WOOL AND MOHAIR SALES HERE BEAT ALL RECORDS

Total of 5,776,579 Pounds Handled by
Schreiner Co. During Year—Beats
San Angelo 1 1/4 Million Pounds.

Kerrville has had the honor for years of being the largest primary wool and mohair market in the world, and this year's figures of fleece handled by the Schreiner Wool & Mohair Commission Company entrench this city more firmly than ever in this enviable position.

San Angelo, who has been striving for a long time to wrest this title from Kerrville, handled 1,274,923 pounds less of wool and mohair than did Kerrville during the current year, in spite of the fact that they have several buyers and commission firms operating there, whereas Kerrville has only one firm.

The San Angelo Standard of October 30th contained the following:

"The last sale of wool brought 1924 receipts of the Wool Growers' Central Storage Company to 2,928,539 pounds of wool and 284,219 pounds of mohair. Besides this the company handled for buyers making headquarters here 789,789 pounds of wool in the spring and around 500,000 pounds this fall, making a grand total for the year of 4,502,556 pounds of wool and mohair. This is a big figure in the maintenance of San Angelo's position as the largest primary wool market in America."

That might be considered some wool up in the Angelo country, but down here where people are used to dealing in big figures and doing things on a big scale, the amount would hardly be worth comment.

During the same period of time when the San Angelo firms were scratching up the 4 1/2 millions pounds, the Schreiner Company of this city stored and sold through their warehouse in this city a total of 5,776,579 pounds, which was divided as follows:

7,322 bags of 12 month's wool, 1,607,343 pounds.
3,879 bags 8 month's wool, 910,090 pounds.
4,605 bags 6 month's wool, 915,595 pounds.
3,865 bags spring mohair, 1,067,012 pounds.
4,238 bags fall mohair, 1,276,539 pounds.

Total wool and mohair, 5,776,579 pounds. With the prices the fleece brought it is no wonder that this section of the country is enjoying a period of prosperity never before seen. Wool and mohair means money, especially this year, and money means good times.

MOUNTAINEERS AND MUTES PLAY TO SCORELESS TIE

Saturday's Game Most Thrilling of Season—Schreiner Had Best of Game but Couldn't Score.

Lovers of football witnessed a game on Schreiner Field last Saturday that for thrills and tense moments is seldom equaled, when the Deaf & Dumb Institute of Austin held the Mountaineers to a 0-0 tie throughout the entire four quarters.

Several times were the Schreinerites within striking distance of a touchdown, only to have the Dummies' defense tighten and the ball go over on downs. Realizing that they could not force the ball over for a touchdown, the Schreinerites attempted a field goal three times, only to have the kick blocked by the opponents or go wild because the Dummies would not give the Mountaineers time, to kick.

Schreiner was handicapped throughout because of illness of some of the star players. Until the last few minutes of play, Flory, regular fullback and one of the most consistent ground gainers of the season, was on the side lines, having only that morning got out of bed with the flu.

The Deaf & Dumb Institute put up the best interference seen on a local field for many a day and they had a line that was like a rock wall. The Dummy ends and backfield men were also very much on the job in breaking up forward passes. The most consistent play Schreiner could use against this team were end runs, and it was hard to get away even with these.

The Dummies were on the defensive throughout practically the entire game, the ball being in their territory the greater part of the time.

Owing to the wonderful defensive work of the visitors, the Mountaineers could not get their forward passing machine to working until the last four minutes of play, after which they completed several. Flory, who had just been sent into the game, was on the receiving end of a couple of these. It was also during this last four minutes of play that the fans were treated to the biggest thrill of the game. After Schreiner had made three attempts to gain the necessary ten yards, Dietert attempted a kick on the fourth down, which was blocked by a Dummy, the ball rolling nearly to the Schreiner goal line, where another Dummy was fortunate enough to get possession. With the ball within four yards of the goal line, Schreiner held the visitors for downs and then started on a series of forward ward passes and end runs that brought the ball to nearly the center of the field before time was called.

Laughlin was the outstanding star of the Schreiner team by reason of his great work on end runs. Dietert

The Origin of Our American Thanksgiving

By Rev. William T. McElroy, in
The Outlook: The Thanksgiving season is here again and throughout our Nation everyone is looking forward in one way or another to the festivities and celebrations that will attend the day.

But it is not the festivities and celebrations alone that are engaging our attention. There is, we believe, a deeper sentiment than that attached to it in the minds of most of us. And we are aiming to make the day more than a mere joyful occasion—a day indeed of thanksgiving—thanksgiving to God for the abundant blessings He has seen fit to shower upon us.

The origin of Thanksgiving Day as it is celebrated in America is an interesting one. The real blessings of the day, however, go back much farther than the old New England days, although the popular belief has been that the day is of American or New England origin.

It is really, like Christmas and New Year's Day, a "transplanted festival." The difference is that the annual Thanksgiving Day is now peculiarly an American custom, while the other holidays are still celebrated by many other nations.

There are authentic records that the Jewish, Greek and Roman peoples all had certain days appointed, on which, both the public and in private, thanks were rendered to Jehovah or to the heathen gods. Some of these festivals—for they were more a time of merry-making generally than of thanksgiving—even occurred annually. But they did not much resemble the day as we now know it.

In England during the fifteenth, sixteenth and seventeenth centuries a number of Thanksgiving Days, in many ways like our own, were proclaimed. What is believed to have been the first of these was on October 25th, 1415, when a national public thanksgiving was observed to celebrate the victory of King Henry V at Agincourt. From that time until the close of Queen Elizabeth's reign similar days were sometimes appointed on the occasion of happy events of national interest.

The greatest debt that we owe, however, for our National Thanksgiving Day is to the Dutch. In 1556 and for some time later the little country of Holland was in dire straits. Sovereignty over the country was claimed by Philip II, of Spain, who turned all his resources to stamping out Protestantism (or "heresy," as it was then called) in the Netherlands, declaring that he would rather rule over a barren country than over a thoroughly Protestant as was Holland.

The culminating point in his efforts to carry out his ideas was the siege of the city of Leyden, which was one of the most dramatic sieges in history.

GAME LAW-VIOLATIONS FEW IN KERR COUNTY THIS YEAR

Warden Dent on Job Day and Night
Enforcing Law—Most Violations
Caused by Accident.

With the open season on deer and turkey almost a month gone, very few violations of the game laws of the State have been reported, when taken into consideration the large numbers of hunters who have been participating in the sport, and in a majority of cases the infractions of the law were either caused through ignorance of the law or by accident.

A majority of cases that have appeared before the Justice Court recently were for hunting without license and for trespassing. In practically every case tried on these offenses the parties paid their fines cheerfully.

A few does have been killed, according to J. J. Dent, Deputy Game Warden. With these Justice Turner has dealt severely, when they have come up for trial in his court.

In one instance a man living in North Texas killed a doe here by mistake. He came in and reported to the officers and was released and permitted to return to his home upon the man who brought him in promising to stand good for whatever fine was imposed in the case.

A few days later Mr. Dent addressed a letter to the hunter, telling him what the fine in the case would be, and by return mail the man sent a check to cover same, together with the following statement regarding the shooting:

"Am enclosing you check for $61.70 as per your letter, as I want to clear the matter up and forget it. It was the one incident in my life that I will always regret the most. However, it was an accident and carelessness together, and not intentional at all. Please enter plea of guilty and end the matter with enclosed check."

A man who makes a mistake is usually willing to acknowledge same and pay for the experience he has gained thereby. He has violated the law and as soon as he realizes his mistake he is usually willing and anxious to rectify the error and pay the penalty.

It is the malicious killer who causes the trouble, for he knowingly violates the law and usually has plans made to cover up his crime. And when caught the malicious killer usually tries to fight the case, evading the law to the last ditch.

Fortunately there are few of the latter named class of hunters in the Hill Country; otherwise the deer and turkey would in a few years' time be only a memory.

JAMES E. DRAIN, LEGION COMMANDER, HERE SUNDAY

Says Legion Hospital Best and in Finest Location of Any He Has Visited in United States.

James E. Drain, National Commander of the American Legion, together with Mark McGee, State Commander, and other high officials of the veterans' order, was an interested visitor at U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 93 last Sunday and spent the entire day looking over the building and equipment and in talking to the patients and attendants.

Mr. Drain is making a tour of the veterans' hospitals all over the United States, and it is understood that his visit here will have considerable to do with the hospital passing from State to National ownership, as his report on the site and facilities at hand, together with his recommendations, will have considerable influence with the Veterans' Bureau.

Accompanied by Col. R. L. Cook, medical officer in charge, Mr. Drain personally inspected the entire hospital plant, taking in everything from the power plant to the latest X-ray equipment. No detail of the hospital escaped him, as he went through the administration building, mess hall, kitchen, cold storage house, bakery, the infirmary and each of the wards.

In his tour of the hospital Mr. Drain took especial pains to shake each patient by the hand and converse with them relative to their health and the treatment accorded them.

The National Commander was loud in his praise of the hospital, stating that it was the finest and best equipped he had encountered in his entire tour. Commenting on the location, Mr. Drain stated there was no better location in the whole world that he knew of, when health conditions and natural scenic beauty were taken into consideration.

After the inspection tour, Mr. Drain was the honor guest at a luncheon given by Colonel Cook, Mark McGee, State Commander of the Legion; J. L. Folbre, State Adjutant; Wayne Davis, former State Commander; Mrs. Wright Armstrong, State Commander Legion Auxiliary; W. E. Register, State Commander of D. A. V.; Geo. E. Epple, Commander of Louis Halphen Post; J. C. Robinson, Commander Garrett-Baker Post; E. H. Prescott, Ally Beitel and Cecil Robinson, representing the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce; Y. D. Mathis, Houston; Captain Hudson, Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Maxey Hart and Jack Lutz of San Antonio; Wm. Hines, Legion, and Senator Julius Real of Kerrville, were also guests of Colonel Cook.

Following the luncheon Commander Drain spoke to the patients in a monster open air meeting. A speaking stand had been arranged for the occasion, but Mr. Drain preferred to get

HAT MAKING DEMONSTRATION AT COURT HOUSE THIS WEEK

Individual Instruction Given Ladies
by A. & M. Specialist Tuesday and Wednesday.

Tuesday and Wednesday of this week Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist of the Extension Service of A. & M. College, assisted by Miss Masha McInnis, Kerr County Home Demonstration Agent, conducted a hat making demonstration at the Court House in this city.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather Tuesday only about 15 ladies were on hand to participate in the work. However four different sections or communities of the county were represented, some of the ladies coming in as far as 32 miles to learn the work.

Under Mrs. Barnes' guidance the ladies made hats that looked and were as durable, shapely and stylish as any they could buy at millinery stores, and at a far less cost. The highest price hat made only cost $2.72 for frame, material for covering and trimming, and could not be equalled anywhere in a millinery store for less than $10 or $15.

One of the most popular hats made was of felt, the material for which cost only 85 cents, and which would retail for $4. Several of the ladies remodeled old frames into new shapes and used old material for covering of same, at a cost of only a few cents for thread.

Tuesday was devoted by the class to making patterns and frames; Wednesday they devoted to trimming the frames and making flowers and other decorations. Most of the ladies brought lunches with them and at the noon hour a regular banquet was spread in the court room.

One of the most important lessons the ladies learned during the demonstration was how to make a form on which to block the frames for hats. These forms are made by using an old hat frame and covering inside and out with adhesive tape, same as used in making dress forms. In this manner each lady is assured that her hat will be made to her individual measurement and will fit perfectly when completed.

Instruction in cleaning soiled hats and clothing was a part of what the ladies were taught, and any who had individual problems to solve had opportunity to consult Mrs. Barnes concerning same.

Mrs. Barnes is conducting these demonstrations over the entire State, and says that it will probably be a year before she can again visit Kerr County. However, other specialists from the Extension Service will be here in the meantime for different demonstrations, and will find that they have real live boosters for their work in the ladies who attended and participated in the hat making demonstration.

Tivy Winds Up Season With St. Mary's Today

At 3:30 this afternoon the fast little Tivy football warriors will line up against the equally fast team from St. Mary's College of San Antonio in the last game locally this year. The game will be played on Tivy Field.

Dope has it that the teams are about evenly matched, providing St. Mary's brings up their regular players. They are of about the same weight and the longer experience of some of the St. Mary's players is offset by the team work and determination of the Tivy men.

As is usually the case where there is a team of college capacity, the games at Tivy this year have suffered for lack of attendance. Schreiner and Tivy have worked harmoniously together all season in arrangement of schedules, but there has been a conflict of dates, and in every other way the two schools have co-operated. Schreiner had the Armistice Day game and Tivy has the game today, the two big days of the season from the point of attendance.

Many local football fans have been attending the Schreiner games all season, totally ignoring the Tivy games. This has been their loss, for several of the games the little fellows put up on Tivy Field this year have been exceptionally interesting and exciting enough to satisfy even the most calloused spectator.

Tivy played two games last week in order to wind up their season on Tivy. Last Wednesday afternoon they went down to Comfort to play the High School team of that little city a return game and just to show their superiority over the Comfort boys, they trounced them for the second time this season, this time by a score of 38 to 0.

Comfort greatly outweighed the locals but lost the game because of the teamwork and speed of the Tivy men. Osborne recovered a Comfort fumble in the first few minutes of play and raced across for a touchdown. Beard followed swiftly with a second and Radeliff's end run brought the Tivy goals to three for the first quarter.

Tivy failed to score during the second quarter. In fact Comfort outplayed the boys throughout the period, the only Tivy gain of consequence being when Osborne made seven yards after intercepting a forward pass.

During the third quarter Lloyd made two touchdowns by the end run route and Radeliff fought his way

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE TO HOLD BABY CLINIC HERE

Seven Rural Schools Have Been Examined by Mrs. Ablard—People
Co-Operating in Work.

Mrs. Henrietta Ablard, Public Health Nurse, employed by the Parent-Teachers' Association to put on three months' demonstration of the work in Kerr County, is meeting with hearty response from parents of children all over the county.

To date seven schools have been examined by Mrs. Ablard, and others will be taken care of as soon as she can get around to them. The health of the pupils generally is good, the principal defects found being minor ones, such as bad teeth and tonsils.

In order to broaden the scope of the work, the Public Health Nurse is planning a series of baby clinics for children under school age. The first of these will be held tomorrow afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock in the parish room of the Episcopal Church. At this clinic the county nurse will weigh and examine each child for defects and give a talk to the mothers on care of children, particularly on infant feeding.

Another clinic will be held December 12th at the home of P. L. Nelson on the Fredericksburg Road, and December 26th another will be held at the Leishman home on the hill back of Legion. The mothers are invited to attend the one nearest their homes. The hours for all these clinics will be from 2 to 4 p. m.

Four Ages In Business

Copyright 1922 by W. C. S.

[THE THIRD]

THE THIRD AGE in the business life of the successful man is from the time he is well established in business to the time he retires. During this time he is building his wealth larger and he is trying to give his family the comforts they desire.

His problem now is to protect that which he has already gained while he earns more. His credit often plays an important part in his affairs because it helps him to meet special opportunities as they come.

The business man at this time finds the service of the bank more helpful than ever before. His banker is always ready to talk with him about his plans and to help solve his problems when possible. This age continues while he is vigorously pushing his affairs.

The fourth age will appear next week.

PAVING BEING LAID ON BUSINESS STREET

Highway Project to Be Completed in
Two Weeks—First Asphalt Coat
Now on Most of Road.

The latter part of last week the Colglazier & Hoff paving crew put down the first layer of asphalt on Water Street through the business section of the city and a full crew of men are rapidly putting the finishing touches to the entire highway project.

A large asphalt mixer and crushing plant has been erected in the railroad yards near the Collins Wholesale House, where the asphaltic rock is crushed and prepared for the road surface, being hauled from the crusher to the highway in trucks.

E. R. Meniger, superintendent for Colglazier & Hoff, states that the highway project will be completed within the next two weeks. This called for an 18-foot roadway the entire distance from Town Creek on the north to a point three miles below Legion. Through the business section of the city the paving is being widened the entire width of the street, and some of this will have to be capped later, as part of the crushed rock base has not been laid as yet the full width.

The Elder Construction Company who recently completed the sanitary sewer system contract in this city, had a force of men busy the first of the week widening the sidewalk on the west side of Water Street from Earl Garrett Street to Sidney Baker Street. A two foot parking was left between the edge of the walk and the curbing when the sidewalks were constructed several years ago, and this space has all been filled in, making a uniformly wide walk throughout the entire downtown section.

The lower part of the highway project has been entirely completed and the surfacing crew are putting the finishing touches on the balance at the rate of about a quarter of a mile per day. It is estimated that over three miles will be completed by Saturday night.

During the summer and early fall Colglazier & Hoff were handicapped

THANKSGIVING SERVICES AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. C. E. Wheat to Deliver Address at 7:30—All Protestant Churches of City to Participate.

The Presbyterian Church will be the scene of a union Thanksgiving service this evening, beginning at 7:30, and participated in by the congregations of the various churches of the city.

Rev. C. E. Wheat will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon. Mr. Wheat is the new minister of the Methodist Church if this city and has enraptured his congregations with his sermons, and they are promising the other churches of the city a treat in this Thanksgiving sermon.

Rev. R. W. Merrill of the Baptist Church will deliver the invocation and Rev. P. E. Hawkins of the Christian Church will also take part in the services, as well as Rev. W. P. Dickey of the Presbyterian Church.

The principal feature of the entire service will be the congregational singing, as a program of old time religious songs has been arranged, to be participated in by all.

METHODISTS IN ANNUAL DISTRICT MEETING IN KERRVILLE THIS WEEK

Presiding Elder Rector in Charge of Two-Day Conference—50 Delegates in Attendance.

Under the leadership of A. E. Rector, Presiding Elder of the Kerrville District, a two-day annual district meeting was held by the Methodists in the local church in this city Tuesday and Wednesday.

There are 16 churches in the district and the delegates to this meeting, consisting of about 50, are the different pastors, district stewards, Sunday School superintendents, lay leaders and other laymen.

The sessions began Tuesday noon. Conferences were held Tuesday night and up to noon Wednesday. The principal object of the meeting was

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY

Brashear-Hanna

A wedding of interest to people in Kerrville was that of Miss Mae Elizabeth Brashear to A. H. Hanna, both of Winsboro, La., which occurred November 19th at the home of the bride's father.

The bride is a sister of Mrs. Ervin Wells of this city and made her home in Kerrville for a number of years, having been a student in the Scofield School for Girls and of Tivy High School. She is familiarly known as "Doots" and was one of the popular members of the younger set.

The groom is a young business man of Winsboro and the young couple will make their home in that place.

The Sun joins the wide circle of friends of the bride in wishing the young couple happiness and prosperity.

Mrs.-Chas. Rawson Entertains

Mrs. Charles Rawson entertained with a series of Bridge Parties Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

The living and dining rooms were lovely with the decorations of roses and chrysanthemums.

The girls and younger matrons were invited Wednesday afternoon, there being five tables of players, Miss Edna Henke won high score, a Parisian-Ivory comb and brush. Mrs. Raymond Allen cut consolation, a boudoir powder puff.

Thursday afternoon there were six tables of matrons. Mrs. Russell Jennett won high score, a dainty Japanese tea pot. Mrs. S. Eastland cut the consolation, which was a set of table mats.

A delectable salad course was served to the guests on each occasion.

Legion Auxiliary With Mrs. Doyle

The American Legion Auxiliary met Wednesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. G. M. Doyle as hostess.

During the routine of business a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Kearney Mason for her untiring efforts in behalf of the Armistice Day celebration. The chairman of the poppy sale reported a total of $70.55 from the sale. One-half of this fund is to be kept in Kerrville for relief work and one-half will be sent to the State Department.

Votes of thanks were also extended H. Renschel for the gate to the cemetery; to Monty Bros. for evergreens; Lee Mason for drayage; S. K. Mason for grading the road to the cemetery; to Alexander Joske for a flag; to the Gonzales Band and various others.

The State President, Mrs. D. R. Armstrong, of Brownwood, came in at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Doyle served a delicious salad course to about 25 members and visitors.

Christian Ladies Entertain

Tuesday of last week at 3 p. m. the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church here had the pleasure of the company of the ladies of the Center Point Church.

The usual business meeting was conducted, at the close of which the ladies enjoyed a social hour and refreshments of fruits and wafers. We hope to have the ladies of Center Point with us again, as we enjoyed their company very much.

Tuesday evening of last week the church gave a reception for Brother Hawkins, the pastor, and family. All the churches were invited and quite a number were present.

A number of welcome speeches were made by the following: Reverend West of the Methodist Church; Reverend Dickey of the Presbyterian Church. Judge Geddie also made a very interesting talk, representing the business men, after which Brother Hawkins responded with a very interesting talk. Reverend Langston, who presided over the meeting, was an interesting, with a source of information. The meeting, we believe, was

THE ORIGIN OF OUR AMERICAN THANKSGIVING

Although inferior in numbers and equipment to the trained soldiers of Spain, the sturdy Hollanders bravely held the city against their foes for months. Finally their food began to give out, and the Spaniards offered them safety and abundance if they would adjure their faith. These offers were steadily and indignantly refused.

"Finally," says one historian, "when the last rations of food were exhausted, when the very grass of the streets was plucked up to offer scant nourishment to famished bodies, when pestilence was raging in the city, and scarcely a house but was marked by the hand of death, the first token of relief came—came from 'William of Orange,' the brave, quiet man who had cut the dykes to save his country. With the coming of the waters and the walls of Leyden came also reinforcements and food supplies; and the Spanish, facing a flood against which trained soldiers were of no avail, fled from about the city, and Holland was saved. This was on October 3rd, and that day is the Dutch Thanksgiving Day, from which the idea for our National Thanksgiving Day was first derived.

The first Thanksgiving Day in America was in the Plymouth Colony in 1621. It lasted about a week and is known as the "harvest festival." The winter which had preceded it had been a long and severe one, and less than half the settlers had survived it. "At one time during the winter," one writer says, "only Brewster, Standish and five other of the hardest ones were able to get about." But in the spring and summer that followed, the soil and determination of the settlers had triumphed; twenty-six acres of rich land had been cleared for cultivation, and a bounteous harvest had been reaped. And now that they had secured sufficient food and fuel for the oncoming winter, Governor Bradford ordered a thanksgiving season—the first in America.

Edward Winslow, one of the colonists, wrote a description of the season, which has been preserved. He says: "Our harvest being gotten in, our Governor sent four men out fowling, so that we might after special manner rejoice together after we had gathered the fruits of our labors. They killed as much fowl as with a little help beside served the company about a week. At which time among other recreations we exercised our arms, many of the Indians coming amongst us and among the rest their greatest king, Massasoit, with some ninety men, whom for three days we entertained and feasted, and they went out and killed five deer, which they brought and bestowed on our Governor and upon his captains and others."

No mention is made of any thanksgiving season during the year 1622, but in the year 1623 another such day was appointed, this time in the month of July, the occasion being the arrival of greatly needed supplies from England. For about forty-seven years then no other thanksgiving was held, so far as the records show; but in 1689, one was held and another in 1689, the occasion this time being the accession of William and Mary to the throne of England. Still another occurred in the autumn of 1690, this being the last one held in Plymouth Colony, it being united with Massachusetts in 1691.

It was during the Revolutionary War that the Thanksgiving Day became a National holiday. Congress all through the war annually set apart a day for thanksgiving to God. After the war, however, no such day was kept until in 1789, when Washington became President. On October 3rd of that year he issued the first presidential proclamation, appointing Thursday, November 26th, as a day of National thanksgiving, this being the beginning of the "orthodox last Thursday."

Once since that time the Nation has had two Thanksgiving Days in one year. This was in the year 1863. The first was appointed by President Lincoln for August 6th, the occasion being the victory of Gettysburg. The usual Thanksgiving Day was also observed the last Thursday in November.

Thus originated our National Day of Thanksgiving, a day that now occurs as regularly as the year rolls around, on the last Thursday of each November. As a matter of custom, the President still sends out annually his Thanksgiving proclamation, which is then followed by a similar proclamation from the Governor of each State.

As a Christian nation, it is eminently fitting that after a year of peace and prosperity we should render thanks to the Giver of every good and perfect gift for the blessings we have received at His hand.

by reason of their inability to secure help, but since the cotton picking season closed in the lower country that handicap has been lifted, and outside of the necessary length of time required for the crushed rock base to settle, the work has been rushed right along, so that within a short time Kerrville and the Hill Country will have a business street and highway that will be the pride of all for many years to come.

Four men were present at the home of Arthur Boerner Wednesday, November 19th, when a demonstration was given in laying off terraces and building one with a Martin Ditcher and Terracer. Mr. Boerner is very much interested in terraces and plans to put up more of them as he finds time to do the work.

W. M. U. Entertained

The W. M. U. of the Baptist Church was entertained at their Thanksgiving missionary meeting Tuesday afternoon. The Central Circle had charge of the program. Mrs. Henry Meissel assisted with the decorations. The church parlors were decorated with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, together with Thanksgiving designs, which gave the room an air of the woods.

Fruit salad with saltine wafers, cake and cocoa were served to the 25 ladies present. Thanksgiving motifs were used as place cards.

Methodist Girls Entertain

The "Win One" Wesley Class of the First Methodist Church entertained the Methodist boys from Schreiner Institute last Friday at the home of Mrs. R. L. Mangum. Games and stunts were enjoyed throughout the evening. Sandwiches, cake and cocoa were served to about 30 guests.

Those present were: Misses Hardie, Avera, Ruby Grantham, Pauline Fitzsimmons, Willie Bell Lee, Lucia Stanley, Clara McDaniel, Elvie Lowrance, Mary Ella Stanley, Eva Covert, and Warren Holloman, Clemmie McDonald, and Artis Stoetzer; Messrs. Sheik Hughes, Harold Edwards, LeRoy Vaughn, Ricks Gee, George P. McIntire Jr., Jim Scroggins, John Browning, Clyde Moore, Walter Watson, Joel Watson, Alvin Irving, Robert Miller, Roy Greenaway, Henry Young and Joe Carmichael.

GOOD SAMARITAN LOSES LIFE HELPING OTHERS

C. M. Orebaugh of Dodge City, Kans., Crushed Under Auto Near Junction Sunday—Died Here.

Acting the part of the Good Samaritan cost C. M. Orebaugh, 46, of Dodge City, Kans., his life in one of the most peculiar accidents ever chronicled in Texas. The accident occurred on the Old Spanish Trail 32 miles the other side of Junction Sunday afternoon, Mr. Orebaugh's death occurring at the Secor Hospital in this city early Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Orebaugh and two children were returning from the west. They had previously started on a trip to California, but when they got out into New Mexico reconsidered and turned back, with the intention of going to Brownsville, where they had relatives.

Near Rodeo, New Mexico, they found Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Nawadny and two children with a broken down car beside the road. The party were from San Diego, California, en route to Galveston, where Mr. Nawadny has a brother living. Their car an Earl make, had stripped the bolts that holds the engine in place and they were stranded out in the country without repairs.

Mr. Orebaugh found some bolts in his tool box and assisted in repairing the broken car so that the party reached Rodeo without mishap, and there the car was repaired by mechanics.

Mr. and Mrs. Orebaugh came on toward Brownwood in a leisurely fashion and the next day ran into the Nawadny party with the same old engine trouble. Since the Orebaugh car was a powerful six-cylinder Buick, the driver offered to tow the other car to where proper repairs could be made.

The two cars started out, and since most the garages encountered were not equipped to make the necessary repairs, the tow was continued, Mr. Orebaugh's intention being to haul it clear to Kerrville for repairs.

About 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after towing the broken car over 90 miles, the party came to a hill adjoining the S. L. Shroyer Ranch, 32 miles the other side of Junction. Part way up the hill the tow chain broke and the two men got out to fix it.

Above them on the hill and headed toward them was another car that appeared to have engine trouble. The couple in this car, whose names are unknown, were from North Dakota en route to California. The man was on the ground attempting to adjust the carburetor, his wife sitting in the automobile.

It seems that the man told his wife to step on the starter, which she did, not knowing the brakes were not set and the car left in gear. Immediately the car started down hill and crashed into the Orebaugh car, a distance of about 50 yards below. One feature of the accident was that the lady in the car although she was an experienced driver, lost her head and did not attempt to steer it, let alone apply the brakes to stop its descent onto the other cars.

Mrs. Nawadny saw the approaching car and screamed a warning. The two men who were between the two cars, fixing the chain, attempted to get to safety, but before Mr. Orebaugh could clear himself the runaway car bumped his car back against the Nawadny car, catching him between the bumpers and crushing in his ribs on the right side.

As the accident happened near the Shroyer Ranch home, the injured man was taken there and medical aid summoned from Sonora. First aid was applied to his injuries but nothing could be done to relieve his suffering. On advice of the medical men he was brought to Kerrville Monday evening in the hope that surgical skill could save his life, but without avail, his death occurring about 4 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Relatives at Dodge City were notified of the accident and three brothers of the injured man, together with the wife of one of them, started from Dodge City late Monday evening by auto for this city, arriving just at noon Wednesday. A son who lives in Oklahoma also arrived Wednesday, accompanied by his wife.

The body of the dead man, accompanied by his wife and sister-in-law, will leave this afternoon for Dodge City, the other relatives going through in the cars.

WILD TURKEY SHIPMENTS CONTINUE FROM KERRVILLE

Under the direction of J. D. Breedlove, the deputy game warden who have been handling the shipping of wild turkeys have about cleaned up their outstanding orders for same. Two crates were shipped last Saturday, one to B. D. Garmon at Amarillo and one to John P. Classen at Brecken. Tuesday another crate was sent to C. B. Oliver at Caldwell.

The only thing that is holding up the shipping of the turks is shortage of crates. A special padded crate is necessary to keep the birds from hurting themselves while in transit, and these crates have been sent out with shipments, necessitating waiting until they are returned.

Mr. Breedlove states that 222 turkeys have been shipped during the past three months. He says that they could ship a thousand if necessary and that their traps for catching same are still in the same location they were first placed at the Live Oak Ranch, the birds seemingly not being in the least afraid or a bit wild by reason of the catches made there this fall.

Life Insurance a Service

The life insurance agent does not "sell" a commodity. He persuades men to enter into contracts with their fellowmen, through a responsible corporation, in order to protect their families in case of their own premature death and to save money for themselves if they live long.

Persuading a man to provide for his family and his own old age is not "selling" him anything. If he accepts the service he becomes a better husband and father, a better citizen and a happier man.

Sealed! to protect Buick performance

Buick's chassis is sealed. Iron and steel housings protect the operation of all driving parts—seal them in to safeguard Buick performance.

Here are the vital points at which Buick engineering provides this extra protection:

- 1 FAN HUB—Fan bearing totally enclosed—lubricated by its own gear pump.
- 2 MOTOR—Steel cover keeps water from short-circuiting spark plugs. Steel cover over valve in head mechanism keeps dust out, oil in.
- 3 STARTER-GENERATOR—Delco single unit starter-generator completely housed in single housing. Starting gears housed with fly-wheel.
- 4 FLYWHEEL—Completely housed. Starting teeth protected from road damage and accumulation of mud and dirt.
- 5 CLUTCH—Multiple disc—completely housed.
- 6 TRANSMISSION—Completely enclosed. Shifting mechanism holes sealed.
- 7 UNIVERSAL JOINT—Completely enclosed in ball joint at front end of torque tube—lubricated automatically from transmission.
- 8 PROPELLER SHAFT—Buick's third member drive, which is a torque tube, completely encloses the propeller shaft. It is impossible for road dirt to work from the shaft into the universal joint or rear axle.
- 9 REAR AXLE—Floating type, totally enclosed in rear axle housing.

THE PASSING DAY

Will H. Mayes, Department of Journalism, Texas University

At a recent meeting of the committee on organization of the proposed Texas Centennial it was unanimously agreed that as a preliminary step to the celebration a year or more should be spent in an educational campaign to acquaint every Texan with Texas as it has been and as it now is. An effort will be made, if the committee's report is adopted, to familiarize every child and adult in the State with Texas history and Texas progress in a way to create an intense love for the State that will manifest itself in a desire to hold a great exposition that will adequately depict Texas of the past, exhibit every resource of Texas of the present, and give a vision of Texas of the future. The educational campaign in itself should prove a wonderful awakening of the people to a proper conception of the greatness of the State.

It is thought that the educational campaign proposed in advance of the Texas Centennial will cost approximately $100,000, a large sum to be spent for quickening an interest in the State that will find a response in the way of a great commemorative exposition. It must be remembered, though, that Texas is a great State—great in area and in history—with a heterogeneous population, having an almost endless variety of interests. To reach and enthrall such a population in such a vast territory will require much effort, time and expense, but it will be worth to Texas in an educational way all that it will cost, aside from the interest that it will create in the Texas Centennial.

Something was said in this column recently about the number of turkeys marketed this fall at Brownwood, the value of the turkey crop of that county alone being estimated at $400,000 to $450,000. Reports seen since then show that Brady and San Saba are shipping turkeys in great quantities. Cuero is perhaps the leading turkey market in the State, and there are several other places where turkeys play an important part in bank statements. Aside from the money paid the growers for turkeys large sums are paid laborers who pick and prepare the turkeys for market, the turkey pickers each making from $3.00 to $10.00 a day during the shipping season.

All the counties that are shipping turkeys have also become large producers of chickens and eggs, these finding a steady market throughout the year. The poultry business is not interfering to any extent with general farming, for it is seen from statistics that there is no less production of cotton, corn and other farm crops because of the growing of turkeys and chickens, since the poultry is generally cared for by the women and children on the farms. They find this much more agreeable work than field labor and also more profitable in proportion to the time spent.

In discussing the lack of progress in such a vast territory as compared with surrounding towns, a citizen of the place explained that instead of working for town development the business interests are divided into two factions that spend their time in opposing each other. It is a deplorable condition for any community to have a divided citizenship in matters where the interests of all are concerned. Unfortunately there are people who produce joy factional strife more than progress, who would rather sink themselves in business oblivion than do a thing that might help others, especially if those others are neighbors or are engaged in the same line of business. Men with big business ideas have learned that the greatest success is brought about through co-operative effort. It is the small merchant that gives more time to fighting competition than to building up his business. A still smaller fellow is the one who refuses to help in community building simply because some one whom he does not like happens to favor a proposed movement.

The most noticeable movement in industrial lines in Texas just now is the increasing interest being shown in textile manufacturing. The great cotton production in Texas, the available gas, lignite and water, the temperate climate, the low cost of living as compared with Northern mill centers, the proximity to world markets, all lend themselves to cotton and woolen goods manufactured in Texas.

It is now 37 days since all infected cattle were disposed of in the original area in Harris County and 24 days since small break three and one-half miles north of Alvin, just inside Galveston County and six miles from the last infected premises cleaned in Harris County. This State has been very fortunate in having a Federal official sent here to co-operate with us, who had enough nerve to take up and put under ground all cattle surrounding infected pastures. It was simply demonstrated that this policy was correct as the last small breaks in Harris County occurred in dairies left under observation near the town of Webster in the south end of the area and Genoa at the north end of the area. There is no doubt whatever that the last break which occurred near Alvin was carried by human beings. Since these outbreaks we have been favored by very dry weather and this enabled our force of inspectors to make close inspection on all cattle inside of the Federal and State quarantined area. We feel now, knowing how rigidly we have enforced the quarantine, that the Texas outbreak is a matter of history. There are still a few States that have drastic quarantine regulations against this State. Some of them even cover what would seem to be non-carriers of the disease. We are hoping that these States will modify and at least follow Federal and State quarantine. Texas, itself has probably more at stake than any State in the Union and we know that we can handle a break now, if it should occur, so fast that there would be on danger of spread. Indeed, after the first three weeks there was no danger of anything getting away and it seems to us that all States should feel absolutely safe in just taking the Federal area as their area.

CATHOLIC CHURCH NOTES

By Father Kemper

CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S DRIVE

With the kind permission of Mayor Adkins and Colonel Cook, a Tag Day will be held in Kerrville and at Legion next Saturday, November 29th, by nurses of the Santa Rosa Infirmary, where the non-sectarian Crippled Children's Association intends to erect a separate hospital fully equipped to give the latest scientific treatment free of charge to deformed youngsters of Southwest Texas.

The intensive drive in the city of San Antonio has already been conducted and netted about half of the required amount. Outside cities and towns, who will have an equal claim on the facilities of this charitable institution, are being appealed to for their quota in the general subscription.

Probably one of the directors of the campaign, Mrs. Wallister, will come personally. It is her daughter, Mary Louise, whose book of verses, "Under the Lilacs," written during her school days at Our Lady of the Lake, will be sold to further this worthy cause.

Although this urgent cry to help the curable cripples comes immediately after the Red Cross drive, this latter appeal was given a most hearty response by the Notre Dame students who secured fifty-nine memberships. One room alone solicited $43.00, and these pupils won the promised prize of a half holiday.

Simultaneously Miss D. Clariemont of New Orleans, was canvassing the parishioners for the Victoria Magazine to aid Monsignor Baker's Orphanage.

Weiner Roast

An Indian summer night and a big camp fire on the banks of the Guadalupe, furnished the setting for an enjoyable social that the young folks of St. Mary's congregation held on Thursday of last week. This time, as a Leap Year treat, the girls supplied the frankfurters, bread, cheese, pickles, potato chips and marshmallows. The boys played crooks after the fashion of this country's aborigines. They were more adept at playing games, some of which may have been popular in the tribal days of red-skinned chieftains, but in the game called "gossiping" they did not dip their darts in venom.

A feast of venison was provided for the Sisters and boarders through the kindness of Dr. E. Galbraith. This was followed a few days later by a liberal supply of ducks which Dr. S. E. Thompson donated after his successful hunt at the coast.

Three auto loads of the younger element went on a hunt of their own last Sunday beyond Ingram. They came back with an empty belt, having killed time and shot pellets. At the Arthur Mosel ranch, on the previous Monday, a contingent from the Guadalupe School was more successful at peccan hunting.

The Notre Dame High School pupils observed the namesday of their principal, Sister Hilda, on Tuesday of last week with a surprise shower of fruit and candy.

Saturday was St. Cecilia's Day, patroness of music. For the benefit of the new school building at Bandera a musical entertainment was held there in which some of our own students participated. Sister Hilda and Sister Immaculata chaperoned the crowd, and Ed Garvey very obligingly acted as chauffeur.

Details of the Notre Dame program held on the eve of Thanksgiving will be chronicled later.

Thanksgiving Day

Classes will be dismissed at both parochial schools on Thursday and Friday of this week. Thanksgiving services were held in the convent chapel Thursday morning.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday morning for R. L. Crook, who had come here from Miami, Fla., but in too weakened condition to survive more than 24 hours.

The sacrament of baptism was administered to Antonio Bowles and Florentia Garza.

On Guadalupe Day, December 12th, the Mexicans will hold a pre-Christmas "Rummage Sale" for their Empty Stocking Fund. Second-hand wearing apparel, in fair condition, will be

More and Better Classified Ads

The Publishers' Auxiliary: Two factors combine to make the promotion of classified advertising less difficult than that of display advertising. In the first place the classified ad does not require space to create the want in the reader's mind. The want is already there, else he would not be reading the classifieds. Another factor is the quick return on the investment of the advertiser, small though the investment and the return may be.

But in promoting classified advertising, no less than in building up a good display advertising patronage, the publisher will find that he owes it to his advertiser to help that patron advertise intelligently. His first step might well be to adopt the slogan which has made the classified department of one metropolitan newspaper so successful. It is "The more you tell, the quicker you sell." The psychology of merchandising through the classified ad in the community paper is virtually the same as in the metropolitan journal and it takes advantage of the same instincts which are fundamental in all human beings whether rural or urban.

As in any other advertising, price is a primary consideration. John Jones, who advertises: "For sale, a set of harness, $35," is pretty likely to have prospective buyers sooner than William Smith who simply says: "For sale, a set of harness, price very cheap." The buyer might find upon investigating Smith's offer (if he took the trouble to investigate) that he and Smith did not agree on what is a cheap price. But he already knows whether $35 is a reasonable price for a set of harness and Jones has taken one step toward selling his harness.

Another consideration is quality. When Mrs. Jones offers White Leghorn pullets at $1 each, she also has taken a step toward a sale. But Mrs. Smith is a step ahead of her when she advertises: "For sale, imported pure bred Barron English White Leghorn pullets, '300 egg strain,' April hatch." The woman who wants to increase her egg money is more likely to buy some of these "300 egg strain" pullets from Mrs. Smith than those of indefinite quality offered by Mrs. Jones.

Or it may be an automobile that the advertiser wishes to sell. The buyer wants to know more than the name of the car, the year, the model and the price. He wants to know how far it has been run, whether there are extra tires and what extra equipment it has. If it's furniture he wants to know the material, style, condition and original price. There's a special attraction, too, in such words as "slightly used" or "almost new" or "has had good care."

"The more you tell, the quicker you sell" is more than just a slogan. It is the fundamental principle of merchandising through the classified ad.

Practical Nurse Tells

Mrs. N. E. Snow, of Route 1, near Paris, Tenn., tells the story of her experience as follows:

"I am 62 years old and I have been a practical nurse for more than 20 years, taking mostly maternity cases. One of my daughters suffered from cramping at . . . She would just bend double and have to go to bed.

CARDUI

was recommended to her and she only had to take about two bottles, when she hardly knew that it was . . . she suffered so little pain.

"My youngest daughter was run-down, weak and nervous, and looked like she didn't have a bit of blood left—just a walking skeleton, no appetite and tired all the time. I gave her two bottles of Cardui. It built her up and she began eating and soon gained in weight and has been so well since."

Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, has helped suffering women for over forty years. Try it. At all druggists. E-100

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. R. W. Merrill, Pastor

The pastor has returned from the Baptist State Convention and will preach here Sunday morning and night. We have a full program for next Sunday and every Baptist in Kerrville is urged to be present. The church needs your help and influence and you need the help and influence of the church. "Go to Church Sunday, for a Good Sunday Makes a Better Monday."

At an early date, to be announced later, the pastor is planning to have the Reverend I. E. Gates of San Antonio, deliver an inspirational address in the church for the special benefit of the men. On Wednesday evening the pastor related some of the things which he witnessed at the late meeting of the Convention.

The Baptist Sunday School needs 100 more people in Sunday School next Sunday than we had last Sunday. The weather is fine, the air is bracing. Come out Sunday morning at 9:45. You don't know how good it will make you feel. Join heartily in the singing. Help make your class better, infact "Be a BOOSTER, don't just BELONG."

The Sunbeams will begin their mission study, "Chinese Lanterns" next Sunday evening at 2 p. m. All Sunbeams are invited to be present.

AN ORDINANCE

Amending and correcting a certain part of the "Plumbing and Sewer Ordinances" passed at the meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the City of Kerrville, Texas, held by the said Board of Commissioners of the City of Kerrville, Texas, on the 14th day of November, 1924, and being section 8, in part two thereof, and coming under the head of "Specifications to Govern the Plumbing and House Connections with the Public Sewers of Kerrville, Texas."

Be it ordained by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Kerrville, Texas: Section 1. That Section 8, part two, of the "Plumbing and Sewer Ordinances" of the City of Kerrville, Texas, passed at a meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the City of Kerrville, Texas, held by the said Board of Commissioners of the said City of Kerrville, Texas, on the 14th day of November, 1924, and being Section 8 thereof, in part two, coming under the head of "Specifications to Govern the Plumbing and House Connections with the Public Sewers of Kerrville, Texas," be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Whoever shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of the next preceding sections 1 to 7, both inclusive, of this ordinance, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than Five ($5.00) Dollars, nor more than Two Hundred ($200.00) Dollars.

Passed and approved, this the 25th day of November, 1924.

A. T. ADKINS, Mayor,
E. L. TURNER, City Clerk.

The Center Point Boys Club met Tuesday, November 18, at Keithholme for a class in hog judging. There were only four boys present and those who were absent missed a rare treat as a very interesting and educational hour was enjoyed by all present.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH NOTES

Brother Hawkins will preach here next Sunday and Sunday night and we hope that there will be a large audience again.

There will be preaching for the next three Sundays in succession, and by that time we will be able to announce the regular preaching days, which will be two Sundays each month.

Our Bible School is still showing great interest and we had a nice crowd last Sunday. We were entertained by the Young People's Class, with a description of "Jacob's Well," which was rendered in the usual manner of the young folks—very interesting. We hope to see more of the young people present next Sunday, and fathers and mothers, too.

Remember preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. next Sunday.

Bible School at 10 a. m. Everyone invited.

DANGER IN DELAY

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Kerrville People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in Kerrville.

Miss Adele Michon, Tivy Street, Kerrville, says: "I keep Doan's Pills on hand and whenever I have any signs of kidney complaint they are sure to give me relief. My kidneys were weak and I had attacks of backache when I felt so tired and worn I could scarcely do my work. Headaches annoyed me and my kidneys acted irregularly. Doan's Pills from the Rock Pharmacy quickly stopped the backaches and regulated my kidneys."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Miss Michon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs. Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement).

We are surely thankful to be able to announce that our new Rector and his family arrived safe and sound on Monday, having driven all the way from Raymond, Mississippi.

Let us show him that we are ready to back him up in every good work that he may undertake, by coming to all the church services that we possibly can.

There will be a Thanksgiving service Thursday at 10 a. m. Everyone is cordially welcome at our services.

Service Sunday at 11 a. m. It being Advent Sunday the offering will be given towards helping build a church at Asherton, Texas. Make this a generous gift.

The sale of work last Saturday was quite successful and a nice sum realized by the good ladies for the mission work of our church.

COLDS ATTACK NINETY PEOPLE OUT OF HUNDRED

Washington, Nov. 25.—Ninety per cent of America's population is afflicted with colds at some time during the year, and the average person is visited by the respiratory disease 3.7 times a year, it was indicated by preliminary figures in a National health survey by the Public Health Service.

Robust persons, it was found, are just as apt to fall victims to colds as weaker ones.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

To break up a cold over night or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza or sore throat, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the nautical Calomet tablet, that is purified from dangerous and sickening effects. Those who have tried it say that it acts like magic, by far more effective and certain than the old style calomet, heretofore recommended by physicians.

One or two Calotabs at bed time with a swallow of water,—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with eating, work or pleasures. Next morning your cold has vanished and your system feels refreshed and purified. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price ten cents for the vest-pocket size; thirty-five cents for the large family package. Recommended and guaranteed by druggists. Your money back if you are not delighted.—adv.

TOPPERWEIN'S FREE SHOOTING EXHIBITION WELL ATTENDED

World's Greatest Fancy Shot Demonstrated Winchester Guns and Ammunition Here Saturday.

The free shooting exhibition staged at the baseball park last Saturday afternoon by "Ad" Topperwein, the World's Greatest Fancy Shot, through the courtesy of the Chas. Schreiner Company, was attended by a large crowd of interested sportsmen and spectators.

The day was ideal and "Top" pulled his full list of stunts, which included several new ones worked up since his last visit to this section. The exhibition was begun by the expert displaying his ability with a .44 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver by shooting flying targets and some fancy shots by the aid of a mirror. The windup of this part of the performance was the breaking of two plates which had been placed on chairs twenty yards apart with Topperwein seated on another chair in the center. He sighted at one target by looking directly at it and secured the range on the other by the aid of mirror, and, in a shorter space of time than it takes to tell about the feat, fired the pistols simultaneously and both plates were shattered.

For the rest of the exhibition Topperwein used a Winchester .22 Repeater, a .22 Winchester Automatic, the old style lever action .30-30 Winchester, the .351 High Power Rifle and the Winchester 12, 16 and 20-gauge shotguns in order, performing various feats with each gun. He ejected a shell and hit it while it was in the air with a .22 Automatic, and with this little rifle worked out the profile of an Indian Head on a sheet of tin, which is on display in the show window of Schreiner's Hardware Department.

After shooting with the smaller rifles at flying targets, such as marbles, washers, etc., one shot was taken with a high-power at a can of tomatoes which had been thrown high in the air to show the audience what effect the soft-nosed bullet would have on big game—the can was flattened out as if it had been run over by a steam roller!

Many other novel stunts were pulled by the Wizard, such as twirling the 12-gauge shotgun just like a drum major, tossing an object in the air, then loading, firing and hitting the target. He also stood on his head—aided by his assistant—and shot and broke targets thrown by a helper. He tossed five eggs in the air at once and broke them all with the 20 before they could reach the ground.

These feats give some idea of the many performed by "Ad" Topperwein and which causes him to be known the country over as the "Wizard of the Rifle and Shotgun."

The Economy of the Best

The economy of using the best possible materials is made apparent in the upkeep problem. A house or business building may be "thrown together" with cheap material and it may "look all right," but after it's stood the shock of weather, the real test comes.

Long ago we learned that it is false economy to use poor materials and we so advise everyone who buys of us. Our success is due to honesty in materials and prices.

LOCAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY VISITS YOAKUM

Yoakum Daily Herald, Nov. 19th: Mrs. Amy Wallace, Secretary-Manager of the Kerrville Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants' Association, who is on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Caldwell, being a niece of Mr. Caldwell, was a pleasant visitor at the local Chamber today.

Wallace presents a pleasing atmosphere for her town and the many improvements just completed including the large Methodist Camp Grounds, such as the Presbyterians have there, and improvements under way, and especially the splendid golf course, costing more than $40,000 and the general local development in homes and schools, and churches, leads one to believe Kerrville is a city worth while and appreciates the fact that everything comes to those who hustle while they wait. Mrs. Wallace will meet her son at Austin, Thanksgiving Day, he being with the A. & M. boys who will battle Texas University that day at Austin.

Mrs. Wallace is favorably impressed with Yoakum, this being her first visit also, and she plans to see factory row and everything worth while while in town. Captain Caldwell is proving a willing escort and we predict little worth seeing will be missed while Mrs. Wallace visits the Caldwell household.

Modern Methods in Butchering

C. C. Fowler, in Farm and Ranch: Hog killing time is getting near and of course it makes your mouth water to think of good homemade sausage, liverwurst, head cheese, hams, etc.

I have always tried to have my hogs ready to kill the first good cold snap in December—not too cold, but enough frost to chill the meat and bones good overnight. Weather too cold is as bad as too warm, as the joints will smother and spoil if the meat freezes.

I follow the packing house plan in cutting my hogs into meat, but lose the backbone. I split all hogs right down the backbone, head and all. I then pull the leaf lard, then lift the shoulders, cut off the bacon, then the hams, then take the loins and cut into pieces just large enough for one day's supply of meat.

Secure some small kegs and pack loins in these on end. Make a heavy brine and add four ounces of saltpeter to each hundred pounds of meat. At the end of two weeks pour brine off, wash keg good and repack loins in medium brine. We keep one keg to use as fresh pork, the other we smoke with the hams. You may at any time take a loin from the brine, slice into pork chops, soak in sweet milk for an hour and have fresh pork chops with just enough salt to season.

I open all hams and shoulder joints and fill with salt and a small amount of saltpeter. Pack hams, shoulders, jowls and bacon in barrel. Make heavy brine with four ounces of saltpeter to each 100 pounds of meat. Cover meat at least four inches, adding a syrup made of four pounds of sugar to each 100 pounds of meat. At end of two weeks remove meat from brine, repack and make medium brine to cover again for four weeks longer. At end of time remove, hang in smokehouse and let drip until dry. Then smoke each evening after sundown for at least two hours each day, until meat takes good smoke color. I have cured thousands of pounds of meat this way.

I cook all livers, kidneys, hearts, melts and legs until meat falls to pieces, and make liverwurst. Grind up fine, having seasoned rather highly with onions, salt and black pepper. When through grinding, mix as much of the liquor, in which meat was cooked, with the liverwurst as it will take up. Then I take about half of what I have made and pack into large clean corn shucks, tie, hang up, and smoke for several days, and oh boy! but it is fine sliced and fried, to be eaten with hot biscuits for breakfast.

All trimmings from hams, shoulders and hams go into sausage, some of which is put up in shucks and smoked. It may be kept indefinitely and is much improved by smoking.

The heads and tongues may go into head cheese. If the cracklings are pressed into cakes they may be kept for a long time, in a cool place. Of course, we all know the joy of crackling bread and greens.

If a good yearling is to be had and killed along with the hogs it is fine corned and gives a change from pork. To corn: Cut into suitable pieces, place in a barrel, sprinkle liberally with whole cloves and peppercorns, weight down and cover with a good heavy brine. It may be used after five weeks right from barrel, or may be cooked and canned. You may at any time have the luxury of a beefsteak by cutting one and placing in milk for thirty or forty minutes before frying.

I think my method far superior to dry-salt methods, as the meat will not sweat and sour in case of warm weather, but will be airtight if brine is kept well up over meat and weights. Little Rock, Ark.

Sonora Girl Elected Governor

Ozona Stockman, November 20th: Even the world is a small place. If you should say to an Ozona girl "Be good and maybe you'll be Governor some day," it would make her laugh; but that is just what has happened to a girl of Sonora, Ozona's next-door neighbor to the east.

Mrs. Ross, who has been elected Governor of the State of Wyoming, was formerly Miss Nellie Tayloe, of Sonora, Sutton County, Texas, and many of us in this immediate section knew her as an unusually bright young woman. She is a sister of Judge Tayloe, now of San Antonio, and is a relative of Mrs. Tom Nolan, of Ozona.

Mrs. Ferguson, also, recently elected Governor of Texas, was a country girl of Bell County. Thus the first women Governors of States in the history of this country are native Texans.

The two Governors-elect plan to meet in San Antonio during the Christmas holidays for a mutual love-feast.

ST. ANTHONY HOTEL UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Since The St. Anthony Hotel was acquired by the Wallace A. Robinson Hotel Company last March, more than One Hundred Thousand Dollars has been expended in the interests of the traveling public, and the St. Anthony improvement plan calls for the expenditure of almost an equal amount before Mr. Robinson will be content with his hostelry.

Since being erected the St. Anthony has been recognized as the premier hostelry of the Southwest and has been a model of convenience and service for its guests. Mr. Robinson, in spite of the hotel's wide reputation, saw room for improvement and immediately started making them.

Practically every room in the house has been re-decorated. The lobby and lounge has been entirely re-furnished and re-decorated. Valuable art paintings valued at close to fifty thousand dollars are now decorating the walls. Large and commodious desk and office space has been arranged. The dining room and cafes are planned so as to facilitate fast service, while the kitchen, that part of a hotel which the public never see, has been entirely re-modeled and re-furnished.

In the basement of the hotel, a magnificent new barber shop, which is a gem of neatness, and represents an expenditure of ten thousand dollars, has been provided for the benefit of the hotel and outside patrons. It boasts of five chairs, manicurist and marcel.

Wallace N. Robinson, the directing head of the new St. Anthony, comes from the famous Robinson family of hotel operators. His father still operates the Baltimore and Nuellback Hotels in Kansas City, Mo., and the Hotel Tulsa in Tulsa, Okla., was formerly a Robinson property. He plans to operate the St. Anthony along the same line, which made these hostelries famous throughout the land.

SON OF FOUNDER OF COMFORT PASSES AWAY

Comfort News, November 20th: George Conrad Altgelt passed away last Saturday afternoon in San Antonio after a recent severe paralytic stroke. He was one of the best known lawyers there, and at one time held the position of city attorney.

Mr. Altgelt was born in Comfort, January 9, 1859, and moved to San Antonio with his family in 1866. Thereafter his life was spent in that city, but the friends of his childhood days, as well as those of his father, in Comfort were always heartily welcome to his home.

Mr. Altgelt's father, Ernst, came to Comfort in 1854 and purchased the land where Comfort now stands from Mr. Vless. He then platted the town-site and lived here until 1866, when he moved to San Antonio. The late Otto Brinkman built the new home there for the Altgelt family.

Meat for Home Consumption

T. M. Bolls, in Farm and Ranch: In selecting hogs for butchering, care should be taken that animals are in medium condition, in the best of health, and gaining in flesh. Fat imparts to meat juiciness and flavor, but large amounts of fat are objectionable.

To make the best meat, I always feed a little digester tankage with the grain ration. Say, one pound of tankage to five to eight pounds of grain. Tannage produces muscle, and not fat.

Time for butchering begins in November and continues until February. Cold weather is absolutely necessary in the proper cooling of meat. Rainy weather should be avoided.

I take hogs off feed sixteen to twenty-four hours before killing, but give them all the fresh water they will drink. I do this that the animal may bleed better, and that the stomach and intestines will be empty. This is important in producing sweet-flavored meat and insures clean handling of the viscera. Always avoid exciting the animal in any way prior to killing, as any excitement keeps the body from bleeding freely.

It is my rule to stick a hog, instead of shooting or stunning before sticking. The animal bleeds much better if caught by two men, turned on his back and held by one man while the other does the sticking. When the hog is on his back, take a long sharp knife, place it about one inch in front of the breastbone, let the knife point in the direction of the root of his tail, push the knife into the flesh to a depth of six or eight inches (according to size of hog), then give the blade a half turn and draw it out, being sure to sever both arteries. I try to avoid sticking the shoulder, and always avoid sticking the heart, because when the heart is stuck it dies, but if left untouched it continues to pump all the blood from the body, and a poorly drained body never cures well.

The hog, being cooled for thirty minutes, is ready to scald. For heating water I use an ordinary kettle or pot placed near the place of butchering. If the hog is not too large, use a barrel set at a proper angle, with the open end against a platform where the scraping it to be done. When the water is heated to about 160 degrees I pour it into the barrel. If water should boil, before scalding, be sure to cool with a little cold water.

The hog is kept moving in the water by being turned from one side to the other, to insure thorough scalding. Draw the hog out occasionally to air. Scald the hind quarters first, as the head is more likely to "set" than the hams, and where a thermometer is not used the water might be too hot. When the hair and scarf will slip easily, pull the animal out on a platform and remove the hair and scarf as quickly as possible, hang the hog up and wash it thoroughly with cold water, scraping with a thin knife. First, scrape down to open the pores, then up to thoroughly clean.

Remove the entrails as soon as possible, taking care to cut them loose without injury, then wash the carcass thoroughly and remove the leaf fat. (This will help in cooling.)

Remove the head, and split (or, better, saw) straight down the backbone, not on each side, but in the center of the backbone, then remove all fat from the intestines while they are warm. I do not mix this fat with the leaf fat, as it will give the lard an objectionable flavor.

Hang the carcass, where it will cool as rapidly as possible. The best time for killing is in the afternoon, so the meat may cool overnight. Cooling is very important. The meat will probably spoil if salted before thoroughly cooled, as the salt closes the outside pores and prevents the escape of heat. Hang the carcass in a clean, cool place to prevent its absorbing and disagreeable odor, and where flies cannot get to it.

Never cut the meat until it is thoroughly cool. Cut the front feet off about one inch below the knee joint, and the hind feet about the same distance below the hock joint (sawing the bone).

Then cut each half into three parts, shoulder, midding and ham, cutting the shoulder through the third rib and across the fourth. Remove the ribs and trim the shoulders, making all cuts as smooth as possible, the object being to cut the shoulder square and reduce the amount of trimming to a minimum.

Cut the ham through just at the rise of the backbone, parallel with the cut below the hock; trim as squarely as possible.

The loins and fat back are cut off in one piece parallel with the back.

After the meat is cut, rub it on both sides thoroughly with a mixture as follows: To 100 pounds fresh pork mix twelve pounds salt, one quart rib-bon cane syrup or two and one-half pounds brown sugar (slightly warmed), six level tablespoonfuls powdered saltpeter, three-fourths cupful black pepper, three-fourths cupful ground red pepper. Place the meat (flesh side down) in a box or barrel, and there let it remain three days, then take it up, rub again to be sure the mixture has come in contact with every particle of the outside of each piece of meat. Then repack carefully and let remain two days in cure for each pound of meat contained in one individual piece; for example, a ten-pound ham will require twenty days to cure. Pack in tight container so that the liquid formed will aid in curing the heavier pieces, which should be placed at the bottom. This being finished, hang in the smokehouse for drying, without washing, keeping a little smoke under it after the meat has hung for twenty-four hours. Then I increase the smoke for about five or six days (or until the meat is a light brown color). After it is this color desired I continue the smoke (enough to keep flies away) for two or three days, then I take it down, wrap it in brown paper, place it in flour sacks and pack in a cool dry place for winter.

I have kept meat in this way the year round without its being strong.

The saltpeter keeps it from being hard; syrup or sugar also aids in softening it, and gives it a sweet flavor, and the black and red pepper impart a delicious flavor which is universally appreciated.

J. J. Ferguson, of the Union Stock Yard, Chicago, has put one of my hams to severest test by broiling it and having it served.

Many, La.

Edwards County Echoes

Edwards County Leader, November 21: Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Babb and baby left Tuesday morning for Kerrville, where Mrs. Babb will undergo treatment and maybe an operation at the hospital.

Jim Freeman was in Rocksprings community last week figuring with the stockmen for cattle. He bought 62 head of cows from P. D. Sweeten at $16 to $20 per head. This is the only sale the Leader heard of right around Rocksprings, but Mr. Freeman bought more cattle from some of the ranchmen in the north part of the county at about the same price Mr. Sweeten received.

L. A. Field, who farms and ranches down in Pulliam Valley rolled into Rocksprings Monday morning with a big truck load of watermelons, that were grown on his valley farm. It was so unusual this late in the season as to attract much attention here on the streets. Mr. Field said the melons were grown without irrigation, and the season has been very dry. The melons were delicious.

R. H. Earwood, Tom Barnes and several other ranch citizens over east of here have petitioned the Commissioners' Court to grant them a new road to extend from a point on the Rocksprings-Hackberry road in Hackberry Valley leading north to intersect the Rocksprings-Kerrville Highway, the new road to be three miles long. They ask for a third class road. We are told they have a good country for their road with the exception of a short distance where the road comes up on the divide from the valley. It will be a very important road, giving the people of the valleys a better way to get up to Rocksprings, and also a better way to get to Kerrville and San Antonio.

The Kerrville Road It has been some time since the Leader has had anything on the progress of the Rocksprings-Kerrville Highway in this county.

Asked how they are getting along on this 18 miles of highway from town east to the county line, Frank Ashburn, who was in town Tuesday, said they were coming on very well. They now have all the grading finished the entire distance except a few little spots where they must blast out the gutters. And he said they now had the top surfacing on for a distance of about seven miles, and the traffic is now using a part of the new road, and could soon use it all if it would come a rain to settle it, so they can roll it solid. As it is, they must keep traffic off of most of the finished part until it can be rolled.

The citizens of this section will be glad when they hear that Kerr County is getting actively ready to start its part of this important highway.

In America and England alone, upward of 10,000 new books are printed every year.

R. H. Earwood, Tom Barnes and several other ranch citizens over east of here have petitioned the Commissioners' Court to grant them a new road to extend from a point on the Rocksprings-Hackberry road in Hackberry Valley leading north to intersect the Rocksprings-Kerrville Highway, the new road to be three miles long. They ask for a third class road. We are told they have a good country for their road with the exception of a short distance where the road comes up on the divide from the valley. It will be a very important road, giving the people of the valleys a better way to get up to Rocksprings, and also a better way to get to Kerrville and San Antonio.

The Kerrville Road It has been some time since the Leader has had anything on the progress of the Rocksprings-Kerrville Highway in this county.

Asked how they are getting along on this 18 miles of highway from town east to the county line, Frank Ashburn, who was in town Tuesday, said they were coming on very well. They now have all the grading finished the entire distance except a few little spots where they must blast out the gutters. And he said they now had the top surfacing on for a distance of about seven miles, and the traffic is now using a part of the new road, and could soon use it all if it would come a rain to settle it, so they can roll it solid. As it is, they must keep traffic off of most of the finished part until it can be rolled.

The citizens of this section will be glad when they hear that Kerr County is getting actively ready to start its part of this important highway.

In America and England alone, upward of 10,000 new books are printed every year.

Jim Freeman was in Rocksprings community last week figuring with the stockmen for cattle. He bought 62 head of cows from P. D. Sweeten at $16 to $20 per head. This is the only sale the Leader heard of right around Rocksprings, but Mr. Freeman bought more cattle from some of the ranchmen in the north part of the county at about the same price Mr. Sweeten received.

L. A. Field, who farms and ranches down in Pulliam Valley rolled into Rocksprings Monday morning with a big truck load of watermelons, that were grown on his valley farm. It was so unusual this late in the season as to attract much attention here on the streets. Mr. Field said the melons were grown without irrigation, and the season has been very dry. The melons were delicious.

PASTEURIZED MILK DELIVERED TO YOUR HOME

Beginning December 1st, we will establish a City Delivery Service, making morning and evening deliveries to all parts of the city.

The only milk and cream delivered on this route will be pasteurized and bottled in sterilized bottles. Yet the price charged for this absolutely pure milk will be the same as others charge for unpasteurized milk: 12 1-2 cents a quart. Phone 285 or stop our driver and order a trial bottle delivered to your home and see the difference between plain milk and pasteurized.

When Milk Is Pasteurized It Safeguards Us Against Many Diseases

By DR. E. V. McCOLLUM

School of Hygiene and Public Health, Johns Hopkins University

Every homemaker is familiar with the word "pasteurized" on the milk bottles which are delivered daily at her door. At least this is the case if she lives in a city which is thoroughly progressive.

But how many persons know what the word means?

It was Louis Pasteur, a French bacteriologist, who discovered that the germs causing certain diseases such as typhoid fever, scarlet fever, tuberculosis, and epidemic sore throat, are killed by being heated to 145 degrees Fahrenheit for thirty minutes. Since health officials had traced epidemics of all these diseases, except tuberculosis, around milk routes where investigation showed that someone who was ill with the disease handled and contaminated the milk, it became known that these diseases, including tuberculosis, could be transmitted through infected milk. Tuberculosis does not occur in epidemic form, for its progress is slow and often unnoticed for a long time.

Health officials soon began to insist that city milk supplies should be given the treatment recommended by Pasteur. The results were so remarkable that now bacteriologists and physicians have entire confidence in the protection to health afforded by pasteurizing our milk.

Recently many persons have asked: How about the destruction of the vitamins in milk during pasteurization? They have heard that some, at least, some of the vitamins are destroyed by heating. Is it better to run the risk of having typhoid fever, and be certain that our milk contains vitamins in abundance, or the reverse? Fortunately we are able to make a definite answer to these questions.

Only one of the four known vitamins which are essential in the human diet, the vitamin C, is destroyed or partly destroyed by pasteurization. At the time pasteurization of milk was first recommended, and indeed until a few years ago, this was the function of the City and State Health Departments. Learn what is being done with the milk in your city, and give your support to the health officials who are trying to protect you and your children from the dangers of a bad milk supply. This is necessary because it is an easy thing for the farmer and for the city deliverer to employ careless methods. Care and cleanliness cost a little effort and a little extra money, but both are good investments from the standpoint of health.

By all means use pasteurized milk, unless you have plenty of money and can afford to buy certified milk. The latter is raw milk which has been produced under nearly ideal conditions of cleanliness, from healthy cows, by healthy workmen, and with great attention paid to cooling and promptness of delivery, but it is now too expensive to appeal to the majority of consumers.

acid-forming organisms are killed and no acid develops, these bacteria, which produce unwholesome changes in the milk, of a type called putrefaction, have an excellent opportunity to flower out in great numbers. These bacteria are certain to make pasteurized milk unwholesome unless it is delivered in a fresh and well-cooled condition, and is kept cold until used.

Experience shows that one cannot depend on farmers to produce their milk under cleanly conditions unless some pressure is put upon them to be careful. Nor can one rely upon the distributors of milk to handle their product in a satisfactory manner unless they are under some supervision from authorities. It is of great importance that our most valuable protective food shall be produced under sanitary conditions, from healthy cows, and cooled immediately to the lowest temperature available on the farm. It should be transported to the city as quickly as possible, keeping it cold the while; pasteurized promptly, cooled, bottled in clean bottles and delivered at the earliest moment that is satisfactory for both distributor and consumer.

Great emphasis is placed on the importance of cleanliness of vessels and effective and prompt refrigeration. The preservative action of cold is very great. Stale pasteurized milk may be unsatisfactory to the taste of the consumer, but even when taste will not detect unwholesomeness, milk may be unfit for consumption because, owing to improper methods of handling, it has developed a profuse growth of putrefying bacteria.

It is a matter well worth the efforts of all public-spirited persons, to see to it that they have a good milk supply, not only for their own homes but for the community. Insist upon pasteurization and an efficient system of farm inspection. There should be supervision of the pasteurization plants, constant testing of market milk for its bacterial content and for its content in those kinds of bacteria which are liable to be harmful. This is the function of the City and State Health Departments. Stubblefield. All seemed to enjoy the supper and hoped to be invited back again soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Stubblefield of Legion, Ruski Stubblefield of San Antonio, and Bruce Broussard of Kerrville were Tuesday evening callers at the Henry Barton Ranch.

Mrs. Felix Real was shopping in Kerrville last Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Fred Real of Kerrville visited her mother and sister, Mrs. Walter Real, the past week end.

Mrs. Louie Real killed a fine 8-point buck at their ranch on the head of Turtle Creek. So women can do other things besides being Governor. Congratulations on her good luck.

Mr. Stubblefield, Bruce Broussard and Clemis McDonald of Legion were driving in our neighborhood Sunday afternoon, sightseeing and bringing Miss Dorothy Stubblefield back to her school.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Durham gave a dance at A. K. McDowell's ranch last Saturday night in honor of Miss Lillie Ramsay of Junction. The young people reported a royal time, as well as the old folks, who joined in making things merry.

There is to be a Radiola Concert given free at the Turtle Creek School House Friday night, November 28th, by R. G. Holekamp and Walter Stahmann of Comford. Holekamp, agent for the Westinghouse Light & Power Co., will furnish lights for the occasion, and the ladies of the community will serve sandwiches, cake, pie, hot chocolate and coffee at reasonable prices. The proceeds from this occasion will go to benefit the public school. All are cordially invited.

W. H. Darrow, District Demonstration Agent for College Station, was in the city the latter part of last week in the interests of the Extension Service.

The Camp Verde Boys Poultry Club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Rees for an hour's study of Buff Leghorns and Poultry Husbandry in general. Each boy pledged himself to devote his time and energy to the study of standard bred poultry and better methods of poultry husbandry, in the future. There were nine boys present and they intend to start a small flock of Standard bred poultry for themselves this coming year.

Junction Eagle, November 21st: Nancy Fred, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duderstadt, happened to an accident last Friday night that came near being fatal. A loaded rifle or pistol cartridge had supposedly been swept into the fire and exploded by the heat. The bullet struck the child on the right side of the head, some two inches above the ear and slightly fractured the skull. She was carried to the Kerrville Sanitarium immediately, and the prompt medical aid and the fact that she is small, the wound is healing rapidly and she will be well again in a few days.

The Reservation Boys and Girls Clubs met Friday afternoon in joint session and organized the Reservation Community Agricultural Club. Ten boys and seven girls were present and the following officers were elected, and committees appointed: Monroe Kensing, president; Elnor Duderstadt, vice president; Victor Marshall, secretary; J. A. Peril, adult club leader; Ella Goff, Lois Duderstadt and Louis Klein, program committee; Della Goff, Weldon Walker and Norma Iz, membership committee. The club starts out with a membership of 20 boys and girls and they are in good shape to do some real interesting club work for this year.

Some may long for the soothing touch Of lavender, cream and mauve, But the ties I wear must possess the glare Of a red-hot kitchen stove. The books I read and the life I lead Are sensible, sane and mild, I like calm hats and I don't wear spats, But I want my neckties wild! Give me a wild tie, brother, One with a cosmic urge! A tie that will swear And a rip and tear When it sees my old blue serge

Some will say that a gent's cravat Should only be seen, not heard, But I want a tie, that will make men cry And render their vision blurred. I yearn, I long, for a tie so strong It will take two men to tie it, If such there be, just show it to me— Whatever the price I will buy it!

Give me a wild tie, brother, One with a lot of sins, A tie that will blaze, In a hectic gaze, Down where the vest begins.

INGRAM ITEMS

Bert Cheesman left Monday for a visit with his wife in San Antonio. Frank Massey is building a little nest all by himself. Yes, we are all wondering. Mrs. Hereford of Del Rio is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McNealy. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Trotter of above Hunt were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Page.

Mrs. Roy Kemp of Mountain Home and Mrs. Jim Crow of Hunt visited Mrs. J. W. Wachter Monday. Mrs. J. W. Olliff and children of Kerrville were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Wachter. Fayette Nichols is quite ill again. His daughter, Miss Elizabeth, was called home Tuesday morning. R. H. and Tom Colbath and Ed Childs of South Fork Ranch were business visitors here Monday.

Mrs. Chas. Archer, who has been confined to her bed on account of her back, is able to be up again. Uncle Jack McNeal is quite ill again and little hope is held for this venerable old gentleman's recovery. Mrs. Chas. Leinweber and babies of Waxahachie are the guests of the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Fowler.

Mrs. J. W. Sparks and Will Clements of Bigfoot attended the funeral of the former's daughter, Mrs. Pink Lee, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duderstadt and son, Roger McCoy, motored to Kerrville Tuesday, stopping at Dr. Fowler's on their return. Mrs. Ben Stone and children of the Divide were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lee from Sunday until Tuesday. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Pink Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hays Wharton and daughters, Misses Edyth and Willa, of the Divide, were Saturday night guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. McNealy. Rev. Jackson of Corpus Christi visited his children, Mrs. Rodgers and Miss Dannie Jackson, from Sunday until Tuesday. Rev. Jackson was pastor of the Baptist Church here for several years, and we were indeed glad to shake his hand once more.

Mr. Cowden, the Schreiner deliveryman of Kerrville, motored to Barksdale and got married Monday, and on the return trip drowned his car in the waters of the North Fork. By wading the river and walking a couple of miles they came to John Allen's ranch in the night, cold and hungry, and passed the night there, resuming the journey to Kerrville Tuesday morning. We wish the young couple a long and happy life. Early Sunday Mrs. Pink Lee passed to the Great Beyond. She was only 17 years and 8 months of age, and besides her young husband, leaves a little girl baby to mourn her loss. It is sad to have deaths of loved ones, but it is sad indeed, to give up one so young, when life seems so sweet. The entire community extends heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones in this, their saddest hour.

Mrs. John Williams was shopping in Kerrville last Friday. K. Spencer was buying supplies in the County Seat last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams and son, Bruce, were shopping in Kerrville last Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. James Spicer Jr. and little sons were trading in the metropolis Saturday. Mrs. Frank Acree and Mrs. Arthur Fuller were Saturday afternoon shoppers in Kerrville. Mr. and Mrs. P. B. James spent last week visiting their daughter, Mrs. Joe Carsen, of Junction. Mr. and Mrs. William Flemings and baby were dinner guests last Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Urbane Edwards at Kerrville.

Mrs. Oscar Strohacker and daughter, Nellie, and little son, Louie, were pleasant callers at Sunny Slant Ranch Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Will Ridgeway of Lynn Prong Ranch returned last Sunday from a week's visit to her sister, Mrs. Bob Bennett, in San Antonio. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Barton had as their guests for Sunday night at a turkey supper Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Lamb and son, George Arthur; Uncle George Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Flemings and baby, and Miss Dorothy
