SYNOPSIS

Barbara Sentry, seeking to sober up home from a party, slaps him, and at-tracts the attention of a policeman, whom the boy knocks down. As he ar-rests him, Professor Brace of Harvard comes to the rescue and drives Barbara's home. On the way they see Barbara's father driving from the direction of his office at 12:45, but when he gets home he bells his wife it is 11:15 and that he's been playing bridge at the club. Next morning, while Barbara is telling her mother about her adventure, an urgent phone call comes from Mr. Sentry's of-fice after his departure. Arriving home in the late afternoon, Sentry reports his office has been robbed and a Miss Wines, former temporary employee, killed.

CHAPTER II-Continued -4-

"Not much here!" Mr. Sentry said; and then: "The police think she was one of the robbers. They're looking for a young Italian who has been paying her some attention; a wild youngster whose father is one of our customers. They found a key in her pocketbook that fits the lock on the back door." He spoke to Ray again. "There are back stairs," he said. "Mr. Loran and I use them on Sundays or when the place isn't open for business. This back door admits to the stairs and our offices. She had this key.'

Mrs. Sentry realized that Arthur somehow found comfort in thus detailing the day's events; and she felt a dry scorn at Neil Ray's obvious desire to escape. "Afraid of being compromised." she thought; and she thought defiantly that a good many people would be maliciously pleased because the old firm of Sentry and Loran was thus involved in sudden sensational publicity

Ray had nodded uneasily, and Mr. Sentry went on: "She must have remembered the combination of the safe. It's just an old iron box. bought in my father's time. "Yes," he assented. "Miss Randall found her, when she got there at eight o'clock."

Mrs. Sentry wondered, shivering in spite of herself, whether any of the women at the Furness luncheon had known: wondered whether they had been watching her to see how she took it.

"It must have been just a few minutes past when they phoned," she said. "Didn't anyone hear the shot'

"Not in Boston. She came from Dennis; but she'd been living in a room out in Somerville, in a private home, where the husband was out of a job so they had to take in boarders. His father claims he's up in Maine buying cider apples, but they haven't located him. And-apparently there were other men with whom she was intimate, too.'

Mr. Sentry shook his head, poured a cocktail, said, as though thinking aloud: "I suppose she was hard up, and desperate. Lesson for November 6

HONORING OUR PARENTS

LESSON TEXT-Exodus 20:12: Luke 46-52: John 19:26, 27: Ephesians 6:1-4. GOLDEN TEXT-Honor thy father and by mether: that thy days may be long pon the land which the Lord thy God with thee.-Exodus 20.12.

The splendid obedience of parents to their children has been pointed out as one of the remarkable de-velopments of modern life. No, we have not made a mistake in writing in typesetting. We mean just what we say-the obedience of parents to their children. In all too many homes God's order has been reversed and instead of honoring and obeying their parents, children (both young and old) have taken the place of "boss," and mother and father must obey if they want peace and rest.

The need for our lesson of today s both great and acute. The future appiness of hundreds of thousands of children (Eph. 6:3) and the presant welfare of thousands of neglected and boss-ridden parents will de pend on the intelligence and faithfulness with which this lesson is taught in our churches, and the honesty of heart with which men and men study and receive its truth.

I. The Command of God (Exod. 20:12) The first and most important con-

November Election Brings Big Crop of Old Age Assistance Plans, Promising Congressional Debate on 'Little' Townsend Bill

Someone long since established that a man can't pull himself up by his bootstraps, but that does not stop several million aging Americans from clamoring for three square meals a day.

This means that America is again besieged with a Maker of us all regarding this mat- deluge of pension plans, economically unorthodox but capater of the relation between parents ble of drawing a huge vote at the November 8 election.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

No man is allowed to operate a railroad locomotive - though it runs on rails along a predetermined track, with every conceivable safety device to prevent accidents-without long and rigorous training, and periodic examinations for health and capability.

No man can command a shipthough it plies oceans and waterways where the chance of collision with another vessel is microscopically small-without similar training and examinations to determine fitness and ability.

No man can fly an airplanethough its "highway" is the empty air - without providing absolute proof of his competence.

Yet any man can operate an automobile down crowded streets and highways, where the margin between safe passage and a possible serious accident is a matter of inches, no matter how ill-fitted he is to drive safely.

That fact largely explains our gigantic motor vehicle accident toll. In some states no examination of any kind is required to ob tain a driving license. In others not even a license is needed-the most ignortant and incompetent can get behind the wheel and roar away, endangering everyone in his path. And in most of those states where drivers' licensing systems have been established, the law is usually inadequate and prevents where the U. S. All John Gerien wants is a job that's safe. He tried out two jobs, but they were too hazardous. Old Lady Adventure stepped in and spoiled both of them for seyville, Ill., collecting arrowheads him. Now he's working at the safest job there is. That's and Indian relics found on the sur what John thinks. Well, after seeing what happened to him on his other jobs, maybe he's right in his own case. In the beginning John wasn't worried about safety. He hadn't even started thinking about it when he signed up in the year 1917 to learn the trade of ironworker. He worked at that until the summer of 1922, and that year found him roaming around on the gaunt, iron framework of a skyscraper in Newark, N. J.

Plunged From Fourteenth Floor.

John was on the fourteenth floor of that building. From where he stood he could look down clear to the cellar and see nothing but the large board that stuck out from each floor-boards that were there to set kegs of rivets on. He was looking at those boards just a few minutes before lunch time. Then the whistle blew and all hands ran for the lift to get down to the earth and eat.

John ran just a bit too fast this time. He missed his step and plunged over the side.

Down he went. At the thirteenth floor he passed one of those protruding boards. A large nail sticking out from the end of it caught him time or money," he said, "so I deon the jaw and ripped his face open clear to the temple. And then on cided to do some digging myself he went again.

St. Louis Doctor Pursues a Hobby and Unearths Important Data.

ST. LOUIS,-Dr. Paul F. Tittering ton, physician who made a hobby of archeology, in the last eight years has uncovered hundreds of prehistoric burial sites in the Middle West in an effort to satisfy a boyish urge "to collect things."

Doctor Titterington said he spent most of his time as a boy near Jerface. The desire remained with him as he grew older, however, and Jerseyville, about 16 miles above

Only about 40 per cent of the skeletons uncovered so far were those of babies or children. Doctor Titterington said. There were evidence of four violent deaths. Three of the skeletons had fractured skulls and an arrowhead was lodged in the vertebra of the fourth. Deposits on bones showed that rheumatism and dred dollars' worth is nothing for arthritis were prevalent. Condition of the teeth found in the skulls was proportionately worse with age.

For two weeks it was fine. John didn't mind jumping out of the wagon every 10 or 15 feet to run in with a bottle of milk because it gave him a chance to get his feet on the ground, and that was a swell, comforting feeling. He was having the time of his life until one day, when he was just finishing up, he pulled into the railroad yard to load his empty bottles on a freight car. Then, half way to the yards, one of the hitching straps broke. The horse bolted.

Says John: "Nothing was holding the wagon away from the horse. When I pulled on the reins to try to stop him, the wagon would run into him and that would make him run all the faster. We shot through traffic and into the freight yard, and as we came to the yard I could see that the crossing gates were down. If I let him go, he would crash through those gates and right into the path of a moving train."

For a minute, John thought of jumping. Then he ruled that out. In the first place, jumping wasn't such a safe trick with the horse streaking along at what must have been a 30-mile an hour speed. And in the second place, he couldn't quite see the justice of leaving that poor fearcrazed horse to dash to his death without trying his best to save him.

They were half way to the crossing gate then, but John took a chance, he climbed out on the front of the wagon and started talking to the horse. He had seen fear-crazed horses calmed down before by a few reassuring words, but this horse wasn't to be talked out of anything. He ran on, faster than ever.

Played His Last Trump Card.

John climbed back to the seat. That in itself was a feat. If you think it's any joke to move around in a wagon drawn by a runaway horse, just try it some time. John got back all right, but by the time he did, the horse was within 10 feet of the crossing. Then John played his last trump card. He dropped one rein, seized the other in both hands, and pulled with all his might.

The bit dug into the horse's mouth and turned her sharply to the right. The wagon swerved, skidded along on two wheels, and then over it went, dumping bottles all over the place, and dumping John out on top of the bottles.

John lay on the ground, out cold. He woke up in the hospital with two broken ribs and a broken arm. Milk wagon driving a safe job? Bolony!

Then John stopped fooling around and got himself a job that really was safe. And if you ever walk around a corner and run into a cop spending a quiet evening shooting it out with a bank robber or a stickup artist-well-maybe it's John. He's on the police force now. Copyright .- WNU Service

Bible Does Not Mention

Names of the 'Wise Men' The names of the "wise men from the East" who followed the star of the new-born Jesus to Jerusalem and Bethlehem are not given in the Bible. Neither does the Bible mention the number of wise men, nor their nationality. Early churchmen fixed the number at three, probably because the Biblical account mentions three gifts-gold, frankincense and myrrh, writes Flora MacFarland in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. A tradition as old as the Second century (resting on Psalms LXXII: 10, and Isaiah XLIX: 7) refers to the three wise men as kings, and at a later period the names Melchior, Epipheny.

Gaspar and Balthasar became attached to them. Melchior means "king of light," Gaspar, "the white treasures." The first king offered gold, the emblem of royalty; the second, frankincense, in token of divinity; and the third, myrrh, in prophetic allusion to the persecutions which awaited the Child. Many Bible scholars suppose the members of a priestly order of an- of convict rehabilitation. The "othcient Media and Persia. wing-collar statesmanship, he wanted to talk about shirt-sleeve newspapering. The latter allusion had to do with Hitchcock's Beanery, where shirt-sleeved waiters served ham and beans to printers, stereotypers, reporters, editors, and politicians, who mingled in a shirtsleeve forum which Mr. Stoddard hinks helped to galvanize the New York newspapers of that day-from 40 to 50 years ago.

Sixty-two years in newspapering, Mr. Stoddard is "up from the case, a printer on the New York Tribune, an ace political reporter and for 5 years owner and publisher of the New York Mail.

"It seems to me that every reporter ought to know the smell of printer's ink," he said. "The great newspaper of today, with all its marvelous efficiency, has lost something stimulating and vital in no longer having this mingling of the crafts. I remember that, at Hitchcock's, a slovenly reporter might be called down by one of those omniscient old-time printers, or perhaps it would be the other way about, with one of the newsmen berating the press room foreman, and asking him why he couldn't manage a decent make-ready.

and Versatility of Gelatin; Outlines Its Many Uses in the Diet By C. HOUSTON GOUDISS

WHEN we try to appraise the nutritional values of any one food in comparison with others, as a rule we have a difficult task. Most foodstuffs are composed of so many different substances that what is lacking in one will be supplied by another, and making comparisons may therefore be misleading as well as futile. But there is one food which is outstanding, not only because it is far less complex than

'Frequently, these sessions at Hitchcock's were a post-mortem on the paper, just after press time, in which any story of unusual distinction or a clean-cut news beat was sure to get a cheer, and quite as certainly any of us who had stubbed his toe was in for a raking over. My work has made me an observer of our efforts to establish true democracy in America. I have never attempted an exact definition of democracy, but, whatever it is, I am sure it was exemplified in this craft ideal of the old-time newspaper. Aspirin Should Study

Drop a Bayer Tablet in water-it starts to disintegrate in 2 seconds — hence is ready to "go to work" rapidly

This Quick Dissolving Property of Genuine Bayer Aspirin Explains Fast Relief

If you suffer with headaches or the pains of rheumatism or neuritis, keep the above picture about genuine Bayer Aspirin in your mind. Especially if quick relief is what you want.

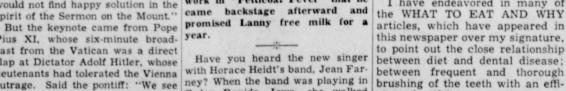

For the way a Bayer Tablet works in the glass is the way it works when you take it. It starts to dissolve almost at once - hence is ready to "take hold" of the rheumatic pain or headache with astonishing speed. Relief often comes in a few minutes.

Always ask for "BAYER Aspirin" -never ask for "aspirin" alone.

GOOD SERVICE IS SO IMPORTANT

IN A BANK

In a store you might be badly served by an inefficient clerk and still get good merchandise for your money.

But when you come to a bank to discuss a personal financial matter, unless the officer shows a sincere interest in you and tries to get a real understanding of your needs, you may get little or no help from your visit.

In this bank we try to offer you something more than safety and strength, and complete banking facilities. We make an earnest effort to be sincerely helpful and to serve you in ways which will be of real benefit to you.

His Record Speaks For Itself

Close cooperation between National and State administrations has accomplished much for the good of New Mexico. Let us keep that connection by placing in office men who are in sympathy with the program of our President.

He Understands

John E. Miles, candidate for Governor, understands the problems of the common citizen of this state, the value of schools, highways and health. He has the reputation, among those who know him, of having a better understanding of governmental administration than any man in New Mexico.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN J. DEMPSEY DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE FOR RE-ELECTION

Mr. Dempsey has been instrumental in bringing to New Mexico $70,000,000 of work projects including water conservation, road and school improvements. This, in addition to direct relief and other federal aid for this state. His personal friendship with President Roosevelt has enabled him to accomplish more for his state than any other member of Congress in proportion to population.
