DEXTER NEWS :

TWO BOYS HELD AT ROSWELL FOR THEFTS HERE MARCH THE 9th

Boliver Chapman and D. E. and L. R. Avar, who were taken to Roswell by Sheriff Thorne last week for questioning concerning burglaries pulled off here March 9, were arraigned the first of this week on a charge of vagrancy and their trial will be held the latter part of this week. While denying any knowledge of the burglaries, the boys admitted that they had been in Hagerman since last fall without working regularly and had spent most of their time loitering about the streets, and Sheriff Thorne decided to try them for vagrancy.

HAGERMAN AND LOWER VALLEY HAVE A NEW DAILY MAIL SCHEDULE

Hagerman now has four mails daily: The Sunset Stage line having started delivery of first-class mail to the local postoffice Sunday, March 17.

The early morning southbound stage, arriving here at 7:45 a. m., and the 7:45 p. m. stage now carry first-class mail, and with the two mails that come in on the train this gives us four mails per day. So far the mail brought by stage is very light, but as time goes on and people become more accustomed to these two extra mails the volume will increase.

SIXTEEN LEGISLATIVE MEASURES RECEIVE A POCKET VETO RECENTLY

SANTA FE.—Sixteen legislative bills received a pocket veto thru failure of Governor Dillon to place signatures upon them by twelve o'clock noon Saturday.

Governor Dillon was out of town Saturday taking a much needed vacation.

Chief among those vetoed was House Bill No. 39, which takes the appointment of rural school teachers out of the hands of the county school board and gives it to the district boards.

It was this bill which aroused such a violent protest from the teachers of Bernalillo county that they sent a delegation to Santa Fe to protest against the passage of this bill by the senate. Their contention was that if this act should become a law it would throw the schools directly into the hands of politicians.

The Junior class play, "The Charm School" given Friday night in the school auditorium went off with a bang. The play proved to be a huge success. A full house was in attendance from Roswell, Hagerman Dexter and Artesia. Due credit should be given to James A. McNeil who sponsored this play, for without his untiring and patient services a production of this sort could never have been given. The sum of $101 was taken in, a larger house than Dexter has ever known for an amateur play. About $60 will be cleared, this to be used to bear expenses of the Junior-Senior banquet given in May.

The Glee club course for this year is just now beginning it's real work. The state music contest is held in Silver City, the 1st and 2nd of May. The preliminaries are to be held in Carlsbad during the week of 8th to 15th of April. Dexter Glee clubs under the excellent supervision of Miss Alma Thompson, music instructor, will enter a number of things among which will be girls' chorus, mixed chorus, mixed quartet, girls' quartet, girls' trio and violin. Mrs. P. N. Albright has given her services as accompanist. Whether or not the Glee clubs will gain anything in this contest they don't know, but it will be a great experience and practice for them.

BOY HAS ACCIDENT

Willis Graham, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Graham fell from an old hay rake on which he was playing last Thursday afternoon and cut a gash some four inches long on his right leg about half way between the knee and foot.

It seems that he and some other boys were climbing over some old machinery back of J. L. King's blacksmith shop when Willis lost his balance and fell in such a manner as to stick one of the rake teeth in his leg, laying the wound open for about four inches on the front of his leg to the bone.

He was rushed to Dr. Brown's office where the cut was sewed up and the doctor stated that he would be all right within a few days.

NEAL OIL TEST WEST OF HAGERMAN MAY BE SHOT AT 1,370 FEET

The Neal well, west of Hagerman, is fishing for a bailer at a depth of 1,400 feet, and when this is recovered they may shoot the well to see if it cannot be brought in as a producer.

The driller states that they have encountered an oil sand at a depth of about 1,370 feet, and when the manager comes from California that if he thinks there is likely indications of a paying well being brought in that the well will be shot.

WORK IS PROGRESSING NICELY ON THE FISH HATCHERY 7 MILE LAKE

Work is progressing nicely on the construction of the warm water fish hatchery at Seven Mile lake, 5 miles north of Dexter, according to W. A. Losey, local member of the State Game Commission.

Some delay was occasioned last week by the tardy arrival of casing that had been ordered for use in draining the lake, and the crew of workmen was reduced for a few days until this casing arrived, but all hands and the cook are now at work in getting the hatchery in shape to begin raising game fish.

J. S. CRABB CARLSBAD NIGHT WATCHMAN IS FATALLY SHOT SUNDAY

Officers Over Pecos Valley Search for the Unknown Assailant, But Without Results—Dies in Eddy County Hospital.

J. L. Crabb, 37, night watchman for the New Mexico Construction company in Carlsbad was shot down and probably fatally wounded early Sunday morning by an unknown assailant who overpowered him while he was attending to the safety lights on his beat.

Crabb was found about 2 a. m. Sunday morning lying unconscious in the street by a party who took him immediately to the Eddy county hospital, where an operation was performed in an attempt to save his life.

The motive for the attack on Crabb was still a mystery. He is known to everyone as a respectful citizen and had no enemies that would lead to such an attack. Several times when Crabb regained consciousness during the day Sunday he said that he was overpowered by a huge negro who took his gun away from him and then shot him down. Another time he claimed it was a Mexican and a negro, but both of these stories are not regarded as authoritative by officials as the injured man was delirious all the time he was talking.

Jesse Crabb, night watchman for the New Mexico Construction Co., at Carlsbad died in the Eddy county hospital at 12:47 Tuesday morning, as a result of a gun shot wound received from an unknown assailant, according to word reaching here yesterday morning. Officers over the valley have conducted a wide search for Crabb's slayer, but no arrests have yet been made.

FREE TO THE LADIES

Herbst & Workman want to know whether anybody reads The Messenger or not and to find out they are giving all the ladies that call at their station on or before Monday, March 25th, a little "doggger" for the kitchen that will save the housewife lots of grief.

We don't know exactly what this "thingamagig" is, but we are sure that the ladies will be curious enough to call and find out, even the ladies that do not do their own cooking should drop in and get one for the cook as it will save her much time that could be spent talking to the ice man if she has nothing else to do.

See their ad elsewhere in this issue.

THURSDAY MARCH 21, 1929
GUTTENBURG AND THE RADIO

Gutenberg did not invent the radio, the telephone, auto nor any of our modern labor-saving machinery—but he is responsible for them.

Had he never invented the art of printing from movable type the chances are against our having the modern conveniences we feel that we cannot now live without. Men would still be living in tents, huts and caves as they had done for thousands of years before but for this invention.

Civilizations had been developed and then people had been thrown back into savagery many times before the art of printing was discovered. The Egyptian civilization was greater in some respects than ours, but without printing presses no records could be kept, and the information could not be spread over the face of the earth as it is to-day—and the people were overcome by savage tribes who cared naught for the learning and culture of the Egyptians—and their civilization crumbled.

But with the advent of the printing press learning and culture spread until most of the people of the earth are civilized. Destroy the art of printing and within two centuries the earth would be peopled by savages and warring among themselves.

If Gutenberg were to come back now and see some of the auto speeders racing over the highways it is possible that he would regret his action in starting the whole thing by his invention—but he is responsible for the whole of the inventions we have to-day, and that is that.

DIVERSIFICATION

A friend in Texas writes as follows: "Our farmers would have made money last year had they planted feedstuff instead of cotton, as feed is high and cotton cheap."

These farmers were trying to "carry all their eggs to market in one basket," and lost an opportunity to make money. Next year they may plant too much feedstuff and neglect the cotton with the same results.

Our farmers diversify more than farmers in other sections, but they do not raise enough different crops to assure them an income every year. More Indian corn, sorghums and other feedstuffs should be raised; but the main thing they are overlooking is vegetables, which could be produced here in commercial quantities and shipped to the Panhandle of Texas where they could be sold at a good price.

Each farmer should raise at least enough hogs to make his meat and quit buying packing house bacon at 30c to 50c per pound. The hogs can be raised at small cost and the farmer will have the money he usually spends for meat and lard to use for some other purpose.

A LESSON IN APPLIED BUSINESS METHODS

A special communication to the Christian Science Monitor says:

"Improved methods have enabled Baltimore, Maryland to increase its collections from 79.92 per cent of its assessed taxes in 1923 to 95.79 per cent in 1928, following the organization of the Bureau of Receipts by the efficiency and economy commission.

"Working in conjunction with the bureau's modernized auditing and billing department, tax collections have steadily increased through the employment of a discount allowed for prompt payment of taxes and by a gradually increased rate of interest with penalties for those who fail to pay after a reasonable length of time. The system, by making it greatly to taxpayers' advantage to pay their tax bills within the year, is in this way also helping to keep the tax rate low.

"When the commission set out to recognize the municipal government on a business basis, they found records of uncollected taxes to the amount of $11,000,000.

"As soon as the Bureau of Receipts was organized and began operating, most of this money began pouring into the treasury, and a noticeable reduction in the tax rate resulted."

It should be stated that this remarkable improvement in Baltimore's governmental affairs was the result of choosing as members of the efficiency and economy commission, a leading executive from each of nearly a score of the city's largest industrial, business and transportation corporations. These gentlemen were given a free hand to reorganize the city's methods of doing business and place them on a basis comparable to a well managed private corporation.

The results have been astounding and strikingly illustrate the difference between the usual political methods employed in the management of public affairs and the methods of successful private industries when applied to the same public problems.

The Town Doctor Says

SELLING A TOWN IS LIKE
SELLING ANYTHING ELSE

If you are a thinking resident of the place where you live, you desire that the world get sold on your community.

Before you can get sold on it yourself, and before you can sell it to others to anywhere near maximum degree, there is a certain amount of study and analysis necessary. That is, it is necessary if known ethics of good business are adhered to. Sad but true, however, this is altogether too seldom done in things civic.

The first question is, "Is there a market—a demand for it?"

The demand for good, live, wide-awake communities greatly exceeds the supply. Everyday people are asking, "Where is there a good town in which to locate?" for any one of a thousand reasons. Twenty per cent of your motor traffic is in the market for, or can be sold a new location. Men at the heads of large industrial concerns, people in all walks of life, in fact, everyone is looking for good towns—good communities.

Few people realize the extent to which industry and business go to find good towns. There are in Chicago alone dozens of corporations, concerns and firms who have special departments to do nothing else but find out if a town is suitable for the purpose they have in mind. With some it is for location of a branch factory, employing hundreds; others for a distributing point, requiring twelve to fifty; others for place of residence for the representative and family who handles the company business in that area, and there are others who look into the future, just want to know.

And this is your opportunity if your community is in position to take advantage of it.

The second question: "Is your community marketable—suitable for sale, as is?"

To make it marketable, the bugs must be eliminated—the monkey wrenches fished out of the machinery, so that when sold, it will stay sold.

What business man is there that doesn't know what happens to any concern that places a product or service in the hands of the American public that, when sold, doesn't stay sold? Every thinking man knows that it spells disaster; but in the face of that very knowledge, they expect their town to "go over" with the same American public, without eliminating those things that are known to provoke dissatisfaction, create loss of interest, and unseat the customer.

The first bug in the machinery of most communities is that of "contemptuous familiarity." You walk down the street and look at hundreds of things that repel other people, but do not see them. You go to your store or office and there are things that others abhor, but you fail to recognize them because you are so familiar with them. At the same time, above you, below you, and on every side of you, there are "acres of diamonds that have never been mined." It is a matter of being "so close to the picture that you can't see the frame."

Look around you—put yourself in the position of a stranger and look for the things that would unseat you. See your community as others see it—think about it—talk to your neighbor about it and then do something to eliminate those things that repel, and "get behind and push" those things that invite.

OUR ATTITUDE

The attitude the residents of any section assume toward their community is often times the major factor in the prosperity or poverty of the community. The Black Hills of the Dakotas are a notable example for an illustration. In 1927 President Coolidge established the summer White House in this region. Up to this time the possibilities of the Black Hills as a summer resort were little known. During President Coolidge's stay more than two million words of publicity was sent out of this area by the various press agencies. Never before has any section received so much publicity and the kind that could not be bought at that.

The Black Hills possessing many undeveloped resources have undergone an unusual development since President Coolidge's visit. The development is not due so much to tourist trade as it is to the fact that the attention of industrial leaders have been called to the possibilities of the section. The major factor in the awakening of the Black Hills is said to be due to the fact that the residents have fallen in love with their own section and how applicable is this to other sections. The Pecos valley has occupied the white space on the business map of the nation for more than two years and the good business that the area has enjoyed is due largely to the changed attitude on the part of the residents. As a rule citizens of all Pecos valley towns have an increased respect for the communities in which they live.

THE LAST LAUGH

Something less than a hundred years ago the city fathers of a small town in a New England state were debating over the advisability of changing from whale oil to the newly discovered kerosene for street lamps.

The town was stirred by the controversy until finally a citizen, doubtless of the reactionary school, contributed this bit of verse:

"It would not us great surprise,
If some presumptuous ass,
Should snatch the lightning from the skies;
Or light our streets with gas."
The author has been forgotten. But he unknowingly proved himself a true prophet. What was conceived in ire and sent on its way as a bid of withering satire became an actuality, probably within the author's lifetime.

Those who are skeptical of our modern industrial age and its future may find themselves in the same position as this village wit. Progress waits for no man and has a talent for turning jokes back upon their creators.—Industrial News.

We understand that the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers Association in session at Roswell last week, raised a nice little publicity fund to promote the idea of eat more beef among the general population. There is nothing especially significant about the idea except that it represents a changing attitude of the livestock industry. The same organization in session fifteen or twenty years ago would have probably given you the horse laugh, had you suggested that they set aside a publicity budget.

Trees help to build soil. When the woods burn, valuable fertilizer is destroyed. Often this is worth as much as $15 to $25 an acre.

Many persons think the range plants "mule ears," cheese weed, and snowberry, or buckbrush, are poisonous to livestock, but thorough tests by the U. S. Department of Agriculture show that it is perfectly safe to allow stock to graze on these plants.

Successful raising of rabbits depends much on keeping the animals free from parasites and diseases. Farmer's bulletin 1568-F, "Rabbit Parasites and Diseases," gives information along this line. It can be secured from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Good lambs can not be raised from ewes that are not milking freely and it is economy to feed ewes heavily after lambing. They should be fed lightly the first day or so and put on full feed by the third or fourth day. Heavy-milking ewes can make good use of from 1 to 2 pounds of grain a day.

The poultry flock needs a yard of its own and should not be allowed to roam over the premises with cattle and hogs. Fresh, sweet land is invaluable for poultry, and the yard should be large enough so that the soil can be cultivated and sown to a green crop. A good grass sward can be maintained on fertile soil by having from 220 to 260 square feet of land per bird. More space is necessary on poor grassland.

A few pointers on getting the work horse or mule into good condition for heavy work may come in handy. Groom the animal daily. See that its feet are either properly trimmed or shod. Give each animal its own collar, see that it fits, and clean it daily. Adjust the harness so that the animal can work comfortably and efficiently. Wash the shoulders after each day's work with lukewarm water and sandle soap, followed by a cold salt-water rinse. In the field raise the collar frequently and clean dirt loose hair and sweat from shoulders and collar. Of possible, take off the harness at noontime.

Fly time will soon be here again, and an ounce of prevention of fly breeding is worth a pound of fly swatters, sticky fly paper, or traps later on. Manure is a favorite breeding place for flies. Inclosing or screening the manure pit or bin is a great help in controlling the pest. Tent traps of conical shape, placed over holes large enough to attract flies to light, may be attached to the top of the pit or bin. Watertight floors are desirable in a stable. Dirt or wooden floors enable many fly larvae to migrate from the manure to the soil and develop there. Troughs and bangers should be kept clean, as surprisingly large numbers of flies will breed in small quantities of material in the corners of such places.

In mixing tinted paint for a house, careful estimates of quantity are necessary in order to insure having enough. Farmer's bulletin 1452-F tells how to estimate quantities needed and how to mix the paint. If ready-mixed paint is to be used, it is not necessary to make such careful estimates because more of the same kind can be bought if you run short. For the outside of a frame house of moderate size in good condition and which is to be repainted with two coats, it is fairly safe to get as many gallons ready-mixed as there are rooms in the house. For a three-coat job get about one and one-half gallons per room.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

There will be no services in this church next Sunday morning and evening, the pastor is preaching at Lake Arthur on that day. Sunday school and Endeavor at the usual hours. The annual congregational meeting was held last Sunday morning after a short sermon. Reports were given by the treasurer, Mr. Woodmas, by the secretary of the missionary and aid society Mr. H. J. Cumpsten, by the director of young peoples' work, Mrs. Devenport and by the superintendent of the Sunday school, Mr. Woodmas, all of which showed good work and good improvement for the year. The treasurer was re-elected with an assistant treasurer, Mrs. Cumpsten. The matter of full time service was seriously considered and a committee appointed to raise the funds for such a service if possible. Full time service would not be begun until June 1st after which date the pastor would give every Sunday to the local church with Dexter having a full time service also and Lake Arthur to be supplied. The pastoral services of Rev. J. A. Hedges was continued indefinitely.

The men of this church with others presented Rev. J. A. Hedges with a handsome set of "golf clubs" last week. The Reverend appreciated the gift immensely and went the round of the "holes" for the first time this week. He will probably become somewhat "batty" on the subject of golf, but then, who doesn't?

METHODIST SUNDAY SCHOOL NOTES

The balloon race among the classes ended last Sunday with the second Intermediate girls' class going over the top. The Intermediate boys, who made the best total advance in the contests, were not far behind. If it is a still day next Sunday, a real balloon will be sent up in honor of the winning class.

Next Sunday is decision day. Let the teachers and parents cooperate in an effort to make it a great day in our school.

Our teachers are doing a wonderful work. No, they are not perfect, but are seeking improvement all the time. Do you parents who have children in our schools appreciate their teachers? "If you think some praise is due him, now's the time to slip it to him, for he cannot read his tombstone when he's dead." Phillips Brooks said: "He who helps a child helps humanity with an immediateness not possible at any other stage of life." Come with your children, we have a class for every age.

EL PASO, LAS CRUCES NAIL PICKERS HAVE GOV. DILLON ISSUES TO COMMEMORATE THE AMASSED 87,135 LBS. CALL FOR SESSION OF GADSDEN PURCHASE SINCE STARTING WORK LEGISLATURE APRIL 2

EL PASO, Texas, March 19th—Congressman Claude B. Hudspeth will introduce a bill in congress within a short time to secure coining of a special 50-cent piece commemorating the 75th anniversary of the Gadsden purchase, he told H. L. Birney, president of the El Paso Chamber of Commerce, D. A. Bandeen, general manager, and L. W. Hoffecker, following a conference here relative to the celebration of the purchase of Old Mesilla.

Hudspeth assured them that he would do everything possible to help get President Herbert Hoover to attend the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, and felt that if it could be postponed that he would attend. Hudspeth also said he would handle things at the Washington end.

The plan is to secure a special coin, such as that used in the Stone Mountain Memorial campaign, to be sold as a souvenir of the occasion. A bronze tablet and memorial is to be placed by the El Paso Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce in the southeast corner of the plaza in Old Mesilla, for it was at this point that the American flag was raised on July 5, 1854, following the purchase of the more than 47,000 square miles of territory. This purchase gave the United States a strategic strip of territory and opened a more accessible route for railroads to the west coast. Mexico was paid $10,000,000 for the land acquired under the purchase.

It is planned to hold the celebration at the same time as the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. Plans for the program are being made and as soon as the dates are definitely announced, will be completed.

SANTA FE.—Picking up several flivvers in pieces and everything from bottle tops to jack knives, the State Highway Electro-Magnetic nail-pickers have amassed 81,135 pounds of material since being put into operation, it was stated recently in a highway bulletin.

The largest amount was collected in the southeastern quarter of the state where the first nailpickers were tried out and have been on the roads longest. This figure was nearly half of the whole, being 31,000 pounds or over 15 tons of material. When it is considered a tack, weighing less than an ounce, can cause ruin in a tire, the vast numbers of punctures in 80,000 pounds of metal fragments appall the mind.

The largest piece of metal picked up by the machines was a 12 pound casting in Colfax county, which was carried for six miles without once dropping from the swinging magnets. In another part of Colfax county a nailpicker was run over 26 miles of snow covered road and yet picked up 24 pounds of metal or nearly a pound to the mile sucked up through the snow.

The latest additions to the list of articles picked up enumerates besides the forty odd varieties previously listed, bucket handles, railroad seals, men's garters and leather belts by buckles. One of the district engineers in reporting to the Santa Fe office states that the machine was to be tested to see whether or not it would pick up money but it was impossible to find any money on the crew to use in the test.

The bulletin denies that the Highway Department is going into the automobile assembly business as some wag has charged but states that it may be necessary to melt up the 80,000 pounds of metal to make new road signs if vandals continue to destroy those now in place.

SANTA FE—Governor Dillon issued a call for a special session of the legislature shortly after 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The session is called to convene at noon on April 2.

The legislature, which adjourned last Saturday after a sixty day session, is called to pass a new appropriation bill to provide revenues to meet appropriations to pass a new highway debenture bill, to revise or repeal H. B. 233, regarding bond issues by municipalities, to pay expenses of the special session.

The governor's proclamation calling the special session includes the statement that the ninth legislature has passed measures carrying appropriations in excess of the revenues provided to meet them, unless additional revenues are raised by increasing the tax burden.

The governor declares he will not sanction such "revenues increasing the tax burden."

MAKING OFFICES FOR NEW JUSTICE

SANTA FE.—Carpenters are busy at the state house remodeling rooms to make a place for two new judges of the state supreme court, Justices John Simms and Charles Catron.

The offices formerly occupied by the gasoline tax collections department, were being fixed up for one of the judges and the rooms formerly occupied by the supreme court reporter, were being changed for the other.

SHORT CHECK BILL SIGNED

The short check act, senate bill 126, which has been the bone of a great deal of contention during the past legislature was signed by Governor Dillon last week. This bill according to the proponents and members of the retail credit associations of the state will go a long way toward correcting the present abuse of writing "hot" and "cold" checks. The new law provides severe penalties for the penman who tries to substitute his worthless paper on the merchant in exchange for merchandise.

In addition to the short check bill, the governor also signed senate bill 28 which provides for additional grounds for attachment and enables the garage man and grocer to levy upon the property of a debtor without being required to prove that he leaving the state with intent to fraud his creditors.

Another bill advocated by the merchants was the assignment of the act, being senate bill 129, which has also been signed by the governor. This latter bill while not complete as that in other states, is a starter which will enable the retailers of the state as well as bankers to get some security and protection for credit and money extended. The bill providing for the classification of personal property exempt from execution was killed in the house and did not reach the governor's desk. This bill was greatly desired by the merchants of the state but fell by the wayside in the house after being passed in the senate.

LOWER SERVICE CONNECTION CHARGES ARE ANNOUNCED

MORE SERVICE AT LOWER COST

An extension telephone for your bedroom, kitchen, library—for any room in the house—can now be had for less than half the service connection charge that had been effective until March 1. This substantial reduction in charges for the connection of new equipment or changes in existing service is an obvious benefit to subscribers throughout the entire Mountain States territory served by this Company.

Reductions have also been made in charges for the connection of business telephone extensions and for moving telephones from one part of the house or office to another. In addition, the charge for changing the type of your telephone (hand, desk or wall set) has been reduced more than one-half.

The reductions are entirely in line with this Company's policy and the aim of the Bell System—"to provide the most telephone service and the best at the least cost to the public."

INVESTING $2,785 A DAY

For every working day of 1929 almost $2,785 will be invested in a Greater Telephone System for a Greater New Mexico.

Put into land and buildings, switchboard and cables, poles and wire, the 1929 budget, largest in the history of The Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company, will mean a continually improving telephone service for this territory.

THE AUTO FATALITIES DROP 20 PER CENT MONTH OF JANUARY

SANTA FE.—Auto fatalities dropped twenty per cent nationally for the month of January, states a bulletin received recently from the National Safety Council by the highway department.

There were 2,160 fatalities in January compared with 2,700 in December. This is borne out by New Mexico's figures which show 6 deaths in December and only 3 in January. This may be a good omen for 1929.

Pedestrian tragedies were by far the most important item in the January toll, accounting for 1,425 of the total of 2,160 deaths. There were 151 deaths caused through collisions of autos with fixed objects and 86 fatalities resulting from auto and street car collisions.

Nine cities of more than 100,000 completed the month without any auto fatalities. These cities were: Bridgeport, Connecticut; El Paso, Texas; Fall River, Massachusetts; Hartford, Connecticut; Lowell, Massachusetts; New Bedford, Massachusetts; Somerville, Massachusetts; Spokane Washington; Waterbury, Connecticut.

While New England is at the head of the list by a large margin, it is gratifying to note that the southwest is one of the other sections mentioned. This leaves the west coast, the middle west the south and middle Atlantic seaboard off the list. El Paso has reason to hang out a few flags.

MEETING EMERGENCY OF UNEXPECTED GUESTS

Many a housewife is faced with unexpected guests and, with just enough meat for the family, her ingenuity is taxed to meet such a contingency.

Here are a few suggestions offered by the National Live Stock and Meat Board, of what to do to make a company meal from a family meal.

Perhaps the remnants of yesterday's lamb roast are destined for a stew. A meat pie will not require any different ingredients and a meat pie with tender, flaky, golden crust is quite grand enough for the company meal.

Slices of broiled bacon will extend the steak to meet unexpected needs. Instead of cold sliced ham combine it with scalloped potatoes or noodles and bake in the oven.

Tartar sauce will dress up the baked hash.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS EARN $48,780.81 IN THE SCHOOL YEAR

Employed students at the University of New Mexico earned $48,780.81 during the nine month school year, according to statistics compiled by the United Religious Work Council of the University which handles all matters of student employment.

Gerald P. Webb, the director of the council, believes that this amount will be considerably increased as other students report on their earnings, and as additional employment is secured for students who must have it or leave the University.

An analysis of this report shows that the average monthly salary earned by the 114 students who are listed as working is $5,420.09. The average individual monthly earnings is $47.54. The highest salary is $210.00 a month, reported by a student who carries eight hours of class work. The average per hour for girls is 43c while the men average 1c more per hour. The girls work an average of 17 hours a week, while the men average 22 hours per week.

The type of work done varies from highly skilled occupations to unskilled labor. The girls do housework, stenographic work, grade papers, clerk, tutor, and care for children. The men work at common labor, wait tables, wash dishes, clerk, do office work, sell almost anything, handle express and mail, serve as telegraph operators, and skilled shop men. One boy drives an ambulance while another reported money earned by giving blood transfusions.

It is pointed out by the United Religious Work Council that part-time employment doesn't seem to materially affect the grades of the students. A careful study of employed students the first semester shows that the girls carried satisfactorily 14 hours of class work. The boys carried 15½ hours of class work, and averaged slightly higher than the employed girls in grades.

Mr. Webb concludes that the average girl at the University who is working part time carries 14 hours of class work, works 17 hours a week at other than her studies, and earns $6.80 each week. The average male Lobo who is employed part time spends 22 hours a week on such work carries 15½ weekly hours of class work and earns $9.66 each week.

GOOD POULTRY HOUSES KEEP CHICKS HEALTHY

The most successful method of combating poultry disease, says E. E. Anderson of the New Mexico Agricultural College, is to provide a good poultry house with ample space for the flock, and keep it sanitary. It is estimated that 95 per cent of poultry diseases are due to lack of comfortable houses which may be kept clean, sunny and airy, with protection from the weather but freedom from drafts.

The poultry house should face the south or a direction to get the most sunlight and protection from the cold prevailing winds. Three sides of the house and the roof should be absolutely tight so as to prevent drafts. The side to the sun should be largely open to get the fresh air and as much sunshine as possible, with curtains or cloth sashes to close down at nights in case of severely cold weather or storms.

The poultry house should be at least 20 feet wide from the front opening to the back of the house to prevent air currents which cause the chickens to chill and take cold. When the house is more than 20 feet long, cross partitions should be put in to break the air currents. Roosts should be placed lengthwise of the house near the back wall. If a dropping board is used, the roosts should be placed no more than 18 inches from the floor. The dropping board arrangement is much the best as the space under the board is used for exercise and the board itself can easily be kept in a sanitary condition.

TOASTED SANDWICH FOR THE SUNDAY SUPPER

The toasted sandwich is a great favorite for Sunday night supper and it needs only a beverage to provide a complete and satisfying meal. Hot chocolate with whipped cream is especially good with the toasted sandwich as it serves as a sweet and a beverage.

Toasted Ham Sandwich
Chop ½ cup mustard pickle with 1½ cups finely chopped ham and mix well. Spread 6 slices of bread with butter and 6 slices with the ham mixture. Lay the buttered slices over the others. Add ½ cup of milk to one beaten egg; season with a little pepper. Dip each sandwich lightly into the egg mixture and place on a buttered pan. Toast on each side until golden brown.

KEEPING CLEAN BY LAW

How far the long arm of the law reaches into the details of our everyday life, not to hamper but to protect, is nowhere disclosed more clearly than in a recent summary of the legislation of the forty-eight states on the subject of cleanliness.

Here are laws or regulations that involve bathing, before use of a public swimming pool; food and drink, as prepared and served in public eating places; the shave and haircut, administered by the barber. Altogether ninety-six state laws and 137 state regulations were discovered providing certain minimum standards of cleanliness for barber shops, bathing pools, food control, hotels and restaurants, industrial plants, penal institutions, public utilities such as railroads, and public schools. In short, they involve private acts that have a public significance.

A surprising variation among the states is shown in this summary, which was prepared and made public by Cleanliness Institute. In spite of the danger of infection from public swimming pools which are not properly safeguarded, half of the states have no laws or regulations requiring preliminary baths. Twenty-one states have no laws with reference to cleanliness in hotels or restaurants. Most of the states regulate the production and handling of food, but they have largely neglected cleanliness in the schools. Municipal ordinances have not been included in this study, yet the chances are they would show similar gaps and discrepancies.

Health officers all over the country realize that while a law may not make a state clean, its presence enables the enforcing officer to remedy unsafe and undesirable conditions provided he has public opinion behind him. The very incomplete protection to public health afforded by some states, and the difficulties of enforcement, point to the need for a more enlightened public opinion. Such a public opinion will demand, not only more and better laws on cleanliness, but better enforcement of existing laws, and appropriations protecting the health of the people.

COTTON TEXTILES HAVE MANY USES

In spite of a trend toward other textile fibers for some household articles, cotton is still the housewife's choice for a great many furnishings according to the Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In the course of a study of the changing uses of the various textile fibers in the home, 646 replies were analyzed in respect to the household articles used in 1927 as compared with 1922. It was found that for certain things, especially things for table use such as doily sets, luncheon cloths, table cloths and table napkins, linen was more popular than cotton. And for blankets and rugs, wool was slightly more popular than cotton or other textile fibers. But in the case of all other household articles, the families reported greater use of cotton than any other textile fiber.

Over ten per cent of the families were using more of the following articles in 1927 than they had five years previous: Cotton bedspreads, cotton and wool blankets, cotton covers of comforters with cotton, wool and down fillings, cotton mattress covers and pads, cotton and linen luncheon cloths, cotton and linen table napkins, cotton and linen dish towels and face towels, cotton Turkish towels, cotton wash cloths, cotton awnings for porches and windows, cotton bureau scarfs, cotton and linen card table covers, cotton couch covers, cotton dress covers, cotton and wool or worsted rugs, cotton and silk sofa pillow covers, and cotton and rayon window curtains. Perhaps this can be taken to indicate that a good many people actually had more and better house furnishings at the time they replied to the inquiry, and that a large number of these articles were made of cotton.

HAGERMAN HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

Inasmuch as many of the colleges and universities are now using new methods for admitting students to their courses, schools which plan to keep the road open to the most exacting institutions will have to improve upon their methods of book-keeping. (A school that is up-to-date now is five to ten years ahead of the times.) We have begun a new scheme of giving the student a class standing. That is, we will do so at the end of his senior year. In the meantime we have been making up an honor roll. Those who appear regularly on the roll will be among those ranking high in their respective classes. Some colleges only consider freshmen who appear in the upper fourth as judged by their ranking assigned by their high school teachers. The following are March honor pupils: Jewel Barnett, Billy Jo Burck, Margaret Curry, Ellsworth Evans, Waunita Evans, Eleanor Hughes, Ruth Hughes, Jaunita Newson, Thelma Robinson, Kenneth Stine, Carolyn Sweatt, Dorothy Sweatt, Tom Utterback, Joyce West, Pickens West, Ruth West, Max Wiggins, Ruth Wiggins.

The following is an original poem written by Ray Langford. Ray is a student in third year English. If he develops the talent shown in this poem perhaps some day we will be reading his famous works.

OUR MOTHER (By Ray Langford)

She was to us, so kind, so gentle,
Always loving good and true;
No one but our dear sweet mother
Could tell us what was best to do.

She finished her earthly mission
And could here no longer stay.
No one knows how much we miss her
Now that she has gone away.

Back home in the cemetery sleeping
Is one we dearly loved.
She has gone to be an angel
In that happy home above.

It was a happy meeting
When she reached that Golden Shore,
There were loved ones that were waiting
To be parted never more.

SEVERAL PARENTS ATTEND THE CHAPEL PROGRAM

At chapel program Tuesday morning, March 19, several parents were in attendance. They are always welcome to these gatherings, which are held regularly each week.

After the announcements made by Prof. E. A. White, and a few remarks in regard to the school budget, a reading was given by La Verne Campbell. This was followed by a cornet solo by Kenneth Stine. Both were applauded.

The reminder of the program consisted of a discussion of school problems arising out of school. The pupil has his problems. The teacher has his. He said to maintain proper physical conditions of the body that a balanced ration must be provided. The same thing is necessary intellectually. To know what to fill the mind with is as much a problem for pupil, teacher and parent as to know what to fill the stomach with. He spoke of the difference time had made in this school. New languages are taught now; the health of the students is looked after more closely; many subjects are taught which regard the pupil in particular more than in general.

The student must decide which type of work for which he is best suited—the practical or the cultural. While on the subject of language, Mr. White asked a vote of Spanish, Latin or French for next year. About forty-five hands came up for Spanish, none for Latin and quite a number for French, so the latter's being taught in this school next year will be considered along with Spanish.

The speaker said that the good teacher looks forward, not backward. The up-to-date school is ahead of the time. The students especially, must consider the future, for, if we grow up here without doing good work we are already barred from the nation's best colleges.

Mr. White made a point that along with opportunities came many responsibilities. For instance he said that it was not only necessary if we are to make a good citizen, for us not to commit crime, but we must not tolerate it. He said it would be a very unhappy day for the parent when he had to appear in court and in school in the behalf of his or her boy or girl. He further stated if each girl and boy would report destruction of property that it would not be long until violators of the law wouldn't think it smart to destroy public or private property. He further illustrated by referring to the to the fact that we have to depend on society and government for protection. If no law protected the child in school, that the school itself might become impossible or at least intolerable.

One must be safe in person and in his property—say the possession of books, pencils, tablets, etc.—or school is impossible. How can one be consistent in expecting the good citizens to furnish a school plant and teachers and pupils not respect the laws of the government? We must stand up on the side of right and let the individual who is inclined to disrespect the law know that we do not admire him as bad as he wishes like Jack Horner to be noticed. If everyone would frown on him he would quit violating the laws made by respectable people for the protection of the home and the community.

Mrs. Clark: Fay, what is the difference between vision and sight. Fay Hoyt: Well, when our Helen goes out in the evening she is a vision, but when she gets up in the morning she is a sight.

Glendon: Say, how did that salesman get in Prof.'s office?
Baker: Just threw a cork over the transom.

Thomas: (telling the story of the World War) And that is the story of the World War.
Steve: But, Mr. Thomas, what were the other soldiers for?

Miss Richards: When you were in France, I suppose you saw great tracts of barren waste?
Mr. Hulet: Oh, my yes. He has a wonderful estate.
