SMALL TAX PAYERS IN STATE MAY FORM ORGANIZATION SOON

Possibility that the small tax payers in the state may organize is expressed in a letter from W. C. Scoggins to The Messenger. The letter is self explanatory:

Las Cruces, Nov. 23, 1931.
The Hagerman Messenger:
Gentlemen:
Mr. Roach general chairman of all committee working on taxes in Dona Ana county, has asked me to head the committee inquiring into public sentiment relative to a special session of the New Mexico legislature, convened for the purpose of writing a more equitable law for our state. The small tax payer, particularly those owning real estate, whether town property or farm land, are paying what we believe to be an unjust proportion of government expense. It is our purpose to organize the small tax payers of the state into one organization, that we may, ourselves, be able to compel equity and justice in matters of not only expenditures of public funds, but fairness to all in raising revenue.

From previous publicity sent out to the Associated Press, the public may think this is a farm bureau movement. That organization represents less than 2% of the tax payers of Dona Ana county; while it is represented on the committee, the man having this whole matter in charge, and the one who initiated it, is Paul Roach, Dona Ana county tax assessor.

We would like very much a personal letter from you, addressed to Paul Roach, giving your views as to whether we should have a special session of the legislature. Our present rolls are made up, and a great majority of the small tax payers in this county, particularly farmers, will not be able to pay their taxes. Unless we get a special session there will be no relief for two years. By that time, many of our best citizens in this locality, will have lost their property.

Very truly yours,
W. T. SCOGGINS,
S.—We wish to use your letter at the general mass meeting to be held at Las Cruces, in Dona Ana county, on November 19th. A representative from your paper is cordially invited.

KLEBERG ELECTED

SAN ANTONIO, Texas—Richard M. Kleberg of Corpus Christi, a democrat was elected to represent the fourteenth congressional district in the national caucus Tuesday to succeed Harry W. Wurzbach, republican, who was serving his sixth term when he died recently.

Returns from the eleven counties of the district the vote being nearly complete that outstanding votes hardly could change the result, gave him a majority of approximately 5,000 votes over a field of seven other candidates.

MAIL YOUR PACKAGES EARLY THIS XMAS

The United States Postal department of course believes there is a Santa Claus—but it also rightfully thinks the public ought to help the old gentleman in his yuletide labors by shopping now and mailing early.

The call for early mailing of Christmas cards and parcels has already been issued by post office department officials at Washington and is seconded by C. G. Mason, Hagerman postmaster. It is not a bit too soon now to begin preparing packages destined to foreign countries or distant states.

These dates are suggested by Mr. Mason as the final times for dispatching Christmas mail: not later than December 19 for anything except mail sent to New Mexico or local addresses; not later than December 21 for state and local mail.

Merry greetings, such as "Happy Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and so forth, may be included with third class or fourth class—parcel post—mail. Books may bear simple dedicatory inscriptions not of a personal nature. Others written additions subject parcels to letter postage.

Christmas seals or stickers should not be placed on the address side of mail. Parcels may not exceed 100 inches in length and girth combined or 70 pounds in weight. The weight limitation is 44 pounds or less on mail to the Philippine Islands, except the city of Manila.

REPORT INCREASE ON ALL NEW MEX. CROPS

LAS CRUCES—The estimated production of virtually all of New Mexico crops this season reveals an increase over last year and for the five year average. Fred Daniels, statistician for the N. M. A. & M. College said last week.

Larger yields, he said, were responsible for a substantial increase in the estimated production rather than of increased acreage.

Grain Sorghums — 5,434,000 bushels, more than three times the production of last year. The yield per acre is placed at 22 bushels as compared with 8.2 bushels in 1937 and 18.5 for the five year average.

THURSDAY CLUB

None can claim even passing acquaintance with the current world scene and ignore the emergence out of vast and troubled areas of a fragile figure in loin cloth, who beards the British lion in its den.

Mahatma K. Gandhi, the nationalist leader of the 360,000,000 of India's people, was born sixty-two years ago, married at the age of thirteen. Four sons were born to this union. At the age of nineteen, because of clashing temperments, there was a marital separation. He then went to London to study law, pledging word to his mother that he would avoid meat, women and falsehood, and to this day has kept his pledge, the wife of his youth is now one of his most efficient political lieutenants.

His parents were high caste followers of the Hindu faith, and he, reared in its tenets, adhered to them, but in recent years has developed a deep respect for Christianity.

Such was the theme of the lessons which Mrs. Harold Miller, so ably gave on last Thursday afternoon, when the club met at the home of Mrs. R. M. Ware.

Delicious brown bread, sandwiches, cocoa, coffee and mints, were served to the following members: Mmes. Devensport, Clark White, Miller, West, Hedges, E. V. Sweatt, Wimberly, Cowan, Lane, Lochhead, Losey, Ware and one guest, Mrs. A. A. MacKintosh.

DANGER OF ALKALI POISON

Now is the time for all residents of the Pecos valley to exercise the greatest care in regard to milk poisoning which manifests itself in various forms in this vicinity.
Last year, during these months, the dread milk sickness claimed one life near Lake Arthur. Cows should not be allowed to graze in open pastures when their milk is used for home consumption. The rayless goldenrod, at this time of the year, is deadly when eaten by animals, and transmits its poisonous qualities to milk thru milk cows.
Milk, butter and meat contain danger of poison, and no person should eat or drink any of these unless the items are purchased from reliable sources.

IF YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED, MOVE!

Hagerman contains more of its share of people who are ashamed to be known as residents of a small town, and who would go to any lengths, simply in order to have outsiders think that they are from a larger city. This is indeed the wrong attitude for any of our citizens to take. What other result could be obtained by such sentiment here, than that most of our money be spent out of town.
Pride is always good, but false pride heralds a fall. Why anyone should be ashamed of a small town, is more than we can see. It is true that there is too much gossip in the village, and there are a few other drawbacks, but with the gossip there goes friendliness, to say the least—for it is the outgrowth of a family feeling.
Jesus of Nazareth was a small town man, as related in Mary Austin's latest book, "The Small Town Man," and if a small town satisfied Him, who are we to kick?
Why not recognize the redeeming features of the village and the country side, and labor to make it home? It is our personal and it is any one's privilege to live where he or she pleases. If the small town doesn't suit—move to the city, wrap yourself in pride and STRUT YOUR STUFF.

GIVE THANKS!

When the Pilgrim Fathers inaugurated the idea of a day of Thanksgiving, it was at the close of a bloody, life sapping battle, that had drained them of most of the finer sentiments, yet they realized that things could have been worse. Other calamities can strike a people greater than strife and battles against odds of a wilderness peopled with savage tribes.
America today is entering the close of her greatest battle against economic stagnation. She is the winner. Business is on the up-turn. Farm products are climbing to higher values, and we should, at the dawn of a great victory than that of war, give thanks that we have so ably weathered the storm.
Give thanks that the price of necessities dropped in accordance with crippled earning capacity, and paralyzed marketing power.
Give thanks that good health reigned over a nation during this time of tried nerves, and shattered bank accounts.
Give thanks that so far we have spared the horrors of bloody warfare.
Give thanks that we are living under democracy rather than communism.
Give thanks for the multitude of other blessings which unprejudiced minds will immediately suggest. . . . give thanks unstintingly that we live in a nation of faith in God, founded upon the precepts of the Bible, and governed by men who respect religion.
Oh, yes, the soul that has gratitude can see many reasons for thanksgiving, as a nation and its home re-awake to glorious life.

WHAT SCHOOLS ARE HELPING AMERICA TO ACHIEVE

(Prepared by Waunita Evans)
A school is more than just an educational institution. It serves a greater purpose. The class of people which the future men and women of America will be may be judged fairly well by the kind of students in the schools today. School life draws individuals closer together, teaches them the art of mixing, teaches them tolerance, sympathy and charity and broadens their viewpoints; above these it is a builder of character. Hence it is desirable to have many well-operated schools. A nation may be judged by her students, for they will be the ones to determine whether the nation will progress in whatever field you choose to name—or will slide backward. They will be the ones to make far-reaching discoveries, or the ones to make none. It is true that scholars and students of any age or time are the leaders of the nation—the leaders in the religious field, the fields of science, in the business world, or in whatever occupation they pursue.

America today is a leading nation. Her schools have helped to achieve this rank. Thru a higher plane of intellectual life, America can stand for peace instead of war, can stand as a Christian nation by the lives of her people, and can stand first among nations which are achieving great things in all branches of knowledge. A nation's strength is measured by the degree in which it recognizes the influence of religion and education; they are fundamental. The one stands for security; the other for progress. Wherever civilization advances, there will be found the progress of churches and schools, where these two institutions are not found, or where the people are late in establishing them, there will be plenty of lawlessness and disorder. There exists a great number of both in America.
“The pen is mightier than the sword.” In some cases this is true. The world today wants peace and is striving to that end. People reason against war; thru their better natures and their higher plane of thinking and living, they denounce the evil of war, making their aim world peace.
Intelligent people can live a better life, a fuller and richer life, than an uneducated people. An intellectual nation will accomplish that which her people have the ability to achieve, and her standards will be the standards of her people, and a nation's standards will be the higher if her people are reasonably educated. A nation will advance according to its advance in learning. As nations outgrew their primitive ways, their ways of savagery and of little knowledge, they learned little by little, and at each increase in knowledge man's power to think, to comprehend, to reason and wonder, grew. Education, in the broadest meaning of the term, means the development of all the powers of man, and in its broadest application education extends thru life. Thus a person's abilities increase as his knowledge increases. This increase in abilities naturally results in greater achievements. So we may take the nation as a whole, and say that as her knowledge increases her abilities increase, and as her abilities increase her achievements increase or become greater.
Thru the help of present day schools, past schools and the past ages of learning—for we must have a foundation upon which to build—America now stands as a progressive nation, respected by others because of her high standards, her great achievements in the fields of invention, electricity and all science, in the business world, her efficient systems of commerce, trade and banking, because of her literature, her great men and women. I could not begin to name her many accomplishments, but I do wish to say in conclusion that America, thru the development of the character and the learning of her people, has become one of the most progressive of nations, taking a part in world affairs because she could no longer stay in the back ground.
The clause of present day interest in the ordinance of 1787 is one which recognizes the mighty power that lies in education, it is: “Religion, morality and knowledge being necessary to good government and happiness of mankind, schools and the means of education shall forever be encouraged.”

AUTOMOBILE EXHAUST GAS POISONING

The danger of working on the car in a closed garage when the motor is running should be remembered at this time of year when the weather is likely to be cold and one is tempted to close the doors. The small one or two car garage is particularly dangerous, the relatively small air space permitting the rapid accumulation of a dangerous concentration of carbon-monoxide.
Carbon-monoxide poisoning is caused by the inhalation of automobile exhaust gases and seems to be increasing in frequency. It is estimated that each year there are several hundred deaths from this cause. Whether or not the health is effected by frequent exposure to this gas is a question that has not been definitely settled.
May Be Unaware Of It
The physical properties of carbon-monoxide are such that one may be unaware that he is inhaling it. It is colorless, odorless, and tasteless. The occurrence of certain symptoms may be the first indication that the gas is being inhaled and that poisoning is taking place. Headache, dizziness, nausea, muscular weakness and twitching of the muscles are some of the symptoms. In those cases in which people have been found dead in garages, unconsciousness or death may have occurred very rapidly or the victims may have ignored the earlier symptoms.

Fresh Air First Remedy
While all of these symptoms may arise from other causes, when any of them occur under circumstances in which one may have been exposed to carbon-monoxide gas, no time should be lost in getting to the fresh air. Anyone who has been overcome should be placed in the fresh air and given artificial respiration such as is used in cases of drowning. This should be kept up until the patient breathes normally. Prevention of carbon-monoxide poisoning consists of plenty of ventilation to carry away the gas. And, in the avoidance of exposure to air known to contain it.

LOOKING? for YOUTH?

Abraham Lincoln's mother died at the age of 37—an old woman, worn out from the hardships of the frontier. She was not an isolated case. There were thousands of others like her.
Hard, physical labor robbed her of health and beauty—made her old before her time.
Strange as it may seem, even in this Electrical Age, there are countless homes where, except for lighting, the work is being done just as it was in the frontier days. The women of the house are still wasting their health and time doing tasks that electricity can do for them at a very small cost.
Electricity will do your washing and ironing with a minimum of effort on your part, it can help with the cooking and cleaning. There is hardly a household task that it cannot make easier, or do for you.

Electricity Is Now The Burden Bearer. Put It To Work For You!

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

Now, folks I'm not gonna answer any more these kinda questions thru this colum less'n you all sign yer names tuh yer letters, by gum.

Our gallopin' tin lizzie may look like Noah's ark, dry gulched, but she's paid fer, an' that's sumpin' ter be thankful fer.

We see whur some undertaker says that fewer people die in periods uv depression. Yes, he says that the reason fer this is that folks don't have 'nough money tuh drink themselves tuh death, an' get out an' gallop 'down th' highways in tin buggies, killin' each other, etc. Wal, hit 'pears tuh yer uncle Samuel that more people have also committed side-wise durin' this year th'n previous.

DEMOCRATIC WHIP HAS SIX ASPIRANTS
 WASHINGTON, D. C. — Six friendly enemies—four southerners and two northerners—are combatting briskly for the democratic floor leadership in the house. The victor will be decided at the December 5 caucus. United behind Representative Garner of Texas, for speaker, the democrats are divided, north against south, on leadership. Northerners claim the leader should be from above the Mason-Dixon line, since the speaker will come from the south if the democrats gain control. Southerners content that the fact of their having furnished the bulk of the opposition during 13 years of republican dominance should be fully recognized.

DRY AGENTS IN MILLION DOLLAR RUM SEIZURE
 NEW YORK—The tanker Raritan Sun with 5,000 cases of liquor was seized Monday and 60 men were arrested at Bushey's Dry Dock at the foot of Court Street, Brooklyn. Customs officials estimated the value of the liquor at $350,000 and the vessel, a 533-ton tanker at $750,000, figures which if authentic, would make the seizure one of the largest of its type in the history of prohibition enforcement.

In addition to the boat, which is owned by the Sun Oil Co., and the liquor, five trucks valued at $50,000, also were seized.

FARM BOARD HOLDING SURPLUS TWO CROPS

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Federal Farm Loan board's story of two year's adventure in assisting the American farm, was unfolded Tuesday in its second annual report to congress. In the wholesale price stabilization purchases the board bought 329,641,062 bushels wheat at $270-204.503.

On November 1 it still had 189,656,157 bushels on hand. The cotton stabilization division took 1,310,789 bales off the market at a cost of $107,533,246. It now holds 1,310,789 bales.

"Many groups," the board observed, "want stabilization corporations to buy and never to sell. That is asking the impossible. Stabilization operations cannot maintain prices continuously. So long as surpluses continue to pile up, artificial measures can only temporarily offset their effects."

"Co-operative marketing is sound and the best approach yet made to bring about permanent improvement in American agricultural marketing act. Neither were requests made for adjusting production to consumption levels.

The board has ordered its cotton held for another year and wheat sold for next year at the rate of 5,000,000 bushels per month.

Better methods of soil building and intensive soil cultivation have diminished the need for clearing up new lands for crop production. This favors the growing of timber as a crop on the less fertile or more broken parts of the farm, and makes it a part of the regular farm program.

Diversification

Diversification is not limited in application to farm management. Retailers in all lines are adding new items of many kinds to their stocks. Manufacturers are creating new products, spreading their facilities for safety as well as lowered costs.

In finances, diversification is acknowledged as necessary in stock and bond buying, to protect against losses incident at times to some of them and providing first a base of sound, easily sold, low return securities.

In banking, loans are diversified. Should all loans be made upon one or two types of security, losses in them would result in quickly lowered collateral values. Banks safely protect themselves under such conditions by purchase of sound securities, readily converted, to meet immediate needs.

Diversification prevents "frozen" equipment, for the manufacturer, frozen assets for the bank.

CROP YIELD CONTESTS WILL BE HELD IN 1932

At the recent annual meeting of the New Mexico Crop Improvement Association it was decided that yield contests would be held during the coming year with the two crops from which the greatest returns from seed certification has been gotten, says G. R. Quisenberry of the New Mexico Agricultural College. As funds develop from certification in the association, further contests with the other principal crops will be promoted. For the coming year, the grain sorghums in the non-irrigated sections of the state was selected as one crop, and cotton as the other. Fields of the latter may be entered from any part of the state. One hundred dollars has been set aside for prize money for each of these crops and at least one county has indicated that further premiums on grain sorghums will be offered within this county to encourage competition. The 1932 contests will be held co-operatively between the extension service and the New Mexico Crop Improvement Assn. Funds will be furnished by the Association and the extension service will assist in any way necessary to help the farmers in putting over the work. All fields must be entered before planted and accurate measurements and tabulations of the yield will be made by disinterested parties and supervised by

WESTERN STATES MAY GET PUBLIC DOMAIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A bill incorporating the findings of President Hoover's public domains committee was being drafted last week in the offices of Representative Colton, republican, Utah, chairman of the last house public lands committee.

James R. Garfield, of Ohio, chairman of the presidential appointees who deliberated here most of last November on public land problems of eleven western states, worked with Colton on the clauses of the proposed measure.

Present also were Francis Wilson of New Mexico and George Malone, of Nevada, members of the president's committee, and Representative Addison Smith of Idaho, ranking republican member of the last house committee.

Colton has been author of several previous bills designed to conserve the public domains and prevent over-grazing, during his chairmanship of the house committee.

Granting of the public lands to states that would accept them thru legislative act was recommended by Garfield's committee in the report which was basis for the conference.

For states not accepting the public lands, the report recommended that the law by state application, be declared national range.

In the event of no state legislature after ten years, the report recommended that congress be authorized to establish a national range within the state.

Pending transfer, the president's committee held, the "federal government should recognize, in so far as possible, any method inaugurated by the state to regulate the movement of livestock to prevent over-grazing.

The president's committee which studied the public domains had one woman member, Mary Roberts Rinehart, the author.

DIPHTHERIA PREVALENT

There is an unusual prevalence of diphtheria in the state at the present time. Eighty-eight cases were reported in October and 41 in the first half of November. The figures for the corresponding periods last year were 37 and 11 respectively.

If treated early with a sufficient dose of antitoxin diphtheria can always be cured. Children die because their parents do not suspect that a little sore throat may be the beginning of diphtheria and so delay calling a doctor. Occasionally when the diphtheritic membrane is not visible even the best doctor may miss diphtheria in the early curable stage.

The tragedy is that these cases might all have been prevented if the parents would have taken their children at nine months or one year of age to have toxoid treatment from the family doctor. Prevention with toxoid is cheaper and safer than cure with antitoxin. Prevention should not be delayed until school age. Since 1916 in New York City 75 per cent of those dying from diphtheria have been children under 5 years of age.

The diphtheria prevention commission of New York has closed its 3-year campaign this month. More than half a million children have been immunized in that city during the campaign. The results have been striking. The average number of cases for the 24-year period before the campaign was more than 10,000 per year. Deaths averaged about 1,000 per year. In 1930 there were 3,794 cases and 198 deaths. For the first ten months of the present year there have been 3,377 cases and 130 deaths. The cost of the campaign is estimated at $140,000 a year and the economic saving is estimated at $10,000,000. Prevention pays.

Do not let pullets roost on tree limbs in the fall when they start to lay. This is a habit some pullets acquire on hot summer nights. To break them of the habit, confine them to the laying house for a few days, or clip the flight feathers on one wing.

Stellar Distances

The adopted unit of stellar distance is the distance traveled by a light wave in a year. This unit is called the light year. The distance in light years astronomically is then translated into miles, using as a basis the fact that the velocity of light is 183,300 miles per second, and it travels from the sun to the earth in 490 seconds.

Immortalized by Song

He volunteered in 1914 and crossed with the Canadian field artillery. He served in the field, and later in a hospital as second in command. He died, of pneumonia.

The nicotine-sulphate treatment is one of the best ways to control lice in poultry flocks including a large number of pullets, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Paint the top of the roosts with liquid nicotine sulphate in late afternoon just before the birds go to roost. The fumes will kill the lice during the night. The use of sodium-flouride dust for controlling lice on poultry necessitates handling the pullets. This frightens them and may check egg production.

BIG GAME KILLED

SANTA FE—More than four thousand deer, including 1,684 does, were killed during the big game season, State Game Warden Elliott Barker said Saturday. The does were killed in the Black Canyon area under special regulations.

The kill as reported to the state game warden was 235 white tail and 2,178 mule deer, all bucks which together with the does killed makes a total of 4,097 deer. Mr. Barker estimated that probably 400 bucks were killed and not reported.

The kill this season, he said, is not big in view of the size of the army of hunters in the field. Deputy game wardens at the various game area gateways checked in 7,123 hunters, and Mr. Barker said there were undoubtedly many more hunters who were not checked.

Four hundred and twenty-six turkeys were killed and 1,526 squirrels. It is estimated that 100 turkeys were not reported and probably 200 squirrels.

Only ten bear were reported to have been bagged. The game department, however, estimates the kill at 75 all of which were black and brown bear.

Many people think that persimmons are not edible until they have been frozen or touched by frost. Freezing is injurious to persimmons as it is to other fruits. If they are not free from astringency and fit to eat before frost, it is because the variety is a late one and the persimmons have not matured.
