It gives you a better standing and strengthens your credit.

The check book system is the safest, simplest and most convenient method of paying your bills.

To those desiring banking relations with a strong, careful and safe institution, we extend our services.

WE KNOW YOUR WANTS and WANT YOUR BUSINESS.

The Brady National Bank of Brady

GRAHAM IS CASHIER

Popular Brady National Man Will Manage the New State Bank Soon to Open in Brady.

The First State Bank & Trust Company will open its doors for business in the Gibbons corner building on the east side of the square some time in December. Workmen began this week making the necessary changes in the building to accommodate the new bank, the first thing being to put in a big vault. The building will be treated to a new recess front, while the south exposure will be remodeled to let in plenty of light and improve the general attractiveness of the place as a whole.

W. N. White will be president of the new bank, and S. S. Graham cashier. Both of these men are too well known to need any introduction to the people of the Brady Country. Mr. Graham has for many years been assistant cashier of the Brady National Bank, which position he resigns in order to accept this new work. The bank will have a capital stock of $50,000.00 and while its stockholders and board of directors have not yet been fully named, it is understood they will come from among the strongest and best business men of this locality. The order for new and modern fixtures and furniture has been placed, and Cashier Graham informs us that it is his expectation to get the business well under way before Christmas.

A cook stove is something you will not have to buy every day, and for that reason you should be careful in making a selection. We handle the National. They took the gold medal at the World's Fair in 1904, and if they were not the best stove on the market they certainly would not have been awarded the gold medal. Satterwhite & Martin.

Souther & Co. are selling Dairy Food, the best milk producer yet. Try some of it.

LIVE STOCK AT FAIR ANOTHER LARGE DEAL

Showing of Cattle, Horses, Sheep, Hogs and Chickens Was Very Fine at Brady's Fair.

The live stock department of the Brady Fair received slight attention at our hands last week because of so much other fair matter that had to be handled. But the live stock exhibit formed one of the biggest and best features of the fair. While there were not a large number of any class entered, yet the quality more than made up for the lack of quantity.

In the cattle pens were registered Herefords belonging to F. M. Richards which carried off first prizes at both Dallas and Fort Worth, also at San Antonio.

Mr. Richard's first prize two year old Hereford bull is a calf of the grand champion bull of the last two years at Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show, the second largest and most important live stock show in the United States. This bull's mother was also a prize winner. Other exhibitors in this class were E. E. Willoughby, W. M. Murphy and W. M. Bryson, and each had some very fine stuff and carried off premiums. These premium lists were published in this paper last week.

J. M. Robinson's showing of Red Polls was very fine. Mr. Robinson's herd embraces some of the best blood in America, and this popular breed is attracting more and more attention all the time. Mr. Robinson also showed some grades in the same breed that were very fine. Messrs. Huffman, Willoughby and Richards also showed grade stuff in Herefords. All these grades were extra good and to the novice could not be told from the registered stuff. This shows the advantage of using registered bulls and grading up one's herd.

Chas. Kothman, of Mason county, showed a carload of dehorned grade stuff, mixed Shorthorns and Herefords. His cattle attracted much attention and favorable comment.

In the horse line there were three imported stallions shown, besides home-bred stock of fine blood. Will Dutton showed some fine Shropshire sheep, and Messrs. Darley, Campbell and Abernathy carried off the honors on hogs. The chicken department was not well represented in numbers but what fowls were shown were of the best breeds and made a good showing.

The live stock exhibit as a whole served to show that this section has as good blood and breeds as can be found anywhere, which indicates that live stock growers hereabouts are alive to the importance of improving their stock.

That Frisco Contract.

No further news has been given out regarding the letting of the contracts for the Frisco construction work to Menardville. We learn that of the 17 miles which has been let only nine miles have been absolutely indicated by profile.

Brady Parties Sell the Green Ranch in Sutton County to Hallettsville Men for $75,000 Cash.

Messrs. C. H. Bradley and H. H. Sessions report the sale by C. S. Green, of Sonora, to Oscar and Frank Appelt, of Hallettsville, of the former's ranch in Sutton county, embracing 10,240 acres of land, 1000 head of cattle, 2000 goats, 140 horses, etc., the consideration being a little more than $75,000 in cash. The parties to the transaction will meet in San Antonio today to close up the deal.

The Appelts are substantial men and prominent young stockmen of South Texas, having just sold a big ranch in Jackson county. They are old friends of Mr. Bradley, and came out to Brady a week or two ago looking for a West Texas ranch. The purchase of the Green property followed. If the papers come up all right at San Antonio today the transfer will be made immediately and delivery of the ranch and stock will take place on the 20th inst. Mr. Bradley left yesterday for San Antonio.

County Judge Harvey Walker and C. C. House have formed a partnership for the practice of law and have offices in the Jones building on the south side. They will practice in all the courts of the state. Notary in office.

E. A. DAVIS (BIG DAVIS) RANCH

We are offering the Davis Ranch for sale, which consists of 10,000 acres of land, situated four miles south of Brady and is a very fine body of land—about half of it being fine farming land and the other half a fine proposition for stock farming, dairying, and for feeding cattle it is just the thing.

This ranch has about 1400 acres in farms and has about eight sections fenced with twenty wires and cross-fenced, making about four sections in each pasture, fenced absolutely hog, sheep, goat and wolf proof. Being well watered and well located, either of these four-section pastures will make a fine little ranch for anyone. We will sell any part of this land to suit purchaser and on very reasonable terms.

WHERE WOMEN ARE SUPREME.

Down in the Great Painted desert of Arizona the Hopi women do not vote, but they build the houses and they own them, too, and the children take the mother's and not the father's name. When a girl wants to get married she does not ask the man nor wait for him to ask her. She asks his mother, and we betide the young man who dares to refuse if his mother bids him marry. She builds a house for her husband and takes him in, ordering him to till the garden. Then anything that he raises that is stored in her house is hers. The men do all the religion and pass about half the month in ceremonials.

The Standard $1 per year.

LIMIT OF UNTRUSTFULNESS.

Alderman Frank L. Downing of New York was talking about his ordinance to make it a crime for chauffeurs to take out their masters' motor cars without leave. "So many accidents have accompanied these stolen rides," said Alderman Downing, "that the chauffeur has come to be regarded very skeptically. Of course, the great majority of chauffeurs are all right, but there is among them a small minority, a small working minority, which we must treat as a Hoboken grocer treats his trade. This grocer is a cash grocer only. If you ask him for credit he would say: 'No, sir; no, sir. I wouldn't even trust my own feelings.'"

THE LAST ACT.

Arriving at a Decision About Changing Its Ending.

By VIRGINIA BLAIR.

(Copyright, 1919, by Associated Literary Press.)

"You must give it a happy ending," said Miss Atherton. Carruthers looked at her gloomily. "Not unless you say 'Yes.'" "As if that had anything to do with it," said Miss Atherton scornfully. "It has everything to do with it," said Carruthers. "When I write a play I write as I feel. If I am sad the play will be sad, and if I am happy the ending will be happy. And I can't be happy as long as you persist in refusing me; hence I shall have to give my play a sad ending."

"Oh, well, then," Miss Atherton tossed her head, "end it any old way. But I won't play it if it doesn't suit me."

A week later he called her up. "It is finished," he said, "and you can read it at your leisure."

"Read it to me," she said and set the next afternoon. Carruthers found her alone and very beautiful in a violet erape house gown, with her dark hair braided with a gold ribbon.

"I want you to dress like that in the last act of my play," he said, "and carry violets. It will give the proper note of mourning."

"Then you have made it sad?" she demanded.

"Yes. The heroine is a naughty princess who spurns her lover all through the play, and in the end he finds another woman more gentle, more kind, and the princess is left alone in her haughtiness. That is why I want you to wear a purple gown."

"Oh!" said Miss Atherton somewhat faintly. When he came to the last act he saw that Miss Atherton was intensely interested. "But I don't think I am at all like that," she said indignantly as he finished.

"Who said you were?" he demanded. "I am writing of a princess in Egypt."

The color flamed into her face. "Of course, I had thought you had me in mind."

"I perceive," she replied, "that you and the princess have cer-

MISS ATHERTON'S EYES SNAPPED. Main characteristics in common, and that is why you would fit the part or the part would fit you. But the question now to decide is, 'Who shall take the part of the other woman?'"

"I believe you have spent more time on her than on the other woman," Miss Atherton said jealously.

Carruthers looked at her out of the corner of his eye. "I had thought of Miss Muir as your opposite. She would fit in, I think."

Miss Atherton's eyes snapped. "She isn't half as gentle as you might imagine."

"Dear lady," Carruthers remonstrated, "perhaps you are not a judge of gentleness."

"Oh, well!"—Miss Atherton laughed a little—"my temper isn't in good shape this morning. You'll have to forgive me if I criticize everything and everybody."

"What's wrong?" Carruthers asked solicitously.

"Everything," succinctly. "I've got to give up my apartment for one thing. Aunt Sarah has to go back to Pine Point, and I can't live alone."

"Of course not," Carruthers agreed promptly, "and you couldn't find a better time to marry me."

"Marry?" she came back at him. "An actress hasn't any right to marry."

"It depends upon the point of view," Carruthers stated. "Of course if you loved me—"

"Please don't talk of love," exclaimed Miss Atherton. "I have enough of it in my plays."

"To return to our mutton," said Carruthers calmly. "I shall give Miss Muir the part of the helpless heroine who so works on the sympathies of the scorned lover that he turns from the princess to her."

"You have made the ending happy for the other girl, then?"

"Yes; you can't pile sadness on too deeply."

"And the princess sits in the purple twilight, in a purple gown, with violets clutched in her two white hands, and moans, 'My lost love, alas!' or words to that effect. I can't see myself doing it," remonstrated Miss Atherton. "You've simply got to change that ending."

"But how?" questioned Carruthers. "Have another lover in the background for the gentle maiden and let the princess relent at the last minute. You can still keep her in the purple twilight and the purple gown, but you can have her lover at her feet, with the golden moon flooding them with light."

"But the princess wouldn't relent—not the kind of princess in the play."

"She might," Miss Atherton hesitated. "You know you can never tell just what a woman will do."

"Would you," Carruthers demanded eagerly—"would you relent?"

"I am not talking of myself," Miss Atherton told him coldly; "I am talking of the princess in the play."

Carruthers folded up his manuscript before he answered. "Then, positively, I shall not change the last act. I had thought of a better one than that of purple twilight and a lover at her feet. I had thought of the princess at dawn on the terrace, with a wreath of roses on her head, and coming toward her with outstretched hands was her lover, and the glory of the rising sun about them both."

"Beautiful!" broke in Miss Atherton. "We will have that."

"We will not have that," was the stubborn rejoinder. "As I have told you, I am not in a mood for happy endings."

"Oh, well, have your way, then," said Miss Atherton crossly.

During rehearsal Miss Atherton observed that Carruthers took especial pains with Miss Muir's part.

"You act as if she were the star," she remonstrated one day just before the last act.

"I like her part," he said. "It fits in with my ideal. I want the audience to realize what gentleness and sweetness may accomplish as against beauty and pride."

Before Miss Atherton could answer she was called for the last act.

She played it well, putting into it all the despair of a woman who, having scorned love, knows that she has lost that which she prizes most in the world.

Even in her street gown she made it effective, for with the violets against her lips she murmured: "I shall wear no other flowers. They are the flowers of mourning, and all my days I shall mourn—alone!"

As the last word came in a whisper she stared, unseeing, into space.

"Beautiful!" Carruthers told her when she came off. "Beautiful!"

"But I don't like it," she sobbed. "It makes me miserable to play it."

He took her to a quiet spot where they could talk. "Why should it make you miserable?" he asked.

"Because I want happiness," she answered, "in my play—and in my life, Carl."

She had never called him that. For a moment he stared at her. Then he cried, "You mean that you will?"

She smiled, but her lips were white.

"Yes. I want my life to have a happy ending, Carl."

"Dear heart," he whispered, "I will change the last act."

A clergyman writes: "Preventies, those little Candy Cold Cure Tablets, are working wonders in my parish. Preventies surely will check a cold, or the Grippe, in a very few hours. MANY TITLES OF NOBILITY. A lawsuit regarding the possession of 24 titles of nobility, which has lasted for a century, has been decided in Rome. By the decision of the court of cassation the 24 titles have been awarded to Sig. Baldassarre Caracciolo of Naples. Sig. Caracciolo will therefore be entitled to bear the title of prince, that of marquis, three titles of count and 18 distinct titles of baron. A twenty-fifth distinction which Sig. Caracciolo will receive is that of grandee of Spain of the first class.

CONSCIENTIOUS. "Is this horse a good goer?" queried the prospective purchaser.

"I'm not saying anything as to his going," replied the conscientious owner, "but he has great staying qualities."

West Side Building. The work of tearing down the old two-story frame building on the west side of the square is under way. B. J. Fitzgerald informs us that he will immediately begin the construction of a stone business house on the lot, which is 30x90 feet. A deal is under way by which it is hoped that Messrs. Crothers and Hughes, owners of the adjoining lots, will go in with Mr. Fitzgerald and build similar houses at the same time. We understand that the Fitzgerald house has already been rented to San Antonio parties who will put in a new dry goods store.

Tickling, tight Coughs, can be surely and quickly loosened with a prescription druggists are dispensing everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. It is so very, very different than common cough medicines. No opium, no chloroform, absolutely nothing harsh or unsafe. The tender leaves of a harmless, lung healing mountainous shrub, gives the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Remedy. Those leaves have the power to calm the most distressing cough and to soothe and heal the most sensitive bronchial membrane. Mothers should, for safety's sake alone, always demand Dr. Shoop's. It can with perfect freedom be given to even the youngest babies. Test it yourself and see! Sold by Central Drug Store.

For Sale Cheap. A practically new rubber tire, cut-under Runabout, new set harness and good family buggy horse. Can be had at a bargain. See Bourland Music Co., Brady, Texas.

It isn't so difficult to strengthen a weak stomach if one goes at it correctly. And this is true of the Heart and Kidneys. The old fashioned way of dosing the Stomach or stimulating the Heart or Kidneys is surely wrong! Dr. Shoop first pointed out this error. "Go to the weak or ailing nerves of these organs," said Dr. Shoop. Each inside organ has its controlling or "inside nerve". When these nerves fail then those organs must surely falter. This vital truth is leading druggists to where to dispense and recommend Dr. Shoop's Restorative. A few days' test will surely tell! Sold by Central Drug Store.

The Standard is equipped to print wedding announcements and invitations, ladies' calling cards, dance programs, etc., in the latest styles of type and stationery on short notice. When you need anything in this line it will be to your interest as well as our's to call on The Standard.

IF SICK--WHY PAY Unless Health First Returns. Here is what should and can be done! Now you would not willingly pay for food that was worthless—would you? Then why pay for medicine until that medicine first proves to you its actual worth? Positively knowing what Dr. Shoop's Restorative can do for the sick, I say to all "don't pay unless health first returns." And I back my Restorative with a signed and sealed 30 day "No Help, No Pay" contract.

I positively pledge to the sick everywhere that "Dr. Shoop's Restorative is absolutely free if it fails!" Let others do the same—or else pass their prescriptions by.

If you need more strength, more vitality, more vigor or more vim, use my Restorative a few days and note the immediate improvement.

When the Stomach, Heart, or Kidneys go wrong, then test Dr. Shoop's Restorative. I do not dose the Stomach nor stimulate the Heart or Kidneys, for that is wrong. You say I cast away that mistaken idea in medicine. The books below will best tell you how I am succeeding.

These books also tell of a tiny hidden "inside nerve," no larger than a silken thread. They tell how that nerve, until it fails, actually gives to the Heart its power, its tone, its never-ending action or impulse.

These books will open up new and helpful ideas to those who are not well. They tell how the Stomach, Heart, and Kidneys search for their "inside" or power nerves. They tell how the Restorative was especially made to reach and revitalize these weak or failing inside nerves. All of these facts tell why I am able to say, "It's free if it fails!"

This is why I say "take no chance on a medicine whose maker dare not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer."

So write me today for the order. I have appointed honest and responsible druggists in nearly every community to issue my medicines to the sick.

But write me first for the order. All druggists sell Dr. Shoop's Restorative, but all are not authorized to give the 30 day test. So drop me a line please—and thus save disappointment and delays. Tell me also which book you need.

A postal will do. Besides, you are free to consult me as you would your home physician. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost.

Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious doubt. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan. My best effort is surely worth your simple request, so write now while you have it fresh in mind, for tomorrow news comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

BRADY, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 4, 1909

VOTE FOR THE BONDS.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 9th, is the date for the school bond election, and The Standard wishes to try once more to impress upon our citizenship the necessity for the measure carrying.

The election is for the purpose of voting bonds to the amount of $15,000 with which to purchase site, build and equip a ward school building for Brady Independent School District. In another column will be found a communication from the School Board giving facts and figures which it is not necessary to repeat here, but which we earnestly hope every voter will read. Brady must have additional room and equipment in order to decently take care of her rapidly growing school interests. The present building is already crowded to its full capacity, and there will be an addition of more than a hundred to the enrollment before the holidays. More room must be provided and quickly. The School Board has figured out exactly how this can best be done with the available funds, and this election is the result of their most careful study and next generation. And remember, approved bonds will not increase the rate of taxation one cent.

Don't be afraid that the school board will build that new ward building away off in some man's pasture. They are all level headed men, citizens who have the best interests of the school always in view. As such you elected them, and as such you should always consider them, for such they are. They have not yet selected the site for the building, but The Standard is willing to trust to their judgment as to where it should be placed.

AND by the way, where is the market in Texas that can beat $32.50 on cotton seed? That's the Brady record for all last week.

"RAZORBACKS FROM BRADY."

When, oh when, will McCulloch county come into her own in the matter of producing hogs? The Standard is almost in despair. We have been preaching hogs right along, and we have been watching the Fort Worth market reports hoping to see an account of the sale of at least one load of McCulloch county hogs.

At last our watching has been rewarded, but cruel fate steps in and takes away all the glory and grade of the transaction. This is what the market report said: "Tops were $7.60 on hogs weighing 229 pounds. A load of razorbacks from Brady made $5."

Now ain't that awful? "Razorbacks from Brady!" The only satisfaction we can get out of that is the thought that if "Brady razorbacks" will sell for $5.00, a sure-enough, McCulloch county battleship hog would be sure to bring eight cents. And it's a great strain to assume even that cheerful a view of the situation.

THE rate of taxation will not be increased by the school bond election if it carries. Brady Independent School District is already carrying all the law allows—50 cents on the $100 valuation. The board has so planned that by issuing these bonds, a portion of this tax can thus be diverted to the purpose of building and equipping the much needed building. In no other manner can the building be had. Then vote the bonds and thus relieve the crowded condition of the public school.

BRADY takes a place among the leading cotton markets of the world, paying prices as high as the highest, and in some instances much higher. Brady buyers go the limit, and the cotton farmer wears the smile that won't rub off as he pockets in the neighborhood of $100 for his bale of cotton.

THE present prospects are that McCulloch county will have a bumper crop of small grain next year. Much land has already been sown, and some fields are already up and looking nice. There is a fine season in the ground for the purpose.

NOT A LEGAL 9-FOOT SHEET

Here's a good one on the Brownwood Bulletin: Dr. Bacon Saunders, who was among the physicians attending the District Medical Association held here last week, was complaining to a group of friends about the Brownwood hotels. "Those Brownwood people certainly gave us a swell reception," said Dr. Saunders, "but that hotel like to have froze me to death. All I had to cover with was one common bed sheet and a copy of the Brownwood Bulletin, and I am willing to take oath that both were illegal sheets according to the statutes governing legal bed coverings for hotel."

The Standard is inclined to the opinion that the particular copy of the Bulletin under which the doctor slept was printed during Will H. Mayes' trip to the National Editorial Convention. The Bulletin, when Mayes is at home, usually contains enough hot editorial stuff to keep a man warm all night.

The Abilene Fair, one of the oldest in this section, lost $1,500 this year. Last year was also a losing one, and the directors say unless the people of Abilene come to its rescue the property of the fair association will be sold for debt. Abilene can't afford to allow this, as the fair is a great benefit to that town.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The trouble with most county fairs is that they are not conducted on strict business principles. They generally give away in free passes all the profits which might accrue. The Brady

Fair Association made money last year and again this year, and the directors ascribe this to the fact that no complimentary tickets were issued. Even the President of the Fair Association had to pay his way into the grounds. By pursuing this policy the fair is self-sustaining and accumulates a little money every year, never asks any individual, firm or corporation for a donation and pays full price for everything it has to buy. The Abilene Fair probably gave away that $1500 it lost in complimentary tickets.

How Peanuts Pay.

It is very easy to write a pretty story showing big gains to be derived from the planting and growing of any crop, but it's a different thing when it comes to realizing on the crop. However, we have gleaned the following facts which you can rely on:

Mr. Albert Hoset planted 15 acres in peanuts on Mr. Parker's place this year, had a poor stand but sold 9,185 pounds of peanuts which brought $275.55. In addition to this he put up 392 bales of peanut hay, which would weigh about ten tons, worth $150. Add this to the amount received for the peanuts and the sum would be $425.55. It cost $50.60 to have the peanuts threshed and the hay baled, leaving $374.95 for growing and harvesting the crop, which is $25 per acre, lacking one-third of a cent. Remember that he had a poor stand and the seasons have been unfavorable. Peanuts pay.—Giddings News.

To the Public.

The livery business of Thompson & Co., The Brady Auto Co., and the auto business of Thompson & Co., have been all consolidated under the name of the Brady Auto Company. The garage will at once be enlarged to twice its size and a full line of automobile supplies will be kept always on hand and also a nice line of automobiles will soon be shipped in. The best efforts will be used to make it the biggest and most up-to-date concern in the West.

Messrs. D. F. Savage and J. E. Thompson will have the management of this concern with a paid up capital of $30,000 and surplus of $6,000. This promises to be quite an addition to the business interests of the town.

TREAT YOURSELF FAIRLY

And do not let a mere notion, or anyone else, persuade you that it is possible to make a better Disc Plow than the EMERSON STANDARD.

During the past six years we have sold about two hundred of them; and if that is not about a whole straw stack to show which way the wind blows as to sales of this Plow, then we don't know.

The EMERSON STANDARD is an easy seller, because it first almost convinces on sight that it ought to be good, and with a little showing on our part, the sale is made, and then a little later the "pleased purchaser" comes in and tells us all about it.

Certainly no man can go wrong in buying anything made by the Emerson Mfg. Co., from a double shovel plow to Standard Cultivators or Disc Plows.

To the Voters of the Independent School District, and to All Patrons, Citizens, and Friends of the Cause of Public Education in Brady.

Some six weeks ago the Board of Trustees, realizing the imperative demand for greater seating capacity in our public school, caused by the rapidly increasing attendance of pupils, called a mass meeting of patrons and citizens, to consider the best and most economical means of relieving the present congested condition.

Quite a number of representative patrons and citizens of the district answered this call. After discussing the present conditions and future requirements, they unanimously passed a resolution to the effect that another school building was absolutely essential, and they favored the erection of a good substantial stone or brick building, that would be a credit to the cause of public education in our midst, and commensurate with the material development of our ever growing and prosperous little city.

It was further resolved that the Board of Trustees exercise their best judgment in devising means to erect this building at the earliest possible date, and that the citizens of the district would see that the obligation would be met by the necessary tax as soon as legal conditions would permit. At that time it was contemplated by the board to borrow the necessary funds and proceed at once to erect a building in accordance with the expressed will of the people in a mass meeting assembled. But some legal complications arising, delay was caused by some correspondence with the Attorney General's Department. About this time a petition, signed by the requisite, legal number of qualified voters, was presented to the board, asking an order for an election authorizing the issuance of $15,000.00 of Brady Independent School bonds to defray the expenses of constructing the above mentioned school building. In accordance with this mandate, the Board has ordered an election to be held Nov. 9th, 1909, for this purpose.

Since the order for this election was issued, it is said that some of our citizens think it would be well to erect two school buildings at this time. While recognizing the public spirit which prompted this suggestion and however anxious we might be to comply with their wishes, understanding as we do our present financial condition, we do not think it expedient, or even business like, at this time to do so.

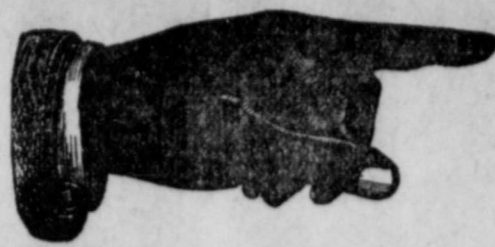

In the first place the contemplated building will meet all present requirements and furnish ample accommodations for a year or two, at least, depending largely upon the rapid influx of population during that time. In the second place, our financial ability will not justify the building of two without endangering most seriously our maintenance fund. All are aware of the fact that we cannot increase the present tax rate of 50 cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of all property in the district, this being the Constitutional limit for all purposes. This amount must maintain our school, discharge all present outstanding bonded indebtedness, and meet all future obligations. Will it do it? Suppose we investigate for a moment.

Present assessed valuation of all property in district $1,250,916.00
 One-half of one per cent. of $1,250,916 gives an income of $6,254.58
 State and county apportionment for this scholastic year $3,956.00
 Average annual income from private tuition is $360.00

Total $10,570.58

Now let us compare total income with the annual expense account:

	1909-10	ADDITIONAL 1910-11	TOTAL 1910-11

PRICE, 50 CENTS Per Bottle.

BALLARD SNOW LINIMENT CO., Sole Proprietors, ST. LOUIS

It does not require an expert accountant, or one familiar with high finance, to see that there will be a difference for all purposes of $3650.00, or requiring an additional valuation of $730,000 above the present valuations, or an increase of over 50 per cent. This you can readily see by deducting the State and County fund and the funds obtained by private tuition as is shown from the above statement, which is $4316.00, which will leave a balance to be raised from the special tax of $9269.00 or a valuation equivalent to $1,853,800.00 or an increase of a little over $600,000 in valuations, for the school year 1910-11 more than we have for the school year 1909-10.

Now will any of us let our personal ideas, or opinions, or our personal interests get between us and our duty to the school? Examine yourself and see if you have the interest of our school and the education of our children at heart, when you even think of opposing the bond issue to be voted on the 9th of this month.

Have you any substantial reason for opposing it that is not purely personal? Some might say for the board to "build a cheap building, or build one of wood, or merely a frame building." Do you want the school board to put up only a temporary arrangement or some frame structure? Why not be broad minded and progressive enough to construct a building that will be a credit to our town, and that will meet the necessities and requirements as they now exist.

Do you want the board to be placed in a position where they will be compelled to accept any kind of a bid or contract to construct a building simply because the bid is a cheap one? One that the contractors will rob the workman out of his wages, as was done in the construction of present building? Certainly not. You want the board to be in a position to accept or reject, any and all bids, if they think proper, and to be in that position they must have sufficient funds.

We challenge any one to show us a decent building, or plans for a decent building that can be constructed for less than $10,000 or $12,000. We are all aware that our present building was constructed at the expense of several thousand dollars to parties furnishing material and to workmen who lost their wages.

Will any one be so full of personal interests as to want to take sides on this question, or to divide up into factions? If so we ask that you only stop for one moment's reflection and then we think you will get right and be a pusher for the bond issue. The board is not taking sides on this matter, neither are we consulting any special interests or person, but are doing exactly what we think is the proper thing for the school and the only reasonable position in the matter and acting from a purely unselfish standpoint and for the best interest of the school and the upbuilding of the educational interests of Brady.

We certainly feel that we are appealing to the intelligence of our people and to the unbiased minds of all, who are anxious for the upbuilding of our public school, the greatest investment we have.

Does anyone for a moment think of taking a step backward? Surely not. Then let us all put our shoulders to the wheel for the upbuilding of our school and let us push and pull together.

BRADY, TEXAS, NOVEMBER 4, 1909

VOTE FOR THE BONDS.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 9th, is the date for the school bond election, and The Standard wishes to try once more to impress upon our citizenship the necessity for the measure carrying.

The election is for the purpose of voting bonds to the amount of $15,000 with which to purchase site, build and equip a ward school building for Brady Independent School District. In another column will be found a communication from the School Board giving facts and figures which it is not necessary to repeat here, but which we earnestly hope every voter will read. Brady must have additional room and equipment in order to decently take care of her rapidly growing school interests. The present building is already crowded to its full capacity, and there will be an addition of more than a hundred to the enrollment before the holidays. More room must be provided and quickly. The School Board has figured out exactly how this can best be done with the available funds, and this election is the result of their most careful study and deliberation. And remember, bonds will not increase the rate of taxation one cent.

DON'T be afraid that the school board will build that new ward building away off in some man's pasture. They are all level headed men, citizens who have the best interests of the school always in view. As such you elected them, and as such you should always consider them, for such they are. They have not yet selected the site for the building, but The Standard is willing to trust to their judgment as to where it should be placed.

AND by the way, where is the market in Texas that can beat $32.50 on cotton seed? That's the Brady record for all last week.

"RAZORBACKS FROM BRADY."

When, oh when, will McCulloch county come into her own in the matter of producing hogs? The Standard is almost in despair. We have been preaching hogs right along, and we have been watching the Fort Worth market reports hoping to see an account of the sale of at least one load of McCulloch county hogs.

At last our watching has been rewarded, but cruel fate steps in and takes away all the glory and grandeur of the transaction. This is what the market report said: "Tops were $7.00 on hogs weighing 229 pounds. A load of razorbacks from Brady made $5."

Now ain't that awful? "Razorbacks from Brady!" The only satisfaction we can get out of that is the thought that if "Brady razorbacks" will sell for $5.00, a sure-enough, McCulloch county battleship hog would be sure to bring eight cents. And it's a great strain to assume even that cheerful a view of the situation.

THE rate of taxation will not be increased by the school bond election if it carries. Brady Independent School District is already carrying all the law allows—50 cents on the $100 valuation. The board has so planned that by issuing these bonds, a portion of this tax can thus be diverted to the purpose of building and equipping the much needed building. In no other manner can the building be had. Then vote the bonds and thus relieve the crowded condition of the public school.

BRADY takes a place among the leading cotton markets of the world, paying prices as high as the highest, and in some instances much higher. Brady buyers go the limit, and the cotton farmer wears the smile that won't rub off as he pockets in the neighborhood of $100 for his bale of cotton.

THE present prospects are that McCulloch county will have a bumper crop of small grain next year. Much land has already been sown, and some fields are already up and looking nice. There is a fine season in the ground for the purpose.

NOT A LEGAL 9-FOOT SHEET

Here's a good one on the Brownwood Bulletin: Dr. Bacon Saunders, who was among the physicians attending the District Medical Association held here last week, was complaining to a group of friends about the Brownwood hotels. "Those Brownwood people certainly gave us a swell reception," said Dr. Saunders, "but that hotel like to have froze me to death. All I had to cover with was one common bed sheet and a copy of the Brownwood Bulletin, and I am willing to take oath that both were illegal sheets according to the statutes governing legal bed coverings for hotel."

The Standard is inclined to the opinion that the particular copy of the Bulletin under which the doctor slept was printed during Will H. Mayes' trip to the National Editorial Convention. The Bulletin, when Mayes is at home, usually contains enough hot editorial stuff to keep a man warm all night.

The Abilene Fair, one of the oldest in this section, lost $1,500 this year. Last year was also a losing one, and the directors say unless the people of Abilene come to its rescue the property of the fair association will be sold for debt. Abilene can't afford to allow this, as the fair is a great benefit to that town.—Brownwood Bulletin.

The trouble with most county fairs is that they are not conducted on strict business principles. They generally give away in free passes all the profits which might accrue. The Brady

Fair Association made money last year and again this year, and the directors ascribe this to the fact that no complimentary tickets were issued. Even the President of the Fair Association had to pay his way into the grounds. By pursuing this policy the fair is self sustaining and accumulates a little money every year, never asks any individual, firm or corporation for a donation and pays full price for everything it has to buy. The Abilene Fair probably gave away that $1500 it lost in complimentary tickets.

How Peanuts Pay.

It is very easy to write a pretty story showing big gains to be derived from the planting and growing of any crop, but it's a different thing when it comes to realizing on the crop. However, we have gleaned the following facts which you can rely on:

Mr. Albert Hoset planted 15 acres in peanuts on Mr. Parker's place this year, had a poor stand but sold 9,185 pounds of peanuts which brought $275.55. In addition to this he put up 292 bales of peanut hay, which would weigh about ten tons, worth $150. Add this to the amount received for the peanuts and the sum would be $425.55. It cost $50.60 to have the peanuts threshed and the hay baled, leaving $374.95 for growing and harvesting the crop, which is $25 per acre, lacking one-third of a cent. Remember that he had a poor stand and the seasons have been unfavorable. Peanuts pay.—Giddings News.

To the Public.

The livery business of Thompson & Co., The Brady Auto Co., and the auto business of Thompson & Co., have been all consolidated under the name of the Brady Auto Company. The garage will at once be enlarged to twice its size and a full line of automobile supplies will be kept always on hand and also a nice line of automobiles will soon be shipped in. The best efforts will be used to make it the biggest and most up-to-date concern in the West.

Messrs. D. F. Savage and J. E. Thompson will have the management of this concern with a paid up capital of $30,000 and surplus of $8,000. This promises to be quite an addition to the business interests of the town.

Some Good Reasons.

There are many reasons why the people prefer to trade with J. F. Schaeg. First, he uses nothing but the best materials in the construction of his goods. Second, he employs none but expert workmen. Third, he employs no crooked methods. He calls superior saddles good, and inferior harness bad. Yours for a square deal, west side square.

TREAT YOURSELF FAIRLY

And do not let a mere notion, or anyone else, persuade you that it is possible to make a better Disc Plow than the EMERSON STANDARD.

During the past six years we have sold about two hundred of them; and if that is not about a whole straw stack to show which way the wind blows as to sales of this Plow, then we don't know.

The EMERSON STANDARD is an easy seller, because it first almost convinces on sight that it ought to be good, and with a little showing on our part, the sale is made, and then a little later the "pleased purchaser" comes in and tells us all about it.

Certainly no man can go wrong in buying anything made by the Emerson Mfg. Co., from a double shovel plow to Standard Cultivators or Disc Plows.

To the Voters of the Independent School District, and to All Patrons, Citizens, and Friends of the Cause of Public Education in Brady.

Some six weeks ago the Board of Trustees, realizing the imperative demand for greater seating capacity in our public school, caused by the rapidly increasing attendance of pupils, called a mass meeting of patrons and citizens, to consider the best and most economical means of relieving the present congested condition.

Quite a number of representative patrons and citizens of the district answered this call. After discussing the present conditions and future requirements, they unanimously passed a resolution to the effect that another school building was absolutely essential, and they favored the erection of a good substantial stone or brick building, that would be a credit to the cause of public education in our midst, and commensurate with the material development of our ever growing and prosperous little city.

It was further resolved that the Board of Trustees exercise their best judgment in devising means to erect this building at the earliest possible date, and that the citizens of the district would see that the obligation would be met by the necessary tax as soon as legal conditions would permit. At that time it was contemplated by the board to borrow the necessary funds and proceed at once to erect a building in accordance with the expressed will of the people in a mass meeting assembled. But some legal complications arising, delay was caused by some correspondence with the Attorney General's Department. About this time a petition, signed by the requisite, legal number of qualified voters, was presented to the board, asking an order for an election authorizing the issuance of $15,000.00 of Brady Independent School bonds to defray the expenses of constructing the above mentioned school building. In accordance with this mandate, the Board has ordered an election to be held Nov. 9th, 1909, for this purpose.

Since the order for this election was issued, it is said that some of our citizens think it would be well to erect two school buildings at this time. While recognizing the public spirit which prompted this suggestion and however anxious we might be to comply with their wishes, understanding as we do our present financial condition, we do not think it expedient, or even business like, at this time to do so.

In the first place the contemplated building will meet all present requirements and furnish ample accommodations for a year or two, at least, depending largely upon the rapid influx of population during that time. In the second place, our financial ability will not justify the building of two without endangering most seriously our maintenance fund. All are aware of the fact that we cannot increase the present tax rate of 50 cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of all property in the district, this being the Constitutional limit for all purposes. This amount must maintain our school, discharge all present outstanding bonded indebtedness, and meet all future obligations. Will it do it? Suppose we investigate for a moment.

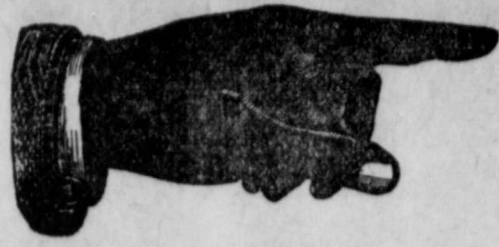

Present assessed valuation of all property in district $1,250,916.00
 One-half of one per cent. of $1,250,916 gives an income of $6,254.58
 State and county apportionment for this scholastic year $3,956.00

PRICE, 50 CENTS Per Bottle.

BALLARD SNOW LINIMENT CO., Sole Proprietors, ST. LOUIS

It does not require an expert accountant, or one familiar with high finance, to see that there will be a difference for all purposes of $3650.00, or requiring an additional valuation of $730,000 above the present valuations, or an increase of over 50 per cent.

This you can readily see by deducting the State and County fund and the funds obtained by private tuition as is shown from the above statement, which is $4316.00, which will leave a balance to be raised from the special tax of $9230.00 or a valuation equivalent to $1,853,800.00 or an increase of a little over $600,000 in valuations, for the school year 1910-11 more than we have for the school year 1909-10.

Now will any of us let our personal ideas, or opinions, or our personal interests get between us and our duty to the school?

Examine yourself and see if you have the interest of our school and the education of our children at heart, when you even think of opposing the bond issue to be voted on the 9th of this month.

Have you any substantial reason for opposing it that is not purely personal?

Some might say for the board to "build a cheap building, or build one of wood, or merely a frame building." Do you want the school board to put up only a temporary arrangement or some frame structure? Why not be broad minded and progressive enough to construct a building that will be a credit to our town, and that will meet the necessities and requirements as they now exist.

Do you want the board to be placed in a position where they will be compelled to accept any kind of a bid or contract to construct a building simply because the bid is a cheap one? One that the contractors will rob the workman out of his wages, as was done in the construction of present building? Certainly not. You want the board to be in a position to accept or reject, any and all bids, if they think proper, and to be in that position they must have sufficient funds.

We challenge any one to show us a decent building, or plans for a decent building that can be constructed for less than $10,000 or $12,000. We are all aware that our present building was constructed at the expense of several thousand dollars to parties furnishing material and to workmen who lost their wages.

Will any one be so full of personal interests as to want to take sides on this question, or to divide up into factions? If so we ask that you only stop for one moment's reflection and then we think you will get right and be a pusher for the bond issue.

The board is not taking sides on this matter, neither are we consulting any special interests or person, but are doing exactly what we think is the proper thing for the school and the only reasonable position in the matter and acting from a purely unselfish standpoint and for the best interest of the school and the upbuilding of the educational interests of Brady.

We certainly feel that we are appealing to the intelligence of our people and to the unbiased minds of all, who are anxious for the upbuilding of our public school, the greatest investment we have.

Does anyone for a moment think of taking a step backward? Surely not. Then let us all put our shoulders to the wheel for the upbuilding of our school and let us push and pull together.

THE HIPPOPOTAMUS.

How the Animal Is Captured Alive in the Sudan.

There is a vast difference between the hunter who kills for pleasure and the hunter whose business it is to capture his quarry alive. How live hippopotamuses are secured is particularly interesting. Two methods are resorted to.

The so-called hawati, or water hunters, of the Sudan, all of whom are excellent and daring swimmers, harpoon their victims at the noon hour, when they are sunk in deep slumber. Then they pull them to the bank by means of a cord attached to the harpoon and there make them fast. The hunters use for this a special kind of harpoon, made in such a way that it does not make a deep wound. Fully three-quarters of the hippopotamuses exhibited in Europe have been captured in this way.

Hippopotamus hunts are also conducted on land. There advantage is taken of the fact that the female hippopotamus makes her young walk in front of her. The reason for this is that the beast, being well protected in the rear by its abnormally thick skin, prefers to have its offspring in front, where it can guard them better against danger. But in spite of its affection for its children the mother hippo has no particular desire to meet danger when it comes. So the hunters dig large pits in the forest, cover them over until they are fully concealed and then lie in wait near by. Presently a female hippopotamus comes along with her child trotting before her. Suddenly, without warning, the young one disappears before its mother's eyes. This is too much for the old animal. She dashes away, leaving the little one at the mercy of its enemies. —Wide World Magazine.

CIRCUS PERFORMERS.

The Real Dangers With Which They Are Concerned.

The individual point of view of the circus performer toward his work is full of surprises. Rarely if ever is he worried over the things that the audience imagines make him uneasy and never about his own equipment of nerve, muscle and judgment.

The bareback rider worries about his horse, for the slightest deviation from the animal's customary course and gait ruins a harmony between horse and rider, upon which depends the success and even the life of the performer. The man on the trapeze is not at all disturbed at being so high up in the air. The higher up he is the more security he feels that in case of accident he will have time enough instinctively to twist his body into the right position for falling into the net. What worries him most is the fear of some unsuspected weakness in his apparatus.

The animal trainer is more afraid of an accidental scratch from a good natured but blood poisoning claw than of any actual conflict with an angry animal. More than that, he has a real affection for his animals and dislikes the stern necessity of punishing them. The very clown is not so much pleased by the laughter of his audience as disturbed by the thought that it quite fails to appreciate the time and care he has expended in working out the details of his humorous contribution. —Ralph Bergengren in Atlantic.

Likewise Mistaken.

A small boy was fishing on Sunday morning. He had a basket of fish alongside of him. A clergyman happened to see him and, going over to where he was busily watching the bob, said:

"You naughty, cruel boy! Don't you know that it is a sin to fish on the Sabbath? Besides the sin, think of the cruelty of it—taking the poor little worm out of the ground and sticking that nasty sharp hook through its body."

"That ain't no worm. That's an artificial fly," answered the boy.

"Ah, I was mistaken," said the preacher.

"So were these fish," said the boy, picking up the basket and showing them to the clergyman. —New York Sun.

After Hours.

Some years ago on a day set apart for humiliation and prayer a manufacturer offered to pay his workmen their wages on condition that they attended church. To this they readily agreed.

Shortly before evening service one of the employees called at his employer's residence and told the servant he wished "to see the master."

"Now, Jack, what do you want?"

"Well, sor, me and ma myets hev been taaking the thing over, and we'd like to knae if we can to church the next do we get overtime for?" —London Spare Moments.

Her Mind Easy.

"I hear you are going to Australia with your husband, Kitty," said the mistress. "Aren't you nervous about the long voyage?"

"Well, ma'am," said Kitty calmly, "that's his lookout. I belong to him now, and if anything happens to me it'll be his loss, not mine." —London Mail.

A REAL ESTATE EXPERT.

His Right to the Title Not Shaken by Cross Examination.

The late Mr. N. J. Bradlee was summoned to appear as an expert on real estate in Boston some years ago in a lawsuit over the value of certain property. The lawyer on the other side, not knowing Mr. Bradlee, undertook to counteract his testimony. In the cross examination the questions and answers were somewhat as follows:

"What did you say your business was, Mr. Bradlee?" began the lawyer. "Well, I have charge of a good many trusts, mostly real estate," said Mr. Bradlee. "How much real estate have you ever had charge of at one time?" "Well, I don't think I can say exactly." "But how much should you guess?" "I couldn't even guess." "Well, sir, would you say it was $5,000 worth?" "I should put it as high as that, certainly." "Would you put it as high as $10,000?" "Yes." "Fifteen thousand?" "Yes." "Twenty-five thousand?" "Yes." "Fifty thousand?" "Yes." "A hundred thousand?" "Yes." "Five hundred thousand?" "Yes." "A million?" "Yes." "Well, how many millions?" roared the astonished lawyer, who only now began to discover that he had caught a tartar. "Well," said Mr. Bradlee very coolly, "I told you at the start I couldn't say, but since you insist on it I will roughly estimate it at say a hundred millions." "You may stand down," said the attorney, who was soon nonsuited. —Argonaut.

DIMINUTIVE FARMS.

Those in Portugal Have Been Cut Up Into Very Small Portions.

The Portuguese are an extremely conservative people. Every one follows rigidly the methods employed by his father and forefathers. In many parts of the country the old wooden plows are still used.

When a man dies, instead of one of the heirs taking the whole property and paying the remaining heirs for their parts, the whole property is divided into as many parts as there are heirs. More than this, each separate part of the property is thus divided.

Thus, if a property consisted of ten acres of pasture land, eighty of vineyard and ten of grain land and there were ten heirs, each heir would receive one acre each of grain and pasture land and eight acres of vineyard. This process has been going on for a very long time, so that now in the most fertile part of Portugal the land is divided into incredibly small portions.

The immediate result of this, according to the United States consular reports, is that the product of the land is barely sufficient at best to sustain its owners. South of the river Tagus, on the other hand, there are enormous tracts of excellent land lying unused, but it has been found impossible to induce the farmers of the north to move into this region and take up large holdings.

Inherited.

"I entertained some friends at dinner the other night at a well known hotel in Boston," said a New Yorker, just returned from the Hub, "and was served by an ebony giant on whom lampblack would make a white mark. It is the custom at that particular hostelry for the waiters to write their own orders. Upon receiving my bill I could scarcely check the items. The spelling bore no similarity to any other under the sun.

"Sam," I said, "this is the worst spelling I ever saw," and added facetiously, "where did you learn to spell?"

"Without moving a muscle Sam replied courteously, 'I reckon, boss, I must have inherited it from my ancestors."

"The laugh being on me, Sam got an extra tip." —New York Times.

General Washington on Looting. Headquarters, Sept. 6, 1776.—The Gen'l is resolved to put a stop to Plundering or converting Publick or Private Property to their own Use when taken off or found by any Soldier, he therefore calls upon all the Men to exert themselves against it, and if the Coll. or other Officers of Reg'ts see or know of any Horses, furniture, Merchandise and such other Property in the hands of any Officer or Soldier and does not immediately take hold of it, giving immediate notice of it to their Brigadier Gen'l, such Officers will be deemed a Party, brought to Court Martial & broke with Infamy. For let it ever be Remembered that no Plundering Army was ever a Successful one. —From General Washington's Personal Order Book in Journal of American History.

To Public.

The young lady, with her fiance, was awaiting a street car. After several cars had passed and they could not get aboard the young man became impatient. When the next car stopped at the corner he leaped upon the platform and said in pleading terms, "Come on, Mary; we can manage to squeeze in here, can't we?" The young woman colored slightly, but bravely replied, "I suppose we can, dear, but don't you think we had better wait until we get home?" —Buffalo Commercial.

A Protest.

Dolly—We had to practice Chopin for three hours today, mamma. Mrs. Parvenoo—Really, my dear, shoppin' is all very well, but your papa sent you to the ladies' academy to learn music an' that sort o' thing. —London Mail.

The very act of life, so far as I have been able to observe, consists in fortitude and perseverance. —Sir Walter Scott.

AN UNCERTAIN RIVER.

The Indus Has a Bad Habit of Changing Its Channel.

The river Indus in width during the year may vary by miles. Traffic for long distances cannot be guaranteed because the ever shifting channel throws up mud flats and sand banks here and overwhelms good land there in a manner which defeats the wisdom of the ancient boatmen.

With the Indus, too, it is not merely a question of land or water. There is always a gamble as to the kind of land which the river will recede from. In one place it will leave magnificent soil ready at once to take a splendid crop of wheat even if the winter rains, as is too often the case, amount to nothing. In another the greater moisture will only allow leguminous plants of country peas and pulses. In the dampest ooze of depressions a plant called shamuka is produced, of little value save as fodder, but beautiful with its bright green color and excellent to the sportsman as an attraction to flocks of gray and bar headed geese. Other lands again will grow nothing but long reeds and low tamarisk scrub. These, if properly placed in the neighborhood of fields, have their value as preserves for black partridges and hare, but for utilitarian purposes can only provide materials for hunting or at best give employment to the makers of fan handles; but, alas, there is the possibility that in the place of soil—good, bad or indifferent—sand only may be thrown up, and the Indus has a bad reputation for the amount of sand it carries. Native lore gives the river the title of "file de jole." —Allahabad Pioneer.

THE FIRST STEAMSHIPS.

Screw Propellers Did Not Come Into Use Until 1850.

"We are prone to smile at the archaic prototypes of our modern steamships," writes Gustav H. Schwab in Harper's Weekly, "at their diminutive size, their clumsy build, their huge paddle boxes and their single slender smoke pipe, but we do not stop to think of the few brave men of those days who, undaunted by the opposition and ridicule of most of their fellows, persisted in their efforts to supplant sail by steam and who finally by sheer pluck and perseverance succeeded in these efforts."

The Savannah, which crossed the Atlantic in 1819, was a full rigged packet ship to which had been added a small one cylinder steam engine turning two paddle wheels, which were set in motion in smooth water when the wind failed. For two-thirds of the way across the Savannah depended solely upon her sails. In 1833 the Royal William made the passage in twenty-five days, under steam the whole way. In 1837 the Great Western was constructed, but her unusual length of 230 feet gave rise to many apprehensions as to her safety. The first screw steamship was built in 1850, and eight years later the Bremen made the passage in fifteen days. In 1862 the Scotia cut down the time from Queenstown to less than nine days. From that time on the record has been gradually reduced.

Pins.

Queen Catherine obtained pins from France, and in 1543 an act was passed "That no person shall put to sale any pinnes but only such as shall be double headed and have the heads soldered fast to the shank of the pinnes, well smoothed, the shank well shapen, the points well round filed, cauted and sharpened."

At this time most pins were made of brass, but many were also made of iron, with a brass surface. France sent a large number of pins to England until about the year 1626. In this year one John Tilshy started pinmaking in Gloucestershire. So successful was his venture that he soon had 1,500 persons working. These pins made at Stroud were held in high repute. In 1636 pinmakers combined and founded a corporation. The industry was carried on at Bristol and Birmingham, the latter becoming the chief center. —London Standard.

How Mandarins Rank.

Mandarins in China may be distinguished by the birds which decorate their uniforms as well as by their buttons. Mandarins of the first rank have a bird known as the fung embroidered on their clothes. Mandarins of the second rank have their robes adorned by the figure of a cock. Mandarins of the third rank have a peacock. Mandarins of the fourth rank are adorned with a pelican. Those of the fifth rank are easily distinguished by the silver pheasant, those of the sixth rank are favored by a stork, mandarins of the seventh rank have a partridge, mandarins of the eighth rank quail and mandarins of the ninth rank the humble sparrow.

Enforced the Rules.

Museum Attendant—You'll please leave your umbrella or cane at the door, sor. Visitor—Very proper regulation. But it happens I have neither. Attendant—Then go and get wan. No one is allowed to enter unless he laves his umbrella or cane at the door. You may read the card for yourself, sor.—London Tit-Bits.

Diplomacy.

"You persuaded your husband to join a glee club?" "Yes," answered Mrs. Higgins; "when he starts to sing at home I can now advise him not to tire his voice, and when he sings in the club I can't hear him." —Washington Star.

The asp borrows poison from the viper. —Latin Proverb.

The Value of Good Digestion

Is easy to figure if you know what your stomach is worth. Kodol keeps the stomach at par value, by insuring good digestion. Kodol cures Dyspepsia.

Kodol insures good digestion by absolutely duplicating Nature's normal process, in perfectly digesting all food taken into the stomach.

While Kodol is doing this, the stomach is resting—and becoming strong and healthy. A strong and healthy stomach guarantees a sound and active brain.

The man with a sound stomach—a stomach that is doing for the body just what Nature intended it to do—is the man who is always prepared for any emergency. He is "there with the goods."

The man with a sick stomach, is a man sick all over. When the stomach is irritated by undigested food, the blood and heart are directly affected. Then dullness, unnatural sleepiness, sick-headaches, vertigo and fainting spells, and even serious brain trouble develop. Kodol will prevent these.

Spurring the stomach and brain to special effort by "tonics" and "stimulants" doesn't cure anything, or accomplish any good. Neither does dieting. Indigestion and the serious ailments which it induces can be averted and corrected only by natural means.

Kodol supplies this natural means. It performs the stomach's work for it—just as the stomach should perform it—while the stomach takes a little rest, "for the stomach's sake."

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a dollar bottle. Then after you have used the entire contents of the bottle if you can honestly say that it has not done you any good, return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question or delay. We will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 24 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

The Big Holler.

Once a certain Genius who thought that the Moon was inhabited proposed that at a certain moment on a certain night every man, woman and child on earth should holler just as loud as possible, so that the Man in the Moon might hear the sound and know that he had neighbors.

Everybody said it was a Fine Idea. Everybody agreed to holler with a big H. For a month in advance everybody practiced lung exercises, so as to cultivate the Biggest Holler possible. Everybody was sure that the Moon Man couldn't help but hear the Vast Volume of Vociferation.

The Eventful Night arrived. The Moon Man was looking down through a cloudless sky. Everybody on earth drew in two large lungfuls of air and got ready for the Big Holler. The Mighty Moment came at last!!!

Silence! Absolute silence! It was the silentest moment since the morning stars first sang together.

When the returns came in it was known that only one man, a negro in Darkest Africa, hollered, and one woman in Oshkosh, Wis., who was so excited that she just couldn't help it, let out a faint hysterical shriek.

Everybody else had kept Mum in order to hear the Big Holler that all the others were going to make.

But nobody made the holler because they all waited for the other fellows to do it—all except the African, who had no curiosity, and the Oshkosh lady, who had hysterics.

And the Man in the Moon just laughed!

It was enough to make a comat splutter, for it revealed a very amusing trait in human nature.

You will find lots of people right here in this community who refuse to join in the Big Holler because they want to get the full benefit of the holler when the other people make it. Sometimes by making a Big Holler all at once we might get a new factory located here, but when 999 men stand around, each waiting for all the others to do the hollering, and only one man hollers, the man looking for a factory site doesn't hear any sound.

If it takes a Big Holler to get what we want, every fellow must lend a lung.

This is not just a funny story. It is Full of Philosophy. It ought to set you thinking.

MORAL: Now's the time for the Big Holler!

Mister Brown Of Shopless Town

Behold a man of Shopless Town; His name is Obadiah Brown. He says the town does not improve, But runs along its ancient groove. He'd like to see it spread and grow, And yet he does not help, you know. No wonder, Obadiah Brown, This home of yours is Shopless Town!

Creamery Is Assured.

Mr. Quinn, the creamery promoter, informs The Standard just before going to press that the stock for the creamery has been nearly all taken and that the success of the enterprise is practically assured. The stock is being taken by some of Brady's best men, and the matter will probably be finally closed up today or tomorrow.

It is earnestly desired that the farmers living within ten or twelve miles of town meet at the courthouse Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, the purpose of the meeting being to get sufficient cows pledged to support the creamery. Let every farmer who reads this try and be present. It costs you nothing; in fact, it means to the farmer another source of revenue.

Most women are troubled with kidney complaint, and you know very many serious and even fatal diseases result from these neglected kidney troubles. If you will take DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills as directed, you may be confident of good results. Try them and see how really good they are. Beware of imitations; pills that are intended to deceive you. Be sure you get DeWitt's. Sold by Central Drug Store.

To the Voters.

The Standard is requested to announce to the voters of Brady Independent School District that it is not necessary for a man to be owner of real estate in order to vote in the school bond election next Tuesday. Any citizen of the district who has paid his poll tax and who has been assessed for taxes this year on any kind of personal property may vote on the measure.

New Coal Discovery.

A. M. Finlay, of Fife, made The Standard a pleasant call Tuesday and reported the discovery of a new vein of coal about a mile and a half northwest of Fife on land belonging to his brother, Robert Finlay. A Mexican while digging a well, at a depth of 27 feet struck a vein of coal 47 inches thick. The quality is said to be better than previous finds in that section, and preparations are being made to utilize the find.

There is no shadow of doubt but that the northern section of McCulloch county is underlaid with fine veins of good coal, and it is only a matter of months until the field will be operated. With a railroad from that direction into Brady there would be something doing for the old town, and for the county at large.

The yield of bargains now is generous. The prices we are making on our mammoth stock of furniture has produced the results we expected. O. D. Mann & Sons.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tipton brightened up the editorial parsonage last Friday with one of the most beautiful bouquets of roses we have ever seen. Mr. and Mrs. Tipton are seemingly rose-growing experts, and have perhaps the finest collection of fine rose plants in the city. In the bouquet presented The Standard were no less than eight or ten different varieties and each rose was perfect. The Standard sees more evidence every day of the truth of our oft-repeated assertion that Brady people can have as pretty yards as any people in the world with just a little work and management. A look at the Tipton home is alone evidence sufficient to prove the statement.

That Street Sprinkler.

G. B. Meeks has bought the street sprinkler and all the apparatus appertaining thereto from O. D. Mann & Sons, and has been operating same the past week with splendid success. Mr. Meeks says he will keep down the dust, and that's what Brady business men want and they don't care who does it, let it be Mann & Sons, Mr. Meeks, or whoever else may hereafter take it up.

The Standard trusts that our business people will all do their part in recompensing Mr. Meeks for labor and expense. A dry goods merchant, it seems to us, should appreciate the street sprinkler fully as much as he might an additional $40 clerk with a duster and cleaning cloth.

Our display of Reed Rockers far surpasses any thing shown in Brady. They make a suitable present for your friends, so remember this, and visit the mammoth store, the quality store, where you get your money's worth every time. O. D. Mann & Sons.
