In the following words President Lincoln turned the course of history:

Gen. Grant: what you have done, and its re-liance upon you for what remains to do in the existing great struggle, are now presented with this commission constituting you lieutenant general in the Army United States.

With this high honor devolved upon you also a corresponding responsibility. As the country herein trusts you, so, under God, it will sustain you. I scarcely need to add that with what I here speak for the Nation goe

Prepared as he had been by an advance" of President Lincoln's emarks, General Grant replied: Mr. President:

I accept this commission wit gratitude for the high honor conferred. With the aid of the noble armies that have fought on so many fields for our common country, it will be my earnest endeavor not to disappoint your expectations. I feel the full weight of the responsibilities now devolving upon me, and I know that if they are met it will be due to those armies, and above all to the favor of that Providence which leads both na-

The manuscript of Lincoln's words is clear and the ink as strong and black as though written yesterday; that of the Grant acceptance is quite faded, barely legible.

This, incidentally, is among the relatively few pieces of Grantiana and Lincolniana still kept in the Grant family here.

It is not unlikely that eventually these priceless relics of a great event also will find their way into the archives of the federal government which was held intact by the statesmanship of Lincoln and the military genius of Grant. Lincoln had to bear the brunt of of Grant to succeed George Washington and Winfield Scott as the only lieutenant generals of the United States Army up to that you have tried for your cough, di cold or bronchial irritation, you time. Criticism get relief now with from officers of the army, as Lincoln noted, when he reminded Grant to say something to "soothe the feelings of jealousy. It came from many quarters. It came from men who pointed to Grant's lack of outstanding success at West Point, to his resignation from the army and return to private life in 1854, to his financial difficulties as farmer, storekeeper, and real estate salesman. And it came from others who struck holier-than-thou at

But Lincoln was not interested in Grant's past nor in his personal habits. As the Chief Executive, Lincoln was interested in just one thing-the winning of the war to preserve the federal union. Lincoln had tried many leaders to gain that end-beginning with McClellan and running the gamut of the Burnsides and the Hookers and others almost too numerous to mention. Grant gave the dispirited North its first thrill when he captured Fort Donelson, and when his answer to the Confederate General Buckner became public, he was known to every urchin as "Unconditional Surrender" Grant. He wrote to Buckner:

"No terms except unconditional and immediate surrender can be accepted. I propose to move immediately upon your works."

Grant's successes in the West were in striking contrast to the decidedly poor showing made by the commanders in the East. Lincoln watched Grant all through the years of 1862 and 1863. Knowing full well the criticism which would be leveled at him, within the army and out, despite the remarkable rec ord achieved by Grant, Lincoln nevertheless made his decision and went through with it.

So it was that the man who had acknowledged himself to be a failure before 1861, received the highest military command within the power of the nation to bestow. He received it at the hands of an unerring judge of human kind who felt he finally had found the leader he had been seeking for three long and bitter years.

And Grant had answered, "It will be my earnest endeavor not to disappoint your expectations."

WOMEN ARE NOT SO "EASY" AS MEN IN FLATTERY GAME

"What do you think of the claim that women like admiration and flattery as much as men and are no less fools than men in the hands of one of the other sex who uses that method of getting into their good graces?

"Don't you think that's ridiculous? I've never yet met a man who wouldn't believe anything charming and delightful about himself that any woman might tell him. But I've seen many a man try to bamboozle a woman and fail because he laid it on too thick." This was asked of a woman writer of note, who replied as fol-

I think our reader has hit upon an important truth in the relationship of the sexes.

women like admiration as much as broken. men-that is admiration from the other sex. Indeed I believe this is in a way a more important factor with women than with men. By that I mean that while men may "eat up' admiration from the other sex, that is not the motivating factor of their interest in them; while with some women delight in masculine admira tion is largely the root of their enjoyment of the society of the other sex. But-women are not so "easy" as men. A homely woman does not easily accept a man's insistence that she is beautiful, but many a bald, fat man has been convinced he is an Adonis. Women can be flattered. but it has to be done more subtly. Therefore the man who is wise will look for the "good points" which in some form or other are possessed by every woman, and concentrate on them, rather than attempt to endow her with charms which she realizes are not hers.

It is not that women like flattery less, but they have more difficulty than men in putting entirely to sleep their intelligence and common sense! e Bell Syndicate. - WNU Service.

Toy Railroading Is Rapid Growing Hobby Among Men

Playing with toy railroads is today one of the fastest growing hobbles among men in the United States. Nearly every large city has its miniature railroad society whose members own elaborate systems ranging in cost from about $30 for small electric lines to $10,000 for real models which run under their own steam over a mile of track, hauling ten tons at 30 miles an hour .- Col-

Cactus in Ethiopia Came  From Somewhere in America

American barbed wire manufacturers are said to be refusing orders from the belligerent powers in Africa. But something from Amerca, almost as wicked, was at the front long before Romans and Ethiops began taking pot-shots and spear-jabs at each other. Cactus is figuring in news pictures from the Ethiopian war zone. Machine-gun nests are shown flanked or halfcamouflaged by huge plants of flatjointed prickly pear bristling with spines-menacing alike to Italian uniforms and Ethiopian chammas. not to mention the legs and arms beneath them. All true species of cactus are of American origin. The prickly plants were unknown in the Old world before the voyages of Columbus. But once cacti were introduced from Mexico and South America they be came established all around the Mediterranean shores in amazingly quick time, and from there they spread throughout the dry lowlands of northeast Africa and southern Asia, until now they seem normal, native parts of the landscape.

1 5 pm is a test of how you FEEL

How do I feel Rotten! why do you ask?

"Because,

you are not yourself!"

IT is all so simple, too! That tired, run-down, exhausted feeling quite often is due to lack of a sufficiency of those precious red-blood-cells. Just build up these oxygen-carrying cells and the whole body takes on new life...food is really turned into energy and strength...you can't help but feel and look better. S.S.S. WHY?

A pistol shot by an eighteen year-old Bosnia student in 1914, literally speaking, echoed around Sarajevo seemed so remote, and it is so easy to evade things from a distance.

Serious thinkers have thoroughly studied the causes of the conflict in 1914. Somehow we are inclined to agree with the phychologist who says: "Efficiency demands great powers of attention, which in time becomes extremely fatiguing-and calls for relaxation. Then society reverts to the pre-historic type-the primitive mortal combat of man to man in order to bring rest to tired brains and obtain release from high tension.'

He goes on with: Man was not originally a working animal, civilization imposed work upon him, and when you work a man too to a football game. What he wants 14 S., R. 26 E. mos is not peace, but just a change to pit his force against some new

Thus, according to their theory, in 1914, a reaction had to follow the high tension or one-sided life. of thinking, and which had been Thus came war.

You can name other causes: racial, military, industrial, econworld mixture, you will need them all, but it simmers down to the fact that human nature is very 4-3t much like the phychologist suggests, that it needs expansion, and if any of these causes can be interwoven with his expansion idea then a flame of resentment may burst worth.

In Austria today, we read that a "Ghost of an Empire Walks" intimating that there is a subtle thought of another world empire. Why need there be another conflict, another war? Has the human mind reached the stage of revolting against its present-day tenure of thinking? Does it need a torch to set a waiting world on fire? "The mills of the gods grind

A few years ago Senator Norris of Nebraska, among others, spoke at great length in criticism of our government's diplomatic service because of the salaries paid and the expenditures allowed for operation of our foreign diplomatic offices. The Norris attack apparently did considerable damage to the diplomatic service because it made many capable men fearful of entering that field where highly trained men are necessary. But all of the time during which criticisms have been leveled at private business on account of salaries paid business executives and because of other expenses, the senate itself has been going ahead from year to year using taxpayers' money to suit its own purposes. For instance, Col. Edwin A. Halsey, secretary of the senate, lately has made public his annual report covering senate operation and it shows that the taxpayers' money to the extent of $3,296,852 had been spent for maintenance of that one branch of congress. There are 96 senators each of whom has an office staff; there are some 30-odd committees ate investigations in the last year. NEW COLOR SCHEMES SEEN ON PARISIANS

Striking color combinations are featured by all leading dressmakers. In addition to black, which is always enhanced by vivid touches, there are many new color schemes, often daring but always effective. One combination that is more fash ionable than ever is the use of moss green or water green with dark reddish brown. Rochas combines a subdued tone of blue with a faded old-fashioned red for merning and day models.

Another fashionable combination seen in many houses is grenat enhancing pale blue. Mainbocher shows several unusual color schemes, such as gray with redbrown and lapis, dark green with burgundy, violet with gold, gray with red, brown and lapis blue green with coral and shell pink with gold.

For Resort and Spring Colors Will Be Brilliant

The vogue for strong colors which was launched last fall influences the colors used for spring and resort wear. Palm Beach colors slated for importance are yellowish tan, sun orange, chartreuse, dusty pink, strong blues, gray blue, "Rose of the Rancho" rose, wine with a yellowish cast. White is also slated for an important position.

Prints are also influenced by the demand for color. Hand-screened and hand-blocked prints permit new and interesting color combinations.

Flared Back

The smart swagger coat usually has a trick flared back that permits a free and easy stride in brisk autumn weather. Black and white plaid woolens are popular for this type of coat.

Life is too ex-soldiers will be available on June to admit of idleness in any- 15. The Harrison compromise bonus bill that went through the senate and house easily, was vetoed by President Roosevelt. The house immediately and enthusiastically repassed the measure. The senate was a little more deliberate, but within three days it, too, had overridden the disapproval of the Chief Executive, and the bill was made law. The vote in the senate was 76 to 19. In the house it had been 324 to 61. It was a notable fact that all the senators-95 in number, for Huey Long's successor has not yet taken his seat-were present and voting. Notable, but not strange when one remembers this is an election year. Fifty-seven Democrats, 16 Republicans and 3 radicals-La Follette of Wisconsin, Shipstead and Benson of Minnesota-voted for the bill, while 12 Democrats and 7 Republicans roted against it.

The galleries were filled and there was wild cheering when the vote was announced. Republican senators amused themselves and the spectators by twitting the Democrats on their failure to stand by their chief, the most voluble of the twitters being Senator Hastings of Delaware, Informed of the vote, President Roosevelt at once ordered government departments to prepare for payment of the bonus certificates as quickly as acurracy will permit. Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said that the payment would be the most difficult mechanical task the treasury had faced in its history. He said the treasury would need $2,500,000 and the veterans' administration $5,000,000 to increase the force to take care of the Job. More than seven million interest calculations will be necessary.

One of the latter, by Donald Richberg and Melvin D. Hildreth on behalf of the National Progressive league, dug up this quotation from one of Smith's speeches in the 1928 campaign:

"The cry of socialism has been patented by the powerful interests that desire to put a damper on progressive legislation. Failing to meet arguments fairly and squarely, special interest falls back on the old stock phrase of socialism To refer to the remedies for all these evils as state socialism is not constructive statesmanship, it is not leadership; and leadership is what

The Richberg statement continued: "If Governor Smith was right in 1928, then by that same token and by his own once powerful arguments Alfred E. Smith must be wrong today, when he is giving aid and comfort to the opponents of progressive policies which he for-

Albert Sarraut Becomes Premier of France

FRANCE'S new government, un-der Albert Sarraut as premier, it is hoped will stand up until the spring elections. If it does, the results will not be happy for Italy for it will take a much stronger stand in support of the League of Na tions than did that of Laval. The new foreign minister is no friend of Mussolini, is the minister of state concerned chiefly with league affairs. In other respects there is nothing especially notable about the Sarraut cabinet. Regnier is retained as finance minister, and he is committed to the Laval policy of defending the franc.

Flandin went to London for the funeral of King George, and it is rumored in Paris that he would sound out British bankers on the subject of a loan of three billion francs which the French treasury sorely needs. With Laval in the discard, the British might look on this suggestion with favor.

Stately Funeral of England's Dead King

FOR two minutes Tuesday after-noon (London time) there was silence throughout all the vast British empire. In St. George's chapel at Windsor the last rites were being performed over the remains of the dead king, George V, by the archbishop of Canterbury assisted by the archbishop of York and the bishop of Windsor. The late ruler's body had been lying in state for two days in Westminster hall London, and thousands upon thousands of mourning Britons had Alfred E. Leaders of Jewry Plan Exodus From Germany

PLANS announced in St. Louis by leaders of world Jewry are carried out, there is to be another exodus, this time from Germany where the Jews are greatly oppressed by the Hitlerites. Sir Herbert Samuel, eminent British Jew. attending the national council of Jewish federations and welfare funds, said a definite method would be formulated soon to provide for the gradual emigration of at least 100,000 of the German reich's estimated 430,000 Jewish population. The undertaking will be financed by a fund of about $15,000,000 raised by English and American Jews,

"We cannot hope to take all Jews from Germany," said Sir Herbert. "Many of the older generation, most of whom are living on their savings, must die there. It is the young German Jew, helpless and hopeless now, whom we would aid. Our object is to set him up in another country as a self-dependent, selfreliant citizen-not to make him a name on a relief list."

Three Convictions in Morro Castle Case

JURY in the United States Dis-A JURY II. the Children York returned verdicts of guilty against acting Capt. William F. Warms and three co-defendants in the criminal negligence trial resulting from the disastrons fire that swept the Morro Castle off Asbury Park, September 8, 1934, taking a toll of 134 lives.

Besides Warms, those convicted were Eben Starr Abbott, chief engineer of the burned ship; Henry E. Cabaud, executive vice president of the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship company, operators of the Ward Line, and the New York & Cuba company itself.

Charges of negligence and cow ardice on the part of officers and crew of the liner were made by survivors testifying at the trial. Abbott was shown to have scrambled into one of the first lifeboats put overboard after ordering an assistant to go below and investigate the progress of the fire. Warms was accused of delaying the sending out of an SOS until it was too
