people they are well read, and are prepared to give their opinions on most worthwhile current topics. The automobile and good roads, together with a cheapening of papers and magazines, have given the farming class opportunities that are not surpassed in the cities. With these opportunities they are demanding and are getting a better type of reading matter than formerly.

That statement starts a thought as to what has become of that cheap class of publications that a quarter of a century ago could be found in almost every farmer's living room, papers that issued largely from Portland, Maine and Chicago, and that smelled strongly of cheap ink and cheaper sentimental stories of adventure. Once these papers, printed on the coarsest of pulp paper, and filled with misleading advertisements, could be found everywhere, but now they are seldom seen even in the poorest homes. Their passing is evidence of an improved reading taste on the part of the people.

Better schools have had much to do with this, and the country community without a modern school building is getting to be a rarity in most parts of Texas. Not long ago Texas school buildings were a disgrace to the State, being hardly fit for stabling farm animals, but gradually Texans have learned that children can be reared best in surroundings in which they can have a pride, and schools and homes alike have improved. Texans are learning, too, that they do not have to be wealthy in order to have at least clean and attractive places in which to live and in which to educate their children. Even the poorest homes are now being made attractive, and the most remote districts are erecting comfortable school houses.

DEFENSE DAY

Friday, September 12th, is the patronal feast of Notre Dame Institute, insofar as it is Our Lady's namesday. By proclamation of President Coolidge it is also designated as National Defense Day.

No classes will be conducted tomorrow at either school. The High School and Commercial departments of Notre Dame will observe the day with some of the teachers, by holding a basket picnic at Bandera.

Our Sisters are more than delighted with the splendid showing made at Notre Dame in the opening week. About 85 pupils were enrolled, thus more than offsetting the usual discontinuance of former students.

The music conservatory is more crowded than ever. A few boarders failed to return, others became day-scholars, and some outsiders are being cared for by Kerrville relatives.

From Ecuador, South America, we had George Marin, who will soon re-enter St. Mary's College, in San Antonio.

Donnis Gomez and family moved to Legion from Morrero, La.

Arthur Mosel, for they were among the first chosen by Prof. Steinfeldt for his choir, for the first Mass ever written by a San Antonian.

Local K. of C.'s helped secure accommodations and employment for the family of Joseph Geri, a tubercular soldier of Legion.

Mrs. Rudolph Stehling entertained the family of her brother, Sidney Martin of the Fort Worth & Denver Ry. Co. in his honor on Wednesday.

The pastor was also a guest at a birthday party held at Blue Bell by the family of Joseph L. Ahr.

Miss Annie Tresdaway has come from Victoria to reside with her aunt, Mrs. Ida Kirkpatrick.

Chas. Ledwige, also of Beaumont, has been staying at Joe Boudreaux's ranch.

Another Beaumont citizen, Mrs. Antonio Ramon, came to our Hill Country to be benefited by our climate.

Mrs. Annie Overman of Comfort was a Sunday guest of her brother, Walter Meyer Sr.

Joe Weyand of Fort Sam Houston, and his brother, Henry, of Lockwood Bank, were visitors at the Rectory on Friday of last week.

From Ecuador, South America, we had George Marin, who will soon re-enter St. Mary's College, in San Antonio.

Donnis Gomez and family moved to Legion from Morrero, La.

Our Sunday School was well attended last Sunday and every one seemed to be in good working spirit and filled with enthusiasm. Our regular superintendent was absent, but Sunday School was conducted by Mrs. Bounds and was a great success.

We are glad to say our prayer meeting is growing in attendance. We had a splendid lesson on "Love" last Wednesday night and quite a number were out. Come again, friends, we are always glad to welcome you.

The Ladies' Aid met last Thursday and quite a number of plans were discussed and we are going to carry them out, with the help of the good people in the Church.

Once more we want to urge you to come out to Sunday School next Sunday, and get busy serving the Lord. Services at 9:45 a. m.

A letter received Tuesday from Rev. P. E. Hawkins of Holland brought the glad news that he will be with us next Sunday and will preach at the morning and evening services.

A large number of visitors were present at Sunday School last Sunday and the attendance of members of the school was largely increased after the semi-lyoff of the summer months. Teachers and students are entering into their work with renewed energy and prospects are bright for the future.

Rev. Dickey preached both morning and evening to large and appreciative audiences last Sunday; especially was the morning congregation gratifying. Special music had been prepared for the occasion by the choir.

The Baptist Church made a fairly good showing in its report to the Medina River Association last week. There were over 70 additions to the membership during the year and more than $4,000 contributed to the support of the Gospel at home and abroad.

The Association will hold its sessions next year with the church at Harper. The entertainment at Tarpely was the best and the fellowship exceedingly sweet.

The Sunday School here in Kerrville registered a decided growth last Sabbath, when eight new members were welcomed into our fellowship.

The ladies are busy preparing for the "week of prayer," which begins the 21st of this month.

Next Sunday the congregation will have the pleasure of worshipping with Rev. T. Y. Adams of San Antonio, our District Secretary, who will preach.

The pastor will be away, aiding the pastor and church at Medina in some special meetings. It is hoped that prayer shall be made by many that the favor of our Lord shall rest, in a marked way, on these meetings.

Next Friday morning at 10 o'clock the executive board of the Association is called to meet here in the Baptist Church. Our local pastor, Rev. R. W. Merrill, was chosen moderator of the associational body.

WOOL AND MOHAIR PRICES NOT TAKEN

San Angelo, Tex., Sept. 6.—Buyers are offering 40 cents a pound for short fall wool, 50 cents for mohair from grown goats, and 65 cents for kid hair in Crockett, Sutton and neighboring Counties, where the shearing of goats has been underway about 10 days, and where the shearing of sheep will start around September 20. Both wool and mohair will be of high grade and long staple and an average crop in volume is in prospect. Beggar-lice, which were recently reported to infest sheep worse than in many years, are not found in Crockett County, and have virtually disappeared in Sutton County, where the burrs stuck to wool in the spring.

This optimistic outlook is presented by T. Albert Kincaid of Ozona, president of the Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association of Texas; Oscar Appelt, who ranches 25 miles below Sonora in Sutton and Edwards Counties, and Victor Pierce Jr. of Ozona, who were in San Angelo on business late in the week. All reported that buyers are finding no takers at their present bids. The 40 cent offers for 4-months wool is about 5 cents a pound higher than the average a year ago, while considerable wool of 8-months' growth was sold in the spring at 35 cents to 40 cents. Bids on mohair are about 10 cents a pound lower on grown hair and 20 cents a pound less on kid hair, respectively, than in the fall of 1923. Most of the grown hair then brought 60 cents a pound and the kid hair 85 cents. Accordingly, it is expected that goat raisers, especially, will hold their clips for higher prices, and none of the shepherms are showing a disposition to sell. One reason for this is that the offers at this time are unusually early, and the producers have found by experience that year in and year out they receive the best prices through the home commission house.

Ingram School Opened Monday

The Public School at Ingram opened Monday morning for the 1924-25 term with appropriate exercises, which were attended by a large number of the patrons and two of the trustees. An impressive and helpful address was delivered by Rev. Earls and short talks were given by R. L. Stovall, the principal; R. V. Nichols, a former teacher; Franklin Stovall, intermediate teacher; Miss Mildred Saucier, primary teacher, and Earl McNealy, one of the trustees.

The enrollment on the opening day was 75 pupils, which number will be greatly increased later, as many of the pupils are helping with the fall work.

The faculty heartily thank the patrons and pupils for the interest and co-operation manifested and ask for a continuation of same to the end that they will be able to make this one of the very best school terms Ingram has ever had.

BIRD-PROOF MAIZE IN ECTOR COUNTY

Midland Reporter: Carl Roberts, prominent farmer of Ector County, has an exhibit of maize seed in the Chamber of Commerce office showing how to circumvent birds which destroy whole fields of the grain. Mr. Roberts has a field of "bird proof" maize which has not been bothered by birds, while on each side of this field, the feathered pests have made heavy inroads on kaffir and maize. In fact the ordinary maize has been almost ruined by the birds, while the "bird proof" variety shows no sign of having been raided. The "bird-proof" maize has a seed so bitter that birds will not eat it. The seed, however, lose this bitter taste when thoroughly ripe and ready for cutting.

KERRVILLE ATHLETICS TRIM COMFORT LAST SUNDAY, 5-3

Pitchers' Duel Lost by Bronchos Through Errors—Return Game to Be Played Here Sunday.

The Kerrville Athletics came out victors in a game with the Comfort team last Sunday, played on the latter's diamond. This was the fifth game between the two teams this season and the count stands three for Kerrville to two for Comfort. Stahmann pitched a good game for Comfort but was accorded poor support, seven errors being chalked up behind him. Holmes hurled a good game for the Athletics, allowing only six hits, and was accorded good support, his teammates only having one error marked up against them. Next Sunday the Comfort team will invade the home precinct of the Athletics with blood in their eyes and a determination to take back with them the long end of the score. Comfort has engaged in six games with the Fredericksburg Giants this season and the score between them stands three each. Kerrville and the Giants have battled to a tie in their four games this season, and if the Athletics win Sunday they will cop the triangular championship between the three cities; if Comfort wins the three cornered affair is all tied up.

KARNAK KEPT HER ABLE TO GO SAYS MRS. MINTER

Declares That If It Had Not Been for Andre's New Medicine She Would Still Be in Bed

"If I hadn't gotten Karnak three weeks ago when everything else had failed me I firmly believe I would still be in bed," declares Mrs. W. O. Minter, 1413 W. Eighth St., Oklahoma City. "Stomach and kindey trouble had made me almost a complete wreck. I had dieted and starved and taken medicines without a particle of benefit. My stomach seemed as sore as a boil, I had awful pains through my back and was so nervous I could not get any restful sleep. "But two bottles of Karnak has me feeling like a new person. I am now up and able to get about, my strength is returning every day and I feel fine. Karnak is wonderful."

formed the ceremony while the choir was chanting: "Nearer, My God, to Thee." It is reported that the shortest of short forms of the marriage ceremony must have been used, for Mr. Turner was through and out the door before the choir reached the chorus.

Possibly the passing years have somewhat slowed up the agile Judge or it may be that he does not respond as rapidly to the romance of weddings quite as quickly as formerly. Leastwise his last ceremony was performed in rather unusual circumstances.

A few weeks ago the honored Judge was awakened from his well earned rest by knocking on the door of his bed chamber. He sleepily inquired what was wanted and was informed a couple waited without who desired to be made one. Possibly Morpheus had a stronger hold on the judicial mind than Hymen, anyway before Hugh could get on any of his official raiment other than his glasses the bride party were in his room.

Mr. Turner can at all times rise to the emergency of the moment, so he draped his form with a bed sheet and performed the ceremony sans trousers.

In spite of the fact that the Judge has advocated, advised and assisted so many who were just embarking on the matrimonial seas, his own ship has never been launched but lays, warped and badly in need of caulking, turned upside down on the shore of the sometimes placid and oftentimes turbulent waters of matrimony. As the customer as he has been through all these years to assisting Cupid, the Judge has been too busy and too unselfish to think of self, so he has even onto this late day remained a bachelor.

Some of his most intimate friends say, however, that this condition will some day be remedied and that the Judge is seriously considering taking some of the medicine he has so often prescribed for others.

Judge Turner never runs for reelection. Before time for filing for candidate for office expires each campaign year some of his friends get out and circulate a petition to have his name placed on the official ballot and the people have a habit of voting for him that has endured for ages. He is a painstaking official and the community at large has profited greatly by reason of his counsel, advice and ideas of justice.

GIFTED ORATOR TO SPEAK AT SCHREINER EXERCISES is also cordially invited to attend these exercises.

Dr. Jacobs is one of the foremost ministers and orators of the South, and his addresses will be a rare intellectual treat for the students of Schreiner Institute and the citizenship of Kerrville and surrounding country.

Training table for football men was established at Schreiner Institute Monday morning, with 46 men registering the first day. Included in this number are many of last year's team and new material of sufficient caliber and high school experience to make Schreiner a formidable opponent for any school outside of the Texas University and A. & M.

The second year of Schreiner Institute opens next week, with a strong faculty and advance registration that insures taxing the capacity of the buildings. In fact, overflow arrangements are already under way by the management of the school.

Registration of students will begin next Tuesday; official opening of the school and assignment to classes will occur Wednesday and the first lessons will be heard Thursday.

SUCCESSFUL TWO WEEKS' SALE CLOSED BY NOLL

Last Saturday the Noll Stock Co. closed their Expansion Sale that had been running two weeks. Throughout the entire time of the sale the store was packed with buyers and Henry Noll reports that the sale was the largest and most successful ever conducted by the company.

The object of the sale was not a going out of business sale or a bankrupt sale, but rather an enlargement sale, whereby the store cleared its shelves of surplus stock preparatory to receiving the large supplies of winter goods now on hand and on the road.
