our places of business the entire The McMillan Roquemore company, which will play at the Vendome theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, have been rehearsing here all week and part of last, as was stated in the last issue of The Standard, putting a couple of new people into the cast. The company, of which Mr. Roquemore, one of the managers, is the head, is composed of ten ladies and gentlemen of marked ability. The people of Brady have had a chance to meet Mr. Roquemore and his company, and they have made friends by the hundreds. They are strictly polished people, and they have proven that the theatrical profession, and especially the dramatic part, is composed of high-toned, highly educated ladies and gentlemen.

In the cast is Miss Nell Red, Miss Hebert, Miss Moore, Miss Howard and Mrs. Darnell. Mr. Joe Lehman, Jack LaBarge, Hugh Brison, Darnell Norcross, Carey Baxley and Mr. Roquemore.

SWEDEN BRIEFLETS.

Rochelle, Texas, June 24. Editor Brady Standard; '

I will come again after a few days' absence.

It is still dry out in this part of the country and no signs of rain yet. Some of the farmers are thinking about cutting down their corn for fodder. Mr. Editor says this dry hot weather has killed 1000 boll weevils and the farmers shouldn't be kicking because it doesn't rain. Look here. Mr. Editor, if this hot dry weather keeps on, we won't have any cotton for Mr. Boll Weevil to eat up. Come again Bright Eyes, your letter was very much appreciated. Let us hang to our pencils like two grasshoppers to a weed, and try to make The Standard sing with our newsy letters.

Aunt Susan is afraid that some of our young people's heads are getting too large for their bonnets and hats. Especially the girls. If some one knows a suitable remedy, please let it be known through The Standard.

Mr. F. W. Ake and his good wife entertained a few of their intimate friend and relatives last Tuesday night with a party. All who attended report a most pleasant evening.

Miss Myrtle Hurd is suffering this week with a badly swollen foot. It is our sincere desire that she may make a speedy recovery.

The Moore Bros. are doing some thrashing in our settlement this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Samuelson are the proud parents of a little daughter which arrived at their new home last Saturday. .

Dr. Burgess, Rev Hanson and Rev. Spong will conduct a temperance sermon Sunday evening June 25, at the East Sweden Presbyterian church. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to attend. The sermon will begin at 4:00 p. m. Dr. Burgess will also preach Sunday morning at the proper hour, 11 o'clock
